SEVERAL families in town have given all their boys to the colors, but the record is held by Mr. George Dodds, who can boast that his four boys are all in khaki. And yet some people grumble about letting one of their boys go. It looks as if the glory as well as the gold will not be evenly distributed after the war.

THE MEMBERS of Tecumseh I.O.D.E. met at the home of Mrs. Tye on Wednesday evening of last week to say goodbye to Nursing Sister Claire Tye, who leaves for overseas very soon. A short impromptu program was given and an address and gold piece was presented to Miss Tye. All join in wishing her a safe voyage and a speedy return.

VICTORIA DAY passed off very quietly in town. The council embraced the opportunity, when there was little vehicular traffic, to put the oil on the streets, and they appear to have made a good job of it. The majority of our citizens spent the day around their homes, fixing up for the summer and doing their bit to increase the production of food stuffs, while a few went lakeward to increase the supply by enticing members of the funny tribe to snap at a "spinning minnow." The day was an ideal one for a holiday.

A FAR-REACHING AMENDMENT to the Military Service Act that covers every man throughout the Dominion under the order-in-council passed on April 30th, has been received at military headquarters. The order states that, beginning June 1st, all persons who claim not to be in Class One under the Military Service Act must carry papers at all times with the proper certificates of proof that they do not come within Class One. The identification papers must either be a birth certificate or a marriage license. The act previously covered only the men of Class One, and has now been stretched to take in all classes. If the proper certificates are not carried by a man he is open to arrest and a job in the army.

A MOST terrific electrical storm passed over this district early Sunday morning accompanied by a cloud burst that deluged cellars and washed out low-lying gardens. In town some of the streets were like small lakes for a time, not a foot of roadway could be seen in some blocks. Cellars were flooded and much valuable food lost. In the country the streams and creeks were swollen to many times their ordinary volume and cattle had to swim where they usually waded to their knees. No very serious damage is reported but many little inconveniences were experienced. Some people in town found their Sunday dinner submerged in roily water when they went to look for it. We heard of one family that had all their eatables in the cellar and were compelled to go to a neighbor's and borrow enough for breakfast. The rain was much needed for the growing crops and welcomed by all, notwithstanding the inconveniences experienced.

Stapleford-Smith

One of those important events in which the whole community is interested transpired in our midst last Thursday afternoon, May 23rd, in the Methodist

Smith, of Ekfrid township. The contracting parties were unattended. They left on the evening train on a brief honeymoon trip for Yale, Michigan, and other western cities. They purpose making their home in Watford. Their host of friends join in wishing them bon voyage on the matrimonial sea.

M. L. FERGUSON, a graduate of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, has been appointed by the Department of Agriculture for the district comprising Kent, Essex, Lambton, Middlesex and Elgin counties to aid the farmers, particularly in draining their lands.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Von Hindenburg is probably alive but he seems to be a "dead one" as far as winning offensives is concerned.

German scientists openly advocate polygamy for combating the Fatherland's birthrate reduction. To what depths will the once great nation, Germany, finally descend?

"On every hand one hears the praises of our brave Canadian lads. They have done for Canada what would not have been accomplished in a hundred years of peace. The word "Canada" stands out more boldly than ever before the eyes of the world."—Father Edward Doe, speaking in London.

This is no time to talk of individual rights or to make such of grievances which affect this or that department of the nation's industry. The Country in the very crisis of its fate calls upon every one of us to submit to any and every sacrifice to secure its present safety and its future welfare.

The critical condition of food supplies for the Allies during the next few months has led the Canada Food Board to pass additional orders affecting wheat and flour. It has been made illegal for farmers, or anyone else, to use any millable wheat for feed for any kind of animals. Consumers are prohibited from accumulating stocks of flour beyond their actual current needs and must return to dealers any excess they may have been hoarding, and dealers must report their excess stocks which will be returned to the millers or disposed of as the Canada Food Board directs.

Winter, sometimes a long and troubled dream, comes to an end at last, the joy of the wild suddenly snatches us out of our hibernations doldrums. And it needn't be so very wild, either, to do the trick. A little patch of green grass, a few burgeoning buds—green or red or yellow—the misty top of an awakening maple, and we are infected past all cure. We must get out, yes, and at once, and watch again the working of this ancient miracle, just as fascinating as ever in our sixtieth or eightieth experience of its lure—nay, more so as the planet rolls and we get on in years—did not Warner tell us in the opening of his immortal "Summer in a Garden," "Fondness for the ground comes back to a man after he has run the round of pleasure and business to own a bit of ground, to scratch it with a hoe, plant seeds and watch the renewal of life, this is the most satisfactory thing a man can do"?

Flax Seed Production

The Colonial Secretary has requested that publicity be given to the fact that an arrangement has now been made with the Wayland Company of Winnipeg, to carry out the British Government's programme for flax seed cultivation in Canada. It is represented that the present situation in Russia and the greatly increased national demand for aeroplane fabric make it essential that every effort should be put forth to increase the cultivation of flax within the British Empire. Great importance is attached to the War Office to the success of Colonel Wayland's efforts to the end that the cultivation of flax seed in Canada receive all possible skill and care from the farmers concerned. In the present circumstances the production of flax seed is regarded as of equal importance with that of wheat or any cereal.

AN OIL OF MERIT.—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is not a jumble of medicinal substances thrown together and pushed by advertising, but the results of the careful investigation of the curative qualities of certain oils as applied to the human body. It is a rare combination and it won and kept public favor from the first. A trial of it will carry conviction to any who doubt its power to repair and heal.

BOSANQUET COUNCIL

Council met on the 23rd inst. All the members present. Minutes of last meeting were read and confirmed.
 Complaint was made that some parties are obstructing sideroad 12-13 in the 12th and 13th cons. by placing their fences on the road allowance and the clerk was instructed to notify the parties to have the same removed. The clerk was instructed to have the ad. for the Court of Revision on the assessment roll printed in the Forest Standard. At the next meeting it is intended to pass a by-law commuting the statute labor for the whole Township at $1 a day.

The following orders were given:—Hector Patterson, $228.47, to pay for work on the Watson Drain; J. H. Campbell $105, salary as assessor and postage; Canada Ingot Iron Co., $144 for culverts; Edith McGregor $90 for the Bosanquet and Theford Red Cross Society; G. Council then adjourned to meet on Monday, the 10th day of June, 10 a.m. at a Court of Revision on the assessment roll and at 1 p.m. for general business.
 GEO. SUTHERLAND, Clerk.

Musical Conductors.

Really great musical conductors are few, and of these Hans Richter stood in the forefront. It is difficult to define just what differentiates a good conductor from a mere time beater, but a story that is told of Richter may help indirectly. In the prelude to "Tristan und Isolde" occurs a beautiful passage for the oboe, which rises, swells, and dies away to a pianissimo most effectively. To indicate the quality of the playing which he wanted from this instrument, Richter, beating the time with his right hand, placed his left hand over his heart, and the oboe player at once responded to a direction all-inclusive in its simplicity and intelligibility.

Aeroplanes.

Aviation officials will strive to reduce the number of parts in an aeroplane, which exclusive of the engine and built-up sections of the frame include nearly 200 separate pieces. These are the things necessary to build a machine without its engine: Nuts, 4,326; screws, 3,377; steel stampings, 921; forgings, 798; turn-buckles, 276; veneer, 37 square feet; varnish, 11 gallons; dope (for dressing wings), 59 gallons; aluminum, 65 pounds; rubber, 34 feet; linen, 201 square feet; spruce, 244 feet; pine, 58 feet; ash, 31 feet; hickory, 1 1/2 feet.

British Sailors' Homes.

The records of the British and Foreign Sailors' Society show that between January 1 and November 1, 1917, more than 16,841 survivors from ships sunk by enemy action had been brought to the society's homes and institutes.

Wheat Crop of 1918

The official report of conditions in the Canadian Northwest show an increase of 3,000,000 acres in wheat and a possible crop of 350,000,000 bushels, while the United States show 69,086,000 acres, an increase of 13,155,000 over the acreage harvested last year. Based on Government methods of averages the acreage suggests a crop in the two countries of 1,200,000,000 to 1,300,000,000 bushels. This would compare with a total of 900,000,000 bushels last season. The oat crop also promises an increase which, with the increased number of hogs being raised, should help to reduce the price of pork since the enforced feeding of oats to hogs during the past season determined the fact to the satisfaction of many farmers that oats make heavier animals; good pork; and reduce the loss of animals.

A Ford Car Takes the Place of all These Things

WHEN you own a Ford you can do away with many articles that are a source of continuous expense to the man who still drives a horse. For instance, not only your driving-horse and buggy, but the single harness, blankets, whips, currycombs, brushes, horse-shoes, pitch-forks, feed-bins, etc.

In their place you have a speedy, dependable, dignified, roomy Ford Car—complete in itself. It is vastly superior to the narrow, cramped buggy that travels so slowly. And when a Ford is standing idle it does not eat three meals a day, and it requires no "looking after."

A Ford will save you time, trouble, and money. It is the utility car for the busy farmer and his family.

FOR APIARY BEGINNER

Description of the Equipment Required to Insure Success.

CLUBS FOR THE FARMERS

Outline a Summer Program Now and Have Everything Well Organized—The Club Picnic Is a Very Successful Feature of the Year's Work.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

EXTRACTED honey production is the most satisfactory for beginners. Start with three colonies and sufficient equipment and then make the bees pay their way. One colony does not give the beginner an opportunity to right mistakes or accidents profitably. Three colonies can be managed by devoting one evening weekly to the apiary.

Avoid many troublesome pitfalls by starting with the right hive. The 10 fr. Langstroth hive has given the best satisfaction in Ontario. All beekeepers' supply houses carry this hive and its parts in their regular stock. Buy your first hives from a good manufacturer. It is very necessary to have all hive parts interchangeable so that they may be used in any colony in the apiary. Uniformity and accurate workmanship alone can ensure this need.

One complete 10 fr. Langstroth hive consists of:—
 (1) A bottom board.
 (2) A hive body with self spacing frames and wire.

In addition the beginner should provide for each colony one queen excluder; two extra hive-bodies complete with frames; and 7 lbs. of medium brood foundation, which runs 6 sheets to the lb., to fill the frames with a guide and foundation for the future combs.

It is advisable to commence with a 2-lb. package of bees and queen; a swarm or a nucleus. Less danger from disease attends the buying of pound packages than the buying of swarms and nuclei. Pound packages may be secured for delivery from May 1st to June 30th. Early packages will yield a surplus if carefully handled. Enquire of the Provincial Apiarist re disease in your locality before buying swarms, nuclei or colonies.

The necessary equipment for the beginner should consist of:—
 (1) A veil of black cotton tulle.
 (2) A standard bee smoker.
 (3) A hive tool.
 (4) A spur wheel wire embedder.
 (5) An uncapping knife.
 (6) An uncapping box.
 (7) A complete set of Department literature, Bulletins 213, 233 and 256, and a good reference bee book.
 (8) A small honey extractor.

With the exception of Nos. 6, 7 and 8, it is advisable to acquire the material needed from a supply firm at once. The uncapping box can be made at home, and the beginner could probably co-operate with another beekeeper in securing the use of an extractor. With the increase of colonies to ten, it would then be advisable to provide a storage can to assist in handling the crop.—W. A. Weir, Ontario Agricultural College.

A Successful Farmers' Club.

The history of some farmers' associations in Ontario has been brief and filled with troubles. Others have built upon the rock and have endured. Why the difference?

Perhaps a very short story will explain the former case. A farmers' club, organized by a district representative, got away apparently to a good start, then halted uncertainly and finally died a lingering death from general debility. When asked to explain the reason the representative gave one—promptly and with emphasis.

"The club died because the farmers didn't want it. The members were easily persuaded to organize but never took any real interest in it—they were never really convinced that it was a vital necessity.

"So far I haven't heard any proposal to revive it either, and I don't intend to attempt to inject any artificial stimulation into it. When the farmers in that district are really 'sold' to the idea of the necessity of organization, then we'll be in a position to do some work."

That explains the first cause of most failures. Artificial stimulation serves to carry an invalid through a dangerous pass, but as a steady diet for a healthy body it is foredoomed to failure. A farmers' association must not be an invalid; when outside stimulation has to be given, it is a safe bet its days are numbered. But many others have succeeded.

Work—doing things—is the secret of their success. They make every member conscious of the value of organization in the community. The executives are enthusiastic, they have developed progressive policies and they work to make them successful. And work honestly undertaken and wisely directed will always make a club or association successful if it has the right kind of material to work with.

In the summer, the club ought not to be allowed to lose its grip. How about a herd testing scheme—has your club taken that up yet? Perhaps those members needing drainage can have surveys made of their fields, purchase tile co-operatively, secure a traction ditcher, and if need be, borrow provincial funds to pay a large part of the cost. Endless ways present themselves to make the farmers' association a real force in every month. Above all, don't forget the farmers' picnic—a little fun makes the work more efficient.—Justus Miller, Ontario Department of Agriculture.

STORY OF BRAZIL.

Two Successful Revolutions Without Any Bloodshed.

Brazil's actual entrance into the war on the side of the Allies awakens a new and widespread interest in that great republic. September 7th and November 15th are the two principal national holidays of the country. The former is the Brazilian Independence Day, for on that day in 1822 the then vice regent of Brazil, the vast colonial possession of Portugal, who was Dom Pedro, son of King John VI, declared the independence of Brazil from the mother country. The Portuguese military garrisons in Rio de Janeiro and other Brazilian cities were easily overcome, with little or no bloodshed, and were transported back to Portugal, and on October 12 Dom Pedro I. was solemnly declared the constitutional emperor and perpetual defender of Brazil, and thus was established the Empire of Brazil.

For sixty-seven years Brazil remained the only independent country in the western world with a monarchical form of government. By the end of that time, however, the ideas of democracy and self government had gained such ascendancy that the people of Brazil decided to transform their monarchy into a republic, and for the second time there was a complete change in government through another bloodless revolution. The people of Brazil had no great quarrel with their easy-going monarch, nor had they any desire to harm him or the members of his family. All respected Dom Pedro II., and many loved him for his fine personal qualities, but it was the monarchical system of government in its entirety they wanted to get rid of, and so it became necessary for them to depose him. This they did on November 15, 1889. Marshal Manuel Deodoro Fonseca, one of the ablest and most popular generals of the Brazilian army, placed himself at the head of the revolution and on the date named published a proclamation in which he stated that the people, the army and the navy had decreed the deposition of the imperial dynasty and the extinction of the monarchical system. He assured the people that the Provisional Government guaranteed all inhabitants of Brazil security for life and property and respect for individual and political rights; that it recognized and respected all national engagements contracted during the monarchy, and that it would adhere to existing treaties with foreign countries, acknowledge the domestic and foreign debt, and assume all other legally constituted obligations.

This was a very simple and very plain document and was signed by Marshal Fonseca as chief of the Provisional Government and the members of the cabinet that had been selected. That was all there was to it. A very polite and courteous letter to Dom Pedro II. informed him that "the presence of the imperial family in this country, in face of the new situation created by the irrevocable revolution on the 15th inst., would be absurd and impossible and provocation of troubles which the safety of the public impresses upon us the necessity to avoid." A time was fixed for the embarkation of the royal family, and the former emperor was assured that "your comfort and health during the passage will be looked after with the greatest of care, and the Government will continue to pay you the sum assured by law until this point has been settled by the approaching constituent assembly." And so it was all settled in the nicest manner possible. Dom Pedro II., erstwhile emperor of Brazil, sailed for Portugal, and the Republic of Brazil started on its prosperous career. No frenzied mobs, no murdering of high officials; no butchering of innocent people; no burning of palaces. Order was maintained, and things went on safely and sanely. Truly a remarkable revolution! And that is all the more reason why Brazil should celebrate the 15th of November, the day when it became a republic without shedding blood. The mother country, Portugal, sent a special embassy, at whose head is Commander Leotte de Rego of the Portuguese navy, to participate in the general rejoicing and celebration, an evidence that all past family differences between the two countries have long since been buried in oblivion.

The use of Miller's Worm Powder insures healthy children so far as the ailments attributable to worms are concerned. A high mortality among children is traceable to worms. These sap the strength of infants so that they are unable to maintain the battle for life and succumb to weakness. This preparation gives promise of health and keeps it.

Capt. E. W. Hume, a Former Watford Boy, Dies From Wounds.

Definite news has been received that Capt. E. W. Hume, of Waskada, Man., died in France. The dead hero was well known to the legal fraternity of the west. He was brought up in Regina.

He was in the big battle of St. Elol, returned to England, and came to Canada in charge of a draft at Christmas, 1916, going back to England a month later. Early this spring he was wounded and died April 28.

Capt. Hume was born in Watford and was the youngest son of the late Frank Hume. He went west with the family when a child. After graduating at law he married a daughter of H. Hannah, Waskada, Man. Mrs. Hume and daughter are now in Waskada. Besides the wife and daughter the captain leaves his mother, in St. Catharines, Ont., two sisters and one brother. The sisters are Mrs. W. A. Gardner, St. Catharines and Mrs. A. Daykin, Lumsden, Sask. The brother is S. E. Hume, of Minneapolis, Minn.

The necessity of a delivery boy is on the wane. A person can almost put a $10 purchase in his vest pocket!

RAILWAY TRAVELLING as a pastime is not increasing in popularity. Increased fares and the abolition of lower week-end rates are partly responsible for this, and the growing popularity of motoring has quite a lot to do with it.

D.A. Maxwell
 Dealer - Watford

You know, of course, that the Maxwell Motor Car is the long distance champion of the world.

You have read that a "stock" Maxwell 5-passenger car ran for 44 days and nights without stopping the motor.

And that, in the 44 days non-stop test, the Maxwell covered 22,022 miles, at an average speed of 25 miles per hour.

But have you, up to now, realized the full significance of that performance?

Do you know that no other motor car in the world has ever equalled or even approached that performance?

In a word, did you take this test seriously when you heard of it?

Or did you set it down as a "selling stunt" to give the publicity man something to talk about?

It's worth your while to read and to study the conditions under which that test was made.

You know that the American Automobile Association (familiarly known as the "A.A.A.") is the official arbiter of every automobile test and contest.

But perhaps you didn't know that when a maker places his product under A.A.A. supervision he must do absolutely as told and abide by the decisions of the Board.

That's why there are so few A.A.A. Official Records!

This 22,000-mile Maxwell non-stop test was official from start to finish.

Therein lies its value to you.

It proves absolutely the quality of the car—of the very Maxwell you buy.

For verily this was a "stock" Maxwell. Listen:—

First: the inspectors disassembled the motor to see that no special pistons, valves, bearing-metal or other parts had been used.

Every other unit was as critically inspected. Then the car was re-assembled under their own supervision.

As we had much at stake and the test was made in winter (November 23 to January 5) we asked permission to take certain little precautions against accidental stoppage.

Sounds reasonable, doesn't it?

But they refused permission to do any such thing.

For example:—They would not permit a rubber cover over the magneto—it wasn't "stock."

They refused to let us tape the ignition wire terminals—they are not taped on the Maxwells we sell—so of course it wasn't "stock."

Neither would they let us use a spiral coiled pipe in place of the usual straight one from tank to carburetor to guard against a breakage from the constant, unremitting vibration—it isn't "stock."

Nor to use a special high priced foreign make of spark plug—the run was made on the same spark plugs with which all Maxwells are equipped.

So rigid were the rules, we were unable to carry a spare tire on the rear—it wasn't "stock." A telegram to headquarters in New York finally brought a special permit to carry a spare tire.

"It isn't stock!" "It isn't stock!"

That was the laconic reply of those A.A.A. inspectors to every last suggestion that called for anything but the precise condition of the standard, stock model Maxwell that any customer can buy from any one of 3000 dealers anywhere.

We are glad now—mighty glad—that the rules were so strict and so rigidly enforced.

Any other car that ever attempts to equal that record must do it under official supervision—and comply with the same terms.

And it will have to go some.

For Maxwell set the standard when it performed this wonderful feat.

Maxwell complied with those rules—and made good.

Every drop of gasoline and oil and water was measured out and poured in by the inspectors themselves. They would not even let our man pour it in!

Every four hours the car had to report at the official station for checking.

And it had to be there on the minute.

And every minute there was an inspector beside the driver on the front seat—two more men in the rear. One got out only to let another in—day and night for 44 days and nights!

There was one technical stop.

It is interesting to know the circumstances.

Dead of night—a driving storm—a cloudburst—suddenly another car appeared in the road ahead.

In his effort to avoid a collision the Maxwell driver stalled his motor.

At least the observers thought it stopped and so reported.

The car did not stop, however, so its momentum again started the motor (if it had indeed stalled) when the clutch was let in.

The contest board exonerated our driver on grounds that his action was necessary to save life.

That shows you how rigid were the rules—how conscientiously applied by the observers.

You who have owned and driven motor cars—you who know how small a thing may clog a carburetor or a feed pipe; "short" a spark or stall a motor—will realize what a wonderfully well made car this must be to go through that test under those conditions—44 days—22,022 miles without stopping.

The exact amount of gasoline, of oil, of water used; the tire mileage; tire troubles, tire changes; the distance and the routes are matters of official record, attested under oath and guaranteed by the A. A. A.

(By the way, the average was nearly 10,000 miles per tire.)

Any Maxwell owner—or anyone interested may see those records.

And—here's the most wonderful part—though no attempt was or could be made for economy; the Maxwell averaged 22 miles per gallon of gasoline.

Some other car may, some time, equal some one of those performances. But to equal them all in the same test—that car must be a Maxwell.

New York.—Paris and Palm Beach command the attention of those whose fortunes are tied up in women's apparel. Paris is more important in a large sense; Palm Beach in a smaller sense. It depends on the viewpoint.

Paris is exhibiting to the American buyers the things that we will wear; Palm Beach is exhibiting to society and the fashion reporters those things that were devised for us to wear as long ago as the first of December.

Nearly all of the fashions that are worn at Palm Beach have been sketched and detailed, because they were turned out by American dressmakers through local inspiration or through adaptation of early French models before or just after the Christmas season.

Therefore, a fashion writer states, it is more important to dip into the future and recount what Paris has shown to the American buyers. What is now worn in Palm Beach will undoubtedly wear through the spring, but so far, in a big season of that resort, there is nothing of extraordinary originality, and whatever is done has been foretold and outlined.

The unusual cold, the extraordinary delays in traveling and the impossibility of getting one's trunks on time, have contributed to a state of irritation at Palm Beach that one does not associate with that land of lotus eaters and pleasure seekers.

It has been the toss up with the pleasure seekers as to whether it was best to fight out the situation in the North or go to the evil they knew not of in the South, and the result has divided the great mass of moneyed people into two camps.

The same trouble that confronted the pleasure seekers in going to Palm Beach were added thereto 100 per cent for those who went to Paris to represent our business firms and bring back the allotment of 2,000 gowns, which we consider a good showing in this country.

Last fall this allotment fell short by 500 gowns, and it is not easy to say whether the buyer will do better or worse this season. Cargo space is exceptionally valuable going over, but there still seems to be much room coming back, and the buyers have learned to bring great quantities of clothes into the port as personal baggage, which helps matters. Callot will not allow this, and, therefore, the clothes from that house do not arrive until after most of the seasonal fashions are settled in this country.

France makes this pinafore frock of blue satin with panels of chiffon back and front and wide sash of blue satin tied at back.

So, what Palm Beach is doing, we know. The gown there shows the slender silhouette, a prevalence of black and white worn separately or together, the second introduction of gingham and the calico of the Southern mills.

There is no return to lingerie gowns, as was faintly promised, but there is an overwhelming vote cast for jersey in its artificial silk weave as well as the thin woolen weave that looks like men's underwear.

A CURE FOR FEVER AND AGUE.—Disturbance of the stomach and liver always precede attacks of fever and ague, showing derangement of the digestive organs deterioration in the quality of the blood. In these ailments Farnelle's Vegetable Pills have been found most effective, abating the fever and subduing the ague in a few days. There are many who are subject to these distressing disturbances and to these there is no better preparation procurable as a means of relief.

An Aviator's Farewell.

Monsieur de Giberques, bishop of Valence, has lost his seventh nephew in the war—M. Anthelm de Giberques, amongst whose papers was found the following moving letter of farewell addressed to his parents:

"If one day, with wings broken in the blue heavens, I fall to the earth and return to God, may these lines carry to my father and mother the last thoughts, desires and dreams of the son they loved so tenderly. As my body nears the earth, my soul will soar to unknown heights, and the separation will be victory. It will be a full-hearted 'Magnificent,' adoring, prayer of expiation for what I have left undone rather than for what I have done. And lastly it will be a suppliant cry which cannot but be heard for everlasting life, for strength and comfort for those I leave behind, and for mercy and glory for beloved France, the coming of the Kingdom of God."

Corns are caused by the pressure of tight boots, but no one needs to trouble with them long when so simple a remedy as Holloway's Corn Cure is available.

The real worth of a man's life is not measured by what he has done for himself but rather what he has done for those about him and who will come after him.

N. B. HOWDEN EST.

THE ONTARIO FISHERIES DEPARTMENT has fixed the price of whitefish to the consumer at 15 cents per pound and herring at 11 cents a pound.

THE POST OFFICE STAFF are kept busy these days giving out interest cheques on the Victory Bonds, which come by registered mail.

ation by the Huns is the one now held by the British Empire, France, Italy and the United States.

Lloyd George, the prominent officers and men of England, France and the United States are calling for men and more men. Our Canadian officers in charge of our soldiers have sent urgent appeals to the Canadian Government for recruits.

Shall we heed their call, or shall we wait until disaster overtakes our troops, and then face the returned soldier, who will demand of us a reason for deserting him in the hour of his greatest need.

By the Military Service Act 37,000 men were raised. This number is insufficient to keep our Canadian army up to full strength. In one Province 60,000 exemptions have been granted. The only course open to the Government was to set aside all exemptions, but I believe that extreme cases will receive every consideration. I am sure the loyal people of the County of Lambton, who have sent forward 3,000 of their brave boys, will understand that drastic action is necessary.

Remember there are thousands and tens of thousands of young men from the towns and cities of Canada who were exempted under the Military Service Act. These men have come forward and signed up, and I am informed that very few protests have been received from this class by the Minister of Militia.

The United Farmers of Alberta, the Grain Growers and nearly every farmers' organization in the Western Provinces have sent the Government definite assurance of their approval of the Government's action in setting aside all exemptions.

No one regrets more than I do the need for the calling out of these men. I have been overseas, and know what sacrifices are being made over there, and I am in constant touch with our soldiers and their dependents at home. I cannot evade the tremendous responsibility attached to my position as their representative. The supreme duty of everyone is to see that the gallant men who are holding the line are reinforced.

I therefore cannot comply with the request of the petitioners.

Yours truly,
J. E. ARMSTRONG.

The Late Archibald McMillan Fisher

One of the oldest pioneers of Brooke township passed away at his home on the 11th concession on Sunday morning, May 19th, in the person of Archibald McMillan Fisher. The deceased had been ill for seven weeks. He was in his ninety-third year and for a man of his advanced years had been remarkably active, took a keen interest in the political affairs of the country and kept well informed on the world war.

Mr. Fisher was born in Argyleshire, Scotland, in the year 1826. He came to Canada in 1856 with his parents, two brothers and a sister, and nine years later settled on lot 24, concession 11, Brooke, where he has since lived, an honored resident of the township. In 1873 he was married to Jane Campbell, also of Argyleshire, Scotland, who predeceased him a number of years ago. He is survived by one son, of Calefax, Washington, and one son and three daughters at home.

The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock at Kilmartin cemetery and was largely attended. The service was conducted by Rev. W. McIntosh, pastor of Chalmers' Presbyterian Church, of which the deceased was a member. The pallbearers were Captain Duncan and Nichol McLachlan, Duncan and Archie Fisher and Wesley and Henry Sharp.

MAKING YOURSELF WELL AND STRONG

You Can Improve Your Physical Condition by Keeping the Blood Pure

People with strong constitutions escape most of the minor ills that make life miserable for others. Don't you envy the friend who does not know what a headache is, whose digestion is perfect, and who sleeps soundly at night? How far do you come from this description? Have you ever made an earnest effort to strengthen your constitution, to build up your system, to ward off discomfort and disease? Unless you have an organic disease it is generally possible to so improve your physical condition that perfect health will be yours. The first thing to be done is to build up your blood as poor blood is the source of physical weakness. To build up the blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is just the medicine you need. Every dose helps to make new blood which reaches every nerve and every part of the body, bringing color to the cheeks, brightness to the eyes, a steadiness to the hands, a good appetite and splendid energy. Thousands throughout the country whose condition once made them despair, owe their present good health to this medicine. If you are one of the weak and ailing give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial and note the daily gain in new health and abounding vitality. Among those who have proved the truth of these statements is Mrs. Fred Goslin, R. R. No. 2, Ruthven, Ont., who says:—"A few years ago I underwent an operation for a fibroid tumor. I had been ailing so long that I did not gain as the doctors said I should. I was in such a rundown condition that they said it would take me a very long time to recover. But instead of gaining I was growing weaker, and the doctor said I must go back to the hospital. I did not want to do this, and having often heard of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a strength builder, I decided to try them. I was greatly surprised at the help I received from them. In three months I was able to go about, and our home doctor expressed his astonishment, as he had not expected me to recover, believing pernicious anaemia had set in. It took me about a year to recover my full strength, but ever since I have been doing my own housework, and have to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills the praise for my present state of good health."

You can get these pills through any medicine dealer or by mail post paid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

SPECIALIST SAID HE MUST OPERATE

She Took "FRUIT-A-TIVES" Instead, And Is Now in Perfect Health.

MME. F. GAREAU

153 Papineau Ave., Montreal.
"For three years, I suffered great pain in the lower part of my body, with swelling or bloating. I saw a specialist, who carefully examined me and gave me several tonics to take, which did not help me. Then he told me I must undergo an operation. This, I refused to permit. I heard about 'Fruit-a-tives' and the wonderful results it was giving because this medicine is made from fruit juices, so decided to try it. The first box gave great relief; and I continued the treatment, taking six boxes more. Now, my health is excellent—I am free of pain and swelling—and I give 'Fruit-a-tives' my warmest thanks!"

MME. F. GAREAU.

AIRPLANE ROUTE TO SWEDEN

Trelleborg and Sassnitz to Be the Terminal of the Proposed Line Connecting With Germany.

The following bulletin on Trelleborg and Sassnitz, the terminal of the proposed Swedish-German airplane route, which assumes special significance in the light of recent developments in the diplomatic relations between Germany and Sweden, has been issued by National Geographic society.

Between Trelleborg, the most southerly town in the Kingdom of Sweden, and Sassnitz, a summer resort on the northeastern shore of the German Island of Rugen, express steamers in times of peace make regular trips across this arm of the Baltic in four hours. This is the chief water link in the 24-hour express service between Stockholm and Berlin. Neither town would be of any importance were it not for the fact that they are the termini of this steamer service.

Trelleborg is a quaint old town of some 10,000 inhabitants, lying 20 miles southeast of Malmo, capital of Skane, the most populous province in all Sweden. It is only 16 miles from Malmo to the Danish capital, Copenhagen.

Sassnitz is one of several popular seaside resorts on the Island of Rugen, the largest insular possession of Germany, having an area about equal to that of Cape Cod. Only about 2,500 people make Sassnitz their permanent home, but during the bathing season in times of peace the village is visited annually by more than 20,000 pleasure seekers.

The water trip from Trelleborg to Sassnitz is 60 miles. Thus the rail-and-steam distance between Stockholm and Berlin is 425 miles.

SALMON THRIVE IN ATLANTIC

Humpbacked Variety From Pacific Coast Retain Their Habits When Placed in Eastern Waters.

Many thousands of humpback salmon, native to the Puget sound, where they were collected by the government two years ago, entered Penobscot, Denny's, Penobscot, St. Croix and other rivers in eastern Maine as part of the fisheries bureau plan of stocking the east with the pride of the Pacific coast catch.

The bureau's investigation shows that the humpback in its new environment retains its Pacific coast habit of proceeding to the ocean shortly after it begins to swim and returning to the rivers to spawn and die when two years old.

The government has made annual shipments of eggs of the humpback salmon across the continent for the last five years, drawing the consignments alternately from Washington and Alaska.

Joke Books for Soldiers.
Making joke books for soldiers is the latest form of patriotic industry on the part of those who stay at home. It is said that the plan originated with Rudyard Kipling.

A blank book, preferably with large pages, is first obtained. Upon the pages are pasted the funniest pictures and anecdotes found in current newspapers and magazines. Some bright, short stories are also included.

The books are then sent to army hospitals, where they afford great entertainment to convalescent soldiers. Day after day the books are in steady use until they are worn out.

Surgeons say nothing is so essential in the hospital as to keep the patients in good spirits. Toward this end the joke books are a valuable help.

To Bell Eggs by Telephone.
Telephone operators need a sense of humor to make the petty annoyances of their occupation bearable. If they have that, they can find endless matter for amusement in the freakishness of the human nature that exhibits itself at the other end of the wire.

A telephone subscriber asked his operator to ring his bell in three minutes, and immediately hung up his receiver. At the appointed time the supervisor rang on the line, and the subscriber responded merely with "Thank you." Later he called again to thank the operator, and explained that he had been boiling eggs and wanted to time them. They had been cooked to the queen's taste, he said.

The Cow Won.
An official of the board of health in a Massachusetts town notified a citizen that his license to keep a cow on his premises had expired. In reply to this letter the official received the following communication:

"Monsieur Bord of Helt—I just got your notice that my license to keep my cow has expired. I wish to inform you, M'sieur Bord of Helt, that my cow she beat you to it—she expire t'ree week ago. Much oblige. Yours with respect. "PETE."

Ticket-Vending Semaphore.
At Kansas City an electric interurban railway has tried out, with gratifying results, a coin-operated semaphore intended for way stations where cars do not stop unless signaled. To operate the signal, one places a nickel in the slot and presses a lever. This actuates the semaphore arm, ignites a red lamp, and issues a five-cent ticket to the prospective passenger.

The owner of a pig wished to kill it and share it with his friends, but fearing he might come under the regulations against boarding he asked his local Food Committee to advise him on the point. Here is their answer: "Re killing pig—This is permissible if done in moderation."

WHAT SAMMIES EAT

Meat Twice Daily, White Bread, Vegetables, Chief Foods.

Coffee Served at Breakfast and Buttermilk, Tea, Cocoa or Water at Other Meals.

The old idea that army diet should consist largely of beans, hardtack and coffee, is no longer approved, writes Belle Case Harrington in Leslie's. In the present training camps meat, preferably beef, is served twice a day, with white bread baked in the general camp bakery and kept 24 hours before serving. Where green vegetables can be obtained they are used, otherwise canned goods are substituted. Coffee is served at breakfast, and buttermilk, lemonade, tea, cocoa or water at other meals. Meals, which in the vernacular are "mess" or "chow," are served cafeteria style.

Every soldier is furnished with an outfit which consists of a meat-pan, knife, fork and spoon, and a long-handled cup. The cover of the meat-pan serves as a plate, and the outfit is so arranged that each man may do his own cooking in case of an emergency. Each man takes his meat-pan and passes before a table where he is served with the various dishes prepared. He then goes to a table, or if there is none, drops down on the ground, and eats in absolute contentment. Don't feel too sorry for the boys, even if they do write longingly home wishing for mother's cookies or Jane's fried chicken. Men in outdoor training have good appetites, and they are far better off physically than if fed on the salads and ices and sodas they probably would have at home. What they miss most is sweets. If you are sending things from home put in cookies, candies or jams or jellies. Milk chocolate is one of the things a soldier seems to crave, and a jar of malted milk will come handy if he is not feeling well. Be sure not to send food that is too rich as the boys are on plain diet.

One of the comforting thoughts to the friends at home is the fact that Uncle Sam is bound to maintain good health among his soldiers. Even if there were no humane considerations, this would be necessary from a purely economic standpoint. Sick soldiers are a menace, and a regiment not up to par in the matter of health is an embarrassment. All men are vaccinated for smallpox, and inoculated against typhoid as soon as they enter service. Minor disorders, such as blisters, bowel trouble, or sore throat are carefully watched by the officers in charge, and there is a hospital with trained nurses in every camp. No faking can pass. The officers have sharp eyes to discriminate between real and simulated illness. As the boys say, "There are only two times a day when a fellow can get sick"—at sick call, which occurs at 7 a. m., and again at 5:30 p. m. Between times "he just has to stand it."

Regular habits, outdoor life, plain food, and strenuous military drill, are in themselves strong factors toward good health, and many a man who enters the service a comparative weakling will come out fine of physique and strong of limb.

As for drinking, it "isn't done" Saloons and even soft drink establishments are not allowed to sell anything to a soldier in uniform, and many young men who have heretofore been occasional drinkers now proudly proclaim themselves teetotalers.

No Butter at Vassar.

The announcement at Vassar college that no more butter will be served at dinner has caused much discussion, but the girls promise to give the plan a trial, says New York World. It is a war measure, established on account of the high cost of living. The girls will have gravies, jellies and jams to take the place of butter. It was said that the college would lift the ban on butter for dinner just as soon as there were any complaints.

The hard-boiled egg for breakfast is doomed, too; at least it must not be served where omelet is to be had. Because most of the girls have a sweet tooth, the college authorities will increase the sugar service at all meals; but this will be evened up by cutting down on meat.

Sheep-Killing Parrots at Large.

Not long ago no little consternation was created by the escape at San Francisco of two keas, or sheep-killing parrots, which were being shipped from Australia to the Smithsonian Institution at Washington, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. The birds liberated themselves by splintering the slats of their wooden crates with their powerful beaks. The federal authorities offered a reward of $100 for each bird taken dead or alive. This species of parrot has made itself an enemy of man in both Australia and New Zealand by slaying sheep for the sake of eating parts of the flesh, of which it is very fond, and there bounties are paid for killing the birds.

FOUGHT IN PALESTINE.

Canadian Soldier Gives His Impression of the Orient.

Under date of Dec. 28th, 1917, H. H. Dewar, M.P.P. of Toronto, has received the following letter from Capt. Norman S. Macdonnell, Royal Field Artillery, Palestine:

"It is a long time since I wrote you a decent letter. But it is also a long time since I have had any spare time to write in. Fighting here is not so fearfully severe, but with open warfare, a far-away base, impoverished and undeveloped country, and scanty equipment, the work of carrying on is pretty considerable and not much time is left over.

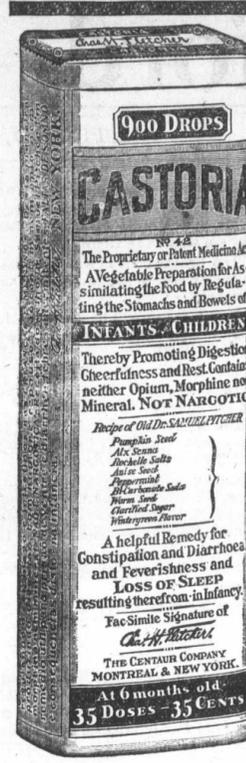

"The capture of Jerusalem was great. One division approached from the south, my own from the west. The main fight occurred outside and the city surrendered. We marched in, each battalion and battery on its own account. So I led mine. It was fine. No 'spit and polish' parade. Heavy rain had deluged the horses, men and vehicles in mud; clothing and equipment was torn and wet. But it was the real thing. And I had all the pride of the Celt as I rode at the head of my guns through all the stinging throng of Orientals of three continents. It was splendid to be the representation of the greatest power on earth in a day of triumph. From the point of view of immediate military advantage the fall of Jerusalem is not important as compared with actions in France. But from the general view it is important. It is something for the Cross to have swept away the Crescent after so many centuries; and it is something to feel that it has been done by Britain. Bagdad, Mecca, Jerusalem—gone from Islam. Only Damascus and Constantinople remain. As I rode into the city and out again along the old wall and past the Damascus Gate I thought I was in Fairyland: All the old Bible stories I heard as a kid—Sennacherib and Nebuchadnezzar; the history learned later at college—Rome and Mahomet; the romance of the Crusaders and the Frank; the might of Britain; the present conditions—it all galloped through my head, and I laughed to think that it was all true.

"This is an extraordinary land in that way. It is once so strange and so familiar. The names are familiar. One night we camped at _____ is only eight miles away; I am near the Mount of Olives at present, ahead are _____, and further still _____ The heavens at night are wondrously brilliant; no wonder they impressed the ancient imagination. And those hills have looked for 6,000 years on scenes like these.

"The London Scottish climbing the mountain tracks, with kilt and pipe, must be not unlike those older battalions. (Man! It is great to see them—the hills and the pipers!) As yet it is very strange. We are very near cut off. We never heard of the collapse in Italy till after six weeks. We read of things at home and in England as of things in another sphere. And the names and tales that are so familiar come from very long ago. So much that it is strange has left me. Somehow it is a very lonely land. To fall here seems very lonely. But cheer! We have taken Jerusalem; things are O.K. And everybody is hearty. On the whole in the last two months the weather has been great. Now it is terrible. The rainfall here is as great as that of London; and it all comes at once; we are getting it now, and it has made transport almost impossible; even the camels are giving out. But who cares? It is worth it. The last two months have been among the best of my life. The East has its points."

Out West.

Americans in thousands are planning an invasion of Western Canada—Saskatchewan particularly—in the coming spring and summer. It is a peaceful invasion they plan, and Canada should welcome them with open arms. The materials of war they will bring will be batteries of ploughs and harrows and binders. We want American settlers. We need their experience, their energy and their equipment. We want their aid in production of Saskatchewan, has the rich but untilled soil. They have the energy and the experience to apply to it. The fear of conscription, insidiously instilled, has kept many back in the last three years. Settlers approaching the border were handed pamphlets bearing the title, "In the Clutches of the English King." Now conscription is in force in both countries. The democracy of it has won over the fearful. —Saskatchewan Star.

A Hun's Mind.

What is the real feeling of the average man in Germany in regard to the sinking of hospital ships, the destruction of cathedrals and universities, air raids on defenceless towns, and similar acts? I am often asked this question. In the first place, the people are misled by press and politician, and official reports can always justify any procedure intended to advance the national cause. Germany is not entirely singular in this respect. But that is not the real explanation of the every-day German attitude toward "frightfulness." Here, as in all the other factors which go to make up Germanism, we trace the influence of the Prussian system. "Frightfulness" of some kind or other has characterized the whole history of the Prussian state, and it is to-day accepted as a matter of course by the man in the street. Krieg ist krieg (war is war) has been the usual excuse for the outrages of the past three years. The question so often asked in England, "Is the German conscience dead?" points to an inability to grasp the implications of that conscience. Deutschland uber Alles has long been the expression of the conscience of Germany.—A. D. McLaren in Atlantic.

Paraguay's Resources.

Paraguay has a population variously estimated at 800,000 to 1,000,000, but according to a report from Henry H. Balch, American Consul at Asuncion, the actual buying capacity would probably be measured by an average population of 300,000 as found in the United States. The wealth of the country is chiefly centered in the agricultural, cattle and timber industries, none of which is yet very well developed. As an American concern, however, is now constructing a big meat packing and refrigerating plant near Asuncion, and has acquired grazing and quebracho timber lands, all of which represent an estimated value of $5,000,000 United States gold, and another American packing company has bought a local meat-packing plant capitalized at $250,000, and now almost ready for operations, considerable development in the industry of the country will take place, and this will stimulate other lines.

Declares Fish Sunburnt.

A patient angler was fishing from a jetty at a seaside resort, and two visitors were watching him. Most of the fish caught were flat fish, and the two watchers began to argue why the fish were brown on one side and white on the other. One suggested that the fish were originally all white, but that sleeping on their backs in the mud, they had become so soiled that they wouldn't wash off.

This was so ridiculed by the other man that, angrily, he bet any amount that his theory was correct.

Upon the case being put to the angler, he remarked: "You are entirely wrong. The real cause of one side being brown is that the fish have been swimming so long with their backs uppermost that they have got sunburnt."

High-Grade Naval Gunnery.

No one can foretell the future, but we are disclosing no secret when we say that, if our battleship line should ever range up against the enemy, he will be treated at the longest ranges to a storm of fire which, in rapidity, accuracy and the unanny way in which it clings to its ever-shifting objective, will be a most uncomfortable surprise to the enemy, asserts the Scientific American. For it is a fact that the methods of mounting, fire control, etc., which have been adopted and perfected in our navy, have raised our target practice to a point of accuracy, even at the longest ranges, which has never been reached in our own, or, probably, in any other navy.

Poisonous Constituent of Ivy.

Whether the poisonous constituent of poison ivy is chemical or bacterial is discussed in the Medical Record. Doctor Frost insists that it is bacterial, because of the incubation period, the complete natural immunity of certain individuals, and that exposure may be strictly limited to proximity of the plant and for other reasons, and asserts that he has found a form of bacteria constant on all leaves examined. J. T. McNair insists that actual contact with the resinous sap must occur, and that neither mixing with mercury nor heating destroys the poisonous quality of the sap. He therefore believes the action is chemical.

The Usual Difficulty.

"I wish I had a lot of money," he said, rather unoriginally, we thought. "What a selfish wish!" we murmured, echoing bromide with bromide. "It is not selfish," he asserted. "Indeed, I was thinking how much good I could do if I had money."

"You can do a lot of good as it is," we counseled sagely. "It is not necessary to be rich to do good. There are many, many things you can do to ameliorate suffering and distress. Personal service, and all that sort of thing."

"Yes, yes," he said impatiently. "But nobody will ever hear of it."

AY, there's the rub!—Exchange.
