Philadelphia, Pa., May 7.-H. H. Holmes was hanged in Moyamensing prison this morning. The drop fell at 10:12 1-2 o'clock.

It was not until half an hour later that he was pronounced dead.

His neck was broken by the fall. The marvelous nerve of the man never deserted him to the very, end. Even on the scaffold he was probably the coolest person in the assemblage. In a few well chosen words he proclaimed his innocence of any murder, including that for which he was convicted and hanged. He declared that the only wrong-doing in the taking of human life for which he could be held responsible consisted in the death of two women, who had died as the result of oriminal operations at his hands. He did not name these vic-

HIS LAST NIGHT. Holmes spent the greater part of his last night on earth writing letters. At midnight he went to bed, and slept soundly until six o'clock this morning. It took two calls to awaken him. Promptly arising, he received a visit from his spiritual advisers, Fathers Daily and Macpeak, of the Church of the Annunciation. They administered the last sacrament, and left him until nearly 9 o'clock. During their absence he ate a breakfast of eggs, dry toast

HOLMES' DECLARATION. Philadelphia, Pa., May 7.—Holmes' declaration to the assemblage gathered about the scaffold was as follows: "Gentlemen, I have very few words to say. In fact, I would make no remarks at this time except that by not speaking I would appear to acquiesce in my execution. I only wish to say that the extent of my wrongdoing in taking human life consisted in the death of two women, they having died at my hands as a result of a criminal operation. I wish to state here, so there can be no chance of misunderstanding, that I am not guilty of taking the lives of any of the Pietzel family—the three children and Benjamin, the father, of whose death I was convicted and for which I am today to be hanged. That is all have to say." LAST DAY. Holmes spent his last day of life uneventfully. During part of yes-terday, Father Daily, of the Church of Annunciation, visited him and said prayers. In the afternoon the lawyer, Samuel P. Rotan, called for a short time. The balance of the day Holmes occupied reading his Bible and other devotional books. Father Daily came again early in the evening and remained until 10:15 o'clock. left Holmes wrote letters of farewell until midnight. In it was a plain black casket containing the body. The wagon drove rapidly to Mount Moriah Cemetery, where it was placed in a vault. Here it will probably remain for two and three days, when it will be quietly or three days, when it will be quietly interred in another graveyard. Whe ther or not it will be finally buried in consecrated ground depends upon Holmes' last words with Father Daily and the will of Archbishop Ryan. Almost immediately after the execution a letter carrier walked up to the gates of the prison and delivered a newspaper addressed to H. H. Holmes. As the undertaker's wagon rolled out of the court yard, it was pursued for some distance by a crowd of gamins, who pounded on the sides of the vehicle until driven away by the Philadelphia, Pa., May 7.-The murder of Benjamin F. Pietzel, for which Herman Mudgett, alias H. H. Holmes, was hanged today, occurred on Sunday, Sept. 2, 1894. The crime was the culmination of a conspiracy between the men to defraud the Fidelity Mutual Life Association of this city of $10,000, and the swindle was uccessfully accomplished. Holmes and Pietzel became acquainted in Chicago in 1890. Pietzel was married and had six children. He was poor, and was not averse to engaging in dishonest business if it were lucrative. Holmes had been practicing forgery, and he induced Pietzel to enter the same line. In January, 1893, Pietzel was arrested in Terre Haute, Ind., for passing forged paper.Holmes went there and gave $1,800 straw ball for Pietzel, who thereupon ran away. Holmes sent him to Fort Worth, Texas, under the name of "Benton T. Lyman." He had with him a deed property there valued at $40,000 which belonged to Minnie R. liams, another of Holmes' victims. Holmes and a woman he called his wife subsequently joined him there, and, giving out that they intended to build the finest building in the town, the men succeeded in borrowing something like $50,000. They then fled, stealing two car loads of horses as they went and shipping them to It was after this incident that St. Louis. Holmes conceived the idea of having Pietzel's life insured. He told Pietzel how easy it was to beat an insurance company with a substitute body, and Pietzel fell into the scheme. Nothing was again seen of him until the following Monday, when Eugene Smith, a carpenter who had been employed to do some work in the house, found his body lying on the floor of the second story room. The face was blackened and blistered as if from burns, and near by lay a broken bottle, which had contained benzine. By the side of the body was a pipe, partly filled with tobacco. Appearance indicated that an explosion had occurred while the man was lighting his pipe. The police believed the affair was an accident, and no one for a moment entertained the theory of murder. Here the first stage of this extraordinary affair came to a close. The second opened when Marion C. Hedspeth, the notorious train robber, in jail at St. Louis, declared that Holmes, while in an adjoining cell, had told him of a conspiracy with Pietzel and Howe to swindle a Philadelphia insurance company by the substitution of a body. It was discovered that letters were being sent to Holmes under the name of Howard, in care of a broker named Blackman, in Dearborn street, Chicago. Blackman forwarded the let cago. Blackman forwarded the letters to Gilmanton, New Hampshire, Holmes' birthplace. A detective started from Chicago on the bearing one of these letters, and there was a race across the country with the United States mail. The detec-tive beat the mail to the New Hampmaster had a postal card instructing and whispers of "Hypnotism" him to forward all mail belonging to Holmes to another place. The detective waited for the letter to arrive, saw it addressed, and continued the chase, beating the letter to the next town. The murder of Benjamin F. Pietzel is interwoven with schemes and acts which brought about the killing of at least eight other victims. These were Alice and Nellie Pietzel, the little daughters of Benjamin, who were asphyxiated in a trunk in Toronto, Canada; Howard Pietzel, the young son, killed in Indianapolis, Holmes cutting up and burning the remains in a stove; Julia L. Conner, divorced wife of I. L. Conner, and a bookkeeper for Holmes; Peal Conner, her daughter; Meline C. Cigrande, of Anderson, Ind., stenographer for Holmes; Minnie R. In the story of Holmes and his crimes there is nothing more interesting than the description of his castle, where he is accused of having provided all sorts of devices for disposing of his victims. The castle is at 701 Sixty-third street, Chicago. It was built with the sole idea of convenience for the commission of crime. Holmes built it himself. He selected the workmen. Until the Chicago police began the investigation of the place, Holmes and Pat Quinlan, the janitor of the building, were the only men alive who knew anything to speak of about the interior of the The building is three stories The style of architecture suggests the name, the Castle. EW MODEL "BELL" PIANO

Very Excellent Pianos-Most Elegant Instruments Seen Anywhere-Singing Qualities all that an Artist Could Desire-Broad, Rich, Massive Tone-Nothing to Fear from Foreign Competition.

THE BELL PIANO COMPANY (LIMITED), GUELPH, ONT.

Teoumseh House, London, April 28, 1896,

Dear Sirs,—It gives me pleasure before leaving Canada to testify to the very excellent Pianos of your manufacture which I have met with and used in connection with my song recitals in this country. The Upright Concert Grand which was placed at my disposal by your manager in London I unhesitatingly pronounce as one of the most elegant instruments that I have seen anywhere, and whilst its singing qualities were all that an artist could desire, it possessed in addition that broad, rich, massive tone which is absolutely indispensable for solo purposes. I heartily congratulate you on your latest achievements in piano construction, and believe that so long as the present high standard of your instruments is maintained your company can have nothing possible to fear from foreign competition. I am faithfully yours, R. WATKIN-MILLS.

A Great Demonstration in Quebec City.

Quebec, May 7 .- Mr. Laurier opened the campaign in the district of Quebec yesterday under most favorable circumstances. The demonstration on his arrival and the meeting of English electors in the Academy of Music in the evening were ample warrant for his own statement that he had never appeared before the people of Quebec with greater certainty of success. Additional interest attached to the demonstration from the presence Mr. Ross and other prominent Libof Hon. G. W. Ross, Minister of Education in the Cabinet of Sir Oliver Mowat. The meeting in the academy was composed principally of the English business men. For them the trade question was the most important, and every reference to it was received with the greatest attention. On the platform were several manufacturers who had hitherto voted Conservative, but in this contest they are with Stephens, M.P.P., one of the hardheaded business men of Montreal, that the Liberal policy was not revolution but reform of the tariff, was received with the heartiest applause. Mr. Laurier himself was in splendid form, forcible, eloquent, and convincing, and the meeting was keenly responsive. His declaration that the National Policy was the curse and the bane of the Canadian people was received with prolonged cheering. Quebec is particularly interested in the possibilities of preferential trade with England, which would restore some of its pristine glory, but he showed that it was possible only on the basis of a revenue tariff and utterly unattainable under protection. Every reference of Mr. Laurier to Sir Oliver Mowat or Mr. Pross was enthusiastically applauded, and his declaration that if the Liberals won they would see the great days of Baldwin and Lafontaine, because the first man in his Administration would be Sir Oliver Mowat, called forth loud cheers. Mr. Ross appeared before the people of Quebec for the first time. Indeed, with one exception, he had never addressed a public meeting in the Province before. He was witty, eloquent, sarcastic, and although he began late and did not finish until 11:30 o'clock not a soul in the audience left. This evening Mr. Laurier will adcress a mass meeting of the electors of St. Roch's in Quebec East, his own constituency.

At Pont Rouge Mr. Laurier and Mr. Ross were met by a deputation of Quebec Liberals consisting of Ald. Gaspard Rochette, Ald. Drolet Messrs. J. E. Martineau, G. Barbeau and J. Archer, who explained the arrangements made for their reception. About 1,500 electors gathered at the Quebec station and hearty cheers rent the air when the distinguished gentlemen alighted from the train. Under the guidance of a squad of police, in charge of Chief Pennee, they were escorted amidst renewed cheers to a flat car near the station, which made to do duty for a platform. Here were assembled Mayor Parent. Sir H. G. Joly de Lotbiniere, Hon. F. Langelier, Hon. Charles Langelier, Messrs. H. G. Carroll, ex-M.P., P. A. Cho-

ADDRESSES PRESENTED. The mayor presented Mr. Laurier with an address on behalf of the city. Mr. Laurier, in the course of his reply, referred to the fact that Sir Oliver Mowat would be a member of his Cabinet, and declared that Sir success. He (the speaker) was now chief of the Opposition, but when he next appeared before them he would be Prime Minister of Canada. Every sentence of Mr. Laurier's brief address was punctuated with cheers, the names of Sir Oliver Mowat and Mr. Ross being most heartily received. A procession of about 50 carriages was then formed, and, headed by a band, proceeded through the principal streets of the city to the Chateau Frontenac. In the evening a meeting for the English-speaking electors was held in the Academy of Music. It was hand-somely decorated with with flags, and among the mottoes around the walls were: "The Country Before Party."
"Liberals Vote for Liberal Mowat,"
"Vote Liberal for Honest Govern-"Equal Justice for All," "G. W. Ross." As early as 7 o'clock people began to arrive, and half an hour later hall was completely filled. One side of the gallery was reserved for the ladies, and they turned out in great force. Before 8 o'clock even standing room was at a premium, and hundreds were unable to gain admit-

When Mr. Laurier, accompanied by erals, entered the hall shortly after 8 o'clock there was an outburst of cheers, which threatened the roof. It purpose of organizing for the coming was renewed again with vigor when they appeared on the platform.
Mr. Richard Turner, a leading merchant, occupied the chair. The cry that a Liberal Government would ruin the industries of the country was all poppy-cock. Mr. George W. Stephens, M.P.P., who has much capital invested the contest.

A prominent officer of the South dorsed the chairman's sentiments, and said the country needs a change. He predicted that if Sir Charles Tupper were returned to power for another five years the people of Canada would have no money left in their pockets. MR. LAURIER.

Mr. Laurier was received with a great burst of cheering when he rose to speak. Advancing to the very edge of the stage he thanked the peoto speak. ple of Quebec for their kindness and warmth during all these eighteen years he had represented a division of their good city in Parliament. Mr. Laurier then discussed public topics in a manner which drew forth repeated cheers from his hearers. In conclusion, after clearly setting forth the Liberal policy with regard to the Manitoba school question, Mr. Laurier said: I am proud of the fact that if the Liberals win this next election, as I believe they will-(cheers)-we shall see once more the great days of Baldwin and Lafontaine, because the first man that will come into the Liberal Administration, into a Laurier Administration will be Sir Oliver Mowat. (Cheers.) If I am to speak to you now my candid opinion, the feeling of my heart, I could not find words to tell you the sentiments that oppress it when I think that such a an as Sir Oliver Mowat, the veteran Liberal, the father of Confederation, who has given the Province of Ontario was that Mr. Laurier's return was in-23 years of honest, pure government, who has dealt in his own province with all those vexed questions of min- behind him in the new Parliament, both retire before the polling day and majorities; when I think such a a sufficient following to hold the balman is coming into the Administra- ance of power, and keep Mr. Laurier tion headed by myself, wilkingly straight for the sake of settling this for the sake of settling this great question, I feel that he has performed for the people of Canada a service which the people of Canada can never, never, never sufficiently appreciate. (Cheers.) While the Conservatives are wrangling as to who shall be first, Sir Oliver Mowat is willing to take second place, where he should be first, to help in settling this question. This is the manner in which we Liberals of this day understand the politics of our country. (Cheers.) Brilliant Prospects for Laurier and Mowat Everywhere.

WEST HURON LIBERALS. Brucefield, Ont., May 7.-The annual meeting of the Reform Association of South Huron was held here yesterday for the purpose of organizing for the contest. There was a good representation from the different municipalities. The following offi-cers were elected: President, A. Mustard, Brucefield; vice-president, John Kailbfleisch, Hay; secretary, Thomas Fraser, Brucefield; treasurer, George Walker, Brucefield. It was decided to call a convention May 20, at this place, for the purpose of selecting a candidate to contest the riding in the approaching election. Resolutions indorsing the Hon. Wilfrid Laurier and Sir Oliver Mowat were carried with much enthusiasm. Mr. Mc-Millan, ex-M.P., and Mr. M. Y. Mr. Evanturel has left for home, where he will spend a couple of days and then proceed to Essex, Ont., where he will address the French-Canadians of that locality on the political issues of the day. POWERFUL REINFORCEMENT. Ottawa, May 7 .- The Journal (Independent-Conservative), again discussing Sir Oliver Mowat's determination to go to Ottawa, and join a Laurier Government, says: "Nothing succeeds like success. Sir Oliver has always succeeded. Some men will argue and feel that he will continue to succeed, holding partly that brains are liable to win, but anyway that brains do not run their owner into unnecessary trouble unless where there is a good prospect of victory. Altogether, we think t must be conceded that the Dominion Liberals have received a very powerful GENEROUS SIR RICHARD.

Sir Oliver is an old-fashioned Reformer, cautious about making changes, but always undertaking reforms and carrying them through when con-vinced of the need of them. He is conservative in his regard for vested interests, and has always been careful to make necessary alterations as little disturbing as possible. Ontario's splendid institutions are not the result of violent spasms of progress, but of ontinuous, steady growth, the direction of the growth, however, being a matter of great care. With his counsel it may be taken for granted that necessary tariff reform will be carried through, as Mr. Laurier says, gradually and cautiously, the direction of progress being altered and the country being brought back by perhaps almost unfelt alterations to the safe basis of o a close at a quarter to 12 o'clock.

Out of weakness comes strength

a revenue tarin, which Mr. Chamber-lain declares is the only possible basis for an imperial preferential trade union. Sir Oliver Mowat has always a revenue tariff, which Mr. Chambercommanded the confidence of the oldtime Reformers and of many Conservatives, and thousands of those who desire such an administration at Ottawa as that which has been estabressing Sir Oliver Mowat to enter Dominion politics in spite of the efforts of the Government organs to arouse his jealousy. Sir Richard is too big a man to be envious or jealous, and it appears that it was owing partly to his urging that his old friend, Sir Oliver Mowat, has come out as one of Mr. Laurier's lieutenants in Ontario.-Montreal Witness.

WILL BE A GREAT SENSATION. The Ottawa correspondent of the St. John (N. B.) Telegraph says: Perhaps Sir Mackenzie Bowell is the happier man of the two today. He told me a few days ago that after all it would be better to get out than to go down with the ship. He once remarked to me after the bolters had left him: "How could a man successfully run a Government when he is surrounded with conspirators and traitors." However, the history of Sir Mackenzie's downfall has yet to be written. I may say that it is at a great personal sac-rifice that he has not before this given to the world the history of the facts which led up to his political assassination. For the information of those who figure in it I may say it has been written, and if ever made public it will produce one of the greatest sensations of the day. A MANITOBA VIEW. A Manitoba Catholic, Mr. J. G. Kavanagh, of Deloraine, writes to the Brockville Recorder on the school question. He says that if the course proposed by Mr. Laurier had been adopted the question would have been settled long ago. As to the present Dominion Government he says: "Their last move, in sending the commission to Winnipeg, reminds one of the boys with a balky mule-one goes ahead with a sheaf of oats, while the others bring up the rear with sharp sticks. I feel sure that had the Manitoba Legislature been approached in the proper spirit and by the proper parties, campaign. Rousing addresses were delivered by prominent Liberals, and arrangements are in progress to affiliate with the South Control of the coming and the matter properly investigated, as Mr. Launier recommended, this question need not have been dragged question need not have been dragged along for years, apparently for the purpose of political advantage, and to keep alive and cultivate that feeling of race prejudice which it will take years to eradicate." He believes that corruption and iniquity by putting the school question forward will fail; that it will be found that "the electors have not lost sight of those other is nee of the Patron organization, but sues which are of far more importance to the whole Dominion, and the people of Manitoba, as well as the other provinces, will stand by Mr. Laurier, notwithstanding his opposi-tion to the Remedial Bill. He is our only hope for the redemption of our country, and whether we get remedial legislation or not, those hopes shall not be sacrificed." Mr. Kavanagh makes a good point: that the hardship of paying two sets of school taxes "is not to be compared to the enormous tax forced upon the people of the whole Dominion for the last seventeen or eighteen years by the trade policy of Sutherland, the Liberal whip, in an interview in Toronto yesterday. "In the west the Liberals will win thirteen of the seventeen seats, and in Quebec we will get 46 of the 65."

DOWN BY THE SEA. Hon. A. G. Jones, who was elected in Halifax county four times, writes that the Liberals can easily carry that the Elberas can easily carry that county again. "I believe," he says, "a very large section of the Conservative party will be with us in this contest; not the noisy element, but the quiet, respectable element. who see under a leader like Mr. Laurier a better prospect for the honest administration of public affairs."

THE HAMILTON SITUATION. We are quite willing for all the world to understand that our choice for first place on the Liberal ticket is, and has been from the beginning, Mr. A. T. Wood, who, we believe, carry the city with either Mr. T. H. Macpherson or Mr. B. B. Osler for his running mate.-Hamilton Times.

There's health, strength and energy in every bottle of Manley's Celery-Nerve Compound. Guaranteed to cure.

Major W. H. Cooper, 16 Glouces-ter St., Toronto, says:

"I can now eat, sleep, and think better, and feel altogether a different man. Before taking it I had suffered for a long time from severe pains in my back and a feeling of exnaustion upon the slightest exertion, slept badly, and was subject to fits of the "blues." This has all disappeared and I feel like a new man, all of which I attribute to Manley's Celery-Nerve Compound."

NOTED PRELATE DEAD. Rome, May 7.-Mgr. Louis Galimberti, the well-known Roman prelate and diplomat, formerly Papal ambassador to Austria-Hungary, died at 1:20 this afternoon. He was born in 1838, acted as arbitrator between Germany and Spain in the dispute regarding the right of ownership to the Caroline Islands, and took an important part in the negotiations between Prussia and the Holy See which resulted in the abrogation of the notorious May Laws. The death of Mgr. Galimberti has greatly affected the Pope, to whom he was warmly devoted.

Brussels, May 7.-A great sensation has been caused here by the arrest of M. Curtois, an ex-police official, for the murder of Mme. Herry, who was strangled in her house here. President Kruger's Message Con-Courtois was identified as the man who, calling himself an artillery offi-

The news of his crime reached the ears of a woman whose husband was some time ago sentenced to a year's imprisonment for defamation of character in having accused Curtois, then on the police force, of complicity in the theft of the jewels of the Countess of Flanders in 1893. United Heart and Hand.

Sir Oliver Mowat's union with Hon. Wilfrid Laurier, both as a member of the new Parliament (as leader in the Senate, which he promises to aid to reform), and as a member of the new Government soon to be formed, is everywhere received with the greatest of satisfaction by moderate men of all parties. It is felt that Sir Oliver's mature experience will be of immense benefit to the country when applied, in the manner best fitted to his tastes | they feel that the interests of Canada and years, to advance the common wel-

As a statesman, who for a quarter of a century has been Premier of his native Province, as the ablest manager of public affairs who has held the confidence of his fellow-Canadians, as the never-vanquished defender of the rights of his people, whether in the majority or in the minority, Sir Oliver Mowat is a tower of strength, and it means much that he has joined his fortunes with the honored statesman who is the chosen chieftain of the Federal Liberal party, and is supporting him with a cordiality, determination and wisdom. The triumph of the united statesmen will be welcomed by the large majority of the people of Canada as the beginning of an era of progress, of economical and safe government, of prosperity.

Keep Dark!

The Winnipeg Free Press, which has come out as a straight supporter of the Dominion Government, warns Sir Charles what he must talk about and what he must leave alone when he addresses the people of that city. The Free Press pleads with Sir Charles not to say in Manitoba that his policy is the same as it was when the school bill was before the House or Commons, and as it is now said to be in Quebec Province. If he does make that declaration, his Winnipeg organ tells him that "he may find that his mission to the west is about the worst misfortune that could happen to his political friends." Into what a harmonious hole have the men in power put themselves by their tortuous and unstatesmanlike course in recent days!

Into Springbank.

There is general satisfaction in the city that the agreement between the civic authorities and the street railway company, for the extension of the electric line to the waterworks park at Springbank, has been completed. Work on the extension is now in active progress. With rapid transit to and from that delightful down river resort, a very large increase in the traffic will be assured. Few more fitting places for family and general picnic parties are to be found in the West.

It should not be difficult for the street railway company, with the cooperation of the railways which center in this city, and of the citizens. to make London more and more an excursion point

He Put No Trust in Kings.

Since he entered public life Mr. George E. Foster, Minister of Finance in the blighted Ottawa Administration, has represented King's county, New Brunswick. Some time ago, howelected in that constituency. He discovered that Col. Domville, at one time a Conservative M. P. for the county, but for some years an earnest supporter of Mr. Laurier, had gained the affections of the electors to such an extent that defeat stared him in the face. Mr. Foster therefore resolved to flee. Even the prestige of a Cabinet portfolio, he found, could not save him. He shook the dust from his heels, and went over into Queen's county, where at last election there was over 1,000 Conservative majority, but where he has now to fight for his life. And in King's county Mr. Pugsley pecame Mr. Foster's successor as Conservative candidate. Mr. Pugsley canvassed the electorate, but he, too discovered that it was no use to fight against the popular tide of Liberal progress, and now we find him among the very much resigned candidates, earnestly pleading with his political friends to call a new convention to select a candidate to take his place. In the last few months three constituencies formerly returning Minleters in the present Ottawa Administration, selected as their representatives supporters of Hon. Wilfrid Leurier. To these must now be added King's county, N. B., till now represented by Mr. Foster. The denation to end the present extravagant and corrupt regime at Ottawa is confined to no one province in the Dominion. It is everywhere in evidence. No one need be surprised, indeed, if Mr. Foster be defeated in the supposed Conservative hive to which he has betaken himself.

A Marked Contrast.

The cost of keeping a prisoner in the Central Prison at Toronto, under the management of the Government of Ontario, at the head of which has been Sir Oliver Mowat, is $164 62 a year; deducting the revenue, the cost is only $95 88.

In the Kingston Penitentiary, which is under the management of the Dominion Government, each prisoner costs $208 71, or, deducting revenue, $201 15.

No wonder the taxpayers enthusiastically welcome the prospect of a change of management at Ottawa, and the establishment of a Laurier-Mowat Administration.

By the Way.

At the South Victoria Conservative convention, Mr. John McSweyn announced that for 30 years he had been supporting the party, but the men at its head had gone wrong, and in the ensuing election he would have to go against them. Mr. McSweyn is a type of an electorate numbering many thousands in Canada. They have been good Conservatives, but are greater than mere party interests, and that the interests of the country demand a change of Admin-

11 11 11 Condemning the stock-in-trade arguments of the high tax organs which are being resurrected again is simply a case of roasting chestnuts 11 11 11

The high tax party of Canada has swapped horses while crossing the stream, but as the mag will never reach dry land it does not matter much.

Tisdale, Taillon and the other boys who have consented to play in Tupper's back-yard will find themselves over the fence and out next month.

11 11 11 There are five members in the Tupper law firm at Halifax. Four of his partners have already managed to get nominations for the Dominion Parliament. Surely the solitary will have a seat found for him. When over one-fourth of the pers kith and kin, no scruple should influence them to give the law firm a strong hold on public office also.

11 11 11 The Hamilton Herald, which at last general election supported the Conservative party, now says of the Tupper letter: "Sir Charles Tupper might have saved himself a lot of mental worry if instead of bothering with a three-column manifesto he had simply declared: 'It is my desire to hang onto office and annex all the fat jobs in sight for The Family."

11 11 11 High tax journals and high tax machine politicians are constantly expressing their fears that something dreadful will happen if a change of Government takes place at Ottawa. But the great mass of the people do not agree with them. On the contrary, sensible electors know that a change of rulers is absolutely necessary, and are rejoicing over the prospect of being able on June 23 next, to aid in bringing the happy deliverance about.

y 11 16 I am happy to know that you and I are, and, I believe, have always been, in substantial accord as regards Dominion questions. Our national origin is not the same, our religious creeds are different, but we are both of Canadian birth, we both love Canada and the empire, and we both rejoice in our British connection, we both desire the prosperity of Canada, and the well-being of all classes, conditions and creeds in its population, and I believe that we agree as to the best means of securing these objects .- Sir Oliver Mowat to Hon.

Wilfrid Laurier. To meet the point that one-fourth of the members of the Government of Canada, as it stands today, is made up of the Tupper family, while almost all adult male relatives not included in the Government ring are already in public offices, a contemporary prints a professed list of relatives of Sir Oliver Mowat, from time immemorial. who have served their country. To show the absurdity of the comparison, it need only be said that alleged sonin-laws, brother-in-law, nephews-in- of pimply blotches and my urine did law, uncle to cousin-in-law, and so forth are catalogued as having, in near or remote times, worked for the advised an alterative medicine, and I public. much more convenient for the players and for the public. A large number of players have signified their intention of taking part in the game, so that it is confidently expected that the season will be a good one for the London Cricket Club. The first game will be played at Detroit on May 25, so that there is not much time to lose in order o be in good shape to meet the strong club that they will have to meet on that date. It is hoped that all those taking an interest in the game will turn out at the practices and secure a good team for London. London has always had a good representative cricket team, and they propose to keep up their reputation this year. During the past season every game was a victory for the London team, and the list of victories includes good, substantial ones. Detroit was defeated twice, and in the famous Chicago tour, though the team was not entirely from London, yet it was composed of seven London players, out of eleven, and every game was won. Among the games arranged this season, it is expected that the club will have all the Toronto teams here, including Toronto, Parkdale, Rosedale and East Toronto. At a largely attended meeting of the members and adherents of the First Presbyterian Church, London, held last night, at the close of the usual Wed. nesday night meeting, Mr. John Cameron in the chair, the following resolution was moved in a feeling speech Montreal, May 17.—The directors of by Mr. Robert Reid, seconded by Mr. the Belair Jockey Club, which owns the J. I. Anderson, and carnied with abonly decent race track in the Province | solute unanimity by a standing vote: of Quebec, have decided not to give any meetings this year. Lack of patronage is given as the cause.

"Resolved, that the members and adherents of the First Presbyterian Church deeply sympathize with our Church deeply sympathize with our respected pastor in his deep affliction, London, May 7.—This was the third caused by the death of his beloved and last day of the Chester meeting. Wife, and in view of the prostration of both body and mind caused by anxiety Cheshire handicap stakes. There were and watchful care during her long illness, would recommend that we grant ers. Sir R. Jardine's Fealar won; Lord to Mr. Clark three months' vacation from 1st June to 1st September; hoping and believing that our merciful Father, who chasteneth while he loveth, will bring him back amongst us, with faith as strong, and mind and body invigorated, to do the work of his Master in the future as in the past." Subsequently a joint meeting of session and managers was held, to complete all necessary financial arrangements. The strong desire was expressed that the services of Mr. John Clark might be secured during the period of the pastor's absence. Robert Reid and Dr. Hodge were appointed a deputation to convey the resolution above printed, and to press upon the pastor's acceptance the friendly designs of the congregation.

Engineer W. J. Moorehead, Yardnen E. McAllister, Thos. McCann and H. Doering, and Jos. Guy, a fireman, have been arrested at Stratford by G.T.R. Constable Logan and charged with boring two casks of liquor in car No. 2,631, the property of the Grand Trunk Railway Company of Canada, and attempting to felonious steal said liquor or some part thereof. All the prisoners with the exception of Mr. Guy were defended by J. E. Harding, Q.C. There was no evidence against Guy, and he did not feel the need of a lawyer. The other prisoners all pleaded guilty, Mr. duy entering a plea of "not guilty." McCann was put into the box and swore that Mr. Guy was not present and had nothing to do with the crime with which the others were charged. He declared there were only the four of them in the scrape. Guy was discharged, and all the others were remanded to jail, bail being refused. McAlister's face and hands are badly damaged. It appears the fumes from the liquor ignited from the lamp used

OUR MAIL.

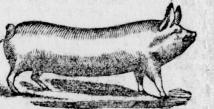

Our mail brings us every day dozens of letters about Burdock Blood Bitters. Some from merchants who want to buy it, some from people who want to know about it, and more from people who do know about it because they have tried it and been cured. One of them was from Mr. J. Gillan, B. A., 39 Gould Street, Toronto. Read how he writes:

GENTLEMEN, - During the winter of 1892 my blood became impure on account of the hearty food I ate in the cold weather. Ambition, energy and success forsook me, and all my efforts were in vain. My skin became yellow, my bowels became inactive, my liver was lumpy and hard, my eyes became inflamed, my appetite was gone, and the days and nights passed in unhappiness and restlessness For some months I tried doctors' and patent medicines of every description. but received no benefit. Being advised by a friend to try B.B.B., I am glad to have the opportunity of testifying to the marvellous result. After using three bottles I felt much better, and when the fifth bottle was finished I enjoyed health in the greatest degree, and have done so from that day up to date. Therefore I have much pleasure in recommending B. B.B. to all poor suffering humanity who suffer from impure blood, which is the beginning and seat of all diseases. J. GILLAN, B.A., 39 Gould St., Toronto.

A group mond, took out their watches to time minutes had passed when the white team came clattering around the corner of King and Talbot streets. Down the market block they came at their fastest speed, the gong ringing loudly. As it neared the corner of Richmond street pedestrians heard with dismay the clang of the gong on an approaching trolley car, and during the next ten seconds or so there was intense excitement on the corner. The new building in course of erection hid the trolley, which was approaching from the south, from view, and it was not until someone ran out in the middle of the road and waved both hands that the firemen were made aware of their danger. A letter carrier stood on the car track, rived, and the lengths were tested this and waved his arms frantically at the morning.

—The June session of the Middlesex the fire wagon drew his team towards the north side of the street, but could not slow up. Another fireman on the seat made a grab for the reins, but the driver saw that the speed of the trolley was lessening, and shouted to him to let go. The rig cleared the tracks with a bound, and the car was stopped with the fender within a foot of the middle of the street. There were four firemen on the wagon. The fire was at Mrs. Mills' frame cottage at the corner of Grey Maitland streets. It caught in the roof of the kitchen from a defective chimney, and the neighbors got the furniture out safely. The loss will be about

In Annual Session—President's Address -Salaries Falling-The Cause-Hyde Park Teachers on "Physiology and Hygiene."

The regular annual meeting of the East Middlesex Teachers' Association was opened at the county buildings this morning, Mr. J. H. Downing, of Delaware, president, in the chair.

Reports of committees and other routine business was first disposed of. after which the president delivered his annual address, taking for his subject the remuneration of teachers for their work. He pointed out that the salary of teachers is falling below that of farm hands, and attributed the decline to overcrowding of the profession, general depression in farm values and the unprofessional underbidding practiced by some teachers. He thought there ought to be a minimum salary fixed for the different grades of certificates, and that the teacher should prove to the people in his section that he works hard and fully earns his money. Still in a happy mood, he went early to inquire for Mme. de Suresne. Ah, tes; she had spoken of monsieur, but a messenger warned her that the vessel was ready to sail at the turn of the tide last night, so she hastened to depart, and must be mearly across the channel by this time.

That is very extraordinary!" exclaimed Capel. "Why, she was dead beat when she arrived. I am surprised that I was not informed of the Caliope's movements. I should certainly have sent a dispatch by her." "Did the commander know that monsieur was coming?" asked madem-

"Well, perhaps not," returned Capel, rousing himself from a puzzled frame of mind. "Did madame send any letters to Athgarvan?"

Yes, of course; the postillion called early this morning, soon after daybreak, for a short billet which madame left for him to take back."

Then I trust madame will have a pleasant voyage, and I need trespass no longer on your time Mademoiselle led him to the door with impressive civility, and Capel made his way to the quarters of the man he was to supersede. After a long interview, in which the state of affairs in the district was fully explained to him, he took his way on foot to his hotel. Turning the corner of a street he found himself face to face with a young man in naval uni-

"Hallo, Poyntz!" he exclaimed, recognizing a distant cousin. "What brings you here?"

"Oh, Col. Capel! Glad to see you I am first 'luff' of the Calliope.' "Didn't the Calliope sail last night?" "No, certainly not; I am going aboard her now." Capel felt profound surprise and some uneasiness. "Capt. Seton is your

So, getting handsomely rid of the young officer. Capel proceeded to his hotel, and established himself in the coffee room to watch the coming of Capt. Seton. The dining hour was much earlier in those days, and before long Seton came in. A few words and several bows introduced the gentlemen to each other, and the naval officer accepted Capel's courteous invitation to dinner. It was half over, when the host started the topic of the disaffected state of the country, and expressed his annoyance at having to hunt down a young fellow like Cos-

'Oh, you'll get over all that after a few weeks in this queer country. As to Costello, I heard odd stories at lunch today at a house away near the cove. The gentleman had been out fishing, fishing, this morning, and one of their boatmen said he had had a queer job the night before. He and another had been engaged by a strange man to row an old lady out to a little bay not far beyond the harbor. This old ladv was very finely dressed, and had a veil tied round her head and face. But they found a strange ship lying at anchor, and when they were alongside the old lady caught hold of a rope and climbed on board in a jiffy, like a regular sailor, showing some masculine undergarments as she did so, and a sturdy pair of legs. Then the anchor vas lifted, the ship swung round to the tide, and was off with a fair breeze. We sent for the young boatman, and I cross-examined him a bit. He could not make out the nationality of the man who hired the boat-he was not Irish nor English. He was small and dark and rather grim. I think it must have been the spy, Jefferies. It seems he has not been seen about anywhere for several days and fancy we will never see Costello

If he confessed how bamboozled he had been, it would expose the Digbys to the anger of the ruling powers, and be acting a traitor's part. But he was deeply wounded and mortally offended. To be made a laughing stock by the woman he loved so fondly! It was unbearable. He could hardly command himself to carry on the conversation, and when alone he seized pen and paper, and wrote a stern, angry letter, which in due time produced the following reply:

"I have deserved all you say. I are right to say you will never see my face again. "No," said Grace, slowly and very listinctly. "I do not, though the cost of Val's head has been my broken heart," and covering her face with her hands, low sobs broke from her. The curtains were pushed aside, and to their amazement Capel came quickly to her side. "It must not break, my love, my > suppose that "Citizen" had something at stake, and a change in management shots are all blanks. Now, in the edi-I torial that appeared in Saturday's Free Press, it seems the editor has been misled or formed an erroneous opinion of the objects of the association, in publicly discussing the subject. Their object is not to advocate an increased expenditure; but, as "Bona Fide" says, the citizens are not now receiving value for money expended on the park. They argue that with more efficient management, a much better showing can be made with the same amount. I will grant all that the editor says in regard to natural parks, but they are so few and far between that it is almost always necessary for the hand of man to assist nature in the construction of a park, as is the case with Victoria Park, where an attempt has been made at ornamental gardening. How far it falls short of being ornamental or up to date is easily estimated when compared with parks in other cities or grounds attached to some of our public institutions. There is no necessity for finicky rules or order, which need counter-irritate any visitor or spoil the children's romp. In other places the people have been educated to view those rules in a different light; they understand that the park is theirs, not to despoil or use as a thoroughfare, but as a pleasure resort, a place to refresh the mind-or as an educator. It is understood that professional or skilled labor is employed, and the public expect to see something out of the ordinary, or at least when bedding is attempted, something systematic and well kept-something to show visitors and not feel ashamed. In con-

the shrubbery. Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for valuable space, A. G. STEPHENS.

ANOTHER VIEW. To the Editor of the "Advertiser": In your issue of Saturday last I see an article quoted from the Canada Presbyterian, sneering at the Temperance League of Toronto because they decided to refuse to vote for any man at the coming elections who would not promise to vote for the abolition of the bar in the House of Commons, for the sale of intoxicating liquors. It is a strange place to find a sneer at Christian people for putting their Christian principles into practical action. The Presbyterian thinks that the sale of intoxicants in the House of Commons is a trivial matter, and denounces as narrow-minded those who think differently. To me, it seems a very important matter. I think that the bar in the House is calculated to do more harm than a hundred ordinary taverns. If a bar in an ordinary place be harmful, how much more so at the very fountain-head of our legislation? What thinking man will doubt that it has polluted many a piece of legislation? How can we teach our sons the dangers of drink so long as our great men must not only have it, but have it conveniently at their elbow?

Why is that small band selected by the Presbyterian for criticism? We have men who have pledged themselves not to vote for any man who does not hold reform principles, others who will not vote for any who does not hold Conservative or Patron principles; we have also a number who have pledged themselves to withhold their vote from any man who is in favor of temperance principles, etc. Out of all these the Presbyterian selects for its censure the small band who have determined to do all in their power for the removal of the bar which so disgraced the last session of the House. Finally, it may be questioned whether a man who refuses so easonable a request is worth sending o Parliament. Many of these parties eem to think that every wrong would be righted by the election of their party, and that any means, however disgraceful, is justified to secure that H. ARNOTT. end.

Rich and Extensive Coal Beds Discovered

in Minnesota.

Chicago, Ill., May 7 .- A special from Duluth, Minn., says: Vast beds of anthracite coal, which are said to rival in richness and extent those in Pennsylvania, have been discovered in the northern part of this State, and Jas. Hill, president of the Great Northern Railway, is their sole owner, having recently purchased 25,000 acres of the land on which the coal is located. He is now developing the property, and will, it is claimed, soon extend his railroad from Park Rapids to the coal fields, which are located in the country bounded by the Little Fork River, the Red Lake Indian reservation and the Rainy River in the extreme northern part of the State.
