

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

BILLIE REEVES LAST TIMES OPERA HOUSE TONIGHT

You'll Forget Your Troubles in His Company—The New Bill for Friday

Have you seen Billie Reeves at the Opera House this week? If not—why not? For he will make you forget the trials and tribulations of moving, weeding and even if it is raining outside, he will make you so much sunshine and keeps you laughing so heartily the weather will make no difference to you.

There are four other excellent acts in the programme as well—the whole making up an entertainment that is well worth while. Two performances in the evening at 7:30 and 9:30 o'clock.

KIRK BROWN COMING HERE FOR MAY 9

The Opera House is pleased to announce that arrangements have been completed for the engagement here of the well known and favorite actor, Kirk Brown, supported by Miss Margaret Fields, in the vaudeville one act dramatic play, "The Wife Tamer," opening on Friday, May 9.

SENSATIONAL CASE REACHES POLICE COURT

Charge of Getting Money From Doctor by False Pretence, Another of Conspiracy, Another of Liquor Law Violations

Yesterday afternoon about four o'clock Detective Power arrested J. Hamilton Catty, alias Charles O'Hara, Gerald Riley and Arthur Blissard. These men were in the police court this morning and O'Hara was charged with getting money under false pretences, Riley, charged with conspiring with him, and Blissard, charged with having liquor in his possession other than in his private dwelling.

Dr. E. J. Broderick was put on the stand as a witness and gave evidence that yesterday afternoon a little after three o'clock Blissard called at his office at 97 Union street. It was not stated what the object of his visit was.

Dr. Broderick said he was called by O'Hara, who he said was a doctor who he had never seen before. O'Hara said he had two bottles of whiskey, the doctor said that, being somewhat taken by surprise he asked him what he meant and who he was, and the accused said he was manager of a detective agency and he had seven or eight men in this city working under the direction of the prohibition people and was here to get consent from the Intoxating Liquor Act, but not against physicians and prominent men, and that he thought this matter could be fixed up.

The doctor said he asked him how it could be fixed up and that the accused said by paying $800 to him, for if it went to court it would cost him that anyway. The doctor said he told him that as he had him dead to rights he would agree to the terms, but suggested that a hundred would do, but the accused said he would have made it $800 instead, saying that Donald Fraser would give $800 to him.

The doctor said he then asked the accused what guarantee he would give for his good faith, and the accused said the same guarantee as he would have if the doctor's good faith—their mutual word of honor.

At the suggestion of the accused, the doctor's solicitor was consulted, and the doctor gave the accused a check for $800 on deposit. The accused, who said, did not want to take a check, but wanted the cash, but as the bank was closed he had to be satisfied with the check. He telephoned the police, and as the transaction was completed at the Royal Hotel, Detective Power arrested the three accused.

As this was city court day the case was postponed till this afternoon at 2 o'clock. The accused had no legal evidence would be adduced.

Chief Inspector Wilson said to the Times today that he had offered their services as detectives and to do detective work. It was intimated to them both by him and by inspectors that if it was not until he had created a demand for this form of theatrical entertainment in Canada that Mr. Whyte felt justified in assuming the necessary financial expense incurred by such a lavish production. Seat sale May 8th.

JOHN O'NEILL OF O'NEILL BROTHERS DIES AFTER BUT FEW HOURS ILLNESS

The sudden death of John O'Neill which occurred today at his home, 109 Elliott row, will be learned of with regret by a large circle of friends. Mr. O'Neill was in his usual health until Wednesday evening, from the stroke he failed to recover and passed away about midnight.

Born in Dublin, Ireland, seventy-two years ago, Mr. O'Neill came to St. John with his parents when three or four years of age. He had since resided here.

His reputation for integrity and business circles and his genial manner helped to account for the many friendships in Truro which he made and the esteem in which he was held by them.

Surviving are six sons, Harry J. Arthur, E. J. Frank, Herbert, L. Gerald and Ernest D., and three daughters, Misses Florence, Kathleen and Gertrude. They will have general sympathy in their great loss.

THIS MORNING IN THE SYNOD

Bible Reading in Schools. Bishop Richardson said that he thought it absolutely useless to appoint committees on Bible reading in the public schools. Last year they had received assurance of support from the Presbyterian and Methodist churches and the Orange Grand Lodge, but their work had been blocked by the refusal of the Baptist church to co-operate.

Rev. Mr. Kuhring urged that the committee be appointed and the fight continued. David Hipwell, as chairman of the Orange Grand Lodge committee, said he was not the intention of the committee to be arranged for the action in being taken away and he hoped the synod would do so.

It was agreed to continue the committee. Nominations.

Nominations for delegates for the provincial synod to be held in Montreal on Nov. 5 were made as follows: Rev. Canon Armstrong, Canon Daniel, Archdeacon Forsythe, Canon Smith, Rev. Thomas Parker, Canon Sisson, Rev. G. A. Kuhring, Dean Neales, Rev. J. A. Cooper, Rev. W. H. Sampson, Rev. B. P. McKim, Rev. W. Tomalin, Rev. W. J. Wilson, Rev. L. C. Williams, Rev. Archdeacon Crawford, Canon Cowie, Rev. J. V. Young, Rev. F. J. LeRoy, Rev. W. H. Dunham, Rev. W. J. Bais, Rev. E. Haldston, Rev. G. W. Nichols, Archdeacon Newham.

Lay delegates—Hon. J. P. Burchill, S. L. Bishop, J. H. A. L. Fairweather, M. G. Teed, H. Carter, C. S. E. Robertson, J. R. Armstrong, Col. E. T. Sturdee, T. C. L. Kelchum, H. F. Puddington, J. K. Scammell, Dr. Thomas Walker, W. B. Hilbard, G. Clements, J. B. H. Storer, Dr. W. S. Carter, David Hipwell, J. W. Smith, H. B. Schofield, A. C. Shelton, R. W. Hewson, H. A. Porter, W. L. ...

The balloting for the selection of the delegates will take place this afternoon. Orphan's Home.

David Hipwell, seconded by Canon Armstrong, presented a resolution as follows: "We, the members of the Church of England synod at annual session convened, desire to express our approval of the movement now under way for the purpose of enlarging the adoption of Orphanage or the purchasing of a home for the building of a new Protestant Orphan Home, the new building to have a provided in the future by the Synod of the said synod, pledge our support to said movement."

Mr. Hipwell recited the facts which made a new effort to increase adoption necessary and made an eloquent appeal for support.

Rev. Mr. Follett also spoke earnestly in support of the movement. The report of the committee on mobilization of spiritual resources was presented by the bishop, who reported that the matter be referred back to the committee.

The bishop said that the adoption of the recommendation would place upon the home mission board the obligation to see that clergy in independent parishes should be granted a bonus if their parish did not provide the entire amount of the increase.

George Raymond moved for reconsideration of the laymen's committee's report, but the motion was lost, and the matter was dropped.

The report of the committee on mobilization of spiritual resources was presented by the bishop, who reported that the matter be referred back to the committee.

The report of the Pickett Memorial Fund, for the care of clergy during illness, was presented by Canon Neales, who had been informed that the objective of $10,000 had been reached, but the objective had been advanced to $12,000. Reports were submitted by the secretary on the offering of the seal of the synod, the Diocesan registrar, the auditor, the treasurer of the Board of Literature on the Bishop Mellet memorial fund. The latter committee reported that sufficient funds had been raised to erect in the cathedral a beautiful cenotaph with the recumbent of the late Bishop Mellet carved in white cararra, resting upon an altar tomb of grey granite marble. The present standing of the fund is $20,216.39.

OPENING OF MAY DEVOTIONS IN ST. PETER'S CHURCH

Solemn opening of the May devotions took place last evening in St. Peter's church. The devotions started at a quarter past seven with the recitation of the Rosary, followed by an inspiring sermon by Rev. Francis Healey, C. S. S. R. on "Devotion to Mary." During the singing of the Magnificat a procession of about eighty boys, altar boys and 150 girls entered the church under the direction of Rev. Wm. Woods, C. S. S. R. singing hymns in honor of the Blessed Virgin.

INFLAMED GUMS—A CAUSE OF LOOSE TEETH

Pyorrhea is undoubtedly a vital danger to both gums and teeth. Tender gums indicate it, and with it come loosening teeth. Imperceptibly, at first, the gums recede from the normal gum line. They inflame. They present many tiny openings for millions of bacteria to attack the unenameled tooth base. Tooth-base decay quickly follows. Even if the cavity be filled and the tooth saved, the gums continue to recede. Remember, too, that inflamed and bleeding gums act as so many doorways for disease germs to enter the system—infecting joints or tonsils—or causing other ailments.

Against this Pyorrhea (Riggs' Disease) ordinary tooth-pastes are powerless. Yet Pyorrhea attacks four out of five people who are over forty, and many under this age. But Forhan's—used in time and used consistently—positively prevents Pyorrhea. It is a scientific tooth cleanser as well. Brush your teeth with it. See how promptly bleeding or gum tenderness ceases and how your teeth are kept white and clean.

If gum-shrinkage has already set in, start using Forhan's and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment. 30c and 60c tubes. All Drugists. GORHAM LTD., 577 St. James St., Montreal.

LARGE NAVAL POLICE FORCE, SAYS DANIELS

U. S. Secretary in London On This Mission

Desire of Conquest May Still Linger in Hearts of Some Nations—Sees Seized Hun Ships as Silent

London, May 1—A large naval international police force will be necessary under the League of Nations plan immediately after peace is declared, in the opinion of Joseph Daniels, United States secretary of the navy, and one of the objects of his trip abroad is to discuss with the admiralty of Great Britain, France and Italy some details as to this force, particularly the type of vessels for.

"The desire of conquest may still linger in the hearts of some nations," Secretary Daniels said, "and such nations must be shown that it would be unprofitable to attempt to accomplish these desires."

As the League of Nations becomes established, he added, the naval police force would certainly be decreased, in proportion to the strength of the league. The secretary has just returned after a visit to the interned German battle fleet at Scapa. He declined to express an opinion as to the disposal of these German warships.

GAINS MARK WALL STREET OPENING

New York, May 1—(Wall street)—A spirited rally which accompanied yesterday's later dealings, was resumed on Monday as the opening of today's market. Gains of the first half hour ranged from one to three points in shipping, oils, motors, equipments, sugars, rubbers, leathers and several of the prominent utilities and specialties. Rails made moderate upward progress with copper. United States Steel was the only important exception to the general rise, yielding another large fraction at the outset and remaining under pressure.

NOON REPORT

Traders ignored the continued heaviness of United States Steel, the apathy of rails and reactions of one to two points in several of the prominent specialties. The reduced activity of the morning centered in shipping, motors and the more speculative oils and food shares. Atlantic Gulf, American International, Marines, Studebaker, Stuts and General Motors, Kelly-Springfield, and Keystone Tires, Royal Dutch, Sinclair, Steel Foundries, American and Baldwin Locomotives, Ohio Gas and Sugars and Tobaccos represented the chief elements of strength at gains of one to five points. Liberty bonds were strong.

TROUBLE IN PARIS

Paris, May 1—Crowds which gradually have been assembling in the Place Madeleine broke through the infantry cordon stretched between the Madeleine and the Place de la Concorde and swept down the Rue Royale. Cavalry hurried them backwards into the side streets, but several thousand reached the Place de la Concorde.

PETER WRIGHT ON LABOR.

Peter Wright's message to labor, as delivered in the Seaman's Institute last evening, is a message of inspiration. He understands labor to include all who are not parasites, and to embrace mind as well as muscle.

THE WEST INDIES.

The activities of Mr. H. J. Crowe in Jamaica have attracted the attention of the Toronto Globe, which wants to know for whom he speaks when he talks glibly about the entry of the West Indies into the Canadian confederation.

CANADIAN POLITICS.

The Ottawa correspondent of the Financial Post sends this gossipy letter to his paper:

"Politically a great many things depend on what happens in Canada after the budget is brought down. If it does not go some distance at least towards satisfying the low tariff sentiment of the west, it is hard to see how rupture in the government ranks can be avoided.

In an interview with Hon. P. J. Veniot, printed in this issue, the minister of public works says a few kind words to the Standard, concluding as follows:

"But, why should I lose any sleep over what the Standard says about me? When Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, one of its directors, feels compelled to repudiate the Standard in the legislature, there is not much need of worry on my part about what it says about me."

The sum of $125,000 is too much to have to pay within eighteen months for smallpox in this province. The new health department will be justified in pursuing a drastic policy to prevent the ravages of the disease.

Addressing the synod yesterday Chief Supt. Carter said the school houses might be used for any worthy public purpose, and he thought that no trustee board would refuse permission.

The sending of infernal machines through the mails in the United States to kill people marked for slaughter will probably stimulate that branch of trade known as the deportation of aliens.

In the Nova Scotia legislature on Saturday Hon. Mr. Daniels moved the second reading of the government bill entitled "An act to amend and consolidate the acts to supplement the revenues of the crown in the province of Nova Scotia," and explained the principal alterations in detail.

The first change he said, was in respect to banks. Under the present law every bank having an office in Halifax, with a capital of $500,000 or upwards, was obliged to pay a tax of $1,000, and an additional sum of $100 for each branch in the province, not exceeding ten in number, and $50 for each branch in excess of ten. The new bill doubles this tax.

Increases were also made in the tax rates upon loan and trust companies, which would result in raising the revenues from these sources more than $5,000 above those of 1918.

upon telephone, electric light, and gas companies, but the revenues from telephone companies would be increased from $1,038 to $2,468.

The bill provided that express companies operating over a railway in Nova Scotia should pay a tax of $200 for each 100 miles or fraction thereof.

An important change was made with respect to steam railways. The bill obliges every company operating, owning or using a railway in the province to pay a tax of $20 per mile for one track, and where there are two or more tracks of $30 per mile for each additional track.

Moreover, where the company's mileage exceeded 150 miles from terminus to terminus, it must pay an additional tax of $10 per mile for each additional track, and $5 per mile for each additional track.

profits of the National Bank of Commerce in New York are more than $50,000,000, and the resources more than $27,000,000 and $22,500,000.

The Comptoir National d'Escompte de Paris are more than $45,000,000, and the resources more than $20,000,000, while those of the First National Bank of Boston are respectively more than $27,000,000 and $22,500,000.

This makes a total capital, surplus and undivided profits of the institutions back of the French American Banking Corporation of more than $125,000,000, with total resources of more than $128,000,000.

The Comptoir National d'Escompte de Paris is one of the three greatest banks in France. The French American Banking Corporation represents the first important alliance of this type between American banking institutions and foreign institutions.

Alliance That Represents A Very Great Sum More Than Billion and a Quarter Dollars

Incorporation at Albany—French American Banking Corporation to Promote Trade Between France and the United States

New York, April 29—An alliance of French and American banking interests, representing combined resources of more than one and a quarter billion dollars, organized to promote trade between France and the United States, was disclosed through the filing at Albany, N. Y., today, of the incorporation papers for the French American Banking Corporation.

Half the stock of the corporation will be held by American interests and half by French. The plan of operation, it is declared by the organizers of the new corporation, means that hereafter American business men will be able to avail themselves of banking facilities in France as advantageous as Frenchmen themselves enjoy.

The French participant in the alliance is the Comptoir National d'Escompte de Paris, which takes half the capital stock. The American interests are the First National Bank of Boston and the National Bank of Commerce in New York, each holding one-fourth the capital stock of the new corporation.

The French American Banking Corporation is capitalized at $2,000,000, with a surplus of $500,000, all paid in. The incorporators are James S. Alexander, president of the National Bank of Commerce in New York; Daniel G. Wing, president of the First National Bank of Boston; Maurice Silvester, American representative of the Comptoir National d'Escompte de Paris, and others. Mr. Silvester will be president of the new company. There will be twelve directors, six to represent the American group and six the French group.

MUSIC AS A TONIC.

Property administered, music is the greatest tonic in the world. As you listen to it, if you're only half-way natural, and normal, you are affected by it. Cold, hot, calm, rough, tender, hopeful, tragic, melancholy, enthusiastic—all emotions are expressed and created by music. We are just coming to realize the powers of this natural, God-given force, equally powerful and eloquent to all races, in all nations, irrespective of language, religion, color or financial condition. Music is the one big language of all peoples, the great socializer and democratizer. It can take an organization of varying castes, nationalities, and furnish a common meeting-ground.—Forbes Magazine

Thora and Nirvana 235001

"THORA" by Weatherly-Adams will be welcomed by all admirers of these talented writers, known the world over. The subdued opening of this beautiful song and the tender undulation of the voice gives a mellowness of beauty that at once gains the attention of the listener and the expressive singing of this gifted artist infuses a note of appeal and tender affection throughout the whole song.

"NIRVANA" by Weatherly-Adams is a song that has rightfully won a place amongst the immortals. Full of richness and beauty of modern melody and has at the same time a touch of formal elaboration of the older music. The tones are soft and round and leave an effect of simple grandeur. The whole is finely rendered and this artist's varied gifts of expression are beautifully exemplified.

BUNIONS

Relieved by Dr. Scholl's Bunion Reducer Shield

This appliance has a peculiar concave shape purposely so formed to fit snugly over joint and eliminate friction and pressure from footwear, and at the same time also prevents the enlarged joint from forcing shoe out of shape.

Is superior to old-fashioned leather and felt protectors, as it is made from antiseptic rubber, and being worn right on bunion inside heel and sole, it forms a protective cushion moisture pocket which keeps the joint soft and pliable, removes that hard outer callus that so often accompanies and increases the irritability of the enlargement, also reduces inflamed condition.

Made in three sizes, right and left feet. Price 50c each, $1.00 per pair.

Sold by RELIABLE SHOE DEALERS Free booklet: "Treatment and Care of the Feet," mailed to any address on request. There is a Dr. Scholl's Appliance for every foot ailment.

RECENT DEATHS

Miss Irma Gulon.

The sudden death of Miss Irma Gulon, at Ottawa on April 23, at the age of twenty-one, was a great shock to the family, relatives and friends, being the only daughter of Mr. A. H. Gulon, of the marine department, and formerly of Havelock, Kings county (N. B.). The father and mother, and two brothers, Captain Gerald Gulon, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, recently returned from overseas, and Captain Norman Gulon, M.O., 8th Canadian Field Ambulance, now contesting in London, survive.

Mrs. James C. Parlee.

Sussex, April 30.—The death occurred at Sussex, just at the close of April 28, of Mrs. Parlee, widow of James Crawford Parlee. On March 24 she fell in her home, fracturing her hip, the effect of which caused her death. She had reached the advanced age of eighty-one years and ten months, most of which time was spent in Smith's Creek and Sussex. Her maiden name was Hannah L. Taylor and she was a native of Sheffield, Sanbury county, Frank S. Parlee, formerly of St. John, but now of Winnipeg, is a son. Other sons are William, K.C., of Moncton, and Harold H., of Edmonton, Alberta. There are four daughters: Mrs. W. E. Sheppard, of Moncton; Mrs. William J. King, of Smith's Creek; Mrs. Arthur L. Robinson, of Sussex, with whom she made her home, and Miss Emma Parlee, of Moncton. Two sisters, also survive: Mrs. David S. Sinnott, of Brighton

A Permanent Mark of Respect

Surely there has never been a time more fitting or a place more suitable than on the walls of our Churches and Public Buildings on which to inscribe the names of our Country's Heroes.

The Men who went from our midst represented all walks of life—a few of them have paid the Supreme Sacrifice—the majority are now returning to our shores. The Roll of Honor serves as a permanent record for all time. It is also a handsome Church decoration and is a mark of respect in which every one in the community may share.

We have recently published an attractive little leaflet "The Man Who Came Back"—which illustrates several of these tablets. We shall be glad to send you a copy on request.

St. John P. Mahaffy.

Dublin, April 30.—Sir John P. Mahaffy, provost of Trinity College, Dublin, since 1914, died today.

Sir John Mahaffy was well known as a philosopher and as a student of ancient history, especially Greek and Egyptian.

William Robertson.

Halifax, April 30.—The death occurred tonight of William Robertson, head of the hardware firm of William Robertson & Son, and a director of the Royal Bank of Canada, and the Eastern Trust Company. Mr. Robertson, who was in his 81st year had been in declining health for some months, but the final attack to which he succumbed occurred three days ago. He was a native of Barrington Passage (N. S.), and coming to Halifax established his hardware business in 1871.

The body of Edward Leeman, an orphan who died of the last variety of tubercular meningitis in the St. John hospital from the effects of a cut on the knee made by an axe, was moved on Saturday to the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Morrell, in Elgin. His widowed mother was stricken with influenza and died shortly after her ten-year-old boy had been taken to hospital. They are buried side by side in the Methodist cemetery, Elgin.

John Keane of Novlin died on Saturday at the age of seventy-one years. He is survived by three brothers and four sisters. The funeral was held yesterday morning, Father Dixon officiating at St. Mary's church.

MRS. ALDRIDGE'S LECTURE

Serbia, her beautiful mountainous country, her turbulent history, her simple people with their dauntless courage and her glorious record of valour, formed the theme of a moving address delivered yesterday in the Natural History rooms under the auspices of the Women's Canadian Club by Mrs. O. M. Aldridge, who has been a nurse in a Canadian war hospital in that land during the war. Mrs. Aldridge held the interest and sympathy of her audience from commencement to finish of her eloquent address. Mrs. H. A. Powell, vice-president of the club, presided, and Mrs. G. A. Kuhnke, the president, being unable to be present at the opening of the meeting, arrived in time to present Mrs. Aldridge with a bouquet of flowers as a mark of the club's appreciation and to move the hearty vote of thanks, which, seconded by Mrs. Geo. Matthew, was unanimously given.

Mrs. Aldridge told of the pride of the Serbs in the achievements of their race in past days and said that now with their dream of a freed country coming true they were so broken down and war-wearied that unless support were sent them they must inevitably sink under the weight of the something fine that was a peculiar gift of the Serbian people be lost forever to the world.

has no claims to fame under the treaty of London which France and Great Britain can support, and it is impossible to believe that Italy will stand alone and remind her Allies that they cannot make a peace which does not include each member of the Entente. Orlando has temporarily committed the interests of Italy to Clemenceau and Lloyd George. They will not fail to bridge the chasm Mr. Wilson has so dramatically disclosed.

The Important Point. Householder—Do you mean to say that this meter measures the amount of gas we burn? Gas Collector—I will enter into no controversy, sir; but may say that the meter measures the amount of gas you will have to pay for—London Tit-Bits.

The McAvity Development

Adjustment of Shell Contracts This Month Expected to Clear Way For Big Operation of Plant.

It is expected that before the end of May, says the Board of Trade Journal, an adjustment of the shell contracts which the McAvity Company were engaged in at their Marsh road plant will be reached, so that the firm will be free to develop the plans which they have in view for these immense works. In the meantime the new steel foundry in the rear of the munition factory is being completed and made ready for work. The firm are also carrying on their general foundry manufacturing business in their Broad street and Water street plants, turning out brass material of various kinds and material for ships, railway and mining purposes. It is intended that before long all the city plants of this enterprising firm will be assembled in their Marsh road buildings.

A POET'S CHALLENGE.

Among the poems in his forthcoming volume "The New Morning," in which Alfred Noyes reveals his keen understanding of present tendencies and his ideals for this age, is that entitled "On the Casket of the Bolsheviks." With stinging judgments he addresses them and throws them a challenge which they would do well to take up.

SICK HEADACHE AND CONSTIPATION CURED BY

MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS

When your liver becomes sluggish and inactive, the bowels become constipated, the tongue becomes coated, the breath bad, and the stomach all out of order. Then comes those terrible sick headaches. They take out every bit of life and ambition, bring on depression, and often end in complete mental and physical prostration.

VICTORY FOR JAPAN

Agreement Re Shantung Peninsula and Kiao-Chau Territory Goes to Japan, Which Will Hand Shantung to China—Reported Protest From China

Paris, May 1.—(By the Associated Press)—An agreement regarding the Shantung peninsula and Kiao-Chau, which has been reached between the Council of three and the Japanese delegates, provides for their transfer without reserve to Japan, which voluntarily reserves to hand the Shantung peninsula to China.

THE HOUSING BILL

Copy Received by Mayor—The Outstanding Provisions

Mayor Hayes has received a copy of the bill to provide for better housing, passed at the last session of the legislature and known as the "Housing Act, 1919." This act provides: For the expropriation of property. That any individual or housing company may borrow a sum of money not exceeding 85 per cent of the total cost of buildings and land.

PETER GREATFUL TO RED CROSS

Athens, May 1.—(By the Associated Press)—King Peter of Serbia, who is living quietly alone in a little suburban retreat overlooking the Bay of Piraeus, six miles from her, expressed through the Associated Press the "profound gratitude of the Serbian nation for the Christian charity so magnificently organized by the Red Cross."

MORE THAN 400 CASES OF SMALLPOX, SAYS SACKVILLE REPORT.

Moncton, May 1.—An emergency meeting of the county board of health was held in Sackville on Wednesday to deal with an outbreak of smallpox in that parish. It obtained some headway because the people neglected to warn the medical authorities. There should be since the armistice have poured into the country over every road and mountain pass.

DESPERATE EFFORT OF REDS TO GET TROOPS.

Copenhagen, May 1.—The Soviet government of Russia is making extraordinary efforts to secure troops to carry out an offensive against Admiral Kolchak in eastern and southern Russia, according to a despatch filed at Lisbon on Tuesday.

WILSON GIVEN FREEDOM OF THE CITY OF LONDON

London, April 31.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—A beautiful gold casket, which is to contain the certificate of the freedom of the city of London, to be presented to President Wilson, was on view at the Guild Hall. It is of 18-karat gold throughout and bears the portraits of King George and President Wilson and the coat of arms of the city.

HIGH COST PROSPECTS.

(Hamilton Times). There are perhaps two ways of reducing the price of an article. One is by manufacturing or producing more of them under favorable industrial conditions; the other is by cutting down the profits of the manufacturer or producer. The tendency at present is to increase the cost of manufacture and production, consequently the prospect of a reduction in price is not bright.

FOR NEWFOUNDLAND ROUTE

After a run of seventy-two hours from Quebec the steamer Princess, the latest addition to Parnapar and Company's fleet, arrived in Halifax on Tuesday. After some alterations completed, she will be placed on the route between Halifax, Cape Breton and the west coast of Newfoundland. The Princess is a steamer of over 500 tons gross, and 240 tons net and is furnished splendidly throughout. Her accommodations for passengers are excellent.

WHEAT SITUATION

Ottawa, April 30.—The problem of getting to market the wheat crop that Canada is now planting was brought to the attention of the senate today by Senator Wiloughby after noting the American guarantee of the coming crop at $2.20 per bushel. He asked what the Canadian government was doing in connection with the marketing of the coming crop.

PASSES HALF MILLION MARK

In the Nova Scotia legislature on Tuesday Hon. Mr. Daniels laid upon the table of the house the annual report of the deputy registrar-general of births, marriages and deaths. He said that according to the report, the population of Nova Scotia now stood at 511,716, composed of 260,216 males and 250,960 females. During the past year the number of births had been 12,491, or a rate of 24.3 per thousand living. The births exceeded the deaths in every county except Halifax county, where there were 6,611 marriages, 9,517 with licenses, and 6,940 after bans had been published.

CATHOLICS TO OBSERVE "EMPLOYMENT SUNDAY"

Washington, May 1.—Bishops of all Catholic dioceses and 11,000 priests have been asked by the Catholic war council to observe Sunday, May 4, as "employment Sunday" and to urge their congregations to assist in securing employment for discharged soldiers and sailors. It is planned to make the day the beginning of an intensive campaign in all Catholic parishes to obtain employment for returning soldiers and sailors.

MANY HORSES BEING TAKEN INTO MAINE

The Maine live stock sanitary commissioner's office is kept very busy of late taking care of the great influx of horses which are coming to Maine. Permits have been issued for nearly 6,000 horses to come to Maine since Jan. 1, 1919, and for the four days ending April 24, permits were issued allowing 295 horses to be shipped into the state. What is being done with them seems a mystery and as a dealer expressed it the "price is going higher and higher every day."

ATLANTIC SUGAR.

Stocks Advance as Annual Meeting Date Approaches. (Financial Post). Steadily the preferred and common stocks of Atlantic Sugar Refineries are mounting up as the date for the annual meeting of the company approaches. The fiscal year ends on April 30, and a very fine statement, far in advance of the best previous record, that of last year, will be presented. The company has made remarkable progress since it was established early in 1918, and for the balance of this year expects to keep steady export business in Europe. Even one year ago there was no banking indebtedness, and now The Financial Post is informed the working capital is close to $1,500,000.

COUGHED, COUGHED ALL NIGHT LONG

Terrific coughing on the system is the cough that comes at night and prevents sleep. Sometimes it is a constant cough, cough that will not be quieted. Sometimes it is a choking-up, stuffy feeling that makes breathing difficult, and sleep impossible. #### VERY PLEASANT EVENING.

At the Studio, Germain street, last evening a very pleasant time was enjoyed at a bright gathering arranged by his friends in honor of Flight Lieut. F. E. Power, recently returned from overseas. The hours swiftly passed in dancing, and dainty refreshments were served.

GOES TO QUEBEC.

J. P. Kierwan, who has been assistant with danger to the industrial life of Toronto has been precipitated on the city with a strike which went into effect last night, affecting 6,000 workmen and 225 factories of the metal trades industry. Harry Harper, international organizer for the International Association of Machinists, said last night:

"We fought in 1907 for the nine-hour day with a treasury which was almost empty and with only 100,000 members in North America to draw upon. Today we have more than $2,000,000 in the bank for the machinists, who have more than 1,800 members on strike here."

The moulders and boiler-makers' unions met last night and ratified the decision of the metal trades council to call a strike.

3,000 OUT IN OTTAWA.

Ottawa, May 1—Ottawa people awakened this morning to find their city in the grip of the biggest strike they have known for many years. Three thousand employees in the building trades laid down their tools last night and will not take them up again until the difficulties existing between them and the members of the Canadian Builders and Contractors' Association are settled. Representatives of the contractors say they cannot accede to the demands of the men, and the men refuse to listen to anything else or to submit their case to arbitration.

Trouble in Montreal Feared.

Montreal, May 1—The police prepared this morning for trouble with the Socialist element in the city who have been carrying the red flag in their procession to carry the red flag in their procession today. Some of the more fiery members of the Socialist organization here said they would carry the flag despite the police threat of confiscation. Trouble was also threatened by returned soldiers, who objected to the carrying of revolutionary banners in public processions. Some 1,200 in Halifax.

Halifax, May 1—Approximately 1,200 men employed in the building trades in Halifax struck this morning, the sheet metal workers alone remaining at work. A general wage increase approximating 15 1/2 per cent was conceded the plumbers, pipe fitters, plasterers, painters and carpenters in addition to the overtime and working day demands made by the men, but the proposal was turned down and construction is practically at a standstill today. In Winnipeg. Winnipeg, May 1—By a practically unanimous vote the men employed in the building trades decided last night to go on strike this morning. The offer of the employers was rejected after a secret ballot by 1,199 to 73. This would give an advance to some trades of ten cents an hour and to some others five cents. The men by their vote reaffirmed the demand made by their representatives for a general increase of twenty cents an hour. U. S. NAVAL BASE AT HALIFAX ABANDONED AFTER THIS MONTH Halifax, N. S., May 1—United States naval base 23, with headquarters at this port, will officially cease to exist after June 1, according to orders received here. The base originally included the re-docking ship, the air stations at Halifax and Sydney, and five sub-chasers. The air stations already have been turned over to Canada and three of the chasers returned to the United States waters some time ago. PROBABLY NO FLIGHT ACROSS OCEAN TODAY St. John's, Nfld., May 1, (9 a. m.)—Local weather conditions this morning are unfavorable for flying. The wind is from the southwest with thick fog to seaward and every prospect of rain. THE SOUTH END LEAGUE. Because of the stormy weather the South End Improvement League was not able to begin work on its playground last evening, and as the ground is wet a start will not be made till Monday evening. The league has been offered an outfit for its tennis court. NOVELTY SHOWER. A large number of friends attended a novelty shower given last evening at the home of Herbert Reynolds, Lombard street, in honor of Miss Florence Innis, who was made the recipient of many handsome and useful presents. BANK CLEARINGS St. John bank clearings for the week ending today were $2,674,444; last year, $2,064,859; in 1917, $2,094,502. Halifax, N. S., May 1—Bank clearings here for the week ending today were $4,299,827; last year, $4,286,765.

BRITISH BUDGET AND DOMINIONS

Colonial Products That Are Affected By Preference

Tea, Cocoa, Rum, Cotton, Sugar, Tobacco and Wine—Imperial Development Regarded as of Highest Importance

London, May 1.—The principal colonial products affected by the introduction of colonial preference in the budget as announced yesterday by Austen Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, will be tea, cocoa and rum, but there are other products, like cotton, sugar, tobacco and wine in which there will be great opportunities for the development of trade. It is considered there never was a time when imperial development was so important.

The preference on alcohol is one-third, while the preference on tea, nearly 92 per cent of which is grown within the empire, will be equivalent to reducing the duty and involve a loss of £2,800,000 in revenue. It is expected the preference will greatly increase the consumption of tea. Fifty per cent of the cocoa is produced within the empire and at a preference of seven shillings per hundred weight the loss in revenue will be £200,000.

The increased duties on beer and spirits are domestic, and not customs duties. The preference on manufactures to be introduced will be one shilling four pence a pound, which is considered a substantial concession and should increase production in India and the colonies. The estimated revenue from tobacco is £47,000,000, but only two per cent of it comes from empire sources.

The estimated sugar revenue is £29,000,000. Seven per cent of it comes from the empire. The preference will be worth four shillings a hundred weight, meaning a loss of £200,000 in revenue.

The preference on wine duties is levied at two rates, one shilling three pence and three shillings. Preference is given by a reduction of six pence on the lower class and a shilling on the higher class. This will prove of importance to South Africa and Australia. The chancellor said he was unwilling to raise the duties on account of the interests of Great Britain's allies—France and Portugal.

The chancellor added that spirits presented the hardest problem. Excise taxes produced a large revenue and preference could not be in the form of reducing this revenue, and to give preference by reduction would necessitate a corresponding reduction in excise rates. Therefore, preference was given by increasing the duty on foreign spirits two shillings six pence a gallon.

Taxing Wealth. The features of the budget that are exciting most discussion here are the continuance of the policy of heavily taxing wealth without an increase of taxes on other classes. Free trade sentiment and the launching of the scheme of preference for imports from the dominions and colonies.

The taxation on wealth and business is illustrated by the increase on inheritance taxes, beginning with five per cent on £10,000 estates, so that they pay ten instead of five per cent as at present, while an estate of £100,000 pays thirty instead of twenty per cent. Business is taxed by the retention of an excess profits tax of forty per cent, and the halving of the existing rate but which brings complaint from business men, who argue that it discourages enterprise.

The policy of imperial preference on imports begins, after years of discussion with the colonies, without any arrangement for reciprocal favors by the colonies for British products. This is the first wedge for the introduction of the protective system, because preference for the colonies means a tariff on goods from other countries. Free trade sentiment, however, is far from dead, and the old line free traders promise a strong fight. The popular demand for more and better beer is granted, with the allowance increased by an output of fifty per cent.

PRESENTATION TO SOLDIERS WITH A WELCOME HOME

Sergt. G. W. London was very pleasantly surprised last evening when a large number of friends called at his home, 481 Victoria street, and gave him a surprise party to welcome him home after more than three years overseas. He arrived recently. The evening was spent in music and games and Sergt. London was made the recipient of a beautiful signet ring with monogram nicely engraved. In the absence of Lt. Budd, who was unable to attend on account of business, the presentation was made by Joseph Christie in a few appropriate remarks. Refreshments were served and the evening was closed by singing the National Anthem.

On last Friday evening a large number of friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. N. Durost to welcome back, after overseas service, their son, Everett N. Durost. He enlisted in Montreal with the 13th Battalion in October, 1917, and saw some of the heaviest fighting of the war. The evening was pleasantly spent with games, music and an appropriate speech was made by W. A. Harris who on behalf of those present, presented to Mr. Durost a sum of money, accompanied by an address. Although taken by surprise, Mr. Durost thanked his many friends for their kindness toward him. Refreshments were served and the gathering broke up with the singing of the National Anthem.

THE PIANIST WHO BECAME A PREMIER

The picture shows Paderewski, great musician, now prime minister of Poland, at his desk in the Hotel Wagram, in Paris, and in conversation with one of his advisers, Major Jwanenski, to whom he was saying as he pointed to the map, "The possession of Danzig is a vital problem, for without this outlet to the sea, Poland would be asphyxiated."

Belgium Will Not Accept, Says Brussels Paper

Very Strong Measures Relative to Demands From Germany—Even Refusal to Sign Peace Treaty

Brussels, May 1.—Extremely strong measures relative to Belgium's demands at the peace conference have been decided upon by the Belgian government, according to the Solr.

"Belgium will not accept the terms the Council of Three desires to impose upon her," the newspaper says. "She will demand a complete fulfillment of the promises contained in the declaration addressed to her by France, Great Britain, Italy and Japan and that expressed in the seventh of President Wilson's fourteen points. She will refuse to sign any peace treaty which does not restore Belgium to political and economic independence and does not entirely indemnify her for damage sustained during the war."

The Financial Question. London, May 1.—One of the principal features of the arrangement for indemnity to Belgium against which Belgium is protesting is that that country will receive £100,000,000 as part of the £1,000,000,000 which Germany will be asked to pay by the end of next year as part of a total reparation to be exacted later, according to the Daily Mail's Paris correspondent. The Belgian delegates, it is added, decline to accept the arrangement without consulting their government, because it leaves undecided the proportion of the ultimate reparation money to be allotted to Belgium.

A Reuter despatch from Paris states that a meeting of the Belgian cabinet has been held, under the presidency of King Albert, and that the question has been discussed. It has been decided, the despatch states, that three members of the Belgian cabinet will be sent to Paris to instruct the Belgian delegates.

VERA DE LAVELLE

A young woman who is accused of aiding Frank McCollough, murderer, to escape from Toronto jail on April 16th.

SOUTH SLAVS INVADE CARINTHIA AND OPEN OFFENSIVE THERE

Copenhagen, April 30.—(By the Associated Press)—A despatch from Vienna says the South Slavs have crossed the demarcation line in Carinthia and opened an offensive on the whole of the front from Volkermarkt to the Villach Basin. The German-Austrian government has protested, and it is declared that the refusal to withdraw the troops will be regarded as a hostile act.

The despatch adds that the Entente missions have been requested to have the disputed territory occupied by troops of a neutral great power.

Volkermarkt is a small town in Carinthia fifteen miles northeast of Klagenfurt on the Drave River. Villach, which also is on the Drave, fifty-two miles northwest of Laibach, is an important industrial center having manufactures of machinery and articles of lead and wood.

Closing in on Munich. Copenhagen, May 1.—The ring of government troops is closing around Munich, according to Berlin despatches. The villages of Schongau and Ufing have been captured from the Soviet forces without loss. They are about forty miles northwest of the city.

THE WORLD IN COMMITTEE

(Methodist Recorder). One of the shrewdest of the Victorians, in his golden little work, "Physics and Politics," has given a vivid picture of the way in which human societies grow and change, showing how primitive communities advance from a rigid and violent adherence to custom, and eventually arrive at "the Age of Discussion." That age is now upon us, and the sooner the enormous significance of the fact is appreciated the better for all. We have got to recognize that both our international and domestic peace and well-being hang upon committees. After a tragical experiment in governing mankind by force, even statesmen have been driven to plea their faith to a conference. The League of Nations is the world's latest and most splendid committee. The war might have been avoided if Lord Grey's proposal to Europe to go into committee had met with the response it deserved. Of all the counts against Germany, this will remain the heaviest—that she repudiated discussion, and put her trust in high-handed violence. The League of Nations, therefore, marks the inauguration of the new stage in international affairs. It represents a belated and hard won triumph of human reasonableness over passion and instinct. Henceforth the standing definition of the Prussian will be "one who is hostile to the principle of the League of Nations." His nationality or place of residence does not much matter, whether German, French or English. A Prussian, then, is an obsolescent human being who, when asked to go into committee, will have none of it—unless he is sure of getting his own way. Christians believe it is the Spirit of God which has inspired the league, the spirit which says now, as in the days of Isaiah, "Come, let us reason together."

We must also grasp the fact that the Age of Discussion has arrived in domestic concerns. During the past month many thousands of family men have made an intimate and unwanted acquaintance with their coal carrier, the fatal March 15 haunting their minds. Their absorption in Yugo-Slavs and Ceecho-Slovaks yielded to such questions as "Will the miners accept the government offer of a conference?" What does this amount to but that the trade of the country, our comfort, our health, our very lives depend on a committee. A committee stands for corporate reasonableness. To stimulate this hopeful spirit of fairness, sanity, and moderation is the public duty of every Christian in these critical days. There are still extremists who think it a degradation to meet in committee. They are out for war to the knife. These stiff-necked champions of the old regime of force are generally in a rage. They fume against "all this trades union humbug"—ought to have been nipped in the bud fifty years ago! It gives them positive pleasure to read of the police argument and debate, though these must always be tried first. Those who condemn strikes know quite well that the ruling classes cannot be depended on to inaugurate reforms which would abolish the barbarism that prevails in industry. Does anyone believe that in the absence of direct action on the miners' part, the business leaders, the politicians, the press would, on their own initiative, bring social questions to a solution? Hitherto they have only granted reforms under duress. They talk, it is true, of profit-sharing and the like, but in confidence admit that these are tricks to ward off the demands of Socialism. Therefore it is reasonable to conclude from experience that they will do very little, if any, more than they are compelled to by a brawling companion was cannot be enough to admit that there was something in all that, and promised to think about it.

The philosophy underlying the arguments both of the "Prussian" and of the irreconcilable miner is a philosophy of force. It has been stated by the most penetrating of modern observers, H. G. Wells, "Every party stands essentially for the interests and mental usages of some definite class or group of classes. No class will abolish itself or materially alter its way of living, or drastically reconstruct itself. In the capacity for aggression upon other classes lies the essential driving force of modern affairs."

In a word, class-war is a l'outrance. The method is "direct action," putting things to the proof, force. The only alternative way is to give reason a chance, and go into committee. It is not too much to say that we are walking today on a perilously narrow ledge of reason, with a horrible gulf of animalism and violence yawning before us. We must walk circumspectly. To start fighting on that straggled path would mean that we should all fall into the abyss together. That is why men like Mr. Thomas, Mr. Smilie, and the premier are worth far more than their weight in gold. They have the committee spirit, and welcome the call, "Come, let us reason together."

As a mental preparation for that committee we must recognize that we live in a revolutionary period. We are in the midst of great transformations. Nothing is more important than that the extremists should be aware of it. It is no good playing the ostrich. The emergent classes are going to meet the dominant classes either in council or fight. The issue is Whilism or War. Hard-shell resistance to change will only bring it about explosively. Reluctant and compulsory reforms do not ally, but rather excite animosity. Nobody need waste time debating whether or not there are to be great changes. That is settled for us, whether we like it or not. What is worth thinking about is the method by which they shall come. There are still a good many who love stability, which generally amounts to a preference for letting one's own well-being alone. These people still cling to the belief that they can thwart events. They are now talking about the conference as though it will enable them to shelve questions instead of settling them. The substitute tion of a committee for a strike is a providential left-off, they think. Fortunately these fatuous incorrigibles are in a minority.

The hope of the present lies in the prevalence of a strong committee spirit. This is not to say that committees are infallible. A Wesleyan minister who had had experience of them from the humble Sunday school council to the majestic conference will not be suspected of undue partiality or extravagant optimism. To admit the fallibility of committees is merely to confess the fallibility of human nature and brains. But, in any case, human nature is the material we are shut up to, and brains are a more promising instrument than fists or firearms. We therefore respectfully salute the Age of Discussion, and pray that we may be worthy of it. A committee witnesses to a belief in intelligence, toleration, criticism, publicity, reasonableness, and progress. The natural enemies of committees are a disreputable crew, ignorance, bigotry, despotism, anarchy, prejudice, egotism, force. We have had a bitter experience of war and strikes—which stand for the corporate fist. Welcome then to the league, and to the committee, which stand for the corporate brain.

Pioneer Days At St. John

Events of 50 Years Ago

(Written by Ven. Archdeacon Raymond and Dedicated To St. John Board of Trade)

As already pointed out, early marriages were much in vogue at Portland Point a century and a half ago. Captain Peabody's second daughter, Elizabeth, was only seventeen when she married James White and settled down to domestic life in the same home with her sister, Mrs. Simonds. Sarah LeBaron of Plymouth, Mass., was only sixteen when she married William Hazen and came with him in 1776 to live at Portland Point. The house in which they lived is still standing at the corner of Simonds and Brook streets. The building was raised on the 17th of November, 1778, and the house is therefore very nearly one hundred and fifty years old. We shall have something more to say about this old landmark and its occupants presently.

Jonathan Leavitt, when he came to St. John with Messrs. Simonds and White in 1764, was a mere youth of eighteen, but even then was a capable navigator, and during the next ten years usually sailed as master in one or other of the company's vessels. He testified in an old law suit that during this period he sailed chiefly between St. John and Newbury-Port, but occasionally made voyages to the West Indies. In the course of time he became one of the greatest traders of the Bay of Fundy, and probably no one knew the Harbor of St. John so well as he. He says that when in St. John he stayed with Simonds and White, who lived together during the greater part of the ten years he was in their employ, and when they separated their families he stayed sometimes with one and sometimes with the other until in 1772 he married Captain Peabody's youngest daughter, Elizabeth, who was then only sixteen. He thus became still more closely identified with Simonds and White, whose wives were also daughters of Captain Peabody. Simonds and White, however, lived near by; the business was in fact a sort of family compact. Leavitt and Peabody were associated as partners in shipbuilding, and a little later both moved across the harbor to Carleton.

William Hazen. Early in 1771 William Hazen determined to discontinue business altogether at Newbury-Port and remove with his family to Portland Point, and a house was built for him this summer by the company's carpenters and workmen. When not quite finished it was unfortunately burned. A new frame was raised on November 17, 1773, and the building completed for occupancy in the following year. This house still stands, considerably modified, it is true, at the corner of Simonds and Brook streets, having withstood the ravages of time and escaped the numerous conflagrations that have occurred in the vicinity in the course of the last 116 years. A sketch of the original house will be seen in Raymond's History of the St. John River, page 406. In the present building the roof is modernized; it formerly pitched four ways, running up to a peak at the centre. In making repairs some years ago it was found that the studding was made of spruce-poles fastened on two sides with an axe. The boards were roughly sawn and the nails were of the ancient fashion. The house was composed of pine "siding" and has been renewed. The substitution of a flat roof, the putting in of new windows and the removal of much of the foundation has further altered the external appearance of the building. The lower flat is at present occupied as a grocery, the upper flat as a hall. It is by all odds the oldest building in St. John, and should be honored with a "tablet" by some of our patriotic societies, and pointed out to strangers as an object of interest. In the olden times, and for many years, the grounds of the Hon. William Hazen extended to the water. The house was by far the best and most substantial erected in Portland prior to the arrival of the Loyalists. In the early days it was considered quite a mansion.

William Hazen's removal from Newbury-Port had been planned nearly four years before it was carried into effect and was in no way influenced by the threatening war clouds that began to darken the skies. His arrival at St. John in May, 1774, was very nearly coincident with the battle of Lexington and it was not long until the events of the American Revolution had closed the ports of Massachusetts against all vessels sailing from St. John.

Large Families Then. Meanwhile quite a little society was growing up amongst the families at

Strength Will Return To Weak People Using This Treatment

You are discouraged. You feel old and worn. You are sick, but not aware of the fact. You can drag yourself around—but work is impossible. With your stomach crying out for assistance and the nerves all on edge why not try Ferrero's?—it will surely do you good. Ferrero's is a wonderful combination of vegetable extracts, fortified by excellent tonics for the nerves and stomach. When you feel despondent, Ferrero's cheers you up. When languor and oppression weigh you down, Ferrero's braces you up. When sleep is impossible, Ferrero's calms the nerves and gives you rest. For bounding health, good looks, good spirits, nothing equals Ferrero's; makes the weak strong and the sick well. Good for men, women and children; try Ferrero's, it can work wonders, as it did for Mrs. Mary Melons, of Harbor Bouches, N.S., who writes: "Ferrero's built me up. "Before using it I scarcely knew what good health meant. "I was just as miserable and weak as any woman could be. "Tired from morning to night, bothered by trifles, incessantly nervous. "The first box of Ferrero's improved my blood, gave me appetite. In a short time I was like a new person. Now I rejoice in abundant good health." Try Ferrero's. It will make an unexpected improvement in your looks, your feeling, your health. Whether anaemic, nervous or suffering from secret disorders—if you want cure, use Ferrero's. Price 60c. per box, or six boxes for $3.00, at all dealers or direct from The Catarhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

Portland Point and the situation was much less lonely than it was ten years before. As already mentioned, James and Hannah Simonds had fourteen children. James White, Jonathan Leavitt, Elijah Estabrooks and Samuel Peabody had also good sized families, but the Hazens undeniably carried off the palm. Dr. Slafter, the family genealogist, says that Hon. William Hazen had by his wife, Sarah LeBaron, sixteen children, and they were, like their Simonds neighbors, a family that attained distinction in civil, political and professional life. Hon. William Hazen, the father, was appointed by Governor Carleton a member of the first council of the province. One of his sons, Robert, was a major in the 60th Regiment, and a grandson, Robert F. Hazen, was mayor of St. John and resided at what is now the Dufferin Hotel. Another grandson, Hon. Robert L. Hazen—popularly known as "Curly Bob"—was attorney general and leader of the New Brunswick government for years. He was a man of great ability, who might have been judge of the supreme court had he so desired. The eldest daughter of Hon. William Hazen married the elder Ward Chipman, judge of the supreme court, and her only son, Chief Justice Ward Chipman, was probably the most eminent citizen St. John can boast of having reared in her history. In modern days the Hazens continue to do honor to the name. The "castle" built and occupied by Hon. Robert L. Hazen is today the residence of Sir J. Douglas Hazen, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.

We return from this digression to consider the story of events at Portland Point a century and a half ago and must hasten on.

What then are the events that happened here 150 years ago? During the first five years at Portland Point the pioneers had established themselves in many branches of industry. Jonathan Leavitt says that his business included the fishery, fur trade, manufacture of lime, shipbuilding, sawing lumber, clearing lands, making roads, dyking the marsh, cutting hay, and attending stock. They employed a great number of laborers and workmen. At one time the fishery claimed their attention, at another the Indian trade, at one time the dyking of the marsh or the building of an aboiteau; at another delivering supplies and firewood to the garrison of Fort Frederick; at one time building a schooner, at another a wharf, at another a warehouse. The pioneers were men of enterprise and industry and full of hopeful anticipations.

A surprising variety of goods, for those days, was kept in stock at the company's store at Portland Point. Simonds and White are said to have had everything in a trade with an anchor. The goods were sent them by their New England partners, Hazen and Jarvis, from Boston and Newbury-Port. These places were the distributing centres for the exports of furs, fish, lumber, lime and other products sent from St. John.

Boston and Newbury-Port were at this time towns rising into importance and were rivals in trade, although it was not long until Boston forged ahead. At this time Mr. Simonds wrote "there is scarcely but the people offer in exchange for goods such merchandise as pine boards, clapboards, shingles, white and red barrel staves, spars, cedar posts, rafters and cordwood." He inquires whether it will do to receive such articles in trade and is answered in the affirmative. At this time the government allowed no monopoly in the fur trade and Simonds and White had rivals in the business. They claimed, however, that they had a large trade with the Indians as all other traders put together. During their first ten years' business they sent to Boston at least 40,000 beaver skins, 11,022 musquats, 6,090 martins, 870 otters, 228 fisher, 222 mink, 120 fox, 140 sable, 74 raccoons, 2 bear, 8 wolverine, 67 lynx, 2 wolf, 50 caribou, 85 deer, 1,113 moose, besides 2,200 pounds of marten and 3,000 pounds of feathers. The value, according to their invoice prices, was about $40,000. In our eyes the prices quoted seem ridiculously small. The fact remains that Simonds and White shipped every year to Boston over 4,000 beaver skins, besides quantities of other furs, and other traders sent in like proportion the fur trade of the St. John river in those days was no small item. The furs sent to Boston were re-shipped to London for sale.

In addition to their extensive shipments of furs and peltries the company sent to Massachusetts and the West Indies quantities of pollock, mackerel and codfish taken in the bay. The gaspereaux fishery was also a very important item. Trade with Boston began rapidly to develop in 1769, and stimulated the building of a wharf and a warehouse at St. John. In the seven years prior to the revolutionary war, Simonds and White shipped to Boston 41,000 barrels of gaspereaux besides quantities of bass, shad, salmon and sturgeon. This may be said to have been the beginning of our trade with Boston. (To be continued.)

SAYS ALL LABOR MUST ORGANIZE

Peter Wright Delivers Farewell Address on Betterment of Mankind to Union Leaders.

Peter Wright spent the last two hours of his first visit to Canada before the sailing of the steamer Corsican in addressing the labor leaders of the city at a meeting in the Seaman's Institute last night, presided over by Captain A. J. Mulcahy. Declaring that complete organization of all labor, by which he meant all who contributed to the world by mental or physical effort and were not parasites, was the only salvation of civilization, he said that labor was only twenty-five per cent. organized in Canada and employers were in some cases trying to prevent workers from organizing. He said these employers were unwittingly advocating anarchy. Where organization existed there was greater interest in all matters of national welfare, and where organization did not exist the forces working against labor would exploit it. That it was the system which produced millionaires and autocrats and not these men themselves who must be killed, he asserted vigorously, and that an educational propaganda must be made to teach the laboring man that only constitutional means could advance his and his country's interests, and that every individual was directly responsible for his own share of the government of the country.

In St. John Mr. Wright said the labor leaders were endeavoring to better conditions. He told how in England a 100 per cent. organization with fifty-seven labor members in the House of Commons was endeavoring to bring about a better world and how organization had improved living conditions for sailors which must be done in a land so abundantly blessed to do their share in the fight against materialism, to be optimistic and create a brotherhood amongst themselves and working for the benefit of every class.

P. C. Sharkey moved the hearty vote of thanks, which, together with three rousing cheers and a tiger, was accorded there was plenty for all, to give a square deal to womanhood with every

In concluding he appealed in the name of organized Great Britain to all Canadians living in a land so abundantly blessed to do their share in the fight against materialism, to be optimistic and create a brotherhood amongst themselves and working for the benefit of every class.

He also took bottles of port and whiskey, cigars, cigarettes and matches, belonging to Mr. Justice Horridge, who was conducting the Sussex Assizes, and was lodging at the house at the time. SMOKE MACDONALD'S INDEX

Bolshevik Leaders Preparing For Flight

Washington, April 30—Official advices reaching Washington through a neutral source said that Bolsheviki leaders, Lenine and Trotzky, were seeking a refuge outside of Russia, fearing a possible overthrow of the Soviet government.

The significances of these advices as officials view the situation is that the two Bolsheviki leaders realize that the days of Bolshevism are numbered and are preparing the way for flight when the time comes. It is known that on other occasions they have tried to make similar preparations but each time some incident gave the Bolsheviki government new impetus.

Sweden, Denmark and Norway, according to advices, have refused to entertain the suggestion that Lenine and Trotzky be given refuge there and the latest report said the German government had advised them that their presence in that country would be unwelcome at the present time. Switzerland and Spain, it was said, have sent equally definite refusals to permit Lenine and Trotzky to find a haven within their borders.

KIAO-CHAU WILL REVERT TO CHINA

Paris, April 30—Announcement was made shortly after 2 o'clock this afternoon that the dispute over Kiao-Chau had been settled. No details were made public.

The peace treaty will provide that Germany must surrender Kiao-Chau to Japan, the Paris representative of Reuter's Limited says. Japan will transfer the territory to China in due course. It is added that Japan's other agreements with China will not be affected.

PLAN TO DEVELOP NEW BRUNSWICK

"Forward" Number of Board of Trade Journal Presents Encouraging Statistics and Holds Out Cheerful Hope For the Future.

The "Forward New Brunswick" number of the Board of Trade Journal made its appearance yesterday. It contains much information regarding the possibilities of the province and the state of the port traffic here. It points out that during the war approximately $600,000,000 in exports left St. John. The Canadian Pacific elevators handled 16,588,600 bushels of grain during the winter season, just closed, and the C. N. R. elevator 1,296,294, a grand total of 17,884,894, exceeding all previous records. During the season 193-ocean steamers, twenty-eight schooners and a barkentine loaded at the port of St. John.

The passenger traffic by the C. P. R. ocean boats through St. John during the season has been as follows: Inward, 10,736 cabin, including 2,246 military officers; 38,566 steerage, of which 20,545 were military; dependents, 22,000. Outward, 15,000 passengers.

Boosting the Province. Regarding the province the Journal says:

"Give it the place in the sun that its wealth of resources entitles it to. That's the new gospel that will be preached from henceforth. From it has sprung the inspiration to have a grand forward convention, to open in St. John on June 3, and to which all New Brunswick is invited to send delegates.

"The movement to make better known the wonder of the natural wealth of New Brunswick, particularly its game, fish, mines, field and forest potentialities, was a spontaneous emanation from the executive of the New Brunswick Tourist Association, and has the backing of district tourist bodies, the boards of trade, the provincial government, the passenger departments of the two transcontinental railways, the guides' association, and of public-spirited men the province over.

"Its purpose is not to exploit any particular locality more than another, but to make them all known, the scenic beauties of rivers, lakes and seashores; the attractive situations of cities and towns; the extent and character of game; the illimitable possibilities of the province's agricultural, lumbering and mining wealth. It is hoped to make these

PROVINCE READY FOR FEDERAL AID

To Take Advantage of Road Grant up to Maximum

THIS YEAR AND NEXT

Hon. Mr. Veniot Shows How Misleading a Statement in Opposition Newspaper is—The Difference in New Brunswick and Other Provinces—A Telling Reply to False Criticism.

Hon. P. J. Veniot, minister of public works, arrived in the city last night to attend a meeting of the government. When asked regarding an article in the Standard attacking his department in connection with its road policy and the Federal grant, the minister said:

"I read it with a great deal of amusement. I was always of opinion that I had come to believe that the numerous exposures made of late, showing its gross misrepresentation of facts, might have taught it to be more careful in making statements touching matters connected with the department of public works of this province.

"When the Standard states that on a number of occasions I have expressed my 'deep' regret that owing to existing conditions New Brunswick is not in a position to participate in the federal government's bounty, it attributes to me a statement which I never made, never even thought of making. I have contended, and do still contend that it will be more difficult for this province than it will be for the other provinces to take full advantage of the aid offered by the federal government. This is due to the fact that New Brunswick is the only province that wholly constructs and maintains its highways without aid from the municipalities. Owing to municipal aid the other provinces can expend sufficient money on their roads to entitle them to the maximum of the federal aid without being called upon to touch one dollar of their ordinary revenue to meet interest and sinking fund on their capital expenditures. They also have their automobile fees which can be used for that purpose. In New Brunswick we have, during the last two years, been funding our automobile fees and using the proceeds for improvements of the trunk roads and some of the main branch roads.

"I may say that far from stating this province could not take advantage of the federal aid, I was the first minister of public works to lay before the federal authorities a complete programme of work for 1919, and to receive the approval of the federal commissioner of highways, Mr. A. W. Campbell. This was on the 17th of January last. I know it will not please the Standard to hear it said, but I can assure you that New Brunswick is fully prepared to take advantage of the federal aid this year, up to the maximum fixed by Ottawa. It will also be able to do so next year without constituting an extraordinary revenue to meet interest and sinking fund. Whether it can continue to do so for the following three years wholly out of funding automobile fees depends entirely upon the buoyancy of revenue from that source.

"Another absolutely false statement made by the Standard is that in connection with the funding of automobile fees. When it says that out of a collection of ninety thousand dollars, he put aside only thirty thousand dollars, it should and does know that that statement is absolutely false. The records of the legislature show it is false. To a question asked by Hon. James Murray, when I introduced the bill to enable me to borrow an additional four hundred and fifty thousand dollars for 1919 (making in all one million one hundred and fifty thousand in three years) the reply was made that the interest and sinking fund would be met by the automobile fees. Of the $90,000 collected in 1918 from automobiles, $73,000 has been funded, about $9,000 went for expenses of administering that branch of the department, and the balance of $8,000, with the estimated increase of revenue for 1919, will be used to pay interest and sinking fund on the new loan of $450,000 for 1919. You can readily see how dishonest the Standard is in dealing with this matter. Such deliberate misrepresentation is unworthy of any newspaper. I maintain the misrepresentation is deliberate, because I know the Standard in its possession of information which must convince it that it is not giving the facts.

"Allow me to point out to the public that the Standard not only deliberately misrepresents the facts, but it puts the climax on the whole business by adding to misrepresentation what it must know to be a deliberate falsehood. For instance it says: 'These licenses (automobile) fees are augmented for the present year by a very considerable sum. Collections for 1919 should reach $150,000.' When I tell you that there has been no increase in the automobile fees for 1919, the public can readily see how unscrupulous The Standard is in its statement. The fees for 1919 are precisely the same as they were in 1918.

"I think that I have clearly shown that the Standard in its editorial of yesterday has misled the public. First—

When it says that I have expressed regret that New Brunswick is not in a position to participate in the federal aid. Second—That I only funded $80,000 out of $9,000 automobile fees, whereas some $73,000 have been funded. Third—The automobile fees for 1919 have not been increased as stated by the Standard. "But, why should I lose any sleep over what the Standard says about me? When Hon. J. B. M. Baxter, one of its directors, feels compelled to repudiate the Standard in the legislature, there is not much need of worry on my part about what it says about me."

Afternoon Session of The Anglican Synod

H. A. Porter Heads Organization of Laymen for Campaign to Secure Funds for Increased Stipends for Clergy—Missionary to Japan Addresses Gathering

Consideration of reports was continued at the afternoon session of the Anglican synod yesterday and in the evening the delegates were the guests of Sir Douglas and Lady Hazen at a reception.

The report of the committee of theological study was presented and adopted as read. In reply to the request of the committee that the books of the Kingdom Library be made more accessible to the clergy, Rev. Canon R. A. Armstrong reported on behalf of the corporation of Trinity church of St. John, that an index of the books had been prepared and that every clergyman may take out a book provided that he return it within a reasonable time.

Constitution and Canons. The report of the committee on constitution and canons was next read. The report is in part as follows: "In accordance with the direction of the synod the committee took steps to bring the matter of the vote for women at the parish meetings before the legislature. A sub-committee consisting of the lord bishop, Archbishop Newsham, Mr. Justice Grimmer, the chancellor, and T. Carter Allan, was appointed to draft a bill embodying the direction of the synod, and to provide for its presentation at the next meeting of the legislature. The act makes it lawful for the parishioners of any parish or mission, at a meeting duly called for the purpose in the manner provided by the said The Church of England act, 1912, to pass a resolution by the plurality of persons qualified to vote for the elections of church wardens and vestrymen, declaring that women, being otherwise duly qualified as provided by the said act, be entitled to vote at all meetings in the parish or mission for the election of church wardens and vestrymen and for the nomination of a rector."

The report of the committee on status of the clergy was next presented and was adopted as read. The report is in part as follows: "One marked change has been the inclusion of ladies on the council, which was effected by Mrs. J. H. Meakley and Mrs. Hooper and Miss Alice Walker. The ladies have been very welcome to our meetings and have aided materially to the discussion. The action of the council was generally along the lines suggested by the governing social service body in our church. This included child welfare, the drink traffic, rural social service problems and the prevention of disease. On the advice of the bishop the council once more approaches the synod for the appointment of a deaconess to meet young women coming as strangers to St. John. Notice of motion to this effect occurs in the proper place, and the council feels that its success will be greatly enhanced if the country clergy will take an interest in the matter and send letters whenever a parishioner moves to town."

The report of the correspondence committee of the Colonial and Continental Church Society was read by Rev. W. H. Sampson and was adopted. The report stated that there were many opportunities and several applications for student help for the summer months, but owing to the absence overseas of all the students who were medically fit, only one man was available for this most needed work.

End Your CATARRH Today

Catarrh sufferers, meaning those with colds, sore throat, bronchial trouble, etc., can all be cured right at home by inhaling "Catarrhosone."

The report of the Women's Auxiliary to the M. S. C. C., and to the diocesan missions was read by Mrs. Porter and was adopted. The report is in part as follows: "The membership of the older branches remains almost stationary; but since the last meeting, the number of new branches has been formed, and one girl's branch re-organized. This means not only more members for our work, but more interest, knowledge and enthusiasm in this great work for the King of Kings."

The report of the representative for the Maritime Home for Girls was read by Rev. W. H. Sampson and was adopted as read. The report is in part as follows: "The work is being carried on by the board of trustees and is being wisely and judiciously managed. Like all such institutions it is not without its problems, the question of money for their support is always to the front. Application has been made to the government for a grant to help and we learn that help has been provided. A difficulty arose concerning the jurisdiction over the girls which the trustees of this home have settled by the appointment of a special officer who will have charge of all such girls."

The girls attend church on Sunday morning, while special service is provided in the home for the evening. The new building is proving itself most suitable for the purpose of the home. It is well placed in a healthy, slightly elevated situation. The health of the girls has been very good. Splendid reports of the work of the home are coming to the board, showing most clearly that the founders made no mistake when they undertook to establish the institution."

Rev. G. A. Kuhring then read the report of the committee on Nova Scotia in connection with the maritime home for girls. The report, which was adopted, contained the opinion of this diocese having a share in the Maritime Home for Girls.

The sub-committee appointed by the laymen of the synod for the conducting of the campaign to increase the stipends of the clergy of the diocese, brought in the report of a provincial organizer to take charge of the campaign and all matters incidental thereto. The committee has to pay his travelling and executive expenses and reasonable allowance for his services, as shall be recommended by the executive. The committee beg to state that they unanimously recommend Horace A. Porter, barrister, of this city, as provincial organizer. Your committee has waited upon Mr. Porter and succeeded in receiving his acceptance of the position, should his appointment be agreeable to the synod.

Japan today must be considered as a world power, as she undoubtedly is. She has been taking great strides during the past forty or fifty years and now today she is represented at the Peace Conference with the rest of the Allies. Dr. Robinson said that Japan had attained her present condition today through several reasons. One of these reasons was because the Japanese were one people, while China and Korea were made up of several. Another reason was because Japan has always had ancient and high civilization. And perhaps the chief reason was because Japan is a country with great aspirations and has always had a good government. There has also always been a widespread education throughout the country and today there are numerous colleges and technical schools all over the land.

Delegates Entertained. Bishop Richardson and more than 150 delegates to the Anglican synod were entertained by Sir Douglas and Lady Hazen at their residence last evening. A splendid supper was followed by music and dancing. Many of the delegates and lady of the Anglican church who are comparative strangers to each other were enabled by this reception to come together and meet in a social way.

WILL USE TOWERS TO PREVENT LARGE FIRES IN FORESTS

Fredericton, April 30—The advisory board of the New Brunswick crown lands department at a session here today made twenty-nine permanent appointments to the forest service of the province. These men have been on temporary duty for some time. In addition to the twenty-nine appointments referred to there are seventeen game wardens on duty, two co-operative fire wardens and four voluntary fire wardens. The latter are paid by the province and voluntarily place themselves on duty as fire fighters. They have the power of summoning crews of men. The board decided to begin at once the construction of observation towers for use in fighting forest fires and the connections of these towers with existing phone lines. In addition to the towers which may be built several towers erected some years ago in connection with the dominion geodetic survey will be utilized by being connected by phone lines.

The Highest Point. The chief observation tower to be erected this summer will be on Bald Mountain, at the head of the Southwest Peninsula, and the Big Seville. The site is 2,750 feet above sea level, and is the highest point in New Brunswick. From it a wide area can be watched. In addition to these structures, the department contemplates the construction of caches in connection with fire wardens' camps at which fire fighting apparatus will be stored. Two of these probably will be erected shortly. Hon. E. A. Smith, minister of lands and mines, stated at the meeting of the advisory board that the matter of the site of a gas station, to be established under recent legislation, is under consideration, and that he hoped to be able to announce shortly what area has been selected. Officials of the department already have examined certain areas. It is proposed that a dairy school be located at Truro (N. S.) Transportation of students will be paid by the various provinces from which they come. The business to be settled by the conference will be the proportion of expense to be borne by the respective provinces. Formerly New Brunswick had a dairy school at Sussex, but the building was destroyed by fire some time ago.

PRESENTATIONS. A pleasant evening was spent last evening by the members of St. Patrick's Dramatic Club, in their hall at West St. John, and a pleasing programme, including dancing, was carried out. A presentation was made to Harry McQuade, who directed the recent minstrel show in St. Patrick's Hall for the benefit of the Catholic orphans. It was made in the form of a traveling bag, and Mr. McQuade, although taken by surprise, replied in a suitable manner, thanking his friends for their thoughtfulness. Mrs. Dorothy McDonald, who was also connected with the minstrel show as accompanist, was presented a handsome ladies' brooch with amethyst settings.

300,000,000 WAR SAVINGS CERTIFICATES SOLD IN GREAT BRITAIN

Splendid Record Made by War Savings Committee During Three Years. Work Will Still be Carried on.

In the United Kingdom the War Savings campaign has been a great success and will be continued on a peace basis. The third anniversary of the inauguration of the movement was on March 1, 1918, 158,800,447 certificates were sold, or an average of 79,401,723. During the third year to March 1, 1918, 149,888,201 were sold, being nearly double the average for the previous two years. This progress of the sales is the more remarkable when it is realized that no individual may hold more than 500 certificates, and consequently, the number of purchasers is being steadily reduced.

It is, however, important that it should be understood that the raising of money for the state was not the main object for which the National War Savings Committee was established. The primary object of the committee was to secure for the nation all the benefits which would accrue from the successful establishment of a safe, convenient and profitable method of investment for people of small means, rather than the more narrow object of merely raising money to pay for the war. It is in this direction that lies the important social aspect of the movement, a movement which promises to become of permanent benefit to the wage-earner.

There is no doubt that there may be today some tendency to consider that "saving is no longer of the same paramount necessity as it was during the war, but this is by no means the universal rule. During the three months succeeding the armistice, subscriptions were actually larger than they were during the three months previous to the armistice. It would certainly appear that the system of savings clubs, started during the war, has come to stay, and that it will take its rank with such fundamental British institutions as the Post Office Savings Bank, the Trustee Savings Bank, the building societies, and the friendly societies. One of the satisfactory features of the position is that there is no conflicting rivalry between these bodies and the War Savings Associations. These older institutions have their representatives on nearly all the local "Savings Committees" and it is fully realized that all thrift agencies stand to benefit by the intensification of the spirit of thrift."

Major Wood contested Ayr in the December elections and was defeated by more than 5,000 votes by Sir George Younger, Coalitionist. In the December election the central district of Aberdeen and Kincardine was carried by Lieutenant Colonel A. T. Gordon, by 688 votes out of a total of more than 13,000 over J. M. AGAINST CONTROL SYSTEM

Halifax, April 30—The ratepayers of Halifax decided by plebiscite today to abolish the board of control and return to the old aldermanic system. A total of 2,022 votes were polled, 1,760 for abolition and 260 against. Twelve ballots were "spoiled." The terms of the plebiscite were that fifteen per cent. of the total electorate should be polled, which meant that 1,300 altogether had to come to the polls. The required number was almost doubled. The campaign of those in favor of the board of control was to remain away from the polls.

"I Am So Afraid it is My Heart"

VERY many people live in constant dread of heart trouble when the heart is in no way diseased. There is perhaps no organ in the human system which is worked so hard and yet the heart seldom goes wrong so long as it is supplied with plenty of rich, red blood. In fact the heart repairs its own waste and plods on, lifting tons of blood each year and pumping it through the body. But the heart's action is the result of the contraction and expansion of muscles and these muscles are operated by the nervous system. When the blood gets thin and watery and the nervous system is starved the action of the heart, just like that of the stomach, bowels and other organs, is slowed down.

As a result, you are easily tired out, experience shortness of breath, palpitation of the heart and general bodily weakness. The quickest and most rational way to overcome this condition is by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to enrich the blood and build up the exhausted nerves. With the nerves in a run-down condition you are sure to get downhearted and discouraged and to imagine that all sorts of dreadful things are likely to happen to you. But when you have been using the Nerve Food for a week or two you will begin to see the silver lining to the cloud and to realize that you are on the way to health, courage and happiness. Mrs. Nellie Dertinger, Simcoe, Ont., writes: "I was a great sufferer with my nerves and with pains about the heart. I could not sleep at night and though I tried several doctors could not get much relief. A friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and I am happy to say the results have been a surprise. My health has been built up wonderfully. I have no more pains about the heart, my nerves are steady and I sleep and rest well." BIG DRUG FIRMS
WIN AGENCY FOR FAMOUS TANLAC

The Ross Drug Company and F. W. Munro Will Control Sales in St. John

TO BE PLACED ON SALE TODAY

National Drug & Chemical Co. Will be Wholesale Distributors For the Province of New Brunswick.

The Tanlac agencies for St. John have been awarded to The Ross Drug Company and F. W. Munro, and the wholesale distributing agency for the Province of New Brunswick to the National Drug and Chemical Co., was the statement made by the Tanlac Representative when seen yesterday.

"In awarding the exclusive control to these well-known firms," he said, "I am only carrying out our established custom of confining the sale to but one or two thoroughly responsible and centrally located firms in each city where Tanlac is placed on sale. In this connection I will say that no matter where you go, in the United States or Canada, you will find the Tanlac stores to be the leading and most reputable druggists in the town."

"Just such firms as these," he continued, "are always anxious and willing to co-operate in promoting the sale of Tanlac, not only because of its superior merit, but because of the prominence and valuable publicity they receive from its sale as well."

"These firms have given their initial order for an entire carload of Tanlac (12,730 bottles), and a large shipment will be delivered and ready to be placed on sale today."

"This is without doubt the largest order ever given in St. John for a single medicine, but having heard through absolutely reliable sources of the remarkable and rapidly growing demand for Tanlac in other cities, the management of these firms did not hesitate a moment in placing their order for this amount. I confidently believe that every bottle of it will be sold and the order duplicated before the close of next month."

"As a matter of fact, the sale of Tanlac throughout the country has not only been phenomenal, but unprecedented."

"In the comparatively small city of Knoxville, Tennessee, the Kuhlman-Chamberlains Drug Company has sold and distributed 128,100 bottles of Tanlac; Memphis, Tenn., dealers and jobbers, have sold and distributed over 422,708 bottles; in Seattle, Wash., over 50,000 bottles have been sold in twelve months; Denver dealers have sold 75,848 bottles in eight months; Dallas, Texas, dealers over 242,250 bottles in two years; Houston, Texas, 215,293 bottles, and Fort Worth, Texas, dealers have sold 122,204 bottles in less than a year."

"A little over eighteen months ago Tanlac was placed on sale in Eastern Canada, and in the city of Toronto, Ontario, over 148,280 bottles have already been sold."

"November 18th, 1918, Tanlac was placed on sale in Vancouver and Victoria, B. C., and to date, over 40,000 bottles of the medicine have been sold."

"While these figures may appear exaggerated and beyond all reason, the fact remains that they are absolutely true and correct and open to investigation. We challenge anyone, whether individual, dealer or competitor, to show where we have made the slightest discrepancy. And anyone doubting these statements is at liberty to write to any or all of our agents in these cities and they will gladly substantiate the above figures."—(Advertisement.)

Immense Figures In The British Budget

Estimated Revenues £1,159,650,000, Internal Debt £6,085,000,000, External Debt £1,350,000,000—Financial Showing Better Than That of Any Belligerents

London, April 30—The statement on the government's budget, which was made in the commons today by Austen Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, set forth at length the financial position of the nation and the prospects for the current year.

Mr. Chamberlain said that of the total expenditures for 1918-1919, 84 1/2 per cent had been provided from revenue and the rest by borrowing. The British record in this respect during the last five years, he added, was one which no other belligerent would equal.

The expenditures for the current year, he added, had been estimated at £2,454,019,000.

The chancellor estimated that the revenues in the current year would be £1,159,650,000 without new taxes or £270,000,000 more than last year's receipts. The national debt on March 31, he continued, was £2,448,000,000 compared with the estimate of a year ago of £2,980,000,000 and £246,000,000 at the outbreak of the war.

The chancellor stated that from April 1, 1918, to November 10, the daily expenditure had been £7,448,000, and since the latter date £6,476,000. The reduction, he said, would have been greater but for the expenditure in connection with demobilization, the payment of £22,000,000 for gratuities, and £15,000,000 for unemployment allowances.

National Assets.
The national assets, Mr. Chamberlain announced, included £1,789,000,000 due from the allies and the dominions, Russia, alone, he said, owed £268,000,000. Other assets were indemnities from enemy nations.

The chancellor said that cheques issued last year were less than had been estimated by £298,000,000. The estimated daily expenditure had been £8,148,000, and the actual expenditure £7,067,000.

Of the actual debt incurred the internal debt accounted for approximately £2,448,000,000, and the external debt for approximately £1,350,000,000.

War savings certificates, the chancellor continued, were issued at 15 shillings and 6 pence and are repayable with a pound. This involves an additional obligation of £68,000,000.

A large part of the internal debt, he said, was represented by national war bonds repayable at a premium and this premium represented a further liability of £217,150,000.

Free Gasoline.
The duty on benzol would be withdrawn, the chancellor declared, in order to encourage production. The license duty on gasoline also would be withdrawn. The land tax and the gasoline tax will remain unchanged, pending a detailed review.

The chancellor declared that the expansion of the floating debt could not be allowed to continue indefinitely. There had been no forced issue of currency notes; the inflation of currency was a world-wide proposition at the present time, he added.

Continuing, Mr. Chamberlain said the first remedial measure for inflated currency was to reduce expenditure; second, to pay expenditures as quickly as possible out of revenues; and third, to borrow as much as possible from the real investors and fund short dated securities.

Mr. Chamberlain said the expenditures during the coming year would be increased by an overlap of war charges and that neither side of the balance sheet would give a true idea of the post-war financial situation.

The Future.
"In dealing with the future I have to imagine the time when we shall have returned to something like normal and estimate the revenue of the future normal year on the existing basis of taxation at £952,000,000," the chancellor declared.

Mr. Chamberlain estimated the expenditures of a normal year at £766,000,000, saying:

"It is anticipated that the deficit from a normal year, therefore, will be £114,000,000, and I propose this year's budget with such a deficit in view."

the amount and quality of government, he continued, £171,000,000 were owed by dominions, £244,000,000 by France, £212,500,000 by Italy, £267,900,000 by Belgium and £12,642,000 by Serbia, and £45,915,000 by other allies.

In accordance with a proposal utilized by a predecessor, a set off has been effected between the Canadian and British governments in respect to our liability to them and their sterling obligations to this country. It has reduced the debt of Canada to this country and, on the other hand, the debt of this country to Canada by the sum of £80,550,000. I am not without hope that we might be able to carry through a similar transaction in the coming year."

The chancellor said he proposed to carry out the decisions of the imperial war cabinet and the conference on imperial preferences. The reductions from this would be substantial in amount with the rates few and simple.

Preference on commodities to be consumed, except alcohol, would be a sixth of the duty and on articles like clocks, watches and musical instruments it would be one third. This preference agreement, he continued, will particularly affect tea, cocoa and rum. A committee will be appointed to consider the rates on food commodities, motion picture films and number of other articles.

Preferential regulations, Mr. Chamberlain continued, started from April 1, except on tea, which will come under the operation of the rule on June 2. Preference affects only imperial commodities.

The luxury tax, the chancellor declared, would be dropped. An increase in the supply and quality of beer will be allowed at the present prices. The duty on beer will be increased from thirty to fifty shillings a proof gallon.

The Duty on Beer.
The increased duty on beer, the chancellor estimated, will produce £31,200,000 in a full year and £22,500,000 this year.

The increase on the duty of spirits will produce this year £19,850,000 and the excess profits tax will be continued for one year at the reduced rate of forty per cent.

The revenues also will include the sum of £200,000,000 on account of the excess profits duty, for accounting periods already closed or running out and the sum of £200,000,000 representing receipts from realization of the credit and assets. If the excess profits tax was brought to an end now, he continued, there would remain to be collected in the current year £200,000,000. The chancellor, he said, anticipated that the sum to be collected would be £100,000,000 the year after.

Mr. Chamberlain announced that the brewers will be allowed to increase their output by fifty per cent over the 1918 barrelage, bringing the authorized barrelage for the year to 20,000,000 barrels, as compared with a pre-war barrelage of 33,000,000. Currency notes which last year stood at £28,000,000, said Mr. Chamberlain, have risen to £248,000,000. This extension could not be allowed to continue indefinitely.

Expenditure, he declared, must be reduced and met as fully as possible out of the revenue.

Debate Limited.
The exigencies of business limited tonight's debate on the budget in the house of commons. The chief critic was William Adamson, the opposition leader, who characterized the budget, as extremely disappointing, and strongly criticized fresh borrowing, reducing of the excess profits tax and the introduction of colonial preference, which he regarded as the thin edge of the protection wedge. It was expected that the opposition Liberals would challenge division on the question of colonial preference, and when Chancellor Chamberlain appealed to the house to adopt the resolutions necessary to put the new proposals in force, Sir Donald Maclean, the Liberal leader, declared that the Liberals were opposed root and branch to the principle of preference and did not desire to prejudice their position in the debate.

Thereupon, Mr. Chamberlain gave assurance that there would be ample opportunity later on to challenge the preference policy.

Four Queer Ways of Treating Corns

Some Sit and Suffer
They let the corn spoil countless joyful hours. Dainty shoes are torture. Yet millions of others end that pain in a jiffy, and keep free from corns forever.

Some Pad Them
The pads are unsightly. Everyone knows that they hide a deformity. Why will dainty women, year after year, treat their feet in that way?

Some Pare and Pare
They get a partial brief relief. But they let the corn stay, and pare it again and again. And each time they risk an infection.

Some Use Ancient Cures
Some use methods which are old and mussy; out-of-date, unscientific. The very same treatments that fakery sold back in 1850.

The Right Way
Ends Corns—At Once and Forever

Nowadays there are millions who know that all those old methods are folly. The new-day way—the simple, certain, scientific way—is easiest of all.

A famous chemist, years ago, invented the Blue-jay plaster. It was based on many years of corn study.

The plaster is applied in a jiffy. It wraps about the toe and fits snugly. In a moment one forgets it. The pain of the corn stops instantly, and never returns. Then a bit of wax, centered on the corn alone, gently undermines it.

In two days take the Blue-jay off and the corn will disappear. Sometimes an old, tough corn needs another application. But that's easy, and that's all. The toughest corn cannot resist Blue-jay.

How Blue-jay Acts
A is a thin, soft, protecting ring which stops the pain by relieving the pressure.
B is the B.B.D. wax centered on the corn to gently undermine it.
C is rubber adhesive. It wraps around the toe and makes the plaster snug and comfortable.

MUSIC HELPS BUSINESS.

With the introduction of music into the business comes the probable development of a company band, a company chorus or glee club, a company concert party or minstrel show.

We hear a good deal about recreation for employes. We are convinced that pianos and even books are good for them, and will return their cost to the employers; but this music idea is dealing with something deeper and more fundamental than anything which has ever been tried before. It may require longer vision than the other ideas, but it will go farther.

No matter how small your organization the use of music as a business stimulus is surely possible, and will pay a profit for you. Outside of the spiritual benefit to your employes this is getting under their skins and getting loyalty by winning them through the most important part of the human system—the heart!—Forbes Magazine.

How They Mystify Their Vaudeville Patrons

Tricks Usually Simple

Possession of Keys is the Chief Requisite, But Skill is Required to Use Them Sometimes (Toronto Mail and Empire.) Frank McCullough's escape from the Toronto jail, when he was under sentence of death, was more sensational, but not so remarkable as some feats that have become commonplace on the vaudeville stage...

Not that the escape from handcuffs and leg irons, ropes and chains that have made some performers famous and many wealthy. Yet, like other stage mysteries, they are easily understood. These men unlock their handcuffs for no more mysterious reason than that they have keys for that purpose.

Tricks of Two Kinds. These artists are of two classes, or rather their feats are of two kinds. If they are permitted to use their own handcuffs, they simply use tricks which are never fastened, and which an ordinary committee summoned from the audience has no means of telling from the genuine cuffs.

Hiding the Keys. When the performer is to be searched he must hide his keys where they are not likely to be found. Often he catches them behind the curtain. At other times they are placed in a hollow artificial finger, in the nail, in the mouth, in a false shoe heel.

Ray Hansen to London.

Private advices received some days ago announced that Ray Hansen of the Evening Times reporting staff, who had gone to the Toronto Leafs to try for a place among the pitchers, had been given an opportunity with the London, Ont., team of the Michigan-Ontario League.

He measured up well in tryouts with the Leafs but was up against big league pitchers and others much more experienced than he and it was rather beyond expectations that he would be one of the limited number finally chosen to pitch for Toronto. The chance given him in London is a good one and his work there will be followed with interest. For some days he has been suffering with a bruised pitching finger. The Toronto Globe says:

"Two more of Manager George Gibson's recruits have gone to the Michigan-Ontario League, infielder Busse to the Hamilton team, managed by Frank Shaughnessy, and Pitcher Hansen to 'Jo Jo' Keenan's London.

"Shaughnessy and Keenan were in town yesterday, eager to secure some of the promising talent which had been signed by the Toronto club. The Hans needed an infielder and in Busse they have secured a youngster of exceptional promise. He ought to develop rapidly under the coaching of Shaughnessy.

"Hansen went to London yesterday with Keenan. He is a right-hander with a good reputation in maritime provinces semi-pro circles and will get a thorough trial with the Forest City team.

"Manager Shaughnessy announced while in town that he had received the signed contract of Guy Zinn, a singeing outfielder, formerly of the Baltimore Internationals and Federals and Boston Nationals. Two other players secured for the Hans yesterday are infielder Carlin, last season with a shipyard team, and Pitcher Leach, recommended by President Wirth of the Detroit club.

The Hans now have fourteen players signed. The advance guard of the candidates will report at Hamilton tomorrow.

BOWLING.

TURF

Royal Buck Wins

London, April 30—(By Canadian Press cable)—The result of the city and suburban race run at Epsom Downs today, was as follows:

Royal Bucks, 1st; Alron, 2nd; Danellon, 3rd.

Big Stakes for Trotters.

Very few of the people who sit in the grand stand at a race meeting and applaud the light harness performers at the finish of a closely contested heat, says the New York Times, have any idea of the magnitude of racing, or the millions invested in race-tracks or fairgrounds between the Canadian track at Edmonton and the tracks in Florida or Arizona. At the present time there are more than 2,000 race tracks in the United States and Canada.

The magnitude of light harness racing in North America may be gathered from the fact that during the last two years 1,915 meetings were held in the United States and Canada. The returns for 1917 show 1,036 meetings, while in 1918 the number fell to 858. The reduction was due to the wet weather in September, when so many fairs are held, and the epidemic of influenza, which caused practically all of the fairs and race meetings in the east and south after Oct. 1 to be abandoned.

Of the 1917 meetings, 876 were held over half-mile tracks and eighty over the mile tracks. The premiums distributed amounted to $2,279,042.79. Of the 1918 meetings, 800 were held on the half-mile tracks and fifty-one on the mile tracks. The premiums distributed amounted to $2,468,208.10, of which $1,848,251.77 were paid out on the half-mile tracks and $619,956.33 on the mile tracks.

By comparing these figures it will be found that the September rains, which caused many associations to cancel their race programmes, and the epidemic prevented the distribution of almost $500,000 among horse-owners at race meetings last year.

RING.

Salvation Army Benefit.

The Salvation Army is to be the sole beneficiary under the terms of a boxing exhibition to be held at the New York Athletic Club on the night of May 28. The club announced that it would make every effort to have the show the best exhibition of the many art that has ever been held under its patronage.

Matthew F. Halpin, chairman of the committee on Athletics, who has the arrangements of the big boxing carnival in charge, says he expects one of the biggest crowds in the history of the club, to attend. The entire gate, he said, would go to swell the Salvation Army Home Service Fund. The best boxing talent of all weights in the country will be drawn on to stage the bouts, and it is promised that they will be no littenish affairs, but will savor more of the cats of the Kilkenny breed.

The affair has been given official sanction by the Board of Governors and the committee on athletics. Chairman Halpin is certain that ring fighters will be glad to show their appreciation of the war and home service work of the Salvation Army.

Halifax Boxers Win.

Halifax, April 30—The maritime provinces amateur boxing championships were contested tonight at St. Patrick's Hall. Halifax boxers carried off the leading honors and won all five bouts. Healey, Mulahy, Grey, and Rees, in the 135, 145, 115 and 125 respectively were winners. A large crowd attended.

ATHLETIC.

Walter Whalen to Sweden.

Boston, May 1—Walter Whalen of the Boston Athletic Association yesterday received word from the Amateur Athletic Union that he had been selected to represent the United States in athletic competitions in Sweden this year. Whalen is high jumper and has done six feet two inches. He said he understood that five men would be sent to Sweden and that Joe Ray and Ted Meredith would be members of the team, with a weight man and a hurdler not yet designated.

British on Eve of Greatest Trade Boom

Big Production Gain

Courageous Financial Policy its Urgent Need of the Moment London Bankers Are Told

London, April 26—At least one optimist has been discovered in England who is able to look upon the economic condition of this country. Edgar Crammond at a meeting of the London Bankers' Institute declared that the power of production of the British nation had increased 50 per cent during the war and the country was on the eve of an unparalleled boom in trade.

Including both the Allies and Central Powers the casualties of the war, said Mr. Crammond, exceeded 23,700,000, and the deaths and disabilities exceeded 16,000,000. The total cost of the war, including indirect losses, might be put at $260,000,000,000. There had been nothing approaching this destruction of life and wealth in the history of the world, and this stupendous conflict had produced the greatest economic revolution of which we had any record. The immediate manifestation of this upheaval was to be found in the rise in the cost of living and a universal increase of wages.

Other economic consequences were being unfolded more gradually. The wages bill of the United Kingdom for 1918 was about $4,000,000,000 more than in 1912—an increase of over 100 per cent, but, of course, owing to the rise in the cost of living, which was estimated at 70 to 80 per cent, real wages had not increased to anything like the same extent.

Judging from the experience of the past, we might look for a heavy fall in the price of commodities and wages which should continue through many years of the long peace which we might now reasonably anticipate, but there were several factors which, he thought, might tend to make the fall a very gradual one. They included: The vast increase in the amount of paper money in circulation throughout the world; the increase in the amounts of the public debts of the belligerents, and the determination of labor to maintain wages at a higher level than before the war and to improve the standard of living.

WHERE THE ONTARIO LICENSE DEPARTMENT ENQUIRY ORIGINATED

View of the little village of Homer, Ont., which has come into prominence as the place at which whiskey was seized at the time of the St. Catharines by-election. An effort has been made at the enquiry to link the existence of liquor at this point with the recent election.

During the war the note circulation of the belligerents, excluding Russia, advanced from $3,820,000,000 to $31,860,000,000, an increase of 447 per cent. During the same period their aggregate gold reserves increased by only $1,735,000,000, or 45 per cent.

An even greater increase had taken place in the amount of the national debt of the belligerents, which had advanced from $36,670,000,000 in 1914 to $155,000,000,000 at the end of 1918, and by the time demobilization was completed their aggregate debts would probably exceed $200,000,000,000. The burden of interest charges on the national debts, therefore, increased from $1,200,000,000 per annum in 1914 to over $10,000,000,000 in 1918. These factors taken in conjunction with the rise in wages and the price of commodities, had a tremendous significance, and in his judgment implied that we were in the presence of one of the greatest and far-reaching economic movements in the history of the world.

Through all the economic records of the past, it was possible to trace an advance in the standard of living for the masses concurrently with an increase in the amount of money in circulation and a decline in the purchasing power of money. The war had great increased the country's power of production he was convinced, by at least 50 per cent over the production of 1912. In the light of these conclusions he was unable to see any real grounds for the depression and anxiety manifested in certain quarters.

He estimated the peace budget at $4,125,000,000, or four times the amount of the pre-war budget. If national wealth and income remained as in 1913-14 the economic position would be serious, because the national debt would be 35 per cent of the national wealth and the budget would be 33 per cent of the national income. But such was not the case.

England's Assets Measured. England's assets must be measured in the same monetary values as her liabilities. In 1914 he estimated the national wealth of $82,000,000,000, and the national income at $13,200,000,000. At the present time the national wealth of the United Kingdom might be safely computed at $120,000,000,000 and the national income at $18,000,000,000. In other words, if they accept and stabilize the new valuation of money the post-war national debt would be only equivalent to a sum representing 20 per cent of the national wealth, and the post-war budget would not amount to more than 22 per cent of the national income.

Commodity prices would, of course, fall, but it was of vital importance that the fall should be gradual and that it should be balanced by an increased production, so that the national income might be maintained at a level of at least 50 per cent higher than it was before the war. As to the external national position, he saw no ground for pessimism. England had sold approximately $5,000,000,000 of $20,000,000,000 invested abroad and had borrowed abroad $7,000,000,000, but, including advances to the Allies (calculated at 50 per cent) and the credit to Judge Howard's style. Here is a passage: "She has planted her guns across all the paths of the ocean; she draws resources from the Arctic and the tropics; she marshals armies from the Occident and the Orient; she builds ships in Bombay and digs gold in Dawson City; she picks spices in Ceylon and traps furs in Canada. Cotton comes to her from Egypt and wool from Australia; diamonds from South Africa and coal from Wales; wheat from Manitoba and sugar from Guyana; rubber from Borneo and oranges from Jamaica. She digs iron from the bowels of her own soil and cuts asphalt out of the Pitch

One of the most urgent needs of the movement was a courageous financial policy, and there never was a time in the history of the country when bold economic leadership was more urgently needed. It was his reasoned and deliberate conviction that as a result of the war the economic development of the world had been impelled forward by at least two generations.

BRITAIN FOURTH WORLD EMPIRE

Colossus of the Earth Says Justice Howard

Views With Alarm

New York Herald Which Publishes His Article is Not Pessimistic—Her Predecessors in History

(Toronto Mail and Empire) "England is the Colossus of the earth," says Justice W. O. Howard in an article entitled "The Overshadowing Empire," contributed to the New York Herald. He says that history knows three world empires, and that Great Britain, as a result of this war and the peace treaty that is to conclude it, will be the fourth, and the greatest of all. He is rather inclined to view the prospect with alarm in the good old-fashioned way. The Herald does not share his fears. We gather that the Herald is terrified at the prospect of Great Britain being the successor to the Persian, the Macedonian and the Roman Empire, each of which in turn extended its dominion over the civilized earth. The Herald is inclined to consider the matter philosophically, as it would survey the phenomena of Canada's population reaching 200,000,000 in the next ten years. Few Americans, in this case, we believe, would have sleepless nights for fear of trouble between the United States and Canada, any more now than would the British Empire, which the United States has ten times her population. The folly of anxiety on the score of the power of the British Empire is exposed by the fact that if the United States feels that Great Britain is not sufficiently bound by the conditions of the peace treaty, it can have a special alliance with the British Empire at any time, supposing that special alliances are not forbidden by the treaty now being concluded in Paris.

Persia and Macedon. The Persian empire flourished about 800 B. C. It extended from India to Europe, and embraced all the civilized nations of the world but Greece. With this exception beyond the frontiers of the Persian empire were only barbarian and waste places. It endured about two hundred and fifty years. Alexander mounted the throne of Macedon and proceeded to establish the Macedonian empire. His first step was to subdue and fuse together all the little Greek states. Then, when he had gathered together a sufficient army he set out to extend the bounds of his empire by conquering the world. In a few short years he had overrun all the dominions of the Persian king and had established his authority over an empire even larger than that which had been conquered by Darius. Rome was outside, but had Alexander lived he would have incorporated Rome, too, but he died at the age of thirty-three after a debauch at Babylon.

Rome and Britain. Then Rome arose, and at the beginning of the Christian era was a world empire. Carthage, Egypt, Greece, Persia, Gaul succumbed to the legions one after another. The frontiers were pushed through Europe until what we know today as Spain, Germany, Austria, Belgium, England—practically all Europe but Scandinavia and Russia, were under Rome's rule. This was the greatest empire of all, but it, too, passed away, and since then there has been no world empire, until the British Empire arose. Before the war Britain's authority extended over 12,400,000 square miles, and 450,000,000 human beings. Today, if Britain retains possession of the territory she has conquered her area will be extended by 3,500,000 square miles and 38,000,000 people, made up of German colonies and Syria, Arabia, Persia and Mesopotamia. Speaking in round numbers, Britain holds more than one-quarter of the earth's surface, and more than one-third of the entire inhabitants thereof. It hardly seems enough. It is undoubtedly unfair that one-third of the earth's inhabitants should have to huddle and squeeze into one-fourth of the earth's surface. Plainly there is more earth coming to us.

You need not shake the bottle is the same all through—the last drop is as delicious as the first.

Justice Howard points out that more important than the vast possessions of the empire is their location. It holds the great strategic points of the earth's surface. It is in a position to dominate all Africa, especially if the natives are not permitted to establish fortifications and to train armies, which are supposed to be forbidden by the constitution of the League. True our Allies, France and Belgium, Italy and Portugal, have African possessions, but the writer asserts that not for a moment could they dispute with Great Britain for them if the empire wanted them—the navy would forbid. Then, according to the alarmed judge, Britain will insist upon a predominant influence in the Dardanelles and the Bosphorus, so that in time of war, the Mediterranean would become a British lake. But this digest does not do credit to Judge Howard's style. Here is a passage: "She has planted her guns across all the paths of the ocean; she draws resources from the Arctic and the tropics; she marshals armies from the Occident and the Orient; she builds ships in Bombay and digs gold in Dawson City; she picks spices in Ceylon and traps furs in Canada. Cotton comes to her from Egypt and wool from Australia; diamonds from South Africa and coal from Wales; wheat from Manitoba and sugar from Guyana; rubber from Borneo and oranges from Jamaica. Lake of Trinidad. British citizens fish for cod on the banks of Newfoundland, and dive for pearls in the Gulf of Manara; they harpoon whales in the icy waters of Hudson Bay and pick coconuts on the tropic islands of the Indian Ocean. No Need for Alarm. The foregoing will give a taste of Judge Howard's gifts as a spellbinder. He excels in this respect, we believe, rather than as a political adviser, for he believes his countrymen should at once begin to build a powerful fleet as a protection against the British Empire. He admits that the empire is not likely to disturb the peace of the world or menace the United States, but insists that if it should take this course there is nothing to prevent it. The war, he contends, has reduced all the European nations to the status of third-rate powers. Britain alone has increased in powers. There remain Japan and the United States. Together, they might defy Great Britain, but he believes it unlikely that they will combine; rather more probable that a combination among two of the three would find the United States in a minority. However, as the poet says, the first hundred years are the worst.

NEW PLAN FOR CITY HOUSING

Toronto to Ask Government Permission To Carry Out Another Scheme

(Toronto Globe) Representatives of the city, the board of trade and the G. W. V. A. will upon Premier Hearst this morning impress upon him the impracticability of undertaking the execution of the housing scheme in Toronto under the terms of the present legislation. They will request that the city be given power to finance and carry out a scheme of its own, and the assurance that any action of this sort which may be agreed upon will be validated by the legislature at its next session. Mayor Church stated yesterday afternoon that if this power could be secured there would be no delay in putting it into effect. The city, he said, had its plans prepared for both the financing and administration of a municipal housing scheme, and would go ahead immediately it received authority to do so. A deputation from the G. W. V. A. waited upon the board of control yesterday to urge that some solution to the present difficulty be sought. Commissioner Bradshaw explained the impossibility of applying an act framed to cover rural conditions to the requirements of a city such as this. It was agreed that Toronto could work to greatest advantage if it were given power to act independently. "Sorry, madam, but your account is already overdrawn." "Well, what of it, young man? Haven't I a right to do what I like with my own account?"—Life. Willie Willis—What is a "practical Joker?"
