[Special Correspondence of the ADVERTISER by Telegraph.]

OTTAWA, March 27.—The supplementary estimates for the year beginning July 1, which were brought down to-day, amount to $1,500,000, and contain some important and many controversial items. The following are extracted:

For a female prison and a criminal asylum, $10,000.

To purchase manilla fiber for the manufacture of binder twine in the penitentiaries, $25,000; for plant, $3,000.

Salaries of two circuit judges, district of Montreal, $6,000.

Additional amount for World's Fair, $70,000.

To enable the dairy commissioner to make purchases of cheese and butter at the several experimental stations, the proceeds of the sales of such purchases to be placed to the credit of the consolidated revenue fund, $36,000.

Drill pay, active militia, $10,000.

Gratuities to officers of the active militia staff who are to be placed on the retired list, $17,000.

For purchase of modern firearms, $16,500.

Dominion contributions towards capital expenditure for works and buildings connected with the defense of Esquimalt, B. C., $70,000, and $35,000 to pay a detachment of royal marine artillery or royal engineers.

For free ammunition to the rifle leagues, $4,000.

There is a capital expenditure of $400,000 for railways and canals, including $157,000 for the Cape Breton Railway, and $20,000 for an extension of the North Sydney branch to deep water terminus. There is $25,000 for an extension of the Intercolonial along the front of St. John city, and $24,000 to purchase two locomotives to haul combined Intercolonial and C. P. R. trains between Halifax and Moncton. For the Trent Valley Canal there is $7,000—$4,000 on the Scugog River, and $3,000 for a swing bridge at Fenelon Falls; for the ship channel, Montreal and Quebec, $80,000.

Under public works there is $12,500 for a quarantine station at Halifax, and $15,000 for a new building for the lepers at Tracadie; for quarantine building and appliances at Grosse Isle and Quebec, $24,600; for quarantine station at Williams' Head, British Columbia, $17,500; new postoffice at Victoria, B. C., $100,000.

In Ontario there is $12,000 for extension to piers and repairs to Port Stanley harbor; additional amount for Goderich harbor, $10,000; dredging at Hamilton, $6,000; towards completion of channel at Owen Sound, $5,000.

There is $200,000 for steam service between St. John, Yarmouth and Halifax. There is an estimate of $60,000 for the Alaska boundary commission. There is pretty certain to be a big row over the Esquimalt defenses.

In the course of his remarks upon the resolution to provide salaries for members of Parliament who are to represent the Dominion at the Chicago World's Fair, Mr. Mulock stated that there were at least twenty members of the House of Commons who have, practically, their commissions as Government officials in their pockets. The Free Press commenting on this says: "Among the 25 are included Mr. R. S. White, who will be made customs collector at Montreal; Mr. Joncas, who is to succeed Mr. Gregory as agent of the Marine Department at Quebec; Mr. Mackintosh, who is about to be made a lieutenant-governor; Messrs. Madill and Masson, who are booked for county judgeships; Mr. A. W. Ross, of Lisgar, who will no doubt secure the Manitoba lieutenant-governorship; Mr. Desaulniers, to be made postmaster at Three Rivers; Mr. Carignan, who is to get a senatorship; Mr. Burns, of Gloucester, who is confident of securing the lieutenant-governorship of New Brunswick. In addition to these there is Mr. Baker, who will be raised to the Senate; Mr. Boyle, who expects a customs inspectorship, and Mr. McLeod, of St. John, who cannot obtain a renomination at the next elections and must be provided for.

+ + +

The statement published in London on Saturday that the London and Port Stanley Railway Bill had passed the Senate and become law is not correct, and anything done under that impression would be invalid. The bill was read the second time in the Senate this afternoon and referred to the standing committee on railways and canals. The rule requiring a posting notice of several days was suspended, and the bill will come before the committee to-morrow.

× × ×

A few private bills and several Government measures were advanced a stage today, and supply was moved about 10 o'clock in the evening, being stopped for a couple of hours, however, by a discussion on the fisheries of the great lakes. There was a long and rather tiresome discussion on the bill respecting superannuation of civil servants. When the House met, Mr. Foster said he could not make any definite statement as to whether the Government intended to ask the House to ratify the French treaty or not, as they were still in communication with the British authorities. He hoped to be able to inform the House to-morrow or Wednesday.

+ + +

Among the private bills put through were the Doran, Goff and Schwaller divorce bills. The bill incorporating the North American Canal Company was passed through committee of the whole. Mr. Speaker cited authorities in support of his contention, and Mr. Charlton, not to be beaten, said he would not press the matter, but as he noticed an item for the World's Fair appeared in the supplementary estimates brought down to-day he gave notice that when this item came up he would then move to attach his condition to it. The main motion was then carried.

× × ×

On the motion for the second reading of the Government bill to amend the Civil Service Superannuation Act the old ground as to the evils of superannuation was traversed. The scope of the act itself, which is of interest only to the service, has been already explained. The motion carried and the bill was put through the committee.

+ + +

On the motion to go into supply, Mr. Allen drew attention to the grievances of Canadian fishermen on Lake Erie. They were, he said, under the regulations of the Department of Marine, placed at a disadvantage with American fishermen. He charged that the inspectors have been playing into the hands of the American fishermen, who had got the trade almost entirely into their hands. He strongly advocated an effort to secure from the United States equal and uniform laws. Canadians were now restricted by our regulations, while the Americans had everything their own way. In the last eight years the Americans had shipped eight times the amount shipped by Canadians.

× × ×

Mr. Lister asked if the department had prohibited seine-net fishing on the shores of Lake Huron, between Goderich and Sarnia, and on the River St. Clair during the coming season. Mr. Costigan replied that the question as to whether the regulations would be enforced in that section or not this year was now under the consideration of the Government. Mr. Lister hoped that such a hardship on the men depending on this industry for a living would not be imposed after they had made all the preparations. An officer of the department had made the announcement he had stated, and it naturally created consternation. Mr. Lister strongly urged the making of an arrangement with the Americans respecting net-fishing on the great lakes, because fish from the Canadian side were caught on the American side. This has been established by means of marked fish. The Americans were careless and destroyed the small fish which were caught, and which were of no commercial value. There was a wanton destruction of miniature fish in the pound-net fishing.

Mr. McGregor entered a plea for the fishermen also. The House went into committee of supply and passed the remainder of the railway estimates.

Notes.

It is now believed that prorogation will not be reached until Saturday.

The Government has received advices from the Premier requesting the ratification of the French treaty.

Mr. Coatsworth will ask what the Government is going to do about the position of the Manitoba Legislature, praying for a prohibitory liquor law.

Mr. Daly gives notice of another Government bill, which it is safe to say will be dropped after its first reading. It deals with the whole question of irrigation in the Northwest.

It has been decided to hold a Dominion Liberal convention the second week in June, but the place of meeting is not fixed. Toronto and Montreal both want it, and when the objections to both places are balanced one against the other it may result in the selection of Ottawa.

Everything is being carried through the House except Government measures. The appropriation of $16,000 in the supplementary estimates to purchase improved firearms for the militia, and the appropriations for the defenses of Esquimalt show that General Herbert is at least showing a little of his own way. The Esquimalt defenses are esentially an Imperial affair, and it is thought that the present vote of over $1,000,000 is only the thin edge of the wedge, which in the end would be of enormous proportions for a young and peaceful community like Canada. The $16,000 will purchase about a thousand Martini-Henri rifles.

Mr. D'Alton McCarthy gives out to-night that he will on the motion for the second reading of the Government bill respecting the Northwest Territories move an amendment giving the Northwest Legislature exclusive jurisdiction over matters of education and the dual language. It is now too late to allow of Mr. McCarthy's bill coming up, so he has adopted this method of getting the matter before the House. It is said, however, so alarmed are the Government at the prospect of the introduction of any more burning questions this session, that they will retreat before Mr. McCarthy and drop their bill, thus preventing him from proposing any amendment to it. It would only be another illustration of the panic of the Government with 60 majority if they drop off their measures.

TALMAGE WILL GIVE $10,000.

Not Now, But After the Rest of the Money Needed is Raised.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., March 27.—Rev. Dr. Talmage spoke yesterday to his congregation in regard to the paying of that part of the debt on the Brooklyn Tabernacle which will fall due on April 1. This amounts to $20,000. He said: "As you all know, an effort is being made in this church to pay off the floating debt consequent upon the necessity we have been under of building three great churches, two of them having been destroyed by fire. I wish to do my part, and I now subscribe $10,000 toward paying the entire floating debt. Mr. Talmage does not intend to give $10,000 immediately, although many of the congregation who listened to him yesterday thought he did so intend. They thought he meant to help meet the $20,000 payment. Only half of the money has been raised. The whole floating debt is close on $60,000, and Dr. Talmage's intention is to subscribe the last $10,000 of this.

Holocaust of Horses.

MASON CITY, Ia., March 26.—The stock barns owned by Kirk Bros. was burned last night. The famous Storm, holding the fastest 5-year-old stallion pacing record of the world; Brown John, by Brown Hal; King Reme, by King Reme; Red Clay, by Red Wilkes, and Edmunds C., by Red Clay, were burned. Loss on horses alone fully $100,000.

The Queen and the Vatican.

FLORENCE, March 27.—Queen Victoria has consented to receive Cardinal Bausa as representative of the Pope.

Jules Ferry's Successor.

PARIS, March 27.—The Senate to-day elected Challemel Lacour, the well-known statesman and writer and Senator from Bouches-du-Rhone, president of the Senate in place of Jules Ferry, deceased. The election is very satisfactory to President Carnot.

The Brazilian Revolution.

VALPARAISO, March 27.—Gen. Seravia's defeat by the Government troops near Alegrette, Rio Grande do Sul, on Thursday was a greater blow to the Brazilian revolutionist than was at first thought. Advices from Rivera say Gen. Seravia was not only beaten badly, but that 3,000 of his men were made prisoners. He also lost a large amount of ammunition and arms.

Young Girl Abducted by Bandits.

MADRID, March 27.—Miss Fonsca, who was taken from her home near Elvis several nights ago by bandits, was found dead in a thicket some fifteen miles from the town last night. She had been dead only a few hours. The bandits are supposed to have killed her either because they despaired of getting ransom, or in order that they might escape more easily from the military, who have scoured the country for them ever since she was carried off.

A Monarchist Manifesto.

PARIS, March 27.—The Count of Paris has sent out a circular letter to the monarchist committee throughout France. He says: "The present moment is most critical. The time has come for all right-minded men to unite in restoring the honor of France.

"The Monarchists must not repudiate any political alliance required by the interest of the nation, but at the same time they must let France understand that the monarchy alone can give to her a strong and a stable Government, whose sole object will be the public welfare. My son seconds me in trying to realize this object. We shall spare no effort to place France upon firmer foundations."

Liberals Enthusiastically Unanimous.

LONDON, March 27.—A Liberal party meeting was held at the Foreign Office today, under the presidency of Premier Gladstone, to discuss the condition of business and the course of the Liberals in Parliament. It was proposed by Mr. Gladstone that the Irish Home Rule Bill should have its second reading on April 6, and that it should have precedence of all other business every day except Wednesdays, and also that the House should sit in the morning every Friday. Mr. Gladstone expressed a hope that the party would give the Government all the aid in its power to expedite the Home Rule Bill and the Parish Councils Bill and assist the Government in fighting obstruction.

Mr. Labouchere suggested that the Ministers as well as private members should curtail their speeches on the Home Rule question.

Sir William Vernon Harcourt, Chancellor of the Exchequer, said if the Liberal party only acted with prudence and according to proper rules of discipline they would soon carry to a successful issue the glorious policy with which the nation had intrusted them.

The meeting was unanimous, and a general purpose was expressed to act compactly in support of home rule and the other great Liberal issues.

In the House of Commons.

LONDON, March 27.—In the House of Commons, Mr. Balfour spoke at length on his motion that the Irish Executive be censured for condoning serious offenses and thus bringing the law into general contempt. Mr. Balfour said the deplorable state of affairs in Ireland was largely the consequence of a compact between the Government and the forces of disorder. The Ministry had made with the Irish party an agreement by which the admistration of the law was being defeated. The Government had coquetted with amnesty and had encouraged dishonest tenants through the Evicted Tenants Commission to disown their obligations. The Government had fomented outrages by suspending the Crimes Act, and had instigated crimes by the release of the dynamiters. The Government had not hesitated to take steps which were in direct antagonism to the decision of the courts.

In answering Mr. Balfour, Mr. Morley, Chief Secretary for Ireland, directed attention to the fact that this was the fifth vote of censure moved within eight weeks. The gentleman (Balfour) had failed to justify his motion with one new fact or one fresh argument. The leading charge against the Government was that they had a concordat with the Irish party. He would not deny that the present Administration tried to govern Ireland in sympathy with the Irish people. (Cheers.) If that was the heinous concordat he would plead guilty to being a party to it. As to the specific charge that he had refused police protection to those who enforced the law he would say that he declined to protect night seizures, and he felt justified in this action. The law on the subject was far from being clear, and the highest authorities differed in their interpretation. Mr. Morley then rebutted in detail Mr. Balfour's assertion that agrarian crime in Ireland had increased under the Liberal Government. "If the right honorable gentleman presented the best possible case for a vote of censure," said Mr. Morley in conclusion, "the Government need not fear the vote of the House or the judgment of the country." (Cheers.)

Mr. Gladstone reproached the Opposition with resorting to a license of language which they could not possibly justify with facts. The present Government, he said, had as great a desire and as strong an interest as had any of their predecessors in preserving law and order in Ireland. The present Government had, however, different views as to the best manner of dealing with the people. They had substituted mildness and clemency for coercion. Results already apparent proved how successfully the policy operated. The severity of the sentences in Ireland upon the boy Foley and other political offenders, Mr. Gladstone continued, was a feature of the coercive system. Such sentences never could have been passed in England. The present Government sought to abolish this exceptional mode of treatment, sought to establish a more equitable mode of administration. They aimed at laying the foundation of order in the hearts and understanding of the people of Ireland. The Liberal party refused to believe that the Irish people were afflicted with some peculiar curse which prevented them from appreciating the blessings of civilization. The Liberal party believed that the Irish people were as capable of being governed on approved principles as were the peoples of other countries. The present effort of the Chief Secretary for Ireland was to realize in practice the fruits of this belief. The Government appealed to the judgment of the House to justify him in his course, and had no other desire than to share the fate which the verdict of the members would bring him. (Prolonged cheers.)

Lord Randolph Churchill introduced his speech for Mr. Balfour's motion with a short eulogy of Mr. Gladstone, and an allusion to his fascinating eloquence. Then he went on to say that his own experience with the Chief Secretary's legislative achievements had been that one concession to the Irish people was followed invariably by another. He charged the Government with having set aside illegally an act of Parliament when they abandoned two clauses of the Crimes Act. The present debate, he said, would not be wasted. It would have its effect outside if not inside Parliament. None knew better than did he that the Unionist party had anxious times before it. There were times in the history of nations when Providence imposed tests for good or ill. Perhaps the English people were now passing through such a period. But the Unionists would not falter. They founded their hopes on the truth of their principles and looked to the English people for justice and judgment.

The division of Mr. Balfour's motion followed Lord Randolph's speech. It resulted in a majority of 47 for the Government, the vote standing 319 to 272.

A High-Priced Invention.

BERLIN, March 28.—Dowe, the tailor who invented the new bullet-proof cuiass, has offered to sell his invention to the Government for 3,000,000 marks. It is said the Emperor has summoned Dowe to an audience.

Emperor William's Congratulations.

LONDON, March 28.—Emperor William of Germany has telegraphed to Prof. Max Muller, his congratulations upon the victory of Oxford in the Oxford-Cambridge boat race. He said in the dispatch, "It was a splendid race with an astonishing record."

Sophia Sadly Shocked.

BERLIN, March 28.—The illness of the Crown Princess Sophia of Greece, sister of the Emperor, is reported to be due to the shock caused by the suicide of her favorite, Lady Marie Weber, who killed herself by jumping from the Acropolis. The young woman had been rendered desperate by a report that her sweetheart, a Greek doctor, had died suddenly. The falseness of the report was not discovered until after her death. When the doctor heard of her death he went to his home and killed himself.

THE LABOR OUTLOOK.

The Monongahela Miners' Strike Ended.

War Against the Railway Telegraphers' Order — Indications of a Great Strike in the New York ClothingTrade.

SIOUX CITY, Ia., March 27.—The Chicago and Northwestern, the Sioux City and Pacific and the Fremont, Elkhorn and Missouri Valley railroads have begun a war against the order of Railway Telegraphers. The men who belonged to the order have been dropped out of the service. It is also said the Western Union Company is pursuing the same tactics in this city.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 27.—The great strike of the coal miners in the Monongahela Valley is virtually at an end. Probably 3,000 men resumed work this morning and the remainer are expected to be back inside of a week.

NEW YORK, March 27.—There is every indication that the trouble between the United Garment Cutters and the Clothing Association will involve the entire clothing trade. This would ultimately throw 10,000 men out. Neither side shows the slightest sign of yielding and the Knights of Labor have entered the contest on the side of the Clothing Association.

TOLEDO, O., March 27.—This afternoon, in the United States Circuit Court, the injunction case in which Chief Arthur, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and Grand Master Sargent, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, were sued for $300,000 damages for conspiring against the Ann Arbor Railroad, came up for hearing. Counsel for the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen moved to dismiss the case as to Grand Master Sargent, on the grounds that the court had no jurisdiction over him, he being a resident of Indiana. The court discharged Sargent, and the case of Chief Arthur proceeded.

Important Patent Decision.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—In the Supreme Court to-day in the case of Huber vs. Nelson, it was decided that a foreign patent, having lapsed by reason of non-payment of taxes, an American patent granted thereafter for the same patent is void. This destroys Edison's quadruplex telegraph patent and also his three microphone patents, leaving the Bell Company after January next to stand wholly on the Berliner patent.

RATIFY OR RESIGN!

Tupper Says the Franco-Canadian Treaty Must Be Carried Through

Or the Canadian Government Must Resign — Sir Charles Angry — The Government Said to Have Been Aware of Its Terms.

The Globe's London (Eng.) representative cables as follows:

Sir Charles Tupper leaves London for Paris at short notice to confer with Sir John Thompson respecting the French treaty. The length of his stay is quite uncertain. The turn which events have taken at Ottawa in connection with the Franco-Canadian treaty was wholly unexpected here, and, it must be confessed, is deemed wholly inexplicable, in the light of the information at present to hand. When last month Sir Charles Tupper returned from Paris he made no secret of his conviction that the arrangement which had been provisionally agreed to would secure great advantages for Dominion trade. This, no doubt, was a very natural view for one of the negotiators to take. But Sir Charles was equally emphatic in his statements as to the favorable attitude of the Canadian Ministry towards the proposals he had submitted, and he was very confident that on the recommendation of Ministers, which there was every reason to believe would be forthcoming, the treaty would be ratified by the Canadian House of Commons without serious difficulty or opposition. At the Foreign Office the same belief prevailed. I believe I am violating no official secrets when I say that Lord Dufferin, who, while giving Sir Charles a free hand, had heartily co-operated with the High Commissioner as joint plenipotentiary, wrote to Whitehall in very eulogistic terms of the success which, from a Canadian point of view, had, he thought, attended the negotiations. Hence the attitude taken up by Mr. Foster on behalf of the Government in relation to the treaty was wholly unlooked for here. The surprise was increased when Reuter's cable announcing this decision was found to be supplemented by a very definite statement from Sir Charles Tupper himself to the effect that the Candian Government with every detail of the proposal before them had actually authorized Lord Dufferin and himself to sign the treaty. It was obvious of course at once that the Government, as represented by Mr. Foster, and its High Commissioner and special plenipotentiary were wholly at variance. In the city in Canadian circles this development was much commented on, and the Government's attitude freely criticised, as my cables to the Globe must have already shown.

To-day Sir Charles, in the course of half an hour's conversation with the Globe's correspondent, spoke very freely on the whole subject. He makes no pretense to conceal his disappointment and annoyance, or his conviction that the Canadian Government have committed a very serious blunder.

"What is the position of the Government, Sir Charles, in regard to the treaty; can they throw it aside altogether?"

"It is their treaty just as much as the Washington treaty was the treaty of the Government of the day. They are bound to carry it through or resign. I sent it to them immediately after it was signed, on Feb. 6, and from that day till the cable arrived on Wednesday I had not received the slightest intimation of their disapproval of it. It was negotiated in accordance with their instructions, and it is their duty to ask the House of Commons to ratify it. If I did not carry out their instructions it was incumbent on them to take action to remove me from the office I held under them. It was because of the injury which I consider their policy, if not reversed, must inflict on Canada that though I am their subordinate I took the strong and unusual course of publishing on the receipt of Reuter's telegram a statement in correction of the remarks alleged to have been made by Mr. Foster."

FOOD FOR FLAMES.

Montreal Herald Burned Out for the Fourth Time.

The British Hotel at St. Marys Badly Damaged.

MONTREAL, March 27.—Montreal was the scene of another big fire to-night, and for the fourth time in its existence the Montreal Herald was completely burned out. The scene of the fire was the Old Zion Church building on Beaver Hall Hill, the ground floor of which was occupied by the Herald. The second flat was occupied by the Bennalick Lithographing Company, while Southam & Carey, printers, had the top flat. The fire started shortly before 11 o'clock in Southam & Carey's premises and rapidly spread over the whole building. Men were at work at the time in the various departments of the Herald. Suddenly a loud report was heard and the flames rushed from the top flat. The men on the ground floor had only time to escape with their lives, and the Herald printers had to get out by the windows. Mr. O'Conner, manager of the Herald, estimated their loss at about $40,000; insurance about $25,000; Bennalick & Co., loss $25,000; Southam & Carey, $10,000 to $15,000, partly insured. Duncan McIntyre owns the building. Total loss, $75,000 to $100,000. The origin of the fire is a complete mystery.

ST. MARYS, March 27.—A fire occurred about 5 o'clock this morning in the British Hotel, owned by N. Cosgrove. The main portion of the building, which was of brick, has been gutted. Insured in the Royal for $2,400, which will cover the loss.

THE OPEN FORUM.

"More Light."

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:

There appeared in a city contemporary of yours some time since a communication under the above heading, in which the writer claimed that the Catholic institutions of this city were exceptionally favored in the matter of grants by the Ontario Government. It will be remembered that at the last meeting of the City Council a motion was introduced asking for a small grant of money to aid the charitable work carried on by the Sisters of St. Joseph. This motion was defeated by a majority of two, the mayor casting his vote with those opposed to the grant. The letter to which I refer appeared on Monday evening, 20th inst., a few hours before the meeting of the council, and therefore no opportunity was afforded to make an explanation. Now, let us see what the real facts of the case are. The writer of the letter signed "More Light" gives the total amount of aid received by Protestant institutions as $1,579 24, and by Catholic institutions as $3,607 87. In the latter is included the sum of $1,531 57 given to St. Joseph's Hospital, while he omits altogether the sum of $5,318 31 given to the General Hospital.

The reports upon hospitals and houses of refuge for the year ending September, 1891, (which are the last published) show that there are nine institutions in London receiving Government aid; six of these are under Protestant management and three under Catholic management. The correspondent makes no reference to the General Hospital on the ground, I suppose, that this institution is for all classes and denominations. In this respect it is no more entitled to the appellation of "general" than the St. Joseph's Hospital; in fact, not as much, when we consider the figures under the head of "religious." During the year referred to St. Joseph's Hospital treated a much larger percentage of Protestants than the General Hospital did of Catholics. In the General Hospital the total number under treatment was 493, and of these 62 were Catholics—about one-eighth; and in St. Joseph's during the same period the total number was 137, of whom 43 were Protestants—or more than one-fourth. With regard to the moneys granted by the Government, the following figures show the allowances made for the year 1892 to each institution, and these allowances are based upon the work done during the previous year:

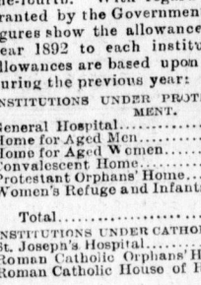

INSTITUTIONS UNDER PROTESTANT MANAGEMENT.
General Hospital	$5,318 31
Home for Aged Men	564 24
Home for Aged Women	478 10
Convalescent Home	177 30
Protestant Orphans' Home	413 18
Women's Refuge and Infants' Home	258 93
Total	$7,310 16
INSTITUTIONS UNDER CATHOLIC MANAGEMENT.
St. Joseph's Hospital	$1,342 05
Roman Catholic Orphans' Home	556 78
Roman Catholic House of Refuge	1,407 42
Total	$3,366 86

These figures show clearly that the correspondent does not give a fair statement of the case. It should be observed also that these allowances to hospitals and charities are not made through the favor or whim of the Government or any of its officials. They are made in direct proportion to the work done; and they are based in each case upon the number in the institution.

The whole question is regulated by an act of the Legislature of Ontario (and may be found by any one desirous of knowing the provisions in the revised statutes, chapter 248). The act recites that, "Whereas, it is desirable and expedient that all appropriations from the public funds in aid of charitable institutions should be upon some properly arranged and equitable system, and that municipal and other corporations should be stimulated and encouraged to give a liberal support to such institutions," and then provides for giving a certain sum per day for every person aided in the institution, and a certain further sum per day on condition that this further sum should not exceed in any year one-fourth of the money received by the institution from all sources other than the Province towards the ordinary yearly maintenance. In carrying out the act the Government inspector makes a personal inspection of all institutions receiving public aid, and procures sworn statements as to the number of persons maintained during the year, and makes his calculations on these figures. The law applies to all, whether Protestant or Catholic, alike, and both the inspectors are Protestants, and are not likely to go out of their way to favor a Catholic institution.

Rheumatism Cured in a Few Hours

—BY THE—

ALKALINE TREATMENT

All Schools of Medicine are taught that there can be but two causes of disease, Acids and Alkalies, and where there is one case of alkalinity there is a million of acidity. The Alkaline Treatment discovered by Professor Brunton, the Canadian Chemist, neutralizes the acid which is the cause of every known disease. Stimulates the blood vessels, restoring circulation. Rheumatism, Catarrh, Paralysis, Eczema, Sour Stomach, Kidney Troubles, Indigestion, Debility, any form of Blood Poisoning, etc., are treated successfully. There are two preparations, internally to purify the blood through the stomach, externally to absorb the impurities through the pores of the skin; they are each 50c. Any information free, either by letter or personally. PROF. BRUNTON, Office 1,208, Masonic Temple, Chicago.

Put His Head Out of the Cab Window.

PORT HURON, March 27.—Robert Hamilton, a Chicago and Grand Trunk brakeman, was seriously and perhaps fatally injured at the old Gratiot yards Saturday morning. He was riding in on the engine from the tunnel and had his head out through the cab window, striking it against a coal shute. It is believed that his skull was fractured.

Coffeyville Copied.

COFFEYVILLE, Kan., March 27.—A bank robbery, partaking of the daring shown at the famous Coffeyville affair last October was enacted at Caney, Kan., this afternoon. The bank robbed was the Caney Valley, the only one in town. At 11:15 this afternoon the notorious Henry Starr, an escaped convict, and a man named Newcomb entered the bank unmasked, and leveling their weapons at the cashier and the other employes (four in all) demanded that all the money on hand be turned over. They got $4,000 in cash, backed out of the bank, reached their horses and escaped to the Indian Territory. Henry Starr is one of the notorious Dalton gang and only recently escaped from jail where he was imprisoned for complicity in the Coffeyville robbey.

Probably the largest religious convention that ever assembled at Woodstock will begin its session in the First Baptist Church next Thursday at 1 p.m.; continuing till Friday evening. About 800 delegates, from churches covering a space of territory from Montreal to Windsor, will be there. The whole number to be present, including visitors, will not fall short of 1,000.

A project is now on foot to reclaim nearly 4,000 acres of marsh land situated on the east side of Point Pelee. The property is owned by C. W. Woodruff, and Maycock & Newman will prepare the necessary plans, which will be of a greater magnitude than the reclaiming scheme that is now being carried on on Pelee Island.

MIDDLESEX.

J. R. Watt, having taught successfully between six and seven years in School Section No. 5, Delaware township, recently tendered his resignation to the school board, intending in the near future to remove to the west. The other evening Mr. and Mrs. Watt found themselves invaded by a host of friends. An address on behalf of the school trustees and officers of the Sabbath school was read to them, expressive of the high esteem in which they were held by the community. It was accompanied by a beautiful silver tea set lined with gold.

After a long and painful illness, borne with Christian fortitude, there passed away at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Chas. Trebilcock, the Grove, an old and respected pioneer. Her useful life endeared her to all. She was a daughter of the late John Burch, and was born in the county of Kent, Eng., on Feb. 5, 1815. In 1827 she, with her parents and two sisters, left their English home and landed in the State of New York, settling in Syracuse, where they remained about three years, but her father, not liking the American laws or people, and declining to take the oath of allegiance, came to London, which was then almost a wilderness. She passed through the rebellion of 1837. Her father took his turn in being sentinel at the court house, and often she and her younger sister would accompany him through the woods for fear he might lose his life and no one would know what became of him. When ammunition was scarce they would melt the lead of his fishing net to make bullets. In 1840 she was united in marriage to Mr. John Flower, of Norfolk, Eng., who was a devoted husband. In 1854 he fell a victim to typhoid fever, and after suffering for several weeks died. Four daughters survive her—Mrs. Philip Maylard, Mrs. Chas. Trebilcock, Mrs. Daniel Bacon and Mrs. Henry Percival. Rev. H. W. Crews conducted the funeral services, and her mortal remains were laid beside her beloved partner in the family burying ground.

Mr. Wm. Cowan, West River road, has in his possession a beautifully bound and preserved copy of "Magna Charta, with Statutes of England," printed by Richard Tottel, London, England, in the year 1556, in the old black Saxon letter. It seems a singular feature of the names in vogue then, even legally, to find that laborers employed on the land were called "villains," yet that is their only title in these statutes.—[Galt Reporter.

White Caps Worsted.

SAVANNAH, Ga., March 27.—White Caps attacked the negro quarters at S. H. Bassett's plantation, Fort Valley, Ga., on Saturday night and the inmates fled. Mr. Bassett met the trespassers in the darkness and forbade them to go any further. The White Caps disregarded the order, and several of the negroes who were concealed near by opened fire on the intruders and shot two of them dead. They were Wm. Hatchett and Marcon Bryant. The others fled. The coroner's verdict was justifiable homicide.

CHEESE AND CHEESEMAKERS.

Meeting of the Executive Committee of the Western Dairymen's Association —Quality of Spring Cheese to be Improved—The Dairy School at Tavistock to be Continued.

The executive committee of the Western Dairymen's Association met in the secretary's office, 361 Richmond street, this city, yesterday afternoon. The members present were: John Geary, president; Hon. Thos. Ballantyne, Stratford, A. Pattullo, Woodstock, and J. S. Pearce, London. Important business in reference to the coming season's work was transacted. It was decided to make arrangements for instruction to be given during the month of April and part of May in four cheese factories in the west to cheesemakers on the very best methods of making early spring cheese. The four factories chosen are Woodstock, Galloway's, Harrietsville and Elma. These factories begin operations about April 1, and will furnish an opportunity to cheesemakers to spend a few weeks before beginning work in their own factories. Thoroughly competent men will be on hand to look after the work and to give practical instruction on the best methods of making a first-class April and May cheese, as well as information in operating the Babcock test and paying for milk according to the butter fat. This action on the part of the association cannot be too highly commended, and every cheese maker in the west is strongly urged to spend a few weeks at either one of these factories so as to acquire the latest knowledge and method of making the best early cheese. Early cheese in this section is somewhat inferior, and does not compare favorably with the summer and fall makes in meeting the requirements of the British market, hence the importance of this new effort.

The dairy school at Tavistock will be conducted again this season under the able management of Mr. A. T. Bell, and will open about May 1.

T. B. Millar, the competent inspector and instructor of last year, was appointed again for the coming season. His services for inspection and instruction may be secured by applying to the secretary of the association. The charges will be $5 per day and expenses for each factory visited.

The secretary, J. W. Wheaton, will spend some time during the early part of the season in visiting factories where the system of paying for milk according to butter fat has been adopted, in order to assist makers in making the test, and the secretaries of factories in making up the patrons' accounts, and will be ready to communicate with parties who need such information.

Circular letters will be sent out at once to all the cheesemakers in the west, giving detailed information regarding the work for the coming season, and urging upon each one the importance of making every effort to improve the quality of western cheese.

NEW YORK, March 27.—Because $1,500 in cash had mysteriously disappeared just before the closing hour, 6 o'clock, Saturday evening, in the drygoods establishment of LeBoutillier Bros., in West Twenty-Third street, 250 employes of that firm were held prisoners for two hours until the heads of the firm and a police officer arrived. The doors of the store were locked and the clerks, men and women, were held prisoners while a searching inquiry was begun, which however proved fruitless. When the employes were finally released they were indignant beyond expression.

London, Tuesday, March 28.

FARMERS and fruit growers, take a tour through your orchards and destroy every black knot that can be found. Better to take time by the forelock and save your trees.

THERE is one danger from crinoline now that was not present when last hoop skirts were worn. How would a woman be able to avoid electric car tracks? An electrical expert says she might be shocked at any moment.

THE severe sentences that Canadian judges are meting out to amateur and professional burglars alike, should convince those tempted to steal that the way of the transgressor is hard, and that the supposedly easy way of making a living is after all the most difficult and the least satisfactory.

DR. A. B. WILSON, of New York, on Sunday last made a vigorous attack upon Dr. Rainsford's proposition to sell intoxicating drinks in connection with churches. "There is no good trying inoculation. To establish church saloons and bar-tenders would be an utter mistake, from which the church would not soon recover," said Dr. Wilson.

AT Plainfield, N. H., six persons have died from drinking well water contaminated by a sink drain. This is the season of the year when owners of wells have to be particularly on their guard. We have known whole families decimated by diphtheria and typhoid fever through wells having become poisoned by surface drainage being washed into them. It is always safe to boil well water if there are the slightest grounds for suspicion that it is impure.

A SIGNIFICANT cartoon is given in the Montreal Witness. The shade of the late Sir John Macdonald stands by, towering high above the pigmy statesmen that hold first rank on the Conservative benches to-day. To illustrate the situation, D'Alton McCarthy, but a few years ago dubbed "the brains of the Conservative party," is seen to be squaring up against his special pleading leader, Sir John Thompson; burly Sir Charles Tupper is represented as giving Finance Minister Foster a black eye, in insisting that he shall adopt the inequitable French treaty that he has negotiated; while Nicholas Flood Davin, the confidential friend of the dead leader, is seen to be turning in utter disgust at the incendiary speech of Clarke Wallace, who stands with arms akimbo, as if daring his fellow Ministers to curtail his right to advocate civil war when he and his friends find a law passed that does not please them. Is it any wonder that the departed chief, as he views the Kilkenny warfare in progress among his formerly compact following, exclaims, "Oh, dear! Oh, dear!"

MIDDLESEX AND ELGIN AT OTTAWA.

Notwithstanding the strong representations made to the Dominion Government by the City Council of London and by the County Councils of Elgin and Middlesex, but $12,000 have been placed in the estimates to complete the necessary work in connection with Port Stanley harbor.

Several hundred thousand dollars are annually collected from the taxpayers of this district by the Dominion authorities. A great portion of it is spent in providing railways and canals in other parts of the country. And when the taxpayers of the district are able to show that Port Stanley harbor is the only available harbor of refuge on the north side of Lake Erie; when they show that the harbor imperatively and immediately requires improvements that will cost a much larger sum than that granted, they are first told that the Government is hard up, and finally asked to accept $12,000 as their share of the $40,000,000 odd taxation levied this year. This, too, after it has again and again been recorded, at the behest of the Finance Minister, that he has millions of surplus money locked up at Ottawa. Quite easily could the Ministers have economized—say in their warlike operations in British Columbia, on which it is intended to expend an enormous sum—then the money could have been given for such works as that at Port Stanley, which are needed to develop the trade of the country and to provide for the saving of life and property on the great lakes.

Not $12,000, but at least $30,000, should be spent this summer at Port Stanley. Then the work could be made permanent and decidedly beneficial, and the public would not be compelled to witness the spectacle of costly work having to been done over again in a few years, as is invariably the case when a penny wise and pound foolish policy is pursued.

SAMPLE INTOXICANTS.

A writer in the Fornightly Review (English) asserts that the makers of French wines entertain the most objectionable belief that wine will throw off any dirt or impurity during fermentation, and hence will never keep their wine-houses or machinery clean, and the wine had often a bad taste and objectionable smell afterwards. Further, he says that a large French grower told him that the practice there was for men to crush the grapes with their bare feet, and not only so, but to get into the wine up to their necks in order to work it up and break the hard crust of grape skins which forms during fermentation. It is chiefly to enable Canadians to buy these concoctions at a much cheaper rate than at present that Sir Charles Tupper has negotiated the new treaty between Canada and France. Such liquids are dear at any price. Indeed, if ever a prohibitory tariff were warranted, it should be applied to articles of this description.

WHAT NO REVISION OF THE DOMINION VOTERS' LISTS MEANS.

Once more the Dominion Government has resolved to postpone the revision of the Dominion voters' lists for a year. That is to say, if an election of a member of Parliament takes place any time within the next eighteen months—whether it be a bye-election or necessitated by a dissolution of the House of Commons—the vote will be taken on lists which will then be several years old. What this means, anyone who participated in the bye-election for South Middlesex well knows. The best way to treat the law would be to wipe it from the statute book. No taxpayer ever petitioned the Government to make the costly, cumbrous and vexatious measure law. No one but a desperate politician suggested that the voters' list compiled by the non-partisan municipal officers—or, at all events, by officials easily reached and punished if they did that which was wrong—were not fair to all parties. Still, this Franchise Act was passed in 1885. We had a revision in 1886, another in 1889, and another in 1891, and no one knows when the lists will be next put in shape. Though as long ago as last June, in the House of Commons, the Government gave notice that it would this year introduce such legislation "as shall tend to a simplification of this act and a reduction of the expenses in connection with its enforcement," and though that promise has been kept, the Administration seems to be afraid to proceed with the measure. It is such a miserable apology for an amendment, making no provision whatsoever for removing the great burden imposed upon the people, and especially upon the political parties, in its enforcement. That such an amendment would be resisted by many members there cannot be doubt, hence probably the postponement of a revision, leaving the lists in a hopelessly muddled and incomplete condition. As Mr. Laurier pointed out a year ago, this constant postponement and confessed inefficiency, to say nothing of the quarter of a million dollars required every revision to put the lists in a far from satisfactory state, is a confession that the act is weak and mischievous and affords the strongest possible grounds for the assertion that it was an evil day for the taxpayers of Canada when it was put on the statute book.

*

But a law that would enable the Dominion Government to make new offices, to find jobs for needy placemen, who in turn would be expected to give the men in power the benefit of every doubt, was deemed requisite and so we must put up with this measure while Sir John Thompson remains in power. When the Government was fighting for its life some time ago and when friend and foe denounced the Franchise Act, the Conservative leaders promised that this year the measure would be improved in many respects. Entrenched in power for the next two years, Sir John Thompson is determined to maintain the Franchise Act on the statute book with all its rascally possibilities. Mr. Costigan's amending bill, postponed till next year, neither simplifies the act nor renders it any easier for the voter to get his rights. The only material change proposed is that which takes away a little bit of printing, and authorizes the work to be done by typewriting!

It will be just as difficult for taxpayers to get on the lists as ever. The workingman who may have the misfortune to be out of employment for a week or two in the course of the year will be disfranchised. The dead men and those who have gone to work in foreign lands will continue to swamp the votes of the legitimate electorate, while hundreds of new comers in every constituency, and hundreds of young men who qualify between the intermittent revisions, will be left without their manhood rights. If a partisan reviser, who is also a local judge, desires to steal a seat for a man who has given him and his more than one fat job, it will be within his power, as the provision which renders the local judge sole arbiter in these matters remains.

Above all, there towers the fact that unless a man is a known adherent of a political party he may find his name dropped from the list, to which it cannot be restored unless through the agency of absurd red tape, and at the expense of perhaps two days' attendance on the court of revision. Why should there be so many chances of wrong being done, unless vast sums of money are spent to "perfect the lists" at every revision?

*

When there was a prospect that the Dominion Government would respond to the demand that a thorough revision of the law should take place men of all shades of political opinion were loud in denunciation of the existing inequalities. Now it is seen that the promises given were made but to be falsified, there is considerable trimming. Alas, that it should be so. The reform of this measure is absolutely necessary if justice is to be done and contests are to be fair, and no honest man can deny it. We are told, in extenuation, that the one man one vote law of the Ontario Administration is not all that it should be. That is so. The law itself, unlike the Dominion Franchise Act, cannot be successfully assailed, but the measure needs amendment in so far as it comes short of meeting public needs on the score of registration. But even if the Ontario law were as defective as the Dominion measure, and everybody knows that it is not, would that be any excuse for bringing in an abortive measure such as has been before the House of Commons? It is trifling with the intelligence of the people to call the bill an "amending" measure. What this country needs is a system of registration that shall provide for resident manhood suffrage, and the revision of the lists a short time before election day. At the present time, as we all know, in close constituencies the election is either lost or won in the courts of revision. The lists are revised often two years or more before an election, and when voters are enrolled they must give proof that they have resided in the neighborhood for a lengthened period. It has been proved in London, and the same is doubtless the experience in other constituencies, that unless an electoral contest is imminent it is next to impossible to get any assistance in the purification of the lists from the average elector, and the spectacle of many young men applying to have their names registered, going to the trouble of signing and swearing to the correctness of their claim, and finally refusing to spend the time necessary to go to the court to sustain their claim to the franchise, has again and again been witnessed.

*

Such a result should convince any reasonable man of the necessity for effecting a change, and of supporting only such Parliamentary candidates as shall pledge themselves to give no quarter to the inequitable and unsatisfactory measure to which a contemptible amendment is proposed to be made. We have got so near manhood suffrage now that it is stupid to continue the restrictions that deprive so many honest, hardworking men of the right to go to the polls as freemen. These enactments, which make the money, the possessions, the voting qualification, and not the manhood of the voter, are class laws, and should be swept from the statute book. With them should go the duplication of votes in the case of rich men who happen to own property in several ridings. Surely, if it is the property that votes and not the man, the individual who has $20,000 worth of property in London is more entitled to three votes than the man who owns $2,000 in London, $3,000 in Sarnia and $3,000 in Strathroy. As the law stands, however, the man with less than half of $20,000 worth of property, may have three, four and even five votes in different constituencies, while the man who has concentrated his belongings in one place has but one vote.

*

The only fair rule is to establish the one man one vote principle, as in the Ontario Provincial elections. No one has ever dared to challenge the equality of this stipulation or to raise a doubt as to its absolutely democratic character. With one man one vote, and a voters' list compiled by civic officials on the eve of an election, with the period of residence in the constituency reduced to, say, three or four months before registration, we would have a list of absolute fairness, a list that would be so fresh that the premium now put upon the polling of dead or foreign voters would no longer be applicable. Such a list would be compiled at a tithe of the expense now rendered necessary every time there is a revision. It would not be made up except an election was about to be held, and the party managers would not have to raise funds to pay for the purification of a list upon which no election might take place.

The fairness and the inexpensiveness of this system are so evident that we are amazed it is not unanimously indorsed. The men now in power at Ottawa must hope for some compensation for the disadvantages that they bring to their followers in common with all citizens. That compensation they cannot obtain unless they are able, through the cunning manipulation of the cumbrous machinery, to get some advantage that would not be theirs in a fair field and with no favor, such as statesmen in Great Britain aim to provide. In this we probably may find the secret of the inclination of Sir John Thompson and his friends to maintain the present system, which is absolutely indefensible.

A Remarkable Business Woman.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 28.—Mrs. M. Taylor, the only woman dealer in oil supplies in the country, died last night from injuries received by falling from a train on the Panhandle Railroad last June. She sued the company for $50,000 damages, and the case was set for trial to-day. Mrs. Taylor was a woman of remarkable business ability, and was quite famous. After her husband's death ten years ago she conducted a business of $200,000 a year, and was regarded as very wealthy. She was 36 years old and leaves two children.

THE TRIGGER.

SHE SHOOTS WELL.

There are only a few women in the world who can claim any distinction to being experts with the shotgun, and one of the cleverest of these is "Miss Jennie Smith," whose performance at the traps have been of a rather extraordinary character. The young woman's proper name is Mrs. Class, wife of Frank Class, of Morristown, and the champion wing shot of New Jersey. She is 22 years old, stands 5 feet 2 inches high, weighs 135 pounds, and is quite graceful in handling a gun.

"Miss Smith" made her debut in trap-shooting a little less than two years ago at Pine Brook, N. J. In an exhibition there she broke seventeen out of twenty blue rocks, thrown at different angles from a single trap. A few weeks later, at the same place, she won her first match, defeating Samuel Castle, a veteran wing shot of Newark. Each shot at ten birds. "Miss Smith" made a clean score, and the veteran missed only one. The pair were matched again, and the result was a tie, with ten straight kills for each. Her next match was with Daniel Nafle, of Boonton, N. J. whom she defeated at 50 blue rocks, the score being 43 to 38. He next victim was R. Mahon, of Morristown, whom she beat by 41 to 30. Then came the defeat of James Wheaton, of Newark, at her hands, the score being 46 to 36. After this match there were a number of sweepstakes at blue rocks. "Miss Smith" took part in two of the events, each at ten blue rocks. She broke eight and nine, respectively, capturing second money in each, and against such cracks as Riggotts, Castle, Sigler, Class and others.

Her most notable victory was in an open sweepstake shoot held at Morristown about a year ago. She won first money from a field of a dozen crack shots by a score of 23 out of a possible 25 blue rocks.

Class will back his wife to shoot against any woman in the world under the following conditions: One hundred blue rocks each, unknown angles, American Shooting Association rules; or 50 live birds each, 30 yards rise, 50 yards boundary, under Hurlingham rules; the stakes in either match to be $100 a side.

THE KENNEL.

Several sales were made during the Detroit show, the Brant cocker kennels selling to George M. Hendrie the first prize winner, Brantford Redstone, by Jacket Rose, and listed at $150. Mr. Bell sold a fox terrier, now at Elmira, to New York parties.

THE TURF.

There were 10,002 races run in the United States and Canada during 1892, according to Goodwin's Guide, and 353 were stake events.

MUST NOT DOCK THE HORSES.

At Columbus, Ohio, the House passed a bill introduced by Representative Davis, of Mahoning, making it a crime punishable by a fine from $20 to $200 to dock a horse. The bill is aimed at young John A. Logan, who has a farm in Mahoning county where he raises fancy English hackney horses. The author explained that the custom was barbarous and was introduced into this country by those who wished to ape the English aristocracy.

BASEBALL.

Mr. Joseph Knight, who was a member of the Tecumseh Club, and who played with the Binghamton, N. Y., club last year, is on the reserve list of that club, and will play there this season.

THE WHEEL

ROAD RACE FROM BUFFALO TO CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, March 27.—A 25 mile road race between Buffalo and Chicago bicyclists is being arranged. It will not be an inter-club contest, but one in which 25 of the best riders of each city will engage. The race will take place during the week following May 30.

ATHLETICS.

SULLIVAN SICK.

A rumor was current in New Orleans, La., on Sunday night that John L. Sullivan had been attacked by heart disease while taking part in the boxing scene in "The Man from Boston." Sullivan admitted after the play that he had a "bad spell," but said he did not think he was as sick as some thought. He does not put any stock in the report that he has heart disease, and says his ailment is pleurisy.

AGAINST THE LAW.

AUBURN, N. Y., March 27.—District Attorney Rich has written a letter to Sheriff Wethey, calling his attention to the provisions of the penal law as to prize fighting, and saying that it is his plain duty to prevent anything of the kind taking place in this county, and to arrest any person who instigates or aids. The sheriff has appointed two deputies for each town to prevent the meeting between Dunfee and Donovan, which is announced to take place near Auburn in April.

CRICKET.

THE ONTARIO ASSOCIATION.

TORONTO, March 27. — The Ontario Cricket Association held its annual meeting to-night at the Walker House, Mr. John Wright, president, in the chair. The officers elected were: Honorary president, the Lieutenant-Governor; president, Edward Martin, Q.C., Hamilton; vice-presidents, Dr. Beemer, London Asylum, B. R. McConkey, Guelph, J. M. McDonald, Rosedale, H. H. Bedford-Jones, Trinity College; honorary secretary-treasurer, K. H. Cameron; honorary assistant secretary, W. R. Wilson.

Let the World Know You Are in It.

It seems almost a crime for a man to "hide his light under a bushel." If he has something new, that will benefit the human race, he should make it known. Old-fogy physicians tread the beaten path of their grandfathers, denounce advertised remedies, and never learn anything new. Medical science knows no parallel to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, compounded by a physician of skill and long experience, especially for the maladies that afflict women. It effects a permanent cure of those agonizing disorders which attack her frail organism, and is an anchor of hope alike to delicate girls and suffering women; contains no deleterious drugs. A guarantee on the bottle wrapper, refunding the price in case of failure. Of druggists, $1.

A CORNER IN GRAVEYARDS.

DISHONEST MANAGEMENT.

One effect of running the State prisons as political machines is the additional cost. Under the management of Warden Brown Sing Sing shows a deficiency of $38,000 for the last year. Once our prisons were self-sustaining.—[Troy Times.

THIS IS DOUBTFUL.

If one-half the effort already wasted in strikes and boycotts, as a rule injurious to all interests, had been wisely directed to securing just and fair legislation in behalf of labor, the laboring-men of the country would to-day have been incomparably more prosperous.—[Toledo Commercial.

THE BROTHERHOOD OF MAN.

Man's endowment and opportunities are capital for his investment. A wise and proper use of these are obligatory upon us all. First, because responsible to God the giver as to how we use them; whether our endowments be ten, five or one, we should prove faithful in investing them. Second, much of our power depends upon a proper and judicious use of our talents—a wise use of them will give us pleasure on earth and also profit. Third, the happiness of others such as husband and wife, children, friends and neighbors. The brotherhood of man puts us into a federation for which there is no escape for any single one, be we ever so rich or ever so poor, we are a part of the human family, and we are one in an intense sense.—[Rev. CAMELS FOR SALE.

Owing to ill-health I will sell at my residence, in township 16, range 18 west, according to the Government survey, one plush, raspberry-colored cow, aged 8 years. She is a good milkster and not afraid of the cars or anything else. She is of undaunted courage and gives milk frequently. To a man who does not fear death in any form she is a great boon. She is very much attached to her house at present by means of a stay-chain, but she will be sold to anyone who will agree to use her right. She is one-fourth Shorthorn and three-fourths hyena. I will also throw in a double-barrel shotgun, which goes with her. In May she generally goes away for a week or two, and returns with a tall, red calf, with long, wobbly legs. Her name is Rose, and I prefer to sell her to a non-resident.—[Bill Nye.

Good fat steers and heifers ranged from $3 75 to $4 15 for good lots, and prime heifers, $4 10 to $4 50; common lots of cows and heifers, $2 50 to $3; fair, $3 25 to $3 75; fat oxen about steady, with light supplies, at $4 50 to $4 75; coarse and rough lots dull; fat butchers' bulls sold steady, but common to fair and sausage lots were dull and lower, the bulk of the latter kind going at $3 to $3 20 down to $2 85 for half fat coarse ones. About all were sold, but the market closed easy for all kinds, but good light butchers' stock. Milch cows and stringers, with barely 10 cars on sale were $3 to $4 per head higher. Not many stockers and feeders on sale; market strong and higher.

Sheep and Lambs—Eighty-five cars on sale; trade active at 15c to 25c stronger on lambs, and fully that much advance on sheep. Sheep were wanted by the buyers generally, the best lots of ewes and wethers selling at $5 70 to $5 80, and good 90 lb stock at $5 25 to $5 40, as to quality; light weight and the common run of stock full steady to 10c stronger than Saturday's close.

British Grain Trade.

LONDON, March 27.—The Mark Lane Express, in its weekly review of the British grain trade, says: English wheat sells at from 22s to 23s per quarter in the western and northwestern markets. In London the price is 28s 1d. Foreign wheat is little changed. The red sorts are 6d in buyers' favor. Both California and ordinary red wheat are saleable in London for more money than in Antwerp. Russia is now sending to Great Britain 100,000 quarters weekly. India is likely to send as much after Easter. There were 2,770 000 quarters of wheat on passage on March 25. Corn is firm in half the leading markets.

The switch track will be taken up at this point, and run on from Kains street.—[St. Thomas Journal, March 27.

They May Strike.

For some time past in this city there has been a grievance between merchant tailors and their coatmakers. Business, the former say, has not been good for three years, and they deem the demand of their men for an increase in wages as unwise and unwarranted. A strike was feared, but the trouble seems to be passing over. Pants and vests are made principally by women, and the men who belong to a union are asking about $1 more on an average for making coats, which, they claim, is a moderate request. At present they receive 18 cents an hour, or, if it took them ten hours to make a coat, their price would be $1 80.

A GRAND RALLY.

The Great Liberal Convention to be Held in Ottawa.

A Call from the Leader to the Hosts Throughout Canada—Enthusiasm Running High.

OTTAWA, March 28.—The Dominion Liberal Convention will be held in Ottawa, June 20. This is Mr. Laurier's decision announced to a meeting of the Liberal Parliamentary party held this morning and indorsed unanimously. It is a call from the leader to the Liberal hosts throughout Canada to meet him at Ephesus and prepare to fight the beasts in their own lair.

There is a soupon of defiance flung in the face of the Government in the decision to meet at Ottawa, and while the Cabinet is in council on Parliament Hill promoting the interests of the Conservative party, the Liberals will meet in council on Sandy Hill and prepare a plan of campaign.

There will probably be 1,000 delegates. The convention will be held in the Rideau Rink, the new and magnificent building on Theodore street, capable of accommodating 3,000 people. It will be open to the public and the press, but on all questions where any division of opinion exists delegates only will have the right to vote.

A platform will be drawn up in which the issues to be fought out in the general election will be defined. It will be a national convention, appealing on national grounds from the national capital. Already the enthusiasm over it among Liberals is great. Apathy is about to give way to action, and never before was the same feeling of confidence displayed by the Parliamentary party, due in large part to the fact that the convention will be a rally round a leader whose popularity exceeds that of any Canadian leader since the heyday of Sir John Macdonald's career.

THE MAGISTRATE'S RECEPTION.

In His Carling Street Parlors—A Swede in Trouble—Judgment Suspended on Cruelty to Animals Charges—Youthful Drunkards.

One of the street car drivers was charged with cruelty to animals at the police court this morning, in that on March 23 he drove a horse with a sore shoulder. P. C. Moneghan swore that the sore was 2x1¾ inches in extent, and raw. The horse flinched from the side the sore was on and walked sideways. P. C. Gall corroborated.

W. J. Wilson, veterinary surgeon, saw the sore on the horse at the stable that afternoon. It was in a healthy state, he said, and the horse did not flinch when he put the collar on. Supt. Smith said that the horse had been worked every day since, excepting Sunday. The surgeon had said the horse was fit to be worked, and they worked it. The police magistrate suspended judgment.

Wm. Harlow, a driver for a man named Siggins, got off on suspended judgment on the same charge. P. C. Moneghan found the horse's shoulder shockingly sore. It was a poor horse at best, he said, and hardly fit to work without a sore.

Mr. Siggins, in defense, claimed that he had taken the horse from the wagon as soon as notified. In suspending judgment, the police magistrate said that such cases of cruelty must stop, and the public were now being fairly warned.

Edward Pearson, who was arrested for being drunk last night, had an additional charge of larceny preferred against him this morning. A pawn ticket for a gold watch, on which $5 had been raised, was found on his person, and on investigation Detective Rider found that the watch pawned by Pearson was one that the police had been looking for since Dec. 20. It is the property of Mr. Frank Wright, of the G. T. R., who is at present in St. Thomas. It is valued at $50 and was stolen from him on the date mentioned. Pearson, who is a Swede, is a flaxen-haired, blue-eyed lad about 18 years old. He has been in the hospital for a couple of months, and was only discharged from there yesterday morning. This accounts, the police say, for the watch not being found sooner. The prisoner is well known to the police, having been up before on several occasions. He was remanded until Thursday that Mr. Wright might be communicated with.

There were seven drunks, and, with the exception of one middle-aged man and woman, they were all youths of about 18 or 20 years. The woman, who was up on remand, was discharged, as was the middle-aged man, who was a London township farmer. Three young fellows were fined $1 each and one discharged. The discharged one started to smile and the police magistrate lectured him severely and held out no very small inducements for him to keep away from the police magistrate in future. Pearson was held on a more serious charge.

Lady Card Players Condemned.

HAMILTON, March 27.—Rev. and Hon. R. Moreton preached a very plain and forcible sermon last evening in St. John's Presbyterian Church on card playing among society people. He strongly condemned the practice indulged in by society ladies in playing whist during the afternoons, followed by 5 o'clock teas. Such women, he said, were lacking in proper sense of their responsibility in thus wasting their time, instead of devoting it to the alleviation of suffering among the poorer classes. The sermon has caused a large amount of comment.

The Wonch Tragedy.

TORONTO, March 28.—Government Detective William Greer, who is engaged in looking up evidence in the Wonch case at Collingwood, states that the snow where the old woman was buried near the railway track near the vicinity of the shanty has almost disappeared. At the time of the tragedy the snow was from four to six feet deep, and the hut was almost hidden. The trial of Jennie Wonch, who was indicted for murder by the coroner's jury, has been traversed to the fall assizes at Barrie. New evidence, which cannot at present be made public, will probably be adduced, and witnesses who were not examined at the coroner's inquest will be put on the stand. It is believed that the crown is already in possession of the facts as to how the old woman and child came to be burned to death.

EAT oranges. German scientists declare that they are excellent things to kill cholera bacteria with. The Berlin correspondent of the Medical Press and Circular states that the imperial health office has recently issued an announcement to the effect that experiments have demonstrated that the bacteria of cholera in contact with the cut surfaces of both oranges and lemons are destroyed in a few hours. They remain active for some time longer on the uninjured rind of the fruits, but even then they die within 24 hours. The destructive property as regards the cholera bacteria is supposed to be due to the large amount of acid contained in these fruits. In consequence of this quality, the health officer considers in unnecessary to place any restriction on the transit and sale of these fruits, even if it should be ascertained that they come from places where cholera is prevalent at the time. Not a single instance was noted in which cholera was disseminated by either oranges or lemons. This information should cause a boom in the orange trade, for where will you find a pleasanter antidote to disease than a luscious orange?

A MAIDEN FAIR.

"You see, mother, I was detained by—"

"Can ye no speak your native tongue, you idiot? What's the use o' puttin' on your fine airs wi' me!" cried Bell irately.

"I really thought that I was speaking my native tongue as far as I knew it, mother; but if there is any other form which will please you better I shall be happy to adopt it," he answered, taking a chair and seating himself on it carefully, as if he feared that it might break under him.

The old woman eyed him all over, and the twinkling of her eyes showed that she had a secret pleasure in his grand appearance, although she maintained her querulous manner.

"Weel, you had a guid Scotch tongue in your head if you would only mak' use o' it; but you'll do naething usefu'. You just spend, and spend, and spend."

"If you would allow me," he said in a lazy way, "I'm quite willing to take the management of the business——"

"Catch me lettin' ye do that. I gied ye a tether o' three months, and if I had gien ye three mair there wouldna hae been ae penny to clink agin anither left us."

"Very well," he said, shrugging his heavy shoulders. "I am content. Only don't blame me."

"No blame you, ye lazy loon! Oh, wait till I get up; and it'll no be lang noo or that. No blame you! If ye had been half a man ye would hae been the greatest fish-merchant in the kintry by this time."

"But I don't want to be a fishmonger," he said as before, and folding his hands on his paunch.

"Fish-merchant, I said, and mair shame to ye! Is it no the grandest trade and the bravest trade in the world? Can ye no think of what it means—men's lives given to feed the livin'? And ye can no think what it has been to you! Whaur would your bonnie claes come frae, and your rings, and your watches, and your breastpins, if it hadna been for the fish?"

"I'm quite ready to make my acknowledgment to each particular fish if you'll only tell me their names," he answered coolly, as he readjusted a horseshoe pearl breastpin.

She was exasperated by his coolness and made a movement as if she would rise, but fell back on her chair with the old cry:

"Wait till I get up and I'll set ye a bonnie dance, my braw lad—you that canna come to see me ance in a month, cause ye're shamed to be seen amang the folks that ken whaur your braw duds came frae. I'm gaun to hae the lawyer here and I'll settle ye. And I'm gaun to hae Bob Ross as a witness——"

"Bob Ross," muttered Cargill, for the first time roused from his lethargy; "he's eternally turning up where he isn't wanted."

"Ay, it's like ye to misca' folk that are better than yoursel'. He looks after them that belangs to him whiles ye gang off to your grand chambers in Edinbro' and London, and are feart folks should ken you got your siller frae the puir auld fishwife ye leave here."

His lethargic nature was not capable of burning into a flame; but the spark which she had thrown into it by the mention of Bob Ross had stirred the embers into a glow, and this last shaft elicited a spark.

"You know quite well, mother, I have pressed you often enough to leave this place——"

"Leave this place!" she cried angrily, "where everything was won—no likely."

"Very well. I don't try to force you, and I don't think it is fair that you should grumble at me because you are here."

"It's because of you that I'm here. But wait till I get up and I'll settle ye."

"Well, well, let that be. I want to talk to you about this arrangement with the captain."

"Ay, ay," muttered the old woman with greedy eyes, her whole manner suddenly changing as if she were about to make a bargain with him. "What aboot that?"

"What aboot that?"

"He had no objection about the match provided we can show money enough to start with, and he will settle everything upon his daughter."

"That's capital," cried the old woman gleefully, and quite reconciled to her son, forgiving in that moment all his extravagances. "But the lass—what did the lass say?"

"I have not asked her yet."

Bell Cargill leaned back in her chair and stared at her son, gasping:

"You idiot—do you no ken that was the first thing you should hae dune?"

"I shall have plenty of time for that," was the placid answer. "Murray has got a cargo for Peterhead and I am going with him; and she will be there of course. But in any case she would not say no when her father said yes—she is accustomed to the word of command."

The mother looked at her son admiringly, almost for the first time.

"Weel," she said chuckling, "there's some o' my bluid in ye after a'. That's just fine. You'll hae her all to yoursel', and a lad o' any mettle can mak' a lass agree to anything when that's the case, if he just speaks pretty enough."

Old Dick Baxter put his head in at the door.

"Here's Bob Ross noo, Bell. Do ye want him to come up?" he said.

CHAPTER V.

MISCHIEF IN THE WIND.

Under ordinary circumstances Ross would never have thought of waiting at the foot of the stair until he learned whether or not Bell wanted him. He would have walked up and entered the room with no other ceremony than the unnecessary question:

"Are ye at hame, mistress!"

On the present occasion, however, hearing that her son was with her he shrank back, and would have been glad to escape from his promised visit altogether. Cargill and he had never been friendly, although there was no open enmity between them. But now he felt an almost unconquerable dislike to meet the man. At any rate there was no need to meet him except when necessary, and that necessity was to rise soon enough.

There relations to each other were now clearly defined; they were both fighting for the same prize—the one with his money, the other with his love. Cargill the dandy elephant, regarded Bob Ross, the pilot, with contempt, that might easily develop into hatred—if it had not already done so; Ross regarded him with a simple dislike and a desire to avoid him.

Apprentice—What I don't like is that we have to work ten hours and eat only half an hour. Employer—The difference is not so great as it seems. If you ate as slowly as you work you would need ten hours for that, too.

The great lung healer is found in the excellent medicine sold as Pickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. It soothes and diminishes the sensibility of the membrane of the throat and air passages and is a sovereign remedy for all coughs, colds, hoarseness, pain or soreness in the chest, bronchitis, etc. It has cured many when supposed to be far advanced in consumption.

Mrs. Dash—Oh, doctor, your sermons are so lovely!" Dr. Slash—But, my dear madam, I always note that you go to sleep." Mrs. Dash—Yes; but I have such lovely dreams.

Among the pains and aches cured with marvelous rapidity with Dr. Thomas Eclectric Oil, is ear ache. The young are especially subject to it, and the desirability of this Oil as a family remedy is enhanced by the fact that it is admirably adapted not only to the above ailment, but also to the hurts, disorders of the bowels, and affections of the throat, in which the young are specially subject.

"What do you think of the dead languages by this time?" asked Dumsquizzle of his son, who had spent a term at college. "I think they ought to be buried," replied the young man.

Carter's Little Liver Pills must not be confounded with common Cathartic or Purgative Pills as they are extremely unlike them in every respect. One trial will prove their superiority.

Untold Misery—What a Well-Known Commercial Traveler Suffered, and How He Was Cured.—Gentlemen,—About five years ago I began to be troubled with dyspepsia, and for three years suffered untold misery, from this terrible complaint. I was at that time traveling for Messrs. Walter Woods & Co., Hamilton, and was treated by some of the best physicians in the country, but all to no purpose. I continued to grow worse, one day I was induced to try a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY, and to my great surprise and joy, I soon began to improve. I continued using this medicine, and when the third bottle was finished I found I was entirely cured; and as a year has elapsed since then, I feel confident that the cure is complete and permanent. To all afflicted with this distressing complaint I heartily recommend Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY, believing that the persistent use of it will cure any case of dyspepsia. (Signed.) T. S. Wool—How do you suppose Queen Liliuokalani got her strange name? Van Pelt—Her mother may have hit on it by accident, while learning the typewriter.

The Better I like it.

"Yes, I have used it for years, and the longer I use it the better I like it; in fact, I would use no other," said a bright, happy looking lady to her friend when riding on the street car along Dundas street the other day. They had seen the advertisement of Pure Gold Baking Powder on the boards as they passed along in the car. The reporter having to get off the car at this particular moment did not hear the end of the conversation. k

"Is that Vienna bread done yet?" roared the boss baker. And his assistant, who was suffering from a cold, answered: "Dough."

A prominent resident of Dundas street east, a customer of Mr. J. G. Shuff, the druggist, states that he has found Eseljay's Liver Lozenges the best remedy he knows for torpid liver, etc. There is no doubt, says Mr. Shuff, that these lozenges embody an original and and valuable idea for those suffering from biliousness and torpid liver.

THE LAST LESSON.

Mrs. Ewing's Farewell—A Vote of Thanks Tendered Her.

Perhaps never in the history of the city has any event of domestic import created such deep interest and enthusiasm as the advent of Mrs. Emma P. Ewing and the opening of her cooking class. That ladies were willing day after day to lay aside all other engagements and give the afternoon to hearing how to best and in a perfectly hygienic manner broil a chicken or a fish, to make that much abused preparation known as "hash," so to be a digestible and longed-for dish, to produce light, crisp and get springy Vienna rolls that would make all others blush in their presence, as well as the countless other dishes that can be so perfectly envolved by the magic touch of Mrs. Ewing's hand, was proof undisputable that our women meant business and business alone. If it be true that a nation's weal lies in the state of their stomachs, and a fit of indigestion may change the whole current of history, it is impossible to calculate the far-reaching importance of this teaching in the hundreds of homes of the city. With new light comes new life, and that these methods of reform were put into immediate practice was daily testified by the numerous samples of home art that were submitted for the inspection and criticism of the teacher. The simple, practical methods so clearly demonstrated, and yielding such perfect results, was an evidence of high art that could not fail to win the admiration and approval of all. The last afternoon was unique in its way. The young ladies, with daintily arranged trays on which were charming little after dinner coffee cups, kindly loaned by W. J. Reid & Co., and filled with the clear, rich beverage, as prepared by Mrs. Ewing, with a tempting morsel of delicate orangel cake, made by the same skilled hands, were flitting about, that every lady who entered the hall might be surely served; and many were the expressed regrets that the lessons were to close. As Mrs. Ewing presented her adieu, Mrs. McKinnon, in a few kindly words of just appreciation, moved a vote of thanks for the admirable manner in which the lessons had been conducted. This was promptly seconded by Mrs. Dr. Eccles, and carried at once by a standing vote. Parting with mutual good will, Mrs. Ewing left for Rochester for a few days, before proceeding to another engagement. Before closing Mrs. Ewing paid a glowing tribute to the courtesy of the press of the city for their generous publications of full reports of each class. Thanks are also due to the gas company for the use of their stove, which, as Mrs. Ewing said, "behaved beautifully" throughout; also the free use of gas; to Cairncross & Lawrence for contributions of pure extracts of their own manufacture; also their baking powder, which produced such splendid results; to Mr. Plewes for his high grade flour; to W. J. Reid, to Stavely & Son, and all others who loaned articles for use or kindly assisted in any way to make the classes such an unqualified success. Lastly, to all the ladies who extended to the work their patronage, and to whom the associations are directly indebted for financial returns.

The Hum of Industry.

The hum of industry is growing louder in North Galveston, Tex. The Compo board factory and the agricultural implement works are nearly completed. The same is true of the knitting and hosiery mills, wood scouring establishment and other enterprises. With good markets for their products, abundance of raw material and splendid shipping facilities, manufacturers are eagerly seizing upon this new field of profit. Mr. W. D. Buckle, London, Ont., is the local agent of the North Galveston Association, and he will be glad to furnish all particulars. The home address of the association is Box 963, Minneapolis, Minn.

IN SUNNY ITALY.

Another Interesting Letter from Rev. Joseph Philp.

A Visit to Pompeii—The Beautiful Bay and City of Naples—Habits and Customs of the People.

The following was written by Rev. Joseph Philp, of this city, on board train between Naples and Brindisi on Feb. 24 last:

"It is now Saturday, and we are on the top of the Apennines on the way to Brindisi, where we leave Italy for Greece. We are nearly up to the regions of snow, and the snow is lying on the peaks just above us. It is springtime now in Italy, just like April with us. Yesterday we visited Pompeii. It is very interesting to see the old streets with their foundations and pavements, in which deep ruts were cut over 2,000 years ago. The old houses with their courts, the old gardens with their fountains, the old-time shops with the demijohns, and old-time signs in front of the shops. All these things were of great interest.

"Yesterday afternoon we drove from Pompeii to Sorrento, a distance of about fourteen miles. It was right along the Bay of Naples, with the bay on one side and the mountains on the other. It was right among the orange groves, lemon groves, olive trees and vineyards of Southern Italy. The bay was lovely and was more beautiful than any body of water I ever saw before. I might speak of the blended blue and purple, but I could not give you an idea of the wonderful beauty. There are oranges, oranges everywhere. Trees covered, baskets full, oranges four for a penny.

"The peasants here are interesting and strangely clad. A little boy, for example, would wear blue pants, red coat, white or black cap, or none at all, and hands and feet as black as tar. The girls and women wore dresses of one color, aprons of about three colors, headdresses like a blanket folded and placed on their head, and on their feet sandals, but no stockings.

"In Naples you would think that half the people lived in the streets. I saw a family about 6:15 this morning, around a pot of soup, sipping it with spoons and dipping them into the pot. They seemed hungry and happy, barefooted and wet and cold. In Naples you see no beggars. Either pack mules or carts carry the burdens. They put no bits in the animal's mouths, but a bar across the nose, sticking out about a foot on either side of the head and by means of which the animal is guided."

—Mr. and Mrs. Robin Redbreast have taken up their residence in London after a long visit in the South.

—Mr. A. M. Gunn, inspector for the Ontario Loan and Debenture Company, has returned from a trip in Manitoba.

—Mr. and Mrs. James Tune are in New York. Mr. Tune will purchase while there the machinery for the new factory on York street.

—Mr. J. W. Fetherston, organist o Queen's Avenue Methodist Church, is confined to his bed with an attack of influenza.

—John Doucett, a 14-year-old London boy, has been stopped in Detroit on his way to Chicago. He is a runaway.—[St. Thomas Times.

—Miss Leshie Leonard, who has been visiting Mrs. Chas. Brennan, Dufferin avenue, for the past two weeks, returned home yesterday.

—Miss R. E. Davis left Tuesday morning for London, where she has accepted a position in the main office of the C. P. R. telegraph office.—[Sarnia Post.

Capt. H. J. Bowman has left for London to take a special course in the Military College. He will be gone ten days at least. He is a zealous officer and alive to his duties. —[Berlin Record.

—Edward Pearson, of Dreaney's Corners, was arrested last night by P. C. Moynahan, charged with being drunk. On his person was found a ticket for a gold watch which had been pawned for $5.

—A correspondent says Thamesville is in a similar condition to London West. The water has been twelve feet deep in some places and communication between the town and the C. P. R. is cut off.

—The cheap rate on the street railway will be discontinued after Friday. Adults' tickets will be sold at the rate of six for 25 cents, and children under 12 years of age will get ten for the same price.

—Rev. R. W. Johnston, of Port Rowan, and Ven. Archdeacon Mulholland, for 43 years rector of Owen Sound, were superannuated at a recent meeting of the executive committee of the Diocese of Huron.

—Mrs. S. McNames, of Hyde Park, has arrived home from Rosebank, Man., where she has been on an extended visit to her daughter, Mrs. W. G. Nixon, of that place. Mrs. McNames looks hale and hearty after her sojourn in the Northwest.

—The Brick Street Y. P. S. C. E. held a necktie social last Tuesday evening at the residence of Mr. Lawson, where a very pleasant time was spent. Mr. Mitcheltree favored them with a song entitled "The Drunkard," and Miss Berch and others gave recitations.

—A somewhat unusual affliction has befallen the father of C. P. R. Mechanical Superintendent Preston, of this city. According to Montreal papers, Mr. David Preston, who is master mechanic of the C. P. R. shop there, was troubled with a corn, which he was in the habit of paring and applying a lotion to the soft flesh. A wound appeared and the foot became very sore. Examination was made, and it was found that the foot had been poisoned and would have to be amputated. Much sympathy is felt for him in the workshops, where he is greatly esteemed.

—To an ADVERTISER reporter who asked him last night concerning his position as to his father's estate and his alleged quarrel with his brother, Mr. Geo. C. Rankin signified his intention of submitting a full statement of facts for publication within a day or so. Much that is erroneous has been stated in Associated Press dispatches lately concerning these things and about his affairs with his brother, McKee Rankin. The promised statement that Mr. Rankin will make is intended to set right mistaken ideas that are current both in regard to these matters and as to the authorship of the much-talked-of show, "The Canuck."

"A Barrel of Money."

Herbert Hall Winslow's realistic comedy drama "A Barrel of Money," will be the attraction at the Grand Opera House Saturday, April 1, matinee and night. The stage effects during the great iron mill scene, a feature of the play, are said to excite the utmost admiration, so realistically does the large engine work, the machinery move and the bands whir. The manner in which a young girl, tied to one of the revolving belts, is saved from almost certain death, is a new and striking department in stage mechanism. The company presenting "A Barrel of Money" comprises among others that bright comedienne Gracie Emmett. The specialties and music will be new and appropriate.

The Merry Minstrels.

On Monday, April 3 the Barlow Brothers' Minstrels will hold the boards at the Grand Opera House. They everywhere present an entertainment not less brilliant than that which has so frequently delighted the metropolis with its completeness. For years they have enjoyed the enviable distinction of being among the best, and their hold on public esteem and confidence was never stronger than at the present time, due to the care they have always successfully exercised in making their entertainment as refined as it is clever and amusing. Lovers of good music and wholesome fun should avail themselves of this opportunity and see America's representative minstrels, as this will be their only appearance here this season.

Good Work Appreciated.

A pleasing incident occurred at the regular meeting of Fidelity Lodge, No. 5, A. O. U. W., held in the Albion block last evening. The routine business having been disposed of, the presiding officer, M. W. Bro. Geo. Taylor, on behalf of the members of the lodge, presented P. M. W. Bro. Percival with a handsome silver water pitcher and goblet, in token of their esteem for the brother, and their appreciation of his faithful services as a member and officer of the lodge. M. W. Bro. Taylor, in a few pithy sentences expressed the kindly sentiments which prompted the gift, and Bro. Percival made a happy response. The pieces of plate bore the following inscription: "Presented to Joseph Percival, P.M.W. of Fidelity Lodge, No. 5, A. O. U. W., by his brethren as a token of esteem, March 27, 1893." The incident was a pleasing sequel to the meeting, that was evidently much enjoyed by all concerned.

Lodge Items.

The late Robert Wilson, a member of the order of Select Knights of Canada, who was killed in Mexico a few weeks ago, left a certificate for $1,000 payable to his mother, Mrs. James Wilson, of Stratford. The amount was paid last week. General Deputy Broderick of this city, has instituted two large legions of this order within the last month, one in Galt and another in Berlin. Both legions start off with a membership of over 30.

The Paris Star-Transcript of a recent date has this to say of Mr. Edward Towe, of this city: "Court Paris, No. 2, at the last meeting, received a visit from High Chief Ranger Towe, of London. He was received with grand honors, and complimented the lodge on their turnout, and the officers on their efficiency. After an excellent spread he was accorded a hearty vote of thanks."

Bro. Gibson, of Toronto, and R. Elliott, of London, auditors of the Canadian Order of Foresters, have reported to Edward Towe, high chief ranger, that $230,000 is to the credit of insurance account, bearing a good rate of interest.

"Jane" at the Grand.

The Grand was filled last evening with a large and fashionable audience who had gathered to witness the performance of the latest comedy success "Jane," and they had every reason to congratulate themselves on being present. The play was preceded by a one-act comedietta entitled "Chums," which served to introduce the leading members in an effective style and completely captured the audience. The plot of "Jane" has already been sketched in these columns and the piece fully sustains its enviable reputation. It is presented by a company of clever performers, and is characterized by a rapid and continued change of incidents and situations, sustaining the interest of the audience throughout and winning generous and well-merited applause. "Jane" will be welcomed again. Following was the cast:

Mr. Chas. Shakleton.....Mr. Herbert Fortier
Mr. Kershaw.....Mr. Al. Harris
William.....Mr. Alf. Fisher
Claude.....Mr. Arthur Boylan
Pixton.....Mr. W. Henderson
Miss Lucy Norton.....Miss Francis Stevens

Prang's Easter Publications.

L. Prang & Co., of Boston, have issued a fine catalogue of Easter cards, satin art prints, art novelties, books and booklets, and fine art pictures. A very dainty thing is "Budding Life," size 13x18½, in plain mat, by Ida Waugh. The pretty, open-eyed child reaches up its little hands after the pair of young butterflies. Among the art books, what could be more coquettishly charming than "Violets," by Florence Wales—the leaves of the "book" tied by a bit of ribbon? Illuminated covers with violets, and within the covers a collection of verses on the violet, with illustrations in colors; size, about 6x9. Quite as delicious is a little art book of pictured "Alleluias," with its child-angel faces.

Regarding Prang's new line of Easter goods it may be safely asserted that the refined taste, chaste and delicate designs, and appropriate selections, which in the past have secured their productions such pre-eminent and popular favor, will be found even in a greater degree in the line they are just presenting for the coming season. Artistic skill and inventiveness of the first quality have been employed in making these designs, and the result is almost bewildering in the variety and richness of the effects produced. A full variety of prices is presented from the comparatively inexpensive to the costliest. The line is distinctively American. The original designs were executed by foremost American artists, and lithographed and printed by American artists and artisans in their fine art establishment in Boston under their personal supervision.

These Easter publications are sold by all the leading art dealers, booksellers and stationers in the United States and Canada, and may be obtained through them or purchased direct from L. Prang & Co., fine art publishers, Boston, Mass., from whom also catalogues may be obtained.
