"NONPAREIL"

Billiard Hall!

SHARKEY'S BUILDING,

OPP. OFFICERS' BARRACKS, QUEEN ST.,

FREDERICTON, N. B.

T. E. FOSTER, Proprietor

THIS HALL has been newly fitted up, and handily furnished, and for room, light, ventilation and rest, compares most favorably with any Billiard Hall in the Dominion. The Billiard and Pool tables are pronounced by players to be superior to any now in use in this Province.
They are the "BRILLIANT NOVELTY," size, 4 x 9 feet.

The main object in the construction of the Billiard Novelty, and the one most noticeable, is that it embodies all the more salient or most important features that have rendered popular all the other styles of tables of the J. M. Brunswick & Co. Co.
2 make. The Billiard Novelty has all the advantages and good points, including the respective tables claimed by the "Nonpareil" and "Exposition," "Novelty," "Acme" and "Ananias."
Table. The Billiard Novelty is a happy combination of all these celebrated tables, and has rapidly taken the foremost place in the estimation of all players of Billiard and Pool Tables. The "Novelty" is finished and handily fitted by many different colors, made up from California Laurel, Burash, French Walnut, Birds Eye Maple, Mahogany,
Rose Wood, Tulip Wood and Ebony. It is supplied with the finest of Vermont Slate bed, Siamia cloth, and a first-class outfit of everything necessary.

Earthquake in New York and New England.

New York, Aug. 10.—A distinct shock of earthquake was felt throughout the cities of New York and Brooklyn at seven minutes past two this afternoon, lasting 10 or 12 seconds, and accompanied by subterranean rumblings, which was clearly audible. The earth's motion was a quick trembling movement without any lateral vibration, though some people in various localities seem to think they felt undulations in New York city. The motion was apparently most violent in the northern district, towards Harlem.
The people almost everywhere differ widely as to the duration of the shock, some estimating it at ten seconds and others at two minutes. The most reliable opinion doubtless are those which place it at ten or fifteen seconds. Its effects varied greatly. Every house in the city trembled. Chinaware standing edgewise on shelves slipped out of place, chandeliers
and pictures trembled, bells were rung, pendants were jangled, people started from chairs where they were seated and ran excitedly into the streets, and in several instances walls and ceilings were cracked. The residents of Harlem were thrown into a state of intense excitement in consequence of the shock. It was felt mainly between 125th and 132nd
streets Third and Eighth avenues,
and in that section it was so great that men, women and children rushed pell mell and screaming from their homes, coatless, hatless and shoe-less, fearing that the walls would fall upon them. All of the streets literally swarmed with the excited multitude. East and west 126th street police stations were quickly crowded with anxious people, but they gained no information further than that policemen were just as badly shaken up. Numerous were the explanations given by the excited people.
The west side of the city, in the vicinity of Christopher and Hudson streets, felt
the shock severely.

People rushed excitedly from their houses and sought the most open parts of the streets. Many ran all the way down to the wide, unoccupied ground along the North river front, and only ventured back to their homes when hours had passed without any damage being done. Probably the greatest excitement was occasioned at 27 and 29 Frankfort streets, in two tenement houses thickly populated. When the rumbling noise was heard the utmost excitement prevailed, and the inmates blocked the stairways in their mad rush for the street.
Windows were broken, crockery smashed and policemen were called to preserve order among the affrighted crowd.

It appears that the shock was felt with about the same intensity all over the city, although it produced more alarm in the thickly settled tenement districts on the east side. The greatest excitement occurred in the Jewish and Bohemian quarters on the east side. The houses, which are mostly high and are lightly constructed tenements, were violently shaken and the terrified inmates rushed out into the streets, carrying with them whatever of their household effects they could move.

Children screaming with fright were borne out by their parents, who were no less panic-stricken and the whole population massed itself in the centre of the streets. In Ludlow street the panic was at its height. Streets were swarming with people, men, women and children huddled together like sheep, many of them expecting every moment to see the walls of their dwellings fall upon them.
Women and children were shrieking and the men either swearing or praying.
This was kept up for nearly half an hour,
when the commotion subsided, and the police persuaded the people to return to their houses.

Similar scenes were witnessed in Mulberry, Jersey and Mott streets, where the Italians have their colonies. The fright however, was not so intense, and after a little their loud shouts and wild gesticulations ceased. The disturbance was generally felt, with more or less severity,
in many towns in the circuit, New Jersey,
Pennsylvania, North Carolina, Delaware, Massachusetts (including Boston) and Vermont, but reports do not indicate that any serious damage has been done.

The shock of earthquake was generally felt along the river fronts and piers were shaken as if by a heavy loaded truck passing over them. At the iron steamboat pier, which is built of solid masonry,
the motion was so violent that the ticket takers rushed from their offices. The late afternoon boats brought back crowds from Coney Island, where it is said the shock was much more violent than in the city.

The piazzas and dining rooms at the Manhattan and Brighton Beach hotels were well filled with people when the rumbling noise was heard, followed by rocking ground, which made window

panes rattle and shook dishes and wine glasses from the tables. There was a general rush for the open air, and for some time great excitement prevailed all along the beach.

FINDING $20,000,000 IN SILVER.

A Philadelphia's Rich Discovery on

the Spanish Coast.

A well known Philadelphia citizen, J.
J. Boyle, has just returned from Vigo, Spain, where he has discovered, after a thorough and exhaustive exploration of the inner harbor of that town, a fleet of sunken Spanish galleons, supposed to contain not less than $20,000,000 in bullion, which he expects to rescue from a watery depository. These galleons are a portion of a fleet of treasury ships sunk
in the harbor in the early part of the 18th century during a conflict between the English and Hollandish war ships and a French and Spanish fleet.

Mr. Boyle left Philadelphia several months ago with a view to recovering
these sunken treasures, his enterprise having been directed in that channel by information imparted to him in a confidential manner. He not only located the vessels, but found many pieces of ancient coinage and other curiosities, among which were some coin that had been washed almost as thin as a piece of paper and thrown up on the rocks to a distance of 45 feet by the heavy surf which was constantly breaking over the wrecks.

Mr. Boyle, as soon as he had located the wrecks, secured the services of several divers at Liverpool, and work was begun immediately upon the vessels, which had rested undisturbed for nearly 200 years. The galleons were huge, round-sterned, clumsy vessels, with bulwarks three or four feet thick, and built up at the stem and stern like castles.
Two more sunken vessels were also discovered and examined north of the islands of Bayona and Esteles, in Vigo bay.

Mr. Boyle himself went down in a diver's suit to the treasure galleons sunk
in the inner harbor and found the vessels covered with mud to the depth of four or five feet. The woodwork of the sunken fleet he discovered to be in a sound condition. The number of the sunken galleons is not known, but the silver which is said to be in the lower hold of the vessels is supposed to be not less than $20,000,000. Permission to recover this money has been obtained from the Spanish government, and work will be commenced immediately.

An Unfortunate Benefactor.

(From Belgravia.)

It is estimated that between 1861 and 1866 Bombay received £81,000,000 sterling over and above what she had during the previous five years gladly accepted as full value for her cotton. A great deal of this fabulous wealth disappeared during the mad rush of speculation which whelped the city in 1865; but a great deal of it stuck, and its proceeds may be seen to this day. Wealthy natives making coup after coup in cotton and scarcely knowing what to do with their money, determined to keep their memories green
by dowering the city with some stately gift of stone. One presented a lac of rupees wherewith to build the clock tower which looks abroad over island, sea and mainland. When the inevitable crash came this benefactor was ruined.
Only recently the tower has been completed, and it was found that, so munificent had been the money gift, it was impossible to spend the last £5,000. The original donor, pathetically setting forth
his present position of comparative destitution, petitioned the Government to refund him this overplus, which would be sufficient to give him a fresh start in business. The Government, in a minute which cannot be read without a glow of admiration, frigidly rebuked the unfortunate man for even submitting such a proposition to them, and reminded him that the money should they lose their grasp of it, belonged not to him but to his creditors. Hereupon the creditors pricked up their ears and hailed a Daniel come to judgment! But the Government thought they had done all that could be expected in the cause of commercial morality by laying down the principle; and they hold on to the money.

The Quack of a Goose.

"How is my little duck to-night?"

said young Crispinbeak of Miss Fussian feather, his fiancée, as she met him at the door the other evening.

"Oh, I'm nearly roasted," George," exclaimed the petulant rascid.

"I am so glad!" came from the lover,
with a serene smile.

"Glad!" cried the girl, preparing to take a bath in tears.

"Yes," said George, in a low voice,
after he had turned out the gas and put the clock back one hour; "you see I'm passionately fond of roast duck."—Yonk-er's Statesman.

NO MONEY IN THE COUNTRY.

Some times when people complain of hard times the reply is made that the farmers have plenty of money. If this were true it would be satisfactory, because if the farmers have the money it will soon find its way into town and then out into circulation again. But the farmers have not got the money. They are just as hard up as anybody else. The amount of money in circulation in the country districts is surprisingly small and the actual cash on hand even among the wealthiest farmers is so little as to be really not worth counting upon. The country is pretty well drained of ready money. Where has it gone to? A large part of it has gone into the Dominion Treasury, and has been paid out to the C. P. Railway, in public works, to high salaried officials and in other directions. The country is just beginning to feel the effect of high taxation. If the demand for lumber abroad had kept up the pinch would have been deferred; but just as long as a high tariff prevails so long is there danger of such a depression as exists at present, a depression which is not so much the result of lack of confidence as it is of the lack of cash. It is a fact worthy of remembrance that the annual tax bill of the people of Canada, or more correctly speaking the annual expenditure of the Government of Canada is about equal to the amount of money in circulation. In the United States the circulation exceeds the annual tax bill by about $10.00 per head of the population. If we had this amount in circulation in Canada, over and above what we have to pay in duties and in other ways to the Government, we would have a boom in earnest.

What is the remedy? Well the taxes cannot be lowered much, that is certain. What we need is access to the United States market; and that we must have if the Maritime Provinces are ever to become really prosperous.

THE PRESIDENTIAL CONTEST.

Four candidates are in the field, Blaine, Cleveland, Butler and St. John. The irrepressible Benjamin is bound to fight, he does not care who he hurts. The Republican organs claim that he will split the Democratic vote so that they will be sure of carrying New York; on the other hand Cleveland's friends say Butler will get only a lot of loose fish who would either not vote at all or else would go over to Blaine, and that their candidate is all the more certain of his election. Butler, whatever he may do, will make a lively canvass, and will throw an immense amount of life into the fight. His friends say he will win, but they can hardly expect him to do so. He intends to take the stump, and we may well believe that the Republicans will come in for some hard hitting.

St. John does not seem to be making much progress with his canvass, and we anticipate that the Prohibitionists will not make much of a showing this year, although they are thoroughly organizing—a thing they have never done before. Cleveland is off to the Adirondacks for a holiday. He has not yet prepared his latter of acceptance. His friends seem more confident than ever of success, and expect great things from the Independents. The story about his immoralities does not seem to affect many people. Henry Ward Beecher has published a letter stating that he has examined into the matter and finds that Cleveland ought not to be persecuted on account of it. This provokes Blaine's friends to say, that the Brooklyn divine "knows how it is himself."

Blaine is keeping very quiet. When he gets a chance to make a non-political speech he does so. Looking over the news from all sources we should say that he is not losing ground; although it is yet too soon to judge of the effect of the German bolt and the prohibitionist canvass.

CAN IT BE TRUE?

Although a servile Parliament, at the dictate of a corrupt Government, relieved the G. T. R. Company from paying seven million dollars due on the stock guarantee agreement, and voted to "loan" them thirty millions more, it is stated that the Government have either guaranteed or propose immediately to guarantee a loan by the Company from Montreal and New York Banks of an additional five millions. This has since been denied, but it may be that it is true. The Company has already received fifteen millions since the loan was granted. It has become a most serious question to determine how the country is going to get out of its entangling alliance with the Syndicate. The last loan placed on the English market was, relatively considered, a failure, and another twenty-five millions must be borrowed some way or other this summer. Meanwhile the Treasury has become depleted, and we hear of deferred payments, of proposals to float a domestic loan, and of a scheme to borrow the Bank reserves. If besides the acknowledged lowness of the Dominion exchequer, and the cool reception met in the London money market by the Finance Minister, an additional embarrassment is to be presented in the shape of a demand for a five million dollar guarantee by the Syndicate, the people may well begin to enquire where this sort of this is going to stop. The outlook is really perilous to the stability of the Dominion.

THE CITY HALL.

The proposal of Alderman Wiley to have the City Hall stage so altered as to permit its use for first-class entertainments is an excellent one. At present the Hall is almost useless for theatrical purposes; and because they cannot put on a play in good shape, first-class companies give Fredericton the cold shoulder. Now people must have some amusement; and the old-fogy idea that entertainments take money out of the place is about exploded. The money will go out of the place anyway, and no one will deprive themselves of necessities in order to go to a play. It is far better to encourage the best class of entertainments to come here, and our people to go and enjoy them. A good hall with a good stage is necessary to accomplish this. We have the good hall; and it is satisfactory to know that an effort is to be made to provide a good stage.

THE BRIDGE.

The Dominion Bridge Company have offered to put a steel and iron superstructure on the Fredericton Bridge. Their figures would, we are told, be $35 per linear foot. As the total distance from shore to shore is 2,725 feet, this would make the cost of the superstructure $85,375. It would be an excellent thing if the government felt justified in going to the expense of such a bridge; but we suppose the figures are too high.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

A correspondent writes to us making very severe reflections upon a person whom he calls "the figure-head of the County of York and one of the Commissioners under the License Act." He speaks of his conduct as "making decency and sobriety blush." As the correspondent does not authorize us to publish the letter over his name we must, for the present at least, decline to give it space in our columns. We would like our correspondent to call.

Whatever may be said of the merits of the License Law and the Canada Temperance Act, it will not be denied that Chief Inspector Belyea and Assistant Inspector Roberts discharge their exceedingly unpleasant duties promptly and well. For so doing it appears they have come under the condemnation of that former temperance champion, Mr. Thomas Temple, M. P., and they are to be got rid of, if he can find a way to accomplish that object. The plan which is to be operated is to get Mr. J. Henry Phair dismissed from the position of License Commissioner, and to appoint in his place some one who with Mr. Warden Colter will prove willing to comply with the mandates of the alleged representative of York County. "Have I not done all the work? Have I not redeemed York?" asks Mr. Thomas Temple, M. P. "And cannot I have my way in a little matter like this?" Mr. Phair having committed the unpardonable sin, not of being a Liberal, for that sin can also be laid to the door of Mr. Thomas Temple, M. P., but, having had the manliness to continue to be a Liberal, it is thought there will be no difficulty in getting his place declared vacant.

Returning to Barracks.

The Infantry School Corps return to barracks to-morrow morning. They have had 3 weeks of camp life, and a successful drill in shooting.

GLEANINGS.

A Good Budget of News from all Parts of the Province.

The Campbell Hotel are now rapidly filling up with guests. There were nearly 100 arrivals during last week.

Two hundred emigrants from the wrecked steamer Amsterdam arrived in St. John on Saturday and went west by a special train on the New Brunswick Railway.

Mr. J. G. Thompson, C. E., late of the Pacific Railway, commenced last week a survey of a line from Petticoat to Havelock—distance 12 miles—for Mr. A. E. Killam. This well built, can be operated in connection with the Elgin Branch, making a line of about 25 miles.

A correspondent writes to the Telegraph: On Friday night, a travelling agent for one of the United States railways arrived at McAdam Junction from St. Stephen. He brought a valise with him which he left on the platform while he attended to some business. When he went for the valise again it had been removed. He searched around and finally found it over a fence. Some person had cut it open and removed the contents consisting of a number of annual passes and small articles of clothing. The thief was not found.

Mr. Edward Willis, late proprietor of the St. John News, has been appointed by the Dominion Government to investigate the manufacturing industries of St. John.

The Baptist Convention of the Maritime Provinces will be held in Moncton, beginning on the 23rd inst.

A valuable Jersey heifer, owned by W. A. Quinton, M. P., was killed at Lancaster by the Grand Southern train on Thursday. Another cow was very badly injured.

A deaf mute was on Wednesday afternoon run over by a special train on the New Brunswick Railway near St. Basil, and one of his legs broken.

Mr. Daniel Sweeney, of Portland, N. B., received a telegram, on Friday last informing him that his son Wm. Sweeney, had been killed in Boston yesterday.

The Cape Tormentine Railway has been graded within three miles of the Cape Tormentine wharf site, and track laying will be commenced this week.

The High Court of the Independent Order of Foresters for N.B. will meet in Moncton to-morrow.

John Robertson, Intercolonial express messenger, left the city on Monday night last without intimating his intention to his employers. The reason given for his sudden and unexpected departure was his inability to make up a deficiency in his accounts. Robertson has been an express messenger for about twenty-two years.

The St. John Odd Fellows picnic to Blissville, has been postponed.

The statement of the St. John Savings Bank for the month ending 31st July, 1884, is as follows: Deposits, $144,657.98; payments, $87,762.22.

Corn, Forest and Messrs. A. B. Phipps and Rupert Coates forwarded, Thursday, 80 steers from Amherst to Halifax for shipment to Glasgow.

On Thursday last Hon. Messrs. McLellan, Ritchie and Vall, of the Provincial Government, paid a visit to the farms of Lieut.-Col. Beer and Mr. G. J. Colter White, at Sussex.

A despatch from North Sydney, Friday, stated that the brigantine Rothesay, Holder master, of and from St. John, with lumber, etc. for North Sydney, is ashore at Setauket. She is in a dangerous position and is full of water. A tug has gone to her assistance.

On Friday last a sailor named John Bell of the schr. Mello, at St. John, fell from the masthead to the deck and was instantly killed.

A fishing party, consisting of Dr. Hatheway, his wife and sister, Mr. Samuel Hayward and wife of St. John and Dr. Ryan and Dr. Barrett, from Paris, left St. John yesterday for the North Branch of the Oranout, where they will spend a couple of weeks.

Improvements at Chatham.

Mr. Beckwith, of the Board of Works Office, was here the other day, says the Chatham World, making a survey of the ferry slips. It is proposed to rebuild and extend these slips, so that the ferry boat will not get aground at low water. We have called attention to this matter more than once, and are glad to see that the Government is going to do what is required.

Personals.

Provincial Secretary McLellan is in town. F. R. Baker, D. O. L., is in town.

R. Sheraton, of St. John, is registered at the Barker House.

Thos. R. Jones came up from St. John last evening, and is registered at the Queen.

R. Chalmers and lady, of St. John, are registered at the Barker.

Mr. John Abbott, President of the Dominion Bridge Company, and Mr. Came, of the same company, are in the city.

Miss Minnie Coates, of Kings County, has received the appointment of teacher of the primary grades in the Gibson and St. Mary's school.

Minor Matters.

Farmers are paying as high as $30 per month for hired help during haying.

The Douglas ferry-boat is running between the city and Gibson to-day, the "Forest Queen" being used to carry the pic-nickers to the Hermitage.

The schools throughout the country reopened yesterday after the holidays.

The formal opening of the Normal School takes place to-morrow afternoon at 2.30.

After the Honeymoon.

She—"Don't neglect to order the flour." He—"No; where's my hat? Oh, here it is. Bye-bye!"

Wait a moment, George; haven't you forgotten something?"

"I guess not."

"You forgot to kiss me."

"Oh, no; I kissed you."

"When?"

"Last week."

Dividing the Baggage.
They were going off on a journey. "Which shall I carry?" he asked, "the baby or the dog?"
"You had better carry the baby," she replied, "and I will take charge of Beauty, dear little fellow. I wouldn't have anything happen to him for the world."

OLD TIME SPORTS.

A few notes about the Horses of sixty years ago.

Where they raced and who the Owners were.

When the old men were young there were many gay fellows in the city, as fond of an afternoon's sport as any of those who now sit on their porches, of cool evenings, and try the speed of the bottom of their trotters over the smooth stretches of the Race Course. Sixty years ago trotting had not begun to be recognized as a legitimate sport, while running races were a highly fashionable amusement. For many years the race course had been a favorite resort in the old country and in the Colonies the old spirit thrived with much vigor if not inspired by as fast horses or as heavy wagers as those of Derby and Epsom. Among the Fredericton

Horsemen of Sixty Years Ago
were Hon. Thomas Bailey, the Surveyor General, who lived in a sort of princely state at the Hermitage; Dr. Emmerson, who had been in the army, and who resided on Carleton street next to where the Methodist Church now stands; Capt. Hanley, who lived over on the point; Capt. Jewett, from St. Mary's; Col. Shore, Attorney General Wetmore and George Garden, then Gentlemen Usher of the Black Rod. These and others, less prominent in public affairs, with the army officers and such visitors as Col. Marks, from St. Stephen, and Bunting, from St. John, spent many a jolly day on the race course or "the lane" and many a jolly evening as well in those Anti-Scott Act days when West India rum could be had almost for the asking and Canada whiskey had not been invented.

The Race Course
of those days began at the Kirk corner, but to get a full mile the starting point was, in races, at Whitfield Hart's corner, where Long's Hotel now stands. Thence the horses ran out Carleton street until the edge of the swamp, or the present race course was reached, then they turned up and circling around came upon Northumberland street, near what used to be called Barker's corner, and thence down George street to the Kirk corner, where the finish was. It is needless to add that all this part of the town was common in those days. About 1831 the demands of the growing town compelled the abandonment of this track, and the Government House lane became the great resort. To get a full mile there the horses were started from the Hermitage gate and finished opposite to where the Fredericton Tannery now stands. It was on this course that the race took place between Bunting's Prize-fighter, Mark's Silk-stocking and Langan's Spanker; when Prize-fighter's backers gave Silk-stocking a heat so as to get a chance to place all their money, and were amazed to find that they had reckoned without their host, for Silk-stocking captured the event, and Bunting and his friends were so badly beaten that they had to sell their horses.

To Get Money to go Home With.
The best horse of those days was Walter owned by Dr. Emmerson. The horse whose name has come down most prominently, as he was the sire of a good many fine animals, was Tam O'Shanter. Tam was a pony built horse, standing about 15 hands high, and weighing somewhere about 900 lbs. He was a rich blood day with black points. Tam was got by Stag, imported by the Nova Scotia government, out of Atlanta, a mare owned by Lord Joselyn, who was stationed in Halifax with his regiment early in the thirties. Tam was not a fast horse himself; indeed none of the Fredericton horses of fifty or sixty years ago would be considered fast today. They were either carriage horses or gentlemen's saddle horses, and were at the most only half bred. If they got over a mile in two minutes it was thought.

A Wonderful Performance.
Some of Tam's descendants have been very fast. Among these was Speculation who ran the present track, 1316 yards, in 1:20 carrying 142 lbs. This would be equal to 1:47 for the full mile and considering the weight carried was an excellent performance. Speculation had other good strains of blood besides those he got from Tam O'Shanter. His sire, Young John O'Gaunt, was son of the imported John O'Gaunt, who was bred by the Duke of Richmond. Young John's mother was Lucy Long, in whose blood or veins was the blood of old Zoe, brought to Nova Scotia by the Duke of Kent. Among Zoe's descendants were Buzzard the sire of the famous Drew horse.

From this short and imperfect sketch it will be seen that if anything the sporting fever has died out in these latter days in Fredericton. It is some years since there has been anything like a meeting on the race track although the city can boast of one of the finest in Canada. Perhaps the change is natural and is a sign of an improved condition of things. There are not so many men of leisure here as there were half a century ago. Everybody now has some business to attend to and not so much time or inclination for the race track. Nevertheless it would be a pleasant thing to see a good meeting once more.

Bear Island.
Mr. W. A. Burden has fitted up a store for general merchandise a short distance above the Parish Hall at Bear Island. Mr. Burden has also, near completion, a new dwelling house on the lot adjoining the store.

Under Repairs.
Mr. Moses Jewett expects to have his mill at Lower Prince William in running order again in a few weeks. The mill was considerably damaged by the late freshet, and Mr. Jewett has been under a large expense in repairing.

Travellers' Exchange.
Mr. J. Lawrence is erecting a new hotel at Prince William on the site of the old "Travellers' Exchange," which was destroyed by fire a few months ago.

Baptism.
On Sunday last, Rev. J. E. Reud administered the rite of baptism to one person, at the Free Baptist Church, Lower Queensbury.

SPORTING NOTES.

About Horses.

Seven trotting horses have records of 2:14 and better. These are Maud S, 2:24; Jay-Eye-See, 2:10; St. Julien, 2:11; Rarus, 2:13; Phyllis, 2:13; Goldsmith Maid, 2:14; Tricket, 2:14; and Clingstone, 2:14. All of these except Rarus are grandsons or granddaughters of Rydskyk's Hambletonian.

Maud S. was a month at Cleveland, and started four times to beat the record. The first time she trotted in 2:14, and the second time 2:13. A week later she did two miles, the first in 2:11, and the second in 2:12. This helped to stay her up, and on Saturday last she reduced the record to 2:04.

The black gelding H. B. Winship of double-team fame, record 2:06, is matched for $1,000 a side against Alexander Bros' chestnut mare Kitty Patchen, mile heats, best three in five, in harness. The race is to take place next month at Narragansett Park.

On July 31st a match made by the owners of Johnson and Richball for a pacing race, mile heats, best three in five, for $3,500 a side. The race will probably be paced at Chicago. Richball has been slightly lame, but will be fit in time for the race. Johnson is the favorite in the betting.

Trotting and Racing at Buffalo.
There was some fine racing at Buffalo on Thursday. The $1,000 divided purse for 2.25 class trotters had as starters O. A. Hickok's Bell Eva, J. A. Dustin's ch. m. Bessie, W. B. McDonald's b. s. Almonark, W. T. Estabrook's ch. g. Earl, P. N. Johnston's b. m. Nellie L., H. W. Curness's g. g. Paul Hacke, and W. Sargent's b. m. Onward. These was a beautiful display of trotting in the first heat. Earl, Bessie, Onward, and Nellie L. finished nearly abreast as named, Earl winning the heat by a neck, in 2:23. Dustin kept Bessie in the lead on a fast clip in the second heat, from wire to wire, taking the heat by a neck in 2:18. Eva second, and Onward third. Bessie held her place in the lead throughout the third mile, winning the heat in 2:22. Eva at her wheel, and Onward, lapsing, third. Bessie took the fourth heat and trot, with Eva at her shoulders, and Onward third. Time, 2:21. Earl took second money, Eva third, and Onward fourth.

Commodore Kittson's b. m. Minnie R. P. N. Johnston's blk. m. Lorene, A. W. Campbell's Penn's b. g. George G., and P. Schutz's blk. g. Jewett paced for the $1,000 purse for 2:17 class. Minnie R. was favorite in the betting. Jewett and George paced the first heat very fast, making a procession of the others. Jewett took the heat by a neck in 2:14. Gurgie second, and George G. third. George G. set the pace in the second heat, leading to the lower turn, where Knapsack McCarthy sent Jewett in the lead, taking the heat by two lengths in 2:16. Lorene second, and G. third. Splan moved Minnie R. forward for the third heat, "passing Jewett on the home stretch and taking the heat by a length in 2:17. Jewett second, and Gurgie third. Minnie R. paced in front in the fourth heat, with Jewett at her neck to the home stretch, where Fritz moved forward, taking second place. Minnie R. winning the heat by a length in 2:17. Jewett came in third, Splan landed Minnie R. an easy winner of the fifth heat and race in 2:18. Jewett took second money, Gurgie third, and Fritz fourth.

Cricket.

The match game of cricket between the Halifax Wanderers and St. John Eleven played in St. John on Friday and Saturday last, resulted in a victory for the St. John men. Friday's score up to six o'clock was given in the last issue of the GLEANER. Below is the full score:—

Runaways.

The noise which the Gypsies make in manufacturing tinware frightened Mrs. Frank Patterson's horse yesterday causing it to run away. Mrs. Patterson and two children were thrown from the carriage, and made a lively run. Other teams also were frightened.

The Gypsies should be requested to go further from the road side.

New Residence at Kingsclear.
Mr. Judson Dunphy has in course of erection a two storey house at Lower French Village, Kingsclear. The building has two bay-windows in front and a veranda which will extend along the front and lower side. It has probably one of the best stone walling cellars in the County if not in the Province. Mr. Jabez Sims is the contractor and expects to have the building completed this fall.

Called Home.

Rev. S. McLeod was called home yesterday from Carleton County on account of the death of his youngest child, which event occurred on Sunday night. Mr. and Mrs. McLeod have the sympathy of all in their sad affliction.

St. Andrew's Society.

The quarterly meeting of the St. Andrew's Society was held last night. Mr. Wm. McFarlane, of St. Mary's, was unanimously elected a member of the Society. Dr. Archer and Judge Fraser briefly addressed the meeting.

Run Down and Drowned.

On Saturday morning a sturgeon fisherman's boat was run down by a woodboat in the Long Beach, the boat upset, and the man, whose name we did not learn, was drowned.

A Young New Brunswick Tells About The West.

YOUNG ELLIS IN CALIFORNIA.

A Short Account of the Trip Across the Continent—Something About New Mexico.

Mr. H. B. Ellis, who went to California, a short time ago, to take charge of the fruit ranch, purchased a few years since by his father, the late Dr. Ellis, writes to his friends from Pasadena under date of July 31st, as follows:—I see by the date above that over a month has passed away since I left the Celestial City. Who would have thought it? Yes! the month has gone, and is now numbered with the past. I am here in California, and did not lose much time in getting here.

"I've trod the prairies as of old Our fathers trod the sea, And made the West as they the East, The homestead of the free."

I spent a week in Boston with my mother, and then, on the 14th of July, started for Pasadena. I was just a week in crossing the continent, and many were the curious and amusing sights I saw. At some places the Indians both men and women would come to the stations as they were working and watering up, and they were specimens. They were excepting that they, as a general thing, had their faces painted and a piece of cloth tied around their waist.

In New Mexico we passed the oldest city in the United States. They say there is evidence to show that it was occupied by the Aztecs in 1325—nearly 300 years before the Plymouth Rock event—and how old it was then not even tradition can tell. It was a primeval stronghold before the Spanish conquest, a flourishing city before Plymouth had a name, and a town of importance when Acadia was one vast wilderness. You should see the place. It is a picture. The streets are narrow, and the buildings "adobe" (look it up), reminding one of Tim Flannigan's—

"Our fathers had castles of mud, Chosen for their fine and kind, And they were built in the time of the flood For to keep all our treasures dry."

So much for the trip. Pasadena is a delightful little spot. The scenery from my residence, or rather as it is called here, is delightful, superb. The Sierra Madre mountains to the North and East about 5 or 6 miles distant makes the scenery very bold. "Old Baldy" is the name of the snow-capped mountain it all the year round. The climate is

All that can be Desired.

The fruit is delicious. The place is seven miles distant from Los Angeles, a city of 25,000 or 30,000 inhabitants, and which when mother was here three years ago was only about the size of Fredericton. The people are very liberal, free and kind hearted, but hard workers. Money or muscle is what tells here. The fact is, as some one has said: "If I had been commanded to choose one spot on the globe, upon which to illustrate the influence of absolute liberty, I could have chosen no part so interesting as Southern California." Yesterday an infant, to-day a giant, to-morrow—who can tell?"

Mr. Ellis is engaged in fruit-raising and has several Chinamen employed under him. He expects an abundant yield this season.

THE SPRINGFIELD TROUBLE.

Dr. Campbell's Antagonist Still Lurks About the Woods. He Threatens the Doctor's Life.

Since the officers were sent from this city to arrest Nathaniel Howland, for his assault upon Dr. Campbell, it was thought by some that he had left the country; but others believed, as has since been found to be the case, that he was hiding in the woods. He has been seen several times during the past week, lurking about the woods and wandering about the roads at night.

One of his neighbors was returning from market the other night, and while driving over a lonely piece of road came suddenly upon Howland, who had as his hiding place an old building behind the road. Upon enquiry the neighbor learned that he apparently had no fear of the officers, but that he was lying in wait for the doctor whom he expected to return home by that road that night. He swore that

He Would Have the Doctor's Life
and that at the very first opportunity. He called him all the hard names he could think of and then made his way again to the woods.

Dr. Campbell is a well-known travelling dentist, and has obtained a large practice throughout the counties of York and Sunbury. He has made his home at Springfield, in this county, for the last 6 or 7 years. Some seven months ago, he had some trouble with this Nathaniel Howland, who was a pedlar, about contra accounts. Howland immediately issued a capias for his arrest, but on a trial the jury decided in favor of the doctor. The breach between the two grew wider, and the doctor was never allowed to pass the Howland place without receiving an abundance of hard names and insults. On one occasion they met at the same house, when the doctor asked him why he should receive so much abuse from him. Howland answered him with a blow between the eyes, and then attempted to make his escape, but the doctor turned upon him and it is said gave him a sound thrashing. This was a short time before the doctor was attacked upon the road, and the account of which was given in the GLEANER a few weeks ago. The affair created much excitement in the country districts, and it is hoped Howland will soon be taken care of.

Plant Sold.

The entire plant and machinery of the late Daily Evening News has been purchased by Mr. James Stewart, formerly editor of the Montreal Herald. Mr. Stewart intends to start a daily paper in Montreal.

Gladstone Cleanings.

A special meeting of the ratepayers of School District No. 1, of the Parish of Gladstone, was held in the school-house here on Thursday last, for the purpose of electing a Trustee to fill the vacancy in the Board caused by the resignation of C. H. Kingston. After a sharp contest Major Alexander was declared elected by a majority of one. The Secretary entered a protest against the legality of the chairman's decision on the ground that the votes were improperly counted. It is expected that the matter will be referred to the Inspector.

The farmers of this section have much to complain of both in the small yield of hay, and also in the unfavorable weather which has been experienced ever since haying began. Potatoes and grain however, promise well.

Mr. J. T. Buchanan, the popular Station Agent of the N. B. Railway here, has gone to Boston to spend his vacation. His place is temporarily filled by C. H. Kingston. Among the arrivals at the American House during the past week were:—G. W. Fairweather, St. John; Henry Lawlor, St. John; Jas. E. Duffey, Boston; Hugh Kennedy, Philadelphia; Denis McCarthy, Fitch, N.B.; D. Brown, Carleton; St. John; Rev. Father Walsh, Fredericton; Rev. Father Dollard, St. John; Moses Brown, Fredericton; Howard Smith, Wisconsin; H. Woods, Welsford; T. Ashton Snider, Philadelphia; Cornelius Van Horn, Eau Claire, Wis.

Police Court.

Monday.
A Saturday night and a Sunday night drunk before the Court this morning. Fined $5, and $8. respectively and amounts paid up.

Tuesday.
One drunk before the P. M. this morning, $5. paid up.

The two Canada Temperance Act cases against Benj. Moody and Moses H. Timmins were on the application of the Counsel interested in both cases. Adjourned until Tuesday 19th instant.

There was a charge of violation of the C. T. A. against Mrs. Daniel Hanson of St. Mary's to come up this morning, but she acknowledged a sale and arranged the fine of $50, before the opening of the Court.

The witness John Moran who was committed on Tuesday last for refusing to be sworn in the Moody case, still holds the fort in the common jail, and refuses to give testimony. His term expires to-morrow. What course the authorities will then take to compel his attendance and procure his testimony remains to be seen.

Where is Scovill?

Scovill, who is wanted for forgery and arcey, is said to have been tracked to Canada; but what part of the Dominion he has honored by selecting it as his asylum is not known. Indications have been found against him for forgery. Scovill's only constant in being unsuccessful and detected. If he had made a few millions he would have been a financier; but he failed and is therefore a villain. True he wrote Mr. Day's name and pretended that Mr. Day wrote it; but that is not worse than pretending to pay big profits and thereby swindling people out of $15,000, 000, as General Grant's firm did. Scovill is a rascal of course; but all the methods of Wall street induce rascality.

Country Market.

As may be expected the market during the past week has been very poorly supplied. Following are the official quotations: Beef 6 to 8 cts per lb; mutton 6 to 7; lamb 7 to 8; veal 4 to 5; chickens are selling at 35 and 40 cts per pair; butter 16 to 17 cts per lb; eggs 15 to 16 cts per doz. The price of hay remains the same—from $3 to $10 per ton; new potatoes are 20 cts per peck; oats are very scarce; buckwheat meal per cwt, $1.80 to $2; green beans, 20 to 30 cts per peck; green peas, shelled, 10 to 15 cts per peck; blueberries are 20 and 25 cents per peck.

Sewing Machines.

And yet another sewing machine has been placed upon this market, and another Agency will compete for the custom of the town and country. Mr. John Woodward has been appointed agent of the White Sewing Machine Company, and will open an agency in Coy's Block and send his sales out into the country districts. The White machine has been eight years before the public, and has met with wonderful success. Every machine is sold with a five years warranty. It is simple in construction, easily run and for a good machine cheap.

Things to be Attended to.

The grass and weeds which grow on the sidewalks and in the gutters ought to be cut down. They give the streets a very ragged and neglected look. It would cost very little to have this done.

The hole in the street, left unfilled by the waterworks people, opposite Mr. Allan Randolph's residence should be filled up before some one falls in and break a limb.

There are fifty places in the streets which require levelling on account of the ridges or depressions caused by putting in water service pipes.

Mowing Machines.

Two agents of THE GLEANER, who have been travelling through York and Sunbury county, during the last two weeks, report the farmers busily at work haying, and say their enquiries lead them to the belief that McFarlane, Thompson & Anderson must supply four-fifths of the mowing and raking machines used in this vicinity, and that the expressions of approval of the work turned out by that firm are universal.

Meng Up.

The steamer "Florenceville," after having a very successful mid-summer run, made her last trip yesterday, and will not lay up until another rise of water. Several passengers were greatly disappointed this morning when they found they could not return by boat.

Off for Halifax.

Messrs. J. D. Fowler, John Richards, C. A. Sampson, G. H. Simmons and D. Palmer, the Fredericton delegation of Odd Fellows, left yesterday to attend the annual meeting of the Grand Lodge at Halifax.

A Strange Story.

(Special to Gleaner.)
LONDON, Aug. 12.—The Times published this morning a most remarkable story in connection with the Greeley party. It says written documents, now in possession of the navy department, at Washington add to the record of miserable human suffering already published in connection with the finding of Greeley by the relief expedition, most shocking stories of inhumanity and cannibalism. The sufferings and privations of the men in their canvas hut during the long bitter winter of 1884 have not half been told. It has been published that after the game out early in February they lived principally on sealkins, lichens and shrimps. As a matter of fact they were Kept Alive on Human Flesh.

When the rescue party discovered the half starved survivors their first duty was to look to the two men who were insensible from cold and privation, even to the point of death. One of them, a German, was wild in his delirium. "Oh!" he shrieked, as the sailors took hold of him to lift him tenderly, "don't let them shoot me as they did poor Henry. Must I be killed and eaten as Henry was? Don't let them, don't let them!" The sailors were horrified, but at once reported the man's words to Commander Schley. After the authorities will then take to compel his attendance and procure his testimony remains to be seen.

The only men who escaped the knife were three or four who died of scurvy. Amputated limbs of men who afterwards perished, were eagerly devoured as food. Charles B. Henry's death was particularly tragic. Driven to despair by the lack of food, he hungered. Henry saw an opportunity to steal a little more than his share of the rations, and he made the attempt. He was found out and shot for his crime. When the body was found his hands and face though shrunken were intact and recognizable, but nearly every where else the skin had been stripped from him and

WHAT CAN SHE DO?

By E. P. Roe.

CHAPTER I.

But upon this evening there was a caller who looked with cool, undaunted eyes upon the stiff necktie and solemn visage rising above it, and to Hannibal's reiterated statement, "Day am engaged," replied in a quiet tone of command.

"Take that card to Miss Edith."

Even Hannibal's sovereignty broke down before this persistent, unperturbed visitor, and scratching his head with a perplexed grin he half soliloquized, half replied:

"Miss Edith might 'ticular to hab her orders obeyed."

"I am the best judge in this case," was the decisive response. "You take the card and I will be responsible."

Hannibal came to the conclusion that for some occult reason the gentleman, who was well known to him had power to pronounce the "open sesame" where the portal had remained closed to all others, and being a diplomatist, resolved to know more fully the quarter of the wind before assuming too much. But his statecraft was sorely puzzled to know why one of Mr. Allen's under-clerks should suddenly appear in the role of social caller upon the young ladies, for Mr. Fox, the gentleman in question, ostensibly had no higher position. His appearance and manner indicated a mystery. Old Hannibal's wool had not grown white for nothing, and he was the last man in the world to go through a mystery, as a blundering bumble-bee would through a spider's web. He was for leaving the web all intact till he knew who spun it and who it was to catch. If it was Mr. Allen's work or Miss Edith's, it must stand; if not he could play bumble-bee with a vengeance, and carry off the gossamer of intrigue with one sweep.

So, showing Mr. Fox into a small reception room, he made his way to the library door with a motion that reminded you of a great, stealthy cat, and called in a loud, impressive whisper:

"Miss Edith!"

Edith at once rose and joined him, knowing that her prime minister had some important question of state to present when summoning her in that tone. Screened by the library door, Hannibal commenced in a deprecating way:

"I told Mr. Fox you were engaged, but he says I must give you this card. He kindly acted as if he owned this nigger and de whole establishment."

A sudden heavy frown drew Edith's dark eye-brows together and she said loud enough for Mr. Fox in his ambush to hear:

"Was there ever such impudence!" and straightway the frown passed to the listener, intensified, like a flying cloud darkening one spot now and another a moment later.

"Return the card, and say I am engaged," she said haughtily. "Stay," she added thoughtfully. "Perhaps he wished to see papa, or there is some important business matter which needs immediate attention. If not, dismiss him," and Edith returned to the library quite as much puzzled as Hannibal had been. Two or three times recently she had found Mr. Fox's card on returning from evening out. Why had he called? She had only a cool, bowing acquaintance with him, formed by his coming occasionally to see her father on business, and her father had not thought it worth while to formally introduce Mr. Fox to any of his family at such times, but had treated him as a sort of upper servant. He certainly was putting on strange airs, as her old grand vizier had intimated. But in the game of cards and her other little game with Gus, she soon forgot his existence.

Meantime Hannibal, reassured, was regal again and marched down the marble hall with some of the feeling and bearing of his great namesake. It there were a web here, the Allens were not spinning it, and he owed Mr. Fox nothing but a slight grudge for his "airs."

Therefore with a manner of one feeling himself master of the situation he said:

"Hab you a message for Mr. Allen?"

"No," replied Mr. Fox quietly.

"Den I tell you again Miss Edith am engaged."

Looking straight into Hannibal's eyes, without a muscle changing in his impassive face, Mr. Fox said in the steady tone of command:

"Say to Miss Edith, I will call again," and he passed out of the door as if he were master of the situation.

Hannibal rolled up his eyes till nothing but the whites were seen, and muttered:

"Brass ain't no name for it."

Mr. Fox's action can soon be explained. While accustomed to operate largely in Wall street through his brokers, Mr. Allen was also the head of a cloth-importing firm. This in fact had been his regular and legitimate business, but like so many others, he had been drawn into the vortex of speculation and after many lucky hits had acquired that ever-weakening confidence that prepares a way for a fall. He came to believe that he had only to put his hand to a thing to give it the needed impulse to success. In his larger and more exciting operations in Wall street he had left cloth business mainly to his junior partner and dependents; they employed his capital. Mr. Fox was merely a clerk in this establishment and not in a very high standing either. He was also another unwholesome product of metropolitan life. As office boy among the lawyers, as a hanger-on of the criminal courts, he had scrambled into a certain kind of legal knowledge and gained a small pettifogging practice, when an opening in Mr. Allen's business led to his present connection. Mr. Allen felt that in his varied and extended business he needed a man of Mr. Fox's stamp to deal with the legal questions that came up, look after the intricacies of the revenue laws, and manage the immaculate saints of the custom-house. As far as the firm had dirty, disagreeable, perplexing work to do, Mr. Fox was to do it. Whenever some Israelite in whom was guile sought, on varied pretext, to wriggle out of the whole or part of a bill, the wary Mr. Fox met and skirmished on the same place with the adversary, and won the little fight with the same weapons.

I would not for a moment give the impression that Mr. Allen was in favor of sharp practice. He merely wished to conduct his business on the business principles and practice of the day, and it was not his purpose, and certainly not his policy, to pass beyond the law. But even the judges disagree as to what the law is, and he was dealing with many who thrived by evading it; therefore the need of a nimble Mr. Fox who could burrow and double on his tracks with the best of them. All went well for years and the firm was saved many an annoyance, many a loss, and if this guerrilla of the house, as perhaps we may term him, had been as devoted to Mr. Allen's interests as to his own, all might have gone well to the end. But these very sharp men are apt to cut both ways and so it turned out in this case. The astute Mr. Fox determined to faithfully serve Mr. Allen, as long as he could faithfully and pre-eminently serve himself. If he who had scrambled from the streets to his present place of power could reach a higher position by stepping on the great rich merchant, such power would have additional satisfaction. He was as keen-scented after money as Mr. Allen, only the latter hunted like a lion, and the former like a fox. He mastered Mr. Allen's business thoroughly in all its details. Until recently no opportunity had occurred save work, which, though useful, caused him to be half-despised by the others who would not, or could not do it. But of late he had gained a strong vantage point. He watched with intense interest Mr. Allen's attraction toward, and entrance upon, a speculation to be as uncertain of issue as large in proportion, for if the case ever became critical, he was conscious of the power of introducing a very important element into the problem.

In his care of the custom-house business he had already discovered technical violations of the revenue laws which already involved the loss to the firm of a million dollars, and with his peculiar loyalty to himself, thought this knowledge ought to be worth a great deal. As Mr. Allen went down into the deep waters of Wall street, he saw that it might be. In saving his employer from wreck he might virtually become captain of the ship.
