The Opposition Policy.

The following resolution, which was moved in the House of Commons by Sir John Macdonald, represents the commercial policy of the Opposition—"That this House is of opinion that the welfare of Canada requires the adoption of a national policy, which by a judicious readjustment of the Tariff, will benefit and foster the Agricultural, the Mining, the Manufacturing and other interests of the Dominion; that such a policy will retain in Canada thousands of our fellow countrymen, now obliged to expatriate themselves in search of the employment denied them at home; will restore prosperity to our struggling industries, now so sadly depressed; will prevent Canada from being made a sacrifice market; will encourage and develop an active inter-provincial trade and moving (as it ought to do) in the direction of a reciprocity of Tariffs with our neighbors, so far as the varied interests of Canada may demand, will procure for this country, eventually, a reciprocity of trade."

Half-a-Reporter.

SENATOR MACPHERSON recently paid a visit to the St. John's district which he formerly represented in Parliament.
He was everywhere received with demonstrations of good will by the people. He was the recipient of several most complimentary addresses, and was greeted with bands of music and other tokens of popular favor. It will thus be seen that where he is best known he is highly appreciated.

The reception accorded to him by his old constituents is a good certificate for those of the people of Canada who do not know him personally. The fact that Senator Brown and Premier Mackenzie are expected to go to Bruce for the purpose of encountering him, and if possible, "draw his fire" is of itself strong evidence that he is recognized as a more than ordinarily able exponent of public affairs.

In his reply to one of the addresses presented to him, "he strongly urged upon the young men to watch with special care the administration of the finances of the Dominion, no matter what Government might be in power."

This has been his special forte in the Senate, and perhaps both from the intimate knowledge he has acquired of Dominion finances, and from the independent position he has ever taken in respect to political parties, there is no man in public life in the Dominion whose utterances ought to have more weight with the public than Senator Macpherson. In a speech which he delivered in the Senate just before Parliament was prorogued, he dwelt upon the state of the finances of the Dominion with even more than his usual vigor.

On that occasion he so fully exposed the fallacy of the Government supporters, who pointed to the Estimates as a proof that the Government were economically inclined—that that line of defence has been completely abandoned by the Government organs. He said the Estimates were merely an approximation to the probable expenditure.
It ought to be a close approximation if the Government were really qualified to manage the finances of the country.
Unfortunately for themselves and their argument, the Government had largely exceeded their estimate. For the financial year ending June 30th, 1877, the expenditure had exceeded the Estimates by no less a sum than $147,896. (During the current year the expenditure had been more than double that sum, the Gov't largely overstepping the authority to expend given them by Parliament.
One way and another the Government in the session of 1877, underestimated the expenditure by no less a sum than $2,734,000.

Remember the Stand.

SENATOR MACPHERSON, trying to show he was wrong in his statement, but only succeeded in showing that Mr. Macpherson's view of the Estimates was the correct one. And Mr. Macpherson's conclusion was that "there is an absence of that regard for accuracy (on the part of the Government) which ought to characterize public men, and which, in former years, did characterize the public men of the country."

In discussing the trade policy of the Government Mr. Macpherson said—

"Has the Government attempted to do anything for the prosperity of the country?
Was there ever so much necessity for a wise policy on the part of the Government?
Who but the present Government doubts that it was in their power to promote the prosperity of the country? But they claim that they are helpless. In fact they have no policy, and therefore there has been a feeling of uncertainty as to what policy they might adopt; the people have lacked confidence in the Government, and this has had an evil effect on the trade and industries of the country. The depression while this Government has been in office has been unexampled. I do not hold them responsible for the whole of it by any means, but they have done nothing to mitigate it. The distress of the country has been unprecedented; the insolencies have been altogether without parallel, and if they are diminished in number I fear it is very much for the cause which checks great conflagrations—the want of material to consume or destroy. This is the condition of the country. It is exceedingly distasteful to me to speak of the Government as I have done. I should much rather, if I could, hold them up to commendation, and speak of them as a Government which once existed in England was described—as 'the Government of all the Islands' but unfortunately I can not do that. On the contrary, while there may be some men of ability in it, yet the Government has questionably exhibited a marvellous want of capacity—an extraordinary failure to recognize the responsibility which rests upon the rulers of this country, and an inability to seize and grapple with the great interests of the Dominion. To such an extent has this been the case that I very much fear the history of the future will speak of this administration as 'the Government of the Incapables.'"

In this association the Government with the depression experienced by the country, Senator Macpherson speaks with that fullness of authority which belongs to a man who has studied every part of the Dominion for himself, and whose business shrewdness none can successfully impeach.

Proceeding to grapple with the subject of finances, Mr. Macpherson shows that when the country asked for the "bread" of good measures during five years, they got only the "stone" of enormously increased expenditure.
Let us gather a few of his facts. The annual controllable expenditure was increased up to the end of June 30th, 1877, by the immense sum of $2,300, 000. To illustrate this fact and bring it home to the dull understanding Mr. Macpherson says: "If you will capitalize this increased annual expenditure of $2,300,000 at 5 per cent, it will give you as the produce the immense sum of $46,000,000; that is the increased annual controllable expenditure incurred by the present Government is equal to the interest at 5 per cent upon $46,000,000."

This is a startling fact to begin with.
But Senator Macpherson says: "In addition to this the public debt has increased since 1873 by no less a sum than $44,932,400. If you add this to the capital represented by the increased annual controllable expenditure of $46,000,000, you will find that the increased burden imposed upon the people by the present Government amounts to the stupendous sum of $90,932,400."

Another fact which Mr. Macpherson produces from his store of hard solid facts for people to ponder over, is, that owing to the bungling of the Government in its plan of saving loans, the sum of $3,867,086 has never been received, though the country has paid interest upon that sum just as if we had obtained it.

For all this enormously increased burden which the present Government has placed upon us, what has the country received? Senator Macpherson's statement is: "A large proportion of it is sunk in unconnected and widely separated sections of the Pacific Railway, which will be useless and unused for years to come; in piles of corroding steel rails; in unnecessary and inglorious expenditure upon buildings in the North West."

Still another fact pointed out by Mr. Macpherson is, that the burden placed upon the people has been increasing at the rate of one million of dollars a year; "annually every year," as another Senator would say, the burdens of the people are increasing one million of dollars.

The conclusion which Mr. Macpherson reaches from a consideration of this enormous increase, and of the annually recurring deficits, is that "if the Government should get a new lease of power (which I think, in the interest of the country, it is sincerely to be desired they should not get), they will have to resort to a system of taxation which will burden this country beyond anything that can be imagined now."

"TAXATION OF THE DOMINION." The concluding sentence of Mr.
Macpherson's expose should burn it self into the public mind so deep as to be smoothed over by all the Government slave employed for the purpose.

"I wish I could induce the Government to realize the necessity there is for economy, and the burden that taxation is becoming to the people, who are poorer than they ever were before. They are making less money, and thus are less able to pay taxes, while they are called upon to contribute more revenue than they ever did before."

That is, in a nutshell, "the results of Grid rule during five years. That is the prospect which one of the ablest, calmest, and most impartial of our Senators sees in the future for us if Grid rule is continued."

Rev. Mr. Penreath on Church of England Missions.

At a general missionary meeting in connection with the Church of England, held in St. Paul's Church room, St.
John, on Tuesday evening—Lieut.
Governor Tilley in the chair—His Honour delivered the opening address, and was followed by Rev. Mr. Penreath.
We quote from the Telegraph: The Rev. G. W. Hill, of Halifax, being unable to be present, the Rev. E.
S. Penreath took his place. He said he labored under a double disadvantage.
Even a third disadvantage was his,
for he was introducing an unpopular subject. He would only bring the subject of Foreign Missions to the notice of his hearers. Men shrank from the trouble was at a distance. Of the $35,000,000 of Christians in the world, few ever gave anything for evangelizing the heathen. Socialism and communism were assuming an importance which was little thought of a few years ago. Men see the world is out of joint, and men think it can be righted by human means, but God has ordained differently. Questions of importance are pressing home upon us here, in our own diocese, but our duty is to save one, at least, of the $16,000,000 of heathens who are dying in ignorance. If we say that we must evangelize this Dominion before we go outside of it, we are cramped and mistaken in our duty. If we care as much to extend the domain of Christianity as we do to extend our trade, our results would be infinitely magnified.
We are commanded to go into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature. Foreign missions are not a failure. God has promised that his kingdom shall prevail. Christ's life seemed to be a failure, yet we know it to be the grandest life that was ever lived. We have an answer to the prayers of God's people in behalf of Missionary work in the wonderful revival of God's work in India. The help that was sent there during the famine has convinced the people that the sympathy extended to them was begotten of the Christianity of the people who assisted them. The first Christian was named in derision, but now it was the highest title that could be bestowed upon any man. Christians properly named do not confuse their efforts, but their spirit is a true missionary spirit. If we believe in truth that Christ is in our hearts, we would desire to extend the name we love.

Catholic T. J. Union.

The Freeman contains the following reference to the Seventh Annual Convention of the Catholic T. J. Union of New Brunswick:
The delegates representing the various societies connected with the C. T. A.
Union, (New Brunswick, assembled in Weston on Monday afternoon. At 8 o'clock in the evening they assembled at St.
Gertrude's Hall and held a preliminary session. The number was as follows: Officers, 9; Local Deputies, 11; Delegates, 35. The President called the Convention to order at 8.15 o'clock. After prayer by the Rev. Father Murray, the President addressed the Convention in a very well chosen speech. The Local Deputies with the Corresponding Secretary were appointed a Committee on Credentials, and retired to examine and report thereon.

SUNDAY EXCURSIONS.

Now that the thing has been started, it would not be well to have an excursion each Sunday during the hot weather. There are very many who would like to go, but the introduction of these excursions which are so prevalent in other places. It is not by any means unusual to see in the harbours of Boston and New York steamers filled with excursionists who go to the smoke and dust of the cities if only once a week. The vast crowds who went from Newcastle and Chatham last Sunday, is sufficient evidence that it would soon become popular. Suppose a committee would arrange with the owners of one of the steamers at a specified rate, charging all parties desirous of a sail a reasonable sum, the proceeds of which would be applied to some charitable purpose. One of the Clergymen might conduct service on board, and with a good organ and choir the affair would be very attractive. Great numbers by this means would be reached who otherwise do not get within the sound of the organ trumpet. Of course this would involve for a time the closing of the Sunday schools and the suspension of the usual Sunday services, but these are not the days of the Puritans and Covenanters, the times have changed and we must change with the times. The only difficulty that stands in the way is the danger of an interference from an Ecclesiastical body who are very strict in regard to the observance of the Sabbath, and who protest to the Government against a former desecration although for the purpose of dedicating a church, probably on the ground that such things ought not to be tolerated even in the name of religion.

A WORKING MAN.

Newcastle, July 8, 1878.

Shippegan, July 6th, 1878.

To the Editors of the Advocate.

Sir.—The Freeman has been commencing the "Sackville Border" for raising the religious cry and speaking of intolerance, fanaticism &c., which it condemns. I agree with you that men and think the persons who raised the cry deserved the defeat which they received. I would like to ask the Editor of the Freeman a question. In the late local election was it right for a priest to tell his people that two of the candidates were Catholics and one of them was a Protestant and then tell them from the altar that they would not be doing right if they voted for a Protestant. Would it be right if that same priest stood at the polls and gave ballots to the Catholics and I know where this was done and it was not in Carleton either. There is one thing however I must say, and that is that intelligent Catholics are very much opposed to their clergy interfering in politics.

However I suppose it will always be so in Gloucester, until such papers as the Freeman which condemn raising the religious cry in Westmorland should condemn a similar cry in Gloucester. Perhaps that wouldn't suit the Freeman however.

Yours truly,
EQUAL RIGHTS.

The People's Candidate

For the Commons.

HON. PETER MITCHELL.

THE CANVASS.

Mr. Mitchell has been here since Friday last, and short though the time has been, he feels assured that his prospects are excellent for the coming election. We are of the opinion that notwithstanding the strong canvass now being made by his avowed opponent, who feels that he is, in a desperate strait, our old and well tried representative will be returned by an overwhelming majority. We have no doubt whatever what the result will be. To send a man to Ottawa who has never had any political schooling, who has not even had the advantage of spending one term at Fredericton to acquire a respectable smattering of parliamentary practice, in preference to an old and faithful politician like Mr. Mitchell, whose name is associated with so many public measures which have assisted in the development of the country, is an idea too absurd to be entertained for a single moment. As well might a mill owner place his mill in the hands of an inexperienced foreman, and expect that things would work satisfactorily. The Govt. will do all in his power to defeat Mr. Mitchell, but they will miserably fail. In the present state of affairs in Canada, the people want men of experience to perform the duties of legislators, and in this County Mr. Mitchell is THE PEOPLE'S CANDIDATE.

St. Mark's, Douglastown.

Before referring to the opening services in connection with the dedication of this Church to Divine worship on Sunday last, we should refer briefly to the building &c. In September, 1875, the corner stone of the Church was laid by the Hon. R. H. Hatcher, with the usual ceremonies, in the presence of several Clergymen and a large assemblage. The land on which the building stands was generously presented by the above named gentleman. The building presents an exceedingly neat and symmetrical appearance, and is a credit to all who assisted in its construction. It rests upon a well proportioned tower, belfry and spire, the gilded weather vane being about 90 feet from the ground. The interior of the Church, which is 52x74 feet, presents a neat appearance. The pews, of segmental form, look very neat with their walnut finishing, and furnish seating accommodation for about 300 persons. The pulpit is very tastefully designed and painted, and is lighted by two windows in the sides of the alcove in the rear. The choir occupy a raised platform immediately opposite the pulpit.

The building was erected under the superintendence of the following Committee—Messrs. Alex. Jessiman, Jas. Henderson, Hugh Lamont. The builder is Mr. John McLean. The painting was done by Mr. H. Payle, and the plastering by Mr. Burbridge, of Chatham, all of whom deserve credit for the excellent manner in which the work has been performed. The cost is between four and five thousand dollars, most of which has been paid.

THE DEDICATION.

On Sunday last the opening services were held. There were present the following clergymen—The Pastor, Mr. Stewart, who is performing a short engagement at Caledonia; Rev. James Anderson, Newcastle; Rev. S. Houston, Bathurst; Rev. T. Munro, Newcastle; Rev. Mr. McLean, Chatham.

The building was crowded when the service commenced at 3.30 p. m.

The Pastor occupied the pulpit.

All present, led by an efficient choir, sang the 122nd Psalm.

The Rev. Mr. Munro then read from 1st Kings, 8th chap., commencing at the 22nd verse, being Solomon's Prayer at the dedication of the Temple.

Prayer was then offered up by Rev. Mr. McLean.

The congregation sang the 122nd Psalm—second version—13th to 17th.

Rev. S. Houston read the 4th chapter of Ecclesiastes, being an exhortation to unity.

Prayer by Rev. Mr. Anderson.

The sermon was delivered by the last named. He took for his text, 84th Psalm, to the 8th verse. The discourse gave evidence of deep thought, showing the progress which had been made in Church Architecture as the Light of the Gospel became more generally diffused. After referring to the plain and in many instances unsightly edifices erected in the olden times, as compared with the beautiful Temple at Jerusalem, the Rev. gentleman expressed the opinion that the taste displayed in the erection of beautiful and comfortable places of worship was owing, in a great measure, to the deepening and widening of the stream of piety. He hoped that this handsome Church, which was an evidence of the liberality and good taste of the congregation, would be an emblem of the spiritual temple which Christ was building up in the community. In dedicating the House to the Service of God, and to the Worship of Christ our Saviour, he hoped the House would be a Light in Douglastown to guide many into the paths of peace and eternal happiness. The preacher closed an excellent discourse with the lines commencing—

"Within these walls may peace abound."

A portion of the 132nd Psalm was then sung, which was followed by prayer.

The collection was then taken up, the offerings amounting to $100.

The 54th Par. was then sung, after which the Benediction was pronounced, and the service was at an end.

The Advocate conveys persons to and from Newcastle and Chatham free of charge. There was in consequence a large number of persons on the grounds, many of whom were unable to obtain admittance into the Church.

The weather here is delightful, and is very hot. Sunday last was an excessively warm day.

TEMPERANCE.

The meeting of the D. T. R. Club was attended by about three hundred persons. After prayer by Rev. Mr. Munro and an opening temperance address by the choir, the Rev. James Anderson gave an address, which was principally devoted to a description of his recent very pleasant trip to Hamilton and return. Miss Agnes Marshall and Miss Annie Gifford sang. "In her little bed we laid her." Mr. P. McLean who was called to the platform, read two interesting temperance stories, concluding with the following remarks: "Mr. J. J. Anselow sang. "Her bright smile haunts me still." A few moments were then devoted to singing the pledge, singing which the choir sang. "Give me the Wings of faith, &c." Mr. Fox gave an amusing reading on Common School Education, after which Miss Barbara Brown, assisted by G. F. Bourne and J. J. Anselow, sang "Gone before."

Reports of Officers for quarter just ended were then read. That of the Secretary showed that during the quarter thirty persons had signed the pledge, making the total membership 850.

The Treasurer's Report showed that after the payment of rent and other incidental expenses, as well as $100 on account of piano, there remained a balance of $122.

The National Anthem was then sung, during which a number of persons left the hall. This is a practice which we hope will not be continued—it is certainly an act of disrespect to our Queen, although perhaps not considered as such by the majority of those who leave the hall, and who are not so conscientious.

We do hope the friends generally will accept these remarks in the good spirit in which they are offered. As Englishmen, and descendants of Englishmen, we do not feel that we are in any way disrespectful to our beloved Queen when we whole world degrades her.

Campbellton Items.

THE GOVERNOR GENERAL.—On Thursday last, our town was visited by a visit from His Excellency, the Governor General, attended by the Countess of Dufferin. The distinguished party have been fishing on the Restigouche and its tributaries for some time. They came down to Campbellton in the "palace car" by special train, and returned, after spending five or six hours here, in the same manner. As the visit was quite unexpected to our people, no demonstration of loyalty was made to our talented administrator.

BUILDING IMPROVEMENTS.—Building operations are still in progress, and are very materially improving our town. Messrs. Wm. &amp; Isaac Doherty have a fine dwelling house in course of erection on Oxford street. Dr. Balcom, not satisfied with contributing a building of no mean proportions to our town, is erecting the foundation of another, which when completed and crowned with its Mansard roof, as the Doctor proposes, will demonstrate to strangers that we are not behind the age.

The Masonic Lodge of this town also propose erecting a large two story building, probably of brick. It would be premature for me to state its size, but it will undoubtedly be of large dimensions. Noticing these improvements to the town, it is not surprising that a generous rivalry is going on in this respect, each one vying with his neighbour, to add to the beauty of the town. May the spirit of emulation become extensively general.

BRICK YARD.—A brick yard has been opened on the Creek River, which will doubtless produce a good article. There is every facility about the neighbourhood of Campbellton for such a work, and the clay is very abundant, and of the best quality.

SIDE WALK, &amp;c.—A side-walk of plank, about five feet in width, is now being laid from the town to the Railroad Station. This will be a great accommodation to pedestrians, and will perhaps serve as a sample for other walks in the town. A shed 300 feet long is being erected by the Intercolonial Railway authorities at the branch railway, which ran to the wharf. Its purpose is to afford shelter to its snow-ploughs, which are left at Campbellton.

FISHERIES.—The salmon fishing in the tide way is now at an end, although at Head of Tide they are still obtained in large numbers. At "Big Point" the establishment of Geo. Handow, Esq., M. P., does a large business in packing these fish in cans.

The refrigerating process has almost superseded the old method of salting, being about the only one which prepares the fish in the first mentioned manner.

ANTIQUITY.—I present to your readers a copy of an antiquated document showing to me by its title, the "Grand White Chief" of the Restigouche Indians.

By right of authority which I have received from the Restigouche Indians as their "Grand White Chief," I hereby appoint Nicola Kepin, a Lieutenant of the "Globe" Commission, to be in charge of the Chiefs, Warriors, and young men assembled this day in Council at Mission Point, where our great Council fire is burning.

Behold my name and seal this 9th day of November, A. D. 1841.

H. D. O. HALLAM, Esq., Captain, 60th Regiment, and Grand White Chief of the Restigouche Indians.

This commission was written on parchment in the Indian and English languages. Even if I had prepared a copy of the commission in the first language, I am afraid my penmanship would not reproduce it, as the characters are so intricate. Nicola and his squaw are in town to-day soliciting charity.

BAZAAR.—I observe by posters scattered throughout the town, that we are to have a Bazaar on the 18th inst., under the auspices of the Presbyterian Congregation. From the well known ability of our Campbellton ladies to make such an entertainment successful, we can assure all patronizing the bazaar a good time.

Last night the "Sagar Loth" mountain presented a grand sight to the eyes of people, for many miles round. During the day it had been visited by some boys, who conceived what a brilliant spectacle would be presented by the mountain on fire, carried their idea into effect, and last night we had the benefit. The fire in circular form surrounded the summit, and fed by the dry trees and shrubs flamed into the air. The indirect benefit will be that blue berries will be very cheap next summer.

I am glad to note that my reference to a change of shoreline finds an echo down the Country. Notwithstanding that the two members for our County are in Dalnoulie the Parish of Addington which was greatly instrumental in electing them, does not apprehend any factions opposition from them in carrying out the scheme mentioned.

The weather here is delightful, and is very hot. Sunday last was an excessively warm day.

BOURGOIS.

Campbellton, July 6th, 1878.

SHARP DEALING.—On Thursday last a man who said he belonged to Tracadie, appeared in town, and offered for sale. The animal was sold to Mr. James F. Conner for $10. On the following day the same individual disposed of a cow to Mr. M. Graham, for which we are told the "Tracadie" cattle dealer received the sum of $13. On Monday Mr. Stothart, who lives near the Chatham Ferry, came up to town, to search for a heifer which had been taken from his premises.

Thinking that he had killed the animal, his first step was to search for him. Niven's tannery for the hide of the animal, but better luck was in reserve for him. He saw and claimed as his property, the heifer sold to Mr. Falcooper, and the stolen animal was accordingly restored to its rightful owner.

Calverton went to Chatham soon after to ascertain, if possible, the whereabouts of the person having stolen the cow, in order to arrange matters. It yet remains to be seen how long Mr. Graham will retain possession of the cow purchased from the same party.

GRISLE.—We are informed that there are large numbers of Grise in the North West and Little South West Rivers, being in fact more abundant than they have been for some years past. It is to be hoped the Overseer and Warden will try their utmost to protect them. We are sorry to learn that poachers on these streams are capturing the young fish with small meshed nets in large numbers, a practice which, if continued, will operate seriously against the future success of the salmon fishery in our river and tributaries. The perpetrators of such acts, when detected, should be rigorously punished. We hope the fishery officers will not merely content themselves with such depredations. The duty of looking after such characters is not of the nature of a mere nuisance, but the law must be enforced, at all hazards.

EARLY.—Mr. Geo. G. G. of Chatham has forwarded a sample of fair sized new potatoes to the Gleaner Office. Mr. Tracer has one of the best vegetable gardens in Miramichi, from which a large amount of roots, "garden sass" &c., is gathered every season, much of which is consumed on board vessels visiting the port of Chatham.

Visit of Americans.

Many of our people have pleasant recollections of the visit to this section of country last season, of a number of American gentlemen, who were induced to leave the heat and bustle of New York City to enjoy themselves in and about "The Happy Retreat," (as our river is called) through the solicitations of Thos. D. Adams, Esq., so well known to our people—a young man whose rapid moves up the ladder of commercial fame, linked with his high social position, and his excellent reputation, has gained for himself hosts of warm friends in the city and land of his adoption. The remarkable success which has attended him since his first entrance into the commercial circles of New York is a source of unlimited pleasure and gratification to the host of his friends and acquaintances, who take pride in him, as do all true-hearted New Brunswickers when they hear of the success of their young men abroad, more especially when that success has been achieved by a course upon which no stain rests to detract from its brilliancy.

As we once before remarked, these visits to our shores of American gentlemen are calculated to cement that broad feeling of unity and friendship which exists between Americans and Canadians, who, though living under different Governments, claim only one line of ancestry—one great Mother—with interests so completely linked together that we shall be mutually benefited by cementing that feeling of national friendship which should exist between us, and which we believe is growing stronger day by day, and which will deepen and widen as we become more intimately acquainted with each other.

THE VISIT THIS YEAR.

In accordance with affirmative replies given by invitations sent out by the wires to R. C. Call, Esq., and other prominent citizens, a party of seven American gentlemen, under the leadership of Thos. D. Adams, Esq., left New York with the expectation of reaching Newcastle in time to celebrate the Fourth here by an Excursion on board the Andover. At Montreal they fell in with the Hon. P. Mitchell, and in his company left that city by steamer for Quebec. On applying to the Hon. P. Mitchell, he was informed that the boat was delayed by fog, and when Quebec was reached the train had left. The party, failing to obtain a special, had to draw largely upon their stock of patience, to bear up under the disappointment.

The party arrived at Newcastle Station on Thursday night, where a large gathering of friends assembled to greet them. They were met by a cordial welcome. This they did, our representative feeling in for a good share of the attention.

Our American friends enjoyed themselves on Friday and Saturday in visiting places of interest up and down river, fishing, and dining with their friends, and judging from the tone of their conversation have enjoyed themselves to an extent which in their own expressive manner they style "immense."

On Sunday they attended their respective churches.

EXCURSION, &amp;c.

On Monday our visitors were tendered an excursion on board the Andover, which was a very pleasant affair. About 2 p. m., the boat left her moorings at Newcastle, with a number of ladies and gentlemen on board. But as the boat is proceeding down stream, let us glance at the gentlemen of the American party.

MAJOR L. COHN, of L. Cohn & Co's. Montreal.

GENERAL FOSTER, a legal gentleman, who is now a member of the legal firm of Foster & Adams, who holds the same position in the firm as that occupied by Mr. Dunne last year.

MR. ARTHUR D. WILLIAMS, a legal gentleman, who holds the position of Attorney in the office of L. Cohn & Co.

MR. BYRON W. WILKINSON, commonly known as "O'Leary, the Pedestrian," who by his wit and geniality imparted such life to the party last year. It happened rather unfortunately that in the morning Mr. W. commenced his "thousand mile walk," and overcome with the heat, was unable to join the party, which was a source of deep regret to all present.

COLONEL GEO. S. WALSH, who has been a prominent Candidate for the position of one of New York's six Coroners. The duties of a Coroner are sometimes arduous, though not brutal, and though the Colonel seems anxious to have a hand in looking after the dead, we hope that he will throw such life into the next contest that his opponents shall not have the chance of saying to him, politically, "let him R. I. P."

MR. GEORGE S. ARMSTRONG, a prominent and promising salesman, in the employ of Messrs. H. B. Claffin & Co.

MR. JAMES DENN, a legal gentleman of considerable importance, a fluent and graceful speaker, and a most energetic lawyer. Mr. D. was one of the party last year. He is now conducting legal practice on his own account, having severed his connection with Mr. Adams in January last.

MR. THOS. D. ADAMS, before referred to. But the steamer has been passing rapidly down stream as we have thus referred to our visitors. Douglastown has been touched and passed, and we are now at Chatham, a number of prominent ladies and gentlemen joining the party at these places. Now we are off again, and as we pass Mr. Snowball's mill, a Norwegian vessel dips her colors three times in graceful salute to the American flag, which floats from the staff at the bow.

MR. GEORGE S. ARMSTRONG, a prominent and promising salesman, in the employ of Messrs. H. B. Claffin & Co.

MR. JAMES DENN, a legal gentleman of considerable importance, a fluent and graceful speaker, and a most energetic lawyer. Mr. D. was one of the party last year. He is now conducting legal practice on his own account, having severed his connection with Mr. Adams in January last.

MR. THOS. D. ADAMS, before referred to. But the steamer has been passing rapidly down stream as we have thus referred to our visitors. Douglastown has been touched and passed, and we are now at Chatham, a number of prominent ladies and gentlemen joining the party at these places. Now we are off again, and as we pass Mr. Snowball's mill, a Norwegian vessel dips her colors three times in graceful salute to the American flag, which floats from the staff at the bow.

The Colonel seems anxious to have a hand in looking after the dead, we hope that he will throw such life into the next contest that his opponents shall not have the chance of saying to him, politically, "let him R. I. P."

WE are now displaying, in our Spacious Warerooms, a stock of goods which, by the richness of their style, construction and finish, and the grandeur of their appearance, completely throw into the shade any stock of goods to be found in the Dominion, and only rivalled by few houses in the United States.

In introducing such a superior class of goods into this market our object has been to make it no longer necessary for our people to go from this city for even the finest class of goods. Our Spring Stock, as now completed, comprises—richly upholstered in Kew Silk, Tapestry, Coltonine and Satine.

WALNUT BEDROOM SUITES,

The Farmer's Corner.

The Honest Farmer.

Happy I count the farmer's life,
In various kinds of wholesome toil;
An honest man with loving wife,
An offspring native to the soil.Thrice happy, surely!—in his breast Plain wisdom and the trust in God; His path more straight from coast to west Than politician ever trod.His gain's no loss to other men; His stalwart blows inflict no wound;
Not busy with his tongue or pen,
He questions trifling, sky and ground.Partner with seasons and the sun, Nature's co-worker; all his skill Obedience, even as waters run, Winds blow, herb, beast, their laws fulfill.A vigorous youthhood, clean and bold;
A manly manhood, cheerful age;
His comely children proudly hold Their heritage from his heritage.Unhealthy work, false mirth, chicanery, Gulls, needless woe, and useless strife, O stony, vain, insidious, lie!
How happy is the farmer's life!

—Fraser's Magazine.

CURRENTS.—What a faithful friend

the old fashioned currant is! It survives neglect, bears fruit with regularity, never winter-kills nor mildews, resists the competition of weeds and the robbery of grass, and with a little help will triumph over its few enemies. And then how grateful it is to the taste, and how healthful to the system, with its sparkling acid, and its rare sweet that is not too sweet! What the apple is to fruits, the currant is to berries—sturdy, faithful, reliable, easily grown, health-giving. And yet the currant repays care as well as the daintiest berry; and the choice, large, new varieties show that it is susceptible of improvement. Take the form in which it is most commonly grown—the bush—and cut out the old stocks, thin out the sprouting growths, cut back the vigorous shoot so as to make them stocky; keep them as clean as you would a row of strawberries; give them all the old chips from the wood-yard, with a mixture of ashes and manure; and you will be surprised to see how the quantity and quality of the berries will be increased.—That destructive pest, the currant worm, can be destroyed, and the bushes preserved all their greenness, for a few shillings' expense and by a very little care. A little powdered white hellebore sifted over the bushes when the worms first appear, with an additional dusting at their re-appearance for four or five times during the season, will do the business effectually. We have preserved a splendid row of currants for years in this way. The fruit is best started by slips, either root, or fresh cuttings, and the White Grape adds a more pleasant variety. Set four feet apart, and much in dry weather.—Golden Rule.

A BALKY HORSE.—In your last paper was a good article about balky horses, which reminds me of a successful experiment made by the writer's father some years ago. He bought a valuable horse that was offered at a very low figure, whose only fault was being notoriously balky, believing kindness would cure him. One pleasant morning the horse was put before a wagon, and my father, seated in it, took the reins and bid the horse go. He started and went about a mile, when he stopped and looked around towards the wagon, intimating, as far as looks could express the idea, that he could go no farther. My father said, well, we will see which can stand it out the longest. And there the horse stood for two hours, occasionally looking round as if dissatisfied; but as often as the horse was mildly urged to go on, he would respond in the negative in the best way he could. It was a test as between the will of the horse and the patience of the driver. At last the horse was heartily sick of his experiment, and started off in good earnest, and was allowed to go about half a mile when he was turned towards home and put into the stable. The next day the trial was repeated, with similar experience, except that the horse stopped about an hour. The third day a trial was like the two previous ones, but reducing the time to half an hour, and this was the last time he was ever known to balk. The fact was, the animal broke his own will and cured himself.—New York Observer.

Potatoes require a good deal of potash, and farmers cannot make a mistake in applying to the land on which they are grown either ashes or commercial fertilizers that contain a large per centage of potash. It comes cheapest in muriate of potash, being 50 per cent of actual potash.
