O'er mountain's brow and lowly dell—
Would fain their transient moments tell, others have been executed in Sacramento, since which perfect quiet has been restored. The greatest excitement had attended the case of Whittaker and McKenzie. They were arcested at the instance of the Vigilance Committee and kept in custody, having confessed to a number of during robberies. On the morning of the 21st of August, before day-light the city authorities proceeded to the rooms of the Committee, and without himdrance took possession of Whittaker and McKenzie, and conveyed them to the Jail. When the populace were informed of this act, the wildest exciement was manifested, and finally on Sunday afternoon, shortly af-ter two o'clock, the prisoners were foreibly rescued from the jail and conveyed to the rooms of the Committee, and in an incredible short space of time the instruments of execu-tion were adjusted, and they were launched tion were adjusted, and they were launched into eternity, smidst a shout of justification from the crowd. After an hour the bodies were cut down, and McKenzie being pranounced not dead by the physician in attendance, he was again hoisted into the air, till like was extinct—when the crowd dispersed quiet and order was restored. Some shots were fired at the rescue, but nothing serious occurred. occurred.
