Going North—11:45 a.m. for Chiford; mixed 1:15 p.m. for Chiford; 4:55 p.m. for Fergus; 9:05 p.m. for Fergus.

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS.
LECTURE TO-NIGHT.—Remember the lecture to-night by the Rev Mr. Marling, in the Congregational Church, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. Subject "The True Gentleman."

SORRE NO-NIGHT.—Don't forget the soiree to-night in the Town Hall in connection with the British Methodist Episcopal Congregation, Essex St. The proceeds of the soiree go to clear off the debt on their lot. Let there be a large gathering.

CAUTION.—We would advise our contemporaries, who may be called on to advertise for a certain Dr. McCulloch, to make a firm bargain with him before they insert his advertisement, else they may come out short. We had great trouble in getting our account from the Doctor, and it was only after taking proceedings to collect it through the Division Court that we got the money. A word to the wise is sufficient.

SWINDLING LOTTERIES.—Our attention is called to another lottery of $375,000, ostensibly for the benefit of the City Hospital in Elmira, New York—advertised in 234,000 shares with 1,005 premiums. The highest prize is $100,000 and the lowest $200, and offered, as the catalogue says, "See what $3.00 can do." A number of references are given, and directions for distributing the property. The public are cautioned to beware, the gentleman who received the catalogue states that he was swindled of $10 by a similar lottery. The very system of these affairs is rotten and deceptive, but "the fools are not all dead yet."

CREDIT VALLEY RAILWAY.—A correspondent, writing from Marsville, says:—The Credit Valley Railway deputation from Erin Village and Hillsburgh passed through the village of Mars last Saturday on their way from Fergus, after holding a meeting the previous evening. As regards their proceedings we have not heard the particulars, but shortly after they left the village of Mars it was reported that the proposed line would extend from Orangeville to Belfountain, thence to Dublin, from that to Douglas, and finally to Fergus. If this should be the route of the proposed line, they will be sure of a bonus from East Garafraca equivalent to that granted to the Narrow Gauge.

THE NEW PAPER.—The prospectus of the Toronto Mail is issued to day. It is confidently expected that before the end of March the new paper will be in the hands of the subscribers. No evening edition will be issued, but there will be a weekly, the prospectus says the object is to establish a paper of excellence, which, while giving expression to the views of moderate politicians, as opposed to revolutionary assaults on the constitution, will take its stand as a bona fide commercial enterprise, with capital enabling it to set at naught the charge of being retained, still less, the subsidized organ of any party in the State. While promising a first-class paper, its political opinions are not strongly pronounced in the prospectus.

MOONLIGHT FLIGHT.—One day last week Joseph Doragh, lately landlord of the Hostelry on the Elora Road, once under the popular management of Mr D. Bnyan, was discovered to have vacated. Joseph's lease had almost expired, as his liquor license had already done. And the landlord's agent becoming somewhat clamorous for rent due, he told a piteous tale of how his house had been a night or so previously, broken into and a large amount of liquor abstracted. If, however, the agent would only meet him at the Great Western Station the following day he would "pony up" the requisite amount. The appointment was faithfully kept by the agent, but Joseph was not. The agent weariad and disgusted hurried off to the recent scene of Joseph's depredations, there only to find a house of emptiness, and the sad discovery of his moonlight flight so early in the morning, not leaving even as a memento the pathetic invitation to meet him by moonlight alone. "Egad," the disgusted agent was heard to soliloquize, "I be a dunner, but 'he be a ponce.'" It is almost needless to say that the Landlord is not the only creditor who has to mourn for "Joe."

School Board.

The regular meeting of the School Board took place on Monday night, Mr. Inglis in the chair. Present—Messrs. Raymond, Kennedy, Knowles, McKenzie, Stevenson, Newton, Mitchell, Harvey, and McGuire.
REPORTS, &c.
Mr. Newton, who acted in the absence of the Secretary, read the monthly report of the School Inspector, showing the total attendance for the month to have been boys 485 and girls 449—total, 934.
Mr. Stevenson read the School Management Committee report to the effect that in accordance with instructions from the Board they recommended that Miss Goodvee's salary be increased to $200. With reference to the High School Principal's communication they reported that no action had yet been taken.
Mr. Newton read the report of the High School Principal for February. The attendance for the month was boys 45, girls 4—total, 49. The report asked for several repairs in the school.
Mr. Raymond read the report of the Special Committee, to the effect that they had received all the plans and specifications of the proposed Central School Building, and recommending that the first prize architect be paid the sum of $200 for his plans, &c.
On motion the reports were adopted.
On motion of Mr. Knowles the report of the High School Principal was received, and that portion referring to the repairs in the school was referred to the School Property Committee.
Mr. Harvey, in reply to a question from Mr. Knowles, stated that the application for issuing debentures for the purpose of raising funds for the erection of the Central School would be attended to this week.
The Board then adjourned.

NEWS ITEMS.
FIRE IN STEWARTTOWN.—On Monday afternoon the hotel and stables of T. Sparrow, Stewarttown, were destroyed by fire. No insurance.

INCORPORATED.—Durham, by virtue of an act of the Ontario Parliament, has sprouted into a full-fledged town, and the good people of the place are looking for suitable men into whose charge its budding destinies shall for the present be placed. Mr. Archibald Hunter is favorably spoken of as the first Mayor.

BIRTH IN THE STREET.—On Saturday a poor woman named Mary McCarthy gave birth to a child in the street, in Montreal. Both mother and infant were found lying on the sidewalk, and having no place of abode, she was taken to the Lying-in Hospital. It is stated that she was ejected from her sister's house in this critical condition.

FIRE IN HAMILTON.—A fire was discovered in the coal oil store of Messrs. Onyon & Hynds, on Monday evening about half-past ten. The firemen were speedily on the ground, and owing to their prompt action, and abundant supply of water, the fire was confined to the building, and gradually subdued. Had the hour been later, the result might have been disastrous.

ANOTHER TRUNK HORROR HAS TURNED UP. A box shipped on the Ohio and Baltimore Railroad, from Cincinnati to Thornton, West Virginia, was accidentally broken open in transferring at the depot, and disclosed a mutilated human body, the head, legs, arms, etc., were completely severed from the body. This kind of thing is becoming too common to be pleasant to people having weak nerves.

PROBABLE MILITARY DRAFT.—The St. Mary's Idiot says:—We learn that the Adjutant General of the Dominion, having written to the 79 Colonels of Battalions, as to whether they could fill their ranks without resorting to a draft next spring, only two replied in the affirmative. It is believed that out of a nominal Volunteer force of 40,000 men, not over half that number could be mustered for service. This demoralization of the corps is attributed to the operation of the Militia Act, and the insufficient pay allowed the men while on active service.

WELLAND RAILWAY ACCIDENT.—The Welland Railway passenger train going north on Friday evening met with a singular accident shortly after leaving the Thorold station. In going over the down grade, near the railway crossing north of the lime kilns, the post office and baggage cars were thrown off the track—the latter being turned end for end—while the forward trucks of the passenger car were thrown off near a steep embankment. There were a number of passengers in the car, but fortunately no one was injured.

THE ICE ON LAKE HURON.—The Goderich Signal says:—The ice on the Lake has not been so good for years as it was the end of last week. It presented a smooth and even surface, and was, extensively taken advantage of for both driving and skating purposes. As the roads were becoming rather bare in some places, those whose business required them to go either north or south along the lake shore patronized it extensively, and we learn from parties who had driven from Southampton that the driving was good all the way from that place.

After six weeks of successful effort Bradley Grant, a wealthy farmer who resided near Binghamton, finally succeeded in starving himself to death. On the 10th of January he ate two spoonfuls of egg and milk, and ate nothing for 15 days, when he took a bit of toast. On the 15th ult. he again ate about an ounce of toast, and that is all he swallowed during the six weeks which ended with his death. He was a thrifty farmer, but became subject to some mental derangement, caused by overwork. "As may be supposed he was reduced to a mere skeleton before he died."

BY TELEGRAPH

THIS MORNING'S DESPATCHES

The Erie Ring Broken Up.
Gould Dethroned.
A New Board Elected.

THE ERIE RAILWAY EMBROILLO.—New York had another sensation on Monday in the overthrow of Jay Gould the friend of the late Jim Fisk, and President of the Erie Railway. A party of gentlemen entered the head offices in New York by force, and in spite of an injunction served on them at the instance of Gould, proceeded to elect a new board of directors. Gould's attorney, with forty policemen, attempted to break up the meeting, but without avail. A new board was elected, Jay Gould being allowed to remain a member of it, but he is left in a minority and will be without influence. Gen. Dix was elected President; O. H. P. Archer, Vice-President, and Gen. McClellan, Superintendent. Orders were issued to all the officials and employees of the road not to obey Gould any longer. Gould declares the election to be illegal, and still claims the Presidency.

New York, March 11.—The following additional particulars have been received of the Erie revolution: J. Gould was removed by resolution, and Superintendent Rucker and the Auditors of the Erie Railway have recognized Gen. Dix as President of the Company. General Sikes, who has been working in the interests of English stockholders, came to this country and went actively to work with the others. In November Crouch went to London and had a consultation with the foreign stockholders, and urged a combined movement against the Ring. When he returned he was closely watched by Gould's detectives, and approached with offers of bribes of any amount if he would work in Gould's interest, and Gould tried to get him to his house. Crouch directed the attention of the Erie Ring to Albany, and they were expecting astounding developments there. The good directors of the old board wanted to call a meeting, but Gould put it off. He tried hard to stave off this meeting and threatened to throw the road into bankruptcy, and asserted he would rule or ruin. Delay after delay took place until at last the present meeting was called by nine members of the board. The majority of the members of the board attended the meeting, and the minority staid away under Gould's directions. The new members of the board were kept advised of the movements of Gould, and his men, who were in the Erie buildings. The new board were rendezvoused in Barlow's house, in Madison Square, and acted constantly under legal advice. Before Gould got his sentries posted Crouch's men took their places next the Directors' room where Gould's Directors were in session. The meeting had hardly begun when the Sheriff and forty men appeared. Crouch and his party flanked them by sending a notification to the Directors that an order had arrived from Gould to clear them out, and they then invited the new Directors to remain. Gould then sent an order to clear out Crouch and his party, and the force made a rush for the Directors' room, but when they saw such men as Gen. McClellan sitting around the board they refused to put Gould's order into execution. The new Directors were then speedily chosen, the old ones resigning one by one. Crouch asserts that the cry that this move is made in the interest of the Atlantic and Great Western Co. is false. Gen. Dix notified Gould of his removal as President, and his own election to that office, and demanded the surrender of all papers and documents held by Gould when President, and that he cease to interfere with the performance of any duties which he (Dix) had assumed as President. U. S. Marshal Crowley delivered the letter, of which the foregoing is the substance. Gould was at that moment in the President's room, surrounded by a strong force of policemen. Gen. Sylekes approached the door and demanded admission; the demand not being assented to force was applied and the door broken into, and despite the resistance of the police the anti-Gould men succeeded in forcing an entrance. Gould, with every appearance of alarm, rushed from the chair, hotly pursued by Crowley. Gould escaped into a room, banging the door in Crowley's face; Crowley, however, got into the room and served the letter, when Gould breathed calm, evidently feeling that the game was up. After Gould's flight Gen. Dix and others took formal possession. Shearman, however, remained to protest against the measures of the Dix party, but he was unceremoniously ejected. After the affair was over there was a general jubilee of the anti-Gould party over the victory won.

London, March 11.—The House of Commons this evening went into Committee of Supply on the army estimates. The amendment made by Holms, reducing the army by 20,000 men, and the one by Muntz, reducing it 10,000, were successively rejected by large majorities.

The challenge of the St. John crew to row any four-oared crew in this country or in England, has been accepted by four sisters living in Detroit, who have long had a local reputation as oarswomen, and are said to row exceedingly well. An enthusiastic admirer says that when seated in their trim little "shell," their arms divested of all superfluous drapery, their hair streaming in the wind, they seem like four Venuses rising from the sea. But what is more to the point, they have made better time in practice trials at least, than the St. John crew has made in any race.

Monasteries in England.

After a suppression of three hundred years monastic life has revived again in England, and its spread is one of the most remarkable signs of the times.—Under the spirit of religious toleration, the various ancient orders of monks—the Benedictines, Dominicans, Capuchins, Augustines, Cistercians and others—have established themselves in various parts of England, and have evinced the ancient aptitude of the Roman church for securing choice localities. One of the most noted of the modern English monasteries is that of Mt. St. Bernard, in Chamwood Forest, Leicestershire. It was begun in 1835, and for some time there were only five monks who lived on a little farm and tilled the adjacent land. In 1842 the present extensive abbey buildings were commenced. They are in the plain early English style, but with the church, cloister, chapter-house, refectory, dormitory, guest-house, lavatory, kitchen, offices, etc., with massive walls and buttresses, long and narrow windows, high gables and roofs, with deeply-arched door-ways, the style presents an imposing appearance. A clock-tower with chimneys of bells remains to be added. The monastery owns now three hundred acres, nearly all which is highly cultivated. The labour is all performed by the monks, who have made the domain profitable, selling the farm produce at a good price. The lives of the recluses are toilsome and abstemious. They are not allowed to speak to each other except in the presence of the superior; they eat no meat or animal food except milk and cheese; their daily round is toil, prayer and sleep. They work on the farm, feed pigs; make the butter and do the washing. No woman is permitted to enter the sacred ground. They have made a garden of the three hundred acres. Attached to the abbey is a reformatory for boys. The order is the Cistercian, a branch of the Benedictines; and three hundred years ago this order had one hundred and ten monasteries in England, the remains of which are now among the most picturesque ruins in that land—Tintern, Netley and Fountain abbeys being among them.

Baron Leibeg on Beer and Tobacco.
A correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune, writing from Munich, gives the following as Baron Leibeg's opinion on beer and tobacco:—
"Is it necessary that people should drink as much beer as you do in Munich?" I asked. "Beer," said the Baron, "is better than brandy. Man is a creature of a stimulant of some sort. Brandy is a great evil. We find that the consumption of beer is making its headway even in the wine districts, for instance in Stuttgart. As a nourishment, beer takes a very subordinate place, not higher, indeed, than potatoes; and we find that in cities where there is such an amount of beer consumed as in Munich, where the greatest quantity of beer is also consumed. Beer must have meat, or albumen. Before every beer-cellar in Munich you will find a cheese-stand. Why? Because in cheese you find that albumen which beer is lacking. Therefore you eat cheese and beer together like a law of Nature! But as an article of nourishment beer is very subordinate. Schnapps is a great misfortune, and destroys the working power. A physician told me that when the wounded would take nothing else they have grasped at cigars; they are gladdened—they felt a lifting up of the sinking nerves. Tobacco must have this effect. We could not do our wounded, frequently, a greater service than by giving them cigars. And we came to the conclusion that tobacco was invaluable to us."

TRIUMPH IN PRINTING MACHINERY.—In recording the fact that the Scotsman is now printed by two Walter Presses (so called after the name of the inventor, the chief proprietor of the Times, to the production of which these presses are first applied) the proprietor thus writes:—As the Scotsman is now printed, a reel of tightly-rolled paper, in the form in which it leaves the paper-mill, fully four miles in length, and weighing nearly 6 cwt., is placed at one end of the machine, and in the process of unrolling is unrolled, printed first on one side and then the reverse with unflinching precision, is cut into sheets, and delivered at the rate of fully 12,000 copies per hour at the other end of the machine. The delivery is made on two boards, each of which receives a sheet alternately. As the sheets are watched by ladies who stand by the great speed, have still time to see that the work is properly done. The sole attendants necessary are those two lads at the delivery boards, and a third, the striker, who starts the machine and looks after the rolls as they are unrolled. While printing, the paper travels through the machine at the rate of nearly 1,000 feet per minute, and a reel of paper four miles long is thus printed in less than 25 minutes. The delay in changing from one reel to another scarcely exceeds a minute, so that the production is thus almost continuous. With the two Walter Presses in the Scotsman Office, a length of paper equal to the distance between Edinburgh and Stirling—36 miles—is printed each morning in two hours, or little more than the time taken by an ordinary train to travel that distance. Each Friday, when the Weekly Scotsman, in addition to the daily issue, is printed by the same machine, the length of paper printed is about 80 miles; or the distance, as the crow flies, between Edinburgh and Carlisle.

THE SCOTT MURDER.—The Ontario Government has issued a proclamation, in conformity with the resolution passed at the late session of the Legislature, offering a reward of $5,000 for the apprehension of the murderers of Scott.

THE GREAT MANITOULIN.

A subscriber writing to us from the Great Manitoulin Island says:—This Island is one of the healthiest places that I ever set my foot on, but it is very rough, mountains of lime stone and quartz rock being spread over the whole Island, and smaller rocks and stones abounding almost everywhere.

The worst evil that I see here is that we have neither law or justice. Every person seems to think that he has a perfect right to do as he likes.

DEATH OF JOSEPH MAZZINI.

A despatch from Pisa, in Italy, announces the death of Joseph Mazzini, the great Italian Republican and Agitator. During his whole life Mazzini has laboured for the unity and independence of Italy under a Republican form of Government.

EDITORIAL NEWS.

There is some talk that the Conservatives, believing in the adage, "Union is strength," seriously contemplate annihilating Mr. Ross (the choice of the Reform electors of West Middlesex), by bringing out two candidates against him instead of one!

It is conceded on all hands that the next election will be the most disastrous for Sir John A. Macdonald in Central Canada. There never was a time when his hold on the Conservative party was so weak as at the present time.

THE FRENCH ASSEMBLY.—On Monday the French Assembly was the scene of one of those violent outbreaks of passion for which it is famous. The cause on this occasion was a motion to censure and prosecute two members of the Assembly for publishing a libel upon that body.

Death in the Milk Pail.

Not long since Professor Lawe, of Cornell University, observed a peculiarity in the cream from the milk furnished by the milkman. It appeared to beropy, and on subjecting it to an examination under a powerful microscope, it was found to contain a large number of living organisms at different stages of growth.

These facts are of very great importance to dairymen, and although it was known that milk from cows drinking the putrid water of mud holes had caused much trouble in cheese factories, still dairymen hardly appreciated to the full extent of the trouble, or were aware of the precise nature of the injury caused by such water.

HELEN MOIR

OR— LOVE AND HONOUR.

A TALE OF THE CLYDE. CHAPTER XXII.

THE SECRET PLOTTERS—HELEN'S MUSINGS—SHE IS DRAWN INTO THE SOLITUDE.

"Lose her?" hissed Dubouque. "I have sworn she shall be mine, and I am ready to dare everything to obtain her."

"You are?" "I am. Can you doubt it? Have I not put a barrier between her and that pork eater?"

"Ha, ha!" laughed Jaquin so you have, with my help. But for me you could not have done it; and without me you cannot go farther. Come, let us make a compact to secure this object. It is worth the trouble; it will make you independent. Bridgenorth will be furious for a time; but after his daughter is your wife he can make nothing of it for holding out, and for her sake he will come round. Then who knows but I can make other revelations? Oh, they don't know, and you don't know, what I have been keeping concealed here all these years. Ha, ha! if I told it now, what do you think would happen?"

"How can I know? After what I have seen of your power, I am not inclined to limit it."

"You are right, M. Dubouque; for I have the power to undo what I have done. I have separated the girl from her lover; I could remove the barrier which I raised."

"You could! How?" "I shall not say how; you may know some day. - Oh, it will be rare enjoyment to see the effect of my communication—rare enjoyment—very rare enjoyment."

And the misshapen creature rubbed his long, claw-like hands together, and grinned and chuckled with malignant satisfaction.

"Then," continued Dubouque, "you mean to say that you can remove the serpent which prevents Helen from marrying Rheinbach?"

"Yes; I could—I could; but I won't. I'll have my revenge on them. Once she is your wife I may do it, for then I will torture them the more; but not unless—no, no—not unless."

And again the hands were rubbed with fiendish glee, accompanied by the grin and the chuckle which were so repulsive to behold, and made the man to be less a human being than a devil incarnate.

"My wife, mon Dieu!—Mam'selle Moir my wife!" exclaimed Dubouque, with sudden vehemence. "I will dare anything for that. She has scorned and rejected me, and I yet love her a thousand times more ardently than that cold-hearted German. I would have her mine at any price, and then I would teach her, if not to love, then to fear me."

"Good. You won't go back in that? Your resolution won't fail?" said Jaquin, gazing at him with eyes that gleamed like burning coals.

"By all the fiends, it shall not," thundered Dubouque, with a roar which sent its echo from the other side of the loch. "My resolve is as settled as yours can be."

"Then our compact is made, and we go forward together."

"Hand-in-hand," responded the Frenchman, offering his palm to the other's grasp, when immediately the hunchback's long fingers encircled Dubouque's hand with a fierce convulsive pressure.

"Our motto is—Prepare, Wait, Watch, Act," he hissed. "I have ample funds for all we need, and when everything is ready we shall secure the girl and carry her off. It will need wary working, but we can afford to dispense with rashness."

It was quite dark when the two scoundrels concluded the compact to carry out this outrageous project, and after settling on their general plan of action and several matters of detail, they glided forth like two evil spirits from under the bushes, and parted on the high road—Dubouque taking the way to Dunoon, and the hunchback returning over the light to the inn at Ardenadam, where, though now alone, he still had his quarters.

Awakened by the glad songs of the birds among the trees in the slope at the rear of the villa, Helen Moir, at an early hour on the following morning, came out of her room and refreshed a sleep as had ever sealed her eyelids even in the free and innocent days of childhood. After the extraordinary discoveries and agitating experiences of yesterday, it was surprising to herself that she could sleep at all, or that her sleep should not have been broken by dreams which would have repeated with fantastic exaggerations the events of the preceding day. Yet her rest had been unbroken, her slumbers profound and undisturbed, until the feathery songsters broke sweetly in upon it with their happy morning hymn.

But the truth was, the excessive and intense mental experience of the last week had fallen so heavily upon her entire organization, and the occurrences of the previous day had placed so thoroughly the coposition on the pile of agitating emotions, that the issue must have been utter prostration or raving madness.—Had Helen's nature been irritable and passionate, had she been willful, wayward and ill-regulated, a brain fever would probably have come upon her; but she was naturally calm, and had her spirit under the influence of self-control, so that the extraordinary and conflicting excitement had a wearying effect, and sent her into the blissful region of dreamless and restoring slumber, out of which she issued, revived, strengthened, and mentally at rest.

CONGRATULATORY TO W. K. MUIR, Esq.—The Boston Wayfarer says: "The Great Western Superintendent Muir may well be congratulated upon the remarkable success attending his administration of the affairs of the Great Western Railway. During this season of great traffic, not a single accident, nor scarcely the detention of a train has occurred. When it is considered that the traffic on the road has increased immensely in the last season, the freedom of the Great Western from accidents and delay shows that the greatest care must have been exercised in the working of the line, and the strictest supervision maintained over the condition of the road and rolling-stock. We don't wonder there is another road in the States or Canada, of the same extent as the Great Western, that can boast of as clear a record during the last season. The large savings effected in the bill for running-expenses will appeal more directly to the stockholders than the general public, and will no doubt, be duly appreciated by them."

IS A proposition to erect on the Hill of Trocadero a temple to Jesus Christ, as a testimony that belief in God is necessary for national regeneration, has been rejected by the French Assembly.

A HEARTLESS CASE.—A few days ago a little girl, aged five years, was brought hurriedly to and with great appearance of consternation to the Montreal Hospital, sick with small-pox, and after depositing in care of the door-keeper the parents departed in great haste without giving their name or address. The poor child succumbed to the disease not long afterwards and the heartless parents had not once called to inquire after its welfare, had given no intimation of their place of residence, and it seemed hard to bury it as an "unknown." The remains were kept longer than usual, but no one appearing to claim the body it was taken to the cemetery unaccompanied by a single relative.

THE GREAT UNIVERSITY BOAT RACE between Oxford and Cambridge is announced to come off on the Thames, on Saturday, 23rd March. Both crews are now practising daily.

BREAKFAST—EPP'S COCOA—GRATEFUL and COMFORTING.—By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctor bills.—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with boiling water or milk. Each packet is labeled "James Epps & Co., Homeopaths, London." Also, makers of Epps's Milky Cocoa (Cocoa and Condensed Milk).

Persons requiring purgatives or pills should be careful what they buy. Some pills not only cause griping pains, but leave the bowels in a torpid, costive state. Parson's Purgative Pills will relieve the bowels and cleanse the blood without injury to the system.

Persons suffering from impure blood, or whose health is giving way, either as ministers or those who study closely, will find in Followers' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites the material to build them up and the tonic to keep them there.

A FRIEND IN NEED.—Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry is a friend in need. Who has not found it such in curing all diseases of the lungs and throat, coughs, colds and pulmonary affections, and "last, not least," consumption? The sick are assured that the high standard of excellence on which the popularity of this preparation is based, will always be maintained by the proprietors.

It is a rare thing that physicians give any countenance to a medicine, the manufacture of which is a secret. About the only exception we know of is Johnson's Anodyne Linctum. This, we believe, all endorse, and many of them use it in their practice with great success.

FELLOWS COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPOPHOSPHITES

All life-endowed bodies, whether they be Beasts, Birds, Bees, Insects, or even Zoophytes, and subjects of the Vegetable Kingdom are governed by vital force, which winds all the springs of extension, and as nothing can save them from destruction when this principle leaves them, the discovery of means whereby vitality may be sustained in the living body is indeed a boon to the world.

Modern Chemistry has ventilated the question and discovered the ingredients constituting the brain, muscles and nerves, and finds that by introducing these ingredients in proper proportions the brain and nervous system are strengthened.

The is substantially the basis on which Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites is built, its direct action upon the Brain and Nervous System, and the Muscles, Strengthening the Nerves, it causes the rapid distribution of Vitalized Blood in the Muscular Organs of the Body.

Rousing the Sluggish Heart and Liver, Strengthening the Action of the Stomach and Bowels, and enabling the Lungs to be fully saturated with Oxygen.

It is adapted for all cases of Weakness and Emaciation, whether arising from a Sedentary life, a tropical climate, from fever, or debility from any cause, and is efficacious in Pulmonary Consumption, many confirmed cases having been cured and all benefited, where its use has been continued over a fortnight.

In Bronchitis it is a specific, and in Asthma it gives relief where every other remedy fails.

For Nervous Debility it stands unrivalled, and may be used with confidence in all cases.

As this is entirely distinct and different from every other preparation of Hypophosphites, be careful to ask for Fellows' Syrup, and take no other.

HAVE YOU A COLDY? HAVE YOU A COUGH? HAVE YOU BRONCHITIS? HAVE YOU THE ASTHMA? HAVE YOU ANY LUNG DIFFICULTY, OR WEAKNESS IN YOUR THROAT?

READ THE FOLLOWING:

Mrs. Amy Kennedy, of Painesville, Ohio, says: "I have suffered with Asthma 24 years, have been distressed by many Physicians, as soon as I took this Balsam it relieved me, I cannot express the gratitude I feel for the benefit your Allen's Lung Balsam has been to me."

Dr. Harris, of Middlebury, Vermont, says:—"I had been troubled with Bronchitis for two years, so affecting the organs of speech that I could not speak aloud for six weeks, I had with it a severe cough and cold night sweats, I took several bottles of Allen's Lung Balsam, and an entirely cured."

Capt. Foster, of Burwell, Ont., says: "I have been troubled with a cough at times very severe for years past. I have found Allen's Lung Balsam to relieve my cough more readily than any other cough medicine I have ever tried. My wife also used it with the most satisfactory result."

The Balsam is sold by all druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

VEGETABLE SICILIAN
HAIR

Nine years before the public, and no preparation for the hair has ever been produced equal to Hall's "Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer," and every honest dealer will say it give the best satisfaction. It restores GRAY HAIR to its original color gradually and preventing dandruff curing BALDNESS and promoting the growth of the hair. The gray and brassy by a few applications is changed to black and silky locks, and wayward hair will assume any shape the wearer desires. It is the cheapest HAIRDRESSING in the world, and its effects last longer, as it excites the glands to furnish the nutritive principle so necessary to the life of hair. It gives the hair that splendid appearance so much admired by all. By its tonic and stimulating properties it prevents the hair from falling out, and none need be without Nature's ornament, a good head of hair. It is the first real perfected remedy ever discovered for curing diseases of the hair, and it has never been equalled, and we assure the thousands who have used it, it is kept up to its original high standard. Our Treatise on the Hair mailed free;
send for it.
