STREET RAILWAY IS AGAIN UNDER PRIVATE DIRECTION; BOARD GIVES UP CONTROL

Developments Between Men and Company Expected at an Early Date—Employees Are Expected To Hold a Mass Meeting Before End of Week.

Private management of the London Street Railway was resumed today. The Ontario Railway and Municipal Board is clearing up final details in connection with its administration of the road since last spring.

It is expected that A. B. Ingram, the vice-president, will be here Tuesday or Wednesday to obtain a report of the last month's service.

Developments in the situation between the men and the company are expected at any time. It is not likely that there will be a conference today, but officials of the company and the union meet Tuesday. It is also probable that the men will hold a mass meeting before the end of the week.

2,000 UNION MEN STRIKE IN HAMILTON

Building Trades Workmen Refused To Accept Reduction in Wages.

PRINTERS QUIT WORK

Walkouts in Many Places in Canada and United States.

Toronto, May 2.—Practically general strikes in the building trades in Hamilton and Ottawa, together with isolated strikes of job printers in Hamilton, Peterboro and other cities on the issue of the 44-hour week, are the principal labor troubles afflicting Canada today. From all accounts the response to the strike order in most of these instances was just about unanimous, and while negotiations are in progress there seems to be, at present, little prospect of early agreements between the striking employees and the employers.

In addition to these new strikes there are some long standing tie-ups in the pulp and paper industry in Ontario and Quebec, and in the shipbuilding works in Toronto, as the result of labor disputes. So far as Canada is concerned the serious labor troubles this year seem to be confined largely to the province of Ontario. Reports from other parts of the country indicated no very serious new disruptions as the result of labor troubles.

Hamilton, May 2.—Nearly 2,000 union men in Hamilton quit work today because their demands for readjustment of wages and working conditions were not met. Of these 1,700 are from the building trades. These men were asked to accept a 10 per cent cut in wages and refused. The employers are practically the only union men in the building trades organization who are still at work. The master plumbers are not identified with the Building Trades Association. They are negotiating separately with the men. The contractors were willing to pay the painters the same scale as last year, but the men insist on an increase.

Nearly 300 employees of the job printers' plants also quit work. They are fighting for a reduction in working hours from 48 to 44 hours a week.

The employers of all these trades called it a strike. The men declare it is a lockout.

GENERAL STRIKE IN PRINTING INDUSTRY HAS BEEN AVERTED

Chicago, May 2.—Acceptance by employers in many of the larger cities of the 44-hour week in the printing industry today appeared to have averted a country-wide strike in book and job printing shops, although isolated strikes in newspaper plants and job printing offices had been called to take effect today. Local officials of the International Typographical Union were authorized by international headquarters to concede the where employers refused to concede the in the east newspapers were suspended by strikes of printers.

PREDICT TIE-UP IN SHIPPING INDUSTRY

New York, May 2.—Union leaders predicted today that the walkout of marine workers called yesterday as a protest against 15 per cent wage reductions would result within 24 hours, in a complete tie-up of United States shipping. News of the walkout decision was wirelessly to all ships flying the United States flag yesterday after the International Seamen's Union, the Marine Fire-Continued on Page Three.

KILLED IN MOTOR ACCIDENT

Vancouver, B. C., May 2.—James Tudor was killed and Fred Murray and Gordon Gartley were badly injured when the automobile in which they were driving crashed into a tree in Stanley Park Saturday night. The car contained thirteen young people. The other ten were bruised and shaken up.

"WOODEN" WEDDING

Norfolk, Va., May 2.—When Miss Ada Oakes became the bride of Walter Pine it proved to be an unusual marriage. The pair decided to have a "wooden" wedding. Everybody that took a leading part in the ceremony had a name like a tree. For instance, The bridegroom—Walter Pine. The bride—Miss Ada Oakes. The best man—Robert L. Birch. The bridesmaid—Anna Lee Laurel. The preacher—Rev. Oscar T. Wood. The ceremony was performed at Washington, N. C. and to make the "wooden" flavor complete, the couple went to Hickory, N. C. to spend a week with the bridegroom's aunt, Miss W. E. Shingle.

TWELVE CARS OF 'HOOGH' ARRIVE IN CITY ON SUNDAY

Some 7,500 Bottles for Use of Londoners Received.

"RED EYE" FOR WINDSOR

More Booze Is Expected by Express Companies Tonight.

Twelve cars of whiskey filled to the roof rushed from the city of Montreal just before the gates of Quebec were closed to the exportation of liquor. The cars were loaded on Sunday for distribution throughout Western Ontario. The twelve cars, minus 600 cases left to supply the cases of London, were forwarded to the border cities this morning in the city.

The express companies, the main arteries of the liquor traffic, exerted themselves to the utmost on Friday and Saturday of last week to care for the thousands and thousands of cases which were on order in Montreal. Every available car, including those of the refrigerator type, were rushed to that city and out again before the doors of the province were closed. At midnight on Saturday a special train of express cars on left Montreal for Toronto and points west, while many more cars were moved to the western provinces and to Northern Ontario.

It is expected by the local agents of the companies that more cars will arrive in London this evening, but they expect that tonight will wind up the mad rush of liquor westward. Sunday's shipments it is estimated contained nearly 100,000 cases or approximately 120,000 bottle bottles. Out of this number at least 7,500 were destined for celars in the city.

All last week the daily shipments were double those of normal times. One company alone handled four cars daily through London.

Now that the shipments from Quebec have been stopped it is expected that "short circuiting" or shipments from distilleries within the province will increase. One of the companies expected to handle at least 100 cars out of Walkerville before July.

Comparatively little liquor has been shipped by freight. The majority of the shipments being from foreign countries. This class of liquor will continue moving until importation is stopped altogether.

TURKS DEMAND THAT IONIA AND THRACE BE EVACUATED BY GREECE

London, May 2.—Unconditional evacuation of Thrace and Ionia will be demanded of Greece by the Turkish Government of Constantinople, Grand Vizier Tefik Pasha is quoted as declaring in an interview with the newspaper Ikdam of Constantinople, says a dispatch to the London Times from that city. The demand will be incorporated in proposals now being framed for presentation to the Allies, as was suggested at the Near Eastern conference in this city late in February.

INTERVIEWED MINISTER OF MINES—Cal Parker of the London Clay Products Company interviewed the Hon. Harry Mills, minister of mines, at the Parliament Buildings last week relative to the supply of natural gas for the clay workers of Western Ontario. Mr. Parker is chairman of the permanent fuel committee of the Western Ontario Clay Workers Association.

DOMINION RY. BOARD TO HOLD SESSION HERE THIS MONTH

Will Deal With Question of Subway At Egerton Street Crossing.

M. C. R. AGREEMENT

L. and P. S. Want Rates With Michigan Central Adjusted by Board.

The Dominion Railway Board will hold a sitting in London this month to deal with the question of a subway at the G. T. R. Egerton street crossing. Mayor Little announced at a meeting of the board, commission today. Sir Adam Beck suggested that the matter of a new agreement between the L. and P. S. R. and the Michigan Central Railway be taken up at the same time.

Manager J. E. Richards will notify the M. C. R. that the road is making application to this effect to the board. The original agreement with the M. C. R. expired this year. Under this the company paid for each car of freight or passengers moved by the L. and P. S. R. and also paid switching charges. The L. and P. S. R. claims that the rates were much too low for present day conditions. They sought an adjustment. The M. C. R. offered to pay more, but not as much as the L. and P. S. R. wanted.

The Egerton street subway has been under consideration for two years. The railway board will be asked to make a ruling as to what proportion of the cost should be borne by the city and what proportion by the railway.

Sir Adam Beck stated that he had received a proposal from the G. T. R. in regard to widening the platform of the L. and P. S. station. The G. T. R. is willing to let the road have land for this platform on condition that all the present property be turned over to them when "grade separation" is carried out here.

The present piece of ground was allotted to the L. and P. S. R. by the Dominion Railway Board.

The commission felt that it had no right to make any disposition of it and therefore did nothing with the matter.

Manager J. E. Richards announced that Port Stanley could be made ready for the summer season on 24 hours' notice. As soon as the weather is a little warmer all the regular summer activities will be started.

Hull Will Be 'Bone Dry' for a Few Days

Ottawa, May 2.—During the next few days and possibly for one week, Hull will be in the bone-dry column. All the hotelkeepers have decided to refrain from selling beer, wine or anything else until such time as the Quebec liquor commission issues licenses. Licenses should have been issued on Saturday, but the commission has not had the time to look after the Hull district.

THOUSANDS OF PEOPLE ARE SUBSCRIBING TO THE LAURIER MONUMENT FUND

Subscriptions Still Received by the Honorary-Treasurer, P. C. Larkin, Toronto.

To date there has been subscribed towards the Laurier monument fund the sum of $34,913.87. This represents the voluntary subscriptions of tens of thousands of people, for the largest amount accepted from any one person is $5, and in hundreds of cases sums of $1 and less have been sent in without names or addresses.

The work is now well under way and anybody desiring to subscribe may do so by forwarding an amount to the honorary treasurer, Mr. P. C. Larkin, Toronto.

MILLIONS OF DOLLARS RECEIVED BY INCOME TAX OFFICE IN LONDON; MUCH MAIL YET TO BE OPENED

Scores of Clerks Half Hidden by Huge Piles of Mail — Work Under High Pressure—One Man Sends Check For $500, But Fails To Make Out Returns.

Scores of clerks, half-hidden by huge piles of mail, worked under high pressure today in a seemingly vain attempt to clear away the deluge of returns that poured into the district federal tax office during the closing days of last week. Because of the crowds of local citizens who availed themselves of the last day of April in which to make their returns, the collectors found it impossible to touch Saturday's mail bags until today, and when they are emptied it is estimated that at least two more days will be required to open the mail arriving today.

Many Delinquents. Even though warnings had been given generally that penalties would be visited on the heads of those who failed to make their returns by April 30, or who failed to make a payment of 25 per cent of their taxes, there are many delinquents. Several stragglers wandered into the office today with their returns, and although they were armed with money to pay the tax they were assessed either a minimum of $5, or 25 per cent of the amount of their tax. The collectors of taxes pointed out as an example this morning the case of a man whose tax amounted to only $8.10, but who will have to pay a total of $18.10 because he neglected to make his return on time. He did not turn in his statement until today, and so he was fined $5 for his negligence, and an additional $5 because he failed to make his payment of 25 per cent of the tax. Quite a costly mistake.

There was another incident of a businessman who made his returns, but failed to make a payment on his tax. While he escaped one penalty, he was fined for not making the payment. His tax in all amounted to $200. By the regulation he should have paid $50 when he made his returns. For his negligence he will be fined $12.50.

The strangest case of all perhaps was that of a man who sent in a check for $500, and yet failed to make out his returns. The forms which accompanied the check were blank. The $500 will be returned to the man, and if his tax amounts to that much he will be fined $125 for his mistake.

Surpasses 1919. The checks and money received will run into millions of dollars. The average in amounts from a few cents paid by the laboring man to nearly $500 paid by a wealthy corporation. Already the total of the money received surpasses the amounts paid last year for 1919. Many more payments have been made, although not as many returns have been received.

Much money, it is thought, will have to be returned to many of the taxpayers when everything is checked up. According to the local officials many people who were not required to make returns to save themselves from possible penalties.

FOUND GUILTY OF SEDUCTION, GETS 2 YEARS

James A. Skilton of Woodstock Convicted On Serious Charges.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Woodstock, May 2.—James A. Skilton was sentenced to two years in Kingston Penitentiary on conviction of seduction and two years for theft, sentences to run concurrently. Skilton, who is a married man with one child, about 35 years of age, was arrested last Monday at Woodstock. He was charged with seducing a 16-year-old girl, named Skilton. At the latter place Skilton left the girl, whom he introduced as his wife and came on here to his own wife and child. He was all ready to leave town Sunday when arrested. He was wanted by the Brandon authorities on a charge of forgery. Skilton's wife and child returned to her home in St. Catharines.

"There was a lot of good legislation completed," said Dr. H. A. Stevenson, M. L. A. for London, in a short interview with The Advertiser today. "We certainly got a lot of good stuff through, and I think that the Government is satisfied."

"There was a lot of legislation that was kept off the records, and that is just as important as getting the good bills through."

Too Many Lawyers. "There are far too many lawyers who are members of Parliament. There are a whole lot of them who won't be present after the next election. They make me tired."

"What do you think of the Hon. How and Ferguson?" asked. "Well, he certainly won't gain anything by knocking the farmers the way he has," replied Dr. Stevenson. "He will find out that he has made a lot of mistakes."

The member for London stated that he was leaving for Toronto tonight to ask the lieutenant-governor to visit the Westminster Hospital while making his trip to London on May 11, when he will lay the corner-stone of the Children's Hospital.

WHOLE FAMILY LEAVES IRELAND FOR CANADA

Montreal, May 2.—Migration of a whole family of seventeen, named MacLeods, from Dublin to Canada, placed on the Canadian Pacific liner Metagama, which reached here over the week-end. The family consists of grandparents, parents and grandchildren. They are en route to the Canadian west.

LINDSAY CRAWFORD CONDEMNS I. Q. D. E.

Charges Vancouver Police of Conniving With Disorderly Element.

Calgary, Alta., May 2.—Lindsay Crawford of Toronto, addressed a meeting here yesterday under the auspices of the Self-Determination League, at which he charged the Vancouver police with "conniving with the forces of disorder." He denounced the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire who, he said, talked of Empire and thought of Canada merely as a colony, which was an insult to Canadians, he declared.

Sir Robert Borden, he said, had expressed the same judgment of the Canadian people in his recent speech in standing out for Canadianism rather than imperialism. Canada had self-government, he said, and that was all Ireland was seeking.

SEEDING IS WELL UNDER WAY IN WESTERN PROVINCES

Edmonton, Alta., May 2.—Seeding operations in the Edmonton district have been going along steadily for the past two weeks, and the majority of farmers have finished seeding wheat and have been plowing for oats for two or three days. Seeding of oats will be general in the next two or three days. The acreage seeded to wheat this year is about the same as last year.

BRITISH GOVERNMENT DOES NOT PROPOSE NEW LEGISLATION

London, May 2.—Canadian Associated Press—indications are strong that the Government does not propose to introduce any new legislation this session. The licensing bill has already been dropped, and the revenue bill, which would have placed income tax payers practically at the mercy of paid government administrators, seems also doomed. The railway bill, which would institute a system of combining the operation of the different railways, is also in jeopardy.

SUMMER TIME EFFECTIVE. Quebec, May 2.—Canadian Press.—Daylight saving time went into effect here yesterday, in accordance with a recent decision of the city council.

VISCOUNT FRENCH

NEW HOME RULE PARTITION ACT EFFECTIVE SOON

Lord Talbot To Be Inaugurated as Lord Lieutenant.

IRISH INDIFFERENT

Old-Time Pageantry Will Be Missing at Dublin Castle.

Dublin, May 2.—A new chapter in Irish history, in many respects the most momentous in generations, will be recorded this week with the inauguration of the new home rule partition act. This will mark the end of the action of union, under which Ireland has been governed from Westminster for 120 years. The week will also witness the inauguration of Lord Talbot, the new lord lieutenant, who is the first Catholic to hold that office in recent times.

Despite the importance of these developments, the Irish people appeared today to await them with the utmost indifference. Commenting upon them, the Unionist Irish Times one of the most conservative newspapers in the country, said: "Under other conditions these events might have been the occasion of a great outburst of enthusiasm particularly on the part of those who constitute the great majority of population. Nominally, the act concedes some measure of self-government which has long demanded, and it removes the last real disability under which the Catholic religion has existed in this country. The remarkable fact remains that not only there is not among the people as a whole, or, indeed, in any section of it, any enthusiasm and hardly any interest in the events which are imminent."

Lord Talbot will be sworn in tomorrow with the usual ceremonies, although he will not make the traditional state entry into Dublin Castle with the full time pageantry and fanfare of trumpets. Later he will issue a proclamation summoning the parliaments for North and South Ireland. Writs will then be issued for the returning officers in the various polling districts.

NO REDUCTION IN MILK PRICES HERE

Stratford Citizens Pay 11 Cents a Quart While Londoners Pay 13.

Although milk has been reduced a cent a quart in Stratford, local dealers do not expect a drop at present. The price in Stratford will be 11 cents during the summer, in London the price is 12 cents.

In Stratford one can buy seventeen one-pint tickets for a dollar, while in London fifteen tickets are exchanged for a dollar.

One London milk retailer stated that the price had been reduced here on March 1, and that another reduction was not expected just now. Cream has dropped in price at Stratford as much as two cents a half-pint, but a revision has not been made in the local quotation.

TROUBLE FEARED IF WAGES ARE REDUCED

Ottawa, May 2.—The Citizen, in its news columns, says: Trouble is brewing in both the E. B. Eddy and J. R. Booth Limited, mills at Chaudiere at the proposals of the managements of these two industries to put into effect an all-round reduction in wages of 18 per cent.

The reduction will apply to every employee in the two big mills, including papermakers, pulp and sulphite workers, beaters, saw mill hands and laborers, and in the case of the E. B. Eddy Company, to the girls working in the match factory and the employees of the matched footwear department.

UNCONDITIONAL 'YES' OR 'NO' ANSWER MUST BE GIVEN TO THE ALLIES BY GERMANY

Military and Naval Penalties Will Be Inflicted Unless the Acceptance of Reparations Demands Are Forthcoming Within Six Days After Ultimatum Is Delivered—Document Will Likely Be Sent Through U. S. Government.

London, May 2.—Germany must give within twelve days a categorical answer—yes or no—to the Allied reparation demands, or suffer the infliction of military and naval penalties, according to the terms of an ultimatum drawn up by the Allied foreign ministers today and submitted to the supreme council for its approval.

The swift movement of events in the reparations issue between the Allied powers and Germany was shown in this series of developments.

The Allied foreign ministers first met and completed the draft of the ultimatum, which provided that Germany should be advised of the Allied terms within six days and then would have six days within which to give an answer, yes or no, without conditions, the negotiations being considered at an end.

A British naval demonstration in the North Sea was stated to be one of the consequences to follow a refusal by the Germans to yield to the Allied demands.

The supreme council did not finally act on the ultimatum, but adjourned, after an hour's consideration of it, until 5 p.m. Words from Paris showed that the French military forces were making preliminary moves looking to the occupation of the Ruhr, in anticipation in official quarters there that Germany would not give the guarantees the Allies were expected to demand, and that the occupation consequently would have to be carried out. It was indicated the mobilization of 150,000 men of the class of 1919 was imminent.

GOLD IS FOUND NEAR OTTAWA

Ottawa, May 2.—Gold has been struck on the Joint farm, near the town of Kazabazua, in the Middle Gatineau, Quebec, about 45 miles north of Ottawa. The farm consists of 427 acres, all of which have been staked under the old English mining laws by Messrs. Robert Joint and J. R. Bowen, prospector, Ottawa. A number of Ottawa people have already joined in what promises to be the first gold rush in this part of Canada. In all about 3,000 acres surrounding the Joint farm have already been staked and the claims filed with the Department of Mines of Quebec.

ALLIED ULTIMATUM MAY BE CONVEYED THROUGH U. S. GOV'T.

London, May 2.—The allied nations have virtually decided to send an ultimatum to Germany, notifying her of the amount she must pay in reparations, and warning her of the penalties she will incur if payment is not made, or adequate guarantees given. Experts selected at yesterday's meeting of the supreme allied council met this morning to put this ultimatum into final form for submission to the supreme council later in the day.

Decision 1666 sent a final note to Germany. It was a direct action by the French in occupying the important Ruhr region of Germany. If such operation becomes necessary, Premier Briand was to have sent orders to Paris last night ordering that the class of 1919 be called to the colors and that preparations for an advance into Germany be made. It had been understood for the past few days that France did not intend to order her forces into the Ruhr district until the supreme council evidently reached an agreement that would give Germany opportunity to come forward with new proposals, pending the final steps of placing the French troops in readiness for the field. The ultimatum to Germany, it was said today, might demand a reply within ten days, but the exact time to be fixed by the council today.

The procedure to be followed by the council in issuing this ultimatum was the subject of some comment here. It was declared it would not be sent direct to Berlin, but would be forwarded through the United States government. Germany made her latest "peace gesture" through Washington, it was considered possible the Allies would choose the United States as their intermediary in sending their final communication to Germany.

Great Britain's participation in the application of coercive measures to Germany would be limited, it was understood, to a naval demonstration in the North Sea and possible blockade of Hamburg.

Latest reports from Berlin declared the German Government did not intend to send further communications to the Allies until it received President Harding's answer to its reparations proposals. It was asserted that as long as the "door to Washington" remained open, Germany would not adopt other means of negotiating with the Entente. Premier Briand said this morning it would take twelve days to complete French military preparations.

"If at the end of that time Germany has not fully yielded to the Allies," he declared, "the French troops will march."

"I hope we shall not march along," he added.

FRENCH GOV'T. TO ORDER 1919 CLASS TO MOBILIZE

Paris, May 2.—Orders for mobilization of the class of 1919, which will take part in the possible occupation of the Ruhr district in Germany were expected to be issued here today. The orders will be sent to individuals who will be instructed to report for duty, and the entire class will not be called as formerly. This procedure was made possible by a passage of the new mobilization law.

Servicemen are not expected to be included in the forces sent into the Ruhr district. It is probable also that the Government's orders will exempt students, soldiers serving in devastated regions, and those who have served under the colors outside of French territory.

Newspapers, as a whole, expressed themselves today as being in favor of the mobilization, the only discordant note being struck by Humanite, which in large headlines attacked the order calling the men to the colors. It also carried on its first page an advertisement by the communist committee of action, beginning with the words, "Down with war! Down with mobilization!"

CROWDS ATTEND OLD COUNTRY REUNION

Nine Hundred Natives of British Isles Enjoy Interesting Y. M. C. A. Entertainment.

About 900 natives of England, Wales, Scotland, and Ireland attended the final old country reunion concert held in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium Saturday evening. These reunion concerts have been held throughout the winter months under the auspices of the "Y" and splendid crowds have attended every one, but Saturday night a new record was set. At 6:30 o'clock people were waiting admittance, and when the doors were opened nearly 400 were turned away.

The program, which was arranged by R. P. Liddle, industrial secretary of the "Y," was the best since the concert began. The program was divided into three parts. First the Irish held sway, then the Scotch had their part, and last, but not least, the English entertained. Every number took part in the singing.

The program opened with a sing-song which was led by Mr. Liddle. The song "My Girl's a Yorkshire One" was sung several times. Sixty views of Belfast, which were explained by R. P. Liddle, were then shown and the popular Irish ballads, "Mother Machree" and "Memories" were sung to add more enthusiasm. Miss Violet Gilmore recited an Irish poem. An Irish jig by Misses Paddock and Taylor received hearty applause. Misses Abel and Gilmore gave an Irish ballad. The program was then turned to home when William Taylor sang "The Old Arm Chair." A selected reading by Miss Hardie was well received.

For the opening of the Scotch part of the evening, 60 views of Edinburgh were shown. Piper T. McDonald explained them. A Scotch reel by Kenneth Dunlevy, Marion Stark, Gladys Tuft, and Fred Talbot, accompanied by Mr. McDonald, was the feature of the Scotch program. A Highland fling by Fred Talbot then followed.

In the absence of Mayor Liddle, Ald. E. F. Watkinson delivered an address of welcome to the audience. The popular Scotch song "Loch Lomond" was sung by Miss B. Salmond. Mrs. M. J. Watt delighted with "There Grows a Bonnie Brier Bush."

The English and Wales program was introduced by 50 views of the surrender of the German navy as taken from the deck of H. M. S. Queen Elizabeth. Warrant Officer J. T. Liddle pointed out to the audience the different parts of the ships. Mr. Liddle was a wireless officer in the navy during the war. Several Welsh views were shown. A concertina solo by W. J. Way was of high calibre. A song called "That's the Stuff to Give 'Em" was hummed by the audience and led by Harold Payne, B. Sedman, pleased with "Glorious Devon." A hum duet by Messrs. D. and H. Payne was heartily appreciated. Woods and Way played a selection on their concertinas. About 50 views of Greater London were then directed on the screen and were explained by Chairman George Yull. Several scenes of the Tower of London were amongst them. The evening program closed with English choruses and "God Save the King."

In Chairman Yull's opening address he said that practically the whole of the concert's success was due to the work of Mr. Liddle of the "Y" staff.

BIRD NOTES

(Contributed by Meliwalith Ornithological Club.)

The Fish Hawk or Osprey has appeared at the pond. It is a big bird with white underparts and a large expanse of wings. Its food is fish, only small varieties found in shallow water that are of little use as food to man. This slippery prey is caught with the very sharp curved talons as the bird drops suddenly to the water. The talons are retractable, so may be swung around to oppose the first and second. Wintering in the southern states and nesting from Muskoka northward to the limit of trees, this bird is usually seen twice a year, so is called a spring and fall migrant.

The Yellow-Throated Vireo ends the April procession. It is somewhat resembles the Warblers in habit, but is heavier in its movements. Its bright yellow throat and breast easily distinguish it from other Vireos. It frequents the high trees of the woods where its nest is built. The phrases of its song are given much less frequently than are those of the more common and better-known Red-Eyed Vireo.

COURT ACTION ENLARGED.

In the case of Hall vs. Boyd at the weekly session of the supreme court before Hon. Mr. Justice Mastron at the courthouse Saturday, an application was made for payment out of moneys in court. The matter was enlarged for two weeks in order that the necessary person might be served. F. H. Greenleaf for the motion.

An order was made declaring Clara Agnes Ryan a person incapable of managing her affairs, and appointing Matilda Ryan a committee in charge of her person and estate, with reference to the local master at London to propound a scheme for maintenance and to fix security. R. G. Fisher for the motion.

An application was made for a declaration that a certain mortgage assigned by Freida Rover to the People's Loan and Savings Company has been discharged. An order was made with reference to the local master at London to make inquiries and to give notice in some manner to the said Freida Rover, whose address at present is unknown, and report to the court. Costs reserved. J. C. Elliott for the motion.

GROWTH OF CITIES A MENACE TO THE NATION, SAYS PASTOR

Rev. B. H. Robinson Not in Favor of Boosting London.

"The Sins of the City" was the subject of a sermon preached by Rev. B. H. Robinson in the Robinson Memorial Methodist Church on Sunday evening. Contrary to that which the name might imply, Rev. Mr. Robinson did not muck-raking, nor did he, in his own words, tickle the ears of his auditors by glaring examples of sin. He devoted his efforts entirely to pointing out the menace of the large city.

His sermon was based on a question taken from "The Farmers' Sun," where it was stated that, whereas the rural districts rolled up a huge majority for prohibition, the largest cities voted against it, the standard of morality was higher in the country. He said that the belief that the city was a dangerous spot was an old, old view, existing even to the time of Christ.

Exerts Great Influence. He claimed that the city, because it had great schools, churches and newspapers, and because learned men dwelt within it, had a great influence on the national life, as well as the districts immediately surrounding it. Despite all its advantages in the way of enlightenment, he doubted very much if the city's influence generally was uplifting.

He said that he was perfectly willing to admit that some of the finest things in national life existed in the cities, and that thousands upon thousands of the finest people lived there, yet he asserted that there were many plague spots. These plague spots existed in cities from the very beginning, for Christ went over Jerusalem because of its sins, while he rejoiced with the countryside.

Against Large Cities. Mr. Robinson claimed that it was a dangerous thing to crowd thousands together. He absolutely did not believe in building large cities. People were like plants, they needed light, air, sunshine and space before they could grow properly. He said that certain organizations were anxious that large cities should be built throughout Canada.

Organizations existing in this city were endeavoring to rapidly increase the size of London to 300,000 people, he said. He wondered what the advantage would be.

"Will people here be any happier when London is larger?" he asked. "There will be more pavements, but the taxes will be more. There will be longer street railway lines with possibly a worse service. There will be larger jails with more prisoners in them; the cemeteries will be larger, and there will be shums, where souls grow sick and die."

A Beautiful City. "London is a beautiful city. There is not another city like it. It is a city of homes. Why do we want it changed? Of course, it will have a steady natural growth, but why hurry it?"

The danger in the rapid growth of a city lay in the fact that the city expanded faster than the growth of its moral and religious life. As the city grows the group or class system becomes more pronounced. It becomes gradually divided into two great classes, the employed and the employer. It was wrong, he said, for humanity to divide itself into groups. It was the task of Christianity, he said, to bring the employer and the employed into the same church.

Economic Extremes. The third danger of the city was in its extremes of riches and poverty. He said that he was not afraid of the man who made his money honestly. It was those who secured their money easily who formed a menace. He made a plea against the ostentatious showing of wealth, and he advised against the opening of the rich.

The cities, too, were a dumping ground for the worst of the older world. He blamed a great deal of this on the manufacturer who imported any sort of men to labor. He said he had great respect for an employer who filled his shops with good Canadians.

YOUNG TRAVELERS ARE LOCATED AT SARNIA

Two Children From Mount St. Joseph Going To Detroit.

After roaming around all by themselves for several days Peter and Michael have been located by Children's Aid Society officers at Sarnia. The boys who are eight and ten years old left Mount St. Joseph this week with another lad. They attempted to reach Detroit by taking a free ride on a Grand Trunk train, but were sent back from Leamington.

The third boy returned home, but the other two youngsters kept on roaming until they were located in Sarnia.

TWO FORMER PASTORS AT DUNDAS CENTRE

Anniversary Services Conducted by Dr. Thomas Manning and Rev. E. B. Lancelley.

Anniversary services at the Dundas Centre Methodist Church Sunday were conducted by two former pastors, Rev. Dr. Thomas Manning and Rev. E. B. Lancelley. Special music by the choir also helped to make the occasion a memorable one to the large congregations which were present both morning and evening.

Dr. Manning declared that although it was an anniversary service, the church should look forward, not backward. "Alas for the congregation that has to look back to find better days," he said. "The primary days are over. We have an outlook today that we did not have fifty years ago, and more responsibilities. We have Canada to save from drunkenness and immorality. We are nation builders. We have the world to save."

What was true of the church was also true of the individual, Dr. Manning contended. If a man was not better at 25 years of age than he had been at 20 it was a fact greatly to be deplored. The best days should always be the present, and it was a sad thing for a person to reflect that the younger days were the days of faith. If a man had only the grace in which he was converted he had practically no faith at all. His faith should grow with the days.

He declared that the ascent toward heaven was like a hill. If one wearied of the climb one slipped down a little until soon he was at the foot. With heaven ahead and hell behind, every person should work out their salvation in fear and trembling.

PLANS TO SAFEGUARD BRITISH INDUSTRIES

Three Important Measures Proposed To Meet Foreign Competition.

The British Government has implemented its promise to provide legislation to safeguard British industries from foreign competition by three resolutions which, if passed, will be included in this year's finance act. The resolutions provide for three forms of protection. Already certain imports into the United Kingdom are dutiable, but it is proposed to extend the list by levying for a period of five years an ad valorem duty of 33 1-3 per cent on certain articles of special national importance. These include optical glass and optical elements, microscopes, field and opera glasses, sextants and various other optical instruments, scientific glassware, thermometers, lamp blown ware, evaporating dishes, crucibles and other laboratory porcelain, galvanometer, pyrometers, electroscopes, barometers, analytical and other precision balances and other scientific instruments; gauges, wireless valves, vacuum tubes, ignition magnets, permanent magnets, and other electrical machinery; hosiery, lamp needles, metallic tungsten, ferro-tungsten, and manufactured products of metallic tungsten and compounds (not including ores and minerals) of thorium, uranium and other rare earths; synthetic organic chemicals other than dye-stuffs, analytical reagents and all other chemicals manufactured by fermentation processes.

The second resolution provides for a surtax of 33 1-3 per cent ad valorem in addition to any other customs duty which may apply, in the case of any article which may be listed for such surtax by the board of trade. The board of trade is authorized to order the additional 33 1-3 per cent duty into effect whenever it is found that imported articles are being sold or offered for sale in the United Kingdom at prices below the cost of production, or at prices which, by reason of depreciation, exchange, are below the prices at which similar goods could be profitably manufactured in the United Kingdom, if the board of trade considers that dumping is being practiced, still another duty of 33 1-3 per cent may be imposed, making a total import duty of 116 2-3 per cent.

It should be noted that this proposed British legislation will greatly extend the protective tariff of the United Kingdom and in some cases the tariff may be as high as 116 2-3 per cent. Take the case, for instance, of German magnetos which already are subject to a 50 per cent import tax. Under resolution one, such magnetos when imported into the United Kingdom will be subject to an additional duty of 33 1-3 per cent, and if the board of trade considers that dumping is being practiced, still another duty of 33 1-3 per cent may be imposed, making a total import duty of 116 2-3 per cent.

After roaming around all by themselves for several days Peter and Michael have been located by Children's Aid Society officers at Sarnia. The boys who are eight and ten years old left Mount St. Joseph this week with another lad. They attempted to reach Detroit by taking a free ride on a Grand Trunk train, but were sent back from Leamington.

The third boy returned home, but the other two youngsters kept on roaming until they were located in Sarnia.

MRS. ROBERT LOGAN DIES

Was Active Worker in Anglican Church—Had Been Ill Since January.

Mrs. Robert Logan, 292 Grey street, wife of Constable Logan at the G. T. R. station, died Sunday morning, after an illness dating from last January. She was born in Thorndale, and was a daughter of the late John Fitzsimons. She had resided in this city for about 40 years, and was an active member and worker in the Anglican Church, and in local women's societies of that denomination. Besides her husband, she is survived by four sons, Thomas W. Logan, manager of the Allen Theatre, John in Detroit, and Fred and Bert in London; also two brothers, John Fitzsimons of St. Mary's, and Samuel Fitzsimons of London.

The funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon to Woodland Cemetery.

SIMPLE CHRONIC RHINITIS. A simple chronic inflammation of the lining of the nasal passages is an exceedingly common condition and has much to do with the popular catching cold bugaboo, for one with this condition is certainly an abnormally sensitive person. A slight exposure, sudden change of surface temperature, drafts, wet feet and the like. Whereas a normal individual experiences no serious discomfort from such trifling exposures as are incidental in the day's work or play, one with simple chronic rhinitis suffers one with simple chronic rhinitis suffers the natural vasomotor tone or circulation in the nose lining. A man with a broken leg should not attempt to jump the rope for exercise; but if he injures himself jumping rope he should not deduce that rope jumping is bad for everybody else since it is so obviously the usual cause of broken leg. If the victim of simple chronic rhinitis has enough brain power to apply this kind of logic he may find it will do him good, for certainly the best thing that can happen to him is the loss of his exposure phobia.

One acute infection of the nasal lining membrane vulgarly still called simple "cold," though the only simple thing about it is the victim, generally leaves some temporary congestion and thickening of the mucous membrane. With luck as regards open air and freedom from further infection this may clear up in a few weeks, but if the victim is presently reinfected by some generous friend or associate who takes little

SIMPLE CHRONIC RHINITIS.

A simple chronic inflammation of the lining of the nasal passages is an exceedingly common condition and has much to do with the popular catching cold bugaboo, for one with this condition is certainly an abnormally sensitive person. A slight exposure, sudden change of surface temperature, drafts, wet feet and the like. Whereas a normal individual experiences no serious discomfort from such trifling exposures as are incidental in the day's work or play, one with simple chronic rhinitis suffers one with simple chronic rhinitis suffers the natural vasomotor tone or circulation in the nose lining. If the victim of simple chronic rhinitis has enough brain power to apply this kind of logic he may find it will do him good, for certainly the best thing that can happen to him is the loss of his exposure phobia.

One acute infection of the nasal lining membrane vulgarly still called simple "cold," though the only simple thing about it is the victim, generally leaves some temporary congestion and thickening of the mucous membrane. Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

stock in this "germ theory," the clearing up process is seriously damaged. A number of such incursions in the course of a season or a year will almost inevitably lead to permanent congestion and thickening of the lining membrane, and that is simple chronic rhinitis.

Simple chronic rhinitis is a familiar accompaniment of adenoids and enlarged tonsils in children; it often goes untreated and causes disappointment after operative removal of adenoids and tonsils. When a child or anyone else has a persistent nasal discharge, stuffiness of the nose much of the time, or painful breathing any of the time, a careful nasal examination is in order. A few of the older doctors still in practice are the best thing that can happen to him is the loss of his exposure phobia.

One acute infection of the nasal lining membrane vulgarly still called simple "cold," though the only simple thing about it is the victim, generally leaves some temporary congestion and thickening of the mucous membrane. With luck as regards open air and freedom from further infection this may clear up in a few weeks, but if the victim is presently reinfected by some generous friend or associate who takes little head easily; (2) There is excessive nasal discharge. (3) The nose becomes "stuffy" with every draft, change of clothes, etc., and sneezing is excited by similar trifles—accounting for the absurd fancy that one is "taking cold." (4) Now one side, now the other, is closed up, if tested by breathing with one nostril closed.

The hygienic and local management of chronic rhinitis will be dealt with in subsequent talks.

ANGELICAN CLERICS TO MEET TWICE A MONTH

TO WELCOME METHODISTS

Presbyterian Ministers Appoint Delegates to Meet Fellow-Clergymen in June.

The ministerial associations of the different denominations of the city held their regular monthly meetings this morning. The Anglican Clerical Association met in Cronin Hall and discussed church extension as regards a new canon to be inserted into the constitution of the Diocese of Huron. A special committee composed of the rectors of all the Anglican churches and two laymen from each church will deal with the matter at a special meeting to be held in Cronin Hall on May 17.

Arrangements were made for an Anglican summer camp at Bayfield during the summer months, the first part of the summer to be given over to the boys' organizations, including boy scouts, and the second to the girls' organizations of the city churches. An effort to have Anglican representatives at other inter-denominational camps which will be open during the summer months, will be made.

A resolution was passed to the effect that the association meet twice every month instead of once as heretofore, the first meeting being for assistance to the church business, and the second to papers on sacred subjects.

At the Presbyterian Ministerial Association meeting held in St. Andrew's church, Rev. W. R. McIntosh and Rev. T. A. Symington were appointed delegates to meet and welcome the London Methodist Conference on the 1st day of June to this city, in keeping with the co-operation movement which is being carried out in these two denominations. It was decided to call a meeting of the Presbyterian Council as soon as possible to make arrangements for the visit of the conference, including the smaller churches, including Chelsea Green and Knollwood Park churches.

Dr. W. M. Rochester, secretary of the P. Union Alliance, was a visitor at the meeting this morning.

Methodist.

The Methodist Association met in Wesley Hall, Rev. J. W. Hedley presiding in the absence of Rev. R. C. Peyer. The president, Rev. W. R. Osborne of Thorncliffe gave an interesting paper on "The Minister and His Reading." He gave his own experiences along this line and urged that the ministers read along the devotional line as well as his- tory and philosophy for ministerial bal- ance. Other routine business was trans- acted.

GARBAGE COLLECTION

More Discussion on System Is Promised by Ald. Wenige and Watkinson.

The garbage system may be under discussion again at the city council meeting tonight. No. 2 committee last week decided that it was satisfied with the present method of collection. Some Ald. F. R. Watkinson and G. A. Wenige believe that tenders should be called for private collection to see which is the cheaper. It is probable that the matter will be brought up on the matter when No. 2 committee's report is presented tonight.

Tenders for supplies to the fire department may be discussed. Private contractors are said to be very close, and there may be some difficulty in reaching a decision.

CHARGE HAS NOT BEEN LAID.

Brantford, May 2.—No charge has yet been laid against Vernon Boyce of Victoria against whom stories of extreme cruelty to two step-children were told before Magistrate Guntin in an investigation at the request of the Children's Aid Society.

Word from Simcoe this morning was that Boyce had even gone to the authorities and asked if any charge had been laid. There is considerable feeling in Simcoe and Norfolk county over the case, but other than to take the children away from his custody the authorities have not moved. The crown attorney's office has the information in hand.

"There's a Reason"

THEY SAID IT WITH DOL AR INSTEAD OF FLOWERS

When springtime comes a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love and flowers, some poet has been quoted as saying. Two local youths who made Victoria Park their rendezvous recently turned to flowers, but were not content with merely ad- miring the blooms in the garden, but began to pick them, believing, perhaps, that public ownership of the parks meant that they, as members of the general public, were entitled to a bouquet.

While hundreds of spooning couples sat under the trees admiring the flow- ers, and the nerve of the garden thieves, an officer loomed large on the horizon. He also admired the flowers, but thought that they were in better com- pany when they held tight to Mother Earth than they were in the hands of the two youths. The boys were de- prived of their flowers and ordered to attend court.

They admitted that when their fancy lightly turned to flowers their fingers became rather lit. After this plea they were assessed $10 and costs. They have decided that one can get just as pretty flowers for $10 through the regu- lar channels as in the illegal way.

During the rest of the day on which the gardens were pillaged not a single swain could be induced by his lady love to pick a few bouquets.

In future the youths will only seek the blooms in the wildwood, for they have learned that the cultivated flowers of the city parks are grown for looks and not for use.

MORE FARM HELP FOR WESTERN ONTARIO

Party of Seventy-Five Arrived This Morning and Placed On Farms.

Seventy-five British immigrants, the majority coming from the rural districts of England, arrived in London at 4:20 o'clock this morning. They had come to take positions already promised them, on farms scattered throughout Western Ontario.

The party was met at the G. T. R. station by representatives of the immigra- tion department and the new com- mers were all comfortably housed. So anxious were some of them to begin their new life, they appeared at the local department of agriculture at a very early hour this morning and patiently waited in the cold for the arrival of R. A. Finn, the local representative of the department, who worked in conjunction with the immigration department in placing the men.

A large percentage of the party were placed before 9 o'clock this morning. It is believed that places will be found for everyone by this evening.

According to John Farrell of the immigration department, the majority of the men were experienced farmers, some of them were partly experienced, and a few had no experience. There were several very young, some of them being under 20 years of age.

Mr. Farrell claimed that the farm- ers who had met the party were highly pleased.

NO MAY DAY RUSH, STATE LONDON MOVING VAN MEN

However, Many of them Have Busy Week or So Ahead.

Failure of citizens to obtain houses into which to move is responsible for the lack of the usual May Day rush, moving van men say. Although there is no noticeable increase in the number of customers over that of any other day, the van men say that they are very busy, some of them reporting to be booked a week ahead.

Londoners never made a practice of waiting until May 1 to move, but in Montreal and other places where the great majority of houses are rented, this date is looked upon as moving day.

WILL ATTEND KINDERGARTEN CONVENTION IN DETROIT

Twenty-Three London Teachers Will Make Trip to City of the Straits.

London teachers will attend the annual convention of the International Kindergarten Association at Detroit on Tuesday. The delegates are Miss Clara Gertrude, supervisor of city kindergar- tens; Miss Ethel Tasdale, president of the London Froebel Society; Misses Ethel Howie, Annie Davidson, Ada Hen- derson, Lena Huch, and others.

Other delegates are Miss Clara Gertrude, Lulu McConnell, Flora Carson, Annie Grant, Nellie Windsor, Rena Blake, Jessie Roake, Maud Angus, Helen Woolley, Mabel Gregory, Winnie Taylor, Viola McDonald, Marjorie Westree, Edna Lancaster, Laura Cook and Mrs. Hutchison.

SHOW MOVIES OF WORK DONE ON CHIPPAWA CANAL

Lantern slides and moving pictures of the dredging of the Chippawa Canal were shown and explained by General Manager E. V. Buchanan at the weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club today.

The majority of the views were taken from an aeroplane and they showed quite clearly the way the work was being done. A picture of one of the 80 Hydro generators which will be used when the canal is completed, that each generated enough power to operate a washing machine in every home in Ontario, simultaneously.

The three largest electric shovels in the world, which are at work, were shown. The dirt that has been ex- cavated so far by these shovels, if spread over London, would cover the city two feet deep.

The moving pictures were taken for the Ontario Government.

TO RECEIVE TENDERS FOR NEW COLLEGIATE

No. 3 Committee, Board of Education, Meets Today.

MANY FIRMS WANT JOB
Building Operations Will Commence Shortly.

Tenders for the new high school will be opened by No. 3 committee of the board of education at 4:30 this after- noon. Some members of the committee think that they will be able to make a recommendation to the acceptance of one of them today.

If this is done it will come before the board of education at its regular meeting Tuesday afternoon, and if ap- proved, building operations can be started almost immediately.

On the other hand, it is thought that because there are so many tenders sev- eral days will be required to compare them in detail. It is understood that there are several tenders from local building firms, and there are many from firms in other parts of the province.

In any event, it is considered possible that building can be started this month. More than a year has elapsed since the former collegiate was burned. Con- sideration as to whether it should be re- placed by a new central school or by two branch schools caused a long delay in getting work of any kind started. Early this year plans were approved for a school on the present site, and tenders were called for a short time ago.

2,000 UNION

men, Oilers and Water Tenders' Union and the Marine Engineers' Union had voted to resign their jobs rather than accept the new conditions.

It is estimated that about 125,000 workers are affected by the walkout. Of these, 20,000 to 40,000 are in this port.

PAPER WORKERS IDLE.

Boston, May 2.—About 1,800 paper workers in New England were idle to- day as a result of their refusal to ac- cept wage reductions ranging from 20 to 30 per cent.

The International Paper Company's plants at Livermore Falls, Chisholm and Rumford, Maine, employing 1,500 per- sons, suspended operations, and a 20 per cent reduction announced at Frank- lin, N. H., was rejected by the union there.

PETERBORO PRINTERS STRIKE

Peterboro, May 2.—Printers in job and newspaper offices in Peterboro went on strike this morning for a 44-hour week and an increase in the wage scale of from 10 cents to $2.00 a week.

The Examiner, which is the sole newspaper in the city, is operating on an open shop basis with a reduced staff.

STRIKE AT PAPER MILL

Bellow Falls, Vt., May 2.—The 350 employees of the International Paper Company mill here quit work today. The strike, over a wage scale of $2.00 a week, was a 44-hour week.

BRANTFORD MAINTAINS RECORD.

Brantford, May 2.—There were no strike developments here today, May Day, no strikes being called, and a proposed wage reduction was obeyed by both day and night shifts. The local mill normally employs about 600 hands, but has been running on a reduced schedule.

BELLEVILLE PLUMBERS QUIT.

Belleville, May 2.—Plumbers of this city went out on strike this morning, asking an increase from 70 to 85 cents per hour and a closed shop. Employers have already received many applications from large cities to fill positions.

DISORDERS IN ITALY.

Rome, May 2.—Observation of May Day throughout Italy was accompanied by disorders in several places, reports from the press indicating that to the extent as in 1920. Two hundred and thirty pieces of property changed hands. The assessment department has not yet compiled the total consideration given for the property.

On May 1, 1920, there were 365 sales. Since the beginning of the year 742 pieces of property have been sold in London.

APRIL RAINIER THAN LAST YEAR; LESS SNOW

80 Degrees Was Highest Temperature On 6th of Month.

April was a rainy month in comparison with the weather of a year ago. During the month just past 4.77 inches of rain fell, as against 2.42 inches a year ago.

There were 4½ inches of snow last month, and 12 inches in April, 1920. The warmest day last month was the 6th, when the thermometer touched 80, and the coldest was the 11th, when it fell to 21 degrees.

DAYLIGHT SAVING.—Daylight sav- ings became effective in the public util- ities building today. All members of the office staff reported at 8 o'clock instead of 9, and they will leave tonight at 5 instead of 6.

PROGRESSING FAVORABLY.—Dr. Paton, superintendent of the Byron Sanatorium, who had his knee cap se- verely injured by a fall, was recently taken to Toronto where it was wired by Dr. Gailie. He is reported to be progressing favorably.

SEVERE NOONAN IN HOSPI- TAL.—Nurse Thomas Noonan is in St. Joseph's Hospital, where he underwent a serious operation on Sat- urday. His condition is still critical, but his recovery in a few days is con- siderably probable.

WILLIAM WYATT ILL.—William Wyatt, 371 St. James street, is seriously ill at his home. He recently returned from Bermuda. He is a former member of the city council and the public utilities commission.

SELECTING LIVE STOCK.—R. A. Finn and David Elliot of the Ontario department of agriculture have for the past few days been going over stock which may be suitable for the Live Stock Club competitions. About 20 members have entered.

NO CAMP THIS YEAR.—As a result of the action of the United Welfare Fund Association in turning down the grant asked for by the Soldiers' Aid Commission to conduct a welfare camp at Port Stanley this summer, the executive committee, at a special meeting last Friday, decided that it was utterly impossible to hold the camp.

RECEIVES PRESENTATION.—On Sunday morning at the regular meeting of the Askin Trust Brotherhood, Ross Smith, who has been president of the brotherhood for the past five years, presented the members Dr. P. S. Reynolds read the address and Fred Hunter presented the lamp. Mr. Smith recently withdrew from the office of president.

HUGH ALLAN GATES DIED.—The morning service in the Church of St. John the Evangelist Sunday a beautiful litany desk was dedicated by the rector in memory of the sacrifice made by Hugh Allan Gates during the war. The service was most impressive, and was in charge of the rector, Rev. A. L. G. Clarke. The desk was presented to the church by Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Gates.

AN INTERESTING RECITAL.—To- morrow evening at the London Con- servatory of Music pupils of Miss Irene Burns will give a distinctly unique and interesting recital. The program will be in the form of "A Musical Day in Na- ture," every piece having to do with some phase of nature—air, seas, skies, trees, flowers, gardens, birds, bees—everything that enters into the life of the world represented by the pieces played and sung.

CONSERVATORY RECITAL.—The recital at the London Conservatory of Music on Saturday afternoon was given by the following pupils: Lenore Carter, Gladys Downey, Minnie Gieseler, Orlene Emmons, Dorothy Penber, Irene Brown, Louise Blake, Kathleen Davis, Leona Hochstetler, Gertrude Sanger, Gertrude Sanger, Gertrude Sanger, Della Packham, pupils of Miss Irene Burns; Miss Dorothy Munroe, Miss Beatrice Gibson, Miss Pearl Gordon, Miss Mar- garet Coleman, Chas. The teachers represented were: Miss Margaret Tal- bot, Miss Hazel Taylor, Miss Madeline Simon, Miss Alberta Torry, Miss Jennie Steele, Miss Jean Walker and Mrs. A. D. Jordan.

JUNIOR SOCCER LEAGUE WILL BE LAUNCHED AT BIG MEETING TONIGHT

The junior soccer league of the Lon- don and district P. A. will be launched at a meeting to be held in the armory tonight. The league will be launched at a meeting to be held in the armory tonight. The league will be launched at a meeting to be held in the armory tonight.

Askin Street Elks have dropped out and this leaves the 12th Field Battery, Machine Gunners and Grand Trunk ap- prentices in the city and a St. Thomas team. It is understood that R. C. R. is desirous to enter the league and there will be at least another team from St. Thomas which will make it a six- team circuit.

The youngsters are particularly keen and have been playing exhibition games amongst themselves ever since the season opened.

There is likely to be several trophies offered for competition shortly which will give the teams some definite ob- jective.

A play-off between the winners of the local league and Lambton County Junior League will be a feature of the late end of the season.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS

Two Hundred and Thirty Pieces of Property Changed Hands During April.

Returns from the registry office to- day indicate that real estate was fairly active during the month just past. To the extent as in 1920. Two hundred and thirty pieces of property changed hands. The assessment department has not yet compiled the total consideration given for the property.

SEEDING DELAYED AROUND DASHWOOD

Dashwood, May 2.—Owing to gen- erally unfavorable weather conditions seeding is very backward in this sec- tion. Farmers are ready and anxious to get on the land and a turn to warm- er weather will find them very busy.

F. White has sold his grocery and bakery to Thomas Klump.

Monter Guenther, of C. B. of Com- merce, Forest, spent the week-end at his home here.

TEACH CHILDREN TO BE KIND TO ANIMALS

Special Instruction May Be Included in the School Curriculum.

Special instruction in regard to the treatment of animals may soon be in- cluded in the curriculum of the London schools. Miss Jane Elliot, vice-presi- dent of the Humane Society, has asked the board of education to consider the matter. She thinks that much good can be accomplished by teaching the children to be kind to animals.

Miss Elliot suggests that the monthly magazine, published by humane so- cieties, be distributed in the schools, that prizes be offered for essays on the subject of kindness to animals, and that eventually societies be formed among the children.

Secretary W. A. Tanner stated today that a plan of this kind has been very effective in some English schools. Text- books dealing with humane treatment of domestic animals are read by the classes. They are also instructed about birds, and told which ones are harm- ful and which helpful. They are dis- couraged from interfering with eggs or nests.

JOHN HANEY DEAD.
John Haney, an old resident of Lon- don, died at the Askin Street Home this morning in his 73rd year. For many years he conducted a blacksmith shop here. He had no relative living. The funeral arrangements have not been completed.

DIED AS RESULT OF BURNS.
Miss Sara Allen of Ilderton died in St. Joseph's Hospital on Sunday as a result of burns received at her home two weeks ago. Miss Allen was born in London Township, but for the last 24 years had lived in Ilderton. One brother, Edward, resides in Winnipeg and a niece, Mrs. A. Darling of Medina, Ont., survives her. The remains will be forwarded to Dun- duff for interment.

JOHN ANDERSON BURIED.
The funeral of John Anderson, who died on Friday last, was held from his residence in London Township to St. James' Cemetery. Rev. Mr. Smith con- ducted the service. The pallbearers were Messrs. Fulton, Plannigan, Gard- ner, Fallon, Rowland and Donnelly.

MRS. EVA THOMAS DIES.
Mrs. Eva Thomas, 30 St. George street, died in St. Joseph's Hospital Sunday afternoon. She had been ill for some time. She was born in Syria, and had lived in Canada for 29 years. She is survived by her husband, Thomas, two sons, Nicholas and Ellis Thomas of this city; one daughter, Mrs. Mussemm, and one brother in Windsor. The fu- neral will be held Tuesday afternoon to St. Peter's church.

CONVICTION IS SET ASIDE.
Washington, May 2.—Conviction of U. S. Senator Truman H. Newberry in Federal courts of Michigan for con- spiracy to violate the Federal Corrupt Practices act was set aside today by the supreme court.

The conviction of sixteen other de- fendants was also set aside. The court held that Congress was without power to regulate primaries.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.
New York, May 2.—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Last week's lively dealings in selected stocks and bonds were re- sumed at the outset of today's ses- sion. Oils, motors and allied specialties were most conspicuous. Pierce, Fenner and Smith leading at 100 to 120. Steel and equipment were irregular. The market was generally steady, with moderate ac- cumulation. Rails displayed little an- imation, and the usual minor specialties were quiet. Affairs abroad were re- flected in rates for British exchange, demand sterling rising to $3.96½, the 2½ per cent. consols, 100 to 101½.

1:30 p.m.—Trading shifted more gen- erally to the rails, tobacco and food staples. The market was generally steady, with moderate ac- cumulation. Shipping and equipment were active.

FLORENCE

Florence, April 30.—The Adult Bible Class of Methodist Church met Friday for their annual meeting and election of officers. The year's work has been a very successful one. Much interest has been taken by the class in their work. They have raised nearly $115, which has been given to needy places and have also done many other kind deeds. The officers and teachers in charge this year are: president, Mr. E. Miller, vice-president, Mr. R. Padrick, secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Rolston; conveners of committees, Mrs. F. Pansher, Mrs. E. Miller, Mrs. McCutcheon, Mr. G. Eileen; teachers, Mrs. Osborne and Mr. Padrick. These persons with the assistance of the committees will constitute the management of the class for the new conference year, which it looked forward to as one of great success.

SECRET COMMITTEE OF REVENUE.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 30.—Annoyance Pasha, former Circassian bandit, who some time ago enlisted with the Constantinople Government in opposition to the Turkish Nationalists, has been executed, following a court-martial at Angora. A secret "committee of revenue" is said to have been organized by the Nationalists to carry out the sentences imposed upon other anti-Nationalist Turks by Angora court-martial. Damad, Ferid Pasha, former grand vizier, is one of the men sentenced to death, and has not left his palace on the Bosphorus for the last four months.

KEEPING FIT

By Dr. SAMUEL HAMILTON
Keep the kidneys in good order. Avoid too much meat, alcohol or tea. Drink plenty of pure water, preferably hot water, before meals, and drive the uric acid out of the system by taking "Anuric" (anti-uric acid). That latest discovery of Dr. Pierce. Send a bottle of water to the chemist at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., and you will receive free medical advice as to whether the kidneys are affected. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog, you suffer from backache, sick-headaches, dizzy spells, or twinges and pains of lumbago, rheumatism or gout, or sleep is disturbed two or three times a night. Take heed, before too late! Get Anuric (anti-uric acid), for it will put new life into your kidneys and your entire system. Ask your druggist for it or send Dr. Pierce ten cents for trial package of "Anuric."

HASTINGS AND LALOR THREATEN LIBEL SUIT AGAINST RANEY

Allege That Attorney-General's Appointment of a Commissioner Was Libellous.

CASE OF WHITEWASH

Ex-Magistrate's Comment On Finding of Commissioner Paterson.

HAMILTON, May 1.—R. Lalor, M. P., Donaville, Ont., and David Hastings, the suspended police magistrate of Dunville, will proceed with their threatened action for alleged libel against Hon. W. E. Raney, attorney-general, according to John L. Council of this city, who represented Hastings at the recent inquiry at Cayuga into the administration of the Ontario temperance act. Mr. Council said that Messrs. Lalor and Hastings thought charges of reflection on their honor and integrity had been made by the attorney-general in the commission given to Commissioner Paterson, though Commissioner Paterson, in his report given to the Government, did not interpret the charges that way. "We will proceed with our libel action," Mr. Council said.

WHITEWASH ATTORNEY-GENERAL.

TORONTO, May 1.—A special dispatch to the Star from Dunville, Ont., says: "It is to a certain extent the sort of judgment we expected the commissioner would render. His object, and the object of the crown counsel, R. U. McPherson, was to 'whitewash' Attorney-General Raney." This was the comment of Magistrate David Hastings on the report of J. A. Paterson, K.C., of Toronto, in connection with his investigation of charges respecting the administration of justice in Dunville by Magistrate Hastings.

The Meighen Government A Dissolving View, Not A Government, Says Clark

Leader of Progressive Party in Dominion House Addressed Large Gathering At Aylmer Saturday—Declared Free Trade Means Freedom To Trade, While Tariffs Restrict Trade.

(By Staff Reporter.)
AYLMER, April 30.—"We are not out to attack the Government. I don't think that is necessary. There's no kicking a dying horse. It is more a dissolving view than a Government," declared Dr. Michael Clark of Red Deer, a member of the Progressive party in the Ottawa House, to a large audience in the town hall here tonight.

The speaker was introduced by S. S. McDermann, M.P., East Elgin, as one of the ablest debaters in the House. Dr. Clark thanked the doctors of Past Elgin on behalf of the Progressive party, saying that they did well to cast a shadow before the coming Government. They, he said, did a good day's work in favor of better government when they elected Mr. McDermann.

Members of the Progressive group, he stated, voted as they saw the question in Parliament—sometimes with the Government, sometimes with the official Opposition.

Why Not Same Now?
"Why should we act in that way? How did we act in wartime? We acted according to our conscience to make the country effective in war. Should it not be the same in peace? The attitude of the Progressive party is one of attack on any party," remarked Dr. Clark, "but an attitude of watchfulness for the best interests of the whole country."

Half of the present Government had taken a voluntary rest, and Dr. Clark hoped that the people would give the other half a rest.

There was said to be a very considerable lack of unity of view in the Government. Although he was about the oldest absolute free trader, Dr. Clark said that it was horrible to hear some of the things that were said about him in the old protectionist province of Ontario. But he hoped that they would look him over and consider him a reasonably safe man.

Freedom To Trade.
"Free trade means freedom to trade. Is it freedom or trade that's objectionable? Freedom? That's what $6,000 of our best and bravest lads, the stiff in France and Flanders for Trade? There's no objection to that. I can't understand why 'freedom and trade' are good, but 'freedom to trade' is not. In presenting his talk on the hearing of the fiscal question to the trade question, the speaker drew attention to the fact that Canada's national debt was $2,500,000,000, a big load for a country of the extent of the Dominion. "It has, however, unlimited faith in my adopted land."

Mr. Clark said he believed in tackling the country's debt by trading. Of the 35 silver mines in Cobalt only six are being worked at the present time. However, the metal that was taken from the mines could not be called wealth until it entered into trade. It did not not wealth, but only resources until it could be exchanged. All of the Australian wheat crop that couldn't be moved during the war was stored. The bags became wet and rotted, and the mice ate the wheat. It was not wealth when it was produced, but it was when it passed into trade. Speaking of international trade, the Progressive member stated that Premier Meighen had said that free trade was hurting Canada.

Keeps Goods Out.
Tariffs, he termed a device to keep imports out of the country. The result must be then that tariff kept goods in the country when it refused to let outside goods in, claimed the speaker.

"I am sick of hearing people cry that they want a home market," said Dr. Clark. "These people who talk about home markets fail to understand the facts of the case. The farmers always provided a market for the manufacturer. In some years 300,000,000 bushels of wheat had been produced in Canada. Of this crop only 30,000,000 bushels was consumed at home. What, he asked, was to be done with the other 240,000,000 bushels? The people could not get up in the night and eat them. It had to be shipped to England, and England could only pay for it by exporting goods to Canada.

Home Markets a Fallacy.
"Home markets are like calling a dog to get fat by eating its own tail, or telling the housewives by taking in each other's washing to get rich," declared Dr. Clark.

Foreign trade accounted for the prosperity during the war. It was horrible to think that war was responsible for the prosperity, but during the month of March foreign trade declined $100,000,000. The result was poorer prices and a great number of unemployed. The same thing was happening the world over, because the people are not exchanging goods as the Almighty intended.

To wipe out enormous deficits and debts, and to increase national prosperity, the speaker declared it is necessary to increase international commerce. If such is done every child of the pavement would own two pairs of shoes instead of one. The price would be cheaper.

The Railway Problem.
There was the railway problem. Railways benefited by trade. If there was twice the freight there was twice the revenue. "We are not going to cure the railway problem by magic, but by the application of old-fashioned principles."

"Our legitimate interests are all common. Almighty God did not make one man's good another man's hurt. Every man's legitimate good is bound up in every other man's good."

Why there should be a tax on coal when the temperature was 44 below zero, Dr. Clark could not see. It had been said that Canada's coal supply would last 2,000 years. He was not optimistic enough to look 2,000 years ahead, but would much rather facilitate the digging of the coal at the present time. There might be a warmer climate here in 2,000 years. At any rate, some Canadians will be in a warmer climate in that time if they do not mind their fiscal ways.

"If there is to be international trade, there must be shipping." Some of the ships that were built at $200 a ton now could be built for $25, he contended. He described Hon. C. A. Ballantyne's shipping policy as "retrograde, but not wisely energetic. A wise trade policy would build ships under free competition."

I do not believe in urging immigrants to come, but in attracting them. "The Manufacturers' Association asks at this point—or the Reconstruction Association, as they now call themselves—'What about the native industries?'"

"Farming—is that not an industry? If not an industry, at least one has to be industrious to make it go. Britain did not have her industries until she had free trade. Agriculture, noted Chinese philosopher had said, was the stem or bole of the tree. The industries were the branches."

"He knew more about political economy than the Tories and Liberals since Confederation," Dr. Clark remarked. In Quebec the habitants settled first. The port grew out of their agricultural work. Then came the manufacturing plants. Then grew set in, and more food was wanted for the branches. If too much fertilizer was put on the branches it would kill the tree, the western member declared.

Question of Economics.

Talking of the Progressive Party, he said: "We understand economics just a little better than the other parties in the House." The people, he asserted, were showing that they believed that the Progressives knew more about economics. The result of the election in East Elgin showed this belief was held, he stated. Silver was sent to England to be plated, and it was asked why the plating was not done here. It was because when the metal was sent to England it was helping Canada and the Motherland, and when it was returned it was helping the Motherland and the world. This was the carrying out of the doctrine of service, rather than the doctrine of selfishness; the doctrine of brotherhood, rather than the doctrine of war.

"We of the Progressive party stand for the realization of the things that sons and brothers died for in France and Flanders."

S. S. McDermann, M.P., East Elgin, stated that on March 31 the gross debt of Canada was $2,500,000,000 and the net debt $2,220,000,000.

Per Capita Debt $250.
The gross debt per capita was $349, and the net debt per capita $250. In 1914 the net debt per capita was only $42. In the United States the gross debt per capita was $220, but the United States had a great many assets to be collected.

"We owe $105,000,000 to the United States. To this could be added $175,000,000 borrowed through the railway system. The money was loaned to the railways, but backed up by the Government."

The railways, he said, were a great question that affected every Canadian personally. It was expected that soon the entire C. P. R. would be sold to the C. T. P. would be taken over and a complete national system established. To date $61,404,000 had been loaned to the railways. It was expected that this year loans of $50,000,000 to the C. T. P. would be made. This would make a total of $250,000,000 loaned to the railways. There were a lot of figures to show that tremendous sums had been spent on the railways, and urged that the people patronize the railways to make them pay.

Forty million dollars would be collected by the income tax, and it was expected that $20,000,000 of this would be used to help reduce the debt balance of the country. There was talk of a new form of tax—turnover tax—but this had not been decided upon yet.

DR. G. C. CREELMAN
RESIGNS POSITION
OWING TO ILL-HEALTH

GRIMSBY, May 1.—Dr. George C. Creelman, who was recently appointed general manager of the Niagara Growers, Limited, at a salary of $12,000 per annum, has been compelled by illness to relinquish the position. A letter from Dr. Creelman was received by the provisional directors of the organization and announced at a meeting here Saturday. This letter was written in the hospital in Toronto, and stated frankly that he was unable to do his duty toward ultimate recovery he felt that it would be impossible for him to assume the duties of general manager of the Niagara Growers, Limited.

Another general manager will be appointed, and in the meantime Col. Roberts, a prominent fruit grower of Grimsby, will act as manager. Dr. Creelman, whose resignation of the position of general manager was received with expressions of regret by the directors of the company, was recently agent-general for Ontario in London, Eng., and for many years prior to that appointment was president of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph.

Headaches Make Life Miserable

Headaches are one of the most aggravating troubles one can have, and it is hard to struggle along with a head that aches and pains all the time.

Headaches seem to be habitual with many people; some are seldom, if ever, free from them, suffering continually from the dull throbbings, the intense pains; sometimes in one part, sometimes in another, and then again over the whole head.

There is only one way to get relief from these persistent headaches, and that is by going direct to the seat of the trouble, and the cause is removed, the headaches will still continue to exist.

The fact that Burdock Blood Bitters keeps the stomach, liver and bowels toned up is most enough to show that it will eliminate the cause of the headaches.

Mrs. Harold Lanain, Owen Sound, Ont., writes: "My system was run down and my head out of order. I suffered a great deal from severe pains in my head, which made me feel very miserable. After having tried other remedies I purchased a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, and was very glad to notice a decided improvement in my health, so I took another, and am glad to say that it has done me an enormous amount of good. I have recommended it to my friends, who were in a similar condition, and they all say it is a wonderful remedy."

B. B. B. is put up only by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

ALL and MORE than You Could Ask For in a Bicycle

YOU couldn't ask for a more graceful bicycle — more snappy lines—more sparkling nickel — more glistening enamel. Any man would be proud to show his C. C. M. to his friends.

Four Coats of Enamel

The finish is wonderfully enduring. There are four coats of brilliant, lustrous enamel over a coat of anti-rust. This means a tough, durable enamel that will stand everyday wear and all kinds of weather.

Two Hour Nickel Bath

You couldn't ask for better Nickelling. The bright parts of the C. C. M. are nickelled over copper so they cannot rust, then left in the nickel baths in a double strength solution for two hours, instead of the merely twenty minutes or so given cheap nickelling. The C. C. M. is a rainy day bicycle as well as a sunny weather machine, and will retain its wonderfully bright lustre for the longest time.

English Tubing

You couldn't ask for a stronger, more rigid, more powerful frame. It is made of English seamless tubing, strongly reinforced. The front forks, with the drop forged crown, are practically unbreakable. Bumping over ruts, cobblestones, car tracks is all in the day's work for the C. C. M.

Hard Maple Rims

The wheels will stand the jars and jolts, yet they are light and resilient. The spokes are of special toughened piano wire.

You couldn't ask for better bearings. C. C. M. bearings are made of special automobile steels. They are given the C. C. M. heat treatment, which produces a bearing so hard and wear-proof on the outside a file won't cut it, yet with a core so tough that the bearing is practically unbreakable.

Hercules Brake

"The Little Fellow with the Giant's Grip." Always sure, safe, quick, yet soft and velvety in action. The only coaster brake sold in Canada without the clumsy, old-fashioned side arm. Therefore, no time wasted when removing the rear wheel to fix a puncture. And it makes the C. C. M. coast as smoothly and noiselessly as a gliding aeroplane!

C. C. M. Triplex Hanger An exclusive C.C.M. feature

It's the hanger that gives the most speed—and pep—and power. Never any "tightness nor looseness" when you are pedalling. Every bit of weight you put on the pedals counts for speed.

No extra charge for the "Triplex".

Accurate and True

You couldn't ask for a more accurately made bicycle. Many of the 1,761 parts of the C. C. M. Bicycle are built to even closer limits of accuracy than the extremely delicate time fuses on shells.

The C. C. M. is all "trued-up" before it leaves the factory. The wheels must track perfectly. Everything must be right. This "truing-up" assures you a better steering and easier pedalling bicycle. It is an expense that is omitted in turning out "cheap" bicycles.

Worth More

You couldn't ask for better value than is given you in the C. C. M. The prices of C. C. M. bicycles have advanced less the last few years than those of most other goods. Fewer days' wages will buy a C. C. M. today than before the war.

And it is certainly worth something extra to you to know that your C. C. M. will be running more smoothly after long use than many wheels do when new—that it is built to stay out of the repair shop.

90% Made in Canada

C. C. M. Bicycles are really made in Canada. They do not consist of foreign parts brought here and assembled.

90 per cent. of the parts of every C. C. M. Bicycle are made in Canada, and the major proportion in the large, splendidly equipped C. C. M. factory.

When you buy C. C. M. Bicycles you show your appreciation of skill—C. C. M. workmanship—and there is no better in the world.

Soon Pays for Itself

You can soon pay for a C. C. M. with the money you save in car fare and shoe leather. And, then, think of the car fares it will save for years after that. And the dividends of pleasures it will give you.

Drop in and see the latest models. Any C. C. M. dealer will be glad to show them to you. Never for years has there been such a keen interest taken in bicycles. More people are riding bicycles today than for twenty years past.

The Sign of Good Service

There are over 1,000 C. C. M. Service Stations in Canada carrying a line of genuine C. C. M. parts and giving intelligent repair service at reasonable cost.

No waiting for repair parts to come from some other country or be made to order when you ride a C. C. M. bicycle.

FERGUSON SAYS FARMERS LACK UNDERSTANDING OF GOVERNMENT

Claims Legislative Session Just Closed Proof of Big Mistake.

WOMEN'S VOTE

Blessing To Province, He Admits To a Woman Audience.

TORONTO, May 1.—Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Conservative leader in Ontario, addressing the Women's Auxiliary of Ward Four Conservative Association here on Saturday afternoon, said that the session of the Legislature which had ended at an early hour pressed the public with the fact that they had made a great mistake in departing from the old party system and placing in power an aggregation that had disregarded all the rights of the people. The aggregation, he said, had demonstrated almost beyond question, their total lack of understanding of responsible government, and their absolute incapacity to carry on the Government of Ontario.

Admitting that he had doubts at first as to the wisdom of granting the women of this province a franchise, having been under the impression that they did not want it, Hon. Mr. Ferguson said that Sir William Hearst, in giving the women the right to vote, had conferred a great blessing on the province.

LABOR PARTY MAN APPOINTED BAILIFF

William H. Bailey, Who Is War Veteran, Given Position.

NEW CHURCH OFFICERS

Elders of Knox Church Elected—Will Be Inducted Next Month.

ST. THOMAS, May 1.—William H. Bailey, war veteran and member of the I. O. O. F., has been appointed bailiff of the third division court, succeeding William J. Husey, who was named after F. M. Bassett declined to accept the position. The selection of a man had become imperative, owing to the congestion of business at the local office. The choice of an officer has been in the keeping of the labor men, and although no little opposition was shown to the nomination of each of the appointees by many of the war veterans, Peter Cameron, M.P.P., who had the patronage in his pocket, favored the appeal of the friends of Mr. Bailey. The selection of the war veteran as bailiff of the court was a surprise to the public, and the fact that they had made a great mistake in departing from the old party system and placing in power an aggregation that had disregarded all the rights of the people. The aggregation, he said, had demonstrated almost beyond question, their total lack of understanding of responsible government, and their absolute incapacity to carry on the Government of Ontario.

FRANCE IS JUSTIFIED.

Comment is frequently heard upon the consistency with which France demands full reparation from Germany for the tremendous damages
to her territory during the war.
German propaganda frequently pictures France as a robber not willing to be satisfied with fair settlement for her losses. This is unjust. France has not forgotten and never will forget the wilful and deliberate manner in which the invaders ruthlessly destroyed property which could easily have been spared.
The destruction of roads, railways and factory buildings was bad enough, but when thousands of trees were deliberately cut through and gardens and vineyards devastated wantonly, there was no excuse for the conduct of the Hun. He knew he was destroying things that could not be replaced in years, things which were vital to the country from an economic standpoint, and there is little doubt he meant to cripple France permanently if possible. Germany will get little sympathy in her efforts to misrepresent France and construe righteous indignation into avarice.

France is taking a firm stand,
and she is prepared to back her contentions. The great problem of France is financial. The morale of her people is admirable, but the fiscal difficulty implied by her national debt of nearly three hundred billion francs is tremendous.
Hence, it is easy to comprehend the somewhat heated impatience with which she greets suggestions that the vanquished German nation shall escape relatively too lightly from the burdens that the war has imposed upon every country. The reparation which Germany is to make to France is too vital a factor in the latter's interest to make it possible for her to accept anything less than the fullest possible payment that Germany can be compelled to make.

A FORTUNATE POSITION.

May Day in London and Western Ontario found this district enjoying conditions in striking contrast to those which prevail in many other parts of the world. London is essentially a city of workers and behind it is one of the richest agricultural sections in the Dominion.
That both city workers and farmers are going right along with their usual occupations might well be considered extreme good fortune. One does not always realize this until conditions at other points are understood. Travelers who have spent weeks and months in various parts of Canada have the most favorable comments to make when they visit London and district. Newcomers who are arriving here from England, Ireland and various parts of Europe look upon this district as a welcome haven, and tell of experiences that show clearly what is happening overseas.

A survey of general conditions abroad at the present time discloses,
in practically every foreign country,
financial, economic and social difficulties which are everywhere similar in kind, if not in degree. In whatever direction one turns there are to be seen legging industries and depreciated exchange, the financial distress of governments, heavy taxes, much unemployment, political and social unrest, and a seriously hampered movement of commodities in international trade.

Almost two and one-half years
have now passed since the armistice, yet a return to anything like normal
pre-war conditions is still delayed, and no satisfactory solution of many of the problems of reconstruction is yet forthcoming. This view may be taken, perhaps, that the very insecurity and uncertainty of present conditions throughout the world will finally arouse in every class the will to overcome them and will thus hasten ultimate recovery.

As a matter of fact, there is today in almost every country the urgent problem of combating the economic fallacies which have been instilled into the minds of labor for a long time by leaders who have felt that their own interests were furthered by spreading class antagonisms. During the war many governments apparently lacked the courage to rely upon the patriotism of labor—which, if wisely advised, might have responded with the necessary effort and self-denial as loyally as any other class—and instilled in many industries wage scales out of relation to permanent economic possibilities. The high wages paid were practically bribes which were collected by taxing the general public.

The advantages of high wages are apparent enough to labor, but that wages can be continuously paid only out of production is an economic fact not yet so clear in the minds of the majority of workers. Taxation to maintain wages of certain classes at rates beyond those made possible by the return that can be secured under existing business conditions cannot be accepted as a permanent basis for a sound social democracy.

TOO WIDE A SPREAD.

In the news columns a dispatch from a nearby town tells of thousands of bushels of potatoes being shipped to the cities at an average price to the farmers of only 45 cents.
Potatoes are selling in London today at 80 to 90 cents a bag. In Toronto they are quoted at 80 to 85 cents.
There are two points of particular interest in these figures. One is the wide spread between the money the producer receives and the price the consumer pays. The other is that after paying freight to Toronto and any other charges that may be necessary, Toronto people can buy their potatoes cheaper than London people can. There is a situation in both of these cases that needs remedying. Someone is getting paid for work he does not do and for risks he does not take. Someone between the producer and the ultimate consumer is adding to the costs almost as much as the farmer gets. As long as conditions of this kind obtain there is going to be complaints on the part of the buying public, and it would appear that there is some reason for dissatisfaction. What is true of potatoes is equally true of many other lines today, and the results are too obvious to require comment.

BRITISH LABOR AND REPARA- TIONS.

It is interesting that British Labor pronounces largely against any coercion of Germany. Their point of view seems to be that the enforcement of huge reparations will mean the grinding of German workingmen.
Mr. Lloyd George has pointed out the flagrant fact that the people of means in Germany are taxed to nothing like the extent of those in Great Britain or other Allied countries.
The "socialist republic" of Germany is a sham, and lately must seem a joke to any Hun with a sense of humor. Quite openly not only does the Junker-capitalist combination still rule the country, but the Hohenzollern idea is kept up, big sums are paid to the exiles, and their pictures displayed and featured. What the socialist investigator, Kautsky, proved and published, the war-guilt of the Kaiser and his set, the responsibility of the old regime for the war, the present Berlin Government refuses to admit. Naturally, then, British Labor contends that the enforcement of the reparations will, under the conditions now prevailing in Germany, mean simply that the workingmen of that country must pay.

Especially, perhaps, the forcible collection by the Allies of export and import duties in Germany, in place of taxes on the rich which the German Government itself will not levy, must bear on the average German consumer. Nothing hits the worker and consumer so hard and unfairly as the tariff tax. We see that in Canada. The British workingman, generally a free trader, expresses indignant sympathy for his German brother mulcted to pay the bondholders of the world. No doubt Fritz's meannesses in war-time are not forgotten, but the cause of Labor straddles natural boundaries, and its British leaders protest against tariff taxes on the Rhine that will result in reduction of German wages, if Germany is to live, as she must, by foreign trade.

Perhaps British Labor would not be so opposed to the full exaction of reparation if means could be found to get them out of the German rich.
But the present prospects of this are not the most encouraging in the world. The public hears of the unbridled luxury of the German profiteers. The German Government offers workingmen to help in restoration work, while the Allies collect duties on German manufactures. British Labor is agreeable to neither of these schemes. But how else are Germany's debts to be paid?

OTHERS' VIEWS

LORD SHAUGHNESSY'S PLAN.
(Financial Post.)

The weak feature of the Shaughnessy plan as it stands is that the guarantee of a dividend, although that dividend is not excessive, would remove that incentive to efficiency which is the reflection of profit-making. The situation would not greatly differ from the administration of the National system, which is governed by a board nominally independent of political influence, and which has not made a satisfactory showing, although the management itself can hardly be blamed. Besides, without assured efficiency there is no guarantee that the losses to the government and the people would not eventually be even greater than at present.
A ten-year arrangement has been suggested, but experience with similar term-agreements should be a lesson in this connection.

It is generally accepted that the present situation as regards the National Railways cannot continue. Lord Shaughnessy's plan, therefore, provides a basis from which some plan to improve conditions may be worked out.
What the shippers and businessmen generally will chiefly demand is that any scheme looking to amalgamation of National and C. P. R. systems will insure a continuation of C. P. R. efficiency and to that end experience has shown that competition on the incentive to make profits is essential, and that there do not obtain under government domination.

Whatever may be the outcome of the proposal of Lord Shaughnessy, in connection with the solution of the national transportation problem, the people of Canada are indebted to him for a remarkably frank and candid presentation of the situation, and the project which he has submitted to Ottawa provides possibilities for a more practical solution than has been in prospect up to the present.

A NEW TYPE OF NURSE NOW.

(Washington Star.)
There is only one type of girl who makes a good nurse, according to Miss Carol Martin, executive secretary of the central council of nursing education, attending the nursing education convention here. Namely, a girl who has had a splendid home training, good education in the secondary schools, and a vision of broad social service.

The old idea that a nurse was a woman in a pretty cap, carrying a tray of Dresden china to a convalescent patient, is entirely out of date. The nursing profession, through the eight-hour system, is giving girls a professional education. The student nurse works only to the point of efficiency, not to the limit of drudgery.
"That old idea that the nurse's life is one of self-sacrifice has to go, too," insists Miss Martin. "A nurse's work is professional service, like the physician or the lawyer. Increased demands for nurses come from every part of the world. If a girl wishes to be a teacher of nursing, there is a call for women to open schools of nursing in Japan, Siberia, China and Egypt. The public health service requires community leaders. City, county and rural nursing and all divisions of industrial and child welfare are based on the service of the highest type of nurse."

A FINE BALANCE.

(London Spectator.)
There is only one more thing to note, and that is the easy way in which the Prince of Wales managed to keep his foothold on the razor-edge of personal dignity. He always appears to have made just enough display of dignity to avoid being made a fool of, and never so much as to make people think he was either priggish, or arrogant, or what would have been worse, cold in temperament. This balance is exactly what is wanted of royalty in a democratic country. The prince was evidently born with it, which is much better than painfully acquiring the gift.

REVISION OF WAGES ESSENTIAL.

(The Guaranty Survey.)
Any broad readjustment of commodity prices necessarily involves changes in wages also. There are exceptions, of course, and the readjustments in directly related prices and wages are frequently not simultaneous. As in the case of prices, some wage scales now remain at the high levels reached in the boom period. On the whole, however, wages are being reduced, without extreme opposition on the part of the workers; but the process of revision has not been completed.
The necessity for initial or further wage reductions is quite generally recognized. Wage agreements, some covering protracted periods, have obstructed
the inevitable readjustment in transportation, mining, building, and other industries.

THE FRENCH HAD BETTER WATCH OUT.

(Kansas City Star.)
The French, having learned from their British allies to eat cold beef and pickles, to obtain information that now reaches us by way of the London papers, is less startling than it otherwise might have been, but still is surprisingly amazing. It is that the French actually have beaten the Scotch at rugby football, and came within four points of tying the score with an English team. Coming on top of their other troubles, this rude stroke has quite staggered the English. That the shock of it was great is evidenced by the public attitude mirrored in the press. The papers admit the result of the games, which were played in France, was all but a defeat for the British. They praise the play of the French, commend the rapid progress
they have made in the mastery of this sport, and call upon the British to give their opponents three cheers. That is British sportsmanship.

STATE OWNERSHIP NOT IN FAVOR.

(Financial Post.)
Although the propaganda of state ownership in the United States has based their campaign largely upon the same lavish statements in connection with the Ontario Hydro-Electric as are being heard on this side of the border,
the legislators show a disposition to follow the suggestions of their expert advisers and experienced power engineers, paying little attention to the activities of the politicians. The latter have, thus far failed to manipulate public opinion as Sir Adam Beck has so successfully done.

Public ownership enthusiasts of Ontario will, of course, declare that they have not yet "seen the light" in the United States, that the corporations control the law makers, etc. That is their way of dealing with such a situation. As a matter of fact the course against state ownership is being taken after full inquiry regarding what is being done in Ontario and on the advice of experts in a better position to get at the real facts than are the people of Ontario who accept all that Sir Adam Beck tells them.

EVERYTHING

(Joseph Campbell.)

My song is as a water-find.
That bubbles from the hollow earth.
A shell the sea has left behind.
A burning faggot on the hearth.
A vagrant garden air that blows
Sweet with perfume of stock or rose.

I know no more of why I sing
Than does the chaffinch in the tree;
I am an elemental thing.
Folded about with mystery.
God-begotten, born of the great dust.
I sing my song because I must.

The world was young in those days of ours,
The world was so young and new.
All builded of birds and of sweet spring flowers.

And tomorrow fresh wonders grew;
But the world rolled back and Love reigned instead.

And smote on a magic lyre—
For someone sat in the seat ahead
When we sang in the old church choir.

Someone with eyes of the brownest
brown.

And lips that were wondrous rare;
Dark waves of glory that tumbled down
From the crimson "tarn" get there
At a rakish slant. Oh, that pure delight!

Life! grant me but one desire—
To see and feel as I felt that night
When we sang in the old church choir.

The Preacher prayed with a will. And When

He prayed for "those near and dear,"
The deacons shouted a loud "Amen!"
And I felt that the Lord was near.
The Preacher preached of the bleeding Lamb.

And his words were as words of fire;
But I worshipped the girl with the crimson tam
When we sang in the old church choir.

The church is gone, and the preacher long

In the land that he loved so well.
Hark! out of the new church, deep and strong.

Hear the great pipes joyous swell!
I sit and dream and contented am.
For someone is by my fire,
Sweet as in the days of the crimson tam.

When we sang in the old church
choir.

WOMEN SLEUTHS NAB CRIMINALS

LONDON, May 2. — The stalwart "woman in blue" who frowns on the frivolous "flapper" and moves on the male flirt who encourages such queer female animals, is known to everyone who has visited London within the last year or so. But no one recognizes the latest product of the police headquarters of Scotland Yard—the unobtrusive matron in quiet dress who has added a new terror to the life of the professional criminal.

She is the plain-clothes woman detective who is now an integral part of London's 22,000 police. This is not the first time that feminine sleuths have been used by Scotland Yard, but it is an innovation in the sense that never before have they had official status.

Endowment Starts Service.
"Anonymous, $15,000."

This simple line in the latest subscription list of the Women Police service, the pioneer organization in the phase of the feminist movement in Great Britain, hides a tragic but inap-prising story. Untold until now, it is the tale of how a bereaved mother faithfully carried out the humanitarian wishes of her two officer sons, killed during the war.

It was the desire of these two young men that if anything happened to them their fortunes should be applied to the best work being done for the women and children of this country. The mother, herself a life-long supporter of social service, has given effect to their wishes,
and it is due to her that the Women
Police service is in being today.

plets detective service "manned" by women, and London now has women detectives attached to Scotland Yard. The Women's Police service is chiefly engaged in training women for provincial forces and already has supplied 46 towns with policewomen.

In a famous murder case, the killing of a London girl at Eastbourne by two men who have since paid the extreme penalty for their crime, the local police employed a girl 12 years old to watch the movements of the suspects. Her reports enabled the officers of the law to complete the web of evidence which led to their conviction.

The Lancashire County police have a complete women's detective force which is declared to be a great success.
Sir Neville Macready, until lately
head of the Metropolitan police, in evidence given before a House of Commons committee on the question of women police, said he wanted to have women he could put into evening dress "with some diamonds or whatever they wear" as well as recruits from the other end of the social scale. So he asked for real "lady detectives."

Now the force has got them. In the blue book, just issued in which Sir Neville's evidence is given, there is told, in the dry way of an official "minute of evidence," a great human story of the efforts of a devoted band of women to meet the social evils of the day from the standpoint of their own sex.

Began With War.
The origin of the women police is one of the romances of the feminist movement. The late Miss Damer Dawson, after months of work fighting the white slave traffic on the continent, began when the war started to deal with the refugees who were coming in crowds to London from all parts of Europe.
With ten helpers she set the Girls and Boys' Club in motion, to take care of at times the lost some of the prettier girls. One evening two Belgians disappeared. A woman of a type which scandalous trade was suspected and watched. Suspicions were confirmed when it was found that in one night she changed her dress and the color of her hair three times. It was impossible for Miss Dawson's organization, as then constituted, to interfere with such harpies. So the Women's Police service came into being.

FRANCE PLANS CHEAP POWER

Interest in Rhone River Project Revived; May Develop 4,000,000 Horsepower.

Paris, May 2.—Plants now in course of preparation by the French Government contemplate the development of a yearly average of 4,000,000 horsepower by 1934 through the utilization of the rivers of the country for the manufacture of electricity.
The creation of energy for the electrification of the railways and the big industries of France has received tremendous impetus since the armistice.
Reports just completed show that within the last three years 450,000,000 francs have been invested in 49 power plants throughout France by French investors.

Millerand Favors Plans.
The recent visit of President Millerand to the valley of the Rhone revived interest in the famous Rhone waterpower project, plans for which have been completed and now are before the senate for ratification. The chamber of deputies approved the scheme in October, 1919.

The Rhone project, as it is known in Europe, is one of the most comprehensive waterpower developments ever conceived and involves the expenditure of 3,000,000,000 francs. No fewer than 20 lesser projects have been launched in France, but the Rhone is further advanced than the others.

It has been estimated that the Rhone scheme together with the other big projects, would effect an annual saving of 5,000,000 tons of coal, thus diverting this to other purposes and materially reducing the importation of coal by France.

See Cheap Electricity.
The Rhone plan would make available between 400 and 500 kilometers of that river, would reclaim 650,000 acres of ground now useless, and probably place at the door of Paris electricity at a price within the reach of everyone.

The Government plans to make the Rhone as well as all the other projects a "creation of the people" through the issuance of 6 per cent non-taxable bonds, the proceeds to be used in construction. The finance committee of the senate now has the matter before it, but because of the financial depression and the already great burdens on the French treasury, the actual construction probably will not begin for several years.

The majority of the plants for hydroelectric development concern the Rivers Rhone, Garonne, Rhine and Loire.

"Save the surface and you save all" — Paint & Varnish

Moving Time--Paint & Varnish Time

FURNITURE and other effects are invariably bruised, chipped, rubbed or scratched during "moving." Only Paint and Varnish can put them in condition again and make them look like new.

Also the outside and inside of every house should be beautified and protected with Paint and Varnish before moving day. Without proper surface protection no household property will last.

Another urgent need for paint and varnish at moving time is that of sanitation and hygiene. Freshly painted and varnished rooms are as free from infection and disease as though fumigated. Never move into a home, old or new, until it has been painted and varnished from cellar to roof.

THIS ANNOUNCEMENT is issued by the Canadian Save the Surface Campaign Committee, for the purpose of educating the public in the Preservative and Protective value of Paint, Varnish and Allied Products for the Conservation of property, and has received the approval of the Canadian Trade Commission in the following words:

"The realization of the above objects will lead to employment during the Reconstruction Period, and bears our entire approval."

Mr. and Mrs. E. Wood and Mr. and Mrs. A. Bidey were in Windsor last week.

Mrs. Austen McLeish of Chatham is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. McLean of this city.

Col. and Mrs. Claude Brown are leaving shortly to spend the summer in Banff and Calgary.

Mrs. McCorquodale of Montreal and her two small children are visiting Dr. and Mrs. George Fraser, Central avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Gregory of Wingham were guests with Mrs. W. T. Gregory, Wortley road, for the Gillmore-Gregory wedding on Saturday.

Mrs. Mara Waterloo street, is lending her home this afternoon for the annual meeting of the "Inasmuch Society" of the First Methodist Church.

An attractive little dinner party was that held at Wong's Cafe on Saturday, when a number of the employees of the McLaughlin & Granger Co. gathered there to bid farewell to Miss Elva Pearn, who has been a member of the office staff for the past four years. During the evening they presented her with a handsome club bag as a farewell gift.

Immediately following the presentation of "The New Lady Bantock" under the auspices of the London Drama League on Monday evening next, the cast will be held in honor of the cast, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Jordan having kindly lent the Institute of Musical Art for the occasion. The committee in charge of the reception includes Mrs. E. H. Johnston, Mrs. Lynne Evans and Miss Grace Blackburn. Those taking part in the play are Mrs. Arthur Beckenden, Col. Lynne Evans, Mr. E. Reynolds, Mr. S. P. Sims, Mr. Kenneth Greene, Mrs. E. H. Johnston, Miss Bartram, Miss Madeline Simons, Miss Aileen Neville, Miss McMillan, Mr. John McCallum, Miss W. Dance, Miss Shirley Johnston, Miss Katharine Beltz, Miss Lorna Rumball, Miss McIntosh, Miss Regina Kennedy and Miss McLean, with Mr. J. G. Meredith as director, and Mrs. David Arnott as prompter.

"Brescia Hall," Wellington street, was the scene of a pretty reception on Saturday afternoon, when the Mother Superior entertained the members of the Senator Coffey Chapter, I. O. O. E., at the tea hour. The spacious old rooms were filled with spring flowers for the occasion, Mrs. Frank Forristal, regent of the Senator Coffey Chapter, and Mother General Claire of the Ursuline Convent, Chatham, which Brescia Hall is a branch school, received with Mother St. Anne, in the tea room Mrs. Coffey and Mrs. E. B. Smith presided, assisted by the young girls of the college. During the afternoon the guests were taken through the school, and before leaving short speeches were made by Miss Dorothy McCann and Mrs. A. A. Campbell, who expressed their appreciation of the entertainment given them by the school. Brescia Hall is in affiliation with Western University.

The lovely home of Mrs. G. H. Gooderham, St. George street, Toronto, was the scene of a pretty post-nuptial reception on Friday afternoon last, Mrs. Henry S. Gooderham, formerly Miss Dorothy Mulken of this city, receiving for the first time since her marriage. The bride wore a pretty frock of nigger brown georgette, with touches of brown lace, a diamond bar pin and carried an armful of Sweetheart roses, while Mrs. Gooderham, who received with her, wore a handsome violet gown, embroidered in gold and violet, with orange bouquet of pansies. Mrs. McLachlan of St. Catharines, who received with them, was smartly gowned in a French frock of black tulle. The tea table, attractively arranged with lace and flowers, was presided over by Mrs. W. B. Stark and Mrs. Harold Ball, the assistants being Mrs. Alan Hargrave, Mrs. Rowland Cottrell, Miss Lilian Irish, Miss Mary Gooderham and Mrs. Winnett Thompson.

JONES-QUICK.
The marriage took place at Windsor on Saturday last of Ray S. Jones of Windsor, and Miss Eunice Quick, also of Windsor, at the Lincoln Road Methodist Church, Rev. H. A. Graham officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Jones will make their home in Windsor.

GOVERN-JENETTE.
The marriage of Miss Annie Edna Gooven of Sandwich and William John Jenette of Hamilton was quietly solemnized on Tuesday evening at the Lincoln Road Methodist parsonage, Windsor. Rev. H. A. Graham officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Jenette will reside in Hamilton.

TAYLOR-ANTHES.
A very pretty wedding took place on Wednesday, April 27, at the home of Mrs. Sylvanus Anthes, Toronto, when Florence, her youngest daughter, was united in marriage to Mr. J. W. Roy Taylor, B.A., 86, of Toronto, son of R. Newton Powell of Toronto officiating.

The bride looked very charming in a gown of ivory Canton crepe with lead trimmings, with a shower bouquet of Sweetheart roses and a diamond pendant, the gift of the groom. Her bridesmaid, wearing a white tulle dress, with overalls of beaded georgette and corsage bouquet of Ophelia roses. The groom was supported by his cousin, Mrs. W. E. Taylor of Peterborough. Miss Elizabeth J. Wilson played the wedding march, and during the signing of the register "Until" was sung very sweetly by Miss Vera McLean. About 40 friends were present at the ceremony, after which a buffet luncheon was served in the dining-room charmingly decorated with American Beauty roses. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor left on the 7:15 train for a trip to York and Albany, Ontario. They will reside at 31 Lauder avenue, Toronto.

Personal Health Service

Privation in Plenty.

Infants, children and adults frequently suffer from privation in the midst of plenty. The diet may be ample in ordinary caloric or fuel value for the nutrition of the individual according to the best available method of estimating nutritive values, yet fail to furnish an adequate something which is indispensable for perfect nutrition, growth and health. That something has been tentatively termed vitamin, although no one has isolated or chemically identified any particular substance as a vitamin. Physiologists have arrived at a deduction, not a conclusion, that there are at least three groups or types of vitamins: (1) Fat-soluble vitamin, (2) Water-soluble A, and (3) Water-soluble B.

In some parts of the United States cattle cannot be kept in good healthy condition unless the forage is improved by fertilization of the soil. In Victoria cattle raised on certain pasture lands develop paralysis and other infirmities which can be prevented or cured by proper soil fertilization. Which reminds us that the problem of human nutrition goes back to the chemistry of the soil from which our food is derived. Even such a food as cow's milk probably varies within wide margins in vitamin content with varying kinds of food. Fresh raw milk is generally recognized as an anti-scurvy food (prevents outright or slight forms of scurvy). Yet milk from cows which were fed for three weeks with fodder without vitamins was found devoid of the anti-scurvy factor. In some parts of the United States, one of the foremost authorities on the subject, tells us that such facts raise the question whether the milk of stall-fed animals in winter is as balanced or complete food. He further observes that human milk varies in vitamin content according to the woman's food. Every physician knows the harm often done when nursing mothers, influenced by legendary notions, deny themselves this and that valuable fresh vegetable, relish or fruit because some gossip opines it will harm the baby at the breast. In the winter months the lack of fresh vegetables, relishes and fruits among the poorer people in cities probably renders the food of the nursing baby unsatisfactory in vitamin content, even though it be adequate as to fat, sugar, protein and mineral content.

Scurvy, rickets, pellagra, beri-beri (a form of multiple neuritis occurring in certain tropical countries), and xerophthalmia or keratomalacia (a dryness and scaldiness of the conjunctivae attributable means the only conditions attributable to a lack of vitamins in the diet. Various degrees of growth and nutrition not so clearly defined and quite commonly unrecognized in their true character, are ascribable to deficiencies of the diet in these accessory factors, regardless of the ample food values as computed in the ordinary way. Among the less definitely recognized conditions which are probably due to vitamin-privation are impaired vision or night blindness, certain cases of ordinary neuritis, impaired conditions of the skin, hair, nails, softening and decay of the teeth, some cases of unaccountable loss of appetite and constipation, some cases of anaemia, underweight, and so-called "neurasthenia."

More on this subject will follow.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Red Nose.

Please tell me something that will

you first began to contribute to our paper.
Answer.—The formula I suggested was for corns and calluses and maybe now and then a wart, but not for bunions.
Sulphuric acid 30 grains
Flexible collodion 1/4 ounce
Paint the corn or callus with this every night for a week or more, when the corn will be easily wiped away.

Piles.
I am troubled with protruding piles. Would it be a serious operation to have them removed? How soon after operation would I recuperate?
J. L.
Answer.—In the hands of a reputable physician the operation for piles is less serious than the piles unremoved. Usually three or four days of rest, and resumption of usual vocation in a week or ten days.

APPIN W. I.

The annual meeting of the Appin Women's Institute took place on Thursday last at the home of Mrs. John Jones, the meeting being well attended. After disposing of many items of old business the election of officers for 1921 took place, ably conducted by Mrs. James Allen. Mrs. Peter McArthur, the president for the past two years, was again elected, but was obliged to decline, although regretting to do so. Mrs. John McFie was then elected president, and the following officers with her: Vice-presidents, Mrs. Allen, Mrs. McArthur; secretary, Mrs. Dan McCall; treasurer and librarian, Mrs. John Jones; re-elected; directors, Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Fletcher, Mrs. Brownlee, Mrs. J. S. McCraut; delegates to June convention to be held in Appin, Mrs. James Lotan and Mrs. McArthur. The yearly reports read showed that the institute has spent a successful year, both financially and in work accomplished, the membership being over 60. Refreshments were then served by the committee, Mrs. James McMaster, Mrs. W. Johnston and Miss Hudson.

LAMBETH CHEERIO CLUB.

A very large and enthusiastic audience greeted the charming three-act play "Lighthouse Nan," by Sheldon Farmer, put on by nine members of the Cheerio Community Club of Lambeth in the Masonic Hall on Friday evening last, in aid of the London Children's Hospital, the proceeds amounting to about $100. In act one and two the scenes are laid in a doorway of a lighthouse on the sea coast. The part of the old keeper of the lighthouse "Ichabod Buzzer" was taken by Floyd Brooke and his wife "Moll" by Miss Gwenyth Ead. Their summer boarder from the city was admirably taken by Clarence Sharp, who played opposite Miss Blanche Sileo in the title role of Lighthouse Nan. The part of the Hon. Judge Enlow, president of the Sea Coast Banking Company, was splendidly acted by Harold Fox, and that of his daughter "Hortense," by Miss Melina McGugan. Their two guests from England of the nobility were well portrayed by George Hardy and Miss Alice Carley. The villain of the play "Injun Jim," was very well acted by Mr. William Anguish.

The stage was very attractive, the music was furnished by J. Arthur Nichols, violinist, and his brother, pianist. The Cheerio Club, whose members were congratulated on the success of the play, bore all its expenses, the proceeds taken at the door by George Routledge being turned over to the Children's Hospital fund. After the play the girls of the cast entertained the players at the home of Miss Alice Carley.

Y. W. C. A. RECEPTION.
The Y. W. C. A. residence, King street, was a hive of activity on Friday evening last, when the members of the Travelers' aids department of that association entertained there in honor of the overseas women of London, with whom the local travel aids have come to a good and goodly number attended the reception, Mrs. Thomas Rowe, convenor of the committee, Mrs. Ross Thomas and the travelers' aids, Miss Anderson and Mrs. Parker receiving. A splendid program included numbers by Mrs. Harman Westland, Miss Laura Taylor, Mrs. Parker, Miss Margaret Taylor, Mrs. Fabian and Mrs. Thomas Rowe. At the close of the evening refreshments were served by Mrs. Mitchell.

Y. W. C. A. ANNUAL MEETING.

Rev. Mr. Roy will address the annual meeting of the local Y. W. C. A. on Tuesday, May 10, at the King street residence.

Bunions Are Not Big Corns.

About a year ago you published a formula for bunions, and I carried it out. I found it wonderfully good. But when the Hotel "burned" I had to leave the city. I had on, including my precious formula. Aside from the practical value of your idea, your letters have always been a source of genuine pleasure to me since I have a wart in the centre of my forehead the size of a small pea, but I think it is getting larger. Some of my girl friends suggested a corn plaster. Some one else suggested acetic acid. The wart is soft but has a rough, hard ragged top (Mrs. F. C.).
ANSWER.—The clean, safe, painless and most satisfactory treatment is usually excision by a physician, which may be followed by some X-ray treatments if there is evidence of malignancy (skin cancer). It is dangerous to apply caustics or other irritants to a wart or similar lesion on the face.

The Little Lame Dog.

(Part Nineteen.)
"Where can the 'rot of gold' be?" asked Limpy, as L. and his friend Ting, the tramp dog, started off on a journey next morning before it was daylight. "How I wish we could get word from the wise old owl!"
"And word you shall have from the wise old owl," said a friendly voice from a tree top just above them. "But the word must be said quickly, for it will soon be dawn and I shall lose my wisdom."
"It's the wise old owl!" cried Ting and Limpy in chorus.
That's just who it was.
"I know all about your troubles," said the wise old owl, "and I will be with you in time. Ting exclaimed.
"To be sure he did, but I knew anyway," the owl said, shaking his wise old head. "I know everything that happens. The winds of the night tell me all."
"Where are we to find the pot of gold?" asked Limpy.
"I most desired in the world," the owl declared. "It is owned by one that takes away my sight and makes me stupid in daytime, so I can be of no help to you there."
Then we will not find it and we won't be able to take it to the golden-tailed blackbird, so that he will give us

FOR LOVE OF BETTY

[BY MAY CHRISTIE.]

(Copyright, 1920, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

LXXVI.—"YOU AREN'T MY BETTY!"

Miss Crowell smiled an incredulous little smile.

"I don't want to disappoint you," she said slowly, "but it's early days yet to talk of marriage."

"What, do you mean?" A high, shrill sharpness was in April's tones.

"Hush—don't disturb the patient," she whispered.

"Why can't we marry when he's better?"

"Mr. Trevor—if he does recover?"

here Miss Crowell paused—"If he does get better, may be an invalid for a very long time."

"Nonsense—you're a pessimist—an alarmist!" April could not suppress an angry sneer.

She thrust her hand down close to her for a moment.

"Has it never occurred to you," she began slowly, "that any young girl to possibly be affected? That he may never be himself again?"

"You're trying to frighten me," she whispered.

"Oh, no, upon the contrary," came the quiet response, "I only thought you ought to know—and no one else seems disposed to tell you the whole truth."

"She doesn't love the poor fellow at all," thought Miss Crowell throwing a compassionate glance at the still face lying on the pillow near them both.

"She's wondering if the sacrifice of marrying him would be worth the money."

April was intensely worried. It put a different complexion on her marriage—this information! If it were possible that Jack might never quite recover, mentally, she couldn't possibly run the risk of marrying him. . . . She had heard of cases where gay young wives were tied for life to hopeless imbeciles.

Or with husbands shut up in lunatic asylums, making all thoughts of remarriage impossible. . . .

Would it not be feasible now, her old idea of getting Jack to make a will? Ah, but such a will would be invalid, if the maker of it were not mentally responsible for his actions! This dragon of a nurse would see to that!

"Detestable, interfering woman!" It was with difficulty that April refrained from uttering the words aloud.

"Betty," he was whispering, "where is Betty?"

His eyes were closed, but he moved a hand out in the direction of the nurse, as though he were groping desperately for something to hold. She put her hand in his. She turned and motioned to April Moore.

"He is calling for you—you'd better come here and take my place. There's a vague chance that he may recognize you," she said softly.

April rose reluctantly. She was afraid of illness of any kind, and hated to be brought into close contact with the patient.

Put now she must go boldly through with the part she had assigned herself.

"Poor boy!" she whispered, her fingers entwining themselves about his hand.

"Can he—don't you worry?" Trevor did not unclove his eyes, but immediately he moved his hand restlessly away from April's as though—in that vague shadowland where his mind was wandering—he surmised that this was not the hand he wanted.

"Stay with him—he may fall asleep," commanded the nurse.

How still the room was, April thought. How early the little clock was ticking on the mantel-piece! Trevor had turned his head away from her.

"Betty—Betty Gordon!" he was muttering.

No twinge of conscience disturbed Miss April's calm.

"I've the first right to Jack Trevor, anyhow," she told herself composedly. Miss Crowell had left the little room for a moment. Now was April's chance to speak to Jack, to try to make him understand the situation. She didn't believe he was so ill as they had tried to make her understand.

"Jack," she whispered, leaning forward and stroking his brow, "Jack, don't you know me?"

No answer.

"Jack, I've come to help you to get better," April's tones were unusually sweet and low.

Still no answer.

The moments ticked their length away. How desperately annoying that he did not recognize her!

"Betty—Betty Gordon!" he kept muttering, turning his head away from April.

There was a rustle of starched skirts and Miss Crowell was back into the room.

"Who does he want?" she asked of April.

"He's calling for me—Betty Gordon—but he doesn't recognize me!" came the answer.

Miss Crowell turned and addressed the patient.

"Miss Betty Gordon is here—beside you," she said softly.

Trevor turned on his pillow and tried to struggle into a sitting position. His eyes were staring straight at April. The new light had faded suddenly from April.

"That—that isn't—Betty Gordon, he whispered hoarsely, pointing a finger at the girl. "That's only—only April Moore!"

Tomorrow—A Clash.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

One Side Only.

Dear Miss Grey,—Having read quite a few of your letters, and find them very useful and interesting I thought I would come to bother you too.

I think we are having quite a story in our daily paper and sincerely hope April will get her share of disappointment too.

Will you kindly send me that wonderful stock-foot pattern if it is not altogether exhausted?

Am enclosing small mite for S. C. H. and also self-addressed envelope for S. P. P. Will also send a cake recipe which is very delicious and nice for a big family, as it is a large cake. Will sign myself

SHECKY.

Black and White Cake, Light Part—One cup of white sugar, 1/2 cup of butter, 1/2 cup of sweet milk, 1 cup chopped raisins, 2 cups flour, yolks of 3 eggs, 2 tablespoons of syrup, 1 teaspoon soda, 1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar. Flavor with spices and vanilla. Four dark part in pan and light part over it.

Dark Part—Half cup butter, 1/2 cup brown sugar, 1 cup of sour milk, 1 cup chopped raisins, 2 cups flour, yolks of 3 eggs, 2 tablespoons of syrup, 1 teaspoon soda, 1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar. Flavor with spices and vanilla. Four dark part in pan and light part over it.

Ans.—Am mailing you pattern. Many thanks for hospital mite and recipe. Please remember to write on one side of paper. In future any letter or card on both sides of the paper will not be printed. Please note this announcement.

Has Indexed Scrap Books.

Dear Miss Grey,—I have enjoyed your Page for a number of years, and have received benefit from it in many ways. I have cut many recipes from your Page which are now in my scrap books. I have a separate indexed scrap book for nearly every department of cookery; i.e., a separate book for cakes, with best methods for making, and selected recipes given. I also have scrap books for other branches of household science; i.e., a separate book on cleaning, sewing hints, care of children, etc. Some might think that this would be more bother than it is worth, but to me it is a source of great pleasure, and gives me increased interest in improving my methods of daily work. Well, as my episode is getting rather lengthy for a first one to your Page, I shall conclude with a request for the stocking-foot pattern. (I guess some of the hoosier dealers will have to go out of business soon. Ha! Ha!) I must go now and not, ADELINE MORE.

Ans.—Your systematized scrap books are excellent. Adeline More, I'm sure you will be glad to know of such splendid methods of handy reference. Pattern is on its way, and please come again with hints and helps.

Suppers for Cold Nights.

Dear Miss Grey,—Having received much help and pleasure from reading your Page, I am sending two recipes, which we like as a supper dish for these cold nights.

Vegetable Chowder—One cup chopped onions, 1 cup carrots, 2 cups sliced potatoes. Put on to boil in three cups boiling water and cook half an hour. Do not drain. Add 1 cup milk, tablespoon of flour, tablespoon melted butter, also mixed with the flour, and season to taste. Cook a few minutes and serve.

Chop Suey—Three cups spaghetti cooked in boiling, salted water till soft. Drain and add 1 pound hamburger steak, 1 quart can tomatoes, 2 small onions cut fine; season to taste, and bake one hour.

Either of these is sufficient to serve my family of eight.

Ans.—Thanks so much for the clippings which we shall request returned for you, and for the above recipes that make us hungry.

Cheese Straws.

Dear Miss Grey,—I've been a silent but interested reader of your page for some time. I am corresponding with Lady Evelyn and I would like to correspond with someone else near my own age (15). Here is a recipe for cheese straws: Two cups grated cheese, 1 cup flour, pinch salt, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 3 teaspoons water. Roll thin and cut in strips. My address is with Miss Grey. Wishing the Mail-Box every success.

PINK SUNBONNET.

From Norwich.

Dear Miss Grey,—Here I come again. Boo-hoo. It's chilly out today, so I

Bunions Are Not Big Corns.

About a year ago you published a formula for bunions, and I carried it out. I found it wonderfully good. But when the Hotel "burned" I had to leave the city. I had on, including my precious formula. Aside from the practical value of your idea, your letters have always been a source of genuine pleasure to me since I have a wart in the centre of my forehead the size of a small pea, but I think it is getting larger. Some of my girl friends suggested a corn plaster. Some one else suggested acetic acid. The wart is soft but has a rough, hard ragged top (Mrs. F. C.).

ANSWER.—The clean, safe, painless and most satisfactory treatment is usually excision by a physician, which may be followed by some X-ray treatments if there is evidence of malignancy (skin cancer). It is dangerous to apply caustics or other irritants to a wart or similar lesion on the face.

Big Scores Feature Bill of Soccerites SaturdayR. C. R.'s Defeat by Westminster Hospital Biggest Surprise of Season—Machine Gunners in Second Place.

LONDON AND DISTRICT RESULTS.
Public Utilities 8, St. Thomas U. V. 0.
G. W. V. A. 11, Army and Navy Vets. 1.
Westminster Hospital 2, R. C. R. 0.
St. Johns Rovers 3, Machine Gunners 0.
W. O. R. (London) 3, Grace Church 0.
M. C. R. (St. Thomas) 1, G. T. R. (London) 0.

Saturday's soccer bill produced scores that looked more like cricket than soccer, but even despite the steady dribble of goals in different games, the fans were well pleased with the display.

Public Utilities had little difficulty in keeping ahead in their group; Machine Gunners, however, were forced to retire to second place when St. John's Rovers beat them 3 to 0. They were well beaten in the first half of their game at the heights, with the score 2 to 0 in favor of the Railway City Boursier scored the visitors' third goal.

R. C. R.'s defeat in the first game at the Heights was one of the biggest surprises this season, and a lot of the supporters of the Royals are still wondering what got into the players of their side. Penrose of the winners was ordered off the field for an infringement of the rules, and will be suspended until his case is taken up by the L. and D. Council.

P. U.'s Again.
The game started off very fast, both goalkeepers being called upon to save, but the P. U. playing better football, scored 5 goals—Hazelwood 3, Ridley 1, and Johnson 1.

In the second half the P. U. took things easy and scored three more—Ridley 2, and Turner 1.
Public Utilities line-up: Goal, Whitworth; backs, Hunt and Dennis; half backs, Bromhead, Smith and Short; right wing, Turner and Hazelwood; centre, Ridley; left wing, Leigh and Johnson.
Referee—E. Devlin.

EARL THOMAS RETAINS
LAUREL AT PENN MEET

PHILADELPHIA, May 1.—Earl Thomas, Canadian Olympic champion hurdler and record holder, defended his laurels here yesterday, when he won the 120-yard hurdles on grass in 15 3/5 seconds in the 27th annual relay carnival of the University of Pennsylvania at Franklin Field. Of the more important college championship races Illinois captured the four-mile event, the Cedar Rapids (Mich.) High School won the one-mile high school championship, and the two-mile intercollegiate title. Notwithstanding the heavy track, the Iowa State quartet of half-milers forced Yale to run with in 4:5 of a second of the old record to win the two-mile, the most thrilling of the championship events. The Iowa State four established a new American record of 7:27 1/5 for this distance at Des Moines, Iowa, last week.

Hump Will Go In.
In case of injury to his players of the inner or outer garden "Hump" will step into the breach himself. Doyle is a certainty for first. Kelly cannot be kept off third. Worley is a certainty for shortstop, with Morrison, Watson and Keonig to be picked from for the second sack. Morrison, who has been showing some pretty fielding, will likely get the call, though the other two may catch on in the outfield. Outfielders will comprise the greater part of the excursion that left Canada's shores via the Port Huron-Sarnia ferry. Proulx, Watson, Keonig, Rimer, Lowder, Hooker, Flanagan and Kaylor are the outfield possibilities. Kaylor, a regular outfielder, and the heavy clubber of the team, will be on the opening line-up, and it is going to be hard to keep Watson away from the pay office.

ODDFELLOWS CELEBRATE.

WINDSOR, May 1.—About 1,000 members of the various lodges of the I. O. O. F. of the border cities celebrated the 102nd anniversary of the formation of the order by a union service this afternoon in the Empire Theatre. Headed by the band of Centennial Lodge, the members marched from the temple to the theatre, where Rev. J. W. Hibbert, grand chaplain, had charge of the services, assisted by Rev. J. C. Toimie, M.L.A., Rev. G. C. Gray, and Rev. H. P. Westgate.

Little People of Africa

PYGMIES WHO DANCE AND SING ALL DAY.

LONDON, April 29.—The romance of travel is not dead.

Fancy a trip on foot across Africa in which you have a forest lit up by night by fireflies, days and days with pygmies, adventures with people who call both the elephant and the white man "father," a diet strange to white men, including delicious tea made from lemon grass, and finally an earthquake which shakes down a house, yet hurts nobody, and does not break so much as a teacup.

These are some of the experiences of an expedition of which the leader is Mr. Fairbairn.

Hiding in the dark, occupied six months, was from the west coast at the mouth of the Congo to the east coast at Mombasa. Canibans come into the story, for the travelers passed through one village in which nine human beings were said to have been eaten in a fortnight.

But the great excitement of the journey centered about the pygmies, little people whose tallest did not exceed 3 feet 9 inches in height.

They are very ancient, and the evidence seems to suggest that they once lived in the forest, but that they have been driven out by the advance of civilization. They are becoming bolder, and breaking out into open clearing, and they are said to be deteriorating; but it really means in better conditions they are coming to be dwarfs.

Fear of the White Man.

But the pygmies whom Mr. Fairbairn met were truly Peter Pans. At first they were terribly afraid of the white men, and only four could be induced, by presents of salt and cloth, to approach. They afterwards brought more of their tribe, and finally the whole expedition was admitted to the pygmies' village.

It was truly Peter Pan-like in character, with a dash of twigs and leaves in the forest, but built snug and secure underneath bushy trees. To the white men the village was invisible; they could not see a single dwelling, and the dwellers stopped them and pointed them out.

The pygmies all have arrows tipped with a deadly poison, but they used none against their guests. Instead, they obtained their salt by dancing to them—songs strange and not unpleasant, dances which expressed love, sorrow, hatred, violence, war.

Earthquake in the Forest.

In the gloom of the forest, with only the flames from a log fire to light the scene, the picture must have been amazing. The pygmies seemed like elves or gnomes, squat, hairy little creatures, straight out of a book of fairy lore.

In good humor and kindness they danced the hours away, then vanished like elfin lightning, says Mr. Fairbairn. No wonder that for two thousand years white men scoffed at the old story that pygmies really existed in Africa.

It was like a dreamland, and when, later on, an earthquake threw down the party's temporary dwelling and damaged nothing but the house, it only seemed part of a waking dream.

Mr. Fairbairn has caught the glamour and thrill of travel in dangerous places, and he enables us to realize that yearning which all explorers have to visit again the scenes of their suffering and triumph.

UNCONDITIONAL YES

demand, was drawn up at a conference

this forenoon by the foreign ministers of Great Britain, France, Italy and Belgium.

This declaration was submitted to the supreme council of the Allies, when it met at 12.30 o'clock.

The proceedings in the council of foreign ministers, which comprised Lord

Curzon, Premier Briand, who also is the French foreign minister, Count Storza

and M. Jaspard, are described as having proceeded smoothly, and that they drew up the document to take its final form in the supreme council, it was explained.

The interval of a few days provided for the ultimatum of negotiation, it was stated, but to give the German Government time to reflect, the negotiations

being considered at an end.

The supreme council, presided by the draft of the document, after an hour's con-

p.m.

CAVALRY ENTAILS.

Paris, May 2.—The French Government, despite the lack of final action

by the supreme council in London on the reparations issue, is proceeding with foreign ministers. After an hour's consideration the council adjourned, until 5

p.m.

A brigade of cavalry was entraining

today at Meaux, to join a large detachment of infantry already on the way from Lyons, in addition to artillery from Vincennes and other garrisons, now on the move.

GERMANY IS GIVEN

TEN DAYS TO FULFILL

ALLIED DEMANDS

London, May 1.—The decision of the supreme council to accept a compromise between the policies of the French and the Belgians on the one hand and the British and the Italians on the other development of the conference of that body today. Last night when the members of the council separated

there seemed to be no prospect of a middle course.

All the sentiment of the French camp

appeared to be that France had drawn up her program for marching into the Ruhr, and proposed to go her way, with Belgium supporting her, regardless of her allies' milder counsels.

A Pleasant Surprise.

This development is likely to prove a pleasant surprise to the British public.

The Sunday Observer this morning

said of yesterday's proceedings:

"The position appeared like a clear path to the Allies, and it is the last thing Great Britain wants."

Between Two Fires.

The Government has been between two fires—the Liberal press, unanimously in the cabinet, and the Conservative press, which has been urged

by France, while part of the Conservative press contended that maintenance of the Allies was the first and most important consideration.

The Government also received from bankers and businessmen weighty protests against the French plans on the ground that it would lead to a collapse of the French economy, and this probably had considerable influence.

Have Willfully Failed.

Mr. Lloyd George, speaking in behalf of the cabinet at a conference said he had no desire to display the slightest leniency toward the Germans,

who had continually and willfully

failed to carry out their obligations.

He expressed the fullest sympathy with the French desire to resort to immediate action, but asked if that were the wisest course, considering the fact that the German inability had only just to this point of view, and added that the course of the United States had been absolutely correct.

Uncertainty still exists among the French delegates over the possibility that the United States may endeavor to mediate. They declare this would not be acceptable to them. The cause of this impression is not clear, but some of the delegates have made it understood that it does not originate with the French ambassador, M. Jusserand.

French Adverse to Delay.

M. Briand and the whole French delegation are sitting late tonight with General Nollet, president of the inter-

allied commission, who was summoned

by the French premier from Berlin to state his views.

Notwithstanding the agreement the French are not entirely satisfied with today's developments, and the idea of an ultimatum which is believed to have been largely due to the influence of the British ambassador to Germany,

Lord d'Abernon, M. Briand was adverse to delay, and it is reported that he has been endeavoring to make the German compliance, some move should be made today.

Indeed, the French premier had declared before the meeting of the council, he declared that the only plan of menace of new penalties for today. I mean by this that the necessary order for mobilization will be given and that I am in my position. I cannot act otherwise.

CONTINUE REPARATIONS.

LONDON, May 1.—A plan for reconciliation with the British and French views with regard to the steps to be taken to enforce the payment of reparations by Germany was submitted by M. Jaspard, Belgian foreign minister, at a meeting of the supreme council

this afternoon.

This plan now is under consideration

by the British cabinet, the Allied experts, and the other delegations, and it will be further discussed at another meeting of the council at 11 o'clock

Monday morning.

The plan would allow France to continue her preparations for the penalties

to be applied in view of the failure of Germany to comply with the terms of the treaty with respect to reparations

and war criminals, and at the same time would meet the British views that Germany would be given a short ex-

ension of time to meet the allied terms

and give guarantees.

M. Jaspard's plan proposes, first, that the terms should be submitted to Germany, and if they are not accepted, and that immediate military preparations

should be made to enforce the terms

at the conclusion of the period named in the ultimatum. Mr. Lloyd George did not object to the plan, but he

before consulting his cabinet, which he did soon after the council broke up.

Even then all that British officials would say was "there seems to be a movement of opinion on the part of the Allies favoring this suggestion."

Hope was expressed that the experts would submit a unanimous report on tomorrow's meeting of the council.

There was only a short meeting today of the council, the one fixed for this morning being called off, as the experts, who had been at work hours on the reparations plan, were called on to discuss the plan, and because of the new situation arising in view of the British learning of the reparations commission's report with regard to Germany's inebriety, and Mr. Lloyd George

however, had a half-hour's conversation.

The afternoon session, at which M.

Jaspard's proposal was submitted, added to a brief one, it was considered this should go before the experts, who

PROUD FATHER BOASTS OF 18

Only 13 of Family of British M. P. Now Living—Tells of Domestic Thrift.

LONDON, May 1.—Arthur Hayday, the Labor member of parliament whose name has recently been presented to the House with his eighteenth child, told me at the House of Commons about his big and ever-growing family. He gave a funny account of the ingenious economy and makeshifts that he and his thirty better half are compelled to devise and practice in order to maintain as extensive a household on the slender income of a British M. P. and a trade union official. Perhaps his wife sees fewer jokes than he does in the matter.

The late Theodore Roosevelt would have approved unreservedly of Arthur Hayday, who is fast qualifying as a modern rival of the celebrated "old woman who lived in a shoe." Like her, Hayday does not quite know what to do with so many, though he has learned a lot by experience. This Labor member of parliament, who represents West Nottingham in the House of Commons, has been married twice. He had nine children by his first wife, and has now been presented with a similar number by his second. Thirteen of his offspring are alive and nine are at Nottingham in his six-roomed house.

THRILLS IN HIS STORY OF TEXAS RANGERS

The Most Picturesque Set of Fighting Men World Has Ever Known.

TWO WARS AT ONCE

Date Back to Time When the Lone Star State Was Separate Republic.

DALLAS, May 1.—Texas is the only state which has the distinction, not to say privilege, of working out its own institutions before becoming a member of the Union, writes W. P. Urb of the history department of the University of Texas in the Dallas News.

This fact has given Texas a singular feeling of independence, and has enshrined the state's institutions with a peculiar interest for those who are proud of their heritage.

Her flag, her presidents, her foreign ambassadors, her army and navy, all have come in for a share of the song and story, the tradition of the Lone Star Republic.

Of all her institutions, however, Texas has none which has attracted more attention at home and abroad than the organization of the Texas Rangers.

The man on the street car of a northern city may have curious ideas about Texas and her inhabitants. He may think that Dallas is a city of the future, that it is a city of the future, that it is a city of the future.

He may believe that San Antonio is in constant danger from stray bullets let loose by Mexican revolutionaries, and he may think that Texas is a land of the future.

"Yes, my wife is an American," he told me, "and I have been twice in the United States, first as a trimmer and a freeman, sailing out of the Albert docks, and going to New York. In 1917 I went to Buffalo as delegate of the British trade union movement to the American Congress, and I have been in the States ever since."

FOREIGN BUYING IN RHINELAND IS SLIM

Few French Or British At Frankfurt Fair To Purchase Goods.

MERCHANTS COMPLAIN

Menace of Reparation Penalties and Restrictions by the French.

FRANKFORT, May 1.—If the Frankfurt fair is a barometer of the commercial situation today, there is an almost entire absence of French and British buying in the Rhineland and nine-tenths of the sales are for the German home markets. A French buyer told the New York Herald correspondent here that the decline in French prices makes the manufactured goods of France cheaper than those of Germany, while the customs restrictions make business between France and Germany hazardous. The Germans demand a payment in advance from the British and the French and an additional 100 per cent guarantee to cover every possible export duty.

The only foreign exhibitors are those from countries whose currency is depreciated. Many of the exhibitors are buying agricultural machinery, electrical goods and cutlery for storage in anticipation of the opening of a large trade with Russia. Also there are more than a hundred Swedish here buying for Russia and for the United States, while ten American buyers of textiles were here on the opening of the fair. Several hundred Dutch buyers also attended the opening and more are expected.

"Despite the German defeat, our industries have regained their stability," said Herr Suller, director of the fair. The principal exhibits are of machinery, textiles and leather goods.

See Anglo-French Pact.
In Frankfurt fair circles it is still heard the report that gained circulation several months ago that France and England had entered into a secret agreement whereby the French agreed to follow the British lead in the Near East and in Russia, while Great Britain trails after the French policy in connection with Germany. Many observers here declare that the report is borne out by occurrences in this region, as the present British policy in the Rhine is in sharp contrast with that of a year ago, when Frankfurt was occupied by French troops. Then the French only whispered discreetly of their intention to occupy the Ruhr basin. Now they proclaim it openly.

Conversations with Britons here give the impression that they are following the customs barrier program passively. The customs officials are mostly French. It was reported that the customs barrier became effective that the methods of application of it would come first from the French.

"At last we are following our policy unhindered," a French official said. "The Germans must be forced to realize that the reparations proposals are not a mere formality. Statements like that of Dr. Walter Simons, German foreign minister, when he asserted that 20,000,000 marks gold had been paid toward reparations are mere bluff and will provoke further sanctions" (penalties).

According to a French general official outlined include a prolonged occupation of Upper Silesia, with possible a customs barrier, and the occupation of the remainder of the Ruhr Basin. The French have let it be understood that they are uncertain regarding the economic consequences of the present sanctions and that they are postponing application of further sanctions as long as possible. One report said that the next move by the French would be the occupation of Danzig and Frankfurt.

Customs Returns at Border.
A move on the part of the French high commission of the Rhineland estimated that the revenue the Allies would collect through the customs measures would amount to three-quarters of a billion marks sold at cost. Now the French avoid making any estimate of this revenue, hinting that the present measures are more in the nature of showing the Allies' determination to enforce the reparations payments than they are in the way of a practical economic program.

Herr von Weinberg, a member of one of Germany's principal dye manufacturing concerns and a leading financier and real-estate owner, declared that the consequences of the 50 per cent tariff were not to be foreseen.

"The British alone, put the tariff into practical application," he said, "but there is no indication on their part to put the full 50 per cent into effect. The new customs barrier is intended to hamper us, and it is uneconomical and impractical. We anticipate trouble again by the creation of a military barrier between interlocked chemical works, but we are accustomed to these petty formalities."

More disgusting is the American agitation for the destruction of the German dye works on the childish pretext that we are preparing world destructive gases, while the hidden object of the Americans is a high tariff which would eliminate German competition. Better than these methods would be a practical proposition from American capitalists offering to buy participation in the German chemical works. They are buying our dye experts while we are importing American jockeys as the best in their line.

ATLANTIC PASSENGER SERVICE IN FULL SWING
Four Liners Docked At Montreal During Week-End.
MONTREAL, May 1.—The opening of the passenger season in this port this year is marked by a movement of passengers that would be heavy for any period of the year. Four liners, the Minnedosa, Canada and Metagama from Liverpool, and the Canadian Fisher, from the West Indies, docked here over the week-end, and a fifth, the Pretorian, from Glasgow, spent tonight anchored in the river, and will dock before tomorrow morning.

An outstanding feature of this movement is that the third-class passengers are almost 100 per cent British. On the Canada, there was a party of 350 specially brought by the Ontario Government. The majority of the Canadian Fisher's passengers left here tonight for the Maritime Provinces.

INTREPID YOUTHS OF TODAY DEFY CONVENTIONS OF DRESS

Young Men Attend Debutante Dances in Comfortable Dinner Jackets—Girls Don't Mind If They Make the Party "Peppy."

NEW YORK, May 1.—The younger generation continues to startle. Discussion rages in magazine articles and at dinner and at tea tables over the manners and morals of the young. The subject of a present violent discussion is about a sort of mutinous use of the Tuxedo. This time-honored garment was to be worn only at "stag" dinners, at clubs or possibly informally at home—never to be seen at a dinner where ladies were to appear. And now watch the young men as they line up from 11 o'clock on at any debutante dance. How many of them appear in anything but the comfortable tuxedo unless they have been to a formal dinner first? And, even then, how grudging is their donning the swallow-tail! Unless the ball is a decided exception to the rule, where summer frocks are worn, "friends of the family" are present, wearing conventional evening clothes, how few and far between are the full dress suits today. The opera seems to be almost the only surviving institution where intrepid youth does not venture in the beloved dinner jacket. There the old-time tradition seems to hold.

To the girls it doesn't matter much if the men come and in sufficient numbers to make a "peppy" party. The general vote of the young girls seems to be "What difference does it make what they wear? If they want to wear dinner jackets—let them. We don't care if they give us a heavy rush when they get there."

However casual one is about conventions of clothes, one must admit that some of the young men's costumes are remarkable. Dinner coats with stiff shirts and collars are one thing, but dinner jackets over casually informal polo shirts, soft shirts with collars that button down comfortably—well, certainly these are a long way from the agony of the stiff-collared, white-tied day of these young men's predecessors. One young man appeared recently at a party with a pleasantly informal sport shirt underneath a dinner jacket—a sport shirt with holes punched carefully through for shirt studs.

A topic of discussion at a recent dinner in New York was as to whether it wouldn't be quite possible for any presentable man, with sufficient nerve and quick sense of catching on to the routine of the thing, to go to almost any dance hall in New York to give his name at the correct moment, to be announced, and then to drift into the stag line and from there into the heart of the party. Of course, everyone knows that numbers of uninvited guests come in, dance a while and then pick the party to pieces if they are not pleased with their choice, and that nothing can be done by the hostess who has asked so many young men who are to her merely names on lists. But this type of uninvited guest was not the type the discussions centered on. The men who appear at some parties uninvited on the strength of others to which they have received invitations were—so the argument proceeded, climaxed from the discussion. One faction contended that it would be quite possible for a total unknown to walk in, give his name, march down the receiving line, pick out the girl who was being "heavily rushed" out in, and from that start, with sufficient savoir faire, make enough acquaintances to establish a very presentable appearance. The other faction contended that the savoir faire and the presence of mind to carry through such a case of "belonging" would necessitate a certain amount of background and training that anyone without these wouldn't do, such a thing and that without them it couldn't be done.

MILK DOWN TO ELEVEN CENTS A QUART—CREAM 16 CENTS A HALF PINT
Wet Weather Has Damaged Seed Sown On Low Grounds.

WOODSTOCK, May 1.—The price of milk supplied by the City Dairy here was reduced a cent a quart today. During the winter months the price has been 12 cents a quart; for the summer months it will be 11 cents a quart. By purchasing a ticket, patrons will secure a strip of 17 pint tickets for a dollar. The price of cream has dropped from 18 cents to 16 cents for a half pint.

Less Building in April.
Although not struck the gait it did a year ago, when the housing problem was so acute, the report of the building inspector shows that for the month of April $24,023 in permits was issued, a slight decrease over last year.

Fall Wheat Good.
A number of representative farmers of Oxford County in the city Saturday, asked as to the crop prospects, seem to have been rather discouraged by the continuous uncertainty of the weather. Farms on high land have been the most successful. There the grain has all been sown and is coming along fine. On the low lands the recent rains have resulted in drowning the seed, and, as a consequence, the land will have to be resown. From all districts, however, the reports on fall wheat crops have been very favorable. Some farmers are already preparing the land for corn.

YOUTHS EGG AUTOISTS; FACE COURT CHARGES
Barricade Also Alleged To Have Been Erected Across Highway.

ST. THOMAS, May 1.—Charges were laid today against half a dozen youths, all sons of prominent farmers, of holding up and impeding travel on the road between New Sarum and Mapleton. The program of sports opened on Thursday night, when George Macaulay, Mapleton was "slugged" with very bad eggs as he was proceeding leisurely home in the family auto, and later Arthur Wismer, another farmer, was held up by a barricade across the highway, and fearing bandits and gunmen, did not wait to pull down the rails, but opened the throttle of his car and cleared the barrier. Mr. Wismer stopped at Macaulay's on the way north, and putting two and two together, started a hunt for the "miscreants." The crowd of lads were rounded up, and information laid Saturday. Other autoists are now making complaints of the presence of hold-uppers during the week on the road to Mapleton.

Mr. Sweet Repentant.
Excusing his conduct, which was both forward and forcible, to being overloaded with London liquid when arraigned a week ago before the magistrate, Edward J. Sweet's apology was accepted, and he was allowed to go Saturday on payment of $15 and costs. Mr. Sweet abused the court officials from the chief down to the sergeant-at-arms the morning after the night he was prosecuted.

The Official Count.
The official count of the vote given in the recent referendum will be made by Returning Officer H. C. Cameron on Wednesday in the council committee-room at the city building.

Other than a possible error in some of the divisions made in the transfer of the results to the blanks in the printed returns, the figures may not vary much from those announced in the local press.

BRUCE COUNTY PRESS ASSOCIATION MEETING
Eleven Papers Represented at Gathering—Officers Elected.

WALKERTON, May 1.—Eleven newspapers of Bruce County were represented at the annual meeting of the Bruce Press Association which was held here Saturday.

Lorne Reedy of the Walkerton Telescope, was chairman. Many topics of interest to the fraternity were discussed. J. J. Hunter of Kincaid and Wm. McDonald of Chesley leading the discussion. A resolution was passed, endorsing and strongly commending the work of the officers during the past year. Lorne Reedy of Walkerton was re-elected president, and D. McKenzie of Paisley, secretary for the coming year.

FIND GOLD ON FARM.
OTTAWA, May 1.—Gold has been discovered on the 400-acre farm of Robert Joint, near Kazubazua, in the Gatineau district, Quebec, 45 miles north of here. Provincial Government assays give as high as $21 value per ton of ore. It is said that already 3,000 acres have been staked by persons from this city and neighborhood.

INGERSOLL AND BELL PHONE COMPANIES CONSUMMATE DEAL

Local Company Will Take Over Bell Plant On July 1.

INGERSOLL, May 1.—Present indications point to the Ingersoll Telephone Company acquiring the local interests of the Bell Company about July 1. The consummation of the deal was discussed by officials of the companies at a conference at Montreal last week and this was the date decided upon. In the meantime, there is a vast amount of work to be completed. The engineers will be kept busy, and much is to be done by way of valuation. Interest has been added to the local industrial situation by the announcement that the Bell-Ridgely ironing board, a nationally advertised household article, will shortly be manufactured here. The right to manufacture in Canada has been obtained by Herbert Swallow, until recently manager of the Ingersoll Pipe Company, and G. C. Ellis of the Ellis Furniture Company. Manufacturing will be done at the Ellis factory, Thames street.

The announcement has been made that G. L. Alexander, who has been manager of the local branch of the Imperial Bank since May, 1919, will become manager of a new branch at Walkerville. At present Mr. Alexander, with his family is returning from California, where he spent the winter months.

WINDSOR, May 1.—Loretta Charbonneau, six years old, 828 Langlois avenue, was instantly killed on Saturday, when she stepped in front of a motor truck driven by Stanley Woollett of Walkerville. The child, who was both deaf and dumb, and was playing ball on the street, did not hear the horn of the truck, according to Woollett.

U. S. TAKES FIRST OFFICIAL STEP TOWARD PEACE

WASHINGTON, May 1.—The first step of the Harding administration toward placing the United States on a technical legal basis of peace, was taken last night by the Senate in adopting the Knox peace resolution. The vote for adoption was 49 to 22. The resolution now goes to the House of Representatives with prospect of prompt action there. There is no change in the resolution as reported by the Senate foreign relations committee. It will repeal the war resolutions concerning Germany and Austria-Hungary, release alien enemy property and reserve to the United States all rights and privileges under the treaty of Versailles and open peace treaties.

An effort to amend the resolution made by Senator Townsend, Republican, Michigan, who moved to strike out the clause repealing the war declaration and substitute a simple declaration of peace, was defeated, 44 to 26.

CAYUGA
Cayuga, April 30.—The flu is still prevalent among the horses in town, but no cases are considered serious. One hundred and forty dollars were realized by the local Dramatic Club when they gave the fourth presentation of "The Arrival of Kitty" at Selkirk on Tuesday. The night was perfect, and the hall was jammed with an appreciative audience. The proceeds were turned over to the Soldiers' Memorial Fund, which has now benefited by the sum of $250 from Cayuga's clever amateurs.

Building operations are moving in town. Charles Drucchi's house is shingled and ready for the siding. M. J. Ribbey's is progressing rapidly, and R. J. Hinds has men at work on his.

RUTHVEN
RUTHVEN, April 30.—The snowstorm which covered this district ten days ago is now showing results. It is claimed by the growers that there is something in these April snows that fertilizes the ground and makes vegetation come quicker and puts pep into every kind of plant. The peach, pear and apple trees are loaded with bloom. Every hot-house is taxed to its limit with early plants of different varieties. The early tomato plants were never in better condition than at present. The corn ground will be ready in a few days.

What Can You Do To Save a Man's Life?

Accident—any one of the hundred accidents that happen daily! Do they leave you gasping, open-mouthed, standing wondering what to do while some fellow-creature is losing his life's blood?

Or are you trained in first-aid? Can you lend a hand to stop the flow of life?

Many a man's life is saved each year by the St. John Ambulance Society. First aid to the injured is the work this organization undertakes so well.

The training of citizens in the laws of first-aid, the stationing of first-aid hospitals, nurses and trained attendants where crowds gather and where accidents are liable to happen are all part of the plan they carry out.

You may be the next person to be saved by a St. John Ambulance worker.

The work of the St. John Ambulance Society will go on during 1921 by the aid of the United Welfare Fund Association.

There is no change in the resolution as reported by the Senate foreign relations committee. It will repeal the war resolutions concerning Germany and Austria-Hungary, release alien enemy property and reserve to the United States all rights and privileges under the treaty of Versailles and open peace treaties.

An effort to amend the resolution made by Senator Townsend, Republican, Michigan, who moved to strike out the clause repealing the war declaration and substitute a simple declaration of peace, was defeated, 44 to 26.

CAYUGA
Cayuga, April 30.—The flu is still prevalent among the horses in town, but no cases are considered serious. One hundred and forty dollars were realized by the local Dramatic Club when they gave the fourth presentation of "The Arrival of Kitty" at Selkirk on Tuesday. The night was perfect, and the hall was jammed with an appreciative audience. The proceeds were turned over to the Soldiers' Memorial Fund, which has now benefited by the sum of $250 from Cayuga's clever amateurs.

Building operations are moving in town. Charles Drucchi's house is shingled and ready for the siding. M. J. Ribbey's is progressing rapidly, and R. J. Hinds has men at work on his.

Far Cheaper Than Gas, Coal or Wood

Hundreds of Londoners, determined to cut the cost of kitchen fuels, are turning to hydro for the advantages and economies of electric cooking.

Be up to date—the electric stove is as far ahead of old-time devices burning gas, oil, coal and wood as electric light is ahead of a tallow candle.

Electric cookery is the housewife's ideal. Nothing overdone or underdone. Perfect and simple control insures delicious, nutritious foods.

No fire or ashes to handle; no matches; no smoke; no fumes; no dirt; no danger of fires or explosions.

Any desired degree of heat comes instantly at the turn of a switch.
