DOMINION SALOON.—This saloon has passed into the possession of Mr. D. Bunyan lately one of the proprietors of the "Wellington." Mr Bunyan has experience and will no doubt order his establishment well.

ACCIDENT IN ERIN.—Mr. A. McCarter accidentally walked over the end of the bridge, at Erin village one night last week, and fell into the creek ten feet below. A gentleman who was with him helped him out, not much injured.

ONE PRIVILEGE LESS.—The practice of granting return tickets has been abandoned, it is said, at all stations along the Grand Trunk line, and it is certain that there are no such tickets granted at Guelph.

ELORA ST. ANDREW'S SOCIETY.—The following gentlemen have been appointed the office-bearers of this Society for the ensuing year:—President, W. G. Middleton, Esq., M. D.; Vice President, J. M. Fraser, Esq.; Secretary and Treasurer, J. Wilkinson, Esq.; Chaplain, Rev. J. Duff; Physician, J. Finlayson, Esq., M.D.; Committee, Messrs. P. Simpson, J. Potter, J. Henderson, J. M. Ross, A. Gordon.

FIRE IN SULLIVAN.—From every corner of the country there comes a report of fire, and the enumeration of losses is always followed by the announcement, "the origin of the fire is unknown." Then the next supposition is, that "it was the work of an incendiary," when perhaps there are no substantial reasons for indulging any suppositions of the kind.

Mr. Day said that the Fire and Water Committee were not prepared with a report, but he would state, that they had not yet decided what was to be done with the petition of the Firemen but would determine next week.

Mr. Peterson then proposed, seconded by Mr. Hoffmann, that the clause in the petition referring to the petition of Jehu Clarke be amended by adding the following, after the part allowing him to make excavations: "that he duly engages to keep the corporation harmless of any damages that may arise in consequence."

Mr. Peterson then proposed, seconded by Mr. Hoffmann, that the clause in the petition referring to the petition of Jehu Clarke be amended by adding the following, after the part allowing him to make excavations: "that he duly engages to keep the corporation harmless of any damages that may arise in consequence."

Town Council. The Council met on Monday night. All the members present except Mr. Holliday, the Mayor in the chair. The minutes of the former meeting were read and confirmed.

The Mayor read an answer from the town solicitors to the question asked of him this to the half acre of land which the Council were about purchasing of him for gravel. The reply went into an explanation of various transactions which had taken place between Mr. Cunningham and Mr. Buchanan, and the title of the former was not at present such as they could accept.

The Mayor read a communication from the Police Magistrate, which was too late for last meeting. It was instanced the late case of the Child, John Boyle, to prove that the Council have not consolidated a clause in their by-laws for the abatement of nuisances, and requesting that the defect should be supplied.

Mr. Thomson read the following petitions:—From Messrs. Galbraith and Beattie, in whose assessment there was an error, and they prayed for the rectifying of it; from Wm Dyson, Junr., for remission of taxes; from John Bennett, for remission of income tax.

Mr. Peterson read a petition from Wm Dyson, who on account of having been burnt out, prayed for a reduction of his taxes and postponement of the payment of the balance. Mr. Mays read a petition from Alex. Kennedy praying for a reduction of taxes.

Mr. Mitchell read a petition from Jas. T. Nichols, praying for the refunding of $5 which he had paid as taxes on a lot not his own. Mr. Mitchell read a petition from Sarah Kirk praying for remission of taxes.

Mr. Mitchell read the report of the Finance Committee. In reference to petitions they made the following recommendations: That $236.85 with interest from the day of sale be tendered to D. Coffee, being the total amount paid by him on lots 1 and 2 and part of lot 4 on the York Road; and if he decline that $50.42 with interest at six per cent. be returned to him, on condition that if he do not succeed in holding his purchase the Council shall not be liable, nor be asked to return any more than the difference of the amount so tendered; that R. McLeod's income tax be remitted; that M. Casey's dog tax be not remitted; that R. Middleton's petition for reduction of assessment be granted; that six per cent. be allowed R. Couch on amount paid by him to the Sheriff for land that he could not convey; that $5 be refunded to H. W. Peterson, Esq., for a lot purchased from the Sheriff for which he could not obtain a deed; that the petition of J. W. B. Kelly for remission of assessment be granted; that the petitions of Mrs. Fraser and Sarah Buckingham for remission of income tax be granted; that John Anderson's petition of a similar character be granted, also that of Wm Stewart; that the petitions of Jas. Pendleton and R. W. Shaw for remission of income tax be granted, as they had not earned enough to make them liable for taxation; that Henry Metcalfe's income tax be remitted, as he had been assessed as a member of a firm; that Cornelius Connor's tax be remitted, his case being one of charity; that $10 tax be refunded to John Pipe; that A. A. Baker be refunded $2 dog-tax; and that the expenses of the railway delegation from the Council to Walkerton, amounting to $48.75 be paid.

Mr. Mitchell read the report of the Road and Bridge Committee. They recommended that the petition of Jehu Clarke for the use of the stream that leaves the Red Lion Hotel be granted, and that he be allowed to make the necessary excavations for laying down pipes for its conveyance to his laundry, provided he does not injure the street; that the petition of Messrs McNeil and Howard for raising and repairing a portion of the sidewalk on Quebec street be granted, and that $40 be allowed for the purpose; that in reference to the petition of George Marton and others praying for a drain on a certain part of the western side of the Elora Road the committee were of opinion that the proper way to effect that would be by a special act on the parties benefited, but as they had already made considerable improvements, the committee recommended a grant of $20.

Mr. Day said that the Fire and Water Committee were not prepared with a report, but he would state, that they had not yet decided what was to be done with the petition of the Firemen but would determine next week.

Mr. Peterson then proposed, seconded by Mr. Hoffmann, that the clause in the petition referring to the petition of Jehu Clarke be amended by adding the following, after the part allowing him to make excavations: "that he duly engages to keep the corporation harmless of any damages that may arise in consequence."

tee for further consideration, and that the remainder of the report be adopted. Mr. Peterson moved, seconded by Mr. Chadwick, that the Clerk be hereby instructed to prepare in due form a petition to the Legislature praying that the existing Assessment Law be changed to the law as formerly existing with reference to the mode of assessing of real estate in towns, namely by yearly value, the present system of assessment by what is designated as actual value being in many senses objectionable and unsatisfactory, and difficult if not impossible of being carried out. Also that the petition likewise include a prayer to the Legislature to give power to municipalities to order the sale of lands in arrears for non-resident land taxes, without having to submit to the delays under existing laws affecting such arrears.—Carried.

The Council then adjourned.

Police Court. Before T. W. Saunders Esq., Police Magistrate. TUESDAY, Nov. 19.—Nancy Dolan appeared in a new role this morning, not of a vagrant as usual, but of a person drunk and disorderly. Nancy had made too free with the corn juice yesterday, and the effect was to produce a certain rudeness of manner which rendered her rather disagreeable to orderly citizens.

Lamps and Chimneys—a fresh supply just received. Best Coal Oil only 90 cts. per galloon. Coal Oil cans—all sizes. JOHN HORSMAN.

CLOTHS AND CLOTHING.—Mr. Croft advertises a large stock of ready-made clothing and cloths of all descriptions, including an excellent assortment of Canadian wools. Those purchasing ready-made articles at his establishment may rely upon their having been got up with care.

THE ABORTION CASE.—The Hamilton Times of Monday says:—The adjourned inquest concerning the death of Sarah Edwards, was resumed at the King William Street Station this afternoon, at 4 o'clock. It was not probable that any further evidence of consequence would be elicited, and the jury can hardly have any other course than to return an open verdict. "Doctor" Davis, who had been looked after several times since the last sitting, is still non est, and the young woman Barnett, who kept the lying-in hospital where the deceased remained during her illness, has also emigrated to parts unknown.

BATH BRICK.—The Bruce Reporter says that about two years ago a peculiar kind of clay was discovered in Kincardine and taken to Stratford. Mr. J. S. Rutherford, of that town showed it to Mr. Geo. Riggan, an experienced brickman, who at once pronounced it Bath-brick clay and practically demonstrated it to be so by manufacturing a brick. Mr. Rutherford having secured a patent, engaged Mr. Riggan to carry on the manufacture. The works have been in successful operation since last spring. A large quantity has been exported, and the demand exceeds the supply, but as the clay is very abundant, a much larger quantity will be manufactured next year.

LONDON SOCIETY.—Messrs. Chawett & Co. have sent us the November number of this excellent magazine. It is as usual beautifully embellished, and contains the usual amount of rich and varied reading matter. For sale at Day's bookstore.

BULL AGAINST BEAR.—The inhabitants of Omaha are endeavoring to emulate the amusements of the Spaniards, but they have scarcely yet come to regard so lightly the exposure of a human being to the fury of the bull, consequently they make a bear do duty. Somebody who has been out there writes as follows:—A crowd of about four hundred men, women and children repaired to the fair grounds in Omaha one afternoon to see a fight between the grizzly bear and Mexican bull, which had been extensively advertised. The two animals were secured to the separate ends of a chain, and this was fastened in the middle by a log rope to a strong stake driven firmly into the ground. About three o'clock the bear was let out of his cage. The moment the bull saw him he made fiercely for him, knocked him down and trampled him badly. Three or four bouts of this kind occurred, each time the bull having the advantage, until at length he thrust one of his horns into the bear's mouth. This was too much, and by a powerful effort the bear broke the chain and tried to escape, making directly to the spectators, who had formed a ring around the arena. There was immediately a terrible confusion. Women screamed, children cried, men hallooed, and made the most hasty preparations to get out of the way. The hubbub added to the fright of the bear, so that he could only rear upon his hams and paw about, until his keeper, a Mexican, caught him with a lasso, and got him back into his cage. The Mexican then offered to risk the bear against the fifty dollars, or he would fight the bull with a knife for the hundred.

The latest news from Abyssinia shows that Theodore has not assuaged his thirst for blood. He had made an expedition to the small island of Metarra, in the Lake Tana, and put every inhabitant to death by fire; then he made a trip to a flourishing town in Foggara, killed 1,500 persons placed them in five large houses, and burned them alive. It is said there is now not a single man, woman or child alive between Debia Tabor and Emfara, on the borders of Dembea. In the camp His Majesty has been pursuing the same game. Having heard that 2,000 of his troops wished to desert, he had them surrounded by the others, and their throats cut like cattle, the mothers, wives and children, and nearest relatives of the men being piled up by the soldiers. Two hundred and ninety-five children of districts have had their hands and feet cut off.

TELEGRAMS! Special and Exclusive Despatches to the Evening Mercury.

St. Louis, Nov. 18th.—The Treasurer's office in Gallatin, Mo., was robbed last night of $25,000 in greenbacks and $4000 in county land warrants.

New York, Nov. 19.—The Herald's Havana special says Admiral Togo has received the remains of the late Emperor Maximilian from the Mexican government, and was expected to leave for Vera Cruz on the 11th inst, where the Austrian frigate Hovara would be ready to convey him to Austria. The annual proclamation of length been issued. It mitigates to a great extent the punishment of imprisonment. All the members of the military orders whom Santa Anna was tried at Vera Cruz, except the Fiscal, have been sentenced to four years' imprisonment for having given a final determination without consulting the general government. All sorts of kidnapping was being practiced on prominent and wealthy persons of all ages and sexes, to extort ransoms. This was principally the case in the rural parts and suburbs of the cities. Torture and even assassination were threatened to make people sweat secrecy as to who were the parties to whom these ransoms were paid. Vigilance committees, however, were organizing to put a stop to the proceedings around the capital. The French Consul Laguna had been recalled, and had gone to Jamaica. Vera Cruz had sent aid to the sufferers by the hurricane at Matamoros, to the amount of $10,000. A terrible hurricane blew over the Island of St. Domingo on the 30th ult. It destroyed nearly all the shipping in harbor but no American vessels are reported. No news from the interior. The treaty between Hayti and St. Domingo had been annulled, and the Haytian minister returned home. Revolutionary movements are rife and the Dominican forces are reported already on the Haytian frontier.

Washington, Nov. 10.—Attorney-Gen. Stanbury in denying the authorship of the opinion attributed to him, just published, says if he was requested to give an opinion to order, he would immediately resign.

The Herald's special says Chief Justice Chase will deliver the charge to the jury on the 25th inst., at the commencement of the trial of Jeff Davis, but he will not remain throughout the session. Davis will be tried on the old indictment.

Paris, Nov. 18.—The French Chambers assembled to-day. The Emperor Napoleon opened the session as is customary, with a speech, wherein he affirmed that there was no longer any objection to German unity and consolidation on the part of the French government.

London, Nov. 18th.—A despatch from Alexandria brings the intelligence that the American Consul General at that port—Chas. Hale, Esq.—has induced Ismail Pasha, the Viceroy, to issue a decree permitting the return to Egypt of the American missionaries and the native Christian converts, who had been exiled from that country.

London, Nov. 18, noon.—The Colonial officers have not any particulars of the alleged sinking of the Island of Tortola and the drowning of 10,000 people, in answer to telegrams sent to officials in the West Indies. The story is generally discredited here, or at least believed to be greatly exaggerated.

London, Nov. 18.—Consols steady at 94 9/16. Erie 48 1/2. Liverpool, Nov. 18.—Cotton steady and unchanged; corn 3d higher; new mixed western 48s 9d per quarter; other articles unchanged. Bacon 1s lower; tallow 44s; spirits turpentine firmer at 37s 3d 3/4 cwt.

The Toronto, Grey and Bruce Railway. A joint meeting of the provisional directors of the Toronto and Nipissing, and Toronto, Grey and Bruce railways, was held in Toronto on Saturday. The meeting was hearty and unanimous in its desire to push on the preliminary work necessary to be done, before charters are obtained. The staff of the engineers, except the axemen, to be had on the spot, are all ready, and the engineers were ordered to make a survey of the central route from Toronto through Albion, over the Caledon Hills to Orangeville, after which the preliminary survey of the Toronto and Nipissing road is to be proceeded with immediately as far as Uxbridge, as between Toronto and those two points lies, it is stated, the only difficult part of the country, through which these railways have to pass, if there really be any difficulties. The cost of the surveying party will not exceed $6000 per month, and of the amount required (about $8,000) $3,000 were subscribed by sixteen persons, and arrangements made for securing the balance. Mr. E. Chaffey was appointed acting treasurer for both provisional companies. It was also determined to call a meeting by circular, of merchants, property holders, and members of parliament for the district interested in these enterprises, to be held in the Music Hall, or in the St. Lawrence Hall on Saturday next, for the purpose of inviting the public to co-operate in the efforts of the companies to secure the construction of these roads.

TO ADVERTISERS, AND BUSINESS MEN.

THE WEEKLY MERCURY has a circulation larger than that of any other newspaper in this section of the Dominion, and a large proportion of its subscribers take no other journal. The space allotted to advertisements is limited, so that each has the advantage of being easily seen, and all are generally read with as much interest as news-matter. There is—as those who have tried it know—no advertising medium in this section so cheap, because there is none so profitable, to the advertiser. The paper circulates among the industrial and thrifty classes—the Farmers, Manufacturers, Merchants and Mechanics of this and adjoining counties—and is carefully read by their wives, sons, and daughters. It is safe to say that each advertisement in it is read every week by not less than a thousand of the most intelligent of the people. He who makes his business, his merchandise, or his manufactures known to this immense number, scattered all over the country, cannot fail to do so to his own manifest and great advantage. That the WEEKLY MERCURY is the most economical medium for advertising is well known, and conclusively proved by those whose advertisements continuously appear in its columns. The great advantage that must accrue to any one who takes this method of making known his wants, his merchandise, or manufactures, it is very easy to understand but can hardly be over-estimated. Every person having a farm for sale should advertise in THE WEEKLY MERCURY. Make the advertisement as short as possible, stating the advantages offered. Farmers wishing to purchase farms can always find chances by inserting a short advertisement in THE WEEKLY MERCURY. Agricultural implement manufacturers, mechanics of all kinds, merchants and business men generally, will find THE WEEKLY MERCURY specially valuable as an advertising medium, circulating, as it does, mainly among the farmers in all parts of the country. THE WEEKLY MERCURY is read by all classes, and advertisements inserted in the weekly and daily editions will be seen by everybody. Our advertising rates are low. Advertisements for THE WEEKLY MERCURY should reach the office of publication, Macdonnell-st., east of the Golden Lion, not later than noon on Wednesday.

The Kingston Murder.

The Toronto Telegraph says the counsel of Saxie Allen, now lying in Kingston gaol, under sentence of death for the murder of Driscoll, are endeavoring to obtain arrest of judgment in his case. They claim that he was taken in an illegal manner from the United States. A few fresh facts with regard to Allen's career have been made public. His proper name is John C. Allen. He is 30 years of age, and was born near Prescott on the Canada side of the St. Lawrence, where he lived until about twelve years of age, when he left the parental roof. Soon after leaving home he brought up in Ogdensburg, where he committed numerous petty thieving deceptions, and from there he travelled about the country, visiting many of the principal cities, and becoming associated with a regular gang of thieves, burglars and robbers. He was bold, reckless, and thoroughly bad, and would avail himself of every opportunity to rob, be the amount ever so small. Between four and five years ago, Allen carried on a thieving business in Detroit, plundering hotels, private houses and stores, and finally stole a gold watch from a gentleman at the Russell House, in which he was detected, arrested, tried and convicted, principally through the information given by a woman with whom he associated. He was sent to Jackson Penitentiary, Michigan, for a term of years which expired during the summer, and he returned, revisited his old haunts and associates, and lounged about Detroit, after which he came to Kingston.

PRUSSIA.—The speech with which the King of Prussia opened the Prussian Diet is studiously silent and non-committal on the foreign relations of the kingdom. The pacific aims of Prussia, the King says, are respected by foreign Powers, and no conflict is to be feared with the South German States, which now, after their Diets have ratified the military treaty and the renewal of the Zollverein, are the faithful allies of Prussia. A few months ago when the King opened the Geru-an Parliament by a speech equally reticent, the French papers were highly indignant that the speech gave no clue whatever to the intentions of Prussia. The present speech is not likely to give them any more satisfaction. Prussia dislikes to speak but prefers prompt and energetic action.

THE COPYRIGHT LAW.—The English papers are taking up the question of International Copyright, and quoting the article on that subject in a recent number of The Atlantic Monthly, with warm approbation. Public opinion on both sides of the ocean is getting to be so strong in favor of this simple act of justice, that we are not without hope that the same principles of honesty which regulate international commerce in beef and dry goods may soon prevail in the market for literary wares.

THE WOOD QUESTION.—The Hamilton Times says: Thanks to the general introduction of coal stoves and the large supply of available labor at present in the country, the price of wood during the ensuing winter will not be so high as was anticipated.

A Finance Minister at Last. Mr. Howland and Mr. Tilley—both men of experience in financial matters—have been passed by, and Mr. Rose has been elevated to the position of Finance Minister. It would be hard for his colleagues to state what his qualifications for the office are, unless that he is a Montreal man, whose policy is likely to be shaped with a view to the interests of that city. The appointment is a bad one, especially at such a time when the Dominion has just started on its career, and when its financial affairs require careful management. It is not credited that Mr. Howland was offered the place, that is merely one of John A.'s shams, intended to amuse the public. Mr. Rose's appointment was made at the dictation of Mr. Cartier. He demanded that the vacancy from his section should be filled up by his own choosing. Mr. Tilley was never asked to take the post at all, although his friends have reported that he was the coming man.

Parliament of Canada.

HOUSE OF COMMONS, Ottawa, Nov. 18th. Hon. Mr. Smith enquired whether it is the intention of the government to introduce during the present session, a measure establishing a court of appeal for the Dominion of Canada. Sir John A. Macdonald said that, whatever the Government might do before the session closed, it was not their intention to introduce such a measure during the early part of it. Mr. Welch enquired whether it is the intention of the Government to introduce a measure for securing to the Government the possession of the various telegraph lines within the Dominion, and providing for the management of the same in connection with the postal system. Sir John A. Macdonald said the Government, before introducing a measure, would wait to see the action of the English Government on the same subject.

Mr. Pope enquired whether the volunteers are to have their sixteen days' annual drill this season, and if they do, when will they be required to commence their drill? Hon. Mr. Cartier said that the Adjutant General had placed in his hands a memorandum on this subject, which the Government were considering. Hon. Mr. Abbott moved the appointment of a committee to enquire into a report upon the nature and operation of laws of bankruptcy and insolvency now in force in the several Provinces of the Dominion—such committee to be comprised of Messrs. Smith, Gray, Huntington, Irvine, Wood, Street, Casault, Crawford, Simard, Harrison, Workman, Campbell, Hugh Macdonald, McGill, Blake and the mover.

Mr. Bodwell moved an address for all papers and correspondence relating to claims of the Hudson's Bay Company over the north west territory, or to the acquisition of the Territory by the late Province of Canada.—Carried. Mr. Mackenzie, in the absence of Mr. Blake, moved for copies of despatches and correspondence between the Imperial and Canadian Governments touching the defence of the country. Sir John A. Macdonald said that communications between the two Governments were of a confidential nature, and therefore could not be given at present. However, before any action should be taken in the matter of defence such papers as could be submitted would be sent down.

Mr. Holton said that before the orders of the day were called, he desired to ask the leader of the Government whether the negotiations to which reference was made last week, in regard to the filling up of vacant offices in the Government, had been concluded. Sir John A. Macdonald said he had a motion to make which would serve as a reply to his hon. friend. He moved that a writ do issue for the election of a member for the County of Huntingdon, vacant by the acceptance by the Hon. John Rose of the office of Finance Minister. He went on to say that, on the recommendation of the late Finance Minister, (Mr. Galt), negotiations were opened with a view to the appointment of the Minister of Inland Revenue (Mr. Howland) to the vacancy. He preferred holding his present office, which was not such an onerous charge as that of Minister of Finance. With respect to the other office—the Secretaryship for the Provinces—that had not been filled, and when he said the other day that negotiations were on foot which he hoped would result successfully, he meant only the office of Minister of Finance. He did not intend at present to enter into the question of the distribution of offices, but might say that the distribution so far was, in a great degree, experimental. He did think, and still thought, that the duties of Secretary were so increased that one officer was unable to perform them.

Mr. Holton pointed out that the views of Mr. Rose were quite the opposite on questions of commercial policy to those held by Mr. Galt. Sir John A. Macdonald said he did not propose to discuss the position of the hon. Minister of Finance in his absence, but he could state that the monetary policy of the government which was framed on the 2nd of July last, when Mr. Galt was appointed Minister of Finance, would be carried out.

Commission of Synod of the Church of Scotland.

The Commission met in Montreal last week. Dr. Cook reported on behalf of the Temporalties Board, that the fund had sustained a loss of $142,000 through the suspension of the Commercial Bank, the par value being $126,400. There were from thirty-three to thirty-six ministers for whom there would be no provisions at all. The first question was how to meet the January payments, for which about $2,500 would be required. If the Bank went into liquidation, the stock would be an absolute loss. There were 49 communiting ministers on the roll, three of whom had suffered immediately and largely through the failure of the Bank. Excluding these three, and adding the ten who receive $100 a year, let the fifty contribute £10 each, and then let them apply to fifty wealthy laymen to give £10 each also. Should this plan fail, let them seek to provide for the coming semi-annual payments. In that case not thirty-three or thirty-six only, but very many more, must give up all expectations of receiving assistance from the fund. He decided the Board in its having invested so large an amount in bank stock, and stated that there was a definite though not given up at any time it might be demanded, at the price paid for it, which was about two per cent less than the then market value. The lending of nearly one-half the capital of the bank in a permanent way to an American railway had been the great mistake and evil, and he considered that it should go forth as their opinion that money entrusted to a bank should not be invested as had been the capital of the Commercial Bank. He felt this to be especially desirable, as scarcely one of the public prints had endeavored to show how the calamity had come about. Mr. King had been attacked, as being probably the one who could be most easily reached, but no blame had been attached to the conduct of Mr. Rose and the Directors of the Commercial Bank, by whom the evil had been wrought. Principal Snodgrass said, many of the questions which had been raised would have to lie over till they had fuller information as to the state and prospects of the bank. The question now was, how to meet the expenditure required in January next.

After considerable discussion, Principal Snodgrass moved, seconded by Rev Mr. Hunter, the following resolutions:—"That the Commission having considered the very great diminution of the revenue of the Temporalties' Fund caused by the unfortunate suspension of the Commercial Bank, resolve:—1. That the Commission refer the consideration of all questions bearing upon the capital of the Fund, and its further management, to the Temporalties' Board and the Synod. 2. That the Commission is of opinion that a special effort should be made to provide for the present emergency, so that the next semi-annual payments to ministers may be secured, and that an appeal to the Church should be responded to with sufficient liberality to render such an effort successful, therefore respectfully request the Temporalties' Board to adopt, as speedily as possible, such means as may be most effectual in obtaining the money required in the manner suggested."

After further discussion, the motion was carried, and the Synod adjourned.

FIRE IN BRANTFORD.—On Monday a fire broke out in the workshop owned by Mr. Hoyt, entirely consuming the building and all the contents. The house which was adjoining was also on fire several times, and but for the great exertions of the firemen, would have been totally destroyed. A large lot of furniture was completely spoiled. Total loss is about $1,000. There was no insurance on the shop.

A FAMILY BURNED TO DEATH.—After midnight on Saturday a wooden house near point St. Charles Montreal took fire, and the tenant, a man named Shaw, with his wife and two children, were burned to death.

TUESDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 19.

NORAH CUSHALEEN OR THE HAUNTED CASTLE.

With a will Andrew and Terry did work, and each minute the youth glanced round to notice the result. With satisfaction he saw that the water was not rising, but was decreasing rather, and he knew by this that the leaks were being stopped. Still the boat was drifting towards the beach, and the robbers stern were meditating another attack. Unless therefore, they were water-tight in a minute or so, and able to resume rowing their fate was sealed.

'Can't ye be afther divin', ye stupid spalpeens,' shouted a rough voice from the shore.

The hint was taken at once, and both robbers disappeared under the water.

The latter was clear enough, however to allow Hargrave to see them, and he noticed that one of them took the one side of the boat, and the other the other, they rose almost at once, but before the head of one could get above water, a blow from the boat-hook rendered him insensible, and Hargrave—wheeling instantly round—found the other in the act of grasping the gunwale with both hands. A vigorous thrust in the breast forced him away, and made the boat spin half round.

'Hoora!' roared Terry. 'She's gettin' empty again.'

'Up with your oars there,' shouted the youth, and scarcely was the order given, when both oars were in the water and the boat again began to move from land.

'Thank God, we are saved,' said Hargrave, drawing a long breath.

'Oh, do you think so, sir,' said Amelia who had sat silent and terrified in the prow during these critical moments.

'I am sure of it,' he returned. 'See we are quitting the shore, and these fellows have given up the chase.'

'Thank God, indeed,' she fervently returned. 'What a narrow escape we had.'

'A fearful warse, sure enough, but we've managed it,' observed Andrew, down whose face the sweat was pouring in a stream.

A howl of disappointed rage and baffled fury from the shore, accompanied by a shower of stones which fell short of the boat, was sufficient intimation that the robbers perceived they had escaped, and, looking back, the fugitives saw that the swimmer who had been made insensible was being assisted ashore by his companion. This was the last they saw of Captain Jack's men, for a large out-laying rock—round which they passed—shut the beach and the glen from their sight.

Without further adventure or hindrance, the party got ashore in Dundarra bay, and, ascending the heights, came shortly after dusk in front of the ruined castle. All were now in a state of nervous excitement, for they were about to be made aware of an occurrence that might have taken place regarding Norah or Mary. It was silent and solitary as usual, and what was somewhat assuring, the door in the tower was closed and fastened.

Hargrave gave the old signal, and they waited with beating hearts for the result.

More than a minute passed, and they thought they heard a rustle in the passage, but no response was made.

Hargrave tapped again, and a voice which they recognised as Norah's, whispered:—

'Is that you, father?'

'Och by the powers,' exclaimed Terry 'it's her own darlin' voice. Open the door, Norah, avic.'

There was a joyful exclamation. The pile of stones was pulled from behind the door, it flew open and Norah stood before them. Terry clasped her in his arms, and poured over her the most valuable expressions of endearment.

'Come, fair play, Terry,' cried Hargrave; 'there are other friends waiting to be welcomed, and anxious to hear the news.'

'Och, murder,' exclaimed Terry, 'sure the joy has taken all the manners out of me.'

'At last!' murmured Norah, 'you have returned at last. Oh, the misery and suspense of the last four weeks.'

'Mary!—tell me of Mary!' asked Hargrave, in a tone of intense excitement.

'Is she—? Has Blantyre—? You—you know what I mean.'

'She is at the castle, so far as I know,' answered Norah.

'Then they have not forced her to marry him.'

'No; and if they had again attempted it, I would have hindered it at whatever risk.'

This intelligence was received by every one with heartfelt thankfulness.

'Then it's a' right yet,' said Andrew, in a highly satisfied tone. 'Everything will gang smooth and fine now.'

This conversation had taken place in the passage, so eager were all to learn the truth; but they now closed and secured the door, and adjourned to the large chamber below. Here Amelia was introduced to Norah, with a few words of explanation, and the latter received her as a sister. And sisters truly they were in sadness and misfortune.

'And now,' said Norah, 'I have to tell you that I have a prisoner in the chamber above.'

'A prisoner?' echoed Terry.

'Who is she?' asked the more practical Andrew.

'It is a lady,' answered Norah, very gravely.

'By the powers! it's Miss Mary herself,' cried Terry.

'No,' replied Norah; 'it is Lady Blantyre.'

Amazement held them dumb, but Norah soon put them in possession of the thrilling occurrence of the night following the departure of Terry and Andrew, when her ladyship came to the ruin for the purpose of murdering Norah, and was so providentially prevented from accomplishing her deadly purpose.

She was still in the cell which so fortunately opened to receive her, and Norah had daily supplied her with food, but could not run the risk of giving her liberty. The old, stern woman had taken the food in silence, and lay for the most part on the floor of her cell in sullen pride—her spirit unbroken, her hatred unquenched.

Scarcely had Norah finished the recital and answered some of the questions it produced from Hargrave, when the well known signal was heard on the oak door without.

'It is my father!' exclaimed Norah, starting up and disappearing in the passage.

'Bedad, but isn't this a lucky night intirely?' exclaimed Terry, with his usual skip upon the floor.

'Oh, father, father,' exclaimed Norah the moment she admitted him. 'I have glad news for you to night. They have all come; they are in the kitchen.'

'Och, thin it's the blessed Virgin that's sent them this night,' said Michael, rushing in, wildly excited. 'For the love of all the saints,' he continued, 'go and stop it. Don't be afther waitin' a moment, or sure it will be too late.'

THIS ORIGINAL DOCUMENT IS IN VERY POOR CONDITION

Suspected Fenian Outrage in Dublin.

Dublin, Nov. 2.
A fearful act was committed on the 2nd inst., in Dublin. It appears that police-constable Kenny, 103 A, was on duty on the quay, when he met a suspicious-looking fellow with a bundle under his arm. The constable attempted to ascertain the contents of the bundle, upon which the ruffian pulled a revolver out of his pocket and deliberately fired at the policeman, the shot taking effect in the centre of the chest. At the instant Sergt Kelly came up on hearing the report, and attempted to arrest the assassin. He, too, was fired at, and likewise dangerously wounded in the chest. The murderer then made off, and despite the efforts of the police, who made strict search in the houses in the locality, succeeded in making his escape. The wounded men were at once conveyed to Mercer's Hospital where they were attended by Mr. Burch, senior surgeon of the institution, but the injuries were found to be such as almost to preclude the possibility of their recovery. Sergeant Kelly, who is a native of Navan, has been 17 years in the force, and was an efficient officer. Kenny was nearly three years in the service, and was a native of Monastervan. A Roman Catholic clergyman was hastily summoned, and administered to the unfortunate men the last rites of their church. The bullets have not been extracted from either of the wounded men, the medical attendants not deeming it judicious to do so, as, under present circumstances, no good could result therefrom.
