It adds that, although there is reason to believe that the purchase will be shortly completed, the board of directors has determined to pay a 5 per cent. dividend. The circular reminds the shareholders that under the agreement of sale with the Morgan syndicate the business of the company from Jan. 1, 1901, has been carried on for their account, so on the completion of the purchase all dividends paid since that date will be accounted for by deducting their amount from the purchase price. Sir Charles Dilke, M. P., has published a letter welcoming the aplica-tion of American capital to British enterprises. ARTIST TELLS HOW TWAS DONE

Money-Making Fake That Fooled the Scientists-Barnum Made $1,000,000 Out of It.

San Francisco, Cal., July 25 .- An artist is now in the city who claims to have been the sculptor of the famous Cardiff giant that created such a furore in the scientific world more than a score of year ago. His name is G. Fabricio Sala, and he is endeavoring to dispose of the statue of "Faith," that has been lying in the mechanics' pavilion at the exposition grounds ever since the close of the great fair held here seven years since. He claims that P. T. Barnum, the showman, made a million dollars by exhibiting his Cardiff giant, which was long accepted as the genuine petrified remains of a race of giantic human beings who once inhabitated this country.

CLEVER HOAX. The figure, to the many people who visited Barnum's show in those days, was supposed to represent the petrified form of a prehistoric man. It was twelve feet long, four feet broad and weighed three and a half tons. It was supposed to have been dug out of the earth at Cardiff, N. Y. This, to a certain extent, was true, but the fact that it was carved out of gypsum and interred less than a year before by the clever ones was kept a profound secret. That it was the cleverest hoaxes ever perpetrated was proven by the number of sculptors, archaeologists, antiquarians, clergymen and others of the learned professions who were "taken in" by the figure and gave more or less pro-found explanations of its origin.

STORY OF THE FRAUD. Mr. Sala is an elderly man, who has made his reputation over the world as a sculptor of considerable It was only with reluctance that he was induced a day or two ago to talk of his connection with the chiseling out of the glant. He said he simply undertook the work in a professional way, having been employed by a Mr. Taylor, who was at that time, 1868, a sort of silent partner with Barnum.

Yes, it was I who carved the Cardiff giant," said Mr. Sala, "and Mr. Taylor paid me the handsome sum of $15,000 for the work; subse-Lobas, of 193 Academy street, Jersey quently he often gave me $500 when-Pike County, Pa., a settlement in the heart of the rattlesnake country, was severely bitten by a large rattlesnake and a gentleman. of the package was, of course, kept a secret.

A number of the Popular Science Monthly published in 1878 bears out Mr. Sala's statement in some details, but mentions Edward Saile, a German, as one of the sculptors, and the other as a Mr. Markham, an American. Mr. Sala claims that the Salla referred to can be no other than Salle referred to can be no other than himself, and the use of the name is a mistake on the part of the writer. MADE TO APPEAR ANCIENT.

Before the burial of the giant in the old well at Cardiff, by previous arrangement, the figure was sub-jected to long and careful rubbing with sand and water, which produced the water-worn appearance so often cited as incontrovertible evidence of extreme antiquity. The pores of the skin were carefully imitated by picking the entire surface with leaden civing hammers faced with needles, giving the peculiar "goose flesh," which puz-zled so many. As there still remained an appearance of freshness the figure earthed by well diggers, the archengineer of the hoax being given as Mr. Hull (reporter on the Hamilton, Ont., Times). It had been carefully arranged, and there were many neighbors around to spread abroad the news of the extraordinary find of fossil remains. The crowd soon swelled to thousands from all parts of the neighboring country and on the following day four medical men of the neighborhood, with scientific pretensions, investigated the giant and accepted the hoax without the least hesitancy. Later it was examined by a Dr. Boynton, of Syracuse, a man posessed of some antiquarian knowledge and he came to the conclusion that it was a statue made some 300 years ago by the Jesuit fathers. He as once offered $10,000 for it." SCIENTISTS FOOLED. By way of an advertisement invitations were sent to Prof. Agassiz, Prof. Hull, state geologist; S. B. Wool-worth, secretary of the New York State University, and a large delegation of scientific men from different parts of the state. The state geologist parts of the state. The state geologist pronounced the figure to be a statue of great antiquity. Prof. Ward, who filled the chair of natural science in Rochester University, said: "Although not going back to the stone age, it is nevertheless deserving of the attention of archaeologists." A prominent clergyman wrote: "This is not a thing contrived by man, but it is the face of one who lived like all the earth; the very image and child of God." Many scientific societies took the mat-was Prof. Marsh, of Yale-who made a point by asserting that gypsum was soluble in 400 parts of water, yet the face of the giant was smooth and little dissolved, though surrounded by wet earth, proving that the burial must have been of very recent date. It is estimated that $3,000,000 was made out of the hoax before Barnum introduced the petrified man to the circus. While the figure was being exhibited in Boston, Mr. Sala says that to his own knowledge the drawings amounted to about $4,000 a night for a considerable time. Notwith-standing Prof. Marsh's findings and other hard blows the hoax received from other quarters, it survived for nearly two decades, when it may be said to have died a natural death, or, to use popular language, to have been "played out."

Women are vastly more patient than men. It is scarcely believable that a woman, suffering past all telling, can attend to business, and bend and stoop with a back whose ache is agony. And beyond all this she smiles as she bends and stoops about her customer. Honesty in Advertising.

One of the most healthy signs of the times is the fact that people have come to accept age as a proof of merit. This is true especially of the advertiser. One who has been before the public a long time is regarded with favor. It is felt that if his goods were not possessed of merit, and if he were wanting in common honesty, his period of prosperity would have been short. Benjamin Franklin said that honesty is the best policy. Had he lived in this day he would have caused his maxim to read, "Honesty is the only policy that will pay." Thousands of men have tried every possible scheme for money making by crooked methods, and have used the newspapers most extensively for publicity. Many of these have flourished for a space, long or short, but each and every one of them has come finally to grief. This may be but a confirmation of Lincoln's affirmation that "one cannot fool all of the people all of the time." Detection of fraud is certain; there is no escape from it. It is the man who is square in his dealings who succeeds. People approach him confidently and deal with him fearlessly. Those advertisements bring best re- ed. turns which take the public into confidence, which promise precisely what they will fulfill and nothing more. MARRIAGE OF BANK CLERKS

Minimum Salary With Which Would-Be Benedicts May Make a Start.

Ottawa, July 24.—Rev. Dr. Langtry's criticisms of the action of the management of the Bank of Montreal in raising the minimum salary which clerks must have before they can marry is exciting comment among the bank employes in this city. Inquiry at the local branches of the banks this morning elicited the information that with very few exceptions the limit is $1,000. In the Merchants' Bank the limit was raised about two weeks ago perial Bank and the Banque Nationale there is no limit. A clerk may marry on any salary he wishes. In the Royal Bank of Canada a clerk must not only have reached the $1,000 mark, but must prove to the general satisfaction of the general manager that he can live in such a way as to be able to sup-port a wife and family on that amount. In all the other banks of the city, viz., Ottawa, Molsons, Commerce, Quebec, Nova Scotia, British North America, the limit is $1,000. It is not necessary that a clerk must be drawing this amount of salary from the bank, but he must be able to give substantial assurance to the management that his income is up to that amount, either in his own name or that of his wife. The Sovereign Bank, recently established, has not yet issued a code of rules and regulations, but it is generally understood that the marriage limit will be $1,000.

The police killed the leader of the band of murderers and captured eight other alleged participants in the crime. One of them escaped. Philippe, W. Va., July 24.—Two negroes, whose names are unknown, were lynched at Womelsdorf, near here, last night by an angry mob numbering several hundred. Both whites and negroes are enraged and in arms. More trouble is hourly ex-pected. The trouble grows out of the murder of Chief Bud Wilmoth, on July 26. At noon at the Northern Hotel an address was presented from the town council and board of trade, welcoming him to the silver gateway to the golden west, in which the following occurs: "The great improvement of the west, the rapid influx of population and the enormous increase in its exports have necessitatd the building of another railway from Port Arthur to the plains, which must soon be a second transcontinental line. Well drillers acting for the United Gas and Oil Company of Windsor, have struck gas and oil in Romney Township, two miles east of the village of Wheatley. It is said to be a rich find, and is expected to give the company a new lease of life. The well will be connected with the company's pipes that run to Windsor. It is the belief of the company that there is a gas belt in this vicinity, and its agents have leased all the land, upwards of 2,000 acres.

The Strength of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

Toronto, July 24. — The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers in session here conducts its affairs very quietly, but is one of the most powerful and important of labor organizations of North America. Organized in 1863 at Marshall, Mich., with a membership of but ten, the order has grown so rapidly and solidly that its subdivisions, numbering 536, are now spread all over this continent, and include nine-tenths of the best locomotive engineers of the continent. The report of the secretary and treasurer, W. B. Prenter, of the in surance department, showed that the department has at present a membership of about 30,000, comprising engin-eers in the United States, Mexico, and Canada. The average monthly payment in adjustment of claims for the past year has been about $75,-000, over $2,000 daily. The total amount paid out in claims for disability and death up to May 1, 1902, was $10,699,947. The department was organized in 1867. Wm. E. Futch, of Cleveland, is president.

THE IRON MOLDERS. Toronto, July 24 .- The Iron Molders' International Union decided to greatly strengthen the defense fund.
At present the assessment yields $100,-000 a year, or a little over. An extra 25 cents a quarter will be levied, and this will give an income of $150,000 a year for defense. The convention very strictly guarded the power of ordering a strike. A proposal to permit local unions to strike without consulting the international executive was defeated, and no local union can strike without consent. The convention will be held in three years unless in the meantime the members by referendum decide on a convention once in four years only. The delegates to the next convention will be one to every 200 members, instead of one to every 100, as at the present.

One Fireman Killed and a Number Seriously Hurt.

MONEY LOSS ABOUT $750,000

The Entire Department Summoned to the Scene-The Men Buried Beneath Falling Walls.

Albany, N. Y., July 25.-One fireman dead, one in the hospital believed to be dying and a number seriously injured in addition to a monetary loss variously estimated at from $500,000 to $750,000 is the result of a fire which broke out in the heart of the business district shortly before 3 o'clock this

The entire fire department of the city was called into service and for hours it looked as though their efforts to check the spread of the flames would prove unavailing.

The dead fireman is D. K. Bishop, an auxiliary member, of the insurance patrol and prominent in the city's social and financial circles.

With him at the time he met his death was James J. Shelly, a fellow member of the patrol, who after almost superhuman work by members of the fire department was dug out of a mass of hot bricks and wreckage, terribly burned and with both hips dislocated, both legs broken, one arm shattered and severe internal injuries. He is now in the hospital, and the physicians hold out but little hope for his recovery. The fire started on the top floor, of what is known as the Public Market building on Beaver street, and spread rapidly through that building and despite all the efforts of the firemen to check it to the Columbia Hotel, and the Elks Club House, which adjoins it on the west and east respectively.

While the firemen were hard at work the front wall of the Market building buckled and almost immediately fell, earrying with it the upper story of the Columbia Hotel. It was in the latter building that the firemen met their fate.

Before the fire was finally under control, it communicated to the Un-conditional Republican Club House and the building occupied by the Evening Times-Union. Neither of these establishments suffered to any

The Exodus to Manitoba.

Of the twenty thousand men who will go to Manitoba in a few weeks aid in harvesting operations, by far the greater portion will be from Ontario. Of course there is no such surplus of regular farm labor in this province. Many owners of land and owners' sons take advantage of these excursions to visit Manitoba and spy out the land, with the idea of locating there. They are content to work in the harvest fields, in order to become acquainted with farming methods in the Prairie Province. Ontario has made Manitoba, and the migration from one to the other accounts in some measure for the unsatisfactory census returns in this Province. The movement to the new the Canadian Northwest, not the Western States, has drawn the bulk of the emigrátion from Eastern Canada, Now that a great area of fertile soil has been opened up in New Ontario it is to be hoped this Province will keep many of her land-seekers at home.

Last year there was much complaint over the arrangements in Manitoba for distributing the immense army of harvesters from the East, and many returned without employment. It is sald the government and the railway companies are planning to prevent a similar trouble this year, by obtaining statistics as to the exact number of men required in each district. Every farmer is requested to report the numher of men he will require, and the probable date when they will be needed. A well-directed system is necessary to handle 20,000 men, and it is in the interests of the whole country that Manitoba's big crop shall not suffer for want of timely and sufficient labor to gather it in.

The C. P. R. After It.

The C. P. R. acknowledges that it has put in a tender for a fast Atlantic steamship service between Canadian and British ports. The tender is now before the Imperial conference and President Shaughnessy says that the company, if successful, will give a service satisfactory to the people of Canada, both as regards passengers and freight. Preparing to Attack Laurier.

The opponents of Sir Wilfrid Laurier are getting ready for a concerted attack on him, in the likely event of his coming home without a British preference in his pocket. They are already bembarding him with complaints | Canada furnish the wire, for the reathat he is not sufficiently sturdy in his begging. "If the Canadian Premier," says the Toronto World, "had sounded one clear call, and had wakened the slumbering statesmen of Great Britain to the importance of doing something to develop the unlimited resources of Canada, the conference would not end so ingloriously as it now seems destined to do." Canada may be thankful that she is not humiliated in the mother country by a premier who has such a conception of his own importance and who regards British statesmen as a lot of dustrial enterprise. All wealth comes lotus-eaters, who can only be brought from the land; wealth brings power out of their trance by his own magic. The idea is revolting to Canadian self-respect. If there is any scheme of preference which will work to the mutual advantage of the mother country and the colonies, the statesmanship of the Empire may be relied upon to work it out, but the lop-sided preference urged by the World and its political friends is a piece of selfishness any Canadian premier should be ashamed to suggest. They ask the British people to permanently tax their own food for Canada's benefit when millions in Britain are living just above the hunger line, but they balk at the suggestion of any reduction of the Canadian tariff in favor of British producers. When Canada gets that brand of preference, British statesmen will be slumbering indeed.

London and the Coal Famine.

The Lackawanna Railway Company had 2,400 tons of coal at Oswego held for an emergency, but this week they and cheaper lands of Manitoba is a instructed their agent to dispose of it natural, healthy and progressive one, at the regular wholesale price as it and it is satisfactory that in late years was before the strike. He sent letters his constituents. to customers in Canada, and the result, says the Kingston Whig, is that cargoes of coal are now on their way to Kingston. There is a lesson in this for London. Coal is ferried direct from Conneaut, Ohio, to Port Stanley, and the storage of it on a large scale at the Port would protect this city against a coal famine, or against famine prices such as prevail at present. The miners and the operators in both the hard and the soft coal fields have been frequently at war, and the public is the principal sufferer every time. The Lake Erie and Detroit River Railway Company proposed to increase the coal storage capacity at Port Stanley and accumulate a large reserve, which could be drawn upon in an emergency, but when they were refused an extension of the L. and P. S. R. lease they dropped the plan. Perhaps the company cannot be blamed if they decline to make extensive investments and improvements in view of the short duration of their present lease of the road, but the project would have been a good thing for this city.

It is estimated that the United States can save considerable money by letting son that in this country American wire can be bought for half a cent per pound less than in the United States. The American Steel Trust, on account of the high tariff, has a monopoly in the home market, and can charge more there than in Canada, where it has to meet foreign competition.

As with the Steel Trust, so with the Standard Oil Company; its enormous power and wealth come from its proprietary interest in oil lands: in acquiring these it has obtained control over the sources of supply. Ross' Majority Respectable. [Goderich Signal.]

The Hon. William MacDougall was on one occasion elected to parliament by a majority of one. When addressing the electors after the returns were all in, a Philistine in the crowd bawled What about your majority?" The reply was short, sharp and decisive: "My majority is all right; it is not but it is eminently respectable, and will serve its turn." Cheers greeted the statement, and Mr. MacDougall had the privilege of sitting a full term in the house and doing good work for

Happy Days. [S. E. Kiser.] The splendid summer days have come, The gladdest of the year;

The picnic sandwich has arrived,
The open cars are here.
Excursion boats sail out of town,
While bands of music play;
And circus tents are blowing down
On people every day.

These are the gladdest days of all That happy mortals know; The fools who rock the boats are hear From every day or so; he cyclones flatten buildings out And gayly sweep away, While joyfully we read about Some cloud-burst every day.

This is the merry summer time,
The gladdest time we know;
These are the days when songbirds sing,
And blushing roses blow;
Upon the broad gray strips of sand
The happy children play,
While mad dogs drop their muzzles, and Romp gayly every day. Romp gayly every day.

[London Answers.] An English resident of Shanghai, having made a good dinner from a tasty but unrecognized dish, called his cook, Wun Hoo, and congratulated him on "I hope you didn't kill one of those dogs to provide the soup," jestingly remarked his daughter, referring, of course, to the pariahs which haunt Chinese streets.

Wun Hoo made a solemn gesture of "No killee dawg, missee," he exclaimed. "Him alleddy dead when I pickee

AND BEAUTY, BUT SHOULD A. WESTMAN Hardware 111 Dundas St.

It is impossible to go into details on this subject, but the experience of many a poor woman who is crippled for life, just because she didn't use a good remedy in time, should be a warning to others. When the first stages of womanhood appear in a young girl, a great deal depends upon getting her over this critical stage, so that in years to come she will not develop green sickness or consumption.

As soon as she complains of flushed face, headache, bearing down feelings, give her at once a course of Ferrozone treatment, which will carry her past the crisis. In the adult woman if any irregularities occur, Ferrozone will be found a remedy of remarkable potency and power. Ferrozone is the ideal regulator for the monthly period and causes all the organs of the body to perform their work properly, and at just the expect-

Chicago, July 24.—There were fancy prices again in July oats and July corn to relieve the monotony of a grain session otherwise dull. The former jumped 3c to a new record price. 70c. The latter sold at 70c, but did not hold its strength. The general situation in grains was very unsatisfactory to the trade at large, pwing to the congestion in July options. Fluctuations were narrow in deferred futures, and aside from the fair weather, the bearish influence that predominated was that of unstraddling September. December wheat spread, September wheat closed ½c to ½c down, September corn ½c to ½c lower, and September oats ½c lower; July oats gained 3c. Provisions closed 20c to 22½c higher. Local receipts of wheat were 125 cars, only one of contract grade; Minneapolis and Duluth reported 191 cars, making a total for the three points of 316 cars, against 377 last week and 548 a year ago. Primary receipts were 1.037,000 bu, against 990,000 bu last year. Seaboard clearances in wheat and flour equaled 307,000 bu. The seaboard reported 10 loads taken for export. Corn was dull and inanimate most of the day. Cables were higher, receipts small, but closing prices showed a slight decline in most options. July was unchanged, at 67c, and at the close September sold between 60%c to 61½c, and closed easy. ½c to ½c down, at 61½. STILL A MYSTERY

Death of George Whalley Unexplained-No Reason for Suicide.

Toronto, July 25.-The police have thoroughly investigated the manner of life of Geo. Whalley, the shipper, found dead in Evans & Sons' wholesale drug warehouse last Sunday, under circumstances that pointed either to sulcide by poison or to murder. The result is to prove that Whalley had no possible motive in taking his own life. The man's stomach is now being analyzed by Prof. Ellis, and if poison is found in it the case will assume the importance of the celebrated Sternaman case, and the body of Geen, the young shipper, who was found dying in the warehouse a month ago, will be exhumed to see if he, too, was poisoned.

It is said that Whalley and Geen knew the identity of some persons intimately acquainted with the warehouse who tried to set it on fire in May last, after a clumsy attempt at burglary, and that this person got rid of the danger of detection by putting poison in liquor which both men may have drunk. In Geen's case he had drunk some sherry just before death, and in Whalley's it is believed that he may have had some liquor shortly before death. The pay of both men was missing when they were found, although neither had had opportunity to dispose Whalley's wife says that this is the strongest reason for her belief that her husband was murdered, because in the thirty years of her married life her husband had always brought home his pay envelope to her.

ST. SWITHIN'S DAY

How Many Know the Story on Which the Old Tradition Rests?

An old tradition says that if it rains on St. Swithin's Day, July 15, it will on Tuesday, July 15, and it has rained pretty much ever since. St. Swithin was an old-time Bishop of Winchester. How his name came to be connected with continuous rains is told in the following story: When he died he left instructions that his burial should be n the churchyard, instead of in the chancel along with the other bishops. His wishes were carried out, but later some monks, thinking it beneath his dignity to remain out in the churchyard among the common people, began to dig up the ground about the grave preparatory to removing his body to the chancel. However, no sconer had they set spade to earth than it began to rain, and poured in torrents for 40 days thereafter. The monks took it that they had received a gentle hint from heaven that their labors were unappreciated and thenceforth St. Swithin was allowed to have his own way as to the place of his sepulchre. The rain began on July 15, whence the old

BORN SLAVE 100 YEARS AGO; DIED FREE MAN IN LONDON

Moses Bramen Was an Old Man walked every bit of the way. To dodge the southern troops and the different freebooting organizations When the Great American Civil War Broke Out.

A man whose long life had been filled with exciting and interesting experiences passed away this morning in the person of Moses Bramen, colored, at the remarkable age of 100 years. His death occurred at his home, 81 William street, where he had resided for many years.

He was born in the day of slavery at Petersburgh, Virginia. He passed his boyhood days in the cotton fields working overseer of the plantation. It appears, however, that he had resolved Saturday: Fair and Warm; Local in his boyish days to some time throw North Buxton, Ont., where he pur-off the yoke of bondage. His master chased a farm. He remained there for had always kept a watchful eye over birth until he was nearly sixty years disposition. of age. The breaking out of the war between the North and South caused not discovered till late this morning, his master to send him to a place 500 miles south of Petersburgh. He had discovered the remarkable intelligence Moses possessed and resolved not to lose so good a servant. Moses was put on a plantation and compelled to work hard. After being there for some time he determined, with two other negroes, to make an attempt to get back to Petersburgh, and if possible to gain his liberty. Such a course was considered by the others to be extremely hazardous, if not impracticable. "Now or never," was Moses' decision, and with his companions, he started. It would be impossible to describe the terrible journey the three slaves made. They forded nine rivers and necessitated the three traveling very secretly and mostly by night. They ate what they could find in the woods and fallen leaves formed their beds. After many weeks of the most wearisome travel the three arrived in the vicinity of Petersburgh, where they lived undiscovered for some time.

Word finally came to Moses' master of his return. The pantation owner laughed and said "impossible." Not until Moses had come one night to the planation and was there positively identified would the master believe that his old slave had come 500 miles on foot, forded nine rivers and braved the terrible dangers of the southern swamps, and yet lived. He was glad his boyhood days in the cotton fields to see his old servant again, though, and when quite young, through his and took him back and gave him a good conduct, was given authority by home. When the war was declared over and all slaves were set free Mr. his master and was made a kind of Bramer moved here. This was in the year 1867, and he lived in this city three or four years when he moved to nearly twenty years and then came Moses, and though not cruel to him back to London, where he has lived was always firm and gave him no for nearly two decades. Mr. Bramen had been suffering from rheumatism for a number of years, but none of his faculties were impaired and his intellect was perfectly clear. He was married twice, his fist wife dying some years ago. He is survived by his second wife, who is still hale and hearty at a ripe, old age. Mr. Bramen was a deacon of the Horton Street Baptist Church for many vears. He was also a member of the Good Samaritans. The funeral will take place on Sun-

SUMMER NORMAL SCHOOL

Mr. John Dearness, of London, Presided at Closing

The summer normal school at Toronto was brought pleasantly to a close yesterday afternoon by a gathering of pupils and teachers in the theater of the education building. The pupils, who were teachers from every district of the province, numbered about 200. Even Russell county, Essex county, Rat Portage and Sudbury were represented. The principal, Mr. John Dearness, of London, presided, and he was accompanied on the platform by Mr. John Millar, deputy minister of education, and the staff of the school. Each of the teachers spoke interestingly of the work under their charge, as follows:: Nature studies, the chairman, Mr. Dearness; manual training, Mr. and Mrs. Wilkinson and Mr. Hagerman; drawing, Mr. A. C. Casselman; domestic science, Mrs. Joy; music, Mr. Cringan. During their stay in the city the teachers were taken to visit a number of industrial institutions and factories. At the close of the meeting the appre-ciation and thanks of the pupils were expressed by a number of them, and a resolution of thanks to the minister of education, Hon. Richard Harcourt, was carried, and responded to by Mr. John Millar.

THE ASPHALT COMBINE

London Company's Solicitor Files an Affidavit.

Mr. E. F. B. Johnston, who is acting for the Forest City Paving Company in the asphalt litigation, yesterday filed an affidavit by Mr. Geo. C. Warren, says the Globe. The first eight paragraphs deal with the quality of the Warren Acme Asphalt, which he declares to be the equal of the Trinidad variety; in other words, that it is up to the quality called for in the specifications. The next paragraph deals with the relations existing between the Barber Asphalt Company and the Constructing and Paving Company, which, he says, are tantamount to a combine. His statement is substantially as follows: "I am reliably informed and believe that a combine exists in the city of Toronto between the Barber Asphalt Company and the Constructing and Paving Company, of Toronto, Limited, under which, while in apparent contracts and divide tenders among themselves, and have conspired together to prevent any others from getting contracts for asphalt pavements in Toronto."

"And you like her very much?" she said, in a low, impressive tone. Why does a woman love her dog, her china, her new dress, but only talks of liking when it a case of an unfortunate in the toils? Probably on the same principle that the spider likes the bluebottle buzzing in her web, to the destruction of the faoric, but also to the clumsy inbut also to the clumsy insect's utter discomfiture.

"I would do anything on earth for her," answered Gilbert, in a tone of suppresse

feeling. "She's the only woman in the 'And you wouldn't injure her or vex her, or make her unhappy in any pursued the lady.

"I would give my life to preserve one of the hairs of her head," was his reply.

"I tell you, there is nothing I wouldn't do, nothing I wouldn't endure, to spare her a moment's sorrow or uneasiness."

"And yet, Mr. Orme, you couldn't well a music mistress," observed Mrs. her, or make her unhappy in any way?" marry a music mistress," observed Mrs.
Montpellier, quite simply and quietly.
Now such a remark as this with nine Montpellier, quite simply and quietly.

Now such a remark as this with nine men out of ten would have been judicious and effective. It was, indeed, as the old Romans would say, "touching the matter with the point of a needle"; it was placing before him in the clearest light the absurdity of his position, disillusioning him in the most simple matter-of-fact way of the romance in which he had chosen to wrap himself up. It ignored all heroism and martyrdom, and such morbid exaggeration, and was but a civil manner of expressing a sentiment which is seldom without its due influence. "What a fool Mrs. Grundy will think you!"—and as such it was no doubt a weighty and unanswerable argument.

But Gilbert didn't care for Mrs. Grundy. That ubiquitous lady had petted and encouraged him till. like any other spoiled child, he was very regardless of the good opinion of his nurse. "You cculdn't well marry a music mistress." This was exactly the question he had never yet asked himself point-blank. It was now brought before him as a foregone conclusion, a social impossibility. Couldn't he? We should see! There was a strong leavening of opposition in his character, as there is in most of those who are capable of self-sacrifice, and to such a temperament as his it was delightful to think that he had much to give, that the condescension would not be all on his mistress' side; for, like a true knight, he had never thought of himself as worthy of the least of her regards. After all, this would solve the difficulty at once. He would find her out if the world held her; he would see her again before he was twenty-four hours older. Mrs. Montpellier had suggested the very thing he would sive and out if the world held her; he would see her again before he was twenty-four hours older. Mrs. Montpellier had suggested the very thing he would give all he had to accomplish; and he made an inward vow, as he folded that lady carefully in her shawl, that he would marry the music mistress if she could be induced to accept him. The latter contingency would probably scarce have occurred to anyone else, certainly not to a disheartening extent; but it was sure to cast a gloom over the visions of one who was deeply and truly in tove.

As he took Mrs. Montpellier to her carriage, good-natured friends in the crush-room arrived at their own conclusions as to their sudden alliance. He crush-room arrived at their own conclu-gions as to their sudden alliance. He had been in her box all the evening!—he had never left her for an instant! Even now they seemed to be whispering about something very interesting. What would Lady Gertrude say? and Mr. Montpel-lier?—If he was really alive, which some people affirmed, or if, as Lady Visigoth observed, there ever was such a person; "not that she was surprised the least— it was all of a piece—young Orme was Like all old people, I must tell my story my own way or not at all. I have seen my grandmother (now I trust can-onized) drivelling over her knitting dur-ing a livelong summer's day. Here she ing a livelong summer's day. Here she would skip a whole row, with that appearance of carelessness which is perhaps the greatest triumph of art; there she would "drop three stitches and take up one" with grave perseverance and perplexing ingenuity. Anon the ball of worsted would roll off her venerable knees, and escapa into all sorts of imworsted would roll on her venerable knees, and escape into all sorts of im-practicable corners, an object for the gambols of the kitten or the admiration of the two-year-old sprawling on the floor. Sometimes the work would seem to progress, sometimes to retrograde. Yesterday all four pins revolving like the arms of a windmill: today two or three arms of a windmill; today two or three of them stationary as the legs of a piano-yet somehow the task went on; through every dilemma, through every misadventure, the fabric grew larger, and a ribbed worsted stocking, that it tickled you to look at, was the eventual result. Is it not so with "a tale that is told"? The thread is continually escaping, the work constantly entangled, the pins seldom equably sharing the toil. Still, row by row, and line by line, the manufacture comes to a conclusion; and. manufacture comes to a conclusion; and, like the stocking, is footed and finished, and produced with all its imperfections, used and worn out, or to be condemned and put away.

My ball is rolling today beyond the reach of child or kitten, far out upon the floor. This is to be a chapter devoted to moralizing. Like knitting, it is an humble, prosale and somniferous pursuit. Black hitting also such as it is it. suit; like knitting also, such as it is, it has a certain result. You can always skip it and pass on, or you can wade through it with laborious condescension, marking the while where the skein is entangled and the stitches have been

I have heard of a ship sailing for a distant port, well-manned, well-provisioned, well-found in stores and tackle, and every kind of gear. Her destination was familiar to captain and crew, her charts familiar to captain and crew, her charts were clear and accurate, she lay her course to a nicety by the bearings of her compass; and yet this ship went on shore five hundred miles and more out of her due reckoning, and so going to pieces, was lost with all her cargo upon a reef. The underwriters were beside themselves. Never was such a thing known! The captain must have been mad or drunk, or incompetent—perhaps all three; he deserved to be drowned, which he was not, and his escape was which he was not, and his escape was the more fortunate as he was enabled eventually to account for the catastrophe. He had studied his charts and taken his bearings accurately; he had not neglected his duty for an instant, and the ship's head had never wavered a point off her safest course. She answered her helm admirably, and the alternate Tritons at the wheel were able seamen one and all, who could steer her to an inch by the compasses before them. And here was compasses before them. And here was the whole mischief—the compass itself was in error. A quantity of iron, placed for greater security about the binnacle had caused a considerable variation of the magnetic needle; and the very instrument that should have been her truest safeguard proved that hapless ship's destruction. Many days of cloudy weather had prevented her officers from taking a celestial observation; and the influence of the currents, as usual, had considerof the currents, as usual, had considerably affected her dead reckening. Thus ably affected her dead reckoning. Thus she drove forward in perfect confidence, faster and faster toward her fate—struck—filled—broke up—and so went down.

How often I think of that ship when I reflect on the wide ocean of hie! What avail all the blocks and spars and canvas of the prosperous bark, the friends who surround and support us, the advantages of position, rank or genius; nay, the very wealth the sits our sails? What avails the well-known chart that most of us study at least once in a week, that, warns us of every shoul and every danger, and shows us the only true course to lead to the wished-for haven? What avails the dead reckoning of respectability, and worldly advantage, and solf-interest—nay, the very compass of ethical morality itself—if we never take a celestial observation on our own ac-

TONIGHT'S BIG FIGHT. San Francisco, July 25 .- Sporting men from all parts of the country are arriv- score was as follows: ing here on every train to witness the fight tonight for the heavyweight championship. The betting has not been heavy in comparision with the amounts wagered on previous events of the kind, and the odds have not fluctuated much from 10 to 4 in favor of Jeffries. That Fitzsimmons is trained to the hour is beyond question. He has never made such preparations before for a fight. He is as fit as a man age can be made. He is full of confidence, and wishes to be quoted as saying that he will surely win Jeffries did little or no work yesterday. He is in splendid spirits, and

Nearly 100 policemn will be employed to restrain the crowd which is sure to gather around the structure while the fight is in progress. Dr. C. W. MRS. FITZ WANTS TO SEE FIGHT. New York, July 25 .- Mrs. Robert Fitzsimmons feels as confident of success for her husband in his coming contest with Jeffries as she did on the evening of the historic conflict at Carson City, where she played so spectacular a part. Writing Skaggs Springs, Cal., to her brother, Martin Julian, who was formerly Fitzsimmons' manager, she says: "I think that Bob will win from Jeffries this time, though, as you know, I have never underestimated the champion's fighting powers. The first time Bob fought Jim he certainly did not take the contest seriously, and, as you well know, I had to keep at him continually to make him get in any kind of shape." Mrs. Fitzsimmons discusses Bob's training, and then writes: "Bob has resolved to make Jeffries carry the fight to him in the beginning, and to

New York Sun, July 24: Today two great hearts are beating in expectation of tomorrow's strain and fame. While ring battles are perennial and plenty, the kind that is about to occur in San Francisco comes very, very seldom. The actors will be the "real thing," first-class, and, to make their match peculiarly interesting, of widely differing types. Jeffries will face Fitzsimmons, and vice versa, the first, as it known to all, of course, as champion. If among the 220-pound giants to whom the prize ring has brought a niche in history, there has been one abler than Jeffries, when all the points of the recall him. The never-to-be-forgotten Bostonian, John Lawrence Sullivan, peerless in his prime, was of osmewhat lighter weight. On the other hand, pound for pound, has ever stepped into the roped arena than Robert Fitzsimmons, our memory also fails us. Mace of approximately Fitzsimmons' weight, say 165, fought more in the school of the academy; but man to man-let others carry on the debate. Of the two, as an opponent for the present champion, we should be content to be represented by Fitzsimmons.

Jeffries, overwhelming in weight, but up to handling it, immense in strength with the irrepressible activity of youth, filled with the true fighter's spirit and almost unhurtable from the mass and toughness of his frame! Fitzsimmons, whipcord and battering ram, of a strength out of proportion to his measurements, with the mule's kick concealed behind his glove, inspired now as always with the hope of getting in a blow such as he thinks no man can receive from him and stand, and even with a tought of winning on his merits through worrying Jeffries down to his own unchangeable level No wonder that the athletic world is agog with speculation on the outcome. A seer not unknown to the readers of the Sun, Prof. Hines, of Central prophets are saying the same thing to the tune of $1 against $2. Possibly Prof. Hines and his financial colleagues are correct; but so far as the natural probabilities are revealed to ordinary

In London's half of the fifth innings with no men out, the bases were filled up, but Howkins settled down and the next three men went out easily, Lodge making a hair-raising catch of a fly from the third man's bat. Each team scored two runs in the thirteenth, London making their second about a quarter of a minute before the side was retired. A discussion arose over the right to count this run, but the umpire counted the runner safe. The St. Johns hit the ball hard in the fourteenth innings, and with the bases full the winning run was scored by Friendship. The rooters had plenty of cause to exercise their lungs, and took every advantage of the opportunities. Harry Martin had an unenviable position as umpire, and, considering the many close plays, did well. The

Every man of the twelve fell back beaten before the half-mile is in hard and strict training, and they will all be in the best of shape to tackle Stratford on Saturday at Tecumseh Park. There was a little score to settle on account of the way things went in the Classic City, when last London journeyed there, but the local team is going to heap coals of fire on their opponents' heads, and show them how a clean and fast game of lacrosse should be played. At that the members of the local team have not much to complain of, for although they were treated decidedly rough in spots, they seemed to hold their own in the mix- 1:47% ups, and have decided to call that kind of thing off. THE GRAND CIRCUIT. Cleveland, Ohio, July 25 .- Three favorites and an outsider won at the Grand Circuit meeting yesterday, the races being characterized either close finishes or sensational time. Datwin was the selection for the opening race and Lord Marsh was the second hoice. The showing made by Geers' entry in the first two aused a break of the money to Ward. He was all in after the first half of the third mile had been raced, and then caught the flag on the next trip. Wentworth loomed up in the fourth heat, and was able to outfoot Darwin, always the contender. Daphne Dallas was made the favorite in the 2:11 pace, with Dick See as a strong second. Listowel Club Is a Thriving Organization.

A Reminiscence of the Aylmer Club's Start-Incidents on the Tourney Green, ONDON CLUB is naturally elated over the fact that at last a London rink has secured the coveted trophy, and the winners were the recipients of many congratulations. The rink fully deserved them all, for it won strictly on its merits. John Stevenson, the leader, is one of London's veterans. Throughout the present tournament he has played a remarkably steady game. H. Finchamp, who plays second, showed himself the right man at many a critical moment, making some clever shots. In passing it may be said that it is due to Mr. Finchamp's generosity that the bowlers and their friends have been supplied with music all through the tournament. He provided a Mason-Risch piano and a pianola, which rendered the latest popular and light opera music each day. "Jimmie" McDougall, the popular secretary of the London club, played a really brilliant game throughout. Should the expected increase in St. Louis, Mo., July 25.-Weather entries take place next year, the question of accommodation will become an important one for the London club to garet Steele, 100 (C. Their green is a fine one, giving space for nine rinks. Mr. Zilliax was naturally much disappointed at having to leave London without participating in the singles. He was given only one chance to display his talents, being taken as a substitute for an absent player in "Cob" Weld's rink. The rink won, owing altogether to Mr. Zilliax's superior playing. He spoiled the good impression, however, by loud and insistent demands for monetary recompense for his efforts, suggesting $10 as a suitable figure. He had to leave for home without the money, however Aylmer Bowling Club was only organized last year, and some of the players were at first discouraged at their lack of success in playing against older and more proficient clubs. On one occasion last year, after Mr. N. A. Mc-Callum's rink had been badly beaten in St. Thomas. Mr. McCallum was so disgusted that while waiting for the train which was to take the players, he offered to sell his bowls for 25 cents. One of the St. Thomas players who rembered the incident approached Mr. McCallum yesterday when the latter was flushed with successive victories over Chatham and Ridgetown rinks in the consolation match. "Well, 'Mac,'" he asked, "will you sell me wrought-iron one, the sort hitherto your bowls now for 25 cents?" "No, in- used.

When the heavy storm of yesterday had passed its height, large sections of the lower lawn were completely covered with water, to the depth of one or more inches. The London bowlers said that they had never before seen the green so wet. The appearance of the miniature lakes on the lawn called forth many humorous suggestions from the bowlers. Some advocated the use of the boats which fill the lower story of the clubhouse, while others thought that bathing suits would be suitable costumes in which to continue the games. However, the earth rapidly absorbed the surplus moisture, Old Sol's rays quickly dried the surface, and play was soon proceeding as merrily as though it had not rained for a long time-36 hours, for

A comical incident was witnessed on one of the greens yesterday. For the benefit of the uninitiated it must be explained that when a badly aimed bowl rolls across the dividing line on to an adjoining green, it is moved back to the line, but its position on the other green is marked for scoring purposes by the placing upon the spot of some small object, such as a match or a piece of card. A shot having been made which required this marking, one of the players lifted the bowl, extracted a fat roll of bills from his pocket and nonchalantly placed them on the spot hastily lifted them again as a couple Steeple on Askin Street Methodist Church Struck.

House on Oxford Street Damaged and Barn Destroyed.

This city was the center of extremely severe electrical phenomena Wednesday night and yesterday. The lightning, which appeared with the rain, was' unprecedented, and it will be a day or more before the full extent of the damage which has been done in London and this district will be known. During the storm yesterday morning a house on Oxford street was struck and slightly damaged, no one being injured. A barn owned by a market gardener named Baker, who lives south of Brick street, in Westminster, was struck and burned.

The steeple on the Askin Street Methodist Church in South London was struck during the storm at noon yes-terday. The lightning struck a few feet from the top on the northeast side, shivering the boards there, and passed out on the south side near the roof, where several more boards were torn.

WILL TRY A NEW PLAN

Repairs to Asphalt Have Been Costing Too Much

And Board of Works Will Call for Tenders for a Number of Years.

The board of works will make an mportant recommendation to the city council when it meets next, respecting the repairs to the asphalt pavement. Hitherto it has been the rule to have the work done by the company which put the pavement down, and the annual bill has been very high. Manager Carr, of the street railway, has told the aldermen that the reason he was not going on with the repairs to his allowance was because he expected to get figures for the work on a contract of five or ten years, and the aldermen thought that if he could do this, they could, too. Last night, the board decided to recommend the council to call for tenders for repairing the pavement for a period either of five or ten years, and it is expected that a considerable saving will thus be made. A deputation of ratepayers on High street, South London, appeared before the board asking for a new sewer and damages for injury done to their property by the water backing into their cellars. They said that their places are in almost an uninhabitable condition, and said that they were prepared to pay a part of the cost of a new sewer. The committee will try the effect of running the sewer to the river at Wellington street.

The committee will offer $150 to Mrs. J. Clemens, who was injured some time ago by falling on Marshall street. The accident occurred after a perman-ent walk was petitioned against, the ratepayers claiming that the old plank walk was good for a year or two more. This led the committee to adopt a resolution, instructing the engineer to tear up any walks considered dangerous.

New Song Promises to Rival "Soldiers of the Queen."

At the band concert last evening the Seventh Regiment band played for the first time in the city of London that beautiful piece of music, "The Homeland Welcome," composed by Warwick Williams. It was composed by Mr. Williams as a welcome to the returning South African troops, more especially the City Imperial Volunteers. The piece last evening received, as it richly deserved, a hearty encore. The chorus ends as follows:

Let us hail them when we meet them, Let us honor as we greet them; Soldier citizens are these,

Who have fought beyond the seas. 'Tis London's privilege to claim them, London's pride it was to name them, London's glorious gallant C. I. Vs. It promises to become almost as popular as "Soldiers of the Queen."

THE ROBBERS GOT $59,000

Daring Hold-Up on the Mexican Central Railway.

Ruffians Leisurely Help Themselves to Money in the Express Car-

El Paso, Texas, July 25.-A daring hold-up took place on the Mexican Central at about 12:30 o'clock Tuesday morning just after the train had left Bermijilo. At that point three Americans boarded the train, two secreting themselves on the blind baggage car and the other entering the third class coach. As soon as the train pulled out the two hiding on the outside entered the express car, and covering Messenger Buckner with their revolvers, ordered him to throw up his hands. The messenger offered no resistance. The robbers then went leisurely through the safe, securing $50,000 in currency consigned to the Banco Minerco at Chihuahua. They also took what other money packages were in the safe and remained quiet until the train slowed down, making a hasty exit and dropping off the train before it stopped. They then disappeared into the darkness.

About the time the robbers entered the express car, the conductor of the train became engaged in an altercation with a passenger, who refused to pay his fare. Finally the conductor had the train stopped, and the passenger was ejected. The robbers aighted at the same time. It is now believed the troublesome passenger was a partner of the robbers, and that his actions were a ruse to secure the stoppage of the train.

Hearty Reception Given Second Mounted Rifles.

Last Contingent Reached Africa Too Late to Get Any Medals.

Toronto, July 25 .- The reception of the Toronto members of the Second Mounted Rifles last night at the Union station was enthusiastic in the extreme. The city council met the troopers, and a procession was formed, headed by the Queen's Own Band, in which several hundred members of the various city regiments joined. The C. M. R. were in many cases borne shoulder high by their friends on the march through the streets, which were densely crowded, to the armories. On arriving there, addresses congratulating the regiment on its gal-lant record at Hart's River, and regretting the death of two of the Toronto men of the regiment, were delivered by the members of the council. Hamilton, Ont., July 25.—Notwith-standing the heavy rain, there was a very large crowd at the C. P. R. depot procession of any kind, and what military men there were present did not wear their uniform. Only about half the number of boys expected arrived.
