Joseph Hetherington Dying at Victoria Hospital

Crushed Down by Falling Tree on Adelaide Street, He Now Lies in Plaster Mould.

Joseph Hetherington, a timber buyer, living on Egerton street, lies at Victoria Hospital with a broken back and a fractured skull, and the physicians entertain no hope of his recovery. Hetherington's injuries were the result of an unusual accident with which he met this morning. He was driving into the city on Adelaide street, and at Piccadilly street, a couple of city laborers were cutting down a large willow tree by the roadside. The tree was on the point of falling, and the men claim they shouted to warn Heatherington, but he evidently misunderstood the warning and drove under the tree as it crashed down. One of the largest branches fell squarely on top of him, striking him to the bottom of his single buggy, and pinning man and vehicle to the ground. The ambulance was summoned and Hetherington taken to Victoria Hospital, where it was found his back was broken in two places and his skull fractured. The usual treatment was followed, he being suspended by the head, a plaster of Paris mold placed around his body. He did not regain consciousness, and the doctors who is a man of middle age, was employed buying lumber for the Crescent Mill Company and for Mayor Rumball, and his employers speak highly

DEATH ENDED HER AGONY!

Miss Nettie Keenleyside Dies From Effect of Burns.

Her Loss Will Be Severely Felt in Many Departments of Church Work and Social Life.

Miss Nettie Keenleyside, who was so frightfully burned by the breaking of an oil lamp last night at the family residence, 380 Maitland street, an account of which will be found on another page of this issue, died this morning about 2 o'clock. Miss Keenleyside's death will be a matter of deep regret to many in this city. She was an active worker in the Dundas Center Methodist Church, being connected with the choir, the Sunday school teaching staff and the Epworth League. In these capacities she had won the love and esteem of both her fellow-members of the church and the Sunday school scholars, while her personal qualities had endeared her to many friends. Miss Keenleyside is survived by her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Keenleyside, and the following brothers: Charles, of Winnipeg; Ellis, of Vancouver; James, of Dawson; Clifford B. and Llewellyn, this city. Her sisters are Mrs. Shuff, of this city, and Mrs.

"THE BONNIE BRIER BUSH." The following opinion of "The Bon-nie Brier Bush," taken from The Advertiser of Wednesday, Oct. 9 of this year, was written by a special correspondent of this paper, who witnessed the play in New York and was most favorably impressed with it. This was weeks before the possibility of its appearing in London was ever thought of, and therefore the sentiments expressed may be taken as an impartial opinion, uninfluenced by any consideration of its effect on a future engagement in London: "I went to hear the dramatized version of "The Bonnie Brier Bush," Ian Maclaren's Scotch story. It has been dramatized by James McArthur. The leading actor, Mr. J. H. Stoddart, who takes the part of Lachlan Campbell. a Highland sheep farmer, reminds you very strongly in personal appearance, as he is made up for the part, of our vetoran townsman, Samuel McBride He is a capital actor and brings out strongly the kind heart coupled with the determination to do his duty, as he thinks he sees it, at no matter what cost. He was wrong, but believed he was right. How often this happens I remember a point once made by the late John B. Gough in one of his lectures. I think its title was "Circumstances." and with many illustrations he drove home the wisdom of the fact that it is always best to "suspend your judgment until you know all." Lachlan Campbell done this, or had his religious convictions not been so cocksure; if he had been more like Dr. MacLure, a character well taken by Mr. John Jennings, he would have saved himself and others much bitter suffering. To think you are right is most pleasant part of the entertain-

He takes the part of 'Posty' Archibald McKittrick, He takes the takes it well, fairly dividing the nonors with Stoddart, and I know that the fact that his intended Scottish accent is flavored with Irish takes away any of the enjoyment. I think he is the best actor that London can claim to have any special interest His voice is clear and distinct, and being near the front I had a good chance to note that his facial expressions correctly interpreted the feelings by which, for the time being, he was possessed. I was pleased with his ability, and pleased that the "full house" at the Theater Republic gave him ample applause. I was told that about 400 free invitations had been sent out for one entertainment, to the clergymen of New York, and that many of them availed themselves of the chance to see the dramatized ver-reading it, so many quiet tears had been shed. They were well pleased." CLOSING THE ENGAGEMENT. Tonight at the London Opera House, the Castle Square Stock Company close their engagement of a week, which has been a very successful one. The offer-ing will be "Triss, the Mountain Waif," a western drama, in which Miss Bozie Stevens will be seen in the title role and James A. Callahan as the funny Dutchman. An entire change of spe cialties will be given, also Ermani's latest "Butterfly Dance," which is a strong feature of the show. FOR THANKSGIVING DAY. The Binghamton, N. Y., Journal, in speaking of "That Dainty Widow," which will be produced at the London Opera House Thanksgiving Day, says: 'That Dainty Widow' opened Stone's Theater last night, and well deserved the reception accorded it. The piece abounds in bright and witty sayings, and catchy songs, and has an exceedingly fine plot, something seldom seen in a musical comedy. The spe-cialties by the different members of the company are all first-class, and had to be repeated to more than one encore. Undoubtedly, this will be the banner week's business at the Stone Theater." Matinee and evening performances will be given, for both of which seats are reserved. Plan opens Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock.

A VALUABLE VIOLIN. If the quality of music produced from violins by the wizards of the bow were regulated by the value of the instrument, the strains brought forth by Mme. Urso should be ravishing enough to realize one's ideas of an angelic orchestra, for her violin is a Guarnerius del Jesu, the same make as Paganini's violin, which is kept in a glass case at Genoa, as one of Italy's most cherished treasures. It is difficult to fix the value of such an instrument, some rating Urso's as high as $10,000. She has several times been offered $5,000 for it, but money would not induce her to part with it. The value of the bow with which she coaxes these heavenly melodies from her vio-lin is fixed at $500, although she had one which she presented to Joachim which was worth twice that amount. Camilla Urso appears at the Auditorium on Monday evening, Dec. 2.

Well-Known Clothing Manufacturer in the City Today.

Thinks Demand for Higher Grade Wares Is Satisfactory Evidence of Prosperity.

Mr. J. B. Grafton, founder and head of the firm of Grafton & Co, wholesale clothing manufacturers, of Dundas, is reporter, Mr. Grafton said:

"Yes, this is my first visit here in over 30 years. I very seldom come west this way, and when I do come I go right through London. Of course I see a great many changes here, and they are all improvements." A query as to the progress of his business, Mr. Grafton replied: "I have been in business in Dundas nearly 50 years ago-48 years, to be exact—and the business has increased steadily all the time. Fifteen years ago we launched out and began establishing retail stores in different centers. Up to two years ago we let out the manufacture of all our clothing, but now we have our own factory where all the cutting, button-holing and pressing is done as well as all and pressing is done, as well as all the finer work turned out by us. Our factory is, of course, run entirely by union labor. We get all our styles from the leading American manufac-turers, who lead the world in readymade clothing."

Asked as to the general condition of his business interests, Mr. Grafton replied that he was well satisfied with the progress of his local store, as well branches in other cities. He says that the letter qualities of goods are coming more into demand and finding a readier sale than ever before, thus showing the general pros-

The cow had become very ick, and he was preparing soon to hold an autopsy on her when the agents of Dr. Black pounced on the creature and carried her away to the public pound, where it is said she will

Suffered Greatly From Asthma and Kidney Troubles.

Spent Some Time in a Hospital and Almost Impoverished Himself Buying Medicines Without Benefit-Again Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Cure After Other Medicines Fail.

[From the Recorder, Halifax, N. S.] Mr. Wm. Cochrane, a well-known teamster, who lives near the Halifax Polo Grounds, is one of those who willingly bear testimony to the curative powers of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. A reporter of the Acadian Recorder who had heard of Mr. Cochrane's sufferings and subsequent cure, called at his home, when he gave an account of his experience substantially as follows: "He had for many years been a constant sufferer from asthma, accompanied by an aggravated form of kid-ney trouble. The latter trouble caused severe pain in the back and loins, and at times his sufferings were very acute. He said he had almost impoverished himself in buying medicines of all kinds, but to no purpose. The trouble continued, and seemed to grow worse as the years passed. Mrs. Cochrane said that she had frequently seen her husband choke up and fall to the floor as though dead, and he would have to be worked with and rolled around before he would revive. A few years ago he spent ten dars in the Victoria General Hospital. The doc-tors then thought that the pains in the back were due to over-exertion in his business as a teamster, but gave him no material help. After leaving the hospital he used bottles and botties of medicine, but failed to find a A neighbor of his. Mr. Lowe. whose wife had been made a well woman after years of sickness, by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pilis, advised him to try them. He used a couple of boxes without apparent result, and felt somewhat discouraged, but Mr. Lowe advised him to continue the use of the pills, and before the third box was finished, he began to improve. 'Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been a Godsend to me, said Mr. Cochrane 'they are the only medicine. whose victim was Sarah Horowitz, 16 years old, was yesterday sentenced to ten years imprisonment by Judge Fostor, of the New York Coverage for the N ter, of the New York General Sessions any good. I had one prescription from a doctor which cost me $1 which like many other medicines took, was just so much money wasted. I have used eight or ten boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and can say that before I began their use life was an intolerable burden. I have reason to be thankful that I followed the friendly

GAS EXPORTATION. Toronto, Ont., Nov. 22 .- A conference took place today between Hon. J. M. Gibson and George H. Watson, K.C., on behalf of the Ontario Government, and John C. Donnelly, of Detroit, solicitor for the United Gas and Oil Company, and Walter Gow, representing the Toronto solicitors of the company.

Mr. Gibson says a complete agreement has not yet been made, but that part of the terms of settlement included the handing over by the gas company of the keys of the pipe by which natural gas is exported. Gibson added that what was originally an injunction against the government looks now as if it would become an injunction against the gas company, and that no gas has been exported during the past two weeks. The position is regarded as a distinct triumph for those who wish the exportation of gas to cease. Windsor, Ont., Nov. 22 .- The apparatus for pumping the Leamington gas wells was completed yesterday, and the citizens expect that by removing the matter of four wells the flow of gas will be sufficiently increased to supply the town. If the flow of gas is no greater it is likely that the council will apply to the United Gas and Of Company for gas.

ORDERS GALORE RECEIVED BY

Wonderful Growth of McClary Company's Business.

LONDON FIRM

Their Stoves, Ranges, and Furnaces Have Found a Ready Market-Judicious Advertising.

The stove season for 1901 is now nearing a close, as far as the manufacturers are concerned, and to the Mc-Clary Company this has been the crowning year in their experience. Although their foundries, which are among the largest in Canada, have been running their full capacity all year, as well as a good deal of overtime, this company are said to have been forced to cancel thousands of doilars' worth of orders, because they were unable to turn out the goods in time. In order to be better able to handle next year's business, which, from present indications will be even greater than this, the company have been considering the erection of another foundry, and, should a favorable settlement of their tax question be concluded, this addition may be commenced early in the year. This great popularity of McClary's Famous stoves and furnaces is not the result of mere accident, or of any sudden caprice on the part of the stovebuying public, but is due to over fifty years of honest dealing with their customers, up-to-date goods, a level-headed use of experience gained, and prices right. During this long period of years, the McClary people have from time to time, brought out many new and improved stoves and furnaces, and have always, with the help of judicious advertising, found a ready market for their new lines. The advertising of the McClary Company has in the last few years become so portant a factor in their business that they felt the necessity of making it a distinct department, which was done last spring. Since then this work has been under the management of Mr. J.

This year the company have advertised only three lines, viz.: The Famous Active Range, the Cornwall Steel Range and the Sunshine Furnace. The Famous Active is their leading cast-iron range, and is perhaps the best known and most popular kitchen stove in Canada. It is undoubtedly one of the most handsome and, its makers claim, is the only range on the market equipped with all the later im-provements. For instance, they say that while other ranges on the market may have the ventilated oven, basting door or thermomete; no one of them has all three, while the Famous Active has. Besides these, it has many other strong features, such as clinkerless duplex grates, heavy sectional cast-iron linings, a thick layer of cement between bottom of stove and the oven steel lining, poker hole in fire door, sectional covers and an exceptionally rich nickel dress. The sales of this favorite Canadian range this year have trebled those of last. Their Cornwall Steel Range is quite new on the market, and yet its sales and the general satisfaction reported from those in use already assure its success. This range differs from most steel ranges in that it has a clean, graceful outline, distinctly its own, and this shapely build, combined with its rich nickel dress, which contrasts beautifully with the highly polished, hammered steel body, makes the Cornwall a range of which the Mc-Clary Company have just reason to be proud

The Sunshine is the furnace which the McClary Manufacturing Company have been advertising this year, and when it is known that scores of orders for this hot air heater have had to be canceled because the furnaces could not be supplied, some idea of its success and popularity may be formed. The Sunshine is made in three sizes, burns coal, coke or wood, and has every known improvement. An American furnace expert, who bought duplicate iron patterns of the Sunshine for his company, described it as the most common-sense furnace he had ever seen.

A Very Strange Story

Remarkable Experience of a Boston Man in Europe.

What He Found in Switzerland and Brought Back to America.

"I've got a story to tell," said one of the best known business men in Boston to a party of friends. "It's the strangest, most remarkable experience through which I ever passed. Here, all of you have a cigar, while I proceed.

"I was on a pleasure trip in Europe last summer with my family. Of course, we had to see Paris, and while out riding my wife fell from the carriage. She hurt her ankle dreadfully. The doctor said a bone was cracked and three ligaments were broken. Anyhow, it was a bad accident. She couldn't walk—couldn't bear her weight on the foot. The doctor put all sorts of mixtures on the ankle—tried everything. He had it massaged twice a day-morning and evening-but that didn't do any good.

My wife was in bed three weeks.
"The doctor said one day. 'That ankle will mend in the course of time, but you want to take your wife away from Paris to some quiet place. So I packed up and went to a little village in Switzerland. My wife had to be carried to and from the train. She was positively helpless, "After we arrived in the village, I sent for another doctor. He came, and said the only way to cure that ankle was to have it massaged twice a day. I didn't have much faith in it, but what could I do? I employed a native woman to massage the ankle and she came morning and evening for fifteen days.

"The ailing ankle didn't improve, so I said to the native woman, Give me your bill. I want to pay you. We are going to leave tomorrow."
"The woman remarked that if we would put off our departure for a day, she would would cure it. That seemed queer to me.

why hadn't she brought it before? I suppose she wanted her engagement to last as we waited a day, and the next morning the woman came with a queer looking green oil in a bottle. This she rubbed on my wife's ankle. In about two hours my wife said: "'Why, my foot feels all right now.'

And she stood up and walked. I was astounded. It didn't seem possible, but it was so, just the same.

"I said to myself: 'If that queer oil can relieve a pain in two hours that the doctor couldn't cure in six weeks it must be a mo wonderful thing, and I'm going to find out all about it. "I hunted the woman up and asked:

'Where did you get that oil?'
"'My grandfather makes it,' she replied.
"'Who is your grandfather?' was my next question.

'O, he lives in such and such a street. "Will you take me to see him? "I said I wanted to find out what the oil was made of, but the woman replied: "'My grandfather won't tell you. He keeps it secret. He makes a living from it. He sells it to people around here to cure rheumatism, lumbago and all kinds of bodily aches and pains.' "I was bound to see to Paris I took the recipe to one of the best chemists in the city to see if the old fellow in Switzerland had fooled me by giving me a worthless formula. The chemist analy ed a small quantity of the oil I had retained, and found that the recipe was precisely the same.

"The same chemist told me that the oil was the best preparation he had ever seen in his life for curing pains and aches of every nature. It was simply wonderful. The green color, he said, came from a rare herb that

"The green color came from a rare herb." grows only in a certain part of Switzerland.

This herb, he declared, was used in no other liniment or pain killer. While the other in-gredients were well known to the medical ofession as antidotes for pain, the green herb added the greatest value to the oil. "Of course I was pleased, but the matter soon passed from my mind, and after a while we went to Berlin. The day of our arrival the weather was cold, raw and nasty. The wind made you feel like a sieve—it went right through you. The sudden change brought on a terrible cold in my chest. The pain was acute, and seemed to go through me all at once. I felt I was see for— couldn't breathe—thought I so sing to die. Don't laugh—that's just how I was I couldn't go downstairs to breakfast. Had to the down. Told my wife to send for a doctor. I was in such pain I never thought of the oil, but my wife did. She remembered her ankle. She got some one in the hotel to rub it on my chest, and in two hours I was as well as I was the minute. The oil did was as well as I am this minute. The oil did won-ders for me as well as for my wife. Do you blame me for being enthusiastic about it? "My little girl about that time suffered with swellen tensils. Couldn't eat. Couldn't swallow. "About the first person I met in London was the manager of a famous theatrical star. He had been out bicycle riding. Rode too far and too fast on a het day, like so many other folks. When he got back to the hotel he was so stiff he couldn't get out of bed the next morning. I told him I had something that would fix him all right, and got a valet to rub the green oil on him. It took all the stiffness out of his limbs at once. He was up and around in almost no

"Coming over on the steamer I met an old friend—one of the biggest dry goods merchants in Syracuse, N. Y. He walked as though he had a stiff neck and back.

"I said: 'What's the matter with you?" "'Lumbago,' he replied. "That was enough

Said it was so sore he could not walk; had been that way a long time; could-thing. Thinks I, n't find relief in anything. Thinks I, That's easy for the oil.' I gave him a bottle, and he used it. The last I saw of him he was tramping up and down that deck like a good fellow. He said the oil was mighty good stuff.

"On arriving in this country I went to Newport, and there met an old friend in the person of a Pennsylvania judge-one of the greatest jurists in the Keystone State. He walked like the Syracuse merchant—he had lumbago still worse. What is the use of going into details? I gave him some oil and it attended to the lumbago. The judge was cared absolutely.

"Then another friend-a New York merchant prince—came along with a felon on his finger. It nearly drove him mad. The pain was excruciating. He put some of the oil on that finger, and it took all the pain out. The swelling and the inflammation isappeared.

"I've tried this oil so often—I've tried it on every kind of pain, ache and inflammation—that I will stake my reputation on the statement that it will cure more ailments than anything else that human man ever put together. It is a positive remedy faith in it. It is that green herb from Switzerland that gives it the almost miraculous curative virtues. It is this herb that gives it the green color, and it is the green of Nature.

"There you have my story, gentlemen.
Every word is true as Gospel, and the half has not been told. I have such unbounded confidence in the preparation that I have organized a company for its manufacture and invested a lot of cash in it. You all know me as a conservative man, and every cent I put up goes into something which I positively know to be meritorious.

"The name is Omega Oil. It is not like anything else in America. It is no more like other liniments than high noon is like midnight. It contains vegetable substances that you have never tried before. You must not judge it by other liniments. You must not say it will not cure your pains and aches, because it will.

"It will penetrate to your very bones, and soothe, soften and subdue the hurting. There is nothing in it except what grows out of the ground. It has the beautiful color of Nature-it is a sparkling emerald green. Rub it in freely. It will not blister or burn the skin. Rub it in and the hurting will stop.

Lynch. Nor is it possible to smuggle Col. Lynch into the commons and enable him to take the oath without observation. It was decided in the Bradlaugh case that a member of parliament cannot administer the oath to himself and thereby obtain immunity from arrest in legal proceedings as a matter of privilege. Lawyers agree that Col. Lynch can be prosecuted as soon as he arrives on British soil, and that the oath must be administered in the presence of the commons, Col. Lynch's election is frankly described by Irish leaders as a convenient and forcible method of emphasizing their irreconcilable hostility to everything English. SALISBURY AND CHAMBERLAIN. Those in the way of seeing Lord Salisbury describe him as ageing rapidly, and as displaying little interest in public affairs. His heart is not in his work. He searches in an absentminded way for the point of least resistance, and avoids as far as possible political disturbance and commotion. The friends of Mr. Chamberlain, the colonial secretary, have for some time been concerned with regard to his health. Today Mr. Chamberlain wrote the Handsworth School, declining to distribute prizes at that institution, because, as he said, "it is absolutely necessary for me to confine my strength to public work."

TIMES DEFENDS CHAMBERLAIN. The Times, defending Mr. Chamberlain against German attacks, says:
"We must beg to remind the Germans that we claim an equal right to guard our own honor and to resent accusations founded upon the most hateful and personal calumnies disseminated with a deliberate persistence inexplication able in a friendly community. We hope the German people and government will understand that the British nation will not acquiesce in any impeachment of the honor of our gallant soldiers, which is as dear to us as is that of the German army to the German nation. THE CORONATION ROBES. The coronation robes were displayed yesterday on wicker dummies at the earl Marshal's, office for the benefit of dressmakers and tailors, so that no mistakes may be made when titled customers give orders. No models of coronets were arranged for the convenience of jewelers and pawnbrokers. The solemnity with which Jenkins discusses these maters of tailoring is awe-inspiring.

THE GERMAN OUTBURST. It is reported from Berlin that the German chancellor is of the same opinion about Mr. Chamberlain's Edinburgh speech as are the overwhelming majority of the German people, and, it is asserted that he will give a frank expression of his views if asked in the reichstag. The German outburst has not passed unnoticed in British circles. There is no attempt to minimize its significance. Official feeling in tis country is one of indifference, tempered by sincere regret, that international misunderstanding should have arisen owing to a construction being placed on the utterance which it was never intended to suggest. CAUSE OF DEAFNESS authority that nine-tenths of cases of deafness are caused from catarrh or from sore throat trouble.

It has been stated on good medical

The little tube which leads to the ear from the throat is lined with a sort of velvety structure called mucous membrane. This membrane is simply a continuation of the mucous membrane lining the throat. When disease of any sort attacks the mucous membrane of the throat it is very liable to extend into the Eustachian tube and up

The history of nearly all cases of deafness is like this: A cold is con-tracted and neglected, other colds are taken, the throat becomes sore and inflamed, which is aggravated by particles of dust and germs from the air. This condition causes the disease to spread into the tube that leads to the

It seems a little far-fetched to say that most cases of deafness are caused and anyone who has had a severe catarrhal cold must have noticed how the hearing was affected while the cold

Three years ago I caught a heavy cold which settled in catarrh of the head and bronchial tubes. I thought it only an ordinary cold at first and paid little attention to it until the catarrh developed. I coughed badly and was unable to secure a good night's rest. Finally my father read of a cure called Peruna and sent for a bottle. I found that it relieved me wonderfully and so kept taking it for nearly three months, when I was well once more. Peruna has a great number of friends in this neighborhood. It has a good reputation as catarrh remedy which it well de-serves."-Myrtice James.

Catarrh of Head and Throat as the Result of a Neglected Cold.

Henriette C. Olberg, one of the judges of the flag and hemp exhibit at the World's Fair in Chicago; Superintendent of the above exhibit at the International Exhibit at Omaha, June to November, 1898; Secretary National Flax-Hemp and Ramie Association and editor of this department in The Distaff, Boston, writes from Albert, Lea, Minn .:

"I contracted an aggravating cold having been exposed to the damp weather. Catarrh of my throat and head followed, which persisted in remaining, notwithstanding I applied the usual remedies. Reading of the merits of Peruna in the papers, I decided to try it, and soon found that all that has been said of your medicine in such cases is true.

"I am very pleased with the satisfactory results obtained from using Peruna, am entirely well and consider it a most valuable family medicine." -Henriette C. Olberg.

Peruna is a woman's friend every-where. It is safe to say that no woman ever used Peruna for any catarrhal derangement but what it became indispensable in her household.

The Petition of the Medical Profession to the Hospital Trustees-Remarkable Unanimity.

The petition, presented on behalf of the medical profession to the hospital trustees by Drs. Wishart and Eccles, had the signatures of 58 out of 60 medical men. We have been accustomed saying, "Doctors differ," but desire of the petitioners was not to give to the public, through the press, any matters that might come before the trustees calculated to injure the hospital. They explained that if ment; she heard the daughter ask the nurse for water, and was refused: again she asked, and was again refused. The mother thought the nurse hard-hearted, and was prepared to go out and denounce the whole institution, nurse included, for such harsh treatment. Her daughter could not even get a glass of water! Let that charge go out, said the doctor, and some people would not understand it. But let the explanation go with itthat the nurse was following the doctor's orders, and that there are cases when, though the thirst may be extreme, they keep the patient from getting water for 24 hours. This is for the patient's good, he said, and what seemed to the mother hard-hearted, was the greatest kindness.

The course that has been followed hitherto in the hospital is in reality the one recommended by the medical profession. If any question arose calculated, if published, to do harm, or to hurt the feelings of those whose case was being considered, the reporters were asked not to insert anything in the report regarding it. The reporters in no instance did so. This is as it should be, and is quite in keeping with the request in the petition.

The trustees recognized the soundess of the principle of the petition, and the necessity for loyalty to the hospital, not only on the part of the trustees, but of the medical profession and the press as well. The hospital, though a public institution, was, in its private ward, and in some respects in its public ward, nothing more or less than a home. The room occupied by a patient is for the time being his home. The fact that it is in a hospital does not give the doctor or the nurse, or anyone else, the right to violate the sacredness with which the doctor's knowledge has always been regarded by all medical men and nurses. Medical men, as a rule, are very conscientious in observing the well-established rules of

The trustees met the deputation of medical men and exchanged views. It was found that there was no difference of opinion; that publicity that would do harm and work injustice should be avoided; that publicity that caused all connected with the hospital to do right was to be welcomed. So far the trustees had found that the reporters complied with their wishes.

The petition emphasizes the fact that much injury may be done to a hospital without any cause whatever. The Advertiser has been pointing out just what Dr. Eccles' illustration makes so Many things are capable of explanation, and he who would condemn on and opportunity for explanation, is unjust. Before coming to any conclusion it is always necessary to first scertain the facts. If this well-esablished rule is followed by all inerested in the hospital, the press included, in future the hospital will coninue to hold in the estimation of the public the high position it now does.

By the publication of the report of the Canadian Minister of Inland Revenue for the year ending June 30, 1901 we are able to make an interesting comparison of the drink bill of the Dominion with that of the United Kingdom, France, Germany and the United wine, and taking the year 1900 for three of these countries, the consump-

Total Consumption. Per head. Gallons. Gallons. Inited Kingdom 15,816,000

It will be seen that more wine is consumed per head in Canada than in the United States or Great Britain, though less than in Germany. The consumption in all four countries is, however, infinitesimal, compared with the French Republic, which is the great wine producing and consuming country of the continent. Of other countries Portugal averages about 20 gallons per head, Spain 19 gallons, Italy 18 gallons and Switzerland 15 gallons. The consumption in Austria-Hungary is a little over 3 gallons per head, in Belgium less than a gallon, and in Holland about the same as in the United King-

1	Here are the facts:
-	Canada (1901)	Per head. Gallons. 4.737
-	(1900)	31.7 6.2 27.5

The consumption per head in the United States, it will be seen, is only half that of Germany, which is itself less than that of the United Kingdom. In each of the three southern states of Germany, however, Bavaria, Wurtemburg and Baden, the consumption per head is greater than in the United Kingdom. Of other countries not included here, Belgium is easily first, with a consumption in 1899 of nearly 47 gallons per head, which, however, falls short of the Bavarian consumption of 54 gallons per head. Nearly all these figures show evidence of a tendency to

In the United Kingdom the average consumption was, roughly, 27 gallons per head from 1885 to 1888, and in the next two years rose to 30 gallons per head, remaining at or near this point up to 1895. Beside this consumption, Canada's four odd gallons is a very small quantity, indeed.

Spirits are not nearly so popular as a beverage as formerly. The consumption is as follows:

Now we are practically freed from the impediment that the hostile vote in Quebec has been to us."

Mr. Spence added a reference to the figures of the plebiscite, remarking that a total of 249,444 votes had been cast for prohibition, and 141,933 against it, the vote polled being 44 per cent of the registered vote. In 148 constituencies outside of Quebec, 121 gave a majority for prohibition and only 27 against it. The average majority for it was 1,034, and the average majority against it in the 27 constituencies was 633. Hamilton, Ont., Nov. 23.—Dr. Emory, Dominion secretary of the Royal Templars of Temperance, said there would be an early move made to secure prohibition for Ontario. In any event, the temperance people would now stop looking to Ottawa for such relief and would turn their attention to the legislature at Toronto.

COUNSEL FOR LICENSE-HOLDERS Toronto, Nov. 23 .- James Haverson, who represents the license-holders of the Province, had little to say regarding the judgment of the privy council. "What effect will it have on Manitoba?" was asked.
"The effect will be to take the hars in the Province of Manitoba out of the hotels, and put them in the drug stores, and it will bring upon that province all the evil effects of the Scott act, with which this province is very familiar."

Mr. Haverson explained that the law would only come into force upon the proclamation of the lieutenant-governor. Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 22.-Regarding the decision of the privy council in the as given to the Ontario Government.

RESULTS IN HUDSON BAY COM-PANY'S TERRITORY.

"You will notice that the committee has not dealt with the principal questions referred to the courts—that is, the right of the legislature to legislate away the liquor business of the Hudson Bay Company. When the court of King's bench decided that the act was defective on other grounds, it became unnecessary to consider the Hudson Bay Company question. On the appeal to the judicial committee the arguments were directed entirely to the questions discussed by the court below, and no expression of opinion in judgment has been given of the Hudson Bay Company point. The result is that the government is entirely in the dark on the principal difficulty on which it desired an opinion of the

IN DOUBT.

Local hotelkeepers are feeling uneasy. The present license was issued on June 1, and in the ordinary course of events would be good until June 1, 1902, but whether the licenses were issued after the liquor act had been adopted or while its validity was being questioned in court, they are fearful that they may be deprived of the right of selling liquor at any time. Others feel that even if the proclamation is issued forthwith they will be permitted to conduct their undisturbed until their licenses have

HUGH JOHN'S VIEWS.

Hon. Hugh John Macdonald, expremier of the province, said: "I only hope that it will be so plain a judgment that there need be no further litigation in the matter. There is a danger of a judgment being in such a shape that it will require legal opinion as to exactly what it means, as was the case with the decision of the courts, about six or seven years ago, when Ontario was given certain provincial rights.

"You believed at the time you took part in the framing of the act that it was within the rights of the province? On what grounds did you take that stand?" 'On the decision I mention in regard to the rights of provincial legislatures, "Have your views altered at all since the act was framed?"

"No," said Mr. Macdonald, "they have not. I NEVER WAS IN FAVOR OF PROHIBITION. I believed at the time it rested in the hands of the people, and I believe that temperance advocates are away in the majority in this province. I do not believe that there is anything in the act that upsets any of the provisions of the British North America act. The Manitoba liquor act was framed and was in-tended to be put in force simply as an experiment. On this ground I was in favor of letting it go through. If it was found not to be practicable in administration or detrimental to the country, why it could be repealed by the government. It was to be enforced to the letter of the law. On the surface I think the act looks as if it would interfere with Dominion trade and commerce, but it will require to be put to the test before this will be known. Licensed manufacturers will given, I should think, a certain length of time before the act is enforced, but the law allows it to be put in force tomorrow by proclamation by the lieutenant-governor."

Is equally good for the cough of chronic bronchitis, with profuse expectoration, the dry harsh throat cough, the irritating cough of influenza, and for whooping cough and croupy coughs of children. To those who are subject to bronchial attack it is an especial boon. The cough and breathing are made easier almost immediately, the irritation in throat and bronchial tubes is soothed, the character of the expectoration is altered and a general improvement effected in all the symptoms. We have hundreds of reports from all parts of the English-speaking world attesting its remarkable power to relieve and cure troublesome coughs.

BRONCHITIS :- I have used Angier's Petroleum Emulsion in my own family, and find it is without an equal in either acute or chronic diseases of the air passages. I also find it has a beneficial action on the digestive organs. I have a case now in this city of bronchitis with profuse and fetid expectoration, and he had, previous to my being called, tried various preparations of cod liver oil and creosote without avail. I put him on your Emulsion, and his improvement was apparent from the beginning. He is now able to attend to his duties. I will continue to recommend Angier's Emulsion, as I deem it a very valuable preparation. R. F. BROWN, M. D., New Britain, Conn.

The board of trustees of Victoria Hospital held their regular fortnightly meeting at the city hall yesterday. No business of striking importance

There is always mystery and doubt about the action of internal remedies. Time is required for the medicine to take effect. It is different with Dr. Chase's Ointment, for it is applied externally, and you are sure to be surprised by the remarkable change it brings about in a few hours. Its cleansing, soothing, healing action allays inflammation and irritation, removes redness and roughness of the skin, and leaves the skin delightfully smooth, soft and velvety.

Notwithstanding its powerful action in the severest cases of skin diseases. Dr. Chase's Cintment can be used with perfect safety on the most tender skin, and is especially suitable for the chafings, itchings and irritations which are so troublesome. Ladies keep it constantly in their toilet, and mothers who have used it in place of powders for their babies would not think of changing. It does not clog the pores of the skin, as do powders, does not stain the linen, and is pleasant to

Mrs. E. Clark, 74 Inchbury street, Hamilton, Ont, states: "The results experienced from using Dr. Chase's Ointment on my children for various sores have been satisfactory in the being attended by their lodge doctor, extreme, especially so with baby, now two months old. All the soreness, scalding and chafes were removed from the little fellow immediately after using Dr. Chase's Ointment on him, which freed him from pa'n. It came as a blessing. Toronto, Nov. 22 .- Bradstreet's trade the various departments of iron and review, weekly summary:

Trade at London has been moderate'y active this week. The grain is steady, though rapidly absorbed deliveries are still light, and it has made the business at retail centers a little slow. A cold snap would help trade. Values are firm.

Trade at Hamilton has been active. Country merchants have been sending in some liberal orders for the current season to sort stocks, and travelers have been doing a nice trade for the spring. Values are generally firm.

There have been a number of country buyers in Toronto this week, attracted by the offerings of job lots of drygoods incidental to stock-taking. There was also a good deal of spring business done with other merchants. Travelers now have their spring samples completed, and the volume of business so far has been very satisfactory. The holiday demand in wholesale circles is getting more brisk now, and colder weather would stimulate the demand for sorting parcels of seasonable goods. Values of staples

At Ottawa there is a good demand for seasonable lines, and more interest is being taken by retailers in shipping goods. The holiday trade is looking up, and promises to be large this year.

Values are generally firm. Wholesale trade at Montreal, which is usually less active on the close of navigation, has this season been less affected in that way. The movement in wholesale circles still continues active. House sales as well as travelers' orders have been very good. Leading business men say that in a good many departments of wholesale trade, not only has the volume of business the past year been large, but profits are bigger than for 1900. Staple goods are steadily held, and there is a feeling of confidence in wholesale trade over the future. Country remittances are improving. There have been comparatively few failures among retailers this month, and the conditions of trade generally appear to be

IN THE UNITED STATES. New York, Nov. 22.-R. G. Dun & Co.'s review: Never before in the history of the United States was there such great reason for a day of national thanksgiving. To a marked degree business enterprises have proved successful. Transporting facilities have been unable to keep pace with the nation's requirements, many complaining of tardy deliveries, which alone act as a brake on commercial progress. Careful search discloses few unfavorable factors in the iron and steel situation. Probably the least satisfactory conditions are found at plate mills, which report an uneven distribution of orders. In rails there is no apparent limit to the orders placed, cian, who is connected with neither though some mills are unable to guarantee delivery within a year. Can't do much of a day's work starting off with a back as bad as that-not fit for pleasure either. Well, all this backache and pain, this stiffness and soreness comes because the kidneys are clogged up, can't do their work properly, and your back has to suffer for it.

Just try a box or two of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets. What a change you'll find coming over you! You'll be able to spring from your bed in the morning as lively as a cricket, and feel refreshed and fit for your daily duties.

TOUCHED THE SPOT.

Joseph Weeks, Beckwith Street, Smith's Falls, says: "My back was in a bad way. I was desperately lame, and there was a dull grinding pain over my kidneys. At times I had headaches, and often I was dizzy, particularly if I had been stooping. I tried first one thing, then another, but there was no permanent benefit till I began using Pitcher's Kidney Tablets. They go right to the spot and I found prompt relief. Nothing before ever did me as much good. I would suggest to anyone suffering in that way to try them."

THE GRAIN TRADE

Toronto Board of Trade Adopt Resolutions Affecting the Traffic.

Toronto, Nov. 23.—A special meeting of the board of trade was held yesterday, at which a number of resolutions affecting the grain trade were passed. The government is asked to withdraw a recent instruction to weights and measures inspectors that only a bushel measure is to be legal for testing grain, the trade believing that the present two-quart measure is satisfactory. The government is also asked to appoint official weighers at all public vators, especially at Toronto, Montreal, Portland and St. John, the weighers to inspect all cars before unloading to ascertain, on behalf of the shippers, if any leakage has occurred Another resolution requests the railway companies to instruct managers of all public elevators on their roads to notify shippers and consigners on the arrival of each shipment, giving quantity and grade and date of arrival. Other boards of trade and the Dominion Millers' Association are asked to co-operate with the Toronto board in getting the government to grant the requests of the board.

SUCCESSION DUTIES.

Toronto, Nov. 23. - The receipts of the Ontario Government under the succession duties act have amounted to about $230,000 for the first ten months of the year. The total the whole of last year was $226,676.

THE ORIGIN OF QUOTATIONS.

Writing in the New Liberal Review, ning. You are looking forward to marriage and the founding of a family, my Mr. Churton Collins shows by what young brother, or you, my dear girl, curious channels of error and misconception many so-called "quotations" have become popular. The saying, Curses, like young chickens, always dren. If we are to recover out of its ome · home to roost," fell from the ips of a half-witted Cumberland rus-. Coleridge liked it and turned it nto Greek, fathering it on an obscure writer, Southey prefixed this Greek version to his "Curse of Kehama," and so it came into vogue. Fifty guineas were once offered for the discovery of the origin of the phrase, "Vox populi, vux Dei," which has now been run to earth in an epistle of Alcuin to Charlemagne, where, however, it appears already as a saying, Alcuin pouring ridicule on it. The origin of many familiar quotations is by no means familiar. In very truth, however, the greatest reality to be experienced comes to us after death. This life is merely the starting point of the soul. And it follows that if life is to continue indefinitely there must be an excellence of character, a well-rounded and symmetrical perfection, which we may begin to attain here, which it is our duty to develop so far as circumstances will allow, looking to another life for its

The importance of a proper beginning cannot be exaggerated, even as a bullet must begin right if it is to hit the far away target. We cannot allow ourselves to be at loose ends here, for it will be extremely difficult to change the wrong into right hereafter, whereas, if we keep the right in mind today it will be easy to pursue the right tomorrow.

I should say, then, that the first quality of the ideal character is absolute rectitude. Manliness and a high sense of honor, which includes self-respect which always commands the respect of others, make a strong foundation on which to build. To have such an estimate of yourself that you cannot stoop to a mean act is to cut the fangs out of the serpent mouth "Hoot, mon," said his Scottish the meaning of passages is emphasized pect of gain when gain is soiled or companion, "why should ye waste the and made clearer by the quaint Scotsiller that way? MY CHAPERON. My CHAPERON.

I take my chaperon to the play—
She thinks she's taking me;
And the glided youth who owns the box,
A proud young man is he—
But how would his young heart be hurt
If he could only know
That not for his sweet sake I go,
Nor yet to see the trifling show,
But to see my chaperon flirt!

Her eyes beneath her well-dyed hair. They sparkle young as mine— There's not a wrinkle in her hand, So delicate and fine. So delicate and fine.

And when my chaperon is seen,
They come from everywhere—
The dear old boys with silvery hair,
With old-time grace and old-time air,
To greet their old-time queen.

They bow as my young Midas here Will never learn to bow That gracious reverence now);
With voices quavering just a bit. They play their old part through,
They talk of folks who used to woo,
Of hearts that broke in sixty-two—
Now none the worse for it.

And as those aged crickets chirp, I watch my chaperon's face, And see the well-governed features take A new and tender grace; And in her happy eyes I see Her youth awakening bright, With all its hopes, desire, delight— Ah me! I wish that I were quite

Mr. Dooley's prediction to Hinnissey that "they're goin' to dhramatize the Bible as soon as the dhramatizer is done dhramatizin' the last cinsus of th' United Sthates," seems in a fair way to be literally fulfilled, for the basis of one of the latest contributions to the stage is taken from a good hymnbook. "The Ninety and Nine," Ira D. Sankey's well-known composition, has been used as the basis for a play, and gain all the fame and financial reward with none of the attendant danger. is to be produced shortly. Such a development of the craze for dramatizing anything and everything that has ever come before the public in any printed or written form, is certainly to be deprecated, for it cannot conduce much to the elevation of the stage, while it can and will tend to gradually bring sacred things into derision. Though more intimate relations between the church and the theater are "a consummation devoutly to be wished," they are scarcely likely to be materially advanced while the public taste is so palpably inclined in the direction of the cheap, the indelieate and sometimes the vicious in theatrical wares. As it is, most of the productions which come heralded as having bridged the chasm between church and stage prove woe disappointing, at least on that score, if not on others.

Apropos of the remarks in this column last week on the inexplicable survival of the gory brand of melodrama, the following announcement of an important acquisition to the ranks of the drama is interesting: "The Man Who Never Broke a Promise! Mr. James' professional debut opens up the way to fortune and fame for repentant and pardoned mur-derers and other renowned criminals. Dorothy Sherrod, who is Mrs. Tim Murphy off the stage, and Mr. Mur-phy's leading woman, lost her trunk the other night while the company was playing in Chicago. She had to appear in street attire.

When the public authorities do their duty in a matter it deserves to be re-corded. The managers of a Belfast, Me., theater would not put fire escapes on the building and the mayor promptly closed the house. H. V. Esmond, the author of "When We Were Twenty-One," is coming to this country. He is to supervise the rehearsal of his new play, "The Wilderness," which will be played by the Empire Theater company. Jules Murry is going to exploit Rose

Coghlan. Mr. Murray has secured the rights to Oscar Wilde's play, "A Woman of No Importance," in which Miss Coghlan made a hit some seasons ago, and will use it again. Ada Rehan is back in New York after having spent the summer and early autumn in Europe. There are no plans yet for her reappearance on the stage. but it is likely that she will soon ap-

Members of the Matthews & Bulger company, playing "The Night of the Fourth," are stranded in Dallas, Tex., a long way from the Rialto indeed. The piece was something of a success until Mr. Bulger, who was under contract to appear in "The Sleeping Beauty and the Beast," left it. The management then closed, settling up with all the players. But a new management offered to continue the tour, with Mr. Matthews as the star. And now they are in Dallas.

At the conclusion of a performance at the Manhattan Theater, New York, recently, Mrs. Minnie Maddern Fiske addressed the Nineteenth Century Club "The influence of the so-called theatrical trust upon the American drama." She reviewed the history of the alleged combination controlling the American stage, and sharply criticised the methods by which it maintained supremacy. She asserted that the standard of art was being lowered and that the spirit of commercialism was dominant. She declared that under present methods the American playwright suffered equally with the performer.

My appetite is good, no more vomiting, my lungs are strong, my catarrh has disappeared, and I am sure that with Ozone I will become a man again; a better man than ever before. Never will I be without Ozone, now that I know it is the only remedy for perfect health. Doctors do not approach where Ozone is. One of my sisters, who has been sick for many years, has commenced the Ozone treatment. Once more I thank you for all that your good Ozone has done. I remain, yours respectfully,

"A. J. FORGUE, St. Constant La Prairie, P. Q." Catarrhal trouble is due to inflammation of the membrane linings of the nose and throat. You probably pay no attention to a cold—the cold congests the linings and makes the surface of the membrane open to the attack of the germs of the catarrhal disease. The foul mucus taints the throat passages and often attacks the lungs themselves. You can destroy the catarrh germs with out injuring the nasal tissues by applying Powley's Liquified Ozone to the nose in the form of a douche-one part Ozone to eight of water. Then by taking the regular internal dose you supply the system with oxygen and make all the tissues healthy-so that the germs of disease cannot operate in the lungs. There is no other preparation that will give you relief for chronic catarrh like l'owley's Liquified Ozone. You know what oxygen is-you know how it feeds the blood and makes all the body healthy. The coming week promises to be a most enjoyable one for local theater patrons, for the offerings are of both a varied and an excellent nature. At the New Grand the veteran J. H. Stoddart and the original cast direct from New York, will present "The Bonnie Brier Bush," one of the sea-son's undoubted successes. This may, even at this early date, be accepted as the most notable and thoroughly artistic presentation of the local season. Unqualified praise has been the keynote of the press comment received, and Mr Stoddart's work is described as well-nigh perfect. The return visit on Tuesday night of Mr. H. Smith-Reeves and his excellent company, in "A Brace of Partridges" should be hailed with delight alike by those who had the pleasure of seeing this clean, bright, and surpassingly enjoyable comedy, and by those who had the ill-fortune to miss it. For a Thanksgiving bill there is promised "The Little Red Schoolhouse," which, coming with the Whitney trade mark upon it, is sure to be worthy of genpatronage. Further interest is added by the fact that its author, Hal Reid, three of whose plays have aleady appeared here this season, will be himself seen in a leading role.

At the London Opera House holiday will be marked by a visit from "That Dainty Widow," with a company headed by Miss Nellie Franklyn, who is already no stranger to London's amusement lovers. The piece is said to be a clever musical comedy, replete with mirth and melody, and it has received flattering press notices. It should be witnessed by Old London is in the midst of its foggy season. One night recently it was so densely befogged that a number of the theaters had to close, the players being unable to reach the playhouses, and audiences meeting with similar difficulties.

Burt Haverly is to have a prominent part in the forthcoming production of "Morocco Bound," in New York. Mayme Gehrue, the clever dancer, has been engaged for a part and it is probable that Helen Bertram will have the leading female role. Julia Arthur has designed a set of china for the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Boston. It is likely to be adopted as official in entertaining the London company in 1903. The design is a unique combination of American and British flags. McKee Rankin and Nance O'Neill have had a successful season in Australia, and are now in South Africa. Reports from that region credit them with frequent resorts to the Standing-Room-Only sign, which among actors is the sign of great prosperity. Clyde Fitch's new play, "The Last of the Dandies," which he gives to England before America, is receiving un-stinted praise from the critics. Both play and players are much lauded. It looks like a success, which will likely be some consolation to Mr. Fitch in view of "The Marriage Game" having closed its season. On Tuesday night Mansfield was served with a writ in Providence for assaulting H. Taylor Bruce, a typewriter agent, while in that city a year ago. While acting as "supe" for Mansfield last spring, Bruce incurred the actor's anger, and was kieked. On the return of Mansfield, Bruce sued out a writ. Mansfield settled for $75.

DEVELOPMENT OF THE NOVEL

An Historical Sketch of a Distinct Form of Composition.

W. F. Tamblen. B.A. P.H.D., Professor of English at the Western University, Lectures on the Subject.

Those who feel that it would be an advantage to them to systematize a course of reading for the winter months could scarcely do better than attend the course of lectures delivered by Prof. Tamblyn on Thursday and Saturday afternoons on the development of the English novel. The lectures will be found very interesting to the lover of romance, giving, as they do, a viewpoint which is essential in reading of any kind. The novel in its true sense is an interpretation of life, and in its pages we have such a delineation of character as only the discerning eye of the world-renowned writers can deplet. "The highest study for mankind is man," hence the advantage and importance of a course of lectures on a subject abounding as it does in human interest.

The following is a resume, somewhat brief, of the lectures already delivered. The lecture hour begins at 2:80 Thursdays and Saturdays .- Editor.

The first lecture consisted mainly of a general review of fiction anterior to the novel. The novel itself was defined as a definite species of prose fiction, and distinguished from the story of adventure, the romance, the allegory, the myth or fairy tale, the "short story" and the drama. A comparison was drawn between the novel and the epic. In a brief sketch of Oriental, Greek and Latin fiction two phases were recognized as the nearest approach to the novel. The romance of strange adventure hanging somewhat on a love story satisfied the universal desire of a tale for the tale's take. The pastoral story came even nearer to the novel, because it contemplated the familiar scenes and manners are the solution of the possessor is a woman; because the familiar scenes and manners are the solution to the possessor is a woman; sensuality, if a man. A broad, thick of everyday life. Its interest was human rather than heroic. Between these/two forms of ancient fiction stood Petronius Arbiter's clever romance of "Satyricon," which, though a brilliant mirror of life in Nero's day, lacks perhaps the emotional force and unity of scheme necessary to the novel sary to the novel.

In the second lecture the medieval pastorals and romances were briefly reviewed. A connection was traced between these tales and the fiction of Greece. Spain these tales and the fiction of Greece. Spain has the honor in the romance of chivalry, while France can boast of those mighty structures, not "three-deckers" merely, but "Great Easterns" in story, which Scott ridicules so good-naturedly in "Old Mortality." But realism kept creeping in by degrees, and in 1877 France produced the first true novel, "La Princesse de Cleves." The sweeping away of the last vestiges of unreality was, however, left to an Englishman, Danlei Defoe. And with his work the bulk of the lecture had to do. His was an original genius. He stories gained verisimilitude from the quantity of trifling circumstantial detail skillfully woven together. If Defoe did not oreate the English novel he invented the manner, was the

Richardson.
The third lecture discussed first the work of Swift, another forerunner of the English novel. Imitating in "Gulliver's Travels" Defoe's realism of manner if not of incident as well, Swift added two not of incident as well, Swift added two other elements of the coming novel, emotional force and criticism of manners. The great superiority of Richardson's fiction to anything either English or French before it, justified the acclamations with which his "Pamela" was hailed upon its appearance in 1740. Such is the advance of "Pamela" upon "La Princesse de Cleves" that its author may well be called the father of the novel. One French critic of the time ranked One French critic of the time ranked Richardson with Homer and Euripides. His close observation and insight into character created that first type of novel, the novel of manners. After some ex-amination of Richardson's genius, style and methods, the lecture closed with illustrative readings from his three great

STRIVE, WAIT AND PRAY.

Strive; yet I do not promise The prize you dream of today
Will not fade when you think to grasp it,
And melt in your hand away;
But another and holler treasure, You would now perchance disdain, Will come when your toll is over, And pay you for all your pain.

Wait; yet I do not tell you The hour you long for now Will not come with its radiance vanished, And a shadow upon its brow;
Yet, far through the misty future,
With a crown of starry light,
An hour of joy you know not
Is winging her silent flight.

Pray; though the gift you ask for May never comfort your fears, May never repay your pleading. Yet pray, and with hopeful tears. An answer, not that you long for. But diviner, will come one day; Your eyes are too dim to see it. Yet strive, and wait, and pray.

VALUE OF EDUCATION.

-Adelaide A. Proctor.

Once upon a time a crow sat on a high branch of a tree with a large bit of cheese in his mouth, when an envious and hungry fox came prowling along and spied the choice morsel. "You are a beautiful bird," said the cunning fox, "and yet your great beauty is not equal to your marvelous voice, which charms all the beasts of the forest. Pray, Mrs. Crow, do let me hear you sing."

The crow turned her head to one side, as is the habit with such birds, and looked at Mr. Fox. Then she de-

Hundreds of tons of gold and silver will be required for the new currency. Some idea of the amount may be conveyed by assuming the adult population of the United Kingdom to be 15,000,000; it would require 200 tons of gold to coin a sovereign for each; similarly adding half a crown, a florin, a shilling and sixpenny piece together, and taking the common weight, it would require 600 tons of silver ingots to provide each person with one of these coins. It is probable that the three-penny piece will be retained, but whether any new coin will be issued to commemorate the coronation cannot now be stated.

[Baltimore Sun.] Oil of lemon possesses stimulant and carminative properties, but it is chiefly used as a flavoring agent. It is obtained from the fresh peel of the lemon. being obtained in numerous large oil glands. In Sicily and Calabria the oil is collected by the sponge process, the peel being cut off the lemon in strips, which is then pressed against a sponge in such a way that the oil glands are broken, and the oil forcibly ejected, as the sponge becomes saturated it squeezed to remove the oil which has accumulated: In Italy and France the bil is collected by the "saucer" process, the fruit being rotated rapidly in a tinned copper saucer, which is covered inside with short spikes; the oil glands are broken by the spikes, and the oil flows through a hole in the bottom of the saucer into a collecting tube bethan when said of Dr. Ag-new's Liver Pills. 10c. a viai. ed in some districts for extracting the oil, and simple distillation or expression Little priced, little doses, but in bags, in ordinary presses, is also relittle terrors to drive out im- sorted to on occasion, remaining traces purities and leave you a of oil in the exhausted peel are exclear brain and a bright eye. Rheumatism, Nerve Weakness, Indigestion, Constipation, Liver. Kidney or Bladder Troubles.

My Electric Belt has restored health and strength to thousands of nervous, debilitated and painworn men and women. You also can be cured if you will grasp the opportunity I offer. Read what the cured say. Electricity, as furnished by my Belt, cures by giving back to the weakened nerves, muscles and organs the vitality they have lost, reducing inflammation, developing the full vigor of health and removing the effects of overwork, exposure to weather and long continued sickness.

PAY WHEN GURED.

To those who have trusted and been betrayed by seductive promises; to those who have swallewed pailfuls of pills and liquid medicines without result except a damaged stomach and increased pain and weakness, and to those who have worn so-called electric belts, which either burned and blistered the body or gave no electricity, I offer a positive cure by means of my Electric Belt. It gives a stronger corrent than any other, and is guaranteed not to burn or blister. See the Cures !-

Back and Side Cured.

Dr. M. A. McLaughlin :

Dear Sir.-I can say that the Belt has given me good satisfaction. The pain has left my side and back completely, and I feel as suple as a young lamb. The Belt has done its work and I will sound its praise wherever I go. Yours with grateful thanks, G. L. Savage, Chesley, Ont., Ootober 11, 1901.

Kidneys and Rheumatism. The Dr. McLaughlin Co.:

Dear Sirs,-I think the Belt has done me more good than all the medicine I ever took. I was so troubled with my kidneys that I had to get up two or three times at night, but since using the Belt I have not had to get up once. I could recommend it to enyone suffering the same, and would not like to be without it. Yours respectfully, I. DeGroat, Avon, Ont., August 8,

Oured of a Complicated Allment

Dr. M. A. McLaughlin : Dear Sir,-Your Belt has cured me of rheumatism in my knee joints and of headache and a sour uprising in the throat, from which I was greatly troubled. I have felt none of these since using it. Belt is all you say, and thanking you for your kindly interest in my case, I beg to remain, yours truly, Jas. Farquharson, Renfrew, Ont., October 7, 1901.

DR. McLAUGHLIN'S OFFER.

I am not giving Belts away. I am offering to cure first and be paid after you are cured. I have an Electric Belt which DOES CURE, and any honest person who will secure me can have my Belt and pay me when cured. Can anything be fairer than that?

SPECIAL NOTICE -- If you have an old belt which has blistered you or gave no electricity, I will allow you in exchange half the price of mine. CALL TO-DAY-Consultation and test FREE.

The Small of the Back

That is where some people feel They are likely to be despondent and it is not unusual to find them borrowing trouble as if they badn't enough already.

The fact is their kidneys are weak, either naturally or because of sickness, exposure, worry or other influences.

"I was taken ill with a kidney trouble," writes Mrs. Thomas Innis, of Wallaceburg, Out., "and became so weak I could scarcely get around. I had headache, and cramps in my stomach, and my food did not digest. I took medicine without benefit, and finally decided to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. After the first bottle I felt so much better I continued business at the market here today. The disagreeable reather and the sloppy condition of the square made it anything but pleasnt for the farmer and the merchant to do business.

On Thursday last a number of the farmers were complaining about the uncertainty of sales on this market. This was especially so by those who had poultry on sale. In reference to the above, a local produce dealer made the assertion that prices for months have been higher here for produce than that paid on the Toronto marhet, and to substantiate his statement he quoted Thursday's prices, when dressed chickens sold at 25c to 45c per pair; Turkeys, 6c to 8c per pound; ducks, 40e to 70e per pair.

Hay and Straw-The deliveries were light today of hay, but as there has been a lot on sale during the week, prices are unchanged at $8 to $8 50 a Butter and Eggs-Butter was in in fair supply; sales are not brisk at 16c to 18c per pound for crocks and 17c to 19e for pound rolls. Eggs are in good demand, with offerings sufficient to meet requirements, at 19c to 20c per dozen by the crate and 20c to 22c for new laid eggs.

Fruits-Apples comprised the bulk of the offerings in this line at $1 50 to $2 75 per bushel and 60c to $1 per bag, Hickory nuts and chestnuts sold at 10c per Vegetables and Roots-Potatoes were scarce and in good demand: prices are firmer at 60c to 70c per bag. Onions are held at $1 per bag. Turnips, 30c per bag, and carrots, 40c per bag. Cabbages, 25c to 50c per dozen; cauliflowers, 50c to $1 per dozen.

Poultry-There was a large quantity offered; sales were draggy, and prices weaker at 71/2c to 8c per lb in large lots for dressed turkeys; smaller lots sold at 8c to 9c per lb. Dressed chickens sold at 45c to 60c per pair. Ducks at 60c to 75c per pair. Geese, each, 60c to 75c. Live chickens are dull of sale at 35c to 45c per pair and live ducks are held at 50c to 60c

Dressed Hogs-Quite a lot on sale; selling mostly at $7 per cwt; $7 50 however was paid for choice light hogs sold seperately to local dealers.

Live Hogs-Mr. D. McIntyre will pay $5 25 per cwt on Monday next for shipment from here. Small hogs sell at $4

Meats-Were plentiful at prices quoted. Sales are slow.

THE SMUGGLER DEATH PIT!

Twenty-Five Bodies Taken From the Mine.

Man Sitting in Buggy Mistaken for a Beer and Shot-Other Casualties.

Telluride, Nov. 22 .- The work of reovering the bodies of the victims of the disaster in the Smuggler Union mine progressed slowly today. The death list now numbers 25, the brave engineer who sacrificed himself in an effort to rescue his comrades having died this afternoon. KILLED BY RUNAWAY HORSE. Utica, N. Y., Nov. 23 .- An aged man ran out from the sidewalk in this city yesterday to stop a runaway team of cab horses. He caught the reins, was thrown against the curb and his skull was crushed. He died an hour later in the city hospital. His identity is not

MISTAKEN FOR A DEER. Gaylord, Mich., Nov. 23, - Charles Ball, of Gaylord, while sitting in a buggy in a road a few miles east of Saylord, talking with James Kelley who was standing by, was shot by a hunter, said to be Fred S. Odie, Ball died in about half an hour. Two shots were fired and the other went through the buggy. It is supposed Ball was mistaken by Odie for a deer.

TWO BROTHERS KILLED. Middletown, Nov. 22. - William and Austin Hasbrouck, brothers, aged 20 and 18 respectively, and John Titus, aged 19, were instantly killed near Goshen last evening by a west-bound train. They were driving across the track at a grade crossing a mile east

FATAL FALL. West Lorne, Ont., Nov. 22. - Last night an old man named Stephen Gretner, who has been in the employ Joseph Wilton, proprietor of the Argyle House, fell down stairs in the hotel and sustained injuries from which he died in about 20 minutes. ATTACKED BY A LYNX. Prescott, Mich., Nov. 22. — George Whiteside, an employe at C. H. Prescott's farm No. 2, was attacked and seriously injured by a large lynx, which sprang upon him from a tree and mangled his arms, back and legs.

He will recover. FELL INTO A GRINDER. Watertown, Nov. 22.-Benton Robinson, 30 years old, was the victim of a terrible accident yester lay while working near a cylinder at the United States Tale Company's mill at Dodgeville. He slipped and fell into a grinder used in grinding tale. His body was ground into a pulp. FELL ON A PICKET. J. B. Slemett, a timber chopper, was instantly killed near Baskatong, in the Gatineau district, a few days ago. While at work he fell on a pointed picket, which penetrated his breast, reaching a fatal shot.

YUKON WELL GUARDED!

Police Force at White Horse Increased-A Couple of Maxims Advantageously Placed, Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 23. — To guard against any attempt to invade the Yukon the force of Mounted Police at White Horse has been increased, and a couple of Maxim guns have been placed at advantageous points. At Dawson the authorities have a couple of seven-pounders ready in case of an emergency.

There are four hundred stand of arms and lots of ammunition available for the local militia and special police if it is found necessary to equip and arm them. It is not thought, however, that there will be any further developments in the conspiracy to seize the Yukon, A prominent government official said yesterday: "We have known of this conspiracy for three months past, and have been quietly preparing to checkmate it." The man who dis-closed the plot was formerly a grocer in the Western States. The story leaked out when one of our officers went down to Skaguay to consult with the United States authorities. Unfortunately, the ringleader of the whole business escaped with the pa-pers, and is now in Seattle. The plot never had any chance of succeeding, because the individuals behind it were obscure and without means. No respectable Americans lent themselves to the scheme. The bubble has burst. and I do not think there will be any

Tells How Much Doctors Use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Has Yet To Hear of Its Failure To Cure.

It is not infrequent that information comes to our attention proving that the medical profession in general prescribe large quantities of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in their private practise.

It is a fact beyond dispute that nowhere is to be found a remedy so universally successful in curing female ills, and the broad-minded physician of to-day is quick to recognize his duty to his patient, and does not hesitate to prescribe the best medicine he can find,—the medicine that is surest and quickest to bring relief to his patient; for this very reason thousands of the remules the property of the patient of famile ills Lydia. very best physicians are prescribing in their treatment of female ills Lydia E. Pinkhain's Vegetable Compound, while not in the original bottles perhaps, but in plain prescription bottles with their own or druggists' name.

It is our pleasure and our privilege to publish a letter from a graduate nurse whose reputation and prominence in her profession lends much weight to her opinions, and whose testimony goes to prove our statements in regard to the high esteem in which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is held by our leading physicians and trained nurses.

MISS VIRGINIA GRANES.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM: - Twelve years continuous service at the sick beds in some of our prominent hospitals, as well as at private homes, has given me varied experiences with the diseases of women. I have nursed some most distressing cases of inflammation and ulceration of the ovaries and womb. I have known that doctors used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when everything else failed with their patients. I have advised my patients and friends to use it, and have yet to hear of its first failure to cure.

"Four years ago I had falling of the womb from straining in lifting a heavy patient, and knowing of the value of your Compound I began to use it at once, and in six weeks I was well once more, and have had no trouble since. I am most pleased to have had an opportunity to say a few words in praise of your Vegetable Compound, and shall take every occasion to recommend it."—Miss Virginia Granes, 444 So. Spring St., Los Angeles, Cal. [Present address.]

Be it, therefore, believed by all women who are ill that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the medicine they should take. It has stood the test of time, and it has hundreds of thousands of cures to its credit. It should, therefore, be considered unwise to experiment further.

Mrs. Pinkham, whose address is Lynn, Mass., will answer cheerfully and without cost all letters addressed to her by sick women.

MR. CANN'S LETTER

An Exeter Man Who Expresses His Opinions Freely in the Local Mewspaper.

Exeter, Nov. 18 .- (Special) .- Lorne Cann, a laundry man of this town, has sent a letter to the Advocate stat-ing that Dodd's Kidney Pills have changed him from a sickly, delicate, run-down man to a strong, hearty and robust one. Nothing could be plainer than the statement made by Mr. Cann. He says he was in such a terribly rundown condition that the least exertion would leave him tired and breathless. He tried many medicines, and was under physicians' treatment for over three months, but got no better.

Finally he tried Dodd's Kidney Pills and the results of the first box were so encouraging that he continued the treatment, and in the end was completely restored to good health and stronger than he has been for years.

IIT IS AN OFFICER OF THE LAW OF HEALTH.—When called in to attend a disturbance it searches out the hiding-place of pain, and like a guandian of the peace, lays hands upon it and says: "I arrest you." Resistance is useless, as the law of health imposes a sentence of perpetual banishment on pain and Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil was originated to enforce that sentence.

There is so much pain and danger in connection with operations for cancer, so much suffering connected with the use of the paste and plaster, and have been so unsuc cessful, that it is comforting to every cancer-afflicted one to know that the new constitutional treatment for this disease involves no more trouble than the taking of a pleasant remedy in the quiet of the home. This remedy goes right through the system, searches out the cancer germs and destroys them, builds up the health and gradually removes every vestige of the

His blood was on my hands, for I pushed away the hair from the bleeding head, and then I kissed his lips; his dear lips! warm still, quite warm. Suppose they came up presently, and found us there in the road, the living and the dead? What would they think? not that I had killed him; oh, no! nobody would ever think that. Nobody must ever know that. I felt a dull shame for what I had done. But the full weight of the guilt done. But the full weight of the guilt did not fall on my heart till days afterwards. At last I fancied that I heard footsteps in the distance, and a sudden terror seized me. The evil spirit told me to heart the blame on others!

"Nobody suspected me, not even Paul, whom I gave the pistol the next day, lling him I had discharged it in the ark. Nobody suspected me, nobody at ll, and then whispers and suspicions vent about regrading an innocent lad— Owen Hammond.
"I was sorry for him; it seemed that his father had forged the name of the earl, his brother, to a check on the bank at Farniey. A check for three hundred pounds. The earl had found this out; Richard Hammond was half mad with grief and debts, and he told the earl himself what he had done, and said. "Lend grief and debts, and he told the earl himself what he had done, and said, "Lend me the money for a year," The earl was in a rage, and uttered threats. Lord Hammond took it up, andw ent to Raby Hall to tax his kinsfolk with their conduct. The young man had a deadly quarrel. Since then Owen Hammond has sold his diamond rings, pins and other things, and put money in the bank to pay the sum off. I know that, for I have a liking for Owen, who is a noble young man, sifted as an artist.

"The ruby seal was very valuable, I new that. I did not know that the stone was made to slip aside, and that the crest of the Hammonds was again engraved inside it.
"I scratched away the crest on the outer face and melted away the gold; I wished to sell the stone for what it was worth, perhaps fifty guineas; this stone I dropped through a hole in my purse; I dropped it on Owen's staircase, but I did not know that until poor Owen was ar-rested. I supposed I had lost it in the street, and was afraid to advertise for it." And now Elsie understood that Owen Hammond had spoken of his father's forgery when he had spoken of the guilt of a man who was tempted into wrong by the oppression of his titled relatives! Pauline Bracegirdle died that night; or wretched father did not appear to whose young amooth throat a halter had lately dangled, would in due course wear an earl's dronet on his handsome head, and invitations showered in on Owen Hammond from every side. He refused them all by the present.

"I am the heir to an earldom," he said. "but I have not a shilling of my own yet. Let me work."

And he set to work in earnest as a portrait minter. He had especial talents, which developed into genius as time ran on; but within three months of the Guildford assizes, just as November was shrouding the English landscapes in his gloomy curtains, there was a pretty double wedding in St. Matthias' Church at Allanbury.

The earl and countess were both away in Italy; they could never enter Charteris again while they lived; but the countess sent Elsie an almost royal gift of a diamond necklace and cross set in gold, and valued at enough thousands to buy a small estate.

The earl released Raby Hall of its mortgage debts, and the old house is still let; the lands remain with the tenant farmers, and the income is divided between Owen and his brothers. His farme as a portrait painter is on the increase. EIGHTEEN MESSAGES AT ONE TIME Boulder, Col., Nov. 23.—Dr. William Duane, professor of physics at the State University, has just been granted a patent for an invention by which a large number of telegraph messages can be sent over one wire and return at the same time. In the physical laboratory at the university it is said he has had as many as eighteen circuits working on the same wire and return all at the same time. On any of these circuits the Morse instrument can be placed and used exactly as with the single wire now in use. Dr. Duane's invention is based on the principle of cynchronizing motors.

aches over a poor appearance may now be banished, for it is within the means of every lady, young or middle aged to have the clearest and most refined com-plexion so dear to a woman's heart. Pauline Bracegirdle died that night; her wretched father did not appear to have known anything whatever of the crime his miserable daughter had committed; he was overwhelmed with shame and grief.

For days the papers were filled with accounts, and those repetitions of the same story in a different dress, which are unually styled "another account."

It was all made plain and easy for ween Hammond; the photographs and the purse were found in Pauline's box as had said they would be. The likeness of the countess was in a large heavy gold locket, and Lady Chase knew that her son Arthur often carried this locket in his pocket, and that it was missing.

The guilty woman's deed was ranked by the faculty as an action to be attributed more to diseased nerves and a morbid brain than to an intent to commit wilful nurder of malice aforethought.

Owen came out of prison, to be caressed and honored. The earl and countess sent him their warm congratulations. Mayfair mothers remembered that he near

FOOTBALL. THE THANKSGIVING GAME. Last night the Rugbyites had good work out, and this afternoon they a practicing at Tecumseh Park. The be's are all in good trim, and will be keyed up to the last notch by Wednesday evening. London has a reputation for going a distance, and the longer they play the better they get. The fifteen to meet Hamilton will be just as good and probably a little bet-ter than usual. The management realize the contract they have taken up in trying to defeat one of the strongest senior teams in Canada, and not an effort will be spared to put on the gridiron the strongest and best conditioned fifteen that ever fought for the honor of London. Every man training hard to make a place on the team and have the honor of be-ing one of the champions of Western If London cannot have the O. R. F. U. cup, the team intends to show that there is nothing in these parts that they will not run up against, and will prove conclusively to the Toronto people that the boys who wear this city's colors can play the game as it should be played. From the great interest that is being taken in the match it is likely that Thursday will see the biggest crowd that has ever witnessed a Rugby game in London. The local club is trying honestly and manfully to clean up enough money to square up all debts, and go out of business with a clean sheet. A $300 gate will no more than even matters, after Hamilton's guarantee and the $50 owing to Peterboro is paid. Everybody should buy at least one ticket and give his mite to help out the club. Many business firms have already taken half a dozen or more tickets just to give the game a helping hand and if the people of London rally to their support as they should, the Lonhonor, but will be able to present the players with some souvenir of their

for the championship at the Lenoy Lyceum in this city. The terms of the match were that the men were to wrestle for two hours. In the first hour neither man secured a fall. After a 15minute interval, the contest was con-tinued, and after 21 minutes Rober succeeded in putting his man to the floor. The rest of the time gave no further result, and Rober was declared the winner. The men were evenly matched as to weight, and it is conceded that Nechad is the best man Rober has yet defeated. Bob Fitzsimmons acted as timekeeper. After the result was de-clared Rober announced that he would retire from the wrestling ring.

HAYS IS AGAIN HEAD OF G. T. R.

Becomes Manager With Rank of Second Vice-President.

Superintendent Jones Personally Denies the Rumor That He Is About to Resign.

A dispatch from New York says: A 15-round battle before the St. special cable dispatch to the Evening asocbP'TS hthe htheth that Post from London says that Charles Patrick's Tab Society fast night. Denny M. Hays has resumed the management of the Grand Trunk Railway with the title of second vice-president. Another dispatch from London, England, states that Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson, president of the Grand Trunk Railway, announced yesterday that Charles M. Hays had been reappointed general manager of that road. It is understood that Mr. Hays will sail from London shortly, and that he will assume the general managership of the G. T. R. before the end of the year. Mr. Reeve, on his retirement, will proceed to his home in California. From reliable local sources the truth of the above dispatches was established last night. It is said that Mr. Hays' brief connection with the Southern Pacific will prove to have been a very profitable one to him. He will, it is alleged, receive $55,000 for his nine gee; manager of intermediates, W. H. months' service; and as he had a Little; manager of juniors, H. C. five-year contract, he will also be given $100,000 upon leaving the company. The reason given for his resignation is that the Southern Pacific was run on a stock jobbing basis, and Mr. Hays absolutely refuses to be connected with such a read.

MR. JONES DENIES RUMOR. Trainmaster H. E. Whittenberger, of this city, yesterday received a com-munication from Supt. Jones, of the G. T. R. middle division, stating that there was no truth whatever in the rumor that he was about to resign. Mr. Jones is now in St. Louis, Mo., taking a much-needed rest, and his denial will be very gratifying to his many friends.

SECRETARY LINDLY RESIGNS. A New York dispatch says: Walter Lindley, secretary of the Grand Trunk Railway Company, has resigned. He will be succeeded by the assistant secretary, Mr. Norman.

FIXED THE MINISTER.

And He Needed Looking After

"In a minister's family in Los Angeles where I was visiting some months ago, the wife complained of serious indigestion and dyspepsia. She adadmitted that she used coffee and was the trouble. I told her that I knew it was the trouble, for I had gone through with the experience my-self and had only been cured when I left off coffee and took up Postum Food Coffee.

"She said she had tried the Postum, both for herself and her husband, but -The annual meeting, for election they did not like it. With her per-of officers of the East Middlesex Re- mission, I made Postum next morning myself and boiled it fully fifteen minutes after the real boiling of the pot began. Then when it was served, was a rich, deep brown color, and had the true flavor and food value that every Postum maker knows. It is all folly to talk about trying to make Postum with one or two minutes'

> "You can't get something good for It must be boiled, boiled, boiled, and to keep it from boiling over, use a small lump of butter, perhaps twice the size of a pea. That morning the minister and his wife liked Postum so well that their whole lives were changed on the question of diet and they abandoned coffee at once and for all time.

The Leamington Post says: "Most of the machinery of the London Tobacco Company will be removed to Learnington. The London company also have considerable leaf stored in another building, which was saved. This removal of the London plant to Leamington will mean considerable for the town, as it will necessitate an increase of the working staff at the Consumers' factory here."

HUTTON-HOBBS.

The Wingham Advance says: "The Methodist parsonage was the scene of a very pretty wedding this week. On Wednesday, at noon Miss Jennie M. Hobbs, eldest daughter of Rev. Richard Hobbs (formerly of South London), was united in wedlock to Mr. H. V. Hutton, of Brantford. They were wedded standing under a floral wishbone. The ceremony was performed by the father of the bride, assisted by the Rev. Wm. McDonough, of Stratford, who married the father and mo-ther of the bride. Always charming the bride's beauty was enhanced by her dress of white silk, with bridal veil, and the happy occasion. She carried a bouquet of roses. The only attendants were two pretty little flow-er girls dressed in white-Delight Hobbs, the bride's sister, and Gerty Verity, of Toronto. The groom's present to the bride was a gold watch guard with diamond set slide, and to the flower girls an opal and pearl ring. The bride was remembered by many beautiful presents from the church and friends.

Western Ontario.

W. Kirkton is organizing a company for the erection of a modern cold storage plant at Sarnia. The idea is to handle the bulk of the meat consumed in Sarnia, buying from the farmers, and selling at wholesale to the butchers. Several months ago, says the Sarnia Canadian, application was made to the Dominion authorities by the village of Point Edward to have certain dredging lone opposite the site of the newe elevator to be built at the Point. Yesterday afternoon a telegram was received from the department by Dr. Johnston, which sets at rest the uncertainty, and insures the immediate commencement of the admitted that she used coffee and the immediate commencement of the said she more than half believed that work. The department states that it has no dredge available, will have to be made locally. At present a 20-foot channel will be made to allow the entrance of boats to the scene of operations, and in the spring it will be necessary to remove the entire bar. The present work can be accomplished if no
