Germans Panicky Over Air Raids.

WASHINGTON, August 7.—Documents captured by British airmen betray the state of excitement which prevails along Germany's Rhineland because of the persistent bombing by British aviators. They also show that in one case where the Germans reported having successfully bombed certain objectives behind the Allies' lines, they cannot come within fifteen miles of the targets they sought. The state of nervousness along the Rhine is shown by evidence that when the Allied bombers were over Coblenz alarms were rung in Cologne, many miles away and work stopped.

Irene Porter, of Lower Wedgeport, has a potato garden flourishing in a cask. This spring she took a cask and bored 1 1/2 inch holes a foot apart and in rows of inches from bottom to top. He then filled the cask with alternate layers of soil and manure, and placed a seed near every hole. They all grew but two and today the cask is buried with healthy looking vines all in blossom.

PROCLAMATION

GEORGE THE FIFTH, by the Grace of God of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and of the British Dominions beyond the Seas, KING, Defender of the Faith, Emperor of India.
To all to whom these presents shall come or whom the same may in any wise concern,—GREETING:
A Proclamation of conditional amnesty respecting men belonging to Class I under the Military Service Act, 1917, who have disobeyed our Proclamation of 13th October, 1917, or their orders to report for duty, or are deserters or absent without leave from the Canadian Expeditionary Force.

E. L. NEWCOMBE, Deputy Minister of Justice, Canada.
WHEREAS considerable numbers of men belonging to Class I under our Military Service Act, 1917, called out on active service in our Canadian Expeditionary Force for the defence of Canada under Our Proclamation of 13th October, 1917, although they have thus become by law soldiers enlisted in the Military Service of Canada,

AND WE DO HEREBY STRICTLY WARN AND SOLEMNLY IMPRESS UPON ALL SUCH MEN, and as well those who employ, harbour, conceal or assist them in their disobedience, that, if they persist in their failure to report, absence or desertion until the expiry of the last mentioned day, they will be pursued and punished with all the rigour and severity of the law, SUBJECT TO THE JUDGMENT OF OUR COURTS MARTIAL WHICH WILL BE CONVENED TO TRY SUCH CASES or other competent tribunals; and also that those who employ, harbour, conceal or assist such men will be held strictly accountable as offenders and subject to the pains, penalties and forfeitures in that behalf by law provided for their said offence.

AND IT IS REPRESENTED that the very serious and unfortunate situation in which these men find themselves is due in many cases to the fact that, notwithstanding the information and warning contained in Our Proclamation aforesaid, they have misunderstood their duty or obligation, or have been misled by the advice of ill-disposed, disloyal or seditious persons.

AND WHEREAS we desire, if possible, to avoid the infliction of the heavy penalties which the law imposes for the offences of which these soldiers have thus been guilty, and to afford them an opportunity within a limited time to report and make their services available in Our Canadian Expeditionary Force as is by law their bounden duty, and as is necessary for the defence of Our Dominion, and of Canada.

NOW KNOW YE that we in the exercise of Our powers, and of Our good will and pleasure in that behalf, do hereby proclaim and declare and cause to be published and made known that THE PENALTIES OF THE LAW WILL NOT BE IMPOSED OR EXACTED as against the men who belong to Class I under Our Military Service Act, 1917, and who have disobeyed Our Proclamation aforesaid; or who have received notice from any of Our registrars or deputy registrars to report for duty on a day now past and have failed so to report; or who, having reported and obtained leave of absence, have failed to report at the expiry of their leave, or have become deserters from Our Expeditionary Force, PROVIDED THEY REPORT FOR DUTY ON OR BEFORE THE TWENTY FOURTH DAY OF AUGUST 1918.

Provided however that nothing contained in this Our Proclamation is intended to release the men aforesaid from their obligation to report for duty as soon as possible or to grant them immunity from arrest or detention in the meantime for the purpose of compelling them to perform their military duty; Our intention being merely to forego or remit the penalties heretofore incurred for failure to report, absence without leave or desertion incurred by those men of the description aforesaid who shall be in the proper discharge of their military duties on or before the said twenty-fourth day of August, 1918.

Of all of which Our loving subjects and all others whom these presents may concern are themselves accordingly.
IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, We have caused these Our Letters to be made Patent, and the Great Seal of Right Trusty and Right Entirely Beloved Cousin Devonshire, Marquess of Hartington, Earl of Devonshire, Earl of Burlington, Baron Cavendish Knight of Our Most Noble Order of the Garter; One of Our Most Honourable Privy Council; Knight Grand Cross of Our Most Distinguished Order of Saint Michael and Saint George; Knight Commander General and Commander-in-Chief of Our Dominion of Canada.

At Our Government House, in Our City of OTTAWA, this FIRST day of AUGUST, in the year of Our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eighteen, and in the ninth year of Our Reign.
By Command,
Thomas Mulvey
Under-Secretary of State.

BRIDGETOWN SCHOOLS

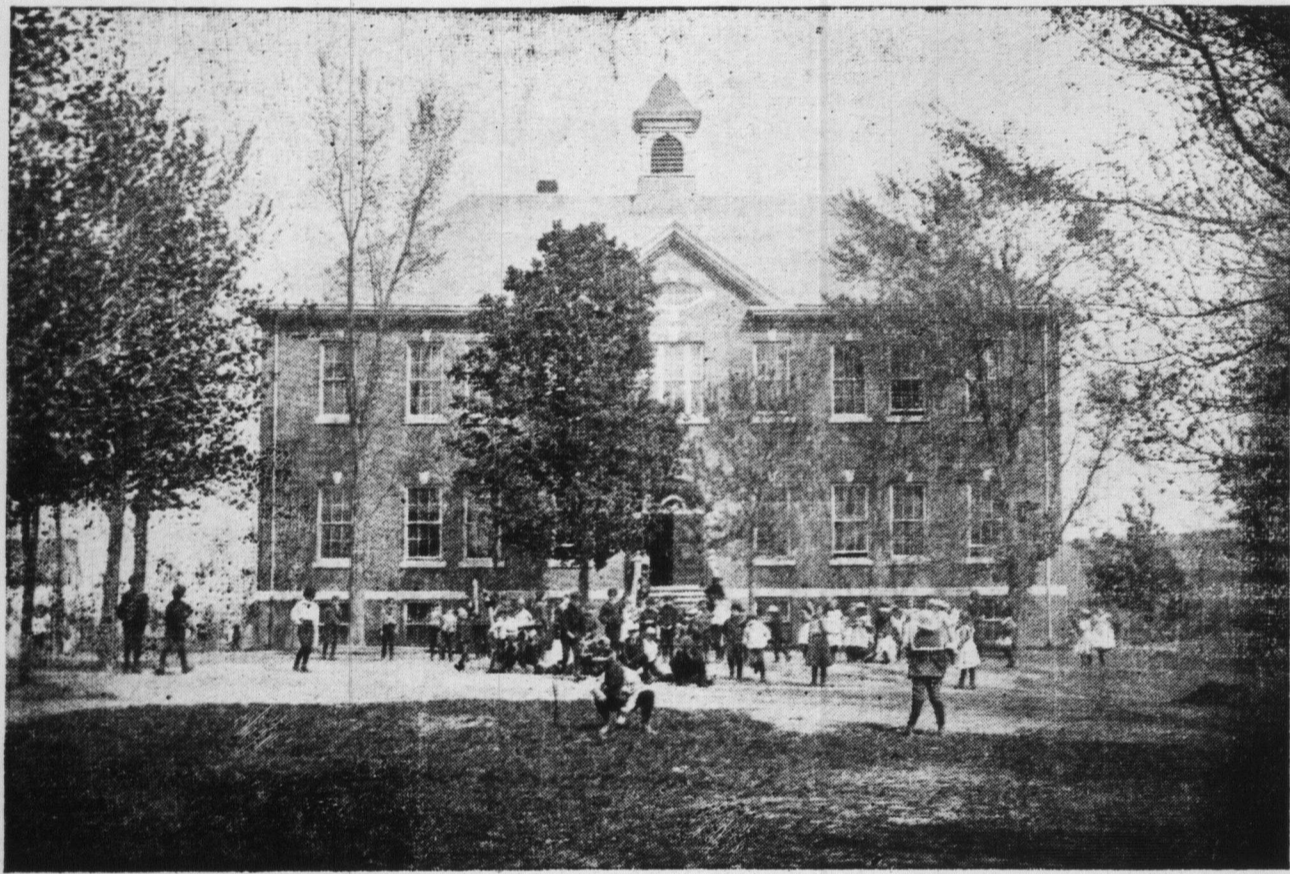

The Building Thoroughly Renovated from Basement to Attic

One of the things which was very necessary and for which the Bridgetown school Board should receive approval of all our citizens, and we believe they will, is the thorough manner in which the school building has been cleaned, painted and varnished from basement to attic during the present vacation, the walls calso-mined, black boards painted, etc., at a cost not exceeding $300.00.
This expenditure will also include putting the furnaces and entire heating plant in first class condition.
The decorating, painting and varnishing were in charge of Messrs. John Carter and Samuel Eagleson, under the direction of the School Board.
It would be worth while for any ratepayer, who is interested, to have Mr. R. E. Thurber, the efficient principal, to show them through the building that they might learn for themselves of its present improved condition.
While on this important subject, there are one or two suggestions that we think should claim the attention of the School Board. In order to improve the light which is necessary to preserve the good eyesight of the pupils, a few of the trees near the building, a couple at least, should be removed.

Then in the winter time provision should be made to have a janitor occupy the building at night, who could keep the wood fires going, which would not only be the means of saving fuel during school hours, but would have the various rooms comfortable for the pupils when they arrive and thus be a safe guard against colds and other injuries to their health.
The ratepayers should never regret spending a few extra dollars on the education and the welfare of those on whom we depend as our future citizens and business men of the town in which we reside and which should be our policy to boost to the fullest extent.

BRIDGETOWN'S PUBLIC SCHOOL BUILDING

SUCCESSFUL GARDENING

Skilful in Use of Hoe and Composing Stick.

[Middleton Outlook]

It has been said that "one trade is all that any man can master," but we think foreman Taylor of the Outlook staff, has the old adage beaten to a frazzle. Not only is he a skilled printer but a successful farmer as well.

A few years ago, Mr. Taylor purchased a small farm at Lower Middleton. The soil was light and some wise ones said, "You can't even raise a disturbance on that land." But anyone who visits the place today and sees the fine array of beans, potatoes and all other kinds of vegetables will agree that Mr. Taylor must be as dexterous in the use of the hoe
as the composing stick.

But perhaps most of the credit is due Mrs. Taylor, indeed, Mr. Taylor says it chiefly belongs to her. At any rate it affords an illustration of what industry and skill can do toward food production.

A NEW METHODIST CHURCH

A Former Bridgetown Pastor Meets
With Great Success in New Glasgow.

[From the New Glasgow Evening
News of Aug. 5th]

This evening at 7 o'clock, the corner stone of the New Methodist Church will be well and truly laid with appropriate ceremonies and prayers.
Under the capable guidance of Rev.
B. J. Porter, the New Glasgow Methodists are making good headway, and this forward more speaks louder than words as to what is being done. The site of the old church at the corner of Temperance and McLean Streets was so central and the proximity of the parsonage so convenient that the problem was to get more room whilst remaining at the same place. Mr. D.
C. Henderson, contractor and builder was called into consultation, with the Managers and a plan was forthwith devised, which met requirements. The old church has been raised several feet, veneered with a brick casing and a capacious assembly room, arranged for beneath the main auditorium, which practically doubles the floor space. A new chancel was added for the choir. The contractor, as stated, is Mr. Henderson, who is an expert and the brick and stone work is in the capable hands of Messrs. McKenzie and Copeland.

A casual visitor finds it hard to grasp what's what, as much work has still to be done and it will be October before the church will be ready for occupancy.

The pews are being furnished by the Globe Furniture Co., of Waterloo, Ont., who are also supplying the pulpit furniture etc.

The assembly room is what pleases
Mr. Porter most, who is an enthusiast on the question of Sunday School work. There will be nine class rooms in addition to the kitchen, furnace rooms, toilets, etc.

But why go into details. Just call around at 7 o'clock this evening and see for yourself, gentle reader, what the live Methodists of New Glasgow under the direction of a live wire pa-son have done are doing, and are going to do. We congratulate pastor and people on their good works, and trust that within a decade they will expand so as to necessitate still larger quarters.

[Rev. Mr. Porter was formerly pastor of the Bridgetown Methodist church and has many friends here who wish him continued success.—Ed.
MONITOR.]

Maria.

With apologies to the Mikado Opera.
On a fence in the back yard, a gentleman cat
Sang, "Maria! Maria! Maria!"
And I said to him, "Thomas dear, why do you squat
Singing "Maria! Maria! Maria!"
"Are you here for your usual midnight
serenade?
Or are you by some playful terrier
tired?"
But to all my queries he paid little heed;
Singing, "Maria! Maria! Maria!"

He bellowed "Maria!" for all he was worth,
"Maria! Maria! Maria!"
The most beautiful music e're warbled
on earth

Was "Maria! Maria! Maria!"
He appeared to be very much hors do combat,
As though he'd been having a bit of a spat;
Or a Marquis of Queensbury with another to meet
For "Maria! Maria! Maria!"

Now I feel just as sure, as I'm sure that my name
Isn't Maria! Maria! Maria!
'Twas a dour lonely feeling that made him exclaim
"Maria! Maria! Maria!"
A bootjack came flying from a window overhead,
It made a bullseye, for it laid Thomas dead;
And—these were the very last words
that he said,
"Maria! Maria! Maria!"

LATEST WAR NEWS

The Allies are meeting with much success in France and the Germans are outflanked both north and south. Canadians have recently taken 9,000 prisoners and 150 canon. The enemy submarines, however, are still getting in their murderous work on this side of the Atlantic. Besides sinking several vessels, one of them launched a gas attack on a lighthouse on Smith Island, off the North Carolina coast, Saturday night. Six men were overcome with the gas.

Another Bridgetown Boy Pays the Supreme Sacrifice.
A despatch which reached Bridgetown Monday morning cast a gloom over the entire community, when it was learned that Corp. Gerald Merritt, of a machine gun, had been killed in action, somewhere in France. "Gerald," who was very popular with all who knew him, enlisted with the 5th, resigning his position as teller in the Bridgetown branch of the Royal Bank of Canada. He had reached the age of 21 years, being the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Merritt, who reside in Portland, Oregon. He was a nephew of Mrs. W. A. Warren, of this town, and had a host of friends who were pleased to have his name on the honored list, but who looked forward to his safe return, and greatly regret to learn of his death. The MONITOR extends its deepest sympathy to the bereaved ones.

A PLEASANT VOYAGE

A Letter From Pte. Carl H. Balcom, To His Mother.

ON THE ATLANTIC OCEAN It was ten days ago, two o'clock this morning that we set sail after being at anchor for eight days. With the exception of a little dizziness for two days, I have had good health all the way over. Most of the time the water has been quite smooth. For three days the ship has gone along very steady; the water has been very still, and we enjoyed the trip exceedingly. This morning we sighted land and all day we have been able to see the old country in the distance. We expect to land tomorrow morning if nothing happens. All the way over we had two armed ships to protect us. Two days ago over half a dozen destroyers met us, so that eased any fears we might have had regarding "subs." One day we got a little excitement started on account of the water vessels firing seven shots at something in the water not far behind our boat. One ship fired six shots in quick succession. It was the first real bit of war we have seen, and caused a general stir, as the guns made a loud boom. I guess it was a false alarm as we did not see anything in the water after the firing ceased. But of course one can never tell what is nearby nowadays. The destroyers keep moving around in and out and in fact, keep a strict watch all around us. Last night I was on guard on the deck for over two hours from midnight. It was a beautiful night, the moon was bright and one could see the ships and water vessels about twenty miles in all sailing calmly along through the shining ocean. I enjoyed the two hours, but such a night was dangerous as the "subs" could see us. One of the destroyers kept in the moonlight path on the water, so as to detect any mysterious actions in that section. We have a six inch gun on the ship, but it has not been needed so far, and I hope we shall not need to use it on this trip. With so many eyes watching the water, and so many guns ready for immediate action, one little part of an enemy's ship showing above the surface would be seen instantly and a general alarm would be answered by a vigorous bombardment. I do not know where we shall land in England. We have to keep a life belt on all day and at night the belt is kept near at hand and most of us are assigned to life rafts. In case of an accident, we throw the raft overboard and then we climb down a ladder or a rope to the water and hang on to handles that are on the sides of the rafts, our heads and shoulders only remaining above water. They claim the rafts are safer than the boats, but I think I would prefer a boat to hanging on to a raft with my body in the cold water. I hope we shall not have to take a try at either mode of rescue. On board there are quite a number of women who are going over as nurses. Some of them are young and some are nearly middle aged. They have a special part of the ship and are allowed the privileges the officers enjoy. I am enclosing a copy of the only paper we have seen since leaving Halifax. It was printed on the ship and the news was received by wireless. So at present we are a week behind in regard to the doing in the whole world. Probably we shall have a long train ride after landing. It will be quite a change to ride in the English trains. The cars are small and each apartment holds about six people, but the trains go fast. They are holding a concert on deck tonight, but at 8.30 we have to come down as no lights are allowed to be shown after dusk. I hope you are all as well as I am. We have been doing about 30 minutes exercise on deck each day. Sometimes the ship kept us swaying back and forth. I am about as much at home on the water now as on land and am a better sailor than I expected. Last night June 28th, we arrived at 11 o'clock, after riding in the train about ten hours. We landed at a large city and as we marched through the city to the depot, the people lined the streets cheering and shaking our hands. All the way in the trains we were cheered and we always answered by a hand wave and cheers. We saw a little of the edge of London, which is not far from this camp, in which all Canadian troops are quarantined for a month after arriving here. Then we go to a regular training camp for Canadians. England is a beautiful place. It is a land of beautiful trees, flowers, gardens and perfect roads. We are four miles from a station and have a nice lake nearby in which we were all bathing tonight. On the way from the station the people treated us to lime juice, cake, huns and water. We get from three to four meals a day. The food is scarce here, so we have less than in Canada and on the boat. There are eight of us in a tent, but we shall soon get used to the change. The weather is fine and warm. The Y. M. C. A. has tents for writing, books to lend, and a concert is held daily as well as moving pictures so we shall get along well while quarantined, to see if we are carrying any disease. The houses here are all built of brick and have red tiled roofs. They look fine and clean. Most every house is surrounded by a hedge. In the yards are beautiful flower gardens and walks. This is Saturday night, I just came from a meeting at the Y. M. C. A. A gentleman from Middleton, who is a minister, spoke of the Annapolis Valley, and of the anxious friends in the old homeland. Tomorrow, (Sunday) the principal (Dr. Wallace) of McMaster University, Toronto, is going to speak to us. We are like a Canadian city in a strange land. I saw a minister that used to preach at Elm street Methodist church, Toronto and used to hear him quite often. Sunday morning, June 30th—This is a beautiful morning. I am sitting on one of the fern and heather hills that overlook the camp and lake. In the pond the swans are swimming quietly along. Everything is so quiet and peaceful, that it is hard to imagine the terrible war that is going on a few miles away. Tomorrow is the first of July, so we shall have a holiday in camp. Baseball, games and all sorts of sports will be carried on all day. We shall, I expect, forget for the time that we are three thousand miles away from home and loved ones. After we get to another camp, we shall be able to go about and see the people and country. Till then we shall not see much. I am sending a piece of heather, hope you will receive it in good condition. It is a long time since we received any mail. It was before we left Fredericton, N. B. Don't worry about me as I am just as safe here as in Canada and when we go to France there is a good chance of coming back alive and well. The war news is very good at present. This morning our draft and two others were merged into one. We are now known as the 12th Reserve Battalion. Your loving son, CARL.

New Facts on Feeding Cattle. Cattle feeders will be interested in the following facts which are contained in a bulletin recently issued by the University of Wisconsin, relative to successful methods of feeding cattle. Balanced rations are sometimes deficient in the elements which make for the best growth of animals. Reproduction is often affected by the ration fed to the cow. A good roughage, preferably a legume hay, should be fed with wheat grain or its by-products to overcome their bad effects on reproduction. Even with a good roughage, wheat or its by-products should not be fed continuously too liberally or the offspring will be weak. A wheat grain with wheat straw ration is in most cases fatal to both growth and reproduction. It will also produce weak or dead calves. So far as reproduction is concerned the same statement is true with a corn grain and wheat straw ration. Due to its low mineral content, the over-abundance of a material like wheat straw in the ration is an important factor in premature births. Weak or dead offspring may result from nutritional disturbances brought about by the continued feeding of certain natural feed materials. Rations producing early delivery of offspring usually lead to the failure of the animal to clean properly, with its attendant dangers or infection. Poor roughage, such as the straws, often lead to this condition. A complete ration cannot be made from the oat plant. Exclusive use of oat straw as a roughage for breeding cows will likewise produce premature weak, or dead offspring. Corn stover, corn silage, or legume hay should replace part of the oat straw. A complete ration can be made from the corn plant. It will give normal growth and reproduction.

WOMEN TORTURED! Suffer Terribly With Corns Because of High Heels, But Why Care Now. Women wear high heels which buckle up their toes and they suffer terribly from corns. Women then proceed to trim these pests, seeking relief, but they hardly realize the terrible danger from infection, says a Cincinnati authority. Corns can easily be lifted out with the fingers if you will get from any drug store a quarter of an ounce of a drug called freezezone. This is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. You simply apply a few drops directly upon the tender, aching corn or callus. The soreness is relieved at once and soon the entire corn or callus, root and all, lifts out without one particle of pain. This freezezone is a sticky substance which dries in a moment. It just shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. Tell your wife about this.

Certainly Knot. Tenderfoot—Why do they use knots on the ocean instead of miles? Second class Scott—Well, you see, they couldn't have the ocean tide without knots.

Reflections on Forty. Age teaches many things, by Jink. 'Tis just immense. And every now and then, I think I'm getting sense.

CAMPAIGN PLANNED FOR SOLDIERS OVERSEAS

Knights of Nova Scotia Emulate Achievements of Americans

Recent war work of the Knights of Columbus in the United States, in which they succeeded in raising $15,000,000 for Army Huts and won the praise of such men as President Wilson, Theodore Roosevelt and William Jennings Bryan, is going to be duplicated on this side of the border. At a meeting in Antigonish recently, the Knights of Columbus resolved to raise $100,000 in the Maritime Provinces to build and equip army huts that will serve as homes for Canadians of all classes, creeds and colors overseas. As the money was to be spent broadly, it was felt a broad appeal should be made and accordingly everybody will be asked to contribute.

Army Huts cost from $2,500 up in England and France. Those in France will be placed not only at points of debarkation, but along the route right up to the edge of the firing line.

All will bear the sign Everybody welcome and Everything Free —actually all the provisions—cigarettes, chocolate bars, coffee, etc.—that these huts contain will be free to men of all ranks, provided only that they are allied soldiers. In addition these huts will provide a place where men will spend social hours—a home from home.

It is not the intention to duplicate work now done by the Y. M. C. A. Each has its own field and they both have special qualifications for doing their own work that the other must necessarily lack. The fact that the United States recognizes the Hebrew Relief Associations, the Y. M. C. A., the K. of C., as well as the Red Cross shows that each of these has its own work to do. And besides is there any danger that there will be coddling of the men at the front?

The campaign starts August 19 and will wind up the following Saturday. Men of all denominations—seasoned campaigners in Red Cross, Y. M. C. A. and Victory Loan drives have volunteered to assist.

British Man Power

WASHINGTON, August 9.—Lord Curzon, member of the British war cabinet, gave figures Monday night, in a speech portions of which have been received here by wireless, which show the extent of the British war effort in manpower. Lord Curzon said that Great Britain had given no fewer than 7,000,000 men and that 5,000,000 Britons were today fighting in foreign theatres of war.

Allowing for casualties and presuming these figures to include the navy, they are taken as demonstrating the fact that the only troops in England today are men on leave and men in depots, either of the supply services or undergoing the re-organization of units.

Planning His Career

Seven-year-old Robert has a great desire to follow in his father's footsteps. One night his mother overheard him making his prayers: "Please, God, make me a good boy, then a good lawyer, and then just land me on the supreme bench. Amen."

China's Condition

A writer in the Asia Jiron Asiatic Review, handles the Chinese question—the sole topic of discussion throughout Nippon—in a radically resolute manner. He says:

"There is no hope for poor old China unless a rescuer is born." The article is quite long, but the writer is evidently an extensive traveler in China, for he says the Japanese have no conception at present of the sense of vastness that will overcome them (when as he appears to assume they will) the Japanese attempt the pacification of that country. Especially does he speak of the mighty Yangtze, "so broad that one wonders if it belongs to the family of rivers." "Everything in China will inspire equal wonder and amazement," he says. He adds that failure of Mr. Li as President was no surprise. "We cannot understand Mr. Li; nor can Mr. Li understand himself. His is quite the Chinese character."

China, like Gaul, is divided in three parts: South, North and Mongolia. They have different languages and manners, but the same feeling of vastness pervades all China. The writer describes official life in a manner very suggestive of Francisque Sarcy's famous satire. In all the four hundred millions of Chinese very few are patriotic. Occasionally one patriot appears, but the great majority of officials are calculating persons who never forget their own interests. In short, the Chinese don't care what becomes of the world as long as they remain unharmed. There are a few insatiable cravers after high government positions. When in power they enrich themselves, and when sufficiently stuffed they are on watch for opportunity to "retire." They say: "Give to me the moon to gaze upon, flowers to admire rather than pomp of power or worldly praise." And the self-styled Genro betakes himself to a picturesque country place with a galaxy of beautiful women and leaves the world to go to the dogs. If he ever "comes back," the patriotic action is called "emergence from the hearth"—most accurate description "for his act is that of a fire thief."

An account of Chinese battles is sarcastically humorous. Both sides claim victory for "the heavenly army." The press bureau is conducted on most approved modern methods. In conclusion, Ranryo-o Soun sees no hope for peace in China until a strong man appears, who, as monarch or president, can unite north and south and stop dishonesty in administration.

Want More Airplanes

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Secretary Baker announces that General Pershing had requested immediate shipment of a large number of De Havilland bombing planes for use of the American forces and that the order has been placed on the department's priority list, insuring prompt transactions.

They Kept the Faith

(From the Philadelphia North American) No finer tribute was ever paid to an army than that paid when the French, themselves incomparable in war, placed the untried American forces to guard the very gateway to Paris, the Bloody Angle of this Gettysburg of democracy. How magnificently the trust was fulfilled all the world knows. Against the "undisciplined" troops from overseas the massed legions of the Hun were flung in vain, and when the order to advance came these "raw" troops swept forward on equal terms with the veterans of France and tore to pieces the detentes of the invader.

The League of Nations Now

(London Daily News)

Proposals for a League of Nations are scarcely enough in themselves. What would be so infinitely valuable, even as a mere war measure, would be to face Germany with the accomplished fact. A real league of the allies—modest as its design in the first instance might be—would do more to convince the German people of the nature of the conflict to which their rulers have committed them than any amount of argument or invective. In would be based frankly, of course, on the catholic ideal; it would shut out no nation except one that refused to accept it. On the other hand, it would make ultimate refusal nearly impossible. It would demonstrate, as nothing else can, the force of the weapon which the allies command and which scarcely any conceivable military victory can in the very long run avail to shatter.

Let Him Hang the Kaiser

(From the New York Times)

The New York Port Enemy Alien Bureau was puzzled by the case of Hans Kordess, a German arrested in White Plains, for failing to register. Kordess shook his head dubiously and insisted that it would be exceedingly inadvisable to have his photograph taken as the registration rules required. "Even in Germany, the Kaiser could not make me have my picture taken," he said.

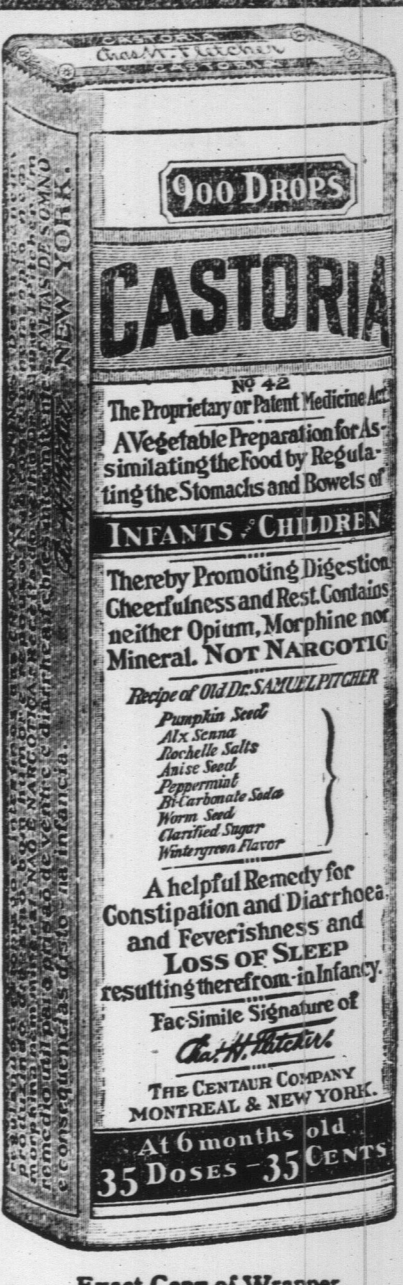

When asked why, he said that in Germany he was a "scharfrichter" or official hangman, and that it was against the law for an executioner to have his picture made. He assumed that the same rule would apply to hangmen in this country, and did not register. He was turned over to Deputy Marshal McDonough and within twenty minutes he had been photographed four times and was in the Tomb.

"Let Us Pray."

It is pretty generally conceded that for a professedly Christian nation Canada does not give sufficient place to prayer as a means of accomplishing the defeat of the Huns and the triumph of the principles of world brotherhood which Christ came to preach. This fact suggests that in some United States churches the practice prevails during the Sunday morning service of stopping the regular order of the service when the clock or bell strikes 12 noon, and spending a moment or two in silent prayer by the entire congregation, followed by a few words of audible prayer from the preacher. It is an impressive custom and might well be adopted, not only by entire municipalities, but by entire countries. Why should not Canada give leadership in this matter?
