On Executive Responsibility.

Last week we drew attention to the protest made by the Auditor General against the payment on Executive responsibility of salaries for new offices, of larger salaries than those voted by the House and of pensions not passed by the Legislature. Protest of a similar nature are to be found year after year in the Auditor General's reports. The Government apparently pays little or no notice to these adverse comments of this official, who is in duty bound to direct the attention of the Legislature to them. Under the head of Accountant of Contingencies, we find a salary of $1,600 provided for a Government Analyst. We offer no objection to the creation of this office, but the salary might just as well have been voted regularly by the Legislature as given irregularly by the Governor in Council. In the same account we find six pensions created aggregating $2,700 a year.

In the Colonial Secretary's Department one new pension of $450 was created and three salaries were increased, aggregating an increase of $220 a year.

In the Customs Department, nineteen new salaries were created, three increases in salaries made, and one pension provided on Executive responsibility, entailing an annual charge of about $7,300 a year.

In respect of Public Charities, two offices were created at an annual charge of $550.

In the Marine and Fisheries Department, two pensions and three increases of salaries were made, calling for $592 a year.

In the Postal Telegraphs, the new offices and salary increase make a charge of $8,339 a year.

In connection with Public Works, similar increases amount to $3,635 a year.

The total increases on salary account and pensions made without resort to the Legislature and on Executive responsibility, amounted to $25,811 since the Legislature closed in March, 1914.

In addition to this, $48,634.19 was spent in excess of the votes then obtained or on services for which no vote was taken.

At this time some step was taken by the Legislature to make a stand against this invasion of the rights of the Legislature.

DRINKING RESTRICTIONS.

LONDON, To-day. The Government has finally arrived at more moderate decision for dealing with the drink problem, according to the Times, which places the proposed restrictions under the following heads: The prohibition of the sale of immature spirits; second, the encouragement of the brewing of lighter beers; third, the special public house restrictions in "munitions" districts; fourth, reduced hours of sale generally; fifth, compensation for interests affected.

OPERATIONS AGAINST TURKEY—KITCHENER'S ARMY FOR DARDANELLES.

LONDON, To-day. Official. The last concerted effort on the part of the Allies against the Turkish fortifications in the Dardanelles Straits was over a month ago on March 19 and 20. This action was entirely from sea. A more or less persistent bombardment, covering several weeks, left the Straits still in the hands of the Turks. The last five weeks have seen naval activities of a minor order in the Straits. There has been some sweeping and occasional scouting, but no important endeavour to penetrate this waterway. The new feature of the fighting which began yesterday was the participation of land forces. British troops have been brought from Egypt. French soldiers are believed to have come from the southern shores of the Mediterranean. There have been despatches received in New York to-day from London convey the report current in England that part of Earl Kitchener's new army to the number of 100,000 or even 200,000 men is in the Aegean. It was supposed these troops who have been leaving British shores in large numbers were going to the continent, but observers who have returned from the British front in France have commented on the fact that none of Kitchener's army is there, and it is known that thousands of them have left England during the past six or eight weeks. A recent despatch from Egypt disclosed that the British Expeditionary Force in the East is now in command of an Expeditionary Force destined for European Turkey composed of British and French troops. Despatches received in New York last week related the landing of an expeditionary force at Enos in European Turkey, on the northern shore of the Gulf of Saros which is just off the Dardanelles.

NOON.

THE BRILLIANT FIGHT OF THE CANADIANS.

LONDON, To-day. To the Canadians belong the honor of spoiling the Germans' plan in Flanders, according to a despatch to the Mail, from a correspondent in Northern France. They were supported in turn by a French force, by Zouaves, by Belgians and by English regiments. The guns they lost temporarily were not behind their lines but on the left side. The flood of the Canadian forces which maintained their calmness, although their position became the promontory in the allied lines. At times they had a double front, some trenches facing Northeast and others Southwest. They adapted their trenches to meet the new demands and maintained the back into the front. In any manoeuvre they would have been adjudged annihilated, but the held on and made good. They tied handkerchiefs over their noses to protect themselves from the gas fumes. It was only the Canadians who stood firm in the promontory, maintained many hours and varied by bayonet charges, that checked the Germans and enabled the Canadians to retire in good order and reform the general line. A summing up of the situation shows however that the Germans gained good deal. They flattened the allies' salient, Northeast of Ypres, and one point has become a German salient. Moreover the Germans hold an Arc around Ypres which facilitates their offensive. Several villages East of the German salient and on the left bank now are debatable ground.

1.30 P. M.

YPRES IN FLAMES.

LONDON, To-day. Ypres is in flames, the Germans having advanced, says a despatch to the Morning Post's correspondent in Northern France. Fighting continues hotly all along the front. The correspondent adds: Germans show extraordinary daring in bringing their heavy artillery close to their front lines. They are using many 12-inch Austrian howitzers on movable carriages. The Germans are using, effectively, armoured trains carrying 47 guns. For the use of these armoured trains the Germans have consolidated and strengthened the system of light railways by uniting a number of small towns in the neighborhood of Ypres, to which they have added strategical branch lines.

BELGIAN OFFICIAL.

LONDON, To-day. The following Belgian official report on the progress of hostilities, dated April 26, was given out in London to-day: Last night our infantry repelled three attacks which were made south of Dixmude by the Germans who again are using asphyxiating gases. The Germans sustained heavy losses to-day along our front, and the artillery of the enemy has shown a certain amount of activity.

ST PIERRE BULLETIN.

(Official, Paris).—North of Ypres we have secured substantial progress on the left of the battle front, and repulsed the enemy and inflicted on him heavy losses. The Germans have again used asphyxiating gas, but a method of protection has been employed by us and the allies, giving excellent results. A sharp infantry engagement occurred near Fay, north of Chaulnes, for possession of a trench produced by explosion of a German mine. Our troops dislodged the Germans and held on in spite of two counter attacks. In Champagne near Beausjour, the Germans delivered an attack which was immediately checked. On the Meuse heights the German attacks on the front of Eprages, Stremy and Calonne trench have utterly failed. In spite of the extreme force German effort we have maintained the entire position of Eprages, the slopes of which are covered with German corpses. At Calonne trench our fall back of the day before yesterday did not cost us a single gun and was immediately

Battle of Ypres Continues With Undiminished Fury

GERMANS BEND LINE OF ALLIES—CANADIANS RECOVER THE GROUND THEY LOST—FRENCH AND BELGIANS ALSO RECOVER MUCH LOST GROUND.

LONDON, To-day.

The tremendous battle, began by the German attack on the Allied front at Ypres, Flanders, continues with undiminished fury. England, like the rest of Europe, is aghast at the outcome with undiminished anxiety. The news that the Allied fleet and army have commenced the attack on the Dardanelles, and that the British and French forces are advancing against the Turkish entrenchments, which a few days ago would have aroused immense enthusiasm has received only passing attention in face of the stakes that are in the balance in the battle which is being fought across the English Channel. While the majority of those capable of forming the opinion believe that the Germans by a stroke they have delivered the blow which will drive the British and Belgians are once again aiming at Dunkirk and Calais, there are others who believe that it is only a sweet force of the Allies resurves, while preparations are being made for an attack on some other part of the long line. Whatever the intentions of the Germans they certainly made a successful coup, which held it did not break, did fringe the British position. The Germans were the first to recover themselves, and in a counter-attack, the trenches of which are ringing throughout the Empire, recaptured the ground they had been compelled to give up. Since then with their comrades they have successfully withstood the German assaults. The French and Belgians who received the blast of the attack and were driven back across the Canal between Boesinghe and Steenstraete were not much longer in recovering, according to the French official reports. They succeeded in regaining possession of the Canal banks and much surrounding territory to the East. There is no inclination here, however, to belittle the initial success of the German sweep and that an agreement has been reached between Rome and the Triple Entente. The position of Greece may be cleared up after the visit which Prince George is paying to Paris and London, although nothing is likely to happen until after the general election which is about to take place in Greece, and that the advance country deeply interested in the war, is isolated except by telegraph, the British press has placed an embargo on shipping, although two steamers loaded with produce arrived at English ports from Holland yesterday, while Germany has closed both her own and the Belgian borders. The German action is dictated by a desire to hide the extent of her losses. The British action is not explained except by the assumption that the Admiralty expects a naval attack with the German fleet which is cruising off Heligoland.

Our artillery replied with success and by a strong fire proved of useful help in the attack. These troops made an attack on Lierna, which yesterday fell into the hands of the Germans, but which was wrested from them again this afternoon.

CLOCK-WORK BOMB.

PARIS, To-day. A powerful clock-work bomb found hidden in the Ministry of War office at Constantinople, according to a despatch from Saloniki, was timed to explode at an early hour when the Council would be in session. Meetings of the Council are attended by Enver Pasha, Minister of War, Field Marshal von Der Goltz and General Liman von Sanders.

Bernstoff's Impertinence.

NO POLITICS FROM THE EMBASSY

There has not recently proceeded from any embassy or legation at Washington any written document of general statement more offensive in substance, more arrogant in tone or better calculated to alienate American friendship than the memorandum of criticism of American policy delivered to our State Department and to the newspapers by the German Ambassador. It constitutes, in effect, a lecture to the American Government on the American Government's duty, pronounced in a voice of well nigh intolerable stridency, and this by a person without license to chide or dictate.

It is quite right to say this plainly, for if the mistake is Count von Bernstoff's somebody with authority to check him out to intervene to prevent further mischief, even Count von Bernstoff himself is supposed to have intervened, scarcely six months ago, at the time of the incident in which Baron von Schoen of that embassy figured.

The exact status of this extraordinary communication is not clear, an attempt is made to disconnect it from headquarters at Berlin by describing as a memorandum for which the German Ambassador alone is responsible rather than as a note transmitted by him under instructions from the German Government. On the other hand it is alleged that the Foreign Office is behind the demonstration. If the document is of the latter origin the situation may well be regarded as very serious. If it merely represents a moment of folly or of indiscretion or of audacious enterprise in domestic politics on the part of the Ambassador personally the affair becomes one of the sort which the Administration was called upon to deal with last September in the case of the Turkish diplomat A. Rüstem Bey.

If Count Von Bernstoff had no instructions from the Government to lecture our Government on its failure to live up to the Count's newly formulated conception of the "spirit of true neutrality" the matter is much simpler. If his remarks and rebuke were really intended not for the education of the President and the Legislature but for effect on hyphenated citizens throughout the country with a view to the political organization in the interest of the German cause the question is merely whether that impertinent strains to the breaking point the forbearance of a Government anxious to preserve relations of the friendliest neutrality with a nation so hard put it as the German nation is at present.

There is a large and influential element of our citizenship which now calls itself German-American. It remains to be seen to what extent the first member of the hyphenated North American German-American under the tests of events that raised a direct and distinct issue of allegiance. However that may be there is a still larger and still more influential element in our population known as the German-American or Anglo-American but plain American without any hypen.

This part of the population is bound to watch with interest any attempt of misguided fellow citizens to introduce questions of foreign warfare into party politics in America; but every body concerned may be mighty sure the majority sentiment of unhypenated Americanism will never tolerate the intrusion of the embassy or legation of any foreign Power into affairs of domestic politics.—N. Y. Sun.

OFFICIAL.

The Governor, Newfoundland:
LONDON, April 23.
The general attack on the Dardanelles was resumed yesterday by the Fleet and Army. The Army's landing, covered by the fleet, began before sunrise at various points, on the Gallipoli peninsula. Despite serious opposition from strong entrenchments protected by barbed wire, it was completely successful. Large forces were established on shore before night. Landing of the army and the advance continue.

The French Government reports counter-attacks near Ypres. They have regained part of the lost ground. The village of Lizierme, captured by the Germans on the left bank of the Yser Canal, was recaptured by Zouaves and Belgian Carabineers. Appreciable progress has been made on the right bank of the Canal. The British troops have maintained all their positions on our right.

Enemy attacks in Champagne, Argonne and the heights of the Meuse have failed.

THOUGHT SHE COULD NOT LIVE

Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Unionville, Mo.—"I suffered from a female trouble and I got so weak that I could hardly walk across the floor without holding on to something. I had nervous spells and my fingers would cramp and my face would draw, and I could not speak, nor sleep to do any good, had no appetite, and everyone thought I would not live. Some one advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I had taken so much medicine and my doctor said he could do me no good so I told my husband he might get me a bottle and I would try it. By the time I had taken it I felt better. I continued its use, and now I am well and strong. "I have always recommended your medicine ever since I was so wonderfully benefited by it and I hope this letter will be the means of saving some other poor woman from suffering."—Mrs. MARTHA SEAVEY, Box 1144, Unionville, Missouri.

The makers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have thousands of such letters as that above—they tell the truth, else they could not have been obtained for love or money. This medicine is no stranger—it has stood the test for years.

If there are any complications you do not understand write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

ST. PIERRE BULLETIN.

PARIS, via St. Pierre, April 26.
In Belgium two German attacks debouching from Passchendalle and Broesdeide have been checked by British troops. The enemy then shelled fiercely at Ypres. Our action continues along the Yser Canal. At Notre Dame de Lorette we repulsed a German attack. On heights of the Meuse a battle is developing. The German attack on Calonne trench, reported yesterday, has been checked by our counter-attack and the enemy thrown back. The latter then attacked further east towards Saint Remy, evidently aiming at the recapture of Eparges. A fierce action, preceded by a heavy cannonading, was engaged in shortly after on the eastern slopes of this position, but the German attack failed.

Last night Rossley's was crowded out to the doors at both houses, East End and West End. Mr. Ballard Brown and Miss Madge Locke in their beautiful character songs, costumes, dances and act. Miss Madge Locke in her dainty crinoline dress and poke bonnet sang Sally in Our Alley and looked bewitching; her sailor song and dance was another great change. Mr. Ballard Brown is the finest singer of real songs we have ever heard. The Egyptian sketch was splendid, the Oriental stage settings and magnificent satin drop curtain was something never seen here before, while the weird dance was watched with breathless silence. Salome takes an expert dancer, Miss Madge Locke was with The Great Genee at the Empire, London, where she learned her wonderful art.

The pictures were the best ever seen at Rossley's. It's a great high class show.

Ten Masked Men

Hold Up Fast Freight on New York Central, and With Ten Auto Trucks Get Away With Goods.

Buffalo, N.Y., April 15.—Ten masked and armed men held up a New York Central fast freight train near Sanborn, fifteen miles from this city, early this morning. They uncoupled the engine and ran it a quarter of a mile down the tracks and kept the train crew covered while the cars were looted. Ten big automobile trucks were in waiting and were filled with stolen goods.

Engineer Goss, of Syracuse, who was running the train, escaped from his guard and ran down the tracks with the robbers firing at him. He reached the engine and started it, running to Suspension Bridge, eight miles away, and secured a posse of detectives and was back to the scene within half an hour. Hundreds of armed men began scouring the country for the robbers, but none of them have been arrested. Several shots were fired at the train crew.

The stolen goods were worth thousands of dollars. The autos came from the direction of Buffalo, and a call for help was sent to the city. Every highway leading into the city was guarded, but no track of the machines was found.

Makes Hair Grow

The time to take care of your hair is when you have hair to take care of.

If your hair is getting thin, gradually falling out, it cannot be long before the spot appears.

The greatest remedy to stop the hair from falling is SALVIA, first discovered in England. SALVIA furnishes nourishment to the hair roots and acts so quickly that people are amazed.

It destroys the dandruff germ, the little pest that saps the life that should go to the hair from the roots.

"German Vote" Failed to Work.

The recent majority election in Chicago has been one of the straws which shows how the wind is blowing in the United States as regards the use of the "German-American" vote. The Democratic candidate,

Robert M. Schweitzer, was nominated in the hope that the "German vote" of Chicago, which is nearly a third of the total vote of the city, would rally to his support as a means of demonstrating the solidarity of the Germans in the United States. Hundreds of the leading German and Austrian citizens, says the New York Times, "signed a circular urging the voters of German, Austrian, and Hungarian descent to vote the Schweitzer ticket as an endorsement of the war policies of Kaiser Wilhelm. The circular was adorned with photographs of Kaiser Wilhelm and Emperor Francis Joseph."

"An intense wave of resentment arose. The young Americans from the Indiana borders of Chicago to the northern borders of Chicago at Lake Forest turned out in force and voted down the Schweitzer German-Austrian ticket."

As a result, William Hale Thompson, the Republican candidate, was elected by the unheard plurality of 139,000 votes.

The Hardest Way.

By RUTH CAMERON.

RUTH CAMERON

A young man was starting a small business. The question came up as to whether he should not seize an opportunity which involved his doing something not quite fair. He thought it over for some time. He was a man with a good many ideas. He didn't like the idea of compromising with his own sense of right and yet—well, he did want to get on and opportunities like this one didn't grow on every bush. He finally took the opportunity and this is the way he comforted himself. "I don't believe in doing this sort of thing but it's terribly hard getting started and I can't be too particular. Once I get my start then I'll be absolutely fair."

Swing One's Conscience Paregoric. Everyone knows it's wrong to give babies paregoric because it stultifies as well as quiets them. Not so many people realize that it's wrong to give a young conscience mental paregoric, because it has the same effect in that case.

One of the worst forms of such mental paregoric is to assure one's self that one will find it easier to do what one feels is right "by-and-by," "some other day," "a little later," "when I've gotten a start."

I'm sorry for that young man because I know just how much harder he is going to find it to be fair after he has been unfair.

The thing he is doing now is a comparatively small wrong, but it's two to one it will pave the way for bigger wrongs.

It Takes Ten Times the Strength to Turn Back.

It takes ten times the strength to turn back from any wrong course that it does not to start in it. A man's choices makes him what he is. Each choice pushes him farther in one direction or another, each choice pushes him farther in one direction or another, each choice helps determine the character of the next choice.

Start right. It's the cleanest, simplest way, the way of no regrets. And I don't mean that for business alone, but for any new relation of life into which you enter.

Don't try to stultify your conscience with fine promises of what you're going to do by-and-by. Do it now.

Questions and Answers.

Question.—I kept company with a young woman three years, left her and married one I liked better. She, after awhile, married, too, and went away. Her folks always wanted me to come and call on them, so I went one evening and when I came home my wife didn't like it at all. She said she thought it was outrageous for me to go there and talk over old times with them and leave her at home alone. She didn't know her. Did I do wrong?

Answer.—Does your wife feel sure that you did and still do "like her better." Tell her so once more and I shouldn't wonder if she would forgive you. It might have been better taste to take her with you, but I don't think it wrong not to. Perhaps it was a bit silly for her to mind, but jealousy makes us all most unreasonable.

Fine Heroism of Halifax Boy at Front.

Thrilling Story of Capt. Francis Whitechurch Townsend, Who, With Both Legs Shot Off, Said to "Attend to the Others First."

London, April 16.—The heroic fortitude of a young Canadian, Captain Francis Whitechurch Townsend, of the Royal Engineers, is graphically described by a motor ambulance driver. Townsend was born in Halifax, a grandson of Hon. W. J. Stairs, and died on March 29th of wounds received the previous day. The driver says Townsend was with the Indian Engineers inspecting telegraph wires, when a shell burst in their midst. He was found in the shell hole with his legs apparently half buried. He told the ambulance man to attend to the others first, that he was all right. When moved they found he was standing on the stumps of his legs, both shot off at the knee. He was perfectly conscious and calm. He looked at his legs and asked quietly, his handsome face showing no pain: "The something tightly round both thighs to stop the bleeding." Another horrible wound was found in his arm. While it was being dressed Townsend said: "I think I'll give up football next year." As he was carried to the hospital, where he died, he was perfectly conscious. He laughed quietly and apologized for all the trouble. The driver adds: "I never saw such courage before. I felt as I left the hospital that I had seen a man." The officers of Townsend's company asked the family to be allowed to erect a monument over the grave in Bethune cemetery—Halifax Mail, April 17.

BASEBALL.—The various baseball teams are now starting to get into shape, though each team will be handicapped this season on account of the enlistments.

March 21, 1915.

Dear Mother,—Just a few lines to let you know that I am well, hoping you are the same. I haven't much strange news to tell you at present. I like it over here all right. It's a fine place. We had a fine time across. After we left Halifax the Mongolian sprung a leak in the middle. We had to put back to Halifax. We had to man the pumps for three days and nights; we got into Halifax safe. I got the box you sent to Levi, I got it here at Devenport. The cake wasn't hurt, the rest of it was spoiled. Till Wilmina to write to me because I don't know her address. I am sending my best respects to Aunt Lesia and father. Tell him to take care of himself. I also send my best respects to my sister. So I think I have said all for this time. Good bye. HEALTH IN DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

Now She is Advising all Her Friends Who Suffer From Kidney Disease to Use Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Portneuf, Hamilton Cove, Saguenay Co., Que., April 26th. (Special).—Perfectly cured by the use of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dame Rene Bouchard, well known and highly respected here, is advising all her friends who suffer from kidney disease to use Dodd's Kidney Pills. "When I commenced to take Dodd's Kidney Pills I was so run-down I only weighed eighty pounds," Dame Bouchard states. "I only took four boxes in all but they brought me back to health and now I weigh one hundred and twenty pounds. You may publish what I say if you wish, for Dodd's Kidney Pills have done wonders for me."

Dodd's Kidney Pills do wonders for run-down people because they cure the kidneys. Cured Kidneys strain all the impurities, all the poisons, out of the blood and the pure blood carries new nourishment, health and life to all parts of the body. That's why so many people say, "Dodd's Kidney Pills gave me a new lease of life."

PRESENTS A 3 REEL SPECIAL FEATURE TO-DAY.

"The Old Flute Player."

A special feature in 3 parts, picturized by Eugene Mullin from the book by C. T. Dazey. He and his daughter in their lowly occupation are not in the same net with the wealthy Mrs. Vandorby; he reveals his title and she courts their society; it makes a difference and a distinction. Edith Storey, the Vitagraph star, features in this great photo play.

"BRONCHO BILLY WINS OUT"—A western comedy-drama with G. M. Anderson.

"WANTED A HOUSE"—A great comedy. Mr. and Mrs. Citiman hunger for the country. Several surprising and exciting experiences cure them.

On Wednesday—A LAUGHABLE BUNNY COMEDY.
GOOD MUSIC AND SINGING—POLITE ATTENTION.

Not Bleached

GOLD MEDAL FLOUR is not artificially bleached or whitened chemically nor adulterated in any way whatever. Its color is a rich, creamy white—not a flat artificial white. Absolutely Wholesome. Every Package Guaranteed. FOR SALE BY GROCERS.

The C. L. MARCH Co., Limited,
COR. WATER AND SPRINGDALE STREETS.

CORRECTION.—The brig, Gaspé, to which reference is made elsewhere in this issue, is now 10 days out from Barbados to this port, instead of to Barbados as inadvertently mentioned. The vessel landed her fish cargo at Pernambuco, whence she proceeded to Barbados, leaving the latter port on the 17th inst. She is bringing a cargo of molasses to James Baird, Limited.

KYLE'S PASSENGERS.—The Kyle arrived at Port aux Basques at 10.45 a.m. to-day with the following passengers in saloon: Harry Quirk, H. Worstley, Mrs. J. Walsh, H. P. Spurrell, H. H. Halliburton, Mrs. Halliburton and child, Dr. J. W. MacLean, F. Bateman, Mrs. F. Bateman, W. Knowling, Samuel Tindahl, Capt. P. Forward and E. Messervey. The express with these passengers and a large foreign mail, left Port aux Basques at noon to-day, and is due in the city to-morrow night.

Sealer Erik Back From the Gulf.

Reports Diana Practically Clean.
The S.S. Erik, Capt. D. Martin, arrived from the Gulf sealfishery at 7 o'clock this morning, hauling for 200 seals, mostly old ones. Shortly after leaving here on March 8th, the ship struck the land near Bay Bulls Head, being carried in there by the ice. Twelve men, who were on deck, jumped ashore and came back to St. John's. The ship was only slightly damaged and proceeded to Channel, which was left on March 12th. Going up the Gulf very heavy ice was met and the ship got jammed and made very little headway for the entire season. Only a few scattered seals were sighted each day and these were secured by the crew. Late in the spring some of the crew became uneasy and wanted to come home. They listened to Capt. Martin, however, and went hunting old ones but without success.

On Friday last the voyage was abandoned, it being thought useless to remain out any longer. That day the Diana was spoken to and she reported for 90 pelts. The Erik called at Codroy on the way home and landed a portion of her crew. The Diana is also on her way home.

SALT STEAMER ARRIVES.—The Danish steamer Stogelbar, Captain Lund, entered port at noon to-day from Cadiz, bringing 2,800 tons of salt to Balne Johnstone & Co. The passage was made in 12 days, favorable weather being met throughout. When the ship dropped her anchor in the harbor she was the centre of attraction, as her neutrality was conspicuously proclaimed so as to avoid being attacked by torpedo or submarine.

The above world-renowned photography was produced for the first time in St. John's last night at the Casino Theatre. The story deals with a wealthy American (admirably played by the popular idol Maurice Costello) who during his exciting career visits many interesting and historical places, Corsica, London, Monte Carlo, Egypt, etc. A realistic scene is one enacted of the Bombardment of Alexandria in the Egyptian War, which will undoubtedly prove to be doubly interesting in view of the late naval battles. Without doubt it is a beautiful production from every point of view.

Fox Cases Dismissed.

Before Judge Knight yesterday afternoon the fox cases, in which Constable Cramm, of Lewisport, had (1) Mr. D. F. Piercy summoned for purchasing two foxes in close season, 1913; and (2) Mr. H. D. Reid for having in his possession two foxes in close season, were heard. Messrs. Samuel Russell and T. J. P. Pille, who were tried before Magistrate Bradley, at Lewisport, last spring, pleaded guilty and were fined $250 each, were the first witnesses examined. They testified that they did sell these foxes to Piercy in October, 1913, and received for them $2,400 or $1,200 each. On being sworn Piercy admitted buying two silver foxes from the witnesses and corroborated that he paid them $2,400 and took a receipt for the money paid. He stated that he was assured by the sellers that the foxes were caught in open season. In support of this he said that when the foxes were delivered to him at Notre Dame Junction that they were in excellent condition and as far as he could judge (and he was an expert regarding foxes) did not show any evidence of being in confinement for any length of time; also that the amount paid was commensurate with the market prices. The Judge held that the complainants had not been able to prove that Piercy knew that the foxes were captured in close season and that there was no case against Piercy on the ground that he paid a very high price for the foxes and that the sale took place in the open season.

Reid's case depended on Piercy's case, it being alleged that Piercy was Reid's Agent. The case against Reid was withdrawn and Mr. W. R. Howley, who acted for the defendants, stated that upon his honor as a counsel, Piercy was engaged buying foxes for a corporation of which Mr. Reid was only a shareholder and that Mr. Reid had no other interest in the transaction.
