FAMILIES SUFFERING IN OUR MIDST

Not Necessary to go to Belgium to Find Needy People—Something Should be Done.

A citizen of the Town in his regular business learned of the fact that a number of people in the country were needing food. On investigation he found that one family consisting of seven members—of whom two were sick and incapable of working, one between sixty and seventy and another between seventy and eighty—were living in a small house without any food. They had borrowed from their neighbors and could borrow no more, as the neighbors were in the same condition. This man had a small farm and in the past was able to do lumbering work and earn wages which kept him more or less comfortable, but had no reserve strength. The winter being long and hard and being sick, placed himself and the family in this condition. He was ill and sitting at home and the family were without food. This was the case of one.

At another place the head of the family was sick, apparently with tuberculosis. There was a dead child in the family at the time of his visit, apparently had died for lack of sustenance. Some other cases almost, if not altogether as appalling, came to his notice. He made known the fact to some persons in this town and they gave him cash to help out the conditions. He bought goods—meat, molasses and such like—and took it to these suffering, starving families. The little settlement, where these people live lies between the Tobique and Balmoral Settlement, and there are some seven or eight families there living. It was very difficult to reach them owing to the condition of the roads, but he finally succeeded and brought as much as his horse could haul to the families. Upon distributing it, he found that there were at least seven families in a more or less deplorable condition and needing food.

When one comes to think of it, Belgium and her suffering people do not appear to us any more earnestly than do these suffering people living at our doors and while we all exclaim that this should not be, yet if other steps are not taken to supply their needs, in addition to what this citizen was able to do, the same conditions will continue.

In some cases, these settlers have little farms upon which they could grow food if they had seed, but they are crowded without any seed.

We publish this statement with a view of eliciting sympathy either from the Town people or from the Government, or some one who will have energy sufficient to bring about a change in the conditions. As we sit down to our meals, although the cost of living is very apparent to us, we all have meals, let us think of our poor, suffering brethren so close to our doors who have not anything at all, and are suffering in quietness and loneliness.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Walter Miller.

The many friends of Mrs. Walter Miller of Vancouver, B. C. formerly of this town will be shocked to hear of her death which occurred Thursday morning, May 10th. She had not been real well for a year or more but was always about and cheerful till taken down with tubular pneumonia from which she suffered two weeks. She had a perfect peace of mind right up till the last.

The second last night before she passed away she imagined she was on a beautiful sea voyage and spoke of the balmy wind, and sang several songs one was a Hawaiian song, "Aloha le" (Farewell to Thee).

She was buried in the city in Mountain View Cemetery, Saturday afternoon, May 12th.

The late Mrs. Miller was very well and favorably known in Campbellton. All who knew her could not help but love and respect her. She had a striking personality and was gifted with a most beautiful voice which she was very pleased to use where ever she thought it would give pleasure. She was a valuable member of St. Andrew's Church choir at one time.

Our tenderest and truest sympathy is extended to Mr. Miller and his little daughter Edith in their irreparable loss, also to the dear mother, Mrs. Correll.

RAILWAY SERVICE NEEDS ATTENTION

New Time Table Going Into Effect Early in June Should be Examined

The Graphic understands that the new time cards for the C. G. R. and I. N. R. are being prepared. The new cards will go into effect early in June.

It is important that certain improvements be made to the train service in and out of Campbellton. For the first time in over twenty years Campbellton has had no day train arriving here from east in the morning and leaving for points east in the evening. In consequence of this much trade has been driven from Campbellton and thousands of dollars lost to our town.

A year ago a suburban was run between Newcastle and Campbellton. This was a very convenient train and worked up a large traffic but was taken off shortly after New Year because of lack of motive power.

It is necessary that this train be again put on the route, but we understand that no provision is being made to do so. If such is the case it is time for our merchants to get together and insist upon proper recognition of our claims.

Not only this train, but a schedule of all local trains should be procured by a strong committee of merchants and the whole service discussed and recommendations made which will convince the management that we are alive to our own interests.

Important changes are also to be made in the running of trains on the International.

It is too bad our Board of Trade is dead. An effort should be made to have it reorganized and take up its duties.

This is a matter that needs instant and spontaneous action in our town. Now get busy.

Since the above was written a meeting of the Board of Trade has been called for Friday evening to discuss these matters. Every business man whether a member of the Board or not should attend.

FLAT LANDS

Miss Elsie McLeod of Flatlands has received a very interesting letter from her brother, Pte. Percy McLeod who is now in hospital in Edinburgh, Scotland, in which he says:—

"Just a few lines to let you know that I am well, hope you are the same. I am in the hospital here and having a dandy time, all I have to do now is sleep and eat. I tell you 'tis some change from the trenches. This is not a soldier's evening, they never had any soldier's here until a few months ago and so they are pretty good to us."

I suppose you have read all about the big push at Vimy Ridge. I know there is a dot in the papers here about it, well I went over the top with the battalion in that push last Monday morning, it was just breaking day when we jumped out of our trenches and went across to "No Man's Land" to see Old Fritz. I tell you it was some sight to see him send up his lights, they were red, orange, blue and white and a green light that went up in the air about a thousand feet and burst into a lot of green balls. Our artillery when he started was louder than any thunder you ever heard and the flash of the guns was brighter than lightning. They say it was one of the greatest battles the Canadians were ever in. We got into our new positions and I stopped with them about forty-eight hours, then my feet got sore and I came out to see the doctor and he shipped me off to "Blighty".

ARCHIBALD SETTLEMENT

Mrs. A. M. Rosengreen of Archibald Settlement has received word from her brother, Pte. Wm. LeClair, who is now in hospital in Edinburgh, Scotland, in which he says:—

That Pte. W. A. Rosengreen of my section was wounded by shrapnel during a recent engagement and no doubt is now in kind hands in hospital. He and the rest of his crew were advancing in an attack under shell fire when he got hit. I trust that it will not be long before he recovers because a boy of his calibre is hard to find every day. He was strong, cheerful and a great favorite with the boys and I saw speedy promotion for him, and I shall keep tab on him from time to time though I do not doubt that you will hear from him quicker than I could write do not worry over it, as he has done his duty well and I think he has all the necessary strength to pull through. I shall be pleased to supply any further information.

W. HARDIMAN, LIEUT.

She has also had a letter from Capt. Yowse of the Gordon Highlanders in which he says "Private Rosengreen is suffering from a wound in the left chest. He is so far going on as well as can be expected and is a little better than he was. I can only hope and pray that this improvement will continue. You may rest assured that he is in very capable hands that he is receiving every possible care and attention."

DEAD AT QUEBEC

Many friends here will regret to learn of the death quite suddenly at Quebec of Dr. Wallace Hall. Dr. Hall was a resident of Campbellton for some years previous to moving to Quebec.

Coun. Patterson moved that the offer of Havelock Sansom agreeing to extend the town in for simple $2,000 of his property for $930.00 and to remove all buildings be accepted—Carried.

Coun. McBeath moved that Dr. McNichol's offer in reference to east street be also accepted. This was to be made in the running of trains on the International.

The following departmental accounts were passed:—

PUBLIC CHARITIES
F. M. Anderson $12.00

The matter of dispute between the Town and the McLennan Foundry & Machine Works Ltd. in reference to electric power has been settled, a check for the balance due as agreed upon having been handed the town treasurer.

Mr. Wm. Currie was appointed a member of the School Board in place of Mrs. A. A. Andrew whose term had expired.

Coun. McBeath moved that the Graphic be given the Department By-laws to print and the Tribune the Law Cards—Carried.

Coun. Harquail reported that the Electric Light committee were considering the matter of extending the electric lights to Andersonville and would report later.

Coun. Harquail moved that the matter of printing the Town By-laws be left with the Finance Committee until proposed new by-laws are drafted—Carried.

Coun. Harquail suggested that the Building Inspector have certain specified office hours, so that applicants for building permits would know when to find him. He also suggested that the owner of the shack on Water Street burned Tuesday morning be notified to remove same promptly.

The Waverly ruins were also up for discussion and the Clerk instructed to write the owners in reference to same.

A letter from the ladies of the W. C. T. U. re curfew and compulsory education, and requests for financial grants from the Roman Catholic and Salvation Army were ordered placed on file.

The meeting then adjourned.

KOPPEL'S BAKERY BADLY GUTTED

Shortly after five o'clock Tuesday morning an alarm was rung in for a blaze in Koppel's bakery. The fire, fire engine of the building was gutted and stock ruined.

This was one of the original shacks on Water Street and the fire, through the entire building before the alarm was sounded. The firemen were soon on the scene and extinguished the fire but the stock was entirely ruined.

The fire was caused by the overturning of a pot of fat which caught fire. Mr. Koppel when he saw he could not extinguish the blaze, rushed upstairs and helped his wife and daughter out. He returned to get his pocket book, watch and other valuables but failed and had to jump out an upstairs window. He then had to run to box 31, ring in a alarm, consequently the fire had a great start before the firemen appeared.

Mr. Koppel's loss will be heavy as he has only $1000. on his stock and bakery equipment.

NOTES

The firemen made a record run to the fire.

The need of another alarm box on Water Street was made evident. Another shack has been removed. They will soon all be gone.

In the programme of the Sacred Concert held on Sunday evening, May 13th, printed in last week's issue of the Graphic one of the most pleasing numbers was omitted, Miss Mildred O'Connor's solo, "The Rescuer." Trusting the omission will be kindly overlooked as things like this are very likely to happen.

KILLED AT THE FRONT
Word has been received of the death of Bruce Noble of Goderich, Ontario. He was killed in action on April 5th at Vimy Ridge. Pte. Noble who was but eighteen years old enlisted at London, Ontario in September 1915 with the 71st Battalion and went overseas in November. After qualifying as a gunner he went to France in July 1916.

Previous to enlisting, Pte. Noble was a student of the Goderich Collegiate Institute and in honor to him the flag at the school was flown at half mast when the news of his death was received.
His mother, Mrs. G. E. Noble of Goderich has received a letter from Lieut. McBurney of the company of which her son was a member in which he says "that her son was killed on the afternoon of April 5th between two and three o'clock. He did not suffer after being hit and lived about three minutes being conscious to the last. His comrades carried his body out and it was given a Christian burial in Mount St. Eloy Military Cemetery where a plain white cross marks the spot which is too far from the Boche to be ever again disturbed by his shell fire. Bruce was well liked by his comrades, was cheerful and always willing to work when required and his death is a distinct loss to the company who join with me in expressing to you our heartfelt sympathies."

Bruce Noble was a grandson of Mrs. J. Noble and a grand nephew of the late George Dickson of Broadlands, Que.

INCREASED PRODUCTION AND MAKING USE OF UNOCCUPIED LOTS

These are popular phrases and are much in the mouths of the people of the Town. In theory they may be discussed and are pleasant themes of conversation and perhaps our townspeople are really interested. We will wait and wonder and perhaps see.

Prominent men throughout the Empire are requiring of us to adopt habits which tend to conserve the nation's food supply. Present prices would perhaps bring about this conservation without any more care required. In there really a scarcity of food? If so, how is it that dealers can obtain the profits that they are obtaining when selling articles of everyday necessity? This is a question to be considered, but looking at the condition of affairs throughout the Empire, one does not need to be a great thinker to arrive at the conclusion that if food is not scarce today, it will be scarce before this war is finished.

Poor people are concerned about the scarcity of food. They are very much concerned with two articles of frequent need at the prices that they now are referring to flour and potatoes. Because of their scarcity, people will have to cut them out of their bill of fare, but life must go on and we must eat something else and soon other things will be just as expensive, if they are not so now.

The greatest remedy for this existing state of affairs is production by each individual, but how? The Town Council have kindly offered the use of their Town teams to encourage the poor people in cultivating back lots and unoccupied lots; but how many "poor people" the really non-fide class have been able to avail themselves of the privilege, and an equally pertinent query is, how many of the other class have availed themselves of the offer? The men who could more successfully than any others bring about the accomplishment of the wish of the poor people to produce are the employers of labor in this Town. How many employers have time to do any work on their lots? Beginning work at seven o'clock in the morning and leaving off at six each day in the week, and for wages that have not increased very much at all from other years when conditions were different.

Book-keepers and office men and women who would enjoy a little farming, if encouraged, have also no time to devote to the work. Other Towns and Cities have encouraged these classes of people to engage in this work and to that end have given half-day holidays in each week; have shortened the hours of service to enable their employees to take up this work. To the spectator it would seem to me unnecessary that business men should require their office help to work from seven o'clock at night for six days in the week, and in many cases to go back after supper and work for one or two or three hours. But, perhaps the poor business man is not making any profits and cannot afford to use their employees differently? What are the facts in the matter? A little observation a little looking into the matter might bring about different results. If the working men are going to be encouraged by one another and by the public at large and are going to be any gainers by this upheaval throughout the Empire and the world, it is about time that some activities tending in this direction should be begun.

If leisure, a reasonable amount, is good for the hard-worked business man, it is also good for the hard-worked employee; and during the summer months if the business man and employee could get together and have a half day, at least, devoted to some common purpose for the good of the Town, it would produce a healthier and happier class of citizens. If this condition, or an equally fair one, does not obtain, the purposes that might be expected to be consummated by this world conflict will never obtain and the sacrifice put forth by men and women will be in vain.—Cor.

EDITOR'S MAIL

Campbellton, N. B.

Dear Editor:—
If I am not asking too much I would like to see these few remarks about a certain soldier's wife in Campbellton, published in the Graphic.

My husband has now been in the trenches for over ten months and this winter I have had great difficulty in getting fuel I ordered wood weeks before it is needed but I cannot get it and consequently both my children and myself are suffering from the cold. But the men who are home, who have not enlisted to fight for their country get their's whenever it is ordered. Is this right?

Thanking you, Mr. Editor for your columns, I remain,
Yours truly,
A SOLDIER'S WIFE.

Dear Editor:—
The temperance people must be heartened that they have some privileges granted in the line of rescuing, at least, the traffic in intoxicating liquors. We feel sorry for the poor fellows who buy them; but, thank the, will unwillingly see the "bar closed" and no doubt will put up a stiff fight to have a substitute. If the law says could only understand that the "temperance" workers are their friends and not their sworn enemies, would they not try to help to go further than prohibition even on to the goal of temperance work; the stopping of the manufacture of this man-killing soul destroying fluid; greater in its ravages than "War famine or pestilence." Were our house in flames, this being threatened to destruction, would we not gladly help the friends who came to our aid, and if we did not would we not show by our lack of assistance that we were not in our reasonable mind. Had the people of Belgium instead of welcoming our armies and giving them all possible assistance, stood aloof, or even, in a suspicious mood, took sides with the Germans what would such action stand for? It would be glaring madness on their part. Is this picture an overdrawn parallel in the temperance cause? No it is not. Is it because we love darkness rather than light that we try to hinder instead of help those who are striving to make the world a better place in which to live? How easy it is to oppose the good and lend a helping hand to the evil.
We trust, that our God, the eyes of the bar-proprietor may be opened and that his former view-point, finances, may be changed to the good of my neighbor, that he may not hear "the woe."

SHORTAGE OF SWEDE TURNIP SEED.

Swede turnip growers are urged this spring to endeavour to receive and transplant a few sound roots to produce seed for themselves and their neighbors. Owing to the abnormal conditions now prevailing there will likely be very little swede seed for planting in the spring of 1918 unless our Canadian swede turnip growers make provision for their own supplies by growing the seed themselves. Canadian supplies of swede and most other field root and garden seeds formerly came from Europe but this source is now practically cut off. The prospects for home grown seed have been reduced by the present price of swede turnips for food purposes, as it would now take nearly two hundred dollars worth of full grown swede turnips to transport an acre for seed purposes. This factor has had the unfortunate effect of reducing the area in the eastern provinces that would otherwise have been planted for the production of swede seeds.

WOULD CAUSE A RIOT

If the newspaper should some day print the contents of its waste basket there would certainly be a riot. There would certainly be trouble in many homes, arrests in many directions, shotguns in another, trouble all around. But the patron never sees the waste basket he only glances at the beautifully printed page, and complains if one letter is upside down, grows if one name happens to be wrong, kicks because his communication assigned "Taxpayer" has been condensed into respectable English, browns because the editor did not take his advice about publicly telling their neighbors of their short-comings, and is generally disgruntled. He knows his share of the waste basket, but if he could look at the contributions to that receptacle he would be thankful for the existence of a man with intelligence and courage enough to print all he knows, and to temper that which he does print.

The Canada Temperance Act

The policy of the Dominion Alliance is to encourage the repeal of the Canada Temperance Act (Scott Act) in counties in which it has been operating. Where this is done the new Provincial Prohibition Law would then become effective. It is always easier to enforce one uniform law. The New Brunswick Government cannot put its new law in effect in Scott Act counties as the latter is Dominion legislation, which has precedence over Provincial legislation. Friends of temperance, who live in Scott Act counties, are, however, asked to co-operate in the more thorough enforcement of that Act so long as it continues in operation.

A CONSERVATIVE M. P.
SCORES WOMEN

H. Boulay Calls Their Employment in the Civil Service an Evil

Women were the subject of animated and at times acrimonious debate in Parliament when Mr. H. Boulay, Rimouki (Conservative) moved that in future only men be employed by the Government in all branches of the civil service where the salary was greater than $800 per annum. He finally withdrew the motion.

Mr. Boulay, who spoke in French, ruthlessly scouted the idea of women in public life. From the dual standpoint of health and morality women should not be permitted to work in the civil service. If they had to be employed they should never receive more than $600 per annum. "It is useless to pay them more," he exclaimed, "because it would be wasted in the purchase of theatre tickets, toilet articles, dress, powder, and perfume." He declared, amid some laughter that he wanted to particularly emphasize the powder and the perfume, and it was not their habit to save anything. Women employed in the service did not have opportunity to learn housekeeping and most of them had no desire to get married.

TWO EVILS IN CAPITAL

"The young ladies," said he, "are filled with envy and enmity towards one another, over the cost of their clothes, trying to outshine one another in dress, in paints and powders and general makeups." These things—and their figures—were about all they thought about. Mr. Boulay declared that since he was elected to parliament, he had found the Canadian capital to be suffering from two evils—theatres and women in Government and Parliamentary offices. He had no objection to widows with families to support having places in the service, but objected to a system which he maintained created improper social ambitions, love of show and gaiety, and destroyed the young women's love for home life.

WOULD PENALIZE BACHELORS

Having had a round out of the fair sex Mr. Boulay turned his guns on the bachelors. No bachelor should receive more than $700 per annum, and no married man less than $800. He urged a special and heavy tax on bachelors. In closing Mr. Boulay confessed that he would not be popular with the ladies, but declared he was adopting his attitude for the best interests of the country.

THE NEED OF GREATER FOOD PRODUCTION.

Hitherto in this great war when we were not eligible for the fighting line, we considered we had done our part if we gave to the Patriotic Fund, or did our share in Red Cross or work for soldiers in any form.

Now we are face to face with a question in which women and children as well as men can and indeed must participate, if we are to do our bit, for our Empire, in preventing a world-wide famine.

To quote the words of Premier Lloyd George: "The man who produces food from the soil is holding the line as much as the man in the trenches." All over the Dominion this "Great Food Production League" is at work and the response is just as loyal as it was for enlistment.

It is urgently asked that every person who is able in any way whatever do something to help increase the food of our country. Vegetables as well as other foodstuffs must be given careful attention as they form as important part in the every-day diet of most individuals. In these times of stress when the energies of all people are being devoted to further the cause of justice and right, the securing of a supply of vegetables should not only commend itself, but it is the duty of the average householder in our towns and cities, while in the country every man should aim to put in a few acres more (double if possible) than last year to produce foodstuffs.

The vegetables most easily and commonly grown in this climate are, peas, beans, lettuce, radishes, carrots, beets, onions, parsnips, turnips and potatoes. Owing to the scarcity and high price of potatoes, the seed question is most acute. This has been solved to a certain degree in some parts of Ontario by housekeepers saving seed ends of the potatoes in preparing them for meals, the same to be a little thicker than usual and preserved in sand. In the city of Toronto these are being collected by the school children and distributed to those who are unable to otherwise procure them. Prof. Robertson especially emphasized the food value of beans as they are most concentrated and consequently leave less waste for overseas.

It is most urgently requested of us that we abstain as far as possible from the food needed by our boys overseas, such as wheat, beef, pork, and to make use of cornmeal instead of wheat as far as possible and the same may be said of vegetables instead of beef.

Let us firmly resolve every one of us to keep up the strength of the soldiers arm by doing largely without these things at home and do our part in hastening victory.

It has been said on good authority that "He who wastes food is a traitor to his country." One way to propose to overcome this waste is to can any vegetables we may have an over-supply of. It is estimated that a can of peas costing 15 cents a can can be put up at home for 4 cents this coming to be done by the use of a common glass self-sealer. This will in no way whatever cripple any industry as everything is needed overseas or in the cities. France, England and Italy in peace times did not depend upon America, but on Russia, Roumania and Bulgaria for most of their foodstuffs. With these sources closed, this crisis of the hour demands that we see that our soldiers and the Motherland are fed. In reference to the canning this will also apply to berries and owing to high price of sugar, taking the place to some extent of preserving. Recipes for this purpose will be given later on.

We not only need to conserve in food but in everything owing to the high cost of living and scarcity of labour. It is also urged that more poultry be kept as eggs are in such demand. Also that we abstain from veal and lamb in order to increase farm stock.

Would it not be wise in these strenuous times to lessen the number of dogs in our towns and keep the food for poultry and pigs?

Let us not forget to waste, nothing however small in the line of woollens as there are grave fears of shortage of wool for the civilian population. This as in other things the militia must come first.

Experts say that it will be ten years before our country attains its normal standing again.

This is only a beginning and a late one as it should have been agitated last year so that farmers would have been better prepared, but we hope that enthusiasm will be ever increasing and preparations for cultivation of greater acreage will be commenced this fall. Again let us ask that every individual do their utmost along these lines and thus help to bring this dreadful war to a close and victory to our arms.

Because style decrees that women crowd and buckle up their tender toes in high heel footwear they suffer from corns, then they cut and trim at these painful pests which merely makes the corn grow hard. This suicidal habit may cause lockjaw and women are warned to stop it.

A few drops of a drug called freeze one applied directly upon a sore corn gives quick relief and soon the entire corn, heel and all, lifts out without pain. Ask the drug store man for a quarter of an ounce of Freezone, which costs very little but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet.

JACQUET RIVER.

Still another of our boys have made the supreme sacrifice the last one being Private Alexander Daigle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Daigle. His parents received a telegram stating he had been killed in action April 9th. So concluding from this he must have taken part in the battle of Vimy Ridge, in which the Canadians paid such a heavy price. Pte. Daigle enlisted in the 132nd and was about 22 years of age. Besides his parents and several brothers and sisters he leaves another brother Pte. Frank Daigle who also went over with the 132nd. They have the sympathy of a large number of friends in their sad loss.

Another of our boys have joined the Honor Roll. Mr. Roy Fenderson oldest son of Mr. Charles Fenderson who has been attending Mount Allison University, Sackville having joined the Signalers Corps for Overseas Service.

On Friday evening last a very enthusiastic meeting was held in the M. B. A. Hall under the auspices of the Women's Institute of New Brunswick. Miss Hazel Winter Superintendent of the Institute, gave a very interesting talk on the history of the Institute and the great amount of good work it is doing for the women in the home. Miss Saunders also gave a very instructive lecture on canning fruit and vegetables. Rev. F. M. Daigle acted as chairman for the evening. A branch consisting of 26 members was organized and the following officers elected for the ensuing year: President Mrs. W. J. Davis; Vice-Pres. Mrs. John Calligan; Secy-Treas. Miss Lou Brown; Chairman of Board of Directors, Mrs. George Annett; Additional Director, Mrs. R. L. Ellis, and Mrs. D. M. McAllister; Auditors, Mrs. P. H. Salter and Miss Audrey Doyle. It was decided to hold the meetings in the evenings of the second Friday of each month at 7.30 o'clock. The first meeting to take place at the home of the President. It was moved by Mrs. W. J. Davis and seconded by Mrs. Paul Doyle, and enthusiastically carried that a hearty vote of thanks be extended to Miss Winter and Miss Saunders for their interesting speeches and kindness in organizing the branch. The meeting broke up with the singing of the National Anthem.

Congratulations are tendered to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Doyle on the arrival of a baby boy at their home on Tuesday last.

It is learned with deep regret that Mr. David Hickie sustained a very painful accident on Saturday. While working as foreman of stream driving he was chopping wood at the top of the river bank when he slipped, and was precipitated about thirty feet to the bottom of the bank and came in contact with a log at the bottom. He was immediately removed to his home and on being examined it was concluded there were no bones broken but he was very badly bruised. It is hoped Mr. Hickie will have a speedy recovery.

The mill of the Lousin Lumber Co. started its operations on Friday last, with bright prospects for a successful summer's run.

Herring fishing has also opened up last week and a good catch is reported, and as the snow has almost disappeared prospects seem much brighter for a much larger production of crops than ever before as everyone seems to be most enthusiastic in this branch of National Service.

A telegram has been received by Mr. Thomas Elsliger of Nash's Creek contradicting the first report that his son Private Alexander Elsliger had been killed in action. Private Elsliger was missing for some time, but was finally discovered quite safe without even a scratch needless to say the news was received very joyfully.

Sergeant Harry Culligan, is spending a few days leave at his home here before joining his unit finally.

Thursday last Arbor Day, was celebrated as usual throughout the community and in consequence the place looks decidedly brighter. At the school many pretty trees were planted besides the usual cleaning.

At a meeting of the Newcastle United Workers' Mission Band held on Friday last Miss Delphine Clarke was chosen president, Miss Clarke's many friends in Jacquet River congratulate her and wish her all success.

Lance Corporal Harold J. Barter, Died of Wounds in France.

John W. Barter of Cascapedia on Wednesday the 25th of April in a telegram from Ottawa received the sad news that his son, Harold Barter had died in 22nd Casualty Clearing Station in France on April 11th. Harold Barter enlisted one year ago in the 189th Battalion and went overseas last fall. After a short stay in England he went to France having been there only five months.

Besides his father and mother he leaves four sisters, Mrs. G. Taylor of New Richmond, Mrs. Gulleford Pike of Montreal, Margaret and Annie at home and three brothers, Pte. Duncan Barter who enlisted two years ago and is now in a Convalescent Hospital in Canada, and Ptes. Forrest and Robert who enlisted in April 1916, the same time as Harold and in the same Battalion. Forrest was turned down on account of being under age while Robert went over last fall and is now in a Hospital in England. Pte. Harold Barter's letters home were always of a very cheerful nature accepting everything incidental to a soldier's life.

Pte. Barter was a splendid type of young man and by his kindly nature endeared himself to all who with breaking hearts must now bow to the will of our Heavenly Father, even so Father for it seemeth good in Thy sight.

Artificial Coloring of Sugar Prohibited by the Government

FOR many years the Canadian Public has been eating Artificially Colored Sugars. Government reports show that some refineries have used Ultramarine Blue to make their granulated sugar look better than it actually is. Others made use of Aniline and Vegetable Dyes to give a brilliant appearance to their soft or yellow sugars.

The use of dyes or coloring matter of any kind is unnecessary in refining Cane Sugar. This is emphasized in a notification sent to all refiners by the Dominion Government prohibiting the coloring of sugar, and in cases where it is found, prosecution proceedings will be entered under the Adulteration of Foods Act.

We Wish the Public to Know that we Have Never Used Coloring Matter in Lantic Pure Cane Sugar and Never Will Lantic Pure Cane Sugar was first put on the market about two years ago. Since that time over 200,000,000 lbs. have been consumed by the Canadian Public, and we are now turning out 750,000 lbs. of Pure Cane Sugar each day.

The reason for this enormous business is not hard to explain. It means that the discriminating consumer has learned by actual use that Lantic Pure Cane Sugar is superior to all others.

Having selected the most modern sugar refinery in the world, costing over $4,000,000, we steadfastly adhered to our original policy of making only absolutely Pure Cane Sugars of highest quality, in which

NO BEETS ARE USED
NO ULTRAMARINE BLUE IS USED
NO ANILINE DYES ARE USED
NO VEGETABLE DYES ARE USED

SELECTIVE CONSCRIPTION GOVERNMENT'S POLICY

Sir Robert Borden Makes Statement in House of Commons After Visiting Troops at the Front

Ottawa, May 19.—In an important address Right Honourable Sir Robert Borden—direct from the Imperial war conference, with a full knowledge to the needs at the front—announced to Parliament that selective conscription would be adopted by the Government for the purpose of immediately raising from 50,000 to 100,000 more men. The Prime Minister pointed out that Canada had done nobly under the voluntary system, but coming fresh from the trenches and from visiting the wounded Canadians in hospitals, this message from those gallantly doing their duty at the front to the people at home was that help was needed badly.

The Premier, although quite conscious of the importance of the step about to be taken, nevertheless said he did not shrink from taking the responsibility and he hoped that when the conscription proposal were submitted to the House, they would be received by the representatives of the people with a full sense of the greatness of the issue involved in this great war and with the determination that we will do our duty on this struggle to the very end, whatever it may be.

SIR ROBERT BORDEN

Sir Robert Borden, after discussion of general matters affecting his visit to England and the Conference, and the decisions of the war council referred to Canada's past efforts in the world war. He claimed that the voluntary system as a means of raising men had been exhausted. All citizens in Canada are liable to military service. Then continuing, he said: "I believe that the time has come when the authority of the state should be invoked to provide reinforcements necessary to sustain the gallant men at the front who have held the lines for months and who have proved themselves more than a match for the best troops the enemy could send against them and who are now fighting in France and Belgium that Canada may live in the future. No one who has seen the positions which our men have taken, whether at Vimy Ridge, at Courtrai or elsewhere, can realize the magnitude of their task or the splendid resourcefulness which its accomplishment demanded. Nor can anyone realize the conditions under which war is being carried on. I have been somewhat in the midst of things at the front, yet I know I cannot realize what life in the trenchches means, yet I can realize it better than those who have not been as near the front as I have been."

In proceeding with his appeal he concluded: "I had to take these matters into consideration and I have given them my consideration. I realize that the responsibility, is a serious one but I do not shrink from it. Therefore, it is my duty to announce to the House the early proposals will be made on the part of the government to provide by compulsory military enlistment on a selective basis such reinforcements as may be necessary to maintain the Canadian Army today in the field as one of the finest fighting forces in the Empire. The number of men required will not be less than fifty thousand and will probably be one hundred thousand. These proposals have been formulated in part, they will be presented to the House, with the greatest expedition that circumstances will permit. I hope that when they are submitted all the members of the House will receive them with a full sense of the greatness of the issue involved in this war, with a deep realization of the sacrifice that we have already made of the purpose for which it has been and with a firm determination that on our part we will do our duty in this struggle to the very end whatever it may be."

SIR WILFRID LAURIER

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, after some brief references to the premier's mission in England, and the unsatisfactory personnel of Borden's selection of colleagues, without entering into any discussion of the merits of conscription, selective or otherwise, said that it appeared that the war would last a long time yet. "As to the methods Canada must take with regard to the prosecution of the war," he proceeded, "I have only this to say, that Canada intends to remain in the war, until victory has been attained. As to the methods we are to adopt in order to bring our men to the front and to fulfill to the end the duty we are all determined to fulfill, a good deal of consideration is to be given before the traditional policy followed by this country shall be set aside. I make at present no observation. The Government tells us that it has a new policy to offer us and I have only this to say, that whenever that policy is made known to us we shall receive and consider it in the same spirit as we have determined since the beginning of the war to assume toward all the proposals of the Government—that is, to give them due and fair consideration, reserving to ourselves the liberty of free British subjects to discharge our duties in the way we consider they ought to be discharged. I am not going to say that we should reject this or that. The only thing I say and to which I pledge the word and judgment of those who sit beside me is that we have no other intention that to remain in the war until the end and we are determined to do our duty to the best of our judgment and in such a way as to insure that the best methods are adopted to bring about that victory for which we hope will certainly come, whether it comes early or late."

THIS IS A TRIBUTE TO THE WOMEN OF NEW BRUNSWICK.

And it is a suggestion also.

From the day war broke out the women of New Brunswick have borne their full share of sacrifices and have been at once a source of pride and an inspiration to the men of the Province.

With the call for recruits, the women of New Brunswick did not hold back their husbands and sons. Some thousands of New Brunswickers donned the khaki, embraced their wives, mothers and sisters, and marched away to the training camps. Scarcely a home in the Province was left that did not give up one loved one.

Those who were privileged to witness the departure of our boys will never forget the wives and mothers who came to see their khaki-clad men and say good-bye. Many of these women knew in their heart of hearts that their loved ones would never return. Yet they kept a stiff upper lip and saved their tears for the privacy of their homes.

Such are the women of New Brunswick.

Belgium, trampled, torn and ravaged, cried out in her anguish—and the women of New Brunswick were among the first to answer. Grandmothers, mothers, wives and daughters knitted, sewed, patched, mended; they helped the men folk pack the vegetables, they put their womanly hearts into the task, made it one of love, and helped send ship loads of goods across the seas to naked, starving Belgium.

As water is to the man dying of thirst, as food is to him dying of hunger, so these ships and their cargoes of food and clothing were to the stricken Belgians. That prompt and generous action has been declared by men who were in Belgium at the time, to have come just in the nick of time. They were indeed ships of mercy.

New Brunswick and the women of this Province will ever be dear to the people of that unfortunate country—Belgium.

Then the Red Cross sent out its call. And nowhere was the response greater than from the women of New Brunswick. Every hamlet, village, town and city formed a branch. Thousands of women taught themselves knitting; other thousands spent long hours at the sewing machines; still others packed the big cases and shipped them away.

New Brunswick is proud of the work her women have done for the Red Cross; proud of the hundreds of thousands of pieces of goods they have worked long and every day to make. That is the sort of service that makes a country great. That is universal service.

And then there is the work of the Daughters of the Empire, the Purple Cross in the saving of wounded horses. What a noble and inspiring work is all this. How proud are New Brunswickers of their grandmothers, their mothers, their wives and their sisters.

Women of New Brunswick—you who have given your sons for the land, patriotism demands something more of you. With the signing of peace, there is going to be the greatest war for trade, the world has ever seen. Only the countries with the greatest reserves; only the countries that bend every effort to prepare for that trade struggle, will be able to maintain their prosperity. New Brunswick must get ready.

As the buyers for the home it is the duty of our women to spend their money in their own towns. We must have money to build up factories, to develop our natural resources, to make us still more prosperous. Women of New Brunswick it is not self evident that if we send our money out of the country we shall not have the money to build a greater prosperity?

Without the least exaggeration it can be stated that the custom of buying goods in Upper Canada has had a most serious effect on our Province. The appeal is here made to the women of New Brunswick to recognize their country's peril, and the need of their Province. Our money must be kept at home. We must buy our needs from our local merchants not especially because they are our neighbors but because it is only thus we can, at once, get the goods and keep the money too.

Women of New Brunswick, the appeal to you at this time is "BUY AT HOME."

"BUY AT HOME." Is the slogan.

"BUY AT HOME." You who have done so much will you fail in your duty to your own town?
