GREAT SMASH ON WEST FRONT

ROUT OF AUSTRIANS CONTINUES LIGHTNING BLOW BY CANADIANS AS ITALIANS HAMMER FORWARD HAS BOTTLED UP VALENCIENNES

Resistance at Livorno is Annihilated, Pordenone, Belluno and Other Towns Captured, Prisoners Increased and Billions in Booty Taken.

London, Nov. 1.—General Diaz, the Italian commander-in-chief, handed the armistice terms to the Austrian commander today, according to The Evening Star. The terms of the armistice, the newspaper adds, will be published tomorrow.

Washington, Nov. 1.—Rout of the Austrian armies on the Italian front continued, said an official despatch tonight from Rome. The number of prisoners is increasing rapidly and continuously, while more than 700 captured guns have been counted. The booty captured already is of enormous quantity.

After annihilating the resistance of the Austrians at the Livorno, Italian cavalry divisions have pushed forward and now are nearing the Tagliamento River. Great numbers of airplanes preceding the Italian troops are using their machine guns on the retreating enemy columns.

The Italians also are fast advancing in the direction of Udine and Pordenone already has been taken. The third army, reinforced by marines, has occupied the whole intricate zone along the Adriatic. Belluno has been occupied by the seventh army, while at the extreme western sector of the front Italian marines have occupied Caorle.

Strong Resistance. From the Stelvio to the Astico the Austrians are strongly resisting, the despatch said, but they are wavering beyond the Asiago Plateau and are in utter rout all along the rest of the front.

"The battle continues all along the front," said the despatch. "The enemy is strongly maintaining his resistance from the Stelvio to the Astico, but he is wavering beyond the Asiago Plateau and is in utter rout all along the rest of the front. The greatest defence that the enemy has is the natural obstacles along the rest of his retreat. Our troops are full of enthusiasm and are following the enemy relentlessly. The Italian artillery has been rapidly brought into action and all the captured enemy artillery is being used to hamper the retreat.

"Divisions of Italian cavalry have annihilated the resistance of the enemy at the Livorno, have re-established the communications to make the passage of the infantry easier, and are already nearing the Tagliamento River.

"The sixth Italian army went into action yesterday, and after a brilliant carried on an irresistible action on the front, supported by the Ancona Brigade.

Valley is Occupied. "The fourth army has completed the occupation of the valley of Fonzaso and the Bologna brigade has occupied Filz.

"The twelfth army, after conquering the pass of Quero, has rapidly advanced south of Belluno, and after brilliantly rounding the depression of Valadol, has advanced on Belluno and occupied the city.

"The number of prisoners is increasing rapidly. More than 700 guns captured have already been counted. The booty captured is of an enormous quantity."

Formation of German-Austrian Force is Proceeding. "The third army, reinforced also by a regiment of marines, has occupied the whole intricate zone along the Adriatic.

"In the direction of Udine the Italian troops are also fast advancing. Pordenone has fallen into our hands. At the extreme eastern sector of the front Italian marines have occupied Caorle.

"Great numbers of airplanes are preceding our troops and are operating their machine guns on the retreating enemy columns.

London, Nov. 1.—The armistice accepted by Turkey amounts to "complete and unconditional surrender."

This statement was made by Lord Robert Cecil, assistant secretary of state for foreign affairs, to the Associated Press tonight.

Lord Robert emphasized the statement of the foreign office by saying that "no secret undertakings or engagements have been made with Turkey as far as the British Government is concerned."

He added that the armistice had been signed by Great Britain on behalf of all the allies.

Discussing conditions in Germany Lord Robert said the indications of the last day or two were that the pan-Germans were losing their hold. He declared that no Bolshevism had been reported in Germany, but that it was spreading in a part of Austria.

Only Immediate Retirement or Something in Nature of a Miracle Can Save German Troops There—French Launch Successful Attack on the Aisne Front—Belgians Continue Gains

With the British Army in France and Belgium, Nov. 1.—Valenciennes today was bottled up as the result of a lightning blow by the British on both sides of the city. Only immediate retirement from the place, or something in the nature of a miracle, can save the German troops, who at noon had only a narrow gateway open to them for retreat toward the east.

Meantime, the French and British and Americans along the Deynze-Avelghem front in Belgium continued successfully the advance begun yesterday morning. The heavy enemy resistance encountered on this sector was broken.

The main attack at Valenciennes was south of the city, just above Farnars. The Canadians, who engineered the drive, were supported by one of the heaviest artillery bombardments of the war. The gunfire was terrific, and this made the going easy for the overseas infantry which followed.

The idea of the Canadians in using this great barrage was to crush the resistance as quickly as possible, so as to save allied lives. The bombardment had the desired effect, for the opposition offered by the enemy was not strong, and the Canadians pushed their lines, which gave them the whole of the railway line running south from Valenciennes.

The enemy's casualties were heavy, and the little Rhonelle River was lined with German dead. About noon the enemy massed for counter-attacks from Sautain. According to the latest reports the Canadian artillery was dealing with the projected assault.

At the same time the Canadians attacked with other British troops, and drove forward north of the city, and forced a crossing of the Scheldt. Aubequerque was gravely threatened today. The fighting yesterday was of a different nature. The German artillery installed a heavy fire through the city, and German machine gunners, scattered in great numbers throughout the sector, fought stubbornly until they were killed or compelled to surrender. The main resistance came from these sources.

The battle waged more or less over open ground, among hamlets and farmhouses, which still are inhabited by Belgian civilians. Enemy machine gunners were stationed in practically every house, and the civilians, who had no protection but their homes, covered in advance while the fierce fighting swirled about them.

French Launch Attack. Paris, Nov. 1.—The Fourth French Army in conjunction with the Americans on their right, launched an attack this morning on the Aisne front, to the north and south of Vouziers, according to the official statement issued by the war office in Valenciennes. The attack was on a front of about 121-2 miles from the region east of Attigny to the north of Oilly.

Five Mile Advance. London, Nov. 1.—Today's attack in Flanders was rewarded by an advance of more than five miles on a ten-mile front. It brought the allies to the Scheldt from Berchem to Gaver, 10 miles south of Ghent. This advance probably will enable the Belgians to push the enemy over the Derivation Canal to the Terneuzen Canal.

South of Valenciennes the attack resulted in an advance of two miles on a four-mile front and the capture of Aulnoy and Preseau, thus reaching the southern edge of Valenciennes, which is flooded.

The French and Americans on the southern part of the battle line, attacking through Athigny, have advanced beyond three and four miles and are nearing Buzancy.

Won't Damage Town. British Headquarters in France, Nov. 1.—The British batteries speedily could render Valenciennes untenable, but it is not desired that the town should be damaged. This fact is largely responsible for the prolongation of the fighting around Valenciennes.

Today's attack brought the British well up on the high ground southeast of Valenciennes and in a position to dominate the enemy's line of communication. That the Germans anticipate an attempt to storm the town is indicated by the fact that they are evacuating the civilian inhabitants.

The vigorous counter-attacks and hard fighting by the Germans today proved that it is the enemy's intention to cling to this important strategic point as long as possible. But the tightening of the grip of the allies presently is bound to squeeze the enemy out of Valenciennes.

Toward the Apex. With the British Forces in Belgium, Nov. 1.—As the result of the operations of Gen. Plumer's army in conjunction with the Belgian forces there has been a great extension of the allied front northwards, along the Scheldt River. The observation post of Tournai is beginning to figure as the apex of a large salient.

The appearance of American troops in this fighting must be the source of great discomfort to the Germans, reminding them in a most effective way of the rapidly increasing strength of the American armies, and Marshal Foch's ability to throw their weight in this part of the western front without relating the major operations.

CLEARING MINES FROM DARDANELLES

Large Fleet of British Mine Sweepers Yesterday Began the Task.

NAVAL FIGHT LIKELY Allied Fleet Will Probably Come to Grips With Former Russian Vessels.

London, Nov. 1.—A large fleet of the latest types of British mine sweepers today began the tedious task of clearing the Dardanelles of mines and other obstructions. This work, together with other safeguards which the allies consider to be necessary before the allied fleet enters the tortuous waterway leading past Constantinople and thru the Bosphorus to the Black Sea, will take several days, in the opinion of the British admiralty.

A fortnight ago the allied fleet tested the efficiency of the forts inside the Dardanelles by dropping a few shells on them. The reply of the Turks was quick and fairly accurate, showing that the fortifications are still probably in good shape. The 50-mile passage thru the waterway is a veritable sea of mines and other obstructions, which it will require some little time to remove. In addition, the mine sweepers will be hindered by the swift currents, which are stronger at this season of the year than at any other.

The allied fleet, it is believed, is sure to come to grips with the old Russian fleet in the Black Sea if the war continues a few weeks longer. There is every reason to believe that the Germans have put this fleet in good order. It consists of seven pre-dreadnaughts, two cruisers and 12 submarines, besides at least 28 other types of war craft. The enemy has the advantage of three good bases in the Black Sea—Odessa, Sebastopol and Nikolayev—but it is likely that they are short of ammunition. At Nikolayev four cruisers are being built. One of them is nearly completed.

steadily developing under the direction of General Pershing.

The British troops rapidly attained their first objectives. As a rule the enemy fought stubbornly, but not desperately, and was not long in retreating when in a tight corner. Light tanks did invaluable work in dealing with camouflaged machine gun nests. So quickly did the attack go in some places that the enemy's motor ambulances and mechanical transport were captured before they could be cranked up.

The British are fighting typical field warfare. The line of attack is developing into a series of local combats in which cycling patrols are participating and doing excellent service with their machine guns.

The Germans have launched some counter-attacks, but these were nowhere successful.

Headquarters of the Fourth French Army, Nov. 1—Gen. Gouraud's army attacked this morning on a front of five to six miles between the Aisne and the Argonne, in conjunction with the first American army on his right. The immediate objective of the French commander in this region is to clear the enemy out of the thickly wooded and much broken mass of the Argonne, the last natural fortress which remains to him until he reaches the Ardennes.

Ever since Sept. 27 the Germans have hung to the Argonne in spite of the unremitting endeavors of the French army on the west and the Americans on the east of the forest. After a series of extremely difficult and hotly contested attacks, Gen. Gouraud has succeeded in establishing himself on the left bank of the Aisne between the villages of Tervon and Palaise, a distance of about five miles.

With the river at their backs, and little more than a mile from the German trenches between them and the forest, the operation was one of considerable difficulty. The night was spent in throwing bridges across the Aisne, in preparation for the passage of an important force with its material. The enemy knew that the attack was coming, but seems to have been unaware that it would be so far north as it did, and he left the bridge-makers almost undisturbed.

Started at 6 a.m. The attack was launched shortly before 6 o'clock after a whirlwind artillery preparation of 30 minutes. The Germans had not acted wisely in leaving the bridging troops unmolested. The Aisne was crossed opposite the village of Vonceq, which is an important position was occupied soon after 9 o'clock. The loop of the Aisne opposite Semuy, which was held by the enemy and formed a salient in the allied line, protected by the winding course of the river, was carried. Rilly-aux-Oris then was captured and the French troops pressed up the river bank opposite Semuy.

By the middle of the morning Gen. Gouraud's men had largely occupied their first line of objectives in spite of an energetic and increasing resistance on the part of the enemy. Semuy was endangered, Vonceq, which is situated on a lofty spur overlooking the river and was the most important position on the front of attack, was carried with a considerable bag of prisoners.

Palaise Occupied. Possession of Vonceq enabled the Germans to enfilade the whole Aisne valley as far south as Voziers and gave them wide views up and down the river. Further south Hill 193 on the left bank was captured, and Palaise has been occupied and the line is making satisfactory progress eastward in the teeth of a stiffening artillery fire.

The enemy's position to provide for an attack north of Tervon, which marks the limit of Gouraud's holdings on the left bank of the Aisne, seems to have assured the success of the first day of the new operation. The attack of General Gouraud's army must be taken in conjunction with the American attack on a much larger scale, which is progressing in the most encouraging fashion, on the other side of the Argonne. Last night the enemy was stated, Gouraud held a narrow strip about five miles long on the left bank of the Aisne, marked by the villages of Tervon, Vandy and Palaise. South of Palaise his line passed by Olizy, three miles to Grand Pre, on the eastern edge of the forest. At Grand Pre, Gouraud is in touch with the American army on his right.

Must Be Evacuated. North of Grand Pre, the enemy's flank is protected by an impenetrable labyrinth of wooded hills and ravines, the Bois de Bas and the Forêt de Bouilly, which it is the intention of both the French and American armies to turn. General Gouraud's front of attack is directed straight north. It is clear that as Gouraud's army advances northeast across the Argonne, while the Americans progress northwards, the mass of the Bois de Bas and the Bois de Bas will be turned by the French from the north and the way to the north will be clear.

The future operations towards Metz and the German main lines of communication with Germany seem to depend largely on the success of the battles launched today on both sides of the Argonne. When the enemy has been evicted from the woods and ravines of the great forest, and the French and American armies have joined hands beyond it, the way to the north will be clear.

The text of the French statement reads: "Between St. Quentin le Petit and Herpy the fighting was resumed this morning and continued all day. In spite of the resistance, the enemy had to give up ground in the region of Banogne and Recourvaux. To the west of Herpy we captured prisoners.

The troops of the fourth army in conjunction with the American army on the right, attacked this morning on the Aisne front to the north and south of Voziers on a front of twenty kilometers to the north of Olizy. We penetrated into German positions, strongly held and defended with stubbornness to the east of Atilly. We have captured Rilly-aux-Oris.

In the East. "Further south our troops have crossed the Aisne and carried Semuy and Vonceq in their fighting and are pushing strategically toward the east. They have pushed back the enemy over three kilometers in this locality. They have deeply penetrated into the Vonceq wood.

"The battle has not been very violent on the heights to the east of Voziers. We have taken a foothold on the plateau of Les Aulx, to the northeast of Voziers. We have reached the western outskirts of the Vandy wood and also the brook to the east of Chastreux.

"On our right our troops have gone beyond Palaise and have conquered the forest to the southwest of the village. Up to the present several hundred prisoners have been reported with a certain number of guns, including four water-cooled machine guns.

Airplane Raids. "Aviation: Our chasing airplanes have carried out a number of reconnoitering excursions and have brought down five enemy machines. During the night some of our machines were able to drop a ton and a half of bombs on the railway stations at Longuy and Barconceux, where great activity has been observed.

"Eastern theatre (Oct. 31). In spite of the difficulties of the ground and the interruption of railway and roads, the Serbian army is pursuing without respite the fleeing Austro-German forces. The Serbian vanguards have advanced over 100 kilometers in eight days. The first Serbian army, supported by French and Serbian cavalry, is approaching Semendria and has reached the outer defences of Belgrade. The second Serbian army has occupied Fojuga, forty kilometers from the Bosnian frontier.

Belgian Official. "Belgian communication: The offensive operation begun on Oct. 31 by the group of armies in Flanders, was continued with success during the course of the day. To the south the second British army threw the enemy into disorder on the Scheldt up to the height of Melden, capturing the strongly-held villages of Ansegem, Elghem, Caster and Elsenker. The second British army had counted at the end of Oct. 31, the first day of the battle, 9,000 prisoners and three guns.

"To the centre, the Franco-American armies in Belgium have captured the heights of Apremont, between the Lys and the Scheldt and have advanced up the latter river to Demiden on a front of 15 kilometers, making in the two days a battle an advance of from eight to sixteen kilometers.

"Nineteen villages have been reconquered by the Franco-Americans, particularly the important centres of Deynze, Nazareth, Cruyssen and Ville-Audenarde. The Franco-Americans had counted up to the night of Oct. 31, a thousand prisoners and had captured two complete batteries.

"To the north, the Belgian army had carried out with success operations of detail on the Canals de Derivation de la Lys. The French tanks have efficaciously supported the infantry.

"The Belgian populations freed from the German yoke have received with indescribable enthusiasm the liberating armies and have decorated their houses with flags.

of wooded hills and ravines, the Bois de Bas and the Forêt de Bouilly, which it is the intention of both the French and American armies to turn. General Gouraud's front of attack is directed straight north. It is clear that as Gouraud's army advances northeast across the Argonne, while the Americans progress northwards, the mass of the Bois de Bas and the Bois de Bas will be turned by the French from the north and the way to the north will be clear.

The future operations towards Metz and the German main lines of communication with Germany seem to depend largely on the success of the battles launched today on both sides of the Argonne. When the enemy has been evicted from the woods and ravines of the great forest, and the French and American armies have joined hands beyond it, the way to the north will be clear.

The text of the French statement reads: "Between St. Quentin le Petit and Herpy the fighting was resumed this morning and continued all day. In spite of the resistance, the enemy had to give up ground in the region of Banogne and Recourvaux. To the west of Herpy we captured prisoners.

The troops of the fourth army in conjunction with the American army on the right, attacked this morning on the Aisne front to the north and south of Voziers on a front of twenty kilometers to the north of Olizy. We penetrated into German positions, strongly held and defended with stubbornness to the east of Atilly. We have captured Rilly-aux-Oris.

In the East. "Further south our troops have crossed the Aisne and carried Semuy and Vonceq in their fighting and are pushing strategically toward the east. They have pushed back the enemy over three kilometers in this locality. They have deeply penetrated into the Vonceq wood.

"The battle has not been very violent on the heights to the east of Voziers. We have taken a foothold on the plateau of Les Aulx, to the northeast of Voziers. We have reached the western outskirts of the Vandy wood and also the brook to the east of Chastreux.

"On our right our troops have gone beyond Palaise and have conquered the forest to the southwest of the village. Up to the present several hundred prisoners have been reported with a certain number of guns, including four water-cooled machine guns.

Airplane Raids. "Aviation: Our chasing airplanes have carried out a number of reconnoitering excursions and have brought down five enemy machines. During the night some of our machines were able to drop a ton and a half of bombs on the railway stations at Longuy and Barconceux, where great activity has been observed.

"Eastern theatre (Oct. 31). In spite of the difficulties of the ground and the interruption of railway and roads, the Serbian army is pursuing without respite the fleeing Austro-German forces. The Serbian vanguards have advanced over 100 kilometers in eight days. The first Serbian army, supported by French and Serbian cavalry, is approaching Semendria and has reached the outer defences of Belgrade. The second Serbian army has occupied Fojuga, forty kilometers from the Bosnian frontier.

Belgian Official. "Belgian communication: The offensive operation begun on Oct. 31 by the group of armies in Flanders, was continued with success during the course of the day. To the south the second British army threw the enemy into disorder on the Scheldt up to the height of Melden, capturing the strongly-held villages of Ansegem, Elghem, Caster and Elsenker. The second British army had counted at the end of Oct. 31, the first day of the battle, 9,000 prisoners and three guns.

"To the centre, the Franco-American armies in Belgium have captured the heights of Apremont, between the Lys and the Scheldt and have advanced up the latter river to Demiden on a front of 15 kilometers, making in the two days a battle an advance of from eight to sixteen kilometers.

"Nineteen villages have been reconquered by the Franco-Americans, particularly the important centres of Deynze, Nazareth, Cruyssen and Ville-Audenarde. The Franco-Americans had counted up to the night of Oct. 31, a thousand prisoners and had captured two complete batteries.

"To the north, the Belgian army had carried out with success operations of detail on the Canals de Derivation de la Lys. The French tanks have efficaciously supported the infantry.

"The Belgian populations freed from the German yoke have received with indescribable enthusiasm the liberating armies and have decorated their houses with flags.

BUY BONDS—THREE SOLDIERS DIE. Three soldiers of Toronto military district died of influenza or its complications during the past 24 hours. One died at the Base Hospital. The admissions to the Base Hospital are still declining.

Toronto is rolling up totals for Victory Bonds daily, and the results of yesterday's total of $28,743,600 was reported when the team captains met last night. The special subscriptions committee was able to announce several fine, big additions to those already given out, which swelled the total by $3,225,000.

The teams were in fine fettle, and good-natured rivalry existed, which was shown by the changes passed back and forth from team to team. G. H. Wood, chairman of the provincial organization, told of the fine work being done throughout Ontario. However, in spite of the wonderful work that was being done, Mr. Wood said that the percentage of objective in the province, not counting Toronto, was behind what it should be at this time.

Up to Friday night the province should be able to show 22.2 per cent. of its total objective, but was only able to produce bonds to the amount of 18.2 per cent. of the amount, however, the special subscriptions, however, were in advance of the necessary percentage. This date, being 46 per cent. when only 22.2 per cent. was required.

Mr. Wood issued a challenge from the provincial organization to the teams of Toronto. For every million increase that Toronto could show over last year, he said, Ontario would show four million increase.

J. W. S. Stewart read out the list of firms that had to date received honor flags, and made special mention of the wonderful work done by the employees of the Robert Simpson Company, who had raised $1060 for every employee of the store overseas, amounting in all to $465,300.

Everything is Peaches Down in Georgia American Quartet 18497

Carolina, I'm Coming Back to You Peerless Quartet

"Everything is Peaches Down in Georgia" is as lively as the wren's chirp. "Carolina, I'm Coming Back to You" is a contrast to the above; more tender in sentiment.

Oui, Oui, Marie Arthur Fields 18505

We Don't Want the Bacon Peerless Quartet

"We Don't Want the Bacon" is a piece of the Rhine; it is a typical doughboy song, full of ginger. It's worth a peep full of money to hear Arthur Fields sing "Oui, Oui, Marie" in the strains of "Oui, Oui, Marie" on the reverse side.

Hindustan—Fox Trot Jos. C. Smith's Orch. 18507

"Hindustan" has the orient's touch; vigorous melody and intense rhythm. On the reverse side is "N' Everything," full of energy and pep.

Oh! How I Wish I Could Sleep Until My Daddy Comes Home Henry Burr 18506

There's Nobody Home But Me Chas. Hart

The search for homes for the little ones in "Oh! How I Wish I Could Sleep Until My Daddy Comes Home" is brought out strongly by Henry Burr. On the reverse—"There's Nobody Home But Me," applies to the brave spirit of a little child-year-by in khaki by Arthur Field.

The number of deaths from all causes in the city last month was 1881, as compared with 404 in the previous month and 445 in October of last year.

OUR NEW MEN

A great many new men are now in training on the street cars as motor-men and conductors. The work is strange to them, and to a considerable number the city itself is strange. They will not be able to make change as quickly, issue transfers, know street names and otherwise do their work as smoothly as they will be later on.

They could be greatly helped if passengers would bear in mind that they are trying to make good at a new job, and assist them by having their fares ready, moving to the front of the car, and otherwise lightening the labors of these newcomers as much as possible. Both the men themselves and the company would appreciate any forbearance and patience the public can show them, until they thoroughly understand their duties.

The new men are being trained by older employes to be polite and attentive to passengers, and it is naturally assumed that the training they receive will in the future reflect credit on their instructors.

In the meantime the citizens, by a little thoughtfulness, can make their work much easier, and at the same time assist in improving the general service.

F. T. Parker, brother of Corporal Parker, whose disposition at the Newmarket Military Hospital has been subject to criticism, yesterday afternoon that the corporal left Liverpool in January, 1917, arriving in Canada three weeks later. He was sent to Spadina Military Hospital and shortly after started to attend the Technical school on Harbord street, where he studied mechanical drawing. It was his custom to leave the hospital early so as to arrive at the school on time. He was an amputation case and walking was difficult. Mr. Parker stated that his brother was ordered one morning by the O.C. of the hospital to delay starting for the school until after parade hours. This inconvenienced his plans to such an extent that it preyed on his mind. He had now to go out to school as an out-patient, and was unable to afford the expense. He was taken sick after attempting to continue his studies during the next few weeks. He was sent to Cobourg in June, 1917, remaining there until the Newmarket Hospital opened, September, 1917. He was kept in Newmarket until January, 1918, when he had to all appearances recovered. From there he was sent to Davisville Hospital to be fitted with a new limb. He was refused a ten-day pass and was told to go to Newmarket where he belonged. This further aggravated his worry, stated his brother yesterday. Instead of returning to Newmarket the corporal took 19 days' French leave, and then returned to Davisville where he was refitted for a limb. He was fined 18 days' pay, and was then immediately given two weeks' leave of absence, and this pass was extended until he had had nearly seven weeks' leave. Pay Held Back. The brother further stated that the

SIMPSON'S STAFF OUT FOR RECORD

Has Entered into Victory Loan Campaign in Dead Earnest. A FEATURE EVERY DAY Objective Reached and Passed and a New One Set Up.

No staff of employees in Canada has entered into the great national effort to make the Victory Loan campaign a tremendous success more heartily than the 5,500 Toronto employees of The Robert Simpson Company, Limited.

From the president to the youngest junior, since the opening whistles blew, every member has worked and subscribed to the limit, with the result that the original objective, set high at the start, of $250,000 was reached at the close of the second day.

This was not enough then for such an organization that was just commencing to enjoy the pleasure of participating in such a stupendous undertaking, and on Wednesday, at the wish of all, the objective was raised to $439,000, or $1,000 for every employee who has joined the expeditionary force.

Last night when the store closed there was no thought of dinner in the minds of the majority of the employees, who gathered on the main floor, as usual, to hear the results of that day's work. And the wonderful total of $468,900 was read off.

"I never saw such a marvelous enthusiasm and such wonderful spirit of co-operation and good fellowship as permeates the whole organization," said John A. Toney, who spoke to the employees last night. Rev. Capt. Cameron told them a bit of his experiences among the men at the front.

Starting with the president, H. H. Fudger, as honorary captain the store teams have been captained by C. L. Burton, merchandise manager, with ten lieutenants: "The Beaver" team; S. H. O'Neil, "The Princesses"; W. R. Currie, "The Blue Devils"; C. E. Linstrum, "The British Lions"; W. D. Robertson, "The Highlanders"; R. W. O'Neil, "The Victors"; J. T. Ross, "The Butchers"; A. R. Anderson, "The Black Watch"; Miss W. Coe, "Over the Top"; Miss M. L. Hollett, "The Witches."

The mail order and service building together with the factories was captained by H. E. Burnett, general manager of the mail order department, with six lieutenants: S. W. Hart, "The Eagles"; W. A. Wise, "The Maple Leaf"; H. S. Bond, "The Allies"; A. R. Mackie, "The Bull Dogs"; F. Hornbush, "The Despatchers"; J. W. Keens, "The Factories."

Each day has been opened with some novel and feature designed to focus attention on the Victory Loan, the advantage of subscribing early and as large an amount as possible. Monday's "Bazaar" several hundred strong, paraded from floor to floor thru the store. Tuesday "The Highlanders" true to name, held their morning parade in costume preceded by the bagpipes with Highland music. Wednesday the "Princesses" held an inspiring song service in which every employee joined until the store rang with the patriotic songs. Thursday the "Over the Top" marched in the costumes of the various allies preceded by special music. At the mail order building they were not behind and gave over a whole evening from closing time to a special concert in dress parade. One of the direct results of this is the subscription of over $15,000 during the course of the program.

The Robert Simpson Company employees are now the possessors of the honor flag as they have subscribed 21.2 per cent. of the payroll and 85 per cent. of their employees have bought bonds. This is the highest general record for any firm in Toronto.

Toronto Young Men's Christian Associations

ACTIVITIES at the Toronto Y.M.C.A.'s, suspended during the epidemic of Spanish influenza, will resume during the week of Monday, Nov. 4th.

THE Y.M.C.A. Membership Campaign, which was postponed, will be put on Nov. 25th to 29th, inclusive.

YORK COUNTY AND SUBURBS

TRACKS ARE CONNECTED AT HEAD OF BROADVIEW EARLSCOURT TO HAVE BIG MEETING TONIGHT

The Broadview street car tracks were connected up yesterday with the new intersection at the head of that street on Danforth avenue, and the Broadview cars y-ed over it for the first time and will regularly go so hereafter. It will take a couple of days to bed in and pave the three curves that connect the two lines.

Plans have been completed for holding the big open-air demonstration tonight in Earlscourt, in connection with the Victory Loan, "D" section, which covers territory south of St. Clair to C. P. R. tracks. The meeting will take place at corner of Boon and St. Clair avenue, where large sized auto trucks have been placed, draped with the national colors.

Among the speakers will be Capt. (Rev.) J. A. Cameron, Broad Street Baptist Church; G. T. Lacey, secretary Earlscourt G. W. V. A.; Alexander MacGregor, Sgt.-Major James Stockley, Sgt.-Major Arthur, Staff Sgt.-Major T. H. Barclay, Comrades Gardner, Howell, Nathan James, Rev. E. C. Hunter, A. J. Reid and Rev. Peter Bryce will preside.

NEW APARTMENT HOUSE. Another new apartment house has been started at the south corner of Oakwood avenue and St. Clair avenue west, Earlscourt, making the fifth to be erected within the past few months.

TOWNSHIP REQUIRES A COTTAGE HOSPITAL. The need of a cottage hospital for Earlscourt has been demonstrated every day since the outbreak of influenza. While some of the schools in the township are closed, more especially so in the township, the city contemplating that it has enough patients on its hands to care for without township cases. To a porter for The World, Rev. Peter Bryce said: "Long before the terrible epidemic struck our township and section had been brought home to myself and others the very great need for a cottage hospital, but with the large and increasing number of families who have been stricken with this 'flu' I am more than ever convinced that the township should have a cottage hospital."

MRS. F. DANIELS DEAD. Mrs. F. Daniels, Todmorden, died at her home yesterday from Spanish influenza after a short illness. She was in her 25th year. The late Mrs. Daniels is survived by her husband, who is a well-known market gardener, and a young family.

RITUAL IS ADOPTED. The new ritual for the reception of members, prepared by R. J. Roberts, president of Riverdale branch, G. W. V. A., and introduced at the last meeting of the organization, is now being used by all the city branches of the association.

"FLU" FUND GROWS. Last night, F. G. Morley, secretary of the board of trade, was able to report that $2000 had been received in answer to the appeal for assistance to fight the influenza epidemic. In this connection those who are asking assistance are anxious to emphasize the point that the disease is abating in the matter of new cases, that it will, for some weeks need for assistance.

NEW STREET CAR LINE FOR NORTH ROSEDALE. Dominion Government, in Return for City's War Efforts, Will Pay Cost. Rather than delay matters, and partly as a return for Toronto's war effort, the Dominion Government will itself undertake to assume the cost of constructing a bridge at an estimated cost of about $200,000, also a driveway and street car line from Yonge street to North Rosedale, thus furnishing the necessary transportation for a military population of about 5,000 people who will occupy the new Rosedale hospital, formerly St. Andrew's College, and the demobilization station now rapidly being built on the heights overlooking Rosedale.

It was represented to the government by Mayor Church that the city's finance commissioner and the council had gone on record as being opposed, as a matter of policy, to making any more expenditure on capital account until after the war, and in view of this, together with the big grants voluntarily made for war work by the city, the government has prepared its own plan for the new enterprise to Rosedale and will pay the cost. The land damages in connection with the undertaking will be comparatively nothing, most of the property thru which the new thoroughfare will run already owned by the government.

Hon. Frank Carvell, minister of public works, will be in the city this afternoon, and Mayor Church said last night that the details of the plan would then be considered. With the hospitals receiving patients on Monday or Tuesday, and the demobilization centre completed by the first of the year, a street car service is imperative for bettering the city, the government realizes, and to this end the work will be rushed. Manager Fleming of the Toronto Railway Company has promised his co-operation in expediting the work and to supply a service immediately upon its completion.

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get any pharmaceutical firm a box of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys, also neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys' clogged kidneys, also, this also kept up the water drinking, also no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.

MOTOR CAR THIEVES RESCUED BY FRIENDS

Freed From Custody of Air Mechanics at the Point of a Revolver.

Shortly after eleven o'clock last night a military motor car was stolen from the Long Branch Aviation Camp by two young men about 24 or 25 years old. The authorities at the camp immediately despatched two motor mechanics, in another car, to chase the thieves and recover the stolen machine. After racing along the Lake Shore road and thru the city streets the stolen car was overtaken at the corner of Esiger and Argyle streets. The motor mechanics jumped into the stolen car and grabbed the two youths in it. Then they called to a citizen walking along the street to phone for the police. In the meantime a gang of young fellows, friends evidently of the two who had stolen the car, surrounded the mechanics and their prisoners. One pulled a revolver and pointing it at the air mechanics, compelled them to release the two prisoners. By the time the police had arrived the gang had disappeared.

The two cars stolen on Thursday night, from one of which Constable May was shot in the Littlefield, were recovered by the police last night in a lane of Grace street, badly damaged. Eight motor cars were stolen in Toronto last week.

CONTRACTORS AHEAD OF THEIR SCHEDULE

New Rosedale Hospital Will Be Completed Sooner Than Was Expected.

If any doubts existed as to the completion of the new St. Andrew's Military Hospital, Rosedale, they must have been dissipated within the last two weeks by the splendid progress made by the contractors engaged in the work. When a reporter for The Globe visited the building last night just before quitting time the place was a hive of industry. On Oct. 1 the contract for the erection of the new barracks was let to the Messer, Ross Contracting Co. of Ottawa, with a time limit of 90 days, and in less than half that time the barracks will, it is said, all be finished and ready for occupation. In all there are 24 buildings, comprising eight barrack blocks 41 by 232 feet in length, two-storey, and capable of accommodating 2500 men.

In addition there are three kitchens, 261 by 46 feet, and next Monday the administration building just west of McClelland avenue on the hill, 65 by 207 feet, will be started and rushed to completion as fast as the others. Built entirely of wood, the interior will be finished in beaver board, and the kitchens wainscoted and finished right up to the handle. One of the most useful things about the whole big

THE AFTER EFFECTS OF DREADED LA GRIPPE

Worse Than the Disease Itself—Victims Left Weak, Nervous and Worn Out.

La Grippe, or Spanish influenza as the epidemic was sweeping over America, is called, is one of the most dangerous diseases known to mankind. Anyone who has felt its pangs is not likely to forget the trouble. La Grippe, or influenza, starts with a slight cold and ends with a complication of trouble. It may be fatal, it may bring on a pneumonia, and other deadly diseases. Its after effects are often more serious than the disease itself. It is quite possible to avoid its grippe by keeping the blood rich and red by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—a tonic medicine which enriches the blood and strengthens the nerves. If, however, the disease attacks you, the patient should at once go to bed, and call a doctor before complications set in. That is the only safe thing to do. But to recover your strength after the effects of this trouble will be facilitated, you will find Dr. Williams' Pink Pills an unsurpassed tonic. Through the use of this medicine all the evil after effects of this trouble will be banished. This has been proved in thousands of cases throughout Canada, where in previous seasons la grippe has attacked them. Among the many thus restored to full health is Miss Irene Bostock, Portsmouth, Ont., who says: "I take much pleasure in recommending Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, because I have proved their worth in my own case. Last winter I had a severe attack of la grippe and it left me weak and all run down. I had severe pains in the chest and under the arms, palpitation of the heart and attacks of neuralgia which left me with the feeling 'that life was scarcely worth living.' I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and began their use on the principle that I would try anything that might better my condition. I had only been using them a few days when the neuralgia pains began to leave me. Gradually my strength returned, my appetite improved, and in a little more than a month I felt all my old-time vigor restored. I am sincerely glad I was persuaded to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I shall always have a good word to say for them."

Miss Kathleen Herbert who collected $50,000 for the Liberty Loan in New York, is working on the Victory Loan in Toronto. This young woman who is but sixteen years of age, has already collected $22,000 by going thru the factories and in other ways, and has set $250,000 as her objective.

The Fifth Act of the Tragedy.

With various degrees of interest and realization we all stand around, watching the mightiest drama of the ages. Scarcely any of us but are intimately related to some one or another of the minor actors that have played or are still playing their part on the stupendous stage.

No mimic tragedy can ever represent such issues as hang in the balance of the world-war, now swinging low on the side of humanity and justice. The fifth act draws near its close. The denouement is awaited with breathless expectation. What greater climax remains to cap the fall of half the kings of Europe, the disappearance of the empire that has swayed Christendom for centuries, the dissolution of the Ottoman terror, the end of the ragged remnants of feudalism, the Phoenix-birth of a new freedom in the midst of a circle of fire such as the world has never known?

Staged as it has been on a colossal scale, the starting world has stood aghast as the spectacle has unfolded. No horror that depravity could conceive has been spared. No heroism that humanity needed has been absent. While the curtain falls we torture all the guilt and shame, still virtue has triumphed. Freedom is finding her haven of peace. Justice has drawn the sword of victory.

No man who contemplates these events can fail to feel that he has been privileged beyond the men of other generations. He has seen Providence at work, the visible Hand of the Almighty molding the clay. It is a drama, but it is life at its noblest and its profoundest.

Minority Values.

Those who do not understand proportional representation should study it by its effects, and not its methods. The chief effect is, while leaving majorities their full influence, to procure for minorities an equal measure. The second great result is to improve the quality of the men elected, this following from the better class of men offering, and by the fact that under the proportional representation system every vote counts in determining the choice of every candidate. The party vote has its full weight, but where the party vote is split: the machine influence frequently exerts undue weight and as a result the least desirable party man is elected. But with proportional representation when there are two party men, neither having a majority vote in an election, the second choice votes of unsuccessful candidates of the other parties are divided among the leaders and the best man is invariably chosen, thus representing the determining wisdom of the whole community and not of a section only. A secondary effect is to induce the parties to put up the best candidates they can secure, in order to get the support of that element in the community which at present never votes at all because it is conscious that its vote cannot count. As every vote does count, there is a greater inducement to every citizen to go to the polls. An election under proportional representation is no longer a machine operation, but a real expression of the popular will.

In the legislature or parliament the effect is equally important. In the first place, all parties are proportionally represented. The majority has its majority. There is no chance under the system, as has been the case under the present system, of a majority losing the election and a minority winning it. But neither is it possible for a substantial minority in the country to go entirely unrepresented, as is frequently the case under the prevailing mode of elections. If the country was 60 per cent. of one opinion, 25 per cent. of another, and 15 per cent. of another, the complexion of the house or the legislature would correspond.

The advantage of this is to preserve the balance and the independence of legislation which is now lacking. The value of an active and intelligent minority has been entirely lost sight of in some recent developments of democracy. It supplies the missing constructive factor which is so badly needed in most governments supported by overwhelming majorities. The Whitney government and the Lloyd George governments may be adduced against this view, but it is not obvious that under proportional representation the Whitney and the Lloyd George governments would have had a far earlier hearing and would sooner have arrived at realization.

An active, energetic and forceful minority inspires constructive statesmanship beyond anything that a self-satisfied and lethargic majority can generate. It is the mission of proportional representation to call out better candidates, to elect a superior class of representatives who will present the views of every considerable body of opinion and do so in the most intelligent manner. To obtain this result, a very simple change only is necessary in the mode of elections. All that the voter has to do is to number the candidates in the order of his preference. He gains nothing for his favorite by saying who is his second, third, tenth or twentieth favorite. But in case his first favorite is hopelessly out of the election, his second choice may help to determine the final result.

Democracy will never be able to have a fair trial until proportional representation is adopted, and the comparative failure of so-called democracy is due entirely to the defective electoral system of government by machine, by caucus, by anything rather than the independent intelligence of the country. To attain maximum success, democracy must have proportional representation.

A Crying Shame.

How long is the iniquity of the juvenile court to be perpetuated in the city hall? Mayor Church has a duty to the whole city to put an end to the disgrace, and to support any measure that may be proposed in this direction.

Civil Service Salaries.

A petition is being extensively signed by the civil servants urging upon the government the necessity of giving a war bonus to these underpaid and fully occupied employees of the nation. The government in an order-in-council on July 11 exhorted employees to be generous to their employees and enable them to maintain their families properly. Example is better than precept, and the figures adduced indicate plainly enough that the government does not live up to its own standard in this respect.

Arthur Mandel Knows About Brian's Evenings With Mollie.

Kenyon Roberts had not been the only one who had seen Brian going toward the Square with parcels under his arm; but while Kenyon had not investigated where he was taking them, Arthur Mandel had. It all came about thru an accident. One night while Ruth was away, Mandel was in the locality of Brian's office. He saw him come out, and thinking he would like to know if he—Brian—were taking that girl out again, he followed him for a block or two. He saw him stop and buy fruit and then go into a butcher shop and come out with a brown paper parcel. To Mandel's amazement he walked directly to one of the shabby houses near the Square, and disappeared.

With a slow whistle pursuing his lips, Mandel turned and went about his business, but joyfully. Surely Ruth must soon find out that Brian was unfaithful. He, of course, crediting Brian with doing far more than he had, and of being in love with Mollie, and not with Ruth.

Arthur Mandel, with his disposition, could not conceive of caring for a woman like Ruth, and yet being tempted to hurt her because of loneliness, or because of a liking he might feel for a woman so much her opposite as was Mollie King.

He was not the sort of man who carried tales; yet he sorely longed for Ruth to know the truth. The longer she was with him, the more he saw of her, the more in love he became. It seemed at times that he was in a woman's store, did she so much as mistreat him, he knew was a probability. Yet day after day it became harder to hide the love he had for her, the desire to try and make her return it.

"I know I could make her care if I could try," he would often mutter to himself, "he would dared not try."

Ruth had no slightest idea that she was more to her employer than any of the other clerks, except as her work made her perhaps a more valuable asset to the firm. She was here, wholly-heartedly to her work, never slighting anything, never asking favors, or presuming in any way because she had found the man who was necessary. Arthur Mandel was not aware of this, and he thought the more of her because of it.

"There never was another like her," he said one day, after she left some finished plans for him to consider. "What is that foot of hers for? I was thinking of to neglect such a woman!"

That Brian did not call it neglect, that he felt perfectly justified because of what he considered neglect of him, would have surprised Mandel. Had he known that Ruth paid most of the expenses of the living, so that Brian would feel he could use his money for what he liked, would have surprised him still more.

Ruth had paid the rent ever since they took the new and larger apartment. She had paid it in advance, and then as it came due had stopped on her way home and paid the agent. She explained to Brian that, as she had to go right by his office, it would be foolish for him (Brian) to make a trip there purposely to pay it. After the second month it had not been mentioned; but Ruth went right on paying. She also paid Rachel. Brian looked over the grocery and meat bills, and paid them as well as the gas and electric light. But often Ruth brought in a roast for a chicken, fruit, etc., so the bills were small. She was determined that Brian should not feel embarrassed because he had no money in his pockets. Had she known that almost every cent outside of that expended on the home, his smoking, and carfare, was spent with Mollie King, or in some way to be with her, she might not have been so generous in her impulses.

Brian had gone regularly twice a week for his lessons, Tuesday and Friday. He came home punctually at about ten-thirty, and aside from asking how he was getting along, had not again been questioned. But Mollie had one night remarked that it was a pity she could not see him more often. Brian decided that it WAS a Time for the Doxology.

Editor World: When the official news of Germany's surrender comes, every man, woman and child, whether in home, shop, factory, office, on the street, or traveling by land or water, should at once start singing "Praise God, whose name be praised." Let the allied peoples give thanks to God first; they can cheer themselves hoarse afterwards. Let the coming of peace be a time of thanksgiving to God, and not one of cheering only. It only requires circulation of this suggestion to make the end of the war a celebration of our gratitude to the Almighty and not an occasion for "martyring" Will you hand the suggestion to your readers and do what you can to have it adopted? If the idea is given wide publicity, the act will follow unconsciously from millions of throats.

GIFTS FROM ONTARIO TO TROOPS OVERSEAS

Arrangements by the Ontario Government call for every man belonging to an Ontario unit now overseas receiving a Christmas gift from the province. The gifts are in the form of great cases, each filled with the individual boxes for the soldiers, have been shipped and will soon be in England. The card bearing greetings from Ontario is in each parcel, also smokes, chocolate, note paper, etc. The boxes are of bright colors.

THE FALL WEATHER HARD ON LITTLE ONES

Canadian fall weather is extremely hard on little ones. One day it is warm and bright and the next wet and cold. These sudden changes bring on colds, cramps and colic, and unless baby's little stomach is kept right the rest may be serious. There is nothing to equal Baby's Own Tablets in keeping the little ones well. They sweeten the stomach, regulate the bowels, break up colds and make baby thrive. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Good Service vs. Poor Service

GOOD telephone service depends not only upon the co-operation of the telephone user, but upon the absolute perfection in every detail of every bit of telephone apparatus and equipment used in the transmission of speech.

Constant expenditure for upkeep is essential to good service. Every bit of wire and every piece of apparatus must be watched, tested and kept in good condition. Large reserve stocks of expensive equipment must be maintained at various points to meet promptly such emergencies as storms, fires and floods.

The public cannot be well served by a utility whose income is insufficient to provide properly for the maintenance of its plant and for the replacement of obsolete or worn-out equipment.

The small advance in rates which subscribers will be asked to bear means that we will be able to maintain our system, meet emergencies promptly, and guard against any deterioration of equipment and service.

IDA AT THE CITY HALL

By IDA L. WEBSTER.

Good morning, friends, how do you like the war news? But then you know weeks ago that Austria was going to give up, and you also knew that Tommy Church was going to run for mayor again this year, and what is more to the point you may also know that he is going to get in again, that is providing that you are of the same politics.

Well, yesterday at the city hall was like unto a dull day at the morgue. There was absolutely nothing doing, and everyone around the place appeared to feel that it was a bother to breathe, that is everyone with the exception of his worship, and he was full of pep and ambition.

And at that we did not see him until about 5 o'clock in the afternoon, so you can imagine that at a o'clock in the morning he must have been absolutely bubbling over with it. How on earth he managed to put so much ginger into his conversations is more than we in our extreme wisdom can understand, but nevertheless he does it, and does it well, too. In fact, there is nothing to it but that "the kid is clever."

For instance he could tell us things without referring to notes which happened at board meetings weeks ago, and we might say that upon corroboration he was quite right in every case. This stunt alone is something to be proud of, and it is not an easy trick, either. In fact there have been gatherings in that city hall which a Philadelphia lawyer could not have remembered to save his life, and yet Thomas L. Church knows all about them, and he is only a Toronto attorney.

Besides telling us these facts which happened as we said in the dark ages of weeks ago, he presented us with a perfectly nice banquet. We would like to say to his worship that our permanent address is The World Office for all such contributions, and may they come often and plentifully. Joking aside, what the mayor felt after his interview with the minister of state was just the thing which we could find out about it was that he still thinks that there are any number of things wrong with the treatment of the boys, and he is just as anxious to sift the whole matter to the bottom, so that if the gentleman from Ottawa expected to change Thomas' mind he missed fire.

Street Commissioner George Wilson refused to "bust into print" with any statements or arguments; in fact, he appeared to be in a somewhat reticent frame of mind. One thing which we did find out from him was the fact that he still has many employees off duty with the "flu," and that he thinks the war will be a thing of the past by Christmas, also he agreed with a host of others in reasoning that it will be many months before demobilization will be complete. Oh, and by the way, we nearly forgot to tell you that, owing to the war and conditions, and the epidemic, his men are somewhat behind in their collections, but this will soon be adjusted satisfactorily, it is hoped.

R. C. Harris is another man who can hardly be induced to talk for publication; but then, probably, since the floor street viaduct has been opened, he has nothing to speak publicly about. And, speaking of viaducts, our most important viaduct has been opened, he has nothing to say to his worship that our permanent address is The World Office for all such contributions, and may they come often and plentifully. Joking aside, what the mayor felt after his interview with the minister of state was just the thing which we could find out about it was that he still thinks that there are any number of things wrong with the treatment of the boys, and he is just as anxious to sift the whole matter to the bottom, so that if the gentleman from Ottawa expected to change Thomas' mind he missed fire.

SCORES ARE KILLED IN TRAIN WRECK

Collision on Brooklyn Rapid Transit in Cut Takes Terrible Toll.

OVER HUNDRED HURT

Train in Charge of Green Motorman, as Result of Strike on Road.

New York, Nov. 1.—Between 75 and 100 men and women were killed and probably double that number injured in a rear-end collision tonight between two Brooklyn rapid transit trains in the cut near the Prospect Park station on the Brighton Beach line. The crash occurred when the train ahead, said to have been in charge of a "green" motorman, jumped the track at a switch and another train, running in the same direction, plunged into the rear cars.

The tragedy marked the first day of a strike called by the company's motormen to enforce the reinstatement of 29 discharged members of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers as ordered by the national war labor board.

Officials of the company professed three hours after the accident to have no definite information as to its cause. They said no reports had been made to them by members of the train crew.

District Attorney Lewis of King's County declared all the officials of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company and every person connected in any way with the accident has been ordered placed under arrest.

Cars Took Fire.
Immediately after the crash the wrecked cars burst into flames, adding to the terror of those who had escaped injury and increasing the peril of those pinned in the wreckage. Rescue work was retarded by the fact that the crash occurred in a deep cut. It was difficult for relief workers or survivors to clamber up and down the steep concrete walls of what is known as the Malbone Street "Tunnel."

The injured and dead were carried up ladders taken from fire apparatus. More than 100 members of the Women's Motor Corps of America responded with their cars to the calls for help. All kinds of vehicles were pressed into service to carry the dead and injured to hospitals and morgues.

The trains were packed with workers in Manhattan and with shoppers who had been detained on the New York side of the river by the crush in the Brooklyn bridge station resulting from the reduced train service. Many of those on board were children.

Survivors of the crash crawled from the wreckage and ran thru the tunnel, screaming and weeping, unmindful of the danger from the live third rails which bordered the tracks.

At 1 o'clock more than 100 bodies had been recovered from the wrecked train.

COUNCIL AUTOCRACY UNEQUAL TO TASK

Financial Times Says Parliament Should Deal With Reconstruction.

Montreal, Nov. 1.—Under the caption "Peace at Hand; Summon House of Commons at Once" The Montreal Financial Times will register editorially in tomorrow's issue a strong protest against the leaving of gigantic problems of reconstruction "to an order-in-council autocracy."

The editorial will say in part: "Peace is at hand. It will involve the entire and immediate adjustment of the whole economic life of Canada. Parliament should be summoned immediately. Government adjustment must not be left to a secret cabinet and a regime of orders-in-council.

The entire government party, and not a mere handful of office holders, must be engaged in the task of devising that policy and selecting the men and machinery to carry it out; and an efficient opposition can make a valuable contribution to the work, both positive and negative, as the government party can.

It is possible that Sir Robert Borden can continue to act in the dual role of head of the Canadian Government and minister plenipotentiary to Great Britain, for the re-organization of the British Empire. One or the other of these tasks he must hand over to someone else.

Vast Expenditures Coming.
"Vast expenditures will have to be undertaken by the Government of Canada, not for the purpose of success in war, as to which the advice of experts is usually obtainable, but for the purpose of promoting trade actively, securing a gradual restoration of ordinary peace time conditions and preventing any violent disturbance in the economic fabric. No trained body of expert opinion is available for guidance in this task, and the country is certainly not prepared to leave it to the sole decision of the cabinet without any opportunity for full and free discussion by the representatives of the whole country, who have allowed the government to spend vast sums on war without much check and with practically no criticism, but there were special reasons that procedure. We certainly not allow it to spend equally vast sums on reconstruction in the same haphazard way.

"Peace is at hand. Parliament should be summoned immediately."

OUR UNITED STATES KING GERMAN COLONIES

London, Nov. 1.—The Spectator, in an article discussing the disposition of the German colonies, opposes the idea of giving them under international control, and suggests the idea of placing them under the control of the United States. The Spectator suggests that the people of Great Britain and her colonies would be delighted to see the United States take over and protect as large a part of Germany's former colonies as the United States could be induced to accept.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies is that it does so beautifully jarkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

KING CONGRATULATES VICTORS OVER TURKS

Sends Messages to Marshall and Allenby and Awards Latter Grand Cross of the Bath.

London, Nov. 1.—King George has sent the following telegram to Lieutenant-General Sir W. R. Marshall, commander of the British forces in Mesopotamia:

"I am delighted to hear that you have finished the campaign in Mesopotamia by the capture of the entire Turkish force on the Tigris with its commander. In congratulating you and all ranks on this success I wish to record my grateful appreciation of the part played by the Mesopotamian Expeditionary Force in the complete capitulation of the Turkish army."

To General E. H. H. Allenby, commander of the British forces in Palestine, the King has sent the following message:

"I wish to express my admiration for the spirit and endurance of the troops under your command, who, regardless of fatigue and hardships, have so pressed the retreating Turkish columns as to overcome all resistance. Their efforts have been deservedly rewarded by the complete surrender of the Turkish forces. This is a glorious and memorable achievement and on behalf of your grateful fellow countrymen I thank you and all ranks of the Egyptian expeditionary forces. In recognition of your eminent services I have much pleasure in promoting you to be a Knight of the Grand Cross of the Most Honourable Order of the Bath."

NEED IS IMPERATIVE FOR COAL CONSERVATION

Amount Allotted to Canada is Million Tons Lower Than First Arranged for.

Ottawa, Nov. 1.—That there is imperative need of conservation as regards the use of anthracite coal in Canada was stated today by Mr. C. A. Magrath, fuel controller. A despatch from Washington, which was published recently in the Canadian newspapers, has to some extent been misinterpreted in that it has created the impression that there would be plenty of hard coal available. Unfortunately, however, this is not the case. Whilst the statistics of shipments from the United States are approximately correct as stated in the despatch, it is necessary to emphasize the fact that the total tonnage, which has been allotted to Canada, still remains about one million tons lower than had originally been arranged for.

Get the Habit of Drinking Hot Water Before Breakfast

Says we can't look or feel right with the system full of poisons.

Millions of people bathe internally now instead of loading their system with drugs. "What's an inside bath?" you may say. Well, it is guaranteed to perform miracles if you could believe these hot water enthusiasts.

There are vast numbers of men and women who, immediately upon arising in the morning, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is a very excellent health measure. It is intended to flush the stomach, liver, kidneys and the thirty feet of intestines of the previous day's waste, sour bile and indigestible material left over in the body, which if not eliminated every day become food for the millions of bacteria which infest the bowels. The quick result is poisons and toxins, which are then absorbed into the blood, causing headache, bilious attacks, foul breath, bad taste, colds, stomach trouble, kidney misery, sleeplessness, impure blood and all sorts of ailments.

People who feel good one day and badly the next, but who simply can not get their feet set are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a real crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

"For your To-morrow they gave their To-day"

(Inscribed on a cross in Flanders)

And we who live in tranquillity amid all the comforts of peace and plenty, knowing little of sacrifice, nothing at all of fear of death or violence—are we worthy of the sacrifices those crosses in Flanders mutely remind us of?

Are we doing our duty to our noble dead—those gallant, high-souled boys who interposed their bodies against the assault upon civilization by brutalized might?

Are we living, thinking and acting as people for whom great things are being done, tremendous sacrifices made? Are we accepting in a proper spirit of humility the bloody sacrifices and the agonies of the battlefields; the sorrows and heart aches of Canadian mothers, wives and sisters whose loved ones lie beneath the poppies in Flanders?

Do we realize that we, each one of us, as individuals have a personal share and interest in the issue for which our boys fight, bleed and die in France.

If we do realize this, then our duty is clear—a duty to ourselves, our country, our glorious fighters, and our heroic dead—to help by every means in our power to bring Victory for our boys in battle.

In this respect the circumstances are unchanged, and in the words of Dr. Garfield, fuel administrator for the United States, "continued and loyal co-operation from the public in fuel conservation, is necessary."

"The public must remember," said Mr. Magrath, "that we are passing thru a great world-crisis and that if this coming winter should be anything like a severe one as last winter, there will be great suffering unless every one is especially careful in the use of fuel. Soft coal and wood should be used as far as possible, so as to conserve our limited supply of anthracite coal."

PHYSICIANS EXPLAIN WHY WOMEN NEED MORE IRON IN THEIR BLOOD TODAY THAN 30 YEARS AGO
Say Anaemia—Lack of Iron is Greatest Curse to the Health, Strength, Vitality and Beauty of the Modern Woman.

Less than a quarter of a century ago, little or no effort was expected of the average woman and her quiet pursuits demanded far less strength, energy and endurance than today there is but a woman ready to serve her country and do a man's work if needed.

But to meet the strain she must be full of life, vim and vitality that come from having plenty of iron in the blood.

Dr. Ferdinand King, Medical Author, says physicians should prescribe more organic iron—Nuxated Iron—to supply the iron deficiency. Opinion of Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly Physician, Bellevue Hospital, New York, and the Westchester County Hospital, New York, and other physicians who have thoroughly tested the value of Nuxated Iron.

Many exploring parties have been organized and millions of dollars are being expended in exploring extinct volcanoes. Mount Royal at Montreal is an extinct volcano, which has been explored by the construction of Mount Royal Tunnel (3.35 miles in length). This tunnel has been completed and was opened for service on October 21, on which day the Canadian Northern Railway established through train service between Toronto Union Station, Ottawa, Central Station and Montreal Tunnel Terminal, 415 Lakeshore St. W., two blocks from the Windsor Hotel, Windsor and Bonaventure Stations.

WITH a song and a smile on his lips he has gone to France. You fondly hope that he will come back, his duty nobly done.

But possibly he will not come back. He himself knows all about that; he has faced it without hesitation. He had no fear, though well he knew the riddled turf of France may silence his song forever.

Did not this boy, when he offered his life, offer potential fortune as well? And his fortune is more than yours, whatever your wealth may be. It is all his Youth, his Dream, his Future. He is giving more than you can give: his fortune and his life. Your worldly possessions are pitiful to that.

No---you cannot match this boy who has gone, you can only back him. Your part, less lofty than his, wholly dependent upon his, is made noble by his sacrifice. That you may have this opportunity, he has gone to the front. By supporting the boy where he has gone, you attain to something like the grandeur of his service. The ideal that led him to the sacrifice is yours as well as his, and this sacred ideal, as well as the firm steps of the boy himself, is what you serve and sustain when you buy a Victory Bond.

"A trench may be the grave of that boy—the one your bond money is backing—but your bond is safe in the old tin box back here."

Lend the way they fight—
buy bonds to your utmost
