AN EXCITING TRIP.

Some Passengers on the Crystal Stream Got More Than They Paid For—Leak Story Denied.

The trip of the Crystal Stream up the river Wednesday was not as successful as far as numbers go but some of those who availed themselves of the chance to see the river at a cheap rate had perhaps a little more excitement for their money than they bargained for. According to one gentleman who took the trip he counted round about 500 people on board, and as the majority of them crowded the top deck, and there was practically nothing in the bottom of the boat, the swaying from side to side was pretty considerable. However, they were all out for enjoyment, and any little thing such as having to stand all day wasn't going to make much difference. The committee in charge of the excursion, George Colwell, A. H. Patterson and James Bell, all did all they could to make the outing an enjoyable one and were backed up by the ladies of the Y. P. S., who looked after the catering.

All went well until on the return journey, when the boat pulled up at Pitt's Landing, and an officer of the vessel asked all to go ashore for twenty minutes. Rumors began to fly round of a leakage, and the officials had a busy time in answering the many questions put to them by nervous and excited passengers. After some half hour's delay they were taken on board again and told to keep well forward and the St. Mary's band, which accompanied the trip, were asked to go and play downstairs, so as to attract the trippers from the top deck. It was explained to the gentleman in question that the stoppage had been occasioned by a leak which had sprung up and that the number of people on board caused the pumps to be useless against the swaying of the vessel, the boat being a flat-bottomed one, and the pumps amidship. Certain it is that many of the passengers were glad to see the light of Indianton once more, where they landed shortly before midnight.

The 200 people were turned back unable to procure tickets for the excursion. Seen this morning by the Star, Capt. Perry of the Crystal Stream said there was no foundation whatever for the story of the leakage and further said that the pumps on board had never yet been used. He took the reporter on a voyage of investigation to prove that there was no water in the bottom of the boat. The result of the inspection certainly showed little or no water in the vessel and Capt. Perry repeated in his assurance that the pumps had never been used at all. Asked as to the reason for landing the passengers for half an hour, he said the engines had got hot and he wanted a chance for them to cool. As to the number of passengers on board all he knew was that he told the committee that the boat would carry 450 people, and that was all the tickets they could sell. He understood they even had one or two tickets unsold.

CARNEGIE REWARDS HEROES.

PITTSBURGH, May 24.—The first rewards were made at the May meeting of the Carnegie hero fund commission. Nine cases were acted favorably upon, and three silver and six bronze medals were awarded. Three widows whose husbands lost their lives in the performance of acts of heroism were cared for, and in one case a money grant was made to a heroine for educational purposes.

CHILD ATTACKED BY RATS; TOES WERE CHEWED OFF.

THREE RIVERS, Que., May 24.—Pierre Harnois and his wife, who live at 19 St. Philippe street, was awakened at an early hour Saturday morning by the frightened cries of their five-month-old infant. Thinking the child was hungry the mother gave the baby a drink, but in a short time the cries were worse than ever. Investigating the cause of the trouble they found the infant bathed in blood. Rats had attacked it during the evening and its toes were nearly all eaten away, as was also one of its heels.

WINDSOR STRIKERS COMING TO ST. JOHN.

A Dozen of Them Arrived on Monday and More Are Due Today.

(Hants Journal.) There has been a misunderstanding all round with reference to the strike of the weavers. In the first place the workers in receiving their orders to work up this cheap grade of cotton did not know that it was only to fill up an order to keep them at work and also that it would not in the end actually reduce their pay. As far as we can understand the mill hands have been receiving their wages as usual, with only one-half day on Saturday. With all this, the weavers think they have a grievance, and as their demand for increased pay has not been met by the mill owners, a number left on Monday for their new field of labor in St. John, and as we understand more will leave on Wednesday.

The mill started work Monday with a fair number of hands—some are still undecided, and it is possible they will go to work. We sincerely hope so, for such breaks in the work at the mill means a loss all round, a loss to the mill owners, as well as to the employees and the business of the town. As the question of wages has also been brought up, a representative of the Journal waited on Manager Wilson, president of the Essex Drivers' Union, and John Donahue, a member of the same union, had refused to answer questions which could not in any way connect them with any criminal proceedings, and they were therefore in contempt of court. He sentenced both men to jail, but allowed them to remain in nominal custody in the hands of United States Marshal Ames for five days, after which their attorneys may perfect a review of habeas corpus proceedings before another federal judge.

The strike did not spread to any great extent today and there was little disorder. A number of lumber firms made a few deliveries, but did not attempt anything like their normal amount of business. For the first time since the commencement of the strike a large number of coal wagons handled by colored teamsters passed through the downtown streets without police protection. In the lumber yards several stores also made deliveries, and no trouble was experienced. Mayor Dunne and Chief of Police O'Neill did not meet today with the response expected when they called yesterday for 1,000 volunteers for additional policemen. Not over 100 men responded and only 75 of these proved acceptable. The lumber yards several other concerns when offered police protection refused to accept it, saying that it was not possible for them to make deliveries unless their wagons were guarded by police soldiers. Chief of Police O'Neill replied that he would not force officers on them but he would cause their yards and the territory around them to be patrolled by policemen.

TWO THOUSAND A WEEK FOR NAN PATTERSON.

NEW YORK, May 23.—Hurtig and Semon announced today that they had signed a contract with Nan Patterson, the former "Floradora" girl, to appear in a big extravaganza, one of the biggest successes of last season. The girl has signed to appear at prominent theatres throughout an extended tour at $2,000 per week. She will appear in the second scene of the second act at the head of a sextet of maidens similar to those that played in the musical comedy "Floradora," and in which Nan took part as one of the nodding, handsomely dressed women.

The company will be known as "Nan Patterson and Her Big Company." Rehearsals of the show are now going on, and have been for the past few days, at a city about 150 miles from here. There are forty persons in the cast, including Nan. The company, it is said, is booked to open at Albany. Although Nan has not joined the company as yet, she will join the cast Wednesday. So familiar is she with her old part that she does not need much rehearsing.

FIRE AT HALIFAX.

HALIFAX, N. S., May 25.—Fire at 146 this morning completely destroyed McIntosh's mill on Edward street, a western suburb of the city. The place has been vacant for a number of years but recently occupied by John Snow & Son, Ltd., who had 20,000 feet of lumber, a large number of caskets and coffins and firms' sleighs stored there, all of which were destroyed. Partially insured.

SCHOONER SEEKS AID FROM LIFE SAVERS.

HIGHLAND LIGHT, Mass., May 25.—A small two-masted schooner loaded, and thought to be the E. Mitchell, of New London, Conn., stopped off the Pamet River life saving station and obtained assistance of the crew of that station before proceeding around the cape. Massachusetts Bay tonight. It is believed by those on shore, that the vessel, which did not appear to be at all crippled when passing this point, was short handed and that her skipper desisted going across the bay in the heavy southwest wind with insufficient help. The schooner passed in by the end of the cape at dark tonight and seemed to be heading for Boston, with the life savers still on board.

About the time the life savers were boarding the Mitchell, the sch. Mabel E. Goss came to anchor a short distance away under the lee of the cape with the loss of her foretopmast. She was still at anchor there at dark tonight.

STRIKE WAS QUIET THURSDAY.

Did Not Spread to Any Great Extent.

Mayor Dunne Failed to Get the Thousand Extra Policemen He Called For.

CHICAGO, May 25.—Cornelius H. Shea, president of the International Teamsters' Union, was upheld today by Judge Kohlsaat of the federal court in his refusal to answer questions before Master in Chancery Sherman, which might tend to incriminate him. Shea is now under indictment in the criminal court and Judge Kohlsaat declared that answers to some of the questions put to him might prejudice the hearing of the case.

MAYOR DUNNE OF CHICAGO.

In the same decision which excused Shea, the court ruled that Bernard Sullivan, president of the Essex Drivers' Union, and John Donahue, a member of the same union, had refused to answer questions which could not in any way connect them with any criminal proceedings, and they were therefore in contempt of court. He sentenced both men to jail, but allowed them to remain in nominal custody in the hands of United States Marshal Ames for five days, after which their attorneys may perfect a review of habeas corpus proceedings before another federal judge.

BALTIMORE MAN AND NURSE GO TO EUROPE.

Ex-Mayor Davidson and Miss Noyes Have Gone Together Says Wife.

BALTIMORE, May 24.—That ex-Mayor Robert C. Davidson, prominent in financial, political and church circles, and Miss Laura Banning Noyes, a trained nurse, have eloped to Europe, is the statement made yesterday by the wife of the former city executive. Baltimore has not received such a surprise since Mayor Robert M. McLane shot himself, the former mayor having been regarded as one of the city's conservative church members, prominent in the financial world and a leader of the Baptist denomination. The news first leaked out this afternoon when it was announced that Mr. Davidson had left the city, never to return, and that a woman to whom he had been paying attention had also left the city. It soon developed that Mr. Davidson had converted all his possessions, about $100,000 in stocks and bonds, into cash and that his companion, according to the statement of Mrs. Davidson, is Miss Laura Banning Noyes, a statuesque beauty about six feet tall, with big black eyes. The ex-mayor and the woman have been seen together frequently in public places, out driving in Druid Hill Park and at luncheon in one of the fashionable hotels. The details of the departure are not known, except that they sailed for Europe last Wednesday. Mrs. Davidson said: "My husband was a model man until two summers ago, when he met the woman, Miss Noyes, at Nantuxet, a summer resort in New England, where Miss Noyes was engaged as a professional nurse attending a patient. Since then our life has been unhappy and he would leave me for trips out of the city. I know only that he left for Europe Wednesday and that he has gone to remain away."

At the Davidson residence in Dolbin street, an aunt of Mrs. Davidson, who refused to give her name, said: "We did not know of Mr. Davidson's intentions until after he had left Baltimore. He went away last Wednesday and it is true that he was accompanied by a woman. I cannot further discuss the case, and I cannot say what my niece's future course will be. In fact, I do not think Mrs. Davidson knows herself."

ARMY OFFICER DROWNED IN OTTAWA RIVER.

(Special to the Sun.) OTTAWA, May 25.—Staff Capt. Perry of the Salvation Army was drowned today while swimming in the Ottawa river. The body has not yet been recovered. Perry was a native of Yarmouth, N. S., was 38 years of age, and leaves a widow and two children here.

AT READVILLE TRACK.

READVILLE, Mass., May 25.—Prices at the horse sale at the Readville track today ranged somewhat lower than on previous days this week and only two horses brought over $500. Koppala, a 2-year-old, by Kromlin, went to George Leavitt of Readville, for $820, and Hattie Mack, 2-year-old, by Red Lambert, went to John McDermott of New York, for $525.

BY ELECTION IN LEVIS.

(Special to the Sun.) OTTAWA, May 25.—The writ for the by-election in Levis was issued today. Nomination is fixed for June 4th, and polling on the 12th, the same day as London and North Oxford.

STILL NO WORD OF THE EXPECTED NAVAL BATTLE

But on Land the Japanese Scouting Parties Are Working Northward Preparatory to a General Movement.

LONDON, May 25.—The British government has ordered the detention of the Russian steamship Alexymoroch, which is loading at Milwall dock for St. Petersburg. LONDON, May 25, 4.30 a. m.—No news has reached London up to this hour regarding the movements of the rival Russian and Japanese fleets, or in any way confirmatory of the rumor from Manila that the fleets had met south of Formosa and that the Japanese had been defeated. The news that Vice-Admiral Rojdestvensky's squadron had passed Formosa served to harden insurance rates at Lloyd's.

LONDON, May 25.—The Sofia correspondent of the Daily Chronicle asserts that the Bulgarian government has purchased four armored cruisers and three torpedo boat destroyers from the Argentine Republic for Russian service, and that the vessels will be transferred from the Bulgarian to the Russian flag at New Guinea, and that as a commission for this service Bulgaria is to receive from Russia $2,500,000 worth of rolling stock for her railway. GUNSHU PASS, May 25.—A squadron of Japanese cavalry which has been reconnoitering deep into the Russian rear, encountered and defeated a small detachment of Russians northwest of Gunshu Pass, 12 miles from the railway, on May 23, and on the following day penetrated almost to the station of Tanshin, 29 miles north of Gunshu Pass.

The appearance of the Japanese so far from their base is taken as an intimation of their desire for information preliminary to turning their flank. Reports of the movement of Japanese in the direction of Taitshar, 300 miles west of Harbin, have been received. Chinese bands are active on the Mongolian border. They are hampering the Russian scouts, preventing the purchase of supplies and attacking caravans. Further bloodshed is feared, as the number of troops there is inadequate for the preservation of order. The government is sending reinforcements. At some place where anti-Jewish riots took place last year, a collision is reported between striking workmen and Cossacks in which one workman was killed and several wounded.

MARRIED AT FREDERICTON.

FREDERICTON, May 24.—At the residence of Ald. Chestnut this afternoon Miss E. J. Hogg, stenographer of the Bank of Toronto, Montreal, and daughter of the late Thos. H. Hogg, was united in marriage by the Rev. Dr. Rogers to W. N. Smith of Toke, Brothers' establishment, Montreal. The wedding was a very quiet one, only the intimate relatives and friends of the couple being present. The bride, who was given away by her brother-in-law, Ald. Chestnut, was the recipient of many handsome presents. Mr. and Mrs. Smith took the evening train for Montreal, where they will reside.

VICTORIA DAY DROWNING ACCIDENTS.

HALIFAX, N. S., May 24.—Two drowning accidents near Halifax marked Victoria day here. One was the Archibald of Bedford was one of a picnic party at Sandy Lake. He and a companion went out in a boat for a swim in the middle of the lake. The wind carried the boat beyond their reach, and Archibald went down in trying to get up to it. The companion, who is night telegrapher for the I. C. R. at Rockingham station, was rescued in an exhausted condition. He does not yet know of Archibald's death. In Dartmouth, the five-year-old son of Alexander Patterson fell overboard from the boat of his father, B. Archibald of Bedford was one of a picnic party at Sandy Lake. He and a companion went out in a boat for a swim in the middle of the lake. The wind carried the boat beyond their reach, and Archibald went down in trying to get up to it. The companion, who is night telegrapher for the I. C. R. at Rockingham station, was rescued in an exhausted condition. He does not yet know of Archibald's death.

ROSS WOODROW DEAD.

Ross Woodrow, well known in this city, where for many years he was a publisher, died Wednesday at the age of 76. Mr. Woodrow had been ailing for more than two years, and his death was not unexpected. He at one time published the British Constitution, a weekly paper, which was afterwards converted into the St. John Globe as a morning daily, later being changed to an evening paper, as it is now. In 1861 the Globe was sold to Christopher Armstrong and John V. Ellis.

SIFTON WILL LIKELY SUCCEED WADE.

OTTAWA, May 24.—McInnes has not yet been sworn an administrator of the Yukon, but probably will be this week. It is generally believed Sifton will succeed Wade and that an appointment will be made at an early date so as not to delay the work of the railway commission. Wade's remains were escorted to the Canada Atlantic today en route to Nova Scotia for interment. A plain question: Do you really get the only Painkiller—Perry Davis' when you ask for it? Better be sure than sorry. It has not, in 80 years, failed to stop looseness and pain in the bowels.

THE official tests by the Inland Revenue Department of the Canadian Government show the Royal to be a pure baking powder, superior to all others in leavening strength.

It therefore makes purer, more wholesome and economical food than any other baking powder or leavening agent. Royal Baking Powder is more convenient for use than cream of tartar and soda and makes finer-flavored food.

MEMORIAL ERECTED TO COLONIAL SOLDIERS.

LONDON, May 24.—Empire Day, (the anniversary of the birth of the late Queen Victoria, May 24, 1819) was more widely observed this year in London and the provinces than heretofore. Flags were displayed everywhere and there were special commemorative lectures in the schools. The most prominent feature was a big review of troops at Aldershot by King Edward, while the leading event in London was the unveiling in St. Paul's cathedral by the Prince of Wales of the sculptured memorial designed and executed by Princess Louise (Duchess of Argyll) to the four thousand brave sons of Britain over the sea, who laid down their lives for the mother country in the South African War. Telegrams from South Africa, Australia and the other colonies generally indicate a widespread observance of the holiday.

CASTRO RELEASES POLITICAL PRISONERS.

NEW YORK, May 24.—President Castro has signalled the opening of congress and the beginning of his constitutional presidency for six years. He has decreed amnesty for all Venezuelans who for political reasons have been expropriated, and they are permitted to return to their country. The amnesty also extends to political prisoners in Venezuela below the grade of colonel. There are about 1,600 political prisoners confined in the dungeons of Caracas, La Guaira, Puerto Cabello and Maracaibo. A national holiday has been declared on May 23 of every year, commemorating the beginning of Castro's revolution.

MACLEOD GOES TO DORCHESTER FOR A TWO-YEAR TERM.

SYDNEY, N. S., May 24.—Hugh MacLeod of River Herbert, N. S., was sentenced here today to two years in Dorchester for forgery. He pleaded guilty to the charge. MacLeod tried to ask a check for $200, made payable to "Edward Berg," at the Union Bank agency on Saturday. On being suspected by the bank he confessed his name was not Berg, and his arrest followed shortly after. His wife and family live at River Herbert.

MONCFON NEWS.

First Rifle Match — Passed With Honors. MONCFON, May 25.—There were only fifty competitors in the first match of the Moncfon Rifle Club, a great many new shots being present and the questions are that this will be by a long way the best season in the history of the club. The shooting was at 200, 300 and 400 yards. B. Stewart, leading with 89, followed by A. J. Bateman with 83, S. B. Anderson with 81, and Frank Chandler with 81. H. A. and D. R. Chandler, who are down for the inter-provincial matches, had 77 and 65 respectively.

$75,000 FIRE IN LONDON, ONT.

LONDON, Ont., May 25.—A fire which broke out early this morning in Dymont & Baker's large planing mill near the G. T. R. station, burned with such fury that the fire brigade could not control it. Bills of pine lumber in the yard adjoining the mill were also destroyed, as was Boudier's turning factory. The flames, having next destroyed the brick section of the Dymont & Baker factory, attacked the lumber piles between the M. C. R. and G. T. R. tracks, and for a time the freight sheds of the latter were in great danger. Three loaded cars on the M. C. R. were almost totally destroyed. The loss is over $75,000.

INTERESTING LECTURE. Miss Jessie B. Archibald of Truro, N. S., delivered a very interesting and suggestive lecture before the Sackville W. C. T. U. on Thursday evening of last week in the basement of the Methodist church.

"It is good, it is sweet to those who like St. Paul reason of righteousness, temperance and judgment to come."

"One of the significant signs of today is the vigorous agitation, the aggressive action of able men and women the world over against the legalized traffic in liquor."

SPRING HOUSE CLEANING. Bridgewater is one of Nova Scotia's most enterprising towns, and we are glad to see that lately it has been doing some spring cleaning from a moral standpoint.

FEDERATED TEMPERANCE WORK. Rev. F. A. Baker, general superintendent of the United States Temperance League, last Monday presented before the Boston ministers the work of that organization of temperance organizations.

SOLDIERS TO OUST SALOONS. A number of the soldiers belonging to the "Randolph Christian Temperance Union" at Fort Meyer, Va. (just across the Potomac river from Washington), are circulating a petition for the removal of the miserable little saloons on the road to the fort.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR. Business is being done by somebody when you are not doing somebody. It is a good deal cheaper to pay all money than to run two households.

WARNS YOUNG MEN. Thomas McNeill Tells Them Not to Enlist. He Says That His Son Was Very Badly Used in the Mounted Police and Was Forced to Desert.

To the Editor of the Sun: Sir—I notice recently that there is a recruiting going on through the province for a Halifax contingent. It occurs to me to be a genuine one to give a warning note to the young men to think before they commit themselves to this spider and fly policy.

COUNTY COURT. True Bills Found in Three Criminal Cases. Court Adjourned Till Monday—Small Civil Docket.

The regular May session of the county court opened Tuesday with Judge Forbes presiding. The following were called for the grand jury: Donald MacArthur, T. Collins, Wm. Tait, John S. Armstrong, James Ryan, Edward Bates, Wm. J. Salmon, Jos. Court, Isiah W. Holder, Andrew J. Myers, Thomas Bell, Charles S. Phillips, Geo. A. Chamberlain, Watson, Alex. Patterson, Jr., John B. Eagles, Wm. J. Dalton, J. Hunter White, J. A. Tison, W. G. Estabrooks, J. N. Harvey, Alex. Watson, Donaldson Hunt and Alfred G. Edgcombe.

The petit jury called was as follows: R. Steeves, Stanley Coder, J. Hannah, (absent), Edward Walsh, D. Watson, Michael Higgins (absent), Wm. H. Myrick, Geo. McIntyre, Stanley E. Bell, Wm. Ryan, F. Cassidy, Joe DeHill (absent), Brasilia Vanwart, James Dules, James Quinn (absent), Solomon McConnell, Jacob H. Colwell, Caleb Belyea, W. W. Austin, C. W. Goddard, and Wm. Heathfield. The judge allowed the case to be taken up by the King v. Fred G. Cormier, the King v. Mary Best and Minnie Robertson, and the King v. Fred Turpin.

THE NEW MARCONI STATION AT GLACE BAY. (Special to the Sun.) SYDNEY, May 22.—The new Marconi wireless station at Glace Bay is practically completed, and the work of testing the apparatus has begun. It will probably be a few days before communication is established with Halifax, Cornwall, but Mr. Macdonald anticipates no difficulty in accomplishing this long expected result of his experimental work at Glace Bay since the first towers were erected at Table Head.

STILL MUCH ICE ON CAPE BRETON COAST. SYDNEY, C. B., May 22.—There is still considerable drift ice on the Cape Breton coast, in consequence of which navigation is being very much interrupted. Scarcely anything has been done in the coastal trade and but very little in the St. Lawrence trade for this time if the shipping season. This backwardness of the spring is causing serious loss to the farmers as well as to those who depend for their livelihood upon the coal industry.

THRIFTY MABEL. (London Punch.) Time was, not very long ago, when Mabel's walking stick trailed half a yard behind to show how well she swept the dirt. "But short and sweet are in again; No more the greenest rank in nature; For Mabel's now curtalied her train And shows her dainty ankles."

THE HOLIDAY. Great Crowds Went Out of Town. But Many Others Who Stayed at Home Enjoyed the Day.

Victoria Day was enjoyed to the utmost by the large crowds which thronged the streets and trails in order to spend the day in the country; to say nothing of those who stayed at home and took in the local attractions. A large audience saw the first performance of the new opera, "The Two Orphans," and the evening's crowd was no smaller, in fact a vacant seat could not be found.

INDIGESTION AND HEADACHE. Mr. Duncan McPherson, Content, Alta., writes: "I was for many years troubled with indigestion and headache, and derived no relief from many remedies I used. A friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and after taking four boxes the result is that I am once more in the full enjoyment of the blessings of life."

DELEGATES ENTERTAINED. MONTREAL, May 24.—The delegates of the international conference at Washington arrived here today and tonight were tendered a banquet by local railroad men. Sir Charles Rivers Wilson, president of the Grand Trunk, presided and the guests included Sir Wilfrid Laurier, premier of Canada, and Hon. H. R. Emmerson, minister of railways.

BANK FORCED TO SUSPEND BUSINESS. CANTON, O., May 24.—The Canton State Bank, which has a deposit of more than $600,000, closed its doors today. The directors state that the bank will not be able to resume business. The failure was brought about by heavy loans to W. L. Davis, vice president of the bank, by the cashier, Corwin B. Bachtel, without the consent of the other directors of the bank.

Japanese Diplomats Discuss the War.

TOKIO, May 26, 8 p. m.—It is reported that a junk filled with Russian officers has been captured. It is presumed that they were making a reconnaissance of Vladivostok.

TOKIO, Thursday, April 27.—Count Okuma, former premier and minister of foreign affairs, in a recent interview on the question of intervention, said that a great change in the lines of diplomacy of different powers being a natural outcome of the present war, it was difficult to make a prophecy. Increasingly close relations between England and France was already one of the very significant phenomena resulting from the war. The Count declared that Germany could have no other feeling than satisfaction at finding her northern rival becoming gradually weakened by the war, and would recognize the foolishness of antagonizing Japan if Germany could maintain and develop her interests in the Far East. Okuma saw no reason for intervention unless a European coalition could be formed, and he could not understand who would desire to intervene so long as Germany did not suffer by the war. Germany, he asserted, was reaping benefits of various kinds, and would follow the policy of "rest-the-best-and-as-much-as-possible."

Count Kato, former minister of foreign affairs and former minister to Great Britain, discussing the same question, said: "I do not think there will arise any occasion for intervention. I doubt if Russia has a fixed purpose and aim either to fight or to conclude peace. It seems to me that the ultimate result is left to whatever the future may bring to Russia. There seems to be no pre-arranged plan. Should Russia be determined to hold Vladivostok, it would be to her advantage to conclude peace before she loses it. But she shows no desire for peace and her policy is devoid of any definite plan, so there can be no occasion for a third power to attempt intervention in the near future. Even the loss of Vladivostok might not prompt Russia to seek peace. She could go on retreating indefinitely, hoping to exhaust us. We might take Harbin and go farther north, but Russia could continue her policy of retreat, thereby giving no occasion for a third party to intervene. Should Russia ask for peace, she shall insist on an unconditional armistice and when the negotiations are opened we shall require Russia to return Manchuria to China, recognize our suzerainty over Corea, cede Sakhalin to us, remove permanently the fortifications of Vladivostok and pay an indemnity of at least two billion yen.

Such terms will afford no ground for intervention. The scene of contention in Manchuria being without any special interest to the powers, none of them will be prepared to take action to stop the war. On the contrary the war is affording a lucrative trade to some of them in supplying materials for war. Looked at from a diplomatic standpoint Germany, being her eastern danger lessened by the war and Russia gradually weakened, will naturally entertain the hope of further reduction in the strength of her neighbor. England will feel satisfaction over the blows dealt by her ally to her traditional foe. The United States, much as she sympathizes with us, will not welcome an excessive development of Japan's power lest it should cause future trouble and would not view with disfavor the gradual weakening of both combatants.

France alone must be sincerely desirous of seeing the war terminate, but single-handed she can do nothing to cause any change. Both the present and the future, in my view, afford no sign of the possibility of intervention, and I am prepared to say that the time has not yet come to consider the possibility of intervention, and the war will last long."

Count Kato, former minister of foreign affairs and former minister to Great Britain, discussing the same question, said: "I do not think there will arise any occasion for intervention. I doubt if Russia has a fixed purpose and aim either to fight or to conclude peace. It seems to me that the ultimate result is left to whatever the future may bring to Russia. ## PARLIAMENT

OTTAWA, May 25.—Mr. Oliver made an explanation in the commons today of the matter referred to yesterday by Mr. Foster in regard to Indian half-breed scrip. The explanation justified quite forcibly the rumors which have been prevalent that people in close touch with the department had secured a lot of scrip at small prices from the Indians who had gone to the United States and at first had not been considered entitled to the scrip. By a subsequent decision, however, 138 of these claims were allowed, and it was some of these on which the 138 were alleged to stand to clear a large sum of money.

Mr. Oliver said that it had formerly been the invariable rule to refuse to recognize assignments or powers of attorney and authority for the delivery of half-breed scrip. By a departmental order, however, of March 10 last, addressed to all the Dominion land agents, they were advised that it had been decided to allow scrip, granted to the half-breed residents of the Northwest Territories, to be transferred to the grantee thereof by the holder of such scrip, without requiring the grantee to appear personally at the office of the land agent. This order was also pointed out that the applicant for location should make the application over his own signature on the prescribed form, and that he should comply with the rules and regulations governing the location of half-breed scrip, and that as heretofore assignments of scrip were not recognized, the half-breeds prior to the date on which the land was entered for in the manner above indicated, would not be recognized by the department.

We Offer $1,000 For a Disease Germ That Liquezone Can't Kill.

For every bottle of Liquezone we offer $1,000 for a disease germ that it cannot kill. We do this to assure you that Liquezone does kill germs. And it is the only way known to kill germs in the body without killing the tissues, too. Any drug that kills germs is a poison, and it cannot be taken internally. Medicine is almost helpless in any germ disease. It is this fact which gives Liquezone its worth to humanity; a worth so great that, after testing the product for two years, through physicians and hospitals, we paid $100,000 for the American rights. And we have spent over one million dollars in one year to buy the first bottle and give it free to each sick one who would try it.

Liquezone—It is an excess of oxygen—is deadly to vegetable matter. Liquezone goes into the stomach, into the bowels and into the blood, wherever the blood goes. No germ can escape it and none can resist it. The results are inevitable; for a germ disease must end when the germs are killed. Then Liquezone, acting as a wonderful tonic, quickly restores a condition of perfect health. Diseases which have resisted medicine for years yield at once to Liquezone, and it cures diseases which medicine never cures. Half the people you meet—wherever you are—can tell you of cures that were made by it.

50c. Bottle Free.

If you used Liquezone, and have never tried it, please send us this coupon. We will then mail you an order on a local druggist for a full-size bottle, and we will pay the druggist ourselves for the 50c. bottle free gift, made to convince you; to show you what Liquezone is, and what it can do. In justice to yourself, please, accept it to-day. You need no money under no obligation whatever.

NEGRO SHOT SHERIFF AND WAS KILLED BY MOB.

Robert Shaw, Wife insane, used a Revolver in the Streets.

EVANSBORO, N. S., May 22.—Robert Shaw, a negro, supposedly insane, has killed Deputy Sheriff W. C. Brown, and wounded seven other men near Waltham. The body of the dead man lies in front of Shaw's house, and the negro continues to defy officers who are seeking to arrest him.

It is probable the house will be burned in an effort to arrest the negro. Yesterday afternoon Shaw was terrorizing the community around Waltham and an appeal was sent to this city for help. A posse was at once formed, but as soon as they approached Shaw's house the posse broke up. Marshal Watson was shot in the face and Deputy Marshal John Jackson was shot in the back. Others wounded at that time were Dr. D. H. Pitt, who was shot in the head, and two boys who received minor wounds.

BELLELEVILLE, Ont., May 23.—A rumor has been current that Reilly, of ballot box fame, had been released. Investigation showed that there was no truth in the rumor, but it is fact that Dr. Farley of this city, the jail physician, has very strongly recommended Reilly's release on the ground that his physical and mental health are being undermined, and that in all probability his detention for a full year would result in permanent injury to his health. It is believed that Reilly's release will follow in a few days.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY SUN.

ST. JOHN, N. B., MAY 27, 1905.

A SHARP TURN.

The Toronto Globe, which has strongly condemned the Laurier government's version of provincial rights, ought logically to call for the defeat of Mr. Hyman, who is appealing to the electors of London for re-election on the coercion issue.

But now we have the striking circumstances that when Mr. Hyman goes to London to justify his course to the electors he has the support of the Globe. Evidently the liberal organ has become once more a government organ.

Mr. Hyman and his leaders must have great fun over such opposition as the Toronto Globe gives to their measures. The Globe is now essentially a Tory paper, and for departing from the policy of its party, and for committing a grave constitutional blunder. Then it solemnly calls upon the electors to elect Mr. Hyman.

The Globe condemned the government because its editor knew that the government was wrong, and because in the circumstances then existing he had the courage to say what he believed. In advocating the re-election of Mr. Hyman, who is contesting London on the coercion issue, the Globe shows that it is itself coerced.

On the whole we look for the announcement of another change in the editorial management of the Globe. For the leading articles since the by-elections have been in sight are clearly not from the same pen as those which appeared during March and April.

MR. BALFOUR AND HIS OPINIONS.

The trouble and disturbance in a recent sitting of the imperial house grew out of the suggestion or the fear that the government would call a council from the colonies to meet with British statesmen for the discussion of imperial trade relations. It was claimed that this would be a violation of Mr. Chamberlain's pledge that neither Mr. Chamberlain's scheme nor any other preferential trade measure would be brought forward by the government during the life of the present parliament.

Slaves to Spring Catarrh Restored to Health by Pe-ru-na.

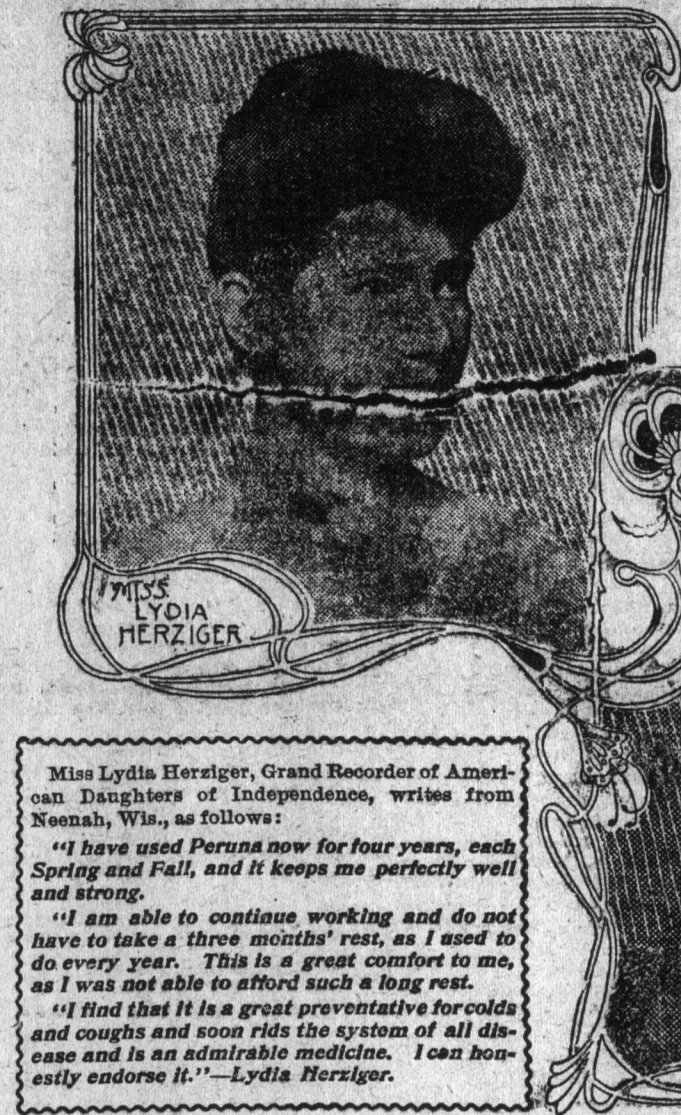

SPRING THE TIME TO CURE CATARRH.

Pe-ru-na Invigorates Mind and Body.

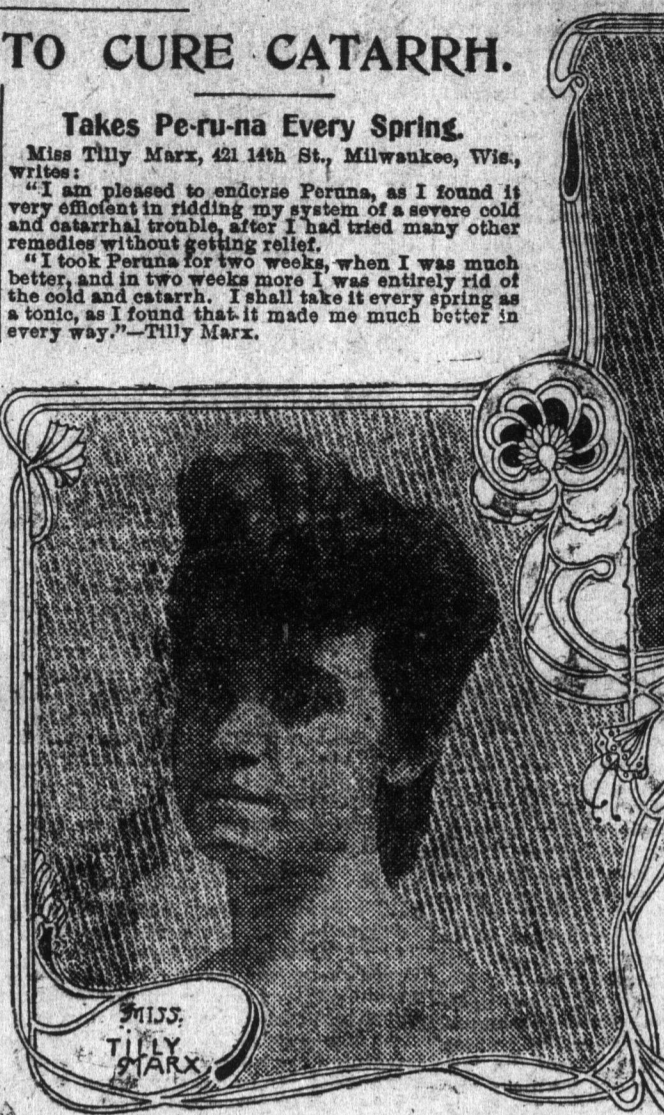

Hon. Wm. G. Hunter, Ex-member North Carolina Legislature, writes from the Census Office Building, Washington, D. C., as follows: "The greatest family medicine ever discovered, in my opinion, which comes from experience as well as observation, is Peruna."

Takes Pe-ru-na Every Spring.

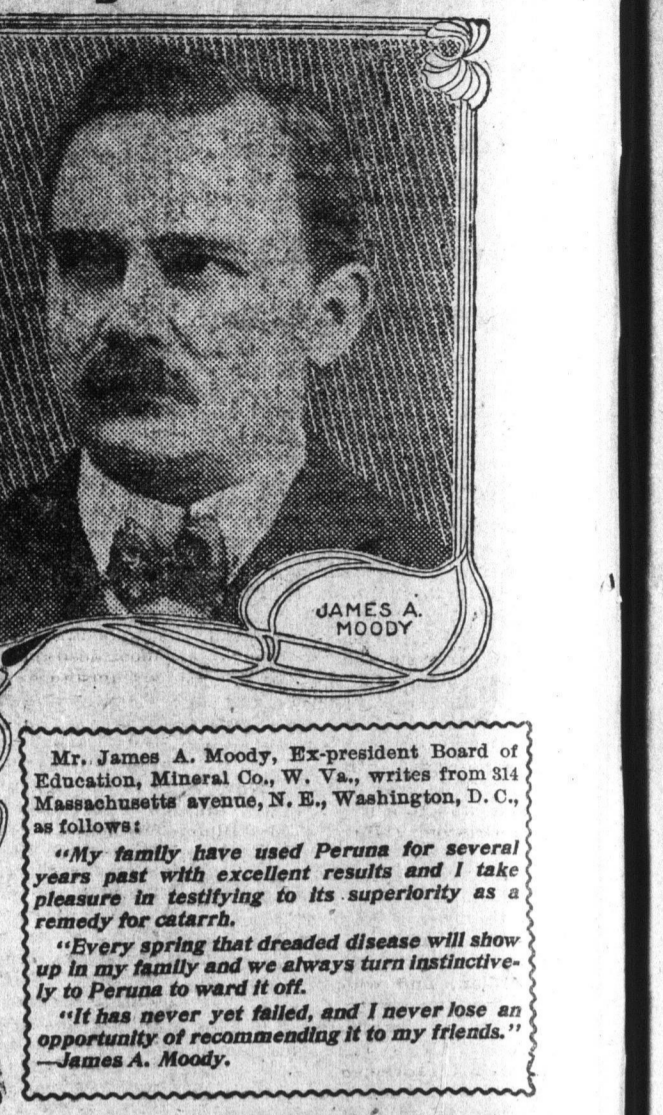

Miss Tilly Marx, 421 14th St., Milwaukee, Wis., writes: "I am pleased to endorse Peruna, as I found it very efficient in ridding my system of a serious and catarrhal trouble, after I had tried many other remedies without getting relief."

Miss Lydia Herziger, Grand Recorder of American Daughters of Independence, writes from Keosau, Wis., as follows: "I have used Peruna now for four years, each Spring and Fall, and it keeps me perfectly well and strong."

HON. WM. G. HUNTER

Mr. James A. Moody, Ex-president Board of Education, Mineral Co., W. Va., writes from 314 Massachusetts Avenue, N. E., Washington, D. C., as follows: "My family have used Peruna for several years past with excellent results and I take pleasure in testifying to its superiority as a remedy for catarrh."

Spring Catarrh.

Almost every one has come to believe that spring is a season that brings derangements of the body dependent on blood impurities.

This belief is an old one, is nearly universal, and has arisen, not as the result of the teachings of the medical fraternity, but has been learned in the bitter school of experience.

Nervous Depression.

Depression of the nervous system at the approach of spring is a fertile source of blood impurities. There are general lassitude, dull, heavy sensations, continual tired feelings, with irregular appetite, and sometimes loss of sleep.

That Tired Feeling.

That tired feeling, which is the natural result of the depressing effect of warm weather immediately after the invigorating cold of winter, quickly disappears when Peruna is taken.

The Proper Remedy.

Peruna meets every indication and proves itself to be perfectly adapted to all their varied peculiarities. Peruna invigorates the system, rejuvenates the feelings, restores the normal appetite and procures regular sleep.

Do Not Delay.

Get a bottle of Peruna when the first languid feelings make themselves apparent in the spring. Take it according to the directions on the bottle. Continue this treatment through the first months of spring.

A Spring Tonic.

Almost everybody needs a tonic in the spring. Something to brace the nerves, invigorate the brain, and cleanse the blood. That Peruna will do this is beyond all question. Everyone who has tried it has had the same experience as

Spring weather.

This renders medicines more effective. A short course of Peruna, assisted by the balmy air of spring, will cure old, stubborn cases of catarrh that have resisted treatment for years.

A Word of Advice.

To those who have been afflicted with chronic catarrh we wish to say that the spring season affords you a splendid opportunity to get rid of your disease. It may be you have been afflicted for several years; you may have tried different remedies. Perhaps you have become discouraged.

Now is Your Opportunity.

This failure was during the winter months. But now is your opportunity. Nature comes to your assistance at this season.

Nature's Assistance.

Spring is the best time to treat catarrh. Nature renews herself every spring. The system is rejuvenated by

A Typical Case.

Geo. M. Willmore, late 1st Lieut. 8rd U. S. Artillery, writes from 909 L St., N. W., Washington, D. C., as follows: "I brought forward from winter into spring a sickening case of catarrh which was making existence miserable for me, until I was induced to try a bottle of Peruna."

"An immediate improvement gave me hope, if not relief. I kept up taking Peruna and it has so strengthened and relieved me that I am now confident of a cure. I heartily endorse Peruna for catarrhal affections and as a tonic for their 'weakening' effects."—Geo. M. Willmore.

A short course of Peruna now will be just in time.

During the month of April you will find the strategic time to rid yourself of chronic catarrh, one of the most persistent, stubborn diseases in the whole list of human ailments. After you have tried it you will say Peruna is positively the best spring medicine you have ever used.

AN INTERESTING CASE.

Father Babineau of Edmundston, Sues Fred LaForest for $1200—Defendant Makes Claim for Damages.

Yesterday afternoon an interesting case was heard before Judge McLeod. Father Babineau of Edmundston is suing Fred LaForest, barrister of Edmundston, for $1,200 money lent. He received a receipt in the following words: "Received from Father Babineau the sum of $1,200, for which I am responsible, with interest, at 6 per cent, on production of this receipt and three months' notice. (Sgd.) Fred LaForest."

The defense is a counter claim of $2,000, which the defendant alleges to be due from the plaintiff for damages sustained by the defendant before maturity of the loan of $1,200, putting attachments on record in the state of Maine without bringing suit. The attachments amounted to $5,700, and were taken out against property owned by the defendant in the state of Maine.

The defendant alleges that his credit was thereby ruined and claims general and special damages. There is also the question whether a proper notice was served on the defendant before the attachments were made. Chas. Carroll, barrister of Houlton, Me., testified that in his opinion the attachments issued by plaintiff were an abuse of the process of the Maine courts. The defendant testified that the loan was not yet payable, according to the terms of the receipt, and also that in consequence of the attachments levied on his mill in Maine, where he had been doing business in Maine, the mill had been closed down and remained idle ever since, causing him great damage.

The plaintiff, called in rebuttal, stated that on Sunday Mr. LaForest, then a representative in the house of assembly for Madawaska, had called on him and asked for permission to address the electorate after mass. The plaintiff told him if he spoke that he (Father Babineau) would also speak after him, and admitted that this was a threat against the defendant, that he would tell the congregation that Mr. LaForest owed him money which he had not paid.

Evidence was completed last night and the court adjourned till 2.30 p. m. today to hear argument of counsel. Messrs. Stevens and Lawson of Edmundston and L. A. Curry for the plaintiff; Thane Jones of Edmundston and C. N. Skinner for the defendant.

TWO COLLEGE RECORDS BROKEN BY U.N.B. STUDENTS

And Another One Tied—High School Record for Running Broad Jump Broken—Squires Gets Best by One Point.

FREDERICTON, N. B., May 24.—Beautiful weather favored the celebration of the 24th anniversary of the University of New Brunswick, and the day was enjoyed. The chief attractions during the day were the baseball games between the Moncton Trojans and the Fredericton Tartars, and the University sports. All were very largely enjoyed. The home team won both baseball contests. The morning game was close and exciting, resulting: Tartars, 7; Trojans, 1. The afternoon was very much one-sided, the visitors being unable to do anything with Boone's curve, while the Trojans' pitcher, Lyons, proved an easy mark for the Tartars. Morning, Malloy and Dunphy; afternoon, Boone and Dunphy.

The University sports were keenly contested. Two college records were broken and another one tied, and the high school record for the running broad jump was smashed. Squires won the belt for the best general athlete, downing Barker by one point. This makes the second consecutive year in which Squires has won the trophy. The college records broken were 220 yards by Squires, time 24 4-5 seconds, former record 25 seconds; hurdles by Wood, 18 1-2 seconds, former record 19 1-4; record tied 100 yards by Thorne, 10 1-2 seconds. High school record broken, running jump by Carlson (Rothsney), 20 feet 3 1-2 inches, a remarkably fine jump for a boy. At the conclusion of the sports Mrs. Scott, wife of Dr. Scott, presented the prizes to the successful competitors. The officials were: Mayor McNally, referee; J. S. Campbell, starter; R. W. McLellan, and Dr. H. McKee and H. V. B. Bridges, judges. H. C. Rutter, J. H. Fairweather, A. M. Scott and W. F. Flewelling, timers.

Purgatives Are Dangerous.

They gripe, cause burning pains, and make the complicated condition even worse. Physicians say the ideal laxative is Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Man-drake and Butternut; they are exceedingly mild, composed only of health-giving vegetable extracts. Dr. Hamilton's Pills restore regular movement of the bowels, strengthen the stomach and purify the blood. For constipation, sick headache, biliousness and disordered digestion no medicine on earth makes such remarkable cures as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Try a 25c. box yourself.

IT CONCERNS ALL CANADA.

The Toronto Globe, which is now trying to destroy the effect of its arguments against the coercion clauses of the autonomy bill, devotes its leading article on Wednesday to the statement of Dr. George U. Hay concerning the school system of the territories. Dr. Hay found the people well satisfied with their system as it is now operated, and most anxious that it should not be changed. The Globe quotes all the authorities it can find to show that there is no agitation in the territories on the school question.

We do not know that anybody has said that the people in the west desire to change their school system, or even that they are much excited over the school clauses of the autonomy bill. They are a rather independent feeling people, and so far as one can learn they have an idea that if at any time they wish to change their school laws and practices they will do so in spite of federal legislation. So we read the opinion of various journals of the west, and so some of the men supporting the government have spoken. That is not a healthy feeling and it does not promise peace and order in the future.

New Brunswick has separate schools in practice in several cities and towns. Speaking generally it may be said that in St. John Protestant and Roman Catholic children do not go to school together until they reach the high school stage. All or nearly all the Roman Catholic children have teachers of their own faith, and if it is desired these children receive religious instruction after school hours. There is no dissatisfaction, so far as we know, over this arrangement, and no demand for mixed schools where this system is in operation.

But suppose that the parliament of Canada were to legislate that this system must continue in its present form forever? How would the people of New Brunswick like it? The interference would be resented by Protestants and Roman Catholics alike. It would be declared in the most emphatic way that the province was quite capable of taking care of its own schools.

The Northwest territories are not making such a protest as would be made here, because they have never had provincial rights. Having fought long in vain for self-government they are glad to get a part of what should have been allowed them long ago. By and by, when they feel the restraint they will be heard from. In the meantime there is a formal protest from many organizations and many individuals. The premier of the Northwest, many provincial public men, the superintendent of schools, the clergy and others interested, men whose attention is not limited to the mere incidents of the day, are making their voice heard as well as they can.

Even if there were no protest from the West the coercion clauses would not that account be justified. The assertion that this western school affair is no concern of the east is answered by the government itself and by those who forced this legislation upon the country. If the affair is a western question why do not the premier and the minister of justice leave it to the west? Who made it a question for the whole of Canada but the government which introduced it to the parliament of all Canada? If the school laws of the new provinces are to be dictated by the members of the east, it is a question for the people in the east whom those members represent are interested in the matter.

Moreover the scheme of coercion originated in the east. It began in Quebec, and is enacted on the demand of that province. Now the government of the west is not especially a monopoly of Quebec. It should be as much the right of the west to have a say in the matter as that of the east. A large proportion of those from Quebec are from the Eastern Townships, and probably a majority are not concerned about separate schools. It is therefore quite as lawful for the west to interfere against the coercion of the east as for Quebec to intervene in favor of it.

And again the interference with the rights of one province is a peril to all the others. We have Monsignor Barrett's word that he sought to induce the Manitoba government to re-establish separate schools in Manitoba. The Papal Delegate has studied the Canadian constitution long enough to know that this course would afford a ground for federal intervention in one these provinces should be afterwards abolished. This episode shows that every province which desires to retain its own autonomy must be always on guard. The remedial bill in every province was by Canadians in every province as a matter of concern to them. So is this matter of the coercion of the west.

THE LATE MR. JOHN McMILLAN.

For more than four score years the firm of J. and A. McMillan has been one of the institutions of this city, and for half that period the late Mr. John McMillan was identified with the establishment. Most of the people now living who have done business there have personally known no other head of the firm. Mr. John McMillan was a business man of the old school, courteous, dignified, punctilious and honorable. In the day, not so long ago, when the great part of the retail trade of the city was centred on Prince William street east of Market square, McMillan's bookstore was a great resort for reading people. The head of the house was an accomplished bookseller and a gentleman with whom residents and strangers found it a pleasure to do business. It would not be hard to find customers of the printing and binding establishment who have been dealing with the house for half a century. The same qualities which retained the establishment now growing old who began there in their youth and have known three generations of employers. In his private life Mr. McMillan was a man of kindly and popular ways, a good comrade, a genial host, who contributed largely to the social pleasure of his large circle of friends and acquaintances.

patrons enabled the firm to hold its

TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

HARCOURT, May 24.—A party of young people assembled at Mr. Thurber's last night in honor of Miss Miriam Freebren, who is soon to leave Harcourt much to the regret of her acquaintances.

The Wadswa Tennis Club met in annual tournament yesterday. Nine numbers were played. The event was a very enjoyable one both to players and to guests. The second court, marked off of this season, enables more play than heretofore.

The sets played were as follows: W. G. Thurber and Miss Minnie A. Buckley v. W. F. Buckley and Miss J. P. Dunn—4 to 5. L. P. Macmichael and Miss E. Tren-dia Wathen v. J. A. L. Wathen and Miss Beatrice F. Wilson—4 to 2. Rev. G. L. Freebren and Mrs. Dr. H. G. Fairbanks v. Denis A. Saulnier and Miss Kate M. Keswick—6 to 5. Misses S. S. Wilson and Bessie Ingraham v. Miss Keswick and Mrs. Freebren—4 to 2.

Messrs. Macmichael and Wathen v. Messrs. Freebren and D. A. Saulnier—3 to 1. Messrs. Thurber and Freebren v. Messrs. Buckley and Wathen—5 to 5. Mr. and Mrs. Thurber v. Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Saulnier—6 to 5. Misses Wilson and Buckley v. Misses Dunn and Wathen—4 to 3. Mr. Macmichael and Miss Wathen v. Mr. Thurber and Miss Buckley—6 to 5. Mr. and Mrs. Otty Bailey of Moncton spent Victoria Day with Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Wathen, J. P.

At the Methodist parsonage, Harcourt, on the 24th instant, by Rev. J. B. Champion, Miss Jennie Isabel Ack-ersley of Campbellton was married to William MacPherson of Moulton River, Kent Co. The couple will reside at the groom's village.

LIVING TOO HASTILY CANADIAN WOMEN BREAK DOWN

Irregularities and Female Derangements Result—Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

The woman in twenty-five but what suffers with some derangement of the female organism, and this is the secret of so many unhappy troubles.

No woman can be amiable, light-hearted and happy, a joy to her husband and children, and perform the duties incumbent upon her, while she is suffering with backache, headache, nervousness, sleeplessness, bearing-down pains, displacement of the womb, spinal weakness or ovarian troubles.

I suffered for four years with what the doctors called inflammation of the fallopian tubes, which is a most distressing female disease, undermining the constitution and sapping the life force.

At the first indication of ill health, such as painful or irregular menstruation, secure at once a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and begin its use.

RUSSIAN CAVALRY BADLY DEFEATED.

They Were Driven Back With Heavy Loss.

Admiral Birleff Will Not Succeed

Rojestvensky Unless the Latter is Defeated or Killed.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 23, 1.38 P. M.—The Associated Press was informed at the admiralty this afternoon that no direct advice have been received from Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky for ten days, when it is believed he set out on his long voyage.

The great bone of contention in connection with this method is the alleged delay in getting the logs to the lower points. As a matter of fact, the sheer booms are used everywhere on the river, and save a great expense in driving.

As a matter of fact, in the Douglas boom, just above Fernald, the logs wintered over 40,000,000 feet of logs and at present there is about 60,000,000 feet and a delay of a short time at Van Buren can in no way retard the starting operations of the mill as Fernald, as the logs they have on hand will last at least from four to five months.

Should Rojestvensky come out of the fight, victorious and enjoying fair fame, it is considered to be a foregone conclusion that he will be rewarded by appointment to the supreme command. Fortunately the best relations exist between Rojestvensky and Admiral Birleff, and the latter would be glad to give way to his victorious colleague.

RUSSIAN CAVALRY DEFEATED.

TOKIO, May 23.—Mandchurian headquarters reporting today, says: "The Russian cavalry, which defeated the Japanese from the right bank of the Liao River, was frequently defeated by our rear guards. On May 20, after their failure in the vicinity of Tsingfangshen, they camped with the main strength at Siatotsu, twenty-six miles from Fakuken, and May 21 they retreated to the right bank of the Malien River. In the meantime a few companies of the enemy remaining on the left bank of the Malien River were defeated and retreated northward in disorder. Otherwise the situation is unchanged.

Mr. Wheeler, who was 64 years of age, is survived by a widow and two daughters at Fowling, and a son in New York.

Claim Injunction is Ridiculous.

Maine Lumbermen Say New Brunswick Concerns Want But Cannot Have the Entire Astostook Growth.

(Bangor News.)

The case regarding the obstruction of the St. John river by the St. John Lumber Co. is considered by the Maine lumbermen along that river as not only ridiculous, but serious. They say, and it is a well known fact that the New Brunswick contention will be bitterly opposed.

The great bone of contention in connection with this method is the alleged delay in getting the logs to the lower points. As a matter of fact, the sheer booms are used everywhere on the river, and save a great expense in driving.

As for sheer booms the St. John lumbermen have been scattered along the river, and above Fort Kent on the New Brunswick side, they have them at Kennedy Island, and Conner's Station, and in places in the interest and for the benefit of those who reside at the mouth of the river, in the city of St. John.

Peter C. Keegan, one of the most prominent attorneys in Aroostook county, a resident of Van Buren, and a man thoroughly familiar with the situation on the St. John river, made the following statements to a News reporter in Van Buren on Monday:

"The conditions in New Brunswick are peculiar. The city of St. John has always been and always will be the province of New Brunswick, for the simple reason that it will never allow any other place in or out of the province to grow. The counties along the St. John river for the most part, with the exception in a measure of the county of York, have not and are not allowed to place in or out of the city of St. John is willing to allow to Northern Maine.

"Nor do they complain. They have been accustomed all their days to existing conditions, and they can understand that things can ever be any better. They are allowed the same privilege which has been heretofore enjoyed by the citizens of northern Aroostook; of seeing the lumber from the St. John river, and that is enough for them. The average man would consider it almost sacrilege to think of building a dam on the bank of the St. John, and stopping the flow of the river to manufacture them, and the petty politicians who control in the several counties along the river, would not dare to do so, for they are well aware of the consequences and of the influence of the lumbermen of the big men, notably the lumbermen of St. John city.

"The St. John lumbermen are dealing with a different kind of matter. We are not, and do not propose to become serfs—we know our rights, and knowing them, dare maintain them and we feel assured that so long as we are in the river, we can rely upon the support of our government and people. The attorney general of New Brunswick, that no one who knows better than we do, is a different kind of matter. We are not, and do not propose to become serfs—we know our rights, and knowing them, dare maintain them and we feel assured that so long as we are in the river, we can rely upon the support of our government and people.

"That portion of the Ashburton treaty which refers to the river as a boundary line is declared to be the boundary line, and the navigation of said river shall be free and open to both parties and not obstructed by either; that product of the forest, in logs, lumber, timber, boards, staves or shingles shall have free access into and through said river and tributaries." Up to 1842 the boundary point was disputed. From 1842 until 1886 it was held in reciprocity, and from 1886 it was ruled by the Pike law, which has been renewed from time to time since.

The Pike law, according to section 20, vol. 2, of the U. S. statutes is as follows: "That the product of the forest of the state of Maine upon the river and its tributaries, owned by American citizens, and sawed or hewed by American citizens, the same being otherwise unmanufactured, in whole or in part, which is now admitted into the United States free of duty, shall continue to be so admitted under such regulations as the secretary of treasury shall from time to time prescribe."

The law was regarded as a necessity before Aroostook county had a railroad, and the logs had to be floated down the river, but the Maine have changed, and with the Bangor Aroostook railroad touching two or more points in the lumbering districts, the law is no longer necessary, as it is possible to get the lumber out by rail as well as water.

Under cover of the Pike law, from one to two hundred millions of American logs are floated down each year to Fredericton and St. John, and are manufactured there. They are used to build up those cities and provinces generally, and by this act, our citizens living in northern Maine have been deprived and are being deprived from the manufacture of their own lumber, and kept in comparative poverty, while their wealth is carried off to enrich the stranger. The stranger is proving ungrateful, for after becoming fattened at our expense, now objects to the use of the St. John river, or any portion of it, without being able to show the least damage to their interests.

During a period of 22 years, this river has been utilized as a public highway for the benefit and for the promotion of the interests of the inhabitants of the Saint John valley only, and especially in the interest and for the benefit of those who reside at the mouth of the river, in the city of St. John.

THE EMPIRE'S NEED.

Col. Denison Writes to the London Times

Showing That Salisbury Had Been Impressed With Need of Better Fiscal Relations Between England and Colonies.

LONDON, May 17.—The Times today contains an interesting letter from Lieut. Col. G. T. Denison of Toronto in which the president of the British Empire League in Canada makes it very plain that for years before his death, the late Marquis of Salisbury had been impressed with the urgent need of a revision of the fiscal relations between the mother country and the outlying portions of the Empire.

BOLD BURGLARS FROM MONCTON.

MONCTON, N. B., May 23.—Burglars made a bold attempt to rob the residence of Simon B. Leblanc, merchant at Lezer Corner, last night. Their object was probably money, as Mr. Leblanc is supposed to have the proceeds of the day's business in his house. Shortly after midnight Mr. Leblanc heard noises below stairs, and striking a light frightened the burglars away. Entrance had been effected through the collar, and from signals given it was evident that two or more parties were concerned. Police were telephoned and on investigation the neighborhood was found to have been recently occupied. The burglars, it is suspected, were from Moncton.

A REMARKABLE STORY

WOMAN TELLS OF HER FOURTEEN YEARS OF SUFFERING.

From Buffalo, N. Y., comes a startling story, illustrating how much suffering a woman can bear and yet live. Mrs. H. J. Rehner, 189 London St., that city, says: "Soon after the end of my first child, 14 years ago, I was afflicted with a most distressing ailment, which at the time was very dangerous to my life. After hearing my arguments, Lord Salisbury said that he felt that the real way to consolidate the Empire would be by a Zollverein and a free trade union. This was substantially our policy and I begged of him to say something on that line publicly, as it would be a great help to us in our struggle with the Empire League, which at the time was a very dangerous agitation. # SERMON.

Life Here and Hereafter; by Dr. J. Wesley Hill.

Dr. J. Wesley Hill, of Brooklyn, N. Y., Methodist Episcopal church, preached recently on "Life here and hereafter." The text was from I Corinthians xiii: 12: "For now we see through a glass darkly, but then face to face; now I know in part; but then shall I know even as also I am known."

Our text is a strain from Paul's inimitable psalm of praise to love. By a stroke or two of inspired genius he throws his theme into high relief; compares it, analyzes it, and crowns it. He declares that knowledge is fragmentary, love complete; science limited, love infinite; theology partial, love perfect; and therefore, that the perfection of human character is the perfection of love.

Our text is the announcement of this fact, that human knowledge is marginal, fragmentary and incomplete, that it is a condition of limitation and darkness, where things are seen by reflection, and knowledge at its best is dimmed by the shadow of mystery, for "we see darkly."

"This life is an underground existence at its best. Once in a while we come to the surface, see some of the great infinite fields of light above us—and then we are covered by some brainy autumn leaf and obscured; and the blooming and fruiting are over yonder."

But there are those who proceed upon an entirely different basis. They speculate the possibilities of perfect knowledge of the universe, that theology can be laid bare to the core, infinity reduced to a science and wisdom section be performed on the Almighty. This knowledge is classified as "systematic theology" and the Bible is cited as its text book; but the Bible encourages no such assumption. It enters into no technical analysis of the divine attributes, makes no attempt to map out the infinite, nor to lift the veil of the eternal. To the contrary, it rebukes the bold ambition that would scale the battlements of the supernatural or seek to annex the throne of God to the domain of scientific knowledge. "Canst thou by searching find out God? Canst thou know all the Almighty unto perfection?"

This is an age of exploration and discovery. But why is it that the explorer, the man of science, the discoverer has brought back no tidings of God? Why, when science and philosophy have advanced triumphantly to the drum beat of progress, has the knowledge of God retreated, compelling the apostles of worldly wisdom to confess their ignorance in the very name they have given the divine being, "the Unknown?"

He is utterly wanting in earnestness and sincerity? No! We would not so harshly judge them. They have been sincere seekers of truth. With bleeding hands and lacerated feet, they have felt and groped in the darkness, in adventure they might catch the day-spring of eternal hope. They have sought the golden dust of the sky with their glasses and discovered worlds; they have torn open the crust of the earth and explored bygone ages; they have made the universe tributary to their conquests and fondly hoped, in like manner to storm the abode of the Almighty and gaze upon His face. But all in vain their presumption. "The infinite cannot be covered by the finite by man's boldest conceit. No aspiring Columbus can track the boundless continent of His abode. No adventurous Franklin can experiment with the dynamo of God's energy and discover, How, then, is He to be known. Once, and once only, it is recorded that our Lord, usually a "Man of Sorrows," "rejoiced with exultation in the mystery that was the occasion of that extraordinary rapture? Listen to His own explanation: "I thank thee, Father that Thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes and sucklings!"

And the meaning of this declaration is simply this, that spiritual truth must be spiritually discerned, and that will not the organ with which to lay hold upon God, any more than you can see a picture with your eyes, or hear music with your ears. You cannot weigh truth in scales nor measure love with a yardstick, nor demonstrate Christian truth with a syllogism. You cannot discover God as you discover an asteroid or a new principle of mathematics; a new law in sociology. Super-natural things must be supernaturally discerned.

Because Christianity is a system of revelation rather than demonstration. Its profound mysteries baffling the power of the human mind to penetrate them, rationalism pronounces it false. If it can be shown, however, that the intent of revelation is to involve in mystery that man, towards whom it is directed, cannot possibly understand it, then the objection is valid. But what it professes to reveal is clear to every intelligent mind; it reveals facts so related to the infinite as to render the modes of their existence mysterious, but the facts are none the less clear. The mind cannot originate an idea transcending its own power, neither can it entertain such an idea. Could it do so, then effect would be greater than cause, and instead of mystery there would be an absurdity. Christianity is not an absurdity, because it violates no law of reason. It is a mystery, on account of its magnitude and the relation it sustains to the supernatural. The mysteries of modes, not of facts. The revelations of revealed religion are the revelations of facts, not of modes. These facts are supreme. They shine like fixed stars in the firmament, tower like massive peaks out of the mountain range, stand like rugged columns upon which the vast superstructure of Christian faith. We may not be able to interpret the language of the stars, but their radiance illumines the darkness and saves us from stumbling; ours may not be the ability to measure or weigh or calculate or climb those dizzy summits, but their greatness is our defense, their hidden treasures our wealth and their living waters our strength and salvation; we cannot lift those massive columns or understand the mystery of their power, but we may behold their strength and beauty, feel their security, rejoice beneath the encircling arms of redemption, gaze into the starlit dome

THEIR DIAMOND WEDDING.

Aged Acadian Couple Celebrated 60th Anniversary on May 13th.

An aged Acadian family lately celebrated the happy anniversary of their past days. On May 13th Monsieur and Madame Hippolyte Galland of Barachois enjoyed the honor reserved for a very few people of seeing the 60th anniversary of their wedding while enjoying the best of health. Mr. Galland is the son of the late Thos. Galland, one of the first settlers of the parish of Barachois, and Helen Hache of Minuidu. Madame Galland was formerly Agnes Leger, the daughter of the late Amable Leger and the late Euphrasie LeBlanc of Fox Creek. She is now the wife of Mr. Galland, younger than her husband. Mr. Galland was the first Acadian of Westmorland county appointed a Justice of the Peace, and held that position for fifty years. They have six children, Calixte, Philippe, Hippolyte, Marguerite, Justine and Olympe. M. Galland is widely known, and his numerous friends will unite in wishing this venerable couple a happy career.

DEATH OF MRS. J. E. GODARD.

The death took place Wednesday of Mrs. Godard, widow of John F. Godard, of this city. She was a member of the most active and prominent men in the north end. Mrs. Godard was a daughter of the late Thomas MacKinnon, who was eighty years of age, and died on Sunday celebrated her birthday. She has been in poor health for some time, and is survived by seven children, five daughters and two sons. The daughters are Mrs. J. O. Parrabro; Mrs. G. D. Hunter, Mrs. R. D. Taylor and Mrs. S. T. Vaughan of St. John, and the sons are Fred and John W. Godard, also of this city. Mrs. Godard was a very worthy woman, and among older residents had many warm friends, who will hear of her death with regret. Her husband, the late John F. Godard, at one time was a member of the legislature. He was best known to the present generation as the town clerk of Portland and was a very worthy citizen.

SACKVILLE.

SACKVILLE, N. B., May 25.—The late of the graduating recitals was given Monday evening by Miss Sara MacKinnon of Amherst, N. S., who wins a diploma for piano. The performance was in every way a success. The usual bouquet with which all the graduates have been favored, was presented and the audience was keenly appreciative of the player's good points. Miss MacKinnon was assisted by John F. Godard, who is a most pleasing elocutionist.

The members of the Y. W. C. A., which includes nearly all the students of the Ladies' College, are about to give a grand party at the Y. M. C. A. It will contain much interesting information relative to the Ladies' College.

BOARD OF HEALTH AND DOCTOR ROW.

(Chatham Commercial.)
A very unpleasant incident occurred at a meeting of the board of health Saturday, which caused Dr. McDonald to resign. His resignation was in connection with the smallpox epidemic which has been so great that the board considered it would be wise to begin lessening it, as the scare is now over. Last week it was estimated that the town had a day to maintain the isolation hospital, including $18 per day paid the attending physician. The first cut in the expenses was to take an $8 slice off Dr. McDonald's salary, from $100 to $92 per day to finish up the week. Against this the doctor vigorously protested, but the board was determined, so the doctor's resignation was accepted. The resignation was accepted by the board, and the doctor's resignation was accepted by the board.

PROPER TREATMENT FOR SPRAINS.

Doctors say that nothing relieves a sprained joint so promptly as a good rubbing with Nerviline. It is a good man at the hospital became ill, and Dr. McDonald refused to comply with the board's order to attend her, unless it intended engaging him at the hospital. The doctor's resignation was accepted by the board, and the doctor's resignation was accepted by the board.

SENATOR HALE THINKS PROBLEM SHOULD WAIT.

St. John River Question Must be Considered by Special Commission at Next Session of Congress.
WASHINGTON, May 24.—The Canadian members of the international deep waterway commission are insistent that the St. John river navigation question be considered by the joint commission. They are under written instructions from their government to treat this subject in connection with the larger problems of lake navigation and submergence of riparian lands through the construction of dams. When Charge O'Brien yesterday brought this matter to the attention of Secretary Taft the latter telegraphed Senator Hale for his advice, as he did several weeks ago when the suggestion was first made. The senator's reply was received this afternoon and amounted in substance to a repetition of his first message, namely, that the St. John river question should not be included in the commission's work but should be allowed to await the creation of a special commission at the next session of congress. Attorney General Moody has rendered an opinion to the effect that the terms of that section of the river and harbor act of 1878 under which the deep waterway commission was created did not appear to include the St. John river project.

SAVED FROM DROWNING.

While the str. Elaine was going up river on an excursion yesterday afternoon those on board saw a small sail boat overturned in the Kennebecasis. The Elaine bore down on this boat and found a man who turned out to be Walter Chase, clinging to it, and in an exhausted condition. The wind was strong and the water rather rough, so that few of those on the Elaine seemed anxious to go to Mr. Chase's assistance. However, a boat was lowered and F. Larson and C. Morgan, two of the excursionists on the Elaine, went out in it and rescued Mr. Chase. "The Elaine was delayed for nearly an hour by this incident."
