Eight Killed Outright Twenty Badly Injured On a British Railway GAMPAIGN

Express From Brighton to London City Hopes for the Exit of the Wrecked at Stoat's Nest Station Saturday Afternoon.

SCENE NEAR SOUTH COAST OF ENGLAND

LONDON, Jan. 29.—Three persons were killed and twenty others badly injured when an express train, running between Brighton and London, was wrecked at Stoat's Nest station this afternoon.

The express train was traveling at the rate of forty miles an hour when the locomotive left the rails. The two front cars were flung across the platform, while the Pullman following them was pitched into the air and fell on the station. The remainder of the train was smashed to pieces.

Two railways, the Southwestern and the London, Brighton & Southern Counties, run from London to Brighton. The latter place is situated on the southern coast of Sussex, and is fifty-one miles from London. It is the chief watering place of Great Britain, and is frequented every season by thousands of people from all parts of the British Isles and the continent.

ON L., B. & S. COAST RAILWAY.

Mr. Lea, Toronto representative of the Great Western Railway, was seen by The Sunday World on receipt of the cable from England. "Stoat's Nest station," he said, "is on the London, Brighton & South Coast Railway, on the Croydon Line, and is in Surrey. It is a suburb of London, being fifteen miles out from the heart of the metropolis.'

in many parts of the city. For instance Senator Casgrain and that other good Liberal, Achille Bergevin, ex-M.L.A. for Beauharnois have read Mr. Brierley and The Herald out of the party for the stand they have taken in favor of the citizens' committee and the reform movement. Meanwhile a French Liberal sheet denounces the Guerin faction as French Bourassa After Casgrain.

Again while Senator Casgrain claims to be the French Catholic champion, Henri Bourassa and his clerical fol-lowers are after Casgrain with a bitterness scarcely ever equalled in a civic contest. It looks in fact to-day as if Dr. Guerin will win. This is the surface showing, but it remains to be seen if it goes deep enough to include a majority of the electorate. If the doctor is returned to the city hall as chief magistrate it may be taken for granted also that the majority of the citizens' slate composed of Dr. Lachapelle, L. N. Dupuis, Joe Ainey, and F. L. Wanklyn will be elected.

Twenty-Three for Them. It looks also as if the members of the famous twenty-three who are up for re-election will be defeated, and it to be hoped they will be. RELIEF FUND FOR PARIS SUF FERERS.

Editor World: You will, I feel sure be glad to hear, and to give space that others may hear, that the executive board of the Canadian McAll Asso-clation has decided to offer itself as a channel for the reception and trans-mission of funds for the relief of sufferers from the Paris floods. This is the mission that was founded in 1872, just after the dark days of the commune, by the late Rev. Robert McAll. It has grown until it has in Paris and suburbs fifteen mission halls (non-denominational), and in the rest of France 25 more, besides two mission. boats and a caravan. The treasurer of the Canadian Association is Miss Mary Caven, 921 Church-street, daughter of the late Rev. Principal Caven of Knox College, and any contributions of money sent to her for the purpose will be acknowledged, and will be forward-ed to the governing board of the mission at Paris.

RAISING CRANBERRIES.

The ideal spot for a cranberry patch is swampy bog land, which is usually overgrown with shrubs and other plant life characteristic of Cape Cod before it is made ready for planting.

This moist bogsy land is first cleared of all growths and also of the top layer of loam or rich earth, drained so as to get rid of actual water and then graded level with about four inches of sand. It is the moisture contained underneath this bed of sand that is the keynote to the successful cultivation of the cranberry.

SOME ODD THINGS NOTED IN BASEBALL

In baseball it sometimes happens that Providence isn't on the side of the strongest batters. In the long run the team with the hardest punch stands a fine chance of getting there, but there will be a goodly number of instances in will be a goodly number of instances in the meanwhile in which harder hitting will go hand in mend with defeat because of weashess in some other respect, every year produces a certain proportion of games in which a team outputs its opponents may be the list of the hits number 21, the runs 15, and the respect to the mean doing the more hitting and yet losing are too common for notice, but inere are other cases in which one team has been so decidedly superior, yet lost, as to put the game in the oddity class.

For instance, on April 24 last the St. Louis Cardinasi flogged the Cincinnati made only hair as many, yet the Cincinnatis made three runs to St. Louis two and the tardinals put up as good a fielding game as their opponents. There are, of course, bases on balls and bunched nits to account for a few hits accomplishing more than a greater number, but even so such a proportion as this is unusual and freakism. St. Louis got a similar dose from Chicago the very next day, outbatting their opponents, 10 hits to 5, but losing their opponents, 10 hits and seven errors, while the Bostons whaled out 15 hits, 10 men scampered home and the fielding was without a flaw. That was about the most thoro drubbing the Glants got last season.

The Brocklyns made six runs from six hits on April 28 while the Phillies were obliging one lonesome tally from eight the following one lonesome tally from eight and one error of July 2. The considerable difference between that and considerable difference between will be a goodly number of instances in Sparce Scoring. Sparse scoring attended the six games on July 5 on the part of the losers. They made only five runs altogether, and on July 6 in four games the losers made only three runs in all. The Pittsburgs accumulated 28 wallops against St. Louis in two games on July 15. The Brooklyns played two errorless games on July 17. St. Louis. Pittsburg and Boston also played without an error on that day, The Brooklyn shut but St. Louis 1 to 0 twice on July 24.

on July 24.

Altho outbatted eight hits to four by Brooklyn, on August 10, the Pittsburgs scored twice os often as their adversaries. Again on August 12 the Pittsburgs were outbatted 11 to 6 by the Phillies, but beat them 2 to 1. The hit-and-run skill of the Pirstes accounts in a great measure for pirates accounts in a great measure for their victories when outbatted. August 25 and 27 were batting days. In the eight games not less than 179 base hits were put in pickle, ever 20 hits a game.

With three hits and five errors on Sept. With three hits and five errors on Sept. 22, the Giants made four runs and beat the Cardinals, who made 12 hits and only two errors. The Chicagos and Brooklyns beat each other 4 to 1 on September 23, and in each game the winner made eight hits and one error, an unusual coincidence of numerals. Three of the four games on the 24th produced heavy scoring in proportion to the hits-62 hits and 49 runs. Things event by threes in Detroit-Chicago game of April 25. The Tigers hade three runs, three times that many hits and three errors. The White Sox made one run, three times that many hits and three times as many hits as

On to the Legislature Movement Not at all Popular With the Street

Railway Company.

That interesting controversy, Toronto versus the Street Railway, has been shifted from the arena of the city hall to the parliament buildings in Queen's Park. Reference to the minutes of the city council meeting of last Monday will show that this change of venue was with the almost unanimous consent of council, but that the company wasn't consulted; in fact, it is stated in usually well-informed quarters, that the "on to the legislature" movement is not at all popular with the railway.

Cleared the Decks. Anyway, by voting 20 to 3 in favor of obtaining power to expropriate the railway, sending on also the request for permission to build the tubes if the ratepayers so vote, and appointing W. E. Middleton, K.C., to represent the city against the company be-fore the privy council, the city coun-cil at one session cleared the decks of all present railway issues, and can now devote its attention to pruning the estimates with the aim of striking a tax rate of 17 mills.

The vote on expropriation was not without its surprises. As only permissive legislation was being sought, merely the acquiring of a power which might be used at some future time, and the aldermen were not called upon to endorse expropriation itself, a una-nimous verdict with little discussion

Of the three members, Ald. Maguire, McMurrich and McCarthy, who voted contrary, only the last named volunteered an explanation. He said that a solemn responsibility rested on the council, to ask only "wise" legislation, and that he feared the public mind was so incensed against the railmind was so incensed against the railway that the people would vote any amount, however large, in the hope of relief. That the property-owners who pay the taxes are not to be trusted in matters of expenditure, and it is the duty of aldermen to protect these unfortunate irresponsibles, is a strikingly original view, but hardly a convincing one.

Resignation of Official.

The resignation of Joseph Thompson, commissioner of industries and publicity, was another notable event not come, however, entirely as a bolt from the blue to those in touch with Mr. Thompson. Since the departmen was started five years ago, it has had to undergo disparaging remarks as to its usefulness, and this year promised to be no exception. It was true that the critics were careful to point out that they were not impugning Mr. mpson's qualities and that mo tions to cut out appropriations for the department were invariably re-jected, but the commissioner's position There is little doubt that he would have been sustained this year, but having a spirit of independence which doesn't belong to-every office-holder he chose to quit the city's service. His retirement follows the most successful year the department has had, and one in which Mr. Thompson did valuable service as secretary of several important special committees. The former commissioner has, it is un-derstood, several business opportunities under consideration

Exhibition Affairs.

The election of exhibition directors Wednesday was the least exciting in years. That ex-Mayor Joseph Oliseat from him was because, as mayor Mr. Oliver made it a particular point to see that the exhibition got what

It wanted.

While the fair is not intended to be a moneymaking institution, the financial statement was, frankly, disappointing. When $25,000 added to expenses results in only $15,000 more in receipts, the result is not one to look at with unalloyed satisfaction. Manager Orr has one explanation, however, and it is a good one; the people will not pa-tronize the exhibition as they should until the street car facilities are better. The falling off in the surplus emphasizes as never before the need of the eastern entrance. But for the street railway's attitude, the matter could be easily settled. The company insists on carrying the cars over the Bathurst-street bridge, altho the prospective elevation of the steam tracks presents engineering difficul-ties agreed to be insurmountable. Ap-parently, there is to be the usual deadlock and the same old rush and crush at the exhibition of 1910.

Mr. Asquith's position is that parliament should declare that any bill passed by the commons three times, after rejection by the lords twice, may thereupon be one law irrespective of the veto of the law irrespective of the veto of the lords. Here is where the great fight would be, and Asquith is pledged to would be, and Asquith is pledged to get this fight up to that stage. Every Man Must Know The Actual Truth

About This Big Sale

There is no beating about the bush. No "trumped up" excuses offered. But on the contrary a clear cut, straightforward proposition, that benefits the public as much as it does is There is no other such sale as this big Semi-Annual event, outside this store (in the tailoring line.). It comes just twice in the year. An honest effort on our part to positively clear out all present wear fabrics. This season the movement has been intensified by the early shipments coming to us from the mills. One of our buyers returned last week. The head of the firm sailed from England for home Saturday. Both have been buying at our English Offices in Bradford. Spring goods will be here almost before we know it. We must make room! We shall make room! To morrow the great upheaval begins. It is the beginning of the end. If we cannot show you positive savings of 25 to 40 per cent. in your tailor bills we shall not ask you to buy. You are welcome to come and see-to be convinced. We guarantee to do our part when you come.

> Blue and Black Serges at Special Reductions What The Suitings Are

You will find hundreds of yards of the finest fabrics that ever came from the mills. Rich color effects in popular Scotch Cheviots, rough and soft finish. Finely woven English Worsteds and Irish Tweeds. Combinations of designs, in stripe and fancy effects. You will find the entire stock thoroughly up to the minute. not an obsolete design in any of it. For the man who likes the quieter designs, there are the rich, pure wool diagonals, in the dark, medium and light greys and browns. Many dark mixtures of real silk and wool.

What The Overcoatings Are

The range of Overcoat materials eclipses anything we have ever shown. Every popular fancy, and all the standard makes, including the famous "Marling" Beavers, and "Carr's" Meltons, real Irish Friezes, heavy and medium weight Scotch Cheviots in the wide stripe and combination color schemes; Wide Wales, in the plain and mixed shades. Not a few bales, but hundreds of them, giving almost unlimited choice.

The Tailoring And Fit

That part of the garment which you cannot see is as important as the exterior. We consider it of the utmost importance to have the inside workmanship and materials, such as canvas, haircloth, staying, etc., of the very highest quality. And when it comes to the fit, we positively guarantee it in every particular, or cheerfully hand back every cent paid us. Our designers are paid to do perfect work.

IS MYLODON EXTINCT?

Wonderful Animal May Still Exist in South America.

One of the most characteristic ancient mammals of South America was the mylodon, a gigantic ground sloth, about the size of a small elephant, which stood up on its hind legs and pulled down small trees in order to eat the young branches. Its skin at the back was studded with small pieces of bone like the pieces forms ling the bony case of the armadilio and the glytodon, but not fitted closely together. This skin was evidently an early stage in the development of the strange armor of these animals. The remains of the mylodon, as well as of the megatherium, a still larger sloth-like creature, are found in the comparatively recent (pleistocene) gravels of the Argentine Republic. It was supposed that the mylodon had become extinct as long since as the mammonth and the woolly rhinoceros of Great Britain. But some years ago Dr. Nordenskjold, when travelling in Patagonia, found at the end of a flord near the Chillian coast a vast cavern, from which white settlers living in a farm close by had removed an enormous piece of skin covered with greenish-brown hair and studded on the inper side with little knobs of bone. The skin was dry, but not decomposed, tho when soaked in water it gave out the smell of decomposing animal matter, it was evidently a piece of the skin of a mylodon which had survived in this region until modern times. This is going to be the biggest and best February Sale this store has ever conducted—which is equal to saying "the biggest sale of furniture the city of Toronto has yet known." First, because this store always has the largest stock of furniture, and again, because we have prepared with bigger purchases this time than ever.

Stupendous Stocks--Wonderful Values--Newer, Fresher Designs--Buying Opportunities Unmatchable We do not make these claims in a boastful way. We know whereof we speak. There are no good sources of supply not open to us. We get the best of the product of the foremost makers, with the biggest concessions they can name. We, in turn, make the prices as low for you as possible, and quote them frankly, without exaggerating "regular prices." We offer the best inducements and the biggest concessions they can name. to buy here now, either for present or future needs. No cheap or tawdry furniture is palmed off as bargains; there are no poorly-made pieces in this sale—not a piece we cannot offer you safely. It will be a sale that you can invest in liberally, because we won't ask you to keep anything that is not entirely satisfactory. But Remember:—There are always scores of pieces—just one of a kind—often the choicest "plums" of the sale that are picked up early—Rich reward for the prompt. Some of the good things that we have quantities of are illustrated below to show the trend of money saving.

MISS MARTINE VALBORG

Adds another name to a lengthy list of artists who find no beight of interpretive inspiration — no display of technical powers, however masterly, to be unmatched by the superb tonal resource and responsiveness of the Mason & Risch Piano. Fertified by our exclusive Aliquot System of tonal balance and enrichment, this instrument typifies modern plano construction at its best—through patented mechanical betterments its tone, so lauded to-day, will still be both mellow and rich a quarter century hence.

successful debut into the ranks of professional pianistes at Margaret Eaton School, and confirms its own possession of the title, "The Piano with a Soul."

Miss Zollner writes:

Messrs. Mason & Risch. Toronto, Jan. 27th, 1910. Toronto.

It gives me great pleasure to tell you how much I admired the Grand Piano of your manufacture, which I used at my recital on Thursday evening, the 27th inst. Both my esteemed master, Mr. W. O. Forsyth. and myself, find the tone rich, clear and beautiful; it comes with great ease, and the action is superbly elastic and free. Sincerely yours,

BIL IN NORTH ALBERTA OPINIONS OF EXPERTS

Mr. Fraser's Opinion Upset by Views of Eminent Geologists.

bids fair to get into literature W. A. Fraser, author and stylist, puts his pen to paper as an oil ex-

Torontonians who never thought of oil before are now discussing the mo-mentous question, "Is there oil in Northern Alberta?"

Verily oil is in the air.

It is also in Northern Alberta, altho
V. A. Fraser, the well-known author f The Thorobred and not so wellknown oil expert, thinks differently. He bored for oil in Northern Alberta in the 90's and didn't find it. Therefore he concludes it is not there. This is his opinion.

But other men more prominent in geology and business, the less prominent in literature, think differently.

France's Most men would take W. A. Fraser's opinion regarding a split infinitive, but his theories re oil are of the '90 vintage. He talks like a disappointed

It is a courageous man who will pit his opinion against that of Profes-

And then there is Dr. Dawson to back Professor Bell as the following shows: Evidence of Dr. George M. Dawson, assistant director of the Geolegical Survey of Canada (same report as above), page 68: Explained that he had a personal acquaintance with the Athabasca from the landing to Baptiste River, and stated that "the pitch found along the Athabasca may probably be of considerate value in the future, but in the meantime was most important as giving reason to belleve that extensive deposits of petroleum existed in the country in which occurred. The quantity appeared to be practically inexhaustible.

Mr. Fraser, a veritable Capt. Kettle in literature and mining, does not fear to break a lance with Dr. Dawson, even as he smashes a spear with Professor Bell.

Again in 1890 R. J. McConnell of the ogical Survey of Canada made a careful examination of the geological conditions along the Athabasca and Peace Rivers, and in the intervening untry, with special reference to the presumed existence of an oil field. reported "the tar sands evidenced an upwelling of petroleum to the surface unequaled elsewhere in the world. The question of the contiguity of the tar sands of the petroliferous character cover can only be determined by bering, and it is highly desirable that drilling operations should be undertaken for this purpose.

derful the it may seem. to admit that there are possibilities of petroleum in northern Alberta. In the geological report, edited by Dr. Dawson, in 1884, Mr. Fraser, in his sub-repart goes into great detail as to his drilling. Judging from the rocks so far passed thru, as compared with Mr. McConnell's published section, obtained from natural exposures further down the Athabasca River, Mr. Fraser expresses his doubts as to whether the La Biche shales are unusually thick at the landing, or whether the Pelican ndstones may here be wanting and the La Biche and Pelican shales combined in a single series. Mr. Fraser inclines to the first mentioned the ory, and on this supposition addswith a view to the economic value of the discovery of petroleum in the far northwest, the present site must be regarded as a wise selection. Had the test been made lower down the river. and neafer to the outcrop of the "tar sands." the finding of petroleum might have been more certain, but if found nothing could be done until the tests were made to discover whether it might not be nearer the railway.

In the report of 1895, Mr. Fraser says: In conclusion, I beg to call your attention strongly to the value of the information obtained, with regard to the continuance of the rock formations observed near the outcrop of the "tar sands" at this great distance from the said onteron. It means that the fore-east that they did so extend is now an absolute certainty, and is one of the strongest arguments against the popular fallacy that geological knowledge is of no practical value in determining the extent of a petroleum deposit. We now know that the formations overlying the petroleum-saturated sandstone extend with almost unvarying regularity at least 150 miles to the south and west. That they have been found at a greater depth than anticipated matters very little: in fact, in my opinion this is rather favorable to the existence of a greater natural reservoir for oil, should it still be And further, in the report of 1896. ing along the Atlantic coast.

STORIES OF RUSSIA'S RULER OF THE FUTURE

Idol of Russian Imperial Palace is Little Tsarevitch a Mischief-Loving But Wholesome Youngster.

Fortunately for the people of Russia, the little tsarevitch has a very sensible, broad-minded mother, who was reared under the personal direction of her grandmother, the late Queen Victoria. Otherwise the little fellow would stand in great danger of being completely spoiled, and of becoming transformed from a very sunny-tempered, jolly, mischief-loving and wholesome youngster into an intolerable little prig. For his sisters, all of them a little older tyrannized by him in the most enter-taining fashion, precisely as if he were already Emperor of All the Russias with autocratic power over the mem pers of the entire house of Romanoff His father also idolizes Alexis, whose pranks and quips are enough to drive away all his anxieties and cares, and with whom he loves to play, some-times in a manner calculated to upset all one's notions of the solemn dignity of the consecrated ruler of the great Russian empire. ANNUAL SEAL SLAUGHTER.

Total Value to Newfoundland of the Industry is $1,500,000.

It is very seldom that the captain of sealing vessel can be induced to take spectator with him. This is not because the captains object to any one watching their movements, but because the vessels are unusually full and space is both limited and valuable, explains a writer in The Wide World Magazine. In addition to the crew there are the unters to be considered, and should

In addition to the crew there are the hunters to be considered, and should many seals be taken the ship is loaded to her utmost capacity. Indeed, if scals are speedily sighted, and in large numbers, even the coal is thrown overboard to make room for the skins.

The ship returns as soon as a sufficient number of scals have been caught. Sometimes the vessel is back in harbor again in a couple of weeks, loaded to the gunwale with as many as thirty or forty thousand seals, worth from $2.50 to $3 apiece. The crew of a single vessel has been known to capture as many as 20,000 seals in seven of eight days.

Two seasons ago the crew of the Neptune secured 42,000 seals in eighteen days, the pelts not only filling the hold, but being piled up on the decks as well.

The watchers of the harbor know at conce whether a vessel has been successful, for it is the custom to hang a broom aloft if the catch has been a sperificularly good one. Sometimes, however, the steamer is unlucky, and, after buffeting about among the ice of a period of six weeks, returns with only enough skins to pay bare expenses. The annual catch of seals runs, into a well over half a million, and the total value of the industry to Newfoulland is about $1,500,000.

> > THE WORK OF MICROBES.

Few persons can realize at first what an immense number and variety of ni-crobes ther are, not only around us, in air and dust and water, but also in of the elements, carbon, exygen, h drogen, nitrogen and sulphur, whi main and essential constituents of all living things. Supposing there were no microbes, there would be no putrefaction, no breaking down of the dead bodies of animals and plants which were once alive into gas and substance soluble in water. They, by a series of steps in which are successively concerned, convert th proteids and the fats and sugars dead plants and animals into less elab orate bodies, organic acids, aromati bodies and other compounds (some highly poisonous to man,) and at las when what were highly complex combinations of hundreds of atoms in each molecula, have been reduced in the compounds of the compound of the compo molecule, have been reduced to first ont and then another kind of micro into comparatively simple substance of 20 or 30 atoms to the molecule, the "coup de grace" is given by certa special microbes, which convert the later compounds into still simpler con binations, namely, ammonia and n binations, namely, ammonia and ni-trates which are fairly stable, so that the whole elaborate chemical fabric of living matter in a few linurs or after death is broken down ut practically carbonate and nitrate practically carbonate and intrate of ammonia smelling salts!

If there were no microbes this would never occur. The earth would be cumbered with the dead bodies of past generations of animals and plants—undecomposed. And very soon all the organic elements, all the carbon and nices with the carbon and New the carbo ganic elements, all the carbon and mitrogen, if not all the hydrogen and oxygen, on the face of the earth would be fixed in these corpses and the green plants would perish from the whole world for want of sustenance. For it is the green plants which feed on, and absolutely must have as their food, the carbonic acid, ammonia and nitrotes into which the microbes resolve trates, into which the microbes resolve all living things when dead. It is the green plants which from those simple compounds build up again the more complex molecules, the sugars, fats. complex molecules, the sugars, fats, albumens and proteids and provide for the nourishment and increase of the most complex of all—the living matter of hidden in protoplasm.—Sir Ray Lan- mkester in The London Telegraph.

For a long time, says The Electrical World, the telephone companies have instructed their operators to use the world, "O" instead of the numeral "naught." This is intended to do away with errors. For instance, "Five-double-O-eight" come more certainly over the telephone than "five thousand and eight" or "fifty-naught-eight." Fillowing this, an effort, is being made to identify the digit "three" by trilling the "s. Wherever "three" comes in a telephone number; the operations in some of the large exchanges now strill the word so that it becomes in their-rece." The purpose of this is far from being any affectation, but a labortous effort to identify this numeral, at least so that it may not be confused with others.

URGES LEGISLATION AGAINST GOILD LABOR

Ex-Governor Guild of Massachusetts Says Government Must Remove Children From Mills to Schools.

BOSTON, Jan. 29.-National and state legislation to remedy child labor con-ditions was advocated by ex-Governor Curtis Guild, Jr., of Massachusetts III, his address at the conference of the national child labor committee at Boston University. Mr. Guild said in part. "National law must ultimately take the children from the mills and mines and put them in the schools not in one. and put them in the schools, not in one, but in every state in the union.

"The preparation and enactment of a national law is, however, a campaign of years. Meantime, here and now, it is obvious our duty to advance to-ward what we should have the courage to recognize as our ultimate goal by securing uniformity of state legislation. Such uniformity, of course, should be a process of leveling up, not of level-

CLAIMS PUBLIC SCHOOL

Scandinavian Father Wants the British Columbia Government to Make Good.

VCTORIA, B.C., Jan. 29.-It is provided by the law and statutes of this school age there shall it be the duty ment to plant a school and thus assist the evolution of the little brood into cultured and worthy citizens.

The law is progressive and wise, and while in all probability no thought as to its operation in antagonism to race suicide entered the heads of the wamers, that it does work out that way in practice might not be the most strange of discoveries.

Somewhere toward the head of the west arm of Quatsino Sound there has resided for six months or so a Scandinavian family bearing the Viking name Stromgren. The Tees, which is their link of communication with the outer world and so-called civilization, not long ago brought down a letter, in which was sought dependable informa-tion as to the conditions justifying establishment of a public school. The information went forward with ommendable speed.

Now comes another letter, altho not official, containing the supplementary information that the Stromgren olive branches number ten-just the required number, and illustrative of the fac that the stork has been kept hustling about the Stromgren chimneys.

It is to be expected that the next link in the chain of correspondence will be addressed to the department of education, and will be, roughly paraphrased: "How about that school?"

And such being so, the school is good as work
Do not they deserve it?

WHY NOT BOYCOTT WASTE? Commenting on some phases of American life at the close of his recent visit to this country, Sir Thomas Lip-ton, who is himself a dealer in groceries and provisions, and, therefore, presumably interested in their consump-tion, said the thing he could not get used to was the great waste at American tables. This he had noted alike in the home, the hotel and the re-staurant. Erormous quantities of food were carried from kitchen to table, to be toyed with more or less and then sent back useless and destined to the garbage pail. For himelf he remarked he could never bring imself to send his plate away with "leavings" on it. The waste of meat truck him as particularly reprehen-sible. A living creature had to be de-prived of its life to furnish a food for man of which man made the scantiest use. Huge steaks were served out of which only the tender spots were cut. The question of nutrition

No soil could forever produce food enough to permit such waste.

This observation will readily be confirmed by every observer of American habits. Desire and needs are kept as far apart as possible in the average. mind. A boycott of waste would work a greater reform in the cost of Amrican living than any other step that ave way entirely to taste or whim.

Strange Device Carries Totals With Votes, and Papers Record Public Opinion.

PARIS, Jan. 29 .- To cast an untramneled vote for the man, men or party of your choice, to have your preferences remain as your own secret and to have the ballot accurately recorded and counted has always been the hope of every honest voter and how to accomplish all these has given inventors much thought.

A recent invention by Sig. Eugene Boggiano, a young student of the University of Rome, does not pretend to olve these problems, it merely aims at registering rapidly, effectively and at a very low cost the verdict of the people. The apparatus consists of a vertical box constructed on the principle of the penny in the slot machine.

As each voter presents himself before the machine he is handed a metal disc which he places in one of the slots hidden from view of the public. The disc comes out on the other side of the single act. disc comes out on the other side of the machine after having, by a single act of gravity, released a lever which registers a number, thus recording the total of the votes. The nature of the vote is recorded in the same manner but the dial is kept covered until the voting is finished in order to maintain the secrecy of each individual vote.

Does Away With Dramatic Critics.

Does Away With Dramatic Critics.

The very first use of which Signer Boggiano's ingenious invention has been put is to do away with dramatic critics. or, at least, to take the wind out of their opinions by registering the impartial verdict of audiences on the first nights of plays. It was tried first in Rome and since then has been experimented with in France. Those in the audience receive the little metal discs, and as they pass out they record their votes in favor of or against the merits of the new play.

By the time the last person has filed into the lobby the verdict of the midlence is known. It is heralded in the morning papers so that all may read just what measure of success the play obtained according to the score. For instance the verdict may be 1201

For instance the verdict may be 1201 who proclaim it a good play against 146 who consider it is a bad work, or the opinion may be more evenly balanced or more nearly unanimous. In any event it does away with the necessity of a blased critic by presenting to those who intend to go to the play the verdict of those who have already seen it. SWISS TARIFFS

The watch making trade and the chocolate industry, two of the chief industries in Switzerland, show a considerable decrease in profits and in exports for the last two years.

The government recently increased the salaries of its employes on the federal railways, whose plea of "dearness of living and the increased price of food" was recognized as just

W. A. Fraser, geological expert and author, who is freely quoted in connection with the notation of these "oil" companies in Alberta and who condemns them out of hand, has had thirty years' experence in the oid fields of the world. On behalf of the British Government, Mr. Fraser explored the oil fields of India, and he was employed by the Canadian Government to explore and report upon the possiexplore and report upon the possiof both Northern and thern Alberta in connection with the production of petroleum.

The first experts to survey the alberts field were Dr. G. M. Dawson of the Geological Survey, and Mr. W. A. Fraser, the two gentlemen working together on behalf of the Canadian Government. Mr. that existed for development: Mr. Von Hammerstein has been in the Athabasca district for close upon eight years, and while there discovered vast areas of petroleum and asphalt lands.

The Dominion Government provided $30,000 for the purpose of exploitation in the Athabasca country, but to Mr. Von Hammerstein belongs the honer of locating the asphalf and oil Mr. Von Hammerstein, with a large party of men, has operated in the Athabasca country for eight years, meeting many hardships, and losing three of his party thru an accident. He operated four immense derricks, and reached a depth of 2500 feet before his efforts were crowned with success. Mr. Von Hammerstein has succeeded in finding fourteen oil wells, in which oil in abundance has been found. The Deminion Government last year, acting The Dominion Government provided in abundance has been found. The Deminion Government last year, acting under the laws as at present existent, sent experts to the district to verify Mr. Von Hammerstein's discoveries, and the report presented bears out in every respect his contention, and eight of the wells are certified to preduce oil to such an extent as to be commercially valuable.

The new company has taken over all the work done by Mr. Yon Ham-merstein, and has decided to give him a sum, said to be one million dollars. for his previous services. Mr. Von Hammerstein in addition retains, a large interest in the new concern.

The company's main fields are at Fort McMurray, some 400 miles from Edmonton. The Waterways and Athabasca Railway is now being built into the company's property at Food McMurray, and it is expected this read will be completed in three years the meanwhile the new concern will proceed to erect refineries and the other necessary buildings, and as soon as the railway is in operation to Edmonton, will be in the market with petroleum, the residues and asphalt. The company intends to supply petroleum and asphalt to Canadian towns, at a price as yet unheard of in Canada, leum and asphalt to Canadian towns, at a price as yet unheard of in Canada, and will thus make it possible for western cities and towns to put down permanent pavements at a low cost for the raw material. months, and prior to that time Canadians consumed over 2688 packages of McIntosh's Toffee daily, which were imported from the English and United States factories. With local factory and active management on the spot, the opportunity to do greater business has been considerably enhanced. The low and conservative capitalization is another attractive feature, it being low and conservative capitalization is another structive feature, it being placed at $100,000, divided into 1000, shares of $100 each. A study of the profits, as illustrated in the prospectus, would make one wish he were not only financially but actively engaged in the toffee business. The Toroato stock market has somewhat puzzled the "street" since the first of the year, in that Wall-st demoralization has not been reflected. This is unusual and can only be attributed to the fact that speculation in domestic securities has been of a small calible. NATURE OF BUSINESS

The Company manufactures John MacIntosh's Celebrated Toffee, the trade names of which are Old English Toffees, Treakle Toffee, Vienna Toffee, Butter Scotch, Russian Toffee, and Buttermilk Toffee, as supplied to

QUEEN ALEXANDRA AND THE EMPRESS OF RUSSIA.

The business is particularly profitable, and possesses the advantage of being thoroughly established in Canada as in all other large countries. An understanding of the profit and sale may be gleaned from the knowledge that over 22 tons daily, or 8,030 tons annually, are consumed in Great Britain alone.

History of John MacIntosh's Toffee

THE MACINTOSH TOFFEE business was established some 40 years ago in the City of Halifax, England. Mr. MacIntosh commenced business absolutely without capital, boiling his celebrate Toffee in an ordinary kitchen pan on his cottage fire. To-day Mr. MacIntosh controls the largest and oldest Toffee manufacturing business in the world.

IMPORTED FROM ENGLAND AND UNITED STATES.

Prior to the establishing of a factory in this country over three cases, or 2,688 packages, of MacIntosh's Toffee were consumed by Canadians daily. This business was done from England and United States, without the assistance of advertising or local management.

BROCKVILLE WORKS.

The Company's Buildings at Brockville are large and commodious, and are constructed and equipped in a maner suitable to the purposes of the business. The most modern machinery and equipped in a maner suitable to the purposes of the offsiness. The most modern machinery and special appliances installed guarantee a manufacturing capacity of 7 tons of John Mac-

Intosh's Toffee daily, or 2,555 tons annually. ACTUAL PROFITS. The cost of producing one case, containing 896 packages, of John MacIntosh's Toffee ready for sale is $14.00. Study these profits: Cost of Producing One Case Retailer's Profit 30 per cent. The capacity of the MacIntosh factory at Brockville, Canada, is 60 cases per working day. REFERENCES.

John MacIntosh's Toffee is so very favorably known that it is scarcely necessary to offer further reference as to the sterling worth of the business or those associated in its welfare. Any reference required may be obtained either from the confectionery trade or from the mercantile FOR SUBSCRIPTION.

We offer for subscription 500 7 per cent. Cumulative Preference Shares of $100.00 par Time of Application $25.00 per share

Time of Allotment $75.00 per share DIVIDEND-SHARING PLAN. By-law No 7 provides that after a 7 per cent. Dividend has been paid on the Cumulative Preference Shares, and on the common shares, the surplus shall be equally divided between the preference and common shares. DIVIDEND CHEQUES. Dividend cheques will be mailed on the 1st days of March, June, September and December in each year. MARKET VALUE OF SHARES. To-day the market value of these shares is $100.00 each. They are being purchased principally by shrewd investors, who are familiar with the English and United States companies.

These men know the business and realize the value of the opportunity contained in this offering.

Immediately 500 shares are fully subscribed the offering will be withdrawn and the market value will be enhanced considerably. It is those who invest at time of flotation who reap large profits.

MY OPINION.

"I visited Brockville on Jan. 14th, and remained there 4 days. My sole object in going there was to investigate the works and business of John MacIntosh's Toffee, Limited. . The men who discovered the great Porcupine gold field were buoyed up by Hope and Hope is the yeast of courage.

Zeal was their compass. They took their bearings from it and eventually found Success. Zeal is the element which shapes accomplishment in all worthy undertakings. It is the motor power of progress—but Stagnation takes its place when discouragement overwhelms Resolution.

Stagnation is a disorganizer of Progress. It breeds weaklings and Pessimists.

Pessimists are the microbes that undermine the strength of Nations. They are everywhere, sapping the strength of our Nation's Prospec-

The determined Prospector avoids them as he would the plague, because he realizes that to expand and accomplish he must fight away from a thing which breeds distrust.

Some of the greatest Prospectors of the world have been Canadians.

They have struck the yellow vein of success because they have realized that the percentage in favor of Failure is one hundred per cent. when a man doubts his ability to win.

No Seeker has yet found, who did not possess the inspiration born of Confidence.

Confidence has won battles and removed impregnable barriers. Lack of Confidence has been responsible for the majority of Failures on the big prospecting-field of the world.

Canada is a big Prospecting-Field, a vast territory, brim-ful of Possibilities. What She needs is the right kind of Prospectors to discover them.

To get the best in our Dominion, we must be prospectors of the fearless, aggressive, con-

Caution is an admirable quality, but overcautiousness checks spontaneous action and breeds sluggishness.

We fear over-enthusiasm and we are overconservative. We forget that what men are doing, men might have done before, had effort but been tempered with zeal and enthusiasm.

We have got to realize that the Prospector who has struck "pay dirt" has been one who did not turn back once he had started, who did not care a whit how many men before him had failed to find the vellow metal and who was strong enough to look above the failures of his predecessors and sight the desired Lode.

Better to be over-confident and over-enthusiastic than over-cautious and stagnant.

The Prospector who works feverishly may miss some of the nuggets, but he at least goes fifty per cent. further than the one who allows over-conservatism to hold him to a stand-still.

The Prospector Canada needs is the square-

Not always may he find gold, but he at least finds pebbles and the golden satisfaction that comes of determined effort.

He is the man who, when he finds his enthusiasm lagging, stokes the fires and gets up a new supply of energy.

You can't keep that Prospector down, nor away from Success. Canada is going to own plenty of this variety of Prospector as soon as Canadians shake themselves free of ridiculous restraint and reclaim themselves by believing that the best has not yet been done. There are big things here in our big country and it is going to take big men to find them. Great possibilities await the Prospectorthe right kind of Prospector. He must remember that there is often not a hair's breadth between Failure and Success. That's where Hope and Zeal manifest their power and counsel the weary, panting man, with the pick to go a little further before giving up his him a little further than his predecessor went. He believes that the best lodes are often found in the fissures and streams which other Prospectors have carelessly passed.

He discovers new fields where the worn trails end.

He must be zealous, determined, optimistic. He must be able to take the bruises inflicted by rocks with a fortitude which allows no sears to

He must learn that life with action is life worth living; that the man who goes prospecting for the world's best and worthiest is bound, some day, to stake a claim worth owning.

It takes energy to climb, strength to swing a pick, but Hope is the fuel that replenishes the courage of the Prospector.

To-day the word is "Forward to the un-nothing of the sears he has received thru frequent falldowns. The world judges a man largely by the marks he bears and the survivors in the climb are men who have mastered the science of covering up their scars.

The Prospector who allows the marks of failures to show in his attitude will find them stamped on his record, after he has made it in the fight for success.

The big finds are going to be made by the seekers who get off the beaten track and seek pay-dirt in the undeveloped territories. And every man who would achieve Success must be a Prospector. His field may lie in a far Continent but the Canadian field is broad and fertile and holds far more possibilities of success than chances of

He must realize that every bruise he receives is given him for a purpose. Bruises make callouses and callouses are brier and bramble-proof. The Prospector needs armour. Every jolt along the way is preparing him for the decisive battle for Success. He must be hardened and fit when he reaches, the bramble-patch where the vellow vein shows thru. The Canadian Prospector is well-fitted to succeed. He has inherited courage and courage chance and fight for the right of way. The Prospector whose line of action is clearly planned, who focuses his determination, power and will on reaching the goal of Success was born to be a shaper of the world. That world has no power to belittle a Prospector whom the Creator ushered into it for a purpose, and all men were born for a purpose. The Prospector who fails to find the lode to achieve, whose enthusiasm cools, who lags when he should push forward.

Discouragement masters him. He throws away his pick and creeps back to the worn

Later the Prospector born to win, picks up that pick and starts working where the vanquished Prospector has left off. And almost at the first stroke he finds gold.

His was a power that knew neither limit nor end. He was bound to find something well worth having on the Prospecting field.

Nothing worth while of the earth's possessions was ever yet secured without effort, therefore every Canadian Prospector must go armed with Purpose. Purpose is the element which actuates the Prospector to force a new path thru brush that clings and jagged rocks that clutch and retard. Purpose carries him forward in spite of the

The tried Prospector does not judge a nugget by its glitter, he has learned a truer way of valuating the precious metal.

He has learned much and for what he has learned he has paid the cost. He knows that ultimately those trails made by young Prospectors will lead to claims worth owning, if they have the courage and the determination to stick. The Prospector who fights away from difficulties because he lacks the resolution to fight forward, is "side-tracked" in the big Prospecting Field.

The Canadian Prospector must make up his mind to "rough it." He has got to play the game for love of the game.

Roughing it strengthens, develops and confers stamina and resisting powers.

The eye that has become accustomed to peering ahead for unsure foot-holds in the path is also quick to sight the faintest glimmer of gold in the fissures.

Muscles that have become toughened by contact with the obstacles along the way are equal to wearing down the rock when the vein has been located and the claim staked.

Every Prospector was born into this world with many parts to be utilized along certain

He must keep his faculties alive and to be of service those faculties must be kept at work.

The man, who cultivates only such abilities as he thinks are absolutely necessary for the work ahead, may fail.

The Prospector who keeps all his faculties in training is armed for success.

And he is the kind of Prospector Canada needs for her big field.

If we are to have the best in art, Literature, Education, and all worth-while things that are in our big land for the winning, we must seek for them. We must all be Prospectors on the big field.

How use doth breed a habit in a man

Two Gentlemen of Verona, Act IV.

From earliest times experience has made men realize that continuous practice of an act tends to make action spontaneous and unconscious. Shakspere has taken this world-old thought and crystallized it into a sentence which compels the attention of the most careless reader. In the word breed" there is the Shakspere touch.

Character is but the child of practice. Men are largely what they are

From the time of his impressionable childhood the individual has been act-

As the twig is bent the tree is inclined; as the child acts the character of the mature man is moulded. If there are moral idiots born into the world, it is because their ancestors had formed evil habits which have de-acts. Men can become angels or de-vils. It largely depends on their boynood training.

Since that time attempts have been made to improve the acoustic propernot a single Scripture reading or prayer. Since that time attempts have been made to improve the acoustic properties of the building, but it still remains almost as much of an anachronism as the little Holden Chapel which stands in front of the college yard. By contrast with the Stadium and the Soidiers' Field, with accommodation for 35,000 spectators at the games, with a demand much exceeding the accommodations, one is led to ask whether, by any happy chance, the religious needs of the university will ever require seating room for one-half the students enrolled room for one-half the students enrolled aids, purely physical, have been resorted to. In the majority of cases they fail. But there is a sure cure—the expractice of the will combined with the practice of virtuous acts. The evil stimulus craved by body and mind must have a substitute. The only safe substitute is "actions fair and good."

Society at the Capital

The marriage of Miss Eunice Claire o'clock. Altho the wedding was a very relatives as guests, yet, owing to the great popularity of both bride and groom in social circles in the capital, much interest was taken in the event, thru their earliest acts, which, in time, have become habits, giving per-manent stamp to their character. "The and the church was well filled with spectators. Pretty bridal decorations of white blossoms were arranged in the chancel, and Rev. A. W. Mackay, the rector, performed the ceremony. The ushers were Mr. Louis White, brother of the groom, and Mr. Ainslie ing thus or thus—following good or evil courses, and in the end he has become vicious or virtuous. The idle man has been made idle by neglecting his duties in early life; the energian in the energy of the energy of the property of the energy of the energ Greene. The bride, who is one of several handsome sisters, looked extreme ly well in a costume of light blue broadcloth, made in princess effect, with yoke and undersleeves of blue net over silver tissue and handsomely braided. A long coat of the same had cuffs and revers of blue corded silk, Habits are necessary. They are great time-savers. A beautiful stole and muff of the same sider whether or not it were being performed correctly it would be possible to accomplish but little during the short span of life. A thousand acts are each day done unconsciously by every individual. The importance of forming correct habits, virtuous habits, is self-evident. A habit once formed is as difficult to break as it is to make a bent tree grow straight. As the twig is bent the tree is inclined; as the child acts the character of the mature man is moulded. If there are moral idiots born into the world, it is because their ancestors had formed evil habits which have descended to the children. The prisons of every land are filled with men who have been made what they are by the selfish acts, the cruel acts, the vicious acts of their childhood days. Always the Best

The leading dictionaries define "Best" as "Good in the Highest Degree," "Most Excellent," "The Highest Perfect, etc." That means there can be positively nothing better than the "Best," though in present day times there seems to be a constant struggle to claim for goods that they are much better than "The Best."

In Hair Needs

It is ever the aim of this store to deal in "The Best." All the hair used is bought by our special European agent, who takes care to buy none but "The Best." All the workmanship put into the articles here is "The Best." and the fashioning and artistic taste and knowledge is undoubtedly Canada's "Best." When John Lawrence wrote his history and delineation of the horse, one hundred years ago, the prevailing color of the English dray forse was black and at a later period when Prof. David Lowe wrote his "Domesticated Animals of the British Isles" ,grey was not an uncommon color in the Clydesdale breed. All the same it is a question whetehr grey horses are not less hardy than those of more solid color. It is also note-worthy that the Percheron in which G. Black, Trainer white or grey was long the predominant color, is rapidly changing to darker hues. It is further said that this attempt at type-creating will have for one of its features the abolition of the feather that is at present the pride of both Clyde and Shire. "The Sheriff of Dyke Hole."

This is a breezy novel of western mining life, full of action and theiling incident. George Raymon, an old '49er, dies, leaving his adopted son Richard Roydon a fortune of ten million dollars on condition that Roydon finds Raymon's wife who left him years before in Montana, taking with her their infant daughter. Raymon, in a fit of jealousy, had shot his wife's supposed lever only to discover after her fight that the man

"The Story of the Negro." Booker T. Washington is to-day the leading representative of the negro race in America. His life story shows that it is possible for one of the colored race to overcome the same obstacles and to to overcome the same obstacles and to tise to the same heights of mental development as the white man. Booker Washington's life work has been the uplift of his race. The United States has as one of the biggest problems the butter as one of the biggest problems the build-ing of the future of that race, and "The Story of the Negro" will help to show the reader what has been done and what

My Favorite Character

My friend Billee York frequently hands out advice to writers about how to write. I wish he would tell some of them how to talk. Not so very long ago one of our noted Canadian writers was delivering a lecture in this city and the remark made by a lady present was, "I never heard by a lady present was, "I never heard before in my life." Surely it should be the duty of our authors to purify the language rather than to defile it.

Modern Writers in Miniature GEORGE ALFRED HENTY

By Donald G. French.

There has been recently inaugurated be treasured in all Canadian nomes. Sometimes—not often, a reader may accurately judge a writer by his works. Most of his readers have formed the proper conception of the great humorist; ne is very, very like his stories, funny, clean human. among English folks a society for the encouragement of the reading of poetry. luck to the undertaking! The average man of to-day, says the founder of the society, does not care for poetry, and set the average man would be better if he did. He has gotten into the way of thinking that poetry, with other foolish fin picky things, is for women, and lads at the love-iorn age, not for men in the the love-lorn age, not for men in the heyday of life. The society aims to get poetry into the everyday life of everyday men, business men, professional men, working men and men of leisure—not only into the life, but into the heart and the liking. Good poetry is a powerful preacher, but to know its worth one has to read it, and this the average man does not do. "Poetry! oh, bother!" he says, "the newspapers are all I've time for." All he has inclination for he means, but this is neither here nor there. This Euglish society will have to be careful. If was no one else, just we two, and we talked and smoked, at least he talked and smoked, at least he talked and smoked, and smoked smoked, and smoked smoked, and smoked smoked, and smo wise it will begin dealing out a little gradually increasing the dose. Is cannot tution sets forth that believing poetry builds up patriotism, lofty ideals, and goes toward the making of a stronger people, all efforts toward inculcating a belief in it, a lover for it should be fostered with care. "How the founder goes on to ask, "should men in our colleges and schools impart to students the right theory in regard to a study they have given no thought to for, say twenty, thirty or even forty years—the study of imagery and sentiment as expressed in verse? Our professors are not lovers of poetry. On their heads, be it!"

Can the possible the founder of this new society dropped into a meeting right here in Toronto and heard Prof.—no, we name no names—pause in reading a paper—a most learned and wordy paper on "The Princess"—to make the startling admission that he hadn't studied Tennyson since he was a youth. Well, the professor is a worthy man, but his head is bald, his kindly face wrinkled, so his youth must lie a few leagues behind. We do not say such men should read poetry, that is their own affair, but we do how with the bold founder of the English society that they should do one of two things—keep in touch with poetry—or let poetry and poets alone. If our college professors do not conquer the habit of airing their ignorance along this line in papers, lectures and magazine articles, some hapless writer of verse in the vain hope of setting them to love poetry for poetry's sake, or, falling this, to cure the concelt which insists on voicing its opinion on a subject it neither cares for or understands will be starting a like society in our midst.

He stood, not knowing what next to do, a prey to a thousand apprehensions, expecting overy moment that some ghostly power might strike him to the ground. Ten seconds later, however, he was aware of another sound of footsteps, not directly beneath him, but some feet, or yards, farther to the east. Softly, bending double, listening, he stepped that way, In doing so he struck the crown of his head aginst a column Hear the wall. The shock enraged him. His advance thus stopped, out he ran with stealthy tread into the neighboring chamber, bent down, listening, and once again heard two steps beneath him, making, it seemed, still eastward But now being him, making, it seemed, still eastward.

Arthur told him that he had thought he heard footsteps in the house, had followed, and seen two shapes, a maje and a female. They parted, Arthur to parted, Arthur to go seeking thru the shrubberies for yet fifteen minutes, with a minutes. Arthur ran a little northward of the

The view of those two beings froze the current of his blood, for he was given one good of his blood, for he was given one good glimpse of their raiment in the struggling glare of the moon. One of them appeared to be his grandfather—a small man with a bushy grey beard, a grey top-hat, a grey coat of uncommon cut—his grandfather as Arthur remembered him—the other a female, a girl ghostly in white with a white wrap wound round her head voluminously, whose figure, for he could not see her face, somehow brought into his brain a thought both of Elinor Hinton and of the "Belle Damosel" of the legend.

Arthur's arm held on to a branch to support his weakened knees while thru night, when the rim of the moon was his mind passed the wild thought: rising above the horizon inland and "Either my grandfather and the Belle Damosel," or inspector Furneaux and Elinor Hirston." News of the Latest Happenings in the Automobile World

The Automobile For Everyone.

Have you noticed that the automobiles have not ceased runng in Toronto so far this winter, and that the limousine or closin-machines are very much in evidence these January days. In fact the owners of the big machines have two tops, the enclosed fimousine and the touring-car top, and when winter draws near they put the first into commission. No other carriage yet invent-id can at all approach the limousine in comfort, speed and relibility combined, and as far as Toronto streets are concerned we o not believe that for more than six days in the winter can one these big machines be kept from running, especially in view of the fact that the sweepers keep the street railway tracks open every day in the year—30 or 40 miles of clear roadway. Nor has been found impossible for some people who live within seven reight miles of the city to run their cars every day in the winter thus far. So much for the big machine.

But The World believes that the automobile is not to be limited to the rich man with the big machine. We believe that it is ossible to have high-class smaller machines in the way of a small mring car, or a runabout that will cost in the neighborhood of 1000, or $1500, or from $600 to $800 for the smaller machine hat will also run every day in the year with few exceptions just as well as the more expensive car, and this is the kind of car that the general public are looking for both for summer and winter travel. This is the car the man with a small income can keep and maintain, especially if he learns to drive it himself. This is the car that will let many people get out into the country to live. It is the car that will let hundreds of business men go home to luncheon at mid-day and it is the car that will give more comfort and pleasure to the average family than any other invest ment that we know of.

The big automobile shows are on or over in the United States for this year; their predominating characteristic has been the de-orded effort of American builders to get to the ordinary every-day consumer. Also another characteristic is the effort that has been made to get to almost everybody with a serviceable runabout. at a price in the neighborhood of $500. Such a runabout when decently built and equipped is far superior to a horse and buggy and costs less for maintenance if the owner is his own driver. Another characteristic of the immense development of the automobile in the United States is that with all the factories and all the capital employed they cannot supply the home demand, and that thousands of people who wish to buy machines this year in the United States will be unable to get them, or in other words the competition in the United States will enhance the price, notwithstanding the fact that substantial reductions are yearly being made in the price of many of the machines. There is, therefore, room in the United States for more factories, for more investment of capital, and for a much greater supply and a wider purchase of machines. The automobile is revolutionizing city and country life. The doctors are all taking to machines, business men must have them, families and ladies must have them instead of horse carriages The ordinary man is getting to think that he must have them, and once he has them he will say they have been the source of more enjoyment, comfort and pleasure than any other investment.

The farmer too is coming to the automobile in a marvellous way, and factories are springing up in the United States for supplying him with a cheap machine in the way of high-wheel buggy, or ordinary machine, costing from $600 up. He is ready to give his money for this machine. Nothing is so useful to the farmer as a medium automobile. It can be used for almost anything and is to-day being used on thousands of farms in the United States for going to town, for delivering garden truck and for getting supplies that are speedly needed on the farm, for taking the family to church or the children to school, or to the town or city for an evening's entertainment. The farmer has largely quit cursing the automobile as a nuisance on the road and is now thinking of improvements to the roads and how to get a machine for himself

All this has yet to come in Canada where up to the present prices have been 30 per cent. or 40 per cent. more than they have been in the United States. We must find a way to give Canadians a machine as good as the American gets at about the same price, and have it if possible made in our country. How this is to be effected is a matter for further consideration and discuss In the meantime The World asks everyone to note the fact that more and more will this Province of Ontario be covered with automobiles in the service of all classes of people. For the increased use of this great convenience there must be good roads; and good roads are up to the legislature and up to the municipal councils and up to the general citizen.

Appreciating Opera

A Short Study of the Difference Between the Italian and Wagnerian Styles. By DR. J. D. LOGAN

"The Wagnerian bluff,"—this is the colloquial and piquant phrase by which a sincere lover of the great master's operas characterized the attitude which the great majority of so-called music-lovers affect when expressing their appreciations of Wagner's art.

The criticism is well taken. For no one who does not know thoroly the history of operatic music from Peri to Richard Strauss, who does not understand precisely what Wagner was attempting to do, and who has not caught the Bayreuth contagion, can really appreciate the distinction between the great like of the great the distinction between the great like of the great the distinction between the great like of the great l

The $100 Song Contest

The song contest still continues to be of great interest to Canadian musicians. We have had numerous enquiries from pupils and teachers in conservatories and music schools all over the country. This is as it should be.

We want every Canadian musician and every Canadian poet to compete. Beginners will have an equal chance with men who have already won their laurels. The best composition will be given the prize, irrespective of name or fame of the author. A word about the manuscripts themselves. A neat and workmanlike manuscript always predisposes the judge favorably, besides making it easier to appreciate the full value of the work. Give yourself this advantage. The rules for the contest follow:

RULES AND CONDITIONS OF CONTEST.

-The song must be a love song. 2.—The sentiment must be simple and dignified. 3.—Manuscripts may be sent in at any time from January 1, 1910, to the 24th of March, 1910, when the contest closes. -All compositions submitted must be addressed to the MUSI-CAL CONTEST EDITOR, The Toronto World. This is imperative. Any manuscript not thus addressed will be fgnored.

5 .- Each manuscript must be placed in a SEALED envelope, on the outside of which is some motto or pseudonym.
6.—Another SMALL envelope, also SEALED, marked with the same motto, and containing within on a slip of paper the composer's name and address, must accompany it. In this way the identity of the contestants will be unknown to the judges until after the award has been made. 7.-Any Canadian-born musician who is a permanent resident in Canada is eligible to compete.

N. B.—From time to time—weekly if possible—Interesting announcements concerning the Song Contest will appear on the music page of The Sunday World.

Leoncavallo Opera

New Work by Composer of Pag liacci Proves a Failure.

Leoncavallo's new opera. "Maia," was given its first production at the Costanzi Theatre last week, and proved a failure The music has few touches of originality onsisting principally of recollections o Leoncavallo's previous operas and the works of other modern composers. works of other modern composers.

The performance was attended by the King and Queen, and was conducted by Mescagni. The orchestra played well and the audience was friendly, but no efforts of the performers were sufficient to avert failure The first act was applauded, and Leoncavallo and Mascagni were called to the footlights. The second act was indifferent, and after the third act the audience, which until then had been quiet owing to the presence of the sovereigns, hissed, drowning the applause of the minority.

With his usual skill Mr. Tripp has succeeded in giving the delicate sylvan atomosphere of the poem a most adequate expression thru his music. The arrangement of the different parts shows that thop musiclanship, which is characteristic of all Mr. Tripp's compositions.

We hear great things of the University Male Chorus and Glee Club under Mr. Tripp's tuition and their rendering of the Woodland Love Song at the forthcoming concert should prove a most effective portion of the program.

Decline of American Girl

Changes in Last 75 Years, But Hopes For Future.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29 .- From her snow drifts to civilization last week, arriving in New York just in time for the fine gelatinous mud which had settled down over the city. At the Hoff-man House she received a reporter. Altho 78 years of age, Mrs. Barr is vigorous and youthful in her move-ments, full of energy and vitality. She speaks with a slight accent—a relic, no doubt, of her girlhood days in Lancashire. She has decided views on many topics and stated them frankly and freely to her visitor. 'It is true that I do not altogether like the American girl of to-day," she began, in answer to the first question of the reporter. "She has many delightful excellencies, and some very serious faults. The greatest fault of all-and the one in a measure accounting for all others- is her utter lack of reverence for any one or anything. And reverence is, I take it, the first rung of the ladder. The girl who rides astride, the girl who smokes cigar-ettes, and the girl who carries athletics to such an extreme that she has to be taken to the hospital-these are the types I criticize most severely. But I recognize that things are now in a state of transition, and I see in the girl of to-day the nucleus of a fine American womanhood. I believe when the redundancies are cleared away, when she is sobered by matrimony, and the experience of motherhood she will become quite a different creature."

Mrs. Barr's ideas flowed rapidly.

She needed no prompting, and questions were superfluous. She went on:
"I tell you the types of woman I dislike in particular. The woman who is ashamed of being a woman, the mannish woman, the woman whose false modesty makes her afraid to speak of her baby and of nursing it, the woman who talks slang. When a woman talks slang her model is slang, her whole nature is slang. If she has been in the habit of reading slang fables like those of George Ade instead of good literature, she will not learn how to speak good English, or will forget it if she has learned. But all that I regard more with pity than anger, because I love my own sex. I'd like to see them have a greater influence in the world than they have another thing I strongly object to. It

SLAUGHTER OF BIRDS FOR THEIR PLUMAGE!

The health we enjoy depends very largely upon how the blood circulates in our bodies; in other words, if we have perfect circulation we will have perfect health.

There is a constant wearing out of the tissues in every part of the body. The blood flowing through the arteries brings the fresh new living tissue, the easence of the food we have digested, to replace what has been carried off. This constant wearing out and expelling of the dead matter and the replacing of it with new matter, atom by atom, goes on day and night, until in about 7 years a complete change has been effected. Thus every man and woman has an entirely different body in every particle of it from what he or she had 7 years before.

The astonishing deathrate of our railroads is been explained by many conflicting theories.

A new light has been thrown on the situation by W. L. Park ,general su-perintendent of the Union Pacific Railroad, whose views naturally carry un-usual weight. Mr. Park has made a special study of the situation, and speaks with the authority of an expert. Did the Established Church Play a Worthy Part in Recent British Elections tor in Campaign, is it Not Open to Criticism?

By J. M. Wilkinson, B.A.

No one seems to be satisfied with the result of the English elections The Liberals and Laborites are in the majority, but can do nothing without the assistance of the Nationalists, while the Unionists who stand for the consolidation of the Empire, believing that in Union is its strength, did not carry as many seats as they expected.

of don't know that it concerns us very much in Canada. It is none of our particular business and we have no right to interfere, and Premier Asquith gave us a hint the other day to mind our own business. Resolutions from Canadian councils and parliaments-from church synods and onferences-are out of order. John Bull can manage his own domestic affairs and keep his house in order as he always does without our advice

But it would be strange indeed if his children across the seas took no interest in home affairs. That would be a case of ingratitude more repchensible than interference. That interest was evidenced by the press of Canada and in truth of the whole of America when they sent their most mable representatives to tell the story and we have appreciated their efforts and have become better acquainted with the customs and practices of the people of the home-land.

The Attitude of the Church. One of the interesting phases of the recent elections was the position and influence of the church. With few notable exceptions the church took the side of the Peers as against the people. Perhaps she manifested her wisdom in this respect as her largest support comes from the gentry and titled classes of the country. The people—the common people—the industrial classes—are not found in the established church in England, and it is only natural that the church should throw the weight of her influence and support to her main contributors and defenders.

But there was another class in the community that stood shoulder to shoulder with the clergy in their efforts to protect the Peers and defend corrupted-cannot be demoralized, and shoulder with the clergy in their choice should be removed the House of Lords, and that was the brewers and distillers. What a they count for nothing in the scale of temptation and they should be removed funny combination! Should Abusive Pastimes Be Prohibited?

I heard a young lady say last week, "You can make harm out of anything," which is not correct. There are many things that have not got the inherent quality of harm producing, and there is not much merit in doing them. We do them as a matter of course-a matter of necessity-and they perish with the doing. But these are not the important actions of life. They have up moral qualities because they cannot be

We Must Be Yoke-Fellows.

Still further-we are required to be oke-fellows and burden-bearers and helpers of our fellows, but how can we do this if we are not stronger than they, and how can we give them the benefit of experience except by handto-hand combat with temptation?

It is not the innocent men and women of the world that the great heart of humanity looks to for help-men and women who have never been temptedbut it is virtuous men and women-those who have stood the test, "bee tempted in all points like as we are" and have come off victorious and are sweet and clean-these are the helpers helpless humanity longs for-these are the men and women that are of service to their brethren-and these are the only ones who will get a reward. If I had it in my power I would not remove temptation from the way of men and especially boys and girls be fore they begin to yield. I would grade the temptation and teach them the glory of resistance.

At has been from the beginning-it is No town in Northern Ontario is better situated, or has better transportation facilities by rail and water.

New Liskeard is one of, if not the coming city of the North. It is the gateway to a great farming area, and is wonderfully benefitted by the rich mineral areas surrounding it.

I am offering lots in this desirable town as shown by the darkened portions on map.

It will be readily seen that these locations are the best in town.

The lots are from 33 to 50 feet wide, and range in depth from 132 to 200 feet.

A large plan and list of lots remaining unsold will be sent on request.

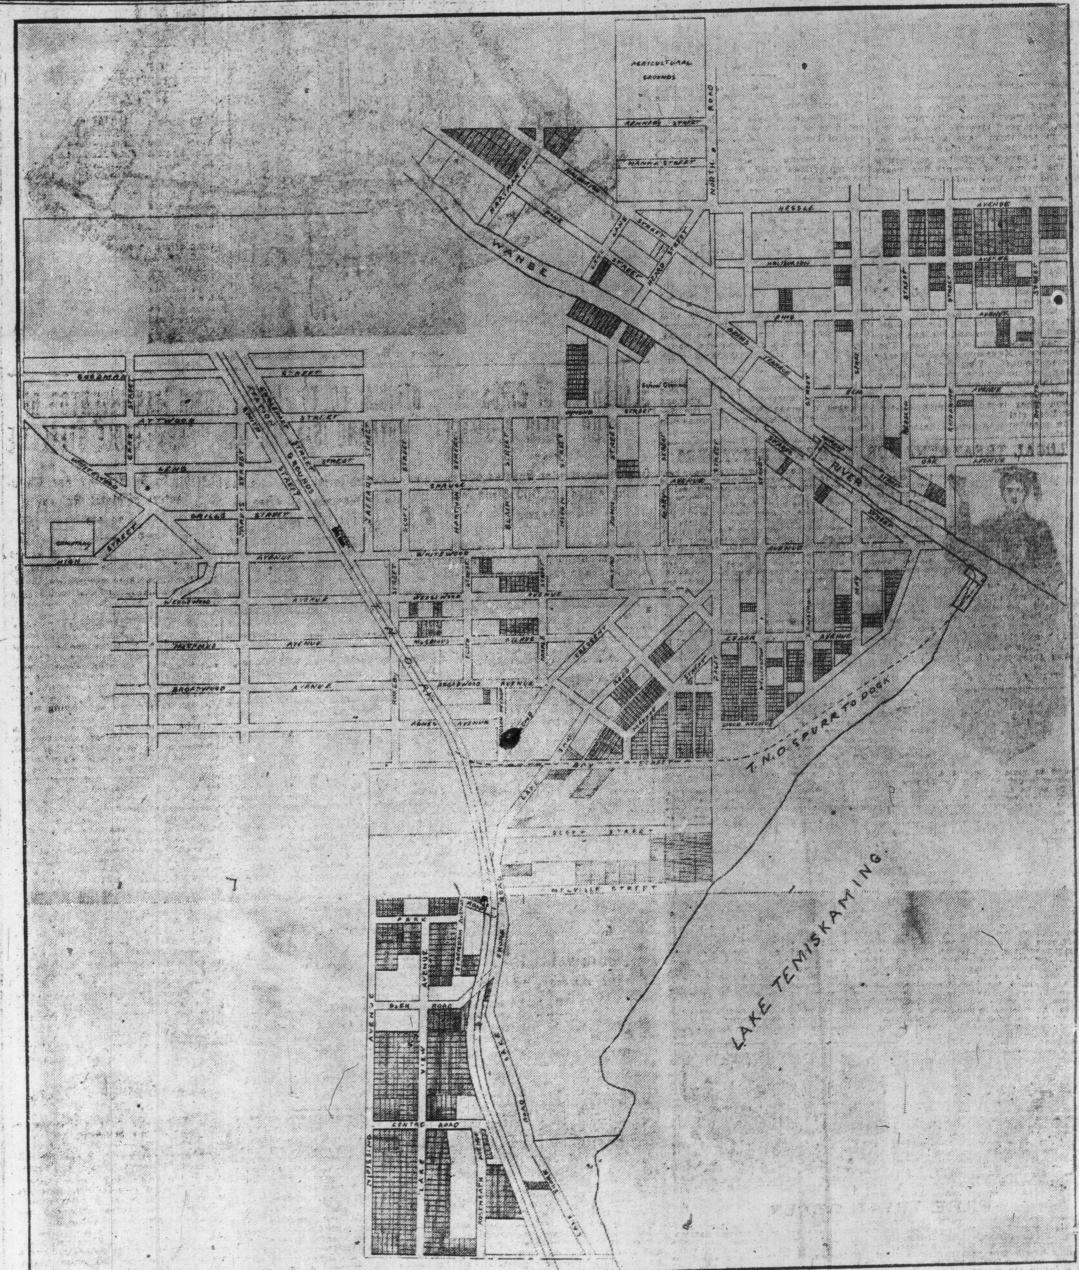

Write to-day if you would take advantage of this opportunity.

describing the great vaudeville bill that will hold forth this week at the New Majestic Music Hall, commencing to-morrow afternoon. In keeping withhis policy of offering only the very best European and foreign talent, General-Manager Morris is sending along Miss Nellie Wallace and Mr. Bransby Williams, clever English performers, who will appear as the co-stars on the bill, and a warm welcome awaits their appearance in Toronto. Miss Wallace is widely known as one of the brightest eccentric comediennes of the stage, is one of the few women on the stage who possess the gift of spontaneous boisterous humor and an inexhaustible flow of high spirits, by which the success of many of the leading male comedians has been achieved. It is in that odd caricature of femininity known as the "Dame" of pantomime that Miss Wallace has made some of her greatest hits. She has a style all her own, and one has only to hear her sing some of her favorite ditties to realize that she is a born comedienne, in the best sense of the word.

The staging of the play will be one of the features of the production. Everything in connection with it is carried in two especially designed cars, the furniture used being imported from Prance, and is said to be most elaborate. This will undoubtedly be one of the foremost attractions at this Thursday and Saturday.

THE GERMAN MONORAIL CAR New Flying Machine Can Be Work-

Professor Wilheim Kubler, Inventor of the New Car, Points to its Superiority Over the Car of To-Day.

People have become accustomed to fast travel. The problem of rapid transit has just about been solved, and to see an express train whizzing along at 60 or more miles an hour is no longer an uncommon sight.

Accidents happen- lives and rolling stock are demolished in the twinkling of an eye, but people will travel and take risks, and always their cry is "faster." But to see a train speeding across country at 80 miles an hour and running on a single rail would be something unique and not a little startling; and this is exactly what It is called the monorail, and is liable to happen.

Such a car has been invented by a of it Prof. Wilhelm Kubler, its Inventor, has this to say:

"In the trial car the fly-wheels run at a speed of 7000 to 8000 revolutions per minute and upward, being driven by electric motors, which are the only drive seriously considered for railway-car purposes. How high this rotary speed may go is still in question. With such weight as is entirely admissible, very effective apparatus may be attained. The weight of the gyrostat mechanism, in the car before us, requires some 6 to 7 per cent. of the total weight of the vehicle. It is self-evident that in selecting a speed regard must be paid to the construction of the drive and to the strength the material, one of the best of which is nickel steel.

The revolving masses are enclosed in tight envelops from which the air least possible power from the motor. In the test car only about one-third of the horse-power was consumed by the gyrostat. As a result of the very small friction, it takes a great while for a gyrostat to come to rest, specismall friction, it takes a great while for a gyrostat to come to rest, specifically about four hours. This removes the ground for apprehension that the current be cut off from the gyroscar by means provided for the purpose. however, interruptions of current, if they occur, last, as a rule.

The ly, one or more persons could jump difficulty of cooling will necessitate up and down without shaking the car. it will be unavoidable to place the difficulty of cooling will necessitate a good deal of study. Very novel and interesting problems are, therefore, presented to the builder of the elecif the revolving masses require four hours to come to rest, they also need a certain time to acquire their speed; and this is an important question in evident from what has been said from time to time presented. But these problems are no longer of a fundamental itself, but in a certain degree 'gov-tal nature, nor will they be such hence forth upon mono-railroads."

RICHARD SCHERL Inventor of the German Car.

"It is in the contrivance for this purpose that the inventiveness of the Dresden gentlemen has been espéc-

"It is hardly to be feared that the gyrostats will take up much more space that would otherwise be useful. They are built very low in the car, to whose frame they are directly attached. Even if the space over the gyrostats be not adapted to seating purposes some other use can be found. purposes, some other use can be found

"A single disadvantage is still present, altho this also may be very easily removed; it is the loud noise produced by the fly-wheel, and sometimes increased by resonance. If the bearing be modified and the inside mechanism somewhat altered, this disagreeable feature will disappear. "If, now, it be seriously questioned whether this new vehicle is actually is excluded, so far as possible, thus destined to lead an important advance minimizing friction, and using the in railroading, an affirmative answer may be given. PRINCE AND DUCHESS Tlhrone-Difficulties Are Swept Aside.

BERLIN, Jan. 29 .- The Kaiser, who loves to celebrate great anniversaries by some special act of grace, has signalized the new year by giving his consent to the marriage of his cousin, Prince Fredrich Wilhelm of Prussia, to the Duchess Agatha of Ratibor. The young Hohenzollern Prince has long been in love with the beautiful duchess. But there were obstacles to the union, as the Ratibors are merely a minor branch of the Hohenlohe family. Moreover, the Ratibors are Roman Catholics, whereas the brides of the Hohenzollern Princes must be Protestants. The Kaiser, who is a stickler for the rigid observance of the Hohen-zollern family rules, which insist on the absolute equality of birth rank of those who marry into the Imperial Family, has hitherto withheld his assent, and the match was impossible without.

Kaiser Gives Consent. The Prince and the duchess in their inhappiness concluded a secret engagement, and agreed to wait for one another. But sympathizing friends in high places contrived that the story of their undying love should be told to the Emperor at a moment when his mood was susceptible to romantic suggestions. The sad plight of the lovers separated by the hard rules of court etiquette appealed to the Kaiser so powerfully that he resolved to abandon his opposition, and accordingly the

Just then Sir Henry entered the room and silently looked at his son. He came over and put his arm around him in his curious kind of reaching gesture, and his son quivered from head to foot. FRENCH TARIFF WILL INJURE GERMAN TRADE

Nuremberg.

BERLIN. Jan. 29.-Manufacturers are in a state of alarm over the extoms tariff on German exports. The Commercial Treaties Association has issued a public statement declaring that the new tariff "will deal an extraordinarily serious blow" to German exports to the Republic. The association asserts that the new rates will proceed to the serious part of my family's experience. Ten years ago my brother was staying at Lyndhurst, in the New Forest, when a Hindu, as he says, came to him and asked him about the idols my father brought home. He named my father, and had evidently traced his career from his subaltern pected effect of the new French Cusasserts that the new rates will practically destroy the French market for many articles of German manufacture. For chemicals, machinery, pi-anos, metal products, and toys, the new tariff is so disadvantageous that German exporters are warned to be prepared for an almost complete anni-hilation of their hitherto French trade. From the great toy-making district of Nuremberg, which has been accustomed in recent years to flood the Parisian Christmas market with 'French' dolls and mechanical playthings of all sorts, an urgent cry of distress has been raised. The French tariff 'Remember the judgment of the gods.' on toys is to be raised from 60 to 100 By the same post came a letter from per cent., and on nickel ware from 100 London announcing that his wife ha

Men Who Make Cars More to Be Censured Than Those Who Brive Them.

DETROIT, Jan. 29 .- In the opinion of W. C. Leland, general manager of the Cadillac Motor Car Company of Detroit, motor car manufacturers, more than owners and drivers, are to be censured for the automobile smoke nuisance which officials of many cities are "The city authorities, no matter how vigilant they may be, nor how stron backed by law and ordinance, cannot put an end to the nuisance," says Mr. Leland, "nor can the driver of the car, in the majority of cases. The manufacturers themselves are responsible for the cars which cough smoke with every piston stroke of the engine.

Jealousy is Rife and Intrgue Constantly Goes On.

Formerly the women of Afghanistan were filmy white draperies to conceal their features, but which, in reality, only served to reveal them with an added charm. The harem of the ameer is by no means a tame, serene and peaceful spot. Jealousy is rife, and the ears spot. Jealousy is rife, and the ears of the ameer are kept tingling with harem gossip and harem intrigue. The wives are constantly seeking to improve their positions and gain favor in the eyes of their lord. Mr. Hamilton, in his book, mentions one form of witchen as follows: Two frogs are witchery as follows: Two frogs are tied back to back, a black heart being painted on each. The pair are then baked alive and the ashes reluced to powder, which, when sprinked upon a woman is supposed to cause her to lose the favor of her husband. The women of the harem are always well supplied with this, and ladies calling upon the queen find that they have been surreptitiously powdered with it at the hands of some discreet attendant.

Each wife has a palace of her own her own corps of servants and her own income. The Koran allows each man wives, so the present ameer, on ascending the throne, put away three of his seven wives, by way of example. Each wife occupies a disthet position. The favorite queen is more blautifully surrounded, her al lowance is more generous and the ameer pay her more attention. It is said that the present favorite queen herself has killed several slaves who were so unfortunate as to be admired by the ameer, and has disfigured several others that they might not prove attractive to him.—Sarah J. It was a privilege to hear Mrs. Cutter, and we wish her every success in her work. We need the refinement and culture she brings.

If boys and girls could be made to realize the importance of doing some one thing well, how it would lighten the burden of after years! Young women and young men out of work-half fed, half warmed, half clothed, and yet on every hand situations waiting skill and ability to fill them. The lack of competent help is appalling. Training schools will certainly have to be instituted, or, better still, public school pupils should be taught to be skilful with their hands. The brain develops naturally and easily when the hands are at work creating or expressing. The idea that some kinds of work were disgraceful and some dignified, and that moneyed idleness was sacred, has piled up some terrible mistakes in this world that many genera-tions will have their hands full to un-

ADDITION TO ASSETS

The assets increased in 1909 by $899,-826.81, and now amount to $10,490,464.90. As heretofore, they continue to be invested in the best class of securities available, the addition to mortgage loans being $710,285.39.

INCREASE IN NET SURPLUS

After making ample provision for all liabilities and distributing during the year the relatively large amount for dividends mentioned, the net surplus on policyholders' account was increased $1,018,121.25.

INSURANCES INCREASED

ogether with those revived, amounted to the sum of $5,091,029, being an increase over the previous year of $625,-805; the total business in force amounted to $41,964,641.

There are many talented writers among our sympathizers who could write an original article, giving good arguments for woman's suffrage. Write an article: get it printed, and give a hundred leaflets to headquarters for distribution as your contribution to the cause.

In a long letter from a correspondent this question is asked: "Is there a society in this city where girls can be girls and can forget that the male sex ever existed, where they can work out life's problems without their intrusion?"—I certainly know of no such the setting and the section of society. The suffrage movement is not to separate the sexes, but to join them in a better comradeship than they can possibly know separated as they are by political barriers. How much better a home is where boys and girls play together and work together, and how much better the nation will be when the grown boys and girls work together and play together.

Welsh by Extraction.

There is a good story told of the days when Lord Halsbury was a barrister. He was arguing a case on behalf of a Welshman, and showed a great knowledge of the principality and its "Come, come," said the judge at last,

"you know you cannot make yourself out to be a Welshman."

"Perhaps not," replied the barrister, "but I have made a great deal of money out of Welshmen in my time."
"Well, then," replied the judge, "suppose we call you a Welshman by extraction."—Cassell's Saturday Weekly.

MOVING IMMENSE HILL

A 2,000,000-ton hill is being moved three miles in Cincinnati and dumped into an immense hollow which the C. C. & L. Railroad is filling for a roadbed into Cincinnati from Chicago.

Huge Panama Canal diggers are at work eating out the hill and loading it into pneumatic dumping trains of seven cars each. As fast as one of these trains is loaded it hurries away to the dumping grounds and an empty train of cars takes its place under the diggers. By a special automatic dumping mechanism the train of cars is dumped in three minutes by means of compressed air. As soon as the rreshly dumped earth is left by the dumping trains, along comes a big spreader which saves the work of hundreds of laborers. It is pushed thru by a locomotive and plows thru the soft earth like a snow-plow, and levels off the earth even with the tracks.

And when this is finished a temporary siding track is laid upon the newly finished embankment, and in this way the dumping cars keep moving close to the edge of the hill—Popular Mechanics.

But it is now over half a century since Europe was startled by this wonderful feat of British arms, and, altho the name of the Light Brigade will always be revered by the nation, new heroes have arisen, new wars have taken place, and, to our shame, the actors who played their small role in the great drama of life as members of the Light Brigade have been forgotten. The mists of years have tarnished the once brilliant shield of history and the names of the bravest of England's brave have been obliterated. They died gloriously, but they now live in oblivion.

CHILD SUICIDES IN RUSSIA.

It may not be generally known that child suicides, so numerous in Germany, are nearly as common in Russia, During 1907 some 400 children under sixteen years of age are said to have taken their lives in Russia, nearly all of these, as with Germany's yearly 600, being pupils at secondary schools. And as these secondary schools are modelled on those of Germany and the courses of study are severer, if anything, overstrain must play a considerable part in producing the state of mind which leades the child to take its life. In some cases the abnormal precoclousness of the children was extraordinary.

of Constitutional Government in China.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29 .- State department officials now foresee, by the text of the recent Chinese imperial ducted the band of the National edict, that the celestial empire stands a good chance of having a constitutional form of government within a short time. A constitution for China has been talked of for several years, and edicts were issued during the pre-BEING PHOTOGRAPHED ceding reign which became a matter of history only. In an edict issued by the new

A straight girdle of silver cloth has been beautifully combined with the upper bodice of chiffon and the velvet skirt. It has been draped in soft folds around the waist, and, as a decorative touch, corals have been embroidered in a huge buckle form. These stones reflect the pink used as an underslip for the waist and give the jeweled effect which is one mark of this season's decoration. In the Marie Antoinette model the girdle is a lovely integral part of a soft color combination of black, mauve and silver. The pointed form of black satin has folds of pale heliotrope, which repeats the lining color and that of the satin flowers. This is the appropriate finish for the full chiffon skirt.

By curving the upper line of the girdle on the light silk gown the height has been greatly increased. Silk braid and heavy embroidery in is used in embroidering the conventional design, which is all that is necessary for the somber dignity that seems to be required.

The central motif is almost the girdle on the chiffon evening dress. Narrow sides broaden out into a large form that has a square top line and is slightly curved at its lower edge. The decoration of the bodice is built around this girdle, following the upper line; and, starting from the important motif, two lines of embroidery drop to the deep band on the skirt.

No one can ignore these attractive ideas. They hold the bodice and skirt in a general scheme of line, color and grace, at the same time affording consistent and lovely decoration for the latest creations.

for the sum of three hundred dollars, and there are not a few old-timers who remember the transaction and who thought at the time that Sills had got the worst of the bargain in paying

John Sills died a few years afterwards, and, in 1902, his widow, Mrs. Sills, sold lot one—one-third of the land—to George Marks and F. S. Wiley of Port Arthur, the price paid being $7,595.00. To-day this property, known as the Wiley addition, and immediately adjoins Victoria

Park and is solidly built up, has waterworks, sewerage, telephone service, electric light, etc., for two hundred thousand dollars, and petitions have been passed by the Fort William Council for street improvements, which, together with our own developments, expenditure and construction, will mean further expenditure in 1910 of over one hundred and fifty thousand dollars. The Lot two, known as Victoria Park, was purchased by J. J. Carrick, on November 15th, 1909, Victoria Park has several thousand feet of track frontage. This is the closest in available track frontage in Fort William, and it will eventually be required for business purposes. Track frontage similarly situated in cities like Winnipeg is worth from $800 to $1000 per foot, and there is every reason to believe that this property, in a few years, will command equally high

Two schools are now in Victoria Park, Franklin Street Public School and St. Joseph Roman Catholic School, the buildings alone costing $100,000. Very seldom do cities grow so rapidly in population as to necessitate the expropriation and purchase of sites for school purposes of unsubdivided vacant lands, but such was the case in Victoria Park. The Neebing River runs through Victoria Park, and as the Assiniboine, in Winnipeg, the river frontage is certain to be

The Gatlin Treatment Cures the Liquor Habit in Three Days Under Contract--- No Hypodermic Injections or Other Disagreeable Features.

RINKING LIQUOR has never yet made any man famous—but it HAS made many a man INFAMOUS. If you desire to succeed in business; if you would GO UP instead of DOWN; if you value your MENTAL and PHYSICAL health; if you care to prevent "FAILURE" being connected with your name, you MUST STOP drinking

THE GATLIN TREATMENT

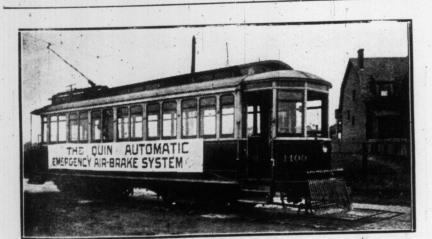

Cures the liquor habit in THREE DAYS. There are no hypodermic injections, no "strong" drugs, no disagreeable features. The Gatlin treatment removes the CAUSE of drunkenness—stored-up alcoholic poison in the system—that is why it cures in three days—a longer period would be superfluous and wasted. Craving, desire, physical and NERVE-NECESSITY for liquor are but EFFECTS of the poison in the system, and disappear immediately with the CAUSE. Where the EFFECTS are smothered up by hypodermic injections of SUBSTITUTIVE STIMULANTS, from three to five weeks' time is required, and but ONE chance in FIVE for permanent so-

Each patient is accepted for treatment at the Gatlin Institute under a plain, legal contract to effect a CURE in THREE DAYS. Not only must the cure be satisfactory to the patient, but to his family, or the full fee paid shall be refunded at the end of the third day, and treatment shall cost NOTHING. In other words, any expression of dissatisfaction with either the cure effected or with the treatment on leaving the institute will mean that the fee paid will at

The Gatlin Home treatment for those who cannot conveniently come to the institute for three days carries practically the same contract to cure, the only charge being one to pro it us against unscrupulous persons.

This car is equipped with the Quin Automatic Emergency Air-Brake System, which was approved and recommended by the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board on Dec. 11, 1907, subject to the Board's jurisdiction. The Railway Board's Engineers give this Air-Brake System the highest honors as the best life-saving appliance for Electric Railways.

The Public Service Commission of New York State also held a fender test at Schnectady and Pittsburgh, U.S.A., and the Commission gave the highest honors for this Automatic Fender, being 186 points for "pick-ups," and the converse of the service of and the car was stopped in its own length every time at a speed of 15 miles an hour on a slippery rail. There were four Railway Fatalities on Toronto streets during last December , due to poor car equipment. In the past twelve years there have been 109 fatal street car accidents in this city; slippery rails and inferior sanding devices are the cause of 75 per cent. of the deaths and serious accidents, and a great many people are not aware of the fact.

The Quin Automatic Emergency Air-Brake System was the only Air-Brake System was t Brake equipment that was in the tests that were held in Toronto, Scheneo tady and Pittsburgh which won the highest honors, and it is absolutely impossible for an accident to happen with this Air-Brake System. The car that killed Miss Cummings was inferiorly equipped, and the car that killed Mr. Reily was not properly equipped, and has not the latest type of Air-Brake, as Mr. Forrest explained to the "Star" reporter. This should impress the minds of the Coroners and Jurymen, that if this system were adopted accidents would be avoided in the future.

IN AN APOLOGETIC FRAME.

No, we are not purposely endeavoring to put anyone "out of business." We us for some years Certain it is We find it quite sufficient for Our Present needs. If, inadvertently, we have "cornered" stenography, the blane must rest solely upon the Superior quality of our 30-Day Syl-la-bic System and our peculiar methods of teaching the same. But "tho the heavens fall" we cannot consider lowering our standards in order that weaker competitors may thrive. This is the day and age of the aggressive. Nothing short of the Best-yea, the Very Best -is sufficient. In consequence the policy of this college shall continue un-altered. In order to preserve intact our copyright on the Boyd 30-Day Sylla-bic System of Shorthand, The Law Requires That We Promptly Supply All Demands irrespective of the wishes of ex-students or other adventurous competitors.

Altho quite cognizant of the scoffs of many opposing colleges and equally cognizant of the attempted but unsuccognizant of the attempted but unsuccessive testings of a few others we cessful imitations of a few others we nevertheless continue to announce that We actually do qualify thoroly competent stenographers in Thirty Days faithful study. We gladly furnish names and addresses of hundreds of Toronto graduates who are satisfactorily filling positions after only thirty days study. Our facilities for securing high-grade positions for our graduates are unexcelled. A close rigid inspection will convince even the most skeption will convince even the most skeptical. Leo Slezak, the great tenor, now sings for you in the Edison Phonograph the same famous arias from the Grand Operas that the New York audiences pay $5.00 a seat to hear. Just how great a singer Slezak is, is told in the following remark, quoted from the New York World the morning after a recent appearance of Slezak at the Metropolitan Opera House: "Caruso now has a rival."

Slezak has made ten records for the Edison, comprising the principal tenor songs from the more prominent roles of his repertoire -so that, while the New York opera goer pays $5.00 a seat to hear Slezak in one opera, with the Edison Phonograph and Amberol Records you get Slezak at his best in his ten best roles, including Otello, Lohengrin, Tannhauser, Rhadames in Aida and Rodolfo in La Boheme.

Only on Amberol Records can you get a full length rendering of these great arias-and only on the Edison Phonograph do you get Amberol Records. Hear these great Slezak Records at any Edison
