

WE INVITE EVERY THIN MAN AND WOMAN HERE EVERY PERSON IN ST. JOHN AND VICINITY TO GET FAT AT OUR EXPENSE

Don't be "The Skeleton at the Feast" Sargol makes Puny, Peevish People Plump and Popular.

This is an invitation that no thin man or woman can afford to ignore. We'll tell you why. We are going to give you a wonderful discovery that helps digest the food you eat—that puts good, solid flesh on people who are thin and underweight, no matter what the cause may be—that makes brains in five hours and blood in four—that puts the red corpuscles in the blood which every thin man or woman so sadly needs. How can we do this? We will tell you. Science has discovered a remarkable concentrated treatment which increases cell growth, the very substance of which our bodies are made—treatment that makes indigestion and other stomach troubles disappear as if by magic and makes an old dyspeptic or a sufferer from weak nerves or lack of vitality feel like a 20-year-old. This new treatment, which has proved a boon to every thin person, is called SARGOL. Don't forget the name—"SARGOL." Nothing like it has ever been produced before. It is a revelation to women who have never been able to appear stylish in anything they wore because of their thinness. It is a godsend to every man who is under weight or is lacking in nerve force or energy. If you want a beautiful and well-rounded figure of symmetrical proportions, of which you can feel justly proud—if you want a body full of throbbing life and energy, write The Sargol Company, 877-T, Herald Bldg., Binghamton, N. Y., today and we will send you, absolutely free, a 50c box of Sargol that will prove all we claim. Take one with every meal, and in five minutes after you take the first concentrated tablet of this precious product it will commence to unfold its virtues, and it has by actual demonstration often increased the weight of the rate of one pound a day. But you say you want proof? Well, here you are. Here is the statement of those who have tried—who have been convinced—who will swear to the virtue of this marvelous preparation.

CLAY JOHNSON says: "Please send me another ten-day treatment. I am well pleased with Sargol. It has been the light of my life. I am getting back to my proper weight again. When I began to take Sargol I only weighed 138 pounds, and now, four weeks later, I am weighing 152 pounds and feeling fine. I don't have that stupid feeling every morning that I used to have. I feel good all the time. I want to put on about five pounds of flesh and that will be all I want."

F. GAGNON writes: "Here is my report since taking the Sargol treatment. I am a man 67 years of age and was all run down to the very bottom. I had to quit work, as I was so weak. Now, thanks to Sargol, I look like a new man. I gained 72 pounds with 23 days' treatment. I can not tell you how happy I feel. All my clothes are getting too tight. My face has a good color and I never was so happy in my life."

MRS. VERNIE ROUSE says: "Sargol is certainly the grandest treatment ever used. It has helped me greatly. I could hardly eat anything and was not able to sit up three days out of a week with stomach trouble. I took only two boxes of Sargol and can eat anything and it don't hurt me and I have no more headaches. My weight was 120 pounds and now I weigh 150 and feel better than I have for five years. I am now as fleshy as I want to be, and shall certainly recommend Sargol, for it does just exactly what you say it will do."

REV. GEO. W. DAVIS says: "I have made a faithful trial of the Sargol treatment and must say it has brought to me new life and vigor. I have gained twenty pounds and now weigh 170 pounds, and what is better, I have gained the wisdom that has wrought the gain. It has been the turning point of my life. My health is now fine. I don't have to take any medicine at all and never want to again."

MRS. A. I. RODENHEISER writes: "I have gained immensely since I took Sargol, for I only weighed about 100 pounds when I began using it, and now I weigh 130 pounds, so really this makes twenty-four pounds. I feel stronger and am looking better than I have for years before, and now I carry round cheeks."

COME, EAT WITH US AT OUR EXPENSE. This coupon entitles any thin person to one 50c. package of Sargol, the concentrated Fish Builder (provided you have never tried it), and that 10c. is enclosed to cover postage, packing, etc. Read our advertisement printed above, and then put 10c. in stamp in letter today, with this coupon, and the full 50c. package will be sent to you by return of post. Address: The Sargol Company, 877-T, Herald Bldg., Binghamton, N. Y. Write your name and address plainly, and PIN THIS COUPON TO YOUR LETTER.

The Younger Sister By RUTH CAMERON

It isn't wholly the younger sister's fault. It never is entirely the person's own fault when he or she is spoiled. In this case it's partly the older sister and partly the mother or father that's to blame.

The older sister went to a business college straight from grammar school, or if she was fortunate enough to go to high school, she had to wear old clothes and scrimp and go without right and left, because father was the only wage-earner in the family then, and the ordinary man's wages are not supposed to really support a family under present-day conditions.

Younger sister, on the contrary, goes through high school as a matter of course and probably goes to college, too. Nor does she have to scrimp and go without things. By reason of the contributions to the family purse now made by older sister, or perhaps by two or three older sisters or brothers, financial conditions in the family are much improved, and younger sister does everything her wealthier friends do.

My friends, you may think I am simply generalizing and being my imagination in this matter. I am not. I am thinking of a young girl who lives in a neighborhood who wore silk stockings and was generally a dude at high school, while his older sister worked her heart out, almost entirely supporting the family. I am thinking of a younger sister whose mother should have had the opportunity that better financial conditions make possible. But they should not be taught to think they can have every luxury their wealthier companions afford.

I am thinking of a young girl who lives in a neighborhood who wore silk stockings and was generally a dude at high school, while his older sister worked her heart out, almost entirely supporting the family.

La MARQUISE de FONTENOY Unmarried, Rich, a Duke and Only Twenty-Nine—A Peerage Refused

Edward Mortier, who by the death of his father has just become fifth Duke of Trevis, is unmarried, rich, and only twenty-nine years old. He is a great-grandson of Napoleon's field marshal, Mortier, who was created Duke of Trevis in recognition of his distinguished military services.

The late duke attracted no little attention about six years ago by a suit which he instituted against a Parisian noble, a "Mlle. de Trevis." The silly girl was the daughter of the late duke's brother and other public favorites, who for years have made a practice of assuming the most high-sounding names they could find.

SUGAR COOKIES. 1 cup sugar, 1 egg, salt, 1 1/2 cup butter and lard mixed, melted, 1 1/4 cup milk, 1/2 teaspoon soda. Mix quite stiff and sprinkle with sugar when cut and in pan. No flavoring is used but one may use it if desired.

CHEAP CAKE. One cup of sugar, 2 tablespoons of butter creamed together, 1 egg, 1 cup milk, 2 teaspoons baking powder sifted in 1 1/2 cups bread flour. Flavor to suit. I use this for a foundation for several cakes.

DOUGHNUTS. One-half cup sugar, 2 eggs, 1 cup of sweet milk, a little salt, nutmeg to taste, 2 teaspoons baking powder sifted into flour, flour enough to make a dough easy to handle. THE GAY MUSICIAN A Big Musical Production on Monday - A Strong Cast.

"The Gay Musician" is one of the few modern compositions that has met favor in New York city, and in the large cities of the United States and Canada during the past season. The music was written by Julian Edwards, the noted composer of the book and lyrics by Siedel and Campbell. Its tour last year of only the principal cities was a repetition of its success, and it was declared on all sides to be the most charming, dainty, neat and refined musical attraction heard in many years. The company that will be heard here in The Gay Musician is a first-class one in every respect, its cast of principals being particularly strong, including such well known celebrities as Gertrude Taylor, Lottie Kendall, Maude Miller, Fritz Klingel, Roger Grey, Harold Rehill, Hayden Clifford, Roy Torrey and others as equally well known. A feature of The Gay Musician is its chorus, selected from the best of the city, and its graceful ability to wear the handsome gowns in the second act. Some of the musical numbers that are worthy of special mention are "Hail to the Queen of Beauty," "Lovers' Dashing Soldier Boy," "I Want to Be Your Blue Eyed Baby Boy," and many others. The Gay Musician will be presented at the Opera House on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings. A matinee will be given on Wednesday at 2.30.

HUSBAND AND WIFE ON SOUTH SEA ISLAND SLAIN BY NATIVES

Victoria, June 8--Murdered by blacks on the Maskoyne Islands, Mr. and Mrs. Turner, who managed a plantation near Malekula, were found in the embrace of their home by Mr. Gaister, a trader who owned the place, when his schooner arrived at the station, according to advices brought here by steamer Makura.

According to stories told by the natives, the French couple were sitting down to dinner when a party of Lauvur natives came to the open door and opened fire. The natives then rushed in, and the husband and wife were slain.

A French punitive party has been sent in pursuit of the murderers. The motive of the murder was said to be to take the lives of whites for some illegal recruiting committed by a visiting vessel.

Before the Makura left Sydney, R. Bourcier, a plantation owner of Gualacanal, Solomon Islands, arrived for medical treatment, having been the victim of an attack by Solomon Islanders. A party of "boys" had come to his trading station and followed him to his home. He rejected the first man to step in, and this aroused the others, and armed with axes one of them rushed at him. The plantation owner's brother covered this man with a revolver, and the assassin was dropped. The natives shrank away, but as they went one threw a club which fell Mr. Bourcier, and he was arrested and given a year's imprisonment.

FOR PURE WATER

Montreal, June 8--People residing in the country or who have temporary homes at summer resorts, need no longer take chances in having an impure water supply. They may, at a cost of from 85 to 95, per cent, have their homes with a complete and effective sterilization plant which has been proven of such inestimable benefit in the United States.

Thanks to the efforts of Provincial Chemist McCready, after two months of work in the provincial laboratory, a device has been evolved a device calculated to remove all impurities in regard to impure water supply.

It is simply one whereby the proper quantity of hypochlorite solution is automatically introduced into the water as it later courses into a miniature reservoir. All that is needed is a galvanized iron wooden tank or tub, a few pieces of glass tubing with rubber attachments, three litro bottles with rubber corks and a ball stop cock connection.

W. Meahan. Father Meahan is a quiet, unassuming priest, who during the fifteen years of his priesthood has accomplished a good work. The people of the cathedral parish will be delighted to know that his merits and work have met with deserved recognition and his friends among all classes of citizens will feel that in honoring Father Meahan, Laval has but continued to use that excellent judgment with which it recognizes the real merit of its sons."

Bad Roads and Wet Spell Have Handicapped Farmers--York Liberal Convention

The wet weather and bad roads have greatly hampered the farmers. In many places they have less than half their crop in the ground.

Iron production shows large increase in May and June, expected to show increase over May.

Both Hanna's and Bradstreet's say that the strength of steel and iron industry is the most encouraging feature of the business situation and the favorable crop situation imparts confidence.

I cannot see how any one can expect a decision in the U. P. merger case before next fall. It was argued in April and there were many cases ahead of it, which were argued a year ago and which are not decided yet.

Monday at noon the steel tonnage report will be out, should show an increase over last week.

At 2.15 p. m. Monday the crop report will be out, should show a good crop.

The Evening Times and Star

ST. JOHN, N. B., JUNE 8, 1912.

The St. John Evening Times is printed at 27 and 29 Castlereagh Street every evening (Sunday excepted) by the St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co., Ltd., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act.

WHAT IT WILL MEAN

What will it mean to the province of New Brunswick to replace the present government at Fredericton by another led by Mr. A. B. Cope?

It would mean the beginning of a new era of progress and development. The platform which Mr. Cope has submitted presents the broadest and most comprehensive policy that has been submitted to the people of this province for many years.

He does not propose that the government, if he is its leader, shall be inactive while the people throughout the province are doing all in their power to develop a great forward movement.

When the St. John Board of Trade invited the editors of all the newspapers in the province, of all political parties, to attend a conference in St. John to discuss a forward movement, the universal expression of opinion on the part of the newspaper men was that the first step to be taken should be one which would lead to an increase in population and wealth in the rural communities.

Mr. Cope's policy would have this very result. He would place within reach of the farmer cheaper money to enable them to enlarge their operations and carry on their work under more favorable conditions.

He would have them provided with a cheap rural telephone service, which would enable them to overcome the sense of isolation and keep themselves also in touch with the markets for their produce.

He would also pursue a policy which would provide them with better roads, which would be of enormous benefit not only in saving the wear and tear which is due to bad roads, but would give them pleasure as well as greater ease in hauling their products to market and bringing back their supplies.

These three planks in Mr. Cope's platform alone justify the electors in giving him their support, in order that he may be given an opportunity to carry out this policy.

But, as the Times has already pointed out, Mr. Cope's policy with regard to the crown lands is also of the very first importance, and should be heartily endorsed by the people.

But for the revenue from the crown lands this province would be reduced to direct taxation, on an infinitely larger scale than at present; for even now it is necessary to impose direct taxes to meet the ordinary expenditure.

It is, therefore, a very serious matter to have a government which allows the crown lands to be skinned, and goes on without making any effort to find out the actual extent and value of these lands.

No business man would for a moment think of pursuing such a course in connection with his own property. He would want to know its exact extent and value, and govern himself accordingly.

Mr. Cope proposes to apply business methods in relation to this great provincial asset.

There is again the question of water powers. The people are aware that the government forced through the legislature at the last session a bill providing for damming the St. John River and giving to a company extraordinary powers.

The whole policy of the Fleming government in regard to corporations and public franchises has been such that one former active supporter, Mr. W. Frank Hatheway, could no longer give it his approval.

Mr. Fleming wins a victory which he will be aided to win by Liberals as well as Conservatives. Mr. Hazen wants a victory to be celebrated "as only Conservatives can." How the Hazen tune has changed since 1908.

Every Liberal who can devote some time and energy to the public good for the next ten days should visit the ward committee rooms and share in the good work of rolling up a rousing majority for the Liberal candidates.

Hon. Mr. Hazen has apparently discovered that he deserves all the credit for the Courtenay Bay works. But they are carrying out Hon. Dr. Pugsley's plans to the letter.

Hon. Robert Maxwell is one of the most reckless political speakers in public life in this province. His attack on the temperance party last night was in singular contrast to his own former attitude and professions.

Did you observe that Mr. Hazen and Mr. Maxwell had much to say about the old government, which is not an issue, and nothing at all to say about Mr. Cope's progressive platform? They do not want the people to think about that platform, for to think seriously about it is to endorse and support it. And that would be bad for the Fleming government.

All fowls should be fasted from twenty-four to thirty-six hours before killing. Where this is not done the food decomposes in the crop and intestine, the result being that the flesh becomes tainted and does not keep well.

ONCE MORE GLOBE

A Tory newspaper says "The Globe is the leading Liberal paper in the province."

The fact that this utter falsehood is repeated over and over again, and that the sayings of the Globe are quoted in large type in Tory journals is the best evidence of the determined effort that is being made on every hand to hoodwink the electors.

The Globe does not express the views of the Liberals and is not a Liberal newspaper. It is receiving patronage from Tory governments. The Globe regards the present leader of the Liberal party in New Brunswick with a consuming dislike.

It has persistently refused to give him any credit for the splendid work he has done for this province, and especially for the city of St. John. It grinds its teeth in impotent wrath at every victory won by him.

It is now yoked up with journals like the St. John Standard and the Fredericton Gleaser, two of the most unscrupulous Tory organs in the Dominion of Canada. The Liberals find consolation and encouragement in the fact that the Globe is generally on the losing side.

The manifesto of the temperance party is printed in today's issue of the Times.

The Tory orators are dodging Mr. Cope's platform. They are afraid of it.

The Tory opera house meeting last night was almost as dreary as the columns of the Standard.

Only nine more working days before polling day. Make them count for Mr. Cope and better government.

The example of hard and effective personal work which is given by Mr. Cope inspires his followers all over the province.

The Fleming government is on the defensive, and is losing ground. The opposition grows steadily more confident and aggressive.

Since he chose to discuss federal politics last evening the minister of marine and fisheries might fairly have told the people something about his naval policy.

Mr. Kierstead will not be disturbed by the attack of Mr. Maxwell or the sneers of the Standard. They know he will be elected, along with his colleagues, and the knowledge worries them.

There will be a universal desire to hear Mr. F. B. Carvell next week. He is a fighting Liberal who strikes sturdy and telling blows upon the enemy's weak defence.

Even with a federal minister as the chief attraction, the Tories could not fill the opera house last evening. There is an utter lack of enthusiasm, outside of the dyed-in-the-wool followers of Toryism.

Mr. Fleming wins a victory which he will be aided to win by Liberals as well as Conservatives. Mr. Hazen wants a victory to be celebrated "as only Conservatives can." How the Hazen tune has changed since 1908.

Every Liberal who can devote some time and energy to the public good for the next ten days should visit the ward committee rooms and share in the good work of rolling up a rousing majority for the Liberal candidates.

Hon. Mr. Hazen has apparently discovered that he deserves all the credit for the Courtenay Bay works. But they are carrying out Hon. Dr. Pugsley's plans to the letter.

MATTERS OF IMPORTANCE IN AN ASSEMBLY

Presbyterians Discuss Church Union and Million Dollar Budget—Advocate for Simpler Confession of Faith

Edmonton, Alta., June 7.—Two sessions of the highest interest to Presbyterians occupied the attention of the Presbyterian conference today. The first of these was the matter of the church union and second was that of the million dollar budget.

The debate on the latter was keener than that on church union, which was interrupted in the morning by the arrival of the hour of adjournment. In the afternoon when the question of the budget came up, Rev. Campbell, of Winnipeg, made a stirring appeal for the creation of a better business administration, stating that the church should be able to get on the men of wealth and denomination the large gifts which ought to be obtained and that the Methodist church was far more successful in this respect than the Presbyterian.

The new resolutions of the union committee were submitted to the assembly at the morning session. A resolution prepared by the committee in Toronto in March had created the impression that the body was not as ardent for the cause as it had been and the statements prepared at the meeting here was intended to place the matter in the clearest light possible and to render it obvious to all that the determination of the organization was irrevocably set for the consummation of the plan.

With reference to the possibility of discontinuing the movement for union, there was only one adjective which could be used to describe it, namely, the word suicidal. It has been constantly pointed out that large sums of money would be saved by amalgamation.

The speaker did not consider the plan as one designed to save money but to expend very large sums in the wisest manner, the union of the three negotiating churches was a preliminary step and he had faith to believe that the pending union would be followed by still more negotiations and unions.

Principal McKay, of Vancouver, moved that the resolution be amended to read that with all the related papers should be sent to a large committee and this was agreed to.

In the afternoon Principal Alfred Gordon, of Knox College, presented the report of the committee appointed to investigate the financial condition of the church for the year. Three years ago the budget of a million for mission had been raised in the church and since that time the effort had been made to secure this amount each year. This year the sum of $1,100,000 was asked.

Dr. Gordon's Appeal. The venerable Principal Gordon, of Queen's University, who, in the course of a long career, has made innumerable speeches in the general assembly, made one of the addresses of his life in an advocacy on church union at the session today.

His declaration was greeted with continual applause and his statement that the policy of the church must be to co-operate with the negotiating churches, with organic union definitely in view, was most warmly received.

The union question, he declared, would never down until it was settled right. King the union of 1914 as an illustration, he declared that the present opposition would, after further conference, very largely disappear.

He defended vigorously the establishment of a settlement committee, and declared that the present opposition of stationing ministers in the Presbyterian church had broken down.

The need of a simpler confession of faith was apparent in the fact that every year in the graduating classes of the colleges there were students of tender consciences who signed the old confession with much mental reservation.

The union committee of the Presbyterian church placed before the general assembly this morning a series of resolutions basing on the question of church union, which leaves no manner of doubt with reference to the attitude of the committee.

Members of the committee stated today that there had been at no time since the negotiations were begun any opposition entertained radically different from those set forth today.

The resolution assured the members of the other communions interested of its sincere and ardent desire to complete the union within a brief period.

They provide for the formation at once of union congregations to be supervised by the three churches jointly; for a division of the mission fields, and for complete co-operation pending organic union; and issue instructions to the colleges and boards of publication to combine their work so far as is possible.

ALBERT AND WESTMORLAND FOR LIBERALS

Fine Meetings in Both Counties Show That Opposition Will Win a Sweeping Victory There

Hopewell Hill, N. B., June 7.—The opposition campaign in the county opened with a swing last night at Hopewell Cape when the Liberal candidates, Dr. John Lewis and W. J. Carnyath, and A. B. Copp, leader of the opposition, addressed one of the best political meetings held in the shiretown in years. The hall was filled and the speakers received a grand reception.

The candidates spoke briefly, the greater part of the evening being given to Mr. Copp, who delivered a vigorous and telling speech in which he made a strong arraignment of the local government, showing up their handling of the public funds and sharply criticizing the expenditure of money on the small bridges of the county.

Hon. Mr. Oman also spoke, and the meeting as a whole was a splendid success. Fine reports at this stage of the campaign come in from different parts of the county, and the Liberals are showing great enthusiasm and fighting spirit. A vigorous campaign will be carried on, Hon. H. Zimmerman being one of the speakers who will take a hand. Mr. Emmerson, Mr. Carvath, who has been in Alma and Harvey, brings glowing reports from that section and has found numbers of Conservatives promising support. Mr. Carvath who had a fine record as a councillor and as warden of the county, and stands very highly as a business man, is proving, as was expected, a popular candidate and he and Dr. Lewis are just the ticket the Liberals were looking for.

Liberals Will Sweep Westmorland Sackville, June 7.—(Special)—The reorganization meeting of the Sackville Liberal Club here tonight was one of the most enthusiastic ever held in this section. The large hall was packed with an audience that was very emphatic in its condemnation of the Conservative administration. The great interest being taken in the present campaign far surpasses that manifested when federal issues were before the people.

Hon. A. B. Copp and Fred Magee, the opposition candidates, were in attendance and their appearance was the signal for prolonged applause and the speakers were given a very attentive hearing and their telling arguments were received with every mark of approval.

Mr. Magee condemned the local administration for the dangerous condition of the roads in practically all sections of the province. He made a fine impression and his straightforwardness had gained him many friends in this section.

Everything points to a smashing Liberal victory for this county, and prominent men on both sides see nothing but a Liberal sweep of the province.

(Montreal Herald.) The news that Daniel P. Gilmour has received the Liberal nomination from Charlotte county for the New Brunswick assembly is being welcomed by Mr. McGill, more numerous friends in Montreal and at McGill.

"Dan" is without doubt the greatest football hero and captain in the annals of McGill and one of the most picturesque figures in the history of Canadian athletics. A native of New Brunswick, "Dan" came to Montreal in the summer of 1909 when he entered McGill's Faculty of Arts. He did not play with the college football team in his first year but proved himself a tower of strength on the forward line of the M.A.A.A. team. The next year, however, Mr. Gilmour turned out with the Red and White and soon won a high place for his courage and sportsmanship. In the fall of '09 he became captain of the McGill team and immediately a great improvement was noticed. McGill being the only team in the domain to lower the colors of Toronto University.

In the fall of 1910 Mr. Gilmour again captained the McGill team although suffering from a painful injury he sustained to his knee-cap early in the season. Last fall he was forced to play only after an earnest appeal from the students. His return to the game in mid-season was the occasion of an unprecedented outburst of enthusiasm.

Athletics are the chief cause of "Dan's" fame but he has other attainments of a more abiding quality. An arts graduate of high standing he is now about to begin his final year in law after taking honors in his first two sessions.

As a senior member of the students' council his influence was a great force in bringing about the new era at McGill which has marked the past session.

PREMATURE. During the latter part of the Civil War Basil Gildersleeve lay one day apparently at the point of death, surrounded by several members of his family. "Brother," he murmured faintly, "I have, at most, only a few days to live and when I am laid to rest I want you to have my pair of boots in the closet yonder. I paid two hundred and fifty dollars, Confederate, for them, and you are sorely in need of a pair." Instead of the expected burst of gratitude, there was no answer. Racked with emotion at the thought of his great loss,

"CRUSH THEM VENIOT," CRY THE ELECTORS

Certainly Some Things Happened to Tory Speakers In Kent

GIVES FACTS AND FIGURES

Hon. Mr. Landry Forced to Admit That He Does Not Approve of System Under Which Business Was Carried on — The "Various Persons"

(Richibucto Review) The joint meeting held in this country by the government candidates and P. Veniot, ended on Sunday last by an intense meeting at Saint Louis. Over one thousand persons were present. As usual, Mr. Veniot had to handle three speakers, and was wedged in between Dr. Bourque, Col. Shovinden and Dr. Landry, but in the manner in which he accomplished the task left no room for doubt that he was equal to the occasion. The chairman of the meeting was a strong Conservative, Marcel Fortier, and in opening the meeting he said he would remind Mr. Veniot that at a former meeting there he had made charges of a serious nature and it was now the time, face to face with the minister, to reiterate these charges. When Mr. Veniot's turn to speak was reached, he immediately took up the hint given by the president. He related instances of checks for laborers on bridges being sent to certain merchants instead of superintendents, of pay lists containing names of persons for 1910 and who had never worked that year on the bridges in question; copy of checks with forged endorsements. The excitement at this point was great, and as proof after proof was submitted that "crush them Veniot" arose from hundreds of throats, but the climax was reached when Mr. Veniot produced on the platform an individual whose name had been forged on the endorsement of a check. For fully five minutes Mr. Veniot could not make himself heard. The audience fairly went wild. If he had confined himself to his list of biggest industries the fallacy of his statement might have gone unchallenged, but his boasts about the customs dues collected at Belfast has given him away. Customs in the United Kingdom are paid almost entirely on tobacco, tea and spirits. There are a few other dutiable articles, but the returns from them are so small as to be inconsiderable. What Mr. Clark's contention is meant to convey then is that the 400,000 people of Belfast, many of whom are sunk in the depths of poverty, drink more tea and imported spirits and smoke more tobacco than the other 3,500,000 people of the United Kingdom. Of course this is absurd and the explanation is furnished by the fact that the wholesalers' merchants of Belfast travel throughout Ireland taking orders for their wares. These men are becoming alarmed for the effect on their trade of the attacks made by Mr. Clark and his friends on the rest of Ireland and they declare that if Belfast is not careful to keep its present position.

Biggest Tobacco Factory Sells Product to Whole World—Growing Irritation of Bank Customers in South and West of the Emerald Isle

(Times' Special Correspondence) Dublin, May 25—No survey of the new Ireland would be complete without a consideration of the place held in it by what is popularly known as "Ulster," by which is really meant the City of Belfast and the three or four counties tributary to it, and it is as well to admit in the beginning that Belfast is Belfast because some of her citizens have made money faster than most other Irishmen. This is the assertion made by "Ulster," and it was put forward unequivocally the other day by George B. Clark, managing director of Workman, Clark & Co., the great Belfast shipbuilders. Mr. Clark, in a letter to the newspapers, mentioned that Belfast 100 years ago had a population of 15,000 and today has 400,000 inhabitants; that it has the biggest shipyard, the biggest tobacco factory, the biggest rope works, the biggest distillery and the biggest linen factory in the world, and in conclusion he declared triumphantly that it paid twice as much customs duty as all the rest of Ireland. The statements are true, but as made by Mr. Clark, they are terribly misleading, for their purpose is to create the impression that Belfast has a monopoly of the intelligence, industry and prosperity of Ireland. The fact is that Belfast's prosperity is the reflection of the prosperity of the rest of the country and one item in Mr. Clark's catalogue has enabled this to be proved. If he had confined himself to his list of biggest industries the fallacy of his statement might have gone unchallenged, but his boasts about the customs dues collected at Belfast has given him away. Customs in the United Kingdom are paid almost entirely on tobacco, tea and spirits. There are a few other dutiable articles, but the returns from them are so small as to be inconsiderable. What Mr. Clark's contention is meant to convey then is that the 400,000 people of Belfast, many of whom are sunk in the depths of poverty, drink more tea and imported spirits and smoke more tobacco than the other 3,500,000 people of the United Kingdom. Of course this is absurd and the explanation is furnished by the fact that the wholesalers' merchants of Belfast travel throughout Ireland taking orders for their wares. AMUSEMENTS IN ST. JOHN; WHAT THE PLAYHOUSES OFFER

FINE WEEK-END SHOW The programme provided yesterday and today at the Gen Theatre, have much pleasure at all the shows on Friday. It was featured by a gripping and powerful play, entitled "The Law of the North." In this play the Selig Company enacted many thrilling scenes and the rugged snow-capped mountains of Canada's northern wilderness, and there was portrayed a fascinating love story mingled with adventure and daring on the part of the Royal Mounted. John Bunney scored his usual hit when he appeared with the Vitagraph Company in their very admirable comedy, "Link Tangley," in which the comical situations arising from Bunney's blunders make hearty laughs. The Vitagraph Company had another play, "Old Lady Greaves," in which a vein of tenderness predominated. Bertha Dudley contributed a pleasing song number and the orchestra's programme was well received.

Another source of Belfast's pre-eminence in its banking. Five of the great joint stock banks of Ireland have their headquarters in Belfast and their business is reckoned in the tale of Belfast's trade. But their branches extend all over Ireland. The Ulster Bank alone has thirty branches in the southern provinces, stretching away down to Cork, and each of the other Belfast banks has nearly as many. The money of the southern farmers and tradespeople is collected in these branches, sent to Belfast and re-lent on overdraft and otherwise to Belfast bankers and merchants to accommodate Belfast trade. The fact is that Belfast is living on the rest of Ireland and its prosperity is but the reflection of the prosperity of Ireland. It is Ireland's principal trade route, but little things change the flow of trade and Belfast is ill advised in asserting superiority over her customers and supporters.

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

Toronto, June 7—Rev. Robert St. Clair, superintendent of investigation of the Toronto Vigilance Association, was committed for trial by Magistrate Denison shortly after 1 o'clock today on a charge of circulating seditious literature. The charge arose out of a circular issued by Mr. St. Clair to a number of local clergymen giving what purported to be a description of a performance at a local burlesque theatre. Montreal, June 7—John Cummings, who has been on trial for the murder of his wife on Chateaugay street, Nov. 21 last, was tonight found guilty by the jury after thirty-five minutes deliberation, and sentenced to be hanged on Aug. 9, by Judge Greville. The total amount subscribed for the household endowment fund is now $39,000, the sum of $30,000 having been added yesterday. This included a subscription of $12,500 from F. B. McCurdy, provided $40,000 was raised and offering $25,000 if the endowment fund was doubled. The Royal Society of Canada, as told of some time ago in the Times, is asking the federal government to consider the revision of the calendar so that there will be thirteen months, each to consist of twenty-eight days. Premier Borden promised consideration.

RECENT DEATHS

The death of Joseph Leach occurred at Sussex Corner, on Tuesday the 4th inst. He was only twenty-five years of age. The death of Mrs. Eliza Jane Evans took place at her home, in Cardigan, Yucatan, Wednesday, the seventh inst. She was seventy-nine years of age. Her husband and three sons, James, William and Thomas, survive, all residing in Cardigan. The death of Mrs. John Renton occurred on Thursday at Lutz Mountain, at the residence of her son, Henry Renton. Mrs. Renton was eighty-nine years of age, and the mother of thirteen children, eight of whom survive her. The son is Henry Renton of Lutz Mountain; the daughters are Mrs. William Bulmer, Mrs. Ernest Brown, and Mrs. John Kelly, all of Moncton; Mrs. Henry Lutz and Mrs. Jacob Maddison of Indian Mountain, and Mrs. Philip Kelly of St. John's; she also leaves thirty-three grand children and forty-four great grand children. Mrs. Renton was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Mallin of Newcastle. WANT OUR FIREMEN. Chief Rutter of Fredericton was in communication with Chief Kerr of the St. John fire department yesterday and learned that St. John did not contemplate holding a tournament. The chief also took the opportunity to urge on the behalf of the fire fighters of the Winter Port to send along as large a delegation as possible to the tournament to be held in Fredericton during Old Home Week. PRESENCE OF MIND. The presence of mind of an impetuous lover was illustrated recently at a banquet, where there was a stall for the sale of watch charms. "Oh, George," said the lady, "buy me a charm!" "Sarah," answered he, "you have too many already."

ON A SECURE BASIS. "Dad, lend me five hundred dollars!" cried the fiancée's son, rushing into his father's office. "What for, my boy?" "Oh, a lovely little deal—a sure thing!" "How much shall we make out of it?" asked the old man cautiously. "$200," replied the man eagerly, "800 each." The old man went to his safe, withdrew a roll of notes, and solemnly counted out five $20 notes. "Here is your money," he said. "Let us consider we have made this deal, and it has succeeded. You make $100 and I save $400."

WHAT SHE WANTS. "So your wife is a suffragette?" "Yes," answered Mr. Meekton. "Why does she want the vote?" "I don't think Henrietta really desires to vote. She's merely tired of talking to me. She wants a larger and more intelligent audience."

A CLEAN SCALP MEANS BEAUTIFUL HAIR

There is nothing "just as good" as Newbro's Herpicide. Some dealers will even go so far as to tell you they have something better.

That dealer has an axe to grind. You can't stop his grinding, but you can prevent him grinding it at your expense.

There is one sure, swift way to do it. Go where you can get what you ask for.

You won't be obliged to do this very often, as fortunately the majority of drug stores are honest and conscientious.

Newbro's Herpicide has been so long and favorably known as the original dandruff germ destroyer that no one should be deceived.

When you need a hair remedy, you don't want one which merely promises to kill the dandruff germ and prevent the hair from falling.

You want one that will do it. Herpicide does it.

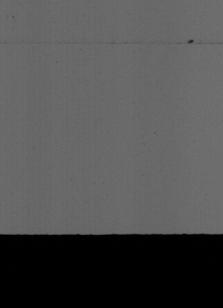

The hair becomes soft and lustrous. There is life, snap and beauty where formerly the hair was dead, dull and brittle.

E. Clinton Brown, special agent.

TEMPERANCE MANIFESTO IS ISSUED

CONSERVATIVES IN THE CITY LOSE HEART

Official Appeal for Election of J. W. Keirstead—Three Meetings of Interest Tomorrow

Liberal Victory Daily More Certain—Maxwell's Attack on Temperance Men—The Standard Again

The following appeal to the electors was issued yesterday by the St. John Temperance Confederation:

"To the temperance people of the City of St. John:

"An appeal is made to you to support J. W. Keirstead, in the election on June 20, the candidate who has pledged himself to the support of prohibition and is endorsed by the St. John County Temperance Federation.

"The movement by which the candidate is endorsed is non-partisan, and already life-long party followers have evidenced their intention to support the prohibition candidate. The movement has the endorsement of temperance lodges, the Evangelical Alliance, and other organizations.

"We appeal to you on this occasion to place moral principle above mere party interest.

"Strong representations for a provincial prohibitory measure, which have been made to governments in power have been repeatedly met with refusal; in a recent case even the courtesy of an official reply given.

"Will you not show by your vote that you resent the attitude and will send to the legislature a representative pledged to prohibition.

"If the temperance people of the city rally the forces and elect one man on a straight prohibitory issue, any government in power must be forced to recognize the significance of such a result, and the temperance vote will in future be so respected that prohibition will become an accepted live issue.

"The eyes of the province are reaching in its effect upon the temperance movement in the future.

"It is clear to everyone that the candidate who pledges himself in this election will lose at once the vote of every elector who is allied with the liquor interests. It is not this in itself a challenge to every right-thinking citizen. Shall it be said that those who represent the cursed traffic stand loyally together, whilst those who should represent the highest and best principles in a community allow minor considerations to outweigh those moral considerations which to a good citizen should always predominate?

"We, therefore, appeal to every right-thinking citizen to give such support to the prohibition candidate, that our city may have the distinct record that when a moral issue is at stake there is always triumph with honor.

"Vote for J. W. Keirstead.

(Signed)

"REV. H. R. BOYER, President St. J. Temp. Fed.
"N. RILEY, Secretary.

The Temperance party are aroused over the local government's attitude toward temperance, and the temperance issue in this campaign will be fully and freely discussed at three meetings in St. John tomorrow (Sunday) afternoon. A meeting will be held at the North End by Rev. W. R. Robinson and others, and a meeting on the West Side by Rev. F. S. Porter and others.

It is understood that some reckless statements made recently by government campaign speakers, notably Hon. Robert Maxwell, will receive attention at these meetings, and that the government's whole record in relation to the temperance cause will be dissected.

Big Liquor Seizure in Kent County Hotels

Ribicton, N. B., June 7.—As the result of a raid made on three hotels here, the Queen, Union and New Kent, twelve loads of liquor, including upwards of 3,000 bottles of lager, were seized. The raid was made by George M. Clarke, liquor license inspector, who had with him Constable A. E. Fraser, Rev. W. R. Robinson, of St. John, secretary of the law enforcement committee of the Sons of Temperance, and Rev. R. H. Staver, grand worthy patriarch of the Sons of Temperance.

The liquor consisted of whiskey, brandy, ale, porter, stout, champagne, gin, lager beer, port wine and sherry wine. The large quantity of wet goods was taken to Magistrate Davie's and locked up.

It was found concealed in various places, under bars, in simple rooms, in the dining rooms in cellars, under wood in wood sheds, under stairways and covered by old clothes, under wraps and under hay.

One barrel of brandy was marked green, three barrels of ale were marked orange and one barrel of brandy was marked blue.

In all there were upwards of 3,000 bottles of liquor seized, besides what was found in casks, barrels and jugs.

HUNCHBACK'S CRIME

Teased Too Much, he Slays His Tormentor—A Mystery of the River Seine—Interesting News of France in Letter to The Times

(Times' Special Correspondence)

Paris, May 28.—When Madame de Rouvray, a wealthy lady, residing in the Rue de Valenciennes, arrived from Vichy at the Gare de Lyon, she thought that she might as well lunch there as anywhere else, so committing her light luggage to the care of a porter, she proceeded to the buffet. When she had finished her meal she went in quest of her property, to find, to her dismay, that it had disappeared. The loss was all the more annoying as among the bags was one containing as much as $50,000 worth of scrip, besides several hundred francs in gold.

The police are endeavoring to discover the identity of the thief, as they are presently unable to give any account of them. Murder Cases

A crime has been committed at Boismont in the Seine-et-Oise, by an irritable hunchback who, because a man had called him names, strangled him on the highway during the night, smashed his skull, and dragged his corpse some 1,800 feet to a ditch. The hunchback, a man named Danny, was known in the country as very friendly while in the daytime, but was otherwise of a quiet disposition. One Perthuis had been engaged on the same farm for a week, and the two had a drink together in the evening.

Assisting Negroes to Wed

The French Anti-Slavery Society has just issued a remarkable manifesto, which first sight would seem to show its action in a strange light. It asks for more money in order to be able to buy young negroes. For an anti-slavery society to enter into such contracts would seem to be a contradiction of its very name. The society considers that it has done its duty in the matter of securing the repression of slave gangs and slave traders, and it is thought that the occupation of Morocco and Tripoli will put final touch to the work that has been carried on for nearly 100 years.

RECORD OF A GREAT MEDICINE

Doctors Could Not Help Mrs. Templeton—Regained Health through Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

Hooper, Nebraska.—"I am very glad to tell how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped me. For five years I suffered from female troubles so I was scarcely able to do my work. I took doctors' medicines and used local treatments but was not helped. I had such awful bearing down pains and my back was so weak I could hardly walk and could not ride. I often had to sit up nights to sleep and my friends thought I could not live any longer. At my request my husband got me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I commenced to take it. By the time I had taken the seventh bottle my health had returned and I began doing my washing and was a well woman. A time for three weeks I did all the work for eighteen boarders with no signs of my old trouble returning. Many have taken your medicine after seeing what it did for me. I would not take $100 and be where I was. You have my permission to use my name if it will aid anyone."—Mrs. SUSIE TEMPLETON, Hooper, Nebraska.

STANDARD MAN BREAKS UP FLEMMING RALLY; TROUBLES FROM STAGE

Moncton, N. B., June 7.—The Transcript today says:

"Hon. Premier Fleming was advertised to speak in one of R. C. Tait's potato warehouses (Shediac) last night. The notice calling the meeting made special reference to the fact that reserved seats would be provided for ladies, and ladies in large numbers took advantage of that offer.

"No one tearing the notice could have had any idea that the Hon. Premier was an average rate of 100 volumes a day, leading a comic opera or an acrobatic performance, but such this meeting turned out to be. The chief acrobat was no less a person than the premier's attendant or personal scribble for the St. John Standard. At a certain point in the proceedings he took a high dive, and falling from the stage landed head first in the midst of the Artisan band, which had been engaged for the occasion. Women shrieked and children called for their parents. The reporter's eyeglasses were gone and his face was considerably discolored.

"The premier, noticing the ominous event, muttered a few closing remarks, and the curtain rang down and the lights were put out. Many of the Tories were here quite superstitious, and they look upon the incident as a very foreboding omen for Fleming.

The British Museum Library increases its average rate of 100 volumes a day.

WEAK MEN

Take this Belt for what it is worth. Wear it till you are cured. Then pay me my price.

I have learned to put a lot of confidence in men, especially men who are weak, sickly and delicate, who have tried everything to restore their vitality and failed, who have lost faith in themselves and humanity generally because they have been led to try so many remedies which were no more use than so much water. These are the men I want to wear my Belt, and I will wait for my pay until they are cured. All I ask is that they give me reasonable security while the Belt is in their possession and use. If it doesn't cure you it costs you nothing. Is there anything more fair?

Ever been turned down?

You've got to have a stout heart, cheerfulness and a steady nerve to win—it's a business proposition.

You've got to have confidence in yourself before you can win the confidence of your fellowmen.

Study your faults—look them in the face—profit by your experience—overcome your weakness, and resolve to be a Man.

Stop worrying. Pull yourself together, hold up your head, look every man in the eye, strike out from the shoulder, and Dame Fortune will smile on you.

Cultivate cheerfulness; it pays. "Laugh and the world laughs with you."

Pick your friends. Shun the "go-easy" fellow as you would the plague. Get next to the leaders. Be a Man among Men.

Don't shunt yourself up and brood over your past mistakes; keep agoing! Every man should understand that physical strength, large muscles, strength and endurance come from animal electricity. My treatment will pump every part of the body full of that, and perfection will result.

It not only restores vigor and increases nerve power, but it cures rheumatism, pains in the back and kidneys, indigestion and constipation, and all troubles which result from weakness of any vital organs.

MR. WM. MAKAY, 244 Gloucester street, Ottawa, Ont., says my Belt cured him completely of Kidney and Bladder Troubles and Headaches.

MR. W. ATWELL, Bolton, Ont., says my Belt cured him of a bad case of Rheumatism, and he can hardly express his feelings in giving it enough praise.

RIVALRY IN PRODUCTION OF PASSION PLAY

Another Bavarian Village Seeks to Take Some of the Glory of Oberammergau

EPIDEMIC OF SUICIDE

The Tragedy of a Cafe—Social Reforms are Being Urged in City of Berlin—German News Letter to The Times

(Times Special Correspondence)

Berlin, May 25.—Although there are to be no performance at Oberammergau this year, travellers upon the continent will not be without an opportunity to see the Passion Play. The diminutive hamlet of Elz, in the Northern Tyrol, has suddenly again become famous as the scene of a celebrated Bavarian village, and a possible competitor for the first honors in the representation of the sacred drama.

Elz lies in the valley of the Inn, almost within a stone's throw of the Bavarian border. It is a typical little Tyrolean village, with a picturesque group of peasants' houses huddled about a disproportionately large church.

For centuries—since 1550, according to some estimates—a Passion Play has been given here at intervals of the last performance taking place ten years ago. As at Oberammergau, the actors are selected from the inhabitants of the town and its environs, but while Oberammergau has waxed rich and famous, Elz has remained almost unknown.

The Elz version of the sacred drama, while covering the same chain of episodes, and carrying the story down to the Crucifixion and the Resurrection, is different from the Oberammergau version, somewhat shorter, beginning at half-past ten in the morning and ending at six in the evening, with a two-hour midday intermission.

The orchestra in a crowded cafe on Unter den Linden was playing "Quand l'Amour Meurt" early the other morning when the crack of a revolver made the musicians throw down their instruments and the public spring in alarm from their places.

A young man had entered the cafe at one of the little tables, apparently enjoying the music and the gay scene. His foreign appearance and handsome face attracted attention, and it was noticed that he was constantly looking at the door as though expecting somebody.

Herz Derburg, secretary for the colonies, and several other prominent public men have started a propaganda committee for the purpose of carrying out social reforms in Berlin.

them with one-family houses of English type, or where that is not possible, with houses with few flats as possible, and not more than three stories high.

The town-planning at present practised is universally condemned. The present system is to make everywhere relatively broad streets and therefore high houses, enclosing courtyards, the sale and back parts of which are lightless and airless except in the lower story.

The present German system has produced thoroughly bad results from the hygienic and economic point of view. The flats are dear and therefore over-crowded. According to the committee's statement, 600,000 Great-Berliners live in flats in which every habitable room is occupied by from five to thirteen persons.

Greater Berlin only 250,000 flats have more than two rooms, whereas 300,000 have two rooms, and 400,000 only one room. The one-roomed flat, which usually contains also a separate kitchen, is therefore the predominant type occupied by the working-class family.

only 27.6 per cent of Berlin conscripts were accepted as fit for military service. The number of women school doctors and dentists in Germany is gradually increasing.

The latest women's trade in Germany to come under the protection of a semi-state board is the millinery trade. The board for regulating the conditions of hand work has recently investigated the conditions and regulations under which the millinery industry is carried on, and found them far from satisfactory.

Plans have been completed for the erection of an imposing temple of theosophy at Schwalbach, a well-known retreat near Munich. The temple is to serve the combined purposes of college, theatre, chapel, monastery and hospital.

Architecturally the new temple is to be an imposing creation, with two immense domes as the conspicuous feature. Music and drama portraying and idealizing theosophical doctrine, and to be performed regularly in the theatre section of the temple, which will have room for 900 persons.

The sportsman planning a hunting trip in East Africa has the choice of five steamer routes from Europe to Mombasa, the port of the protectorate, as follows:

The Union Castle Steamship line, direct; the Pennsylvania and Oriental Steamship Line with transshipment at Aden to the British India Line; the Messageries Maritimes, direct; the German East Africa Line and the Italian East Africa Line.

Consul Weddell writes from Zanzibar: "First class return fare from London amounts to about $250, while the cost from Mombasa to Nairobi, the starting point for shooting parties, is $28.35.

Practically everything except clothing is liable to an import duty of ten per cent, but one camera, one pair of field glasses and one telescope are admitted duty free.

Original invoices must be produced for goods whenever possible.

The license required by a traveller may be of four kinds, namely, a sportsman's license, costing 750 rupees ($245); a resident's license, at $40 a month, or $3 or a land-holder's license at $15.

Each of these licenses is good for one year, except the traveller's, which is valid for only one month. If a person holds a sportsman's or a resident's license and desires to kill one elephant, his license must be paid, and to kill two elephants $146, but if the second elephant is not obtained, a refund of $100 will be made.

Animals are classed as vermin, no license to kill them is required. The sportsman may hunt as generally he is hired or purchased in Nairobi. If hired, the expense is $10 to $10 a week, according to the value of the gun. Heavy and light cordite rifles, both new and used, can be bought, together with ammunition.

Practically any time of year will do for shooting in East Africa, but on account of the rains it is preferable to plan trips for periods between May and February.

A white guide, familiar with the language and customs, can usually be secured. The wages varying from $105 to $305 per month, with food, equipment, etc., furnished by the head of the expedition. Penalties or fines are usually taken, and they can be either hired or bought outright.

Roughly speaking, a good mule can be obtained for $80 and a pony for $100 up.

The expenses in the field, which include the hire of tents, necessary camp furniture, the cost of food, wages, outfit and rations of the necessary attendants, is reckoned at about $480 a month for each member of the expedition—that is to say, each sportsman. This sum does not include liquor, and it may easily be exceeded if luxuries are required. The expenses of a safari vary with the nature of the district visited, and if a foodless, waterless, or otherwise difficult territory is chosen, the cost is increased to a considerable extent.

The foregoing figures have reference to a safari starting from Nairobi. The average number of porters, per man, on two months' trip is about thirty. Travellers are advised to bring their own personal kit, boots, etc., battery and ammunition, and a good supply of field glasses, everything else can be purchased locally if desired. Several firms make a business of managing safaris expeditions.

Debt increase over $1,000,000. Deficit last year, $56,000. That's part of the Flemming government record.

SAVED FROM YEARS OF MISERY BY "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

Another Miracle Performed in Toronto By These Wonderful Tablets, Made Of Fruit Juices And Valuable Tonics

Another Proof That "Fruit-a-Tives" Is The Most Scientific Remedy In The World For All Kidney Troubles

"Fruit-a-tives" has never demonstrated more clearly its powers to heal the kidneys and cure all Kidney Troubles and Rheumatism than in this case of Prof. Davis. It simply goes to show that you should try "Fruit-a-tives" if other remedies have failed.

Prof. Davis is well known in the United States and Europe, having received many diplomas and certificates from foreign societies.

It is but natural that he would exercise due caution in making any statement to the public. The fact that he is willing to have his letter to the Fruit-a-tives Company appear in the papers, shows his confidence in the merits of "Fruit-a-tives" and his gratitude at being cured. Read Prof. Davis' letter.

PROF. J. F. DAVIS

565 CHURCH ST., TORONTO, DECEMBER 26th, 1911.

"I want to say to the people of Toronto and elsewhere, that 'Fruit-a-tives' is my only medicine, and has been for the past four years. Previous to that I was very much troubled with Rheumatism and Kidney Disease, and had taken many remedies as well as employing hot application of salt bags, etc., without getting satisfactory results.

Noticing the advertisements of 'Fruit-a-tives,' and your suggestion of eating plenty of fruit, I adopted this treatment altogether and, as my friends know, I am now and have been ever since taking 'Fruit-a-tives,' enjoying the best of health, and find it a pleasure to follow my vocation of Dancing and Department Instructor. You have my approval and authority for publishing this letter if you so desire.

Many of the leading citizens of Canada—the solid, substantial, well-known people in their respective cities and towns—have gladly testified to the great benefits they have received by taking 'Fruit-a-tives.' They are glad to be well and do not hesitate to say so in public print.

If you are suffering as Prof. Davis did, do as he did, and take 'Fruit-a-tives.' This wonderful fruit medicine will cure you. 50c a box, 2 for $2.00, trial size, 25c. At all dealers or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

MR. URE DEFENDS PARTY SYSTEM

Says Home Rule and Insurance Act Will Be Popular

THE STRIKE AGITATOR

Chairman of Reform League Blames Him for Many Troubles—Suffragettes Hold Sunday Demonstrations—King and Queen to Give Garden Party and a Ball

(Times' Special Correspondence)

London, May 26.—The joint dinner of the Eighty Club and the Cambridge University Liberal Club at Cambridge on Saturday evening was a great success. There was some capital speech-making. The lord-advocate was the guest of the evening, and delivered what he himself described as a plain and practical speech to his "young friends." The speech was in its basis a defence of the party system, and a panegyric of liberalism, with incidental references to the insurance act and home rule for Ireland to both of which Mr. Ure predicted that the country would eventually accord sympathetic appreciation.

Jerome K. Jerome followed with an address which, for novelty and originality, was the speech of the evening and created great enthusiasm. There was also at the present time among the lower orders, he said, a reprehensible spirit which was generally allied to an labor unrest. From Hodge, in his damp and dilapidated, but nevertheless picturesque, cottage, rearing his head on $6.50 a week, to the miner, the plutocrat of labor, who, by eight hours' labor a day, under conditions which might have inspired the poet, and at the present time of his life, earned as much as a month as would pay the annual subscription of a decent golf club, labor was moving in unrest.

Labor, to put it bluntly, was becoming a bit of a nuisance. The comfortable man was being irritated and annoyed, and something was to be done. The comfortable man—those persons with incomes of $2,500 or $3,000 a year—demanded that labor should be put in a safe place, and he could not help being reminded of the story of King Canute and his courtiers and the Atlantic ocean. The comfortable man demanded that he should be protected against labor combining for his own ends. It was rather pathetic, this sudden demand of the comfortable classes for an age of rest and security. The world was to be made into a safe place for the comfortable man. The wage-earner must be content to submit to the fluctuations of the labor market, but the comfortable man's console was to be made a fixed quantity.

He wanted to know what was the meaning of this sudden demand on the part of those who used to talk so bravely about the battle of the strong, the survival of the fittest, God helps those who help themselves, and so on. But, unfortunately, the laboring man was beginning to help himself, and so that law was not so popular as it used to be. They used to hear a good deal about might being right, but the comfortable man of today seemed to have a sudden revulsion of feeling in favor of the principles of labor law. He was very much afraid those estimable persons who were demanding that labor should come from the front, and that the world should become a comfortable place where the comfortable man might rest, were in for a bitter disappointment.

Labor had got to be considered as well as capital. He himself regarded labor unrest as the healthiest sign of the times. If the laboring classes showed no signs of discontent, that was a bad sign. It would mean that human vitality was flowing to its end. He was not afraid of labor, at whose moderation he marvelled. Social revolution had got to come, and it was the duty of every man with brains in his head to help to prepare the way for it. It might come upon them when they did not come, armed with anger and hatred and envy and unreason, but with promise in his hand.

Another Splendid Cure by Dodd's Kidney Pills

R. Moulson, Whom Two Doctors Treated, Finds Relief and Permanent Cure in Dodd's Kidney Pills

Surette Island, Yarmouth Co., N. S., June 7.—(Special.)—Reuben Moulson, a well known resident here, is telling his neighbors of his cure from a severe attack of Kidney Disease which kept him in a state of pain and suspense for two months and defied the efforts of two doctors who were treating him.

"My trouble started with a cold," Mr. Moulson says, "My muscles would cramp and I had a very heavy discharge. My head ached, and I had a tired, nervous feeling while specks of light flashed out of my eyes."

"I suffered in this way for over two months and was treated by two doctors, but they didn't seem to be able to do much for me. Then I started to take Dodd's Kidney Pills and they helped me almost at once. Six boxes cured me."

Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure the Kidneys. Cured Kidneys strain all the impurities out of the blood. That makes pure blood and good health.

COMING TO ST. JOHN

(Sussex Record)

Manager George W. Hoegg, of the Sussex Packing Company, has resigned his position here and will take over the management of the newly formed Kings County Produce Company. Mr. Hoegg will find it necessary to leave Sussex and will in future be a resident of St. John. He will take charge of the new company's operations and will act as their sales manager. Mr. Hoegg came to Sussex some years ago and first engaged in the packing business, which he learned with his father, the late D. W. Hoegg, of Portland, Me. Mr. Hoegg had charge of the New Brunswick operations of his father's firm and later engaged in business at Sheffield, Fredericton, and then at Sussex. After working here for some time, Mr. Hoegg joined forces with the Sussex Packing Company and has been associated with that concern ever since. He has always been a progressive citizen and has been a general favorite. Mr. Hoegg has been an ardent worker in the Sussex Institute and was vice-president of that organization for several years. He is well known in Masonic circles and will be missed by the craft. Mrs. and Miss Hoegg have also been local favorites and their friends will hear of their departure with regret. Miss Hoegg has been a valued member of the Chalmers Presbyterian Church, and her loss will be felt by the members of that church. The family will carry with them nothing but good wishes from a host of friends here.

The Nobodies

It has been noticed that the committee of the new club called the "Nobodies" has decided to restrict the membership of women to those who have passed the age of twenty-five, whereas men are admitted at twenty-one. The reason is that women under twenty-five cannot, in the opinion of the committee, be held to have arrived at the years of discretion, and that the club cannot accept any responsibility for them or for their action prior to that age.

The proposal, which was unanimously agreed to by the committee, was brought forward and strongly recommended by the ladies of that body, who considered that in a mixed organization of this kind,

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

Mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system, even entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is tenfold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. It is the only Catarrh Cure on the market that is sold by druggists, price 50c per bottle. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

with a serious aim and object, so one could be admitted who might not be old enough to realize her responsibilities towards herself and her fellow members. It is also noteworthy that in most bills for conferring the suffrage on women twenty-five is usually regarded as their coming of age, so far as discretion is concerned.

The Aliens Act is not keeping the undesirable out of the country. From a blue book recently issued, it appears that expulsion orders were made against this class last year to the number of 283—all criminals—of whom 264 were London cases, 107 from the rest of England and Wales, and nineteen from Scotland. Only ten per cent. of the 2,194 aliens before the courts in 1911 were recommended for expulsion, though many of those who escaped deportation were recommended for serious offences. The report makes the significant statement that "if the country is to obtain still greater relief from the alien criminal, it can only be by the courts increasing the proportion of cases in which they recommend expulsion." The alien is generally a past master in craft, and the alien act has many loopholes which assist him in circumventing the provisions of the measure.

London, where a German society has taken very firm root, is now to have a French club, with permanent premises, a well-stocked reading-room, and a library devoted to modern French literature. The formation of which the French minister for education is showing an active interest. There are to be two classes of membership—reading-room membership and active membership. For the latter class there are to be "breast meetings" in French, of an informal nature, and it is hoped to arrange a series of lectures on French subjects open to all members. Though the club is primarily intended for university men, membership will not necessarily be confined to them. The formation of the club may be taken as a sign of a growing cosmopolitanism and increasing interest in modern languages in Oxford.

Ex-Warden Branscombe of Kings County Gets Enough of The West

(Sussex Record)

Ex-Warden A. B. Branscombe has returned to his first love, having just completed the purchase of the John Morton property at Penobscot. Mr. Branscombe was one of the most prosperous farmers of the German section and served for a number of years as a member of the county council and was warden for one term. Several years ago he went west and after listening to the stories of the wealth which grows on the prairie in that direction, he sold his farm here and went to Manitoba. Now he is back in Kings and will in all probability remain right here for the rest of his days. The west was not what it was represented to be, and after he had been frozen several times last winter on the prairie, Mr. Branscombe commenced to think that the old east was not the worst place after all. The Record expressed its regret when Mr. Branscombe left here as it meant a good citizen taken from the county. It is with equal pleasure that we welcome him to his native county. And Mr. Branscombe is only one of the many who will later do likewise.

(Record Editorial)

Still further arrivals are announced from the west in the persons of former residents of Kings county, who, after trying out conditions as they are on the prairie have concluded that the "old home" is the best place after all. The Record has always been a firm believer in this result. Men who have enjoyed the comforts that are to be found in the average Kings county home are slow to content themselves under the discomforts to be encountered on prairie farms and they are already tiring of the situation out there. The spring of 1912 brought out a few of such settlers to this section of the province and the future will see the flood swelling until it will assume most gratifying proportions. The movement from east to west has long since touched the crest of the wave and is now receding. One of these fine days we will awake to the fact that our sons and daughters are coming back in us in hundreds. Wait until you see us next year.

Make the Blood Rich and You Gain in Weight

Blood is Thin in the Spring and Fails to Nourish the System—Headaches, Sleeplessness, Indigestion Disappear When Blood is Enriched.

Loss of flesh and weight is, after all, the most positive proof that the body is not properly nourished. That the blood is thin and watery is also indicated by the symptoms of nervous exhaustion, such as headaches, sleeplessness, indigestion, irritability and lack of vim and energy.

Spring is the most trying time of the whole year to persons subject to thin, watery blood or anemia. The artificial life of winter, breathing impure air and eating unnatural, highly-seasoned food, leaves the blood thin, watery and vitiated in the spring.

If you know Dr. Chase's Nerve Food you do not need to struggle along for weeks or months in languor and weakness. This food cure contains in condensed and easily assimilated form the elements which go to form rich blood. The nerves are nourished back to vigor, the action of the heart is strengthened, digestion improves and new, firm flesh and tissue is added to the body.

Try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food this spring and you will be delighted with the benefits obtained. By noting your increase in weight each week you can prove that the body is being rounded out to good proportions.

Enriched Blood, Improved Color

Miss Cynthia Hutchinson, Hancockville, B.C., writes—"I feel it my duty to tell what a great friend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has been to me. I would have written sooner, but wanted to be sure I was thoroughly cured. Before using this medicine my nervous system was so completely run down that my friends as well as myself thought I could never get better. All medicines failed to help me."

"A trial of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food benefited me, and I used altogether seven boxes. At the end of a month people scarcely knew me. I had improved so much. The blood was enriched, color improved, new flesh added and I got strong and well. Several of my friends have profited by my experience and received great benefit from this treatment."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

The use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food brings about that condition of the blood which is the very foundation of good health, and which enables the system to throw off disease.

Nearly everybody requires just such help in the spring as can be best supplied by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. HE IS GRATEFUL.
Frank Foster, who was in the Isolation Hospital with smallpox, was released yesterday, cured, and sends the following expression of thanks to his matron:—
"Frank Foster has been quarantined at the Isolation Hospital for thirty-four days, and I am being dismissed today, cured, thanks to the careful nursing of Miss Murphy. She takes every precaution to keep the disease from spreading and is the only person in contact with you until you are cured."
(Sgd.) FRANK FOSTER.

THE CROPS.
The heavy rainfall of the last ten days or more has greatly retarded the work of seeding amongst the farmers in practically all sections of the surrounding country. The rain has soaked the soil and softened it so that it cannot be worked until a few days' sun have wrought a change, and in places where seeding had already been done some of the seeds were either rotted or else washed out. While the lack of sun and abundance of rain have had a deteriorating effect upon the table vegetables they have not hampered the growth, but the grass has sprung up remarkably well and there is much promise of a bumper hay crop. Plenty of sun, strong and warm, is needed by the farmers to aid vegetation, as there has been enough rain for a while, at least.

WEDDINGS.
On Wednesday afternoon the marriage of Gilford Gordon, of Upper Gagetown, and Miss Lucy Hersey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hersey of the same place, was performed by Rev. Neil McLaughlin in the Frederickton Methodist parsonage.

On Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Merrithew in Frederickton Mr. Lorne McPherson, of Douglas, N. B., was united in marriage to Mrs. Agnes Edwards, also of that place. Rev. Geo. W. Foster, of Lincoln, performed the ceremony.

The wedding of W. S. Stevenson, of Woodstock, and Miss Lizzie Aiken, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Aiken, of Hanwell Road, will take place on June 11.

Friends in Sackville have received cards announcing the marriage of Miss Mary Grace Estabrooks, daughter of Mrs. Willard Estabrooks of Sumnerland, B. C., to Russell Williams of the same town. The wedding took place on May 27. The bride has many friends in Sackville. She is an M. L. A. of Acadia.

HE WAS HELD UP

To be held up by several masked men on the dark road near Westfield was the exciting experience that a local young man, who is summing up at Westfield, had one night this week. The bandits, however, were not of the Jesse James or Alkali Ike brand, but merely some companions of his, who wished to play a trick on him. The young man, who is an employe of one of the local banks, is staying at the hotel in Westfield. On Sunday night last he togged himself up in a nice pair of flannel trousers and white shirtwaist, and journeyed down the road several miles. His companions learned of this and, getting masks and a pair of handcuffs, they went down the road to await his return. Along about midnight, he with the flannels was seen dusting along the road in the direction of the hotel. When he reached the place where the "hold-up" men were hiding, he was astounded to hear the command "throw up your hands." Not knowing whence the command he obeyed and was at once seized. The handcuffs were placed on his wrists and he was disrobed of his flannels, and given a pair of pyjamas to put on. In working the "dierobing act," one of the masks of the "hold, had men" fell off and the light was up. The young fellow was rather frightened, however, and returned to the hotel pouring maledictions on his companions. He vows that he will not stay visiting again at such a late hour without having a club or some other article of defence with him.

IS SEYBOLD IN TOWN AS BALL SCOUT?

Former Big Leaguer Sees Men at Work—Likely to Umpire This Afternoon's Game

Hint: There's a baseball scout in town. The name of the mysterious one is R. O. Seybold and he comes from Pittsburgh. Although he would not admit the fact, it is understood on pretty good authority that he is here in the interest of the Boston club, and that his mission is to look over some of the recruits that have been signed up by the Marston management. Mr. Seybold arrived in the city on the Boston express on the same train that brought Joe Tarbell and George Winters to St. John. He was on the Marston grounds yesterday afternoon and saw the game between the Marston Alerts and the Woodstock team. Last night he was seen in conversation with Joe Tarbell, the Marston pitcher, and it is whispered that he was endeavoring to sign Joe with the Cleveland team.

Mr. Seybold played for many years with the Philadelphia Athletics, and during his time with that team was a great player. He played left field, and figured in the lineup of the Athletics in many of their big games. In 1907 he played with the New York Giants for the world's championship and was one of Connie Mack's best players. He has been out of the game for several years, but has managed several of the smaller teams in the states. This year he played for a while with the Richmond, Virginia, team in the United States League.

To a Times reporter last night Mr. Seybold said that he was just touring around the country on a holiday trip. He said he would attend the game this afternoon, and in speaking of yesterday's game he said that he was greatly pleased with the showing made by the local team. After leaving here he expects to look over some of the New England teams. He is well acquainted with Geo. Winters, the new playing manager of the local team, having played against him in the American League, when Winters was playing with the big teams, Jack Combs, Tip O'Neill, Larry McLean and all the other New England players who have been playing with the fast ones during the last few years are also close friends of his.

No doubt both the Marston and Woodstock players will do their best this afternoon, for there is nothing like being signed up and given a tryout by the big leaguers.

RAPPAHANNOCK HAS NARROW ESCAPE FROM AN ICEBERG

Steamer Bound Here From London—Many Bergs Reported—Another Titanic Victim Found

St. John's, Nfld., June 8—The steamer Rappahannock, bound for Halifax and St. John from London, was sighted yesterday by one body of an iceberg. It is customary for wireless reports from the Rappahannock, bound for Halifax and St. John from London, to be sent to the Maritime Wireless office in St. John's. The steamer was proceeding through the fog on Tuesday when an immense berg was sighted, and the steamer's course was altered in time to prevent striking. Several incoming steamers report large numbers of icebergs about 200 miles east of Cape Race.

PASTORS FOR TWO CHURCHES IN CITY

Some Matters to Come Before Methodist Conference Next Week

When the New Brunswick and P. E. Island conference is being held next week in Fredericton, opening on Thursday morning with the ministerial session, there will be many interesting matters to be dealt with, and among those of local concern will be the appointment of pastors to two local churches, Portland Methodist and Centenary. There will be several other churches to be supplied with pastors in other parts of the province. The term of Rev. Dr. Flanders in Centenary pulpit is to expire this year but it is just possible that the conference may grant an extension in his case so that he will be allowed to remain another year, in compliance with the request of the congregation. While he has accepted the pastorate of the First Methodist church in London, Ontario, he is not due there until June, 1913, which leaves a year at his disposal. It is customary for Methodist pastors to remain only four years in the one church but an extension has sometimes been granted. For the pulpit left vacant in Portland church by the removal of Rev. H. D. Starr, to the west, it is expected that the next pastor will be Rev. Henry Pierce of Florenceville, N. His name will come before the conference next week. Rev. Mr. Roe, late of the Primitive Methodist church in England, has been acting as assistant pastor in Carnarthen street Methodist church, and it is probable that the matter of his being fully received into the district will be acted upon at the convention.
