W. F. MACLEAN, M.P. FOR SOUTH YORK, ADDRESSES A GREAT GATHERING AT CALGARY ON LIVE WESTERN ISSUES.

Calgary, Sept. 4.—(Special).—Sherman Hall was packed Saturday night to hear W. F. Maclean, M.P., speak. He has been in the west a fortnight attending the inauguration ceremonies at Edmonton and Regina. The marked feature of the meeting was the spontaneous way in which the people turned out to hear the member for South York, in spite of the efforts of a section of the local machine to quiet it, and equally notable was the enthusiasm with which the audience received Mr. Maclean's straight, outspoken views on Canadian politics, especially in connection with the west. The people cheered and cheered when he presented the issues of transportation, and the rise of great monopolies in supplies and rings that control the price of grain, coal, and the audience, composed equally of Grits, Tories and independent voters, started cheering with redoubled vigor when Mr. Maclean showed how dumb the public men of the west were on these issues because of the fear of railways monopolies. Mr. Maclean's declaration that the people of the new provinces accepted the railway monopoly conceded, but determined never to rest until they had full autonomy or as complete autonomy as any other province in the matter of education. Governor-General Earl Grey and Sir Wilfrid Laurier were in Calgary at the time of the meeting.

Not Done Till Done Right.
After discussing the autonomy bills Mr. Maclean said "and to come back to the inauguration ceremonies yesterday—speaking, if I may, for my fellow countrymen of Alberta and Saskatchewan—I say that the ceremony of Friday at Edmonton and the one to be at Regina Monday are great constitutional functions or incidents in a constitutional progression, and as such we are bound to support them. It is our duty to understand that in our view the constitution is never fixed and never finished, nor is there a complete alignment at one moment as to the constitutional advancement of the several parts of confederation, until what one or more has, all others are entitled to and must get. (Cheers) Quebec exercised the fullest freedom in defining the educational policy which was to govern her future. Ontario, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, British Columbia, Manitoba, are free to do as they please in matters of education, and no federal interference would be tolerated by them for one moment. Shall these new provinces have less than the old ones that begin with marvelous possibilities, and the still more marvelous actualities of the 20th century? We are not to get back the hands of the clock. Would any of the older provinces, at the present moment the interference of the west in their educational rights, and if they died it, as some of the older provinces do now, let them beware of rousing the youth of to-day, who will be the giants of to-morrow."
Rest Must Follow.
"So we say we take what is given now as we say, set in our minds to have the whole that is our right, getting it as best we may by all lawful means and that watchfulness which goes with a just cause. We will not lose sight of our rights to our older sisters. What they have got we know how to get and how to hold. In almost in hearing of the King and almost in the hearing of the King's minister, the premier of Canada, we get that the rest must come after the part. (Cheers) We know that the part measure of rights that we get to-day is given under our system of party government, and that party government changes as the winds of heaven and the people order it, and that, therefore, it is for us to effect the necessary change in our system. By this system we are delayed, they cannot be denied. In the elections that are to be held in the legislatures so elected, in the courts, in parliament, in the press even at the feet of the throne, we will not be slow in asking for full autonomy, full as the fullest. (Cheers)

Is There Public Concurrence?
"Nothing is so futile as the futility of that man, once a friend of freedom, who would put yokes upon the people's wrists and accept what has come to us, and determined to have what must come to us, a fatal day of both Alberta and Saskatchewan, and pray God to all them with a brave, a happy and a united people."

Let us ask the question whether in all this strenuous there is a public conscience that concerns itself with the rights and advancement of all, rather than the individual; or whether the public conscience has not been allowed to lapse into a kind of dormant condition, while most of the energy of all is devoted to the pursuit of individual material progress.

I say to you people of the west, who are out to lord it as much of the west as you can, that greater organizations are busy laying their plans, to also lord it over the west, to lord it over you. There are great organizations in your land to control the price of grain, cattle, lumber, coal, even electrical energy, and you are being restricted and restrained in regard to your political and educational rights.

You have too many men of the type of Scott and Oliver, who are doing whatever they can to keep their side in office by serving these great monopolies that are so anxious to root themselves in this country and to lord it over the people, who will toll and do the work of the country.

Public men should consecrate themselves to the public service, and the public are equally bound when they find a public man doing their service to give him fair remuneration.

I repeat that we have not to-day public men and lawyers who are always in the service of the people; still more regrettable is it that the newspaper press, once called the palladium of the people's rights, is rapidly passing into the ownership of great corporations and great private interests.

To-day at Ottawa the Liberal party is absolutely in the service of the corporations. They refuse to regulate railway companies in the matter of their express charges, and in relation to the Bell monopoly, and they are charging the people of the west four cents a mile when they could carry them for two.

Not Done Till Done Right.

CROWD OF OVER 110,000 CITIZENS AND VISITORS FILE INTO THE BIG FAIR

Biggest Attendance in the History of the Exposition on a Fine Day, Not Marred by Any Casualties—Most Auspicious Opening of Second Week—Results of Judging.

Never before in the history of the Toronto Industrial Exhibition Association has such an immense gathering flocked upon the grounds on any one single day. The glorious weather which has favored this year's fair continued and the people continued to come early. Citizens and Labor Day of 1905 was moved apparently willing to the utmost. In perfect weather the proceedings opened at 9 o'clock this morning by a review of school children in Victoria Park by the governor-general and Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

The vice-regal party then witnessed a grand parade, headed by the 90th Band and Regiment of Winnipeg, of which perhaps the most notable feature was a cavalcade of mounted Indians trapped out in war paint and finery, a gorgeous survival of the picturesque past. Coming close behind the pioneers of 1827-28 presented a sober but not insignificant appearance. The parade took its way to the exhibition grounds, where a strong and perfectly mounted force of mounted police were in waiting with their batons.

A central stand had been erected in front of the grand stand for distinguished visitors, and at high noon, after the combined mounted and line troops had gone thru a series of movements, the new lieutenant-governor, A. E. Forster, was formally sworn in by J. J. McGee, clerk of the privy council at Ottawa. A governor-general's 21 gun salute was then fired by the police battery, accompanied by feu de joie from the 90th Regiment, thus formally ushering in the new Province of Saskatchewan.

In reply to the civic address, Earl Grey said that it would be his privilege to convey to His Majesty their assurances of loyalty to the crown and their devotion to the Queen. He had listened with interest to the story of the development of Saskatchewan, and he shared the belief that this province would furnish happy homes for millions of Britons.

His excellency then proceeded to read telegrams from Prince Louis of Battenberg, Colonial Secretary Lyttelton and King Edward. On proceeding to read the latter Earl Grey was interrupted for the moment by a round of applause. The cablegram was dated from Marienbad, and read as follows:

"Accept my best thanks for your cable. Am deeply gratified by expression of loyalty on part of newly organized northwest provinces. Pray convey to them my earnest wish that great prosperity may be in store for them."

The luncheon tendered by the civic authorities was a successful affair, covers being laid for 150 guests. Responding to the toast Earl Grey complimented Regina on her unique position in the wheat belt, and referred to Alberta as the "new leaves added to the maple crown."

Sir Wilfrid spoke in his customary gracious and unassuming manner, touching on controversial questions. He concluded by saying that we were all working for a common purpose and common national destiny. Differences of opinion must occur when some of us are called upon to lay some sacrifice on the altar of duty.

Sir Gilbert Parker followed in an optimistic strain, and Hon. David Lindsay, first lieutenant-governor of the territories, reviewed the pioneer period and said that there was no necessity to erect a wire fence between Canada and the friendly republic to the south.

Among Those Present.
To-night a state banquet was held at government house, at which all visitors were present. This was followed by the state ball and reception at the auditorium rink, while fireworks and illuminations in the city brought the day to a happy close.

Among the visitors are: Lieut-Gen. French, William Mackenzie of the C.N.R., C. C. Chipman, commissioner of the Hudson Bay Co., Byron E. Walker, Cawthra Mulock, Toronto; Dan McGillicuddy, Senators Perley, Davis and Ross; N. W. P. Commissioner Perry; J. K. Wainwright, members of parliament, D. W. Bole, W. F. Maclean, Dymott of Algona, Lamont and others.

From the King.

With the King's Blessing Inauguration at Regina New Province is Made

His Majesty, Thru Earl Grey, Cables Appreciation for Expression of Loyalty and Conveys Earnest Wish for Future Prosperity—Ceremonies Quite Successful.

Regina, Sask., Sept. 4.—(Special).—Conditions could not have been better for to-day's inaugural celebration, and the whole affair passed off with a swing that does infinite credit to Regina. Great crowds assembled from all parts of the new province to witness the formal act of transition, and the capacity of the city had been taxed to the utmost. In perfect weather the proceedings opened at 9 o'clock this morning by a review of school children in Victoria Park by the governor-general and Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

8000 OF CITY'S WORKERS MAKE YESTERDAY'S PARADE VERY BEST THAT HAS BEEN

Thru Crowded Streets Entire Way, Procession of Well-Dressed Unions, With Representative Floats, Vie for Judges' Approval as Best Appearing Body in the Line.

Diminished labor was seen yesterday in its best clothes on the occasion of the annual Labor Day parade. In spite of the threatening weather the great success of former parades was equaled. Early in the morning the skies wept and the laboring man when he rose early to don his holiday garb drew a long face. Later he found the skies had but wept for joy and then dried their eyes. When the clans were gathering in Queen's Park Old Sol suddenly peeped out and the weather for the rest of the day was satisfactory.

Starting from Grosvenor-street at 11 o'clock the column, over a mile in length and consisting of an estimated 8000 men, passed down Yonge and along Queen to Dufferin-street, where it melted into the exhibition crowds like a great river to the ocean.

Great rivalry existed among the various unions for the prizes and this resulted in a display of uniforms and floats that exceeded former occasions. Among the best turnouts were the striking bakers, the plumbers and glass workers. The judges, however, had much difficulty deciding among the various splendid showings. They were:

Best Turnout.—The Bakers' Union, led by their president, J. J. McGee, who carried a banner with the words "Bakers' Union, 1889-1905." The plumbers, led by their president, J. J. McGee, who carried a banner with the words "Plumbers' Union, 1889-1905." The glass workers, led by their president, J. J. McGee, who carried a banner with the words "Glass Workers' Union, 1889-1905."

Best Float.—The Bakers' Union float, which was a magnificent affair, decorated with flags and banners, and carrying a large number of members. The plumbers' float, which was also a magnificent affair, decorated with flags and banners, and carrying a large number of members. The glass workers' float, which was also a magnificent affair, decorated with flags and banners, and carrying a large number of members.

Best Music.—The Bakers' Union band, which played a magnificent set of pieces, and carried a large number of members. The plumbers' band, which also played a magnificent set of pieces, and carried a large number of members. The glass workers' band, which also played a magnificent set of pieces, and carried a large number of members.

Best Speech.—The Bakers' Union speech, which was a magnificent address, and carried a large number of members. The plumbers' speech, which also was a magnificent address, and carried a large number of members. The glass workers' speech, which also was a magnificent address, and carried a large number of members.

Best Appearance.—The Bakers' Union appearance, which was a magnificent sight, and carried a large number of members. The plumbers' appearance, which also was a magnificent sight, and carried a large number of members. The glass workers' appearance, which also was a magnificent sight, and carried a large number of members.

Best Float.—The Bakers' Union float, which was a magnificent affair, decorated with flags and banners, and carrying a large number of members. SOME FINE DOGS AT THE SHOW

Best Ever Seen in Canada

Judges Got to Work Early on Fair Day's Task—Some of the Prize Winners.

The dog show opened auspiciously at the exhibition yesterday, with a finer than ever shown before in Canada. The judges got to work early, commencing with the sporting spaniels and by eight o'clock, or thereabouts, were at the dog terraces, of which there are many.

It will be judged this morning. Most of the dogs take kindly to being exhibited, but there are some that are unaccustomed to more comfortable surroundings and their objections are numerous and noisy. Many American dogs are shown. The judging will continue till Thursday afternoon.

Shirt Waists for Early Fall

These are waists that we've been selling for considerably more—as a matter of fact, it's a collection of waists formerly priced from $2.75 to $4.50 each, and embracing some very attractive styles in mauve, blue and natural shades—pleated linen waists—fine white sheer lawn waists, with hand embroidered fronts and handsome vesting waists—all brand new styles, but not many of each style—on sale Wednesday—Waist Section—

second floor, each 1.50

STUNNING LONG COAT COSTUMES, $32.50

If you were guessing the price you'd look at these stunning long coat costumes and place the figure at somewhere between $40 and $50—they're strictly of the best style—beautifully tailored—finished like O'Neill's Hapsare. Each one of these long coats cost twice as much. We'll be glad to have your presence in our cloak and suit department any day now.

HANDSOME ELECTRIC SEAL COATS, $30

Really the coats look good enough to sell for $50—made from very fine No. 1 choice skins—

three styles—blouse shape—reiner and collar and lapels—lined with heavy black satin—elegantly tailored—perfect fitting and finished like ordered garments—but men's each 30.00

Lovely Silk Dressing Gowns $10 to $36

Those lovely padded Silk Gowns, you know—light as a feather and so very comfortable to slip on as a lounging robe—made of guaranteed quality Japanese silk—rich cardinal, navy, mauve, black with lining of self or contrasting shade—some of the gowns are exquisitely embroidered—done by hand of course. The new importations for fall are here—first choice is always best, prices $10, $11, $12.50, $15, and up to $36—Mantle Department—second floor.

arrives played two programs on the grounds during the day, furnishing one of the musical treats of the show. This great organization of amateur musicians is directed by William Peel, bandman who recently returned from a tour of England and Scotland at the head of the Canadian Klitites' Band. The compositions were played in almost faultless manner, and were received with rapturous applause. The light and airy conceptions of more recent date, St. Kitts has reason to be proud of her band.

LABOR LOVES PEACE.

Plans for Arbitration in Disputes a Theme at Luncheon.

Two esteemed guests of the directors of the National Exhibition at luncheon were Mr. Joseph T. McLaughlin, secretary of the Toronto Labor Council, and Mr. J. J. O. Bull, secretary of the Ontario Federation of Labor Unions. The subject of arbitration in disputes was the theme of the luncheon.

It would be well if capital and labor could get down and discuss questions together, said Mr. Bull. The laboring men are men of intelligence, who would be glad of a consultation, and don't like to see a strike because unavoidable. If arbitration could be established, it would be a great benefit to both sides.

Mr. Simpson showed the progress made in the arbitration of labor disputes. He said he had been successful in settling many disputes between employers and employees. He emphasized the importance of mutual understanding and cooperation between the two classes.

Mr. Bull spoke of the critical situation in the coal mines. He said that the coal strike had caused a great deal of hardship for the people of the province. He called for a peaceful settlement of the dispute.

Mr. McLaughlin spoke of the importance of arbitration in the resolution of labor disputes. He said that arbitration was a fair and equitable method of settling disputes between employers and employees.

There was a good deal of grumbling on the part of the general public. The great crowd was also a considerable one in its size, and the fact that it was so large was a source of gratification to the exhibitors. The grounds were thronged with people, and the atmosphere was one of excitement and interest.

The early departure of the 7th Regiment owing to the necessity for a military drill, and the fact that the 8th Regiment was not present, were a disappointment to many of the visitors. The grounds were thronged with people, and the atmosphere was one of excitement and interest.

The grounds are today showing the effects of the heavy rain of yesterday. The water is still on the ground, and the grass is very muddy. The exhibitors, however, are not complaining, and the visitors are still enjoying the show.

The way in which the grandstand is being built is a source of interest to many of the visitors. The structure is being built in a very rapid and efficient manner, and it is expected that it will be completed in a few days.

Up till 5 o'clock the turnstiles at the western entrance showed that 76,285 people had passed through, exclusive of the holders of dollar coupon tickets. It is estimated that the total number of people who have passed through the grounds is 110,000.

Plum puddings put up in one and two pound tins, and the latest in fruit cakes, are proving very popular with the public, and each year sees a wonderful advancement in their sales. The company have a receipt for their display, where the representatives will be pleased to receive visitors.

Handy Gas Appliances. One of the most interesting demonstrations given at the exhibition is that of the International Gas Appliance Company, Limited. They have installed their self-lighting gas appliances, which are simple and efficient, and would be impossible to beat. Those who use gas as an illuminant have always had to do away with the match, which, when used to light the burner or jet, in many cases found its way to the floor, proving a great source of annoyance to the housekeeper. All that is necessary now, thanks to the efforts of the International Gas Appliance Company's latest invention, is to press a button, being really simpler than the case where gas is lit by a match, and when a button is turned, and every often in the wrong way. The demonstration should be viewed by all, and the gas appliances explained by those in charge is to have the "self lighter" installed in their home or place of business. The gas appliances are being manufactured by the company, and Mr. W. M. Campbell, the manager of the company, is on hand to explain its sterling qualities to all.

Have You Tried Orange Meat? "Orange Meat," manufactured by the Frontenac Cereal Company, Limited, occupies a prominent position in the list of manufactured articles. It is a food manufactured in Canada for Canadians, and is the leading prepared article on the list. It has taken a hold on the public which is truly remarkable. The display is so beautiful and the effect created is so pleasing to the eye, that it is a source of interest to all visitors. The company is producing a great deal of this food, and it is expected that it will be a success.

On the Midway. The putting on a first-class bill this week and yesterday, succeeded in showing to one of the largest crowds on the Midway. The bill is varied and interesting, and it is expected that it will be a success.

See the Glass Blowers. An educational feature the O. H. Johns' glass blowing exhibition on the Midway is excellent. The art of glass blowing in all its branches is here depicted, and it is proving a thoroughly interesting and instructive feature. All persons entering this tent are presented with a most useful souvenir.

Wrought Iron Ranges. One of the neat displays at the fair is put on by the Wrought Iron Range Company, who have their exhibit in the stove room. The exhibit is a fine collection of stoves, and it is expected that it will be a success.

As a result of the exhibit they had induced to visit this new country. At times Mr. Smith is overwhelmed with inquiries, and many American visitors particularly have familiarized themselves with this apparatus by the Grand Trunk system next year.

Brass Musical Instruments. While there is so much interest manifested in the music of the Irish Guards Band it is interesting to note that there is an exhibit of brass instruments such as are used by the 19th Regiment Band, which was a feature of the exhibit yesterday. Mr. Burton cordially invites all those interested in brass musical instruments to call, and has arrangements to give most prompt attention to mail orders. His city address is the Central Music House, 307-7 Spadina-avenue, Toronto.

Fruit Demonstration. A demonstration in the packing of fruit will be given on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the dairy building. Mr. Boies of British Columbia and A. McNeill of Ottawa will have charge.

An Alleged Lottery. Staff Inspector Archibald received a complaint regarding an attraction named "The Lottery of the World," which was being operated by M. A. Attala, 69 Edward-street, which was alleged to be an unlicensed gambling house, so it was closed up and Attala is charged with running a lottery.

Climbed the Fence. One unfortunate who got into the grounds of the police was Joseph Smith, East Queen-street, who was arrested for coming into the grounds by the fence route.

Visitors to the exhibition are cordially invited to call at the World office, in the press building, and register their names in the visitors' book.

TRAFFIC MEN WEAR SMILES. CROWDS WERE BIGGEST EVER. Street Railroad Breaks Record for Crows Carried—Trains and Boats Taxed Their Capacities.

The exhibition traffic reached a climax yesterday. The boats brought in all the law would allow, but the Union Depot, which is not restricted, broke the record for the year. The station officials handled in all 150 trains yesterday, each bringing in its full complement of passengers. This number is a record for the station, and it is a credit to the staff of the station.

The boats proved a popular mode of ingress, and the incoming visitors thronged in numbers, when the exhibition was in full swing. The street railway proved a popular mode of ingress, and the incoming visitors thronged in numbers, when the exhibition was in full swing.

VICTORIAN STILL ON ROCKS.

Every effort to be made to prevent stranding.

Montreal, Sept. 4.—(Special.)—The tugboat Victorian is still in the eddying position on the rocks and there is no change in the depth of water in her hold. Hugh Allan stated yesterday that the wrecking party had been directed to make preliminary preparations for attempting to move her. Every precaution against stranding the liner is being taken and when the first attempt to float her is made she will be held in a vice-like grip against the current by keel and land anchors.

The steamer now has at her side ten 15-inch pumps, several powerful wrecking tugs and lighters with a capacity of 2000 tons, besides a schooner for the use of the wreckers. It is expected that pumping will commence to-night and 100 tons of cargo will then be removed.

Mr. Allan said that while the line had at first intended to have the Victorian lay off at the close of the summer season to undergo an examination of her turbines to ascertain the real cause of her lack of steaming power compared with the Victorian, this incident might mean that the liner would be laid up for some time.

The Piano Section of the Exhibition

With the many visitors to the piano section of the Canadian National Exhibition interest in the exhibit was increased daily. It is a very distinctive exhibit, including specimens in particular pianos that have won the plaudits of the many great foreign artists who have visited Canada from year to year.

Four Women on Board.

The Sevona, a big ten-hatch vessel, was bound from Altona to Erie with four women on board, including the wife of C. H. Cluky.

Half Crew Volunteer.

When the shock came the captain found that there was no chance for all to try and reach shore, and called for volunteers to stay on the ship.

Engineer Phillips was one of the volunteers.

While the rest of the party was cared for at the farm house, the engineers and other farmers set out for Bayfield.

TO THE RESCUE.

Upon reaching Bayfield the fishing tug Harrow of the Booth line started out for the scene of the wreck with a party of 15 men, headed by English Phillips.

EASTERN CUBA THE LAND OF $$$

Granted that a Canadian can make money in Eastern Cuba—how about home comforts? Dollars don't make domestic happiness. Sugar, bananas, oranges, coconuts, pineapples, corn and tobacco may be good for a surplus. But a Canadian must turn part of his surplus into home comforts.

"Just fancy," said Mr. Millikin, "a ten-room cottage in Toronto, finished inside with most superbly grained natural woods, and built for less money than it costs to buy some of the shacks in St. John's Ward! Well, usual homes were going right up in smoke when I left it early in August. Why? Because the cost of raw material is low."
