Assures Investigation of Middlesex County Police Court

RANEY TO ACT ON PLEA FROM LONDON M.L.A.

Attorney-General to Order Withdrawal of Authority From Chittick Pending Probe.

BEEN 20 YEARS ON BENCH

Action Follows Alleged Persecution of Motorists by District Constables.

"A complete and immediate probe into the Middlesex County judiciary, including the force of county constables."

Such is the assurance from the Hon. W. E. Raney, Ontario's attorney-general, following a direct plea for action emanating from Dr. Hugh A. Stevenson, M. L. A. for London, who submitted his case Friday afternoon at a special session of the provincial cabinet.

A special representative will come to this county from the attorney-general's department, it is reported, to investigate conditions fully, and in the meanwhile Police Magistrate A. H. M. Graydon will be directed to withdraw all authority from Squire W. H. Chittick, who presides in the Middlesex county police court.

Squire Chittick has dispensed justice in the latter court for more than 20 years. A few days ago, however, Dr. Stevenson, entering the court in question while the squire was presiding, questioned him as to whether he had received the proper authority from the police magistrate.

While the squire replied that "he thought so," Police Magistrate Graydon subsequently declared that he could not remember whether he had given him written authority or otherwise.

For weeks past there has been an increasing amount of the motorist's public respecting the alleged tactics employed among the county's police and their officials, and rarely a day passed but when a defendant in a motor case brought witnesses into court to prove his innocence, the case was either miles away at the time of the alleged offense or else was sick in bed.

PRESENTS CASE. TORONTO, Aug. 11.—Dr. H. A. Stevenson, M. L. A., London, today visited the attorney-general with a request for an investigation of statements of several motorists who allege persecution on the part of constables in his riding who are working under the fee system.

Dr. Stevenson informed the attorney-general that the complaints were from the country only where motorists claim that they are haled to court for the smallest infractions of minor traffic rules.

Dr. Stevenson furnished the department with the information that these cases were being tried by a former J. P. who informed him that he was deputed to do so by Magistrate.

REGARDS STRIKE AS "REVOLUTION"

Hon. James Murdock Addresses Liberals of Vancouver.

Vancouver, Aug. 12.—Expressing the conviction that the action of the United States railroad labor board in "trying to force compulsory arbitration down the throats of labor" had compelled the railroad workers of the United States to defy the laws of that country, Hon. James Murdock, minister of labor, told a gathering of Vancouver Liberals last night that he thought the situation in the United States was "a revolution in the guise of a strike."

"The United States railroad labor board," he continued, "has decreed that striking railwaymen have no longer any status to negotiate with the companies."

The men, he thought, were being coerced to work under conditions which made them reluctant to work, and this was something which labor would not tolerate. The minister of labor left for Victoria last night.

ACCEPTS RESIGNATION OF ST. KITTS TRUSTEE

St. Catharines, Ont., Aug. 12.—Board of education last night accepted the resignation of Mrs. T. F. Wright as trustee, she having found it impossible to consistently work in harmony with the board in carrying out construction of the new collegiate institute and vocational school on a site which met with much opposition.

Her seat will be taken by A. E. Greenlaw, who stood next in order at the election in January. The cornerstone of the new building will be laid Oct. 6.

'LISTEN IN' FOR CHARITY'S SAKE

Margaret Wants Doggie and Doll To Hear Concert

LONDON, Aug. 12.—Everyone possessing the radio equipment listened in on a radio concert in England recently for the sake of charity. The radio was one of the attractions to the fair of the Dog Kennel Hill, held in aid of the English Combined Hospitals Appeal. For sixpence a visitor could hear special radio concerts transmitted by the Marconi station. This is one of the groups that "listened in."

U. F. A. HEAD IS NONCOMMITTAL

Wood Refers All to Premier On Wheat Board Chairmanship.

Conference Seeking Right Men To Serve Organization.

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 12.—H. W. Wood, Calgary, president of the United Farmers of Alberta, would neither confirm or deny that he would not accept the chairmanship of the proposed wheat board when questioned here last night. "You will have to see Premier Greenfield," said Mr. Wood. "I would like to tell you all there is to tell, but must leave that to Mr. Greenfield, if he has any statement to make. I return tonight to Calgary. My work here is finished so far as I am concerned."

Mr. Greenfield declared that he would not have any statement to issue. He said he would be staying over here during today, but how long he would remain he did not know. "I will stay here until I am finished," he said he could say. He said he might make a statement today, but was not certain even as to that. He said he had not yet seen Premier Bracken of Manitoba. No statement of the conference is expected until a decision either one way or the other has been reached. It is believed that the members of the conference intend to go ahead with the organization of the board if they can secure the right men to serve on it.

On the other hand, no statement of the board's abandonment is expected until it has been proved definitely that it could not be put in shape to successfully handle this year's crop.

WORKING MAN

Berlin, Aug. 12.—This fellow is just one of the 26,000 who took part in the greatest workingmen's carnival ever held in Germany. It required 110 special trains to take the contestants to Leipzig. The one shown here was the smallest.

WILL INVESTIGATE SHIP EXPLOSION

New York, N. Y., Aug. 12.—An investigation of the explosion in the No. 3 hold on the White Star liner Adriatic yesterday morning, which caused the death of five and injured four more of the crew, will begin as soon as the vessel reaches port, some time tomorrow afternoon, according to company officials.

Spontaneous combustion of the gases generated in the coal, being carried for use on the return trip of the ship, was given as the cause of the blast, but marine engineers here said they could not understand how enough gas could collect in the hold to cause an explosion such as the Adriatic reported by radio while 300 miles off Portland, Me.

U. S. HOLDS BEER SHIPPED ACROSS STATE TO CANADA

Portland, Me., Aug. 12.—Seventy-five barrels of beer seized at Holey on the Canadian border by Customs Collector James A. Smyth on Aug. 4, while being shipped from Montreal to Truro, N. S., on a Canadian Pacific Railway freight train across Northern Maine, were libelled yesterday by Federal District Attorney Frederick R. Dyer. This is the first action of the kind in Maine since passage of the Volstead act, which forbids transportation of liquor from one foreign country to another across American territory, unless it is in bond and a permit has been secured from prohibition enforcement officials. No such permit covered this shipment.

PRESIDENT OF DAIL EIREANN DIES IN DUBLIN

Belfast, Aug. 12.—Arthur Griffith, president of the Dail Eireann, died in Dublin today of influenza. It has been learned in Belfast.

In fact, Mr. Griffith had responded to his treatment so well that he was able to leave the hospital daily for his official duties, returning to the institution at night.

This morning he ate a hearty breakfast, and was going upstairs when he suddenly collapsed. He was carried into his room, and a doctor was summoned. He said Mr. Griffith was suffering from a cerebral hemorrhage. A priest was then sent for, and he had just finished administering the last rites of the church when Mr. Griffith expired.

PRESIDENT OF DAIL EIREANN DIES IN DUBLIN

Arthur Griffith Passes Away From Attack of Influenza.

WAS NOTED LEADER

Took Important Part in Creation of Irish Free State.

Belfast, Aug. 12.—Arthur Griffith, president of the Dail Eireann, died in Dublin today of influenza. It has been learned in Belfast.

In fact, Mr. Griffith had responded to his treatment so well that he was able to leave the hospital daily for his official duties, returning to the institution at night.

This morning he ate a hearty breakfast, and was going upstairs when he suddenly collapsed. He was carried into his room, and a doctor was summoned. He said Mr. Griffith was suffering from a cerebral hemorrhage. A priest was then sent for, and he had just finished administering the last rites of the church when Mr. Griffith expired.

The death of Arthur Griffith, coming with such startling suddenness, marks the passing of one of the foremost figures in modern Ireland. He was one of the most conspicuous leaders in the creation of the New Irish Free State.

He was one of the founders of the Sinn Fein movement in Ireland, and from the beginning has been among the foremost leaders directing its activities. He has been somewhat out of the limelight, however, during recent military activities, which have been largely directed on behalf of the Free State forces by Michael Collins, head of the Irish provisional government, set up under the terms of the Anglo-Irish treaty.

Mr. Griffith was formerly an editor of Dublin, and later established the newspaper United Irishmen, followed by the Sinn Fein, and then the Nationality. He first attracted attention by his uncompromising attitude for abstention by Irish members from attendance of the sessions of the British Parliament at Westminster. This idea gradually formed the nucleus of the Sinn Fein organization, which took the place of the Irish Nationalist movement.

In October, 1917, Griffith was elected presiding officer for the opening of the Sinn Fein conference in Dublin. He was later nominated as Sinn Fein delegate from East Cavan. During the peace conference at Paris in 1919, he was chosen as an Irish delegate to present the Irish case, but failure to get a safe conduct from the British government prevented his attendance. In July, 1919, Griffith was elected acting president of the Irish National Assembly, in the absence of Eamon De Valera, who was in the United States. In October, of the same year, he was elected one of the permanent vice-presidents of the Sinn Fein organization.

Griffith was arrested in Dublin in November, 1920, and spent seven months in Mountjoy prison. During his imprisonment he issued a message.

LONDON FACTORIES NOT HARD HIT BY COAL STRIKE

STILL HAVE SUPPLY.

LITTLE effect is being felt in London industrially through the continued strike of United States miners, according to statements made to The Advertiser during the last 24 hours by the heads of the largest steel and coal using factories located here. Though in some directions the situation had been a decided hindrance, the trend of factory executives' reports is optimistic.

The largest bituminous coal-using industry in the city is the City Gas Company, and it would be the earliest to feel the cramp of the coal situation.

James Young, general manager of the company, stated that the supply of bituminous coal now on hand, though not bountiful, was plenty for the firm's requirements.

"Five cars were received Thursday and five Friday," he said. "It's not so much the coal strike as the railroad strike that is bothering us now, for we are getting lots of coal, coming, of course, at a price."

"Our present supplies are received from non-union mines in Kentucky and West Virginia, and there is very little prospect of a shortage."

The second largest users of bituminous coal in the city are the London Rolling Mills. Charles White, manager of the company, spoke less optimistically than Mr. Young about the coal supply.

"We have been running on our supply on hand all summer," he said. "We were pretty well stocked, but if the strike keeps up it will mean a shutdown."

"It's pretty bad then?" Mr. White was asked.

"Well, not so bad now, but it will be soon," he declared.

"Do you think it will soon be over?"

"I only know what I see in the newspapers," Mr. White replied.

Virtually the same condition exists with regard to London industries.

RAIL STRIKE IN U. S. ASSUMES SERIOUS ASPECT

Paralysis of Transportation Threatens as "Big Four" Men Quit Work.

PROTEST USE OF GUARDS

Crews Abandon Santa Fe Trains in Arizona Desert.

BULLETIN.

Washington, Aug. 12.—Promise of an early answer by the seven striking shopmen's unions to President Harding's latest and "final" strike settlement proposal was seen in an announcement from the White House that the railroad union leaders had made an engagement to call at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon on the president.

Chicago, Aug. 12.—The strike of United States rail shopmen's unions adopted today as the walkout entered its seventh week.

Paralysis of railroad transportation in various sections, particularly the far west, northwest and southwest, threatened as "big four" brotherhood men abandoned work or called meetings to consider quitting in protest against presence of armed guards on railroad properties or against handling allegedly defective equipment.

The trainmen's walkout started when crews tied up transcontinental Santa Fe trains in the California and Arizona deserts, and freight traffic on the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern, outer belt line for the Chicago Steel and shipping districts and has gradually taken on importance during the last 24 hours.

Switchmen joined engineers, firemen, conductors and brakemen in protests against working where troops, deputy United States marshals and other guards were on strike duty at former trouble centers. Clerks on the Santa Fe coast lines were authorized to walk off their jobs if they considered conditions unsatisfactory.

Another Pacific firemen's strike, the walkout tying up limited passenger trains at Ogden, Utah.

The added menace came as railroad heads who met in New York prepared their reply to President Harding's proposals for ending the shopmen's strike, which began July 1, and were expected to render their reply to President Harding's "final" peace proposal.

Although several Santa Fe passenger trains held up by the strike at California points were backed into Los Angeles, other transcontinental Turn to Page 11, Column 3.

BLACK KNIGHTS TO CELEBRATE

Big Program To Be Presented At Queen's Park Today.

Speakers To Include Men Prominent in Orange Order.

Thirty preceptories of Orange lodges of the Royal Black Knights of the British Commonwealth will be represented by large delegations at the grand Derry Day celebration being held at Queen's Park this afternoon. The visitors will be drawn from all the Black Knight lodges in the counties of Lambton, South Huron, Perth, Essex, Kent, Oxford and Elgin.

H. P. Knight, Middlesex County master, estimated the number of lodgesmen who will parade in the afternoon at 1,000, and the number who will attend the celebration in the park this afternoon from 2,000 to 3,000.

A long list of speakers will address the meeting in the park. H. P. Knight will act as chairman, and the following will speak: Rev. Norman L. Tucker, Cameron Wilson, Rev. W. H. Dunbar of Listowel, Rev. M. Snell of Wingham, E. T. Essery, past grand master, Rev. Roy Mess, and Rev. William Lowe, past grand chaplain.

Hon. William Coote, member for South Tyrone, Ireland, in the Imperial and Ulster parliaments, was expected to attend the gathering and speak, but he will be unable to do so, on account of a prior engagement to speak in Detroit.

The parade, with several bands, will form up on Queen's avenue at 1:30 sharp, march west to Talbot street, down Talbot street to Dundas, and down Dundas to Queen's Park.

Large delegations from Sarnia and Windsor preceptories and other Western Ontario cities began to arrive early this morning in preparation for the afternoon's program.

The celebration of Derry Day is in commemoration of the raising of the siege of Londonderry in the year 1688.

DR. M'EACHERN SAYS FACILITIES UNSURPASSED

Director of Hospital Standardization Completes Annual Inspection.

LAUDS WESTERN MEDS.

Infers That Local Institution Is Well Up On List.

Declaring, without reservation, that Victoria Hospital, unsurpassed for efficiency, may be regarded as a model for the continent, and that the case recording system employed is, in his opinion, the best in Canada, Dr. MacEachern, director of hospital standardization for Canada and director-general of Victorian Order of Nurses, who concluded a two-day inspection of Victoria Hospital Friday, asserts that London should be proud of its health facilities for the prevention and cure of disease.

Dr. MacEachern, in an interview with The Advertiser, points out that eleven years as a hospital superintendent qualifies him to speak on this subject, and in addition to commending Victoria Hospital, he lauded Western University Medical School and the type of graduates which this institution turns out into the world each year.

Operating under the auspices of the American College of Surgeons, in an international movement, Dr. MacEachern's visit to London is a significant one, in that it is for the purpose of grading Victoria Hospital in comparison to others of fifty beds and more in the United States. Membership in the American College of Surgeons represents Canadian members of the medical profession, in addition to those across the border.

Hospitals Approved Yearly. All institutions on the continent reaching the required standards are admitted to the list of "Approved Hospitals," published annually, and this year's announcement will not be made until Oct. 23, by his own words, Dr. MacEachern has admitted that Victoria Hospital will be well up on the list.

In addition to praising the hospital operating here, Dr. MacEachern commended Superintendent Thomas Heard and Dr. Roy Kingswood, chief resident physician at Victoria Hospital, for their efficient work. Superintendent Heard has been on duty for years, and is well-known to citizens, while Dr. Kingswood is a London boy and a graduate of Western University Medical School.

Should Be Proud. "London surely has reason to be proud of its health facilities to prevent and cure disease," Dr. MacEachern informed The Advertiser. "The manner in which this medical center is being built up is beyond doubt the proper way to proceed. The organization and equipment of this teaching medical center insures one thing positively, and that is the turning out of well-trained, thorough competent and practical men."

BRITISH BUY LESS CANADIAN BACON

Department of Agriculture Reports Diminishing Markets in United Kingdom.

Ottawa, Aug. 12.—(By the Canadian Press.)—The fact that Canada had largely lost the place in the British market which she gained during the war, is confirmed here by officials of the meat and canned goods division of the department of agriculture.

The peak of the Canadian bacon shipments to the United Kingdom was reached in 1918, when in round figures two hundred million pounds were shipped. An exact comparison is not available, as present-day statistics do not show bacon separately from hams, shoulders and sides, but on the latter basis the comparison indicates that the Canadian exports in these four pork products has fallen to less than half what it was.

Not raising sufficient number of the right class of hogs is given as the cause of this falling off.

REPORTS WOOD DECLINES POST

Ottawa Hears Calgary Man
Refuses to Head Wheat Board.

Cabinet Decides To Appoint
Chairman Selected Without Delay.

OTTAWA, Aug. 11.—(By Canadian Press).—H. W. Wood, Calgary, president of the United Farmers of Alberta, and the Canadian Council of Agriculture, has definitely refused to accept the chairmanship of the wheat board, it was reported here this afternoon on good authority. Mr. Wood was nominated by the governments of Saskatchewan and Alberta after James Stewart of Winnipeg had declined to accept the chairmanship.

The opinion is gaining strength in official circles that owing to the difficulty in securing a satisfactory chairman, there will be no wheat board to handle this year's crop, and its organization will be deferred until next year.

It is understood that if efforts to organize a board to handle the 1922 crop are to be continued, the chairmanship will be offered next to Hon. T. A. Cramer, leader of the National Progressive party.

ATTITUDE UNCHANGED.

OTTAWA, Aug. 11.—The attitude of the federal government in regard to wheat board remains unchanged. Following a meeting of the cabinet this afternoon, Premier King said that the government stood ready to appoint the man selected by the Prairie Provinces without delay. He agreed that there must be speedy action on the part of the provincial governments if the board was to handle the 1922 crop. It was a matter for the provinces, and not the federal government, however.

LACK CONFIRMATION.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 11.—No confirmation of the report could be obtained here this evening. The action would not be surprising, however, to those who have knowledge of the present situation.

IRISH SOCIETY COMPLETES ARRANGEMENTS FOR PICNIC

Prepare Interesting Program of Sports for Big Outing at Port Stanley.

All is practically ready for the 46th annual picnic of the Irish Benevolent Society of London, which will be held at Port Stanley on Thursday next, Aug. 17. The bands are engaged, the sports program has been mapped out, and the baby show, dancing, etc., arranged. Valuable prizes are being hung up for every event.

The Irish are never small about anything, and when they hold a picnic they want everybody to join with them in having a good time. Thus the English, Scotch, and babies, from everywhere may compete in the baby show and stand the same chance of winning as though they were Irish as the Irish themselves.

Arrangements are being made to have some Irish films at the free movies on the beach for the Irish picnic, and Prof. Angelo Rossini, leader of the L. and P. S. orchestra, announces that he is preparing a special program of the choicest Irish music for the occasion. The two brass bands have also been instructed to play Irish music and plenty of it. Chairman Ed. Ryan is most emphatic on this point.

President Little has received intimations that prominent Irishmen from many parts of the district are coming for the banquet, which will be held in the L. and P. S. Cafeteria in the evening. There Irish music and Irish speeches will be the order, and a splendid time is expected by all.

RUMANIANS SLAY SCORE OF JEWS

BUDAPEST, Aug. 11.—Forty Jews, sentenced for various political offences, were executed by the Rumanian military authorities, despite the recent amnesty decree by the king, says a report today to the local Magyar press.

The prisoners are said to have been shot one by one.

EX-PREMIER TO SPEAK AT PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE

WINNIPEG, Aug. 11.—Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader, is to address a mass meeting Monday next in Portage la Prairie City, in the constituency which defeated him and elected a Progressive last December.

He is to be accompanied by Major F. E. Taylor, M.L.A., the provincial leader. Mr. Meighen is expected in Winnipeg Saturday on his way to Vancouver, where he is to address the British Columbia Conservative convention.

AN ANGLER'S PARADISE.

Two hundred miles north of Toronto and one hundred and seventy miles west of Ottawa, is situated Algonquin Park, where the fishing this year is better than it has been for some time. Great catches are being made—black bass running three and four pounds, speckled trout three pounds, and salmon trout up to twenty-five pounds. This park is ideal for the camper and canoeist, and good hotel accommodation makes it the popular spot for the summer vacationist, who does not like to rough it. Ask any Canadian National-Grand Trunk agent about it, or write to C. E. Horning, D.P.A., G.T.R., Toronto, Ont.

MAY ATTEMPT TO REFLOAT CRUISER

Arrival of Wrecking Tugs To Assist Raleigh Expected
Hourly.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Aug. 11.—If the present fair weather holds there is a possibility that the British cruiser Raleigh, aground on Point Amour Bay, returning from a cruise along the coast of Labrador, may be refloated, according to reports reaching here tonight from the scene of the wreck. The sea was smooth in the Strait of Belle Isle, the report said, and the arrival of wrecking tugs was expected hourly.

Vessels sent from Quebec by the Canadian government when the grounding of the Raleigh was reported by wireless were due at Point Amour tonight. The cruiser struck early Wednesday morning, during a dense fog while making for Forteau Bay, returning from a cruise along the coast of Labrador. The tender Calcutta is still standing by.

The 800 officers and men of the Raleigh, who landed safely on the bleak coast after their vessel went aground, were taken on board yesterday by the Steamship of France, and will be landed at Southampton, England.

As St. John's is 600 miles from the wreck and the operations are under the control of the British admiralty, it has been difficult to obtain news here.

U. S. SENATE APPROVES FLEXIBLE TARIFF BILL

Indorse Plan For President to Raise or Lower Rates Until July 1, 1924.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—A flexible tariff plan proposing authority for the president to increase or decrease tariff rates in the pending bill until July 1, 1924, was approved tonight by the Senate.

President Harding in a letter today to Chairman McCumber of the finance committee, read to the Senate, not only urged that a flexible tariff be provided for, but that the tariff commission be made the agency for investigation and recommendation for changes in tariff rates.

FORMER RESIDENT OF ONTARIO DIES IN WEST

WINNIPEG, Aug. 11.—David McNaught, for eight years a member of the Manitoba Legislature, died today, aged 82.

He started life in Penpont, Dumfriesshire, Scotland, and lived in Mitchell, Brantford and Seaford, Ont., before moving to the West. He graduated from the blacksmith trade to a veterinary surgeon in Ontario.

STRATFORD SALE OF STAMPS INCREASES

Special to London Advertiser.
STRATFORD, Aug. 11.—Since the first of the month, when the new stamp tax went into effect, the sale of stamps in Stratford has totalled $1,700.

This, according to officers of the customs and inland revenue department, is over three times the sales for an average month.

Tobacco Growers Protest Low Price Now Being Paid For Product.

Special to London Advertiser.
ST. THOMAS, Aug. 11.—A car of tobacco from the Sparta district was loaded at the Michigan Central here Friday for Kingsville, and although the crop is reported to be of good quality only 6 cents a pound was received for it.

Farmers who have cultivated tobacco extensively this year are disappointed at the low figure being paid for it, and claim that the price is arbitrarily fixed to their disadvantage.

Babe Dies in St. Thomas Hospital After Eating Lye At Neighbor's

ST. THOMAS, Aug. 11.—A distressing tragedy occurred Friday morning, when Norman Hubert Hart, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hartwell, corner of First avenue and Talbot street, died in Amasa Wood Hospital as a result of eating from a can of lye.

On Wednesday the baby, who was a little over a year old, crept unseen from his home into a neighboring apartment, where in some manner he got possession of a can of powdered lye. When he was found he had consumed enough of the poison to defeat valiant efforts to save his life. He died soon after being taken to the hospital.

Besides the disconsolate parents, he leaves to mourn one brother Charles, and one sister Florence.

The funeral will take place Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the grandmother's residence, No. 12 Burrows avenue, to the Union Cemetery.

TILLSONBURG, Aug. 11.—The 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Gray, North Broadway, was seriously, if not fatally hurt this evening when struck by an automobile.

Accompanied by three children the parents were proceeding home, and were offered a ride by a neighbor.

The young lad started across the road above the Grand Trunk bridge, then turned backward, and was struck in the head by a car and run over.

The injured child was removed to Dr. Weston's office, and concussion of the brain is feared. He also received severe bruises about the body.

He is now in the hospital, where he is being cared for by his wife.

The feeling at headquarters is that the arrest has no direct bearing on the small case. But may supply an angle, and is being sifted by Mitchell.

When the story came out last June about a man and a woman leaving a grip in a hotel in Montreal and there was a letter found about the Small case, Chief of Police Dickson decided to investigate the case thoroughly, and sent Sergeant Mitchell down east.

At police headquarters the opinion prevails the story about Mr. Small is the talk of some "crazy woman."

But the police avoid word from Sergeant Mitchell. The Small case has been a big strain on the police, and when the news came out that arrests had been made every officer at headquarters expressed the hope it would solve the mystery.

Richard H. Greer, K.C., who has acted as special investigator for the government in connection with the Small case, and was Crown prosecutor when John Doughty, Small's secretary, was convicted, said he had no definite knowledge of the arrests or anything about such people.

"But I have an idea it may bring something to light," stated Mr. Greer. "That is only an idea, nothing more."

RECOMMEND FARMER AS REGISTRAR FOR OXFORD

Vacant Office Expected To Be Filled
By Young War Veteran.

Special to London Advertiser.

WOODSTOCK, Aug. 11.—It has been learned that the position of registrar for the county of Oxford that was made vacant by the death of G. R. Pattullo some time ago is to be filled by the appointment of a young farmer from the vicinity of Thamesford, a man with an overseas record by the name of Sinton.

This choice has been recommended to the Drury cabinet.

TEACHERS NEED FOR UNDERSTANDING

Right Thinks Time For a Showdown in Educational Affairs.
Believes Ratepayers Desire Auditoriums in City School.

Predicting that the time for a showdown between the board of education and the city council was far distant, School Trustee J. B. Wright, chairman of the Technical School committee, defended, Saturday morning, the construction of city schools with adequate auditoriums. "I see that our major complaint is in opposing the suggestion that we have an auditorium in the new public school in southeast London," the chairman commented. "Well, I think that there will be something pretty soon, and we'll see that it is going to run the educational side in this city. The school board, the aldermen and mayor. I have always been favorable to an auditorium scheme, not in every school, but I do believe that there should at least be one school in each district with an auditorium. East London should have one as well as West South or North London." Trustee Wright pointed out that the question was, of course, revenue. Earnest consideration of the trustees in due course, despite any opinion that may have been expressed, he added, by Mayor Wilson or the aldermen in the city council. "If the ratepayers of the city desire schools with auditoriums," said the chairman, "and there is every indication that they regard them with favor, they will insist upon having them despite opposition that may be registered elsewhere."

Touching briefly upon the latest charge in connection with the new Central Collegiate Institute that it was of better quality than specified in the contract were employed, Trustee Wright questioned "What of it?"

"I fail to see where it would make any difference," he commented, "if we used gold bricks, so long as they were good ones and suited the purpose. Everyone knows or should do that tenders were called for and the contract let to the most expensive brick, why worry about it?"

Ridiculing the entire issue, Trustee Wright pointed out that energy expended in such criticism might well be utilized toward a more favorable solution of the school accommodation problem.

FISH ASSOCIATION TO HOLD OUTING

Pond Mills Organization Plans Delightful Time for Members, August 23.

At a meeting of the Pond Mills committee of the Western Ontario Fish and Game Protective Association, held in a court house on Thursday night, plans were made for the annual picnic of the ponds. A previous meeting had been set for Saturday, August 19, but was later found to be inconvenient, so that date it would be impossible to obtain the services of an orchestra, and the picnic was postponed to Saturday, August 26, and in addition to the regular afternoon outing, the association will hold a corn roast in the evening.

One of the leading features will be the Chris Kirk Quartet, and the music will be under the direction of the Tony Orchestra. The committee has arranged a good program for all, and a large turnout of members is anticipated. The picnic grounds are now in fine condition, several changes having been made.

The corn roast has been ideal for the past with the red, and several large bass have been taken recently.

Members will be notified in a few days to train accommodation, and at the next regular meeting the final plans will be discussed.

London Enjoys Respite From Crime

WHILE reports of hold-ups, bank robberies and the like are received continually from other cities, it would appear that London is enjoying a remarkable record in this respect. Not for several weeks now has there been any crime of a real serious nature to confront the local detective department or no mysteries.

Breach of the motor vehicle acts and the infringement of the Ontario temperance act keeps the local police move or less engaged, however.

Town Topics.

SEVERAL COMPLAINTS regarding sanitary conditions in various parts of London have been received by Inspector Richard Sanders of the board of health. They will be investigated at once.

E. EDDY was fined $5 and costs at court session at Lucas Saturday morning held by Magistrate Hawshaw. Eddy was convicted of having worked a horse while in an unfit condition. The information was laid by George Tustin, London Humane Society officer.

THE WESTERN ONTARIO Regiment are having their last practice on the coast Saturday for the summer months. After today the ranges will be occupied by the Royal Canadian Regiment, who will begin to carry out their fall training in a week or two.

J. C. FLETCHER HAS TAKEN out a permit for a one-story brick veneer store on Oxford street, to be erected at a cost of $1,100. T. J. Terry will build a one-story frame dwelling at 566 William street, costing $700. Building permits issued this month number 43, and the total expenditure involved is $57,715.

SENIOR PUBLIC SCHOOL Inspector V. K. Greer desires both pupils and teachers of London public schools to make note of the fact that the board of education has decided on Tuesday, Sept. 5, as the opening day of the fall term in these institutions. "This was done because Sept. 1 is Friday," said the inspector, "and I would like pupils and teachers to keep the opening day in mind."

CHIEF OF POLICE Robert Birrell is not quite sure whether there will be a peeling of the police commission before the winter or not. He points out that in any event a gathering of the members does not necessarily mean that any new police sergeants will be then appointed. He questions, moreover, whether any person is vitally interested in this question or not.

NOT ONE CASE OF diphtheria or scarlet fever reported in 22 days is the enviable record possessed by London, according to Dr. W. S. Downham, medical officer of health. However, one or two suspicious cases are under observation at the Isolation Hospital, and await confirmatory symptoms before being definitely diagnosed. Dr. Downham states that aside from a few cases of measles and whooping cough, London is free from communicable diseases.

EDWARD JONES IS NOW reported toiling strenuously on a farm in the neighborhood. Chief Birrell states that his mother has been made by the police to further herself in this case. Appearing in police court two weeks ago, charged with assaulting his mother, Jones was remanded until Saturday in order that he might change his views and go to work on a farm. The chief reports that all is well now and the proceedings should be dropped. "A good thing for the city," commented Police Magistrate Graydon Saturday.

FOR MANY YEARS, frequent trips to Western Canada have been made by directors of the Huron & Erie Mortgage Corporation for the purpose of inspecting properties upon which the institution holds mortgage loans and also for getting a close-up view of general conditions in the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. Hume Cronyn, vice-president and general manager, and Directors Geo. T. Brown and H. E. Gates are today leaving for Winnipeg. This corporation has branches in Western Canada at Winnipeg, Regina and Edmonton.

THAT THE CITY COUNCIL missed a golden opportunity to secure concessions from the London Street Railway Company in return for their offer to lend it the funds to pave tracks on Hamilton road and Dundas street east, is the declaration of Ald. John Ashton. "When the council was giving this should have got," said Ald. Ashton. "What they should have asked for was six tickets for a quarter and seven workingmen's tickets, limited to use one hour in the morning and one hour at night. I am sure they could have obtained it. I did not bring this motion forward, because I was not in a position to do so as an employee of the London Street Railway Company. I said enough on this subject at the council meeting."

YOUTH AT SARNIA STEALS BICYCLE

Special to London Advertiser.
SARNIA, Aug. 11.—Angus McCallum, 16, was allowed to go on suspended sentence in the city police court today after he had pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing a bicycle owned by W. H. Hardy, and valued at $15.

The suspension was made upon condition that the wheel was restored to its owner in its original condition, and that damages, fixed at $5, and the costs of the court were paid. A. W. McNally defended.

WILL OPEN BOARD BOOKS TO PUBLIC

Trustee Edwin Smith Gives Answer to Critical Citizens.

Any taxpayer of the city of London, without exception, is entitled to inspect all books and documents pertaining to the new Central Collegiate Institute, the new Victoria public school, or, in fact, with regard to any business that has been transacted or is now under contemplation by the school board.

This is the assurance given The Advertiser Saturday morning by School Trustee Edwin Smith, chairman of the board of education, in answer to those who have since the first of the year criticized these or other school buildings or the acts of the trustees, and more recently the charge that bricks at $300 a thousand and were used when a cheaper and equally serviceable grade might have been employed.

"If any citizen feels that the trustees have not done as they are right, he can have access to our records, all of them, and I will assist him to ascertain whatever he desires to see."

So declares Chairman Smith, who incidentally ridicules the report inquiring the use of bricks as charged. "Why? It is only a huge joke on somebody," he explained. "It cannot be anything else. While I am not quite sure of the exact figure I feel sure, however, that the bricks were set at $33 a thousand, and that the board finally obtained them for $30 a thousand. Some person, whether as a joke or not, I can't say, has evidently added another digit to the amount."

"Why it is ridiculous on the face of it. If bricks were that valuable we would have seen people picking them up in the street by the armful," he concluded.

SAYS COUNCIL HAS TOO MUCH MONEY

George Wenige Declares All Civic Bodies Should Cut Expenditures.

Replying to the demand of several civic officials for additional revenues to be devoted to civic purposes, Ex-Alderman George A. Wenige declares that the city council and other municipal bodies have too much money as it is, and it is time to call a halt to expenditures.

"They have too much money to spend now," he asserted, Saturday morning. "Citizens are paying enough in taxes, and it is time the expenditure of this money was cut down. Look at the gold bricks used by the board of education at $300 per thousand."

"They cannot have a first-class architect at the salary they pay. Why, a good architect could earn as much money as Architect Carrothers with one stroke of the pen on building plans, while it takes him a year to do what they use outside architects anyway, and he cannot be of the quality desired, at that salary."

"The board of education is supposed to have saved a lot," continued Mr. Wenige. "I suppose the architect says that, but how are we to know when there is no competition? The new collegial institute shows how much he saved. He is like the city engineer, when he says he saves the city money. How do we, as ratepayers, know when there is no competitor allowed to bid for a comparison?"

LONDON FACTORIES NOT HARD HIT

using large quantities of steel. There has been a reflection of the coal strike in the steel supply, but the result has been no more serious than a single firm. Col. William Gartshore, head of the McClary Manufacturing Company, said in this connection: "So far there has been no difficulty, and I don't think there will be since it looks as if the strike is going to be settled."

"If the hurt is going to be felt in the steel supply, and it certainly will be in the future, we have a three to six months' stock, an amount we have kept on hand."

Ernie Dennis, chief executive of the Dennis Iron and Wire Works, when asked concerning steel from the standpoint of the effect of the coal strike in the United States, said: "Delivery in steel has been slowed up. Our biggest steel product is steel sheets, and we have received word that the next delivery of orders for them cannot be made before September."

Mr. Dennis went on to say that though delivery on orders given at present for steel was being retarded, his firm was finding no handicap thereby because they had a number of orders placed months ago, deliveries on which, however, had been kept back for a month through the miners' and railroadmen's walkout.

"I think it is the coal strike that has caused it," said Mr. Dennis, speaking of present slow delivery of steel. "For it was the reason that was put up to us for the month-late deliveries we were given."

McClary Welfare Association Cares For Employees

INSTITUTION WIDELY COPIED.

VERILY a prophet is without honor in his own country. It is twelve years since the McClary Employees' Welfare Fund Association came into existence, and during that time it has come to be acknowledged as one of the most splendid and perfectly organized institutions of its kind in the Dominion.

Representatives of large industries from all parts of Canada, and even from the United States, have come to the city to take pattern for their own firms of the working and organization of the association, yet it is doubtful if one-half the citizens of London are aware that the city can boast such an institution of smoothly-running community life.

Between 10 and 10.30 o'clock is an opportune time to visit the McClary manufacturing plant, for it is then that the employees take their ten minutes off for lunch, and one is able to learn something of the welfare and, and to see the very excellent safe which is a part of each plant in running order. Trig waitresses are busy handing out glasses of ice cold milk or steaming coffee, and there are plates of appetizing rolls and biscuits in full view, just the proper sort of thing to banish the aching void which all the industrious between breakfast time and dinner.

Then again at noon the dining hall and cafe are called into requisition. According to the McClary system a cafe and dining hall are operated at each plant, and will provision made for either a hot dinner or a luncheon, with prices cut strictly to cost.

One of the most striking features of this by no means insignificant wheel in the great machinery of the McClary firm is the co-operative store, which is estimated to do $70,000 worth of business a year.

Groceries and a certain amount of clothing are the stock-in-trade. Prices are cut to the bone, so that the employee gets every benefit from the system.

Just inside the door at the York street plant is the hospital room, a dispensary and first aid station, as well as being the headquarters for the work of the Welfare Association. And from Miss Malloch, supervisor of the Welfare Association, we learned all the different aims and objectives of the Welfare Association throughout the year.

To begin with, on entering the employment of the McClary Manufacturing Company, one automatically becomes and as a hospital superintendent for eleven years, dealing with a large number of internes during that time from various colleges, I can say without reservation those from Western University are second to none.

"They always showed efficiency," continued the director-general, "and practical initiative, as well as living up to fine ethics. I am optimistic about the future here."

"A substantial part of this organization is the Victoria General Hospital, an institution which has surpassed all others in the rendering of genuinely efficient and practical service to the patient. Mr. Heard, the superintendent, with his splendid staff, is to be congratulated. In my opinion, this hospital has the best medical case recording system known of any hospital in the world, and it is a model institution in this and other respects."

On completion of his survey of Canadian hospitals, Dr. MacEachern will forward his reports to Boston, and the list of those of approved standards will be published in the Hospital Guide Book, for the use of the public.

International Movement.

Speaking in explanation of the hospital standardization system for America, Dr. MacEachern said that the purpose of the international movement, carried out under the auspices of the American College of Surgeons, whose membership includes representatives from Canada and the United States, and is Pan-American in nature, having for its object better hospitals for the sick, better service to the patients in the hospitals, and the better practice of medicine generally.

"It is the outcome of investigations made some ten or twelve years ago by experts when it was found that hospitals generally, outside of teaching institutions, were markedly inefficient in the service they were able to render the sick. They lacked records of their patients and work, they lacked the necessary diagnostic and special treatment facilities, they lacked special medical organization and procedure as would provide the necessary control, check-up or audit on the professional side of the hospital or medical records. Investigating experts, realizing the great importance of this, finally evolved an international and universal standard for hospitals, which sets forth a fundamental service and procedure which any institution that calls itself a hospital should adopt and provide each and every patient entering therein for treatment."

"The purpose of this hospital standardization movement is to present the detailed program of this standard to all hospitals of fifty beds and over in Canada and the United States," he continued. "Hence, for five years, in both countries, the program has been presented to the hospitals in a clear, simple, comprehensive and practical manner. It has been presented in person by experienced hospital experts, sent out from headquarters, and already all hospitals in Canada and the United States of one

FINED $500 FOR VIOLATION OF O.T.A.

Isaac Hersome Found Guilty of Having Liquor For Sale.

While Nathan Goldberg was acquitted in police court Saturday morning of the charge of having liquor for sale, his associate, Isaac Hersome, was not so fortunate. Charged jointly, with a like offense, he must contribute the sum of $500 or else undertake six months' hard labor.

Both judgments were handed down by Deputy Magistrate P. H. Bartlett, who relieved Police Magistrate Graydon temporarily to tender his decisions, as he had tried the cases earlier this month.

The charge was preferred by the Inspector of Police Lucas, who armed with a search warrant and accompanied by a "clean-up" squad of constables raided Hersome's place of residence.

In dismissing Goldberg, the deputy magistrate declared that there had been insufficient evidence to show that he had been guilty of the offense charged. He was not the householder he pointed out. Neither had he sold any liquor according to the evidence submitted at the previous trial.

CITY SALVATIONIST IS TRANSFERRED

Adjutant Nellie Richards To Assume New Duties At Halifax.

Salvation Army farewelling orders, which are to be issued Aug. 20, will mean the removal from London of Adjutant Nellie Richards, of the London Divisional Headquarters, one of the most faithful and efficient workers the Salvation Army work in this division has known.

Adjutant Richards goes to Halifax to become the Young People's secretary of that division. A native of the town of Lindsay and a graduate of the Salvation Army Training School in Toronto, she has occupied the position of cashier in the London headquarters. Although cashier of official title, Adjutant Richards' work has meant decidedly more than the mere handling of cash.

The greater part of the relief work accomplished by the army has passed through her hands, and she has proved a veritable gold mine of information, where travelers and those in need of advice or assistance have been concerned.

Officers of the London division, and the scores of people who have benefited by her aid or advice will regret her departure, while wishing her the utmost success in the new field of work at Halifax.

Obituaries

MRS. ANDREW BROWNLEE. The death occurred in this city on Friday, Aug. 11, of Mrs. Andrew Brownlee in her 76th year. Mrs. Brownlee had spent most of her life on the farm near Nilestone, moving to the city about four years ago. She is survived by two brothers, Mr. Anderson of Souris, Man., and Mr. Anderson of Westminister, two sisters, Mrs. W. R. Thompson of 12 Byron avenue, this city, and Mrs. J. H. Crockett of Dorchester. Funeral services will be conducted at her late residence, 11 May street, on Monday, Aug. 14, at 1:30 p.m. Interment will take place at Dorchester Union Cemetery.

DONALD GRAHAM. The funeral of Donald Graham, who died Thursday at Mount Brydges, was conducted Friday from his late residence to Oakdale Cemetery.

Services were conducted by Rev. Rutherford, assisted by Rev. W. D. Campbell of Detroit, and Rev. J. A. Arneson of London. Pallbearers were Messrs. D. McNeil, J. K. Kidd, Chas. Steer, Dr. Graham, W. Arrand and H. Marsh. Services were under Masonic auspices.

BLANCHE SINGULAR. The death occurred in this city on Thursday of Blanche Singular of Wardsville, aged 57 years.

The remains were forwarded from the Oatman funeral home to Rodney. Interment will be made at Wardsville Monday.

LADIES' AID HOLDS ANNUAL OUTING

A delightful picnic was held at Springbank on Wednesday afternoon when the Ladies' Aid of Chelsea Green Presbyterian Church held their annual picnic.

An interesting program of sports was arranged, after which an excellent lunch was served.

The prize winners in the different races were as follows:

Peanut race—B. O'dell, Mrs. Snow, Mrs. Pettigrew.

Walking race—Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Jamieson, Mrs. Pettigrew.

Flat race—Mrs. G. Snow, Mrs. Parker, Mrs. Smith.

Hammer and nail contest—Mrs. Jamieson, Mrs. Parker, Mrs. Reeves.

Seeks Identity Of "Lamp Smashers"

OFFICIALS of the Public Utilities Commission are anxious to learn the identity of the "lamp vandals" in the south-east part of the city who maliciously smash electric bulbs on city streets within a few hours after they have been placed on the poles.

Despite the fact that wire guards have been placed over some of the lights on Egerton street, E. V. Buchanan, general manager of the Public Utilities Commission, declares that they were torn off and the bulbs broken.

"We received a new shipment of bulbs Friday," he said, "and replaced those complained of in Chelsea Green. Four out of seven of these globes were maliciously smashed, and on Egerton street some persons climbed the poles and ripped off wire guards protecting the bulbs. What can you do with a thing like that?"

TO REFUSE SQUARE FOR MONUMENT

Mayor Claims City Unable to Donate Proposed Site to Province.

There is slight possibility of the city of London offering to donate federal square property at Wellington and Dundas streets to the Ontario Government as a site for the $400,000 memorial which the province is to erect in memory of Ontario soldiers who died on war service, according to Mayor Cameron Wilson.

His worship cites the fact that it is a valuable business property and should not be made permanently idle by erection of a monument thereon, but points out that the city will undoubtedly offer an equally desirable site to the province for the purpose.

Dr. H. A. Stevenson, M. L. A. for London, presented a suggestion to the Drury cabinet Friday that the monument be erected on the Federal Square here. In view of the fact that Toronto has a plethora of monuments and no other municipality has made a bid for this monument, Dr. Stevenson stated Saturday morning that the premier assured him that London would likely be chosen as the site.

It was pointed out that London is the hub of Western Ontario, through which highways pass, and with the monument in a conspicuous position it could be viewed by thousands of tourists annually.

"I do not think the property could be devoted to that purpose, said Mayor Wilson, "as it was not voted that way by the ratepayers. It is in the business district, and would halt expansion if a monument were built there. However, we are quite willing to submit a proposition, as suggested by Premier Drury, and we can offer an equally desirable site for the monument."

City Treasurer James Bell is in favor of the monument.

"The city will eventually erect a monument to the memory of the war heroes," said Mr. Bell, "and it will cost $100,000 at least. Why not add the additional $100,000 to this cost in donating the property and obtain a monument costing $400,000?"

Ald. John Ashton declined to discuss the proposition on the ground that he has not considered it fully.

GIVE CONTRACTORS WEEK TO RE-LAY LEAKY ROOFS

One week was set as the limit for the contractors involved to commence relaying defective roofs on the Lawrie dwellings by the London Housing Commission, which met on Friday night. This ultimatum was made on advice of the commission's solicitor, although the contractors suggested that the problem be submitted to arbitration.

If the contractors ignore this notice, the roofs will be repaired and charged to their account. They have refused to relay the roofs with British Columbia cedar shingles, as ordered, and threaten legal action.

The commission refused to grant an extension of time to L. O. Swift, who was allowed until August 1 to vacate his home on Pine Lawn survey, and he forfeits the right of a refund of money paid in on the house by reason of occupying it later than August 1.

FIRE MARSHALS ELECT HEATON AS PRESIDENT

Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 12.—Fire Marshal N. P. Heaton of Ontario was unanimously elected president of the Association of Canadian Fire Marshals Friday morning. Fire Marshal J. Thomas of British Columbia was elected vice-president, and Deputy Fire Marshal George F. Lewis of Ontario was appointed secretary-treasurer.

It was strongly recommended that provincial departments of education include in their school curriculum a course of study in fire prevention. Adoption of a suitable text book dealing with this subject was also advocated.

AUSTRALIAN CABINET JUST ESCAPES DEFEAT

London, Aug. 12.—(Canadian Press Cable).—The Australian federal government narrowly escaped defeat in the House of Representatives on the question of sugar prices, says a Reuters dispatch from Melbourne.

A vote of censure, moved by the Labor party was rejected by 36 votes to 27. A similar vote moved by the Country party was rejected by only 32 to 31.

POLICE NAB TRIO GET ONE A DAY

Participants in Joyous Party Follow Each Other to Court Day Apart.

Prisoner Asserts Liquid Was Only Used For Rubbing Shoulder.

It all started last Monday, according to Chief of Police Birrell. There were three of them when they set out. Charles Biggar, Fred Thompson and Ed. Haynes. During the day that followed they consumed much liquor of sorts in many places, if all the police reports are correct.

One by one they dropped out of the parade and were removed to the rear in the police wagon. Haynes was the first to reach headquarters, appearing in court Thursday and pleading insanity. As in the coming with P. C. Monahan and the coming stretch, when he drew a ten-day sentence. Upon that occasion Chief Birrell explained that a party of three, including the defendant, was in progress at Harris' flats, near Ridout street.

The following day was marked by the timely appearance of Fred Thompson, who was apprehended on Oxford street, charged with noxious intoxication and having in his possession what he claimed to be rubbing alcohol and what Chief Birrell held was a portion of what, added to the general success of the original season of the river bank.

Saturday morning, Charles Biggar was ushered into the prisoners' box at the city police court, making the party complete. Evidence was submitted that he was encountered Friday evening resting beside a Hyman street residence. As in the two preceding cases, he pleaded not guilty.

It was claimed that he had been ordered away from one house three times, and could hardly stand up, a good indication, Chief Birrell reflected, that he had been drinking to excess.

Assessing Biggar a $10 fine or ten days, Police Magistrate A. M. H. Graydon administered a stinging lecture, combined with the grave warning that the next appearance would mean a trip to the reformatory, for defendant registered a fervent plea for clemency.

"London West, you mean," remarked the magistrate.

"Yes, He's been drunk for a week," commented Chief Birrell.

Remanded from Friday, Fred Thompson followed, drawing the customary $200 fine or three months' imprisonment. The defendant held that the contents of the bottle found in his hip pocket when arrested was merely used for rubbing a sore shoulder.

Dr. S. N. Best, who conducted an analysis of the contested liquor, testified that it was 51 per cent proof spirit. "It could be drunk," he stated to the bench.

Despite this evidence Thompson held to this original story that he rubbed himself with it. "Yes, inside," he asserted, "I was going out west Monday," he said.

"London West, you mean," remarked the magistrate.

"Yes, He's been drunk for a week," commented Chief Birrell.

JAIL INADVISABLE, BENCH DECIDES

Magistrate Bartlett Allows Vandecar To Go On Suspended Sentence.

Upon the distinct understanding that he will go to hospital for treatment, Harold Vandecar, who pleaded guilty in police court several days ago to fraud involving a sum of $57, was discharged Saturday on suspended sentence by Deputy Magistrate P. H. Bartlett.

Delivering his judgment, the latter explained that he had gathered from reports by attending physicians that the prisoner was suffering from incipient tuberculosis and that a jail sentence would be inadvisable. He had the assurance also of the D. C. R. authorities that the youth would be accepted into a military hospital again.

Acting Crown Attorney A. R. Douglas explained also that Vandecar's relatives had promised to return, as speedily as circumstances would allow, whatever money or funds had been misappropriated.

The defendant was emphatic in his promise that he would avoid all future complications of this nature, and thanked the deputy magistrate heartily as he passed out.

How Much Will He Tell?

LOYD GEORGE has undertaken to write his memoirs of events connected with the world war. It remains to be seen how much will be told of hidden chapters of events preceding the declaration of war. There is much that never has been told, and the question comes now if, with the lure of a publisher's offer in front of him, the little Welshman can disclose things he has heretofore kept secret. One thing is certain, the shrewd publisher can tell in a minute if the story, as told by the premier, discloses enough to make its sale certain.

Lloyd George is not a rich man, although a cabinet minister for many years. Unlike his rival, Asquith, who has a large income from his legal practice, Lloyd George has a very modest income as a solicitor. It is understood he will get from the writing of his memoirs something like $500,000.

The first chapter of the book, which is believed to be now in shape, will tell of the momentous meeting that plunged Britain into the war against Germany. There is not a man on this continent who would not like to read in intimate detail what took place there, at the session that resulted in the resignation of RIGHT HON. JOHN MORLEY and RIGHT HON. JOHN BURNS.

It is interesting to Londoners to note in this regard that a writer in the Toronto Telegram, speaking of the bringing out of the Lloyd George memoirs, says: "Three years afterwards at a London club, the editor of this column was sitting at a table with the late Col. Wood Leonard of London, Ont., when John Burns strode across the dining-room, and shaking hands with the soldier, exclaimed: 'Colonel, though you and I may not have seen eye to eye about the war, I have the most unbounded admiration for your splendid Canadianism.'"

Then comes another query: Does Lloyd George know anything of the death of KITCHENER? Does he know why he was going to Petrograd, or how word was sent to those who sunk the Hampshire on which KITCHENER was departing? Will he go so far as to state that KITCHENER's arrival in Petrograd would have checked the revolution? There are whole chapters and volumes of sealed books in this tragic happening, and those who know anything have most effectively kept their mouths closed in the interval.

Then the story of Gallipoli has never been told in full. The whole campaign there had apparently become more or less of a shambles, when over night the British troops were withdrawn from what had been regarded as an impossible position. Was it military genius or diplomatic arrangement? That story has never been told, and in itself would make one of the best—if not the best—sellers in the world right now.

How much will he tell? That seems to be the whole question in thinking of what Lloyd George may incorporate in his memoirs. No one seems to doubt that he knows enough to tell much, but how much remains to be seen. Mere dribbles will not satisfy the public, nor tempt publishers to venture very far on it. If he goes the limit—well, we'll just all be reaching for the book at once.

Use Common Sense.

IS IT NOT possible that we cut too close to the edge at times in our interpretation of certain laws?

In London right now we have the spectacle of a drug store being fined because a customer in that place of business purchased a nail file on Sunday.

It is in the interests of the public that drug stores keep open for certain hours at least on Sundays. There are always cases where some person wants to get a prescription filled, or some other necessary article, and if the drug stores were not open it would often mean delay and suffering.

That a man who goes into a drug store and buys a nail file on Sunday has done something that makes him a target for police vigilance is certainly something that comes wide of the mark.

Does the law want the buyer to do without a nail file? Very often a person might be in a drug store on Sunday getting articles that the law would approve, and in so doing notice some toilet article, such as a nail file, and purchase it. Is that man at once a lawbreaker?

A little common sense would do away with a whole lot of the nonsense that comes to the surface in connection with the enforcement of many of our otherwise excellent regulations.

The People's Money.

THERE is something sturdy in the way the committee on public accounts raps RIGHT HON. WINSTON CHURCHILL for the amount of money he spent on a journey to Cairo.

When CHURCHILL went there first he appealed against having to keep his expenses inside the limit set by the house. He was given permission to waive this, and apparently right then his heels went over the dashboard. As a result, when his expenses were turned in, the following comment comes from the public accounts committee:

"It is undesirable for unlimited power of spending to be given to any mission, and equally undesirable for any cabinet minister to set an example of asking it."

WINSTON CHURCHILL is not the first or only man who has had his knuckles rapped for spending public money too freely. It seems hard for some people to get out of the habit of being lavish with money that belongs to other people.

It is still a popular delusion in some quarters that getting money from a government is the equivalent of securing some easy cash—that it comes from a great big, invisible fund, whose roots are planted in unknown places.

Public money comes out of the pockets of the people. The more taxes and tariffs a man pays, the more he comes to realize it.

There is also a word of rebuke in the message directed at CHURCHILL. It is equally undesirable for any cabinet minister to set an example.

How hard it is, sometimes, for the man of high estate to keep himself, his ideas and his habits, strictly in hand. Prosperity has killed more people than adversity ever did. It takes a big man to keep his head when he's winning. It would take a big man to conduct a tour of inquiry in Egypt with that quiet dignity that would not hurdle over expense barriers to the extent of making it necessary to call forth a public purse from the financial custodians of the government.

Men in places of responsibility can do a great deal in the way of setting the pace for those below them. They can exhibit a care bordering on frugality in handling the money of the people, or they can spend it with a recklessness that has given rise in the past to that fallacy that public money is easy money.

A Great Woman.

THE story of Queen Esther has been told for years in song and prose. Thousands of people have sung in chorus the story as it depicts Queen Esther appearing before King Ahasuerus. The book of Esther presents a view of Oriental life in the Persian court, and gives some insight into the conditions under which the Jews lived during their captivity.

The Sunday school lesson this week takes just the one incident referred to. Teachers should take the book as a whole, in order to get an understanding of events in this one lesson. The history recorded belongs to the period between the dedication of the temple at Jerusalem and the journey of Ezra from Babylon to Jerusalem. The Ahasuerus of the book of Esther has been identified with the Persian King Xerxes, who with an army of over a million was ignominiously defeated in his attempts to conquer Greece.

Haman was a big man in court, and according to the custom of the day, those in superior positions had to bow down to him. To Mordecai this appeared as an act of worship, and he refused to obey. This led Haman to plot for the destruction of the Jews. Queen Esther, the most beautiful woman of her day, was the one person who could step in and save the Hebrew children.

One of the most beautiful things is that she was willing to do this at the risk of her life. It was a law of the Persian court that a person entering the presence of the king stood in danger of death unless the royal sceptre of recognition was held out.

What a part women have played in bringing about great things. Long before they were granted the franchise, long before they were accorded the position they occupy today, they were quietly, and with almost divine purpose, doing some of the greatest things in Biblical or secular history.

Samuel's mother consecrated her boy to the service of Jehovah, and in so doing was she not having a part in determining the destiny of Israel? When the mother and grandmother of young Timothy instructed him in the Scriptures they probably had little idea of what they were doing for the establishment of the early church. When the mother of Augustine taught and conversed with him about the Scriptures they probably never thought they were awakening to his young mind a vision that made the Augustinian confessions possible. The rise of Methodism goes back beyond John or Charles Wesley to their noble mother.

For the moment forget the Sunday school lesson. You may still have a mother. For years you accepted her love, her sacrifices, her denials, in order that you might live and develop. And you did both. In after years you have had newer and more intimate home interests of your own, and that dear old mother has been neglected. She may live with you, she may write. At rare intervals you may note. Did it ever occur to you to tell her while she still lives that you owe your success to her love, to her teaching, to her example? Not much to do, but you don't do it. You seem to take it for granted that she'll know and understand. There is something in human nature that calls for love and sympathy, and as age creeps on this yearning grows more the less. Go on, man or woman, speak or write while you've got the chance, and while the ears can hear and the eyes can read. Esther was ready to give her life for her people. Your mother risked hers and devoted it to your care. Remember there's a craving for a word of kindness, and a longing for a little appreciation, for the heart grows wondrous tender when the eyes are dimmed with years.

A Doubtful Proposition.

BRITISH COLUMBIA, according to PREMIER OLIVER, is going to lend provincial assistance to the establishment of a steel industry in British Columbia, in the way of guaranteeing bonds to the extent of four million dollars for a fifteen-million-dollar steel plant.

British Columbia has the ingredients for making steel, but what is British Columbia going to do with the steel after it is made? During the war there was a big demand for steel at the coast for the shipyards, and plate was especially scarce. It is wrong to look upon such an experience as a criterion.

The steel mills in Canada are seldom oversold. The big mills from the Pittsburgh district keep up a large selling organization in Canada, and to a certain extent these U. S. mills set the price for Canada, and they have all the advantage of quantity production.

Then there is the plant of the Canadian Steel Corporation at Ojibway, in its semi-finished state. Plans there are for a capacity that is far greater than any existing mill in this country, or for that matter, the combined output of a good many of them. If there were a market in Canada now for their output, or were conditions for export favorable that plant would be finished and put in operation, right from the blast furnace, to the open hearths, to the various finishing departments.

Too many communities take it for granted that because the steel trade is regarded as something akin to a barometer of trade, that all that is necessary is to get a steel mill in operation in the district, and all will be well. It is a serious mistake, and one that has cost many places a good deal of money.

LITTLE 'TISERS

If London gets hard up for fuel this winter, there's still the Grand Trunk station here that needs burning.

Brandon's school teachers are on strike, and the kids there are scared stiff that a board of arbitration may get in its deadly work before the holidays are over.

Fall styles call for long skirts and long, curly hair. The call will have to be pretty loud to bring back all the locks the barber swept up and put in the garbage can.

Now the doctors say we've got to quit shaking hands, as it spreads germs. Kissing is also banned. How under the sun is any person ever going to get elected to parliament?

Mitchell Town Council decided on a half-holiday when PREMIER DRAKE visits that place. The average politician would prefer that ten minutes off be taken on voting day to register a plumper.

One man, whose wife got her hair bobbed, remarks that when a man leaves home in the morning he says good-bye to his wife, and when he gets back at night he is greeted by a grandchild.

At the last meeting of the Strathroy Town Council discussion took place about the weeds that are growing on certain vacant properties. Such interest is commendable, but a couple of blocks late, as the seed from the majority of weeds has already fallen.

A. D. MCKENZIE of the Sarnia Observer, and formerly of St. Thomas, has taken unto himself a wife. MCKENZIE is an ideal newspaperman, and should make a model husband. He is thrifty and wealthy, handsome and genial—so what more could anyone ask? Mr. and Mrs. MAC, we salute you.

The Brussels Post takes exception to five pounds of tea being put up as a prize for the best baby in a St. Marys contest, holding that the baby winning the tea, can't share in it. Quite right, sonny, but look! The mother has walked the floor, rocked and sang, rubbed the wind off her stomach, fed it, washed it, scolded it, loved it, smiled at it, cried over it, rubbed its teeth through on her wedding ring, pumped air into it when it persisted in crying till it held its breath—oh, boy, hasn't she a right to that five pounds of tea? Shame on you!

NOAH'S POETRY

TRAGEDY.

All summer long upon my brow I've worn a lid carved out of hay. I peeled four bones from off my wad and bought the jaunty thing in May. Oh, it was nifty in its day, it had an atmosphere of style, all other cow bites in the town were simply stripped by half a mile.

For when the dealer looked at me and reached that hat from off a hook, he said, young man in that you look just like a fashion book.

And through these joyful summer weeks I've worn that lid day after day, and smiled whenever I hit the crowd to think of what the mob would say.

But when I walked upon the street and passed the haberdasher's store, I saw a sign stuck in that place that made me sour unto the core.

For there I saw another hat, a twin of what he sold to me, it bears a six-inch foot in height, that it's on sale at 63.

READ YOUR CHARACTER

By Digby Phillips.

NO. 294—THE SIGNS OF AMBITION. Did you ever think what an ambition really is? Because we use a single word to denote it we come to regard it as a simple characteristic. But really it is not at all. It is a combination of several things.

To say the ambition is the desire to achieve an object, to get a certain attractive thing, position, or to win applause, is not true. It is something more than this. Self-interest or selfishness would be almost synonymous with ambition if this were not so. Ambition is the desire plus the confidence and the determination to achieve the goal. Desire by itself is a mere pipeless thing. Ambition must always have lots of backbone. Ambition is above all else optimistic.

Therefore, one of the first indications we look for when we wish to see whether the writer of a certain specimen of handwriting is ambitious is that of hopefulness or optimism. This indication is the line which has a tendency to ascend as it reaches the right of the page. Another thing we look for is self-confidence, which really amounts to a mild form of egotism; in short, to a good opinion of oneself and one's abilities. This is indicated by the tendency to "cross out" capital letters and certain of the small letters when they begin a word. This means an initial stroke which cuts across the body of the letter, a sort of hook which cuts back across it. Other indications to be looked for depend largely upon the kind of ambition which the person possesses. In general you find in addition the indication of firmness (the well-spaced, even writing) and decision (an unaffected shading of the down strokes), and a lack of procrastination ("I" dots and "it" crossings which are above or to the right of the letter rather than to the left of it).

LEARN A WORD EVERY DAY

TODAY'S word is—ALTRUISM.

It's pronounced — al-troo-iz'm, with accent on the first syllable.

It means—regard for or devotion to the interests of others. It was first used by the philosopher Comte, who perhaps borrowed it from the Italian, "altru", meaning "of" or "to others," or from the Latin, "alter", meaning another. It's used like this—"Many Americans feel that, while it is all very well for them to discuss among themselves the desirability of cancelling Europe's indebtedness, to them the suggestion comes with a very bad grace from the Europeans who seek to profit by this hoped-for altruism."

25 YEARS AGO TODAY

HERE WE HAVE ITEMS OF LOCAL AND DISTRICT INTEREST AS RECORDED IN THE ADVERTISER OF 1897.

August 12, 1897.

Aylmer, Ont., Aug. 12.—Rev. J. H. Sowerby, formerly pastor of the Aylmer Baptist Church, and now of Guelph, has received patent No. 56825 dated July 27, good for eighteen years. It is for his ingenious invention of improvement in anti-friction bearing. Mr. Sowerby made eleven distinct claims, all of which have been granted. Mr. Sowerby's original intention was to have his invention applied to bicycles only, but he has extended it so that it applies to any kind of machinery.

Mayor Little, Sheriff Cameron and some of the aldermen inspected Pearce's potato patch last evening under Inspector Sanders' guidance. They were much pleased with the wonderful crop and the success of this laudable enterprise.

DR. BISHOP'S ADVICE

ECZEMA AND ITS CURE

BY DR. R. H. BISHOP.

ECZEMA is the commonest of all skin diseases. It is the skin crying out, either from neglect or bad treatment.

It is not contagious. Sometimes it is acute but more often it is chronic. Invariably it is attended by itching, and sometimes by loss of office.

The skin, like other parts of the body, depends on the whole system for nutrition, and when the system fails to give this nutrition there is an eruption on the surface. When the skin is not properly nourished every slight irritation is liable to produce eczema.

HELP THE BLIND.

Let's try to help our fellowman. Not blest the same with sight. By working out an imaginative plan. With all our main and might.

Impart to them the brightness. Our fortune it is to see. And then the soul of the sightless. Will ever thankful be.

Tell them about the flowers. They can smell but never see. Then let them feel the showers. And hear the humming bee;

Also play some joyful music— With their voices they can respond— And read to them the classics. Whose authors have gone beyond.

The broken mirrors of the soul. That we can never mend. But we can help to fill the hole. And the blind a hand to lend.

—Angela Forbes.

HARD LUCK.

The young man arrived at the party and made his way to the hostess, greeting her and apologizing for his lateness.

"Awfully glad to see you, Mr. Bones," said the hostess. "So good of you to come. But where is your brother?"

"He was unable to come. You see, we are so busy just now that it was impossible for both of us to get away, and so we tossed up to see which of us should come."

"How nice! And you won?"

"No," replied the young man, absently, "I lost!"

ENCOURAGING.

Edith—"Oh, yes. When he asked me what my favorite flower was, I said: 'Brown's' for pastry and Smith's for bread."

PREFERRED DAYLIGHT.

An old Southern planter (once "Marse Davy") said to an old negro: "Well, Tony, this is our birthday again—seventy-five years we've been together, as man and boy; three-quarters of a century and on one plantation." "Sho nuff hit is, boss—and 'pears lak dese here years is a-traveling around a heap perter dan deyuster." "That's what's on my mind, Tony, and in the course of events we can't expect to remain here much longer—so I've been thinking seriously, Tony—seriously—about the grave and the hereafter." "Wa't dat, boss?" "Well, I want to make a bargain with you, Tony, a solemn bargain, to this effect. Whichever one goes first, he will come back from the spirit world and tell the other: one just what it looks like over there." "Hit's a bargain, suh. Dat suits me adzackly. But"—reflectively—"but, Marse Davy, if you goes fust, won't you come back in de daytime?"

40,000 MEN WANTED TO HARVEST WESTERN CANADA'S CROPS.

Latest reports from the grain fields of the West indicate a record yield; 40,000 men are wanted from Eastern Canada to help harvest this crop. To meet this demand, special harvesters' excursions will be operated by the Canadian National-Grand Trunk.

Through solid trains will be operated to Winnipeg without change, consisting of convertible (berth) colonist cars of latest design. Restaurant cars will be attached to trains, serving meals and lunches at reasonable prices. For fares, train service, etc., apply to nearest Canadian National-Grand Trunk agent.

DR. BISHOP'S ADVICE

ECZEMA AND ITS CURE

BY DR. R. H. BISHOP.

ECZEMA is the commonest of all skin diseases. It is the skin crying out, either from neglect or bad treatment.

It is not contagious. Sometimes it is acute but more often it is chronic. Invariably it is attended by itching, and sometimes by loss of office.

The skin, like other parts of the body, depends on the whole system for nutrition, and when the system fails to give this nutrition there is an eruption on the surface. When the skin is not properly nourished every slight irritation is liable to produce eczema.

Eczema may occur on any part of the body or even cover every inch of the body and in such cases treatment is very difficult.

In treating it the cause must be found and removed if possible, moisture and air must be avoided and protection must be furnished by means of ointments, dusting powders and bandages, but seldom by lotions and watery fluids. The bowels must be kept open and attention should be paid to the diet, excluding acid fruits, shell fish, tomatoes, and any other irritating food. Pure air combined with the proper kind of exercise, promotes the functions of the skin and assists in keeping the blood in good condition.

A person suffering from eczema should avoid tub-baths and use soap and water sparingly. Bran added to the water, or baking soda, in the proportion of one teaspoonful to the basin of water, is helpful. The

THE wedding party, just after the ceremony which made Marilyn Miller, the pretty little dancer of "Sally," Mrs. Jack Pickford. The marriage was performed at the Douglas Fairbanks home in Los Angeles. The famous "Doug" can be easily recognized in the foreground, and his charming wife, Mary Pickford, sister of the groom. On Mary's left is the bride, and her new hubby. The youngster is the other "little Mary," daughter of Lottie Pickford, and behind her is "Ma" Pickford. Directly behind Mary Pickford is the noted Charlie Chaplin, of course, minus his moustache and cane.

Rescuing Picnickers Caught in Train Crash.

SEVEN persons were killed and more than a score injured when two C. L. & N. trains met in head-on collision near Cincinnati, Ohio, recently. One of the trains was crowded with negro picnickers from a Cincinnati church. Rushing round a bend in the road, the engines were locked together before either engineer could do anything to avert the mishap. The locomotive of the excursion train was forced half-way through the first coach, mangling many of the occupants. Firemen and policemen are seen rescuing the passengers.

FOR GOOD THINGS TO EAT
VISIT HOME DAIRY STORE

Admirably Cooked Viands, Delightful to Taste, Supplied at 172
Dundas Street.

The first impression that one receives on entering the Home Dairy Store, at 172 Dundas street, just around the corner from Richmond, is "cleanliness." Following the motto, "cleanliness" and "service to the public," R. R. Allan, the well-known manager of the company, has built up in the short period of ten months the most popular home cooking and dairy business in the city.

The interior of the store is finished artistically, with a background of snow white, and this, along with the white marble floor, the glass covered food, and the sanitary wearing apparel of the staff substantiate to the last letter the slogan of the firm.

Meets Popular Approval.
The cooking has met with the popular approval of the London housewives in several different ways. Fried cakes, salads, beans and macaroni, potato chips, cottage cheese, marmalade and jams are put on sale fresh every morning, and can be bought at comparatively low prices. Then, the best brands of butter are received fresh every day, as well as "fresh eggs."

Fresh buttermilk is one of the products that has become very popular in the summer. For the small sum of five cents one can have all the buttermilk that one can drink. Nothing is more refreshing on a warm day, when the heat becomes oppressive, and the collars begin to wilt on the necks of the men-folks, than to partake of one, two, or three glasses of deliciously, cold buttermilk.

The best medical authorities in the country today claim that more sickness results from overeating than not eating enough. Too many people consume a noon-day meal that would have been far better for the individual had same been left untouched. Some day, stop at the Home Dairy Company and have a sandwich, a glass of milk, and a piece of pie for your noon-day lunch, and you will find that you will feel better the rest of the day, and will not experience that drowsy feeling that is so prevalent on summer afternoons.

One of the latest additions to the already large stock are those appetizing chocolate cakes, the very kind that people used to think could only be made by read old mother.

All Home Made.
The pies that we sell are also home made. You will be surprised how appetizing they are, after you have been accustomed to the kind that one obtains in some eating establishments. One can buy a piece, a half, or a whole one, so why not give them a trial.

We have everything for that picnic lunch that you will be making up in a few days. So many people worry over what would be the most suitable things to take to Port Stanley, or to Springbank, for a day's outing, when at a ridiculously small cost an entire lunch, consisting of salads,

SAY WHOLE WHEAT BREAD ELIMINATES HUMAN ILLS

Makers of Alger's Victory Loaf Claim
Many Foods Are Greatly Devitalized.

The prize rooster crowing his lungs out at the poultry show is never fed on polished rice, degenerated cornmeal, denatured wheat foods or devitalized white bread. The mineral salts are taken out of these refined foods. That is why they kill pigeons, white rats, guinea pigs, monkeys and chickens in from seven to nine weeks.

Yet children are expected to thrive on such dead foods. Nature put into the wheat kernel most of the vital substances that we must have to possess bodily health and strength. Alger's Victory bread is a great natural food, made with 100 per cent whole wheat flour. In such bread prospective mothers will find a blessing, and nursing mothers will discover why, with it, motherhood becomes the greatest thing in the world.

When will fathers and mothers see the light? Even dogs have to obey nature's laws. If they are valuable dogs their owners will tolerate no nonsense when it comes to food. That is why the greatest dog biscuits are made of whole wheat. If every child in London could have Alger's Whole Wheat Bread, in a single year there would be no anaemia, malnutrition, or broken-down resistance among the school children.

Alger's Victory Bread builds health and strength, bone and muscle, and keeps the digestive organs in perfect working order. Wheat is the most wonderful health food known to science. Fifty per cent of human ills would be eliminated if the people would eat products of whole wheat such as Alger's Whole Wheat Bread.

Succeed In London

IMAGINATION has proved itself an important factor in the upbuilding of the city of London. The men who spent every effort toward the success of the city visioned the time when the city's population would reach the number of 50,000. That dream having been realized, the businessmen of this generation are already building to make London's population reach the 100,000 mark.

Growth is to mean expansion. The crowding of a city means a tendency toward slum districts, and it has been London's boast that her streets meant fresh air and breathing space. It is the dream of businessmen and manufacturers in the city to see London expand, to see the city suburbs converted into rows of comfortable dwellings, that her reputation as a city of homes may become more than ever firmly established.

A city of homes and a city of work, with a population of 100,000—that is to be the London of the future. Home and work are two things conducive to the happiness of man, and in few cities does work mean more than in the city of London. There is fairness in all things and for the recreation which is the natural and necessary complement to work, there is ample opportunity.

The country with its manifold attractions is easily accessible, and in few regions of the Dominion is more beautiful natural scenery to be found. Port Stanley and Springbank, two of the finest resorts in the province, are within easy distance and a winter spent in London offers every opportunity for recreation which is both enjoyable and educational.

KEPT FACTORY GOING TO KEEP HANDS EMPLOYED

Regal Manufacturing Company Optimistic Over Future Of Work In Garment Trade.

Speaking of business conditions for the remainder of the year, M. Coleman, manager of the Regal Manufacturing Company, manufacturers of work clothing for men and boys, says that sales, up to the present, have been very satisfactory and quite up to their expectations.

"While price reductions were general in 1921," Mr. Coleman said, "there is a feeling now that prices will not recede for some time. This, together with the fact that merchants throughout the country have their stocks very low, and the selling season here, should result in excellent business in the near future."

"There may be a shortage also in some lines of merchandise because manufacturers in general have not stocked up heavily for immediate delivery."

"At the beginning of the year we had a large stock and might have ceased operations, but on account of the prevailing unemployment in the city we kept our factory going all the time to provide work."

The Regal Manufacturing Company makes overalls, coats, combinations, shirts and cotton gloves suitable for any occupation where working clothes are required.

JITNEYS AGAIN OPERATE

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 11.—Jitneys resumed operations on the streets today in opposition to the trolley cars of the International Railway Company, and captured most of the business.

President Tuiley of the International admitted that cars were running virtually empty.

SEES CLIENTS BECOME USERS OF LARGE SPACE

T. H. Yull, of Federal Advertising Agency, Tells of Business Success in London.

How many people who read an advertisement in the newspaper realize the great amount of work and study put on that single advertisement, and how much greater work and study is put on an advertising plan?

In the old days the advertisement was just a flat announcement, a few scattered words that meant little and accomplished less; but today—a day when advertising is a serious business proposition, a medium for sales, a guide for buying, the right kind of advertising accomplishes a great deal.

But little advertising is prepared by the advertiser himself. The advertising agency is the medium through which the national advertiser presents his advertising.

A look into the workings of the Federal Advertising Agency, Limited, which has its head office in this city, and is considered by many well-versed in the advertising world as a model of the modern agency, is to learn a great deal of unsuspected things about a representative advertising agency.

The Federal Advertising Agency not only prepares advertising for publication—it creates sales through advertising and through merchandising plans.

To begin with, the agency secures a client—some manufacturing, financial institution or business house that desires publicity in a few or many publications as the case may be. The account is placed in charge of what is known as an account executive. This executive, with the aid of the merchandising department, starts in to study the product or the proposition that is to be advertised. He investigates its sales force, its selling points. After he knows the needs of the client thoroughly he instigates—not a so-called advertising campaign, but an honest-to-goodness sales campaign, which naturally incorporates the advertising campaign.

Departments Aid Executive.
In conducting this sales campaign for the client, the executive is aided by the copy department, which handles exclusively the text of the copy to appear for publication, the subject matter for booklets, circulars, direct by mail letters, etc.; the art department, which turns out the illustrations for advertisement and booklets, ideas for show cards, etc.; and the service department, which looks after the thousand-and-one little details that are so necessary to the welfare of successful sales campaigns.

The advertising agency in reality is the combined force of experienced knowledge and creative genius in advertising. The agency takes from the advertiser all the hard work of advertising, and because it knows its business from A to Z, it creates success for him, if his product or proposition is a worthy one.

T. H. Yull, president of the Federal Advertising Agency, has watched with pride several of his clients grow from very modest users of advertising space to a place of prominence among the big space users of the country.

SEEK MEANS TO CHECK THIEVES

Hope To Develop Satisfactory Method of Marking Frames and Engines.

Inventors Work Overtime To Find Effective Auto Identification System.

It is recognized generally that one of the most effective ways of identifying stolen automobiles and minimizing the danger of their being stolen would be the adoption of a method of numbering engines and frames which would make it impossible to change the numbers without leaving indications that such a change had been made.

At present, stamping plain characters on several parts of the engine and other units of the chassis seems to be the most satisfactory way of guarding against having numbers changed by automobile thieves or gas pirates, as they are called. Several automobile companies are now using this method.

It is realized, however, that if a simple means of numbering iron or aluminum castings can be developed which will make it impossible for the numbers to be changed or leave indications that they have been changed, it will be a real solution of this important problem.

Offer Reduced Rates.

The National Automobile Underwriters' conference submitted to the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce an offer of a 20 per cent reduction in automobile theft rates, provided satisfactory methods of numbering engines and frames should be perfected. This offer was submitted by Charles Clifton, president of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, to the Society of Automotive Engineers.

Mr. Clifton stated in his letter to the engineers' society that "The automobile industry feels that there is nothing more important for the future."

SAYS FARMERS BUY OLD AUTOS

Used Car Serves Rural Residents in Many Ways.

Models Change So Often That Parts Salvaged Are Useless.

Where do old automobiles go when they die?

What is the end of this never-ending stream of automobiles that pours into London?

You rarely see a really old car in London. Cars seem to reach a certain age and then disappear like Elijah. Are they taken up to some gasoline paradise for the reward of long and faithful service?

In the opinion of large dealers less than 50 per cent of old cars are now going to the wreckers. There isn't enough profit in the old metal and used parts to make the car wrecking business a lively one. The metal in an old car wouldn't bring in more than $5. And models are changing so rapidly that by the time a car is old enough to be scrapped, the parts that can be salvaged are outmoded and worthless.

As a matter of fact, the automobile trade has discovered that the majority of the old cars are going out to the country to die. They are passing away out behind the barn, like an old horse, or a worn-out binder.

This is no reflection on the rural automobiles. The assembly of motor cars at a country church on a Sunday morning, when not a horse-drawn vehicle is to be seen, and the church driving-sheds stand empty, is one to make a city man's mouth water. But out to the country the old cars go. A farmer can't resist a big, powerful-looking machine at $250 or $350, even if it is a little worn. The ratty look of a car that would make it a joke in the city doesn't mar it for hard labor in the country.

When it breaks down the farmer can take out the engine and use it to run a saw or a feed-chopper. Farmers will often buy an old, worn-out car to experiment with before buying the new one they have been looking at and thinking about for five years.

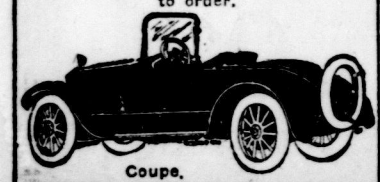

Large numbers of farmers have, in addition to their good cars, an old skate of a car that they have picked up, which they keep for mucking out the winter roads and for certain dirty kinds of haulage for which their good car cannot be used.

of the industry, provided it can be done, than providing means of marking both frames and engines and thereby saving tremendous sums by reductions in insurance, as proposed. It is important that we know at the earliest possible moment whether or not we have talent enough to develop a satisfactory engine and frame marking.

The work on developing a satisfactory method of numbering engines and frames were assigned by the council of the society to two committees, one made up of engineering representatives of passenger-car manufacturers and the other made up of the engineering representatives of engine manufacturers. More than 20 suggestions have been received to date and are, at the present time, being tested to determine their relative merits. Further suggestions are desired and should be sent to the Society of Automotive Engineers, 29 West 39th street, New York city.

"What the industry is reaching out for is something that will bear the test of the crook and we do not seem to have found it," Robert A. Branigan, manager of the patent department of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, has stated in this connection. He has proposed that the society depart from its rule of not considering patented ideas and consider anything and everything that offers a probability of solving the problem.

The reduction proposed by the National Automobile Underwriters' conference is 7 1/2 per cent if an indelible marking system is perfected for either engines or frames, and 20 per cent for both. Some of the methods proposed which are now being tested are these:

Castings numbers on the crankcase; concentric expanded discs; a special alloy cast in the crankcase; a checker-board system; a small thin fin cast on the crankcase on which numbers could be stamped (the numbered fin would be broken off by the dealer and held for the purchaser); raised number-plates welded to the frame; armor-plate number-plates riveted on, using two or more rivets which enter into the frame construction; fairly large numbers embossed deeply into the frame; small holes punched or drilled into the frames at places where the frames would not be weakened.

Other methods are numbers inset under a glass cover in a spring-clip or other accessible casting or forging in the frame assembly, a thin plate, with the number embossed on it, held in a frame or riveted or blind-screwed to the car frame; a thumb-print system; an armored plate riveted into position, with special seals placed over the rivets, case-hardened plugs or plates bearing the numbers, fastened into the frame or engine with blind screws.

or some other such devices; a series of embossed nickel plates set somewhere in the frame or in the engine in such a way that they could not be removed without tearing down the engine or frame, nickel b'ing advocated as it is not easily affected by the acetylene torch.

GREAT LAKES TOUR.

In a letter to headquarters of the Grand Trunk from a prominent Australian traveling through Canada, he refers to his trip through the Great Lakes, via the Northern Navigation Co.'s steamer Noronic (Canadian National-Grand Trunk route) as follows: "The trip through the lakes is to be strongly recommended. There is no doubt that the Navigation Companies of the Pacific and the Atlantic have much to learn in catering to the comfort of passengers from the Northern Navigation Co." This coming from one who has traveled through all parts of the world.

ALWAYS KNOW WHERE CRANK IS

New Owner Wastes Time and Money When Engine Stalls.

Discovers Main Trouble Is Caused by Corrosion of Battery Terminals.

A MOTORIST who had just bought a used car, and a good one, one night found himself half-way home on a lonely road when he had a blow-out. He stopped to fix it, and in doing so naturally shut off the engine.

When the job was done he put his foot on the starter pedal, but somehow it would not make the connection. It would not turn the engine. So he went to the tool box for the crank, but it was not there. Evidently it was in the rear locker. The previous owner had the key; he remembered now that he had forgotten to get it from him. He tried the pedal a few times more, but without results. Then he jacked up one rear wheel and tried to start the engine that way, but he couldn't budge it. He tossed the jack in the tonneau and started for a farm house.

Grasped Crank Handle. Eventually he found a farmer with a car and got him to tow him. In his haste to get away he had tossed the jack into the tonneau. When he arrived home, after a painful time worrying for fear he would stall his engine again, and have to obtain another tow, he reached into the tonneau for the jack, so that his might put it back into the tool box. But in the darkness he grasped, not the jack, but the crank handle! It had been lying there in the darkness all evening, and was not in the locker as he had assumed. What could be more logical? The starter pedal worked irregularly, evidently, and so the crank handle was kept handy. That explained its presence in the tonneau. Why hadn't he thought of it before? Because he had assumed that the crank was in the rear locker.

To cap the climax, an amateur mechanic who liked to do fool things because he never believed in taking things for granted, and knew that logic wasn't worth more than so much when it came to finding automobile trouble, examined the offending starter pedal. He pushed it all the way down to the floor, yet it did not close the switch. Nor was there any way to reach it from underneath without taking off the mud pan. The owner was right on those points. But he wondered what would happen if he gave the pedal a vigorous pull before he pushed it. He tried it. It worked. And it turned out that whenever the pedal exhibited this trouble it could be cured by pulling up on it. In an instance of ignition failure it developed that the breaker points were badly worn. Under the circumstances it caused considerable expense and trouble to install new points, as recommended by the diagnostician. But the engine ran little better thereafter. Eventually it was discovered that the main trouble was caused by a corroded connection at the battery.

Did Not Sound Right.

A motorist had just had his car filled with gasoline on a cold morning. In starting up the engine back-fred. A did not sound quite right under the hood. There wasn't anything he could quite put his finger on, but he had an idea that something was wrong. He opened the hood and found the engine on fire. Some sand close by quickly extinguished the flames. A half minute later would have been too late. He obeyed his intuition. He did not take things for granted. When the thought of a fire flashed across his mind he did not dismiss it as impossible.

REAL ESTATE

The Owned Home Reduces the Cost of Living.

It puts your spending on a more businesslike basis, and gives you a better grip on your whole life.

It inspires more careful living and spending methods.

It turns part of your rent into a permanent investment in your home.

It reduces your repairs and upkeep to the minimum.

It often reduces the food cost a fourth or more.

It substitutes productive recreation for mere expensive amusement.

It eliminates the expenses and losses of frequent moving.

Intelligent home ownership affords to the earnest person a sure means of getting the upper hand of his living expenses and bringing them down to a point where he can cover all his family's needs, provide a reasonable life insurance protection and fund for his children's education, and lay aside a little each month as savings.

The quiet thought and decision that has led him to become a home owner influences all his actions thereafter. He becomes more thrifty in his family expenditures. He sees things in a new light and does less unnecessary spending.

Real Estate in London is a safe and sane investment. It offers new opportunities for investment as well as home-building.

Crime Do Church Tomorrow

"YES, I know all the excuses. I know that one can worship the Creator in a grove of trees or by a running brook, or in a man's own house, just as well as in a church. But I also know as a matter of cold fact the average man does not thus worship."

Here are a few benefits to be derived from church attendance:

"You will listen to and take part in reading some beautiful passages from the Bible. And if you are not familiar with the Bible, you have suffered loss."

"You will take part in singing some good hymns."

"You will meet and nod or speak to good neighbors. You will come away feeling a little more charitably inclined toward all the world, even toward those excessively foolish young men who regard church-going as a soft performance."

"Join in church work for the sake of showing your faith in your works."

Make your start in church service tomorrow. A fair trial of church attendance will convince you it's well worth while.

Healing Religious Rifts in Canada

FOUR fine churches—all religious tastes met—would run, some years ago, the slogan of a boom town of, say, 200 souls in Western Canada to induce settlers to make this particular earthly Paradise the place of their new abode. But when the boom days had passed, this state of satisfaction would be considerably cooled, and the town had to settle down to the grim business of paying for the luxury of seven pastors and as many churches. In the resulting struggle between the churches a "live" minister would be sought to beat the Presbyterians or the Methodists, as the case might be. In the smaller towns the survival of the fittest, or of the most conspicuous, became the rule. So one church would die and leave the field to its rival, or the weaker cause would be bolstered up by missionary funds of the denomination represented. Apparently it did not occur to anyone, writes the Rev. H. D. Hanns in The Christian Herald, "that this was a serious waste of money, and, what is worse, spiritually indefensible. The idea that Methodists and Presbyterians could worship and work together in one community for the glory of God and the good of men had not yet taken root." Now, however, after various efforts toward co-operation or union, the double affiliation scheme was devised, under which the two denominations support the same church. It should be explained, as we are told, that the Methodist and Presbyterian denominations are the only ones that really count, numerically speaking, in rural Western Canada. These two have agreed to recognize united churches in both denominations, to give the minister and officials standing in both sets of church courts, and to back the united churches with their stimulus and help in every way. Under this arrangement, says the writer, "the religious life of the united congregation could feel victors or vanquished. The advantages of united local working with the stimulus of the wider outlook of two great denominational churches was thus bestowed on the united churches. The town of Craik, Saskatchewan, was the pioneer in this latest church union movement, and, continues the writer,

"The response of the people to the new Saskatchewan idea has been quick and widespread. In one year 53 such churches have been formed in Saskatchewan alone, and the movement gathers force and is spreading like a prairie fire. The missionary superintendents of the two denominations meeting together in Regina recently—even that fact of meeting together speaks volumes to those who remember the past—declared that there are now only 23 places in the whole province where there is overlapping. In Manitoba and Alberta the situation is similar, if not quite so striking.

"What all this means in terms of the communities themselves it takes a person of vision and imaginative power to grasp and to attempt to portray. The obvious advantage in economical working is now recognized to be but the least of all the benefits. In many cases no financial saving has been attempted or made. The difference now is that one minister is reasonably paid and freed from financial worry, so that he may be efficient in his spiritual work. So the economic aspect is not one to be unduly stressed. It is usually found that when the people of a town see simultaneously the economic side of union, the new movement does not succeed in that town. The better motive toward union is the desire for unified concentrated spiritual effort, and where that has been the animating principle, the united working brings great results for the community and the Kingdom."

Even in the prairie towns, quiet and remote as they are, from the noise of great cities, good and evil contend for the souls of men, women and young people, and says the writer, "some of us who have worked in both ways know the value of the united front to the enemy." Furthermore:

"The very consciousness that they are putting into practice the prayer of the Master 'that they may be one,' gives heart and power to the Christian people of a town who have sunk their 'isms' in the larger unity of the common Christian effort. It also impresses the man 'outside,' and goes far to bring him 'inside.'

"And so we think we are accomplishing a religious revolution in Western Canada. Soon the purely denominational church will be unknown in the great mass of prairie towns. The movement is even spreading into the cities, but they do not make as natural a field for this great experiment in Christian unity as do the prairie towns. But in towns ranging from 5,000 people to the barest hamlet railway siding these united churches are proving their worth and winning the hearts of the people."

"Not that no opposing note is heard. That would be too much to expect from our poor human nature. In every town there is a family or two surprisingly few in most—who cannot become reconciled to the new order of things. They hanker back to the genuine Presbyterian or Methodist ring of the past and 'cannot' be comforted by the tide of union sentiment sweeps on, and, like Canute of old, they cannot stay it."

"What I have called the religious revolution of Western Canada is really no longer in the experimental stage. It is here to stay until merged into the ultimate Dominion-wide United Church of Canada."

FEAR SHORTAGE OF ANTHRACITE MAY BE ACUTE

Members of Canadian Fuel Committee Return From Washington.

CALL FOR CO-OPERATION

Advise Turning To Substitutes To Help Relieve Situation.

OTTAWA, Aug. 11.—(Canadian Press).—There will be a considerable shortage of anthracite supplies for use during the coldest winter months.

In a statement issued this evening the federal advisory fuel committee draws attention to the fact that there is now more than four months' shortage in the production of anthracite, and an equal period in respect to, say, 50 per cent of the bituminous production.

The strike in the United States mines pointed out that from April 1 last. The stoppage in production, which will be five months if the mines do not resume work before September 1, cannot be overtaken in time to meet the needs of this coming winter.

The members of the committee, Charles Magrath and Fred McCourt, discussed the requirements with the Washington authorities and with a number of large operators in coal and railways. They were accompanied by Major Graham Bell, deputy minister of railways, representing the minister, who was detained at Ottawa by pressure of other duties. Major Bell has been giving consideration to the requirements of Canadian railways. The statement issued by the committee is, in part, as follows:

Control Distribution.
"Pending the resumption of production the American government has set up a fuel administration for the purpose of distributing the soft coal now being mined, which is treated as an emergency supply. The fuel administration has established priorities in the distribution of this coal, and with the priorities as well as with conditions respecting payment and freight charges, Canadian consumers participating must comply. In this respect Canadian and American consumers are treated alike. Canadian provincial governments interested in this supply of emergency coal will be required to appoint a fuel administrator who will pass on local requisitions, and who will be required to send them, accompanied by a guarantee by one of the chartered banks of Canada covering purchase price and rail charges, to the committee at Ottawa, which will be the recognized medium of communication with the American authorities."

Active Co-operation between local dealers and municipalities is asked for. Co-ordinating their activities will be the provincial authorities who will have to do with distribution within the province, and with financing, so far as public financing may be necessary. That, of course, will be a matter of arrangement between dealers, municipalities and the provinces.

Will Be Supervisors.
The function of the federal advisory fuel committee will be largely supervisory. It will act for Canada as a whole in matters of international and inter-provincial negotiation and arrangement; will facilitate importation and transportation—a matter which will develop importance in the period of congestion which it is expected will follow the adjustment of the present rail and mining difficulties on the other side.

"The railways of the Dominion will deal with the federal advisory fuel committee direct as their requirements are inter-provincial in character. They are being asked to communicate their requirements to the committee at Ottawa, and the premiers of the various provinces are being advised that the American authorities have requested that all orders for emergency coal be handled through the federal committee."

"Varying opinions are held as to the extent of the shortage that will be caused by the closing of the mines since the first of April last, and no one is able to say that the mines will even resume work on the first of September. All agree, however, that there will be a considerable shortage and the utmost care must be exercised to conserve anthracite supplies for use during the coldest winter months."

Cold Winter Possible.
It must be remembered that the past four winters have been very mild and that possibly next winter may see the return of lower temperatures than have been experienced in the period referred to.

"It seems, therefore, provided the mines resume operations within the next few weeks, that Canada should prepare for a shortage of anthracite which at the present time might be fixed at one-third of the normal winter supply. It is true that the shortage may be greater. On the other hand, it might be considerably lessened should there be another very mild winter or should domestic sizes of anthracite be restricted by Washington to the use of domestic heating."

"The only safe policy then is to look for substitutes—lumps of coal including English coal and coke. It appears that English anthracite pro-

Hew Hole in Roof of Chamber to Prolong Lord Northcliffe's Life

LONDON, Aug. 11.—Although Lord Northcliffe's condition is considered hopeless, doctors and specialists are doing their utmost to prolong his life.

Workmen during the night cut a hole in the roof of his bed chamber and erected a temporary shelter roof. It is planned today to hoist Northcliffe's bed near the roof to give him more air.

Messages of cheer from all parts of the world reached the viscount, who was too weak to know of them.

In his deliriums, which grow more frequent, "the chief," as they call him in Fleet street, fought with those about him to get up and send orders to his papers. He refused to give in. A telephone, connected near his bedside, enabled him to send instructions to his editors. But the messages never reached Fleet street. A secretary took them down in an adjoining room.

For a month a strange poison, mysterious of origin, has been seeping through Northcliffe's system. The best English specialists and a prominent American, who have attended Northcliffe, now believe his trouble may have had its origin in a cancer of the throat. They point to the fact that the viscount was frequently in alternate high spirits and deep depression, even when apparently enjoying good health.

It is generally felt that unless the strike settlement is delayed beyond 30 days, the soft coal production will fairly rapidly right itself, owing to the wide area over which the numerous bituminous mines are scattered. The main difficulty will be in moving that portion that goes by water up the lakes to western and northwestern points and here again, transportation, so far as Canadian supplies are concerned, are likely to be congested, because under normal conditions Canada imports 50 per cent of its bituminous supplies, as well as anthracite supplies, within the months of April to August inclusive."

DEATH CENSORS MOVIE THRILLER

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—A thriller was cut from a film Pearl White is making here. Death died the censoring.

The set was complete, and the director shouted "camera." "Pearl" swung from a rapidly-moving automobile to a giant steel pillar of the elevated railway, where "she" was to escape the desperate villain who pursued her. "Pearl" missed the hold on the pillar, dropped to the ground and died a few minutes later.

"Pearl" was a man, John Stevenson, 38, who is said to have volunteered to double for the real Pearl White. At Miss White's studio it was denied that Stevenson was acting for her. Her attorneys declared she never employed a double.

Your best friend lives right here

CANADA is a rich market for the national advertiser when the daily newspaper is a vital part of his merchandising organization. It is a business graveyard for those who look far afield for miraculous help.

When your special salesmen, window dressers and sampling crews are building up sales in our trading area this month what possible effect has "national" circulation a thousand miles away on their effort, except to add the burden of wasted dollars to the product they sell.

With consistent intelligence you use this circulation to carry today's selected message today. If tonight's conference reveals tomorrow's big problem, tomorrow's newspaper will meet the task. This kind of advertising is not easy. It is not "publicity." It is controlled and directed merchandising force.

"The flexibility of newspaper advertising and the choice it presents of the amount, class and location of circulation enable the advertiser quickly to direct his campaign wherever and whenever it is most needed," says The Canadian Shredded Wheat Co., Ltd.

Your good product, intelligently merchandised with the help of the daily newspaper, will widen its market faster than production can keep pace with the increase.

AUSTRALIANS WIN DOUBLES FROM FRENCH PAIR IN HARD GAMES

ROBERTS' WORK IS OUTSTANDING

Win Today of One Singles Will Give Aussies Round.

LONGWOOD CRICKET CLUB, Chest Hill, Mass., Aug. 11.—The Australian tennis players, Gerald L. Patterson and Pat O'Hara Wood, advanced today over the playing representatives of France in the doubles match of the Davis Cup elimination competition. In another match, which was a noteworthy one for the strategy and strokes involved, they defeated the team of Andre Gobert and Henri Cochet, 6-0, 6-3, 6-6, 3-6, 10-8.

The effect of the victory which they gained after a tussle that alternately went the way of France and then the way of the "Land down under" was to make it necessary for the antipodeans to win only one of the two singles matches scheduled for tomorrow to qualify them to meet the Spanish team in the final match of the preliminary round at Philadelphia.

Patterson, victor over Gobert yesterday, meets the young star Cochet tomorrow. O'Hara Wood, defeated by Henri Cochet, will meet the Frenchman today. Patterson, who was somewhat of a physical disadvantage in each of the two matches, turned the tide toward the close of the contest, and it had swollen considerably at the close, although he played his best game in the final stages.

O'Hara Wood, who was somewhat of a substitute for James O. Anderson, his bedridden team mate, yesterday, found to back out the effects of recent neuritis attack today, and tonight the arm was a little sore again. In all probability, however, these ailments will respond to treatment overnight.

The play of the Frenchmen today was surprising to tennis followers. Gobert was a power—the best man on the court—his play was ably supplemented by that of Cochet.

Recapitulation of the play shows that Patterson and Wood served well during the game. This resume brings out Gobert's individual supremacy in the departments of: 1. ## Where Motorists May Park Cars at Port

PREPARES MAP OF LAKE SHORE

London and Port Stanley Railway Issues Chart For Picnickers' Protection.

Many Motorists Risk Fines by Parking on Restricted Village Streets.

The activities of county, provincial and village police in Port Stanley, which from time to time result in the hailing of motorists into court for various offenses against parking regulations, have given rise to a widespread discussion concerning just what part of Port Stanley property is owned by the London and Port Stanley Railway, and who is responsible for the various regulations, attractions and services with which picnickers and pleasure-seekers come in contact.

The London and Port Stanley Railway has prepared an interesting chart of the summer resort showing the location of various landmarks, such as the casino, the L. and P. S. bathhouse and cafeteria, the incline railway, the roller coaster, the park on Invererie Heights and auto parking spaces, which shows at a glance what the railway does and does not own.

Not All Controlled. In the chart which is reproduced herewith, all of the shaded territory is NOT under control of the L. and P. S., or owned by it. For instance, at the right of the map is William street, the main north and south street, running down to the casino dance hall. The casino, the cement promenade on which the various concessions are located, and the 25-cent auto parking space behind them are all private property with which the railway has no connection.

To reach the park and picnic grounds by auto, two roads may be used. On the beach there is Cavell Boulevard, the wide cement-curbed roadway which runs through past the picture show and roller coaster, and terminates at the waterworks pump-house. This road, throughout its length, is a village street, and village bylaws concerning parking and traffic are made and enforced by the village reeve and council. Under the municipal bylaws it is forbidden to park on the north side of Cavell Boulevard, and some have been fined for violation of the rule.

Police Warn Autoists. L. and P. S. police, employed to preserve order in essential things and to co-operate and assist picnickers, have frequently warned autoists who unwittingly parked in other than the places permitted and thus risked prosecution before the county magistrate. The L. and P. S. police, however, have no other interest in street traffic than to give friendly guidance to autoists who stop on sections of the street passing through the L. and P. S. Park property. The other road to the L. and P. S. picnic grounds is that which runs up the Invererie Heights hill. It also is a village street, and is patrolled by the village authorities. Parking is not permitted on this street at any place on the heights.

Some have held the view that this regulation has the effect of forcing autoists into the parking space on Invererie Heights where a 25-cent fee is charged. Be that as it may, the auto park is on private property and the L. and P. S. has nothing whatever to do with it.

Thus it will be seen from the map that on the beach the L. and P. S. property is bounded on its east side by a line running close to the east wall of the cafeteria and thence through from the lake along the fence at the east side of the baseball diamond, up the heights beside the steps on the face of the hill, across the east

80,000 Children Being Fed by Canada in Famine Area of Russia.

OTTAWA, Aug. 11.—(By Canadian Press).—Eighty thousand children are being fed by Canada in the famine areas of Saratov, Russia, and 35 Canadian kitchens are in operation in this area, 45 of which have been established through the Canadians' "Save the Children Fund" organization, and 10 through the British organization, with cash gifts from individuals and organizations in Canada.

side of Invererie Heights Park and down to the beach behind the heights.

Fence Divides Park. The western boundary of the L. and P. S. property is marked by another straight line running through from the lake, west of the booth beside the free movies, following the walk in front of the roller-coaster, and running up the heights a little distance west of the incline railway. On the heights there is a line fence, painted green, dividing the private auto parking place from the L. and P. S. Park, and running through northward to the road behind the hill.

Thus on the heights the L. and P. S. owns and maintains the splendid park in which all sports and band concerts are given, and in which the children's playgrounds apparatus, the Japanese tea-house, the free hot and cold water supplies, the public conveniences, etc., are furnished. The L. and P. S. owns on the face of the heights the incline Railway, and the steps and terraced walk, and all the land between them.

Owns Ball Diamond.

On the beach it owns the baseball diamond and athletic field, the railway terminal and refreshment booth opposite the public conveniences, and the checkroom opposite the roller coaster, the emergency hospital tent at the foot of the incline, the free moving picture show and the refreshment booth adjoining on the corner of the Boardwalk. All property along the Boardwalk from there easterly to the waterworks pump-house, the playgrounds apparatus beside the lake, and the big bathhouse and cafeteria.

The roller coaster and all property through to the west are owned by the Port Stanley Amusement Company and other private parties. Thus it will be seen that the L. and P. S. generously provides entertainment and accommodation for the public in general without discriminating between those who do and do not ride on the railway. In fact, the only free parking space now available in Port Stanley, except what is allowed on the streets, is that provided by the railway on both sides of Cavell boulevard in front of the bathhouse.

Leases No Concessions.

The railway maintains a policy of leasing no concessions on its own property, and in the interests of public service and good business practice operates all refreshment booths and eating places under its own staff. The family party with the basket lunch is welcomed and freely supplied with hot and cold water and picnic tables, though it is necessary to hire men to keep the park in order, and to clean up the refuse left from day to day by the picnickers. When large organizations which use the railway for their own purposes desire the services of caterers for anything from an inexpensive open air lunch to a turkey dinner with orchestral music the railroad reserves the right to handle this business itself as an offset against park maintenance costs.

It is always the objective of the railroad, however, to give the organizations the benefit of superior service and moderate rates, as innumerable London and outside organizations have heartily testified in spontaneous letters of appreciation.

WILL START TO HARVEST ALBERTA WHEAT IN WEEK

CALGARY, Alta., Aug. 11.—The harvesting of wheat will be general in Alberta in about a week's time, and if the continued absence of hail extends over that period the losses from that cause will be the lightest ever known, according to hail insurance reports.

They state there have been no serious storms at all this season.

FARMERS WAITING FOR ASSURED CROP

Reports State Business in Western Canada Quiet As Result.

WINNIPEG, Aug. 11.—(By Canadian Press).—According to reports received from various centres, business conditions throughout Canada may be considered fairly satisfactory, states the weekly trade report of the Canadian Creditmen's Trust Association.

Eastern advices from such points as Montreal, Toronto, Brantford and Quebec indicate a certain amount of briskness in ladies' wear, men's wear, drygoods and hardware, the latter owing to more active building in the various large cities. Rail conditions have benefited by recent fine weather, and are expected to still further improve at country points owing to the good agricultural outlook. Collections are still very slow.

Winnipeg wholesalers vary in their reports. While drygoods, ladies' wear and men's wear, and hardware are fairly active, there are other lines such as boots and shoes, furniture, etc., which leave much room for improvement. Larger cities report activity in retail lines. Collections are slow.

Saskatchewan advices say that the wholesale trade in the province is quiet, orders coming in very slowly from country towns, farmers presumably waiting for an assured crop. Retail trade is also quiet, merchants say, and less than at this time in 1921. Collections are very dead.

Generally speaking the West seems to be waiting for the harvesting of what seems to be a crop second only to that of 1915. In many parts where small crops are expected, rains have had a beneficial effect, and with the exception of districts west of Saskatoon, also around Portage la Prairie, good returns are expected.

EXPLOSION KILLS 5 ON BOARD LINER

One Victim of Disaster Believed To Have Been Blown Overboard.

ABOARD SS. ADRIATIC, OFF NEW ENGLAND, Aug. 11.—An explosion occurring today aboard the Steamship Adriatic, in the reserve coal hatch, killed five members of the crew and injured four others. The explosion, which took place at 1:30 a.m., was caused by spontaneous combustion.

No passengers were among the casualties. Of the five members of the crew who were killed, one was believed to have been blown overboard.

The following description of the explosion was given by Martin H. Glynn, former governor of New York, a newspaperman and a passenger. "It came like a roar of thunder. The captain of the ship, Hugh R. Davids, is a strict disciplinarian, and this showed today when he performed great work. He had the fire in the hold under control and the ship again on her way a few hours after the explosion."
