FRANCE DOESN'T WANT TO FIGHT

Britain's Gallic Neighbors Not Prepared.

And Fashoda Is Not Worth the Powder.

Dupuy Will Recall Marchand, for Whose Mission He Is Not Responsible.

Official Notes Indicate That the War Clouds Are Breaking Away—Important Statement From Salisbury Expected Tonight.

Paris, Nov. 4.—France is regarding England with anxious eyes. Everything indicates the warlike spirit prevailing across the channel. All the journals record the British naval preparations with pessimistic comments.

Nobody here desires war. In the first place, Fashoda is not worth it. In the second place, France is not ready. If force is resorted to it will be England that insists upon it.

The Temps even advocates the avoidance of a struggle at any cost, and hints that England is in a stronger position, but that if she pushes France too hard she risks bringing about an European coalition against her everywhere abroad.

The Liberte says: "There are many points in Great Britain's empire where she may be attacked. Her name is not exactly venerated in Ireland. Where a revolution might break out the moment war was declared; besides, which, it seems fairly certain that a strong Abyssinian force is rapidly drawing near Fashoda."

WILL RECALL MARCHAND.

London, Nov. 4.—The most reliable information from Paris confirms the earlier reports that M. Dupuy, the premier, has decided to wash his hands of Fashoda, and to recall Major Marchand, for whose mission he is not responsible. This decision is to some extent a desire to avoid nothing to interfere with the success of the exposition of 1900.

The Cairo correspondent of the Daily Mail says: "Major Marchand, who is extremely modest, makes light of his exploits. He is fond of exploration, and sorry there are no more routes to conquer."

MARCHAND'S MOVEMENTS.

Cairo, Nov. 4.—Major Marchand, the commander of the French expedition at Fashoda, arrived here at 7 o'clock last evening. He was met at the railway station by the French officials and residents. The explorer looked thin and worried. Directly the major appeared at the door of the train the spectators rushed forward waving their hats, sticks and handkerchiefs, and crying: "Vive Marchand!" The latter drove off to the French diplomatic affairs, amid more cheering. Only two Bengalese soldiers accompanied Major Marchand, whose future movements depend upon the instructions which Capt. Baratier brings him. M. Delcasse, the French minister of foreign affairs, and the Marquis of Salisbury will be the first to receive all news which may contribute to the harmony of the two countries. The French commander expressed himself as being much gratified at the kindness shown by the British officers during his journey to this place.

AN IMPORTANT DAY.

London, Nov. 4.—Today will be important in the history of the crisis. It is expected that Baron de Courcel, the French ambassador, will impart the French decision to Lord Salisbury, who will speak this evening at the banquet to be given to the sirdar, General Lord Kitchener.

The Daily Chronicle, under reserve, publishes a remarkable story suggesting that the sirdar captured documents proving that Major Marchand, before the battle of Omdurman, sent to the khalfah a French flag, inviting him to host it, and so, by becoming a French ally, to deter the Anglo-Egyptian force from attacking him.

London, Nov. 3.—An official note, issued this evening, says: "There is no good reason to hope that the political situation is ameliorating. It can be confidently stated that when the cause of the irritation, which unfortunately recently existed in France and Great Britain and on the Upper Nile is removed, which is expected soon to be the case, the door will again be open to the resumption of those friendly negotiations, which happily characterize the normal state of the relations between the two countries."

The Evening News publishes what purports to be a French official note, stating that Marchand will evacuate Fashoda and the five posts in the Bahrel-Ghazal Province next to it. His party will proceed under the friendly escort of Egyptian troops. On the accomplishment of this, it is stated, negotiations will be opened on the proposals submitted by Baron de Courcel.

THE GOLD OUTPUT.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—Capt. John J. Healy, vice-president of the North American Transportation and Trading Company, who has just returned from a six-years' sojourn in the Klondike, said in an interview today:

"The truth about the Yukon country is that it will yield $30,000,000 between now and next October, and with the completion of government roads and the operation of quartz-mining machinery, the output will amount to $100,000,000 in gold annually. In the next five years 100,000 whites will be at work in the Yukon, and 100 years' steady mining will not exhaust the profitable mines in Alaska."

"Now the question arises," said Mr. Healy, "how the statements are going to be reconciled with the hard-fuck tales brought of the Yukon. Whether it is believed or not the simple truth is this: Scores of men who have gone in don't know pay dirt when they see it. They are farmers and greenhorns, and cannot set a sluice-box or make a rifle to save their lives. A sluice-box must have a certain pitch, or the washings will not pan out. Some are quick to catch on to these things while others are not."

TURNING OUT THE TURKS!

International-Troops Take Possession of the Canes Fortress.

Abdul Hamid Requested to Take His Troops as Speedily as Possible—The Sultan's Concession to the Kaiser—Radical Success in the German Elections.

Canea, Island of Crete, Nov. 4.—The international troops occupied the fortress here at 5 o'clock this morning.

The foreign admirals had previously informed the Turkish Government of Crete that they would proceed with the military occupation of the various administrative offices of the island on Nov. 4, and the Turkish officials will not hereafter be permitted to re-enter. The Turkish troops now on the island will cease to be regarded as garrisoning Crete, and the Turkish military posts and military services will be abolished. The admirals also ask the governor to embark all the Turkish troops that the transports in Canea Bay will hold, and to request his government to speedily send enough ships to embark the remainder.

GAINS BY THE GERMAN RADICALS.

Berlin, Nov. 4.—The election of Prussian deputies at the secondary elections, so far as known, shows that the Radicals have an increase of 15 seats, at the expense of the Conservatives and National Liberals. In Berlin the Radicals have had a complete walk-over, nine of the candidates being elected, among them Prof. Virchow, the celebrated pathologist.

THE SULTAN'S GIFT TO THE KAISER.

Berlin, Nov. 4.—Emperor William's visit to Constantinople has resulted in the agreement with the sultan whereby the latter gives the Kaiser the right to plant a large German colony along the whole frontier of Tripoli. This arrangement will protect the sultan from French encroachments across the Tripoli-Tunis frontier, and will avoid granting a concession in Asia Minor, which would induce Russia to demand compensation.

CABLE NOTES.

Berliners think Kaiser Wilhelm's acquisition of land in Jerusalem and his presentation to Catholics is the consummation of a scheme to modify the Catholic party in the reichstag.

IS BRITAIN PREPARING</

The Council Remains "Mum"

It Declines to Answer the Suggestion of the Street Railway Company

That They Be Permitted to Refrain From Running Cars.

Text of the Forfeiture Clause of the Bylaw.

The Company May Stop Operations for Thirty Days.

The Council Met In Camera—How Will Its Action Be Interpreted?

"No action." This is what the city council resolved upon at a secret meeting last night. When City Clerk Kingston was asked what the council did, he said, "They met and adjourned."

Yesterday afternoon the street railway company addressed a missive to the mayor, stating that they were ready to operate their cars, but as trouble was in sight, the company were willing to refrain from operating their cars until the trouble had blown over. They asked also that such non-operation be without prejudice to all the rights of the city and company, and not reckoned against them.

This letter the mayor carried to the city solicitor, who at 3:30 sent the following to the mayor:

"Dear Mr. Mayor, I have just read the communication of Messrs. Hellmuth & Ivey, of today's date, to you. You have asked me whether or not you have the power without the consent of the council, to make the agreement suggested in that letter."

"I am of opinion that the power to make such an agreement rests with the council, and not with you, as you have not, as I understand from you, been empowered to do anything in the matter. Yours truly,

"T. G. MEREDITH."

These two documents were what the council was called to consider last night. The members present were: The mayor, Ald. Taylor, Dreaney, Graham, Jolly, McPhillips, Greenleaf, Hunt, Stevely, Cooper, McCallum, Beaton, O'Meara, Douglass, and Wilkey. Those absent were Ald. Nutkins, Winnett and Gerry.

Ald. Graham moved, seconded by Ald. Dreaney, that the meeting be held in private, as all the business so far had been in private, and that the condition of the public pulse did not warrant them holding an open meeting.

The motion was carried, and the reporters and one or two spectators were requested to retire. As soon as all was still a motion was made to file the request of the street railway company, and an amendment to this that the matter be laid on the table for future consideration, carried.

THE FORFEIT CLAUSE.

The following is the clause from the bylaws respecting "the forfeiture of rights for non-compliance on the company's part:

"36.—In the event of the company failing or neglecting to construct, or said railway or to alter or change the whole of their system as hereinbefore provided, or to construct and complete their said railway to Springbank in substantial conformity with the provisions of this bylaw, or in the event of the company failing or neglecting for the space of 30 days, computed as hereinafter mentioned, to maintain and operate their said railway in substantial conformity with the provisions of this bylaw, or by agreement with the corporation heretofore or hereafter made, and in such case, the corporation shall have the right to require all obstructions and materials placed in said streets by the company under any such bylaw or agreement to be removed therefrom, and the said streets to be put in as good condition and repair as they were before the said materials and obstructions were placed therein, and the expense thereof shall be paid to the corporation by the company, and the corporation shall also have the right to run the said railways and to grant the same rights and privileges to any other company free from all liability for damage on account thereof."

WHAT IS THE EFFECT?

The action of the council may be interpreted by some as meaning that the company are compelled to run their cars, but by the many it is thought that the company may construe as consent the silence of the council, and refrain from running for 30 days.

THE LIMA MEN.

Columbus, O., Nov. 3.—A special to the Dispatch from Lima, O., says: A number of employees of the street car line in this city have returned from Lima, Ont., where they were sent to work for the line there, which is operated by the same company that operates the line here. When they reached Lima they found there was a strike on, and they refused to go to work.

Mr. Charles Currie, when he arrived here from Lima, O., when asked if any men had been brought from there, said "No," and if there were he would like to see them. If any had been brought he knew nothing about them.

SPECIAL POLICE TO BE SWORN IN.

The mayor stated last night that a meeting of the police commissioners had been held and that he would swear in all the special constables necessary for the preservation of peace and protection to the street railway company's property. But just where these special police are coming from, if the feeling is so universal against the company, is a question that rather perplexed his worship.

MR. WATSON CORROBORATED.

Mr. M. H. Bird writes: "I wish to contradict a statement which appeared in your issue of the 2nd inst., to the effect that I tendered for street railway employees' suits at $9 per suit. I deny that statement, as I never made any such tender since I have been in the city, nor would I furnish said suits for any such money. Yours respectfully, M. H. Bird."

RICHARD IS HIMSELF AGAIN.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Allow me to call attention to Psalms and ix about the city. Will Trade Unionists read "Castle of Indolence" in Thompson's poems? The word "scab" is used in Shakespeare's poems. Yours, dead yesterday shortly after eating a hearty breakfast, up to which time he was apparently in good health.

RICHARD ASHTON.

BROWN COMMITTED!

Peg-Leg Sent to Jail to Await Trial for the Murder of P. C. Toohey.

He Looks Well and Answered Questions Readily—Michael Malone Given Six Months for Theft.

Marion Brown, alias Thomas Allen, of Texas, was this morning committed by Magistrate Parke to stand his trial for the murder of P. C. Michael Toohey on the night of June 24, 1898.

There were few persons present in the court. The prisoner appeared unconcerned, and readily answered the questions asked him.

Mr. McPhillips said he had nothing further to offer, but before the prisoner was asked the statutory questions, he wished once more to protest against his commitment on the charge of murder. Speaking of the mass of evidence that had been taken at the preliminary examination, Mr. McPhillips said he had every confidence in Mr. Coe, and as there were over 600 pages of typewritten evidence, he did not wish to weary the court with its reading.

"Marion Brown," said the magistrate, "you have heard the evidence that has been taken. It has been written in shorthand. Do you desire to have it read over to you now?"

"Prisoner, No, sir."

"You have heard the evidence. Do you wish to add anything to it?"

"No, sir."

"Have you anything to say to the charge?"

"No, sir."

"You are not bound to say anything, but whatever you do say will be taken down in writing and be given in evidence against you at your trial. You must understand clearly that you have nothing to hope from any promise of favor, and nothing to fear from any threat that may have been held out to you to induce you to make any admission or confession of guilt; but whatever you do say may be given in evidence against you upon your trial, notwithstanding such promise or threat."

Prisoner—I have nothing to say.

The Magistrate—I make the usual order to commit the prisoner to stand his trial for the murder of Michael Toohey.

The prisoner was taken back to the jail, where he will remain until the assizes in January.

Michael Malone, for stealing a gold watch from Isabella Paul, of Talbot street, was sentenced to six months in the Central Prison.

Owen Gillean was given one month in jail for vagrancy.

THE W. C. T. U.

Election of Officers by the Provincial Association—The Deputation to Wait on the Government.

The other important item of business was the appointment of a deputation to wait upon the government regarding prohibition. The members of the deputation included Mrs. Wheeler, Paris; Mrs. Livingston, Tilsonburg; Mrs. Wright, London; Goldie, Ayr; Mrs. Maddock, Guelph, and Mrs. Ribble, Dresden.

A Pretty Foot Goes a Long Way

But what is the use of a pretty foot, in this country in the winter time, if you do not have a perfect fitting Rubber or Overshoe. Now, this may be news to you, but you will find it to be a fact; there is only one make of Rubbers and Overshoes, in this country, that are right up-to-date in fit, finish, quality and durability and they are the

MUST BE CLEAN

The Care of the Cow—How to Keep Milk Pure.

The udder, the flanks and the belly of the cow should be brushed clean and then rubbed with a dampened or wet cloth, before milking. This prevents the falling of dust particles and other things from the skin and hair of the cow into the milking pail. There is need for as much cleanliness as can be practiced and attained. There is no benefit from the aeration of milk in the stable during the winter. By the aeration of milk, either or both of two results are effected. A little of the odor, or cause of the odor in the milk from volatile oils, is taken out, and germs of all kinds from the air are taken in. There is nothing in the air of an ordinary cow stable which by getting into the milk can improve it. Therefore the less contact the milk has with that the better. There is no natural volatile odor from milk, and it is suggested that for butter-making, unless the cow has been fed on some food unsuitable in that respect, such as turnips; and aeration will remove only a very unimportant part of that. The so-called cow smell of pure clean milk, becomes a delicious fragrance, whereas the cowey smell which comes from stable filthiness, manure and other things is abominable.

SAVED FROM THE GRAVE

Miss Maud Cotterell's Tribute to Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Belleville, Oct. 31.—"I have been ill a person half-dead for months."

So says Miss Maud Cotterell, speaking of her rescue from the clutches of Bright's Disease.

"I could neither sit up nor lie down, and had almost lost hope."

"Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me, fully and quickly. They have saved me from the grave."

It has been proved, thousands of times, that Dodd's Kidney Pills cure Bright's Disease every time they get a chance.

Bright's Disease KILLS every time it gets a chance.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only remedy on earth that prevents Bright's Disease from killing, by rooting it out of the system entirely.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

BRIGHT.—A man died four years ago, without a will, leaving a wife, a son and a daughter, and the son has been controlling everything and taking all that is made; the daughter works all the time in the home, except ten months, since the father's death, receiving nothing except her clothing. Can she collect wages for that time, or if she takes wages can she also collect rent for her share of the property during that time? How should she go about getting her rights? How long after a death has an estate to be settled? Ans.—She cannot collect wages until the facts stated, but she is entitled to one-third of her father's estate, and of any rents or profits which have since accrued after payment of just debts and expenses. An estate should be settled one year after the death. You had better consult a lawyer as to the best means to adopt for getting your share under the particular circumstances of the case.

DID DR. JOHNSON EAT HORSE? [From Notes and Queries.]

Dr. Johnson in his journal mentions the interesting fact that he had on a certain day had "palfrey for dinner." Now these three words have caused not a little trouble to the critics, and for this reason, that they know not what palfrey is. It has been suggested that palfrey is a clerical error made by the doctor himself for pastry. But the doctor wrote so legibly, and there is so much difference between the words palfrey and pastry, that this position is not at all tenable. Palfrey is defined in Johnson's celebrated dictionary as a "small horse fit for ladies," and some have thought that the doctor (whose feats as a trencherman were notorious) may have broken a record on the day in question, and disposed of a small horse. All these and other conjectures are wrong, and we will proceed to give the correct explanation.

The word palfrey sometimes palfrey by the interchange of l and m) is still in use among the rustics of Scotland and North of Ireland, and means young cabbages when they first come to table in the spring. Such cabbages have not begun to "close," or become solid in the center. They are generally spoken of as "early palfrey," and being considered a luxury, Dr. Johnson probably picked up the word from his friend Boswell, or from some other Scotch acquaintance.

Now-a-days nearly every woman rides a bicycle. The majority of these who do not, however, have failed to compass its difficulties because of nervousness. Many women affected by this infirmity, and trying vainly to conquer the wheel for weeks, have finally given up as a hopeless case. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes baby's advent easy and almost painless. It insures the little new-comer's health and an ample supply of nourishment. It transforms weak, nervous invalids into strong, healthy, nerve-steady women. Thousands have testified to its marvelous merits. An honest dealer will not offer a substitute.

"My wife was troubled with female weakness for several years," writes James Caswell, Esq., of Oshkosh, Wisconsin, (P. O. Box 61). "She had bearing-down pains and pain in back. Her periods were irregular, she would have fainting spells, the best doctors did her no good. By the time my wife had taken four bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription' she was completely cured. No more pain. Her monthly periods are regular, she is stout and strong. When she commenced taking your medicine she weighed about 125 pounds—now she weighs 160 pounds."

RAILROAD

RUMBLINGS.

Important Ruling of the New York Supreme Court—Fast Time on the Wabash.

A watch inspection special went over the Wabash Railway Tuesday, and the officials on board were given a decidedly fast run. The trip over the east division was an especially fast one, the 118 1/2 miles from St. Thomas to the Falls being made in 103 minutes.

The decision of the supreme court, Justice Chester, at Albany, N. Y., may prevent connection of the New York and Ottawa Railway Company at Long Lake with the Adirondack Railway at North Creek, and thereby frustrate the plan for shortening the riding distance from New York city to Canada by 69 miles.

The chief engineer and solicitor of the L. E. and D. R. have been in Sarina in connection with proposed plans in Erie and Huron Railway property. It is understood that the new proprietors contemplate the building of a ferry slips and accessories at Sarina, which will require the expenditure of some $12,000 or $15,000. The building of a large elevator on the company's property is also said to be among the possibilities of the near future.

Complaints are being received by the board of railway commissioners at Topeka, regarding a scarcity of grain cars at many Kansas points. It is impossible, the complainants say, to get sufficient cars to handle grain. A complaint filed from five grain farms at Cladin, Kansas, says 30,000 bushels of wheat is waiting to be moved at that point, 7,000 bushels of which is lying on the ground. Farmers generally have been holding their grain for higher prices, and this unexpected movement has caused a shortage of cars.

ON HIS MUSCLE

A Professor Whipped Three Mischievous Students at Ann Arbor.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 4.—A Halloween incident which proved a surprise to a group of students, has just been reported. Three miscreants were tearing pickets from fences when Prof. Dorrance, of the dental department, concluded to stop it.

Dorrance, who is quite muscular, caught one, and was giving him a lesson, when the others came to their friend's rescue. The doctor caught one by the leg, and his head collided with the sidewalk, putting him out of business. He went at the third like a battering-ram, and a terrific blow in the stomach laid him low. The doctor returned home satisfied.

BLEW HIS HEAD OFF

The Terrible Fate of a Michigan Chicken Thief.

Mount Clemens, Mich., Nov. 4.—Early yesterday morning Sheriff Nank received a telephone message of the killing of an unknown man at Center Line, a small place about twelve miles west of here.

The man was evidently a chicken thief, as he was caught in the act of robbing the hen-roost of Nick Kraemer, who shot and killed him instantly by blowing the top of his head off. Kraemer saw a man with a duck and six chickens making off and called to him to stop. Instead he ran faster. Kraemer then fired. The dead man is a German. Kraemer is under arrest.

GEN. SHAFTER DOESN'T VALUE HIS VOTE.

SWEAT SHOPS IN CLEVELAND

Knights of Labor Will Try to Wipe Them Out.

Edwin Gould's Match Factory Shut Down—DeBarry Departs a Canadian From Buffalo.

CLEVELAND'S SWEAT SHOPS.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 4.—At the regular monthly meeting of the district assembly, No. 47, Knights of Labor, the question of enlarging the establishment of the co-operative knee pant makers, at the corner of Perry street and Woodland avenue, was considered. Members of the organization are gratified at the success of the co-operative establishment, and it is their intention to enlarge the quarters so that children's clothing of all kinds may be manufactured. In speaking of the establishment, Master Workman J. S. Brennan said:

"It is the intention of the Knights of Labor to entirely wipe out the sweating system in Cleveland. It has already been successful in abolishing as applied to the manufacture of knee pants. Today there is not one sweat shop in the city of Cleveland that manufactures knee pants, and it is all due to the establishment of the Co-operative Knee Pant Workers' Association. The association, who are today earning a good living in the co-operative factory formerly worked eighteen and twenty hours a day in the sweat shops, and then were only able to earn about $7 a week.

The money amounting to $300, which was realized from the picnic given by the Knights of Labor some time ago for the benefit of the widows and orphans of the tunnel accident victims, was divided among nine widows and ten orphans.

GOULD'S MATCH FACTORY SHUT DOWN.

New York, Nov. 4.—The strike of 125 girls in the packing department of the Continental match factory, of which Edwin Gould is a principal owner, at Passaic, N. J., caused the factory to shut down. The going out of the girls left no one to pack matches, and the other employees in the number of 100 were compelled to quit work. The girls struck because of a reduction in their wages from 6 1/2 cents per gross to 5 cents per gross. The strikers say that as the match company is very busy filling orders they are confident of winning the strike.

DE BARRY DEPARTS A WOMAN.

Buffalo, Nov. 4.—Miss Mary O'Connor, a young woman whose home is in Montreal, was last evening deported to Canada by Inspector De Barry. Miss O'Connor gave her occupation as that of a commercial traveler. She was employed by J. B. Farr & Co., soap manufacturers, of Montreal and Buffalo, and came to the United States under contract. It was claimed to be a clear case of "violation of the alien labor contract law, and Miss O'Connor had to leave "the bridge."

De Barry learned of the facts in the case on Monday, and reported to Washington.

NEW REPUBLIC INAUGURATED

Including the Principal States of Central America.

Washington, Nov. 4.—On the first of this month a new republic, "The United States of Central America," came into existence, while the republics of Nicaragua, Salvador and Honduras disappeared except as states of the new union.

The new republic has a population of about 2,000,000, an area of about 110,000,000 square miles, a great stretch of sea coast on the Atlantic and the Pacific, and the site of the Nicaragua Canal, through which commerce will ultimately pass from ocean to ocean. The movement to form the new republic began on June 20, 1855, when the presidents of Nicaragua, Salvador and Honduras formed the treaty of Amapala. This provided for a union on the foreign affairs of the three countries, and created a diet which directed these foreign affairs. On Aug. 27 last a constitution for the new republic was finally drawn up and signed.

The name of the new republic as "The United States of Central America," formed of Nicaragua, Salvador and Honduras. Provision is made for the admission of Guatemala and Costa Rica if they elect to enter. A federal form of government is adopted, the boundary line of the states being continued as heretofore, except as changed by each ceding one department to form a federal district, similar to the District of Columbia, where the seat of federal government is to be located. The capital is located temporarily at Amapala, on Tigro Island, lying in the Gulf of Fonseca. The capital will remain there until the congress of the new republic selects a permanent site for it.

London Advertiser.

[ESTABLISHED BY JOHN CAMERON IN 1882.]

Managing Director and Editor, John Cameron

London, Friday, Nov. 4, 1898.

The Street Railway Tie-Up.

A week ago yesterday the cars of the London Street Railway ceased to run, owing to the disagreement between the company and the motormen and conductors.

There have been conferences, and interviews of all sorts, but the net result, so far, has not been a workable basis of agreement.

The weather, since the strike, has thus far been fine, making the motto of the average public—"We Walk!"—a fairly pleasant operation. It has been charged by some that the company's real aim in these prolonged conferences, and in its request to be allowed by the civic authorities to largely forego any attempt to run the cars, was, first of all, to tire out the strikers; and, secondly, to tire out the patience of the public, so that citizens might themselves begin to clamor for rapid transit.

Whatever truth there may be in this view, any public impatience, as yet perceptible, is not against the employees who went out.

Among the sticking-points, we understand, is the refusal of the company to agree to submit all important matters of present and future disagreement to arbitration. But it is stated that in the numerous other cities in which electric cars are operated by the same persons who mainly own the London Street Railway Company, the principle of arbitration is recognized. Naturally the first inquiry of the disinterested on-looker would be, if unions and arbitrators are recognized elsewhere, why not in London? If the United States gentlemen, who mainly own the London Street Railway Company, find the principle of employees acting together, and the other principle of settling disputes by arbitration as they arise, good enough for their street railway business in the United States, why, it may be pertinently asked, is not London good enough to have these principles acknowledged and applied here, too?

The Advertiser, in its article immediately after the tie-up, took the ground that, in the then position, and on the information then attainable, the men were not, on the average, receiving that fair living wage to which they were entitled. We also took the ground that the men were not unreasonable in forming a union, on the well-known principle that a bundle of twigs tied together—united—was necessarily stronger than an equal number of twigs separate. In the latter case, the twigs, even the strongest ones, could, and possibly would, be broken separately. We also espoused the principle of arbitration. The Advertiser sees no reason to recede from any one of the foregoing positions.

And now for a few words as to the interests of the citizens of London, as apart from the standpoint of either the company or the employees. What interest have the citizens, as citizens, in the London Street Railway?

First, the citizens have the interest of desiring an efficient street car service. All will be prepared to admit that the service has been good and efficient. But we presume no one will claim for the company a monopoly of ability to run a street railway system. It would be quite possible for the city, for example, to run a street railway system, as Glasgow does, and as this city runs its own waterworks.

The chief remaining interest for the citizens, is the amount of wages paid out and spent here. Storekeepers of all kinds, owners of business buildings, and the like, are entitled to some return, if a valuable and growing franchise, in the shape of the use of the public streets, is to be regarded with friendly feelings. No employee can be as good a customer as he ought to be, if he is not the receiver of what may in reason be called a living wage. No employee can be as good a citizen as he ought to be at less than a living wage.

If it be true, that nine-tenths of the ownership of the London Street Railway is in the United States, it follows that nine-tenths or whatever the precise proportion may be, of the company's large profits, must also be taken out of London, and out of Canada, to be spent in the United States, which is another reason why the citizens should at least get whatever benefit legitimately accrues from the company's employees receiving a fair wage and fair all-round consideration.

In this whole dispute, it strikes us there is too much of arbitrariness—too much of seeking to gain an advantage—too much of keen lawyering. What is to be desired, is not so much sharp haggling over technicalities, not so much keen lawyering, as the translation of the whole dispute into the region of common sense and all-round fair play. As for the company, we wonder they do not see that the least paying asset they could acquire is the permanent ill-will of a spirited community.

Plain people do not draw fine distinctions. The facts which to them stand out broadly, are these: That the men have a case that does not seem at all unreasonable; and the other fact, that Mr. Everett (who, by the way, ought to be here, to negotiate for himself), as an absentee chief owner, is making such large profits on his actual investment that he could well afford to deal even handsomely by such of the citizens as need to be employed to reap for him his golden harvests from London's streets.

The City Ambulance.

The order has gone forth that the city ambulance will not be sent out while the street railway trouble is on, because, forsooth, the two horses available may be needed for the patrol wagon! The thing is absurd; it is calculated to make a laughing-stock of the city. Is London to be deprived of its ambulance service for want of a horse? What a beautiful parsimony! Supposing some poor fellow meets with a serious accident: is he to lie bleeding by the roadside while the ambulance stays in the barn and the patrol wagon is out picking up healthy boys? In the name of common sense and humanity let the authorities buy, rent or impound a horse or mule, and spare the city this exhibition of sublime stinginess and manly.

All Together.

As a specimen of the unanimity of British opinion and feeling in the present crisis, we make the following brief and partial quotations from the British Weekly, a journal which represents the best Nonconformist sentiment of the country, and one which will not be suspected of jingoism. Defending the speeches made by Dr. Goodrich and others at the Congressional Union, it says: "Well, if anybody chooses to maintain that we should go to war in no circumstances whatever, and that war under any circumstances is wicked, we understand the situation. In that case we must be prepared to allow other countries to do what they will with our possessions. But if war is legitimate in any circumstances, it seems impossible that we should withdraw in this case."

After calmly discussing the matter, the conclusion reached is as follows: "They are really rendering a service when they affirm what is undoubtedly the unanimous purpose of this country. The unusual feeling was well expressed by Lord Rosebery. We should be glad for our part if Lord Rosebery could be as telling, as emphatic, and as whole-hearted on the points on which he differs from the Unionists, as on the points on which he agrees with them. But there was no want of statesmanship in his Epsom speech, and it will be unfortunate if the French statesmen and journalists do not see that in so speaking he has the country behind him. To France, Britain and Liberalism especially owes an immense debt, far greater than is usually conceived. It is little to say that there is in this country no animosity to France. There is, on the contrary, a feeling of warm friendship; but this does not take away from us the right to defend our possessions, and it does not prevent us from protesting when the ruling forces in France outrage the elementary principles of justice."

Mr. Croker, of New York.

We are told that Mr. Croker has gone too far, and Mr. Croker has been publicly told that he has gone too far, and so it seems that there are limits to the power of this overgrown political boss. There is someone who can say: "So far shalt thou go, and no farther." We are glad to hear this, though it is rather late in the day. Wherever there is government by party, and where parties act over large territories and wield immense influence, there must be room for skill in organization and cleverness in party tactics, and the "born general" must have considerable power. But "the great boss" who corrupts the party and uses it for selfish purposes, has attained abnormal proportions in American politics. The triumph of Croker was not only a disgrace to New York; it was a blot on the civilization and the Christianity of the great republic. This coarse, vulgar man who dominates the politics of one of the world's greatest cities, thinks that the ministers of justice are mere counters in his bold game; if they are not sufficiently pliant they must be dismissed without ceremony. Hence the New York Outlook says: "Mr. Croker has made the fatal blunder which every machine politician who attempts to deal with political questions as if they were merchandise, sooner or later makes in the attempt to manage the affairs of a great community, without taking into account its moral sentiment."

Of course Mr. Croker despises moral sentiment, and probably thinks that it is hypocrisy. At any rate, he undertakes to decide that Justice Daly, who has been a just judge for nearly thirty years, shall no longer discharge these sacred duties, because he refused to appoint unfit men to places under him, at the dictation of the "boss." This has called for indignant protest, and we are glad to see that there are strong men of both shades of political opinion who are prepared to prove that there is something higher than party, that there is really "a moral sentiment," and that there are limits even for Mr. Croker. As the proposed victim says: "It is simply and solely in question whether the freedom of the judicial office is assailed. The judge who has done his duty fearlessly, and has been deaf to every consideration but justice, stands for an immutable principle, and any nomination of candidates against him, for the purpose of defeating him, is none the less calculated to destroy the independence of the judiciary, and is a menace to the public safety."

If a sufficient number of strong, sensible men recognize this, it will be seen that Mr. Croker has gone too far. But we think the system that makes this kind of thing possible is not the best. The administration of justice and party politics should be kept as distinct as possible.

Canada and Manchester.

We agree with the Toronto World that there is a favorable opportunity for the establishment of a great direct trade between Canada and Manchester. It is said that the big shipping rings practically boycott the Manchester canal, depriving the city of direct steamship service with Australia, India, and the east. Manchester, in self-defense, is being driven to provide for itself. The canal directorate is looking with favorable eyes on Canada, and two steamships have already been placed on the Canadian-Manchester route, with such good results that others are to be built especially for this trade. Canadian produce is thus carried direct into the populous Manchester district—the best market in England. A sentimental preference for Canadian goods has already been created by our pro-British tariff; we should strike the iron while it is hot. The ships are assured of full return cargoes, as Canada purchases largely of the product of the Manchester looms and spindles. Altogether, the prospect of an immense and mutually profitable trade is very bright.

The Dutch Feel Canadian Competition.

There is much that will interest Canadians in the statistics of cheese imports in Great Britain from Holland, which have been recently discussed by the commercial bodies on the other side of the Atlantic. During the five years from 1893 to 1897, the imports into the motherland from Holland were 267,364 cwt., 298,693 cwt., 305,920 cwt., 292,988 cwt., and 295,559 cwt., respectively, so that in each of the last two years they have fallen short of the total in 1895. In the first eight months of the present year they reached 173,287 cwt., as compared with 197,761 cwt. in each of the equivalent periods of 1897 and 1896, respectively. Thus, there is this year a further decline in Dutch imports into England. The cause of this decrease has been taken up by the Chamber of Commerce in Leyden, and the report of the proceedings has been received at Ottawa from the British Minister at The Hague. Four reasons are assigned as accounting for the decrease in the cheese imports from Holland under notice: 1. Severe competition on the part of Canada, arising from the alleged advantage due to low prices of cattle in this country, cheapness of land, lower taxation, and cheaper wood for packing purposes. 2. Putting on the British market an inferior article, passing for Edam cheese, and of the same form and color, but made from skim milk. 3. A preference shown by the British consumer for cheese of the taste and shape of cheddar, while the London retailer prefers to buy this kind, inasmuch as there is less tendency, after being cut, for the remainder to dry up quickly. 4. The high price which Dutch cheese commands in France, Germany and the Dutch colonies, thus operating against the reduction of importations which might result in the regaining of a lost market.

Canadian cheese-makers may well lay these confessions to heart. They should study to avoid the rocks upon which their competitors have been wrecked. This report once more emphasizes that it does not pay to put an inferior article upon the British market. With the whole world open to them, the British dealers do not take very long to find out the country that tries to palm off upon them inferior products, and they are as prompt to punish them by refusing to buy their suspicious wares. The United States found out this to its cost when its cheese-makers permitted "filled" cheese to be exported to the British markets. Holland confesses to be discovering the same truth now that it has been established that she is palming off on the Britishers skim milk cheese as the legitimate article. Our cheese-makers must always pay careful heed to every advance that is made in methods, so that they may be enabled to keep up the quality of their product to the highest possible standard. Let them not, like their rivals, the Dutch, get to assuming that they have reached perfection, and that they need never again adopt an improvement. There is, as they have discovered who have been in the business of cheese and butter making, no standing still in the race to gain, and to keep markets for these products. We must export what our customers demand, and we must market it in the best condition, that expert effort can devise, if we would continue in the vanguard.

Aspidiotus Dearnessii.

Our esteemed fellow-citizen, Mr. J. Dearness, has been honored in a peculiar form. Last August he discovered a new scale insect, of the same genus as the San Jose scale, on barberry shrubs, near Southampton, Ont. The scales resemble minute oyster shells, and their surface is convex, and striated with rows of small round glands. It is fully described in the Entomologist by Prof. Cockerell, of New Mexico, the highest American authority on scale insects, and named by him after the discoverer, Aspidiotus Dearnessii. We congratulate Mr. Dearness on his practical contribution to entomology, and on the deserved recognition of his services.

The weather seems to be with the strikers.

The cars may run, but the people seem inclined to walk.

Canada has also decided for expansion. Look at the trade returns.

Navigation in the Yukon has been closed, but slanders will continue to come through on the ice.

Canadian cheese is gradually driving the Dutch article out of the market. And Dutch cheese is pretty "strong," too.

The latest rebellion in Russia is another argument in favor of the Czar's disarmament policy—from a Russian standpoint.

The best that we can wish Lord and Lady Aberdeen is that their welcome in Scotland may be as cordial as their farewell in Canada.

Disease is spreading at an alarming rate among the American troops in the Philippines and Porto Rico. If the question of expansion were referred to the American army, its advice would probably be, "Don't."

The Mail and Empire now abuses Mr. Sifton because his brother has the audacity to run for a seat in the Northwest Legislature. Mr. Sifton shouldn't have any relatives at all. He should have been born an orphan.

The quid nuncs are at their wits' end speculating on the causes of British, French and Russian naval activity. At first Fashoda was the storm-center; then the Bahr-el-Ghazal; now New Chwang. Meanwhile the British squadrons especially are everywhere being put into fighting trim with feverish energy. What's it all about? The bewildered correspondent, in his effort to turn out copy, may well ask with Marcellus, in "Hamlet": "And why such daily cast of brazen cannon, And foreign mart for implements of war? Why such impress of shipwrights, whose shore task Does not divide the Sunday from the week? What might be toward that this sweaty haste Doth make the night joint-laborer with the day? Who 'st that can inform me?"

The Herald supports the election of aldermen at large, because it believes better men would be selected, the status of the council materially raised and a more efficient and business-like direction of the city's affairs inaugurated. Heart Palpitation, Sinking Sensations, Nervousness, Sleeplessness—who could be restored to the full enjoyment of perfect health by a few boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

There can be no question about the efficacy of this remedy. Thousands of Canadian women, have tested it, found it do all that is claimed for it. Here is the testimony of Mrs. Gillen, Wesley Street, Moncton, N.B., who says: "Before taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I used to suffer untold agony from violent throbbing headaches, irregular action of the heart, together with pains or spasms in various parts of my body."

"Sometimes I felt so weak that I was unable to look after my domestic duties. However, I had to endure this worry and trouble, because all the remedies I tried failed to give me relief, until happily I heard of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I had only been taking them a short time when I felt greatly benefited. This encouraged me to continue their use until a complete cure was effected. "I have not been troubled with a headache since taking these pills. They increased my appetite, invigorated my entire system, and gave me back my old time strength and vigor."

A DINNER PILL.—Many persons suffer excruciating agony after partaking of a hearty dinner. The food partaken of is like a ball of lead upon the stomach, and instead of being a healthy nutriment, it becomes a poison to the system. Dr. Parnelee's Vegetable Pills are wonderful correctives of such troubles. They correct acidity, open the secretions and convey the food partaken of into healthy nutriment. They are just the medicine to take if troubled with indigestion.

IT'S CRUEL

To Perform an Operation for Piles—Dr. Chase's Ointment Is a Surer, Cheaper, Easier Cure.

The surgical operation as a cure for piles is cruel, expensive and dangerous, and is by no means a certain cure. One would submit to almost any treatment to be relieved of the cruel torture of itching piles. But it isn't necessary to resort to the use of the knife. Dr. Chase's Ointment is a surer, cheaper, easier way of curing piles, and is absolutely certain. Dr. Chase's Ointment has never been known to fail as a positive cure for piles. It is endorsed by the best physicians, and recommended by thousands of persons who have been cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment after physicians' and other ointments and salves failed.

Dr. Chase's Ointment is a positive and guaranteed cure for piles and all itching skin diseases.

SAMUEL TROTMAN

Demise of an Old-Time London Man at Alden, Mich.

The following clipping from an Alden (Mich.) newspaper will be interesting to a large number of The Advertiser's readers. The subject of the sketch was for many years a resident of this city, and was in the grocery business, the store being at the corner of Hope and Colborne streets:

"Samuel Trotman was born in Wiltshire, England, on Feb. 27, 1833, and died at his residence north of town on Friday night, Oct. 14, 1908. In 1844 he moved with his parents from England to Western Ontario, Canada. On Nov. 26, 1856, he was married to Miss Christina Sincier. Two children were born to them, one son and one daughter. Mr. Trotman was converted in 1849, at the age of 16, and united with the M. E. Church of Canada. He came with his family to this place in 1879, where he resided until his death. His son died nearly ten years ago, and his wife about two years ago, so all that remains of the family now is the daughter, Miss Violet. Of his father's family there are yet remaining two brothers and one sister. Mr. Trotman was a man of considerable natural and acquired mental ability. He was a great reader and deep thinker. He was somewhat noted in these parts as a writer, both in prose and poetry. He also had a good deal of musical talent, and led a choir for ten years in the First M. E. Church of London, Ont. He had been in failing health for about two years, and seemed fully to realize his approaching end, and seemed to be prepared for it when it came. He stayed his mind upon the Lord, and seemed to have an exultant hope of the future.

"The funeral was held at the M. E. Church on Sunday, Oct. 16, the Rev. D. A. Green officiating. The church was filled, so that many were obliged to stand on the outside. The floral offerings were profuse and beautiful. The remains were interred in the Alden cemetery."

THE CHILDREN'S PAVILION

Mrs. Boomer Makes a Plea for Aid Which is Urgently Needed.

Mrs. Boomer makes the following plea:

The walls of the children's pavilion are up, awaiting the roof, etc. One thousand dollars have already been paid to Contractors Martyn & Hammett, and the usual percentage, $50, on the total amount to the architect. The women of the city are outlining plans for raising funds to meet their further liabilities, and expect to have a programme from time to time which will call for all talents. They hope that the various churches and congregations will lend a hand. They seek the co-operation of everyone, irrespective of church or creed, and the interest and support of every parent and guardian will enable them to make such provision for the sick children of the city that never again may it be possible for these little ones in their pain and weakness to be in the general wards of any hospital where it cannot be avoided that sights and sounds should reach them, to their mental and moral as well as to their physical injury, and perhaps permanent detriment. Contributions may be sent to Mrs. Boomer, 538 Dundas street, or to Mrs. Yarker, acting president, or may be handed to those ladies who have charge of collecting books, although no regular canvass of the city will be attempted. Contributions from churches of the city give one collection? Many children are earning money so as to increase the children's offering, which was the first made from over $300 to over $500, most of this being from persons of influential or from money earned by the little girls.

If you have catarrh, don't dally with local remedies, but purify and enrich your blood with Hood's Sarsaparilla. It may be long, but time is too short for some people to become artists.

Why will you allow a Cough to lacerate your throat or lungs and run the risk of filling a consumptive's grave, when, by the timely use of Bickel's Anti-Consumptive Syrup, the pain can be allayed and the danger avoided? This syrup is pleasant to the taste, and unsurpassed for relieving, healing and curing all affections of the throat and lungs, coughs, colds, bronchitis, etc.

Liberia is the only more or less civilized country where clocks are almost entirely dispensed with. The sun rises exactly at 6 a.m. and sets at 6 p.m. throughout the year, and is vertically overhead at noon.

LIFE SAVED.—Mr. James Bryson Cameron writes: "I was confined to my bed with inflammation of the lungs and was given up by physicians. A neighbor advised me to try Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, stating that his wife had used it for a throat trouble with the best results. Acting on this advice, I procured the medicine, and less than half a bottle cured me. I certainly believe it saved my life. I was so reluctant that I consented to a trial, as I was reduced to such a state that I doubted the power of any remedy to do me good.

The Chinese are very fond of foreign song birds. Forty years ago, when canaries were first introduced to that country, a pair cost $12; now they have multiplied to such an extent that a pair can be bought for 75 cents.

That Pale Face.—For Nervous Prostration and Anaemia there is no medicine that will so promptly and infallibly restore vigor and strength as Scott's Emulsion. Pious Russians do not eat pigeons because of the sanctity conferred on the dove in the Scriptures.
