Beatty Declares Business in Canada On Up-grade

TORONTO SPEECH

Declares Canada Has Lowest Railway Freight Rates In World

Special to The Times-Star.

TORONTO, Sept. 10.—E. W. Beatty, chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, spoke here today as the guest of honor of the directors of the National Exhibition on the occasion of Transportation Day.

The president was accompanied to Toronto by the following directors of the C. P. R.: F. W. McMillan, J. F. S. McLaughlin, Senator F. L. Beque, Grant Hall, Lord Shaughnessy, Sir Herbert Holt, R. H. McMaster and F. E. Meredith.

Mr. Beatty dealt briefly with the history of Canadian railways, pointing out that despite mistakes and some tragedies there are signs of the transportation situation giving ground for satisfaction to Canadians.

LOWEST FREIGHT RATE. Canada, he said, was a land of magnificent distances with less population per mile of railway than any other country, but enjoying transportation facilities comparing favorably with any in existence and, generally speaking, the lowest freight rates in the world.

Under these circumstances, the only safe and certain cure for the relief of its railway obligations, he said, rested upon the country's industrial and agricultural development and the extent to which immigrants could be attracted to it.

Mr. Beatty referred to the fact that this year was the one hundredth anniversary of the first operation of steam railway locomotives and to the improvement in locomotives and passenger equipment that had taken place within the memory of the present generation, since the days when fuel was furnished by the burning of wood, fences found along the right of way, and when the completion of a run without losing a wheel was held as an event big with promise for the future of transportation.

When the last spike of the Canadian Pacific was driven 40 years ago it was no small undertaking to cross the continent in a single train. During the coming winter two or three thousand tourists would make round-the-world cruises in seven days, one of which would be operated by the company which the speaker represented.

There is a general election pending and this would not be the time nor the place for me to express any personal views on the subject, even if it were possible for me to do so without being regarded as a prejudiced observer and an advocate of the system of administration with which I am associated.

PRaise IS GIVEN RED CROSS WORK

Doing Much in the Interests of Health—Reports on Various Activities.

Red Cross work to promote better health was commended by Dr. H. A. Farris of the Saint John County Hospital this morning at the opening session of the N. B. Division of the Admiral Beatty Hotel.

R. T. Hayes, president, was in the chair. Rev. C. G. Lawrence said that Jesus Christ had chosen his workers from the busy people—those who were practical—not from kings and people of high estate.

REPORTS PRESENTED.

Reports were given by Mrs. L. P. D. Tully, convener of hospital committee, Mrs. Nora Foss, matron of Lancaster Military Hospital, Dr. H. A. Farris, Saint John County Hospital; Miss Brownell, River Glade Hospital; Miss Jessie Lawson, supervisor of Junior Red Cross; Mrs. Walter C. Allison, convener of emergency work committee; Miss Hulota Dykeman, Lady Byng Camp; Mrs. Margaret Lawrence, publicity work.

Dr. Farris said education was still very necessary in the Maritimes, where the death rate still was alarmingly high. The climate was not so blame, but conditions through ignorance were. He expressed his admiration for the work of the Lancaster Hospital, in her short report, appreciation of the cheer brought by the visitors from the Red Cross Hospital committee. He said that the Red Cross was the chief source of education to the people by its methods of information and its excellent work through the Junior Red Cross.

Miss Brownell told of the work being done at River Glade sanitarium. She said that the hope of the peace of the nations rested in a league of the children, as proposed in the Junior Red Cross in exchange of courtesies.

Several delegates from other parts of the province paid tribute to Miss Lawson's work.

Mrs. Margaret Lawrence said publicity was necessary because the province had not met its obligation. She urged each branch to keep before the public their activities.

FINANCIAL REPORT

Ralph G. McInerney, honorary treasurer, said the 1925 budget called for expenditure of $6,500, besides upkeep of the Junior branch and the home nursing. He said that the balance of the office, to date $28,433 had been expended, which averaged within the budget. The sum of $7,900 had been allocated to the division by the central council, but for this work; $2,000 for home nursing; $500 for publicity and organization. Of this the central council still owed the division $275.

A grant of $755.81 was made to the division during the year for Kings county deposits of returned soldiers. There is at present a bank balance of $2,440.68 and $6,000 in bonds, but of this total of $8,440.68 the sum of $8,240.83 belongs to the Junior Red Cross, home nursing, Kings county deposits and publicity and organization.

So that they actually had on hand $4,191.81 for the general work of the division, or a sufficient sum to cover the ordinary expenses for only eight months. The year closes on Jan. 1. Mrs. L. P. D. Tully reported for the hospital committee, which she said could not have done its work except for the help of the branches. She outlined the manner in which the work was carried on.

Mrs. Allison told of the work of the emergency committee which kept a score of articles for unexpected needs. Miss Hulota Dykeman, superintendent of the Saint John County Hospital, said the Lady Byng Camp could not have carried on without the assistance of the Red Cross. She spoke of the voluntary work of Mrs. G. Wilford Campbell and of the efficient work of the nurses and kindergarten teachers and of the cook.

Mrs. Foss spoke of the diversion afforded her patients in the "hut," so generously provided by the Red Cross. The meeting adjourned for luncheon in the ball room and then resumed.

N. Y. CRIMINAL IS MURDERED

"Eleven Fingers" Frank Williams is Shot From Doorway

Wife Refuses Call of Police to Aid in Finding the Slayer.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10—Six shots were fired from the doorway of 218 East 108th street, and "Eleven Fingers" Gufrida, alleged opium peddler, thief, burglar, bootlegger and bookmaker, fell dead. His assailant escaped, leaving only the vaguest clues.

LIKELY REVENGE

According to Detective Thomas E. Enright, "Eleven Fingers," whose real name was Frank, alias Frankie, Williams, had been known to the police as a dangerous character for years, engaging in almost every form of crime, and had served two terms in the penitentiary. The killing, he said, probably was in revenge for some crooked deal.

Assistant District Attorney McLaughlin, when notified of the murder, got in touch with Gufrida's home at 108 East 118th street, by telephone. He talked to Gufrida's wife, Carmela, 25 years old, requesting her to come to his office and lend what assistance she could in tracing the murderer. She replied, according to Detective Enright, "I don't want the police. What good is it now he's dead?"

HIS SOBRIQUET

A scar on the left hand indicated where Gufrida's eleventh finger at one time grew. Detective Enright told how the man had come to lose it. "Some detective tacked the name 'Eleven Fingers' on him seven or eight years ago," the detective said, "at the time of an arrest for burglary. From then on he was commonly known to the police and to others by that name. About five years ago I was standing on a corner with some policemen, who had just been assigned to this precinct. It was some sort of Italian festival, and I happened to spot 'Eleven Fingers' in the crowd.

"He actually had eleven fingers. The eleventh finger was sort of stubby. It was between the index and the thumb on his left hand. When I saw him there I called to him, 'Come over here! I made him show his eleventh finger to the new men. I told them, 'You see that? Well, that's 'Eleven Fingers,' and I'm telling you right now, boys, take a good look at him, and don't forget who he is.'"

"A few days later I ran across him again. He came up to me and said, 'I'm getting dropped because I'm eleven fingers. I'll fix that.'"

"He went to a surgeon and had the finger cut off. But it did not do any good. He was 'Eleven Fingers' just the same."

Canada has a very comprehensive piece of railway legislation to guide its administrators. It is not as complete in some respects as that of the United States but it is fundamentally sound and constitutes probably the greatest legislative achievement of the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier. The work of the tribunal established under the act was never more important than it is today. The personnel should be of the highest. In fact if we consider the magnitude of the question they have daily before them and their effect not only on the commerce of the country but on the future of transportation companies an efficient mode of communication, their members should rank with those of the highest court in the land and should be paid accordingly.

Very attractive filling goods with these mantels and can be obtained in many shades suitable to all furnishings. Beautiful polished brass knobs and levers are shown in dull black, polished brass and dull brass, in one, two or three sections. Andirons are shown in great variety in both black and brass finishes. Fireside wood baskets, brass coal hooks, etc., all go towards giving the home lover a good selection of accessories to choose from. One most interesting exhibit is the Hoves Fire Lighter, a device that lights a fire without paper or kindling wood. It comprises a brass font containing kerosene, in which an absorbent stone is immersed. This stone is attached to a fancy handle, and the whole outfit is an ornament to any grate.

Grates are shown in a good variety of styles and sizes. The recently re-modelled paint department of W. H. Thorne & Co., Ltd. is represented at the Exhibition by a good display of Martin Senour 100 P.C. Pure Paint, a nicely arranged stock of Alabaster and a good selection of Simms Brushes. Samples of the work done by Canada Paint products is shown, including Sentone, Albs Gloss enamel, Protecto Shingle Paint, Auto and Coach Enamels and Wagon Paint.

The Thorne Paint Department is widely of more than passing mention, and is probably one of the best equipped in the Maritime Provinces. Only a short time ago it was completely remodelled in order to meet the requirements of lady shoppers. The glass department was separated from that of paints in order to eliminate the noise and traffic caused by handling and cutting large sheets of glass. This department, for comfort in shopping, equals that of many other Thorne departments. The floors are polished hardwood, wall fixtures and counters are in polished oak and the decorations are in white enamel. The lighting system is the same as is followed through the entire store—high candle-power indirect lamps. Everything required in the paint and varnish line may be obtained from the Thorne paint department, and to any visitor interested in painting or decorating, a trip to this department will be more than worth while.

Although the Thorne exhibit gives a very fair idea of what may be seen in three of their great store departments, the other departments are well worth a special visit, and department heads will be found ready to welcome visitors and show them round. Half an hour in the Thorne store will prove an experience to those unfamiliar with the enormous variety of stock carried, and a visit will be both profitable and entertaining.

Some of the electrical appliances shown include the Torrington Electric Vacuum Sweeper, one of the best sweepers on the market, costing only a few cents per week to operate, and the great labor and carpet savers any housewife could possibly own. Then there can be seen the Sunny Sled Electric Washer, a machine that washes wash day a holiday, keeps the clothes like new and also makes it possible for the lady of the house to keep that school girl complexion. Electric fireplaces, electric curling irons, percolators, irons, grills and wasters; Masda Laca Lambs, bed warmers, in fact there is shown practically everything needed in the home that can be connected to the electric line. Every visitor who makes it a point to look over Thorne's electrical department.

Fireside Furnishings. Fireside furnishings are one of the lines in which W. H. Thorne & Co., Ltd., can justly claim leadership, and their exhibit will fully justify their contention. Back of the Thorne exhibit is a huge fireside furnishing department located on the fifth floor of the Prince William street building, a department that should be seen to be fully appreciated. This department runs the entire depth of the building, shows how the home can be made comfortable, and the fireside display of sample furnishings, shown at the exhibit, give a very good impression of what the department resembles. Exceptionally attractive are the wood-paneled mantels, finished in mission oak, with and without mirrors, and with and without cabinets. Other styles may be seen at the store, including mahogany and white enamel, light and dark oak.

Very attractive filling goods with these mantels and can be obtained in many shades suitable to all furnishings. Beautiful polished brass knobs and levers are shown in dull black, polished brass and dull brass, in one, two or three sections. Andirons are shown in great variety in both black and brass finishes. Fireside wood baskets, brass coal hooks, etc., all go towards giving the home lover a good selection of accessories to choose from. Canada has a very comprehensive piece of railway legislation to guide its administrators. It is not as complete in some respects as that of the United States but it is fundamentally sound and constitutes probably the greatest legislative achievement of the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier. The work of the tribunal established under the act was never more important than it is today. The personnel should be of the highest. In fact if we consider the magnitude of the question they have daily before them and their effect not only on the commerce of the country but on the future of transportation companies an efficient mode of communication, their members should rank with those of the highest court in the land and should be paid accordingly.

The Evening Times-Star

The Evening Times-Star printed at 25-27 Canterbury street every evening (Sunday excepted) by New Brunswick Publishing Co., Ltd., J. D. McKenna, President.

SAINT JOHN, N. B., SEPT. 10, 1925.

MONTREAL'S ALARM

Montreal, judging by its alarm and excitement over the McKenna decision on Western grain and flour rates, will now be able to appreciate quite thoroughly, and in an entirely new way, the position of Saint John and Halifax with respect to Portland competition.

Aside altogether from the merits of the decision itself—which has yet to stand the test of a full meeting of the Railway Commission, at which it is even possible that the majority view may prevail—it may be good for Montreal to be placed in the position of competition that has been occupied so long by Maritime ports.

Montreal in the last year or two has been disposed to give more reasonable consideration to the Maritime case, and its change for the better in that respect must be duly acknowledged as pleasant for us, and to the credit of the great city which has advanced to so commanding a position as a port of shipment.

Whatever may be the outcome of this issue, one of its effects, temporarily at least, is to give Montreal a more thorough and, on the whole, a more appreciative appreciation of the situation with which the Maritime ports have had to struggle in the past, and from which they are as yet by no means delivered.

THE LEADERS

The Prime Minister in his North York speech ranked the Conservative ship fore and aft. Yesterday in North Huron Hon. Mr. Meighen replied by pointing a brookside into the Government flagships, and presently Mr. Forke will be heard from.

Hon. Mr. Meighen's speech includes a savage and destructive review of the Government's work and policies. He reaffirms the tariff position of his party which he made clear by resolution during the last session. He advocates more protection for both manufacturing industries and for agriculture.

Another gold rush to a district in the far north of Ontario, 180 miles beyond the nearest railway line, has been started. A Halleybury prospector came back from that district with rich samples of gold, and the ever-ready prospectors are off for Discovery.

In a Wesleyan (Ill.) university intelligence test for students a short while ago students described Frances Willard variously as a manufacturer of storage batteries and leader and head of the Salvation Army.

Honor to the first European woman to cross Katta Dawan, Great Pass, leading to Lhasa, the "roof of the world," goes to Miss Ella Sykes, noted English traveler and writer.

In Rome, Italy, plans are under way for the erection of public baths which are to rival the ancient baths that once made Rome famous.

Removing the Immovable

(New York Times.)

The American passion for doing things by extremes is well shown in the reported plan to move Longfellow's birthplace from Portland to Philadelphia for the Sesqui-centennial Exposition.

There have been and still are disputes about the exact spot where certain eminent men were born. Columbus is a famous example. When the place is definitely known, however, as in the case of Longfellow, to move it or remove it is like trying to change the hour and date of birth.

The sponsors of the Longfellow project undoubtedly believe that visitors to the exhibition will be glad to see the great detective, "is a member of the light-fingered gentry."

MORE AWARDS IN DOG SHOW MADE

Decisions in Special Classes Today Finish Work of Judge

Results in 13 More Breeds Announced—Several Advances to Championships.

The dog show at the Exhibition continued to attract large crowds of visitors yesterday afternoon and evening. The greater part of the judging has been completed and the show will close tonight with the judging of the special classes.

Several entries went to their championship yesterday. "White's Express," a St. Bernard owned by H. C. Green, went to his Canadian championship in this show as well as J. A. Scott's cocker spaniel, "Lady Arabella" and "Whiter" Warren's whippet dog, "Jack of Diamonds." One of the attractive features of today's events will be a 75-yard whippet race in front of the grandstand between "Jack of Diamonds" and "Chum."

In Tuesday's adult judges, "Silver Birch Miss Glen," owned by J. J. Merrifield, West Saint John, finished up in the Canadian breed classes and proved the best male or female of the Airedale breed in the show.

KING HITS BACK AT OPPOSITION

Premier Answers Charges by Meighen That Govt. Achieved Nothing.

Says Taxes Cut 75 Per Cent; Expenditure Reduced $100,000,000.

QUELPH, Ont. Sept. 9.—Premier King, hit back at the Opposition leader tonight while declaring that he had not yet had time to study Mr. Meighen's Wingham speech in detail. He took up Mr. Meighen's charge that the Government had no achievement to its credit. In reply to the charge Mr. King asserted in his speech here tonight that the Government had: 1—Reduced expenditures by $100,000,000 in the last four years. 2—Reduced taxation to 75 per cent of what it was. 3—Reduced the public debt by $80,000,000 while the Meighen government had increased it by $178,000,000. 4—Added to the National Railway debt less than was added by the Meighen government. "Are these not achievements?" the Premier questioned.

The Armoires where Mr. King spoke was filled. During preliminary speeches there was some indication that hecklers would be busy, but the interruptions did not persist. Referring to Mr. Meighen's Wingham speech the Premier declared that Mr. Meighen had not taken the trouble to analyze the situation carefully but had dealt in generalities, "mixed with some abuse of myself." "In the next year after our policies had got under way instead of a deficit there was a surplus of $39,000,000 and this last year there has been a further surplus of $78,000,000. When you add our two surpluses and deduct the deficit you will find that the net result of our policy is a reduction of the public debt while during the two years of Mr. Meighen's regime there was an increase in the public debt of $178,000,000. If that is not an achievement I should like to know what is."

HUNDREDS SEE MAN LEAP TO HIS DEATH

Chicago Police Tried to Prevent Watchman from Ending Life.

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—While hundreds of persons looked on helplessly a watchman balanced himself on the cornice of a four-story building, argued for an hour with two policemen who sought to dissuade him, and leaped to his death when they tried to seize him. The watchman was William Davis, 59 years old, employed by the Great Hospital. The building, formerly a nurses' residence, was unoccupied. Hospital attendants saw Davis on the roof early in the morning and telephoned the police. As policemen went on the roof he moved to the edge of the cornice and warned them to keep back. They treated with him and resorted to threats and cajolery in an effort to get him back to safety, but Davis laughed at them. "Breakfast is ready," Policeman Kruger said. "I don't want any breakfast," Davis replied, and swayed over the edge of the cornice. "If you fall from there you may be killed," the policeman warned him. "That's what I want," he retorted. Meanwhile the officers had been edging closer to him until they were about four feet away. Then they sprang forward in an attempt to grab him. Kruger reached for the would-be suicide's shoulder, but it slipped through his fingers as Davis plunged to the ground.

NEW SUPER-ROAD FOR CONNECTICUT

Is Longest Paved Highway of Equal Width in United States.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 10.—The four-way, fifty mile "super-highway" being built from New Haven to the New York State line, along the route of the Boston Post Road, by the state of Connecticut is the longest paved road of equal width now under construction in the United States. The highway is being made of concrete slab, nine inches thick, and is 36 feet wide in an 80 foot right of way. It is estimated that the road will require three years to complete and will cost $4,800,000. "No sooner will this highway for general traffic be completed than a parallel "express highway" for commuters from New York city will be constructed from the New York state line almost to New Haven. Preliminary surveys for this have already been made and if the commuters continue to flock into Connecticut this "Express-highway" may be needed before the other is completed. In addition "freeder" lines are being constructed and improved. The Boston Post Road, the main artery of automobile traffic to and from all New England, is probably one of the busiest highways in the country, taken day and night the year round. In a three day traffic test this summer an average of 18,000 automobiles passed a given point at Greenwich. The tourist traffic greatly increases the number of cars on this road in the summer but the tremendous growth of shipping by truck causes it to be constantly filled with caravans of great trucks going to and from New York and the various New England cities. Much of this traffic is at night.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 10.—Construction of over one thousand miles of hard road is planned by the state of Illinois this year.

Fashion Expositions at M.R.A. Ltd This Week

Hats sponsored by smart dressers and many of them designed by the world's foremost milliners made their initial appearance in a fascinating display at the M. R. A. millinery opening today. Every approved fall shade was represented in this fascinating grouping of autumn hats and there were various styles to become all types of women from the daring "teen age" to the stately matron. The large shape is a new mode the smartest women will be quick to adopt because it helps to achieve that dainty appearance recently prescribed by fashion in relief to the plainer styles of previous seasons. The more colorful the better seems to be the rule, consequently, rich autumn shades of Burgundy, Black Prince, peppermint pencil blue, and prominent for more conservative tastes there are many smart black hats and soft, becoming greys. Many women wisely selected the hats they'll be needing for early fall wear today. It's a wise idea, too, for in a surprisingly short time stocks of hats are depleted, and choosing the "distinctive hat" becomes a more difficult matter.

FASHION EXPOSITION. Frocks, suits, coats and wraps in delightful new styles also made their first appearance in the fashion exposition held in the M. R. A. Ltd. costume department Wednesday and Thursday. A delightful orchestral program enhanced to an even greater degree the fascinating display of new fall fashions and Saint John women were quick to appreciate this effort to interpret the style-story for fall in an interesting and educational manner. Notable this season are the re-appearance of flares and fullness in suits, coats and frocks. Luxurious fur trimmings add to the beauty of hand-some velour and Bolivia coats; and frocks achieve a new and graceful silhouette by means of higher neck lines, long sleeves and very often fullness or pleats. Ensemble suits with rich fur trimmings are exceedingly clever and tailored suits with long coats almost or quite touching the hems of trim, neat fitting skirts are wearable indeed.

The importance of correct accessories such as handbags, gloves, neckwear and bright bits of novelty jewelry has also been well considered when the M. R. A. Ltd. fall stocks were selected. You'll find no better time than tomorrow to drop in and look over this style-review and browse around through the new fall fashions at your leisure. M. R. A. Ltd., extends to you a cordial invitation to do so.

Doctors Poor Risks For Life Insurance

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Doctors are not considered good insurance risks by the big insurance companies because many of them neglect to observe the advice they give their patients. Many of the most eminent and successful physicians die in their fifth or sixth decades, according to Dr. J. A. Patton, of the Prudential Insurance Company. Their strained heart muscles fail, they neglect when they neglect to take the rest and exercise they prescribe for their patients.

SURGEONS MAKING ARTHRITIS CURE

Bones Chiselled For Youth, Seven Years Under Hospital Treatment. BALTIMORE, Sept. 10.—His bones chiselled and sculptured by surgeons in seven years' treatment for arthritis, or inflammation of the joints, a young man, who, at the age of 14, entered Kernan's Hospital for Crippled Children here, apparently a hopeless cripple, is now becoming proficient in the department of commercial art at the Mary Institute. The disease, surgeons say, is a very remarkable one, and the young man's name is withheld at his request. He is highly talented. While the boy, now 21, studied in the hospital school and told of his ambition to draw, surgeons practiced another form of art. They sculptured on the bones at the boy's wrists the joints which are necessary before the stiff, powerless hands could swing a brush. The process of arresting the disease and then performing this sculpturing on the human bones was a long, tedious one, says Dr. Tunstall Taylor, in charge of the hospital. The earlier years of the boy's residence in the hospital were occupied in arresting the disease. Dr. Taylor attributes its origin to an infection at the base of a tooth. The offending tooth was extracted. Measures were taken to halt the disease. "Only when that had been accomplished was it possible to give to the boy the joints of which the disease had robbed him. Dr. Taylor says that this was accomplished by making an incision through the skin and tissue which exposed the bone. Then the bone was cut into shape with a surgeon's mallet and chisel. Fortunately the shoulder and elbow joints were not involved. But the hip, ankle and knee joints are, and Dr. Taylor plans to chisel these on the bone as he has chiselled the wrist joints. When the boy first entered the hospital he was unable to move.

Poison Ivy Fatal; Widow Gets Award

BOSTON, Sept. 10.—The Massachusetts Industrial Accident Board authorized a workman's compensation award of $3,800 to the widow of an employe of the town of Adams, who died indirectly as the result of ivy poisoning, received in performance of duty. Before becoming afflicted with the poison ivy, the man, a janitor, was apparently in good health. The poison generally disrupted his health, however, induced a loss of appetite and a loss in weight of 20 pounds. A chronic condition of cirrhosis of the liver was aggravated. Death was attributed to the general condition produced by the ivy. The whole award totalled $4,800, as the man received more than $1,000 during his illness. The widow will receive the $3,800 in weekly instalments of $12.

ROBBERS CAUGHT BY TAXI-CAB DRIVER

Turns Over His Passengers to Police After Grocery Store Hold-up.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Two men who, the police say, beat a grocery store and attempted to rob his store were arrested. They were Percy Dougherty, 29 years old and William J. Mangel, 22 years old. According to Paul Calcoyian, 30 years old, who runs a grocery store, the two men came to the store and attempted to get behind the counter. He fought them and they knocked him down. A woman saw the fight and screamed. This frightened the robbers and they ran from the store and forced a taxi cab driver to drive away. The chauffeur drove until he met Patrolman Helly and then turned the men over to him. They were booked on charges of assault and robbery.

With regard to the agreement between the Village of McAdam and the C. P. R. for electric current for street lighting it was decided to recommend that the term of the contract be made five years instead of 10.

C. N. R. DISPLAY AT EXHIBITION FINE

The display made by the Canadian National Railways is an outstanding feature of the Saint John Exhibition. It is instructive and illuminating, pleasing many of them neglect to observe the advice they give their patients. Many of the most eminent and successful physicians die in their fifth or sixth decades, according to Dr. J. A. Patton, of the Prudential Insurance Company. Their strained heart muscles fail, they neglect when they neglect to take the rest and exercise they prescribe for their patients.

SCENE IN ROCKIES

In the centre is a large panoramic drop scene of Mount Robson, British Columbia, the highest of the Canadian Rockies, a snow-capped mountain rearing its leonine summit to an altitude of 13,068 feet. At the base of the mountain is a section of Mount Robson Park, a great forest reserve and game sanctuary, with a camping scene shown. In the foreground a miniature train moves steadily across, illustrating the Canadian National route through the Rockies to Vancouver and Prince Rupert, on the Pacific Coast. Here is an active and entertaining geographical lesson and an interesting treatise on distances. One knows the Canadian National services here in the East. One knows of the fine through train, the "Oceanic" and "Maritime Express," to Montreal. One knows also of the connecting transcontinental services, via the "Continental Limited" from Montreal through to Vancouver, and via the "National" from Toronto. There is something fascinating always about such travel services and to learn about the palatial observation compartment cars, equipped with radio, the library cars, the tourist sleepers, the standard diners and first class parlor and colonet cars, drawn by the mighty engines of the "6000" class. This panoramic picture is finely painted and shows Mount Robson, the monarch of the Canadian Rockies amidst a group of other giants of this great mountain range. The moving train gives life to the picture and is a source of endless delight to the kiddies.

SAFETY FIRST.

Two large illuminated films depict the excellent work being carried on by the first aid and safety first departments in preaching the doctrine of perpetual carefulness and preparedness, and how to avoid accident. This is a feature of added interest to the display. There is a film showing the far-reaching services of the Canadian National Express, serving all parts of Canada with its guarantee of rapid delivery and safe transport of merchandise and its money order services and letters of credit to all parts of the world. The whole display is in a fine setting, artistically designed, constructed and furnished. The construction of the exhibit and the panoramic picture was done by Gordon Hammond, scenic artist, of Montreal, who designed the Canadian National Railway display at Wembley, England, and the Toronto exhibit. A. H. Lindsay, advertising agent, of Moncton, has general supervision of the exhibit and is assisted by C. A. McIvor, traveling passenger agent, and L. C. Lynds and Fred Crocker of the Saint John city ticket office. A. T. Woolley and W. H. Toot represent the first aid and safety first departments.

Fables On Health

HOW TO LIVE LONG IN ANYTOWN, as discerned by the "old-timers" were always talking about the best methods for attaining longevity.

One would say that he had never stopped smoking and drinking liquor whenever he could get it; another would insist that old age was to be obtained only by complete abstinence from these two pleasures.

The crux of which is few persons seem to realize is that the animals or intervals of life, each man must study his own problem. But there are general rules to be gained by following which no one can go wrong.

To reach a ripe old age is all but impossible if you live a rushing, hectic life. Cultivate cheerfulness and bright outlook; do something useful as often as you can for the good of your peace of mind and soul.

Get a hobby; don't worry about fortune, simple things are best; keep your mind occupied and vary your interest so that they will not lag.

Adventures of the Twins

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

THE BANJO CLOCK

When the Twins and the clock fairy had left the house where the cuckoo clock lived, Nancy asked "Where shall we go next, Tick Tock? Are there any more clocks to mend?"

"Any more?" cried the clock fairy merrily. "Well I should say so—millions and millions. Only we won't be able to get to all of them tonight. Only a few, I fear. I thought we would go to visit the old banjo clock next."

"That's a funny name," laughed Nick. "Can't it play a banjo?" "No," said Tick Tock. "But it looks like a banjo, except that the lower end is bigger than the end of a banjo. But come on, we are losing time."

At last they came to a jeweler's shop where the banjo clock had been sent to be mended. "Where is it in the window," said Tick Tock, peering his face close to the glass.

The Twins peered in too, and what did they think! The old clock winked at them and beckoned with both hands. "All right! We're coming!" cried Tick Tock, jumping up to the door.

English Medical Men Favors Bare-Legged School Kiddies LONDON, Sept. 9.—Suggestions in favor of children going stockinged to school in hot weather are supported by Dr. L. A. Parry, school medical officer of Here.

Recently the headmaster of Shoreham School maintained that, in the case of modesty, children from Stanning Children's Home should wear stockings, when they attended school. The absence of stockings, he said, would also subject the children to an invidious distinction.

Dr. Parry has sent the following letter to the Stanning Board of Guardians: "It quite appreciates the difficult position in which the guardians are placed.

"Every intelligent person is now conscious of the practical benefit of the ultra-violet rays. It seems a pity that a large number of children should be deprived of Nature's medicine on account of the lack of understanding and want of knowledge of one individual."

A MIRROR will tell you who is to blame for your troubles.

Neither did anyone else before the Revolutionary War," said the banjo clock. "I and my brothers came in with the constitution of the United States. If you don't know what that means, either wait until you study history in school or ask somebody."

"I'm sure I don't know what you mean," said Nick. "Well then, I'll tell you," said the banjo clock. "America isn't so very old—not as other countries go. Some other countries are thousands of years old, but two hundred years ago there weren't enough people in America to fill one of our new football fields. So you see it isn't such an old country after all, for all it is so big and important now."

"What has that got to do with clothes?" asked Nick. "A whole lot," answered the banjo clock solemnly. "I'll tell you about it if you would like to hear."

"Yes," cried the Twins. "Please tell us."

She Was Weak, Thin and Nervous

By MARY DELMONT

One of the greatest strength givers and producers of good healthy flesh in the world is God Liver Extract—full of vitamins.

Thank goodness! that now, when a woman is weak and haggard and doesn't weigh what she ought to, she knows where to go for help as all druggists are now selling McCoy's Cod Liver Extract Tablets, sugar coated, and so easy to take as candy.

And it's a mighty good thing for skinny, run-down men and women to know that they can get the real God Liver vitamins in condensed form, that they can easily carry with them wherever they travel.

Men and women, weak, thin and nervous, are urged to put on weight and get back their health and strength with these wonderful tablets.

One woman gained 18 pounds in five weeks and that's going fast enough for anyone.

Only 60 cents for 80 tablets, and if they don't put on five pounds of flesh on any thin person in 30 days—why, money back and no quibbling about it, either.

But be sure and get McCoy's, the original and genuine. At Wassons two stores, Ross Drug Co., Wh. Hawkes & Sons and druggists everywhere are selling lots of them.

Canadian Girls Thrilled As King And Queen Pass

LONDON, Sept. 9.—Two hundred undergraduates from Canadian universities—mostly women—were allowed to stand inside the gates of Buckingham Palace to see the King and Queen leave for their visit to Wembley. The King consented to the arrangement. The royal motor-car was slowly driven through the party, and both the King and Queen bowed and greeted the Canadians with smiles.

Two were arrested and held until reduced to a proper state of penitence before being allowed to go. The management is determined to put an end to this practice, which is said to extend to many "boys" who are well over the tax-paying age, and are intending to make an example of some as a deterrent to the others.

POULTRY JUDGING ENDS. The poultry judging was concluded yesterday and the judge, Professor W. A. Maw, of MacDonald College, left last night for his home. Before leaving he declared that the showing of poultry was very satisfactory and that he was well pleased. Professor Maw earned the respect of the exhibitors not only for his efficiency but also for his strictness and his insistence on careful carrying out of the rules.

Another judge to speak highly of the exhibition was S. J. Moore, of Toronto, of the Federal Department of Agriculture staff, who handled the awards in the field produce classes. He has been coming here for a good many years and declared that the show this year was the best in all departments for a long time.

SOME 12,000 AT FAIR WEDNESDAY

Exhibition Management Adds Two Acts to Outdoor Show.

Judging Nears Completion—Nice Showing Made in Manual Training Department.

Miss Mackenzie And Miss Paget Finalists

Additional numbers for the free outdoor show in connection with the exhibition for the remainder of the week have been secured, according to Horace A. Porter, manager, this morning. These include Herman Sirota, a 15-year-old youth from Grand Falls, N. B., an expert high wire performer, who was on the grounds this morning supervising the erection of his apparatus, and Charles Cromwell, a local boy who has made a name for himself as a juggler. Today's other attractions include a special exhibition of whippet racing by two dogs owned by Witty Warren, of Montreal; the ten-mile race with four exceptionally good men competing; the chorus by St. Peter's choir under the direction of Rev. Father Clemen. This last-named feature has proved a highly popular one and much favorable comment has been made regarding it. With these numbers to augment the regular programme, the exhibition authorities expect to have big attendances for the final three days.

JUDGING ADVANCES

The bulk of the judging of the various exhibits has now been completed and several of the judges left for their homes last evening. Sheep and heavy draft horses and swine have been completed, while today judging should be finished for light horses and cattle. The dahls exhibit is taking the floral display site today, and judging was started on that this afternoon. Judging of the domestic science entries and at the manual training booth will start this afternoon and should be completed early. It is also expected that the dog show will end tonight with the presentation of the major cups.

Judging of the women's work is expected to end today and the results made known tomorrow. Yesterday's paid attendance was in the neighborhood of 12,000, according to officials this morning, and as big a crowd is looked for today and tomorrow.

MANUAL TRAINING.

The manual training exhibit located in the annex to the main building on the upper floor is easily one of the best in years here. It is a revelation to visitors to see the remarkably fine work along furniture lines that has been done by the boys. This includes a handsome dining table, parlor lamps, tables, chairs, etc. The crayon work of boys of the Aberdeen school is noteworthy in connection with this display. It takes the form of sketches carrying the various coats-of-arms of the provinces of Canada and all are exceptionally well done. They are the work of Philip Bailey, Arthur Ricketts, Bruce Vanwart, Gerald Bailey and Edward Titus. This work was not done under the manual training department, but by the Aberdeen boys at their own school, and was shown at the summer closing.

COULD NOT SAW HIS WAY OUT

This moose hunter, weighing 2,000 pounds, came at last to the ignominious fate of being captured by the simple equipment of a garden rake and a rope. He put up a fierce battle for three hours, but finally he was made fast by a rope around his tail. His troubles began when he ventured too near in shore at Miami Beach, Fla.

MAYOR OBJECTS TO STAND TAKEN BY SAFETY HEAD

Commissioner Harding Says Station Permit Granted Over His Head.

CUTS ASKED FOR IN CITY ASSESSMENT

Common Council Hears Objections Made to Several Tax Bills.

At City Hall today Commissioner Harding complained that when the City Council granted permission to John Kelly to install a gasoline tank and pump at his premises, Main street, it took this matter out of his hands and therefore he had nothing to do with future applications of a like nature but to vote as one member of the council.

Three appeals from the 1925 assessment were heard, one was laid on the table for further information and the other two referred to the chairman of the Board of Assessors.

APPEALS HEARD.

G. H. V. Belyea for the Imperial Oil Co., protested against the valuation of $20,000 placed on fuel oil in the tank steamer used by the company to supply the C. P. R. vessel with oil last winter. He contended that if it were properly taxable the value was only $17,000 and therefore the valuation should only have been $8,500, making an over valuation of $11,500. He said the oil was the property of the C. P. R., the contract having been made between the head office of the company and the C. P. R., and that a tax had already been paid on this oil at Halifax.

Mayor Potts asked who would bear the loss should the steamer sink before the oil was delivered to the vessels and Mr. Belyea said he presumed the Imperial Oil Co. would.

WANTS TO SEE CONTRACT.

Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, city solicitor, said he would like to have a copy of the contract submitted to him, and Mr. Belyea said he would do that. Action was deferred until this had been done.

L. Lipsitt, representing Tip Top Tailors, asked for a return of a part of the tax paid by them, on the ground that it was excessive. They had been assessed on $10,000 and he said this was much in excess of the value of the stock and fixtures.

Mayor Potts suggested that, as this was a new firm, the matter be referred to the chairman of the Board of Assessors to recommend a refund and this was agreed to by the council.

W. B. Percut was heard in objection to a valuation of $6,000 on his property at 172-174 Wentworth street. This was also referred to the chairman of the Board of Assessors.

GASOLINE APPLICATION.

Commissioner Harding reported in connection with the application of Alex Taylor for permission to install two additional gasoline tanks and pumps. He said that the matter had taken this matter out of the hands of the Commissioner of Safety and granted applications which he had not recommended and he could do was cast his vote on the matter.

Mayor Potts objected strongly to this communication, disrespectful to the council. He did not think that any commissioner was entitled to adopt the attitude that because the council differed from him on a project he must therefore disclaim all responsibility for his department.

Commissioner Harding said the report expressed his feelings. He had been opposed to any further installations of gas pumps in the city and the council had seen fit to grant, over his head, one of John Kelly, Main street. He said it was a very dangerous section for this class of business. When this was done he felt the responsibility had been removed from him and that all other applications must be granted.

Commissioner Bullock said that no commissioner had absolute control of his department and all must abide by the decisions of the council.

Commissioner Harding remarked that he thought the town manager system of government ought to be adopted.

PATRIOT COMING HERE.

Notice was received that H.M.C.S. Patriot would be in Saint John September 25 to October 5 and Mayor Potts was given authority to arrange for entertaining the officers.

An invitation for the Mayor and commissioners to attend divine service at St. John (Stone) church on next Sunday morning, to take part in the 100th anniversary service was accepted.

An appeal from the 1925 assessment of the Swift Canadian Co., on their real estate in Saint John was presented by Inches, Weyman and Hasen. It was decided to take this up on next Thursday morning.

FATHER COULD NOT FIND INJURED BOY

Alex. MacKie, Hurt by Auto, Had Been Taken to Doctor's Office.

Alexander MacKie, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George MacKie, 224 Prince William street, was struck by an automobile, owned and driven by Frank W. Howard, Clifton street, West End, last evening about 7.30 o'clock at the corner of Prince William and St. James streets. The lad was placed in Mr. Howard's car and taken to Dr. D. C. Malcolm's office and after receiving treatment was taken to his home. One of his legs was painful considerably this morning, but Dr. Malcolm said the leg was not broken. Both knees were badly skinned, his mouth was cut and a tooth knocked out, his eye was blackened and his head bruised and cut.

The parents when first told of the accident thought he had been taken to the hospital and Mr. MacKie visited both the General Public Hospital and Infirmary and arrived home much disturbed when he was not in either place. Then the boy was brought home again from the doctor's office by Mr. Howard. Mrs. MacKie said the boy had told her that the driver of the car was not to blame.

As Hiram Sees It

MONTREAL, Sept. 7.—Well, sir—a lovely little gal come runnin' up to me in the hotel tonight an' holered out: "Hello, Uncle Hiram—where'd you drop from?" Who a'you s'pose it was? That there Madelon that used to tease me whenever she seen me in Saint John. They was six young folks in the party—all from Saint John—but three of 'em 'is livin' here. They took me in to dinner an' I had a great time. Madelon she wanted me to dance—but I callate them Yankee tourists an' other folks 'ud hev a fit if they seen my old whiskers floatin' round her head. The young rascals wanted me to take dancin' lessons while I'm up here—an' surprise Hanner when I git back home. I guess I'd be the surprised party if Hanner knowed anybody was puttin' ideas like that in my head. I haint got no dancin' pumps—nuther. Well, sir, I made a date with two of them gals—an' I guess the one they called Muriel was sorry she had to go home. The boys was real nice about it—I'll say that for 'em—yes, sir.

COUNCIL HAS GAS TANGLE TO UNRAVEL

Objection to Rothesay Avenue Permit Made at City Council Meeting.

An objection to the granting of a permit to Ernest Harris to install three gasoline tanks and pumps in Rothesay avenue was made to the Common Council this morning by K. A. Wilson, acting on behalf of H. L. McKnight. Mr. Wilson contends that, as Mr. McKnight has a service station a few doors away, there was no need of any more in that locality and that Ernest Harris, who was a minor, 20 years of age, was acting for his brother, Arthur Harris, from whom Mr. McKnight had bought the business he now conducted. He further asserted this was the way Arthur Harris took to evade an agreement with Mr. McKnight not to go into business in that locality.

Mayor Potts said he did not think that Mr. McKnight could legally do business until he had secured a permit from the council as in his opinion the permit granted to his predecessor was not transferable.

Commissioner Wigmore said he thought that before any license was transferred the council should be notified.

The Mayor suggested that a yearly tax be imposed as this would keep the council in the hands of the city. His Worship promised that the matter complained of by Mr. Wilson would be looked into.

C. N. R. OFFICIALS SAY TRAFFIC GROWS

General Manager Appleton of Atlantic Division, and Others Are in City.

A decided improvement in the volume of traffic on the Atlantic region of the C. N. R. during the last two months was reported this morning by officials of the C. N. R. who were in the city.

W. U. Appleton, general manager of the Atlantic region, said that prospects for the coming season were bright and that there had been a big increase in the freight carried recently. On Saturday of last week, he said, there were at Campbellton 555 loads of west-bound freight. The ending of the coal strike had been a big factor in this increase of traffic, and there was also more activity in lumber, pulpwood and wood pulp shipments.

Those in the party visiting the city today were Mr. Appleton, R. W. Simpson, assistant to the general manager; A. T. Weldon, traffic manager, and W. N. Rippey, superintendent. This afternoon they visited the Exhibition.

CATTLE TAKEN ON ANOTHER VESSEL

Stock from Kearny, Shipped Here, Were Not Landed at U. S. Port.

Word has been received here by R. C. Ellis Ltd., local agents for the steamer Kearny, which struck a rock near Seal Island a short time ago while en route to Glasgow with 570 head of cattle loaded here, is at present in dry dock at Boston. The report conveys the information that the vessel was quite badly damaged and that the repairs would take from fifteen to twenty days. Many of the ship's plates were damaged.

The steamer Bell Haven of the same line arrived at Boston on last Sunday and all the cattle were transferred direct from the Kearny to the other vessel so that the embargo law against cattle being shipped from United States ports to the United Kingdom would not exclude these cattle. They were never landed, it was said on the dock at Boston.
