

Technical and Bibliographic Notes / Notes techniques et bibliographiques

Canadiana.org has attempted to obtain the best copy available for scanning. Features of this copy which may be bibliographically unique, which may alter any of the images in the reproduction, or which may significantly change the usual method of scanning are checked below.

- Coloured covers /
Couverture de couleur
- Covers damaged /
Couverture endommagée
- Covers restored and/or laminated /
Couverture restaurée et/ou pelliculée
- Cover title missing /
Le titre de couverture manque
- Coloured maps /
Cartes géographiques en couleur
- Coloured ink (i.e. other than blue or black) /
Encre de couleur (i.e. autre que bleue ou noire)
- Coloured plates and/or illustrations /
Planches et/ou illustrations en couleur
- Bound with other material /
Relié avec d'autres documents
- Only edition available /
Seule édition disponible
- Tight binding may cause shadows or distortion along interior margin / La reliure serrée peut causer de l'ombre ou de la distorsion le long de la marge intérieure.

- Additional comments /
Commentaires supplémentaires:

Canadiana.org a numérisé le meilleur exemplaire qu'il lui a été possible de se procurer. Les détails de cet exemplaire qui sont peut-être uniques du point de vue bibliographique, qui peuvent modifier une image reproduite, ou qui peuvent exiger une modification dans la méthode normale de numérisation sont indiqués ci-dessous.

- Coloured pages / Pages de couleur
- Pages damaged / Pages endommagées
- Pages restored and/or laminated /
Pages restaurées et/ou pelliculées
- Pages discoloured, stained or foxed /
Pages décolorées, tachetées ou piquées
- Pages detached / Pages détachées
- Showthrough / Transparence
- Quality of print varies /
Qualité inégale de l'impression

- Includes supplementary materials /
Comprend du matériel supplémentaire

- Blank leaves added during restorations may appear within the text. Whenever possible, these have been omitted from scanning / Il se peut que certaines pages blanches ajoutées lors d'une restauration apparaissent dans le texte, mais, lorsque cela était possible, ces pages n'ont pas été numérisées.

VOL. XXXIII—NO. 38.

MONTREAL, WEDNESDAY, MAY 2, 1883.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

IRELAND'S EXILED PARLIAMENT.

Mr. Sullivan's Address—Rev. Father Borney on the Alleged Denunciation of the Irish Agitation by the Pope.

PHILADELPHIA, April 26.—The work of organizing all the Irish societies of the North-American continent into one grand League, for the express purpose of aiding Ireland in her struggle for autonomy, was formally concluded last evening.

THE ONLY IRISH PARLIAMENT.

We hold the anomalous position of being the only fairly and freely chosen parliament which may assemble to consider the welfare of a wretched, oppressed, and misgoverned people, and we are restrained at the same time from stepping outside the functions of auxiliaries to the patriots who are heroically struggling at home and in an alien and hostile legislature in the vain hope of awakening the long suspended conscience of a powerful and brutal foe.

IRELAND AND AMERICA.

It is eminently proper that we should assemble under the oracles of American independence, for in its achievements the Irish race won the first enduring triumph against the tyranny which it shall continue to resist until its clutch is loosened from civilization.

FATHER DORNEY MAKES A STATEMENT.

PHILADELPHIA, April 28.—Rev. Father Dorney of Chicago, one of the most prominent Irish leaders and temporary Chairman of the convention before the permanent organization was perfected, was this evening asked his opinion of the United Press Association's cable dispatch, alleging that the Pope had issued a declaration annulling the forfeiture of the episcopate upon all priests who render themselves "notorious" as political agitators in the Irish National League cause.

ANOTHER INFORMER.

Nevin, arrested on Saturday on a charge of being concerned in the murder conspiracy, has turned informer.

ARCHBISHOP CROKE TO GO TO ROME.

It is understood Archbishop Croke has been summoned to Rome to consult the Pope regarding the state of Ireland.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT FROM ARCHBISHOP CROKE.

The Secretary of the Committee for the Relief of Irish Distress has just received the following acknowledgment from His Grace the Archbishop of Cashel:—

SCOTCH NEWS.

Ten Highland crofter families, numbering in all about fifty persons, arrived at Greenock on Wednesday on their way to Canada.

MEMORIALS FROM A NUMBER OF DEPUTATIONS.

Memorials from a number of deputations representing most of the temperance organizations of the city have been presented to the Magistrates of Glasgow urging a reduction in the number of public houses.

AN UNSUCCESSFUL ATTEMPT WAS MADE ON TUESDAY TO SERVE THE SUMMONSES OF REMOVAL ON THE GIENDALE CROFTERS.

The reports of Mr. Alex. Campbell and Mr. W. A. Peterkin, general superintendents of poor, who have visited the distressed districts in the Highlands and Islands, have been issued by the Board of Supervision.

AT THE ORDINARY MEETING OF THE GLASGOW SCHOOL BOARD IT WAS REPORTED THAT AT THE SCHOOLS NOW IN OPERATION THERE WERE 42,300 SCHOLARS.

At the ordinary meeting of the Glasgow School Board it was reported that at the schools now in operation there were 42,300 scholars on the 30th March, with an attendance of 34,820, against 36,974 on the roll and 39,944 attendance last year.

HARBOUR ON THE WARP.

HIS EXPLOSIVE BILL VS. REMEDIAL LEGISLATION—HE EXPORTS TO CUT OFF IRISH AGITATORS FROM AMERICAN AID.

LONDON, April 24.—Sir William Harcourt, now that Englishmen begin to look more closely into the matter and to accept the more recent explanations for the urgency of the Explosive Bill, seems to be overshooting his mark. He is in the spirit in which Robert Emmet died who, in his words, was "determined on delivering our native country from the yoke of a foreign and unrelenting tyranny" and "to place her independence beyond the reach of any power on earth."

COMMUNICATION WITH TRAITORS ABROAD AND MOVE THEM.

The Explosive Act will put an end to this communication and will go further toward restoring and securing peace than a thousand volumes of remedial legislation.

THE INHUMAN ALTERNATIVE.

THE BISHOP OF CLOFERT ON THE POLICY OF THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT.

LOUGHREA, IRELAND, April 1, 1883.

My dear Father Walsh:—We can not express in words our most grateful acknowledgments of additional £41 4s 9d by this day's mail.

You will see by the Irish papers that 20,000 of our starving poor, from a few Unions in Connaught, are being "emigrated" by our paternal rulers, to be cast, like so many sparrows from some ill-fated wreck, on whatever shore they may be able to reach.

I think I forwarded to you, before, copy of enclosed resolutions of the Connaught Bishops. They show what we think of the impolitic as well as inhuman "alternative" offered by our rulers—the "Poor-house" or the "Emigrant Ship."

Meantime, we want "railways," "harbors of refuge" along the coast, "arterial drainage," "re-flooding," "encouragement for fisheries," "reclamation of waste lands," "improvements in agricultural holdings," etc.

In this place, which, for exceptional reasons, tedious to analyze, is exceptionally burdened with poor people, my life is to me a misery. For weeks I am practically surrounded with a crowd of hungry applicants for relief.

Once again, with grateful thanks, I am Sincerely yours in Christ, Patrick Duggan, Bishop of Clonfert.

FATAL RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

A FREIGHT TRAIN RUNS INTO A PASSENGER TRAIN—SEVERAL PERSONS KILLED, INCLUDING A MONTREALER, AND SEVERAL WOUNDED.

A terrible railway accident occurred yesterday morning at 2 o'clock on the line of the Chicago and Grand Trunk Railway, between Battle Creek and Lansing, Mich., eleven miles from Battle Creek.

The express train, known as the Pacific Express, was brought to a standstill, owing to failure of the air drum, the distance of which suspends the operation of the brake power, and before the brakeman could get back a sufficient distance to stop a freight train which was following the express, the latter was run into.

The passenger train, headed by the Pullman car conductor Mr. P. J. Wall and W. T. Higgins, a passenger from Detroit, were instantly killed, and Mr. E. Fry, of Port Huron, died after his removal to Battle Creek.

Mr. Wall had been for upwards of six years on the road, and was 29 years of age. He was about to resign and go into business with his father as a contractor, and this was to have been his last trip.

Mr. Higgins had been for upwards of six years on the road, and was 29 years of age. He was about to resign and go into business with his father as a contractor, and this was to have been his last trip.

IRISH AFFAIRS.

IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT.

POLICE INTIMIDATION!

LONDON, April 24.—Renewed precautions are being taken at Dublin because of the numerous letters received, threatening to blow up the public buildings with dynamite.

Lord Carlisle, replying in the House of Lords to Lord Dunsay's remarks regarding the condition of the people of Ireland said accounts from the distressed districts were decidedly more encouraging the last few weeks.

Lord Dunsay, replying in the House of Commons to Lord Dunsay's remarks regarding the condition of the people of Ireland said accounts from the distressed districts were decidedly more encouraging the last few weeks.

Mr. Chamberlain still refuses to answer the Duke of Argyll's letter respecting his attack on the Marquis of Salisbury as a landowner.

Mr. Chamberlain still refuses to answer the Duke of Argyll's letter respecting his attack on the Marquis of Salisbury as a landowner.

Mr. Chamberlain still refuses to answer the Duke of Argyll's letter respecting his attack on the Marquis of Salisbury as a landowner.

Mr. Chamberlain still refuses to answer the Duke of Argyll's letter respecting his attack on the Marquis of Salisbury as a landowner.

Mr. Chamberlain still refuses to answer the Duke of Argyll's letter respecting his attack on the Marquis of Salisbury as a landowner.

Mr. Chamberlain still refuses to answer the Duke of Argyll's letter respecting his attack on the Marquis of Salisbury as a landowner.

Mr. Chamberlain still refuses to answer the Duke of Argyll's letter respecting his attack on the Marquis of Salisbury as a landowner.

Mr. Chamberlain still refuses to answer the Duke of Argyll's letter respecting his attack on the Marquis of Salisbury as a landowner.

Mr. Chamberlain still refuses to answer the Duke of Argyll's letter respecting his attack on the Marquis of Salisbury as a landowner.

Mr. Chamberlain still refuses to answer the Duke of Argyll's letter respecting his attack on the Marquis of Salisbury as a landowner.

Mr. Chamberlain still refuses to answer the Duke of Argyll's letter respecting his attack on the Marquis of Salisbury as a landowner.

IRISH AFFAIRS.

IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT.

POLICE INTIMIDATION!

LONDON, April 24.—Renewed precautions are being taken at Dublin because of the numerous letters received, threatening to blow up the public buildings with dynamite.

Lord Carlisle, replying in the House of Lords to Lord Dunsay's remarks regarding the condition of the people of Ireland said accounts from the distressed districts were decidedly more encouraging the last few weeks.

Lord Dunsay, replying in the House of Commons to Lord Dunsay's remarks regarding the condition of the people of Ireland said accounts from the distressed districts were decidedly more encouraging the last few weeks.

Mr. Chamberlain still refuses to answer the Duke of Argyll's letter respecting his attack on the Marquis of Salisbury as a landowner.

Mr. Chamberlain still refuses to answer the Duke of Argyll's letter respecting his attack on the Marquis of Salisbury as a landowner.

Mr. Chamberlain still refuses to answer the Duke of Argyll's letter respecting his attack on the Marquis of Salisbury as a landowner.

Mr. Chamberlain still refuses to answer the Duke of Argyll's letter respecting his attack on the Marquis of Salisbury as a landowner.

Mr. Chamberlain still refuses to answer the Duke of Argyll's letter respecting his attack on the Marquis of Salisbury as a landowner.

Mr. Chamberlain still refuses to answer the Duke of Argyll's letter respecting his attack on the Marquis of Salisbury as a landowner.

Mr. Chamberlain still refuses to answer the Duke of Argyll's letter respecting his attack on the Marquis of Salisbury as a landowner.

Mr. Chamberlain still refuses to answer the Duke of Argyll's letter respecting his attack on the Marquis of Salisbury as a landowner.

Mr. Chamberlain still refuses to answer the Duke of Argyll's letter respecting his attack on the Marquis of Salisbury as a landowner.

Mr. Chamberlain still refuses to answer the Duke of Argyll's letter respecting his attack on the Marquis of Salisbury as a landowner.

Mr. Chamberlain still refuses to answer the Duke of Argyll's letter respecting his attack on the Marquis of Salisbury as a landowner.

THE DUBLIN TRIALS!

TRIAL OF TIMOTHY KELLY

DISAGREEMENT OF THE JURY.

DUBLIN, April 24.—The trial of Kelly was resumed to-day. The witnesses who testified at the former trial to prove an alibi repeated their testimony.

DUBLIN, April 25.—Ten of the jurors on the second trial of Kelly favored returning a verdict of guilty. Kelly will be re-tried on Monday and if the jury fail to agree he will be tried again.

DUBLIN, April 26.—Ten of the jurors on the second trial of Kelly favored returning a verdict of guilty. Kelly will be re-tried on Monday and if the jury fail to agree he will be tried again.

DUBLIN, April 27.—Ten of the jurors on the second trial of Kelly favored returning a verdict of guilty. Kelly will be re-tried on Monday and if the jury fail to agree he will be tried again.

DUBLIN, April 28.—Ten of the jurors on the second trial of Kelly favored returning a verdict of guilty. Kelly will be re-tried on Monday and if the jury fail to agree he will be tried again.

DUBLIN, April 29.—Ten of the jurors on the second trial of Kelly favored returning a verdict of guilty. Kelly will be re-tried on Monday and if the jury fail to agree he will be tried again.

DUBLIN, April 30.—Ten of the jurors on the second trial of Kelly favored returning a verdict of guilty. Kelly will be re-tried on Monday and if the jury fail to agree he will be tried again.

DUBLIN, April 31.—Ten of the jurors on the second trial of Kelly favored returning a verdict of guilty. Kelly will be re-tried on Monday and if the jury fail to agree he will be tried again.

DUBLIN, April 32.—Ten of the jurors on the second trial of Kelly favored returning a verdict of guilty. Kelly will be re-tried on Monday and if the jury fail to agree he will be tried again.

DUBLIN, April 33.—Ten of the jurors on the second trial of Kelly favored returning a verdict of guilty. Kelly will be re-tried on Monday and if the jury fail to agree he will be tried again.

DUBLIN, April 34.—Ten of the jurors on the second trial of Kelly favored returning a verdict of guilty. Kelly will be re-tried on Monday and if the jury fail to agree he will be tried again.

DUBLIN, April 35.—Ten of the jurors on the second trial of Kelly favored returning a verdict of guilty. Kelly will be re-tried on Monday and if the jury fail to agree he will be tried again.

DUBLIN, April 36.—Ten of the jurors on the second trial of Kelly favored returning a verdict of guilty. Kelly will be re-tried on Monday and if the jury fail to agree he will be tried again.

DUBLIN, April 37.—Ten of the jurors on the second trial of Kelly favored returning a verdict of guilty. Kelly will be re-tried on Monday and if the jury fail to agree he will be tried again.

DUBLIN, April 38.—Ten of the jurors on the second trial of Kelly favored returning a verdict of guilty. Kelly will be re-tried on Monday and if the jury fail to agree he will be tried again.

EDITH YORKE.

CHAPTER VII.—Continued.

Edith was just passing through the room on her way to take an afternoon walk...

They roamed about the edge of the woods, reading wild roses and violets that they ventured into wet places for the blue flower-dance...

Clara searched him, but found nothing. "There's nothing on you, little dear," she said.

"Does my imagination wiggle?" he cried indignantly. "There!" The last exclamation referred to a creeping at his throat...

When Clara entered the parlor, she found only the gentlemen and Edith there; but that did not prevent her insisting on her little one being received with enthusiasm...

"Violets instead of laurel in the hair. As those were all the little locks could bear."

"What is your opinion concerning the origin of ideas?" asked the young man, at length, with the greatest brightness...

"Oh! for an interpreter," he exclaimed. "If I had an interpreter, we could confound the savants."

"He is saying that he loves everybody in the whole world!" she cried, catching the babe in her arms, and half-stifling it with kisses.

"It is not a bad solution," mused the minister, as he and Carl went out last. "Perhaps love is the root from which our ideas grow."

"You see that here we stand not upon the order of our going," Clara laughed back from the doorway.

There was a cluster of yellow violets by Mr. Griffith's plate. His eyes often turned on them, and always with a grave expression.

"But I warn you," he said to the young people, when they had returned to the parlor, "that unless you allow me to see you often this hospitality will be a cruel kindness."

Clara called him to her. "You are no more a man," she said, "than potato-balls are potatoes."

"But what a perfect thing it is!" he added. "Mrs. Yorke was just passing through the room on her way to take an afternoon walk..."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

Clara, do potato-balls ever grow into potatoes?" he asked anxiously. "In the evening the Dalzell minister departed, and arrived, and took their minister away with them."

"Now, Fat, you mark my words," said Betsy, as she saw the family stand on the moonlight veranda to watch their visitor down the avenue.

Patrick was still smarting under the insult offered to his garden, and would not in any case have hailed the alliance of a minister with the family.

"You needn't speak to me again, to-night," she exclaimed, looking severely away from him.

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

She knelt at once, for her mother's and her own sake, with a murmured, "Please to bless me, Sir." But when he had given the blessing, laying his hand upon her head, and looking down into her face with that expression of serene sweetness...

"It is the castle of indolence," muttered Owen, stepping noiselessly on. He paused at the foot of the stairs and listened. No sound came down.

"And I have a present for you," he said, giving her an ornate crucifix, with a broken foot that showed marks of violence.

"You needn't speak to me again, to-night," she exclaimed, looking severely away from him.

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

with the finger pointing to a passage on which he had closed his eyes: "I love to lose myself in a mystery, to pursue my reason to an O altitudo!" From that the reader had gone out into the mystery of sleep with a smile lingering on his face.

"It is the castle of indolence," muttered Owen, stepping noiselessly on. He paused at the foot of the stairs and listened. No sound came down.

"And I have a present for you," he said, giving her an ornate crucifix, with a broken foot that showed marks of violence.

"You needn't speak to me again, to-night," she exclaimed, looking severely away from him.

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

slon have thirty-one days should be produced this time. Good-by to July! I would have spoken you more courteously, O month of Caesar! had you not stood between my friend and me.

"It is the castle of indolence," muttered Owen, stepping noiselessly on. He paused at the foot of the stairs and listened. No sound came down.

"And I have a present for you," he said, giving her an ornate crucifix, with a broken foot that showed marks of violence.

"You needn't speak to me again, to-night," she exclaimed, looking severely away from him.

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

"I should believe," the minister said, "that if she had possessed true nobleness of soul, she could not have so lowered herself, even if she had seen nothing better."

ARNICA & OIL LINIMENT. The Best External Remedy for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Cramps, Sprains, Flesh Wounds, Burns and Scalds, Frost-bitten Feet and Ears, and all other Pains and Aches. As a Liniment for Horses it has no equal. One trial will prove its merits. Its effects are in most cases instantaneous. Every bottle warranted to give satisfaction. Price 25 cts. & 50 cts. per Bottle. SOLD EVERYWHERE.

IRISH NATIONAL CONVENTION

IT MERGES WITH THE NEW ORGANIZATION.

President Mooney's Speech.

SPEECHES BY EGAN AND BRENNAN.

THE FINANCIAL REPORTS.

THE OPENING SESSION

1,155 Delegates in Attendance.

TELEGRAM FROM MR. PARNELL.

The Appointment of Officers.

Scenes and Incidents—Committees of Organization.

THE RESOLUTIONS PASSED

Alexander Sullivan Elected President.

CONVENTION ADJOURNED FINE DIE.

PHILADELPHIA, April 25.—The Irish National Land League convention met this forenoon in the Horticultural Hall, which was tastefully and appropriately decorated. Portraits of Davitt, Parnell and Washington hung on the walls. Facing the speaker's stand from the far front was an American eagle flanked by the national flags of Ireland and the United States. As early as 10 o'clock the committee on credentials were in session in a smaller hall, confining themselves entirely to credentials of the National convention. Patrick Egan, Father Cronin and Walsh and a number of distinguished leaguers with groups of ladies took seats upon the stage.

Following is the text of Mr. Mooney's address:— LADIES AND GENTLEMEN—We are now assembled in the convention to which we have so long looked forward. It was our hope to have welcomed here Charles Stewart Parnell, whom we love and revere in America, no less than they do in Ireland itself.

THE AFFAIRS OF IRELAND

have so occupied the world's attention, that those of other nations have almost seemed to stand still, while their peoples listened to her pathetic history. Nothing that malice could invent has been left unused; no effort has been spared to belittle her cause and misrepresent her, but above all to insult and discredit her obnoxious.

odds. They see in Mr. Gladstone's weak time server who disgraces the name of Liberal. They see in the London press a sower for the escape of English falsehood and malice and in the entire course of events in Ireland a restoration of the tragic story of the past, a story made up of incidents which are none the less real, and which bear the stamp of a Great Britain to speak in its own name, or a Moore to tell them in rhyme.

Mistaking the views of the insignificant number or Anglo-Americans for

THE PUBLIC SENTIMENT OF OUR COUNTRY, and misled by the sycophancy of the envoy who misrepresents our Government at the Court of St. James, British stupidity has made itself ridiculous a few weeks since by its friendly remonstrances sent to our Government at Washington, reprehensive of some recent expressions of Irish sympathy that were not mild enough for delicate English ears.

This impudent attempt to apply the gag in free America has done us good service. The indignation it evoked has organized our race to help on the good work of sympathy and support. Let England restore justice to her Irish core, protect women and children from her brutal castility, feed the famishing multitude her landlord system has given over to starvation, cease to throw out the aged and the dying upon the wayside without shelter, before she appeals to a nation that once cast off her hateful yoke for tyrannies less than these to check the passionate outbursts of those who have suffered in her prison pens, or still remember her persecutions.

AN INTENSITY OF DETESTATION, unequalled by any class of Irishmen in Ireland. Even here she still imposes burdens on us.

Stephen J. Meany was invited on the platform, but declined, preferring to sit with his co-delegates.

The speech created a profound impression and was listened to with marked attention when it was not being enthusiastically applauded. Mr. Mooney is low sized and stout. He wears glasses and looks like a well-to-do business man.

On motion of P. A. Collins, the temporary organization was made permanent.

solutions were in session. Mr. Parnell entered the hall shortly after 2:30, and was greeted warmly, all present rising and cheering. Mooney and Egan escorted her to the stage, and she was introduced as the mother of the great Irish leader.

The chairman called for the report of the committee on credentials, which was read by Dr. W. H. Oots, of Baltimore; the names of the lady delegates were greeted with applause.

An amendment requesting a statement from the chairman of the committee on credentials as to the total number of delegates elected elicited a statement from that gentleman that all credentials presented had been favorably passed on.

Mr. O'Rielly, St. Louis, offered a substitute that the Chair appoint a committee of seven to consider the most feasible method of merging the Land League.

On motion of Sullivan, of Chicago, to lay O'Rielly's motion for the previous question on the table, a standing vote was twice ordered, and many explanations were asked as to what the matter voted on was.

After the secretary had in vain endeavored to explain the question, a delegate in the rear said despondingly, "I do not understand it yet."

On motion of Sullivan, of Chicago, to lay O'Rielly's motion for the previous question on the table, a standing vote was twice ordered, and many explanations were asked as to what the matter voted on was.

After the secretary had in vain endeavored to explain the question, a delegate in the rear said despondingly, "I do not understand it yet."

On motion of Sullivan, of Chicago, to lay O'Rielly's motion for the previous question on the table, a standing vote was twice ordered, and many explanations were asked as to what the matter voted on was.

After the secretary had in vain endeavored to explain the question, a delegate in the rear said despondingly, "I do not understand it yet."

On motion of Sullivan, of Chicago, to lay O'Rielly's motion for the previous question on the table, a standing vote was twice ordered, and many explanations were asked as to what the matter voted on was.

After the secretary had in vain endeavored to explain the question, a delegate in the rear said despondingly, "I do not understand it yet."

On motion of Sullivan, of Chicago, to lay O'Rielly's motion for the previous question on the table, a standing vote was twice ordered, and many explanations were asked as to what the matter voted on was.

On hand on January 9th to be $13,714; received from branches January 9th to April 25th, $5,892; balance on hand April 25th, $8,822; for Land League, proposed to date, $39,100; for Irish Relief Fund, $32,652; balance on hand $21,464.

By the report shows that during the year '83, new branches were enrolled. There are now on the roll 550 branches, of whose existence the central office has official knowledge, and 288 not known officially.

The report of Col. Collins, Massachusetts, chairman of the committee appointed to wait on President Arthur at the last convention to inquire into the conduct of Minister Lowell, was accepted.

Patrick Egan explained that his views having been alluded to during the debate he would state that the determination of the convention met his most hearty approval.

On motion of Sullivan, of Chicago, to lay O'Rielly's motion for the previous question on the table, a standing vote was twice ordered, and many explanations were asked as to what the matter voted on was.

After the secretary had in vain endeavored to explain the question, a delegate in the rear said despondingly, "I do not understand it yet."

On motion of Sullivan, of Chicago, to lay O'Rielly's motion for the previous question on the table, a standing vote was twice ordered, and many explanations were asked as to what the matter voted on was.

After the secretary had in vain endeavored to explain the question, a delegate in the rear said despondingly, "I do not understand it yet."

On motion of Sullivan, of Chicago, to lay O'Rielly's motion for the previous question on the table, a standing vote was twice ordered, and many explanations were asked as to what the matter voted on was.

After the secretary had in vain endeavored to explain the question, a delegate in the rear said despondingly, "I do not understand it yet."

On motion of Sullivan, of Chicago, to lay O'Rielly's motion for the previous question on the table, a standing vote was twice ordered, and many explanations were asked as to what the matter voted on was.

After the secretary had in vain endeavored to explain the question, a delegate in the rear said despondingly, "I do not understand it yet."

On motion of Sullivan, of Chicago, to lay O'Rielly's motion for the previous question on the table, a standing vote was twice ordered, and many explanations were asked as to what the matter voted on was.

The question recurring on Brown's substitute, the secretary was accused of making a speech while reading the substitute, the gavel falling continually for fifteen minutes.

A call of the roll was ordered on the substitute, the chair declaring that he could not be absolutely certain. It appears that during the roll-call there were persons sitting among the delegates whose names were not on the secretary's roll.

The ladies voted 8 "noes" and 1 "aye." During the roll-call several attempts were made to cast the votes of absent delegates which were promptly exposed.

The committee announced by the chair, according to the terms of Brown's substitute, viz.—Andrew Brown, of St. Louis; P. A. Collins, Boston; Rev. P. Cronin, Buffalo; M. V. Gannon, Iowa; Rev. P. Dorney, Chicago; Rev. Chas. O'Rielly, Detroit; John F. Armstrong, Georgia.

The committee announced by the chair, according to the terms of Brown's substitute, viz.—Andrew Brown, of St. Louis; P. A. Collins, Boston; Rev. P. Cronin, Buffalo; M. V. Gannon, Iowa; Rev. P. Dorney, Chicago; Rev. Chas. O'Rielly, Detroit; John F. Armstrong, Georgia.

The committee announced by the chair, according to the terms of Brown's substitute, viz.—Andrew Brown, of St. Louis; P. A. Collins, Boston; Rev. P. Cronin, Buffalo; M. V. Gannon, Iowa; Rev. P. Dorney, Chicago; Rev. Chas. O'Rielly, Detroit; John F. Armstrong, Georgia.

The committee announced by the chair, according to the terms of Brown's substitute, viz.—Andrew Brown, of St. Louis; P. A. Collins, Boston; Rev. P. Cronin, Buffalo; M. V. Gannon, Iowa; Rev. P. Dorney, Chicago; Rev. Chas. O'Rielly, Detroit; John F. Armstrong, Georgia.

The committee announced by the chair, according to the terms of Brown's substitute, viz.—Andrew Brown, of St. Louis; P. A. Collins, Boston; Rev. P. Cronin, Buffalo; M. V. Gannon, Iowa; Rev. P. Dorney, Chicago; Rev. Chas. O'Rielly, Detroit; John F. Armstrong, Georgia.

The committee announced by the chair, according to the terms of Brown's substitute, viz.—Andrew Brown, of St. Louis; P. A. Collins, Boston; Rev. P. Cronin, Buffalo; M. V. Gannon, Iowa; Rev. P. Dorney, Chicago; Rev. Chas. O'Rielly, Detroit; John F. Armstrong, Georgia.

The committee announced by the chair, according to the terms of Brown's substitute, viz.—Andrew Brown, of St. Louis; P. A. Collins, Boston; Rev. P. Cronin, Buffalo; M. V. Gannon, Iowa; Rev. P. Dorney, Chicago; Rev. Chas. O'Rielly, Detroit; John F. Armstrong, Georgia.

The committee announced by the chair, according to the terms of Brown's substitute, viz.—Andrew Brown, of St. Louis; P. A. Collins, Boston; Rev. P. Cronin, Buffalo; M. V. Gannon, Iowa; Rev. P. Dorney, Chicago; Rev. Chas. O'Rielly, Detroit; John F. Armstrong, Georgia.

The committee announced by the chair, according to the terms of Brown's substitute, viz.—Andrew Brown, of St. Louis; P. A. Collins, Boston; Rev. P. Cronin, Buffalo; M. V. Gannon, Iowa; Rev. P. Dorney, Chicago; Rev. Chas. O'Rielly, Detroit; John F. Armstrong, Georgia.

The committee announced by the chair, according to the terms of Brown's substitute, viz.—Andrew Brown, of St. Louis; P. A. Collins, Boston; Rev. P. Cronin, Buffalo; M. V. Gannon, Iowa; Rev. P. Dorney, Chicago; Rev. Chas. O'Rielly, Detroit; John F. Armstrong, Georgia.

said—I am an Irishman. I have been thirteen years in Australia and now traveling through America, and expect to be in Ireland in about three weeks' time.

The committee announced by the chair, according to the terms of Brown's substitute, viz.—Andrew Brown, of St. Louis; P. A. Collins, Boston; Rev. P. Cronin, Buffalo; M. V. Gannon, Iowa; Rev. P. Dorney, Chicago; Rev. Chas. O'Rielly, Detroit; John F. Armstrong, Georgia.

The committee announced by the chair, according to the terms of Brown's substitute, viz.—Andrew Brown, of St. Louis; P. A. Collins, Boston; Rev. P. Cronin, Buffalo; M. V. Gannon, Iowa; Rev. P. Dorney, Chicago; Rev. Chas. O'Rielly, Detroit; John F. Armstrong, Georgia.

The committee announced by the chair, according to the terms of Brown's substitute, viz.—Andrew Brown, of St. Louis; P. A. Collins, Boston; Rev. P. Cronin, Buffalo; M. V. Gannon, Iowa; Rev. P. Dorney, Chicago; Rev. Chas. O'Rielly, Detroit; John F. Armstrong, Georgia.

The committee announced by the chair, according to the terms of Brown's substitute, viz.—Andrew Brown, of St. Louis; P. A. Collins, Boston; Rev. P. Cronin, Buffalo; M. V. Gannon, Iowa; Rev. P. Dorney, Chicago; Rev. Chas. O'Rielly, Detroit; John F. Armstrong, Georgia.

The committee announced by the chair, according to the terms of Brown's substitute, viz.—Andrew Brown, of St. Louis; P. A. Collins, Boston; Rev. P. Cronin, Buffalo; M. V. Gannon, Iowa; Rev. P. Dorney, Chicago; Rev. Chas. O'Rielly, Detroit; John F. Armstrong, Georgia.

The committee announced by the chair, according to the terms of Brown's substitute, viz.—Andrew Brown, of St. Louis; P. A. Collins, Boston; Rev. P. Cronin, Buffalo; M. V. Gannon, Iowa; Rev. P. Dorney, Chicago; Rev. Chas. O'Rielly, Detroit; John F. Armstrong, Georgia.

The committee announced by the chair, according to the terms of Brown's substitute, viz.—Andrew Brown, of St. Louis; P. A. Collins, Boston; Rev. P. Cronin, Buffalo; M. V. Gannon, Iowa; Rev. P. Dorney, Chicago; Rev. Chas. O'Rielly, Detroit; John F. Armstrong, Georgia.

The committee announced by the chair, according to the terms of Brown's substitute, viz.—Andrew Brown, of St. Louis; P. A. Collins, Boston; Rev. P. Cronin, Buffalo; M. V. Gannon, Iowa; Rev. P. Dorney, Chicago; Rev. Chas. O'Rielly, Detroit; John F. Armstrong, Georgia.

The committee announced by the chair, according to the terms of Brown's substitute, viz.—Andrew Brown, of St. Louis; P. A. Collins, Boston; Rev. P. Cronin, Buffalo; M. V. Gannon, Iowa; Rev. P. Dorney, Chicago; Rev. Chas. O'Rielly, Detroit; John F. Armstrong, Georgia.

The committee announced by the chair, according to the terms of Brown's substitute, viz.—Andrew Brown, of St. Louis; P. A. Collins, Boston; Rev. P. Cronin, Buffalo; M. V. Gannon, Iowa; Rev. P. Dorney, Chicago; Rev. Chas. O'Rielly, Detroit; John F. Armstrong, Georgia.

The committee announced by the chair, according to the terms of Brown's substitute, viz.—Andrew Brown, of St. Louis; P. A. Collins, Boston; Rev. P. Cronin, Buffalo; M. V. Gannon, Iowa; Rev. P. Dorney, Chicago; Rev. Chas. O'Rielly, Detroit; John F. Armstrong, Georgia.

THE TRUE WITNESS

IS PUBLISHED BY The Post Printing & Publishing Company 761 CRAIG ST., Montreal, Canada.

Subscription per annum (in advance) $1.50. Single copies 5c.

Advertisements: A limited number of advertisements of special character will be inserted in this paper at a reduced rate.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS: Subscribers in the country should always give the name of their Post Office.

The Post Printing & Publishing Company, MONTREAL, CANADA.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 2, 1883.

CATHOLIC CALENDAR MAY, 1883.

THURSDAY, 3.—Ascension of Our Lord. Holy-day of Obligation. Less. Acts i. 1-11; Gosp. Mark xvi. 14-29. Con. Ep. Eldor, Cincinnati, 1857.

FRIDAY, 4.—St. Monica, Widow. Con. Abp. Corigan, New York, 1873.

MONDAY, 7.—St. Stanislaus, Bishop and Martyr.

TUESDAY, 8.—Apparition of St. Michael, Archangel. Con. Ep. Nersiz, San Antonio, 1881.

WEDNESDAY, 9.—St. Gregory, Nazianzen, Bishop, Confessor, and Doctor of the Church.

CARBY'S infamous testimony is weakening; it has failed to hang Kelly, the third of the prisoners, accused of the Picolet Park murder, in which no honest proof that he had taken part, was forthcoming.

Mr. Gladstone warmly supported the Affirmation Bill in the House of Commons, and we are informed that his speech on the occasion was an eloquent oration, ranking among the finest and greatest efforts of his life.

ALEXANDER SULLIVAN, of Chicago, the new President of the Irish National League, says the N. Y. Star, has for many years been a prominent figure in Irish patriotic circles in the West.

The old-fashioned Whigs are being fast driven to the wall in England, and Liberalism is being superseded by Radicalism. Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, the President of the Board of Trade, is not deterred by his position, as Minister of the Crown, from attacking and frightening the landlords out of their wits.

While the Provincial Government was in possession of the North Shore Railroad, the number of officials and employees on the line was almost unlimited. The object of having the working staff much larger than the requirements of the road demanded was to depreciate the value of the property by being able to show that the working expenses absorbed over 80 per cent. of the earnings of the railway.

and was, therefore, entitled to the usual month's notice or its equivalent. This success will, no doubt, induce the other employees similarly dismissed to seek redress from the courts against the company.

Mr. HARRINGTON, M.P., who had the distinguished honor, of being elected from a prison cell to a seat in the British House of Commons, and who has just been liberated, has not departed in laying before Parliament his experience of prison life in Ireland. A sense of shame and indignation ran through the House when he described how English officials daily tempted him with offers of freedom, money, and even bribes of whiskey to induce him to swear away the liberties of his fellowmen.

The Ottawa Citizen, a Government organ, says that if the Imperial Government have thought of sending Mr. Forster to this country to succeed the Marquis of Lorne, it might be just as well that they should be informed that his appointment would prove an egregious blunder, which after it had been made they would have cause to regret.

The Ottawa Free Press has settled the question of who shall be our next Governor-General. It says that the Right Hon. W. E. Forster, late Secretary for Ireland, will, beyond doubt, succeed the Marquis of Lorne.

THE IRISH AMERICAN CONVENTION. The world has watched with peculiar interest the singular spectacle of an Irish Parliament assembling in a great American city at a distance of three thousand miles from the land whose fortunes and condition were the object of the solemn deliberations of that representative body.

The world has watched with peculiar interest the singular spectacle of an Irish Parliament assembling in a great American city at a distance of three thousand miles from the land whose fortunes and condition were the object of the solemn deliberations of that representative body.

The world has watched with peculiar interest the singular spectacle of an Irish Parliament assembling in a great American city at a distance of three thousand miles from the land whose fortunes and condition were the object of the solemn deliberations of that representative body.

The world has watched with peculiar interest the singular spectacle of an Irish Parliament assembling in a great American city at a distance of three thousand miles from the land whose fortunes and condition were the object of the solemn deliberations of that representative body.

and all this within the past three years. No talk of reform in face of this misrule and oppression, is to add insult to outrage. England has forfeited all moral right to rule over Ireland, not only by seven centuries of cruel and infamous misgovernment, but by its civilized oppression of the present day.

La verite choque is an old French saying, and it is not surprising to find those who are hostile to the Irish cause subjected to sensations of displeasure and uneasiness when very hard truths are brought home to them, such as the following, which were solemnly proclaimed by the Convention: "There is no form of cruelty known to the lower savage, which it has not practised on the Irish people in the name of the highest civilization; there is no device of fiendish ingenuity, it has not adopted to reduce their numbers; there is no species of destructive attack, however insidious or violent, ancient or modern, rude or scientific, whether directed against life or matter, in any portion of the globe, for which its barbarities in Ireland have not furnished an example; there is no form of retaliation to which despair and madness may resort for which English cruelty in Ireland is not exclusively responsible."

"THE DECAY OF THE HOME LIFE IN AMERICA" The above subject is receiving a considerable share of public attention among our Republican neighbors on the other side of the line. This greatest of evils which can befall a nation, is mainly attributed to the system of public schools and the training which the youth of the country receive therein.

BOSTILE CRITICISM. As a rule those papers in Canada and the United States that are generally antagonistic to Irish interests, have treated the Irish National League Convention at Philadelphia, in a spirit of fair criticism and with commendable impartiality.

The burden of the social evils, under which the United States is to-day groaning and laboring, proves the wisdom of the Church in this caring for the education of its youth. A few years ago the late Prof. Agassiz, of Harvard University, was employed to investigate the origin, extent and effects of the social evil. He was a man of learning and science; he was neither a Catholic, nor a friend of Catholicism, but a staunch Protestant and an ardent advocate of the public school system; yet his report on the origin of the social evil was a more sweeping condemnation of the public school system than any that had, till then, issued from a Catholic pen.

Our morning contemporary, the ex-Liberal and Syndicate organ, after falsely stating that "the dynamite patriots were not slow in coming to the front" in yesterday's convention, sneeringly remarks that it "seems absurd for a lot of men to meet in the United States for the purpose of regulating the affairs of Ireland, a country that, no doubt, many of them have never seen."

Our morning contemporary, the ex-Liberal and Syndicate organ, after falsely stating that "the dynamite patriots were not slow in coming to the front" in yesterday's convention, sneeringly remarks that it "seems absurd for a lot of men to meet in the United States for the purpose of regulating the affairs of Ireland, a country that, no doubt, many of them have never seen."

Our morning contemporary, the ex-Liberal and Syndicate organ, after falsely stating that "the dynamite patriots were not slow in coming to the front" in yesterday's convention, sneeringly remarks that it "seems absurd for a lot of men to meet in the United States for the purpose of regulating the affairs of Ireland, a country that, no doubt, many of them have never seen."

Our morning contemporary, the ex-Liberal and Syndicate organ, after falsely stating that "the dynamite patriots were not slow in coming to the front" in yesterday's convention, sneeringly remarks that it "seems absurd for a lot of men to meet in the United States for the purpose of regulating the affairs of Ireland, a country that, no doubt, many of them have never seen."

and all this within the past three years. No talk of reform in face of this misrule and oppression, is to add insult to outrage. England has forfeited all moral right to rule over Ireland, not only by seven centuries of cruel and infamous misgovernment, but by its civilized oppression of the present day.

La verite choque is an old French saying, and it is not surprising to find those who are hostile to the Irish cause subjected to sensations of displeasure and uneasiness when very hard truths are brought home to them, such as the following, which were solemnly proclaimed by the Convention: "There is no form of cruelty known to the lower savage, which it has not practised on the Irish people in the name of the highest civilization; there is no device of fiendish ingenuity, it has not adopted to reduce their numbers; there is no species of destructive attack, however insidious or violent, ancient or modern, rude or scientific, whether directed against life or matter, in any portion of the globe, for which its barbarities in Ireland have not furnished an example; there is no form of retaliation to which despair and madness may resort for which English cruelty in Ireland is not exclusively responsible."

"THE DECAY OF THE HOME LIFE IN AMERICA" The above subject is receiving a considerable share of public attention among our Republican neighbors on the other side of the line. This greatest of evils which can befall a nation, is mainly attributed to the system of public schools and the training which the youth of the country receive therein.

BOSTILE CRITICISM. As a rule those papers in Canada and the United States that are generally antagonistic to Irish interests, have treated the Irish National League Convention at Philadelphia, in a spirit of fair criticism and with commendable impartiality.

The burden of the social evils, under which the United States is to-day groaning and laboring, proves the wisdom of the Church in this caring for the education of its youth. A few years ago the late Prof. Agassiz, of Harvard University, was employed to investigate the origin, extent and effects of the social evil. He was a man of learning and science; he was neither a Catholic, nor a friend of Catholicism, but a staunch Protestant and an ardent advocate of the public school system; yet his report on the origin of the social evil was a more sweeping condemnation of the public school system than any that had, till then, issued from a Catholic pen.

Our morning contemporary, the ex-Liberal and Syndicate organ, after falsely stating that "the dynamite patriots were not slow in coming to the front" in yesterday's convention, sneeringly remarks that it "seems absurd for a lot of men to meet in the United States for the purpose of regulating the affairs of Ireland, a country that, no doubt, many of them have never seen."

Our morning contemporary, the ex-Liberal and Syndicate organ, after falsely stating that "the dynamite patriots were not slow in coming to the front" in yesterday's convention, sneeringly remarks that it "seems absurd for a lot of men to meet in the United States for the purpose of regulating the affairs of Ireland, a country that, no doubt, many of them have never seen."

Our morning contemporary, the ex-Liberal and Syndicate organ, after falsely stating that "the dynamite patriots were not slow in coming to the front" in yesterday's convention, sneeringly remarks that it "seems absurd for a lot of men to meet in the United States for the purpose of regulating the affairs of Ireland, a country that, no doubt, many of them have never seen."

Our morning contemporary, the ex-Liberal and Syndicate organ, after falsely stating that "the dynamite patriots were not slow in coming to the front" in yesterday's convention, sneeringly remarks that it "seems absurd for a lot of men to meet in the United States for the purpose of regulating the affairs of Ireland, a country that, no doubt, many of them have never seen."

lectures delivered during last Lent by Dr. Dix, of New York, the sins of American social life are fearfully exposed and scathingly denounced.

Were it not for the salutary, conservative and purifying influence of the Catholic Church in the United States, American Society would fall to pieces almost as rapidly as did the social fabric of the Old Roman Empire in the days of its luxury and corruption.

The girl of to-day is the mother of to-morrow. The mother is the child's natural teacher—his first, best and most efficient instructor for good or evil. In her eyes, in her movements, in her looks and on her lips she holds the power which sways and governs the future.

Our morning contemporary, the ex-Liberal and Syndicate organ, after falsely stating that "the dynamite patriots were not slow in coming to the front" in yesterday's convention, sneeringly remarks that it "seems absurd for a lot of men to meet in the United States for the purpose of regulating the affairs of Ireland, a country that, no doubt, many of them have never seen."

Our morning contemporary, the ex-Liberal and Syndicate organ, after falsely stating that "the dynamite patriots were not slow in coming to the front" in yesterday's convention, sneeringly remarks that it "seems absurd for a lot of men to meet in the United States for the purpose of regulating the affairs of Ireland, a country that, no doubt, many of them have never seen."

Our morning contemporary, the ex-Liberal and Syndicate organ, after falsely stating that "the dynamite patriots were not slow in coming to the front" in yesterday's convention, sneeringly remarks that it "seems absurd for a lot of men to meet in the United States for the purpose of regulating the affairs of Ireland, a country that, no doubt, many of them have never seen."

Our morning contemporary, the ex-Liberal and Syndicate organ, after falsely stating that "the dynamite patriots were not slow in coming to the front" in yesterday's convention, sneeringly remarks that it "seems absurd for a lot of men to meet in the United States for the purpose of regulating the affairs of Ireland, a country that, no doubt, many of them have never seen."

Our morning contemporary, the ex-Liberal and Syndicate organ, after falsely stating that "the dynamite patriots were not slow in coming to the front" in yesterday's convention, sneeringly remarks that it "seems absurd for a lot of men to meet in the United States for the purpose of regulating the affairs of Ireland, a country that, no doubt, many of them have never seen."

Our morning contemporary, the ex-Liberal and Syndicate organ, after falsely stating that "the dynamite patriots were not slow in coming to the front" in yesterday's convention, sneeringly remarks that it "seems absurd for a lot of men to meet in the United States for the purpose of regulating the affairs of Ireland, a country that, no doubt, many of them have never seen."

the light of day in a month's session of legislature on this or any other continent. And we are told that Irishmen are incapable of self-government!

It follows, therefore, that England, in denying Home Rule to Ireland because of its alleged unfitness for self-government, slanders the Irish people and discredits its claim to fair play and constitutional liberty. England has tried her hand long enough at governing Ireland and has satisfied nobody. She would remedy the situation wonderfully if she would but give Irishmen the right of governing themselves their own way.

NEWS AGENTS. The following gentlemen have kindly consented to act as agents, in their respective districts, for THE POST AND TRUE WITNESS, and are authorized by us to collect subscriptions and accept subscribers:—E. E. Tallan, Merickville, Ont.; John Kavanagh, Old Brockway, Mich.; John Powers, Middletown Springs, Vt.; Patrick Gauthier, Newmark, Ont.; Mr. E. Mahlor, Chambly Canton, Que.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL. (FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.) OTTAWA, April 20. The debate on the King's Co. (P. E. I.) election case came off last night, and the division arising from it was as might have been, and was undoubtedly anticipated. Yet it was not a straight party vote, Messrs. Girouard (Jacques Cartier) and Patterson (Essex), Conservatives, voting in the minority. Mr. Macmaster, member for Glengarry, delivered his maiden speech and a brilliant one it was—clear, calm, logical, bristling with unanswerable legal points, and from a party standpoint, a decided success. After this Mr. Macmaster will take rank, after the Hon. Sir Charles Tupper and the Hon. Mr. Blake, as the best speaker of the Commons.

At a meeting of the American students of Mount Royal College, held April 19, 1883, the following resolutions of sympathy and condolence were adopted through a committee appointed for the purpose. Whereas, it has pleased Almighty God in His infinite wisdom to call unto himself in the morning of his existence, our former gifted schoolmate and highly esteemed friend, Mr. Jerome J. Ryan, of Peacedale, R. I., who during his sojourn in our midst edited for his pure and exemplary life, and won for himself by his upright, honorable conduct and genial manners the good will and esteem of all who had the good fortune of knowing him;

Resolved—That whilst we deeply lament the early demise of one who had cherished the pious hope of spending his life in the service of his Creator in the vineyard of the Lord, yet we cannot but find consolation in the conviction that once so good and true will ere long, perhaps ere long, joyfully await the elect in the heavenly kingdom.

Resolved—That we extend the bereaved relatives of our departed schoolmate our heartfelt sympathy for their irreparable loss of a devoted son and loving brother, and we earnestly pray that God may give them strength to bear their burden of sorrow with true Christian fortitude and resignation.

Resolved—That we wear a badge of mourning during one month, as a token of respect to the memory of the deceased.

Resolved—That the Agnus Scilicet of the Mass be offered up at an early day for the repose of his soul, and that we all communicate at said Mass in the same intention.

Resolved—That printed copies of these resolutions be forwarded to his relatives and inserted in the Providence Visitor, the Conn. Catholic and the Montreal Post.

Committees on resolutions—T. E. McCaffery, Chairman; Jas. H. McCaffery, M. T. Cassidy, O. E. Goodrich, D. C. Murphy, C. X. Wells, D. Flynn. Honorary Committee—H. W. McKay, Jr., J. J. McKan, C. Dufosse, J. Farrell, H. McAvoy, H. Gaucher, J. J. Haughton, Thomas Brophy, George B. Mealey.

CATHOLIC NEWS. An interesting religious ceremony took place at the Ursuline Convent, Quebec yesterday morning, April 30th, when Miss Eleonore Lemoine, daughter of Mr. Darley Lemoine, of the Crown Lands Department, took the white veil and Miss Lindsay, of Green Island, pronounced her final vows and assumed the black veil.

ST. FINNAN'S, ALEXANDRIA, ONT. This new church, which is to be built on the site of the present church (to be removed) will be erected from the design approved by the Rt. Rev. Dr. Cleary, Bishop of Kingston, consists of central tower, belfry and spire, having a total height of 155 feet. Nave, aisles, transepts and sanctuary with two sacristies; principal entrance through tower and two side entrances to choir; its transepts are provided with side entrance doorways. The Tudor style of architecture has been adopted; the ornamentation chiefly displayed on the front, tower and spire. Exterior walls, buttresses, pillars, clear story walls, arches, etc., constructed of stone quarried from quarries in the vicinity. External measurement of the church will be 147 feet by 81 feet, at transept ends, and 170 feet by 81 feet, at the main entrance. The seating capacity of the church is estimated to accommodate 1,300 persons, additional fittings in nave and sanctuary room counted in. The church will have room for 700 persons. According to the arrangement of the church floor plan (transverse being of octagonal form), the three Altars will be in view from each part of the church. The organ will be placed on the communion table being continuous, crossing nave and transepts. The gallery is of curved formation from side to side, will contain the choir, organ, etc., and is provided with seats; from gallery is lower entrance to stairs and belfry, inside measure 11 feet square, allowing area for a peal of bells. A floor removal of the present building, operations are expected to commence on the new church and the foundation completed and secured before the ending of the present year. The architect, Wm. H. Ridd, of this city, states the entire work, with due diligence, can be completed for Christmas of next year.

CURE SICK HEADACHE. Headache, or Carter's Little Liver Pills are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if only cured.

ACHE. Is the bane of so many lives that there is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not. Carter's Little Liver Pills are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills taken dose.

CONSUMPTION. I have a positive cure for consumption, and have cured thousands of cases of the worst kind and of long standing. I will send you a copy of my book, "A CURE FOR CONSUMPTION," on the disease, to any sufferer, who will send me $1.00 in advance.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., New York City.

CONSUMPTION. A NOTED BUT UNTILTED WOMAN. (From the Boston Globe)

Mrs. Pinkham writes: "The above is a good likeness of Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., who above all other human beings may be truly called the 'Dear Friend of Woman'."

DIAMOND DYES. BEST DYES EVER MADE. FOR SILK, WOOL, OR COTTON. DRESSES, COATS, SCARFS, HOODS, YARN, STOCKINGS, CARPET RAGS, RIBBONS, FEATHERS, or any fabric or fancy article black and perfectly colorless.

GOLD AND SILVER PAINT. Bronze Paint. Artists' Black. For gilding Fancy Baskets, Frames, Lamps, Chandeliers, and for all kinds of ornamental work.

The Bad and Worthless. are never imitated or counterfeited. This is especially true of a family medicine, and it is positive proof that the remedy imitated is of the highest value.

ROBINSON'S BARK AND IRON. A Leading London Dispensary. Robinson's Bark and Iron is a medicine of the highest quality, and is especially true of a family medicine, and it is positive proof that the remedy imitated is of the highest value.

SKIMMED MILK FOR HENS AND CHICKENS. There is nothing better for laying hens in the spring than milk, after the cream has been taken off. We have tried it several seasons with complete success.

FLIES AND BUGS. Flies, roaches, ants, bed-bugs, rats, mice, oysters, chipmunks, cleared out by "Rough n Bats," 15c.

THE APIARY IN APRIL AND MAY. From the losses last winter, many will wish to buy bees, and transfer them into their empty hives. First turn the old hive bottom up, after smoking the bees sufficient to quiet them.

YOUTHFUL FOLLIES and pernicious practices, pursued in solitude, are fruitful causes of Nervous Debility, Impaired Memory, Despondency, Lack of Self-confidence and Will Power, Involuntary Losses and kindred evidences of Weakness and Lost Manly Powers.

ANIMAL EXERCISE. The exercise of animals ensures a superior quality of flesh. It not only is it that the beef of Scotch highland and Welsh mountain black cattle is more delicate and of a finer flavor than that of those reared and fed on lowlands, or in yards and stalls, and brings two cents more per pound in the market?

DECLINE OF MAN. Nervous Weakness, Dyspepsia, Impotence Sexual Debility, cured by "Wells' Health Renewer," $1.

BREED CHARACTERISTICS OF CATTLE. The Jerseys and Guernseys excel in richness of milk and fine butter qualities. The latter are larger than the former. Herefords are not large milkers, but the milk is rich.

KIDNEY DISEASE. Pain, Irritation, Retention, Incontinence, Deposits, Gravel, &c., cured by "Buchupaiba."

PARSONS' PURGATIVE PILLS. MAKE NEW RICH BLOOD. And will completely change the blood in the entire system in three months. Any person who will take 1 Pill each night from 1 to 12 weeks, may be restored to sound health, if such a thing be possible.

DIPHThERIA. JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT. GROUP, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS. JOHNSON'S ANODYNE LINIMENT will immediately relieve these terrible diseases, and will positively cure nine cases out of ten.

MAKE HENS LAY. KERRY, WATSON & CO., WHOLESALE AGENTS, MONTREAL.

TILL WARNED, OR BY EXPERIENCE TAUGHT, people will continue to weaken their systems by the use of the ordinary disagreeable drugs, when the Oriental Fruit Laxative is a greater purifier and strengthener of the digestive organs.

HALL'S VEGETABLE HAIR RENEWER. Has been in constant use by the public for over twenty years, and is the best preparation ever invented for RESTORING GRAY HAIR TO ITS YOUTHFUL COLOR AND LIFE.

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE FOR THE WHISKERS. will change the beard to a BROWN or BLACK at discretion. Being in one preparation it is easily applied, and produces a permanent color that will not wash off.

HEALTH FOR ALL HOLLOWAY'S PILLS. The International Throat and Lung Institute, Toronto and Montreal, is positively the only one in America where diseases of the air passages alone are treated.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT. Its Searching and Healing Properties are Known Throughout the World. FOR THE CURE OF Bad Legs, Bad Breasts, Old Wounds, Sores and Ulcers!

PROVINCE OF QUEBEC. DISTRICT OF MONTREAL. Superior Court. Dame Elizabeth Williams Webster, of the City of Montreal, wife of Charles Childs, manufacturer, of the same place, duly authorized to enter a Judgment and Certificate of the City of Montreal, manufacturer, Defendant. An action in separation de biens has been instituted in this case on the twenty-third day of March, eighteen hundred and eighty-three.

ADVERTISING. Contracts made for this paper, which is kept on file at office of LORD & THOMAS, 206 Cornhill Block, Chicago, Ill.

ODDS AND ENDS. The compilation house of Handy, Richardson & Co., Chicago, has failed: no statement yet.

The Diamond Dyes for family use have no equals. All popular colors easily dyed, fast and beautiful. 10 cents a package for any color.

DECLINE OF MAN.—Impotence of mind, limb or vital function, nervous weakness, sexual debility, and all diseases caused by indolence and abuse, are radically and promptly cured by the use of Mack's Magnesian Medicate, which is for sale by all responsible Druggists.

The most reliable preparation yet introduced to the public, for the immediate relief and cure of Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Hoarse-ness, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma, and all diseases of the Throat and Lungs, is SPURICINE.

At Chihuahua, Mexico, the revolutionists under Ramirez attacked the Municipal Guard, released all the prisoners, burned the archives, robbed the houses and killed four guards and wounded four.

Mr. E. F. MacCarthy, Chemist, Ottawa, writes: "I have been dispensing and jobbing Northrop & Lyman's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda for the past two years, and consider that there is no better preparation of the same kind in the market."

A man in Ireland was recently confined in a jail for two weeks for brawling. The Queen's Bench, for blaspheming the Deity, was acquitted.

Mrs. D. Morrison, Farnham Centre, P. Q., writing about Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, says: "George Bell used it on his son, and it cured him of rheumatism with only a few applications. The balance of the bottle was used by an old gentleman for Asthma, with the best results. It acts like a charm."

"THE ONLY ONE IN AMERICA." The International Throat and Lung Institute, Toronto and Montreal, is positively the only one in America where diseases of the air passages alone are treated.

THE EFFECTS OF THE COERCION AND CRIME LAWS. DUBLIN, April 24.—In Ireland the practical commentary on Coercion and Crime Laws has been the election of political suspects to a membership of Parliament.

EPH'S COCOA—GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING. "By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well selected Cocoa Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage, which may save us many heavy doctors' bills."

BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY. Manufacture of superior quality. Work done to order. Special attention given to the repair of machinery.

FIVE DOLLARS YOU CAN BUY A WHOLE Imperial Austrian 1000 Government Bond ISSUED IN 1864.

Four Times Annually. The next drawing takes place on the 1st. JUNE.

INTERNATIONAL BANKING CO. No. 207 Broadway, corner of Fulton street New York City.

AMBER SUGAR CANE MACHINERY. NEW PARAGON SCHOOL DESKS. M. BEATTY & SONS, WELLSLAND, ONT.

30 DAYS TRIAL. DR. DYER'S VOITAG BELT. BEFORE - AND - AFTER. Electric Appliances are sent on 30 Days' Trial. TO MEN ONLY, YOUNG OR OLD.

DESTROYER OF HAIR! ALEX. ROSS' DEPILATORY. Removes hair from the face, neck and arms without injury. Price $1.00 sent securely packed from England by post.

DR. J. L. LEPROHON. OFFICE AND RESIDENCE 287 ST. ANTOINE STREET.

DR. KANNON. G.M.D.D., M.O.P.S. Late of Children's Hospital, New York, and St. Peter's Hospital, Albany, &c. 219 St. Joseph Street, opposite Colborne Street.

CATHOLIC COLONIZATION IN MINNESOTA. For Circulars of information, for 1883, on MINNESOTA CATHOLIC COLONIES, address CATHOLIC COLONIZATION BUREAU, 28 ST. PAUL, MINN.

Health is Wealth! DR. E. C. WEST'S NERVE AND BRAIN TREATMENT. A GUARANTEED SPECIFIC FOR Hysteria, Dizziness, Convulsions, St. Vitus' Dance, Nervous Neuritis, Spasms, Prostration, etc.

B. E. MCGALE, Chemist, 301 ST. JOSEPH STREET, MONTREAL. Beware of cheap imitations.

BUCKEYE BELL FOUNDRY. Manufacture of superior quality. Work done to order. Special attention given to the repair of machinery.

