American Humorist Given a Flattering Reception.

A RUNNING FIRE OF GOOD JOKES

Defends Newspaper Humorists But Gives Away Why Jokes Are On Editorial Page.

The largest crowd of the season attended the mid-day luncheon of the Canadian Club, when Mr. Sam E. Kiser, the well-known poet-humorist of the Chicago Record-Herald, was the guest of honor. Mr. Kiser gave an excellent address on newspaper humor, following it up by reading several selections from his book, "The Love Sonnets of the Office Boy." Mr. Frank Lawson president of the Newspaper Humor.

He declared that in American newspapers, newspaper humor had become very important industry, if it might be so called. In reply to the so-called superior persons, who say that newspaper humor is not real humor, and that such humorists were to be pitied, he pointed out that all the modern humorists were newspapermen. Mark Twain commenced writing first on a newspaper, and has continued ever since. Mr. Kipling was a newspaper humorist, his ballads in the Indian paper with which he was con nected, first bringing him into prom Peter F. All Are Humorists. Everyone was a natural humorist He illustrated this by several wellchosen stories, all of them being very funny, There was a tradition that the newspaper humorist was a melancholic, dyspeptic person, but such was Mr. Kiser told of a woman who determined to see the humorist of a certain paper, and after looking the writers over, she picked on such a man as she thought would answer the description. She asked him If he were the humorist, and he answered: "No; I merely look this way because my house burned down, and mass of iron and steel so as to remove I have no insurance." Beattle, who for the past two years was chairman of the finance committee, and who is particularly well versed in the finances of the city, was seized of the importance of this growth, and in the council of 1907 and 1908 warned those bodies of the rapid increase in the debenture debt, and warned them to City Engineer Admits He go slowly on improvements. As a result of this the amount of sidewalks to be laid in one year was curtailed, and also the amount of curbs and gut-ters laid. With large expenditures ahead of the city for waterworks and other things it was important, Ald. Beattie pointed out, that the city be careful not to exceed the borrowing power given to it. Consequently there has been a decreasing amount of sidewalks and curbs and gutters laid, although there has been a large demand for these, owing to the great increase in debenture debt.

The Time for Morning Shopping

I'm coming in the morning! This is what we hear frequently these busy afternoons, and now that the Millinery Department is in full swing, and the Dress Goods, too, how fine it is to get in here in the morning with that beautiful light in our Richmond street section and have the goods displayed and make your choice leisurely, instead of being hurried and elbowed in the afternoon rush. Morning shopping has many advantages, but these appeal strongly: LIGHT IS BEST IN THE MORNING. SALESPEOPLE CAN GIVE YOU THEIR BEST ATTENTION. YOU WILL SHOP WITH MORE COMFORT, and YOUR SELECTIONS WILL BE BETTER MADE THEN. Besides, Special Sale Offerings, such as we had in Linen Department Tuesday, such as is mentioned below in Muslin Department for tomorrow, don't usually last longer than the forenoon.

LONDON, THURSDAY, MARCH 18. MR. GRAHAM'S INTERCOLONIAL

The change in the management of the Intercolonial, proposed by Hon. with the opinion of those who have Mr. Graham, is good business and been engaged in such journalism for a good politics. The system of direct lifetime. control by the department of railways, which has been in operation since the road was built, has been a failure under every Government, but Mr. Graham is the first minister of railways to acknowledge it. During the past ten years the Intercolonial has been raised to a high physical standard, and made a first-class railway in every respect. In spite of betterments and extensions and a new spirit of enterprise, and although traffic and revenue have increased proportionately, it has not reached a paying level. For the nine months ending Dec. 31, the expenditures exceeded the receipts by $436,854, This deficit does not include the outlay on capital account. The rates charged by the Intercolontal are lower than those of other railways, which is one explanation of its unsatisfactory financial showing. but the minister indicated another difficulty when he pointed out that while 17,000 railway employees in Canada were laid off last year, owing to depression in trade, the Intercolonial staff was not reduced, even temporar- the foreign trade of both countries, ily. The first section of the line, from Cape Town to Bulawayo, 1,360 miles, was in operation before the opening of the Boer war. From Bulawayo a branch has since been constructed northeast to Salisbury, Rhodesia, and on to Beira, on the coast, in Portuguese territory. The route of the line north of Bulawaya has been materfally changed from that originally contemplated by Mr. Rhodes, and takes in rich coal fields and valuable copper mines. A network of feeders is expected to add greatly to the success of the main line.

Meanwhile a syndicate has been formed to forward construction of the main line from the present terminus in Rhodesia to the Congo frontier. the distance is about 2,500 miles, and the proposed route of the railway lies through a section of Central Africa, where construction work, owing to the tropical climate and prevalence of fever, will be extremely difficult, as well as costly. Sir James has been also stultified by his very savage attack upon Henry O'Brien, K. C., solicitor of the Toronto Electric Light Company, and a prominent Conservative. In the judgment of the writer of the article referred to (with which I thoroughly agree), any damage which the financial credit of Ontario' has sustained is really due to the improvident and, as many think, unfair legislation of which Sir James Whitney is the author. Under these circumstances it is preposterous to lay that damage to the charge of those who have criticised such legislation, and exposed its true charac-

WAS PERSISTENT

His Motion Was Out of Order, But He Insisted Upon Talking to It.

Ottawa, March 17.-There was an exciting incident in the Senate today. Senator Cloran said that he desired to present a motion to the Senate in which all should concur. It was as follows:

"The Senate of Canada, on the occasion of the national anniversary of Ireland, extend to their fellow-citizens of the empire, the Irish people, its sincere congratulations on the most happy and hopeful condition of national affairs under the reign of His Majesty King Edward VII., and that the Speaker of the Senate be structed to forward immediately by cable above resolution to the leader of the frist parliamentary party, John Redmond, M. P."

The Speaker called the attention to an act that the rules of the Senate required a notice of intention to offer

Sir Mackenzle Bowell thought that the rules should not be suspended, but he thought the wording of the resolution was of such a character that it should be received in the Senate

The Speaker said he was forced to declare the motion lost. Senator Cloran then moved an adjournment of the Senate.

This was also lost. Then Senator Cloran started to speak and was called to order, and his attention called to the fact that the motion had been declared lost and could not be spoken to.

The Speaker called for orders of the day, and, Senator Cloran, again starting to speak, was asked to respect the decision of the chair. Senator Power, of Halifax, declared that if Senator Cloran persisted in disobeying the rules of the proper officers he must be instructed to remove him from the chamber. Later on Senator Cloran again brought up his resolution, which he said had been improperly declared out bring it up again on Friday, with the direction that the Speaker send it to of to Mr. Redmond.

A GREAT LOSS TO IVAN

Death of the Late Mrs. Alex. McLean LEMIEUX ROUTS Is Widely Regretted .

In the death of Mrs. Alex. McLean, which took place at her home in London Township, on the 12th inst., a great loss has been sustained by her many relatives she lived, and by the Ivan Presbyterian Church, of which she had from girlhood been a member, and in whose work and success she always took a deep and active interest. She was a good neighbor, true friend, a sincere Christian, and oyal to her church and her minister. The Lord's servant was always throughout her life sure of a hearty welcome to her home, and the kindest of hospitality home. She loved her husband and her family with all the strength of her warm Celtic nature, and her devotion to their interests was constant and unstinted. For their sakes and for the sake of the church she loved so well she fain would have stayed a little longer, and they would fain have kept her here, but "the Lord had need of her."

On Monday afternoon her body was laid in its narrow resting-place in the Ivan cemetery, to await the resurrection tended by a very large number of sympathizing friends and acquaintances, was conducted by Rev. ### ENGLAND NOT HELPED BY THE TAFT TARIFF

Not Believed That Much Real Reduction Will Be Made.

London, March 18.-The question of tariff revision has a very real and unusual interest at the present moment for the British public. KICK OFF THE COVER AND TAKE COLD.

Dreadful Cold by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

All the world loves a baby and everyone is more or less interested in their health and happiness. There probably never was a baby that did not kick off the covers and take cold; in fact, babies are particularly susceptible to colds and croup, and the favorite remedy for these ailments is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It always gives quick relief and is pleasant and safe to take, in fact, it contains nothing injurious. Mothers have become acquainted with this fact and do not hesitate to give it to their babies when such a preparation is required. Mrs. John D. Harmon, of Melfa Station, Va., says: "About two weeks ago our baby had a dreadful cold, and at one time I feared it would have pneumonia, but one of our neighbors told how Chamberlain's Cough hemedy had cured her little boy, and I began giving it to our baby at once and it soon cured her. I had tried other remedies and they all failed to do her any good. Our baby is now well and we heartily thank Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, for it cured her. I cannot recommend it too highly or say too much in its favor. I hope all who read this will try it and be convinced as I

MOTORED THE ARMY

An Interesting Experiment by British Army Authorities.

London, March 17 .- An interesting experiment was made by the war office today to demonstrate the utility of the automobile as a means of rapid military transport to supplement the resources of the railroads. Acting on the assumption that a hostile army had landed at Hastings and that the railroad was blocked with troop trains, a relieving force of 1,000 men with full war kit and guns was moved to the scene by automobiles. ome 500 machines loaned by members of the Automobile Club picked up the men and their accoutrements at the various barracks and conveyed them to the Crystal Palace, whence the start was made. The machines travelled at the rate of twenty miles an hour over the hard frozen roads towards Hastings. The lighter cars the heavier vehicles with the guns and the heavier vehicles with the guns and stores to bring up the rear. New York. March 18.-There were only two real new things shown at the session of the Dressmakers' Prothe style clerical, a summer costume tons on it.

The other novelty was the "Moyen Age" gown, which was first heard from at a western dressmakers' convention a short time ago. Several specimens of this, which is to be the "really proper thing" this summer, were shown today. The exhibitors explained that the waist line in this model is "s'x inches above the knee," requiring corsets five inches longer than last year. Features of the 'Moyen Age," which is said to follow the costume lines worn by fashionable women of the tenth, eleventh and twelfth "French centuries," are a separate hanging "pocket for pennies" suspended at one side and a gigantic buckle of red and gold worn at the

The Luckiest Day of My Life.

Mr. Thomas Wylie (Box 384), Galt, says :- "It was the luckiest day of my life when I struck PSYCHINE, for I truly believe I shouldn't be alive now but for that.

"A neglected cold was the beginning of my trouble, and what seemed to be a simple ailment, soon developed into a serious and dangerous condition. I got so low that it was scarcely possible for me to walk around, and I lost so much flesh that I looked like a skeleton. I was just about ready to "hand in my checks," although only 20 years of age. The medicine the doctor gave me made me worse and I got disgusted and hopeless. Then I struck PSYCHINE.

"PSYCHINE did miracles for me. The first bottle gave me new life and courage, and in less than no time I began to put on flesh rapidly, and felt I was on the high road to recovery. My appetite returned and I "eat like a hunter," as the saying goes. My friends were surprised, and hardly knew me. In three months I was as strong and well as ever, and returned to work in the mill. ### IF JIM JEFFRIES DOES FIGHT JOHNSON IT'LL BE IN AMERICA

Every pugilistic enthusiast in the world is waiting eagerly for definite news as to whether James J. Jeffries will agree to meet Jack Johnson in a contest for the heavyweight championship of the world.' The recent arrival in this country of Hugh D. McIntosh, of Sydney, Australia, has added greatly to the public interest in the possibility of such a contest, but considerable feeling has developed that McIntosh's offer of a purse for the match on foreign soil should not be accepted and that the question as to the merits of the men should be decided in

It is known that Jeffries is not inclined to fight abroad, and that if he decides to re-enter the ring, is inclined to favor the offer for a world's championship battle in Seattle during coming exposition there. The retired champion has now road work in conn ection with the light exercise indoors and will continue this work the coming week. He tells his friends that his wind is improving rapidly, though the fighter says he intends to work up gradually, if possible, to his real fighting

It is no secret among friends of Jeffries that he is anxious to fight Jack Johnson, and has practically made up his mind to do so as soon as he feels sure that he will be able to do himself justice in the ring. Johnson, who has declared his willingness to fight Jeffries, is expected to be in the east within the next two weeks, and it may be that he and Jeffries' manager can come to an agreement while the two men are in the same part of the country.

Careful measurement of Jeffries shows that he has undergone few changes to outward appearances during the last four years, but, of course, the measurements do not throw any light on the fighter's stamina and the condition of his nerves and stomach. His muscles, however, seem to be still firm and powerful. The measurements follow

The anniversary of Ireland's patron | aint was celebrated in this city in a number of ways last evening, and me very enjoyable gatherings were held. In many homes parties were held and the decorations were appropriate to St. Patrick and Ireland. During the evening Irish songs were sung and the time passed most pleasantly. Y. W. C. A.

At the Young Women's Christian Association rooms a most enjoyable ("Shamrock" party was held. A dainty apper was served from 6 until 8, after which those present were treated to an address on "St. Patrick; His Life C and Work," by Rev. T. B. Clarke, of Saints' Church. This was folowed by an address by Rev. A. J. Vining, of the Talbot Street Baptist Church, on "The Work the Y. W. C. A. Is Doing." Both addresses were much appreciated. The remainder of the evening was spent in enjoying a musical programme, in which numbers were rendered by Mrs. Rowland Mun-roe. Miss Gladys Reid, Miss Alice Halls and Miss Edna Calhoun; Miss Albright and Mr. W. Wortman made efficient accompanists.

The rooms were most appropriately decorated for the occasion, Irish flags and shamrocks being everywhere in evidence. while on the table was

Y. M. C. A. Boys' Club.

The junior members of the Y. M. C. A. Boys' Club arranged things so that their regular monthly entertainment fell on the evening of St. Patrick's Day, and this time it took the form of a parior field meet. Fully 50 of the boys were present, and the events on the programme were carried through with a vim that made the evening a most enjoyable one. The first event was a soda biscuit contest. The crackers were tied to a pole, and the contestants had to eat them without touching them with their hands. The first one able to whistle a tune after eating his biscuit was declared winner, and the prize was awarded to Charlie Stewart.
