

The Union Advocate.

A WEEKLY JOURNAL.

Our Country with its United Interests.

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

W. C. ENSLOW

Vol. XXII.—No. 33.

Newcastle, N. B., Wednesday, May 29, 1889.

WHOLE No. 1125.

BOYS' SUITS.

Largest, Cheapest and Best Assortment in the County, at
B. FAIREY'S.
 Boy's Shirts, Collars, Ties, Hats and Caps, at
B. FAIREY'S.
 Special Sales of Prints and Gingham. Extra value at very low prices, at
B. FAIREY'S.
 Newcastle.

LACE CURTAINS.

Rare Bargains in these goods, White or Cream from 85 cts. per pair, at
B. FAIREY'S,
 Newcastle.

Law and Collection Office
M. ADAMS,
 Barrister & Attorney at Law,
 Solicitor in Bankruptcy, Conveyancer, Notary Public, etc.
 Real Estate & Fire Insurance Agent.
 CLAIMS collected in all parts of Dominion.
 Office:—NEWCASTLE, N. B.

L. J. TWEEDIE,
 ATTORNEY & BARRISTER
 AT LAW.
 NOTARY PUBLIC,
 CONVEYANCER, &c.
 Chatham, N. B.
 OFFICE—Old Bank/Montreal.

J. D. PHINNEY,
 Barrister & Attorney at Law
 NOTARY PUBLIC, &c.,
 RICHMOND, N. B.
 OFFICE—COURT HOUSE SQUARE,
 May 4, 1889.

O. J. MacCULLY, M.A., M. D.
 Memb. BOT. SOC. LONDON, SPECIALIST IN
 DISEASES OF EYE, EAR & THROAT,
 Off. at Cor. Westmorland and Main Streets,
 Montreal, Nov. 12, 88.

Charles J. Thomson,
 Agent MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE Company of New York. The LARGEST INSURANCE Company in the World.
 Barrister, Proctor for Estates,
 Notary Public, &c.
 Claims Promptly Collected, and Professional Business in all its branches conducted with accuracy and dispatch.
 OFFICE,
 Engine House, Newcastle, Miramichi, N. B.

Dr. Desmond
 PHYSICIAN and SURGEON.
 Office and residence UNION HOTEL, Newcastle, N. B.
 Newcastle, June 4th, 1888.

Dr. R. Nicholson,
 Office and Residence,
 McLELLAN ST., NEWCASTLE
 Jan 22, 1889.

Dr. W. A. Ferguson,
 OFFICE up stairs in SUTHERLAND & CREGG'S building. Residence Waverley Hotel,
 Newcastle, March 12, 1889.

Dr. H. A. FISH,
 Newcastle, N. B.
 25, 1889.

KEARY HOUSE
 (Formerly WILBUR'S HOTEL.)
 BATHURST, N. B.
 THOS. F. KEARY, Proprietor.

TERMS $1.50 per day; with Sample Rooms $1.75.

CURE FOR THE LAME
 by DR. SWIFT. The well known bone-setter, physician and masseur. He will cure all cases of Lame Back, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Neuralgia, Headache, Stiff Neck, Sprains, Swellings, etc. He will also cure all cases of Paralysis, Dropsy, etc. He will give a free trial to all who apply for relief. He will also give a free trial to all who apply for relief. He will also give a free trial to all who apply for relief.

The Favorite Selected Literature.

MISS GARDINER.
 BY JAMES C. FERRY.
 Miss Gardiner, while looking through the advertisement columns of her favorite newspaper, the Morning Mirror, found the following lines, which she eagerly scanned:
 "WANTED.—A young woman of refinement (employed during the day), who can sing well and play the piano, can have free of charge, during the summer, a pleasant home in the country. Private family (mother and daughter). The morning greetings had hardly been exchanged when the ladies were startled by news of another burglary. The house nearest their own had been entered, and evidently by the same parties who had committed the previous outrage. As before, the people had been chloroformed, the house had been thoroughly ransacked, and everything of value had been bundled up, ready for removal; and as before, the property had all been left in the hall, by the open front door. The thieves had been frightened away the second time.
 "This new affair caused genuine dismay in the Malcom household, and Mrs. Malcom spoke about getting special guards to stay in the house at night. Grace tried to reassure her.
 "I really don't think we have much to fear," she said, "with so many strong men servants as are known to sleep on the premises. Burglars know what they are undertaking before they begin operations."
 "I cannot imagine why they should push their operations by leaving all the stolen property in the hall, then," said Jessie shortly.
 Grace laughed, and went her way.
 A little later, Mrs. Malcom, sitting in her own room, was startled to see Jessie enter abruptly and lock the door. Having done this unusual thing, the daughter placed in the mother's hand a stained and crumpled paper.
 "We may as well face it, mother dear," she said. "Read that."
 Mrs. Malcom smoothed out the paper and read:—Ellwood will be at Montgomerie's at two o'clock Thursday morning.
 "Why, my dear, what does this mean?" said Mrs. Malcom. "It was Mr. Montgomerie's house that was robbed last night. But who in the world is Ellwood? And where did you get this paper?"
 "Ellwood is the robber I suppose," replied Jessie, so excited that she trembled.
 "This is Thursday morning, you know. As to the paper—mother, I'd rather not fer anything than have it to tell you, but Grace Gardner dropped that paper between her and Mr. Montgomerie's after two o'clock this morning."
 "Grace Gardner! You're crazy, child!" "No mother, I am not; and I am as fond of Grace as you are. Between two and three o'clock this morning I heard a slight noise. I opened the door of my room—for I don't intend anybody shall chloroform me unless I know who it is—and I saw that there was a light in Grace Gardner's room. I was about to go to her, thinking she was sick, when she came softly out into the hall. She was all dressed, and wore a water-proof cloak and a thick veil. She hurried downstairs, and I heard her go out through the side door.
 Then, from my window, I saw her run across the lawn in the direction of Mr. Montgomerie's house. Of course there was no more sleep for me. I watched, and about an hour later she came in, as softly as she went out, and moving as if she were tired."
 "My dear," said Mrs. Malcom, with conviction, "you dreamed it all. You were nervous and upset on account of that first burglary, you know."
 "I thought that, too. But, after daylight, I went out, and there were her tracks in the dew, making a straight path across the lawn. I walked all about so as to hide the tracks, and then I found this paper where Grace had dropped it. I could make nothing of it then, of course; still I thought some other woman might have gone into Grace's room and out again, so I went there while you were doing up her hand, and in her closet I found her water-proof cloak and an old dress, all wet and dragged around the bottom, and a pair of her shoes soaked and muddy. Mother, that hand was hurt at Mr. Montgomerie's house in the course of that robbery—I am perfectly sure of it.
 At this moment a servant announced, through the closed door, that Mr. Fletcher was in the parlor to see the ladies. Mrs. Malcom hastily dried her tears of grievous distress.
 "Not a word to him of all this about Grace Gardner," she said, as she hastened away to receive her guest. Jessie took some time to steady herself before she followed.
 Mr. Fletcher explained that he had come out with just enough of a business grand to serve as an excuse. Really, he was off for a well earned holiday, and would stay all day if they could him, and all night too, if there was a room at his disposal. He could not have done a kinder thing, after the recent disturbing events, and he knew it. Of course these events were exhaustively discussed by all-door, and had fearlessly followed them. When she saw Grace, she clasped her hands and raised her eyes in a manner pitiful to see.

 But that was no gray-haired old man standing beside Miss Gardiner. It was a decidedly handsome young man, and he had his arm around her, while she seemed greatly agitated and in need of such support. Soberly now did Jessie repeat having kept watch this night, for the young man beside Grace Gardner was George Fletcher; and she had brought his father to see this dreadful revelation! She dared not look at the father, and the father made no sign. No need for sign or words. They could all see now why this degenerate son took no interest in the capture of Ellwood.—While Ellwood was free and at work, this young criminal could do his own guilty work unobserved.
 These recognitions had not occupied a moment of time, and now there was a further development. The side door of the dining-room had been placed slightly ajar, and it was very cautiously pushed open. It swung inward, and as it opened, Grace and young Fletcher were behind it. A man's head was thrust through the opening, and then the man himself stepped in the room. The dim light showed them that he was tall and well formed, and had the bearing of a gentleman, in spite of the business he was in. His hair was white, and his face was handsome. Yes; this was undoubtedly Ellwood. So there were three confederates.
 As Ellwood appeared in the room, Grace stepped quickly forward and stood in front of him, straight, fearless and silent. All at once Jessie knew that this girl was not an accomplice, but an accuser, and a pang of remorse smote her heart. The man started slightly, but seemed less surprised than might have been expected.
 "I thought you would let me alone after what I gave you last night," he said, in a low tone, pointing to her injured hand.
 "How can I let you alone? I have given you two chances within the week to escape without adding to your guilt; why did you not take them, and go where you could be an honest man?"
 "Because," he replied, with a slight laugh, "I want to get something to be honest with. Now, you know, Grace, I'm too fond of you to hurt you if I can help it; but I've given up two jobs to please you, and I'm going to finish this one."
 You will not finish it," said Grace, still in the same low tones, but at the same time, with terrible intensity. "You know how I have watched over you and guarded you from arrest ever since you made your escape. I gave up my work, and sacrificed the first real peace I have known since I first learned what you were, that I might try to keep you from fresh crimes. But I told you last night that if you came here—to the house of my friends—I would send you back to prison; and unless you leave here this instant and promise never to return, I'll keep my word!"
 "You will?" said the man, putting his hand behind him. "I've had enough of this! Now—"
 Before he could speak the next word, or withdraw his hand, a blow from George Fletcher's fist had sent Ellwood heading to the floor, and the young man's hand on his throat, was holding him down. At the same instant the elder Mr. Fletcher, with the bound of an athlete, was beside the prostrate burglar, a cocked revolver in his hand. Mrs. Malcom and Jessie ran after him, screaming, and Grace threw herself upon her knees at Ellwood's side, and put her arms about him.
 "Oh, father," she cried, "forgive me! It breaks my heart; but what could I do?"
 "Don't distress yourself, my dear girl. I'll have to be honest now, you know," said Ellwood, with a grim laugh.
 Mrs. Malcom and Jessie were already on their knees beside Grace, their arms around her, their tears and kisses on her face, and their words of love and repentance in her ears. Mr. Fletcher and George got the three women upon their feet at last, and the elder gentleman, taking Grace's hand in his, said, "My dear ladies, it is my special pride that this brave girl is my friend, and my still greater pride that she is to be my son's wife. And I know that you are still her friends."
 No answer was needed, but Mrs. Malcom managed to exclaim, with tearful emphasis: "Friend! She is my second daughter, and my home is hers, always."
 "Well, not exactly always, Mrs. Malcom," said George Fletcher.
 At this moment it was discovered that Ellwood had utterly vanished. He was never seen again by those who sought him.

proceeded to bathe and bind up the wounded hand.
 "Why," she said, "it looks almost as if it had been bitten. I don't see how you managed to hurt it so. Well, there's no going to the city for you to-day with that hand. That's decided!"
 "Oh, I must go to-day—to-day of all days!" the girl cried, vehemently. And then, as if recollecting herself, she laughed pleasantly, and said; "There are two or three things I want to attend to in the city to-day, and, indeed, I am quite able to go."
 "Miss Jessie was in the breakfast room before then, and seemed in a somewhat grim and unsatisfactory humor. The morning greetings had hardly been exchanged when the ladies were startled by news of another burglary. The house nearest their own had been entered, and evidently by the same parties who had committed the previous outrage. As before, the people had been chloroformed, the house had been thoroughly ransacked, and everything of value had been bundled up, ready for removal; and as before, the property had all been left in the hall, by the open front door. The thieves had been frightened away the second time.
 "This new affair caused genuine dismay in the Malcom household, and Mrs. Malcom spoke about getting special guards to stay in the house at night. Grace tried to reassure her.
 "I really don't think we have much to fear," she said, "with so many strong men servants as are known to sleep on the premises. Burglars know what they are undertaking before they begin operations."
 "I cannot imagine why they should push their operations by leaving all the stolen property in the hall, then," said Jessie shortly.
 Grace laughed, and went her way.
 A little later, Mrs. Malcom, sitting in her own room, was startled to see Jessie enter abruptly and lock the door. Having done this unusual thing, the daughter placed in the mother's hand a stained and crumpled paper.
 "We may as well face it, mother dear," she said. "Read that."
 Mrs. Malcom smoothed out the paper and read:—Ellwood will be at Montgomerie's at two o'clock Thursday morning.
 "Why, my dear, what does this mean?" said Mrs. Malcom. "It was Mr. Montgomerie's house that was robbed last night. But who in the world is Ellwood? And where did you get this paper?"
 "Ellwood is the robber I suppose," replied Jessie, so excited that she trembled.
 "This is Thursday morning, you know. As to the paper—mother, I'd rather not fer anything than have it to tell you, but Grace Gardner dropped that paper between her and Mr. Montgomerie's after two o'clock this morning."
 "Grace Gardner! You're crazy, child!" "No mother, I am not; and I am as fond of Grace as you are. Between two and three o'clock this morning I heard a slight noise. I opened the door of my room—for I don't intend anybody shall chloroform me unless I know who it is—and I saw that there was a light in Grace Gardner's room. I was about to go to her, thinking she was sick, when she came softly out into the hall. She was all dressed, and wore a water-proof cloak and a thick veil. She hurried downstairs, and I heard her go out through the side door.
 Then, from my window, I saw her run across the lawn in the direction of Mr. Montgomerie's house. Of course there was no more sleep for me. I watched, and about an hour later she came in, as softly as she went out, and moving as if she were tired."
 "My dear," said Mrs. Malcom, with conviction, "you dreamed it all. You were nervous and upset on account of that first burglary, you know."
 "I thought that, too. But, after daylight, I went out, and there were her tracks in the dew, making a straight path across the lawn. I walked all about so as to hide the tracks, and then I found this paper where Grace had dropped it. I could make nothing of it then, of course; still I thought some other woman might have gone into Grace's room and out again, so I went there while you were doing up her hand, and in her closet I found her water-proof cloak and an old dress, all wet and dragged around the bottom, and a pair of her shoes soaked and muddy. Mother, that hand was hurt at Mr. Montgomerie's house in the course of that robbery—I am perfectly sure of it.
 At this moment a servant announced, through the closed door, that Mr. Fletcher was in the parlor to see the ladies. Mrs. Malcom hastily dried her tears of grievous distress.
 "Not a word to him of all this about Grace Gardner," she said, as she hastened away to receive her guest. Jessie took some time to steady herself before she followed.
 Mr. Fletcher explained that he had come out with just enough of a business grand to serve as an excuse. Really, he was off for a well earned holiday, and would stay all day if they could him, and all night too, if there was a room at his disposal. He could not have done a kinder thing, after the recent disturbing events, and he knew it. Of course these

THIS YEAR'S
MYRTLE
 CUT AND PLUG
 SMOKING TOBACCO
 FINER THAN EVER.

See
T & B
 In Bronze on Each PLUG and PACKAGE.

FOR THE
 Handkerchief,
 THE Toilet
 AND The Bath.

Beware of Counterfeits.

MURRAY & LANMAN'S
Florida Water.
 The Universal Perfume.

ESTEY'S YOUR BLOOD want toning up. You have no appetite, and what you do eat distresses you. You are low spirited and languid. You are nervous, and at night roll and toss on your bed and cannot sleep. This is all caused by your system being run down and requiring something to brace it up, and make you feel all right again. To secure this you should take
ESTEY'S IRON
 IRON
 IRON
 IRON

ESTEY'S Iron and Quinine Tonic.
 After using it for a short time you will find
 Your appetite improved, your spirits become more cheerful, and you feel and know that every fibre and tissue of your body is being braced and renovated.

ESTEY'S IRON AND QUININE TONIC
 Is sold by Druggists everywhere. Be sure and get the genuine. Price 60 cents, 6 bottles, $2.50.
 Prepared only by E. M. ESTEY, Montreal, N. B.

CASTORIA
 for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. Acheson, M. D., 211 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Eruptions, Itch, Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion. Without injurious medication.

THE CHATELAIN COMPANY, 77 Murray Street, N. Y.

sleep of profound intoxication, or in the wild maniacal ravings of delirium tremens. By slow and measured steps, in most cases by inducing cirrhosis of the liver, Bright's disease of the kidneys, ascites, rheumatism, rhenumatic gout, defective vision, fatty degeneration of the heart, arteries and muscular system, finally end in paralysis, imbecility and insanity, alcohol enervates its victims in irremediable and everlasting ruin. Without doubt alcohol occasions a vast amount of disease over the face of this mighty republic, and carries death, destruction, dishonor and shame into thousands of happy homes. Alcohol is at the bottom of a large proportion of the crime committed in the United States. Alcohol degrades reason and poisons the fountain of sentiment and morals, and is even more destructive upon the moral and intellectual nature than upon the physical nature of man.

THE TRUE POLICY.
 "What a man sows, that shall he also reap." What a man casts his vote for, that he may expect. If we vote for either of the old parties we need not expect anything but evil and stumbling blocks for our boys. We can not expect an oak tree to bring forth pear or peaches, neither can we expect a whiskey vote to bring a temperate land. A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit. So by the vote of a man we shall know him. As for us we having only some idea less, we will see about that. "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and his righteousness, and all these shall be added unto you."—Mat. 6: 33. We have not found any machine so far that can plow our ground, sow our seed and bring forth to the surface all at the same time.

It is true the people of this day are very smart, but find a machine that can do that please! It is so with this one idea business. We will take this one idea business first and then we will take out side issues as they come. "Broad is the road that leads to darkness, and narrow is the way that leads to life, and whosoever will enter therein, let him be warned."—Mat. 7: 13. The opportunity is now before us to choose either to vote to bring our boys down to destruction or to save them from the grave. The Bible says that no drunkard shall enter into the Kingdom of Heaven. Now Christian friends, while the opportunity is placed before us to-day, will we save our boys from such a every neighborhood and county there is many an unweary soul that might be saved by the help of a Christian voter.

THE CIGARETTE EYE.
 A New York oculist says the greatest enemy to the eyes of young men is the cigarette. Recently a disease has appeared among smokers which is dangerous, and after careful investigation the best authorities, who for a long time were at a loss to understand the peculiar malady, have traced it to the small paper covered tobacco sticks. It is now known as the "cigarette eye," and can be cured only by long treatment. Its symptoms are dimness and film-gathering over the eye, which appears and disappears at intervals.
 A physician, satisfied that there was danger in this form of tobacco, had a cigarette analyzed. The result was a startling one. The tobacco was found to be strongly impregnated with opium; while the wrapper, which was warranted to be rice paper, was proven to be the most ordinary quality of paper, white with arsenic, the two poisons combined being present in sufficient quantities to create in the smoker the habit of using opium without his being aware of it, and which craving can only be satisfied by an incessant consumption of cigarettes.—Ez.

NOT ONE.
 The Pollack's News has a column of "Temperance Jotting." A late item says: "Some time since a local quarrel, while speaking with the master of Elham Union on the importance of Temperance, asked the question, 'Have you any inmates who are total abstainers?' He replied, 'Before I came to this workhouse I was several years governor of a prison, and I have been master of this workhouse nearly 20 years. I do not remember at any time to have had a total abstainer under my charge!'"

Temperance.
 IT DOES THE BUSINESS.
 The N. Y. Pharmaceutical Record says: "Alcohol does not destroy its victims, in most cases, suddenly, as in the dead

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

The Union Advocate.

Established 1867. NEWCASTLE, MIRAMICHI, N. B. WEDNESDAY, MAY 29, 1889.

Sons of Temperance.

HISTORICAL DISTRICT DIVISION.

The second quarterly meeting of the Historigue District Division was held in the Division Room, Campbellton, on Wednesday morning last. Mr. John Malouin, sr., District W. P. in the chair. There was a fair attendance, with a number of visiting brothers, members of the Grand Division. After the usual order of business was gone through with the visiting brothers were asked for information as to the working of District Divisions in other parts of the province, and in response many valuable suggestions were made as to the best means of making effective the work of District Divisions. Among the most important of these dates was the fraternal visiting of the Divisions within their jurisdictions, especially those weak in numbers and usefulness; the holding of public meetings in sections where Divisions might be successfully instituted and the important suggestion made in his earnest address by G. W. P. James Watts, Esq., that every meeting of District Divisions held should be closed by a public temperance meeting. The following gentlemen were called upon and expressed their views in reference to District Divisions:—

Dr. W. P. Bishop, A. J. W. McKee, W. E. Baker of New Bedford Division, Bathurst; George Hadow, of Dalton Division; Daniel McGrath, of C. Anselow of Newcastle Division; D. Thomson, G. S. of Abbot Division; St. John, A. Y. of Parsons, G. A. of Portland Division, Portland, St. John; W. J. Robinson and W. H. Price, of Inter-colonial Division, Moncton; Donald Stewart of Louisbourg Division; and Rev. Mr. Chappell, of Campbellton Division.

Dundas was the place appointed for the next session of Historigue District Division, on the 24th of June. A special committee was appointed to endeavor to resuscitate Tide Head Division. The resolution exacting a quarterly fee of 20 cents from members, passed at the first meeting of this Division, was on motion rescinded.

METTING OF GRAND DIVISION.

The semi-annual session of the Grand Division of New Brunswick was called to order by the G. W. P. at 2.30 o'clock. The following officers were in their places:— James Watts, G. W. P.; A. T. Patterson, G. W. A.; J. J. Crawford, G. C. J. The vacancies were filled and the Grand Division duly opened. W. C. Whitaker, Grand Treasurer, of St. John, while on his way to Campbellton, had received a telegram informing him of the death of his uncle Mr. Stephen Whitaker, of Fredericton, and had to return.

The report of the Grand Worthy Pathe and Grand Serje showed considerable increase since the annual session in October last. Nine new divisions have been instituted and five re-constituted, and two sections of Cadets of Temperance instituted. Allusion was made to the death of two prominent members of the Order. The G. S. in his report says:—

"Since we last met in annual session, death has entered our ranks and deprived us of two, who may be justly termed Fathers of Our Order, whose names have been connected with it from its early years, and who for many years have been members of the Grand Division and also the National Division—G. W. P. Bro. Thos. W. Blais, of Richibucto Division, who died in January, aged 86; he always held a prominent position in the Order, and was a zealous member of his Division up to the time of his death; and P. G. W. A. Bro. C. D. Everett of Gurney Division, who died in April, aged 86. He filled various offices of his Division, becoming a representative to this Grand Division in 1882. He was 14 years Grand Treasurer, and he filled the office of G. W. A. and he elected a representative of the National Division. They were, without doubt, noble spirits, and have passed to their reward, but their memory will remain green to many who admired and revered them for their unflinching and noble efforts to save the tide of intemperance in this province."

The report of the Grand Treasurer showed the balance on hand at the annual session $120.67. Since then the amount of $351.07 has been received and $898 paid out, leaving a balance on hand of $373.74.

The reports were referred to the committee on the state of the Order, were duly reported on at the evening session and passed.

An appeal was presented by members of Everard Division, Bathurst, against the action of that Division which was referred to the committee on Appeals. The appeal was sustained by the committee and the action of Everard Division reversed. Report was adopted. Other matters of interest were introduced and after full discussion were disposed of in accordance with the views of the majority of those present. The committee on enrolment presented their report and the Grand Division proceeded to close.

PUBLIC MEETING.

A public temperance meeting was announced to be held in the Methodist Church on Wednesday evening, James Watts, Esq., G. W. P., and editor of the Carleton Sentinel, occupied the chair. The choir was in attendance and sang an opening hymn. The following gentlemen were called upon to address the meeting—W. C. Anselow, P. G. W. P.; H. H. Pitts, P. G. W. A.; W. J. Robinson, P. G. W. P.; and the G. W. P. The doxology was then sung, the benediction pronounced by Rev. Mr. Chappell and the meeting then closed, the members of the Grand Division returning to the hall to complete the business of the session. The annual session will be held at St. Stephen in October next.

The Queen's Birthday.

Although no announcement was made in Newcastle that the 24th would be kept as a public holiday, yet most of the stores were closed. The day was cool, with wind from the east, and threatening rain, which however kept off until about seven o'clock in the evening. The pupils of the schools in town had an enjoyable day on Beaver's Island and several private parties also went over. The scholars returned just before the rain commenced. The trips of the Nelson were well patronized.

The World says—The 24th was pretty generally observed as a holiday in Chatham. One or two places of business were kept open, however, much to the disgust of those in the same line who closed. A large number of members of Temperance societies, headed by the Chatham Convention, went to Fredericton by rail, and a large percentage of the population took to the water. The Nelson was well patronized all day, and a large number went down river in the Miramichi. The wind was easterly and fresh, and the lower reaches of the river very rough. Many of the excursionists were sea-sick. Mr. Hutchison's Mintoak took a party to Bay du Vin Island, Mr. Crocker's Basile went down river, Mr. Miller's Lilly, the N. B. Trading Co's Grip and other small steamers were very slow work of excursion seekers. The Miramichi Yacht Club, with the exception of the Black Bronco, did not start at Canadian Marsh at 10 o'clock and spent the day in sailing between that point and Middle Island. The wind was light all the forenoon, and beating down against the flood tide was very slow work of excursion seekers. About 9 o'clock the Polymorphine parade started from the grounds in the vicinity of the skating rink and followed the route laid out in the programme, headed by the Campbellton band which made its first appearance to-day, and by no means were a discredit to the town, the visitors speaking in high terms of their playing.

The parade was a success both in length and variety, comprising the ridiculous and the wonderful in every imaginable shape. Mr. McIntyre, of McIntyre's Hotel, had a menagerie of the noted characters of Campbellton on his wagon, comprising "Little Aiken," "Silas," an antediluvian nigger, and "Bob Poor," the celebrated stump speaker. The "Ox-cart," which had on board "our country cousins," was well gotten up and carried out by D. C. Galan and Mr. Duncan. Drivers Thomas and Price also had a good show, while Dr. Daly with "a razor in his beard" was very funny. A number of clowns whose identity is yet unknown acted their parts in a "clownish manner." The characters represented by Mr. F. Matheson and Mr. Duncan were also gotten up in good style. Mr. LeBlanc's showmaker shop, and Mr. P. Leary's house building was also a prominent feature as was Mr. Lacasse's barber shop. "Over the Garden Wall," by W. L. Anderson and Geo. Shannon and a number of other "poles,"—as they say in Moncton bills—too numerous to mention.

The next on the programme were the "Clowns." The events were well managed by Mr. L. E. Brown. There were first 6 or 7 crews of Indians in the water race, and three canoes paddled by squaws in the second race. Your correspondent can not spell the winners' names, and we will call them Sam. The log race was won by Robert Duff.

In the afternoon a base ball match was played between the Newcastle and Campbellton teams and was won by the latter by 12 runs and an inning to spare. The Newcastle boys are gentlemen, and our boys hope to meet them again on the diamond. The game was umpired by Mr. John A. Fisher, of the Pioneer, the scores being Mr. P. W. Sommers, of Moncton, for Campbellton, and R. L. Walker, of Chatham Junction, for the Newcastle boys. The following are the teams: Newcastle—Bowler, cf; Stratton, lf; Lewis, rf; Traer, cf; Smallwood, 2f; Higgins, c; R. Cogan, ss; King, 3b; McQuinn, p. Campbellton—Haines, lf; Dickie, rf; Price, cf; Thomas, p; Bourchard, lf; Morison, 2b; Daley, cf; Anderson, ss; Deboe, 3b. At the close cheers were given for the Newcastle team, Mr. J. E. Price, honorary president, and the umpire. The other sports were well carried out, the day was resulting in a victory for Capt. Howe Taylor.

A great many visitors were in town and the field was crowded. In the evening a grand torchlight procession took place followed by a display of fire-works. No drinking was noticeable and everything passed off in good style.

Campbellton generally makes a success of every thing undertaken and the celebration of the Queen's birthday was no exception to this rule. The thanks of the committee are due to Mr. Malcolm Patterson for free use of seats for the ladies, of which there were a great number on the field. "God Save the Queen."—Moncton Times.

FREDERICTON.

FREDERICTON, May 24.—The temperance demonstration to-day, was quite successful. The children's procession was headed by Bryson's Band, and marched up Queen street to Westmoreland, out that street to King, down King to the Cathedral; thence up Queen to the City Hall, where a mass meeting was held, Judge Steadman presiding. Address pronounced by Rev. Mr. Chappell and the teaching of temperance in the public schools, the giving of the franchise to women, and the taking of a vote all over the Dominion on the question of total prohibition.

Restigouche Notes.

Most of the spruce logs which were cut last winter on the river Benjamin, the tributaries of River Charlo, up near the head of Restigouche, and other rivers in the county of Restigouche, are now lumber, hung up, for want of sufficient freight. The lumbermen were congratulating themselves that they had made such an excellent winter's work, and on the expectation of higher prices for their lumber than they have had for several years, but their hopes have been to some extent blighted, unless there are very heavy falls of rain during the summer the logs must remain in the woods until another season. The cedar logs for the shingle mills happened to be cut near the mouth of the river have all been got to the mills.

REVER CHARLO.

Mr. Robert Hamilton, who has resided in California for seven years, returned to River Charlo, his native place, on Friday last on a visit to his aged parents and numerous friends. Mr. Hamilton distinguished himself as a Teacher for some years in Restigouche before going to California, and he has since been honorably conducted the highest department of an educational establishment. He intends to return to his adopted country in the course of two months.

POINT LE NE.

Very few salmon have yet been caught this season in the vicinity of up the River Restigouche. The fishing below Dalhousie has been somewhat more encouraging, although by no means as good as the fishermen desire. The Bay and River are now studded with nets ready for the expected fish. May the hopes of the fishermen be realized.

The weather in Restigouche has been very fitful for several weeks past. We had one or two exceedingly hot days, followed by several extremely cold. Ice is frequently seen in the morning. This is supposed that large quantities of ice have come down from northern latitudes to the mouth of the Bay, which is the cause of such cold as is often experienced.

Vegetation is making rapid growth under the influence of the occasional warm weather and frequent showers, and is between two and three weeks ahead of last season.

NEW RICHMOND.

The contract to build the bridges across the River Big and Little Cascadia on the Bay Chaleur Railway is expected to be completed in a few days. The bridges are to be built of considerable width, and require extensive bridges with high abutments. The railway has already been constructed from Metepedia to Maria. With the exception of these bridges the construction will be comparatively easy. The bridge where it is located is very level. It is evidently expected that the railway will be in operation as far at least as New Carlisle early next summer, and run through New Richmond, which will be a great boon to the large settlement, and a great advantage to the small one. New Richmond is not a very important settlement along the Bay and Restigouche River, with only one concession of settlers along the shore; it contains four concessions with many farms. The settlers are chiefly of Scotch and French descent. A man high in authority in the United States had stated that that country had better have a devastating war such as the recent one between the North and the South every fifteen years than put up with the traffic in liquor, and that the loss of life and wealth would be less in the case of war than in the case of the continuing drain occasioned by the liquor traffic. Day after day we read of the effects of this blighting curse. Why any man except those peculiarly interested should want a legalized traffic in liquor as you would have it if you repeal the Scott Act was hard to understand.

The statement is made that because the law is broken it is a failure. Does the breaking of a law show it is a failure. If there was a man in this audience who thought so he would give him fifty cents if he would give us so that we could get a good look at him. The ten commandments were broken, where they were broken it was every law of the statute book. Man, especially when he drinks, was a failure. Men steal, was the law against their failure.

Who are the men who want the law repealed? Are they not those who wish to have the traffic legalized for their own selfish ends. On the petition you will find the names of all the law breakers. They are asked the honest voters of Northumberland to repeal the law, because the petitioners had violated it, and this alone should prove to you what is for your own best interests. He had the stuff he sells, and why then will his efforts be any different? Whenever sold it would bring a circus to a home, break a mother's heart, rob a child of its rights. What an idea that a license will make a drunken man respectable. It is not the man who sells it, it is the stuff he sells, and why then should there be any difference where it was sold. This was—St. Lord Dundry said—what no man could make out.

PERSONAL.

Mr. P. Morrissey arrived in Newcastle from Bellefleur by the express early on Friday morning, spending his few days holiday at his home. He left for Bellefleur on Monday.

Mr. McIntosh, principal of the Grammar School, Bathurst, also arrived by the same train proceeding to Derby Junction.

TEMPERANCE LECTURE.

The temperance lecture in the Masonic Hall on Monday evening last by John A. Nicholls, Esq., under the auspices of the Newcastle W. C. T. U. was fairly attended. The platform was occupied by the members of the W. C. T. U. and the Choir. The chair was by request, taken by Mr. War and the evening proceedings commenced by the Choir singing "There is work to do." Miss E. Rundle presiding at the organ. Prayer by Rev. Mr. Murray. Selection by the choir "Let Him Enter While You May." and then the Lecturer of the evening was introduced by the chairman.

Mr. Nicholls said he was glad to meet with them even though they all might not agree with him, but they were here to listen to the arguments he should set forth against the liquor traffic. He was in the habit of visiting the organization known as the Women's Christian Temperance Union and the work they were doing. He was always glad to meet with those whose hearts beat in unison with his own on this question. We were told the subject of Temperance was an old story, there was nothing new about it and this was often given as a reason for not attending temperance lectures, but still the fight went on between the people and a monstrous wrong, and would continue until the death knell of this traffic shall ring out over the continent. What was it that the greatest question of the age and the most eminent man acknowledge this. The Hon. W. E. Gladstone, after fifty years spent in the service of his country, though not an abstainer, put the devastation caused by drink above that caused by war and pestilence. This question could not be kept down as long as there was right thinking persons in existence, it was like Bancho's ghost, it would not down, but would be kept up until it was settled right.

The lecturer then tendered an invitation to those in favor of license to meet him on the platform on Friday night, and if such were not cowards and had the courage of their convictions they would then be present to argue the matter out with him, and if they would not come then for ever after to hold their peace. Men did not need strong drink to give them strength, it was like the man with it, and even without it, it was of very little value. The Indian race did not use liquor until the white man brought it to them, and what is the result, they have dwindled away ever since. The lecturer said there was a great difference between the world's standard of civilization, which many people failed to see, and proved this by a quaint illustration used by the late John B. Gough, of the man who sat down on a hornet's nest, it was certainly stimulating to him but not nourishing. He stated that beer was said to be taken in large quantities, but there was no nourishment in two cents worth of bread than in fifty cents worth of beer. Men could endure more hardship without alcoholic stimulants than with them, as had been proved in numerous cases, and therefore man could live without it, and there was no necessity to them, and there was no advantage to them. We might think that a man who goes to a liquor store for a quart of it, it was only a luxury, but there is danger in it. It was destructive to life, and it was the greatest question of the day, and it was longer he studied it seemed to him the less he knew about it, hence the statement of persons that they know all about it was preposterous. A man high in authority in the United States had stated that that country had better have a devastating war such as the recent one between the North and the South every fifteen years than put up with the traffic in liquor, and that the loss of life and wealth would be less in the case of war than in the case of the continuing drain occasioned by the liquor traffic. Day after day we read of the effects of this blighting curse. Why any man except those peculiarly interested should want a legalized traffic in liquor as you would have it if you repeal the Scott Act was hard to understand.

The statement is made that because the law is broken it is a failure. Does the breaking of a law show it is a failure. If there was a man in this audience who thought so he would give him fifty cents if he would give us so that we could get a good look at him. The ten commandments were broken, where they were broken it was every law of the statute book. Man, especially when he drinks, was a failure. Men steal, was the law against their failure.

Who are the men who want the law repealed? Are they not those who wish to have the traffic legalized for their own selfish ends. On the petition you will find the names of all the law breakers. They are asked the honest voters of Northumberland to repeal the law, because the petitioners had violated it, and this alone should prove to you what is for your own best interests. He had the stuff he sells, and why then will his efforts be any different? Whenever sold it would bring a circus to a home, break a mother's heart, rob a child of its rights. What an idea that a license will make a drunken man respectable. It is not the man who sells it, it is the stuff he sells, and why then should there be any difference where it was sold. This was—St. Lord Dundry said—what no man could make out.

Who are the men who want the law repealed? Are they not those who wish to have the traffic legalized for their own selfish ends. On the petition you will find the names of all the law breakers. They are asked the honest voters of Northumberland to repeal the law, because the petitioners had violated it, and this alone should prove to you what is for your own best interests. He had the stuff he sells, and why then will his efforts be any different? Whenever sold it would bring a circus to a home, break a mother's heart, rob a child of its rights. What an idea that a license will make a drunken man respectable. It is not the man who sells it, it is the stuff he sells, and why then should there be any difference where it was sold. This was—St. Lord Dundry said—what no man could make out.

Who are the men who want the law repealed? Are they not those who wish to have the traffic legalized for their own selfish ends. On the petition you will find the names of all the law breakers. They are asked the honest voters of Northumberland to repeal the law, because the petitioners had violated it, and this alone should prove to you what is for your own best interests. He had the stuff he sells, and why then will his efforts be any different? Whenever sold it would bring a circus to a home, break a mother's heart, rob a child of its rights. What an idea that a license will make a drunken man respectable. It is not the man who sells it, it is the stuff he sells, and why then should there be any difference where it was sold. This was—St. Lord Dundry said—what no man could make out.

Who are the men who want the law repealed? Are they not those who wish to have the traffic legalized for their own selfish ends. On the petition you will find the names of all the law breakers. They are asked the honest voters of Northumberland to repeal the law, because the petitioners had violated it, and this alone should prove to you what is for your own best interests. He had the stuff he sells, and why then will his efforts be any different? Whenever sold it would bring a circus to a home, break a mother's heart, rob a child of its rights. What an idea that a license will make a drunken man respectable. It is not the man who sells it, it is the stuff he sells, and why then should there be any difference where it was sold. This was—St. Lord Dundry said—what no man could make out.

Who are the men who want the law repealed? Are they not those who wish to have the traffic legalized for their own selfish ends. On the petition you will find the names of all the law breakers. They are asked the honest voters of Northumberland to repeal the law, because the petitioners had violated it, and this alone should prove to you what is for your own best interests. He had the stuff he sells, and why then will his efforts be any different? Whenever sold it would bring a circus to a home, break a mother's heart, rob a child of its rights. What an idea that a license will make a drunken man respectable. It is not the man who sells it, it is the stuff he sells, and why then should there be any difference where it was sold. This was—St. Lord Dundry said—what no man could make out.

Who are the men who want the law repealed? Are they not those who wish to have the traffic legalized for their own selfish ends. On the petition you will find the names of all the law breakers. They are asked the honest voters of Northumberland to repeal the law, because the petitioners had violated it, and this alone should prove to you what is for your own best interests. He had the stuff he sells, and why then will his efforts be any different? Whenever sold it would bring a circus to a home, break a mother's heart, rob a child of its rights. What an idea that a license will make a drunken man respectable. It is not the man who sells it, it is the stuff he sells, and why then should there be any difference where it was sold. This was—St. Lord Dundry said—what no man could make out.

Who are the men who want the law repealed? Are they not those who wish to have the traffic legalized for their own selfish ends. On the petition you will find the names of all the law breakers. They are asked the honest voters of Northumberland to repeal the law, because the petitioners had violated it, and this alone should prove to you what is for your own best interests. He had the stuff he sells, and why then will his efforts be any different? Whenever sold it would bring a circus to a home, break a mother's heart, rob a child of its rights. What an idea that a license will make a drunken man respectable. It is not the man who sells it, it is the stuff he sells, and why then should there be any difference where it was sold. This was—St. Lord Dundry said—what no man could make out.

Who are the men who want the law repealed? Are they not those who wish to have the traffic legalized for their own selfish ends. On the petition you will find the names of all the law breakers. They are asked the honest voters of Northumberland to repeal the law, because the petitioners had violated it, and this alone should prove to you what is for your own best interests. He had the stuff he sells, and why then will his efforts be any different? Whenever sold it would bring a circus to a home, break a mother's heart, rob a child of its rights. What an idea that a license will make a drunken man respectable. It is not the man who sells it, it is the stuff he sells, and why then should there be any difference where it was sold. This was—St. Lord Dundry said—what no man could make out.

Who are the men who want the law repealed? Are they not those who wish to have the traffic legalized for their own selfish ends. On the petition you will find the names of all the law breakers. They are asked the honest voters of Northumberland to repeal the law, because the petitioners had violated it, and this alone should prove to you what is for your own best interests. He had the stuff he sells, and why then will his efforts be any different? Whenever sold it would bring a circus to a home, break a mother's heart, rob a child of its rights. What an idea that a license will make a drunken man respectable. It is not the man who sells it, it is the stuff he sells, and why then should there be any difference where it was sold. This was—St. Lord Dundry said—what no man could make out.

TEMPERANCE LECTURE.

The temperance lecture in the Masonic Hall on Monday evening last by John A. Nicholls, Esq., under the auspices of the Newcastle W. C. T. U. was fairly attended. The platform was occupied by the members of the W. C. T. U. and the Choir. The chair was by request, taken by Mr. War and the evening proceedings commenced by the Choir singing "There is work to do." Miss E. Rundle presiding at the organ. Prayer by Rev. Mr. Murray. Selection by the choir "Let Him Enter While You May." and then the Lecturer of the evening was introduced by the chairman.

Mr. Nicholls said he was glad to meet with them even though they all might not agree with him, but they were here to listen to the arguments he should set forth against the liquor traffic. He was in the habit of visiting the organization known as the Women's Christian Temperance Union and the work they were doing. He was always glad to meet with those whose hearts beat in unison with his own on this question. We were told the subject of Temperance was an old story, there was nothing new about it and this was often given as a reason for not attending temperance lectures, but still the fight went on between the people and a monstrous wrong, and would continue until the death knell of this traffic shall ring out over the continent. What was it that the greatest question of the age and the most eminent man acknowledge this. The Hon. W. E. Gladstone, after fifty years spent in the service of his country, though not an abstainer, put the devastation caused by drink above that caused by war and pestilence. This question could not be kept down as long as there was right thinking persons in existence, it was like Bancho's ghost, it would not down, but would be kept up until it was settled right.

The lecturer then tendered an invitation to those in favor of license to meet him on the platform on Friday night, and if such were not cowards and had the courage of their convictions they would then be present to argue the matter out with him, and if they would not come then for ever after to hold their peace. Men did not need strong drink to give them strength, it was like the man with it, and even without it, it was of very little value. The Indian race did not use liquor until the white man brought it to them, and what is the result, they have dwindled away ever since. The lecturer said there was a great difference between the world's standard of civilization, which many people failed to see, and proved this by a quaint illustration used by the late John B. Gough, of the man who sat down on a hornet's nest, it was certainly stimulating to him but not nourishing. He stated that beer was said to be taken in large quantities, but there was no nourishment in two cents worth of bread than in fifty cents worth of beer. Men could endure more hardship without alcoholic stimulants than with them, as had been proved in numerous cases, and therefore man could live without it, and there was no necessity to them, and there was no advantage to them. We might think that a man who goes to a liquor store for a quart of it, it was only a luxury, but there is danger in it. It was destructive to life, and it was the greatest question of the day, and it was longer he studied it seemed to him the less he knew about it, hence the statement of persons that they know all about it was preposterous. A man high in authority in the United States had stated that that country had better have a devastating war such as the recent one between the North and the South every fifteen years than put up with the traffic in liquor, and that the loss of life and wealth would be less in the case of war than in the case of the continuing drain occasioned by the liquor traffic. Day after day we read of the effects of this blighting curse. Why any man except those peculiarly interested should want a legalized traffic in liquor as you would have it if you repeal the Scott Act was hard to understand.

The statement is made that because the law is broken it is a failure. Does the breaking of a law show it is a failure. If there was a man in this audience who thought so he would give him fifty cents if he would give us so that we could get a good look at him. The ten commandments were broken, where they were broken it was every law of the statute book. Man, especially when he drinks, was a failure. Men steal, was the law against their failure.

Who are the men who want the law repealed? Are they not those who wish to have the traffic legalized for their own selfish ends. On the petition you will find the names of all the law breakers. They are asked the honest voters of Northumberland to repeal the law, because the petitioners had violated it, and this alone should prove to you what is for your own best interests. He had the stuff he sells, and why then will his efforts be any different? Whenever sold it would bring a circus to a home, break a mother's heart, rob a child of its rights. What an idea that a license will make a drunken man respectable. It is not the man who sells it, it is the stuff he sells, and why then should there be any difference where it was sold. This was—St. Lord Dundry said—what no man could make out.

Who are the men who want the law repealed? Are they not those who wish to have the traffic legalized for their own selfish ends. On the petition you will find the names of all the law breakers. They are asked the honest voters of Northumberland to repeal the law, because the petitioners had violated it, and this alone should prove to you what is for your own best interests. He had the stuff he sells, and why then will his efforts be any different? Whenever sold it would bring a circus to a home, break a mother's heart, rob a child of its rights. What an idea that a license will make a drunken man respectable. It is not the man who sells it, it is the stuff he sells, and why then should there be any difference where it was sold. This was—St. Lord Dundry said—what no man could make out.

Who are the men who want the law repealed? Are they not those who wish to have the traffic legalized for their own selfish ends. On the petition you will find the names of all the law breakers. They are asked the honest voters of Northumberland to repeal the law, because the petitioners had violated it, and this alone should prove to you what is for your own best interests. He had the stuff he sells, and why then will his efforts be any different? Whenever sold it would bring a circus to a home, break a mother's heart, rob a child of its rights. What an idea that a license will make a drunken man respectable. It is not the man who sells it, it is the stuff he sells, and why then should there be any difference where it was sold. This was—St. Lord Dundry said—what no man could make out.

Who are the men who want the law repealed? Are they not those who wish to have the traffic legalized for their own selfish ends. On the petition you will find the names of all the law breakers. They are asked the honest voters of Northumberland to repeal the law, because the petitioners had violated it, and this alone should prove to you what is for your own best interests. He had the stuff he sells, and why then will his efforts be any different? Whenever sold it would bring a circus to a home, break a mother's heart, rob a child of its rights. What an idea that a license will make a drunken man respectable. It is not the man who sells it, it is the stuff he sells, and why then should there be any difference where it was sold. This was—St. Lord Dundry said—what no man could make out.

Who are the men who want the law repealed? Are they not those who wish to have the traffic legalized for their own selfish ends. On the petition you will find the names of all the law breakers. They are asked the honest voters of Northumberland to repeal the law, because the petitioners had violated it, and this alone should prove to you what is for your own best interests. He had the stuff he sells, and why then will his efforts be any different? Whenever sold it would bring a circus to a home, break a mother's heart, rob a child of its rights. What an idea that a license will make a drunken man respectable. It is not the man who sells it, it is the stuff he sells, and why then should there be any difference where it was sold. This was—St. Lord Dundry said—what no man could make out.

Who are the men who want the law repealed? Are they not those who wish to have the traffic legalized for their own selfish ends. On the petition you will find the names of all the law breakers. They are asked the honest voters of Northumberland to repeal the law, because the petitioners had violated it, and this alone should prove to you what is for your own best interests. He had the stuff he sells, and why then will his efforts be any different? Whenever sold it would bring a circus to a home, break a mother's heart, rob a child of its rights. What an idea that a license will make a drunken man respectable. It is not the man who sells it, it is the stuff he sells, and why then should there be any difference where it was sold. This was—St. Lord Dundry said—what no man could make out.

Who are the men who want the law repealed? Are they not those who wish to have the traffic legalized for their own selfish ends. On the petition you will find the names of all the law breakers. They are asked the honest voters of Northumberland to repeal the law, because the petitioners had violated it, and this alone should prove to you what is for your own best interests. He had the stuff he sells, and why then will his efforts be any different? Whenever sold it would bring a circus to a home, break a mother's heart, rob a child of its rights. What an idea that a license will make a drunken man respectable. It is not the man who sells it, it is the stuff he sells, and why then should there be any difference where it was sold. This was—St. Lord Dundry said—what no man could make out.

Who are the men who want the law repealed? Are they not those who wish to have the traffic legalized for their own selfish ends. On the petition you will find the names of all the law breakers. They are asked the honest voters of Northumberland to repeal the law, because the petitioners had violated it, and this alone should prove to you what is for your own best interests. He had the stuff he sells, and why then will his efforts be any different? Whenever sold it would bring a circus to a home, break a mother's heart, rob a child of its rights. What an idea that a license will make a drunken man respectable. It is not the man who sells it, it is the stuff he sells, and why then should there be any difference where it was sold. This was—St. Lord Dundry said—what no man could make out.

Who are the men who want the law repealed? Are they not those who wish to have the traffic legalized for their own selfish ends. On the petition you will find the names of all the law breakers. They are asked the honest voters of Northumberland to repeal the law, because the petitioners had violated it, and this alone should prove to you what is for your own best interests. He had the stuff he sells, and why then will his efforts be any different? Whenever sold it would bring a circus to a home, break a mother's heart, rob a child of its rights. What an idea that a license will make a drunken man respectable. It is not the man who sells it, it is the stuff he sells, and why then should there be any difference where it was sold. This was—St. Lord Dundry said—what no man could make out.

TEMPERANCE LECTURE.

The temperance lecture in the Masonic Hall on Monday evening last by John A. Nicholls, Esq., under the auspices of the Newcastle W. C. T. U. was fairly attended. The platform was occupied by the members of the W. C. T. U. and the Choir. The chair was by request, taken by Mr. War and the evening proceedings commenced by the Choir singing "There is work to do." Miss E. Rundle presiding at the organ. Prayer by Rev. Mr. Murray. Selection by the choir "Let Him Enter While You May." and then the Lecturer of the evening was introduced by the chairman.

Mr. Nicholls said he was glad to meet with them even though they all might not agree with him, but they were here to listen to the arguments he should set forth against the liquor traffic. He was in the habit of visiting the organization known as the Women's Christian Temperance Union and the work they were doing. He was always glad to meet with those whose hearts beat in unison with his own on this question. We were told the subject of Temperance was an old story, there was nothing new about it and this was often given as a reason for not attending temperance lectures, but still the fight went on between the people and a monstrous wrong, and would continue until the death knell of this traffic shall ring out over the continent. What was it that the greatest question of the age and the most eminent man acknowledge this. The Hon. W. E. Gladstone, after fifty years spent in the service of his country, though not an abstainer, put the devastation caused by drink above that caused by war and pestilence. This question could not be kept down as long as there was right thinking persons in existence, it was like Bancho's ghost, it would not down, but would be kept up until it was settled right.

The lecturer then tendered an invitation to those in favor of license to meet him on the platform on Friday night, and if such were not cowards and had the courage of their convictions they would then be present to argue the matter out with him, and if they would not come then for ever after to hold their peace. Men did not need strong drink to give them strength, it was like the man with it, and even without it, it was of very little value. The Indian race did not use liquor until the white man brought it to them, and what is the result, they have dwindled away ever since. The lecturer said there was a great difference between the world's standard of civilization, which many people failed to see, and proved this by a quaint illustration used by the late John B. Gough, of the man who sat down on a hornet's nest, it was certainly stimulating to him but not nourishing. He stated that beer was said to be taken in large quantities, but there was no nourishment in two cents worth of bread than in fifty cents worth of beer. Men could endure more hardship without alcoholic stimulants than with them, as had been proved in numerous cases, and therefore man could live without it, and there was no necessity to them, and there was no advantage to them. We might think that a man who goes to a liquor store for a quart of it, it was only a luxury, but there is danger in it. It was destructive to life, and it was the greatest question of the day, and it was longer he studied it seemed to him the less he knew about it, hence the statement of persons that they know all about it was preposterous. A man high in authority in the United States had stated that that country had better have a devastating war such as the recent one between the North and the South every fifteen years than put up with the traffic in liquor, and that the loss of life and wealth would be less in the case of war than in the case of the continuing drain occasioned by the liquor traffic. Day after day we read of the effects of this blighting curse. Why any man except those peculiarly interested should want a legalized traffic in liquor as you would have it if you repeal the Scott Act was hard to understand.

The statement is made that because the law is broken it is a failure. Does the breaking of a law show it is a failure. If there was a man in this audience who thought so he would give him fifty cents if he would give us so that we could get a good look at him. The ten commandments were broken, where they were broken it was every law of the statute book. Man, especially when he drinks, was a failure. Men steal, was the law against their failure.

Who are the men who want the law repealed? Are they not those who wish to have the traffic legalized for their own selfish ends. On the petition you will find the names of all the law breakers. They are asked the honest voters

The Steamer "Missouri," Captain Merrill, from Baltimore, arrived in the Thames this morning. Two passengers...

New Advertisements.

MIRAMICHI Steam Navigation Company.

The Steamers "NELSON" and "MIRAMICHI" will run daily on their respective routes from after Monday, May 28th as follows:

Table with columns: Ship Name, Destination, Departure Time, Return Time.

RATES OF PASSAGE.

Single fare between Newcastle, or Nelson or vice versa, 20c. Return tickets issued at the rate of 15c extra a trip.

Excursion Days.

Excursion tickets will be on sale on the following days: Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday, and Sunday.

Found.

One of the teachers in town has a small sum of money received from a pupil, and supposed to have been found.

PURE SPICES.

Quality, Style and Full Weight.

JARDINE & CO.

St. John, N. B., March 27, 1889.

PRISONER SUPPLIES.

QUALITY TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Prisoner Supplies," will be received at the office of the Warden of the Penitentiary, St. John, N. B., on WEDNESDAY, 15th JUNE, 1889.

REMARKS.

Not less than one of the foregoing classes in its entirety shall form the subject of a tender; but several classes may be included in one tender.

JOHN B. FORBES.

Dorchester Penitentiary, 20th May, 1889.

New Advertisements.

MASONIC HALL, NEWCASTLE.

THURSDAY EVENING, June 6th, the noted orator...

"Rambles in Great Britain and Ireland."

of an evening amid the enchantments of Art, Literature and Song.

New Goods.

I am going to New Goods.

NEW DRESS GOODS.

I have the largest and best stock of Mens, Boys and Children's Clothing.

NEW HATS.

In Hats and Caps, Boots and Shoes you will find a good assortment and prices low.

NEW DRESS GOODS.

My stock of DRESS GOODS is not so large as usual but what I have is nice and extra good.

NEW PRINTS, NEW MUSLINS.

The Prints this year are in many new designs and low in price, also Colored and White Muslins.

NEW SUNSHADES, NEW GLOVES.

SUNSHADES They are good, large sizes with side flaps.

NEW JERSEYS, NEW SHAWLS.

In Black and Colored. Very Cheap.

NEW NEW NEW.

Ties, Tobacco, Guns, Revolvers, Trunks, Valises, Boote, Etc., Etc.

The Cheap Cash Store.

JAMES BROWN.

Newcastle, May 28th, 1889.

Drawing Room Sale.

The Ladies of St. James' Church Sewing Circle will hold a

Sale of Useful and Fancy Articles.

in the MANSE, Newcastle, on THURSDAY, the 30th inst. The evening will be enlivened with Vocal and instrumental music.

REFRESHMENTS.

and ICE CREAM on hand.

The Sale to begin at 8 o'clock p.m. Admission, 10c.

Newcastle, May 21st, 1889.

REMARKS.

Not less than one of the foregoing classes in its entirety shall form the subject of a tender; but several classes may be included in one tender.

JOHN B. FORBES.

Dorchester Penitentiary, 20th May, 1889.

REMARKS.

Not less than one of the foregoing classes in its entirety shall form the subject of a tender; but several classes may be included in one tender.

JOHN B. FORBES.

Dorchester Penitentiary, 20th May, 1889.

REMARKS.

Not less than one of the foregoing classes in its entirety shall form the subject of a tender; but several classes may be included in one tender.

JOHN B. FORBES.

Dorchester Penitentiary, 20th May, 1889.

REMARKS.

Not less than one of the foregoing classes in its entirety shall form the subject of a tender; but several classes may be included in one tender.

JOHN B. FORBES.

Dorchester Penitentiary, 20th May, 1889.

REMARKS.

Not less than one of the foregoing classes in its entirety shall form the subject of a tender; but several classes may be included in one tender.

JOHN B. FORBES.

Dorchester Penitentiary, 20th May, 1889.

REMARKS.

Not less than one of the foregoing classes in its entirety shall form the subject of a tender; but several classes may be included in one tender.

JOHN B. FORBES.

Dorchester Penitentiary, 20th May, 1889.

REMARKS.

Not less than one of the foregoing classes in its entirety shall form the subject of a tender; but several classes may be included in one tender.

JOHN B. FORBES.

Dorchester Penitentiary, 20th May, 1889.

REMARKS.

Not less than one of the foregoing classes in its entirety shall form the subject of a tender; but several classes may be included in one tender.

JOHN B. FORBES.

Dorchester Penitentiary, 20th May, 1889.

REMARKS.

Not less than one of the foregoing classes in its entirety shall form the subject of a tender; but several classes may be included in one tender.

JOHN B. FORBES.

Dorchester Penitentiary, 20th May, 1889.

REMARKS.

Not less than one of the foregoing classes in its entirety shall form the subject of a tender; but several classes may be included in one tender.

JOHN B. FORBES.

Dorchester Penitentiary, 20th May, 1889.

REMARKS.

Not less than one of the foregoing classes in its entirety shall form the subject of a tender; but several classes may be included in one tender.

JOHN B. FORBES.

Dorchester Penitentiary, 20th May, 1889.

B & C.

We would respectfully call the attention of the Public this week to a very superior line of Boots, Shoes and Slippers.

Ladies, Misses, Gents, and Boys, from Good Quality of Kid down to Cheapest Grades.

MEN'S BROGANS, with and without top-boles.

These goods are fresh and new, being just opened last week and marked at prices to sell.

BARGAINS IN PRIZES, GINGHAMS and SHIRTINGS.

NEW DRESS GOODS.

AT BRYEN FORD & CLARKE'S, 111-113-115-117-119-121-123-125-127-129-131-133-135-137-139-141-143-145-147-149-151-153-155-157-159-161-163-165-167-169-171-173-175-177-179-181-183-185-187-189-191-193-195-197-199-201-203-205-207-209-211-213-215-217-219-221-223-225-227-229-231-233-235-237-239-241-243-245-247-249-251-253-255-257-259-261-263-265-267-269-271-273-275-277-279-281-283-285-287-289-291-293-295-297-299-301-303-305-307-309-311-313-315-317-319-321-323-325-327-329-331-333-335-337-339-341-343-345-347-349-351-353-355-357-359-361-363-365-367-369-371-373-375-377-379-381-383-385-387-389-391-393-395-397-399-401-403-405-407-409-411-413-415-417-419-421-423-425-427-429-431-433-435-437-439-441-443-445-447-449-451-453-455-457-459-461-463-465-467-469-471-473-475-477-479-481-483-485-487-489-491-493-495-497-499-501-503-505-507-509-511-513-515-517-519-521-523-525-527-529-531-533-535-537-539-541-543-545-547-549-551-553-555-557-559-561-563-565-567-569-571-573-575-577-579-581-583-585-587-589-591-593-595-597-599-601-603-605-607-609-611-613-615-617-619-621-623-625-627-629-631-633-635-637-639-641-643-645-647-649-651-653-655-657-659-661-663-665-667-669-671-673-675-677-679-681-683-685-687-689-691-693-695-697-699-701-703-705-707-709-711-713-715-717-719-721-723-725-727-729-731-733-735-737-739-741-743-745-747-749-751-753-755-757-759-761-763-765-767-769-771-773-775-777-779-781-783-785-787-789-791-793-795-797-799-801-803-805-807-809-811-813-815-817-819-821-823-825-827-829-831-833-835-837-839-841-843-845-847-849-851-853-855-857-859-861-863-865-867-869-871-873-875-877-879-881-883-885-887-889-891-893-895-897-899-901-903-905-907-909-911-913-915-917-919-921-923-925-927-929-931-933-935-937-939-941-943-945-947-949-951-953-955-957-959-961-963-965-967-969-971-973-975-977-979-981-983-985-987-989-991-993-995-997-999-1001-1003-1005-1007-1009-1011-1013-1015-1017-1019-1021-1023-1025-1027-1029-1031-1033-1035-1037-1039-1041-1043-1045-1047-1049-1051-1053-1055-1057-1059-1061-1063-1065-1067-1069-1071-1073-1075-1077-1079-1081-1083-1085-1087-1089-1091-1093-1095-1097-1099-1101-1103-1105-1107-1109-1111-1113-1115-1117-1119-1121-1123-1125-1127-1129-1131-1133-1135-1137-1139-1141-1143-1145-1147-1149-1151-1153-1155-1157-1159-1161-1163-1165-1167-1169-1171-1173-1175-1177-1179-1181-1183-1185-1187-1189-1191-1193-1195-1197-1199-1201-1203-1205-1207-1209-1211-1213-1215-1217-1219-1221-1223-1225-1227-1229-1231-1233-1235-1237-1239-1241-1243-1245-1247-1249-1251-1253-1255-1257-1259-1261-1263-1265-1267-1269-1271-1273-1275-1277-1279-1281-1283-1285-1287-1289-1291-1293-1295-1297-1299-1301-1303-1305-1307-1309-1311-1313-1315-1317-1319-1321-1323-1325-1327-1329-1331-1333-1335-1337-1339-1341-1343-1345-1347-1349-1351-1353-1355-1357-1359-1361-1363-1365-1367-1369-1371-1373-1375-1377-1379-1381-1383-1385-1387-1389-1391-1393-1395-1397-1399-1401-1403-1405-1407-1409-1411-1413-1415-1417-1419-1421-1423-1425-1427-1429-1431-1433-1435-1437-1439-1441-1443-1445-1447-1449-1451-1453-1455-1457-1459-1461-1463-1465-1467-1469-1471-1473-1475-1477-1479-1481-1483-1485-1487-1489-1491-1493-1495-1497-1499-1501-1503-1505-1507-1509-1511-1513-1515-1517-1519-1521-1523-1525-1527-1529-1531-1533-1535-1537-1539-1541-1543-1545-1547-1549-1551-1553-1555-1557-1559-1561-1563-1565-1567-1569-1571-1573-1575-1577-1579-1581-1583-1585-1587-1589-1591-1593-1595-1597-1599-1601-1603-1605-1607-1609-1611-1613-1615-1617-1619-1621-1623-1625-1627-1629-1631-1633-1635-1637-1639-1641-1643-1645-1647-1649-1651-1653-1655-1657-1659-1661-1663-1665-1667-1669-1671-1673-1675-1677-1679-1681-1683-1685-1687-1689-1691-1693-1695-1697-1699-1701-1703-1705-1707-1709-1711-1713-1715-1717-1719-1721-1723-1725-1727-1729-1731-1733-1735-1737-1739-1741-1743-1745-1747-1749-1751-1753-1755-1757-1759-1761-1763-1765-1767-1769-1771-1773-1775-1777-1779-1781-1783-1785-1787-1789-1791-1793-1795-1797-1799-1801-1803-1805-1807-1809-1811-1813-1815-1817-1819-1821-1823-1825-1827-1829-1831-1833-1835-1837-1839-1841-1843-1845-1847-1849-1851-1853-1855-1857-1859-1861-1863-1865-1867-1869-1871-1873-1875-1877-1879-1881-1883-1885-1887-1889-1891-1893-1895-1897-1899-1901-1903-1905-1907-1909-1911-1913-1915-1917-1919-1921-1923-1925-1927-1929-1931-1933-1935-1937-1939-1941-1943-1945-1947-1949-1951-1953-1955-1957-1959-1961-1963-1965-1967-1969-1971-1973-1975-1977-1979-1981-1983-1985-1987-1989-1991-1993-1995-1997-1999-2001-2003-2005-2007-2009-2011-2013-2015-2017-2019-2021-2023-2025-2027-2029-2031-2033-2035-2037-2039-2041-2043-2045-2047-2049-2051-2053-2055-2057-2059-2061-2063-2065-2067-2069-2071-2073-2075-2077-2079-2081-2083-2085-2087-2089-2091-2093-2095-2097-2099-2101-2103-2105-2107-2109-2111-2113-2115-2117-2119-2121-2123-2125-2127-2129-2131-2133-2135-2137-2139-2141-2143-2145-2147-2149-2151-2153-2155-2157-2159-2161-2163-2165-2167-2169-2171-2173-2175-2177-2179-2181-2183-2185-2187-2189-2191-2193-2195-2197-2199-2201-2203-2205-2207-2209-2211-2213-2215-2217-2219-2221-2223-2225-2227-2229-2231-2233-2235-2237-2239-2241-2243-2245-2247-2249-2251-2253-2255-2257-2259-2261-2263-2265-2267-2269-2271-2273-2275-2277-2279-2281-2283-2285-2287-2289-2291-2293-2295-2297-2299-2301-2303-2305-2307-2309-2311-2313-2315-2317-2319-2321-2323-2325-2327-2329-2331-2333-2335-2337-2339-2341-2343-2345-2347-2349-2351-2353-2355-2357-2359-2361-2363-2365-2367-2369-2371-2373-2375-2377-2379-2381-2383-2385-2387-2389-2391-2393-2395-2397-2399-2401-2403-2405-2407-2409-2411-2413-2415-2417-2419-2421-2423-2425-2427-2429-2431-2433-2435-2437-2439-2441-2443-2445-2447-2449-2451-2453-2455-2457-2459-2461-2463-2465-2467-2469-2471-2473-2475-2477-2479-2481-2483-2485-2487-2489-2491-2493-2495-2497-2499-2501-2503-2505-2507-2509-2511-2513-2515-2517-2519-2521-2523-2525-2527-2529-2531-2533-2535-2537-2539-2541-2543-2545-2547-2549-2551-2553-2555-2557-2559-2561-2563-2565-2567-2569-2571-2573-2575-2577-2579-2581-2583-2585-2587-2589-2591-2593-2595-2597-2599-2601-2603-2605-2607-2609-2611-2613-2615-2617-2619-2621-2623-2625-2627-2629-2631-2633-2635-2637-2639-2641-2643-2645-2647-2649-2651-2653-2655-2657-2659-2661-2663-2665-2667-2669-2671-2673-2675-2677-2679-2681-2683-2685-2687-2689-2691-2693-2695-2697-2699-2701-2703-2705-2707-2709-2711-2713-2715-2717-2719-2721-2723-2725-2727-2729-2731-2733-2735-2737-2739-2741-2743-2745-2747-2749-2751-2753-2755-2757-2759-2761-2763-2765-2767-2769-2771-2773-2775-2777-2779-2781-2783-2785-2787-2789-2791-2793-2795-2797-2799-2801-2803-2805-2807-2809-2811-2813-2815-2817-2819-2821-2823-2825-2827-2829-2831-2833-2835-2837-2839-2841-2843-2845-2847-2849-2851-2853-2855-2857-2859-2861-2863-2865-2867-2869-2871-2873-2875-2877-2879-2881-2883-2885-2887-2889-2891-2893-2895-2897-2899-2901-2903-2905-2907-2909-2911-2913-2915-2917-2919-2921-2923-2925-2927-2929-2931-2933-2935-2937-2939-2941-2943-2945-2947-2949-2951-2953-2955-2957-2959-2961-2963-2965-2967-2969-2971-2973-2975-2977-2979-2981-2983-2985-2987-2989-2991-2993-2995-2997-2999-3001-3003-3005-3007-3009-3011-3013-3015-3017-3019-3021-3023-3025-3027-3029-3031-3033-3035-3037-3039-3041-3043-3045-3047-3049-3051-3053-3055-3057-3059-3061-3063-3065-3067-3069-3071-3073-3075-3077-3079-3081-3083-3085-3087-3089-3091-3093-3095-3097-3099-3101-3103-3105-3107-3109-3111-3113-3115-3117-3119-3121-3123-3125-3127-3129-3131-3133-3135-3137-3139-3141-3143-3145-3147-3149-3151-3153-3155-3157-3159-3161-3163-3165-3167-3169-3171-3173-3175-3177-3179-

