Pork, Too, and Other Meats Will Soon Follow

Chicago and New York Dispatches Tell of Gradual Drop in Prices Not Experienced in a Year—Ordinary Quality of Beef Cuts Not Affected

Chicago, Nov. 15.—The prices of beef and pork are falling. Within the last week the price of beef has been reduced between four and five cents a pound by the meat packers. The price of pork has declined about three cents from the price of eighteen and twenty cents a week ago, and wholesale meat dealers say that mutton and veal and other products of the packing houses will take a downward turn within the next few days.

NEGRO IS PUT TO AN AWFUL TEST

Asserts Innocence as He Looks on Dead Child

Asbury Park, N. J., Nov. 15.—Thomas Williams, the negro, whose arrest followed the discovery of little Marie Smith's mutilated body, in a clump of woods yesterday, was not even removed from his cell for court procedure, so fearful are the police of mob violence. A crowd surrounded the jail all yesterday, and had not dispersed late last night. It seemed to lack a leader, however, and as there was a strong police guard, inside the building, no attempt to seize Williams was made.

NA-DRU-CO LAXATIVES

Each of the chief organs of the body is a link in the chain of life. A chain is no stronger than its weakest link, the body no stronger than its weakest organ. If there is weakness of stomach, liver or lungs, there is a weak link in the chain of life which may snap at any time. Often this so-called "weakness" is caused by lack of nutrition, the result of indigestion or disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. Diseases and weaknesses of the stomach and its allied organs are cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, when acting upon the stomach, which is the source of disease of other organs which are not directly connected with the stomach but which have their origin in a diseased condition of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition.

The strong man has a strong stomach. Take the above recommended laxative and you may have a strong stomach and a strong body.

The Girl Who Lives Alone

whether she attends college or goes to business, needs the Perfection Oil Heater. It will heat a cold, cheerless boarding house or dormitory room and make it livable. It is always a ready help in the many things women do for themselves in their rooms. With the damper top opened it will heat water for tea or cocoa; it will dry the small articles that a woman prefers to wash herself in her own room. It will quickly heat an iron or curling tongs; quickly dry wet shoes or skirts—an ever-ready help for the woman who lives alone dependent on her own resources. The Perfection Oil Heater is invaluable in its capacity of quickly giving heat. It will burn nine hours with one filling. It is safe, smokeless and odorless; has a cool handle and a damper top. An indicator shows the amount of oil in the tank. The filler-cap is put in like a cork in a bottle, and is attached to the front by a chain. It has an automatic-safety flame extinguisher, which prevents the risk of being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back so the wick can be quickly cleaned. The burner body or gallery cannot be wedged, and can be unscrewed in an instant for reworking. Finished in Japan or nickel, strong, durable, well-made, built for service, and yet light and ornamental.

FAMOUS GEMS OF PROSE

AN AUTOBIOGRAPHY

By Phillips Brooks

From the Phillips academy (Exeter, N. H.) "Lectures to Students," March 4, 1886.

ENGLISH literature is rich in autobiography. It has, indeed, no tale so deep and subtle as that which is told in the confessions of St. Augustine. It has no such complete and unreserved unbooming of a life as is given by the strange Italian, Benvenuto Cellini, who is the very prince of unceasingness. But there is hardly any self-told life in any language which is more attractive than the autobiography of Edward Gibbon, in which he recounts the story of his own career in the same stately, pure prose in which he narrates the decline and fall of Rome.

It must have needed a great faith in a man's self to write those sonorous pages. Two passages in them have passed into the history of man. One is that in which he describes how, in Rome, on the 15th of October, 1764, as he sat musing amid the ruins of the capitol while the bare-footed frairs were singing vespers in the temple of Jupiter, the idea of writing the decline and fall of the city first started in his mind. The other is that passage in which the great historian records how, on the night of the 27th of June, 1787, between the hours of eleven and twelve, he wrote the last lines of the last page in a summer house at Lausanne, and how then, laying down his pen, he "took several turns in a bazaar, or covered walk of arcades, which commanded a prospect of the country, the lake and the mountain." The story is all very solemn and exalted. It is full of the feeling that the beginning and ending of a great literary work is as great an achievement as the foundation and completion of an empire—as worthy of record and of honor.

JUSTIFICATION FOR MARKET INQUIRY AT EVERY SESSION

Oliver B. Akerley, Last Night's Witness, Says Lessee of Tolls Sold Stands Eighteen Years Ago—Some Interesting Points in Regard to the Practice—Much Yet to Be Learned

According to Oliver B. Akerley's evidence to the committee investigating the country market last night, the practice of the lessee of the tolls renting stands is at least eighteen years old. He admitted that he himself had been guilty of it, but considered himself justified on the ground that the city had sold some privileges which he ought to have bought. The whole testimony of Mr. Akerley, who was the only witness last night, was of a nature, many believe, which shows that the present investigation has only so far touched the fringe of the matter. It had been hoped that last evening would have been the last session for the taking of evidence. It was nearly 8 o'clock, however, before Mr. Akerley put in an appearance, and he was not until nearly 11 o'clock that the inquiry was adjourned till this evening at 7:30, when Henry McFarlane will give evidence, which will be followed by the testimony of Deputy Clerk Dunham, Ald. Potts and W. M. Babkirk will also be recalled.

O. B. Akerley

Oliver B. Akerley took the stand. "You were the lessee of the tolls, Mr. Akerley?" "The recorder asked."

"Yes," was the reply.

"During what years?"

"Well, during 1892, 1896 and part of 1907. You mean that you bought the tolls in 1895 and held them till 1907?"

"Yes, I bought the tolls at public auction?"

"Upon what conditions did you buy the tolls?"

"I can't remember."

"Well, what I want to know is, if the conditions as read gave you the right to sell or lease stands in the building?"

"I don't remember."

"There was nothing said at the sale then as to whether you had or had not the privilege?"

"No."

"Did you do it?"

"Well, in a way I did."

"Well, I rented a couple of stands."

"You rented a couple of stands, to whom?"

"I don't remember. I sold all the privileges a week and the other for fifty cents a week. For a dollar a week?"

"Yes, for portion of the year from November, 1905, to May, 1906."

"Well, after that what arrangements were made with Mr. Babkirk?"

"The year after I took the tolls the city sold some of the stands. Mr. Babkirk was moved to the lower end of the market, and after that I collected fees or tolls from him."

"You mean that from May, 1906, to May, 1907, you collected tolls from him?"

"Yes."

"And before that?"

"From November, 1905, to May, 1906, rent."

"Did you collect tolls in collecting $1 a week?"

"Well, you were jumping the tolls?"

"Well, in a way, yes. His fees were small and he used to get a lot of stuff from the country people who wanted to get home on Saturday night, and I did not consider it right that he should occupy space in the market without paying for it, and so I charged him for the stand."

"While you were in the market of course you were collecting tolls from the country people?"

"Yes."

"And from Babkirk you collected tolls amounting to about thirty cents a week?"

"Yes."

"And then you raised the 30 cents to $1 a week?"

"Yes."

"How came he to let you do so?"

"I don't know why he did it. I know that I did it because the revenue was not, in my opinion, commensurate with the space he was occupying."

"With the space he was occupying? What had you to do with that?"

"I considered I had a perfect right to do what I did."

"I am not asking that way. When you bought the tolls did you understand you had got from the city power to let a man into the market or keep him out?"

"No."

"Did you understand then that you had got more than the right to collect the established tolls?"

"Well, I don't know."

"Well, tell me how did you get the idea that you had the power to collect more from Babkirk?"

"I told you a moment ago he was getting into the market of the country people who wanted to go home."

"Why did you not do so by collecting tolls?"

"Well, I thought it was much easier to make it a lump sum."

"When he was paying 20 and 30 cents a week did you consider that he ought to pay more?"

"Yes, I'm not going to say any more about it."

"Did you consider you could get more for the stand than from the tolls?"

"No, I don't think I could from the tolls."

Family Cured of Eczema

By Cuticura Remedies

"The Cuticura treatment has absolutely cured me and my family of eczema which I, my wife and two-year-old child had for eight months. It started with small pimples on the head of my child which gradually broke out in sores, and it was not long before I and my wife got the same. Our heads were one mass of itches, we could not sleep and the sores were terrible. We suffered for eight months. We tried different kinds of ointments and medicine but it did us no good and so it began to break out on our bodies until a friend told me of the same trouble told me of Cuticura, of which I used two sets. Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Resolvent and I was surprised. After the first few days our heads began to heal and in two months we were absolutely cured of this terrible eczema."

(Signed) EDGAR POTTS, 581 1/2 St. Brooklyn, N.Y.

No stronger evidence than this could be given of the success and economy of the Cuticura Remedies in the treatment of torturing, disgusting humors of the skin and scalp, of infants, children and adults. and he was moved to the foot of the market.

I suppose that was the year when Daley bid in all the stands?

Yes.

You don't mean that you regarded the stands as the lessee's privileges?

I certainly do.

Had you rented the stands from the first year?

I did. I consider the city sold what it had no right to sell. The stands were sold first and the tolls after. I was entitled to some fees from the stands I did not get.

What fees?

Just the ordinary tolls.

The year that Daley bid in all the stands were his terms so high that you felt that you were getting less in tolls than you ought to have?

Yes, I know I was.

Well, suppose that Mr. Daley had only bought a part of the stands and the rest were not leased by the city to anyone, would you have felt yourself entitled to dispose of them?

I was under the impression that I certainly ought to have some privileges. You consider you had any more right in the market than to collect the tolls? Circumstances would alter cases. If I would not let the benches.

How did you come to understand that had any authority to rent the benches?

I didn't know there was anything to stop me.

You never went a little further and rented somebody's doortop?

No, I had paid for this, though.

What I want to understand is how it was made clear to your mind that you were buying the right to make what you could out of the market other than the tolls?

I certainly supposed I had a perfect right to do what I did or I would not have done it.

What caused you to think that?

I considered that the city sold privileges they had no right to.

When did the city do that?

In the year 1895.

If Ald. Vanwert was right, and I think that a moment ago you said he was, the stands were sold first and the tolls afterwards. So you bought the tolls knowing that the stands were already occupied?

Yes, that's so.

How much rent did you pay him?

I paid him $20 a year for my stand.

Well from eighteen years ago to five years ago had you anything to do with the market?

I was eighteen years ago in the market. I went to five years ago did you pay rent to him?

I paid rent direct to the city.

You never occupied a commission stand?

No.

That means, I suppose, that you paid rent and no tolls?

Oh, no.

Well, from eighteen years ago to five years ago did anyone collect rent and tolls from you?

You have mentioned one of the men from whom you collected rent and tolls. What was his name?

William Wilson, brother of A. A. Wilson.

Is he in the city?

Mr. Hopkins here interpreted to say that the last time he had heard of Mr. Wilson he was in Boston and was paralyzed.

What were your arrangements with Mr. Wilson?

He rents a week.

All the time?

No, for the same time as Babkirk. Some times he was in and some times he was supposed to belong to the lessee of the market.

You mean the same kind of a fuss as this year's?

Yes.

Wouldn't it be true to say that Mr. Daley, by reason of his high prices, drove the people out?

Well, the city had no right to sell the stands. I had advice to that effect, and have good authority for what I say. You have? Well, you might reveal it. No, I do not consider it necessary. The advice you received did not lead you to try and make the city pay for what you had lost?

Come, now, I take it that you are not a man to lose such an opportunity if you could get it?

No.

Did you ask the city to compensate you for your losses at that time?

I did not.

Had you any conversation with the director of public safety about your privileges?

No.

Had you any conversation with the deputy clerk of the market?

No.

Had you any conversation with anyone else who was an alderman at that time?

I don't know that it necessary to answer that question.

Oh, yes it is. A public duty has been laid upon this committee to find out how the practice grew up and the duty of asking the questions has been imposed upon the chairman.

I happened just to catch a particular shade of your voice in speaking. When I asked if you had had a conversation with an alderman you answered no in a hesitating manner and when I asked if you had had a conversation with anyone else who was an alderman at that time? Well, yes, I did, but not in regard to privileges.

Since May, 1907, have you paid anybody for the same privileges?

I did for part of a year.

So then I may say it up in this way, if you were in the market to get back what you had paid?

Certainly that's what I thought and I considered I was justified so long as I used fair means.

And you considered it fair to charge a man more than his tolls amounted to?

Yes, I considered it fair enough.

I presume you went on the principle of bearing one another's burdens? Your own was pretty heavy and you felt justified in calling others to help you.

This was all the evidence offered and the chairman announced that the investigation would be resumed this evening at 7:30.

SAFETY BOARD BUSINESS

At a special meeting of the safety board yesterday afternoon an application from the Edward Partridge Pulp & Paper Company for the renewal of the lease of a piece of land in Lancaster now in the possession of George S. Cushing was laid over till the committee of the whole should have a chance to view the land. The same treatment was accorded the application of the Wilson Box Company for the lease of part of a lot now occupied by Councillor Fox. Mr. Anderson, the board of trade, was present and asked that two lots in Lancaster be rented to Mr. Filmore, of Anhol (N. S.), for the purpose of establishing a carriage factory. This was also referred to a sub-committee. In the meantime Mr. Anderson will communicate with Mr. Filmore that the city has land in Lancaster to dispose of.

Premier Hazen appeared on behalf of the Partridge Co., and said they intended to erect a paper mill that would give employment to many hands.

Mr. Cushing said that a company he represented, which was not yet prepared to disclose their plans, wanted the land for the establishment of an industry that would mean a large employment of labor.

Mr. Anderson said the advertising committee of the board of trade was endeavoring to get Mr. Filmore to locate his carriage factory here. He was prepared if he could get a suitable site. This the board of trade was trying to arrange for him. After considerable discussion, in the course of which the recorder urged the necessity of having a map showing city property available for new industries, the chairman, Ald. Jones and Ald. Potts, were named to look over the lands and report to him. WHEN YOU FEEL CROSS

And are Easily Worried and Irritated, Chances are that the Liver is Not Right and You Need

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

Life is too short to be cross and grouchy. You not only make yourself miserable, but also those about you. Don't blame others. Blame yourself for not keeping the liver right.

When healthy and active the liver filters the poisonous bile from the blood and cleanses the intestines, where it aids the process of digestion and keeps the bowels regular.

These are the liver balks the whole system. The bile is mixed with a mass of fermenting food which gives rise to gas on the bowels, producing wind, pains about the heart and a multitude of annoying symptoms which accompany indigestion and constipation.

Nothing in the world which will more promptly afford you relief than Dr. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills. This statement is true. A trial will convince you. These pills act directly and directly on the liver and bowels, and cleanse the whole digestive and secretory system.

Mr. Theo. Beard, Lac aux Saables, Portneuf county, Que., writes: "I have found Dr. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills the best treatment obtainable for indigestion and impure blood. They cured me of indigestion, from which I suffered for four years."

This certificate is given without solicitation, so that others may not waste their money buying medicines of no value when they can get Dr. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills, which I am convinced are the best."

DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT
A great sporting event was taking place on the village green, the annual football match between the married men and the unmarried. As the local doctor was unaccountably absent, the game was interrupted. The ball struck a player in the leg and he was unable to play. The doctor was called and he found the player's leg broken. While the injured limb was being put in splints the doctor's right leg turned to his partner and remarked:
"It's a good job the doctor was referring today."
"Aye," replied the other; "Bill allus was a lucky chap."
A widow's second matrimonial play is apt to be a sure-thing game.

The Times Daily Puzzle Picture

A THEATRE WRAP OF ERMINE

Utmost luxury in the fur line is always expressed by ermine and this gets its name from women who are fastidious in the cult of correct dressing except for very formal and conventional occasions. The ermine wrap illustrated is beautifully simple in line, sweeping in rich fold from shoulders to skirt hem at the back. The peculiar arrangement of gorges gives variety in the shape, breaking the bottom of the wrap gracefully. Collar and cuffs are of mink—another fashionable fur for evening wear.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

COMPLAINT was registered with me today which I'm more than glad to give all the publicity I can.

It is against that class of people who through sheer carelessness, rather than lack of money, let their bills lie three or four months before attending to them.

This true story accompanies the complaint:

"I know a music teacher who has the support of a family consisting of an invalid sister and two children. The first of every month she makes out her bills, and sends them to the parents of her pupils. The understanding when she took the pupils was that she should do this—she did not add—that she hoped the bills would be paid promptly for she knew they were fully aware that she was the only bread-winner for the family.

"ONE happened to let her bill a month or two she could get along all right, for she was extra enough for a comfortable living; but when—as is frequently the case—not just one, but all, forgot or neglected to pay for several weeks or even a month, it places her in a very trying position. Just this present month on the tenth of the month not one cent on one bill had been paid, and had it not been that she had credit at the grocery, the family would have actually suffered every week-keeper knows the discomfort of not having a little ready money on hand. There is the washerwoman to pay; the credit of butter comes in from the country, the farmer comes with vegetables, but she can only send to the grocery instead of buying at a saving as she ought to, and could if people would only pay her the money she has worked so hard to earn.

"And the most trying part of it all is that they might pay promptly if they only would. The payments come in checks, with hardly an exception, and often after such a message as 'Will you please send me another bill?' I think the maid must have burned your other. I left it on the mantel, but it is gone, or I will entirely slip my mind until today and now it is nowhere to be found. Time is money to this little woman and it takes hours of it to make out bills."

What one of us couldn't tell of some case more or less like this one?

Myself, I am thinking of a dressmaker who has her invalid husband and two children to support. She was employed in a large dressmaking establishment and did such beautiful work that customers of the establishment persuaded her that she should set up for herself. She sorely needed the money and after much deliberation took this step. At first I heard she was doing splendidly. Later I was much pained to hear that she had been obliged to go back to her former position as a reduced salary. Inquiry revealed the fact that she had failed through no lack of ability on her part, but simply because her customers—most of them rich women—were so tardy about paying their bills that with her limited capital she couldn't keep the business on a paying basis.

A good part of the dressmaker's profit, you know, comes from buying her customers' trimmings, etc., at wholesale prices and she cannot do that unless she is able to settle her store bills promptly.

Everyone ought, of course, to be able to pay all his bills at the end of the month. But even the people who can't settle their bills they will pay promptly that those who are forced to wait for their money will be people with capital, and not people who suffer as this woman, and a million others like her do.

And as for the people who have plenty of money to pay their bills and only delay because they let it slip or "didn't think"—well, I have always had an idea that Hell was paved with "didn't think" quite as much as with good intentions.

Daily Hints for the Cook

LAYER CAKE WITH BUTTER
Beat two eggs, add two cups of powdered sugar and beat hard for 15 minutes, add one cup of milk and two cups of flour, alternating a little of each and beating well. Lastly, add one teaspoonful of flavoring and three level teaspoonfuls of baking powder and bake in jelly tin.

EGGLESS COOKIES
Two cups of thick, sour cream, six of flour, three of sugar, one teaspoonful of baking soda, one of cinnamon and one-half teaspoonful of salt. Dissolve the soda in hot water, about two tablespoonfuls. Mix quickly; beat hard and roll out thin. They are best eaten fresh.

HADDOCK WITH TOMATO SAUCE
One pound of haddock, one tablespoonful of salt, one tablespoonful of butter, half teaspoonful of pepper, one tablespoonful of flour, one slice of onion and one cup of cooked and strained tomato. Melt the butter, add the flour and seasonings and the tomato. Add the haddock and cook slowly one hour. Serve with the sauce around it.

CORN BREAD
Two cups of corn meal, one cup of flour, two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, one teaspoonful of salt, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, two eggs, well beaten and pint of sweet milk.

GRIDDLE CAKES WITH SOUR MILK
One quart of sour milk, one teaspoonful of salt and sifted flour enough to make a thick batter. In the morning stir in one teaspoonful of saleratus dissolved in warm water, and two well-beaten eggs. Add one teaspoonful of sugar and fry.

WHERE WALKING STICKS ARE MADE
Among the agricultural industries which flourish in the environs of Paris is one which is known to comparatively few people, namely, the growing of walking sticks and umbrella sticks. At Marle, not far from Paris, there is a plantation of nearly 500 acres devoted to this purpose, consisting of crab, maple, ash and poplar trees.

These are cut off close to the earth in order to promote on each trunk the growth of several offshoots. At the end of three years the shoots are cut down and dried in the sun, after which they are twisted and fashioned under steam as required. Sometimes the ends of the shoots are bent, while they are growing to form handles or small twigs are allowed to bend themselves and graft on the parent stem, forming a ring or crutch handle. The sticks so treated are sent to the manufacturer to be varnished and otherwise finished for the market—London Globe.

A good way to hold fish while cleaning them is to place a fork near the tail, sticking it into the board, at the same time holding it firmly with the left hand while you scrape off the scales with the right hand.

FOR THE WORK AT ST. JOHN

Further Development Here One of Matters to Come Before Parliament—The Programme at Ottawa Outlined

Ottawa, Nov. 15.—The third session of the eleventh parliament of Canada will open on Thursday next and an interesting session is promised. For the first time in the history of Canada the printing bureau will have ready its report of every department and the voluminous report of the auditor general. The main estimates will be laid before parliament soon after the opening.

The new bills to be introduced will be one dealing with a revision of the banking act; a bill relating to timber lands and water regulations in the railway belt of British Columbia; a bill to facilitate the removal of Indians from lands they now occupy; to increase aid to Indian schools; a bill dealing with the control of grain elevators; the establishment of a factory commission under the terms of the Hague award; amendments to the criminal code; a bill relating to safety in manufacturing, transportation and use of powerful explosives; to amend the copyright law; to control cable rates and the reorganization of the printing bureau.

The question of an eight hour day on government work, appropriations for deepening the channel in the St. Lawrence, and the report of General French on the Canadian militia, will be considered and Sir Frederick Borden may have a bill to enable the system of military commands

"Pneumonia"

Pneumonia is nothing more or less than "Lung Fever," or as it is used to be called, "Inflammation of the Lungs" and the results come entirely from a local source, such as taking a violent cold.

There is more or less difficulty in breathing; a cough, at first dry, but soon accompanied by raising a thick, sticky, rusty-colored matter, composed of a mixture of phlegm and blood.

There is only one way to prevent Pneumonia, and that is to cure the cold just as soon as it appears. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup will do this quickly and effectively.

Mrs. G. W. Bowman, Fattullo, Ont., writes: "I caught a cold which ended in a severe attack of Pneumonia. Since that time at the beginning of each winter I have been very easily, I have been told, that I was unable to speak. Last winter, however, a friend advised me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, saying it had helped him. I bought a bottle and before it was used I was completely cured. I can't find it a good medicine for the children when they have colds."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark; the price 25 cents.

Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Red Rose Tea is so popular because "it's good tea" and because when you buy a package you have the comfortable feeling you're getting an article fully worth every cent you pay for it.

be substituted for the present system of military districts.

Hon. Mr. Graham will probably introduce legislation respecting a commission to regulate rates on international traffic passing between Canada and the United States. He will also present to parliament the report of the commissioners who examined the branch lines of the Intercolonial Railway with a view to their acquisition. He may ask parliament to make an appropriation for the deepening of the Welland canal, for the construction of the Quebec bridge, and for the building of the Hudson Bay Railway. There will be no provision this year for the construction of the Georgian Bay canal.

Hon. Dr. Pugsley will ask for funds to enable him to continue the great work of developing water terminals at Fort William, Georgian Bay ports, St. John and other Atlantic ports. He will also ask for a dry dock subsidy at Montreal and possibly at St. John and Lewis.

Parliament will likely have something to say about the tariff, in view of the reciprocity negotiations with the United States, which will be completed and laid before parliament before prorogation. There will also be some discussion on the Belgian and Italian trade agreements which were made since the last session.

A substantial appropriation will have to be made at the request of Hon. Sydney Fisher for the census which will be taken throughout Canada in June, 1911.

Representatives from the maritime provinces can be counted upon to bring up the question of an amendment to the British North America act, which will act as a stay upon their diminishing parliamentary representation.

Contracts for cruisers and destroyers will be let before the session has far advanced and there will have to be appropriation to provide for expenditure on that account.

The session will probably last for a full six months and prorogation will doubtless be planned to enable the government to participate in the ceremonies at the coronation of King George on June 22, and the Imperial Conference which will follow that event.

Some Good Rules For Conduct

The principle that underlies courteous treatment of others is simply that of doing unto others as you would they should do unto you. Words are not only one means of expression. Manners are quite as important. Therefore, remember that a kindly and gracious manner is not only the sign and mark of a self-respecting man, but is to your words what oil is to machinery, in making them more effectively to their purpose.

True courtesy is no respecter of persons. It remembers that a man's man for a that, and gives the civil word and the helping hand quite as readily to the ill clad stranger as to another.

Courtesy is not only something the public have a right to expect of you but it pays in the friends it makes you; it pays in minimizing the friction of your life; it pays in raising your standing with the community; it pays in the personal satisfaction resulting from having done the right and kindly thing by your neighbor.

FORESTALLING CASES DROP.

In view of the disclosures made in the market investigation, Recorder Baxter in the police court this morning made the request that the cases of forestalling against Stanley Hopkins and John McDonald be allowed to drop, as it was seen that there had been frequent violations of the law, and there was little to be gained from punishing two offenders and allowing the others to go free. Judge Ritchie agreed to this, and the matter was dismissed.

A hearty welcome is being given by his friends to Thomas McCarthy, of Harrison street, who has only recently returned to his home after a stay of nearly two years abroad. WANT TO SELL TO THE CITY

Boston Company Offers Two Large Floating Grain Elevators and Matter Will Be Laid Before Council by Mayor

The mayor has received a communication from the Boston Towboat Co., stating that they have two large floating grain elevators for sale and asking if the city of St. John wants to buy.

The matter of purchasing a floating grain elevator for facilitating the business on the west side has been considered by the common council on several occasions. The chief obstacle heretofore has been to get an elevator at a moderate figure. The Boston Company writes that changes made by the Boston & Maine and the Boston & Albany railways in their harbor facilities have resulted in two elevators being thrown on the market. They are said to be in first class shape and are ready for inspection at any time. They have a capacity of 8,000 bushels an hour.

The communication will be laid before the common council at its next meeting with the idea of discussing the purchase of one or both to provide for the handling of 6 and 7 wharves, which are not now served grain for the steamers berthing at Nos. 5, by the grain elevator on the west side.

NOON DAY SERVICE

Dr. Jacoby Speaks From His Own Experience in Calling Men to Straight Path

The second of the noon-day meetings in the Unique theatre was held today, conducted by Rev. Dr. Jacoby, who spoke of helplessness in his life when he had led men to Christ. He had been a sinner, himself, he said, until he was forty-four years of age, but on reforming, had taken a course of training in the Moody Institute and then gone forth to preach salvation to mankind.

After he had occupied religious platforms in other cities, he returned to the scene of his former wickedness, and helped others of the world of crime to reach the world of Christ.

There was always a welcome held out by Jesus to the sinner, and when the latter accepted the welcome he received a pardon. The men and women in every city could take advantage of the words, "Come to Me all you that are heavily laden, and I will give you rest."

At the close of the meeting Dr. Jacoby offered prayer. The noon-day services will be continued for the balance of the week, the meetings opening at 12:05 o'clock and closing promptly at 12:20.

If you think of changing your stove, or if your house was not warm enough last year you should give the stove question some consideration.

A new stove put up in your house now will give you satisfaction and save you trouble in the middle of winter, for if the old range or heater is cracked and the seams are all sprung, you will be troubled with gas, and you will be using more fuel than you need without getting satisfaction. We make Glenwood Ranges to suit all purposes. We make Cabinet Glenwood, Glenwood E. Modern Glenwood, Glenwood Cook, Glenwood Oak Heaters and Furnaces. All made in St. John. Wear an M. R. A. Overcoat Yourself

M. R. A. Overcoats have pleased more men year after year than those of any other kind in this vicinity, and it's no wonder, because Overcoats cannot be made better, appear more stylish, or give longer service—no matter how steep the price.

When you realize that our Overcoats are from leading makers, whose enormous output enables them to afford extremely high-class talent, and whose purchases of the entire output of many mills secure for them cloths at the very lowest cost, you will appreciate why it is impossible for an ordinary maker to duplicate such garments as these, either in cleverness of designing, skill in tailoring, or quality and attractiveness in material.

Come and see these exclusive models—observe how well they are—and you'll be very much in danger of becoming an M. R. A. Overcoat wearer yourself.

We have them all the way from
