Further, and pendence than all our Reciprocity men could do in seventeen years, if they tried. Further, and don't you forget it-that Sir Charles Tupper established the thing some more when, in the session of 1887, he ventured upon another bold step, that of increasing the iron duties. These are practical assertions of Canada's indepen dence; whereas your policy is one of abject surrender to the United States. The Secret Foe. The foe that lies in ambush, seeking an op-portunity to give a thrust behind the back, has the contempt of all admirers of fair fight ing. Recently the Manufacturers' Life Asso-ciation was attacked by the secret foe. the association were sent to its agents all over the country, to other insurance companies and to the general public. The party or parties who got these circulars printed and distributed evidently sought to weaken the reputation of the company, but they have completely failed in their design. The very fact of their fear to make an open face to face attack proves the strength of the Manufacturers' Life and their own weakness and cowardliness. from such attacks as these. By reference to our report of the Board of Trade Council meeting held yesterday, it will be seen that it was decided to build in accordance with the plans as prepared by Messrs. James & James. The cost of the building will be $200,000, with $60,000 for the lot. An additional cost of $25,000 or $30,000 will make the structure fire-proof. Now, why hesitate about this all-important aspect of the case? The cost of a building being put up for public uses is not unduly increased by the expense of fire-proofing, and what a decrease in the in-surance rates! The World has all along said the building should be made fire-proof, and says so yet, and further hopes the Council will not permit an item of 8 per cent. increase in cost to interfere with the carrying out of this project, Furthermore, the "let your light so shine" principle ought to come in here. It has become a pretty well-settled idea with the citizens that they are in a hole, but what they want is not only to be shown a way out of it, but a full, clear and succinct report of how they were permitted to get in it. The Chief Magistrate has a duty before him from which he cannot afford to shrink on the plea of courtesy to a predecessor or bygone Council. The matter is of too great importance for the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth not to be given to the public. Bristling with energy, and inflated with zeal, the young man opened branch stores at Oshawa, Lindsay and Burk's Falls, where his apparent success and outward signs of prosperity secured him unlimited credit and accommodation. A statement of his affairs now shows assets of $47,000 against liabilities of $55,000. The greater part of the Toronto wholesale trade is interested to some extent, there being but some $3700 due to cutsiders, while the claims of two Toronto houses are said to be $4000 and $3500 respectively.

W. Pike, hardware dealer, 638 Queen-street W., has assigned to Clark, Barber & Co. The liabilities and assets are about equal at $5500. Jas. Mays & Co., hardware dealers, Ohatham, have called a meeting of their creditors.

R. P. Leask, dealer in gents' furnishings and hats, Hamilton, is in trouble and shas called a meeting of his creditors. The liabilities will be about $6000 and the assets the same.

of a year in vain attempts to straighten matters out. As soon as one difficulty was surmounted another barred the way, until to-day the whole question positively is one conglomerate mass of bungling and ill-advised procedure. The city, to use the expression of a high civio official, is between the devil and the deep sea. There is the G. T. R. fighting the swing bridge, which is the key to the whole work, the C. P. R. with its claims of a special railway reserve, and the contractors, Manning & Macdonald, ready with a big action against the city if the terms of their contract are not strictly adhered to.

Then there is the City Engineer, whome everyone acknowledges to be a man of sound indigment and high standing in his profession but unfortunately so completely cowed by certain aldermanic unfluences of the past that his better ideas become warped in his daily battles with domineering and grab-it-all aldmen. The council of 1887, it goes without saying, is responsible for this state of affairs, and so bravely have they bungled it and mixed up the work that even all the acumen of the present Mayor and Solicitor is at fault in the effort to retrieve the threatened disaster.

The meeting was called to order with Mr. Galbrath in the chair, and Mr. John Brown acting as secretary. Mr. Stark was called up to explain the object of the weeting, and said that he came there in conjunction with many other millers who thought the present time was an opportune one for asking the Dominion Government to increase the duty on flour coming into Canada from the United States, to see if a stop could not be put to the large quantity now finding its way into Canada, and especially into the Lower Provinces. With this end in view, petitions to the Dominion Government, saking for their consideration, and been circulated extensively through the Provinces of Ontario, Manitoba and Quebed, and he had brought these with him to show the meeting, they being largely signed and favorably received by all millers and grain mothroughout the entire country. The direct object in calling the meeting was to adopt a manimous resolution stating the amount of duty the millers considered was necessary to protect them and then to appoint a deputation to this, it was intended to have expressions of the views of those present as to the relative duties on flour and wheat.

Mr. Stark stated that in response to his postal card advising millers of the meeting he had received letters of regret, which he produced, from a number of representative firms. Among these were communications from Groves Brox of Fergus; John Moody & Son, Dunnaville; Sadler. Dundas & Co., Lindsay, Junes Dunlop, Hamilson; Gould & Son, Montreal; J. Lee, Walkerton; J. E. The Poster of the present part of the present part of the province plended for the continuation of the Province plended for the control of t exactly what they wanted. Not one-half or two-thirds, but for just exactly what they wanted. Milling interests were as large and larger interests than many others. And milliers had influence and power. Then what was now wanted was simply for millers to unite as one man and demand what was justly due them in the shape of protection, and he was sure not ten days would pass over, if the Government was satisfied they were in earnest, before that measure of just protection would be granted them. Further, if the deputation they sent down to Ottaws returned unsuccessful, they must and would organize and show their power in compelling the Government to recognize their claims.

that the deputation plainly hint to the Government that if they didn't allow them what was a fair and just protection of their industry such action would be taken as would compet them to do so. He reviewed the arguments advanced by previous deputations of which he had been a member, and said he was sorry to have to think the present deputation would have to come back with the same old story as former ones, namely, that the proposed increase of duty would be considered.

Will it Affect the Price of Flour ? The arguments advanced by Mr. Plewes car-ried considerable weight with the meeting, as also did those of Mr. John Brown of the Citiried considerable weight with the meeting, as also did those of Mr. John Brown of the Citizens Milling Co., who, by a mathematical computation, showed the sury to be at present not only not in their favor but actually militating against Canadian millers, and figured that even with the duty increased to $1 per barrel on flour millers would be protected to only 4 or 5 per cent. while other manufacturers were at present protected from 30 to 50 per cent. Mr. Gibbs replied to Mr. Brown, and was afraid if Canadians had any protection they would run up the price of flour to the last cent. Mr. Gibbs was promptly "sat upon" by Mr. J. L. Spink, who made the statement that so long as the flour mills of Canada could make all the flour consumed in Canada, in $6 days, and work up all the wireat grown in Canada in $6 days, there was no danger of the Canadian public having to pay the last cent for flour.

The discussion was continued at length by Messrs, Macdonald of Collingwood, Caldwell, M. P. P. of Lennox, Snyder of St. Jacobs, and others, and on an informal division of the meeting it was decided to drop the clamor for a specific duty and unite unanimously in a request for the ad valorem duty of $1 per barrel.

This message came in reply to an inquiry sent down by Mr. Stark, and certainly shows an alarming state of affairs. There is one thing certain, the American flour will have to be sold before any Canadian flour is sold, and as it is probably there on consignment will be

The President said that part of the big expenses was $1669 for law suits, and Mr. Ridout, chairman of the special attractions committee, said that while last year much more more head here expects than prayingly more money had been spent than previously on such attractions he did not think that this item was to be blamed for the extra expense. As a proof that the accounts ought to be well looked after, Mr. Withrow mentioned that one of the auditors was a city auditor. The debt is now reduced to $6000, and in the last ten years they have erected nearly $100,000 worth of buildings. While he admitted the statement that the association had been fairly treated, he also wanted to say that the City Council had been fairly treated. Mr. Withrow urged the necessity of new stabling and increased accommodation. In the management for the last ten years the Exhibition association has never taken one cent of the taxes of the city to help it, because it had been so arranged that the proceeds of certain lands set apart for the purpose form the city's contribution. In the past they have been misunderstood and now is the time to clear it up. As to the statement that members of the association are pretty well paid for their services all he had to say was that they got just as much as the aldermen. They get no fees and no expenses. In conclusion he moved the adoption of the report, seconded by Vice-President McMaster.

"Too Mach For Our Whistle."

Mr. Booth suggested that the report be discussed, and Mr. Nieholis asked for an explanation of the fact that the expense account for 1888 was $37,000, being $10,000 more than 1887 and double that of 1886. The report stated that the gate receipts had also increased in proportion to the expense, but the ratio of increase was nearly the same as the expense and he thought they were paying too much for their whistle.

The President add that part of the big expense and he thought they were paying too much for their whistle.

"It Takes Meney to Make Money."

Manager Hill then arose and proceeded to explain the increase in the items on the theory that it takes money to make money and last year the profits were $13,000. He contended that the policy of having new special attractions every year was a good one and in this he was backed up by Mr. G. B. Smith, M. P.P.

Ald. Boustead, Prof. McLelian of the Educational Department, Mr. J. P. Bull, Mr. A.

Russell and Mr. J. B. Gould, spoke favorably of the way matters had been conducted. Treasurer McGee spoke strongly in defence of the association, and in vigorous language distributed among the Irish churches. The Osservatore Romano says the Pope's exceptional affection for Ireland is shown by the large share of costly jubilee gifts which he distributed among the Irish churches, Treasurer McGee spoke strongly in defence of the association, and in vigorous language asid that the increased expenditure was justified by the yearly increasing attendance and the enormous advantage to the mercantile community.

The Conclusions Arrived At.

In effect Messrs. Hering and Gray declare themselves against taking the water supply from the Ridge lakes because of the inferior quality of the water and the limited supply, against the Lake Simcoe scheme on the ground of expense, and also because the water, though much netter then that in the Ridge lakes, was still inferior in quality to that of Lake Ontario. The report continues:

Without hesitation, therefore, we advise you to adhere to Lake Ontario, not only as the best source, but also as the one from which at all times you can have an unlimited supply at the least expense.
