WED THE ODOR WOODVILLE AVE.

Ward Seven Electrified—Sud Activity of the Works Department

MEETING POSTPONED New Carlton School Formally Opened—Interesting Addresses

Practical effort on the part of the works department to abate the odor nuisance in ward seven identified. The sufferers yesterday a sewer manhole in front of John Marr's apartment house on Woodville avenue was covered up and covered odor tight. It had been one of the worst offenders and Mr. Marr proposed to start a damage action if anything was not done. Since the manhole was closed the odor has been effectively "checked" in that neighborhood, and last night the residents on Woodville avenue retired elated and proud of the fact that someone owned property on their street who knew how to "kick." Mr. Marr reaped the reward of the prize kicker. He may be said to have demonstrated "high class" to get rid of the small nuisance—start a damage suit. Residents realize the fact, however, that odors, if not valuable, are volatile, and that the Woodville avenue manhole is not the only way for the odor, which will continue to operate more effectively in other sections of the ward, to be restricted in one direction.

"I made my last bet at election time," said one man last night when he was just taking off his boots on the saturday. There's still a few to spare yet before the thirteenth.

Last night's storm kept the citizens of ward seven indoors and only six enthusiastic members turned up at the Amette Street School when the ratepayers' association was to have met. The meeting, which was called for the discussion of the proposed new school in Hill street, was therefore postponed until Tuesday evening, Jan. 28, when the ward seven association will meet with the ratepayers' association in the Howard Park School. The matter will then be thoroughly discussed and a demonstration planned to protest against the proposed building before the board of control, if necessary.

Walls Fisher, secretary of the association, declared that if he goes to work with the motions arising from the plan would be Portland, set aside fight and make one worth no more than a cent.

SPECIAL COUNSEL FOR MILITIA AUTHORITIES

Hon. Wallace Nesbitt, K.C., Understood to Be Retained for Dominion in Shooting Case

It is understood on good authority that the militia department of the federal government has retained Hon. Wallace Nesbitt, K.C., as counsel for the defence of the three soldiers concerned in the Fort Erie shooting case. This is taken as an indication that the federal authorities will come to the defence of the soldiers whom the province will prosecute for manslaughter. Thus far no official word has been received by the Ontario Government, but communications have been begun between Ottawa and Washington. There will be no delay in publishing the case, and it is probable that the action of Police Constable Delaney will be proceeded with first, as his case promises least difficulty.

MORE LIQUOR SEIZED.

A cartload of liquor was seized in a special raid of the provincial license authorities in Welland on Thursday. Fifty-two charges were laid, some of which are for second offences. The action followed suspicion that the soldiers guarding the canal were getting too much liquor. Much liquor was secured.

RELIEF WORK BY NIGHT

Sharpshooters Told Off to Pick Off Unwary British Soldiers

By D. Douglas Egan, one of The World's Staff Correspondents with the Canadian Expeditionary Force. LONDON, Jan. 22.—The station in the heart of southwest London, is a railway terminal known to every trans-Atlantic visitor who wishes to extend his tour to the continent of Europe. From here fast trains connect with the boats which ply between Newhaven and Dieppe. And, as a rule, the service is vastly preferred to the Dover-Calais route. But since the war, or rather since the landing of the British expeditionary force in France, the London terminal has taken on a new aspect. In place of tourists and trippers, in place of a train crowded with khaki-clad soldiers "on to the front," there is no demonstration as they leave, for this war-torn as far as London is concerned is looked upon as too serious a matter for the display of ultra-patriotism. More often than not, the officer and soldier bound for the danger zone are unaccompanied by any friends or relatives, which, perhaps, is just as wise. They have come on leave from the trenches; it may be for four or fourteen days, and they go back again to once more face death for the sake of the empire.

Wounded at Victoria. It is here at Victoria, too, that the wounded arrive. For them, shortly before 10 o'clock each night, are drawn up lines of ambulances, each with its complement of nurses and medics. A vast crowd gathers on platform and passage, but the watchful police see to it that no one gets too near the closed gates. Then as the train pulls in—it is a nightly performance this— a sort of expectant hush falls on the station, and the soldiers, who have been stern side. Some are drawn from morbid curiosity, no doubt, but others are there, who have learnt that a relative may be amongst the helpless passengers on the Red Cross train. The gates open, and a stretcher borne by R.A.M.C. men, or Red Cross nurses, comes along. You get a glimpse of a bandaged head and a hand clutching nervously at the sombre grey blankets. Some of the more eager of the watchers press forward, but the stern admonition of policemen has its effect. And unmolested the mournful little procession of stretchers after stretchers, each with its attendant attendant, sometimes recognition comes from one of the crowd, but no matter the relationship, no interference is permitted by the vigilant police. In such cases enquiries are made for the destination of the wounded man, and the information is always cheerfully imparted by the officer in charge.

Procession of Maimed. Following stretchers come those who are able to walk without assistance. It must not be thought, however, that in all cases their hurt is slight. Many have lost an arm; others hobble on crutches, a wounded foot testifying to the nature of the injury. Saddest of all are the "shell-shocked" men. A murmur breaks from the spectators—for the centre of the trio is blinded. A splinter of a shell has smacked him square below the forehead, smashing his nose and destroying his eyesight. And so the stricken party, unaccompanied, pass on in the various London hospitals at Victoria Station. Take Yuletide-week, for instance, when leave was granted freely to the trench-warriors. Tommies marched and in their hundreds, unshaven, with their uniforms campaign-stained, and their boots still in need of a good rub, they were home for a good time and they meant to have it. There were some pathetic returns, too, mother and son, husband and wife, sweetheart and lover, they kissed and kissed the all the world looked on.

It was one of these days that The Toronto World met the man who had been there. A typical weather-beaten, outworn British Tommy, he was glad to be back home again from the firing line, even if his leave was only for four days. He had been in the memorable retreat from Mons, when men dropped exhausted on the wayside, after three successive nights of marching, and died as they slept. His battalion had been sorely cut up; and at the battle of the Aisne it could only muster 250 men, and seven officers. And since then he had been in the trenches near Ypres. In fact he admitted under pressure that he had seen "a bit of fighting."

"What do you think of the Germans as soldiers?" The World asked. "They are all right, but their officers are behind 'em, but when they lose their heads they don't know what to do."

"The man who had been there" then went on to give a first-hand description of the trenches, and the work which the British soldier was called upon to do. He told me that the last lot of trenches he had been in were hounded with 22-inch mortar shells, and that he had seen 200 men separated from those of the Germans, and it was as much as a man's life was worth to get above the wire. He said that the average German infantryman shot well. For their contempt. But as he explained, in each of the enemy's battalions were half a dozen sharpshooters, whose sole duty was to mark down an unwary Britisher.

"The worst job of all," said my informant, "is listening to patrol. Three of you go out in front of your trench at night, and listen to the movements of the enemy in their trench. You get two hours on and four off, but it is not an extra pleasant job on a cold or wet night. Two nights before I left I was detailed for this duty with a lance-corporal and another man. It was raining hard all day, and where we lay down it was just a sea of mud. We made ourselves as comfortable as we could, and nothing happened for an hour or so. Then the corporal, who was lying a few yards from me, crawled over and whispered that he could hear something moving. The rain was coming down in a solid streak, and you could see nothing, but I felt that something was doing."

Defended With Spades. "Sure enough we were both right, for almost the next moment we caught sight of a burly mass coming right down on us. We both fired—I don't know what happened to the third man—and then ran back to our trench. How we weren't shot is a mystery, as our rifles were blazing away in no time. Some of the Germans got into the right of the trench, but they never got out again. The corporal and I then with spades, pickaxes and even iron kettles and finished them off. In the morning we counted eighty dead, while our side had lost more than three hundred killed and wounded."

The World's informant, in describing trench life, explained that all relief work was done at night. The troops fled thru long passages, or rather gullies, into the forward works, and there occupied the stations of the regiment, they had come to relieve. Frequently this task took several hours and was always attended by some peril owing to the practice of the enemy in sending "star shells" to light up the scene for their gunners' benefit.

Plenty Volunteers. He spoke of another occasion—this was in November—when the order had come to take some German trenches immediately in the right front. One hundred men had been asked to volunteer for the task; it was a night job and six hundred had responded! To compromise the matter one hundred and fifty were sent under four officers. Crawling from their own earthworks the British troops formed up and crept across the intervening ground, a matter of 250 yards. Half way across a vigilant German sentry gave the alarm, and in a minute "hell" was let loose. The enemy had three machine guns which exacted a fearful toll of the attackers in spite of the fact that they were in extended order. In thirty seconds half of them were down, but prevented the others kept on, and leapt into the German trenches. Fierce hand-to-hand fighting took place, but after ten minutes of hard work the position was won, and with three machine guns and 110 prisoners.

Counter-Attacked. "They tried to take it back again," said "the man who had been there," "but they didn't succeed, even though we had to strip the ammunition from the German head and use their rifles. Our own, you see, had been used up." The World was also afforded a sidelight on the use of hand grenades in the trenches. Charged with a high explosive and loaded with nails and bones and these missiles are hurled at the enemy's defences. It is a queer some knack to throw them, but my informant assured me that many of his comrades had already attained a high degree of skill in this field of endeavor. When properly aimed a section of the opposing trench is blown in, bringing death and mutilation to its occupants.

"Some of the Germans are pretty plucky," said "the man who had been there," "for frequently we have hurled a grenade at them, and before it has exploded they have grabbed it and flung it back. In this way we have lost a sergeant and three men, who were blown up by the self-same bomb they had fired at the enemy."

"And when will the war be over?" asked The World as a final query. "The man who had been there" gave a hard little laugh.

"It is only just beginning," he said. "We have to drive the Boches out of France and Belgium and then beat them in their own country. We shall need all Kitchener's new army to do that—but you can depend on it we shall do it." And The World, having some knowledge of the doggedness of the British soldier, came away with the same opinion.

SATURDAY MORNING, JAN. 23.

Working for Themselves.

Twenty-five unarmed strikers shot down in New Jersey by hired detectives causes The New York World to enquire how much longer will the various state governments permit private wars to be carried on within their borders.

Unfortunately the troops called out to maintain law and order are often viewed with hostility and suspicion by a great part of the public in the United States and Canada alike.

The relations between capital and labor, between the employer and the employe, are not what they should be. Mr. Balfour, after listening to an address on syndicalism a year ago in England, frankly confessed that representative institutions had utterly failed to deal with the labor problem.

The strike is admittedly a crude weapon, as compulsory arbitration is a crude remedy. The laboring man, we believe, wants not so much high pay as fair pay.

To a certain extent he has succeeded in getting this thru "collective bargaining." But he may, it is argued, suffer as much from the absence of landlordism of the union as he does from the absentee landlordism of his employer.

T.R.C. DOWN ARGOS IN LISTLESS GAME

Senior O.H.A. Fixture at the Arena Was Not Up to the Mark

Toronto Rowing Club defeated Argonauts 4 to 1 in a listless Senior O.H.A. game at the Arena last night. The King street scullers were always best, and had it on the Argos at every angle of the game.

Any team play that was displayed was shown by T.R.C. Argos lost dozens of chances with erratic shooting, and they never had any success trying to carry it in. They shot from far out, and every shot was either high or wide. Argonauts' front lines failed to get together, and while they checked earnestly enough, they were no more than pretty stick-handlers as their opponents.

T.R.C. trotted out a new centre man in Smith, the former Collingwood inter-mediate, and his work all night was clean and finished. Tandy Parr was very useful for the Argos; he played a steady game throughout and checked from bell to bell. Bud McLean lived it up at times with pretty rushes that carried him well in each time. Webster was Argos' best forward. Waugh and Caldwell showed improvement over last time out. Both goalies were good, with Gilbert having the most work to do. It was never rough.

The play at the start was ragged, and both teams seemed unable to get their bearings. It took Parr eleven minutes to get the first tally, and Smith rapped in one more before the bell, making it 2 to 0 for T.R.C. It was better in the second round, with Argos checking harder and trying to string their men out across the ice. Staley and McLean were using their bodies to good effect and broke up each other's play. The first, and then Webster slipped in Argos' only tally. Reynolds got a goal just before the final period, but couldn't get close enough to be dangerous. No score resulted in this period, and he scored 4 to 1 for Toronto Rowing Club. On last night's form, both teams will have to improve if they expect to win with the group. The teams:

The Summary:
Toronto Rowing Club..... 11.00
1. T.R.C. .... Parr ..... 11.00
2. T.R.C. .... Smith ..... 4.00
3. T.R.C. .... Parr ..... 1.00
4. Argonauts .... Webster ..... 3.00
5. T.R.C. .... Reynolds ..... 13.00
Referee—Oren Caldwell.

Upper Canada Easy
For St. Andrews

Upper Canada Easy For St. Andrews

St. Andrews showed a lot of good combination heading Upper Canada College yesterday afternoon and won the junior fixture 9 goals to 4. The Saints are improving with each game and should give De La Salle a hard time for the group honors. They have weight and are good shots. The teams:

McGill at Basketball Tripled Queen's Score

KINGSTON, Jan. 22.—McGill had it all their own way in the basketball match this afternoon, and defeated Queen's by a score of 47 to 15, the half-time score being 20 to 5. McGill played a brilliant game, and from present indications looks like winners for intercollegiate honors. Queen's played hard, but did not have the knack of covering up when it was needed. The teams:

Queen's (15)—Defence, Dyer, Laird; centre, Roach; forwards, Kell, Reid; McGill (47)—Defence, Ferguson, Williscroft; centre, Baldwin; forwards, Kennedy, Smith; Referee—G. Sound, Kingston.

PARIS BY BIG SCORE
PARIS, Jan. 22.—In an O.H.A. game here with Brampton, Kell, Reid, and McGill (47)—Defence, Ferguson, Williscroft; centre, Baldwin; forwards, Kennedy, Smith; Referee—G. Sound, Kingston.

WOODSTOCK OUT OF IT.

WOODSTOCK, Jan. 22.—By loss of tonight's game Woodstock lost her only chance in the O.H.A. Ingersoll winning a rather one-sided game 19 to 4. Ingersoll came down supported by fully two hundred rovers. For the first two periods the game was fast and at the end of the first period the score stood 2 to 1 in Woodstock's favor. In the next period Ingersoll came back and tallied four more to Woodstock's one, but in the last period play was all Ingersoll's, Woodstock's net being literally bombarded.

Referee: Wally Herne, Stratford.

THREE GAMES ON ARENA BILL TODAY

Torontos Play Ottawa at Night in Important N.H. A. Fixture

A double-header is down for decision this afternoon at the Arena. Aurora Lee and Varsity juniors will meet in the first game, while Riversides and Varsity seniors will clash in the second. Hill and Barlett will figure in the Riversides' lineup, while the college boys will have Ernie Jupp, Billy Mine and Russ Sandcock, who were missing in the Kingston game, back in line.

The Toronto have a tiff battle on their hands tonight, when they take on Ottawa at the Arena. The game in Ottawa was between the same two teams was a tip-sporter, and the Toronto came home all battered up and sweating revenue. Tonight they will probably set out to even up the score, and there should be some exciting doing all the way. Ottawa are perched on the topmost rung, along with Wanderers, and have to beat Toronto to stay there, for Wanderers have an easy management at home with Canadians.

Shamrocks left yesterday for Quebec, and they too, have play hockey to win or else they will drop down in the score.

President Quinn of the National Hockey Association has named the following officials to handle tonight's games: At Montreal—Wanderers v. Canadiens: Harvey Pulford, Ottawa, and Reg Percival, Montreal.
At Toronto—Ottawa v. Torontos: Cooper, Seaton, Montreal, and Dr. Wood, Toronto.
At Quebec—Shamrocks v. Quebec: Johnny Brennan, Montreal, and Dave Paker, Quebec.

St. John's Hockey Club, juvenile and junior teams, will practice from 2 to 3:30 at Kew Gardens.

THE TORONTOS WIN ALSO AGINCOURT

Defeating Queen City and Newmarket in Tankard Group Finals—Scores

Two more group winners were decided yesterday in the primary competition for the Ontario Tankard, both on keen ice at the Granite Club, Agincourt Heaters and Toronto going into the finals, that are scheduled to open here a week from next Tuesday. The Heaters beat Newmarket in a game that was close in the early stages. However, towards the close the Hood rink drew away from Bines, chiefly thru the rare judgment and skillful play of the veteran himself. Newmarket was strengthened by the presence of Magistrate Brunton, who held Henry Thompson to a one-point majority.

In group 5 the Torontos started to make a runaway race until the half-way mark was reached. Along there J. P. Rogers pulled up with a four and a three, while R. E. Rice notched a useful five. The Torontos came again, especially the Tait-Lyon combination, and their margin at the 15th end was a half-dozen shots. A large gallery watched the play throughout. Skips and scores:

BASKETBALL AT WEST END.

West End "Y" seniors and Hamilton "Y" clashed again for the third time in two weeks, and as is usual with these two teams the game was strenuous from start to finish. The game was at the transportation building in the Exhibition grounds and was played under great circumstances. The local side was very under the weather but they were able to find the baskets until the second half. Hamilton had the better of the play and led all the way. The game was over in 45 minutes, when the West Enders came up and tied the score. The half time score stood 19 to 19. Hamilton scored 24 points and West End scored 24. Following is the box score: Hamilton—McQueen 12, Smith 4, Stevenson 4, Webster 2. Total 22. West End—Farrell 2, Hamm 3, Campbell 4, Branson 4, Cook 7, Thompson 1. Total 23.

The West Enders' next game is Saturday night when Brantford seniors come down for the first of the season, and the West End intermediates meet the new Grand Trunk team in the intermediate O.H.A.

ICE BOATING ON ASHBRIDGE'S BAY.

The fourth of the series of races for the Brantford trophy will start today at 3 o'clock and promises to be very exciting. In fact so exciting are they that they will be held in the Exhibition grounds and a brand new boat to be named "The Shamrock" the "Concor" winner of the last two races is all turned up and Sol Monk, the owner, says, "Let them come!" The Shamrock has got three seconds, and her owner, Lesford Coffey, says if the Shamrock wins Saturday that he'll give her to the winner. The Shamrock might be a different story if Tick Lumley was given the entire control of the Shamrock for the rest of the series. He won the sweepstakes twice last year with her, and is one of the best ice boat men around town. The West Enders must not be overlooked with their boat, the Kitty, owned by Frank Patterson in the Shamrock, all good sailors and very fast boats.

TORONTO BOWLING ASSOCIATION TOURNEY.

That the Toronto City Bowling Association second annual tourney, to be held at the Sunnyside Bowling Club, commencing Monday next, 1915, will be a success is assured by the number of entries already received as follows: Victoria, Crescents and Chemicals of Orr/Bros. League. Athensians, Yoddens, Veterans, Swift Canadians, Beverley, W. J. Gage and Allies of Athensians Club. Dominion, Colts and Dukes of Dominion Bowling Club. Strollers, Bohemians, Legends, Brunwicks, Norris' Colts of Brunwick Bowling Club. Also four 5-men teams from the St. Mary Club, and at least eight prospects to hear from today, making 30 five-man teams in all. There is also a large entry in the double and single events. Entries close tonight, and no post entries will be accepted. The junior officers of the Home Bank (Toronto office) have challenged the senior officers to a game of hockey, to take place at Varsity Stadium, Saturday, at 8 o'clock. If the seniors are as good at chasing puckers as they are at pushing a pen a good game should result. Oscar Chapelle of the Queen and Bathurst streets branch has consented to act as referee.

If O. B. a Monopoly So's the Federals

CHICAGO, Jan. 22.—"Both sides understand that any blow made at the thing called baseball would be regarded by this court as a blow at a national institution," declared Judge Landis during today's hearing of the Federal League's anti-trust suit against organized baseball. The remark was called forth by the attempt of George Wharton Pepper, concluding his argument for the defendants, to protest his love for the national pastime. Pepper sought to appeal also to Judge Landis' enthusiasm for the game, when the judge interrupted for the purpose of stating that the "love and affection" out of this lawsuit, and then stated the position of the court. The existence of the Federal League nullifies its own charge that organized baseball is a monopoly, according to Judge Pepper. He attacked, article by article, the prayers for relief made in the Federal League's complaint, mainly on local grounds. He declared that the plaintiff had not a direct interest in the suit. George W. Miller, taking up the case for the defendants, discussed the several incidents in which players had left clubs in organized ball for the Federal League. He said that the Federal League is a trust and monopoly, compared to the American and National Leagues. The American and National Leagues, he said, are two big leagues exactly what a governing board is to a stock exchange or a board of trustees. During the arguments mention was made of the paper filed by Magee. "I've gone thru the papers filed pretty thoroughly," said Judge Landis, "but I find no paper signed by Les Magee. Are you sure it was filed?" A lawyer Meyers, for the Federal League, jumped to his feet. "For course I filed it, your honor," he said. "It must be there with the others," said the court, sternly. "Let's petition is there all right," suggested Judge Pepper. "It's a mere scheme," which is Magee's right name. Just before luncheon adjournment Attorney Pepper reiterated the old argument, jumped to his feet. "For course I filed it, your honor," he said. "It must be there with the others," said the court, sternly. "Let's petition is there all right," suggested Judge Pepper. "It's a mere scheme," which is Magee's right name.

Anti-Trust Baseball End of Suit in Sight

CHICAGO, Jan. 22.—Charges of "un-clean hands" and hypocrisy were made against the Federal League today by George W. Miller, who presented what is believed will be the concluding argument on the side of organized ball in the anti-trust suit brought by the Federal League. He declared a temporary injunction asked by the Federal League would destroy an institution it had taken organized ball forty years to build. In support of his charges Miller cited instances in which he said the Federal League had signed players under contract with clubs in organized ball. He alleged, corresponded to the criticized ten-day and reserve rules and the alleged justification of bids by the plaintiff on the ground that ten-day clauses invalidated American and National League contracts. The end of the hearing is in sight tonight. It was said that when the Federal League had signed players under contract with clubs in organized ball, the Federal League had been concluded, probably by interested would hazard a guess as to when a decision would be announced.

Federal League's Anti-Trust Suit Is Most Daring Thing in Baseball.

By H. L. Everard.
(All Rights Reserved by Collier's News Bureau.)

CHICAGO, Jan. 22.—With the cry of "Let us MacDuff and damned be who first cries hold enough," the Federal League has launched a forty-two centimeter shell at the vitals of organized baseball in the shape of a suit under the Sherman anti-trust law.

This action brings to mind the reply of Charles Comiskey, when asked what he thought of the Federal League shortly after his return from his trip around the world.

"If they'll fight on the square, I wish them good luck," said the old Roman, and in his fairness he voiced at the time pretty nearly the general feeling of fandom in reference to the new league.

Whether there was and is room for another major league, is not the proposition we intend to discuss here. The probability is that had the Federal league its way for recognition along other lines it might have eventually gained the foothold which it sought. After all said and done the answer to this question rested with the fans, and neither with the so-called organized baseball or the Federal League. It was Johnson struck the vital chord when he declared that the battle would be decided at the turn-stiles.

There was a fair chance that the Federal League might have come somewhat closer to its goal with the coming season had it not lashed out ruthlessly as it has since the close of the 1914 season.

After all the "game's the thing," with the fan and the Federal League players were putting up a brand of ball that was fairly entertaining, but random, while inclined to be with the under dog wants, nay demands, that the under dog, "right on the square," have attempted to be the general feeling now that by involving the aid of the United States court in order that organized baseball may be dissolved as a trust, the Federal League is not fighting on the square.

Nothing that the so-called "outsiders" have attempted has hurt them so much with those who, in the end, must or might become their patrons as this move. The rank and file of fans will not dissociate those connected with organized baseball from the institution itself, and fandom will

Mining Brokers Urging Public Conservatism in Cobalt Transactions

CANADIAN BANKS LENDING ABROAD

Call Loans Outside of Dominion Increased Ten Millions in December

Despite another sharp break in silver the price of silver continues to advance. The price of silver has advanced since the start of the year by nearly eight cents per ounce. Cobalt stocks were again strong and active on the standard Exchange yesterday, and some of the more conservative of the brokers are beginning to pay a little more attention to the silver issues in view of the fact that in the present state of the market, the producing mines are more or less in the same position as a merchant without a market for his goods. There are those who believe that some of the big properties must experience a very lean period, during which severe re-arrangement and possibly adverse dividend action will be necessary.

HOLLINGER SHOWS LARGER PROFITS

This compares with $1,599,713 for the year 1913. The statement shows that during the year just closed $205,227 has been spent on plant and $185,421 written off for depreciation.

SPLENDID STATEMENT BY EXCELSIOR LIFE

DEMAND BY CABLE FOR WHEAT QUIET

Overseas Buyers Unwilling to Pay What Canadian Exporters Ask

Canadian Press Despatch. MONTREAL, Jan. 22.—Business in grain over the cable continues very quiet owing to the limited demand from overseas buyers, and the fact that the few bids that are coming forward are well out of line with export prices. The local trade in primary wheat is more active, there being an improved demand from outside sources for supplies of all kinds. The sales market amounted to 100,000 bushels. The tone of the market for oats continues strong and prices are a further advance of 1c to 1 1/2c. There is no change in flour, but the tone of the market is very firm. The trade in millfeed continues quiet. A steady trade continues to be done in butter at firm prices, but cheese is quiet. Demand for eggs is good.

GOOD BUYING POWER SHOWN BY FARMERS

Toronto Departmental Stores Report Mail Order Business Continues Good

Toronto reports to Bradstreet's say that the optimistic phase of business are few. One good note comes from the farming community thru Toronto department stores, who have mail connections all over the country. They report that their mail order business direct with farmers is as good as it ever was. The farmers have money to spend at any rate. Wholesale drygoods firms, who are generally reasonably optimistic, have very little good to say about present conditions. Payments are considerably under normal just now and there are evidences of money difficulties among retail firms. Orders during the past week have been exceptionally light. Carpet concerns and firms that cater to house furnishings are having a slow season. Hardware, except a few essential lines is under normal. Grocers firms are doing a moderate trade. Fresh meat report shows an increase in receipts and prices are firm, quality considered. Leather houses are busy. Cotton goods report shows an increase in receipts and prices are firm, quality considered. Leather houses are busy. ## How All Can Help the Empire

The Empire needs food and clothing and war supplies for its soldiers, and every farmer, manufacturer, retailer or workman who helps in the production and distribution of these things, satisfied with the small profit necessary for carrying on his labors, is doing a man's work for the Empire.

This is the kernel of our "Canada first" idea. Primarily we distribute goods made by Canadian manufacturers. This keeps unemployment at a minimum, for manufacturers have co-operated holly in the movement and profits have been lowered all round for the sake of keeping men busy.

But this policy must not be exclusive. We are still importers from Britain and Britain's Allies, as well as from the United States. We must not forget that imports contribute to the revenue which provides for our soldiers at the front and those preparing to go. Last fiscal year's Customs revenue was over a hundred million dollars! This year will show a big slump, with expenditure largely increased by the war. So BUYING IMPORTED GOODS YOU CONTRIBUTE DIRECTLY TO THE SUPPORT OF THE CANADIAN CONTINGENT OF THE BRITISH ARMY, for it is the duty on these goods that provides the "Sinews of War."
