MAIL ORDERS

We solicit out of town orders which receive our personal attention. The length of time taken to fill orders is governed very largely by how busy we are in the department of our factory in which the particular goods are made. While we have exceptional facilities for promptly turning out goods, it is important to place orders as far ahead as possible. Orders are filled by us in the rotation in which they are received, and customers can always depend on our doing everything in reason to give prompt despatch.

MRS. MONTGOMERY DIED SATURDAY

Respected Citizen of Dalhousie Passed Away—Funeral Tuesday Largely Attended

Dalhousie, N. B., Dec. 30.—Dalhousie last Saturday evening was called upon to mourn the death of one of her dearest and best-loved in the passing away of Mrs. William Montgomery, Sr. Approachable always by young and old, continually mindful of the poor and sick, and ever thoughtful of those to whom her love and sympathy might be extended, her removal leaves a blank in our community which will not easily be filled. Mrs. Montgomery, who before her marriage was Miss Mary Moffatt, only daughter of the late Geo. Moffatt, ex-M. P., was born in Campbellton, on October 2nd, 1838, and removed with the family to Dalhousie about the year 1858. She was married in the year 1867 to Wm. Montgomery, Esq., ex-M. P., and for many years collector of customs until laid aside by illness. She is survived by three sons—John, William and Harry—and one daughter, Bessie, who with loving devotion has cared for her mother all through her illness. Truly her end was peace.

The funeral took place to-day at 2 o'clock and was one of the largest ever seen here. The services at the house and grave which were very touching, were conducted by Rev. Mr. Polly. Many floral offerings were sent to the family by friends. The pall-bearers were Geo. Haddow, ex-M. P., Hon. Allan Ritchie, Sheriff James E. Stewart, Alderman D. McDonald, Thomas G. Scott, and Charles Powell. The funeral was in charge of undertaker David Graham, of Campbellton.

Full List of the Various Rinks Which Will Play in the Medal Series

A meeting of the Campbellton Curling Club was held in the Rink last Monday evening when routine business was transacted, committees formed, and the skips previously elected chose their rinks. Arrangements were made for playing in the North Shore Association Bonspiel which will take place in Chatham some time in February, and members desirous of taking in this trip are requested to put their names down early on the bulletin board so that the rinks can be chosen and some practice indulged in before the date.

The following gentlemen were appointed to the schedule committee, viz. Messrs. J. H. Wilson, Max. M. Mowat and Charles A. Alexander, and the ice committee is composed of Messrs. R. K. Shives, H. R. Smith and H. G. Millican.

The following rinks were then chosen and shall play in the various medal series.

SILVER WEDDING HERE ON FRIDAY

Mr. and Mrs. John M. McLean are Surprised by Their Friends on Their Anniversary

On Friday evening the Public Works Mr. and Mrs. John M. McLean celebrated their twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding. The event had been kept very quiet, but a number of the worthy couples friends surprised them in the evening and presented them in token of their esteem with a silver pudding dish. Rev. T. P. Drumm made the presentation, and Mr. McLean suitably replied. The evening was then spent with music and games and refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. McLean who are most highly respected and greatly beloved by a large circle, were the recipients of many beautiful gifts, and they have been showered with congratulations on this unique occasion.

CONTEST PONY IS

AWARDED FRIDAY

Big Crowd at the Opera House Cheer Paul Martin the Winner.

Friday evening all roads led to the Opera House, when the results of the pony contest were to be made known, and the pony awarded to the lucky competitor.

This competition which has been running since September, was taken part in by a crowd of young folks, and until the final figures were announced, no one knew exactly how any of the contestants stood. The contest closed on Wednesday night, and on Friday afternoon the final returns from all the contest stores were handed in for counting.

The judges, Mayor Andrew, Mr. John G. Christie and Mr. A. T. LeBlanc had a big afternoon's work, and in the evening, His Worship announced Paul Martin as the lucky winner of the pony, with a total vote of 3,944,586.

The total votes polled by the ten highest in the contest are as follows:

POOR IN OLD LAND

NOT SO BADLY OFF

Christmas Found London's Masses Fairly Happy

London, Dec. 26.—The Christmas season finds the condition of London's very poor this year fairly satisfactory. Enquiries made at the central offices of the Charity Organization show that unemployment is not so bad as in previous years, and that, owing to the rather mild winter, there have been fewer calls for coats, clothing, or food.

London is a happy example of freedom from the great strikes which have taken place elsewhere recently, and, according to the latest returns, the rate of wages paid in various trades is satisfactory. The only fear of charity organizers is lest the end of the trade boom which has been enjoyed by England for some time past, may be approaching.

The establishment of the old age pensions scheme has had the effect of taking many old people from the care of charitable institutions, as it has been found that the amount paid, five shillings weekly, is just sufficient in many cases to persuade relatives to give the pensioners a refuge.

A new scheme has been arranged between the National Insurance Commission and the borough councils for the treatment of tuberculosis, while yet another important amelioration of the lives of the sick poor is that many of the councils are now providing dispensaries at which treatment and instruction is given on the lines in vogue at the King Edward Institute at Montreal.

Mrs. A. R. Tabor, of Crider, Mo., had been troubled with sick headaches for about five years, when she began taking Chamberlain's Tablets. She has taken two bottles of them and they have cured her. Sick headache is caused by a disordered stomach for which these tablets are especially intended. Try them, get well and stay well. Sold by all dealers.

THE QUALITY OF CANADIAN EGGS AS MARKET

Another point and one that should not be overlooked before dwelling upon the great opportunity that exists for the Canadian producer at the present time, is the fact that Canadian eggs as marketed at the period of high production are far from being of the high quality that one would expect.

From information in the possession of the Live Stock Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture it is estimated that in the summer time not over 33 per cent of the eggs received in the large markets grade "select." About 40 per cent grade "stale", approximately 17 per cent "very stale", 5 per cent "dirty" and broken", and 5 per cent "chick". Some dealers state that as high as 10 to 12 per cent of their receipts prove, upon examination, to be wholly unfit for food. This latter is a feature that those who criticize the present high prices do not seem to have taken into consideration.

In conclusion, it is evident that the most salient feature of the whole question is the golden opportunity for the farmers and others to increase their poultry plants and take advantage of the high prices prevailing for poultry and poultry products. Every farmer should keep at least one hundred hens. The amount of labour entailed is not great, and with reasonable success the revenue obtainable therefrom, in proportion to capital invested, is greater and more readily available than from any other branch of farm work.

THE BANK OF COMMERCE

The Canadian Bank of Commerce has forwarded to its shareholders the forty-seventh annual statement for the year ending November 29th, 1913. Of special interest to shareholders in addition to the attractive profits that have been made is the strong financial position the Bank has maintained itself in, at a time when demands from its customers have been unusually heavy.

An examination of the report shows evidence of careful and conservative management on the part of the Banking Officials and reveals the fact that the Bank is today in a stronger position than at any time in its history. The net profits for the year amount to $2,992,951, an increase of $111,000 over the showing for the previous year. The net profits amount to nearly 10 1/2 per cent of the paid up capital and the rest of the Bank, these profits, with the balance brought forward from the previous year, amounting to $771,000 makes $3,764,000 available for distribution. This has been apportioned as follows:

Dividend requirements and two bonuses each of 1 per cent, took $1,800,000. Bank premises account took $500,000, while $1,000,000 was transferred to the Rest Account and $50,000 to Officers' Pension Fund, leaving $324,000 to be carried forward. Deposits for the year show a slight decrease owing doubtless to the many demands made upon the Bank for funds and also to the fact that a year ago considerable sums were held temporarily and during the year a portion of these were withdrawn. The paid up capital stands at $15,000,000 while the Rest Account is $13,500,000 or $1,000,000 greater than a year ago. The striking feature of the report is the large proportion of Coin, Bullion, Dominion Notes and other quickly available assets which the Bank holds. These amount to $97,808,000 or over 42 per cent of the Bank's total liabilities to the public. The total assets of the Bank now stand $260,030,000 showing a large increase during the year of $13,459,000.

In every particular the Report is a favorable one and will go a long way towards reassuring the public, both at home and abroad, in regard to the financial status not only of the Bank but of the whole Dominion. The showing is one which reflects most favorably upon the President, General Manager, and the officials connected with the Bank. The showing made this year is a record for the Bank of Commerce in one of our strongest financial institutions.

A man who will beat an egg at seventy-five cents a dozen will strike a woman.

THE CANADIAN EGG TRADE

The Live Stock Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture has been engaged for some months in an investigation of the Canadian Egg Trade.

At this time when the subject of eggs is being discussed so freely by the press and the public generally it may be of interest to cite some of the conclusions reached as a result of this investigation to date.

THE CONSUMPTION OF EGGS IN CANADA

Canadians are large consumers of eggs and the consumption per capita of eggs in Canada is steadily increasing. The following table will give some idea of the rate at which consumption is expanding.

TABLE 1. RELATION OF CONSUMPTION TO PRODUCTION in the Canadian Egg Trade.

Census of 1901.		1911
Population	5,371,315	7,204,838
Poultry Pop.	16,562,084	29,548,723
Egg Production	84,134,892	123,002,132
Exports of eggs	11,363,064	92,164
Imports of eggs	951,745	2,378,640
Total cons.	73,723,483	125,288,608
Aver. cons. per capita	13.72	17.39

It may be noted that the increased consumption per capita between the years 1901 and 1911 amounts to nearly four dozen. This increase is not by any means confined to the cities. Farmers generally, are eating more eggs than ever before. In many rural districts, it is practically impossible to secure fresh meat at certain seasons of the year. At such times eggs are usually plentiful and are used freely.

In the cities with the steadily increasing price of meat, even though eggs may be high in proportion, the fact that eggs are such a wholesome and nourishing food, and that they can be served in such a variety of ways and prepared with such little labor, keeps them in constant and ever increasing demand.

CANADA IMPORTS EGGS

Canada, an agricultural country, is obliged to import eggs for home consumption. Canada once exported eggs. Ten years ago between ten and twelve million dozen were exported to England and previous to 1900 even greater quantities were shipped annually to the United States. The following table gives the exports and imports of eggs since 1900.

Year	Exports doz.	Imports doz.
1901	11,363,064	951,745
1902	11,635,064	772,572
1903	7,404,100	559,236
1904	5,780,316	972,242
1905	3,601,427	305,567
1906	2,921,725	463,669
1907	2,591,205	661,104
1908	1,265,890	1,149,956
1909	552,850	1,136,120
1910	160,650	884,073

A few eggs are still exported and even at times when the export was greatest a considerable quantity was imported. This is accounted for by the nature of the country. The Maritime Provinces still export a few eggs while British Columbia has always been an importing province.

It is of interest to note that the imports have practically doubled each year, during the past four years. The following table shows the imports of provinces during the fiscal year ending March 31st, 1913.

Province	Imports doz.
British Columbia	5,529,414
Manitoba	2,664,326
Alberta	1,954,110

REASONS FOR PRESENT SHORTAGE

From the time that mixed farming became general in the Central States, the United States' egg crop has been able to keep pace with the demand and heretofore when there was a shortage in Canada, eggs have been available on the Chicago and other large Western markets. This winter, however, increased consumption on the part of the Americans themselves, and the high a slightly greater egg crop this year, the usual surplus is not available. In recent years the Canadian storage crop was sufficient to meet the demand until the middle of December or a little later. After that American eggs were imported to supply the shortage.

In actual receipts possibly the United States' crop was not much smaller than previous years, but, owing to the extremely mild weather, winter production was phenomenally large with a corresponding falling-off in spring production. This meant a short crop for storage, as storage eggs are what largely supply the demand during the winter months. This accounts for the fact that the price of eggs is higher in the United States, and that there is little or no surplus for export to Canada. In fact, since the revision of the tariff the United States is actually importing, over 8,000 cases of foreign eggs having been received in New York alone during the week ending November 29th. It is expected that the availability of foreign eggs for both the United States and Canada will have the effect of averting a serious shortage and of reducing materially the price to the consumer.

To prevent disease— resist disease germs

SMALLPOX is prevented by vaccination — the injection of vaccine. DIPHTHERIA is prevented by the injection of anti-toxin. These enable the body to produce substances which prevent the growth of smallpox and diphtheria germs in the blood. There are many other diseases, nearly, if not quite as dangerous, and far more common — typhoid fever, the grippe, bronchitis, pneumonia, catarrh, rheumatism, and a score of others — that can be prevented less painfully and more easily by making the body strong to resist germ infection.

Olive Oil Emulsion

(With Hypophosphites)

Is designed for the prevention as well as the relief of disease — by enabling the body to overcome the germs. It, at the same time, strengthens and tones the nerves, nourishes the blood, puts the entire system into a proper healthy condition to combat and successfully resist disease.

Every person not in perfect health has incipient germs of some distressing ailment in his or her system. Cold weather, over-work, excesses of any kind, are liable to bring about just the conditions under which those latent disease germs will get the upper hand, and put you on your back "down sick."

You who are run-down, tired-out, nervous — You who, though not sick enough to give up, still don't feel good — You who are apparently well, and want to stay well — Take home a bottle of Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion today, and use it as a means to get well and keep well.

Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion is a real nerve-food tonic. In this it is different from most other so-called "tonics" which either have no food value and do nothing more than temporarily stimulate you, leaving you in a worse condition than before or, having food value, still are so unpleasant to take that many people can't keep them down.

Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion is pleasant to take. The Hypophosphites it contains tone the blood. The pure Olive Oil nourishes both nerves and nerves.

Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion strengthens you, puts snap and ginger and vitality into your system. It makes you feel better and stronger. It improves your digestion and your bowel action.

It contains no alcohol nor any dangerous or habit forming drugs.

It is guaranteed to be just as represented above — to do all that is claimed above — to satisfy you in every way, or your money back without quibble or question. Enough for full two weeks' treatment, $1.00. Sold only at The Rexall Stores — the World's greatest Drug Stores — and always with a full guarantee of complete satisfaction, or your money back.

THE NEW YEAR

In common with all those who keep the spirit of the times, we desire to express our appreciation of the kindness meted out to the Graphic during the past year, and to extend to all our readers the compliments of the season and wish them a Happy New Year.

RESOLUTIONS

The New Year season is the usual time, when we frail creatures meet on a common level, and indulge in a common custom, that of making new resolutions for the New Year. Would it be too much to ask the council to come down to the common ground, and not only make new resolutions, but carry them through? There is ample chance for them, and a very good beginning could be made on the by-laws of the town.

We have already drawn attention to the necessity for correction in the mode of levying the assessments in the town, which so far has not borne fruit, but we will look for brighter things in 1914. Another correction required very urgently in the by-laws, is with regard to the issuing of licenses to hawkers and peddlers.

The by-laws states distinctly the sum to be paid for a peddler's license, but the power of the whole by-law is killed by the clause, "None of the provisions of this by-law shall apply to any farmer or OTHER PERSON selling or offering for sale within the town, firewood, meat, milk, butter, fruit, vegetables or other farm produce, raised or produced by himself, or on his own farm, over his own garden or dairy."

Now there is not the slightest doubt that the proper meaning to be taken from this clause related to residents of the town who were already paying taxes, but it does not apply to outside peddlers coming into town, and selling meat and other products as a matter of fact this clause ought to be deleted altogether, firstly, because it would be too difficult to prove the fact that meat or other products were not raised or produced from the seller's own farm, and secondly, it is unfair discrimination against the legitimate business men of the town.

Here is a concrete example. Early this year Jellett Bros. applied for a license to do a butcher's business in Millers old establishment. They were granted a license (not being ratepayers of the town) and they started business. Another man from their same district brings over all the meat he can buy around the local market, and sells it from his cart without paying a cent. Unfair you say! of course it is. Yet the peddler does a bigger business than any legitimate butcher in town who has to pay rent, taxes and insurance.

What the council should do is to delete altogether this objectionable clause, and charge a peddler's license to every one whether taxpayer or not, thereby putting the peddler on the same footing as the storekeeper, paying his share in taxation for the privilege of doing business.

Persons troubled with partial paralysis are often very much benefited by massaging the affected parts thoroughly when applying Chamberlain's Liniment. This liniment also relieves rheumatic pains. For sale by all dealers.

Here is a remedy that will cure your cold. Why waste time and money experimenting when you can get a preparation that has won a world-wide reputation by its cures of this disease and can always be depended upon? It is known everywhere as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and is a medicine of real merit. For sale by all dealers.

MAKING PREPARATION FOR BURNS

Caledonian Society Will Hold Their Burns Celebration

A meeting of the executive of the Caledonian Society of Restigouche was held on Tuesday evening to make arrangements for the fitting celebration of Burn's Night.

This falls this year on Sunday, 25th of January, and it was thought that the Friday evening previous, the 23rd, would be a most suitable date. A committee was appointed to look into the matter of getting a hall, and to arrange a program. It is altogether likely that some well known speaker from outside the town, will be engaged to deliver the oration, and the rest of the program taken up with local talent, and most probably a little dance will be held at the close.

The entertainment as was the last one, will be almost wholly confined to members of the society, and looking back to the previous Burn's Nights held by the society, it is expected that this one will keep up to the high standard which has been set.

Members are requested to note that until all dues are paid and the roll and by-laws of the society signed, they are not considered in full membership.

EXCITING TIME ON THE RIVER CROSSING Worshippers Returning From Kempt Road Church Have A Bad Few Minutes

On Sunday afternoon many friends of the late Rev. C. A. Hardy journeyed to Kempt Road where a memorial service was held, conducted by Rev. W. Gordon Firth, B. A., and Rev. T. F. Drumm, B. D. On the return journey however, the worshippers had quite an exciting time for a few minutes. Mr. D. F. Graham with Mr. A. G. Adams in his sleigh led the way across the river, the sleigh struck an upstanding piece of ice, causing a break in the harness and Mr. Graham's horse bolted off. Getting into other conveyances the party reached the New Brunswick side where they were met by a large area of open water, and Arnold Alexander's sleigh had to be used as a ferry to get the people across, which was accomplished without further mishap. Rev. Mr. Drumm was late in arriving to take the services at St. Andrew's owing to the delay in crossing. Mr. Graham's horse made straight home for the barn, and was there when he arrived home. Beyond feeling the cold a little from the exposure, the party were none the worse of the occurrence.

The following item copied from a contemporary appeared in our last week's issue.

Mr. Arthur Floyd, a recent graduate of U.N.B., who is now on the staff of the Bathurst, N.B. Brammar School, where he succeeded Mr. T. J. Hebert, now of the Fredericton High School staff, has accepted a position in the schools of Saskatoon, at a salary of $2500 per annum. We are informed that the above is not entirely correct. It is true that Mr. Floyd was offered the Saskatoon position, but as he is engaged in Bathurst for the whole year, and was unable to secure a substitute for the coming term, the trustees would not release him until his contract was completed.

CHURCH NOTES Following the example of the leading churches, both Presbyterian and Methodist, the ladies of St. Andrew's church appeared on Sunday all clad in black choir robes with trencher caps. The innovation lends a uniformity and dignity to the appearance of the choir and was much admired. The robes, which are a modified form of a student's gown have been presented to the choir by a few friends, and it is felt that it will help greatly in the service and add much to the usefulness of the choir in the service of song.

A united service will be held to-day, (New Year) in Christ Church, commencing at 11 a. m., when special addresses will be given by various speakers. The ministers of all the Protestant churches will take part, and the singing will be led by an united choir.

HELPFUL HINTS

"Civilized man cannot live without cooks," and cooks cannot provide for his wants without eggs, generally speaking with any great measure of success, especially for those of "the guid mon" with a sweet tooth. With eggs so high priced and difficult to procure, the housewife is always glad to learn of toothsome dishes which may be made without them. We give below, some tried receipts which are very welcome. By the way, how many know that gelatine will take the place of the whites of eggs, in a recipe calling for whites only? One tablespoonful of the dry gelatine equals three whites. Use thus: First soak the gelatine in a small quantity of cold water for a short time, after which add boiling water, making in all one cupful. When cold whip with an egg beater until light. In passing we may say too, to those who do not know or have forgotten, the yolks of eggs which are left from a cake, which calls several days, if one is not prepared to fr the whites only, may be kept for use them at once, by covering them with cold water and beating the whole mixture well together.

Try some of the following, they will prove appetizing:—

GINGERBREAD

One cup of molasses, one cup of butter, one teaspoon of soda, one teaspoon of ginger, a large pinch of salt, add flour to make a not very stiff dough. Bake in rather quick oven.

DEVIL CAKE

Cream one cup of sugar and one-half cup of butter, add one-half cup of sugar milk, one teaspoon of soda, one square of chocolate, (unsweetened), dissolved in one-half cup of boiling, add two scoops of flour. Bake in a loaf or in two layers.

DATE PUDDING

1 cup sour milk, two-thirds of a cup of sugar and molasses mixed, 1 tablespoon of melted butter, 1 pound of dates stoned and chopped fine, 2 cups of Graham flour, 1 teaspoon of soda, pinch of salt.

Stone dates and chop. Mix sour milk sugar and molasses mixed, 1 tablespoon of melted butter, 1 pound of dates stoned and chopped fine, 2 cups of Graham flour, 1 teaspoon of soda, pinch of salt.

SUET PUDDING

One cup chopped suet, one cup raisins, (Sultana), one cup currants, one cup milk, one cup molasses, one teaspoon cinnamon, one-half teaspoon of soda, one-half teaspoon salt, flour to make a stiff batter.

Sift flour into mixing bowl, add to it chopped suet, salt, cinnamon and very slowly half a cup of cream. Stir constantly to prevent curdling. Add one teaspoon of vanilla extract after removing the sauce from the fire.

SAUCE

Cream half a cup of butter, add gradually one cup brown sugar, heat in double boiler, adding gradually and very slowly half a cup of cream. Stir constantly to prevent curdling. Add one teaspoon of vanilla extract after removing the sauce from the fire.

DOUGHNUTS

One and one-half cups of sugar, six level tablespoons of butter, a pinch of salt, three heaping teaspoons of baking powder sifted in two quarts of flour, add sweet milk or cold water sufficient to make a soft dough.

GINGER SNAPS

One cup each of molasses and sugar, one-half cup of butter, one cup each of soda, ginger, cinnamon and cloves, and one-half cup of hot-water. Add flour to make a stiff dough. Roll very thin, cut out, and bake quickly.

CARROT PUDDING

One cup of grated carrots, one cup of grated potatoes, one cup brown sugar, one cup chopped suet, one cup stoned raisins, one cup currants, two scoops of sifted flour, one teaspoon mixed spices, one-half teaspoon nutmeg, one-half teaspoon salt, one teaspoon soda, two tablespoons boiling water. Mix all thoroughly, then add the soda dissolved in the boiling water, and steam for three hours. One cupful peaches, strawberries, or pineapple added to above makes it equal to plum pudding.

CHAPTER XV.

Who will deny that a sturdy physique is a valuable asset? Had it not been for a deep chest, a powerful pair of lungs, a heart without a flaw, and an underlying vitality such as is possessed by but a small minority in these degenerate times, I must certainly have succumbed. For, as I learned later, I had inhaled enough carbon monoxide gas to have killed the average man of my age, twice over. The stove on which the cauldron of peanuts steamed was a charcoal furnace, and the tiny space within that back room was impregnated with the heavy poisoned fumes to a distance of four feet and more above the floor.

Sitting on a low stool, bent forward over my sprained ankle, which for relief I had raised and rested across my other knee, I had come in contact with the deadly gas, breathing it without suspicion, until drowsiness intervened and stupor, insensibility, and eventually coma followed.

It is customary, I understand, to employ rigorous treatment in such cases to effect resuscitation. If I am to believe what I have been told of my condition when discovered, I was very far on the way to dissolution. I was, in fact, moribund, and in the eyes of those who carried me from the cellar to an upper room I was already dead. It is perhaps needless to add that no steps were taken to revive me. Even had I been regarded as still living I doubt that I should have received any other treatment.

Providence, however, favored me. I was thrown into a bunk under one of the few open windows of Chinatown, and a door left ajar, by accident, probably, drew across me a current of comparatively pure oxygen. This revived, nature reasserted itself, and respiration, which had been temporarily suspended, gradually resumed its office.

With dawning consciousness came acute discomfort. My head and back ached high unbearably, and my ankle, swollen to twice its normal size, shot pain to my thigh. My tongue seemed too large for my mouth and my throat was raw. Later, memory started a train of questions and surmises. A light admitted through the open window gave unsatisfactory answer as to time and place. It might be dawn, midday or evening. I might still be in the same building into the basement of which I had plunged after the so-called Peter Johnson, or I might be miles away. Yet of one fact I was assured. It was no longer night. Day had come again and eight hours at least must have passed since I stood killing time on the sidewalk in front of the restaurant in which I was to have met Yip Sing.

And, as my mind cleared, there rushed in upon me a recollection of Evelyn's apprehension and of my promise to reassure her not later than eleven o'clock. Suffering as I was, physically, I knew my mental distress at thought of how she must have waited with growing solicitude hour after hour for that expected ringing of the telephone bell; how, indeed, she must, even now, be distraught, not by uncertainty, but by the conviction that some ill-some serious ill—had befallen me, was more poignant.

In my eagerness to relieve at once this unrest which I knew to be hers I would have risen, but my strength was not equal to the task. My muscles refused to obey my will and I lay supine, inert, powerless. I would have learned the time, but to seek my watch, which I fondly fancied was still in my pocket, seemed such an enormous exertion that I reluctantly gave over the idea. To breathe, to draw air into my lungs and expel it, was prodigious labor, wearying me, it appeared, to exhaustion; though with every inhalation I felt a certain relief, I suppose, physical force as well, were being imperceptibly augmented.

After a time I found myself listening intently for sounds that might prove informative, while with head slightly turned I made scrupulous inventory of the room in which I was cribbed. It was a cramped, confined place, unplastered, and furnished with four rough board bunks, one of which I occupied. The other three were empty; but in the scant passageway between my resting place and that opposite was a stool, and upon the stool the pipe and other paraphernalia peculiar to opium smoking.

Then, very slowly, there came to me a realization of the vulpine cunning of these orientals into whose hands I had fallen. I was to be found here, dead, not from inhalation of foul air in an ill-ventilated cellar, which might excite suspicion and provoke inquiry, but from over-indulgence in opium, to which I had probably been addicted for years, unknown even to my closest friends. For the "hop fend" there is small sympathy, no matter what his position, and my family would hesitate, therefore, to prosecute, preferring to avoid unpleasant publicity.

Yes; it was very clear they had never been ready, and so had left me here unattended and unattended was the evidence of my mode of passing, theatrically displayed beside me. It only remained now for some employer visitor to discover me and give the alarm. I had about reached this conclusion, after a long and desperately trying effort at logical reasoning, when my straining ears detected the sound of footsteps in the passage. The door of the den was slightly ajar and I lay well in sight of any passer-by who should glance through the narrow opening.

Whether to feign death, or boldly make known my recovered consciousness, was for just a moment a question. But before my sluggish brain could decide, choice was snatched from me. The footsteps paused, and simultaneously, it seemed, the door swung further inward, disclosing the pig-tailed, greasy-browed Mongolian I had expected, but a white woman, tall and shapely, with hair of iron gray and the very kindest eyes that ever I looked into.

I made as if to speak, but my swollen tongue refused to perform its office, and something that may best be described as a gurgle was the result. With that she came to my side, and for a little regarded me silently. I felt that seeing the pipe and the little peanut-lamp, she must draw the natural inference, and, though there was no reproach in her look, I wished, if possible, to correct that false impression. I therefore made effort to gesture denial, employing a glance to indicate the objects and a very feeble side movement of the head to express repudiation.

It is possible that she understood, but I question that she believed. I have no recollection that she spoke a single word to me, and yet, when she was gone, I felt that she would surely return to my rescue. And I was not misled. I suppose the partial relief to my anxiety resulted in a slackening of mental effort on my part, for I must confess that what followed is very vague in my memory. I know that she was accompanied by two men, one white and one yellow, who carried me down a narrow flight of stairs, out onto the street and into a waiting cab. I cannot recall that I spoke, but I learned afterward that I had mumbled the word "Loyalton," and thither she accompanied me.

There a physician came, one whom I had never seen before; and I was dosed with aromatic spirits of ammonia and made to breathe oxygen through a funnel, by a white-headed nurse, who also, at intervals, painted my ankle with iodine, and, whenever I attempted to speak, domineered me in a gentle and perfectly ladylike manner to silence.

With regard to sending word to Evelyn Grayson, however, I was insistent; and though she had refused absolutely to gratify my curiosity in other respects, she set my mind at rest by informing me, in a matter-of-fact tone, that Miss Grayson had called upon the Loyalton by telephone several times and had been informed of my condition five minutes after my arrival at my chambers.

There were times during the week which followed when I was high upon death; and when, finally, after ten days I was pronounced convalescent, it was with the added well-worn phrase that my recovery was "nothing more than a matter of time."

It was on the eleventh day that I was first permitted to see and talk with Evelyn. My mother had called daily, sitting in silence beside my bed, but no other visitor in all that time, save my mother, had been admitted to my room.

My curiosity was by now very keen to learn what had developed in the interval regarding the Cameron mystery; but, by informing me, from what had the detective agency reported concerning Philetus Murphy? And what, I wished to know most of all, had Yip Sing discovered?

I was in a dressing gown, plumed with a light-colored hair, and a leather chair awaiting my visitors—for Mrs. Lancaster came with Evelyn—when their names were announced. I suppose I looked ill—though, save for a grievous weakness, I was feeling fit enough—for Evelyn's smile as she entered merged instantly into an expression of mingled anxiety and sympathy. I know that with her coming I awoke to the truth that my desire for information was a far less matter to me, seemingly endless period, had been admitted to my room.

to indiscretion," I pleaded, with an attempted gaiety of tone that must have seemed incongruous. "To have been discreet under the circumstances would have involved a repetition of the one mistake for which you blamed me. You don't know, of course, why I jumped down a ladder into pitch-black cellar, do you?"

"I know you were in pursuit of some one—a pickpocket, they say, who had taken your watch."

"Do they say that?" I asked, interested.

"That is what Miss Clement learned."

"Miss Clement?" I queried. "Who is Miss Clement?"

"Oh, I forgot that you don't know. Miss Clement is the missionary who found you in the—is it 'top joint' they call it?"

"The lady with the kind eyes?"

At my designation her face brightened responsively, and she said: "You remember her, then?" she cried, delightedly. "Haven't she kind eyes? And she doesn't believe them, either. She's just the dearest, most self-sacrificing creature I ever knew."

For the moment we had both forgotten Mrs. Lancaster, and when I would have apologized I found that my nurse had carried her off into the next room and was interestingly showing her some framed photographs of the Siena cathedral.

"And Miss Clement learned that I pursued a pickpocket?" I went on, when Evelyn had drawn a chair near me and sat down. "A very clever explanation to account for the disappearance of my watch, but not the true one. As a matter of fact, the person I followed was a miserer of a deeper dye. When I last saw him, it is customary, I understand, to employ rigorous treatment in such cases to effect resuscitation. If I am to believe what I have been told of my condition when discovered, I was very far on the way to dissolution. Even had I been regarded as still living I doubt that I should have received any other treatment."

"Wide-eyed, the girl stared at me for an instant."

"Peter Johnson!" she repeated, slowly. "So, I was right. He was in the plot, for he had something to do with Uncle Robert's disappearance. He was the one who broke the amygdaloid gland on board the yacht."

It was my turn now to start. Of what was this young woman talking? "Amygdaloid?" Was I mad, or was she?

She saw my perplexity, and hastened to enlighten me.

"Oh, dear, Philip!" she exclaimed. "I forgot again that you are so unused to tell you. Really, I hardly know where to begin. Miss Clement has been of such aid to us! She is what they call an 'independent missionary.' That is, she has no affiliation with any of the church societies or reform associations. For fifteen years she has been working in Chinatown among the white women, and she knows the place and the people as if she were indeed one of them. I had her out at Trachon for a day and I've seen her four or five times here in town, and I have told her everything, and she has explained, or at least given quite reasonable surmises, concerning many of the incidents that seemed to be inexplicable. Did you ever hear of amygdaloid?"

"Of course I had heard something of amygdaloid, and I said so."

"They are glass capsules," I added, "and contain a liquid which, when like bananas. They use them, I believe, in heart attacks, by crushing them in a handkerchief and inhaling the drug."

"But it was not the same drug, Evelyn explained. Miss Clement told her all about it. She doubted that it was an amygdaloid, at all, though it was put up in the same fashion, and released in the same way, and it was like an amygdaloid, in that it was extremely volatile."

AEROPLANE WITH CABINS

Russian Perfects First Real Passenger Flying Ship

St. Petersburg, December 25—The airman Sikorsky, the designer of a giant aeroplane which was constructed some time ago to carry eleven persons, has successfully tested an aeroplane half as large again.

According to the Bourge Gazette, the new aeroplane weighs 3 1/2 tons and is propelled by four 100 horse power motors. There are cabins with sleeping accommodation for a number of passengers.

The machine rose after a run of 100 yards and circled the aerodrome without a hitch.

MANY KILLED IN FIRE PANIC

Some One Cried Fire When Audience Rushed to Exits and Were Killed

Calumet, Mich., Dec. 24—Nearly four-score persons were killed tonight at a Christmas celebration by copper mine strikers in an Italian hall, because of a fire caused by a false alarm of fire. While several hundred miners and their wives looked on, the children pressed eagerly toward the stage to receive Christmas presents. In an instant a man put his head in at the door of the hall and yelled "Fire." The cry was taken up by those in the hall. Everyone started for the door and those behind tried to climb over those ahead of them. The stairway and other avenues of egress were blocked so effectively that those inside could not get out, and those without could not get in to aid the panic stricken crowd in the hall. It was some time before the panic subsided. The principal exit was a narrow stairway at the back of the hall. When this had been cleared of the bodies that filled it to the top, and a quick accounting had been made, it was found that seventy-four corpses had been piled up beside the hall building. It is thought that a dozen others were carried away by friends.

THE CONSUMER AND THE COST OF LIVING

In an article on the 'Consumer and his Relation to the Purchase of Farm Products for Consumption', Mr. John I. Brown writing in this week's issue of the Journal of Commerce deals exhaustively with the 'Consumer's' share in adding to the Cost of Living. "If housekeepers would co-operate in ordering their supplies they would effect a saving of from 15 to 25 per cent and if they would buy for cash they would still further reduce the Cost of Living. Our findings are that 90 per cent of our consumers are not making any effort to learn how to buy their food products." The writer then urges the need of establishing standards for foods, the need of education and the application of business principles to the buying of food supplies. "Consumers, study the Products of the Farm. Become acquainted with Food Values and handle your Grocery and Butcher accounts as you do your own daily business and we venture to say that in a very short time the High Cost of Living Cry will be materially reduced."

After a brief success as a cabby, the Countess, who at one time was very wealthy, but is now forced to earn a living, became a barber's assistant. She then opened a barber's shop on her own account, but this venture did not last long. CHRISTMAS DINNER AT LOCAL HOTELS

Souvenir Menu is Given the Guests at the Waverly

On Christmas Day the popular host of the Waverly Hotel, Mr. A. J. Gorman, set about giving his guests a high class entertainment, which was largely taken advantage of. This idea of having Christmas dinners out is becoming more in vogue every year, and Mr. Gorman made a splendid beginning. The dining room was beautifully decorated with evergreens, holly and flags, the tables being decorated with white and pink carnations. The menu card was a tasteful little folder done up in colors, a copy of which was presented to each of the guests. Mr. and Mrs. Gorman acted as host and hostess, sitting down with their family at one of the large tables and giving the entertainment a home-like appearance. The idea of a large Christmas party. After the dinner the male guests were presented with flowers by Mrs. Gorman. The following is the menu: SOUP: Ox tail a l'Anglais, Consomme Princess. TRAIN ROBBERS NOW UNDER ARREST

Three Moncton Men Are Accused of Robbing Baggage and Confess

Three Moncton men in the employ of the Intercolonial are under arrest and face serious charges. These men are employed as trainmen, two of them being brakemen and the third, baggage-master. They are all old employees and for sometime past have been running between Moncton and St. John on Nos. 3 and 4, or commonly known as the Boston expresses. One of the brakemen and the baggage-master run on one day while the other brakeman under arrest runs the opposite day. The latter has the habit of getting on the train at Hampton and coming to Moncton as passenger and always travelled in the baggage car. According to the I.C.R. police it is one of the cleverest plans ever executed by employees, and had it not been for the clever detective work of Inspector A. T. Tingley, who single-handed rounded up the men, doubtless many other valuable articles would be missing and the crimes still continue. The men running on these trains as they did had every chance in the world to steal the goods and practically be beyond suspicion. Considerable baggage is carried by this train and around Christmas, the Bostons have a very large number of passengers. The baggage-master if he was working hand in hand with the brakemen could get his work completed and then go around and search the trunks. According to the police, the men had trunk keys and could open practically any trunk or suitcase people who lost their keys would only strap their trunks, never thinking for the moment that their goods would be stolen in transit by railway employees. Then again valises would sometimes be checked unlocked and it was a simple matter for the men to gain access to them. Among the articles stolen were: Pearl necklace, gold tie pins set with valuable stones, silver and cut glass articles, a silver purse, etc. The first case of this train goods was reported to Superintendent Evan Price at Campbellton by some persons who had travelled from St. John to Dalhousie on December 13th. They had many Christmas trinkets in their trunks besides some other valuable articles and these were missing. The other passengers on the I. C. R. have also reported losses and they all travelled on the Boston expresses. The whole three men when placed under arrest by the police at first loudly proclaimed their innocence, but when they were confronted by several facts and their homes searched they broke down completely and admitted their guilt. The baggage-master told Inspector Tingley that in opening trunks which were locked they had used a key while the valises which had been stolen from had been found unlocked. The men state that they stole the goods and divided the booty among them; but in some respects they tell different stories. The whole three of them were considered to be respectable men and practically above suspicion, until the police learned that without a shadow of a doubt they were the thieves. They are married and all live in Moncton, two of them being born and brought up in this city and have always borne a good name. In the words of one of them, "it looked so easy, I fell for it," and that is the only thing which will in any way go to explain their rash action. They held good positions and had no cause in any way to steal as their salaries were always large each month. THE VICTIMS OF THE THEFTS. Mrs. G. Holly Lounsbury, who formerly resided in Moncton, but now lives in St. John was travelling from St. John to her home in Dalhousie on Saturday, December 13th. On arriving at her destination and searching her trunk and valise she found that a number of valuable articles were missing, among them being the following: A silk dress, royal blue in color which had just been made by a St. John tailor, a silver purse with chain attached, and silver bon-bon dish. Mrs. A. H. Hilyard, whose husband is the manager of the Dalhousie Lumber Company, also travelled from St. John to Dalhousie on that date and she missed the following articles from her trunk and travelling bag: Pearl necklace, gun metal mesh bag which was prized very highly by its owner, silver soap dish which she had just purchased in St. John and with the initials "A.H.H." engraved on the top, two pins, one set with a turquoise, and the other with pearls, several pairs of gloves and a dozen and a half handkerchiefs. Her valise was locked while her trunk was locked and strapped. The matter was reported, as stated previously, to Superintendent Price, who reported it to General Superintendent Brady. Mr. Brady detailed Inspector Tingley on the case on the 19th inst., and in five days had the guilty parties under arrest. The men were all taken to the jail and lodged in the cells and shortly afterwards were brought before Judge W. A. McDougall and were remanded, bail being fixed at $2000. The two brakemen secured bail each going $1000 each, while four other citizens made up the arrears. The baggage-master was unable to get bondsmen and spent Christmas in the local jail.

CONFESSED

"Once again my orders have been disobeyed," said the master in a certain public school sternly. "Who is the miscreant?" Not a soul answered, and a tragic silence prevailed. "This matter shall be settled once and for all," he went on in the same manner, "and if none will tell, every boy in the class shall be thrashed." Every boy, therefore, was duly thrashed, but no one would breathe the culprit's name, until suddenly, as the last boy was about to receive his punishment the cane was withheld. Fixing a keen look on the lad, the master said: Now, if you tell me who did this action I will not punish you." "All right, sir. I did it," came the hesitating reply.—London Tit-Bits.

POTATO EMBARGO

HURTS N. B. FARMERS

Growers Have Little Faith in Getting Fair Inspection on Boundary

Woodstock, N. B., Dec. 28th.—Farmers and shippers in this county place very little faith in the inspection clause contained in the embargo on potatoes. If an inspector is placed at Vanceboro dealers will hardly risk a shipment of five or six cars with a prospect of whole, or part, being refused admission. That big efforts were made to keep the Canadian potatoes out, were indicated by the number of petitions that were presented at the conference in Washington, one having 27,000 names.

A careful estimate shows 48,000 barrels in Lakeville and vicinity, in this county, and this covers only a very small area of the potato-raising section.

It is said that there are about 4,000,000 bushels of potatoes in Carleton and Victoria counties at the present time, and the prospect of marketing them is not very bright owing to the abundant crop in Ontario. One shipper is quoted as predicting that the price will drop to forty cents a barrel.

Orders for hundreds of tons of fertilizer have been cancelled. Farmers ordered heavily in anticipation of planting big crops and shipping to the American market next season.

It is felt here that the whole scheme of shutting out the Canadian potatoes was hatched in Houlton. One thing is considered certain that if "powdery scab" exists in New Brunswick, it will also be found in Maine.

GAME WARDEN MEETS WITH FOUL PLAY

Body Found at the Bottom of Lake With Four Wounds in Head

Edmundston, N. B., Dec. 27.—The mysterious disappearance of Game Warden Paul Cloutier, of Notre Dame Du Lac, Temiscouata, is at last explained.

About two weeks ago Cloutier was reported drowned, and a party of divers was sent from Quebec and after ten days work they found a canoe and some clothes, which were identified as belonging to the man who had so suddenly disappeared.

The government was not satisfied with this investigation, and the minister of lands and forests, Hon. Charles Devlin, ordered another party of divers to be sent to continue the search. Last night the body was found in the bottom of Lake Squattek.

The report that Cloutier has been the victim of foul play is verified by the fact that the victim bore four bullet wounds in the forehead.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS AT DALHOUSIE IN 1913

Good Christmas Trade, And General Conditions Are Much Improved

Dalhousie, N.B., Dec. 30th.—Christmas trade this year was fairly good considering the scarcity of money and heavy snow storm that prevailed on Christmas eve. Never in the history of the place did the stores look so well, and this was a good deal due to the fact that they were better lighted.

The year which is just closing was a lucky one for the Shiretown of Restigouche Co. During 1913, great improvements were made in the west end of the town, such as the rebuilding of the Sydney Lumber Co. mill, on a more permanent basis, the erection of the new Power House, the additions made to the already large establishment of A. & R. Loggie, Ltd., enlargement of business premises owned by L. P. Lavoie, the building of the "Star" theatre and the large and modern addition to the Queen Hotel. In the east end of the town the new breakwater of one thousand feet in length was completed. This great work which protects the inside harbour from easterly gales and serves as a wharf for large and small craft is also used as a promenade for pleasure seekers. Considerable improvements have been made to the convent. Louis J. LeBlanc's large addition to his property gives the town an up-to-date hair dressing apartment. The Royal Hotel which has changed hands has been thoroughly renovated and will fill a long felt want in the business portion of the town. An up-to-date gent's furnishing store was opened during the year by Mr. Wm. McNeill, formerly of Dorchester, N. B., and Mr. Charles Vermette who purchased Capt. Godin's property, built a modern bakery. Mr. Wm. Gallop added to his garage.

An important change made during the year with one of our concerns was that of the Dalhousie Mercantile Co. Ltd. Recent improvements made to their property which is the old stand occupied for nearly half a century, by Mr. George Haddow, Ex-M.P. make one of the finest retail stores in the county.

An Athletic Association was formed here during the year which adds very much to the amusement of our growing population of young men. The greatest improvement to the town, outside of our water system, which has given such splendid satisfaction, was the installation during the year 1913 of our electric light plant. In the opinion of experts Dalhousie, has one of the best electric light plants that can be had, and a cheap plant at that, and it is to be hoped that the ratepayers of the shiretown will not force the town council to starve a well begun enterprise.

A very enjoyable sleigh drive which terminated in a surprise party at the home of Mrs. Frank Barbarie, was given on Friday evening last by the "Younger Set". Among those present were Misses Alice Harquail, Gertrude McKay, Eva Barbarie, Marguerite Sheehan, Audrey Troy, Helena Harquail, Lisa Wallace, Alma LeBlanc, Edith Stewart, Stella McKenzie, Margaret Baldwin and Messrs James Gilker, (Vancouver), Gordon Stewart, (Toronto), Harry Banning (Montreal) Herbert Hocquard, D. G. Stewart, Wm. Watt, Murray McKay, Gregory McKenzie, Gidion Baldwin, Andrew Wallace, Allie LeBlanc, Kenneth McKenzie, George LaBilios, Alexander Wallace and Arthur Legere.

The Misses Alice and Helena Harquail are entertaining a few of their young friends at a whist party this evening.

Mrs. Anderson and her daughter, Miss Kate Anderson of Campbellton, spent Xmas in town the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Haddow.

Mrs. Wm. McKean and little daughter, Amy, are spending a few days in town the guest of Mrs. McKean's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Barbarie.

Mr. Fred Burr, Manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia spent Christmas in Chatham, with his mother, Mrs. Katherine Burr.

Miss Etta Coleman left on Friday for Jacquet River to visit friends. Among those in town on Tuesday to attend the funeral of the late Mrs. Wm. Montgomery were, James Reid, M.P.P., Charlo; Hon. Allan Ritchie, New Carlisle; R. H. Montgomery, Miles Montgomery, New Richmond; Harry O'Leary, Richibucto; Evan Price, Superintendent I. C. R., Campbellton; Claud Brown, Loggieville; John Moffat, Tide Head.

Mr. Thos. Craig of Upper Charlo, who has been confined to his home for several weeks through illness, was in town today.

Mr. McIntyre, Superintendent of schools in Winnipeg, is in town this week the guest of his friends.

Dr. H. E. Mann has returned to town after an absence of four weeks and is now ready to attend to town patients.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Smallwood and son of Moncton, spent the Christmas holidays with friends in town.

MISSION INDIAN ARRESTED MONDAY

Isaac Isaacs of the Indian Reserve is Charged With Shooting Officer

As a sequel to the shooting of Officer Wm. Savoie, a report of which appears elsewhere in this issue, Isaac Isaacs, an Indian resident on the Mission Reservation, is now under arrest, and will come up for trial in New Carlisle.

Word of the occurrence having been forwarded to Quebec, two detectives were detailed to make the arrest. When it was known by Isaacs that the officers were after him, he warned them to keep away or he would shoot. They waited Saturday and Sunday for a favorable opportunity to arrest Isaacs, keeping close watch on the house. Word was sent to Campbellton and Chief Hughes went over to the Reservation on Monday, and quietly arrested Isaacs in another Indian's house. He was then handed over to the Dominion Officers, and lodged in custody. He will be brought up for trial shortly in New Carlisle.

The injured officer, Wm. Savoie, is now at his home and will not be able to report for duty for some time.
