OUR TOWN NURSE

To the Editor of THE ACADIAN.

To the Editor of The Acadian.

Dear Sir:—May I say a word concerning the splendid work being now carried on by Miss Harry, the Victorian Nurse? Hardly a week passes but I am brought in personal contact with her ministrations among the poorer classes of this town. What a blessed change in conditions in cases of sickness I have observed. How much suffering has been relieved, how many dangerous illnesses avoided, aye and how many lives have been saved. Of all the improvements brought about in this town since I came here nearly twenty-three years ago this is I think the most fruitful in good results. The promoters of this movement deserve well of this town and it is inconceivable how we can ever go back to the old conditions, when people suffered and languished and died for want of expert care. The town of Wolfville has been most fortunate in securing Miss Harry's services, for besides being a most competent nurse, she is a young lady of fine character and attractive and winning personality and one who is a welcome verifier to every home. tractive and wiming personality and one who is a welcome visitor to every home. I am sure the medical men of Wolfville will bear me out when I say it is difficult; in fact impossible, to speak too highly of Miss Harry's work in our town.

THE ORANGE vs. BOOZE

New and startling benefits of Prohibition are being brought to light frequently. One of the most significant of these benefits is reported by a New York city commission merchant. In a recent conversation with Mr. C. L. Waitman of Citra, Fla., this commission man declared that in his opinion Prohibition was directly responsible for the tremendously increased sale of Florida's citrus fruit on the New York market. Mr. Waitman is a large citrus fruit grower of Florida and the commission merchant has handled much of his product in the past on the New York market.

Mr. Waitman reminded the commission man that only a few years ago Florida was producing about five million boxes of citrous fruit while prices on the market ruled low. "But this year", said Mr. Waitman, "the state will ship around thirteen million boxes, yet the prices this year will range close around three times what they were when the production was scarcely more then one-half of what it is now. Can you give me any reason why

The commission man replied: "I can answer you in a word—Prohibition. It is this way. Heretofore thousands of New Yorkers were sucking bottles who have now gone to sucking oranges. They get up in the morning and wanting something to drink and unable to obtain liquor as they used to do, they take an orange instead and it satisfies them. There is your reason and there is no doubt about it."—Forward.

"Saved My Little Girl!"

Mother tells how her little Ethel's life was saved.

That is what one woman wrote us recently, and then she goes on to say:—
"Ethel, who is just past eight, caught a bad cold last August. The child is of a highly strung, nervons temperament and could not be kept quiet in bed. We tried everything we could think of to cure her cough. But, the cough became worse and from a rosy, healthy, stirdy girl she became pale and thin. Nothing wa did seemed to stop the cough and by this time regular spasms of coughing had developed. These coughing spells left the child weak and completely tired out. I believe that in a short time the cough would have reached the child's lungs. After trying everything I could think of, I saw an advertisement for Carnol, saying that this preparation would build one up. I got a bottle from the druggist and before it was half finished my little girl had almost completely shaken off her cough. Her cheeks began to get back their old colour. She started to put on flesh again and would run and play all day without being tired. Today, after having taken two bottles of Carnol, she is looking and feeling better than she has ever felt in her life."

Carnol is sold by your druggist and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle and he will refund your money.

THE EDITOR'S DREAM

Last evening I was talking With an Editor, aged and grey, And he told me of a dream he had I think, 'twas Christmas day.

While snoozing in his office, This vision came to view For he thought an angel entered, Clad in garments white and new.

The Lord has sent me down To bring you up to glory,

Quoth the angel, "I'm from Heaven,

And worked both night and day; You've comforted and aided thouse But from few received your pay "So we want you up in Heaven

For you have labored hard, And the good Lord is preparing You're eternal, just reward. Then the Angel and the Editor, Started out for Heaven's gate,
But when passing close to Hades,

The Angel murmured "wait".

"Here's a place I wish to show you, It's the hottest place in hell, Where the ones who never paid you Evermore in torment dwell,"

And behold the Editor saw there His old patrons by the score And grabbing up a chair and fan, He sat down by the door.

He desired to sit and watch them, As they'd sizzle and burn. So his eyes could rest upon them Which ever way they'd turn.

Quoth the Angel, "Come on Editor," There are pearly gates to see, But the Editor only muttered 'This is Heaven enough for me.

The following from the Stewiacke con respondent to the Truro News refers to a former resident of this town. The many friends here of the deceased will join
THE ACADIAN in regret at the distressing accident, and profound sympathy for the sorrowing family:
May 20th—Never, in our remembrance, has this community been so shocked and saddened as on Friday morn-ing, when the word went around that William Hennigar was drowned. While out fishing in company with his brother-in-law, Frank Johnson, on Young Lake, the boat capsized throwing both men suddenly into the lake. Mn Johnson was able to get to the shore and go back with a raft to Mr. Hennigar's assistance but only in time to see him go down for the last time. After using almost superhuman efforts to recover the body alive, Mr. Johnson went for assistance, and after a short time returned with men and they were able to recover the body but too late for resuscitation.

The funeral services were held Sunday afternoon in the village church which was packed to the doors, by friends of Mr. Hennigar and the family. Rev. John Mutch, pastor of the church, Truro, of which Mr. Hennigar was a member, gave a sympathetic and touching address taking for his text the two words "Jesus wept". He spoke of the sterling qualities of the deceased, his genial friendly manner which won for him friends wherever he went closing with words of hope and sym bathy for his young wife, and brother and sisters, who were thus so suddenly Rev. J. K. McInnis and Rev J. A. McKeen also assisted at the service solo by Mr. John Sprott, Truro, was uch appreciated and beautifully render

The deepest sympathy goes out to Mrs Hennigar, who was formerly Miss Amy Johnson, and her two small sons, Rober and James; and to all the members of the two families who for many long weary days "will sigh for the touch of a vanished hand and the sound of a voice that is

If we give a merchant our custom, we have us weekly in the columns of "THE ACADIAN" what he has for us. Advertising is shop news, designed to inform us, save our time, and bring to our attention desirable

Every retailer who is alive to the interests of his customers has a message—often many messages—for his customers concerning new goods, special offerings, and things that we ought to know about. Customers and non-customers will be attentive and responsive to these messages, if they are delivered every week in the form of advertisements in "THE ACADIAN". The way to get more business is to ask for it.

A NOTE TO MERCHANTS

Would YOU buy much or regularly from firms that never solicit your trade? Do you not say—"The firm that wants my business must come after it?"

Yet some of you say, in effect, to your customers

-"We're here. If you want our goods, come and get them, but don't expect us to go after you."
It's a poor rule that doesn't work both ways.

'She wrote many other stories of Japan.

She wrote many other stories of Japan and, indeed, found it difficult to induce publishers to let her get away from that setting. To prove that she was capable of other work besides Japanese romances she wrote "The Diary of Delia", the supposed journal of an Irish cook. This was submitted anonymously and was im-mediately accepted and published.

In the spring of 1915, an anonymous serial, entitled "Me" appeared in the staid pages of the old Century Magazine, and, while shocking the sensibilities of many of the old subscribers, it increased that magazine's circulation considerably This story was sponsored by the late Jean This story was sponsored by the late Jean Webster, the close intimate friend of Onoto Watanna, and herself author of "Daddy Long Legs", who wrote the introduction to "Me", vouching for the accuracy of the tale. About a year ago she broke away from the claims of the ranch, where, with the exception of a winter in New York City, she had lived continuously for the past five years, and came to Calgary, shut herself into a room, and wrote her new novel, "SUNNY SAN". #### Editorial Notes

The letter of our esteemed townsman, Dr. Cohoon, is recommended to the careful attention of our business men and the pubhic generally. There is no doubt that Wolfville business-places are kept open on Saturday nights longer than is absolutely necessary. Our merchants would un-doubtedly welcome a change glad-ly if the public will assist them by doing their buying at an earlier hour. Too many of their customers defer their shopping until eleven o'clock or later when they might just as well have it at-tended to early in the evening. THE ACADIAN would be very pleased to see Dr. Cohoon's suggestion meet with approval and receive the attention it richly de-

There is a nasty pocket of sand in the centre of the sidewalk on the east side of Linden avenue just above Evangeline Cottage that requires attention. Visitors in town this week have complainnd town this week have complained of it and residents found it a nuisance all the spring. A few minutes time would correct the trouble and probably save some pedestrian a turned ankle or other injury. We must ask the street authorities to pardon our reference which is altogether in

It is unquestionably high time that some more drastic methods than have hitherto been employed should be adopted to prevent the sale of intoxicating liquor in this town and throughout the county. Conditions in this regard have been going from bad to worse during the past few months and demand that the powers that be should take such definite action as will make for improvement. "Boot-legging" is getting altogetter too common and the result is not only annoying to decent people but disastrous to the prospects of the young life of the community. Some of the transgressors have been under surveillance for some time back and should be adopted to prevent the veillance for some time back and there is no excuse for longer allowing them to remain a menace to common decency and the public safety.

For a good many years THE ACADIAN, both editorially and through its correspondents, advocated the straightening and widening of Main street where it crosses "the creek". It took much time and argument to get the work in progress but finally the public became interested and the expenditure. In view of what has been accomplished it ought not be so difficult to arouse public proving the appearance of the property in the same vicinity. This is a work that should not be further delayed as its completion means so much to our town and its people. The property reclaimed would be worth a considerable sum and the value of every able sum and the value of every place in the vicinity would be considerably enhanced by the completion of the proposed undertaking. A public meeting of the citizens should be given an opportunity of discussing the proposition at an early date as the season is rapidly passing.

Annapolis claims to have the first regular bus line west of Halifax. It runs between Lequille and Granville and the fee is moderate and the service reg-ular. Already the new institution is meeting with such encouragement that its permanence is hoped for. In view of the strides that have been made in the matter of motor traffic it is surprising that some similar undertaking has not been before this set in pedestrian a turned ankle or other injury. We must ask the street authorities to pardon our reference which is altogether in the public interest. and there are other points that might be connected by such a service profitably.

> THE ACADIAN would recommend to the town authorities the advisability of again adopting the some years ago with regard to the care of Main street. A man was engaged to patrol the street every morning with a hand-cart and gather up all the litter and refuse accumulated during the previous day and hight, and the plan worked most admirably. The expense would not be great and the advantage for such a service in the matter of preserving a tidy and attractive condition makes the suggestion well worthy of careful consideration on the part of the street authorities.

Among Nova Scotians who were graduted in Medicine at McGill University on Wednesday were three from this county, William Charles Archibald, B. A., of Wolfville: James Murray Kinsman B. A., of Centreville; and George Gavin Miller, of Berwick. Mr. Kinsman, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Everett Kinsman, led his class securing honors in aggregate of all subjects of the yearhonors in medicine; honors in surgery; honors in gynaecology; honors in obstetics; the result was a very great improvement. It cost something but citizens have never regretted honors in gynaecology; nonors in ophthology; honors in pathology.

MARITIME LIBRARY ASSOCIATION

To the Editor of THE ACADIAN Sir:-Will you grant me space the attention of the people of Wolfville to a very important meeting in the Baptist Church on Tuesday, the 13th instant, at 7.30 p.m.? The Maritime Library Association will be in sea andling. here that day, and in the evening there will be addresses in the church by noted librarians and educationists. Among these President Cutten and Rev. J. H. Mac Donald, D. D. are of our own town, an have long proved their right to speal authoritatively on all topics of public interest. Dr. A. H. MacKay, the Superintendent of Education in our province, should, by virtue of his high office, command a large audience. Do-minion Archivist W. C. Milner is well known and loved in Wolfville. The Venerable Archdeacon Vroom is the Liinterest in the direction of the proposed work of filling in and imis a noted spiritual and educational leader. His subject is "How to Read and What to Read", and his address is sure to be full of inspiration for everybody.

> The Library Movement in the Maritime Provinces is in its infancy but it is a living movement nevertheless. It had its inception in Wolfville in April, 1918, when the Maritime Library Association was organized. Let the people of our town prove next Tuesday that it is worthy of the name a stranger once called it,—"the Athens of Canada". All who are interested in reading for its own sake, and all who are desirous that a higher standard of culture prevail are urged to attend the meeting. There will be a silver collection to defray the expenses of the Library Movement, or, rather, to be used for its forwarding.

Has Been Developed to Overcome One Law of Nature—Has Constant Mixture

The carburetor is the device which sprays the gasoline and mixes it with the necessary amount of air to make it burn in the combustion chamber of the angine very rapidly and with intense heat. This action is frequently spoken of as an explosion but in fact, it is not; it is imply rapid burning. The power in the gas engine is derived from the pressure caused by the great heat generated by the burning of the air mixed with the gasoline; it is not an explosion, but an gasoline; it is not an explosion, but an agranoism.

One cubic inch of liquid gasoline mixed with 8,500 to 10,000 cubic inches of air makes a mixture which burns with a most intense heat, thus giving very high pressure in the cylinders and doing the most work. The temperature of the burning mixture frequently rises as high as 2,700 degrees Farenheit, and this gives a pressure of most the state of most than 100 mixture frequently rises as high as 2,700 degrees Farenheit, and this gives a pressure of most than 100 mixture frequently rises as high as 2,700 degrees Farenheit, and this gives a pressure of most than 100 mixture frequently rises as high as 2,700 degrees Farenheit, and this gives a pressure of most than 100 mixture frequently rises as high as 2,700 degrees for most than 100 mixture frequently rises as high as 2,700 degrees for most than 100 mixture frequently rises as high as 2,700 degrees for most than 100 mixture frequently rises as high as 2,700 degrees for most formation for mixture is obtained at quite a wide range of engine speed. Practically all carburetors up to about eight or nine years ago embodied this principle in a more or less comprehensive manner, and even today there are some carbu-retors still making use of it. degrees Farenheit, and this gives a pres-sure of more than 350 pounds to the

and makes the engine work.

Inside of the carburetor the gasoline perfumery is sprayed by an atomizer. In fact the gasoline and air mixture has the same appearance as it leaves the carburetor and is carried through the through a section of a worn-out tire and passage (manifold) to the cylinders as fastening it to the floor boards with small the fine vapor from an atomizer or throat

The spraying of the gasoline and mixing it with air is caused by the air rushing in through the carburetor to) fill the cylinder as the piston moves outward and creates a vacuum on the intake stroke, and creates a vacuum on the make stoke, and if the speed of the engine was the same at all times there would be no trouble with carburetion. One of the laws of nature is that the faster air moves over a nozzle containing liquid the richer the mixture becomes, or the more liquid is taken up. The carburetor has been developed to overcome this law of nature and give a constant mixture at all engine speeds.

An automobile engine runs from about 200 revolutions to over 3,000 revolutions a minute and at high speed with an open throttle the air and gasoline mixture passes through the intake manifold at a speed of a mile a minute in some engines. The carburetor must supply a mixture at all speeds that has the proper proportions of air and gasoline. To accomplish this almost impossible feat, many different devices have been put on the market during the past twenty years, but about all that was done in the first half of that time was to prove that each device was imperfect and to point the way toward

A carburetor must have a cup or bowl in which a certain quantity of gasoline is maintained. This is done by using a float which stops the gasoline from flowing by pushing a little plug into the end of the pipe which carried the gasoline from the tank or reservoir to the bowl of the carburetor. From the float the gasoline to flow to a nozzle which is inside of the passage through which the air rushes to the cylinder. The level of the gasoline in the float_chamber is just below the top of the nozzle so no gasoline can run out of the pozzle when the engine is not working, but is high enough so that as soon as the pistor moves and creates a vacuum, line flows out and mixes with the air on the way to the cylinder. In many carburetors there is a means of adjusting the more than double—the mileage in the tires of to-day.

Its the car everybody wants because it is the best.

The unusual popularity of STUDEBAKER CARS is attended by the fact that the corporation enjoyed the biggest business in its history in 1921.

Notwithstanding the fact that the total number of all automobiles sold (except Ford) was 40 per cent, less than in 1920, the total aggregate of sales for the Studebaker cars was 20 per cent. greater than in 1920—and in Canada 64 per cent. greater than in 1920.

Ten, twelve and fifteen thousand miles are just average mileages to-day. And the records on the road show that Dunlop Cord Tires and Dunlop Fabric Tires are even exceeding these mileages.

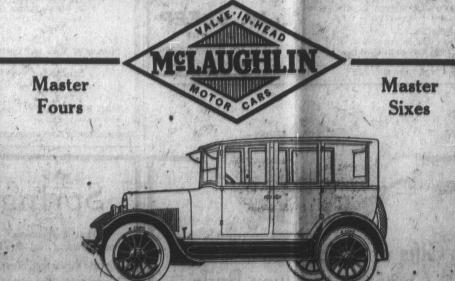

With Dunlop big mileage you have rock-bottom prices and paramount tire quality-tire quality that is accepted as standard to-day, and which other makers are vainly striving to-duplicate.

When you can get a tire with prestige back of it like DUNLOP, and with practically unlimited guarantee, why chance your life on a second-rate tire at any price?

In Dunlop Cord Tires you have "Traction" and "Ribbed" to choose from. In Dunlop Fabric Tires you have "Traction," "Ribbed," "Special," "Clipper," "Plain."

THE INNER MEANING

Good manners are not merely an empty form of social ritual; they express the per-sonality of the one who exhibits them, and are tokers of kindness, gentleness, and a desire to do as much as possible for other people. They are the ointment that souther the bumps and bruises we all suffer in the daily conflict, and the practice of them is our opportunity of showing the best that is in us, and making a reality of the dear tender things we all secretly cherish in our hearts. It is by failing to recognize this, and consequently by not bothering to give outward form to a thing that seems to have but little inner meani that we so often hurt those we los here on Tuesday, May 30th, by the Alumni of the College. The former students of the beloved teachers of Acadia, now passed to their reward, assembled at the Baptist church and a pilgrimage was made to the old and new cemeteries stopping for a few minutes at each grave to cast a sprig of cedar and to say a few words commencerating the value of the words commemorating the value of the deeds and potent influence of these pio neers of Acadia.

A beautiful day, with the warm sun ining, the breeze from the Basin of Minas blowing in the trees, the birds singing, and the familiar view from the singing, and the laminar view from the hill top of mountain, river, valley, sea and sky, combined with the subtle in-fluence of the victories won by these teachers of old who have finished the fight, gave all a new impetus in the way of what is highest and worthiest in human

IS YOURS A MARCON

Marconi is the outstanding name in the wireless world and is now making the pioneer move in Radio in Canada. Their large factories and extensive laboratories are now working to capacity turning out the wonderful Marconi Radio Receiving Sets and accessories. For some years they have gradually been securing more and more exculsive patents along the radio line until today they have something over two hundred Canadian patents which makes Marconi Radio products distinct and most advanced.

A Marconi Broadcasting Station

A Marconi broadcasting station is being erected in Halifax. From this station we shall give musical concerts of all kinds, lectures, sermons on Sunday, etc. The latest news will be sent out several times daily. Results of sporting events, stock market reports, weather reports, etc., will be sent out at stated periods daily. All matters of interest or good amusement will be available from this Halifax Marconi Broadcasting station to anyone in Nova Scotia if they own a Marconi Radio Receiving Set. In fact, our broadcasting will be heard many miles beyond the confines of this Province. This means that the owners of Marconi Receiving Sets will not only hear the programmes given in many American cities, but will also get the Halifax programmes as well. It is all very wonderful.

Present Stock Situation

For many months it will be impossible for the Marconi factories to catch up with the tremendous demand. Until the time arrives when surplus stock will be available all orders must be booked in advance. This means that for a long time to come it will only be possible to secure Marconi Radio equipment by placing your order with your dealer, which order will be filled from each shipment of stock received by us according to dates orders are received. At the most the present situation indicates that this will only mean a delay of from twoto four weeks after order is received before it is filled. We have arranged for this Province to get a particularly generous share of the Marconi output at all times, which will place us in a better position than possibly any other Province in Canada in respect to filling orders.

Place your order early and avoid disappointing delays.

Discovered by The S.P.C.

A hovel where an entire family lived in squalor—a nine year old girl bearing her mother's family name, a year younger boy bearing the name of his grandmother. Left to such unsocial surroundings these children could not fail to be a liability to society—a threat to you and your children.

Saved by St. Joseph's Orphanage .

Both children were sent to St. Joseph's Orphanage, Halifax, where after two years of convalescence the boy has been adopted into a fine home, the girl has stopped coughing and tearns in half the time taken by her classmates.

For decades St. Joseph's Orphanage has been carrying on such work quietly and without ever asking public assistance in the whole 73 years of its existance. Today it is compelled to extend its buildings which now have twice the normal number of occupants. For the first time you are asked to help. Give for the sake of these father-less children, give for the sake of your own conscience. True charity does not consist in giving what you don't need, but in giving till the giving hurts. Make checks (subscriptions may be payable in instalments) out to
