SAD ACCIDENT AT SOUTHEAST

One of Whitneyville's Young Men Fatally Injured.

IN COLLISION.

In the Dark Struck an Approaching Team—Died From Injuries.

Mr. John Parker son of Mr. Ralph Parker of Whitneyville was the victim of a peculiar accident recently which later resulted in his death.

He was across on the south side of the river attending a prayer meeting on Thursday night Aug. 3rd. After the meeting he started on his wheel to ride down where a boat was in waiting to ferry him and others across to his home shore. He was proceeding along rapidly in the dark when a team was heard approaching, but before he could stop or get out of the way he collided with the team, the shaft striking him in the right groin. The injured young man was carried to the boat and then to his home and Dr. Pedlin summoned. He lived five days, suffering considerable pain. The funeral last Friday afternoon was very largely attended. Deceased was about 23 years of age and his relatives have the sympathy of the community in their sad bereavement.

MR. SCHWAB
GOING ABROAD

Will See Mr. Carnegie—Archibald Johnson and John McKane Accompany Him

It was learned yesterday that Mr. Charles M. Schwab proposes to sail for Europe on Tuesday next. Accompanying him will be Archibald Johnson, an engineer of the Bethlehem works, and John McKane, who is interested with Mr. Schwab and is superintendent and general manager of the latter's Nevada mining interests.

It is understood that the party will visit Mr. Carnegie in Scotland before returning. The trip is said to be a business one.

Mr. McKane was formerly well known on the Miramichi as the manager of the local branch of the Royal Bank of Canada at Newcastle, where his energy and keen business ability were recognized and appreciated since he moved from the confines of modern towns in the east to the wider field of action in the west, we are glad to hear that he has met with that success which his friends prophesied of him. Out on the sierras of Nevada "where he has found the proper scope for his pluck and enterprise. He has "struck it rich" as the saying goes, and we find him now moving among the "big fellows", the captains of industry, playing in "blue chips" and smoking United States Steel cigars, not the common but the preferred seven per cent. dividend brand with the picture of C. M. Schwab on one side of the wrapper and that of Andrew Carnegie on the other. Mr. McKane we understand will make Miramichi a visit on his return from Europe where his many friends will be glad to welcome him.

WHY RAISE
NEWCASTLE RATES

This is the Question Being Asked After Recent Fires.

OUR EFFICIENT SERVICE.

This was Clearly Proved by Fire Last Thursday Morning.

An alarm of fire was rung in at 12:45 a. m. Thursday for a fierce blaze in the upper story of the Wm. Robinson Carriage Factory and paint shop, now owned by Alex. Stewart and "unoccupied." When citizens turned out it looked as if the whole building was a mass of flames and it was not thought possible that it could be saved.

The department responded very promptly, having water on in about seven minutes which, considering the hour, is remarkably fast time. Three powerful streams were soon playing on the fire and it was soon under control, being extinguished before much damage was done to the building, outside the roof and upper story, which were badly burned. The loss is appraised at between $300 and $400, fully covered by insurance.

This fire is another demonstration of the efficient fire protection service this town now enjoys. Not only is the water system sufficient, but we can boast of a very efficient corps of fire fighters. This was clearly shown by the manner in which this fire was handled Thursday morning and that the fire was extinguished without greater loss is a matter of surprise freely expressed by citizens, especially as the fire was burning fiercely, lighting up the town before the water was turned on. Another feature was the quiet manner in which the men got to work. No loud talking or unnecessary fuss, and no assistance from outsiders being allowed, thus doing away with the usual confusion. Mr. Drury the insurance appraiser of St. John was here on Saturday and expressed himself freely. He said many nice things of the fireman and the Newcastle fire protection service which he should tell to his chief of the New Brunswick Underwriters. Among other things he stated from his observation of other towns he was convinced that Newcastle had the best system of any town in New Brunswick.

For the benefit of the underwriters the Advocate can add that with three powerful streams of water on the fire and the pump running at a slow speed the reservoir was full when the hydrants were turned off. Yet the N. B. Underwriters are endeavoring to oblige our citizens to pay an advanced rate after Sept. 1st, unless this reservoir is enlarged.

We think it is time to reel and if necessary get insured in sound non-tariff companies which are offering a fair rate.

TWO DROWNED
AT DALHOUSIE.

Boat Capsized In Heavy Squall Last Saturday.

Dalhousie, N. B., Aug. 13—A gloom was cast over Dalhousie Saturday evening by the drowning of two of its best young men in the harbor.

One of the mills being closed down for the day some of the young men went for a sail, in one boat there was Alexander LeBlanc, Peter Mercier and Henry Arsenault. When they were about half a mile from the shore a terrible squall broke out with rain and their boat capsized and sank.

Arsenault, who could swim, held on and was saved. Mercier, 17 years old, was an only son and LeBlanc, 23 years old, was to have been married in a few weeks to a very popular young girl of Dalhousie. The whole community sympathizes with the bereaved friends. The bodies have not been recovered.

During the squall another boat containing two lady visitors and a gentleman from Quebec in charge of a Norwegian captain had a narrow escape, their boat was filling with water when they were picked up by the crew of the dredge St. Lawrence that was running from the ballast ground.

We are prepared to do typewriting, copying, manifolded etc. promptly and neatly.—Anslow Bros.

JAS. COPP
DIED SUDDENLY.

An old and Respected Citizen of Newcastle Passes Away.

Mr. James Copp, of the freight department of the I. C. R. here and a well known and respected citizen died at his home, Friday afternoon last. Mr. Copp was well for two weeks and had not been able to work but no serious results were thought of and the news of his sudden demise came as a shock to his large circle of friends. On Friday he was about as usual. In the afternoon he was quite cheerful and was sitting up talking to his wife when he suddenly gasped and died. The blow was a severe one to his beloved family and they have the sympathy of the entire community.

Deceased was born in London, England on Feb. 12, 1826. When only eight years of age he came to Newcastle where he has since resided. For a time he acted as deputy sheriff of this county. About twenty seven years ago he accepted the position of freight agent of the I. C. R. at the freight house here, the responsible position which he ably filled up to the time of his late illness. A man of kindly temperament and steady habits, he ever was a favorite. He had a very retentive mind and could talk entertainingly of Newcastle's early history of the times when he was a boy.

The funeral from his late residence Sunday afternoon was very largely attended, interment being in St. Andrew's cemetery. Services were conducted by Rev. T. H. Cuthbert. The pall bearers were Messrs. Chas. Call, F. B. Wheeler, Sam'l Miller, Keith Anderson, Jos. McKnight and C. Craig. He was 79 years of age.

A wife and three children, one son William, of Newcastle and two daughters a Mrs. W. J. Buckley, of Methuen Mass., and Miss Bertie of Newcastle survive.

HOW RUSSIA MET JAPAN.

A Very Interesting Account of the First Meeting of Envoys—The Introduction by Pres. Roosevelt, and the Toast He Proposed.

President Roosevelt brought the peace envoys of Russia and Japan together Saturday afternoon in the cabin of the Mayflower at Oyster Bay, saw them shake hands and break bread, and sent them off to Portsmouth with a toast for their sovereigns and peoples and a prayer for the successful issue of negotiations. If they do not conclude the just and lasting peace which he hoped for, it will be no fault of the president, for the day's ceremony, like every other step that he has taken in these delicate proceedings, was crowned with absolute success. Not a single untoward incident marred the perfect smoothness of the arrangements and their execution. When the plenipotentiaries met they shook hands as warmly as though they were members of the same fraternal society, and when they rubbed elbows in the crowded dining room while eating their salads or drinking their coffee and wine, one would have supposed to see them they were congenial companions gathered about the table of a mutual friend.

For the time being they were undoubtedly imbued with some of the president's heartiness of soul and were he only able to send with them to their meeting place a consignment of his genial spirit, there would be more likelihood than there is of speedy peace in Asia. As it was, however, the president and the peace commissioners parted with dubious hearts. There seemed to be an undercurrent of conviction, more felt than expressed, that the New Hampshire meetings are doomed to end in a dead lock. The figure of Count Witte, slowly pacing the deck after the smiling Japanese had quit the Mayflower, the look on Ambassador Rosen's face when the light of forced politeness had left it, seemed to give the lie to all the gaiety that had accompanied the music of the band, the fluttering of the flags and the sunlight kissing the waters.

BRILLIANT SCENE.

But it was a brave sight and one long to be remembered. The Mayflower, Galveston, Dolphin came up from New York Friday night and anchored about the entrance of the bay. The Sybil, bearing Assistant Secretary Pearce, was the first vessel to arrive Saturday morning, and following her came the Tacoma and the Chattanooga, thirty-five minutes apart, with the Japanese and Russian envoys on board. A crowd of pleasure craft, newspaper boats and photographers' launches swarmed about the Mayflower and at times seriously interfered with the orderly procedure of the programme. As the swift launch with the president on board came dashing along the sparkling course from the J. West Roosevelt wharf, a motor boat crowded with correspondents lumbered into its path. "Get out of the way," cried the president, fearing that the launches would come in collision, and as they passed with scarcely a foot to spare half a dozen cameras clicked over impressions of his smiling countenance.

It was just 12:20 p. m. when the president ascended the stairs and stepped over the side of the Mayflower. The blue presidential banner that had been trailing aft from his launch disappeared and, as if by magic, the same flag broke out at the peak of the yacht and the twenty-one gun salute boomed forth, to echo from Cooper's Bluff out over the sound in the direction of the blue Connecticut line. Assistant Secretary Pearce and Lieutenant Frank Evans, commanding the Sybil, arrived a few moments after the president, and at 12:30 the Tacoma entered the harbor. A sailor aloft somewhere on the Mayflower wigwagged a signal to the cruiser; there was an answering wigwag, and, with booming of canon, which counted nineteen, if one cared to keep track, the Japanese envoys left the Tacoma for the president's yacht. The Japanese flag of white with blood-red central circle fluttered from the stern of the launch. As the little boat approached, the president went below to the cabin, where the introductions were to take place. Commander Cameron McRae Winslow, the commander of the Mayflower, took his station at the head of the stairway to receive the visitors. The launch whirled through the maze of boats, and the jacksies who were manoeuvring it grappled the stairway with their hooks.

JAPANESE COME FIRST

Baron Komura, followed by Minister Takahira and an even dozen of followers, climbed up the steps. They first essayed an entrance at the door leading to the lower deck, and Baron Komura took off his silk hat and made a very low bow to a petty officer who was stationed there. The officer returned his salute just as gracefully and motioned to the baron and his followers to go higher up. This they did quickly, and were received at the top by Commander Winslow, who in turn handed them over to Mr. Pearce. The officers of the ship presented to the little delegation, and each received a very low bow and a smile from the Japanese. Mr. Pearce led the way in the library cabin, where the envoys and their suite laid aside their hats, and he then took them below stairs to the cabin where the president was waiting.

Dispensing with as much formality as was possible under the circumstances, the president greeted them all with the utmost cordiality. He knew a number of them personally, for several are attached to the Legation at Washington, and these he greeted with such expressions as "Here's my old comrade," "Well, I am glad to see you again or I saw you out riding the other day how are you?"

After the introductions had been made, the president told Baron Komura and Minister Takahira that he wished to have them visit him again at his home the present summer. Now, said the president, I want a little informed visit, with you, baron, and you Mr. Takahira, and, with a laugh and a wave of the hand, he bore them off to Commander Winslow's private cabin, where they chattered for five or six minutes, the rest of the suite meanwhile standing around, smiling politely upon Mr. Pearce and one another.

While this was going on, Chattanooga, bringing the Russians from New York, had dropped anchor in the bay, and at 12:22 p. m. in response to a signal from the Mayflower telling all was in readiness for their reception, Count Witte and his men disembarked for the president's yacht. The Japanese were escorted to another part of the Mayflower while the Russians were climbing up the side. The reception of the Czar's plenipotentiaries was practically a repetition of that of the Japanese. There were the same hearty handshakes, and after going through it the president extended the same invitation to Count Witte and Baron Rosen that he had given to Baron Komura and Mr. Takahira. "It was a great pleasure to have you visit me," he said, and I want to have you come come out to my home again and take lunch with me.

THE ENVOYS INTRODUCED

The most delicate function of the day, that of introducing the envoys to each other, was over in a jiffy. Almost before one could tell about it the Japanese had filed in: Count Witte and Baron Komura joined hands, Mr. Takahira and Baron Rosen came together, and all the Japanese and all the Russians were shaking hands simultaneously. Now let's come to lunch, said the president, heartily. "Captain, is the lunch ready?" he added, turning to Commander Winslow. Commander Winslow said that it was, and the president started for the doorway leading into the little hall-way which connects the two cabins. Quick as a flash, Count Witte fell in behind the president, Baron Komura smiled and came after and following him Baron Rosen took up the march to the dining-room. In single file after that the members of the two suites proceeded to the cabin, where the big table, piled high with salads, sandwiches, croquettes and other good things, seemed to invite the envoys to forget their animosities in generous cheer. The president took a sandwich in one hand, a plate of salad in the other and motioned to Count Witte and Baron Komura to do likewise. They did, and found chairs side by side at one corner of the room.

The president took a seat directly in front of them and devoted his remarks impartially to both as he discussed the edibles. Minister Takahira and Baron Rosen sat side by side, also within range of the president's voice and almost within touch of his hand. The other members of the two parties stood around the table or occupied the big cushioned chairs at either end of the room. The Chinese waiters supplied the wants of everybody as fast as they could, while the boat's officers, from Commander Winslow down to the youngest lieutenant, moved about, offering sandwiches, rolls, cups of coffee and glasses of wine to everyone who seemed to have an empty hand or a hungry look in his eye.

THE PRESIDENT'S TOAST

In the middle of the luncheon, the president rose and said: Gentlemen, I propose a toast, to which there will be no answer, and which I ask you to drink in silence, standing. I drink to the welfare and prosperity of the sovereigns and the peoples of the two great nations whose representatives have met one another on this ship. It is my most earnest hope and prayer, in the interest not only of these two great powers, but of all civilized mankind that a just and lasting peace may speedily be concluded between them.

As the luncheon neared its end someone suggested that the envoys be photographed with the president. All agreed and the four plenipotentiaries walked out into the hall-way, where the lights were better. "Take positions any where," exclaimed the president. "Stand where you want to," Count Witte and Baron Rosen at once moved to the right side of the president, and Baron Komura and Mr. Takahira to his left. They were photographed in this position and the reception was at an end.

DEAFNESS CANNOT BE CURED by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases of nine are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

PSYCHINE

(PRONOUNCED SI-KEEN)

COUGH AND LUNG TROUBLE

"PSYCHINE" differs radically from the old fogey medicines. It is compounded on new and advanced methods of curing disease, otherwise it would be just like scores of others, without any exceptional merits. But "PSYCHINE" possesses virtues of healing, that no other preparation in the world does. There never has been in the history of medicine, such a truly remarkable remedy, for the prompt and complete cure of obstinate coughs and lung trouble. There is nothing else just like it, or nothing else one half so good. Thousands of men and women readily and enthusiastically give testimony to prove the statement.

PSYCHINE BUILT ME UP

Linden, N. S., June 7th, 1904.

"I cannot speak too highly for your excellent—I may say invaluable—remedy for weakness of throat, lungs or declining conditions. My brother, mother, and sister died of consumption, and I suppose I inherited a tendency in this direction, but, thank God, through the use of PSYCHINE I today enjoy good health. I suffered for some two years from a distressing, obstinate cough and weak lungs. I used PSYCHINE and OXOMULSION, and they built me right up. My lungs are now strong and I enjoy splendid health. Yours truly,

PEACE!

Despatches indicate, as it was expected they would, considerable difference of opinion between the Russian and Japanese plenipotentiaries at Portsmouth. That was to be expected. No one supposed that these gentlemen would fall into each other's arms and declare themselves united forever. Apparently the way to a settlement may be long and difficult, perhaps it will be impossible just now, but we hope not. When all the little details are swept away it is pretty clear that the Japanese real desires are to keep the Russians out of the Pacific ocean, or at least to drive them well to the north, and to get them to leave Manchuria. These things may be quite difficult to obtain, but they need not be impossible.—Globe.

THE NEGOTIATIONS.

The [well-informed and able correspondent of the London Times at Portsmouth expresses the belief that the terms which are put forward by the Japanese plenipotentiaries are put forward with a definite purpose.

That purpose is peace if the terms are accepted; a continuance of the war if they are not. For either emergency—if peace can be called an emergency—the Japanese are ready.

This means that the Japanese are not running a bargain counter, but that they have a clear and well defined idea in their own mind as to the terms upon which they will make peace. If their terms are not reasonably met they will go on fighting.

"The Russian expectation," says the correspondent of the Times, "is that Japan asks more than she will finally accept," and the Russian attitude at the conference is based upon that theory. But the Russian expectation is apparently wrong, for, says the correspondent, "every form of diplomacy and of courtesy will be observed, but what the Japanese appear to intend is that Russia shall understand that these conditions are to take or to leave. Discussion, yes; explanations, ample statements of Japanese views and reasons, a patient hearing for Russia's views, but an implacable purpose beneath it all." But even this rather close statement of Japanese determination, from such an excellent authority as Dr. Morrison, may be a part of the diplomatic game generally.

The correspondent of the Times is an able man, a man with great experience of the east, and a man in the entire confidence of the Times, and a journal may have—and very likely has—the confidence of the British government. The warning which the Times representative utters to Russia is a suggestion to the representatives of the Czar that if peace is really wanted Russia must not pursue a childish policy of procrastination, substitution, or subterfuge, using the word in its mildest sense. On the other hand if Great Britain is warning M. Witte the Russian plenipotentiary, through the Times, that gentleman has his own game. He is endeavoring to arouse a feeling that there is a yellow peril and he states this in a practical way, in a way intended to arouse fear among European people. But he has before him a task of considerable magnitude in any endeavor at this time to create antipathy to Japan, even though he may appeal with some effect to a nation such as Germany which holds a Russian preference. The game of diplomacy which is being played at Portsmouth is a large one, and things may not, of course, be what they seem. It is not an unreasonable inference, however, that Japan has pretty clearly made up her mind as to the minimum which she will accept, and that Russia is not clearly sure as to what she will give. Much will depend upon the state of public feeling within her own borders.—Ex

SPARTAN VIRTUE.

It is a Fine Thing if it is Not Advertised Too Much.

A Spartan virtue seems to have the inherent quality of making its possessor a 44 caliber bore of the worst sort. Take the man whose supreme virtue is only virtue lies in the fact that he takes a cold water bath every morning the whole year round. You meet him in the car, in the street, in the course of business anywhere, and no matter what the topic may be at the start the conversation is bound to include an account—quite incidental, of course—of how on the frostiest of mornings he frolics in the ice cold water just as it comes from the hydrant.

Then there's the man who walks down to his office every morning, rain or snow, in sunshine and in storm. The more distant his home from his office the more he will talk about it, and he will tell you that he has become so accustomed to it that the only time he can get an extra thrill out of it is when the streets are deep with snow and the wind is blowing a hurricane.

Heaven may forgive the man who rises at 5 summer and winter, spring and fall. We never can. The early riser is not a criminal simply because the law does not designate his offense as a crime. But it is admitted that the law has its defects. Nothing can approach the look of superiority on the face of the early riser. He has found the only road to health or wealth. The books he has read before breakfast would if collected in a heap make the Congressional library look small.

There are some who would place in the first rank of this group that rugged, hardy, vigorous, full blooded gentleman who can't breathe in a room unless all the windows and doors are open. The lower the pressure of steam in the radiator, the lower the mercury in its tube and the wilder the play of the winds over the roofs and around the corners the more insistent is he that you are imperiling your very life by not occupying an office wide open to every wind that blows.

Oh, Spartan virtue is a fine thing, but it would be simply sublime if its modern exponents and inculcators would just keep still about it.

Results of Multiplication.
In the matter of rocks and starlings, says a writer in The Daily Graphic, it seems to be the unanimous opinion of observers that changed habits have resulted from their multiplication in consequence of the growing sentiment in favor of protecting all bird life. Almost every game preserver and gamekeeper will tell you that, owing to their increased numbers, the rocks have become almost worse robbers of nests than even the carrion crow, while the hard things which the fruit growers say about the multiplied starling, usually bracketed with the rock as one of the farmer's two best friends would fill large volumes.

SCHOOL FOR THE DEAF.

Miss Bateman of the New Brunswick School Here.

GIVES EXHIBITION

Five Pupils Give Demonstration of Work of Institution.

Miss Bateman of the Lanoaster Heights, N. B., School for the Deaf was here Monday and Tuesday. Monday evening Miss Bateman addressed a fairly well attended meeting of citizens in the town hall. She gave a history of the work of educating the deaf throughout the world and particularly New Brunswick. Four pupils, three little girls and a young man gave an exhibition of the manner in which they are taught.

It was really marvelous to note the thoroughness with which they can express themselves and understand questions asked them.

A collection was taken up for this worthy work which is supported to a large extent by voluntary contributions.

Quite a number of citizens have also subscribed to this work.

A brief history of the school is published on page 3.

PENILESS BY SHILOH LIFE.

Charles White of New Brunswick Once a Man of Means.

Another victim of the Shiloh scheme, another home ruined and an old man left in the cold after being fleeced by the religious confidence man of considerable over a thousand dollars, says the Lisbon Falls Enterprise. Another black mark appears in the great book against the self-styled Elijah.

Charles White three years ago was a prosperous farmer in Northumberland County, New Brunswick. He was considered one of the solid men of the place, a man of influence and a man who had acquired a good share of this world's goods. Today he leaves Shiloh penniless and almost heart-broken, for he could tell a story that would cause the tears to flow from the stoutest-hearted men.

It was through reading Tongue of Fire that Mr. White first got interested in Shiloh. Three years ago he came to the hill top and attended the convention and on the strength of promises then made, later sold his farm and came to Shiloh. Just before coming he sent Mr. Sandford $1,000 and after he arrived emptied his purse completely into the yawning jaws of the Shiloh Car's donation receptacle.

Mr. White has been at Shiloh two years, sufficiently long for him to see that something is wrong and long enough for him to become convinced that Sandford is not Elijah, neither is Holland Moses. The one sad feature of this sad tale is that Mrs. White is thoroughly permeated with the Shiloh doctrine and the happiness of a once joyful home is gone forever.—St. John Times.

Social and Personal

The funeral of the late John Parker, which took place last Friday afternoon, was one of the largest ever seen in this place. The services at the house and at the church were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Mitchell, pastor of the Presbyterian church. The pall bearers were Frank Menzies, Mark Sinclair, James Travis, Ernest Tozer, Peter Allison and Ernest Whitney.

Much sympathy is felt throughout the whole community for the deceased young man's family.

Miss Olivia Parker arrived home from Boston last Thursday to attend the funeral of her brother.

Mrs. James Whitney who has been visiting friends in Bangor and Island Falls, Maine, returned home last Thursday.

We do not think it would be much trouble for the captain to blow the whistle at intervals along the river, so that the people would know he was going up Tuesday evening instead of Wednesday morning.

Parish Hall Demolished, Catholic Church Badly Damaged

ELECTRICAL STORM.

Which was Visible from St. John last night Caused Great Havoc up North.

Fredericton, N. B., Aug. 11—Word reached here at noon Friday that the heavy electrical storm which passed over this district last evening did serious damage at French Village.

The wind in that section of the country amounted to a cyclone. The parish hall was completely demolished and the new Catholic church suffered severely. Two costly windows in the edifice were smashed, one of these being a most expensive memorial, one to the late Father O'Leary.

Several of the Indian residences were more or less injured and one or two of the barns completely ruined.

The storm did not come near St. John but there was visible in the distance during the evening one of the grandest electrical displays ever seen in this vicinity.

Order Shown to be in a Flourishing Condition.

SHOOTING ACCIDENT AT ALFANY CROSS.

Middleton, N. S., Aug. 11.—Mr. Harry Britcher, of Williamston, while out shooting on one of the farms of Albany, took hold of his gun by the muzzle to take it ashore from the canoe he was in, when the hammer struck a thwart and discharged the gun. The charge entered his wrist, and came out at the elbow carrying away the muscles of under part of his arm. Drs. Miller and Reed, of Middleton, dressed the arm.

How Consumption Starts

Tired When You Waken—
Languid All day—Nerves
Worn out, Snap all Gone

Your limbs feel "ragged" and excessively weak. A night's sleep seldom brings satisfactory rest. Constant headaches, exhaustion, and nervous sensations destroy your health. Soon every spark of vitality is used up. Then you catch tuberculosis.

Start today. Build up, get new nerve force, and overcome this process of decay. Use Ferruzone, which physicians consider the most vitalizing, uplifting tonic ever made.

Ferruzone cures because it can furnish the body with sufficient nutriment and building material.

Think of the instant effect—at once the appetite increases, delightful color in the cheeks appears, that rich, red blood is being circulated. Tired muscles are invigorated, flesh and weight are added. Nerve force develops, and bounding joyous health is firmly established.

This is certain—Ferruzone restores failing strength from any cause. The experience of Mr. Thos. Dowd, of Schreiber, Ont., proves this:

"Household worries and cares had about exhausted my strength. I was weak and miserable. My cheeks lacked the color of health, and occasionally I had spells of rheumatism. Then my appetite fell off, and nothing could tempt me to eat. Worn out feeling, chills and despondency filled my very being. I became anemic and dwindled down to a shadow. Consumption was very near. Ferruzone put strength in my body with a rush. It built me up, strong, virile and happy, and I have been well ever since."

Ferruzone cures sickness by curing the real cause—lack of blood and nerve tone. It keeps people at their best—fit, lively and anxious for work. In $0.00 boxes only six for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Tolson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

Wiggins—I understand, sir, that you said I was a fool.

Higgins—Well, I'm glad to know that you are capable of understanding something!

Pains in Small
of the Back

So severe she could scarcely rise after stooping—The cause, kidney disease.

Thousands of women make the mistake of attributing their suffering to derangement of the peculiar feminine system, when the cause of trouble is disease of the kidneys. To all such the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will promptly relieve and thoroughly cure.

Miss W. Wiggins, Henry St., Belleville, Ont., states: "I suffered a great deal with pains in the small of the back, caused from kidney trouble. Whenever I stooped I could scarcely rise again, the pains were so great. The disease became so severe that it affected my general health, and I was becoming run down. Since using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills I can say that my trouble has entirely disappeared. I can speak in the highest terms of this medicine from the way it acted in my case."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cts. a box, at all dealers, or Edman, Bates & Co., Toronto. To protect you against imitations, the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box.

INCREASE IN HOMESTEAD
ENTRIES.

Ottawa, Aug. 4.—The return of homestead entries for the past month show an increase of 701 over July last year. The entries for the past month were 3,729 against 3,019 for July last year. The largest increase was at Regina, where the number rose from 743 to 1,110. Battleford came next with 922 against 277 in July, 1904. There was an increase at Alameda of 104, of 56 at Calgary, 145 at Red Deer. There were decreases at Yorkton, Lethbridge and Edmonton, and Prince Albert remained stationary.

LA GRIPE COMING AGAIN

The doctors believe another epidemic of Gripe is here, and already many are suffering. The medical men are not afraid of Gripe since Catarrhones was introduced, and claim that no one will ever catch this disease, which inhales the fragrant healing vapor of Catarrhones a few times daily. Catarrhones kills the gripe germ and prevents it spreading through the system. "Last winter I had an attack of Gripe," writes C. P. Mackinnon of St. John's. "I bought Catarrhones and got relief in a short time. I found Catarrhones better than anything else and was cured by using it. Catarrhones prevents and cures Gripe, colds and catarrh. Two months' treatment $1.00; trial size 25c."

EXPRESSION IN DRESS.

A girl with blue eyes may wear turquoise blue and some one will write sonnets to her in which azure hue will rhyme with true. Certain shades of brown on a brown haired girl make a charming effect of demureness while yellow on a golden haired girl suggests sunshine. Remember it is always better that some one should say, "What beautiful eyes (or hair or complexion) Miss A. has" than "Miss A. is rather nice looking." In the first assertion admiration is positive some one has been made to feel that a distance point of beauty exists. In the latter the impression has that of negative attraction.

Mrs. Homer—I wonder where Mrs. Weeds will make her home now that both of her daughters are married—with her son-in-law in New York or with her son-in-law in St. Louis?

Homer—I don't know, I'm sure They both want her.

Mrs. Homer—Indeed? What dutiful sons-in-law!

Homer—Oh, not necessarily. The one in New York wants her in St. Louis, and the one in St. Louis wants her in New York.

Say, mister, queried the tramp as he paused in front of the house, 'hav youse got an ole pair uv pants wot youse could give gumme?

I don't know, replied the man on the front porch. I'll ask my wife.

Don't trouble yerself, mister, said the hobo, as he started to move on. Ef youse hev got dat kind uv a wife I reckon she's got use fer em herself.

THE FARMER'S REALM.

Practical Suggestions For The Improvement of The Farm.

Summary report from various parts of Ontario and elsewhere show that the dairy season of 1905 so far, has been one of the most prosperous on record. For the Canadian product, the export demand has been unusually active, and shipments from Montreal since the opening of navigation total $75,836 boxes, or 131,194 more than a year ago—a record only once before exceeded. This was in the banner year of 1903 when over a million boxes were exported up to August.

Where ice or cold water cannot be obtained or where a can of milk has to be left in a place where water and ice cannot be conveniently used, a wet cloth—preferable—wrapped around the can is an aid in keeping the milk cool. One end of the cloth is best left extended from the bottom of the can and immersed in a pail of water. A large amount of the sun's rays falling on the wet cloth is kept wet it is a protection but as it becomes dry heat passes through it to the milk uninterrupted. Evaporation of liquids in any shape means a consumption of heat. All mechanical refrigeration is based on this principle and the wet cloth on the milk can is a refrigerator in a small scale, the only difference being that water is used instead of ice and the degree of coldness obtained.

The young farmers and the old as well should look for the road that lead to profit or loss on the farm and see to it that he gets started on the right road. Too little attention is given to the computing of profit and also studying losses. It is not easy to figure out the profit on the farm for a single year provided the farm is improved with better fences, tile drains, systematic rotation of crops and improvement of stock. Where personal labor is exchanged by the farmer for the improvement of his farm he is quite apt to neglect to figure in this amount on the profit side of the ledger.

The farmer can however keep accounts of the general details of his work and by so doing know just about where he is coming out at the end of the year. One of the helps in looking ahead is by the putting of his eggs in more than one basket. We would not, however, have too many baskets. Getting at the profits means looking ahead, better farm management, more business method and an ability to be resourceful.

The harvest upon which our farmers are just entering is likely to go down to history as a record one. Reports from all points, east, centre and west, indicate a bountiful harvest. If weather conditions are favorable for the next few weeks our farmers will have their granaries full to overflowing. The scarcity of help is a difficulty that will not be lessened by a big crop. What a bountiful harvest means to the country at large need scarcely be dwelt upon at length. So closely is Canada's prosperity allied with agriculture that plenty in the granary means plenty for the manufacturer and the merchant. Another season of prosperity is assured providing no serious injury results to the crops before it is gathered in. Favorable weather and plenty of help are the contingencies upon which success hinges at the present time, and every day lessens the probability of injury.

Tomkins—So all your children are married and settled, are they?
Simkins—Well, they are all married, but I'm not so sure about their being settled. None of them is divorced.

Doctor Brigham Says

MANY PHYSICIANS PRESCRIBE
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The wonderful power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound over the diseases of womanhood is not because it is a stimulant, not because it is a palliative, but simply because it is the most wonderful tonic and reconstructive ever discovered to act directly upon the generative organs, positively curing disease and restoring health and vigor.

Marvelous cures are reported from all parts of the country by women who have been cured, trained nurses who have witnessed cures and physicians who have recognized the virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and are fair enough to give credit where it is due.

If physicians dared to be frank and open, hundreds of them would acknowledge that they constantly prescribe Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in severe cases of female ill, as they know by experience it can be relied upon to effect a cure. The following letter proves it.

Dr. S. C. Brigham, of 4 Brigham Park, Fitchburg, Mass., writes: "It gives me great pleasure to say that I have found Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound very efficacious, and often prescribe it in my practice for female difficulties. My oldest daughter found it very beneficial for uterine trouble some time ago, and my youngest daughter is now taking it for a female weakness, and is surely gaining in health and strength."

"I freely advocate it as a most reliable specific in all diseases to which women are subject, and give it my honest endorsement."

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular menstruation, bloating (or flatulence), leucorrhoea, falling, inflammation or ulceration of the uterus, ovarian troubles, that bearing-down feeling, dizziness, faintness, indigestion, nervous prostration or the blues, should take immediate action to ward off the serious consequences, and be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and then write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for further free advice. No living person has had the benefit of a wider experience in treating female ill. She has guided thousands to health. Every suffering woman should ask for and follow her advice if she wants to be strong and well.

The Weak Spot.
In case of disease or over-exertion it is the weak spot that is immediately affected. With the majority of women the weak spot is the kidneys. The use of GIN PILLS corrects this by strengthening the kidneys, so that they do their work naturally and well.

The Advocate extends congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. J. Savoy of Newcastle and Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Monahan of Nelson on the arrival of baby boys.

The I. C. R. authorities should instruct their employees to remove the piles of sleepers along the track at Jones' crossing. It is impossible for people driving down to see a train until within a few feet of the railway.

Considerable damage was done to the Miramichi Telephone service by the electrical storm of Saturday evening. Several of the drops at the central were burned out and the Chatham and Long distance lines were also put out of business temporarily. Prompt repairs were effected.

Chairman Desmond of the Board of Works is taking a great interest in road work and much good work is being done. The highway from George Ingram's property to the Northwest bridge has been put in good condition by the roadmaker. Men with the machine are now engaged in widening and repairing the Jones road and a very creditable job is being made of it.

Flett's box shock factory of Nelson had a narrow escape from fire Monday. The wind was blowing directly from Bentley's rotary mill to the factory, carrying the sparks from the chimney which twice set fire to the roof. Men with buckets were placed as guards and twice extinguished burning patches on the roof. Had the first blaze not been discovered a disastrous fire would have resulted.

We understand that Mr. A. J. W. McKeen, who always has the interests of the farmers of Gloucester at heart, has a contract with a U. S. firm for the latest pattern weight scale which he will have erected in Bathurst. To Mr. McKeen is due much of the prosperity of the Gloucester county. He was the first buyer to ship farm produce by freight ever the Caraque railway and his sea grass industry annually leaves thousands of dollars in that county. He also sells to the farmers the very best in farm machinery.

The moonlight excursion Thursday evening was attended by about two hundred who greatly enjoyed the outing. McKeen's orchestra furnished music for dancing which was indulged in despite the warmth of the atmosphere. The moon, which was obscured by mist in the early part of the evening, later shed its soft rays over all dealing the beauty of land and water.—World. On account of it being band night here very few Newcastle people enjoyed the evening sail.

Mr. Albert T. Hinton the enterprising merchant of Bathurst and agent for the Frost & Wood Co., Smith's Falls, Ont., informs us that he had the best trade for machinery this year than ever, in fact his sales more than double the previous seasons. He is now pushing the binders and as the Frost & Wood binders are known to be the best manufactured, he expects to have a large sale in that line. He also has a new weight scale erected in front of his premises which was very much needed by the farmers.

Why Should ROYAL HOUSEHOLD be better than other flours?

- Because it is made from the very best hard wheat.
- Because it is milled by the finest machinery that money can buy.
- Because every atom of dirt and impurity is taken from it by an electrical purifying process.
- Because the Ogilvie Flour Mills Co. have given their word that none but the best will meet their demand.
