

LEAGUE OF NATIONS MUST EMBRACE ALL

Lloyd George Says It Will Not Achieve Real Progress Till That Time.

London, Dec. 22.—David Lloyd George, the prime minister, presiding at a luncheon given today in the house of commons for the British and Dominion delegates to the recent League of Nations assembly in Geneva, declared the league would never achieve real progress until all the nations were represented.

There could be no real peace until competition in armaments ceased, and before disarmament was possible all the nations must be in the league, for all must march together.

Mr. Lloyd George said he was glad to know that all were doing something. He asserted that if the Geneva assembly existed in August, 1914, the war would have been impossible. He was sanguine there would be no obstacle to Germany's admission to the league if she manifested an intention to fulfil her obligations.

There was no use on the one hand laboring for the establishment of peace, and on the other erecting great armaments in order to force other nations into competition in that terrible race for armaments which had more to do with the late war than almost any other individual force. The nations could not take the risk of disarmament until every nation was included. It could be done only by agreement.

The league had already done much, the prime minister asserted. For one thing, it had raised the status of labor throughout the world, and the labor bureau was doing great things. The league's most conspicuous work probably was the establishment of the international court of justice, he declared, which would have a very determining effect on international justice in the future.

The premier described Sir G. E. Porter, Canadian minister of trade and commerce, as a veteran Canadian statesman, whose reputation had already gone beyond the bounds of the great continent he represented.

"Sir George," said the premier, "has entered recently another league. I understand the Right Hon. Arthur Balfour was present at his wedding, representing Great Britain. I have no doubt that Sir George will return the compliment when Mr. Balfour does likewise."

Sir George's Reply.
Sir George, in replying on behalf of the delegates to the League of Nations assembly from the dominions, said that the bringing of people's representatives together was alone worth all it cost. There was no shadow of difference in the desire to have every nation represented, but the league would not be a failure even if the prominent nations did not become members for years.

Sir George added that he did not think the meetings got all the sympathy deserved from those present as observers. The whole feeling was that armaments must go eventually, he said, but they wanted every destructive weapon swept out of the world as quickly as possible, this could not be done instantly.
Sir George concluded by declaring that the British Empire was stronger than ever today thru the meeting of the League of Nations assembly at Geneva.

Thirty-Seven Children Strayed From Parents Day Santa Claus Arrived.

Mothers are very busy these days with their shopping and, in their desire to obtain some article in the departmental store, cannot do so and pay strict attention to the kiddies who are also eager to glimpse the many attractions which dazzle their eyes.

"The day Santa Claus arrived," said Miss Wood, who takes charge of the kiddies in the ladies' rest room in Eaton's, "was a very busy one."

"The majority are lost in Toy Land," Miss Wood continued, "because their parents often leave them to enjoy the Punch and Judy show while they continue their shopping, and the children become tired and wander around and suddenly find that the ones on whom they are accustomed to depend in time of trouble are missing."

Yesterday a little southern kiddie by the name of Victoria was quietly sitting in the rest room very satisfied with her surroundings in and about the store. She had great fun watching the people who were passing by. She was very happy that her "precious" gold fish were no longer in danger of being lost.

Food, Fuel and Shelter Cost Too Much. What Can Our Governments Do About It?

Retail prices of clothing, boots and shoes and many other commodities have come down in a remarkable manner. Nearly all our retail merchants are selling at a sacrifice, but, unfortunately, this fall in prices does not relieve the three great burdens upon the people, namely, high rents, high priced food and high priced coal.

Food is very high, especially meat. Cattle and swine cost only one-half as much as they did a few months ago, but beef and pork are as high as ever.

Coal is another problem. At seven cents a ton is an outrageous price. The coal dealers are charging what they please.

Shelter is another problem. The members of the board of commerce, after their brilliant performance respecting the price of sugar, were wise when they said that the board was not abolished.

The board could at least investigate high rents, high food and high coal. It should suggest proper legislation to restrain the cupidity of landlords, even tho' that legislation had to be passed by the provincial legislature.

Keeping Their Noses to the Grindstone at Washington. One may think that the U. S. Congress could be better employed than in placing an embargo upon the importation of farm products from Canada.

there will be no Christmas vacation for senators and congressmen. Their boys and girls can get off from school but the lawmakers will stay in Washington.

Had they any business of their own to dispose of they would probably meet about nine a.m. Yet by our antiquated rules of procedure they are not allowed to meet until three o'clock in the afternoon.

As a man capable of judging form, Sam McBird ought to realize that he is a fifty-to-one shot.

Resistance by Gabriel D'Annunzio begins to wane more and more of comic opera with the post-warrior in the role of chief commandant.

France says its latest loan has been a huge success. Most of us will agree loans always are, it's the paying back that comes hard.

The thieves who got away with drugs worth $70,000 out of the strong room of Montreal police headquarters might at least have had the decency to close the doors behind them and save the steam radiators from bursting.

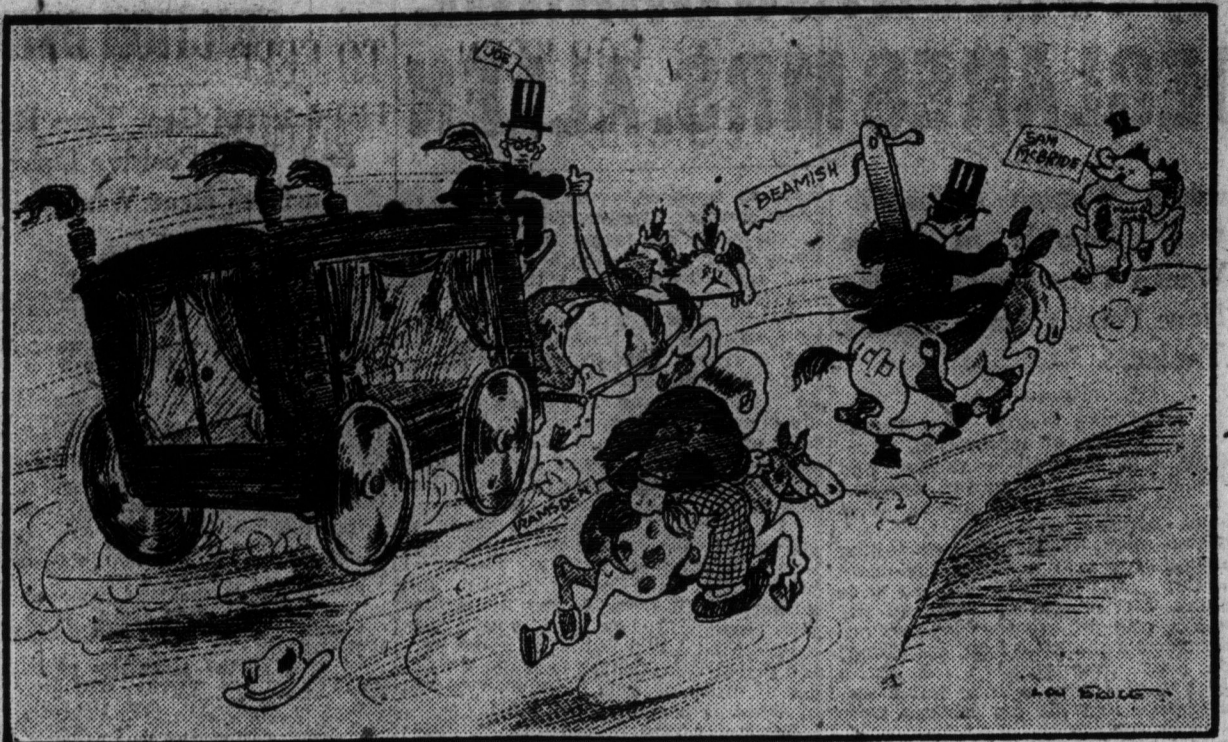

U. S. HOUSE PASSES NEW TARIFF BILL. The committee made an honest effort to provide relief for farmers, and included those products which are causing them the heaviest losses.

The World's Weekly Novel THE SHADOW OF THE SHELTERING PINES

By Grace Miller White Copyright, 1919, by The H. K. Fly Co.

Continued From Yesterday's World. Tonnibel did not sleep at all that night. But very early in the morning she arose and slipped into Dr. Paul's room and put back the medicine.

"What have you there?" asked Dr. Paul, smiling at her. She made a backward bend of her head and replied: "Mebbe I did something awful. Mebbe you'll scold me, but the flowers were so pretty outside the window, I just went in and stole a few."

CHAPTER VIII. Reginald had a Case of Nerves. URIA had ventured back to the Hoghole with his canal boat.

"I was going to slip back from the window all to the trees," faltered Reginald, and Tony's ghost rose up before me and showed me clean of his ledge and down to the ground.

"I'm not going to tell you anything," she murmured, almost inaudibly. "I'm busy here, daddy, and I can't get away just now."

AURA LEE ONE GOAL UP ON KITCHENER

S. P. A. Senior Series Wins Up With Thrilling Fixture—Came From Behind.

Aura Lee successfully defended the senior S.P.A. Cup last night by defeating Kitchener in a desperate battle, 6 to 5.

In a trifle better condition than the visitors Aura Lee had a margin.

Aura Lee's work was consistent. They checked smartly and with enough snap to knock the smooth-sailing Kitchener front-line off their stride.

Winners Consistent. Aura Lee's work was consistent. They checked smartly and with enough snap to knock the smooth-sailing Kitchener front-line off their stride.

Goalies Were Great. The net-minding honors were about even. Both Stewart and Hainsworth were in mid-season form and picked off shots that looked sure.

A Lively Tilt. It was a lively tilt from the first goal. Both sides did their best to get outside the defence.

Finished Strong. Kitchener faded in the final 20 minutes. Their attack was only in spurts and not anything like the dash they displayed in the middle 20 minutes.

Summary. First period—Kitchener 5, Aura Lee 0. Second period—Kitchener 2, Aura Lee 1. Third period—Kitchener 1, Aura Lee 6.

GOULD CAN MAKE WEIGHT.

Benny Gould convinced everybody, including Trainer Frank Carroll and Mayor Dr. Barton, at the Hart House, that he will not experience any trouble in making weight for his supreme test on Monday night at the armories, when he boxes Pal Moore in the main bout of Scotty Lisner's 1920 Veterans show. After working out with Curly Wilshur, Harry Freeman and Phil Murray, he stepped on the scales, weighing slightly under 120 pounds. It will be a novel thing for Benny to box a little fellow like Moore, for the local led has been meeting feasters and lightweights. Gould will, therefore, have no trouble in the mix-ups with White's contender and it is this feature which is buoying up the hopes of the followers of Benny that he will be able to put one over on the Memphis wizard. Pal is known to be a light hitter, although wonderfully fast and there are many good judges of box- ing who figure that Gould will be able to assimilate all that Moore can dish out and be strong enough to tear in and land a telling blow. The rest of the card has been lined up and it is interesting to note that such main bout lads as Harry Freeman, Ray Graham and Soldier Jones occupy a modest position thereon, Freeman, who beat Bull here recently in a main go, meets Ray Graham, a lad who holds a decision over Frankie Schoell. These two go eight rounds, Chris Newton and Scotty Lisner, who fought in the semi-final in their last set-to, are only a six-round preliminary on this all-star card. Curly Wilshur and Jack McCracken, whose last bout had the fans on their toes, clash again over the six-round route, while Phil Murray, a very promising Hamilton feather, meets Joe Woods, Jamestown's leading scrapper, at his weight. Soldier Jones, who has knockouts by the score to his credit, will meet a real good heavy. The plan is now on sale.

BANTAM TITLE CHANGES HANDS

Joe Lynch Outpoints Pete Herman, Earning Judges Decision Before Crowd.

Madison Square Garden, New York, Dec. 22.—Joe Lynch, the little fighter from the west side of Manhattan Island, who jumped into prominence about three years ago, likely boxer, won the bantamweight championship of the world from Pete Herman of New Orleans, in a fifteen-round battle at the Madison Square Garden tonight. The men weighed in under 115 pounds, as called for in the articles of agreement at 2 o'clock this afternoon, but the official weights, announced by the state boxing commission, when the men entered the ring to fight were 116 pounds for each. Lynch looked the much more drawn of the two men when the bell rang, while Herman was in the better condition so far as looks went. Herman was an odd-on favorite in what betting was even indulged in, three to two being freely offered that he would retain his championship. Both men were visibly nervous at the outset. Lynch's advantages of plight and reach were soon apparent, and excessive cautionness on the part of Herman cost him any chance he might have had to hold on to his title. In four of the rounds Herman was the better of the argument, but in only one of these had he any decided advantage over Lynch. Herman and his manager will call on the Impactor for England tomorrow at noon. The championship is matches to meet Jimmy White, the little paperweight and English champion, in a 20-round bout in London by January 14. So far as could be learned tonight, Herman's defeat will not alter his plans in any way, and he intends to sail and fulfill his engagement. The White-Gempey-Herman bout brought an enormous crowd to the Garden last week. The interest evinced by the fans in the bantam championship tonight gathered the same big crowd. The structure ever has held. The house was sold out early this afternoon, and even the speculators were unable to meet the demands of the late comers. Both Herman and Lynch weighed in at 116 pounds, as stipulated in the articles at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Neither showed any ill-effects from strenuous training, and both expressed confidence as to the outcome of the battle. Although Lynch had the advantage in height and reach, Herman indulged in vaunting on the result made Herman a 7 to 5 favorite. In addition to the bantam event there were three ten-round bouts and one of six rounds on the card, all for boys in the basement. Professor William Muldoon and State Senator Marty McCarry were the judges selected by the state boxing commission. The Preliminaries.—The curtain-raiser was a fast five-round go between George Thompson of San Diego, California, and Willie Spencer of this city. Each lad weighed 113 1/2 pounds. The fight was a close one, and Referee Louis White decided on Thompson as the winner. Roy Moore of St. Paul, 121 1/2 pounds, knocked out Jimmy Martin of Brooklyn, 117 1/2 pounds, in the first round of the second bout, which was to have gone ten rounds. Martin substituted for Cupie Colander of this city. Johnny Butt, 114 pounds, cleverly outwitted Midget Smith of Panama in the semi-final bout. Smith made his first appearance in the ring in a couple of weeks ago, and scored a knock-out in 21 seconds, but tonight he was only barely at times, and the judges awarded the bout to Buff. Lynch entered the ring for the main event a few seconds before 2 o'clock and took his seat in the "lucky corner" from which he fought and defeated Young Sheskey's short time ago. At ten o'clock Herman got into the ring. After the principals and the referee, Naty Easley, had faced a battery of camera men, the ring was cleared for the championship battle. Herman wore white trunks, with a black belt and Lynch sea-green trunks with a gold harp on the left side. They shook hands at 10:12. Round 1.—They began with light sparring. Lynch landed left to the head. As close quarters Herman sent both hands in rapid succession to the body. Lynch jabbed left to the face and hooked his right to the head. Herman swung right and left to head. Both boys were palpably nervous, and were just feeling and each other out. They exchanged light blows, and just before the bell the champion landed lefts and rights in rapid succession three times to the body. There was no damage done, and the round was pretty even. Round 2.—After an exchange of body blows, Lynch landed a hard right hook to the head. He landed another hard right and missed a left for the body. They exchanged lefts to the face. Lynch tried long left jabs for the body without damage, and they fell into a clinch. Lynch jabbed his left to the nose, and the bell found them in a rally at close quarters, both playing for the body mostly. Round 3.—Herman landed a hard left hook on the jaw. After some infighting, Herman sent his right to the back of the neck, and Lynch crossed his right hard to the jaw, sending Herman to the ropes, where he followed him and attempted another right to the head. When they came to the centre of the ring there were rapid light exchanges, and Lynch drove his right twice to the body and swung his right to the ribs, and Round 4.—Herman did some showy work with both hands at close quarters to the body, but with little effect. Lynch hooked his right twice to the head, and Herman was forced to clinch. After the break Lynch jabbed lefts to the head and hooked his right twice to the head, and Herman was cautioned for holding. Lynch swung his right high on the head and drove right hard to body. Then he landed a left shift to the body, and had Herman on the defensive in a neutral corner at the end of the round, which was Lynch's by a large margin. Round 5.—Lynch planted two hard lefts on the head. The second one staggered Herman. Herman fell short for the body, but Lynch landing left and right on the head. Lynch hooked his right to the ear. Lynch forced his man all over the ring, and had all the honors of the round, during which Herman failed to land a solid blow. Round 6.—Most of Herman's leads were short. Lynch's right enabling him to land long lefts to the face and head. At close quarters Herman planted left and right to the body, and then Lynch landed four rights on the head and a left on the body. Lynch was in a restful position, to be holding back, and in the boxing that ensued Herman proved to be the cleverer and had the round by more than a shade. Round 7.—Lynch cut loose with two right swings, which Herman blocked. Lynch hooked right to the head. Herman stepped in, but Lynch drove him back. Lynch was left and right to the head. They exchanged body blows and were sparring at the bell. Lynch's round. Round 8.—Lynch popped a left jab to Herman's nose and ducked safely from a right swing. Lynch jabbed his left twice to the face and stopped inside of Herman's leads. Lynch missed two right hooks for the head, and they exchanged body blows and out-boxed Lynch to the end of the round. Herman's round. Round 9.—There was a flurry of infighting and then Lynch landed a hard right uppercut on the head. Lynch was then shouting for more action. Lynch hooked a hard left to the jaw and at the bell Herman was in a neutral corner right to the body. Lynch's round. Round 10.—Lynch jabbed left and swung his excellent one of Lynch's swings—fighting wild over his head. Lynch hooked left to the face and landed a corking right on the jaw, forcing Herman to the ropes. Where he covered up, Lynch jabbed left to the face and hooked his right three times to the face and Herman held his left glove. Lynch swung two rights to the head. They were sparring at the bell. Lynch's round. Round 11.—Lynch came up dancing and sent left and right to face without a return. Lynch swung his right in the air and then landed another on the jaw. Herman clinching, Lynch hooked his right three times to the head and Herman hooked left to face. Herman kept strictly on the defensive until the bell rang. Herman's round. Round 12.—Lynch swung his right to the head and then landed a solid left hook on the head following with two short rights to the head. Lynch hooked a right to the head and then brought the same right hard on the ribs. Lynch swung a right to the head, missed another and then hooked his right in the ropes in his aggressiveness, landing a short right hook to the ear. He kept jabbing his left, but only returns from Herman being half-arm rights to the ribs. Lynch's round. Round 13.—They shook hands for the final round and Lynch tapped a left to the face. They exchanged lefts to the face. Lynch tried to tear Lynch man into a lead, but Herman would not go in. Lynch put left to the wind and right to the head and they were in a harmless mix-up when the gong ended the bout. Lynch's round. Announcer Fitzpatrick, after taking the slip from the judges and reading them, shouted: "The judges have decided on a new champion, having agreed on Lynch as the winner." The arena was a wild scene all over the house, ringing cheers greeting the decision, without a counter cheer being heard.

WHY YOU'RE ARGUING - THE MINUTE I MENTIONED THAT BAG YOU STARTED TO RAVE ME WITH ME. I'M NOT ARGUING - YOU'RE RIGHT. I DON'T SEE ANY ARGUMENT - WE'RE NOT HAVING A DISPUTE - IT TAKES TWO PEOPLE TO ARGUE - I'VE BEEN WITH YOU FROM THE START. I'M TRYING TO AGREE WITH YOU - YOU SAID YOU BET I WOULDN'T GET THAT SILVER MOUNTED BAG FOR YOU FOR CHRISTMAS AND I SAID YOU WIN YOUR BET - WHERE'S THE ARGUMENT IN THAT? THAT'S NO ARGUMENT - THAT'S A CINCH.
