NOT WAR, BUT JUSTICE, SAYS U. S. PRESIDENT

Under No Circumstances Will Fight The Mexican People

MERELY A MATTER WITH HUERTA

Wilson Makes Statement in Position Following Refusal of Mexican Dictator to Salute Flag--Both Houses of Congress to Meet This Afternoon

(Canadian Press.) Washington, April 20—President Wilson told the Washington correspondents today not to get the impression that the United States was going to have war with Mexico. He pointed out that under no circumstances would the United States fight the Mexican people; that it was their friend.

Initial Hostile Steps To Be Taken By United States

Vera Cruz and Tampico will be seized; simultaneously four other Mexican posts will be blockaded by American ships and all commerce halted. A force of 1,500 marines will be despatched to hold the gigantic railroad bridge in the Condors gorge, fifteen miles from Vera Cruz.

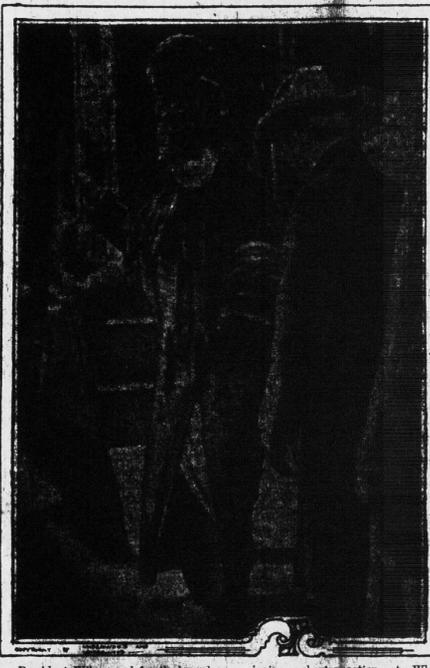

A full hydroplane war equipment will be brought into action at Tampico. Five thousand regular army troops will be shipped from Galveston to Vera Cruz. The president will call for 250,000 militia volunteers to qualify for foreign service.

Hours last evening listening to the military band playing in Chapultepec Park in Paris. Paris, April 20—The news that Huerta has refused to accede to the American demand reached Paris after most of the morning newspapers had gone to press. There was, therefore, little comment.

Some inclination is shown to sympathize with Huerta, while it is admitted that he displays foolhardiness in flaunting the United States much is made of the difference in the attitude of the United States towards him and Villa, and there is a disposition in certain quarters to attribute the sudden change in the policy at Washington to the fact that the oil stores, representing a large amount of American capital at Tampico, are threatened with destruction.

Entrain 10,000 Troops. Houston, Texas, April 20—The second army division is being entrained for Galveston. The men, 10,000 in number, will not stop at Texas City, but proceed to board transports. It had been planned to keep the division here until Wednesday.

The President and Mrs. Wilson

President Wilson and family have been enjoying a short vacation at White Sulphur Springs. Mrs. Wilson, who has recovered from her recent illness, finds the climate very beneficial. The accompanying picture shows the President and Mrs. Wilson on their arrival there. Mr. Wilson returns to Washington today.

BIG ROUND UP OF STOLEN AUTOMOBILES

New Yorkers Had Been Buying High Priced Cars From Thieves For Little Money

Two districts from public headquarters, a representative from the district attorney's office, an insurance adjuster who specializes in hunting stolen automobiles, and an agent from the secretary of state's office in Albany, have been out rounding up the biggest collection of stolen automobiles ever gathered in a single haul.

The surprising development was the fact that men well known in the community had been buying automobiles for from $800 to $800 that were known to be worth from $6,000 to $8,000. For stealing an automobile, it came out in looking over the check book and account books of those engaged in the business, the usual amount of profit to the thief was $250. In no case among those examined did the thief obtain more than $600, while the car he passed on was almost invariably of the highest priced type.

One of the persons implicated as a buyer of a high-priced automobile paid the original thief only $700 for it, and of this $700 the thief had to pay $200 to the go-between who arranged the sale, and $250 on an agreement to split with the man who helped him to steal the car.

LONDON TODAY IS MOST INTERESTED IN MEXICO'S CASE

Even Overshadows Question of Welsh Disestablishment Bill

UP FOR SECOND READING

Re-Appears at Time of Annual Church Meetings—Militants Burn Down Factories and Throw Some 200 Out of Work

London, April 20—Mexico overshadowed all other matters today as far as public interest in the British Isles was concerned. The Westminster Gazette expresses the view that nothing can now avert war or if not war, what the late William E. Gladstone would have called "military operations."

The Welsh Church disestablishment bill will reach its second reading on its third passage through parliament today. The rejection will be moved in the commons by Lord Robert Cecil, M. P., an extremely high churchman, after which a strong line of speakers on both sides will be heard including Bonar Law, Mr. Balfour and Lord Hugh Cecil for the opposition, and Premier Asquith, Hon. Reginald McKenna and Sir John Simon, attorney general.

It is believed the Unionists will ultimately acquiesce provided the disestablishment proposals are dropped. The bill reappears during a week when the church annual meetings are being held. Several will be devoted to denouncing the measure.

Glasgow, April 20—Militant suffragettes began a new week of incandescence in Scotland with three factory fires in this city. The plants were small but about 200 men and women were made idle.

Paris, April 20—Notice was today served upon Christabel Bankhurst, an English suffragette, who has been making her home in Paris, that she will not be allowed to leave her residence during the visit of King George and Queen Mary, which will begin on Wednesday.

ST. JOHN NOT WILLING TO LET MATTER OF BALL LEAGUE DROP

The Halifax Recorder says: "There will be general regret that the proposed baseball league will not materialize. The Halifax men who have been behind the movement have become disgusted with the turn of affairs and have decided to call the matter off as far as they are concerned. They regret to do so as much as anybody, as they would have liked to have had good baseball here, but they feel that they are not going in the league if they do not see a profit, but they should not expect Halifax to do what they do not want to do themselves."

St. John is not willing to let the matter rest at this, and the belief is that some amicable arrangement can be made. To this end St. John has taken the matter up further with Halifax. The local club owners expect to arrive at some definite conclusion in a day or two.

EVANGELICAL CAMPAIGN

At a meeting of the Methodist ministers this morning, Rev. Mr. Robinson and Rev. Mr. Knight, Baptist ministers, spoke of the good work done by Rev. Mr. Burrows in Carleton. It was decided to engage him for an evangelical campaign in the Queen's rink. Rev. J. K. Curtis, of Montreal, field secretary of Sabbath schools and Y. P. S. of the Methodist church in Canada, spoke on his work.

An A B C Thought for the Merchant

Advertising creates a desire to see the goods advertised. Advertising of a nationally distributed product in the local newspapers which are read by the people with whom you do business every day, will lead to a desire to see "right to your store. It is simply business horse-sense to show the people what they want to see. In other words, when you display and push goods advertised in your local newspapers, you are making your store a Public Service in the best sense of the word. That's the A B C of the whole situation.

TELLS OF CALL TO UTICA CHURCH

Rev. P. J. Stackhouse's Letter To Amherst Congregation

SORRY TO SEVER TIES

Sees Broader Field For Work in the New York City—Asks That Pastorate Close on Last Sunday of June

(Amherst News) Rev. P. J. Stackhouse has accepted a call to Utica, N. Y. During his Amherst stay in Amherst Mr. Stackhouse has greatly endeared himself to the members and adherents of this congregation but to citizens in general throughout the town. As a citizen, teacher and pastor he has filled a very large place in this community. The work of the church has prospered under his leadership and his "Men's Class" had become a recognized institution in Amherst. Its growth and influence is indicative of the fact that Mr. Stackhouse possesses in a very marked degree the quality of leadership so essential to success in religious and reform work. The call to a wider field of opportunity for studying the great sociological and labor problems in which Mr. Stackhouse has been so intensely interested, naturally appeals to him with much force and we believe that we are speaking advisedly when we say that Mr. Stackhouse's only reason for considering the call is his desire to get in closer touch with the problems of life to which he has given so much thought, study and attention. Personally we will regret his departure from Amherst. Mr. Stackhouse has been a friend of the News and its editor since his first visit to Amherst and we can not help expressing the hope that he may yet change his mind and remain with us. This, however, is a selfish view, and we frankly recognize that in his new proposed field of labor he will have the same opportunities for good work as he here in Amherst and at the same time will have other openings for his own advancement along educational lines. His letter of resignation was read to the congregation last evening at the usual weekly prayer meeting, and was as follows: A Difficult Decision Amherst, April 16, 1914. To the members of the First Baptist Church and congregation: Dear Brethren and Sisters:— In tendering my resignation as pastor of this church I have had the hardest things of my life. I have found it exceedingly difficult to come to a decision. Since becoming your pastor, about four years ago, I have had seven invitations from churches that probably would have developed into calls to assume the pastorate if I had held out any encouragement. In case of six of the seven I did not hesitate in concluding that my work was still in the Amherst church. The invitation that came to me a few weeks ago from the Tabernacle church of Utica, New York, is entirely different. I told the committee that came down to interview me that I would not consider a call, that I was happy here, that I did not wish to leave the people with whom I had come into such fraternal relations. They replied that they had in their church at Utica what they believed to be one of the greatest opportunities for service in the state of New York. They simply asked me to come to Utica see their city, their church and the field of work and judge for myself. It was with great reluctance that I consented. I was greatly impressed with what I saw. Utica, a city of 60,000 people and it is said that 25 million of people live within 800 miles of that center. The church has a membership of about 200 and possesses the most modern Sunday school plant that I have ever seen. The school has an enrollment of 1,600 children. The Baptist University and Theological Seminary of Colgate where so many of our Canadian ministers receive their training is only an hour's ride from the city. A Strong Religious Force. The Tabernacle Church is said to be one of the most religious forces in the city. Our own Doctor Wallace was pastor there for twelve years before assuming the pastorate of Brooklyn Temple after Doctor Myers went to Tremont Temple, Boston. I came home with the conviction that in Utica there was good reason for an enlarged service such as even Amherst is not able to offer. Whether I can meet that opportunity is of course a question this remains to be answered. I need not tell you how great an effort it has been to decide to leave Amherst. I never expect to see dear friends than I have made in this town and among the people of this congregation. The years I have been with you have been years of unbroken harmony and love and no pastor could possibly have a more loyal and devoted people to lead than the people of the Amherst church. I am grateful to the Heavenly Father that under my ministry the church has made some real advancement in numbers and influence, that our relations with the other churches are so cordial and brotherly and that we have the respect of the community as a force making for righteousness. As to the time that this resignation shall go into effect, I think that the claims of this church are paramount. Unless there is some good reason for another date I would suggest that my pastorate close after the last Sunday in June. As July and August are holiday months this would give the church five months to secure a pastor without any injury to the work here. (Signed) PERRY J. STACKHOUSE

Prior to Sunday evening's service the deacons met and passed a resolution of regret at the possibility of Mr. Stackhouse's departure and urging him to continue his work in Amherst.

After being accustomed to drawing the family to church every Sunday morning for eighteen years, "Old Billy" in home owned by William Howe of Lucerne, N. Y., was discarded in favor of a colt. When the family left after service, however, they found Billy in his usual stall outside the church, but without any harness, having slipped a halter in order to get there.

CHIC HATS IN ALL SORTS OF SHAPES AND COLORS SHOW OLD-FASHIONS MADE INTO NEW

GRANDMA USED SAGE TEA TO DARKEN HAIR

She Mixed Sulphur With it to Restore Color, Gloss, Thickness

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant, remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Just a few applications will produce a revelation if your hair is falling gray or dry, scraggly and thin. Mixing Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use liquid, costing about 60 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," thus avoiding a lot of fuss. While wispy gray, faded hair is not ideal, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant. SICK BOY LEAVES HOME IN SLEEP; WALKS QUARTER MILE

Lynn, April 18—With a thin nightgown as his only protection from cold and rain, Irving Harlow, 11-year-old son of Rufus P. Harlow walked in his sleep for more than a quarter of a mile until he unconsciously sought refuge in the doorway of a building opposite the city stables. For several days the boy had been at home with the mumps, just before 10 p. m. the boy's father discovered that the youth's bed was empty. After a thorough search of the house the police were asked to help. While the father was giving a description of the boy, a message was received being cared for at the city stables. Edward Pollard saw the boy huddled up in a store doorway and without attempting to question the lad, Pollard carried him to the office of the stables. There the little fellow said that he had no recollection of walking from his home or of leaving his bed. A police ambulance conveyed the boy to his home after he had been wrapped in blankets. Never give up to headache if you can possibly avoid it for if you do it will fasten itself upon you and return at regular intervals. Throw it aside by action of some form, either physical or mental, as the case may require and you will usually find relief.

EMBASSY RENT TRIPLED

Notification to U. S. Ambassador—In Same Place Thirty Years

London, April 18—Walter H. Page, the United States ambassador, has received notification that the rent of the offices in Victoria street, Westminster, which the American Embassy has occupied for nearly thirty years, is to be raised to more than three times its present figure when the lease expires next autumn. For many years the United States government has held the premises on a year-by-year lease, and while the rents of neighboring offices have been raised many times in the course of this period, the government has been paying only the original rent.

The possibility of obtaining a building suitable for the embassy offices, as well as for the residence of the ambassador, is being discussed here.

LANDLORD AND TENANT

Editor Times-Star—
Sir—When a boy at school, we had a "son called 'Observation' with a story he ran thus—'An Arab lost a camel and had lost a tooth, was lame, leg and blind in one eye; the camel was blind in his left animal, across a camel's track, he noticed the camel in full page miniature, and all truth of herbage after each month's impression of one of his hoofs in the sand was lighter than the rest, also that he always fed on one side of the road; the Arab came to the conclusion that this was his camel and continued the search until he found his lost property.'
The reason why I refer to this story is because I read a letter in the Times Star, if I remember about 'St. John flats and landlords.' I am a tenant, having moved into the city from my own home in the country. Since coming here I have learned some things by "observation" the nice and bedbugs that I had in get rid of were not put there by the landlord, but were allowed to remain and multiply by a former tenant. To get rid of the former I procured a good cat, the latter got frequent doses of kerosene and salt, so now when I vacate the present flat, I will not have to my successor such a nuisance as I found. When I made enquiries about these unwholesome conditions I was informed by tenants that it was difficult to get a flat where these things did not exist.
Now Mr. Editor "observation" teaches me that when a landlord has a good tenant, he will be a good landlord; but when he has a bad tenant he will be a bad landlord. I am a tenant, should like the same care of the landlord's property as we would if it were our own; we would not cut kindling on our own door sills, do it as an owner would not allow our own doors until it loosens the plaster over head, don't slam your landlord's door, the moon veper's door is usually tending wide open, hence his plaster is not loosened in that way.
When there is anything wrong with the flat I occupy and I can remedy it without any actual outlay of money on my part, I first call the landlord's attention to the matter and he is always willing to bear the cost, if I am willing to assist in the repairs. Result, my rent will be less during the coming year on account of this co-operation, and the flat is worth a considerable sum more live in than it was when I took it.
I am afraid if the health inspectors ask the trouble to inquire into some of the flats, they would find evidence of neglect on the part of the tenant as well as on the part of the landlord.
I am, Sir,
RARE BOOKS TO BE SOLD
Early Specimens of Book Making in Pulped Library
The library of the late James E. Puleford of South Orange, N. J., which is to be sold in the Anderson Galleries, beginning April 20, contains many specimens of rare early printing, including a book that is associated with the apprenticeship of Caxton himself, but probably the most interesting of all are the manuscripts with miniatures.
One of these, executed, it is thought, by artists of the northeast of France about the middle of the fifteenth century, is embellished with ten large miniatures and each page is surrounded with elaborate borders in colors and with much gold, depicting the fruits, flowers and many strange animals.
The manuscript of Boetius was written in minute Caroline minuscule in the second part of the eleventh century.

HENRY CLEWS' VIEWS OF THE STOCK MARKET
Sees Little Chance of Recovery in Price Till Congress Passes Its Anti-Trust Legislation
New York, April 18.—Another week of disappointment has come to those who have been hoping for better things in the business world. The development of affairs in Mexico has been a source of more or less financial distrust. The patient attitude of the administration to maintain our rights and dignity strongly suggested intervention and the unforeseen consequences of such a policy. Huerta's offer to salute the American flag afforded instant relief, and of course, ended this particular crisis. It will also act as a wholesome restraint upon further Mexican offenses. In any event, if intervention is the course, it is not a country of the strength and resources of the United States. The greatest fear is that the content will be long-drawn and costly in life and money but the situation is much less threatening than that which existed during the Spanish war, which simply caused a temporary reaction in the security markets and was followed by a very substantial recovery. Fortunately, the country has thus far taken the Mexican situation with a good grace. It must be remembered that we cannot be declared without the consent of congress, and that body has thus far very wisely accepted the patient and pacific policy of President Wilson. Legislation has been and still is being pushed at breakneck speed; and now the security market is again looking to law of the tariff and currency bills to be borne patiently it is not about time that the long-suffering business people throughout the entire country be permitted to have a little breathing spell so that they can start anew their activities, the essential of which, to meet with success, is the exercise of good judgment, which calls into requisition courage and initiative? These qualities they are at present entirely denied the use of owing to the uncertainties connected with the outlook. No one in the present condition of things can summon sufficient courage and confidence to go ahead in any way excepting on a retail basis.
What business people need today is a rest after the long drawn out trying experience of late, and this can only come effectively by the adjournment of congress. Why won't the members, therefore, be magnanimous and exercise the self-denial suggested by going home and thereby give the business people of the nation a rest, as well as take on themselves, which they certainly must need after their indefatigable law-making effort? With a good outlook for our coming crops and a long expected rest for our business people, recovery would begin almost instantaneously on the announcement that congress had adjourned. The Mexican middle would then soon cease to be a serious menace, which, owing to the gloom over the business situation existing at the same time, makes it appear a momentous matter, whereas if taken alone it would not be considered as of any very important consequence.
If the present tendencies continue it may be set down as certain that the ranks of the unemployed will be materially augmented during the next few months. An additional cause of disappointment is the prospective delay of a decision by the Interstate Commerce Commission on the rate problem. Some concessions may be made to the railroads, but these do not promise to be liberal, and the decision may be delayed several weeks, if not months.
General business is perhaps not so dull in volume as the condition of sentiment would suggest. By its readings in the United States during March showed a decrease of one per cent. compared with a year ago, and the total for the three months presented a decrease of 1 1/2 per cent. The shrinkage was confined almost entirely to the middle and New England States. The western and Pacific coast states show moderate gains. The industrial situation, however, is spotty. At the west the volume of trade is fairly well sustained, and there is no such depression as exists in the east. The iron industry, however, feels reaction more than any other, because of the financial restrictions placed upon the railroads and the recession in real estate and building. This is particularly illustrated in the clearing house returns at Pittsburgh during the first three months of 1914, which were nearly 11 per cent. below the same period last year. New orders for iron are coming in very slowly and prices seem low and unquoted. There is some talk of a reduction in wages, but a general movement of this sort would unquestionably create considerable disturbance. The textile industries are also in an unsatisfactory condition, the consuming demand

ELECTION CARDS
To The Electors of The City of St. John:
Ladies and Gentlemen—
If you should decide to honor me with the position of Mayor, I will apply whatever amount of ability and energy is necessary to me towards accomplishing something for this city. My best efforts will be directed to the solution of Saint John's proper position in the TRANS-PORTATION WORLD and retaining it.
No monopolies granted to Railway Corporations, by free gifts of harbor franchises, or the unconditional agreements which have deprived us of valuable franchises.
No acceptance of the VELVET GLOVED HAND in the form of agreements with Corporations, drawn in such a manner as to pass master with the taxpayers, but through which may be driven one or two OX TEAMS.
No tieing up to any single transportation company, but always keeping in mind the old English Motto—LET 'EM ALL COME.
Influence, either POLITICAL, CORPORATIONAL, SOCIAL or OTHER, will obtain, only when it is absolutely proven that Saint John alone is the first beneficiary, all others being but secondary considerations.
No delegations composed of men whose individual interests always overshadow those of the city, will be depended upon to safeguard the interests of Saint John when questions of vital importance embodying the city's future are at stake.
Review of all stock canvasses including promises of positions in return for votes, as so far as I am concerned, there is absolutely no truth in them.
Respectfully yours,
H. R. McLELLAN.

To The Electors of The City of St. John:
Ladies and Gentlemen—
I am naturally very much gratified by the very hearty support which you have tendered me in the primary election. To those who have so generously supported me, especially my friends in the North End, I desire to extend my thanks, and to the voters as a whole, I wish to say that if favored with a continuation of your approval in the final elections on April 28, I will, to the utmost of my ability, endeavor to carry out your wishes in the administration of whatever work I may be called upon to perform. My previous experience in civic affairs has, I believe, given me something of an insight into the duties of administration, and I hope, if elected, to be able to meet your views in all matters which it may be my heavy duty to decide.
Yours respectfully,
JAMES V. RUSSELL.

To The Electors of The City of St. John:
Ladies and Gentlemen—
I wish to thank you most heartily for the vote extended to me Tuesday and to those who acted in my behalf at the polls. I appreciate their friendliness and good will most highly. I trust at the final election on April 28, I will receive sufficient support so I may again serve you at the council board for another term.
Yours sincerely,
M. E. AGAR.

To The Electors of The City of St. John:
Ladies and Gentlemen—
I wish to state most emphatically that I am an independent candidate in the election now pending, for Commissioner, and the canvass that is being used against me that such is not the case, is entirely without foundation and has, no doubt, been originated by some jealous rival. I think that for the short time I had to canvass the public, my ballot on the 14th inst. was very satisfactory, and with a little more hard work, there will be a great change in the returns on the 28th. And I hope my friends and the public generally will bear in mind that I am in this game to stay until the finish, and if elected will, at all times, give the laborer the same consideration as I should to the more wealthy populace and will endeavor always to play up and play the game, and do it in a straightforward manner.
Yours very truly,
CLARENCE W. JEFFREY.

To The Electors of The City of St. John:
Ladies and Gentlemen—
I have declined somewhat and manufacturers being embarrassed by high prices for raw materials and labor at a time of contraction in prices for their product.
Fortunately, however, there are some encouraging elements in the situation. The most important is the assurance of easy money for the next three or four months. While this is partly due to slackness in trade, such a condition is always a factor of much importance in restoring normal activity. There is abundance of capital awaiting investment, if confidence only warranted. This was proved by the comparatively successful sale of $85,000,000 New York City 4 1/2 per cent. bonds, the bid for which aggregated nearly $300,000,000, while for last year's offering of $45,000,000 the bids only amounted to $76,000,000. All things considered, the sale was satisfactory.
Our crop outlook is promising. The season is late, but there has been no harm through premature growth, and a few days of sunshine will quickly place conditions within the normal. The cost of living is declining. Broadstreet's index figure for April 1 being 8,759, against 8,929 a year ago. The declines in commodity prices were greatest in food products. The foreign outlook is also encouraging. In all the principal financial centres there is a great plethora of easy money, which is sure to have a stimulating influence upon all classes of investment. Great Britain's trade boom continues, and that country is still enjoying one of the most remarkable eras of prosperity on record, her national revenue last year being $50,000,000 in excess of the budget.
Financial operations must still be conducted with caution. A very considerable decline has taken place during the past few weeks and prices are now almost at the level preceding the January rise. Possibly in view of the favorable conditions just referred to, a recovery may come sooner than at present anticipated; but no permanent improvement can be expected until there is a cessation of injurious political activities and business is allowed to have a much needed rest from such uncertainties.

THE LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR

It is not too much to say that the majority of the people of this province were disappointed when they learned that Lieut.-Gov. Wood had assented to the bill guaranteeing bonds to the extent of $2,000,000 for the Valley Railway.

FOOLING THE PEOPLE

The St. John Standard approves of the $2,000,000 bond guarantee on the ground that "it is of the greatest importance that the Valley Railway should be completed as soon as possible."

SUSSEX DOES WELL

The enterprising citizens of Sussex are taking practical steps to solve the housing problem in that town. A committee has been appointed at a largely attended meeting of citizens to solicit subscriptions for the formation of a building society.

encouraging feature about it is that the citizens propose to co-operate. The Sussex Record, discussing the question, says there never was a time in the history of the town when so many people were looking for houses to buy or to rent, and it declares that twenty-five houses could be rented at once if they were available.

What is true of Sussex is true to a greater or less extent in other towns in the province. From Moncton, Fredericton, Campbellton and other places come reports of a great need of more housing accommodation.

Mr. Gould of Maine may not be entirely master of the legislature of New Brunswick, but consider his "pull."

If Lieut.-Gov. Wood had refused his assent to the $2,000,000 bond guarantee he would today have been the most popular man in New Brunswick.

President Huerta on further consideration has refused to salute the American flag. In view of what is practically sure to happen this would be a good time for all foreigners to get out of Mexico.

The dreadful tragedy in Northumberland county is the result of a fit of insanity induced by the use of liquor. It is against the law to sell liquor in Northumberland county, but it is evident that the law is flagrantly violated.

Hon. H. F. McLeod says that any money he received while a member of the Flemish government was for professional services. The nature of those services, to whom rendered and at what fee will no doubt be learned by the Royal Commission.

It is unfortunate for the province that the house of assembly was only prorogued on Saturday. If it had been dissolved the people would have proceeded to send to Fredericton representatives more worthy of confidence than those who supported the $2,000,000 bond guarantee.

The Victoria Colonist says:—"Mr. Talbot M. Papineau addressed the Canadian Club in St. John recently, and gave so much satisfaction that The Times, of that city, was led to observe that speeches of the same kind would do more to promote racial unity in Canada than anything else. This is very true.

The courage of the St. John Standard has been somewhat revived. Lieut.-Gov. Wood has assented to the bond guarantee, and the Standard hopes he will appoint such a Royal Commission as would be pleasing to its friends.

The electors of the city will be asked at the election for mayor and commissioners next week to say also whether they are in favor of extending the franchise to married women who pay taxes.

This is an up-to-date Cottage and at a very low price. If you can in a position to build for you, if you call, I will show you the plans and give you the price.

Proof Positive

Lawyer—Did you examine this lady carefully before certifying that she was insane?

Physician—Yes, I asked her age and she said she was two years older than she was.

Sensible Girl

"When I marry it will be for love only."

"Is that so?"

"And if some poor man proposes to you?"

"But he won't. I shall take good care not to fall in love with any man who isn't able to provide me with what luxuries I require."

The Consolation

"There is one occasion in being home-ly," she said.

"And what's that?"

"Nearly all the other women are willing to concede that I am amiable and will make a good wife for some man."

Unsympathetic Miss

Miss Keen—Too bad that your friend Algy has brain trouble. Are they doing anything about it?

Cholly—They can't locate it, you know.

Miss Keen—Which, the brain or the trouble?

Unfortunate Illustration

Fig—Do you believe in metempsychosis?

Fogg—Come again, please!

Fig—It's like this. According to that doctrine, my soul, after I get through with it, may inhabit the body of a jackass.

On a Diet

First Moth—Variable weather.

Second Moth—Yes, I don't know whether to eat a spring coat or a winter coat.

CATCH QUESTIONS OBSOLETE?

(Power)

Anxious inquiries have come to us from places where engineers' license laws are about to go into effect, as to questions likely to be asked in the examinations.

We cannot, of course, forecast the line of questions, which an examiner may see fit to propose, nor would the delivery of ready-made answers be to the best interest of all concerned.

The examiner should not concern himself whether the applicant has a vast fund of engineering information ready for immediate delivery or can capture all the elusive British thermal units and induce them to work overtime or not.

That is the employer's side of the question. "Public safety" is the objective. Therefore, any engineer who knows that he can operate with safety a plant of the class for which he is seeking a license need have no apprehension in regard to the examination. The factors of safety to be demonstrated are good judgment and attentiveness. The first is based on training and knowledge of the principles involved and must be demonstrated to the examiner. The other is usually vouchered for by two reputable citizens.

TOWN HAS FUEL OIL PIPE LINE

A new field of application in the use of oil fuel has been introduced by the government at Fort Baker, Cal. Just as it is customary to distribute water and gas throughout a town for commercial and domestic purposes, the fuel oil is here piped through the streets and delivered to residences and other buildings under a pressure of 80 pounds, where it is used in furnaces for heating and cooking, and in oil engines for power, writes O. W. DeGra, civil engineer, War Department in the current issue of Power. This and the installation now about completed at the Presidio, San Francisco, are believed to be the first of their kind attempted on a large scale. The system consists of oil-supply pipe lines, oil-storage and distributing reservoirs, oil

St. Paul's (Valley) church last evening, fervently to forming up in procession at their rooms in Germain street, the president, G. S. Mayes, in appropriate words, presented to the vice-president, F. E. Hamilton, who accepted it on behalf of the society, the new silk flag of St. George which has recently arrived from England.

Rev. R. P. Hayward, at present in the hospital, has accepted the invitation extended to him by the congregation of Fairville Baptist church. The announcement was made yesterday by Rev. Dr. Hamilton, who presided at the service.

Rev. R. P. Hayward was born in Ashland, Ontario, Canada. He received his early education there and attended the Normal school at Fredericton during 1902-3.

Rev. H. A. Goodwin, of Moncton, preached in Congregational church yesterday to large congregations. Rev. J. K. Currie, general secretary of Methodist Sunday schools for the maritime provinces, presided in the evening.

RECENT DEATHS

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Napoleon Mercer, 179 Mill street, will sympathize with the bereaved family in the loss of a baby girl. Interment was made yesterday afternoon.

Many friends will regret to learn this morning of the death of William G. Gray, marine engineer, at his home, 16 Gray street, last evening after a lengthy illness. Mr. Gray had been a patient sufferer for some time, and less than a month ago was called upon to mourn the death of his wife.

The death occurred on Saturday of Timothy McCarthy at his residence No. 8 Delhi street, after a short illness, leaving a wife and one sister, Mrs. Timothy Dwyer of this city. The deceased was for many years connected with the Seaton Granite Works and was one of the best known stone carvers in the city.

At Bristol, N. B., Monday night, April 6, Mrs. John Mead died of pneumonia, after a short illness. She was the only daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Rogers, and was thirty-five years old. Her husband and one son, Marcus, also her father and mother and two brothers, Sydney, of Bristol, and Frank, of Buffalo—are left to mourn the loss of her devoted wife.

Mrs. Mead was very popular, and will be greatly missed from her large circle of friends. She was an adherent of the Primitive Baptist church, and was noted for her hospitality and general helpfulness. She was an active member of the W. C. T. U. and in the I. O. G. T.

The funeral was held from the Primitive Baptist church. Rev. Charles Orser conducted the service. There were many floral offerings.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hughes, 3 Queen street, West End, will have the sympathy of their many friends in the loss of a young son, John Francis. The funeral will take place this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Just two weeks after the death of her husband, Mrs. Mary Kane, widow of Thomas Kane, passed away early yesterday morning at her home in Chipman. Policeman John F. Kane of the local force, a son, received the startling news yesterday morning and his double bereavement has caused his large number of friends throughout the city to tender sincere sympathy.

FIRST IMMIGRATION MAN TO VISIT WEST—OLD RECORDS FOUND. Archives in Edmonton Parliament Buildings Bring to Light Interesting Facts

Edmonton, Alta., April 18—While delving among the archives at the parliament building in Edmonton, John Blue, provincial librarian and statistician, found numerous authenticated records which show that Pierre Expedit Baudin, son of a native of Quebec, born about 1616, was the first immigration agent for the country west of the Great Lakes. He was followed by Henry Kelsey, who traveled extensively in the present provinces of Manitoba and Saskatchewan, and Anthony Henry, the first white man to visit what is now the province of Alberta.

It has been said that "nervous people are the salt of the earth." You only have to look around you to prove this. You find the nervous, high-tensioned active-brained men and women in the highest positions in the land.

AGE BARS YOU From Opportunity Good Placed Go to Young-Looking Men

It is up to you to be one. Gray Hair is the biggest handicap—but it also the one you can most easily escape. Hay's Hair Health restores gray hair to its natural color and vigor. It is not a dye, it is a tonic easy and safe to use, stimulating and nourishing the scalp and hair-roots, imparting new life and vigor and giving that healthy natural look which is so essential to a youthful appearance.

STERILIZING OIL SAVES WORKERS (American Machinist) No modern method of safeguarding the lives and health of employes is more interesting and ingenious than that involving the sterilization of the cutting oils used in machine shops, writes an expert in the current American Machinist.

Nervous Trouble Followed by Locomotor Ataxia Treatment From Doctors Proved of No Avail—Was Fully Restored by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

While George Jessup was vainly trying to start a fire in his house in Collingwood, N. J., lightning struck, came down the chimney, and lit the fire. It also burned down the house.

There can no longer be any doubt that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is the most effective of nerve restoratives. There are many thousands of cures on record similar to the one described in this letter: Mrs. T. E. Tweedie, Brighton, Ont., writes: "For years I was troubled with the stomach, and have always been of a nervous temperament. The death of my husband was a great shock to me, and a few months later I was prostrated by nervous trouble. Locomotor ataxia developed later, and I was in a bad condition."

GOVERNOR WOOD ASSENTS TO BILL

Additional Grant To Valley Railway Passed

$2,000,000 MORE

At Same Time His Honor Signs Bill to Inquire Where Last Half Million Went To

Fredericton, April 19.—There was a sombre solemnity about the prorogation of the legislature today that was unusual as it was remarkable. After fifty-two days of session, the closing proceedings were unmarked by any of the usual sign of jollity and rejoicing.

Only about one-third of the members remained until the last rites were over. The arrival of the lieutenant-governor was unheralded and in silence.

And yet the gloom was there—prevalent everywhere. There were reasons. The premier of the province was absent under grave charges preferred by a fellow member and the governor was assenting to one bill that provided for the investigation of his conduct.

"And there was another excuse for the gravity of the proceedings. An amusing spectacle was in evidence of two bills being assented to by his honor in which all the people have a vital and deep interest; one to investigate the expenditure of $25,000 a mile for 117 miles of railway in the garden of the province, to determine if some half million of the money had been wasted, or worse, and to investigate serious charges in connection with the giving of the contracts that concerned two men prominent in public life.

The other bill was to guarantee further bonds for the same road as well as the unguaranteed sections for the sum of $10,000 per mile or a total of $2,000,000.

A Grave Occasion. Never in legislative history were two such bills assented to at the same time by one governor.

The responsibility of such an act was indeed grave. The occasion was therefore solemn. The high sheriff was on hand, the chief of police stood at the door, the corner was crowded.

The presence of these officials was ominous, significant and depressing. So was the atmosphere.

The white-haired, aged clerk muttered his part. Mr. Speaker, in guttural tones, repeated his formulae. The members sat grave, preoccupied, silent. There was no rejoicing over this notable display of public opinion. The ceremony was brief, but it was decisive. New Brunswick's credit is pledged again and her people will have to make good.

The close of the session was in great contrast to the opening. Then all was merry as a marriage bell. The music and uniforms, the tramp and the sound of guns all heralded the opening of another session with forty-six members supporting the administration and but two in opposition.

Drunk With Power. Though in a great measure, this was not due entirely to the course of the opposition. The government was drunk with power and many supporters lost their reason. The province was theirs for had they not conquered it? They forgot the responsibility of their acts, and a question of their conduct from the opposition revealed what was done and undone; the people lost faith.

Then came two sessions—the proposal to pledge the credit of the province for another $2,000,000 and the heretofore personal charges against the premier, and against the great construction work being carried on, till the charges were lifted. The result was special legislation to investigate both the gloom and clouds of the closing are accounted for. There were other notable attempts at buccannery during the session. Two of them were happily defeated. The famous Forshores bill found a grave almost as soon as it was born. But it lived long enough for its father to be recognized and his final resting place selected. Those obsequies will come later. The rights of riparian proprietors would have been stolen from them under this measure and for no other reason than to gratify the greed of a few. Publicity of bills which thus attack the public interest should be demanded in the future.

Iniquitous Bill Barely Defeated. The amendment to the railway act in connection with arbitration of right of way values also was defeated, but it died harder. Its champion was the solicitor of the company constructing the Valley railway. He had a seat in the house, and he had many suits in court. By the legislation proposed, all his opponents would have been out of court.

THE BLACK HAND. The appointment of the royal commission will be awaited with interest. Much depends upon the ability and impartiality of the men selected. The names of some supreme court judges have been mentioned, but as a number of them are related either to the members of the present or past government, and one of them to an ex-member of the government, the majority of them are thus eliminated under the usage of the day.

The authority of the commission vests it with all the powers of the supreme court, and makes it possible for one commissioner to take evidence in the absence of his colleagues. Any person may serve a summons in any place in the province. Reasonable expenses are allowed witnesses, and no evidence taken before the commission is admissible in other civil suits. The sittings of the commission shall be public, and the publication of the evidence is privileged. Provision is also made for payment of the commissioners, who shall report to the lieutenant-governor.

The government will meet in Fredericton Wednesday night, when it is expected the personnel of the royal commission will be announced.

The house went into committee and took up the consideration of the bill to amend the New Brunswick Railway Act.

Mr. Guthrie moved to amend the bill by providing that the Board of Public Utilities Commissioners should be arbitrators under the act.

Chairman Black declared the amendment lost, upon the committee being evenly divided. The bill with amendments was then agreed to.

The lieutenant-governor entering the chamber, assented to the remaining bills passed by the house, and then prorogued the session.

MURPHY AND THREE OTHERS RE-INSTATED

Tammany Chief May Now Resign From National Democratic Club

New York, April 18.—Charles F. Murphy, Thomas F. Foley and George Washington Plunkitt, dropped from the National Democratic Club on March 10 for non-payment of dues and labelled "undesirable" by the reformer president, Judge Edward F. O'Dwyer, have been reinstated by a vote of 11 to 2. Judge O'Dwyer again denounced Mr. Murphy and begged the governors to keep him out, but only Col. John R. Dunlap stood with the judge in the balloting.

It is believed that the next move will be the resignation of Mr. Murphy and his friends.

Dr. Thomas Darlington was reinstated a fortnight ago without opposition. James E. Gaffney, the other one of the five in the called Murphy group, has given no sign that he cares about getting back.

New Scheme for C. N. R. It is reported at Ottawa that Hon. Arthur Meighen, solicitor-general, is trying to deal with the C. N. R. scheme by suggesting the formation of a company to be known as the Canadian Northern Railway Company of Canada. This concern would control all subsidiary, auxiliary and annexed concerns. Forty per cent. of the stock of the amalgamated corporation would be turned over to the government, while about fifteen per cent. would be held by a trust or commission to be transferred to the government upon any failure to carry out the agreement.

and the farmers whose lands were being taken by the company at the mercy of the company in a great degree. The permanent, and it might be added, political, arbitration board was opposed, and the original bill finally withdrawn.

It had its champions evidently, for the vote on the amendment and similar section stood a tie, and the chairman ruled it was lost.

The support of Mr. Guthrie and the opposition of Mr. Sillip led to some interesting exchanges between those gentlemen. Both one side of the house and as much opposed as fire and water, their compliment will be remembered.

The investigations asked for by Mr. Dugal and authorized by the special bills, followed his charges, but not his resolutions. The letter specified what the tribunal of inquiry should do, and the amendment of the government cut out the requests contained in those resolutions. Fortunately the special bills in the end did not follow the amendment in their entirety. The line Italian hand that drew the Forshores measure was visible in the amendments and can still be traced in the language of the authority to investigate the timber bonus charges, but in spite of legal phraseology truth has a habit of coming to the surface and reaching the shore. The people will see that the principle is rescued and protected in this case also.

Mr. Dugal, the Liberal member from Madawaska, who with his colleague, Mr. Feltus, did such great work during the session, were treated with much discourtesy by the government press throughout the province. In spite of this they stood by their guns and did their duty, and their compatriots and every loyal Liberal in New Brunswick have good reason to be proud of them.

Many letters of commendation were received by the two French members, and there was one that caused Mr. Dugal considerable amusement. It read as follows:

"Dugal, Member. "Make you peace with your God. Prepare for death, because your days are numbered. (Signed) 'LEGATO, CHAIRMAN.'"

McLEOD SAYS HE WAS PAID ONLY FOR LEGAL SERVICES

(Special to The Telegraph)

Ottawa, April 19.—In a statement to your correspondent today, Harry F. McLeod, the present M. P. for York (N. B.), and formerly a member of the Planning government in New Brunswick, gave a denial to the charges recently made in the legislature at Fredericton by L. A. Dugal, M. P. P., that Mr. McLeod had been one of the provincial ministers to whom contractors were compelled to pay large sums before they could obtain contracts on the construction of the St. John Valley railway.

"I have nothing to fear from any charges made against me," said Mr. McLeod today. "As a lawyer I rendered professional services to some contractors and all the money I ever received from them was for such services."

Asked concerning the ethics of his rendering legal services in this connection while a provincial minister of the crown, Mr. McLeod replied: "In these days you cannot live by politics alone. I made no bones of practicing my profession while a member of the government."

He stated that he had received no money from any contractor, and that he had no knowledge of any such arrangement.

BATH IN HOT WAX TO CURE MANY ILLS

Research Physician Describes New Treatment, Which, He Says, is Successful

Paris, April 19.—A paraffin wax bath heated to 120 degrees Fahrenheit is a new treatment for rheumatism, sciatica, gout and kindred ailments, as described by Dr. Barthélemy de Saussure at the Academy of Medicine tonight.

The physician, finding that superheated wax applied to wounds, burns and sores, removed all pain and caused them to heal rapidly, was led to believe that it might be advantageously applied to the whole body. Accordingly he proceeded to an oil refinery and got into a vat containing 100 gallons of wax at a temperature of 180 degrees. Not only did this cause no burning, but it resulted in a pleasant sensation. A number of patients suffering from various ailments were then put through the same process, with results that exceeded the physician's expectations.

Dr. de Saussure communicated his discoveries of the properties of hot wax to Dr. Alexis Carrel, of the Rockefeller Institute, New York, who is said to have used it with great success in connection with skin-grafting experiments.

In a supplement the London Gazette published the roll of baronets. The list contains the names of 1,800 baronets, of whom 718 are baronets of the United Kingdom, 101 baronets of Great Britain, 177 baronets of England, 116 baronets of Scotland, and eighty-two baronets of Ireland.

The oldest boy had a piece nearly cut off the top of his head, another put in a third over the top of the head, and a fourth on the side of the top of the head, also a cut through the chest just below the collar bone to the left.

The second boy had three deep cuts on the head.

The two younger children escaped unhurt.

DOUBLE MURDER; THEN SUICIDE

Dreadful Deeds of Man on The North Shore

CHILDREN HIS VICTIMS

North Shore Man Brains Two Boys, Attempts Murder of Parents and Later Shoots Himself

Newcastle, N. B., April 19.—A gruesome tragedy occurred on Saturday nine miles from Newcastle, in the village of Protectionville, when Park Sobey killed two children of Nell Mullin, attacked the latter, and some hours later shot himself. He murdered the two little ones with an axe. Sobey had been drinking while in Newcastle with Nell and John Mullin. The Mullins were sober when they returned home. Sobey stopped to "settle a grievance" with a neighbor and later came to the home of Nell Mullin.

When Mullin reached home he gave some candy to his children, and then went to the barn to put up his horses, leaving Sobey in the yard. Two of the Mullin children, Alfred Ernest, aged seven, and John Henry, aged five, seized some more candy and ran out with it laughing and sat down on a plank alongside an outhouse. They were never again seen alive. The mania coming upon Sobey, he seized an axe, killed the boys and hid their bodies in a closet.

He then entered the house, seized Mullin's rifle, and threatened Mrs. Mullin, whose two smaller children were with her. She did not then know what had happened her eldest two. She begged for her life and got hold of the rifle. The mania suddenly dropped the rifle, left her, and seized the axe and made for the barn. He struck Nell Mullin, who was bending and did not see him, a severe blow from behind which, received a slight wound in the other shoulder, and took the axe away from him.

Sobey ran across the road to the post office kept by Leonard Fletcher, who was absent, broke a window, seized Fletcher's rifle, and, after ransacking the place for cartridges, left, going in the direction of his camp, about two miles further west.

Meanwhile Mrs. Mullin had found the corpses of her two children and Mullin, exhausted by bleeding had fainted. As soon as he saw Sobey leave Fletcher's place, he went for help, met some children, who went for John Mullin, who started for Newcastle for Dr. Nicholson, reaching here about 8 o'clock and giving the first report of the tragedy, there being no telephone between here and there.

Dr. Nicholson reached Mullin's about 11 o'clock and dressed Mullin's wounds, and he is expected to recover. The slain child was three inches wide, but not deep.

The body had been found several hours before by the suicide's brother, who carefully reconnoitered the camp saw him in bed with the rifle muscled close to his head. Thinking him asleep he stealthily seized the rifle and then tried to awaken him, but he was dead.

Coroner Desmond, of Newcastle, will hold an inquest tomorrow forenoon. It is thought that Sobey had intended to fortify himself in his camp and sell his life dearly, but when the full horror of his position dawned upon him he took the easiest way out. Why he took the rifle, when he must have had a revolver with him, does not appear. Postmaster Fletcher was fortunate in being absent when Sobey in his frenzy invaded his office, as Fletcher is an old man and what would have happened Mrs. Mullin and her remaining children had her husband been slain is too horrible to think of.

Many townsmen did not sleep till 4 this morning, when the returning constables brought news of Sobey's tragic end.

A later report says that after Sobey had attacked Mullin, Mullin got the upper hand and not knowing his children were killed, let Sobey go at his wife's entreaty. Then Sobey went to Fletcher's and got a gun and returned to attack the woman. All that saved her was that the rifle had no cartridges. It then went and got a second rifle, but Mullin got it away from him, too. The Sobey went home, where he had rifle stored.

Nell Mullin had settled yesterday with Mr. Panchill for his winter's lodging, and thinks Sobey's motive must have been robbery.

RAILROAD MAN HAD TO LAY OFF Until He Took GIN PILLS

Buffalo, N. Y. "I have been a Pullman conductor on the C. P. R. and Michigan Central for the last three years. About four years ago, I was laid up with intense pain in the groin, a very sore back and suffered most severely when I tried to urinate. I treated with my family physician or two months for GIN PILLS. The latter did not receive any benefit about that time. I met another railroad man who had been similarly affected after having been given up by prominent physicians who treated him for six weeks. He is now running on the road and is perfectly cured. He strongly advised me to try GIN PILLS which I did with the results that the pains left me entirely."

WHY ARE WE SO TIRED?

The Weather is Not to Blame For That "Dragged Out" Feeling

"This weather simply takes the life right out of me. I can hardly drag one out after the other," said a rundown, tired-out woman the other day. I want to say to every such person in this vicinity. Don't blame the weather, it's your condition. You need a strengthening tonic and the very best I now is Vinol which is a combination of the two most wonderful tonics, namely, the medicinal, curative elements of cod liver oil and tonic iron, or the blood.

A case has just come to my attention from Milford, Mich. "Mrs. Julia Barber says: 'I was run-down and hardly able to drag about, my appetite was poor and I was not able to work. My druggist asked me to try Vinol. The first bottle helped me and after taking the second bottle I was able to work, not felt well and strong. Vinol is the best medicine I have ever taken.' Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you.—Chas. T. Wasson, Druggist, St. John.

MR CHARLES WYNDHAM'S GREAT PLAY, THE LIARS, OPERA HOUSE TONIGHT

Possibly the best and wittiest play ever written by Henry Arthur Jones is to be found in "The Liars" to be produced by the Thompson-Woods Stock company tonight. It should prove to be the society event of the season, not only from the fact that one of England's greatest actors, Mr. Charles Wyndham, starred in it so successfully, but so because it deals with English aristocracy and is therefore of the very highest order.

The play deals with one Lady Jessica and an infatuation formed by her for Ned Faulkner. She on several occasions indignantly confesses to her course is found out. On one of occasions the brother of her husband happens to be at the residence and accordingly informs her husband of her clandestine meetings with Faulkner. Her husband, of course, demands an explanation. To the scandal of the whole thing is Lady Jessica's and her friends' plan, which plan is greatly opposed by Sir Christopher Faulkner. However, he finally agrees to their plan much against his will. An awkward climax is reached when Faulkner openly confesses his great love for Lady Jessica. The development of a happy ending after such a climax is one which requires the most careful handling of the plot, but Henry Arthur Jones accomplishes this apparently difficult task and all ends well. The play is really a comedy with a touch of that and should prove one of the big attractions of the season. Mr. Meharry will be seen in the part of Sir Christopher Deering, created by Charles Wyndham, while Miss Rand will have the part of the aristocratic Lady Jessica, as originally played by Mary Moore.

Grow Hair On a Bald Head BY A SPECIALIST

"Thousands of people suffer from baldness and falling hair, who, having tried every advertised hair tonic and hair-grower without results, have resorted themselves to baldness and its attendant discomforts. Yet their case is hopeless; the following simple home description has made hair grow after years of baldness and is also unequalled for restoring gray hair to its original color, stopping hair from falling out, and destroying the dandruff germ. It will not make the hair greasy, and can be purchased by any druggist: Bay Rum, 6 ounces; avona de Compose, 2 ounces; Menthol crystals, one-half drachm. If you wish perfume, add 1 drachm of your favorite perfume. This preparation is highly recommended by physicians and specialists and is absolutely harmless, as it contains none of the poisonous wood alcohol so frequently found in hair tonics."

Stick It. "Well, my love," said Mr. Dubbins to her return from the poll, "did you vote as you voted last?" "Yes," said Mrs. Dubbins with an apologetic smile; "there it is!" She threw the ballot upon his desk. "Why," said Mr. Dubbins, "didn't you cast it?" "Cast it?" retorted Mrs. Dubbins. "Cast it? You don't suppose for a moment that now that I've got it I'm going to let go of it, do you? Not if I know I'm going to have it framed."

Few Words But Potent. A young lover who had decided to take the great avowal was convinced that a few words would suffice to assure his good fortune. He only lacked beginning, a beautiful poetic inspiring beginning. At length he found it, venturing himself to the desired one, and suddenly showing her a ring, he said: "My love for you is like this ring. It has no end." The young lady examined the golden circlet for a while with close attention, and then returned it to him. "My love for you," said she, "is also like this ring—it has no beginning!"

Considering men in relation to money, there are three kinds whom I dislike, men who have more money than they can spend; men who have more money than they do spend; and men who spend more money than they have. Of the three varieties, I believe I have the least liking for the first. But as a man, I like Spencer Grenville North pretty well although he had something like two or ten or thirty millions—I've forgotten exactly how many. I did not leave town that summer. I usually went down to a village on the south shore of Long Island. The place was surrounded by duck-farms, and the ducks and dogs and whippoorwills and dusty windmills made so much noise that I could sleep as peacefully as if I were in my own flat six doors from the elevated railroad in New York. But that summer I did not go. Remember that, one of my friends asked me why I did not. I replied: "Because, old man, New York is the finest summer resort of the estates of the wealthy to delight the eyes of the favorites of Fortune."

for to stay in the city during summer. I don't believe it. If you do, why did you spend your summer there for the last four years, even sneaking away from town on a night train, and refusing to tell your friends where this Arcadian village was?" "Because," said I, "they might have followed me and discovered it. But since then I have learned that Amoryville has come to town. The coolest things, the freshest, the brightest, the choicest, are to be found in the city. If you've anything on hand this evening I will show you."

"I could hear North drizzling to Annie about his odious Adirondack camp." "we've a couple of electric launches; and I'll tell you what we do every night or two—we tow a row boat behind each other with a big phonograph and a boy to change the records in 'em. On the water and twenty yards behind you, they are not so bad. And there are passably good roads through the woods where we go motoring. I shipped two cars up there. And the Pinediff Inn is only three miles away. You know the Pinediff. Some good people are there this season, and we run over to the dances twice a week. Can't you go back with me for a week, old man?" I laughed. "North," said I, "if I may be so familiar with a millionaire, because I hate both the names Spencer and Grenville—your invitation is most kindly, but—the city in the summer time is here. Here, while the bourgeoisie is away, I can live as Nero lived—barring, thank heaven, the fiddling—while the city burns at ninety in the shade. The topsies and the sonses wait on me like handmaids. I sit under Florida palms and eat pomgranates while Boreas huffs, electrically conjured up, blows upon me his Arctic breath. As for trout, you know yourself that Pean at Faulkner's cooks them better than anyone else in the world."

"Be advised," said North. "My chef has plucked the ribbons from my coat. He lays some slices of bacon in the trout, wraps it all in corn-husks—the husks of green corn, you know—bursts them in hot ashes and covers them with life coils. We build fires on the bank of the lake and have fish suppers."

"I know," said I. "And the servants bring down the tables and chairs and darned socks, and you eat with silver forks. Know the kind of cats that you millionaires have. And there are champagne pails set about, disgorging the wild flowers, and no doubt, Madamge Tetrastin to sing in the boat pavilion after the trout."

"Oh, no," said North, "concernedly, 'we were never as bad as that. We did have a variety troupe up from the city three or four nights, but they weren't stars by as far as light can travel in the same length of time. I always like a few home comforts even when I'm roughing it. But don't tell me you prefer to drink out of a mountain branch at the end of a day's tramp after the deer. That's the only way to spend a summer. Get out and live with nature." "I said with you absolutely," said I with emphasis. "For one moment, I had relaxed my vigilance, and had spoken my true sentiments. North looked at me long and curiously."

"Then why in the name of Pan and Apollo," he asked, "have you been signing this deceitful pen to summer in town?" I suppose I looked my guilt. "Miss North," I said, "I see, May I ask her name?" "Annie Ashton," said I, simply. "She played Nanette in Binky & Bing's production of 'The Silver Chord.' She is to have a better part next season."

FRUIT LAXATIVE FOR SICK CHILD GIVE 'CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS'

Cleanses Tender Little Stomach, Liver, Bowels Without Injury. Every mother realizes that this is the children's ideal laxative and physic, because they love its pleasant taste and it never fails to effect a thorough "inside" cleansing without griping. When your child is cross, irritable, feverish, or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of 'California Syrup of Figs,' and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels and you have a well, playful child again.

you on the hottest August night for five years," said I, a little sarcastically, "you might think about the kids down in Delancy and Hester streets lying on the fire escapes with their tongues hanging out, trying to get a breath of air that hasn't been fried on both sides. The contrast might increase your enjoyment."

the stage, and she liked to stay at home and read and make caps for her mother. She was unvaryingly kind and friendly with Binky & Bing's press-agent, since the theatre had closed she had allowed Mr. Vandiver to call in an unofficial role. I had often spoken to her of my friend, Spencer Grenville North, and so, as it was early, the first turn of the vaudeville being not over, we left to find a telephone. Miss Ashton would be very glad to see Mr. Vandiver and Mr. North. We found her fitting a new cap on her mother. I never saw her look more charming. North made himself disagreeably entertaining. He was a good talker, and had a way with him. Besides, he had two, ten or thirty millions. I've forgotten which. I incautiously admired the mother's cap, whereupon she brought out her store of a dozen or two, and I took a course in edgings and frills. Even though Annie's fingers had pinked, or ruffled, or hemmed, or whatever you do to 'em, they palled upon me. And I could hear North drizzling to Annie about his odious Adirondack camp. Two days after that I saw North in his motor car with Miss Ashton and her mother. On the next afternoon he dropped in on me. "This old burg isn't so hot," he said, "this old burg isn't so hot as you can keep about as cool here as you can in the country, anyhow. You should see the first and pines do their skirt dances during a storm and lie down flat and one year. Think of that! And the ones shipped to the market will bring in more money than that. Yes, I am for the ducks and the salt breeze coming over the bay. I think I shall get a Chinaman cook, and with him and the dog and the sunsets for company I shall do well. No more of this dull, baking, senescent, roaring city for me." Miss Ashton looked surprised. North laughed. "I am going to begin one of my plays tonight," I said, "so I must be going." And with that I took my departure. A few days later Miss Ashton telephoned to me, asking me to call at four in the afternoon. I did. "You have been very good to me," she said, hesitatingly, "and I thought I would tell you. I am going to leave the stage." "Yes," said I. "I suppose you will. They usually do when there's so much money." "There is no money," she said, "or very little. Our money is almost gone." "But I am told," said I, "that he has something like two or ten or thirty millions—I have forgotten which." "I know what you mean," she said, "I will not pretend that I do not. I am not going to marry Mr. North." "Then why are you leaving the stage?" I asked sardoniously. "What else can you do to earn a living?" "She came closer to me, and I can see the look in her eyes get at the spoken." "I can pick ducks," she said. "We sold the first year's feathers for $600." (Copyrighted, 1909, by Harper Bros.)

WAS TROUBLED WITH BOILS AND CARBUNCLES.

There is no more frequent source of illness than that arising from bad blood, for when the blood becomes impure, it is only natural that boils, pimples or some other indication of bad blood should break out of the system. Boils in themselves are not a dangerous trouble, but still at the same time are very painful, and the only way to get rid of them is to cleanse the blood of the impurities. Cleanse it thoroughly by the use of Burdock Blood Bitters, that old and reliable blood medicine that has been on the market for nearly forty years.

Mr. James Wilds, Plaster Rock, N.B., writes:—"I was greatly troubled, a few years ago, with boils and carbuncles, and the doctor told me I was in a bad condition. My appetite failed me, I began to lose strength, and was pretty well run down when one of my friends recommended Burdock Blood Bitters. After using three bottles I began to feel like another man. My troubles soon left me, and to-day I can certainly recommend Burdock Blood Bitters a high recommendation to my friends."

"It makes a difference, doesn't it?" said I. "It certainly does. Now I found some whitebait yesterday, at Maudie's, with a new sauce that beats anything in the trout line I ever tasted." "It makes a difference, doesn't it?" I asked. "Immense. The sauce is the main thing with whitebait." "It makes a difference, doesn't it?" I asked, looking him straight in the eye. He understood. "Lobby," he said, "I was going to tell you. I couldn't help it. I'll play fair with you, but I'm going in to win. She is the 'one particular' for me." "All right," said I. "It's a fair deal. There are no rights for you to encroach upon." On Thursday afternoon Miss Ashton invited North and myself to have lunch in her apartment. He was devoted, and she was more charming than usual. By that season I can watch 'em for hours. They can march better than any company in the National Guard, and they can play follow my leader better than the entire Democratic party. Their voices don't amount to much but I like to hear 'em. They wake you up a dozen times a night, but there's a homely sound about their quacking that is more musical to me than the cry of 'fresh strawberries' under your window in the morning when you want to sleep. "And," I went on, enthusiastically, "do you know the value of ducks besides their beauty and intelligence and order and sweetness of voice? Picking their feathers gives you an unfailing and never ceasing income. On a farm that I know the feathers were sold for $400 in the next season's lot."

HAVE NOT BEEN FOUND The checks of several I. C. R. employees which were reported missing a few days ago have not been found. They were in a registered package, and it is supposed that they were stolen from the depot. Duplicate checks have been made out for payment of the men's wages. The other checks would be of no value to whoever took them, but it is thought that they may have been in the package, containing money, instead of paper valued at more than $1,000, but worthless to him.

EASTER CAROL SERVICE The annual Easter carol service was held last evening in St. Mary's church with the Sunday school children in attendance in the new wing, which lately has been added to the church and the main portion of the edifice crowded to the limit of its capacity. The rector, Archdeacon Raymond, addressed the gathering, his sermon being appropriate to the Easter season. Easter selections were given by the children and the special music was rendered most successfully. The Easter offering for missions amounted to nearly $100.

CHINESE TELLS OF VANCOUVER MURDER

Pleads Self Defence on Charge of Killing Mrs. Millard

Vancouver, April 20—Jack Kong, a Chinese youth, accused of the murder of Mrs. Millard, made a statement at his trial after evidence of a circumstantial character had been given in detail as to the finding of the coroner's jury. The deceased Kong said, "I want to tell I did it in self-defence." He said that an argument took place about the kind of porridge he made for Mrs. Millard. He struck at her with a chair. She came at him with a knife, and he struck her with a chair on the head and she fell. He carried the body down to the basement and thought of the situation what he would do with it. Then he cut off the legs and arms and put all in to the furnace.

In the afternoon he addressed the people of the Laidlaw street Baptist church, speaking on "Standing on the Threshold of Eternity." At three o'clock he addressed women only on "How to be Less Than a Woman." All services were well attended yesterday. The special services were crowded.
