SET UP INGENIOUS PLEA IN SUIT BROUGHT BY CITY

Says Hamilton Had No Right to Enter Into Agreement With Railway for Mileage and Percentage of Receipts—Special Committee of Council Will Demand Substantial Reduction in Price of Light.

Hamilton, June 23.—(Staff Special.)—The people of Hamilton are watching with interest the fight now going on in the courts between the city and the Cataract Power Company. This great corporation is trying to get over an agreement made with the city some years ago, when the company was launched, and secured the franchise to operate the street railway. The city managed to secure a fairly good bargain. In return for the use of the streets, the company bound itself to pay the city a percentage of its receipts, amounting to 7 per cent, up to $300,000, and 8 per cent, when the receipts went over that figure. This was paid for several years ago, when the company withheld the percentage on that portion of the receipts collected outside the city limits. Fares collected coming from the grounds were regarded as the rightful property of the railway. The amount so withheld is about $300,000, and to compel payment, the city entered an action, the argument being heard by Mr. Justice Richard Meredith today.

On behalf of the railway, E. Douglas Armour, K. C., of Toronto, argued that the city did not have the authority to make an agreement with the company covering a mileage payment and a percentage of the receipts. He contended that the city had no right to enter into an agreement with the railway proposed to move to amend its statement of defence along these lines, but instead of moving to amend, Mr. Armour made this feature of the case the basis of his argument against the collection of the money in dispute. He held that the agreement was not binding on the company, since there was nothing in the statutes authorizing the city to enter into such an agreement. He also showed that the Hamilton Street Railway Company's incorporation act had a special clause authorizing it to control its own fares. Mr. Armour pointed out that the fares were collected when the passengers entered the cars. Therefore, fares collected outside the city from Jockey Club patrons could not be claimed by the city. If a company operated a line from two points outside the city, by no process of reasoning could any portion of the receipts be claimed by the city. It was as arguable that the receipts of a hotel or summer resort outside the municipality, owned and operated by the Street Railway Company, could be taken by the city under this clause of the agreement.

Who Owns the Streets?

Mr. Maclean replied for the city, arguing that it was the intention that the city should receive a percentage on all passengers using the city streets. Under the Assessment Act, the gross receipts were taxed at the head office of the company. He pointed out that in the franchise obtained from the legislature, there were no limitations as to what agreement the company might make with the city. Mr. Maclean referred several times to "our streets" when he was checked by the judge.

"They are not your streets any more."

RAILWAY PASSENGER RATES BASED ON MICHIGAN LAW

Mr. Maclean Gives Notice of His Amendments to the General Railway Act.

Ottawa, June 23.—(Special.)—Mr. Maclean has arranged with Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick to discuss amendments to the Railway Act at the same time that the amendments introduced by the minister of justice are discussed. Mr. Maclean has decided to make the issue on railway passenger rates turn on the Michigan law, of a graded rate per mile, based on earnings.

If his proposal, as contained in his amendments, is carried, the Michigan law will be applied to the railway rates. It would give a two-cent rate per mile and the Grand Trunk two and a half cent a mile rate. Mr. Maclean's other amendments bring expenses connected with the railway act, compel railways to give reasonable telephone franchise to their stations and to all appropriate points, and to all appropriate points of the railway commission. Mr. Maclean's bill, which also embraces three amendments, is set for first order at the railway committee next Friday.

Text of Notice.

Following is Mr. Maclean's notice of motion:

That in committee of the whole, he will move to add the following amendments to bill No. 133, introduced by the minister of justice, entitled an Act to Amend the Railway Act:

1. Section 3 of the Railway Act, 1903, is hereby amended by inserting therein the words "and express companies."

2. Section 10 of the said act is amended by striking out the words "and his opinion upon any question, which in the opinion of the commissioners is a question of law, shall prevail."

3. Section 193 of the said act is amended by adding the following words: "And such compensation shall be limited to the direct and immediate local damages arising from any cause, matter or business extending beyond the same."

4. Section 194 of the said act is amended by adding thereto the following subsection: "In any standard passenger tariff shall not exceed the following, namely: 'For all companies the gross earnings of each passenger train as reported to the minister of railways under the provision of Section 194 of this act, equalled or exceeded the sum of $5,000 for each mile of road operated by said company, 2 cents per mile, and for all companies the earnings of whose passenger trains reported to the minister of railways are less than $5,000 per mile of road operated by said company, 2 1/2 cents per mile, and for all companies whose earnings reported as aforesaid were less than $2,000 per mile of road operated by said company, 3 cents per mile.'

After a period of five years spent abroad, Mr. Drummond returned to Canada in 1879, and founded the Canada Sugar Refining Co., becoming its president. He was back in 1880, and joined the board of the Bank of Montreal, becoming vice-president in 1887.

DUNCAN MARSHALL CHOSEN AS A LIBERAL CANDIDATE.

Defeats A. P. Cockburn in Convention for Muskoka by a Vote of 42 to 27.

Bracebridge, June 23.—(Special.)—The first liberal nomination convention for the Muskoka district in the House of Commons since the new redistribution, was held in the town hall, Bracebridge, to-day, George Thomas presiding. Parts of the constituency are at present in the riding of Parry Sound, East Simcoe and North Ontario, and its representative is G. D. Grant, M. P., who in the next election will contest North Ontario.

The convention favored a local man, and the choice fell upon Duncan Marshall, liberal organizer, a young man who six months ago purchased the Bracebridge Gazette. The names of Messrs. Hanna, Port Carling, Dr. Shearer and Dr. Hart, Huntsville; George Thomas, Peter Hutchinson, Peter Smith and J. D. Shier, of Bracebridge, were also placed in nomination, but retired, not so, A. P. Cockburn, for many years a member of the federal parliament, who for politics, being under the impression that he was to be elevated to the cabinet, declined to stand for nomination as an evidence to the government that he still had the confidence of the liberals in Muskoka. In a vote being taken on Duncan Marshall received 42 and A. P. Cockburn 27. Mr. Cockburn then promised his support to the nominee of the convention, and the selection of Duncan Marshall as the liberal standard bearer was made unanimous.

MACCABEES WILL SECEDE IF HIGH RATE IS PRESSED

Ontario Delegation Confer With Dr. Hunter and Agree on a Compromise Schedule.

The deputation of the supreme officers of the K.O.T.M., which recently waited upon Dr. Howard Hunter, registrar of fraternal societies, was followed yesterday by another, representing the Ontario members, a number of them being supreme representatives for the province. The deputation consisted of J. A. Paterson, K. C., counsel for the order; L. M. Cather, E. H. Woolley, W. J. Woods, S. W. Truster, Camlachie, E. Roos, Norwich; Dr. Harvey Norwich; J. C. Watters, Woodstock; H. B. Morphy, Listowel; M. E. Glynn, Sarnia; G. W. Sulman, Chatham; G. H. Townsen, Smithville. Dr. Hunter had received letters from many members in various parts of the province after the last interview, and he requested that the Ontario members make the changes proposed in the articles of incorporation and the laws of the society.

"I regarded some of the proposed rates as oppressive in the cases of married couples, and suggested a compromise rate. The early rates were simple foolness, but there is a substantial contract to be observed, and it would have been repudiation of this previous contract to charge the old members the rate that was proposed.

"People do not realize all the extent of the insurance carried by the fraternal societies," continued Dr. Hunter. "All that the old line companies have combined is nothing compared with the millions at stake in these orders, and it would be a very serious thing for the country if they collapsed. It is therefore, absolutely necessary to place them in a position of security, and several of the societies must increase their rates at once. It is a pity that some of them have made two bites of the cherry, where they raised them within the last year or two, and must still further increase them next year."

Dr. Hunter published, in 1896, a table of rates, which was incorporated in the act. Its publication produced a marked effect. Some, however, thought the rates too high, and believed they could work at lower figures. The Fraternal Societies' Congress appointed a committee to calculate rates on the experience of all the societies, which covered millions of lives.

"To compare rates reported in 1899, and their rates differed only a few cents from mine," said Dr. Hunter. "The Maccabees then employed an actuary to calculate the rates on the experience which was one of the largest in the world. The result of the actuary's work compares with mine like this: At the age of 18, for $1000, my figure for the monthly assessment was 84 cents, theirs was 85; at 19 years, they were both 87 cents; at higher ages, they had a higher rate than I had. At 55, my rate was $2.50, and theirs was $3.75. They have published this table, but the trouble is in its application."

In the Maccabees, men at the age of 51 were assessed at $1.40, while their own experience mortality demands $2.07. Their proposition was to make the table apply to the members at the retained age, which would bear very heavily on the older men, many of whom entered 20 years ago, at the age of 48, according to the first proposal, would be called upon to pay the rate for a man of 68, or $7.70 a month. Dr. Hunter suggests that the members be rated at the age of entry, on the scale of the new table, so that the man who joined at 48 would pay $2.65, the old rate being $1.40.

The members of the deputation all agreed to accept the compromise, and said that, if the other rates were pressed, they would secede. The Maccabees Order has its headquarters in Toronto. If the matter is pushed to an extremity Dr. Hunter has the power, under the act, to give the provincial lodge incorporation, as has already been done in the case of the A.O.U.W. and the C.M.B.A.

MISS FANNIE GURFSKY KILLED WAS VARSITY'S BRIGHTEST GIRL

Fell Between Cars at Wilkes-Barre While on Vacation Trip.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., June 23.—(Special.)—Miss Fanny Gurfsky, a 20-year-old girl from Toronto, and a passenger on the Black Diamond express on the Lehigh Valley route, was killed at Sugar Notch, near here, to-night by the train passing.

She was walking from one car to another when the coupling broke and she fell to the rails, several cars passing over her.

Death came quickly to Christopher Cuthbert Baines, the well-known stock broker, last yesterday afternoon. He was an enthusiastic bowler and, leaving his office, wheeled rapidly up Church-street to the Granite Rink, to participate in the game. The hurry and exertion in going up grade caused acute dilation of the heart, and when he entered the rink he was noticed to reel. Dr. Hawke was near by and gave prompt assistance, but attempts at resuscitation were unavailing.

Deceased was born in this city 50 years ago and was at one time in the firm of Stone & Baines and later in partnership with his brother, the late W. J. Baines. He was educated at U.C.C. and in his same days was a prominent member of the yacht club. He was a member of the K.C. Club and Toronto Club.

Announcement of his sudden demise was heard with general regret among his many friends. He was a charter member of the Toronto Stock Exchange.

The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at 3.30 from his late residence, Beverley-street, to St. George's Church, thence to James Cemetery. He was survived by two daughters, at home, survive, Dr. Allen Baines is a brother.

DISSENTS OF SENATOR BORDEN

R. L. Borden and F. D. Monk Voice the Stand That the Opposition Proposes to Take.

Ottawa, June 23.—(Special.)—One of the liveliest debates that has been heard in the house of commons was that which to-day defined the Dundonald issue and revealed the opposition's weapons of attack and the government's sources of defence. The galleries were filled to overflowing, and few seats in the house were vacant.

R. L. Borden threw the Dundonald incident into the center of the stage, moving a resolution condemning the interference of the minister of agriculture in appointments and dismissals, and expressing regret that this unwarrantable interference, approved by the government, had deprived the Canadian militia of an experienced and distinguished commanding officer.

Hon. Sydney Fisher defended the minister with considerable vigor. Then F. D. Monk projected himself into the debate, and in a slashing speech, dealt some heavy blows to the minister of agriculture.

Sir Frederick Borden's reply consisted of a counter-charge in the way of reprisals against Lord Dundonald's manifesto, which gave the house clear and unobscured views on the subject. A large amount of trouble with Lord Dundonald. His references to his lordship were at times so pointed and so direct that Col. Sam Hughes will continue the debate to-morrow.

The Question Is.

Mr. Borden in opening the discussion said the question was whether we were to have in Canada a non-partisan militia force or a partisan militia force introduced into the appointment of officers. It would be extremely regrettable, he said, if partisan politics and intrigues should be allowed to interfere between the general officer commanding and those who are subordinate to him, to permit the interference by politicians with men who are engaged in the performance of their military duties, and with an officer in that regard would likely result in the most disastrous effects upon the militia force of this country.

Dealing with the organization of the Scottish Light Infantry, Mr. Borden said there was nothing to indicate that political influences governed Col. Smart or Col. Whiteley. He was endeavoring to find the best available man, qualified men, or, failing these, the most efficient men for commissions. Col. Smart is a politician, whatever Col. Whiteley was Liberal and what reason was there to suppose that either of them would endeavor to do the Conservative party in making appointments. Mr. Fisher had stated in the house that the only reason here his interference could only be regarded as a meddling one, but not absolutely necessary. He would be walking on one car to another when the coupling broke and she fell to the rails, several cars passing over her.

Mr. Fisher's Audacity.

Senator Baker seemed to be the bete noir of Mr. Fisher, yet the minister of agriculture had the audacity to stand up in the house and say that his interference in the affairs of that regiment was concerned with the militia force with the military qualification of the officers.

Mr. Borden quoted from Mr. Fisher the latter's further remarks, stating that he had no objection to military qualifications, which I went into afterwards, such as that of a sergeant in a squadron in that neighborhood would be held to be an instance of political preference," and that it would be better to be "diligent in the selection of men with a political organization."

"Now," said Mr. Borden, "I venture to say that if an enquiry is granted by this government, Colonel Whitney and Colonel Smart are examined on oath, they will be able to depose that the first man and man who brought any political question into this regiment was the minister of agriculture."

After quoting further from Mr. Fisher's statement to the effect that there had been political intrigue, Mr. Borden said that Senator Baker and Colonel Smart had never exchanged a word in their lives and are not personally acquainted with each other.

Who Induced Minister?

Quoting from Dundonald's memorandum regarding the order given by the minister of militia to stop the organization of the regiment, Mr. Borden said that no explanation had yet been given the house as to how the minister of militia was induced to issue that order. It appeared, however, that the minister of agriculture had induced the minister of militia to make that order, and that it was for partisan purposes that the order was issued stopping the organization of that regiment.

Mr. Borden then referred to certain extracts in Colonel Smart's letters showing the extent of Mr. Fisher's interference with the appointment of officers. He then referred to the minister of agriculture's assertion that the minister of agriculture objected to the appointment of Dr. Pickell for no other reason than that the latter was a strong political opponent and was ready to block the whole organization unless Dr. Pickell's name was withdrawn.

"Yet he is the man," said Mr. Borden, "who in his first statement at least declared that his interference was solely for the purpose of securing the appointment of properly qualified officers."

Mr. Borden showed also how Mr. Fisher had prevented the appointment of Mr. Adams of the Sixth Regiment, who had served in the militia for 15 years and for a long time served as sergeant-major in the Duke of York's Hussars. Mr. Fisher said that Captain Adams was described as the best cavalry officer in Canada, he dropped and substituted Mr. Adams of the Sixth Regiment, a man who was very dear to Colonel Smart's opinion wholly unfit for the position.

The minister of agriculture," said Mr. Borden, "seems to have regarded his own judgment as absolutely superior to that of experienced officers. He thought himself much more competent and much more qualified to select officers having regard to military qualifications than were the experienced lifelong men, whom this country paid to discharge that duty."

G.O.'s Duties.

Mr. Borden explained the nature of the duties conferred on the general officer commanding by statute. His duty was not only to train the militia and discipline the militia, but the recommending to the minister of militia of fit and proper persons for appointment to commissions in the militia.

The senator is notable also for his love of art, is a councillor of the Art Association of Montreal, and owns one of the finest galleries of paintings on the continent. Sport also claims a share of his attention, and he was elected president of the Canadian Golf Association in 1888.

He is a Conservative in politics and unsuccessfully contested Montreal West for the house of commons in the general election of 1872. In 1880 the Marquis of Lorne nominated him a senator of the Dominion.

The senator is a Presbyterian in religion, and was married first in 1852 to Helen, daughter of the late John Redpath, and second, in 1884, to Grace Julia, relict of the late George Hamilton, and daughter of the late A. Davidson Parker, Montreal.

Sir Robert Bannatyne Finlay, imperial attorney-general since 1900, and M. P. for the Inverness boroughs, was born in 1816, and is a son of Dr. William Finlay of Edinburgh. He was educated at Edinburgh Academy and University, is a graduate in medicine, and was called to the English bar in 1847.

DUNDONALD'S DISMISSAL

Was the G. O. C. in the discharge of these duties to be interfered with by the minister of agriculture? asked Mr. Borden. Referring to the document related to the Dundonald matter that the government had suppressed, he made particular mention of letters written by Colonel Whyte to the minister of agriculture on May 14 and 15 last.

Colonel Whyte requests that those letters should not be brought down," Mr. Fisher answered. "They were marked private by him, and I have questioned them as they were kept private."

Has Colonel Whyte made that request by letter or orally? asked Mr. Borden. "By telephone, to-day," replied Mr. Fisher.

Mr. Borden commented on the extraordinary circumstance that important matters relating to the organization of the militia should be withheld from parliament, simply because Colonel Whyte, an officer paid by the country for his service, thinks they should not be brought down.

Mr. Borden made it clear that there is nothing in the argument that Hon. Sydney Fisher was acting as minister of militia, when the order-in-council striking the name of Dr. Pickell from the lists was put through.

from his own standpoint, bearing upon the formation of the militia. He said, a Montreal officer was appointed to the command, and it was better that men with local knowledge should have management of that regiment, and he made representations to his colleagues that it was necessary to entrust this to outside organizations.

He created amusement when, in support of his charge that Mr. Fisher had been a Tory, he said that he had seen in his defence, Mr. Fisher declared that he was not interfering with the organization of the militia for political considerations.

Mr. Fisher stated that Col. Smart, a stranger in the eastern townships, had been mistaken in mistaking Tory for duty to protest, as he did, to Sir Frederick Borden. The Tories appeared to be very anxious to do away with politics in the militia, but they did not complain when he had done so.

Mr. Fisher declared that the whole of the proceedings was a farce, and that he was acting for the minister of militia, after having struck out the name of Dr. Pickell, as he had done before.

THE REPUBLICAN CONVENTION. The framers of political platforms have made a fine art of saying nothing in a sonorous manner.

Of such a nature, too, is the reciprocity clause, which favors reciprocity, provided no injury be done to American agriculture, American labor or American industry.

It is not fair to keep back Lord Dundonald's report from the people, and then to ridicule him as the advocate of a piece of insanity.

Other Difficulties. But it is only in its dealings with the Street Railway Company that the city is encountering difficulties.

When Contract Was Made. In June, 1899, the city council entered into a contract with the Cataract Power Co. for the lighting of the city.

ROSEBERY AND BRITISH PARTIES. Lord Rosebery made a very bright and interesting speech at the Queen's Hall recently, in which he reviewed the situation from the Liberal League standpoint.

DEPRAVER FINANCE. Robert Fleming of New York has coined the phrase "Depraver Finance" and written a book with that title.

atrocious method the American, altho living under a democracy, is plundered more than the Russian peasant. For this same work Whitaker Wright was sentenced in England to seven years' penal servitude because the law authorities there have not been purchased or demoralized.

Mr. Fleming goes on to say that the resources of the United States have been valued at $90,000,000—ninety billions, as it is commonly called. In the year 1900, 71 per cent. of this wealth was held by a few; not mainly by industry, but by the work of "scheming jugglers, who have charged bogus capital stock and mortgage bonds as real property under perpetual debts, for thousands of millions of dollars, and scampered off with the proceeds."

These sentences seem to embody a good deal of common sense. There is, of course, no real wealth in a country except its natural resources, and the industry and brains of its inhabitants.

It is evident that an injustice has been done to the G. O. C. by the suppression of his report; which allows it to be travestied and ridiculed without being read.

It is alleged that, after the death of Mme. Chappuis' husband, who was a wealthy man, she was left with a fortune of $1,000,000.

Paris, June 23.—Mrs. Martin, a Belgian widow, is perhaps the most famous of the old ladies named Mme. Chappuis, who recently died.

London, June 23.—In order to prevent the large number of accidents which are said to be due to the drivers of vans, W. Jameson and R. S. Papsinus have invented a "coachman's camera."

London, June 23.—Victor Rose, a Paris publisher, is standing in court, charged with the murder of a woman named Mrs. F. Sullivan-Mallon.

received with some protest by some of those present, but was warmly supported by the great majority of the meeting, and may be taken as the final word of the Liberal League on the subject of home rule.

Probably never before in the history of British politics has a general election been approached with so great a diversity of opinion within the two chief parties themselves.

One of the strongest advocates of municipal ownership in the council is Ald. Stewart. "I would be deceived if I thought that the majority of the council would be in favor of the city owning its own lighting plant," he said.

Upon the question of a franchise agreement with a street railway company, the city council has a number of similar agreements made by the City of Toronto and other municipalities.

Paris, June 23.—Owing to the bungling of an official in a little village in the department Seine-et-Oise, a matrimonial complication has taken an extraordinary turn.

Collingwood Bulletin: That a monstrous serpent makes its home in the dark recesses of the Georgian Bay has been reported. Messrs. Wyatt, Sperring and Alders state that, as they entered a marsh of the bay, a huge reptile about 20 feet in length, as near as they could judge, made its way out into the bay and passed within four rods of their canoe. They also claim that they viewed it again.

FAVOR SALARY INCREASE FOR DR. ANNIGILL, I.I.O.

The Fortsnite provision in the lighting contract was that which called for a readjustment of rates at the end of five years. If it is to be applied, the cost of producing power has been reduced, the city shall be granted more favorable terms.

The growth of the sentiment in favor of municipal ownership is shown in the attitude of a number of the aldermen and prominent private citizens since these questions have arisen.

Members of Finance Committee Decline to State Opinion re Trent Valley Canal.

Hamilton, June 23.—(Special.)—Nearly all the members of the finance committee proffered this evening to be anxious to raise the salary of Dr. Langill, medical health officer, from $1500 to $1800 a year, but they insisted on referring the matter to the special salaries committee, which has never been met.

The Gore Park will be illuminated on an average of two nights a week till October 1, at a cost of $1075 a night. The local Council of Women, who want an advisory hospital, were referred to the hospital governors, who have already turned down the proposal, owing to the Royal Temple, $100,000.
