FLY WHEEL BREAKS IN PLANT A HURD

Electric and Power Company Meet Heavy Loss

NO ONE IS HURT

Huge Masses of Steel Blown Through Roof and Walls and President Chambers Has Close Call - Have Duplicate Machinery

(Special to Times) - Truro, May 2—A serious accident at the Chambers Electric & Power plant this morning, while fortunately resulting in no loss of life, nevertheless has caused a heavy monetary loss to the company. About quarter past seven o'clock the fly wheel of the engine broke and the flying pieces destroyed the dynamo and almost wrecked the interior of the power house. One piece of the heavy steel, weighing 172 pounds was blown through the brick wall and forced its way through the second brick wall of the adjoining furniture store. Another big pipe tore through the power house wall and then through the wall of the laundry adjoining, falling at the feet of Stanley Chambers and an assistant who were conversing there. Mr. Chambers, the president of the company, was just about to enter the door of the power house and the concussion hurled him to his feet. He fell several yards away, unhurt. Leonard Johnson, with a coolness and bravery worthy of a hero, dashed into the building amid falling bricks and plaster and debris and shot off the steam from the engine. Notwithstanding the destruction of the valuable part of the plant there will not be any inconvenience as the Chambers Company have duplicate emergency engines and dynamo which will tonight supply light for the town as if nothing had happened.

FREDERICTON APPOINTS INDUSTRIAL COMMISSIONER

E. J. Paxon Chosen at $100 a Month - Fire at Queensbury

Fredericton, N. B., May 2—A dwelling house at Queensbury belonging to Charles Courser was destroyed by fire last night. The loss is about $1,200 and is partly covered by insurance. H. P. Timmerman, industrial commissioner of the C. P. R., is here arranging for a trip of the farmer's special train to this province in June. The publicity committee of the city council and board of trade last evening appointed E. J. Paxon of the Moncton city industrial commissioner for the city. His salary will be $100 a month. He will enter upon his duties in a few days. Colonel Marsh today celebrated the forty-first anniversary of his appointment as police magistrate. A. B. Copp leader of the local opposition is among the visitors to the city today.

HONOR FOR THOMAS HARDY

London, May 2—The council of the Royal Society of Literature has determined to award the gold medal of the society to Thomas Hardy. The last recipient was George Meredith. The medal will be presented to Mr. Hardy on his birthday, on June 2.

Baby Girl for Ethel Barymore

Mamaroneck, N. Y., May 2—A baby girl was born yesterday to Ethel Barymore, who, off the stage, is Mrs. Russell Crawford Colt. The girl is the second child to be born to Mrs. Colt. The first a boy, was born on November 28, 1909.

Fatal Duel in Germany

Berlin, May 2—Lieutenant Springen and an army surgeon named Brumling fought a duel with pistols at Rastatt in Baden, today, under the rulings of a military court of honor. Lieutenant Springen was killed.

THE KEITTE PURCHASE

In the Times' announcement of the great purchase of van der Veide houses by B. F. Keith, there was a special St. John interest for R. G. Larsen, formerly of St. John, acted as Mr. Keith's secretary in closing up the details. Mr. Larsen is Mr. Keith's Boston representative. The deal makes Mr. Keith van der Veide king of the continent, and it means that the new theatre here will be the eastern end of the chain which stretches from extreme east to west.

BRITISH INQUIRY INTO TITANIC LOSS IS BEGUN

More Along Lines of Court Than Was Investigation in Washington

Worry Over Uncertainty of Seeing Bodies of Their Dead Drives Relatives Almost Mad in Halifax - Deeply Impressive Service—Ismy Breaks Down

(Canadian Press) - London, May 2—Lord Mersey and five assessors, who will advise him in his questioning on the technicalities of navigation, held, this morning, the first session of the board of trade inquiry into the loss of the White Star steamer Titanic. Some 100 spectators attended. From the series of twenty-six questions, which the attorney-general announced would be taken up, it became evident that the inquiry would cover practically the same ground as the investigation by the committee of the American senate, but would be conducted more in accordance with the procedure of a court of law and deal definitely with stated cases. Eight questions, Sir Rufus Daniel Isaacs said, would relate to happenings before the Titanic and the resulting precautions taken, ten to the casualty, and the remaining ten to the equipment and construction of the vessel, and the last to the Maritime Shipping Act. A twenty-foot model of the Titanic, carrying sixteen miniature lifeboats and a big chart of the North Atlantic, were prominently displayed. In front of the platform were some hundred members of the bar, representing various interests involved, and 300 representatives of the press. Sir Rufus announced formally: "I desire on behalf of the government to express the deepest sympathy for all those who mourn the loss of their loved ones among the passengers, the officers and the crew of the ill-fated vessel. The accident occurred in magnitude and in harrowing incidents any disaster in the history of the mercantile marine. I am prepared to pay a tribute to those whose devotion, duty and heroic self-sacrifice maintained the best traditions of the maritime industry."

The Very Reverend dean conducted the service, assisted by Rev. Canon Hind, but lately returned after such a funeral scene in the blue northern seas as has made the whole world one in grief and mourning. There were seven men in the carriage, including reporters of the local agency of the White Star Line. Neither organ nor choir was present, musical detail was not needed to make this funeral an impressive one. The incomparable words of the psalmist were enforced by all the circumstances in connection with this service. "For I am a stranger with thee and a sojourner as all my fathers were." "Love thou that hath been our refuge from one generation to another before the mountains were brought forth or even the earth and the world were made, Thou art God from everlasting and world without end."

It was a brief service which none of the half dozen present will ever forget. The body was committed to mother earth in tranquil Fairview cemetery.

Suit for Damages

New York, May 2—George Arkham, counsel for Mrs. Hobbes, widow of Colonel John Jacob Astor's son, who is suing for damages for her husband's death aboard the Titanic, announced yesterday that she had filed a suit for damages.

James Osborne, Former Head of C. P. R. Here, Dies Suddenly in Vancouver

Montreal papers report the sudden death of James Osborne, general superintendent of the British Columbia division of the C. P. R. in Vancouver. It was only a few days ago that several of the principals of the road who had been west came back with the news that he never looked so well since the day that he became an employee of the company nearly forty-two years ago. Mr. Osborne was born in Montreal, 20 years ago. His father was a farmer in a small town near Montreal. He died when his son was two years old. The younger Osbornes were in newspapers and magazines for a short time, and he then entered the employ of the Grand Trunk when he was retained for about six years. He became junior clerk in the mechanical superintendent's office of the locomotive department, and when he was promoted to the chief clerkship of the C. P. R. he engaged him. In many respects it may be said that he was with the Canadian Pacific from the time of its active operation.

THE LATE MR. OSBORNE

In 1886 Mr. Osborne was appointed assistant to the general manager, and this naturally brought him into close contact with the future president of the road. It was but years later that he became assistant to Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, then vice-president. In September, 1887, he received the appointment of car accountant, and this was followed by his selection as superintendent of car service embracing transportation, distribution and accounting of cars and later to those duties were added those of general fuel agent. In 1900 he was appointed general superintendent at Winnipeg at St. John. Here he stayed two years, and then went again to Montreal as general superintendent of the Eastern division. In 1901, Mr. Osborne was transferred to the Atlantic division with headquarters at St. John. Here he stayed two years, and then went again to Montreal as general superintendent of the Eastern division. In 1906 he was appointed to superintending of the Ontario division. It was but a short time ago that he was appointed to the important position that he held at the time of his sudden taking off.

ALL SAINTS, IN HALIFAX, HAS NEVER BEFORE BEEN SCENE OF SUCH FUNERAL SERVICE (Special to Times).

Halifax, N. S., May 2—There was held in All Saints Cathedral yesterday afternoon, the simplest and most solemn funeral service of which it has ever been the scene. No similar service ever held here has given at once such a sense of the loneliness of the death, and the saving comfort in the office of the church of England, for the burial of the dead. The funeral was that of Mr. Harrison, secretary to Mr. Lemley, of the White Star company, in the winter sea in the wreck of the Titanic. Mr. Harrison's home was in Liverpool. Within the church, empty, save for one or two at prayer, and entirely ignorant of the fact that the funeral service was to be held, there remained for about six years. He became junior clerk in the mechanical superintendent's office of the locomotive department, and when he was promoted to the chief clerkship of the C. P. R. he engaged him. In many respects it may be said that he was with the Canadian Pacific from the time of its active operation.

Toronto Girl Runs Away With Employer and Ends Her Life With Carbolic

Detroit, Mich., May 2—The body of Miss Annis Hales, aged eighteen, daughter of Arthur Hales of Robert Street, Toronto, lies in the morgue, and D. Richards, thirty-three and married, with whom it is alleged the young woman ran away from Toronto last Sunday, is held as the man in the case. The girl committed suicide. When the coroner started to investigate, he learned that Richards was a partner in a Toronto restaurant, and that Miss Hales was one of the employees in the place. Forty-eight hours after the disappearance of the couple, the girl's father came here in an endeavor to induce the girl to return home. When Miss Hales learned that her parents were fully cognizant of the position in which she had placed herself, she became despondent, and yesterday drank carbolic acid.

Rowdy Time Day M New York

SOCIALIST GATHERING

"Take Dirty Rag Down" is Cry as Flag is Carried to Platform - Men, Roughly Handled in Ensuing Fight and Woman Rescues the Colors

(Canadian Press) - New York, May 2—The stars and stripes were torn down and trampled under foot and a red flag substituted, during a fierce fight at a May day meeting of the socialist party and affiliated unions in Union Square, last yesterday.

Responsibility for the tearing down of the flag is disclaimed by the socialists. Their representatives on the platform appear to have done their best to protect the national colors. The band was playing the "Marseillaise," when the stars and stripes was carried to the stand as the first speaker was about to be introduced. Instantly there was the wildest excitement.

"Take that dirty rag down," went up the cry from the crowd. But those on the platform held their ground and some with cooler heads tried to quiet the tumult that had broken out.

"We don't recognize that flag," cried a man in front, as he tried to reach the platform. That cry was taken up by others, a number of whom fought their way to the platform. Some of those on the platform tried to protect the flag and a fist fight resulted, in which a lone policeman was the only officer who figured.

This club knocked three men down. Several men were tossed bodily over the platform and fell into the crowd. Bloody faces were numerous.

The big American flag was finally torn down and hurled to the ground. Miss Caroline Dexter, a member of the socialist party, a tall, muscular woman, showed her way to where the fallen banner lay. When she saw it she said, "I'll be glad to see it gathered up for the flag. She met no resistance and carried the flag some with her.

IN OTHER PLACES

Montreal, May 2—There was no disorder attending last night's socialist demonstration. With large crowds looking on, the red flag was carried through the streets of Montreal by a red-clad girl with four male guards holding the supporting strands. There was neither haste to the standards of their flag, and the police had nothing to do when a crowd of 2,000 people listened to the principles of their doctrine, as expounded on the Camp De Mars. Miss Lillie Zwick, daughter of a wealthy merchant, carried the flag.

SETTLEMENT OF THE ANTHRACITE TROUBLES

Final Stage in the Negotiations Likely This Afternoon

New York, May 2—Negotiations looking to a settlement of the anthracite coal questions may be satisfactorily concluded this afternoon, when the full committee of the coal operators and the United Mine Workers of America will meet to consider the formal agreement reached between sub-committees.

This agreement will be formally ratified, with possibly one or two changes, was generally believed today. As previously reported, the agreement provides for a ten per cent. increase in wages, and an indirect recognition of the union, together with other changes that have been found to be mutually acceptable to both sides, with respect to working conditions at the mines.

Proving the Right to a British Title — A Case New Before House of Lords Committee

(Copyright, 1912, by the Brentwood Co.)

Proving the right to a British title, in abeyance, is the most expensive and uninteresting form of litigation that I know of. A recent example is that of Robert Barclay Allardice of Toronto, a Cornwell, who went bankrupt in his efforts to make the committee of privileges understand, through his lawyers, that he is the real Earl of Menteth.

There are other claimants to the title and although the committee has not decided in favor of any of them as yet the hint has been dropped that R. B. Allardice, comes the nearest to being proved his case. One of the reasons of the committee for withholding any decision is that were the earldom to be called out of abeyance, it would, of course, constitute a virtual acknowledgment that the bearer of the honor was the rightful heir to the throne of Great Britain. Nationally the point is merely an academic one, for the so-called act of settlement (or succession) of 1701, gave the crown to the Hanoverian House of Guelf in preference to the more remote kinfolk of the Stuarts. The first of these Stuart monarchs was Robert II, of Scotland, who married a girl named Elizabeth Mure of Rowallan. He had no children by her after his marriage, but there were no less than eight born previously to the ceremony.

At no time previous to the reformation would such a marriage even with a papal dispensation, have been held by the law of Scotland to legitimize the birth of offspring previously born. Yet it is from these illegitimate children of King Robert II, of Scotland and of Elizabeth Mure of Rowallan, that all the Stuarts and Guelfs who have since reigned in Scotland and Great Britain are descended. King Robert's second marriage with the widowed Countess of Morye, was free from any kind of reproach, and David, Earl of Strathern and Menteth, was his lawful issue thereof.

Before dying, King Robert executed a settlement, entailing the crown of Scotland on the sons of both his wives, according to priority, and their heirs male, just as if they had all been born of one mother, and that mother his lawful consort. According to this settlement, the fourth Earl of Menteth should have succeeded to the throne of Scotland on the death of James V, instead of that Mary Queen of Scots who was beheaded at Fotheringay Castle. But this fourth Earl of Menteth was a prisoner in England at the time of Queen Mary's accession, which may account for his making no claim for the Scotch crown.

The first Lord of Menteth to put forward his pretensions to the throne, not only of Scotland, but also of England, occupied the time by King James II, son of Mary Queen of Scots, was the seventh earl who, according to contemporary historians, was "the brightest and most illustrious Scotch peer of his day."

The great Sir Francis Bacon, in his capacity of lord high chancellor, and keeper of the Great Seal of the United Kingdom, reported in an official document that the Earl of Menteth's "claim to the throne was so just in point of law, that all that was needed to set him on the throne was a sharp sword." Bacon's successor on the woolsack made a similar report to Charles II, and it was in consequence of these warnings that this monarch persecuted, and finally reduced the seventh earl of Menteth to ruin, after charging him with high treason for publicly stating that he, the earl, had "the reddest blood in Scotland" and that King Charles was "beholden to him for the crown."

In addition to Robert Barclay Allardice, who is now living on an old-age pension, two of the other claimants are George M. Graham of Toronto, Canada, and George M. Graham of Leitchtown. But there is another, who until recently, was considered by the ablest genealogists in England and the royal colleges of heralds of both England and Scotland to have the best claim of all, because he is able to trace in a direct and unbroken line his descent from the seventh Earl of Menteth. I refer to Robert Cunningham Graham who is, despite his political eccentricities, very popular, was on several occasions a guest of King Edward at Balmoral, and is recognized, both at home and abroad, as forming part of the most blue-blooded aristocracy of Scotland.

The name of Menteth has not a pleasant sound in the ears of patriotic Scotchmen. It reminds them of Sir John Menteth, whose memory they execrate.

On August 5, 1886, William Wallace, the national hero of Scotland, was taken in a trap through treachery by Sir John Menteth, at Robroyton, near Elsieburn, where he was tried, found guilty of "high treason"—though he denied that he was ever a liege of the English crown, but merely at war with it—and was executed.

The history of the Menteth peerage, beginning with the seventh earl, is a sad one. After being stripped of his office, ruined in estate, and confined in a castle in the north, a ridiculous title was forced upon him, in cruel mockery of his birthright. His son was murdered in Montrose's camp by Stewart of Arbroath, as related in Scott's "Legend of Montrose."

The eighth earl was at the court of Charles II, in 1681, asking for $200,000 due from the Stuarts to his grandfather, the seventh earl. He died in 1684, without getting the money, and the earldom went into abeyance between his two sisters.

In 1744, when the Scottish peers met to elect representatives in the House of Lords, a thin, cadaverous-looking youth answered to the name of Menteth. He was the great-grandson of Lady Elizabeth Graham, one of the sisters of the eighth earl.

During the next seventeen years he voted as ninth Earl of Menteth, but the House of Lords ordered him to desist from doing so until he had proved his right. He had no means, and sank lower and lower until he became literally a mendicant, begging from door to door. He was known as the "Begar Earl," and continued to be a tramp and a vagrant until 1783, when he was found lying dead by the roadside at Bonhill, in Inverclyde, Scotland.

It is pretty well proven that all the descendants of Lady Elizabeth Graham, great-grandmother of the "Begar Earl," are extinct. Barclay Allardice claimed the earldom through descent from her sister, Lady Mary Graham, who married Sir William Graham of Gartmore, in 1683. His grandfather failed to satisfy the House of Lords in 1838, and now Mr. dog

Give Your Eyes a Chance

By RUTH CAMERON

IN the United States there are estimated to be one hundred thousand persons totally or partially blind. Furthermore, at least half of the educated classes in the United States are afflicted with serious defects of vision, as you can easily see by thinking of the number of people who are absolutely dependent on spectacles or eye glasses.

The startling statement which is put forth by a society founded to help conserve the American vision.

When one considers how delicate is the mechanism of our eyes and how important they are to us—if we had our choice I think most of us would rather die than go blind—does it not seem strange that we know so little about our eyes and the way to take care of them?

For instance, most people continually overwork the eyes. Where eyestrain is already defective such policy is suicidal. The length of application should be regulated to the strength of the eyesight, and the eyes should be rested occasionally, either by closing them for a few minutes or by looking at some distant object.

All work with the eyes should be done, so far as possible, with the matter more nearly perpendicular to the line of vision; that is, school desks and other supports should be tilted so an angle of about thirty degrees. How many of us do this?

Direct sunlight should never be used for any kind of close eye work, and windows which give direct sunlight should be equipped with light buff or green holland shades.

We often speak of this or that kind of artificial light as being hard on the eyes. This is a wrong notion. All light sources in common use are capable of giving a light that is perfectly agreeable to the eye; it is the way in which the lights are used which makes the difference. For instance, most people continually overwork the eyes as such lamps are always placed on the table and nearly always covered with shades which completely hide the flame. Electricity, and gas burned in a mantle burner, when used in the same way, are just as good for the eyes.

In reading or writing, the light should not come from squarely in front; a desk lamp should always be placed to one side. In reading, always sit with the back toward the light or table.

It is a common mistake to suppose that one cannot have too much light. For reading or writing on white paper, or sewing on white goods, too much light may occasion a dazzling effect.

Mirrors and polished surfaces should be avoided in places where much close work is to be done, as reflected light, especially from a low surface, is particularly hard on the eyes.

Lamps of any kind should not be too near the eyes, as the heat given off irritates them.

Perhaps you knew and observed all these little precautions before. But if you did, you are certainly not my old friend, the average person.

INDIGESTION AND ALL STOMACH MISERY IS ENDED

Diapsin Makes Your Out-Order Stomach Feel Fine in Five Minutes

Nothing will remain undigested or sour on your stomach if you will take a little Diapsin occasionally. This powerful digestive and antacid, though as harmless and pleasant as candy, will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you can eat.

Eat what your stomach craves, without the slightest fear of indigestion or that you will be bothered with sour risings, belching, gas on stomach, heartburn, headaches from stomach, nausea, bad breath, water brash or a feeling like you had swallowed a lump of lead, or other disagreeable miseries. Should you be suffering now from any stomach disorder you can get relief within five minutes.

If you will get from your pharmacist a 50-cent case of Diapsin you could always go to the table with a hearty appetite, and your meals would taste good, because you would know there would be no indigestion or sleepless nights or headache or stomach misery all the next day; and, besides, you would not need laxatives or liver pills to keep your stomach and bowels clean and fresh.

Pape's Diapsin can be obtained from your druggist, and contains more than sufficient to thoroughly cure the worst case of indigestion or dyspepsia. There is nothing better for Gas on the Stomach or sour odors from the stomach or to cure a Stomach Headache.

You couldn't keep a handker or more useful article in the house.

Eugene Jacquemin, of Payalup, Wash., runs a farm on which all the animals and fowls are pure white, and all are housed in spotless white shelters. The fence which bound the fields are also white. Jacquemin has all white workhorses, saddle horses and ponies; white cows, hogs, sheep and goats, white pigs, chickens, ducks, geese and turkeys. He also keeps several white guinea fowls, especially imported for him from Africa.

Another novelty is a pair of white peacocks. Jacquemin keeps three white Spitz dogs and three white Persian cats.

To Absorb Freckles and Other Blemishes

Every spring I receive many letters from girls seeking some reliable recipe for removing freckles. Last year I advised many to try mercurized wax. Such favorable results were reported that this season I have recommended nothing else for the purpose. The wax seems to possess unusual properties which completely absorb every freckle, with no harmful effect. The complexion improves wonderfully, becoming as soft as a rose petal, and as delicately tinted.

Get an ounce of mercurized wax at any drug store, spread a thin layer of it over the entire face every night for awhile, washing this off in the morning. For rough, red skin, sallowness, blackheads, pimples, and all cutaneous blemishes, this treatment is superior to any that has ever come under my observation.

Springtime also brings wrinkles to many sensitive skins that are much exposed to winds and changing temperatures. Pour a half pint which hazel into a basin, then a ounce of powdered azoxide, which quickly dissolves. Bathe the face in this; the effect on a wrinkled skin is remarkable.—Marie Demaree in Ladies' Fashion Magazine.

UNSIGHTLY SKIN DISEASES

Disfiguring skin diseases always seem to appear on the face and hands, so that they cause a feeling of shame, as well as pain and suffering.

Internal treatments have never proven very satisfactory in the treatment of eczema and similar skin troubles, but when Dr. Chase's Ointment is applied you can see for yourself and feel for yourself the benefits which are being obtained.

It soothes the inflamed, irritated skin so that itching ceases, and by its extraordinary healing power causes a new smooth skin to form where the sores have been.

In every home there are many uses for Dr. Chase's Ointment, as for pimples and blackheads, barber's itch, chafing, erysipelas, chilblains and wherever there is itching skin or a sore or ulcer that refuses to heal. This ointment is pure, clean and pleasant to use and may be applied to the most delicate skin.

Daily Hints For the Cook

CHEESE CREAM
Soak a cupful of bread-crumbs in a cupful of milk. Put into the chafing-dish a cupful of sliced cheese, and when melted add the soaked crumbs and stir until all are hot and well blended. Then stand the chafin in the hot water pan and add to the mixture a beaten egg, a tablespoonful of Worcestershire sauce, a little salt and a pinch of cayenne. When hot serve on toast.

MAPLE SUGAR RICE
Drop a cupful of well-washed rice into boiling, salted water and boil rapidly from 12 to 20 minutes until the kernels are tender. Drain and place in a saucepan; add a quarter cupful of cream and half a cupful of milk, and cook slowly until the liquid is absorbed. Turn into a buttered mold shaking the bowl to settle the rice evenly, and stand for five minutes in an open oven. At the end of that time turn out on to a heated platter and pour over pieces of butter and scraped maple sugar.

BABY NAMED FOR MAJOR BUTT AND COLONEL ASTON

Washington, May 2.—Archibald Astor, the name of Washington's Titanic baby, the child of the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil A. Ferguson, of 1350 street north-east and was born on the day the Titanic went down. "We both agreed that he should be named after two of the heroes of the disaster, and we christened him Archibald Astor, after Major Butt and Col. Astor, and it is our hope that he may emulate the heroism of these men," said the mother.

PRECAUTIONS ON OCEAN

If the following simple, yet self-evidently effective precautions were taken by the great trans-Atlantic steamship lines, the world would hear of but few disasters such as those which have shocked and horrified the public mind during the past sixty years, disasters which culminated in the unparalleled catastrophe to the Titanic.

Selection of alternate pathways for ocean liners, beyond the danger zone of icebergs.

Less speed in foggy weather and in icy regions.

At least two wireless operators on each vessel, insuring continuous vigilance.

BOY SCOUTS AS FLY-SWATTERS

Ottawa, May 2.—Mayor Hopewell has expressed the desire that the scouts of Ottawa render a service to the city by joining in an anti-fly and clean-up campaign. A meeting of scout-masters, assistants and patrol leaders, with the mayor, is called to arrange the work.

BRITISH BATTLESHIP IN COLLISION WITH A GERMAN VESSEL

London, May 2—The British battleship Empress of India was in collision with a German sailing vessel early today at Spithead. The battleship receiving a gaping hole in her side, the main deck, while the merchantman lost headgear and fore-topmast.

The Empress of India was in mid-channel in tow of the cruiser Warrior at the time of the crash.

The Empress was launched in 1891, and is now classed as obsolete. It is kept in the special reserve for emergencies. It has a displacement of about 14,000 tons and carries a formidable battery.

MORE DRY DOCKS NEEDED IN CANADA

Ottawa, May 2—By instructions of the minister of public works, Arthur St. Laurent, assistant deputy minister, prepared a report on dry docks in Canada as compared with other countries. The general effect of the report is that the number and capacity of docks, Canada is not abreast of the times or up to the requirements of its expanding navigation interests.

The new subsidy act, however, has begun to operate as a decided stimulus to such undertakings, and there are no fewer than fifteen applications for subsidies now before the government.

The docks now existing are at Halifax, Quebec, Kingston, Collingwood and Port Arthur. Of the fifteen newly projected, the principal will be at St. John, Quebec, Montreal, Toronto, Sydney, Sault Ste Marie and Prince Rupert.

The two docks at Collingwood and that at Halifax are to be extended. If the proposals before the government are entertained there will be adequate facilities for shipbuilding and repair on both seaboards and on the lakes.

The latest application is for a subsidy for a dock at Port Dalhousie, Ontario, but it is not likely to be entertained on account of the situation being so near to Toronto where a dry dock is now being built.

IMMIGRATION TO CANADA

Spokane, Wash., April 29—The socialistic drift in England, the revolution in the government that resulted in the radical handling of the House of Lords, and the economic distress among millions of the submerged masses have stirred British man-reviver in a leading editorial. It seems natural that emigration from Great Britain this year should be reported as being heavier than for many years previous.

The migration of the young and middle aged, of the robust and enterprising is restricted to no class. The son of the poor and the unskilled laborer alike swarm forth from the tight little island of cramped opportunity to the larger leeway offered by Australia, Canada and South Africa.

"The higher and more well-to-do classes are repelled by the new burdens of taxation. The middle and the lower classes are attracted away by the higher wages in the British colonies and by the supposedly lower cost of living.

"Canada is receiving the larger number of the thousands of English homesickness who are setting sail every month this last year. Many of the laborers, even before starting, have obtained good positions and profitable work.

"Canada is fortunate in securing English immigrants. Great Britain is unskilful to lose them. They reared English power and maintained English prosperity. In Australia, Canada, New Zealand and South Africa they enter eager into their new-world task of laying firm foundations for the new societies and rearing mighty nations.

"It should be borne in mind by Americans, especially those in the west, that one of the reasons why Canada secures these men builders is that same swarms forth from the tight little island of cramped opportunity to the larger leeway offered by Australia, Canada and South Africa.

"The dominion government is a great immigration agency that takes a parental interest in the incoming or arriving settler."

ENGLISH PRESS SHOWING INTEREST IN THE CONTEST

Opinions of London Papers on the Taft-Roosevelt Nomination Battle

London, May 1—The English press is keenly interested in the battle between President Taft and Theodore Roosevelt for the Republican presidential nomination. Discussing the attacks of President Taft on Mr. Roosevelt, the London newspapers are of the opinion that the president has made a strong case against his predecessor.

The Daily News says: "Some of President Taft's charges—with regard to reciprocity, for instance—are not and cannot be refuted by Mr. Roosevelt, and when Mr. Roosevelt protests that it is an absurd untruth to say that he used his influence with federal officeholders in his election campaign he is denying something which everybody in the United States believes."

The Morning Post says: "If President Taft wins, the Republicans will continue to represent the Conservative influence of the country. If Mr. Roosevelt secures the nomination he will put forward an advanced programme, and those who oppose his policy will be driven out of the Republican ranks."

The Daily Mail says: "Mr. Roosevelt has thrown himself into the struggle and with characteristic fury accuses his former friend politically of being an oligarch and a friend of reaction." President Taft charges Mr. Roosevelt with trying to stir up class prejudice with the ambition to make himself perpetual president."

The Evening Times and Star

ST. JOHN, N. B., MAY 2, 1912. The St. John Evening Times is printed at 22 and 24 Canterbury Street every evening (Sunday excepted) by the St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co., Ltd., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act.

SUMMER STEAMSHIP SERVICE. A matter to which the people of St. John and the province generally, especially the provincial government, should give attention, is that of a summer steamship service between this port and the United Kingdom. There should be a summer passenger and freight service between St. John and Liverpool. From the time the winter port season ends until it re-opens there is no satisfactory passenger service between this province and the Mother Country. If there are immigrants to come they must come by a slow service via Halifax or go to Quebec and then by way of Montreal to St. John. It is quite obvious that we will not secure a large influx of immigrants by roundabout routes. If the representatives of this province in the Old Country could tell those whom they desired to come and settle here that on a certain date they could take steamers at Liverpool direct for St. John, it would greatly simplify matters and have an important effect upon those whom it is sought to influence. No doubt the steamship companies prefer at the present time to go to the St. Lawrence. Some of the important summer ports, it is thought, to be possible to make a beginning now, even if the service should be limited to a comparatively small number of trips. It is not easy to convince people on the east side that St. John is a great Canadian port while the summer steamship service is so limited. The board of trade might fairly consider this question, which is one very closely related to the progress and development of the city and province.

THE LARGER MARKET. Sir Louis Davies, speaking in Boston on Tuesday night, declared himself in favor of reciprocity between the United States and Canada. He has no fear that increased prosperity growing out of increased trade would undermine the loyalty of the Canadian people. The Montreal Witness makes some pertinent observations relative to the great noise the Conservative papers are making over the published correspondence between Roosevelt and Taft on the subject of reciprocity. It says: "If there were people in the United States or Canada who really believed that the destruction of the trade barrier between the two countries would result in their political coalition, they were probably not as numerous as the people who years before had believed that the erection of this very trade barrier would force Canada into political union. Now that the heat of the elections is over, most of those who were carried away with the waving will see what a hollow sham it was, and that Canada can be Canada, and Canadians Canadians without a tariff wall to segregate them from the rest of the world. As to Canada becoming a trade adjunct of the United States, as would the United States become a trade adjunct of Canada. The wheat fields of our prairies are at present an adjunct of the British Isles, whose dense population they are cultivated to support. In the States are an adjunct of Great Britain, and what is more, our farmers would be very sorry that their wheat has not become an adjunct of the Chicago as well as the London market."

THE NEED OF MARKETS. The country of York not only failed to retain its natural increase of population in the last ten years but the population was actually smaller in 1911 than it was in 1901. We hear much about the fertility of the St. John river valley, but during those ten years every parish in York county which fronts on the river suffered a loss of population. It is not at all difficult to explain this matter. If the farmers of York county had a larger market there would be more farmers and they would be more prosperous. While the construction of the Valley Railway will improve the conditions for the farmer it will also intensify the demand for larger markets, which, as the Frederickton Mail declares, must be secured sooner or later. "We have," says the Mail, "along the St. John Valley as fertile a land as exists on the American continent and it is vastly superior to the New England states in agricultural capability. Its climatic conditions are superb. It can raise the finest cattle and sheep and poultry. It is the land which can produce the finest hay, fruit, potatoes and vegetables in the world." This rich valley cannot enjoy the prosperity which should come to it until the farmers are assured of a constant market. Such a market was offered them last year, but prejudice and passion blinded the Canadian people and the offer very unwisely was rejected.

THE NEW CHINA. The first message of the new president of China appears to have produced a favorable impression. He points out that order must be maintained in the interior, that a progressive policy must be carried out, and that the friendship of foreign powers must be preserved. The first important matter to be dealt with is that of finance, and the president stated that government was negotiating with the nations with a view to adopting a more satisfactory fiscal system, providing for "radical extinction of loans. The aim government would be to lighten the burden of the people, to adopt a new taxation, a uniform currency system.

ITALIANS ON STRIKE. (St. Andrew's Beacon). Business has been lively at the new seaside town at Ross' Point, Chamcook, lately. Not only have the builders of the new factory and the wharf been busy, but they have been up against some lively labor troubles. On Thursday, the Italian camp declared for higher wages and shorter hours, and threatened to enforce their demand by force of arms. The immigration agent and town marshal were summoned to the scene, and to prevent possible bloodshed Magistrate Stoop went out and placed in charge of the immigration agent, who deported him to the United States by train the same night. But the other Italians would not go to work, and Mr. Murray, the Italian contractor, was called down to use his influence with them.

THE IDEAL CITY. What makes a city great and strong? Not architecture's graceful strength, Not factories' extended length; But men who see the civic wrong, And give their lives to make it right, And turn its darkness into light. What makes a city full of power? Not wealth's display or titled fame, Not fashion's loudly boasted claim; But women rich in virtue's dower, Whose homes, though humble, still are great. Because of service to the State. What makes a city men can love? Not things that charm the outward sense, Not gross display of opulence; But right that wrong can not remove, And truth that faces civic fraud, And smites it in the name of God. This is a city that shall stand, A light upon a dark and hill, A voice that evil cannot still, A source of blessing to the land; Its strength not brick, nor stone, nor wood, But justice, Love and Brotherhood. —Lowell.

IN LIGHTER VEIN. "It's" AND "IS". "It's" that girl charming! But what a curious way she has of dropping her "s"! "Yes, and such a bewitching way of letting her eyes fall. A CASE IN POINT. Wigwags believe there's a tinge of insanity in all religious enthusiasts. Henpecked—Yes, take the Mormons, for instance; any man that wants more than one wife is downright crazy. A WEEVER. "I understand that our friend Hunter," said Jockley, "is working on a big money-making scheme to remove weeds from the hills." "The hills!" exclaimed Coakley. "I didn't know he took any interest in gardening." "He doesn't," "He's merely laying his plans to capture old Bullion's 'prety widow." "I'm a self-made man," said the proud individual. "Well, you are all right, except as to your head," commented the other part of the conversation. "The part you talk with is out of proportion to the part you think with."

ST. PETER'S BANQUET WAS GREAT SUCCESS

Clever Speeches and Good Programme Follow Discussion of Tempting Menu

The members of the St. Peter's Young Men's Association last evening in large hall in Elm street conducted their third annual banquet and it proved distinctly successful and enjoyable. Many attended, the five lengthy tables being surrounded by a strong contingent of those on the membership roll. The menu provided was done very heavily to taste and afforded much pleasure, and the tables heavily laden with choice variety of foodstuffs and delicacies, and decorated with pink and white carnations added materially to the festive scene. The catering was done by Geo. Wanamaker.

After the good things had been disposed of an entertaining and interesting programme was given, prepared by the literary committee under the direction of W. J. Shea. It included musical selections by the association orchestra, readings, recitations, and vocal and instrumental solos, as well as a nicely arranged list of toasts which brought forth pleasing, forcible and inspiring addresses from those whose names were coupled therewith. The responses were made by past presidents of the society.

The chair was occupied by the president, Jas. B. Dever, who gave an address of welcome, in which he spoke of the successful season just closed by the association, and outlined new features for the coming month, before extending a cordial greeting to all brother members on behalf of the executive.

He was followed by the rector of the parish, Rev. A. J. Duke, C.S.S.R., who favored the banquet with a speech of rare excellence, reflecting on the advantages of being members of a young men's association, the salutary benefits accruing, and the necessity of active interest in all matters pertaining to its promotion, for in so doing the young men were but advancing and overruling, mental and physical welfare.

Rev. J. H. Borgmann, C.S.S.R., was heard in a fine address, in which he presented the satisfactory manner in which the programme for the last season had been conducted, and before extending a cordial greeting to all brother members on behalf of the executive.

A STEP AT A TIME

Have you ever noticed how unreasonably the man at the top? Not until success has been attained does the man appear at the top.

This, at any rate, is the experience of the Midland Vinegar Company, of England, the manufacturers of H. P. Sauce. They are now at the top of the ladder—H. P. is an assured success—everybody who tastes it, like it, and recommends his friends to make a trial of it.

Amid the general buzz of success no one has leisure to imagine what a long time was given over by the Midland Vinegar Company to careful experimenting with different combinations of such Oriental fruits and spices, before a perfectly delicious, rich, thick, fruity sauce like H. P. was arrived at and christened.

Wellville (Kan.), Globe: A customer came into one of the stores one day this week with a piece of wood six or eight inches in length and selected a pair of shoes by it. That plan of buying shoes looks odd nowadays, but not many years ago many of the farmers with big families bought all their shoes that way.

Sardine Fishing St. Andrew's Beacon—Some of the sardine weirs around here have been selling their fish lately at 85 and 86 a hhd. Capt. Warnock, of the steamer Connors Bros., reports fishing along the coast to be very quiet. At Black's harbor, the Connors Bros. are packing a few sardines. The sardine were fishermen find a new clause in the license this year which they do not like. They say that under that clause they are bound hand and foot to the Canadian fish packer and that the outside packer, who has been developing the industry and dealing generously with the fishermen in past years, gets very little for his share.

River Steamship Subsidy
Fredericton, May 1.—The provincial government at a meeting held here this afternoon decided to accede to the request of the St. John River Steamship Company and granted a subsidy of $800, the amount which they stated it would be necessary to have in order to win the steamer Hampton between this city and Gagetown. It is understood that the boat will be put on the route in a few days.

Frank Harris, Chester Hove and Robert Leakin, of Medford, this afternoon were convicted of assault on two employees of the C. P. R. at Medford named Odell and Derrick. Sentence will be imposed later. The graduating class of the U. N. B. will hold a dinner at the Queen Hotel on the evening of Tuesday, May 7.

Cook in Comfort WITH ONE DOLLAR GAS
THE CLEANEST, MOST CONVENIENT FUEL KNOWN TO CULINARY SCIENCE

In comfort lies the great difference between living and existing—a difference particularly marked when viewed in the light of culinary science. Many a housewife knows, too well, what it means to cook the three daily meals in a hot kitchen, toiling over a hotter range and working with face-burning coals and dusty ashes which soil the hands and clothing. Compare this mode of cooking with the

with which, instead of coal or wood, the fuel is ONE DOLLAR GAS, which does away with coal sooties and ash pans, dust and dirt, besides being far the cheaper and ensuring the best results.

THE FINE NEEDS NO ATTENTION when ONE DOLLAR GAS is the fuel. You simply turn the tap, light a match, and instantly you have a working flame. The heat is easily regulated, remaining perfectly even at whatever temperature you desire—a highly important feature in baking, roasting, etc.

THERE IS NO ODOR from broiling and frying, which, in our Gas Ranges, is done under cover, the "smudge" passing up the flue and out of the house.

OUR EXTENSIVE LINE OF MODERN GAS STOVES AND RANGES enables us to cater to the needs of any home, boarding house, hotel or restaurant. Any stove or range we will furnish either for cash or on the easy payment plan.

COME AND SEE THEM ANYTIME.

MORE AGAINST MORINE?

Rumored That Something From Archbishop Howley Awaits Mr. Borden

An Ottawa despatch says that it is a matter of current rumor that when Mr. Borden comes back he will find among his mail a big batch of letters from Newfoundland in regard to the controversy over A. B. Morine, the chairman of the public service investigating commission. Not only are there said to be strong representations from Archbishop Howley, of St. John's, but there is reason to believe that a number of people in the island who are politically opposed to Mr. Morine during his political life in the colony, have expressed willingness to come to Ottawa and make the 'case' even stronger than it was presented to the House of Commons by F. B. Carroll, M. P., just before propagation.

While it was announced by the government press that the premier had asked for Mr. Morine's resignation, that gentleman is still doing business and does not seem to be in any hurry to do so.

PLAN TO PENSION WIDOWS

Boston, May 2.—Governor Foss has signed a bill which may pave the way for pensioning widows, who, children he will make it possible for him to appoint a commission to investigate the desirability of Massachusetts having a law whereby, instead of indigent widowed mothers and their children being accorded in separate institutions as at present, they will, through his charity department, pay these women pensions varying according to the number of children until such time as the children's earnings will make the family self-supporting.

ONTARIO WOMAN'S FORTUNE

Freed From That Weak, Lingering, by Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

Thessalon, Ont.—"I cannot speak too highly of your medicine. When my appetite is poor and I have that weak, languid, always tired feeling, I get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it builds me up, gives me strength, and restores health again. It is truly a blessing to women, and I cannot speak highly enough of it. I take pleasure in recommending it to others."

Women who are suffering from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

There are probably hundreds of thousands, perhaps millions of women in the United States who have been benefited by this famous old remedy, which was produced from roots and herbs over 30 years ago by a woman, to relieve woman's suffering. If you are sick and need such a medicine, why don't you try it?

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

TWO FISHERMEN ADRIFT FOURTEEN DAYS IN A DORY

George Banes and Archibald Bungay Picked up 100 Miles Out at Sea and Brought to North Sydney

(Gloucester Gazette)

Afloat in an open dory and upon ice floes for two weeks, almost starved and half frozen to death, two Newfoundland fishermen, George Banes and Archibald Bungay were picked up on Saturday about 100 miles off the coast and brought into North Sydney yesterday morning by Captain Spencer of the tanker "Florence M." The two sailors were removed to Hamilton Hospital in a very precarious condition and it is doubtful if they will recover.

Banes and Bungay, who belong to Pool's Cove, Fortune Bay, were members of the tanker "T. A. Maloney" of Jersey Harbor, Fortune Bay, and were engaged in trawling on the Grand Banks. Early on Saturday morning April 13, the two fishermen left their schooner in a dory to attend to their trawls. Fog came on during the night and they were unable to find their way back. They continued to row all night until the morning sun dispelled the mists that hung over the black water, but neither their ship nor any other vessel was in sight.

For fourteen long, dreary days and nights the men suffered terribly from want of food and drink, and from the cold winds that blew. Part of the time they spent in rowing, rowing, hoping and praying for the appearance of a sail which they never sighted. Six days they spent upon the dangerous and treacherous ice floes repairing their frail boat which had been damaged by ice.

During the day time and part of the night Banes and Bungay kept themselves from freezing to death by running over the ice floes, and during the remainder of the night both huddled in the bottom of the boat, hugging each other close for warmth, and securing some little sleep. During all those fourteen days the men suffered terribly from hunger. When they left their schooner, they had in their dory a few sea biscuits and a can of water, and a quantity of clothing. They managed to get on their feet and stayed there for twenty-four hours. Water was secured by catching it as it fell from the sun from the top of the berg and upon it they managed to sustain life.

After struggling with the gangs of hunger and being so exhausted from their battle for life, the men at last fell into the bottom of the little boat and gave up the struggle for life and the little boat drifted where she would. On Saturday the floating dory was discovered by the "Florence M." and when picked up Banes and Bungay were found huddled together in the bottom of the boat. They were taken aboard the schooner and tenderly cared for by Captain Spencer and his crew, and on the vessel arrived yesterday they were sent to one of the rescued sailors is a youth of sixteen or seventeen years of age, and the other is about thirty. Both had their legs and hands terribly frozen and even if they could walk, the physician in attendance believes that their lower limbs will have to be amputated.

MORNING LOGS

An address was presented at the close of the prayer meeting in Portland Methodist church last evening to the retiring pastor, Rev. H. D. Marr, who is to leave for the west. A call has been extended to Rev. Henry Pierce of Centreville and it is understood that he has accepted.

The board of missions of the Fredericton diocese met yesterday afternoon. Bishop Richardson reported on the mission work of the diocese. Divinity students were allocated to the mission fields for the summer and deputations to visit the various mission fields reported increases in the number of converts from the Women's Auxiliary in aid of divinity students was reported. The treasurer's report was found satisfactory.

Yesterday afternoon Louvina Worth, daughter of Samuel Worth, of German street, was knocked down by an automobile in Main street, and was somewhat injured. About three o'clock in the afternoon one of M. E. Laf. delivery teams, driven by John McManus, was struck by an auto in Adelaide street and partly demolished. The driver narrowly escaped injury.

Chief Clark said yesterday that there had not been any charge laid against Policeman McLeod, but that the safety board ordered him to discontinue the services of one man after May 1.

Yesterday morning a woman passenger on the Allan liner "Tumaha," while returning from the immigration shed to the Allan line dock, threw over a what a copy of the new testament, which had been presented to her. About ten minutes afterwards she discovered that her railway ticket was in the book. The book was found in the ship when the tide went out, and the ticket was recovered.

No bold attempt was made last night to burglarize the warehouse of J. S. Gibbon, in Smythe street. Entrance had been made through a window, but the burglars had evidently been frightened away, as there was nothing missing.

At the annual meeting of the commissioners of the General Public Hospital yesterday afternoon, the present staff was retained and Dr. A. P. Crockett added as oculist and aurist. Plans for the new wing which will be erected this season at a cost of about $30,000, were discussed, and it was decided to ask the municipal council at its next meeting on May 14 to issue debentures to this amount, as the council promised to do at the October session.

John M. Fray, eighty-nine years old, of St. Louis, made a voyage sixty-eight years ago never to cross a river or any body of water, and he has always kept it. Fray was born in Switzland and went to the states when he was twenty years old. The three months' trip across the ocean is detailed in a book that, on reaching St. Louis he made the vow. He will not ever trust himself on a bridge.

SHIP INSPECTION AT PORT OF NEW YORK IS DECLARED A FARCE

British Standard Taken, But No Copy of Regulations to Show What They Demand

New York, May 1.—The Evening Post says: One of the facts developed by the Titanic disaster has been that the American steamship inspectors are entirely ignorant of the laws of foreign countries governing the inspection of their ships. The Titanic was only one of scores of ships exempt from the United States regulations and subject only to the laws of the country to which they belong. It is for the United States officials only to see that these ships live up to their country's requirements.

The day after the disaster, George Ulmer, supervising inspector-general, hastened to point out that boats like the Titanic were inspected only to see that they conformed up to the requirements of the British Board of Trade rules. But there was no copy of these rules at the office of the local supervising inspector, neither on that day or this morning. Nor would any copy be obtained at the British consulate.

Captain Henry M. Sealey, supervising inspector for the division, was asked how these men could tell whether a steamship lived up to the requirements of her own country's rules. If they did not know those requirements, he said:

"The law provides that our inspectors only have to check the equipment off from the ship's certificate. We see that she has been inspected by her own government and is in compliance with that described on the certificate."

The law which Captain Sealey referred to is the provision in section 4400 of the Revised Statutes. This provides that foreign passenger steamships belonging to countries "having inspection laws approximating those of the United States, shall be subject to no other inspection than necessary to satisfy the local inspectors that the condition of the vessel, her boilers, and life-saving equipments are as stated in the current certificate of inspection."

Captain Sealey was asked what would be the consequence of a boat whose certificate did not show the number of lifeboats carried. It would mean that in such a case, under the provisions of the law, the ship could come into a port of this country with no lifeboats at all, without anybody's being able to prevent it.

"In that case," said Captain Sealey, "we should have to see that the requirements were ordered by the drying water and sewerage board last evening and tenders will be called for the work, which includes the water service to the effect that defective plumbing was responsible for most of the trouble, finding that in many cases the taps were of the same bore as the service pipes, preventing the residents in the upper flats from getting water, while it was running downstairs. He reported also finding some leaky service pipes and some choked with rust. He said the city was responsible only in the shortage in Mr. Mallin's house.

The report was adopted.

HARD TO GET FARM HELP

Chatham, Ont., May 1.—Farm labor is scarce and hard to get at any price. Farm hands are asking as high as $33 and $40 a month and board and the farmers of Kent are fearing a life season with a dearth of help to aid them in getting their seed into the ground. The cause of the scarcity of help is that the young farmers have a strong tendency to go west and to take positions in factories in the cities and towns.

At the present time there is no legitimate excuse for any strong healthy man being out of work. Employers of labor are advertising broadcast for help and offering better wages than have ever been offered before in this part of the province. General reports from the county of Kent indicate that the wheat crop this year is almost an entire failure. Farmers are plowing up their wheat fields and putting in barley and other crops.

"MY FEET WERE JUST ACHING FOR TIZ"

Let Your Poor, Tired, Chafed, Tender Feet "Spread Out" Gloriously in a Bath of TIZ!

"O, O, glory, what a feelin'! Wonderful what TIZ will do for your feet! Just take your shoes off and then put these weary, sore, chafed, aching, corn-pested, bunion-tortured feet of yours in TIZ!

"Just couldn't wait to take 'em 'at off!"

A TIZ bath. Your feet will wriggle with joy. They'll look up at you and almost talk, and then they'll take another dive in that TIZ bath! Yes, TIZ is life to feet!

The man or woman who says there's anything like, "as good as, TIZ never had a foot in TIZ before, just try TIZ. Your feet will feel free—also your corns, bunions and calluses will disappear. You'll be able to wear smaller shoes, too; you'll feel like a king; you'll never be foot-bitten, never chafed.

TIZ operates under a new principle, drawing out all the poisonous exudations that make feet sore, corny and tired. There's nothing else like TIZ, so refuse any imitation.

TIZ, 25 cents a box, sold everywhere, or sent direct on receipt of price, by Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Windsor, Ont. Recommended by all Drug Stores, department and general stores.

DOUBLE CAPACITY OF STEEL MILLS

Counting to millions of dollars and doubling the present capacity of the steel mills.

The meeting was attended by Mr. Gibson, solicitor for the Lake Superior Corporation, and by a large delegation from the board of trade. Mr. Gibson said the corporation proposed to issue $13,500,000 worth of bonds to take care of liens on properties and enable them to make extensions.

The city had a lien of $215,000 on the property of the Lake Superior Power Co. and it wanted to exchange this for new bonds. It was out of this bond issue that the plant would be doubled.

LAST MEETING OF CITY WATER BOARD

Extensions at Cost of $16,410 Recommended—Tenders For Supplies

Water and sewerage extensions which the engineer has estimated to cost $16,410 were ordered by the drying water and sewerage board last evening and tenders will be called for the work, which includes the water service to the effect that defective plumbing was responsible for most of the trouble, finding that in many cases the taps were of the same bore as the service pipes, preventing the residents in the upper flats from getting water, while it was running downstairs. SPORT NEWS OF A DAY; HOME AND ABROAD

Bowling 'On Black's Alley. In the City Bowling League game on Black's alley last night The Wanderers took four points from the Tigers 1286 to 1238. Smith led for the winners with an average of 90 1/3 and Belyea for the losers 87 1/3.
The Ring South Norwalk, Ct. May 1-Knock Out Brown struck a tartar here last night in Al Ketchel, of Bridgeport, who not only stayed the 10 rounds with the Teutonic whirlwind, but gave him a left at every rush and having him tired in the eighth round, Brown came back strong in the last round, but could not stop his man, although he gave him a terrible beating about the body.
Dave Fitzgerald of New Haven refereed and said Brown shaded his man by aggressiveness. Brown stood out for what he could get, demanding that Ketchel weigh in at 135 pounds, while he reserved 135 for himself at five p. m.
Balduin Was Beaten. Salt Lake, Utah, April 30-In one of the liveliest and clearest fights that has ever been seen in this city, Fighting Dick Hyland of Salt Lake won a decisive victory over Maty Baldwin of Boston at Salt Air Beach last night. It was a 10-round contest and the decision of the judges met with popular approval. Both boys went at it in earnest and there was not a moment when they were idle.
After battling on fairly even terms for six rounds Hyland took the lead and the last few rounds were all his own. In the last two rounds he rushed the easterner around the ring, landing at will with hard rights and lefts to the stomach and kidneys. Baldwin landed the cleanest blows and in the early stages of the go he got home with three punches to the local boy's one. He seemed much more scientific, and it was not until Dick got into close quarters that he could do effective work. The battle that Fighting Dick put up last night was one of the best of his career. He was in better condition than he had ever been seen here before, and to this is attributed his decisive victory. The Boston boy, on the other hand, was stale as a result of fighting too many times in the last few months. He had also been on the train three or four days, arriving here on Saturday from New Orleans.

THE LESSER EVIL

"But why do you allow your wife to run up such big bills?" "Because I'd sooner have trouble with my creditors than with her—that's why!"

Two Matches for Packey. Chicago, May 1-Packey McFarland has been matched for two 10-round bouts for the immediate future. Next Monday night he will box Red Robinson of Pittsburg, in Rochester, N. Y. and on May 9 he will fight Martin Canale in Fall River, Mass. The weight will be 135 pounds in each match.
Bouts Tonight. Bill Papke vs Billy Leitch, New York; Arthur Pecky vs Jack McDonough, Adams; Jim Stewart vs Jack Fitzgerald, New York; S. O'Brien vs Ed Smith, Albany; Young Ketchel vs Kid Williams, Baltimore; Paddy Callahan vs Nap Dreese and Joe Farren vs Kid Fleming, Lewiston; Bots in Lowell; Buck Crouse vs George Ashe, Philadelphia.
Crouse to Box Hoock. Boston, May 1-Buck Crouse, a sensational Pittsburg boxer and Leo Hoock, a husky middleweight have been matched to box in Boston in the feature bout of twelve rounds at the next meeting of the Pignam Athletic Association next Tuesday night. Crouse and Hoock have met once before. They had a six-round tilt in Pittsburg a few months ago which was pronounced one of the best ever seen in the Smoky City.

THIRTY YEARS' RECORD OF WHITE PLAGUE FIGHT

Up to a quite recent period it was practically the universal belief that tuberculosis was hereditary and that the death of one member of a family was a sure sign that the dread disease had begun its work of destroying the household. The very fact that the affliction was believed to be hereditary and not contagious meant, of course, that no precautions were taken in self-defense with the result that the illness and death of one meant too often the illness and death of others, or all.
Thirty years ago, however, Professor Koch, a great German oculist, discovered the cause of tuberculosis to be a definite germ, whose form and life history were carefully studied and the conditions of infection were shown. At once efforts were instituted looking towards prevention, and, under the influence of fresh air and rational feeding, the death rate began to fall and has already decreased by one-half, a tremendous gain for thirty years. Here are some figures showing the comparative death rates per ten thousand of population for a few of the greater cities of the world:

Table with 2 columns: City, Death Rate per 10,000. 1881 1911. Boston: 42.39 15.49. New York (old city): 42.88 20.27. London: 24.25 15.46. Paris: 41.12 34.94. Vienna: 69.67 26.09.

The record is a remarkable one and it kept up will bring about the practical extinction of the disease almost within the life time of some now living.

LOT OF PROPERTY IS TIED UP BECAUSE OF TAXES

Spokane, Wash., May 2—Owners of 17,000 parcels of city property, valued at from $4,500.000 to $5,000,000, included in the tax sale made by the municipality of Spokane in 1892 but never fore-closed, have hopes of affecting a compromise by paying 50 per cent of the interest due. A. M. Craven, corporation counsel, has given an opinion that the city could properly authorize a settlement of the taxes for less than the amount due.

The records were found in the city treasurer's safe by H. M. Dunphy, assistant corporation counsel, who submitted a resolution to the commissioners, authorizing the treasurer to demand payment of the full amount, including interest at 20 per cent a year, as provided in the delinquent-certificates, also that the city take possession of all properties upon which the taxes and penalties, estimated at from $85,000 to $100,000 are not paid. Under this interpretation the delinquent owners would have to pay interest amounting to 40 per cent on the basis of 20 per cent a year, to redeem their properties. Robert Fairley, commissioner of finances, and other members of the council are opposed to arbitrary action and seem favorably disposed toward a compromise measure or waiving part of the 20 per cent interest penalty.

There is a local precedent for this, the administration of 1899, headed by C. Herbert Moore, having passed a resolution permitting delinquent owners to redeem their certificates on a basis of 50 per cent of the amount due, if paid before a certain date. Only a few availed themselves of the offer at that time. Mr. Dunphy does not believe this compromise was legal, holding that the property could not be cleared of the lien with-out payment in full. Meanwhile, the council is awaiting a committee's report.

HAD OYSTER SUPPER. A. J. Boddington proprietor of the Pacific House in Carleton, entertained the stewards of the C. P. R. liner Empress of Britain and the Alaska liner Tunitian to an oyster supper last night. After supper a very enjoyable musical and literary programme was carried out.

THE LUMBER TRADE. Bangor Commercial: - Bangor lumber manufacturers and, in fact, mill men all over the eastern portion of Maine, feel greatly encouraged over the outlook for the coming season, and say that there is every indication that the coming season will be far better than last year.

HAD ROUGH WEATHER. Beacon: - Steamer Connors Bros., on her trip from St. John on Saturday experienced very rough weather. She was boarded by a heavy sea, which broke open the cabin door and flooded the cabins. Her boat was shifted. Captain Warwick put into Dipper Harbor and fixed things up before venturing out again.

CONTRACTS AWARDED. Garret W. Wilson, architect, has awarded contracts for the erection of a three-story brick building in Main street for Wm. Burton, as follows: - Masonry, James Spry; carpentry, J. S. Porter; painting, Kenneth Williams; heating and plumbing, Henry Dunbrack, electrical, Maritime Electric Co.

PRESENTATIONS. Members of the Young Ladies' Guild of St. Matthew's Presbyterian church called last evening at the home of Miss Sarah Cunningham, 44 Mulgrave avenue, and tendered her a linen shower, their reason being an interesting evening in which Cunningham will figure this month. Rev. Mr. McCaskill, in an appropriate speech, paved the way for the presentation.

MRS. ROBERT EVANS. Mrs. Robert Evans, of Lorneville, who died in the Kensington Hospital, was born in the 24th year of her age. She leaves her husband and three small children. She is also survived by her mother, Mrs. John Ingalls, of Milford, and two brothers, John Ewart, of Milford, and Will of Boston; also two sisters, Mrs. Samuel Cougle of Fairville, and Miss Magie Ewart of Milford. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon.

IN COURT TOMORROW. The preliminary hearing in the case of James A. Wilcox, charged with obtaining money under false pretences from Thomas Reynolds, manager of the Royal Hotel, will very likely be begun in the police court tomorrow morning. It is possible that James Beatty, who is now in jail on the charge of drunkenness, may be brought in also, and charged with perjury, on account of evidence given in the case of James Miller, charged with selling liquor illegally on Saturday night last.

LIKELY BIG CAMP. Instead of having two separate divisions of the militia camp at Sussex as was the case last year, there are rumors that only one camp will be held this summer. If this plan is put into effect the camp will be the largest ever held in the province as, in addition to the growing strength of the various regiments, the 26th Dragoons have been added to the force since the last single camp was held. The date mentioned for the opening of the camp is June 22.

REMEMBERED ON LEAVING. Misses Nellie and Jennie MacLean left last evening for Winnipeg where they will make their home with their brother, Fred MacLean, formerly of North End. Before leaving, they were remembered by the members of the Sons and Daughters of St. Matthew's church, Douglas avenue, who gathered at the home of Miss Fitch Hastings in Victoria street and presented them a farewell. In behalf of those assembled, Rev. J. J. McCaskill presented to Miss Nellie a handsome moose mounted umbrella, and to her younger sister a valuable book.

NO BLAME TO AUTO. With reference to an item in The Times of the effect that automobile No. 422 had crashed into a delivery team and broken the shaft of the wagon, J. M. Roche, owner of the car, puts another face on the affair. He states that he had turned out to give place to two heavily loaded teams which were really on the wrong side of the street and driving abreast. This brought him in front of the delivery team, whose driver could easily have paused and let the car pass, but obstinately refused. The car did not collide at all with the wagon, and the shaft was broken because the wheel was locked in the street car rail.

BURIED TODAY. The funeral of Miss Annie Robb took place this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from her mother's home in Union street. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. A. MacKeigan and interment was in Fernhill. The funeral was attended by many friends who joined with the family in the sorrow caused by their great loss. The funeral of Mrs. Mary Baxter, wife of Police Sergeant Baxter, took place this afternoon from her late home in St. James street. After a short service at the home, the body was taken to St. James' church, where services were conducted by Rev. H. A. Coady. Interment was in Fernhill.

MARATHONS ADD TWO MORE TO LIST

John Cannon and D. W. Berran, of Brockton and Pawtucket, are Signed

The management of the Marathon Baseball Club have signed John Cannon, a first class catcher from Brockton, who has signed prominently in the leagues in that vicinity, including the New England league. He is an A 1 catcher, and can also wield the willow with good effect. The other man is D. W. Berran, a Southpaw pitcher from Pawtucket, who also has a good reputation as a ball player.

Both men will arrive in the city soon. They are expected to prove valuable acquisitions to the Marathon team. The other new players that have been signed will also report here in a few days, and will begin practice on the Shamrock grounds, which are being repaired now for the season. Other new players will be placed on the roster soon. Mr. Page expects to have an aggregation that will make the other teams in the New Brunswick and Maine League go hard to beat. Both Joe Page and D. R. Donald returned home from Fredericton this morning, after attending a meeting of the delegates there last night. They report that everything is moving along satisfactorily and that all will be in readiness for the opening of the league on May 24.

MAYOR WILL LIKELY GO

Conference on City Planning to Be Held in Boston

A national conference on city planning will be held in Boston from May 27 to 29, and Mayor Frink has received an invitation for himself, and any of the city officials who would be interested. His Worship hopes to be able to attend, but is not known yet whether or not the city engineer will be able to get away. During their stay in Boston, the delegates will be entertained by the City of Boston, the Boston Chamber of Commerce and the City Club.

FORMER ST. JOHN GIRL IS MARRIED IN LOWELL

A nuptial event in which many St. John friends will be keenly interested was solemnized on Monday last when Miss Mabel P. Jones, a former North End girl, became the bride of Reginald F. Erison, of Lowell, Mass., where the wedding took place. The officiating clergyman was Rev. Seldon W. Crennings who performed the ceremony in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives at the home of the bride, 108 Avon street. The parlor was beautifully decorated with sweet peas and roses. Miss Jones has many friends in St. John, where she is well known. She left here about five years ago and since has been residing in Lowell. She is a sister of Mrs. J. R. Vanwart, of 33 Albert street. She expects to pay her a visit in August with Mr. Erison.

RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT AND MADE LIFE MEMBER

Reports showing a very successful year's work were presented at the annual meeting of the W. F. M. C. of St. David's Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon and plans for the coming year were discussed. The officers elected were Mrs. G. O. Hannah, president; Mrs. A. Morrison, first vice-president; Mrs. A. Watson, second vice-president; Mrs. Fitch, secretary; and Mrs. D. Willett, treasurer. A life membership certificate was presented to Mrs. Hannah, who was re-elected president.

TODAY'S POLICE COURT

In the police court this morning two men and one woman, charged with drunkenness, were remanded to jail. Mary French, charged with wandering about the streets and not being able to give a satisfactory account of herself, was also remanded. She started to make things hum in the Kings Daughter's Guild in Germain street last night, and had to be ejected. She will be examined by the jail physician as to her mental condition.

William Allen, arrested on Tuesday on charge of assaulting Henry Carr in the latter's house in Duke street, was brought into court and fined $20 or two months in jail. The officers allowed to stand. William Harding pleaded not guilty to the charge of assaulting Hugh Millie in a house in Carleton on Tuesday. Millie said that he took a stove to Harding's place for Mrs. Danguard, who was moving in there, and that while in the house the prisoner struck him in the face and threw him out. Harding said that he had ordered Millie to leave his house three times and that he refused to go. He then threw him out of the house. Harding denied striking the complainant. He was fined $20 or two months in jail, but the fine was allowed to stand.

ST. DAVID MISSION BANDS

The boys' and girls' mission bands of St. David's church united in holding their annual thank offering service in the school room of the church last evening. The pastor, Rev. J. A. McKeigan, presided. One of the unavoidable absence of Rev. Mr. Rowe, who was to have given an address, his place was taken by Rev. W. R. Robb, pastor of the Baptist church, who also gave a short address.

An interesting feature of the evening was the presentation of four life membership certificates. On behalf of the boys' band Master Clark Somerville presented one certificate to Mr. McKeigan. Mrs. James Sterling was made a life member by the girls' band and certificates were presented to Miss Lily McCullough and Master James Sterling by Mrs. James Sterling. A short programme including recitations by Kathleen Shaw, James Sterling and Robbie Somerville, was given. The thank offering amounted to more than $15.
