

Weekly Monitor, Published Every Wednesday at Bridgetown. HENRY E. PIPEB, Proprietor. Price of Subscription—$1.50 per annum, in advance; if not paid within six months, $2.00.

THE ANNAPOLIS ORGAN COMPANY, MANUFACTURERS OF Parlor and Church Organs. For Power and Quality of Tone, Rapidity of Action, and Promptness to Response, they are Unsurpassed.

MANHOOD: HOW LOST, HOW RESTORED! We have recently published a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's celebrated Essay on the radical and permanent cure (without medicine) of Nervous Debility, Mental and Physical Impediments, to Marriage, etc., resulting from excesses.

ANCHOR LINE. London to Halifax & Boston. ANGLO, ELYSIA, ALSATIA, TRINACRIA.

THE next sailing of this new regular steamship service will be: FROM LONDON—S. S. Trinacria, July 21st; Anglia, Aug. 11th; Alania, Aug. 21st; Elysis, Sept. 2nd.

The Culverwell Medical Co., 250 St. John St., New York. Post Office Box 4556.

GREAT BARGAIN! His Beautiful Residence at LOWER MIDDLETON. The House contains 11 rooms, all in thorough repair, Good Stabling for 3 or 4 Horses, Carriage House and Wood House.

CARD. GODFREY BROS. YARMOUTH, N. S. Wholesale and Retail GROCERS, CONSIGNMENTS, APPLES AND PRODUCE, RESPECT FULLY SOLICITED.

SALES made by Auction for advance payment, on credit, and proceeds promptly remitted.

REFERENCES by permission in Annapolis Royal:— A. W. CORBITT & SON, REV. W. S. GILBY, Sept 3rd 1873

CARD. Dr. E. N. Payzant, PHYSICIAN, SURGEON & DENTIST, MIDDLETON, N. S.

MECHANICAL AND OPERATIVE DENTISTRY promptly attended to in all its branches. June 28th, '80.

DENTAL NOTICE. Dr. S. F. Whitman, Dentist, WOULD respectfully inform his friends in Annapolis County, that he has just returned from Kings County, and will be at his office in BRIDGETOWN for a few weeks.

MONEY! TO LEND! The Annapolis Building Society. LOANS MONEY ON REAL ESTATE SECURITY. INTEREST 6% per cent. Send stamp for circular and form of application.

CARD. Edmund Bent LICENSED AUCTIONEER. Sales attended to promptly in any part of the County. Consignments solicited. Prompt returns made. Bridgetown, N. S., May, 1880.

Select Literature. "With this Ring I Thee Wed." CHAPTER XLIX. (Continued.) He stopped; the bride's hand had slipped from the ring; she was lying on the floor; the ring had rolled away upon the pavement.

"What was it? Did she faint? Is it a marriage, or no marriage? Can the ceremony be concluded to-day?" As they whispered together, this, twelve heavy strokes from the tower clock fell ominously on the tongue.

"I perceive we can sign the registry now!" "To-morrow as early as you like, but not to-day. It has struck twelve. I fear it would be illegal if now signed."

"I will give my wife home to my mother," he declared resolutely. "Two or three men, old friends, crowded around him, speaking low and earnestly to him."

"I will give my wife home to my mother," he declared resolutely. "Two or three men, old friends, crowded around him, speaking low and earnestly to him."

"I will give my wife home to my mother," he declared resolutely. "Two or three men, old friends, crowded around him, speaking low and earnestly to him."

"I will give my wife home to my mother," he declared resolutely. "Two or three men, old friends, crowded around him, speaking low and earnestly to him."

ed strenuously on Edgar his duty to his guests. "Put a brave face on it, and set this breakfast through in as lively a way as you can," he said shortly.

"I will give my wife home to my mother," he declared resolutely. "Two or three men, old friends, crowded around him, speaking low and earnestly to him."

"I will give my wife home to my mother," he declared resolutely. "Two or three men, old friends, crowded around him, speaking low and earnestly to him."

"I will give my wife home to my mother," he declared resolutely. "Two or three men, old friends, crowded around him, speaking low and earnestly to him."

"I will give my wife home to my mother," he declared resolutely. "Two or three men, old friends, crowded around him, speaking low and earnestly to him."

"I will give my wife home to my mother," he declared resolutely. "Two or three men, old friends, crowded around him, speaking low and earnestly to him."

"I will give my wife home to my mother," he declared resolutely. "Two or three men, old friends, crowded around him, speaking low and earnestly to him."

A feeling that she was about to die had taken strong hold of her soul; the faintness of her heart and head perchance led to this foreboding, or the shadow of fear upon her brought with it the deeper shadow of death.

"I will give my wife home to my mother," he declared resolutely. "Two or three men, old friends, crowded around him, speaking low and earnestly to him."

"I will give my wife home to my mother," he declared resolutely. "Two or three men, old friends, crowded around him, speaking low and earnestly to him."

"I will give my wife home to my mother," he declared resolutely. "Two or three men, old friends, crowded around him, speaking low and earnestly to him."

"I will give my wife home to my mother," he declared resolutely. "Two or three men, old friends, crowded around him, speaking low and earnestly to him."

"I will give my wife home to my mother," he declared resolutely. "Two or three men, old friends, crowded around him, speaking low and earnestly to him."

"I will give my wife home to my mother," he declared resolutely. "Two or three men, old friends, crowded around him, speaking low and earnestly to him."

ed, bringing his voice back to calmness, and letting a hard unyielding gaze rest upon her. "I might in time think of your falsehoods, but not now."

"I will give my wife home to my mother," he declared resolutely. "Two or three men, old friends, crowded around him, speaking low and earnestly to him."

"I will give my wife home to my mother," he declared resolutely. "Two or three men, old friends, crowded around him, speaking low and earnestly to him."

"I will give my wife home to my mother," he declared resolutely. "Two or three men, old friends, crowded around him, speaking low and earnestly to him."

"I will give my wife home to my mother," he declared resolutely. "Two or three men, old friends, crowded around him, speaking low and earnestly to him."

"I will give my wife home to my mother," he declared resolutely. "Two or three men, old friends, crowded around him, speaking low and earnestly to him."

"I will give my wife home to my mother," he declared resolutely. "Two or three men, old friends, crowded around him, speaking low and earnestly to him."

For Sale, or To Let. A SMALL PLACE CONTAINING FOUR ACRES OF LAND, with comfortable HOUSE AND BARN.

Hardware and Carriage Emporium, MIDDLETON, Annapolis County, N. S.

Building Materials, SUCH AS— 7x9 NAILS, 3x4 PINE LATH, 4x6 FLOOR BRADS, FINISHING NAILS, 6x4 to 10x4.

Brandram's Celebrated London Lead, in which we keep two grades—No. 1 and Extra—the latter having EIGHT GALLONS OIL TO THE HUNDRED.

Ready - Made CLOTHING! BUFFALO ROBES, &c. JUST RECEIVED from Montreal, a large and well assorted stock of Ready Made Clothing & Buffalo Robes.

Wholesale and Retail. BESSONNETT AND WILSON. 1000 AGENTS WANTED FOR VISITING CARDS, Games, Ac., Ac., Ac.

Hardware and Carriage Emporium, MIDDLETON, Annapolis County, N. S.

Building Materials, SUCH AS— 7x9 NAILS, 3x4 PINE LATH, 4x6 FLOOR BRADS, FINISHING NAILS, 6x4 to 10x4.

Brandram's Celebrated London Lead, in which we keep two grades—No. 1 and Extra—the latter having EIGHT GALLONS OIL TO THE HUNDRED.

Ready - Made CLOTHING! BUFFALO ROBES, &c. JUST RECEIVED from Montreal, a large and well assorted stock of Ready Made Clothing & Buffalo Robes.

Wholesale and Retail. BESSONNETT AND WILSON. 1000 AGENTS WANTED FOR VISITING CARDS, Games, Ac., Ac., Ac.

Hardware and Carriage Emporium, MIDDLETON, Annapolis County, N. S.

Building Materials, SUCH AS— 7x9 NAILS, 3x4 PINE LATH, 4x6 FLOOR BRADS, FINISHING NAILS, 6x4 to 10x4.

Brandram's Celebrated London Lead, in which we keep two grades—No. 1 and Extra—the latter having EIGHT GALLONS OIL TO THE HUNDRED.

Ready - Made CLOTHING! BUFFALO ROBES, &c. JUST RECEIVED from Montreal, a large and well assorted stock of Ready Made Clothing & Buffalo Robes.

Wholesale and Retail. BESSONNETT AND WILSON. 1000 AGENTS WANTED FOR VISITING CARDS, Games, Ac., Ac., Ac.

Select Literature. "With this Ring I Thee Wed." CHAPTER XLIX. (Continued.) He stopped; the bride's hand had slipped from the ring; she was lying on the floor; the ring had rolled away upon the pavement.

"What was it? Did she faint? Is it a marriage, or no marriage? Can the ceremony be concluded to-day?" As they whispered together, this, twelve heavy strokes from the tower clock fell ominously on the tongue.

"I perceive we can sign the registry now!" "To-morrow as early as you like, but not to-day. It has struck twelve. I fear it would be illegal if now signed."

"I will give my wife home to my mother," he declared resolutely. "Two or three men, old friends, crowded around him, speaking low and earnestly to him."

"I will give my wife home to my mother," he declared resolutely. "Two or three men, old friends, crowded around him, speaking low and earnestly to him."

"I will give my wife home to my mother," he declared resolutely. "Two or three men, old friends, crowded around him, speaking low and earnestly to him."

"I will give my wife home to my mother," he declared resolutely. "Two or three men, old friends, crowded around him, speaking low and earnestly to him."

ed strenuously on Edgar his duty to his guests. "Put a brave face on it, and set this breakfast through in as lively a way as you can," he said shortly.

"I will give my wife home to my mother," he declared resolutely. "Two or three men, old friends, crowded around him, speaking low and earnestly to him."

"I will give my wife home to my mother," he declared resolutely. "Two or three men, old friends, crowded around him, speaking low and earnestly to him."

"I will give my wife home to my mother," he declared resolutely. "Two or three men, old friends, crowded around him, speaking low and earnestly to him."

"I will give my wife home to my mother," he declared resolutely. "Two or three men, old friends, crowded around him, speaking low and earnestly to him."

"I will give my wife home to my mother," he declared resolutely. "Two or three men, old friends, crowded around him, speaking low and earnestly to him."

"I will give my wife home to my mother," he declared resolutely. "Two or three men, old friends, crowded around him, speaking low and earnestly to him."

A feeling that she was about to die had taken strong hold of her soul; the faintness of her heart and head perchance led to this foreboding, or the shadow of fear upon her brought with it the deeper shadow of death.

"I will give my wife home to my mother," he declared resolutely. "Two or three men, old friends, crowded around him, speaking low and earnestly to him."

"I will give my wife home to my mother," he declared resolutely. "Two or three men, old friends, crowded around him, speaking low and earnestly to him."

"I will give my wife home to my mother," he declared resolutely. "Two or three men, old friends, crowded around him, speaking low and earnestly to him."

"I will give my wife home to my mother," he declared resolutely. "Two or three men, old friends, crowded around him, speaking low and earnestly to him."

"I will give my wife home to my mother," he declared resolutely. "Two or three men, old friends, crowded around him, speaking low and earnestly to him."

"I will give my wife home to my mother," he declared resolutely. "Two or three men, old friends, crowded around him, speaking low and earnestly to him."

ed, bringing his voice back to calmness, and letting a hard unyielding gaze rest upon her. "I might in time think of your falsehoods, but not now."

"I will give my wife home to my mother," he declared resolutely. "Two or three men, old friends, crowded around him, speaking low and earnestly to him."

"I will give my wife home to my mother," he declared resolutely. "Two or three men, old friends, crowded around him, speaking low and earnestly to him."

"I will give my wife home to my mother," he declared resolutely. "Two or three men, old friends, crowded around him, speaking low and earnestly to him."

"I will give my wife home to my mother," he declared resolutely. "Two or three men, old friends, crowded around him, speaking low and earnestly to him."

"I will give my wife home to my mother," he declared resolutely. "Two or three men, old friends, crowded around him, speaking low and earnestly to him."

"I will give my wife home to my mother," he declared resolutely. "Two or three men, old friends, crowded around him, speaking low and earnestly to him."

The Weekly Monitor.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 3rd, 1880.

CATTLE.

On Saturday night last, we were shown a yoke of five years old cattle, raised by Mr. Edwin Leonard, of Paris, and by him sold to McDonald of Paris, and by him sold to McDonald of Paris...

At first by the lady clerks of the establishment, who kept overvaluing out gold and notes until $75,000 had been paid out...

LOCAL AND GENERAL EDITORIAL ITEMS.

Thanksgiving Day.

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS.—The third Tuesday of this month is the day appointed for the Municipal Elections.

Service will be held to-day in St. James' Church both morning and evening.

Work is not to be commenced on the new iron railway bridge to cross the river at this town until next spring.

This being Thanksgiving day, there will be preaching in Providence church at 7 o'clock, p. m.

By decision of the Grand Division the Alliance Journal is to be discontinued, and another paper in the interests of temperance will take its place.

The Champion's Race.—Hannan and Trickett are to row their championship of the world race on the 15th inst.

HYMNICAL.—On Thursday last the employees of Craig's Iron Foundry had that establishment decorated with flags of all sizes and shapes, in honor of the marriage on the previous evening of the foreman, Mr. John Ansley, to Miss Lydia Troop of this town.

The St. John Sun says on Saturday night 97 head of cattle came over in the "Empress" from Annapolis County, N. S.

Enclosed fields, domestication, artificial feeding and treatment have, of course, completely altered the character and the characteristics of bovine stock, while vastly increasing its numbers.

We have here an all-pervading example of the artificiality of the times, coupled with artificial selection. The best specimens of each breed are very nearly perfect, and as such may be taken as the highest expression of the ideal which men have been seeking to attain for generations.

Big Egg.—Mrs. Edwin Morse of this town has a hen that lays eggs "that are eggs." The one sent to us weighs a little over a quarter of a pound, and measures nearly nine inches round, and around the middle 7 inches.

SPECIAL SESSION.—The following announcement appears in the Royal Gazette:—"It is ordered that a Special Sitting of the Supreme Court be held at Annapolis, in the County of Anne, on Wednesday, the first day of December next, for the trial of Joseph M. Thebau, who has been indicted for the murder of Charlotte Hill, and is now awaiting trial at Annapolis aforesaid, and generally for the trial of prisoners charged with felonies in the said County of Annapolis."

Some of our newly fledged medical practitioners will probably see a good opening in the following item that appeared in a late cable despatch: "The Imperial Government is very desirous of securing men from the Colonies to fill up the spare ranks of surgeons both in the army and navy, which are very inadequate, being supplied by the medical profession in the Kingdom. It is rumored that some splendid inducements will probably be offered to the medical profession to induce them to come forward and volunteer from Great Britain's distant dependencies."

SOCIABLE AT INGLEWILLE.—On Thursday, the 21st ult., Mr. and Mrs. Wm. S. Beals gave a sociable at their residence in Inglewille, in aid of the Baptist meeting house, now being built at that place. The evening was very pleasant, the house was well filled, and about 70 persons sat down to the tables, loaded as they were with the choicest dainties.—Tea being over, the evening was spent in pleasant conversation and music, leaving in the hands of the treasurer at their departure, the sum of $16.50, which was afterwards increased by generous friends who could not be present, to $18.00.—A vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Beals for her generosity and earnestness in the work.

APPOINT.—We must apologize to our readers for the slovenly outside appearance of a number of our papers this week which was caused by the trouble always incidental to getting a new press in thorough working order. Some time ago, we promised our subscribers an enlarged sheet. This promise we are now in a position to fulfill, and in the course of a few weeks the Monitor will be issued in a larger and improved form. The price will remain the same, and we trust that subscribers have no arrears will show their appreciation of our efforts in their behalf, by coming forward and settling the small amount due from each, which will total a large sum. We cannot not satisfy our creditors by receiving their goods, and saying nothing about them for three or four years. They won't let us off that way, nor we cannot get our men to accept it as a sound financial transaction; therefore we hope that those subscribers for whom this notice is meant will see the point and promptly pay up at once.

The Superintendent of the Intercolonial Company is to visit Nova Scotia this week, to establish offices of that Company at Digby and Annapolis. Fishwick Express returns from the Bay of Fundy route in favor of the Intercolonial. The St. John Sun thinks its Nova Scotia friends will no doubt appreciate the advantages of being included in the Express system of the Continent.

A LAMP NEEDED.—In the interests of the public we would suggest that a lamp should be taken to have a lamp erected in the vicinity of Providence and St. James churches at this town. During dark nights when the several congregations disperse, the sudden change from the blaze of light inside the churches outside, rendered tenfold more opaque by the contrast, is very disagreeable and somewhat dangerous to women and children from the number of teapots that are driven through the crowd. Such a lamp as needed would be a great boon in this quarter of the town during any of the dark nights, and would be only a slight expense to keep up, as it need not be kept burning later than eleven. Cannot some one start a subscription paper for the purpose?

In another column will be found a summarized notice of the Paradise Exhibition. We regret to say that the exhibition was such an excellent one. It was, as we have learned through another informant, considerably in advance of former years. Several mistakes occurred through blunders and omissions of the commissioner in setting up the prize list last week. We were the names of Z. Durland and Chas. Whitman who took 2nd and 3rd prizes, respectively for sucking pigs, were omitted.

In cattle, in third prize for thoroughbred cows, read W. E. Forsyth, instead of W. E. Starratt.

In vegetables, Edwin Leonard took 1st prize in 5,000 carrots of the variety Bishop, and two of three lines below read turnip beet for turnips.

The Canadian Apple Trade.

SEVEN THOUSAND BARRELS TO BE SHIPPED BY KING'S COUNTY GRANGERS.

Immense shipments of apples continue to be made from all parts of the Dominion and United States to Europe. Last week over 15,000 barrels were shipped from Montreal—the largest week's shipment from that port on record—an increase of 10,000 over the week previous and corresponding period last year. The Caspian hence, on Monday, took over 2,000. The Anchor S. S. Columbia, to sail hence on the 10th prox., is to take from 100 to 150 barrels; and it is reported that a special steamer has been chartered by King's and Annapolis County Grangers to call here about the same date and plants in this valley in the spring, completed their contract in a most satisfactory manner on Saturday last. The trees and plants were in a fine healthy condition, and fully up to representation.

Big Egg.—Mrs. Edwin Morse of this town has a hen that lays eggs "that are eggs." The one sent to us weighs a little over a quarter of a pound, and measures nearly nine inches round, and around the middle 7 inches. Mrs. Morse says that once every week she gets an egg similar to the one mentioned.

SPECIAL SESSION.—The following announcement appears in the Royal Gazette:—"It is ordered that a Special Sitting of the Supreme Court be held at Annapolis, in the County of Anne, on Wednesday, the first day of December next, for the trial of Joseph M. Thebau, who has been indicted for the murder of Charlotte Hill, and is now awaiting trial at Annapolis aforesaid, and generally for the trial of prisoners charged with felonies in the said County of Annapolis."

Some of our newly fledged medical practitioners will probably see a good opening in the following item that appeared in a late cable despatch: "The Imperial Government is very desirous of securing men from the Colonies to fill up the spare ranks of surgeons both in the army and navy, which are very inadequate, being supplied by the medical profession in the Kingdom. It is rumored that some splendid inducements will probably be offered to the medical profession to induce them to come forward and volunteer from Great Britain's distant dependencies."

SOCIABLE AT INGLEWILLE.—On Thursday, the 21st ult., Mr. and Mrs. Wm. S. Beals gave a sociable at their residence in Inglewille, in aid of the Baptist meeting house, now being built at that place. The evening was very pleasant, the house was well filled, and about 70 persons sat down to the tables, loaded as they were with the choicest dainties.—Tea being over, the evening was spent in pleasant conversation and music, leaving in the hands of the treasurer at their departure, the sum of $16.50, which was afterwards increased by generous friends who could not be present, to $18.00.—A vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Beals for her generosity and earnestness in the work.

APPOINT.—We must apologize to our readers for the slovenly outside appearance of a number of our papers this week which was caused by the trouble always incidental to getting a new press in thorough working order. Some time ago, we promised our subscribers an enlarged sheet. This promise we are now in a position to fulfill, and in the course of a few weeks the Monitor will be issued in a larger and improved form. The price will remain the same, and we trust that subscribers have no arrears will show their appreciation of our efforts in their behalf, by coming forward and settling the small amount due from each, which will total a large sum. We cannot not satisfy our creditors by receiving their goods, and saying nothing about them for three or four years. They won't let us off that way, nor we cannot get our men to accept it as a sound financial transaction; therefore we hope that those subscribers for whom this notice is meant will see the point and promptly pay up at once.

needs, but intended only to prevent the unwary and ignorant from being imposed upon by the skillful. The first clause is a very important one. It provides that no master who long a mortgage has been granted, if may be redeemed at the option of the borrower, with no option to the lender. There is a clause which saves any retroactive effect, and makes the act apply only to transactions since the 1st July last.

Lynn in Flames.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 28.—A despatch just received here from Lynn, Mass., says the city is in flames and an immense destruction of property is threatened. The fire department of that city is utterly unable to cope with the conflagration, and aid has been asked from Boston and Salem. The fire started in Buffum's planing mill and spread rapidly in all directions. The greatest excitement prevailed.

New Advertisements.

For Sale!

THAT well-known FARM, situated in Granville, in the County of Annapolis, only one mile from Bridgetown, known as the "Gilbert Fowler Farm," containing two hundred acres of land, more or less, plenty of WOOD and FENCING, a large Dwelling House, Wood house, Horse Stable, and two Barns. Cuts forty tons of hay, has seven acres of excellent dyked Marsh, within a stone's throw of the Barn; a young Orchard of 200 trees, bearing from 50 to 75 bushels per annum. For further particulars, apply to the subscriber on the premises.

Abner Foster.

Bridgetown, Nov. 2nd, 1880. 2917

MUNICIPAL ELECTION, 1880.

To the Electors of Ward 4.

HAVING been presented with a requisition, largely signed by a majority of the Rate payers, requesting me to again offer myself prepared to do so, and pledge myself, if elected, to do everything in my power to further the interests of the County and ward 4 in particular.

Alfred Vedito.

Bridgetown, Nov. 2nd, 1880.

Removal.

Having removed to the building OPPOSITE the POST OFFICE, which being more commodious than the one I lately occupied, enables me to carry on the

Millinery Business

on a larger scale than formerly. In my stock will be found a varied assortment of

HATS and BONNETS!

OF THE NEWEST and MOST FASHIONABLE STYLES.

together with an extensive variety of FANCY and USEFUL ARTICLES, all of which I am prepared to sell at prices to meet the requirements of those who will kindly favor me with their patronage.

BRENDA LOCKETT.

Bridgetown, Nov. 2nd, 1880. 2917

New Goods!

New Goods!

Staple and Fancy Goods!

Black col'd, Cashmeres, French Merinos, Silk Velvets, Velveteens, Satins, Serges, Costume Cloths, Lustras, Mantle Cloths, Fancy Shirting, Flannels, Table Linen, Hosiery, Gloves, &c., &c.

THE underlined has just received a choice collection of

Staple and Fancy Goods!

Black col'd, Cashmeres, French Merinos, Silk Velvets, Velveteens, Satins, Serges, Costume Cloths, Lustras, Mantle Cloths, Fancy Shirting, Flannels, Table Linen, Hosiery, Gloves, &c., &c.

THE underlined has just received a choice collection of

Staple and Fancy Goods!

Black col'd, Cashmeres, French Merinos, Silk Velvets, Velveteens, Satins, Serges, Costume Cloths, Lustras, Mantle Cloths, Fancy Shirting, Flannels, Table Linen, Hosiery, Gloves, &c., &c.

THE underlined has just received a choice collection of

Staple and Fancy Goods!

Black col'd, Cashmeres, French Merinos, Silk Velvets, Velveteens, Satins, Serges, Costume Cloths, Lustras, Mantle Cloths, Fancy Shirting, Flannels, Table Linen, Hosiery, Gloves, &c., &c.

THE underlined has just received a choice collection of

Staple and Fancy Goods!

Black col'd, Cashmeres, French Merinos, Silk Velvets, Velveteens, Satins, Serges, Costume Cloths, Lustras, Mantle Cloths, Fancy Shirting, Flannels, Table Linen, Hosiery, Gloves, &c., &c.

THE underlined has just received a choice collection of

Staple and Fancy Goods!

Black col'd, Cashmeres, French Merinos, Silk Velvets, Velveteens, Satins, Serges, Costume Cloths, Lustras, Mantle Cloths, Fancy Shirting, Flannels, Table Linen, Hosiery, Gloves, &c., &c.

THE underlined has just received a choice collection of

Staple and Fancy Goods!

Black col'd, Cashmeres, French Merinos, Silk Velvets, Velveteens, Satins, Serges, Costume Cloths, Lustras, Mantle Cloths, Fancy Shirting, Flannels, Table Linen, Hosiery, Gloves, &c., &c.

THE underlined has just received a choice collection of

Staple and Fancy Goods!

Black col'd, Cashmeres, French Merinos, Silk Velvets, Velveteens, Satins, Serges, Costume Cloths, Lustras, Mantle Cloths, Fancy Shirting, Flannels, Table Linen, Hosiery, Gloves, &c., &c.

THE underlined has just received a choice collection of

Staple and Fancy Goods!

Black col'd, Cashmeres, French Merinos, Silk Velvets, Velveteens, Satins, Serges, Costume Cloths, Lustras, Mantle Cloths, Fancy Shirting, Flannels, Table Linen, Hosiery, Gloves, &c., &c.

THE underlined has just received a choice collection of

Staple and Fancy Goods!

Black col'd, Cashmeres, French Merinos, Silk Velvets, Velveteens, Satins, Serges, Costume Cloths, Lustras, Mantle Cloths, Fancy Shirting, Flannels, Table Linen, Hosiery, Gloves, &c., &c.

THE underlined has just received a choice collection of

Staple and Fancy Goods!

Black col'd, Cashmeres, French Merinos, Silk Velvets, Velveteens, Satins, Serges, Costume Cloths, Lustras, Mantle Cloths, Fancy Shirting, Flannels, Table Linen, Hosiery, Gloves, &c., &c.

THE underlined has just received a choice collection of

Staple and Fancy Goods!

Black col'd, Cashmeres, French Merinos, Silk Velvets, Velveteens, Satins, Serges, Costume Cloths, Lustras, Mantle Cloths, Fancy Shirting, Flannels, Table Linen, Hosiery, Gloves, &c., &c.

THE underlined has just received a choice collection of

Staple and Fancy Goods!

Black col'd, Cashmeres, French Merinos, Silk Velvets, Velveteens, Satins, Serges, Costume Cloths, Lustras, Mantle Cloths, Fancy Shirting, Flannels, Table Linen, Hosiery, Gloves, &c., &c.

THE underlined has just received a choice collection of

Staple and Fancy Goods!

Black col'd, Cashmeres, French Merinos, Silk Velvets, Velveteens, Satins, Serges, Costume Cloths, Lustras, Mantle Cloths, Fancy Shirting, Flannels, Table Linen, Hosiery, Gloves, &c., &c.

THE underlined has just received a choice collection of

Staple and Fancy Goods!

Black col'd, Cashmeres, French Merinos, Silk Velvets, Velveteens, Satins, Serges, Costume Cloths, Lustras, Mantle Cloths, Fancy Shirting, Flannels, Table Linen, Hosiery, Gloves, &c., &c.

THE underlined has just received a choice collection of

Staple and Fancy Goods!

Black col'd, Cashmeres, French Merinos, Silk Velvets, Velveteens, Satins, Serges, Costume Cloths, Lustras, Mantle Cloths, Fancy Shirting, Flannels, Table Linen, Hosiery, Gloves, &c., &c.

THE underlined has just received a choice collection of

Staple and Fancy Goods!

Black col'd, Cashmeres, French Merinos, Silk Velvets, Velveteens, Satins, Serges, Costume Cloths, Lustras, Mantle Cloths, Fancy Shirting, Flannels, Table Linen, Hosiery, Gloves, &c., &c.

New Advertisements.

Temperance Petitions.

NOTICE is hereby given to the inhabitants of Annapolis County, that the Temperance Petition, containing 1245 votes from all the Electoral Ward of the said County, was now deposited in the Recording Office at John McCormick, Esq.,'s, Bridgetown, for inspection, and to remain for ten days according to law, before being sent to the Governor General in Council.

L. S. MORAN, School Inspector, Esq., 2nd Doon, Post Master, Misses TERRY, J. P., Inspecting Committee, Bridgetown, Oct. 27th, 1880.

New Fall Goods!

AT MIDDLETON!

THE subscriber has received

Raisins, Currants, Spices, Baking Powder, Gelatine, Confectionery, Broma, Electric Oil, Pain Killer, Liniment, asstd.; Bendalrie's Cough Remedy, Canary Seed, Soda & Fruit Biscuit, Sugar & Oyster Crackers, Canned Oysters, Salmon & Lobsters, Granulated & Brown Sugar, Rice Oatmeal, Tobacco, &c.

ALSO—the best TEA in the County, and the Best quality of American Kerosene Oil at prices which defy competition. THE SUBSCRIBER DOES NOT SELL CANADIAN OIL FOR AMERICAN, and customers can always depend upon the quality of goods purchased of him.

H. Crosskill.

Oct. 26th, 1880.

HORSES

THAT have the distemper need the NUTRITIOUS COMBINATION of Manhattan Feed, Sold by J. W. WHITMAN.

ALSO—Good Wagon BLANKETS, Carry Combs, Common Leather Back and Dandy BUSHING, Saws, Hoop and Sorels and W. B. Brushes.

GROCERIES.

Apple Parer!

in the market. Canadian and N. S.

W. H. WEDS.

BROADCLOTHS, DIAGONALS, DOBBERINS, Sold low to close out.

Gray and White Cottons,

VERY CHEAP.

Confectionery and Biscuits to suit any taste.

Flour and Meal,

CHEAPER FOR CASH.

J. W. Whitman.

Lawrencetown, Oct. 23rd, 1880.

FOR SALE.

A very desirable residence on Church St., Bridgetown, the residence of the late

ANDREW MCKENNA.

It consists of a neat family House, Barn, Stable and the necessary Outbuilding, in good repair, and about one and a-half acres of LAND in a high state of cultivation, with a young and thriving ORCHARD, yielding about 25 barrels of CHOICE FRUIT.

Apply to MRS. MCKENNA, or JOHN LOCKETT, Administrator to the estate of the late Andrew McKenna, Bridgetown, Oct. 24th, 1880. 2717

NOTICE.

ALL persons are hereby cautioned against negotiating certain notes of hand, made by JOHN LEE, of Wines, in favor of G. B. W. SANFORD, for the sum of

One Hundred Dollars,

and dated

June 21st, A. D., 1880.

As I have not received value, and will resist payment of the same.

JOHN LEE.

Witness, Oct. 16th, 1880. 3020

APPLES for GREAT BRITAIN.

THE underlined has arranged with first-class Fruit Brokers in

GLASGOW,

LIVERPOOL and LONDON.

And are now prepared to forward produce to the above places.

Weekly quotations furnished on application to

Jack & Bell,

HALIFAX, N. S.

THE CELEBRATED

Rubber Bucket Chain

PUMPS

ARE STILL FOR SALE BY THE

LAWRENCETOWN PUMP CO.

LAWRENCETOWN, A. C.

Satisfaction guaranteed. Orders attended to promptly. Lawrencetown, Oct. 16th, 1880.

Fall and Winter Clothing!

SPLENDID STOCK JUST IN.

John H. Fisher,

MERCHANT TAILOR,

Side Door, Masonic Building, Bridgetown, B. Customers, that he has but lately returned from London, where he has been selecting one of the largest and most complete stocks of cloth that has ever been in this town. And as the foreman of his shop is MR. COLBERT, who always makes a perfect fit, satisfaction is guaranteed.

W. B. FOSTER, 338, Atlantic Avenue, Agent at Boston—

A. W. Corbitt & Son,

ANNAPOLIS, Bridgetown, Oct. 16th, 1880.

New Advertisements.

Read, Remember and Reflect!

E. C. Lockett

Beige to announce to his many friends, customers and the public in general, that he has secured the services of a gentleman who has but recently arrived in this country from London, England, and after 24 years experience in the copying and manufacturing of Clocks, watches and Jewelry in England, Ireland and Scotland, will take full control of my Repairing Department.

Mr. James McLeod,

He will make a speciality of Fine English, American and Swiss Watches, and guarantees to make perfect time keepers of Watches, which others professing to understand the business, have rejected as not worth fixing.

He is also prepared at all times to manufacture all or any parts of Watches which may have become lost, broken or worn out.

The public will find it greatly to their advantage to give us a call before going elsewhere.

Why have your watches botched up and spoiled by travellers and incompetent workmen when you can place them in the hands of competent mechanics?

I also take pleasure to announce to my friends that I still keep on hand my usually well selected stock of

CLOCKS,

WATCHES,

SILVER WARE AND FANCY GOODS.

Consisting of—

SWISS AND AMERICAN WATCHES, CLOCKS, CAKE BASKETS, SPOONS, FORKS, KNIVES, CASTORS, BUTTER COOLERS, FINGER RINGS, GENTS' STUDS, CHAINS, CUFF BUTTONS, LADIES' SETS, EAR RINGS, &c., &c.

—IN MY—

Fancy Goods Department

May be found a well-selected stock of

Children's Toys,

and other useful and fancy articles. Any of the above will be sold at LOWEST POSSIBLE ADVANCES ON FIRST COST.

(Continued from first page.)

have been a gentleman—but it was too late to repent; the ship that had borne my message had sailed for Plymouth.

He passed, and laid his hand upon his eyes, as if to shut out visions. She saw a flash of pain rise to his face, and dared not utter a word of comfort.

Phillips withheld the letter, she said eagerly. "He wanted to know ever having received news of you."

A smile curled Thurstone's lip. "He did not obey orders in uttering that falsehood. I have been thinking whether I would tell you what I felt when that ship sailed away, what prayers I sent after it, what thoughts of you followed it; but I will not. I leave it all to you."

"I remember you," he said, "and the waying days between me and death—they were not many. It was a race between the ship and the bullet that was to reach my heart. Mind you, through this waiting time I had no doubt of Davenant's word—no more doubt than I had of you!"

He gave her a glance that brought a flush upon her cheek, and made her clutch the railing by which she stood. Such a look might smite a frail woman to the earth. And what was he about to tell her? What was she going to hear of Edger?

"I trouble you, I fear," continued Thurstone, with cruel politeness. "I make my story too long; but unfortunately I am awakened when I have to speak of my life. Like a coward, I ignored my letter, he neither wrote nor telegraphed, he moved not a finger for my life, and he sent word to my messenger that he did not know me! When he uttered that lie, he consented to my murder, he made himself guilty of it, he knew his word was my death-warrant. And this is the man who would have saved his life. He has done worse; he had wished him dead, and had striven to make his death a certainty by a cross and cowardly lie as was usual with him."

Like a bitter wind his scorn passed over her, withering her life within her. And his words were true. He had told the truth in her quivering nerve. Edger Davenant had indeed coldly and meanly left a friend to die, when only a word from him, a word that he would have saved his life. He had done worse; he had wished him dead, and had striven to make his death a certainty by a cross and cowardly lie as was usual with him."

In thinking thus of him, no pity for him touched Lillian's heart. She never thought of his long love, his jealousy, his little happiness coming after dreary years, and then the horrible temptation that assailed him when he was asked to crush all hope and bring his rival back. Bought of this came into her mind, but only hate and contempt, and a loathing of his crime which brought a sick sickness to her very soul. Jocelyn had marked the horror on her face, and she had waited silently for her to speak.

"It is dreadful," she murmured, her clasped hands wrung together. "Barabbas! No—it was a deed worthy of Judas!"

"And you have married him?" said Thurstone.

His words cut the air as does the flash of a sword. She shrank away against the wall, and looked down upon her hand as she held up to his face which was hard as marble. Married to the traitor who had tried to kill her love? And she with the price of her life. Oh, no, she was not married to him! And with a little forlorn smile she looked upon her hand again.

"And have you not a word to say?" said Thurstone, and now he was laughing for the first time.

He had refused excuses, and now he was laughing for the first time. No, she had no power of defence within her. Seeing him there before her eyes, alive, changed, haggard, suffering, seemed to fill up the measure of guilt, and she could only wonder at herself and shudder.

"What, have you nothing to say?" repeated Jocelyn bitterly. "Not one word?"

Oh, she had a thousand words of love, though not one of defence! But these would he not hear.

"Why not have sent a word to me? Oh, Jocelyn, why not one word—one single word to me?"

Her cry moved him; he was softened, but he struggled against the weakness and hardened himself again.

"I could not," he said. "At first I would not, for my father's sake; but I was not a man to take half-measures, and count a half-statement a whole one. I had to save my sister from the direful consequences of a folly as mad as my neglect, and I did it. What the deed cost me you can partly reckon up, for you know I loved you."

His voice faltered; it gave her courage to look up, but she would not give anguish on his face, and seeing it, had edged herself to the door.

"Remember," he added, "I too had to bear silence, and through it all I trusted you. I never looked forward to this."

"But I am a woman, and weak. If you had only written!"

"There was no post on the mountains, and no posts in prisons, Lillian."

(To be continued.)

The English Channel Tunnel.

The works which are going on at Abbot Cliff Tunnel, between Folkestone and Dover, on the southeastern railway, in connection with the sinking of a shaft for testing the geological formations of the locality, with a view to the formation of a tunnel between England and France, were inspected July 29, and the following interesting facts were noted by the Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies, and the Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies, and the Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies.

The Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies, and the Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies, and the Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies.

The Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies, and the Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies, and the Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies.

The Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies, and the Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies, and the Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies.

The Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies, and the Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies, and the Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies.

The Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies, and the Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies, and the Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies.

The Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies, and the Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies, and the Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies.

The Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies, and the Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies, and the Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies.

The Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies, and the Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies, and the Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies.

The Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies, and the Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies, and the Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies.

The Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies, and the Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies, and the Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies.

The Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies, and the Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies, and the Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies.

The Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies, and the Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies, and the Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies.

The Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies, and the Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies, and the Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies.

The Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies, and the Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies, and the Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies.

The Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies, and the Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies, and the Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies.

The Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies, and the Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies, and the Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies.

The Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies, and the Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies, and the Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies.

The Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies, and the Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies, and the Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary for the Colonies.

Miscellaneous.

AN ENGLISH VILLAGE CHURCH.—It was a fine old building, gray-towered, and full of intricate work of the fifteenth century; the high, old-fashioned pews were rapidly giving place to new ones, yet enough remained to give the church the look of permanent quietness we had expected. There were arches of pale-gray stone dividing the aisles, a brass lectern, a fine rood screen and organ placed in the chancel; the walls were of hammered stone; and high up on one, above a great square pew, was a carved and painted figure, shading out at arms-length the helmet, heraldic crest, and arms of a certain mediæval knight, who, in Chaucer's day, used to sit in this corner pew; for four centuries a long Latin inscription has borne testimony to his virtues and prowess, while his bones lay in the crypt below. Near some of the windows were vacant niches, which a shrine of water font of old days had filled. There were other tombs of mediæval date, some with effigies; indeed, in this, as in most old churches in Devonshire, the monuments were quaint and interesting in the extreme. In one the stone figure of a warrior, a Templar, with legs crossed, lay next to that of his wife, a priestess, whose effigy, coiffed, was set out upon the stone. From the church porch one could see the whole stretch of summer landscape, varied with such diversity as park, manor-house, and hunting fields could give; irregularly marked by hedges, shaded here and there by oaks, and shining where a thread of river pursued its way between level meadows, and a straggling line of poplars rose like sentinels, the whole closed by the uplands, that shone in the twilight with a rich purple glow, clouds rolling from their summits, a curl of gray mist floating away across the country, and giving a touch of autumn sobriety to the summer-tinted land.

Some primitive traditions still linger about these old parish churches in the nookland country. In one to which we drove one day we found the parish stocks still in their accustomed place in the church porch. No one there, but a crowd of boys, who, sitting on the uplands, that shone in the twilight with a rich purple glow, clouds rolling from their summits, a curl of gray mist floating away across the country, and giving a touch of autumn sobriety to the summer-tinted land.

Some primitive traditions still linger about these old parish churches in the nookland country. In one to which we drove one day we found the parish stocks still in their accustomed place in the church porch. No one there, but a crowd of boys, who, sitting on the uplands, that shone in the twilight with a rich purple glow, clouds rolling from their summits, a curl of gray mist floating away across the country, and giving a touch of autumn sobriety to the summer-tinted land.

Some primitive traditions still linger about these old parish churches in the nookland country. In one to which we drove one day we found the parish stocks still in their accustomed place in the church porch. No one there, but a crowd of boys, who, sitting on the uplands, that shone in the twilight with a rich purple glow, clouds rolling from their summits, a curl of gray mist floating away across the country, and giving a touch of autumn sobriety to the summer-tinted land.

Some primitive traditions still linger about these old parish churches in the nookland country. In one to which we drove one day we found the parish stocks still in their accustomed place in the church porch. No one there, but a crowd of boys, who, sitting on the uplands, that shone in the twilight with a rich purple glow, clouds rolling from their summits, a curl of gray mist floating away across the country, and giving a touch of autumn sobriety to the summer-tinted land.

Some primitive traditions still linger about these old parish churches in the nookland country. In one to which we drove one day we found the parish stocks still in their accustomed place in the church porch. No one there, but a crowd of boys, who, sitting on the uplands, that shone in the twilight with a rich purple glow, clouds rolling from their summits, a curl of gray mist floating away across the country, and giving a touch of autumn sobriety to the summer-tinted land.

Some primitive traditions still linger about these old parish churches in the nookland country. In one to which we drove one day we found the parish stocks still in their accustomed place in the church porch. No one there, but a crowd of boys, who, sitting on the uplands, that shone in the twilight with a rich purple glow, clouds rolling from their summits, a curl of gray mist floating away across the country, and giving a touch of autumn sobriety to the summer-tinted land.

Some primitive traditions still linger about these old parish churches in the nookland country. In one to which we drove one day we found the parish stocks still in their accustomed place in the church porch. No one there, but a crowd of boys, who, sitting on the uplands, that shone in the twilight with a rich purple glow, clouds rolling from their summits, a curl of gray mist floating away across the country, and giving a touch of autumn sobriety to the summer-tinted land.

Some primitive traditions still linger about these old parish churches in the nookland country. In one to which we drove one day we found the parish stocks still in their accustomed place in the church porch. No one there, but a crowd of boys, who, sitting on the uplands, that shone in the twilight with a rich purple glow, clouds rolling from their summits, a curl of gray mist floating away across the country, and giving a touch of autumn sobriety to the summer-tinted land.

Some primitive traditions still linger about these old parish churches in the nookland country. In one to which we drove one day we found the parish stocks still in their accustomed place in the church porch. No one there, but a crowd of boys, who, sitting on the uplands, that shone in the twilight with a rich purple glow, clouds rolling from their summits, a curl of gray mist floating away across the country, and giving a touch of autumn sobriety to the summer-tinted land.

Some primitive traditions still linger about these old parish churches in the nookland country. In one to which we drove one day we found the parish stocks still in their accustomed place in the church porch. No one there, but a crowd of boys, who, sitting on the uplands, that shone in the twilight with a rich purple glow, clouds rolling from their summits, a curl of gray mist floating away across the country, and giving a touch of autumn sobriety to the summer-tinted land.

Some primitive traditions still linger about these old parish churches in the nookland country. In one to which we drove one day we found the parish stocks still in their accustomed place in the church porch. No one there, but a crowd of boys, who, sitting on the uplands, that shone in the twilight with a rich purple glow, clouds rolling from their summits, a curl of gray mist floating away across the country, and giving a touch of autumn sobriety to the summer-tinted land.

Some primitive traditions still linger about these old parish churches in the nookland country. In one to which we drove one day we found the parish stocks still in their accustomed place in the church porch. No one there, but a crowd of boys, who, sitting on the uplands, that shone in the twilight with a rich purple glow, clouds rolling from their summits, a curl of gray mist floating away across the country, and giving a touch of autumn sobriety to the summer-tinted land.

Some primitive traditions still linger about these old parish churches in the nookland country. In one to which we drove one day we found the parish stocks still in their accustomed place in the church porch. No one there, but a crowd of boys, who, sitting on the uplands, that shone in the twilight with a rich purple glow, clouds rolling from their summits, a curl of gray mist floating away across the country, and giving a touch of autumn sobriety to the summer-tinted land.

Some primitive traditions still linger about these old parish churches in the nookland country. In one to which we drove one day we found the parish stocks still in their accustomed place in the church porch. No one there, but a crowd of boys, who, sitting on the uplands, that shone in the twilight with a rich purple glow, clouds rolling from their summits, a curl of gray mist floating away across the country, and giving a touch of autumn sobriety to the summer-tinted land.

Some primitive traditions still linger about these old parish churches in the nookland country. In one to which we drove one day we found the parish stocks still in their accustomed place in the church porch. No one there, but a crowd of boys, who, sitting on the uplands, that shone in the twilight with a rich purple glow, clouds rolling from their summits, a curl of gray mist floating away across the country, and giving a touch of autumn sobriety to the summer-tinted land.

Some primitive traditions still linger about these old parish churches in the nookland country. In one to which we drove one day we found the parish stocks still in their accustomed place in the church porch. No one there, but a crowd of boys, who, sitting on the uplands, that shone in the twilight with a rich purple glow, clouds rolling from their summits, a curl of gray mist floating away across the country, and giving a touch of autumn sobriety to the summer-tinted land.

Some primitive traditions still linger about these old parish churches in the nookland country. In one to which we drove one day we found the parish stocks still in their accustomed place in the church porch. No one there, but a crowd of boys, who, sitting on the uplands, that shone in the twilight with a rich purple glow, clouds rolling from their summits, a curl of gray mist floating away across the country, and giving a touch of autumn sobriety to the summer-tinted land.

Some primitive traditions still linger about these old parish churches in the nookland country. In one to which we drove one day we found the parish stocks still in their accustomed place in the church porch. No one there, but a crowd of boys, who, sitting on the uplands, that shone in the twilight with a rich purple glow, clouds rolling from their summits, a curl of gray mist floating away across the country, and giving a touch of autumn sobriety to the summer-tinted land.

Some primitive traditions still linger about these old parish churches in the nookland country. In one to which we drove one day we found the parish stocks still in their accustomed place in the church porch. No one there, but a crowd of boys, who, sitting on the uplands, that shone in the twilight with a rich purple glow, clouds rolling from their summits, a curl of gray mist floating away across the country, and giving a touch of autumn sobriety to the summer-tinted land.

Some primitive traditions still linger about these old parish churches in the nookland country. In one to which we drove one day we found the parish stocks still in their accustomed place in the church porch. No one there, but a crowd of boys, who, sitting on the uplands, that shone in the twilight with a rich purple glow, clouds rolling from their summits, a curl of gray mist floating away across the country, and giving a touch of autumn sobriety to the summer-tinted land.

Some primitive traditions still linger about these old parish churches in the nookland country. In one to which we drove one day we found the parish stocks still in their accustomed place in the church porch. No one there, but a crowd of boys, who, sitting on the uplands, that shone in the twilight with a rich purple glow, clouds rolling from their summits, a curl of gray mist floating away across the country, and giving a touch of autumn sobriety to the summer-tinted land.

Some primitive traditions still linger about these old parish churches in the nookland country. In one to which we drove one day we found the parish stocks still in their accustomed place in the church porch. No one there, but a crowd of boys, who, sitting on the uplands, that shone in the twilight with a rich purple glow, clouds rolling from their summits, a curl of gray mist floating away across the country, and giving a touch of autumn sobriety to the summer-tinted land.

Some primitive traditions still linger about these old parish churches in the nookland country. In one to which we drove one day we found the parish stocks still in their accustomed place in the church porch. No one there, but a crowd of boys, who, sitting on the uplands, that shone in the twilight with a rich purple glow, clouds rolling from their summits, a curl of gray mist floating away across the country, and giving a touch of autumn sobriety to the summer-tinted land.

Some primitive traditions still linger about these old parish churches in the nookland country. In one to which we drove one day we found the parish stocks still in their accustomed place in the church porch. No one there, but a crowd of boys, who, sitting on the uplands, that shone in the twilight with a rich purple glow, clouds rolling from their summits, a curl of gray mist floating away across the country, and giving a touch of autumn sobriety to the summer-tinted land.

Some primitive traditions still linger about these old parish churches in the nookland country. In one to which we drove one day we found the parish stocks still in their accustomed place in the church porch. No one there, but a crowd of boys, who, sitting on the uplands, that shone in the twilight with a rich purple glow, clouds rolling from their summits, a curl of gray mist floating away across the country, and giving a touch of autumn sobriety to the summer-tinted land.

Some primitive traditions still linger about these old parish churches in the nookland country. In one to which we drove one day we found the parish stocks still in their accustomed place in the church porch. No one there, but a crowd of boys, who, sitting on the uplands, that shone in the twilight with a rich purple glow, clouds rolling from their summits, a curl of gray mist floating away across the country, and giving a touch of autumn sobriety to the summer-tinted land.

Some primitive traditions still linger about these old parish churches in the nookland country. In one to which we drove one day we found the parish stocks still in their accustomed place in the church porch. No one there, but a crowd of boys, who, sitting on the uplands, that shone in the twilight with a rich purple glow, clouds rolling from their summits, a curl of gray mist floating away across the country, and giving a touch of autumn sobriety to the summer-tinted land.

Some primitive traditions still linger about these old parish churches in the nookland country. In one to which we drove one day we found the parish stocks still in their accustomed place in the church porch. No one there, but a crowd of boys, who, sitting on the uplands, that shone in the twilight with a rich purple glow, clouds rolling from their summits, a curl of gray mist floating away across the country, and giving a touch of autumn sobriety to the summer-tinted land.

Some primitive traditions still linger about these old parish churches in the nookland country. In one to which we drove one day we found the parish stocks still in their accustomed place in the church porch. No one there, but a crowd of boys, who, sitting on the uplands, that shone in the twilight with a rich purple glow, clouds rolling from their summits, a curl of gray mist floating away across the country, and giving a touch of autumn sobriety to the summer-tinted land.

Some primitive traditions still linger about these old parish churches in the nookland country. In one to which we drove one day we found the parish stocks still in their accustomed place in the church porch. No one there, but a crowd of boys, who, sitting on the uplands, that shone in the twilight with a rich purple glow, clouds rolling from their summits, a curl of gray mist floating away across the country, and giving a touch of autumn sobriety to the summer-tinted land.

Some primitive traditions still linger about these old parish churches in the nookland country. In one to which we drove one day we found the parish stocks still in their accustomed place in the church porch. No one there, but a crowd of boys, who, sitting on the uplands, that shone in the twilight with a rich purple glow, clouds rolling from their summits, a curl of gray mist floating away across the country, and giving a touch of autumn sobriety to the summer-tinted land.

Some primitive traditions still linger about these old parish churches in the nookland country. In one to which we drove one day we found the parish stocks still in their accustomed place in the church porch. No one there, but a crowd of boys, who, sitting on the uplands, that shone in the twilight with a rich purple glow, clouds rolling from their summits, a curl of gray mist floating away across the country, and giving a touch of autumn sobriety to the summer-tinted land.

Some primitive traditions still linger about these old parish churches in the nookland country. In one to which we drove one day we found the parish stocks still in their accustomed place in the church porch. No one there, but a crowd of boys, who, sitting on the uplands, that shone in the twilight with a rich purple glow, clouds rolling from their summits, a curl of gray mist floating away across the country, and giving a touch of autumn sobriety to the summer-tinted land.

Some primitive traditions still linger about these old parish churches in the nookland country. In one to which we drove one day we found the parish stocks still in their accustomed place in the church porch. No one there, but a crowd of boys, who, sitting on the uplands, that shone in the twilight with a rich purple glow, clouds rolling from their summits, a curl of gray mist floating away across the country, and giving a touch of autumn sobriety to the summer-tinted land.

Some primitive traditions still linger about these old parish churches in the nookland country. In one to which we drove one day we found the parish stocks still in their accustomed place in the church porch. No one there, but a crowd of boys, who, sitting on the uplands, that shone in the twilight with a rich purple glow, clouds rolling from their summits, a curl of gray mist floating away across the country, and giving a touch of autumn sobriety to the summer-tinted land.

Some primitive traditions still linger about these old parish churches in the nookland country. In one to which we drove one day we found the parish stocks still in their accustomed place in the church porch. No one there, but a crowd of boys, who, sitting on the uplands, that shone in the twilight with a rich purple glow, clouds rolling from their summits, a curl of gray mist floating away across the country, and giving a touch of autumn sobriety to the summer-tinted land.

Some primitive traditions still linger about these old parish churches in the nookland country. In one to which we drove one day we found the parish stocks still in their accustomed place in the church porch. No one there, but a crowd of boys, who, sitting on the uplands, that shone in the twilight with a rich purple glow, clouds rolling from their summits, a curl of gray mist floating away across the country, and giving a touch of autumn sobriety to the summer-tinted land.

Some primitive traditions still linger about these old parish churches in the nookland country. In one to which we drove one day we found the parish stocks still in their accustomed place in the church porch. No one there, but a crowd of boys, who, sitting on the uplands, that shone in the twilight with a rich purple glow, clouds rolling from their summits, a curl of gray mist floating away across the country, and giving a touch of autumn sobriety to the summer-tinted land.

Some primitive traditions still linger about these old parish churches in the nookland country. In one to which we drove one day we found the parish stocks still in their accustomed place in the church porch. No one there, but a crowd of boys, who, sitting on the uplands, that shone in the twilight with a rich purple glow, clouds rolling from their summits, a curl of gray mist floating away across the country, and giving a touch of autumn sobriety to the summer-tinted land.

Some primitive traditions still linger about these old parish churches in the nookland country. In one to which we drove one day we found the parish stocks still in their accustomed place in the church porch. No one there, but a crowd of boys, who, sitting on the uplands, that shone in the twilight with a rich purple glow, clouds rolling from their summits, a curl of gray mist floating away across the country, and giving a touch of autumn sobriety to the summer-tinted land.

Some primitive traditions still linger about these old parish churches in the nookland country. In one to which we drove one day we found the parish stocks still in their accustomed place in the church porch. No one there, but a crowd of boys, who, sitting on the uplands, that shone in the twilight with a rich purple glow, clouds rolling from their summits, a curl of gray mist floating away across the country, and giving a touch of autumn sobriety to the summer-tinted land.

Some primitive traditions still linger about these old parish churches in the nookland country. In one to which we drove one day we found the parish stocks still in their accustomed place in the church porch. No one there, but a crowd of boys, who, sitting on the uplands, that shone in the twilight with a rich purple glow, clouds rolling from their summits, a curl of gray mist floating away across the country, and giving a touch of autumn sobriety to the summer-tinted land.

Some primitive traditions still linger about these old parish churches in the nookland country. In one to which we drove one day we found the parish stocks still in their accustomed place in the church porch. No one there, but a crowd of boys, who, sitting on the uplands, that shone in the twilight with a rich purple glow, clouds rolling from their summits, a curl of gray mist floating away across the country, and giving a touch of autumn sobriety to the summer-tinted land.

MILLER BROTHERS, VEGETINE

ALL SPEAK IN ITS FAVOR. BUCKINGHAM, Ont., March 23, 1880. Dear Sir—I have sold your VEGETINE since it was first introduced into Canada, and most cheerfully recommend it to all who are in want of a blood purifier, and believe it to be just what it is advertised to be, a purely vegetable compound. My customers all speak in favor of it. My sales are steadily increasing. I have sold many articles of the same description, but VEGETINE gives the most real and satisfactory results. G. T. WILFORD & CO., 175 King Street, West.

Dear Sir—Having used the VEGETINE myself, I have much pleasure in recommending it to any afflicted with Dyspepsia or Liver Complaint. I have not had it for some time, but since taking it nearly two years ago, and consider the VEGETINE the best I have ever used. Yours, &c., JAMES ROSS.

Dear Sir—This is to certify that the undersigned has sold the VEGETINE for the past ten years with the happiest results. For skin diseases and a blood purifier it has no equal. HENRY F. MCCARTHY, (Medical Hall) Wellington Street.

Dear Sir—I advise you of the good results of your VEGETINE. My wife's father, now nearly fifty years old, was attacked with Dyspepsia in the worst form. His head and face were swollen so that he was blind, and one of his limbs were badly swollen and discolored, and broke out in several places and sores. The physician said there was no remedy that could cure him, as he was an old man. To gratify a son-in-law, he was induced to take your VEGETINE. Seven bottles he used, and he is now a healthy old man. Last Spring I was troubled with a disorder of the stomach, with a swollen skin, want of appetite, cold extremities, and headache. I satisfied that this condition of things arose from the impurities of the blood. I took two bottles of VEGETINE; it cured me, and I am satisfied it is the best tonic and blood purifier in the market, and am only too happy to have known these facts to the world. Yours very truly, A. MENNIE.

Dear Sir—I advise you of the good results of your VEGETINE. My wife's father, now nearly fifty years old, was attacked with Dyspepsia in the worst form. His head and face were swollen so that he was blind, and one of his limbs were badly swollen and discolored, and broke out in several places and sores. The physician said there was no remedy that could cure him, as he was an old man. To gratify a son-in-law, he was induced to take your VEGETINE. Seven bottles he used, and he is now a healthy old man. Last Spring I was troubled with a disorder of the stomach, with a swollen skin, want of appetite, cold extremities, and headache. I satisfied that this condition of things arose from the impurities of the blood. I took two bottles of VEGETINE; it cured me, and I am satisfied it is the best tonic and blood purifier in the market, and am only too happy to have known these facts to the world. Yours very truly, A. MENNIE.

Dear Sir—I advise you of the good results of your VEGETINE. My wife's father, now nearly fifty years old, was attacked with Dyspepsia in the worst form. His head and face were swollen so that he was blind, and one of his limbs were badly swollen and discolored, and broke out in several places and sores. The physician said there was no remedy that could cure him, as he was an old man. To gratify a son-in-law, he was induced to take your VEGETINE. Seven bottles he used, and he is now a healthy old man. Last Spring I was troubled with a disorder of the stomach, with a swollen skin, want of appetite, cold extremities, and headache. I satisfied that this condition of things arose from the impurities of the blood. I took two bottles of VEGETINE; it cured me, and I am satisfied it is the best tonic and blood purifier in the market, and am only too happy to have known these facts to the world. Yours very truly, A. MENNIE.

Dear Sir—I advise you of the good results of your VEGETINE. My wife's father, now nearly fifty years old, was attacked with Dyspepsia in the worst form. His head and face were swollen so that he was blind, and one of his limbs were badly swollen and discolored, and broke out in several places and sores. The physician said there was no remedy that could cure him, as he was an old man. To gratify a son-in-law, he was induced to take your VEGETINE. Seven bottles he used, and he is now a healthy old man. Last Spring I was troubled with a disorder of the stomach, with a swollen skin, want of appetite, cold extremities, and headache. I satisfied that this condition of things arose from the impurities of the blood. I took two bottles of VEGETINE; it cured me, and I am satisfied it is the best tonic and blood purifier in the market, and am only too happy to have known these facts to the world. Yours very truly, A. MENNIE.

Dear Sir—I advise you of the good results of your VEGETINE. My wife's father, now nearly fifty years old, was attacked with Dyspepsia in the worst form. His head and face were swollen so that he was blind, and one of his limbs were badly swollen and discolored, and broke out in several places and sores. The physician said there was no remedy that could cure him, as he was an old man. To gratify a son-in-law, he was induced to take your VEGETINE. Seven bottles he used, and he is now a healthy old man. Last Spring I was troubled with a disorder of the stomach, with a swollen skin, want of appetite, cold extremities, and headache. I satisfied that this condition of things arose from the impurities of the blood. I took two bottles of VEGETINE; it cured me, and I am satisfied it is the best tonic and blood purifier in the market, and am only too happy to have known these facts to the world. Yours very truly, A. MENNIE.

Dear Sir—I advise you of the good results of your VEGETINE. My wife's father, now nearly fifty years old, was attacked with Dyspepsia in the worst form. His head and face were swollen so that he was blind, and one of his limbs were badly swollen and discolored, and broke out in several places and sores. The physician said there was no remedy that could cure him, as he was an old man. To gratify a son-in-law, he was induced to take your VEGETINE. Seven bottles he used, and he is now a healthy old man. Last Spring I was troubled with a disorder of the stomach, with a swollen skin, want of appetite, cold extremities, and headache. I satisfied that this condition of things arose from the impurities of the blood. I took two bottles of VEGETINE; it cured me, and I am satisfied it is the best tonic and blood purifier in the market, and am only too happy to have known these facts to the world. Yours very truly, A. MENNIE.

Dear Sir—I advise you of the good results of your VEGETINE. My wife's father, now nearly fifty years old, was attacked with Dyspepsia in the worst form. His head and face were swollen so that he was blind, and one of his limbs were badly swollen and discolored, and broke out in several places and sores. The physician said there was no remedy that could cure him, as he was an old man. To gratify a son-in-law, he was induced to take your VEGETINE. Seven bottles he used, and he is now a healthy old man. Last Spring I was troubled with a disorder of the stomach, with a swollen skin, want of appetite, cold extremities, and headache. I satisfied that this condition of things arose from the impurities of the blood. I took two bottles of VEGETINE; it cured me, and I am satisfied it is the best tonic and blood purifier in the market, and am only too happy to have known these facts to the world. Yours very truly, A. MENNIE.

Dear Sir—I advise you of the good results of your VEGETINE. My wife's father, now nearly fifty years old, was attacked with Dyspepsia in the worst form. His head and face were swollen so that he was blind, and one of his limbs were badly swollen and discolored, and broke out in several places and sores. The physician said there was no remedy that could cure him, as he was an old man. To gratify a son-in-law, he was induced to take your VEGETINE. Seven bottles he used, and he is now a healthy old man. Last Spring I was troubled with a disorder of the stomach, with a swollen skin, want of appetite, cold extremities, and headache. I satisfied that this condition of things arose from the impurities of the blood. I took two bottles of VEGETINE; it cured