It is surrounded by orange groves and palm trees, and the pure breezes from the desert from the desert are mixed with the winds which blow from the Mediterranean through the canal which he built. It is 58 years since he first came to Egypt, in the French consular service, and it is more than a generation ago since he persuaded the Viceroy of the country that the work could be done. When he began it the English laughed at him and the scientists all When he began it the English lations of sand and mud and which laughed at him and the scientists all over the world predicted his failure. John Bull shook his tail and said, with a sneer, that France and Egypt were burying their money in the sands of the desert, and it was not France and the stones were made to said so the desert, and it was not France and the stones were made to said so the desert, and it was not france and the stones were made to so for incompanie to the machinery to make them was brought here from the sands of the desert, and it was not france and the stones were made to so for incompanie to the machinery to make them was brought here from the sands of the desert, and it was not france and the stones were made to so for incompanie to the machinery to said the stones were made to so for incompanie to the ground and are thence re-snipped only those few were left; all the test had gone to swell the ranks of the revolution or had fied away into dannel goods. Now more than two-thirds of the shipsthat pass through the canal belong to Great Britain, and the English, in order to protect their interests in India, have had to put something like $17,000. Out into canal shares. It is not a bad investment, for in 1885 the net profits of this canal were more than $6,000,000, and after all expenses were paid the shareholders received.

The means dredges are now employed throughout the canal. These pump up the sand which blows in from the desert, and throw it out beyond the banks. There are standard in took weighed twenty tons and it took 25,000 of these massive rocks to form the bases of these piers. On the top of this foundation the piers were built, and this artificial stone of the great products of the country, got its start during our late civil war. The price rose as high as 44 cents a pound, and millions of dollars' worth of Egyptian cotton was raised and shipped to England. At present the product is about fivehundred thousand bales per annum, which is little in comparison with the great crop of America.

In coming from India to Suez I met an English gentleman who said the shareholders received by the product is about fivehundred thousand bales per annum, which is little in comparison with the great crop of America.

B. M. Johnson, M. D., Thomas Hill, Mo., says: "I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor in my family for a number of years, and regard it as the best hair preparation I know of. It keeps the scalp clean, the hair soft and lively, and preserves the original color. My wife has used it for a long time with most satisfactory results."

Mrs. S. A. Rock, of Anderson, Texas, writes: "At the age of 34, in Monroe, La., I had a severe attack of swamp, or malarial, fever. After I got well my hair commenced coming out, and so continued until it had well nigh all gone. I used several kinds of hair restorers, but they did no good. A friend gave me a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor. Before finishing the first bottle my hair began to grow, and by the time I used three bottles, I had a fine head of hair."

They are not allowed to go over five miles an bour, and this is largely due to the depth of the canal. It average depth is about twenty-four feet, and many of the ships which pass through are more than twenty feet deep in the water. There is so little water under the bottoms that there can be no great speed.

-The importance of securing for Canada a fair share of the trade of the West India Islands and South America can scarcely be overesti-mated. The area of the West India Islands and British Guiana is about 96,000 square miles, with a population of about four or five millionsalmost as much as the entire population of Canada. If we take Brazil we find a population of about thir teen millions, and an annual trade of about £40,000,000 sterling. That Canada is not making the most of this trade is painfully evident. Take for instance, the colony of British Guiana, which embraces an area of 76,000 square miles, with a population of about 260,000. The exports thence to the States are £813,000 yearly, and imports £317,000, while to Canada she exports £42,000 in value, and imports £95,000, showing a total trade of £1,130,000 in one Canada already exports more than the United States to British Guiana of the following articles, viz.:

—An inoffending Jew was industriously peddling his stock of fancy goods at Little Glace Bay on Wednesday, when a practical joker with an a of authority went up to him and coolly asked if he had a license to sell in this town. Upon receiving a reply in the negative, our wag took him by the arm, and taking advantage of police constable McDougall's absence, locked him up in the cell and left. The joke cost the joker next day seven dollars and one hour in the cell vacated by the Jew.—North Sydney Herald.
