NEW GREEK CABINET AFTER FIVE DAYS STILL UNRECOGNIZED

By the Entente Powers--Declares That Greece is Willing to Abandon Her Present Neutrality

By Courier Leased Wire. London, Sept. 22.—(New York Times cable)—A despatch to the Daily Chronicle from Athens, September 21, says: Five days after its formation, the cabinet still remains unrecognized by the Entente powers. That the allies will be able to enter into anything like cordial relations with it is highly improbable. Its composition made it suspected from the first and its cordial declarations produced no result. At the present moment it is credited with the desire publicly to declare that Greece is willing to abandon neutrality, stating at the same time that a couple of months will be necessary to prepare the army for that event. Whether this method of gaining time will succeed remains to be seen. Seldom has an administration contained persons of such divergent opinions. There are Ententists, such as Bassias and Caharis, in addition to anti-Venizelist Francophiles; there are men of pre-Venizelist days,

Diamond Rings Purchased From Buller Bros. Jewelry Store, Other Prizes Will be on Exhibition the End of the Week

To-day, for the first time, the list of candidates that has been nominated up to noon to-day will appear. Is yours amongst them? If not, cut out the nomination blank that you will find on another page in to-day's Courier, fill in and send to the contest department, and either the contest manager or one of his assistants will call on you with full details concerning the contest, and if you do not wish to become a candidate yourself, then send in the name of some friend that you would like to see win the car. The Dodge Bros. car that the Courier is giving away in their contest is now on exhibition at the Brant Motor Co. Garage, and is direct from the factory in Detroit, having arrived only yesterday. If you are not familiar with this car we wish you would come in and have the good qualities explained to you. The price of the car is $1,115.00. The diamond rings were purchased from the Buller Bros. jewelry store, and are of the finest quality. The gold watches, set rings, seal rings and talking machines have not as yet been purchased, but will be on exhibition the first part of next week. Some candidates seem to have the impression that there will be larger votes given on subscriptions at the last of the campaign, but to these candidates we will say that they are making the biggest mistake of their lives for waiting or holding back their subscriptions, for at no time will the votes be as large as they are at the present time. Following is a list of names that have been nominated to date. Each candidate is started off with 1000 votes. (Continued on Page 3)

BROOKLYN AND RED SOX BOTH GAIN

These Two Teams Would Appear to Be Sure Contestants in World's Series.

By Courier Leased Wire. Chicago, Sept. 22.—Boston and Brooklyn leaders in the American and National Leagues respectively, are to-day just two and a half games ahead of their nearest competitors, each having gained a full game by winning yesterday and by the defeat of Chicago and Philadelphia. In the American League, Chicago retains its hold on second place, being half a game in front of Detroit, while Philadelphia has an advantage of two full games over Boston in the National League. Games yet to be played by the three leaders follow: American League: Boston 11; Chicago 8; Detroit 7. National League: Brooklyn 14; Philadelphia 14; Boston 18.

CASUALTIES STILL COME

More Local Names Upon Very Lengthy List This Morning.

As the aftermath of the great offensive of last week, the telegraph wires convey daily messages of sorrow to countless homes throughout Canada, and nowhere does the blow strike with harder force than in Brantford and Brant county. The ever increasing casualty lists bring fresh tidings daily, and local names are ever in evidence. This morning's list received over the Courier's leased wire was probably the longest issued during the war, and the following local casualties are reported: Wounded: Pte. R. W. Thompson, city. Pte. Geo. Crabtree, 113 Cayuga street. Pte. W. T. Flavell, Paris. Pte. W. Cooke, St. George. Pte. Thompson. Pte. R. W. Thompson, wounded, enlisted here in the 19th battalion in the fall of 1914. He was unmarried and employed as a laborer, residing in Sheppard's Lane. He has now received his second wound, being injured for the first time in April last. Pte. Crabtree. Pte. George Crabtree is another veteran of the 19th battalion, joining that unit here. He was unmarried and a candy-maker by profession, residing at 113 Cayuga street. Pte. William T. Flavell, of 54 West River Street, Paris, is still another member of the 19th battalion. Pte. W. B. Cooke, of St. George, a married man, enlisted in an active service contingent of the Dufferin Rifles here in the summer of 1915, and was later attached to the 76th battalion. Died of Wounds: Capt. N. E. Towers, of Sarnia, is reported as having died of wounds. He is a brother of Major W. S. Towers of the local branch of the Bank of Toronto. Pte. J. Hodder, of this city, has also died of wounds. He enlisted with the first contingent, and had been previously reported missing. Wounded: Another old Brant County boy among the wounded is Lt. Charles A. Grant, of Toronto, wounded on Sept. 17 last while fighting with the Princess Pats. His father, the late Rev. James Grant, was for many years pastor of the Paris Baptist church. The address of Pte. Arthur Butler, yesterday reported in the casualty list as seriously ill, should be 109 Colborne street.

BRANTFORD WILL COMMEMORATE FITTINGLY THE SEMI-CENTENNIAL ANNIVERSARY OF THE DOMINION

First in the field, probably throughout the entire Dominion, Brantford will in fitting manner and with due ceremony celebrate the semi-centennial anniversary of the Confederation of the Dominion of Canada on July 1 of 1917, the coming year. If possible, the Bell Memorial will be unveiled upon that date, together with other celebrations. Such was the decision arrived at last night at a meeting of representative citizens held for the purpose of drafting officers and a committee to arrange for the celebration. On Thursday evening, October 5, next, the proposition will be submitted to the general public at an open meeting to be held in the city hall. The meeting last night was very well attended, and enthusiasm upon the subject under discussion ran high. Those interested in the celebration, it might be noted, are in large measure the men who were responsible for the thorough success of Brantford's Old Boys' Re-union two years ago, and their connection with the matter augurs well for its outcome. With Ald. S. P. Pitcher in the chair, it was decided to ask the cooperation of the committee in charge of the Bell Memorial in the matter, with a view to having the monument unveiled, if possible, upon July 1 of next year, when the celebration will of course take place. All present were most enthusiastic in their support of the celebration project, and thorough success is predicted by all in the affair. Among those present were the following:—Ald. S. P. Pitcher, Ald. J. H. Minshall, Ald. J. S. Dowling, Ald. Geo. Ward, A. Burnley, F. S. Blain, (Secretary), M. MacBride, Geo. T. Watt, John Hill, Chief Lewis, Arthur Whitaker, J. A. Powell, Ald. F. C. Harp, F. J. Charlton.

BOMBED BULGARS QUIET ON THE IN MACEDONIA BULGAR FRONTS

British Warships Shelled Positions Near Nechori—Artillery Fire Increases.

London, Sept. 22, 1.45 p.m.—British warships have been bombarding Bulgarian positions in the vicinity of Nechori, on the east bank of the Struma, near its mouth, northeast of Saloniki, the War Office announced to-day. On the left of the British position on the Macedonian front, in the Doiran region, an artillery duel of increasing intensity is in progress, says the statement which follows: "On our Struma front, ships of the Royal navy shelled the enemy in the neighborhood of Nechori with satisfactory results. "On the Doiran front, there has been increased artillery activity on both sides."

New Successes Scored by British and French Forces Upon Both Battle Fronts

British Take Two Lines of Hun Trenches in Somme, ... and French and Serbs Advance against Bulgars in Macedonia.

By Courier Leased Wire. London, Sept. 22, 2.15 p.m.—The British advanced on a front of about a mile last night in the Somme sector, south of the Ancre River. The War Office announced to-day that two lines of hostile trenches had been captured. "During the night we advanced on a front of about a mile," the statement says, "capturing two lines of hostile trenches, approximately between Fleurs and Martinpuich. "Our front now runs approximately on a direct line north of Fleurs and Martinpuich. "The enemy's trenches were successfully entered last night south of Arras, prisoners being taken and many casualties inflicted. North of Neuville St. Vaast, a mine was blown up by us and the crater occupied. FRENCH AND SERBS. SCORE SUCCESS. Paris, Sept. 22, 12.05 p.m.—French and Serbian troops operating along the western end of the Macedonian front have scored new successes against the Bulgarians, the War Office announces to-day. Serbian troops, continuing their advance along the Broda River, have reached the neighborhood of Urbani, where 100 prisoners were taken. North of Florina, a Bulgarian attack was broken up by the fire of the French infantry. As a result of heavy engagements the Entente forces were able to make progress on the heights dominating the road from Florina to Popli. The text of this communication follows: "Along the Struma and in the region of the Doiran front, there has been the customary artillery fighting. Between the River Vardar and the River Cerna, a violent Bulgarian attack upon Zborsky was subjected to a sanguinary check. "In the region of the Broda River, Serbian troops, continuing their forward march, penetrated as far as the immediate vicinity of Urbani (Verbeni). About 100 prisoners were captured by the Serbs. "To the north of Florina attack of the enemy was broken by the fire of the French infantry. Our troops cleaned up all the ground to the northwest of Arnesko and made progress following some severe fighting upon the heights which dominate the road from Florina to Popli. "Foggy weather interfered with the operations along the entire front."

Mackensen Defeated in Big Six Days Battle

London, Sept. 22.—The latest official communication from Bucharest confirms the Entente reports that the great battle in Dobrudja has ended in the defeat of the Central Powers after six days' fighting. The battle began last Friday and gradually increased in scope and intensity until Tuesday evening, with the result that on Wednesday the Germans, Bulgars and Turks, crushed, were forced to withdraw, burning villages in their line of retreat in an effort to retard their pursuers. The same communication, referring to the Transylvanian theatre, announces that a Roumanian force has entered Oradea, better known as Szekely Udvarhely, fifty miles northeast of Kronstadt. One-fourth of Transylvania is now in Roumanian hands. The German War Office reports the fighting to have come to standstill. Tide in Allies' Favor. On the other Balkan fronts the tide is running in favor of the allies. In southwestern Transylvania, the Austrian counter-drive has been checked, and the resumption of Roumanian thrusts in the north can be expected.

SATISFACTORY ON BOTH FRONTS

Bulgarians Checked and Disheartened in Dobrudja; Defenders are Cheered.

By Courier Leased Wire. London, Sept. 22.—(New York Times cable)—The correspondent of The Daily Chronicle at Bucharest sends the following, dated September 18: News from both fronts, Transylvania and Dobrudja, continues satisfactory. In Dobrudja the invading Bulgarians have been attempting to dig themselves into cover, but this attempt has been frustrated by concentrated artillery fire from the allies' guns. Here the enemy has made no fresh infantry assaults on the Russo-Roumanian positions. It would seem that he is disheartened by his recent failures. The allied artillery has silenced a number of the enemy's heavy guns. The tidings of the success on the Macedonian front, were received at Roumanian headquarters and were forwarded immediately to the army fighting the Bulgarians on the Dobrudja front. The Russians and Roumanians alike received the good news with cheering.

GOODS CONSIGNED TO NEW STEEL CO.

Have Been Lying in Grand Trunk and T. H. and B. Yards Because of Refusal to Switch to L. E. and N.—Dominion Board, on Appeal, Will Hold a Session in This City to Enquire Into the Matter.

Some goods consigned to the "Dominion Steel Products Company," Brantford's new industry, were shipped via Grand Trunk and T. H. and B. and have been lying in the yards of both lines, said railways refusing to transfer cars to the Lake Erie and Northern Railway Company or to file a joint tariff arrangement. The new plan is on the tracks of the Lake Erie and Northern and without switching, the goods would have to be teamed for a mile and a half. On behalf of the company, application was recently made to the Dominion Railway Board for an order compelling the T. H. and B. Railway and the Grand Trunk Railway and the Lake Erie and Northern Company to afford proper facilities for the receiving, forwarding and delivery of traffic over the lines of said railways. Also that said railways provide due switching privileges over their respective lines, and an interchange of switching for the purposes of said Steel Company. Word has been received that the Board of Commissioners will hold a sitting in the City Hall, Brantford, on Thursday, Sept. 28th at 2 p.m. to go into the above matter. The Board will also go into a petition of certain manufacturers and shippers of Brantford, pertaining to inter-switching between the railroads at this point. In their case, the Steel Company will be represented by Mr. W. P. Kelleff, President, and Mr. W. S. Brewster, K. C., the company's solicitor. The whole investigation will involve matters of the utmost importance to the interests of the people of this city.

MOUNDS OF DEAD AND WOUNDED

Battlefield of Fierce Fight Was Covered with Bodies of Slain.

Behind the French Army on the Somme, Sept. 22.—The heaviest sacrifice of life since the early days of the Verdun battle marked the vain German counter-attack yesterday against the new French positions north of the Somme. According to an artillery officer who took part in the battle, the road from Comblès to Ranocourt is crisscrossed with blood, and corpses are piled on each side in mounds sometimes three feet high.

The German effort to stem the French advance was the strongest made since the beginning of the Somme battle. It lasted over ten hours, and was made by six divisions, which suffered terrific losses under the French barrier fire. Following the heaviest preparation by artillery known in that sector, from great tubes brought from other fronts, twenty German battalions began the assault, with the triple objective of freeing Comblès from the French investment, stopping the French wedge between Peronne and Comblès, and driving the allies from the possession of Hill No. 76, which dominates Mount St. Quentin.

Prussians Melt Away.—Two Prussian battalions who led the attack on the Priez Farm were hardly out of their trenches when they literally melted away before the terrible fire of the "seventy-fives." Farther south, four successive waves of infantry, attacking in close formation, were smashed by the French "hundred and twenty-fives." The village of Bouchemmes was the scene of the most stubborn combat of the day, when, by a dreadful sacrifice, the Germans succeeded in entering the northeast corner of the village, only to be driven out an hour later, and routed far back than they had stood before the action.

The last attack, delivered at dusk, was terminated by a series of checks costing the Germans, through whole battalions, a Bavarian company, belonging to the Eleventh Regiment, lost 160 out of 200 men. Two battalions of the 123rd Prussian Regiment were totally destroyed, and a regiment escaped a loss of less than six percent of its effectives.

Directed by von Hindenburg.—Paris, Sept. 22.—Ninety thousand men, directed personally by Field Marshal von Hindenburg, took part in French positions in the region of Bouchemmes, on the Somme, according to J. A. Libert's special correspondent in the field. Many additional artillery trains also had been brought up for the event.

Made Germany Change Plans.—The allied menace to Comblès and Peronne has dictated during the week past some important and unexpected changes in the plans of the German Great General Staff.

The capture of Bouchemmes, half way between the two vital Teuton bases on the Somme, the subsequent severance of communication between them, and the partial envelopment of Comblès forced Field Marshal von Hindenburg to despatch great forces of additional troops to the Somme front to wrest back Bouchemmes, cost what it may.

Moreover, these allied successes threw a spoke in the wheels of the German "steam roller," which evidently was scheduled to be set in motion against the Russians on the Riga front.

The withdrawal of an entire army corps—40,000 men—from the Aisne front explains the sudden attacks in the Champagne by the Germans two nights ago, military critics believing that they were aimed at "screening" the withdrawal. Great forces had been massed west of the Aisne, it is believed for an eventual thrust against the Paris-Verdun Railway.

This plan is temporarily at least inexecutable of execution because of the forced weakening of the front.

Such are the conclusions inevitably forced by the announcement contained in the French official midnight communiqué.

Wedding Bells

A very interesting event took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. Chamberlain, 241 Brant Avenue, when their only daughter, Edith, was united in marriage to Mr. Alex. Yule of the Bank of British North America. Promptly at 3:30 the bride, becomingly attired in shell pink silk and chiffon with lace trimmings and carrying a shower bouquet of roses and heather, entered the parlor, leaning on the arm of her father, where the knot was securely tied by the Rev. W. H. Wright; the service being very impressive. During the ceremony Mrs. P. Miller of St. Catharines, cousin of the bride, played Lohengrin's bridal chorus. After the service, a very dainty luncheon was served, the dining room being prettily decorated in pink and white. The many beautiful presents showed the high esteem in which the young couple are held, several substantial cheques from friends in and out of the city being among the costly presents. The guests were the immediate relations and friends of the contracting parties. The young couple left on the 6:05 train for Toronto and Muskoka; the bride travelled in a grey tailored suit, with black velvet hat and ermine fur. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Yule will reside at Chalmerville. Mr. Yule has been charged of the B.N.A. branch there.

THE COMPLETE SPY; OR THE GENTLE ART OF ESPIONAGE

Exceedingly Interesting German Publication Contains Compendium of Advice to Hun Secret Agents

A remarkable and illuminating "secret document" issued by the German Intelligence Department, and containing "instructions for German spies" is published in the South African Review of Capetown.

The following is a translation of the instructions issued to the leaders of the army of between twelve and twenty thousand German spies who worked for "The Day." These instructions were communicated to each head "section"—the local German Consulate. In Capetown Baron von Humboldt had these directions:

Wise Not to Conceal
5. Restaurants and railway platforms should be invariably avoided when conversation is desirable upon confidential subjects. . . . It is rarely advisable to try to conceal one's nationality, but at the same time it is often desirable for officers to assume, when in Russia or England, the character and accent of a South German, and to allow it to be understood that he is a member of the Roman Catholic faith.

Patent Cunning.
1. It is necessary for every officer who aspires to intelligence employment to be possessed of these qualities: keen observation, a good memory, accuracy, patience, determination, and above all, secretiveness.

Careful of Diaries.
4. Diaries, letters and bills should never be left about. A waste-paper basket is, as the Dreyfus case proves, a deadly snare, however small the morsels that are cast into it. . . . Memoranda for one's own use, when it is indispensable to put complicated information in writing, should be written in a style and language that a stranger could not understand the meaning of. It is astonishing how Talkative When Tired.

IV.—When expecting information from an informer, whether soldier, sailor, or civil individual, it is sometimes advisable to bring him on a long night journey to the appointed rendezvous. When tired out or hungry such a person will be more communicative than one whose creature comforts have been attended to; for this reason the examination should be begun with the least possible delay. As a consequence, the interrogator obtains additional control over his agent by holding out the promise of early and liberal treatment for full and frank information.

Valuable Information
V.—Valuable information may often be obtained by volunteering certain news oneself in the course of a conversation, and following it up with a veiled conversation. It is generally better to ascertain half a dozen facts than to elicit a hundred opinions. A stupid informer's opinion is of no value, and a clever one's will probably not disclose his own views. On the other hand, a multitude of facts, even though half of them may be apparently at the time of reference a military or naval officer. They may be regarded as incommunicable. But if the officer has to be on guard against undue credulity he should likewise beware of hasty generalization. It is the unexpected, in the preparation for war, that always happens. The intelligence officers in a foreign country must ever be on the alert for an unexpected stroke of genius of a potential enemy.

FAIR YEAR REPORTED BY COCKSHUTT PLOW

Earnings After Depreciation Over Seven Per cent, on Preferred.

Although it improved its position materially in the fiscal year ending June 30, the Cockshutt Plow Company of Brantford, in the opinion of its directors, is not yet in a position to resume dividends on the preferred stock, which dividend has been deferred for the quarter ending September 30, 1914, and since. The net profits of the company, and dividends from affiliated companies for the year ending June 30, were $500,176, which is equal to 7.7 per cent. on the $6,465,000 of preferred stock outstanding. The earnings for the year showed an increase of $18,000 over the previous two months, when earnings were $391,363.

The President, Mr. H. Cockshutt, in his report, says that abnormal conditions prevailed and were a factor in keeping profits down. Prices of raw material were high, and deliveries were slow and uncertain. Lack of labor also interfered with the business. Mr. Cockshutt says that enquiries were received from time to time as to why the company has not engaged in the manufacture of munitions, to which he replied that the company's equipment was not suitable, and the class of labor employed would have to be very considerably changed.

The current liabilities of the company have dropped from $5,033,306 to $3,769,402, a decrease of $1,263,904. In the decrease the chief factor was the reduction of bank and other loans from $4,620,472 to $3,284,407. In current assets the item accounts and notes outstanding, which in the case of such companies usually represents a large proportion of the assets, is $7,510,209, a decline of about $700,000 as compared with a year ago. The value of raw materials and supplies on hand is slightly higher than in 1915. Inventories at western branches were taken on the basis of cost, and at the head office the values were determined by officials of the company. Prices of raw material, of course, have necessitated the advance in price of implements from time to time. This situation is unusual in the agricultural imple-

THE SITUATION.

After six days of tremendous fighting in Dobrudja, the Teutonic forces have been defeated.

The allied forces in Macedonia report excellent success. The Serbs, supported by French and Russian troops seized the crest of an important ridge, dominating the Cerna River plain.

A GOOD MOVE. The preliminary steps have already been taken in Brantford to hold a local celebration on July 1st of next year, in connection with the fact that on that date Canada will celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of a Confederated Dominion.

Canadians of the present day are too apt to take the present staunchness and smooth sailing of the national ship as an inheritance from all time and to forget that this was not always so.

It is a most fitting thing indeed that Brantford citizens should mark this semi-centennial in a special manner, and the move will doubtless receive the hearty endorsement of citizens generally.

FRENCH CANADIANS DO WELL. All reports agree that in the recent fighting in the Ypres salient of the Somme struggle, French Canadians, who were among the troops, fought in magnificent style.

In all of the criticism which has been aroused over the lamentable lack of Quebec to provide her share of volunteers for the front, The Courier has not yet noticed one charge of cowardice as the reason, and the record above mentioned would serve to absolutely demonstrate that no such insinuation would hold good, even if thought of.

FRIGHTFULNESS OF TEUTONS

Examples of Tortures Inflicted Upon Helpless Prisoners by Huns.

By Courier Leased Wire.
London, Sept. 22.—The Daily Mail this morning, of cruelties practiced by German officers, soldiers and prison guards upon Russian prisoners is contained in the latest report of a Russian commission of inquiry, now issued in English, with photographs.

"Torture by drawing of nails, cutting off of tongues, and tearing off ears have been inflicted upon the Russians unwilling to betray their comrades. Men have been buried alive in revenge or for sheer amusement of the captors.

"In the camp at Duna-Szerdahely, Austria-Hungary, Russians were punished by being sewed up in a coffin. This has been sworn by many prisoners and by a Russian sister of mercy. She was shot because she was too weak to work.

"Tied to a post with their toes barely touching the ground, and beaten with thorns many found death more merciful than their captors.

"For two weeks Private Paul Kreshenko, relates a Georgian prisoner, was compelled to live in a dog kennel in which he could neither sit nor lie down. Each time the guard was changed he was dragged out by the chain, struck and driven back again. His crime was that he attempted to escape.

"The commission states that the Austrian officers appeared before it and swore to some of the cruelties inflicted upon the allies not far from Yaredav. Inhabitants of that village told one such witness that the Germans drove half a dozen Russian prisoners into a cart shed and set it on fire.

"When the prisoners tried to get out through an opening they were thrust back by German bayonets.

"The witness personally saw the remains of this cart shed after the fire and several blackened corpses visible among the charred embers and ashes.

To the Grave

Charles Pyle.
The remains of the late Charles E. Pyle, of Brant County, were laid tenderly to rest yesterday in Mount Hope cemetery, the services being conducted by Rev. Mr. Pyle of Cainsville. The funeral was very largely attended, and many beautiful floral tributes were received. The pall bearers were Messrs. Alfred Kendrick, U. O. Kendrick, Oscar Mordue, D. W. Pappie, N. Pickard and Thos. Milligan.

TWO MEN WHO CAN MAKE PEACE

Declares German Prince, Referring to Pope Benedict and President Wilson.

By Courier Leased Wire.
London, Sept. 22.—(New York Times cable)—A despatch to the Morning Post from Bern summarizes an article by Prince Alexander of Hohenlohe, published in the Neue Augsburg Zeitung. The despatch says:

"The German prince argues that it has now become evident that the war will not end in the old style by the defeat of one of the belligerents and consequently a new method of ending the wholesale slaughter must be adopted. He asserts that it is obviously quite impossible for either side to insure the fulfillment of their fantastic hopes and plans, and affirms that it follows that the present war will be brought to an end by means of a compromise or by the complete and total ruin of all the belligerent nations.

"The prince observes that an honorable peace is ardently desired to-day by all the belligerent nations, without exception, in spite of the warlike language used by their leaders and statesmen, and he contends that any peace, concluded now, would be honorable because all the armies have fought with incomparable valor and manifested heroism, power of endurance, and a tenacity of purpose unexampled in history.

"The prince suggests that there are two men who are able to prevent the cataclysm that threatens to overwhelm Europe, namely the Pope and President Wilson, the one having sufficient moral authority and the other sufficient material power to accomplish the salvation of Europe."

TWO BRITISHERS SHOT IN MEXICO

By Courier Leased Wire.
Galveston, Tex., Sept. 22.—Two British subjects were taken from their home and shot and 36 of a party of 38 Carranza soldiers were killed in a raid September 16 on an Aquila oil camp near Tuxpam by bandits calling themselves Villistas, according to a report brought here to-day by the Steamer Topita from Tampico.

By Courier Leased Wire.
Athens, Sept. 22, via London.—Further disorders in Greek Macedonia, where a revolutionary movement has been in progress for some time, were reported to-day. A despatch from Kozhani (a town of 10,000 inhabitants, 55 miles southeast of Monastir) says the Greek civil authorities have been removed from office by the inhabitants. The police chief and Major Karapanos, the military governor, with a company of the 31st regiment of the line, are said to have joined the uprising.

County on Good Roads System

In connection with the movement for better roads, it appears that Brant is not to be behind other counties in this respect, and is at last awakening to its responsibilities in this regard. The following letter, of which a copy has been sent to all the Reeves of the different townships, is an indication of the movement in that direction.

Sept. 21, 1916
Morgan E. Harris, Esq.,
Reeve, Township of Brantford:
Dear Sir—At a meeting of the roads and bridge committee of the County Council, held to consider the question of outlining or formulating some scheme or plan that might be used in connection with a county roads system, it was suggested that a mileage of seventy-five miles for such system should be discussed by the Reeves with their respective councils, this mileage to be distributed throughout the county on the basis of the last equalized assessment of the various municipalities; of course the town of Paris is not included in this scheme under the present agreement with that municipality. Working out the 75 miles between the various municipalities according to their latest revised and equalized assessment for county purposes, it results as follows: Tp. of Brantford, 27 2-10; Tp. of Burford, 21; Tp. of S. Dumfries, 16 1-10; Tp. of Onondaga, 7 1-10; and Tp. of Oakland 3 6-10; total 75 miles.
You are requested to have the above suggestion brought before your council at its next meeting, and have the council discuss the suggestion and make any criticisms and other suggestions as the council may deem advisable, so that you will be in a position to report the sentiment of your council at the next meeting of the County Council. It is considered advisable, in any case, that your council would suggest what roads in your municipality should be taken over and assessed as county roads, if the county decide to go into such a scheme, bearing in mind the mileage allotted to your municipality as above set forth; also bearing in mind that such a scheme should result in a continuous road system if possible and not isolated roads unconnected with any good roads system; also it should be borne in mind that if the municipalities already have a roads system, it is an advantage to link up with such system in any case.

The careful consideration by your council of the above matter and a full report of such consideration will greatly aid the council of the county in arriving at some result that will likely be of benefit to the ratepayers of the county generally.

Yours truly,
A. E. WATTS,
County Clerk.

The Norwegian Government Gives Men Choice of Several Services.

(Associated Press)
Christiania, Norway, Sept. 22.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—A bill just passed by the Norwegian legislature permits men of military age to choose whether they will serve their regulation period with the colors or go to wood-cutting in the government forests.

Laborers' wages in the big industrial centers have risen to an abnormal height since the beginning of the European war and consequently men have been attracted from the country districts, so that the new legislation is regarded as a boon by the proprietors of wooded land.

Firstly, that as in the Boer War, the soldier-foresters are to be paid the ordinary wages of country laborers less twenty per cent. and a large proportion of this year's class of soldiers have signified their intention of wielding the axe and the saw instead of the rifle and bayonet.

In some quarters it is proposed to extend this scheme and place the recruits to work at railroad building, which is much needed. All the railroads are owned and run by the government and plans have been made for the construction of a main line across the country and a local line along the coast.

To The Editor

AN OPEN COURT.

Dear Sir,—As intimated in recent correspondence, the executive committee held in the rooms of the Patriotic Fund last evening the first of the "Open Courts," to which are invited all who have any questions to ask or information regarding the workings of the fund. Only two parties came before the committee and these were both soldiers' wives.

As considerable publicity has been given to these open meetings, we feel very much gratified that so few put in an appearance last evening. These conditions indicate that apparently both the subscribers and the participants in the fund are quite well satisfied with the administration.

Secretary-Treasurer.

Mr. Wm. Lake, the local secretary of the Knights of the Maccabees, has just received from their headquarters in Detroit, good news for present and prospective members. Which goes to prove once again the great stability of this, one of the foremost fraternal societies on this continent.

Secondly, a new plan has been decided on, by the Supreme Tent, that arrangements have been made to issue "Twenty Year Payment Life Policies," a feature that should appeal to all young men of to-day.

TRADE BANK

London, Sept. 22.—Establishment of a British trade bank with a capital of £10,000,000 was recommended to-day by a committee of which Baron Farington, chairman of the Great Central Railway, is the head. The committee was appointed to consider the best means of meeting the needs of British firms after the war with particular reference to financing large overseas contracts. It suggests that the proposed bank could fill the gap between the home banks and the colonial and foreign British institutions, and develop facilities not provided by the present system.

NO TRUTH IN IT

Toronto, Sept. 22.—Hon. I. B. Lucas, attorney-general, stated to-day that there is no truth in the report that the resignation of Hon. W. J. Hanna, provincial secretary, is in the hands of the Government. Hon. Mr. Hanna has also denied the report.

NEWS FROM SIMCOE

Woman Found Dead in Bed—Seventeen Standard Licenses in Norfolk.

OTHER ITEMS OF INTEREST.

Simcoe, Sept. 22.—(From our own correspondent).—Mrs. Mary A. Williams, widow of the late Charles Williams, was found dead in bed yesterday morning, at the home of Mr. Anson London, on the "Lalbot Road allowance"—for it is of late years hardly a road—about seven miles west of town. Mrs. Williams resided with her widowed daughter, Mrs. Jos. Street, just across the road-way, but went on the morning previous to assist with the housework, incident to the farm threshing.

The Lynedock branch of the Women's Institute sent in a goodly parcel of hospital supplies and sox to be forwarded with the I.O.D.E. shipment.

Pte. Smith came in to-day, according to his promise given a few days ago. Chief Canadian, who was not aware of Smith's having reported for duty, recognized him with his back to the officer, and was loath to believe the young man's explanations. When Smith invited the officer to come over to the Drill Hall, he was still dubious.

We made a tour to-day of all the villages in the county, except Waterloo, where there are standard licensed hotels, and talked with many men in all walks of life, of different political leanings, and the opinion is general that in a short time the wisdom of the prohibitory measure will be admitted by all. There was some sympathy for the licensee at Courtland, a lady who kept hotel to the letter we are told.

Up to the present these have been seventeen standard licensed hotels in Norfolk County. Three at Dover, one each at Victoria, Langton, Courtland and St. Williams; two each at Port Rowan, Waterloo and Delhi, besides the four here.

Many sportsmen from London, St. Thomas and Buffalo visit the shore and point. To-day a wire for a Buffalo man out hunting, could not be delivered. The gentleman's printing plant, in Buffalo, had been destroyed by fire, according to the morning press, but news of his misfortune failed to spoil his holiday.

While prices are so high, it is likely some of the $2.00 hots will raise prices to $2.50 and the sample room fee may go up.

The unfortunate woman, Mrs. Erie Dewey, who has been since last Friday confined in the goal here without remand and has, on examination, been pronounced insane, took no nourishment to-day and her mental condition is reported by the officials as becoming alarmingly worse.

As both these houses were under local option, they are quite pleased with the new law. The same may be said of the rural houses, too.

The delay in having the demented woman removed to an asylum remains unexplained.

AN EVENING AT HOME

In the coming fall and winter evenings, at home by the fireside, what greater pleasure can you have than to listen to world-famed vocalists, orchestras, new dance records, popular songs, with a few fine vaudeville records thrown in as played on some of the marvelous new phonographs.

H. J. Smith and Company are large dealers in this line of musical merchandise and carry a complete stock of Edison cylinder phonographs and records, also Edison's new diamond disc and records. The new "Sonora" that was awarded highest honors for tone quality at the recent Panama Pacific Exhibition (and plays any disc record). Phonographs from $12.50 to $15.00. A pleasure to show you, H. OLD MAN WEATHER

Peter, the great Angora cat, was so restless that little Jane, stretched upon the lot, wondered what was on his mind. He rubbed himself a great deal behind the ears, yawned and threw himself down with his back to the fire.

"Well," snapped Peter, "if he's been up all night and his face shines through in the morning, you can bet in the banks of clouds, you can be pretty sure old man Weather's about to sprinkle the world with his watering can."

"Old man Weather," said Peter, "has a lot of robes—one of mist. If the sun dazes to shine through that robe of mist and the sky stays blue, old man Weather gets in a dreadful temper and makes things pretty warm. If he wears his robes of cloud in the early morning and after a while the clouds begin to disappear that mean's he's in a better humor. He's taking off his cloud robes and the day will be fine. Bye every once in a while when he polishes up the star-pins in the black robe he wears at night and they twinkle and shine more than usual—it's pretty apt to mean that he's worked so hard he'll be cranky the next day—and then like as not we'll have wet weather—wet weather—wet weather—"

"Dear, dear Peter, please tell me where to look for old man Weather's face."

"If you'll see that I got an extra saucer of cream," he said, "I'll tell you a lot." And Jane promised. Who wouldn't?

"When the sunset's red," began Peter mysteriously, "that's old man Weather's face shining through and he's in good humor. There'll be fine weather; but if the sky's red in the morning that means that old man

SUBSCRIPTION PRICES of BRANTFORD

NEWSPAPERS TO BE ADVANCED

Commencing October 1st. next, the subscription rates of the Brantford Daily Courier and the Brantford Daily Expositor will be advanced as follows:

Single Copies - - - - - 2 cents
Delivered in Brantford - 35c per month ($4.00 per annum in advance)
By Mail to Outside Points $3.00 per annum

These increases have been necessitated by the tremendous advance in the cost of white paper, labor, metal, and in all other commodities incidental to the production of a newspaper. For over 25 years the subscription prices of the two Brantford papers have remained unchanged, while during that period the price of most other things have doubled and quadrupled. During recent years The Courier and Expositor have actually been sold to the agents and boys, and to the subscriber, when delivery charges are added, for less than the cost of the white paper alone, to say nothing of the hundred and one other charges of which each copy should bear a share. Recently the situation has become so serious that the above advances, commencing October 1st, have become imperative.

Even Advanced Rate is Low by Comparison

Even these advanced rates are much lower than those charged by the papers in London, Belleville, Guelph and many other Canadian cities and many publications which for years have charged the prices the Brantford papers now propose, have announced advances considerably beyond these figures during the last few months.

Subscribers may renew their subscriptions for a period not longer than one year at the present rates, if payment is made before October 1st, but no renewals will be accepted at the old rate after October 1st.

The September meeting of Brant Chapter Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, was held on Tuesday afternoon, September 19th, at "Idlewyld," the home of Mrs. Joseph Stratford...

The pretty rooms were filled to capacity, and after the opening ceremonies and the reading and adopting of both the Secretary's and Treasurer's reports, the various correspondence was listened to.

From soldier friends were letters of acknowledgment, also parcels of soap having been received by Colonel Genet again for distribution to his men in France.

The Regent then read the resignation of the Secretary, which had been handed in, and who in view of soon leaving Brantford to make her home in Toronto, asked to be relieved of the duties of office.

Since the June meeting, Brant Chapter has purchased $250.00 worth of wool—made a presentation to both officers and men of the 54th Battery and also remembered in the amusement line the men of the 215th Battalion when they left for Camp Niagara-on-the-Lake.

Mrs. Digby (convenor of wool committee) reported another 36 pair of socks on hand. These it was decided to donate to the 125th sock shower, being held at Mrs. Mostyn Cutcliffe's home on the afternoon of Sept. 30th.

Upon discussion it was decided to hold, under the auspices of Brant Chapter, I. O. D. E., a Chocolate and Tobacco Shower in the very near future.

As the price of wool is daily increasing, it was moved by Mrs. Digby, seconded by Mrs. H. F. Leonard, that a collection plate be in evidence at all future meetings for voluntary money donations, the amounts raised in this way could be devoted to the wool fund—the raising of money on a larger scale (which will be needed this fall for Chapter purposes) being left in the hands of the Executive to arrange.

The presentation of badges then took place—Mrs. Smith vacating the chair, and Mrs. Herbert Yates, as vice-regent, presided during this pleasing function. The address being read by Mrs. Gordon Duncan and the other members of the Executive having the pleasure of assisting by pinning the badges on the various names were called out. The address accompanying each was as follows:

Presentation Address. I have been chosen, on behalf of Brant Chapter, I. O. D. E. to make this presentation.

We consider that this is a most unique occasion calling for some outward expression of our feelings. It is doubtful if any other Chapter of our size, has been called on to show such a spirit of patriotism.

We take great pleasure in presenting these pins, to our members who have husbands and sons at the front.

(Sgd.) E. Maud Duncan, Sept. 19, 1916.

Those thus honored were Mesdames Gordon Smith, Joseph Stratford, Nelles Ashton, M. E. B. Cutcliffe, Henri Jordan, C. C. Fissette, W. G. Ostby, W. N. Andrews, A. K. Bunnell, F. J. Bishop, W. S. Brewster, W. F. Cookshutt, W. C. Livingston, R. S. Schell, F. E. Sheppard, A. J. Wilkes, D. J. Waterloo (Mrs. Van Someren and Mrs. Gordon Hamilton) having received theirs before they sailed for England) and happy little speeches from the recipients followed the presentation.

RUSSIAN EDITOR SOWS DISCORD

Is Inveigled Against By People Because He Wrote Against England.

(Associated Press) Petrograd, Sept. 22.—The Patriotic Anti-German "Society of 1914" has petitioned the government to prosecute the Extreme Right leader, M. Bulazel, for high treason, he having striven, it is alleged, to sow discord in the ranks of the Allies.

M. Bulazel edits the Black Hundred weekly, the Russky Grazhdanin. In the last number he wrote an article on Mr. Asquith's declaration concerning bringing to book those responsible for international crimes, whatever their position.

Wilkes and Mrs. E. L. Gould having represented Brant Chapter in July, while Miss Wye and Miss Beck had had that privilege in August. As through the visitors, Miss Summers had reported a need for new kitchen utensils it was decided to purchase the necessary articles without further delay and send them out as a Chapter gift, with the exception of a porcelain tea kettle which Mrs. Schell very kindly offered to donate personally.

The patronage of Chapter members was solicited for the Home Made Candy Shower, planned by the 125th auxiliary for their Men's Xmas box, and the attention of the members was also called to the Annual meeting of the Women's Patriotic League, which takes place next week.

A meeting of the Executive is being called in the course of the next few days to appoint a new or provisional secretary. God Save the King was sung and the meeting closed. Light refreshments were served by the hostess and the journey back to town made about 6 p.m.

According to Mr. Asquith, "head of the English Freemasons," the dispute went on, the war was not to end when the time came for Russia to conclude an advantageous and honorable peace, but when the Hohenzollern dynasty had been laid low by Russian bayonets.

Indignant speeches were made at the meeting of the "Society of 1914" it being pointed out that the article in effect advocated a separate peace between Russia and Germany. It was resolved to send a deputation to Sir George Buchanan, the British Ambassador, to convey the sentiment of the meeting and of the overwhelming mass of Russians.

It Looks Like Boston Now

Detroit, Sept. 22.—Detroit's baseball fans and players yesterday gave up the hope of participating in the 1916 world's series, when Boston, going at top speed, took the last game of the series, 10 to 2. The game was featured by some pretty fielding. Walker playing centre for the Red Sox, making two seemingly impossible catches.

Jennings used four pitchers. Covalesski started, but was wild, and Boland relieved him in the third inning, after he had passed one man and hit another. Boland, in turn, was taken out to allow Burns to bat, and Cunningham took up the pitching burden. He lasted until the eighth, and Dube pitched the final round. Ruth went all the way and never eased up during the whole nine innings, striking out Cobb and Veach in the eighth.

Boston jumped into the lead in the first inning. Hooper singled to right and went to third on Crawford's fumble. Then Walker knocked out a home run, scoring Hooper ahead of him. In the second, Scott singled to left, and took second on Thomas' sacrifice hit. Ruth dropped a Texas leaguer over second. Scott scored while Covalesski was throwing out Hooper.

The Red Sox's fourth run came in the third inning. Walker walked. Gainer forced Walker, Covalesski to pitch, and scored on Lewis' single. Boston added three more runs in the fourth on two passes, a single, Walker's triple and Lewis' single.

Detroit put across its two runs in the fourth on singles by Crawford, Heilman and Stanaue.

Boston revelled in another bat-fest in the seventh, sending two more runs across the plate on two singles, a sacrifice and a double by Hooper, and annexed another tally in the eighth on a pass, a single and Gardner's double. The score:

Boston . . . 211300210—10 13 2
 Detroit . . . 000200000—2 7 1
 Batteries—Ruth, and Thomas; Covalesski, Boland, Cunningham, Dube and Stanaue.

Preparing For the Big Series

New York, Sept. 22.—The National Baseball Commission has mailed to each of the six clubs who are figuring in the races of the two big leagues a letter directing them to have tickets printed and to make all preliminary arrangements for the World's series. The races will be decided too late to make it possible for tickets to be printed in time.

The Commission also has fixed the scale of prices for each park which stands a chance of being the scene of part of the games.

Boston, Sept. 22.—World series games in this city, if the Boston Americans again win the right to represent their league in the post-season tests, will be played at the Braves field, with seat prices the same as those of last year.

Prices for the series were fixed by the National Commission to-day in a telegram authorizing the Boston club to proceed with arrangements for printing tickets. Box seat prices were set at $5 each, grand stands at $3 and pavilion seats at $2. All these will be reserved, and are to be sold for the entire series only in each city. General admissions will be $1 and will be available only on the day of the game.

Speaker Poles Four Bingles

Cleveland, Sept. 22.—Although Cleveland made 15 hits, including three triples, off Walter Johnson, the latter was very effective with men on bases and the thirteenth inning was reached before Cleveland won 3 to 2. Graney's sensational work prevented Washington from winning. Speaker cinched the batting honors of the league by making four hits in six innings at bat. The score:—
 Washington . . . 010100000000—2 8 3
 Cleveland . . . 0100100000001—3 15 4
 Johnson and Garvey; C. Smith; Gould and Deberry; O'Neil.

DESTROYING OLD TREES.
 Paris, Sept. 22.—(Associated Press.)—Many of the fine old trees of Belgium are being cut down for use in the German trenches. The famous Bois de la Cambre near Brussels is said to have lost 10,000 of its trees, and lesser parks and woods are yielding their proportion.

ZEPPELINS ARE RIGHTEOUS

Zurich, Sept. 22.—More frequent Zeppelin attacks upon England were urged by the King of Wurtemberg, speaking at a dinner at Stuttgart, given in honor of General von Plessen.

"We Germans, united, are resolved to win a glorious victory," he declared. "It is against England that our principal efforts must be directed."

"Every Zeppelin that drops destruction on London is an instrument of righteousness. England must be attacked more and more from the air, since the glorious armies which annihilated all other enemies cannot reach the shores of the most dangerous foe."

Sixteen Straight For the Giants

New York, Sept. 22.—New York won its sixteenth straight victory here to-day, defeating Chicago 4 to 0. Perritt pitched six hits in the first three innings, but the Cubs could not score. After that one Chicago player reached base in the next six innings. Score—
 Chicago . . . 000000000—0 6 1
 New York . . . 110101000—4 9 0
 Hendrix and Wilson; Perritt and Rariden.

New York, Sept. 22.—The Giants soared to the dizzy height of sixteenth straight to-day, winning from the Cubs by 4 to 0. If the Giants can annex one more victory they will equal the season's record for successive victories, and will come within three of the world's record of twenty straight.

Shocker Was Hit Very Hard

St. Louis, Sept. 22.—With the score 4 to 3 against them, New York rallied in the ninth, and beat St. Louis to-day 5 to 4. Magee singled, Hendrix tripled, scoring Magee, and he scored himself when Peckinpaugh singled. Shocker was hit hard and was relieved by Shawkey. The score:—
 New York . . . 010200002—5 13 0
 St. Louis . . . 00020000—4 12 1
 Shocker, Shawkey and Walters; Weilmann, Davenport and Hartley.

STEAMER WRECKED.
 (Associated Press.)
 Tokio, Sept. 22.—The Japanese cruiser Kasagi, which was built at Philadelphia in 1898, has been wrecked in the straits of Tsugaru while speeding to the assistance of a stranded steamer under charter by the navy. The warship ran on rocks off Shiokubi. She is now breaking up. The crew left the vessel safely. Lately the Kasagi and her sister ship, the Chitose, have been used as training vessels.

Matty's Men Hit Very Well

Boston, Sept. 22.—Heavy, consistent and timely hitting resulted in another victory for Cincinnati over Boston yesterday 5 to 4. Griffith led at the bat with a triple and three singles in five times up, driving in three of the five runs. Score:—
 Cincinnati . . . 200020100—5 14 1
 Boston . . . 000103000—4 8 1
 Schneider and Hahn; Tyler and Cowdy.

Dodger Looks Like Winners

Brooklyn, Sept. 22.—The Brooklyn bunched three singles, two doubles and a triple off Lotze in the fifth inning yesterday, and won the second game of the St. Louis series 6 to 3. Coombs started for the league leaders, but was hit hard, and was relieved by Cheney, who blanked the Cards, striking out nine men. Score:—
 St. Louis . . . 200000001—3 9 2
 Brooklyn . . . 10005000x—6 10 1
 Lotze, Currie and Gonzales; Coombs, Cheney and O. Miller.

Pirates Beat the Phillies

Philadelphia, Sept. 22.—Pittsburg knocked Rixey out of the box in six innings yesterday, and easily defeated Philadelphia. Carey scored three runs and stole three bases. Grimes was very effective, only two hits being made off him in the first six innings. Score:—

 Pittsburg . . . 301010102—8 11 1
 Philadelphia . . . 000010101—3 7 4
 Grimes and W. Wagner; Rixey, Oeschger, Bender and Killifer.

Are They Coming Back?

Chicago, Sept. 22.—Chicago failed to keep pace with the world's champion's to-day and dropped the final game of the season with the Philadelphia club, 8 to 0.

Joe Bush was in fine form, and ably supported by his teammates, held Chicago to five scattered hits. Philadelphia found Faber and Williams easy. Score:—
 Philadelphia . . . 100030040—8 16 0
 Chicago . . . 000000000—0 5 1
 Bush and Haley; Faber, Williams and Lynn, Lapp.

SISTERS THREE

From Thursday's Daily Chapter IX.

In the magic glow of a golden dawn Allardye stepped into the boat with a rustle of sail and pushed off into the sea. The water shimmered with opalescent colors on its surface, just ruffled by a gentle breeze.

Rocked upon the translucent waves, silent and motionless as a statue, Allardye waited, with her face towards the east. Every day since her coming she had watched the rising of the sun as it triumphantly appeared on the rim of the horizon. Previously she had gazed at it from the lattice of her window, set high upon the crag; now, with all the radiance of the dawn focused in her shining eyes, she waited for its coming upon the shining sea.

A light east wind off-shore caught her sunset sail, and the boat with the grace and buoyancy of a speck, tilted forward as though to meet the miracle of the morning. The transparent air was a quiver with anticipation. Silver became transmitted to rosy, dimness gave place to a wonder of light.

She had seen it all before, but today she rode in the track of the shimmering path which flashed from one horizon to the other. Her eyes reflected the glory of the sky; that gleam of thrilling splendor which follows the mad-dawn, the asseptic purity of the combed dawn. Out upon the wide flashing roadway of light glided the little graceful craft; and Allardye turned her eyes away at length from the pagantry of the east to watch the transformation of the black reef.

She saw it all again—and clearer than she had ever seen it before. Dark frowning battlemented rocks glowed with color; a shower of light shined harsh outlines and threw an intense and enchanting glamor over the solemn brooding majesty of Nature's handiwork. The cruel, jagged semicircle which formed the tip of the projecting horn glowed like a jewel set in crystal and gold. The lightship took on the aspect of a fairy barque, and as her eyes followed the line of the jutting promontory landmarks she saw the proportions of that lonely house, built in among the heaving crags, where one lonely old man, whose face haunted her still, lived in a melancholy solitude apart from the world.

No one seemed to wish to speak of his narrow, yet all faces grew gray with sympathy when General Kildare was named. Allardye, as she sat gazing at the Sunrise Reef, which at this magic hour—and at this one alone—justified its name, did not observe for a time that the sun, shifting air, blowing now from the north, now from the east, after the manner of the winds of the springtide, were bearing her gently nearer and nearer to those shining rocks, glowing in the light of dawn. "Well, so it was, and the breadth of intervening water grew ever narrower and narrower.

Allardye awoke from her dream with a start. She was very close in now to that little jetty which the hands of man had contrived to form a landing place for those who came by water to this lonely place.

But the start was occasioned not by her unexpected proximity to the glowing reef, but because she saw that her approach was being watched.

As she neared the jetty a human world of her own; and sometimes she took me with her there.

"Oh, I know, I know! We used to wander there together—she and I. When I came here last week it was like coming home."

"Did she tell you of the house she used to visit in the dawning?"

"Ah, I have tried to remember what she told me, but it all seems like bits of a dream—I cannot get hold of the pieces to fit them together. It was our wonder-world, where we walked together. I think I never knew which was real and which was dream, except the house where she lived—that I knew all through; but the rest I cannot tell. I remember bits about a dark castle on the rocks, and how sometimes it was all alight with fire."

Allardye turned from the sea and saw that upon this wide plateau or terrace, part natural, but worked upon by the hands of man, a number of rooms opened by means of large windows or half-glazed doors. The bulk of the old, solemn castellated house lay before her, climbing the rocks behind to different levels—a picturesque jumble of a place, frowning and grim, but full of charm to one of this girl's temperament.

"Is this your house? And do you live here alone? I mean, alone with the sky and the sea and the seabirds? Having all these, one is never alone. I think it is a beautiful place—and it faces the dawn. I am not sure that this is not better than facing the sunset, though both are lovely."

"I have been much of my time here alone, my child. Mine has been a soldier's life, often without any home for long space of years. But the old rock house has been here waiting for me. I have had had my days of glory and of beauty here, but now I am here alone—always alone—waiting."

He stopped short, and Allardye spoke never a word. But her big soft eyes, where violet lights shined in the clear morning light, began slowly to shine with that peculiar brilliance which tells of tears lying deep in their hidden depths.

"My dear, perhaps you have heard?"

"No, I have heard nothing," she answered. "But there is a gentle tone in people's voices when they speak of you. They are all sorry—very sorry. That is all I know."

He made no immediate response. Allardye knew that his heart was very sore. Her own went out to him in the longing to soothe and to comfort. But how could she do either? "What was it you said to me just the very first—when my boat was coming in? It sounded like part of a verse of poetry. Will you say it again?"

"Watch for the help that comes out of the east."

In the flush of the dawning day... Her eyes sought his questioningly. "Is that all? But I want the rest. How does it begin and end?"

"That is all, there is no more."

"But what does it mean? Is it not part of a poem?"

"No, it is just the words of a dying woman to me! Do you know that here, down in this old West Country, we have lingering legends and traditions which have been stamped out in the world beyond? We still talk of our white witches and our black witches. A few old men still called 'madmen'—and are credited with occult powers. I cannot say what is the truth of all this I have heard many, and seen a few strange things myself. There was an old woman here, deeply attached to our house; she and hers had served us faithfully and long; and she was said to have the gift of second sight. She died last year. On her deathbed she summoned me. She held my hand and spoke of many things. Just at the last, before the final scene, she suddenly sat up in her bed, and with her shrunken finger she pointed towards the east as the dawn was about to break. With her other hand she groped for mine and held it fast. And, so holding it and gazing out with the look of a seer, she spoke those words which I have told you."

And this time it was Allardye who spoke them, musingly, giving them the lilt of a strain of music.

"Watch for the help that comes out of the east."

In the flush of the dawning day... "Yes; and so I very often rise before the dawn and wander downwards and keep my vigil—as you found me to-day when you, in your fairy-boat, came out of the east, with the flush of the dawning day in your eyes."

HON. R. ROGERS OPPOSES FEES

Declares It Is Illegal for Judges on Commission to Be Paid.

Winnipeg, Sept. 22.—Hon. Robt. Rogers completed his evidence before the Agricultural College Commission yesterday. He attacked the right of judges to accept fees for presiding over such enquiries. He called the attention of Mr. Justice Galt, the commissioner, to the judge's act, and said:

"While the report is current in the street that those engaged in these commissions have been paid large sums of money, I cannot believe that such is the case. I would be very sorry to believe that such was the case, because under that I should say any money received by a judge it would undoubtedly represent nothing but pure and simple graft."

"If you go on with language that sort I shall stop you," interrupted the commissioner.

"Under the law, this is so clear and distinct that it requires no comment," continued Mr. Rogers.

"How about the recent commission at Ottawa?" asked the commissioner.

"I am glad you called my attention to that. The cases are not at all parallel. The Government would appoint the commission until it was

ISSUE PRICE 97 1/2

A FULL HALF-YEAR'S INTEREST WILL BE PAID ON 1st APRIL, 1917.

THE PROCEEDS OF THE LOAN WILL BE USED FOR WAR PURPOSES ONLY.

The Minister of Finance offers herewith, on behalf of the Government, the above named Bonds for subscription at 97 1/2, payable as follows:

10 per cent on application;
30 " " 16th October, 1916;
30 " " 15th November, 1916;
27 1/2 " " 15th December, 1916.

The total allotment of bonds of this issue will be limited to one hundred million dollars exclusive of the amount (if any) paid for by the surrender of bonds as the equivalent of cash under the terms of the War Loan prospectus of 22nd November, 1915.

The instalments may be paid in full on the 16th day of October, 1916, or on any instalment due date thereafter, under discount at the rate of four per cent per annum. All payments are to be made to a chartered bank for the credit of the Minister of Finance. Failure to pay any instalment when due will render previous payments liable to forfeiture and the allotment to cancellation.

Subscriptions, accompanied by a deposit of ten per cent of the amount subscribed, must be forwarded through the medium of a chartered bank. Any branch in Canada of any chartered bank will receive subscriptions and issue provisional receipts.

This loan is authorized under Act of the Parliament of Canada, and both principal and interest will be a charge upon the Consolidated Revenue Fund.

Forms of application may be obtained from any branch in Canada of any chartered bank and at the office of any Assistant Receiver General in Canada.

Subscriptions must be for even hundreds of dollars.

In case of partial allotments the surplus deposit will be applied towards payment of the amount due on the October instalment.

Scrip certificates, non-negotiable or payable to bearer in accordance with the choice of the applicant for registered or bearer bonds, will be issued, after allotment, in exchange for the provisional receipts.

When the scrip certificates have been paid in full and payment endorsed thereon by the bank receiving the same, they may be exchanged for bonds, when prepared, with coupons attached, payable to bearer or registered as to principal, or for fully registered bonds, when prepared, without coupons, in accordance with the application.

Delivery of scrip certificates and of bonds will be made through the chartered banks.

The issue will be exempt from taxes—including any income tax—imposed in pursuance of legislation enacted by the Parliament of Canada.

The bonds with coupons will be issued in denominations of $100, $500, $1,000. Fully registered bonds without coupons will be issued in denominations of $1,000, $5,000 or any authorized multiple of $5,000.

The bonds will be paid at maturity at par at the office of the Minister of Finance and Receiver General at Ottawa, or at the office of the Assistant Receiver General at Halifax, St. John, Charlottetown, Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary, or Victoria.

The interest on the fully registered bonds will be paid by cheque, which will be admitted by post. Interest on bonds with coupons will be paid on surrender of coupons. Both cheques and coupons will be payable free of exchange at any branch in Canada of any chartered bank.

Subject to the payment of twenty-five cents for each new bond issued, holders of fully registered bonds without coupons will have the right to convert into bonds of the denomination of $1,000 with coupons, and holders of bonds with coupons will have the right to convert into fully registered bonds of authorized denominations without coupons at any time on application to the Minister of Finance.

The books of the loan will be kept at the Department of Finance, Ottawa.

Application will be made in due course for the listing of the issue on the Montreal and Toronto Stock Exchanges.

Recognized bond and stock brokers will be allowed a commission of one-quarter of one per cent, on allotments made in respect of applications bearing their stamp, provided, however, that no commission will be allowed in respect of the amount of any allotment paid for by the surrender of bonds issued under the War Loan prospectus of 22nd November, 1915. No commission will be allowed in respect of applications for forms which have not been printed by the King's Printer.

Subscription Lists will close on or before 23rd September, 1916.

"I am glad you called my attention to that. The cases are not at all parallel. The Government would not appoint the commission until it went to parliament for full sanction." Mr. Rogers said that he mentioned this matter in the most kindly spirit. The commissioner: "I appreciate that, but it seems to me a little late for any Minister of the Crown to come up here and instruct judges in their duty, when commissions have been going on for years with, it must be admitted, considerable necessity, and very much good. Don't you think that any instructions should come from the Minister of Justice, and not from you?"

Mr. Rogers: "I am not giving instructions. I am merely pointing out the law."

The commissioner: "I think you are exceeding your functions."

Mr. Rogers: "I am merely pointing out this matter as a citizen. I am merely pointing out what I thought you would be glad to hear."

WEAR TWO DISCS.

(Associated Press.) London, Sept. 23.—In future each officer and soldier will be supplied with two identity discs, to be suspended from the neck. Though no explanation of the order for the innovation is given, it is thought that the idea is to use the second disc for the preservation of the identity of a body, after the first is removed for the purpose of the casualty list. The second disc will be suspended by six inches of cord from the upper, the former being red and the latter green.

Music and Drama

"The Bohemian Girl," at the Grand.

While eight-waisted operas and musical comedies have thrived for a season or two each, and then been laid on the shelf, Balfe's substantial and solidly melodious masterpiece, "The Bohemian Girl," has captivated generation after generation. The Aborn Opera Company were first in this country to present it on an adequate scale, and their presentation will be seen at the Grand Opera House. The beauties of the ballads for which this opera is justly famous should be, and were for years, sufficient to keep it in high favor with all music lovers, but Milton and Sargent Aborn thought that new charm could be added to it if, without slighting the music in the least, advantage could be taken of the splendid opportunity offered by Balfe's work for spectacular treatment. With this purpose in view they engaged Edward P. Temple who staged the Hippodrome shows of the first three seasons, and his genius was never better shown, it is said, than in the realistic touches he gave to this production of "The Bohemian Girl." To those who remember Balfe's opera as it was formerly presented, it seemed strange that Mr. Temple should utilize a band of genuine gypsies, the Tzigani Troupe of Arabs acrobats, dogs, monkeys, geese, pigs, chickens, etc., in this revival, but they were surprised to learn that these and other innovations fitted into the action of the opera plausibly. With these features and the big spectacular scenic production, it seemed like a new opera. Another addition that has been appreciated is the corps de ballet, which performs the famous "Dance of the Flowers" from "La Gioconda." This organization is of the usual size, including a metropolitan cast of principals large chorus, ballet and special performers. The interpreter of important roles include Jeanette Wells as Erlene, Albert Farr as Thaddeus, Phyllis Davies as the Gypsy Queen, Albert Wellested as the Count, Francis J. Tyler as Devilshoof, and Ralph Nichollas as Florestein, with Carl Burton as musical director.

At the Grand Opera House tomorrow (Saturday) night.

THE BRANT

The ever popular moving picture star Dustin Farnum appears at the Brant for the last half of this week in his latest film production "Davy Crockett," a drama of the old time west of America. It is a big scope for the high histrionic abilities of Dustin Farnum. The other moving pictures include the ninth installment of the thrilling serial "The Iron Claw," one of unsurpassing interest and gripping power, and a farce comedy upon the American army, featuring the inimitable comedian Frank Daniels.

Heading the vaudeville bill are Hirschhoff's Russian Gypsies, presenting a picturesque musical act under the captain of "A Night in a Gypsy Camp." This act was loudly applauded by all last evening, and in particular by a party of fellow-countrymen of the performers, who were loud in their appreciation. Zimmer, the comedy juggler, presents a novelty comedy juggling act of true merit.

BIG PRIZE LIST "Galt Kilties" Band in Attendance on Oct. 4th

Special Excursion From Brantford Wednesday

The Colonial Mary Miles Minter has returned again to the Colonial theatre for the last half of the week in her latest success, "Emmy of Stork's Nest," a five part Metro film with a rural setting. Miss Minter plays the part of a country lass who captivates the heart of a young man who comes from the city to assume control of his farm in the vicinity of Stork's Nest. The young man makes good at his new occupation and rescues Emmy from the power of Blase, the village bully. The range of the play extends from humor to deepest pathos, and gives ample scope to the versatility of the dainty star and her competent supporters.

CONSERVATIVES BOTH RETURNED

Hon. F. B. Smith and W. S. Sutton Re-elected in New Brunswick.

LARGE MAJORTIES. Liberals Fail to Displace Government Members in Carleton County.

St. John, N.B., Sept. 22.—Hon. F. B. Smith, the new Minister of Public Works, and W. S. Sutton were returned to-day for the County of Carleton, over Andrew McCain and George W. Upham, Liberals, by a large majority, the vote standing: Smith, 2,848; Sutton, 2,733; McCain, 2,260; Upham, 2,171.

The opposition, owing largely to the fact that J. K. Fleming, former Premier, who was condemned by a Royal Commission, was made an issue in the campaign by the Government candidates, hoped to win, or at least cut down Smith's previous majority of 739 substantially. Carleton County evidently refused to take the Royal Commission's findings seriously and made it clear that no matter what the rest of Canada may do or think, it is not troubled by findings of royal commissions.

Hon. M. Smith, a veteran member of the Legislature, sought re-election because of his appointment, a month ago, to the portfolio of Minister of Public Works. His running mate, Mr. Sutton, takes the seat in the Legislature vacated by Donald Munro who recently accepted a Government position, and thus threw open his former constituency.

GUARD BABY'S HEALTH IN THE SUMMER

The summer months are the most dangerous to children. The complaints of that season, which are cholera infantum, colic, diarrhoea and dysentery, come on so quickly that often a little one is beyond aid before the mother realizes he is ill. The mother must be on her guard to prevent these troubles, or if they do come on suddenly to cure them. No other medicine is of such aid to mothers during hot weather as Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the stomach and bowels and are absolutely safe. Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

TWELVE SIGHTS OF OLD LONDON
As Seen By Canadian Soldiers on Furlough There.

When the Canadian soldier gets settled in camp overseas he at once begins to look forward to his "four days' leave" which as a rule he spends in London. A young overseas soldier, who recently enjoyed this holiday, sends this letter to his father:

"Last week I went to London on leave for four days. We took train from camp at 5 p.m. on a special through to Victoria Station, arriving there at 7.15. I at once went to the Union Jack Club, for soldiers and sailors, and there secured a room for a shilling a night. Right here I can say it is one of the greatest institutions I have ever seen or heard of. One walks in through the state-ly big doorway and on the left is the booking clerk. Here you give your rank, name and regiment, and a shilling, and get a check. Across the hallway you secure your key.

Comfortable Place.
"The hall is all done in oak and tile and decorated with old war and hunting trophies, also some rare old prints and some beautiful plants and palms. The floor is fancy tile and in the foyer are easy chairs and small tables. To the right one goes into the reading room, a gigantic room filled with massive easy chairs, and a library that would do honor to a millionaire's home. Back of this again is the writing room fitted up accordingly.

"On the right of the main entrance is the restaurant, which is as big as that in the King Edward, and as well appointed. Here you can get any kind of food at rock-bottom prices and it certainly is cooked properly. Then they have between the reading room and the restaurant the lounge with its massive furniture and thick rugs. Here one can sit like the old-timers do, with his pint, and his pipe and read the evening papers.

"Downstairs there is a billiard parlor, hot baths (free), a wash room, and a place to shine shoes and clean your brass. The materials for this are furnished free.

"Next we come to the upper floors; they are of polished concrete and are so clean you could eat off them. The rooms are about 10x10 and contain a dresser, an iron bed, and a patent washstand much the same as ours, only you pour the water into it with a pitcher, and it runs out into a pan underneath when the plug is removed. The beds are snowy white, and no matter if you stay an hour or more the linen is changed every day. It certainly felt good after rough, dusty blankets, to roll into a clean white bed and switch off the electric lights.

"The employees were—before the war—all time expired service men, but when they were called up it was given over to their wives if they cared to do the cleaning; so all the morning everyone must be out of his bedroom by 9 o'clock and cannot go back until afternoon, so that everything may be properly cleaned.

The Streets of London.
"Now we'll move out to the streets of London. These are unlike anything I have ever seen before and everyone is congested with traffic all hours of the day and night. Here we see the omnibus in all its glory with its lady conductor in her nifty uniform and brass buttons. One climbs up on top, pays his penny and starts on an adventure. We pass by great, stately buildings, the like of which one can only believe by seeing them, and then, a sudden turn, and we are among squalid houses and dirty children. Then we pass on to the sight of London—Westminster Abbey—and say, Dad, this beauty with all its old traditions brought to mind, it has a tendency to leave one depressed, by its greatness, its wonderful architecture and hundreds of pigeons feeding from the hands of passers-by, a more wonderful sight I never expect to see.

Some Contrasts.
"Next we are coming to one of the poorer districts away from the heart of the city. Here one sees the effects of the war, on the other side, everywhere, there's a look of prosperity brought about by the higher wages paid just now, but as to what the reaction will be after the war I would hesitate to estimate as things must come back to normal and then the poorer classes must go back to the slums and dirt. "This leads me to think that Canada will get thousands who cannot go back after tasting of the better things of life. It also is going to lead to the spread of socialism and also of crime for the masses are not going to take kindly to the step backward, that is bound to come.

"Next we cross the Thames at London Bridge and come back to our starting point, through a warehouse district and arrive in about mid-night, after taking a stroll up some of the side streets to see what can be seen.

"On arriving back at the club, one bumps into every branch of the British service and of the Colonial in the main hall. You get a cup of coffee and a sandwich for four cents—impudence and proceed to bed. Next morning it is off to see the Tower of London, to which all soldiers are admitted free. Just here let me say, that at the time it was built it was impregnable and even to-day it would stand a severe strain of battle. First is the Bloody Tower, where—if you remember your history—the two baby princes were put to death by the order of Richard. Here also Raleigh wrote his history of the world while imprisoned for twelve years. Also Thos. Wentworth, Earl of Stafford and Archbishop Laud, were put to death. In fact it has seen many violent deaths to its memory it has long been known as the Bloody Tower—since 1575. "The Tower of London consists of a number of towers, each built by different rulers away back to the time of King Stephen and in different towers—each with its own name—one is told of the death of such as Lady Jane Grey, Edward V. Henry VI, Anne of Boleyn, Queen Catherine Howard and many others. As you can understand it is almost impossible to describe it in detail and one cannot find some of it in history. Take Three The Sights. It is a day to go through it. Here Roger Casement was kept.

One of the latest trades for women to invade is that of grave diggers, but necessity compels as there are no men left in Glasgow to attend to the cemetery duties.

The Royal Jewels.
"Also in one Tower are the Royal Jewels, and say, Dad, there are big masses of gold work, that if you did not see you would say 'twould be impossible to make; everything is so beautiful, and the jewel studded ornaments and sworas are wonderful and beyond the wildest imagination of a person who has not seen them.

"They are kept in an enormous glass case surrounded by iron bars. "Also in one Tower are the Royal Jewels, and say, Dad, there are big masses of gold work, that if you did not see you would say 'twould be impossible to make; everything is so beautiful, and the jewel studded ornaments and sworas are wonderful and beyond the wildest imagination of a person who has not seen them.

"Next we have Madam Tussauds Wax Works, where one can see in wax, that is—uncanny, every celebrity for hundreds of years back and right up to the present. Roger Casement was there in wax when I was in. In the Chamber of Horrors are all the celebrated cases of murder, arson and crime done in wax—which is not a very cheering sight. It would be difficult to describe this place, so I won't attempt it. It took over a half day to even give the whole of it a quick run over.

"Next we have the Parliament Buildings. These you have seen in picture and can no doubt gather something of their magnitude and beauty; but the inside proved a disappointment to me. I have never followed English politics enough to understand their system of Government; but the statues and paintings, which are massive and beautiful are certainly worth seeing.

"Our next visit was to the Zoo and it is too big to see in a day, so one leaves it with a feeling of half satisfied curiosity. Every living thing is to be seen here from a small, to the rarest of animals and also the largest.

"I've given you a very faint idea of some of the things I have seen and I will try later to give you further insights as I recall them to memory. In fact, on the whole, there is so much crowded into four days, and so much to see, that one cannot think of it all at one time."

WOMEN AS GRAVE DIGGERS IN OLD COUNTRY NOW

LESS MEAT IF BACK AND KIDNEYS HURT

Take Glass of Salts to Flush Kidneys If Bladder Bothers You—Drink Lots of Water.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder, and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

ESCAPED FROM GERMANY.

(Associated Press)
Amsterdam, Netherlands, Sept. 22.—No less than 1,500 escaped Russian prisoners-of-war are stated to have so far reached this country from Germany. Owing to the deficient shipping connections with England lately, over 150 are now awaiting sail for that country en route for home to rejoin their regiments, according to the Amsterdam Telegraaf.

THIS CORRESPONDENT

Says That the Kaiser Is Strong and Vigorous.

His Face, However, Is Seamed and Lined Under Strain.

Behind the Somme Front, Sept. 20.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—There never was a time when so little was known of the Kaiser's movements as at present. When he decides upon a trip to some point, it is kept as secret as possible, and if ever reported in the German press, is delayed until the royal visitor is far away—perhaps on the other side of the empire. It is believed Emperor William visits the front more frequently than any other ruler.

Recently correspondents visiting the southern section of the Somme front did not learn until well past midnight that the emperor at nine o'clock on the morning of the day just breaking would review as many of the troops as could be assembled in parade formation on a broad level ground that was formerly a backyard of an ancient chateau. They formed three sides of a square, at one end of which was a military band, and in the centre the officers.

Half an hour after the appointed time the Kaiser arrived in a lean, gray automobile. He sprang from the car with the vigor of a young man. He wore the helmet of a general of infantry, but the tall boots, combed hair high above the knee, of a cuirassier. He cast from his shoulders the long gray cape with a fur collar in which he is shown in his favorite pictures, and with a stride of long steps, lifting each foot high to the ground, his majesty walked toward that end of the formation where the band stood. His standard bearers, who always walk behind him, had their work cut out for them as he strode ahead. At first he paused just a moment, greeted the general in command, bowed and saluted to other officers, and then turned down the line. He walked as one attempting to go through a dewy pasture and still keep one's feet reasonably dry, with great high steps.

After making the rounds of three sides of the square the emperor turned and strode to the center to chat with the various high officers gathered there, and then began to pin orders and medals on the breasts of the chosen few.

It was only at the conclusion of this ceremony that correspondents standing at a little distance had a chance to see his majesty at close range, and to get a good look at his seamed and lined, but strong, healthy, vigorous face.

After the decoration the Kaiser walked to the roadway that leads by the chateau, then faced about and prepared to review the troops. Most of them were new troops, probably few had ever marched by their emperor before, and it was possible to detect some nervousness. But they paraded in the goose step as bravely and as stiffly as ever did a like set of men on the Tempelhofer Feld.

The commander made the customary address in which he pledged loyalty to his majesty and a firm determination to fight on. His voice rose and fell with emotion, and what he said obviously affected the emperor. The Kaiser answered, in a voice that from a distance was hard to understand, though it was silver clear and more highly pitched than that of his general. The soldiers, faces glowing as their emperor thanked them.

The parade ended as abruptly as it began. The emperor, hastily donning his fur-collared cape, sprang back into his gray limousine and was off.

DRINK HOT WATER IF YOU DESIRE A ROSY COMPLEXION

Says we can't help but look better and feel better after an inside bath.

To look one's best and feel one's best is to enjoy an inside bath each morning to flush from the system the previous day's waste, sour fermentations and poisonous toxins before it is absorbed into the blood. Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of combustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken each day leave in the alimentary organs a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not eliminated, form toxins and poisons which are then sucked into the blood through the very ducts which are intended to stick in only nourishment to sustain the body.

If you want to see the glow of healthy bloom in your cheeks, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, you are told to drink every morning upon arising, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless means of washing the waste material and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Men and women with sallow skins, liver spots, pimples or pallid complexion, also those who wake up with a coated tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, others who are bothered with headaches, bilious spells, acid stomach or constipation should begin this phosphated hot water drinking, and are assured of very pronounced results in one or two weeks.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water clean the skin on the outside, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the inside organs. We must always consider that internal sanitation is vastly more important than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.
