Chinese Forces Getting Away From Tien Tsin.

Brilliant Dash Made by an Anglo-American Force-Eight Large Modern Guns Captured Without Losing a Man-The Way to Pekin Declared To Be Open-Good Offices of the German and American Government Asked-British Take Little Stock in the

against a large force of Chinese at Tien Tsin was made this morning by detachment of American troops, assisted by some English Fusiliers, says a Che Foo special to the Journal and Advertiser, dated July 20. The object was to capture a battery of large calibre cannon which had been doing great damage. The Anglo-American troops charged a large fort across an open space and were exposed to a hot but poorly directed fire from the eneafter engaging the Chinese in a sharp hand-to-hand fight, put them to flight and remained masters of the fort. the Eight large modern guns were captured, together with carts and all the accessories. The battery was immediately turned upon the fleeing enemy, and under the well-directed fire he suffered heavy losses. The victory was won in an incredibly short time against an overwhelmingly superior force, and despite the charge under fire and the fight in the fort, neither the Americans nor the British lost a single man.

The Chinese army is now retreating toward Pekin. London, July 23, 4 a.m.-Sir Chih-Chen-Loh-Feng, the Chinese minister in London, took the unusual step yesterday of paying a Sunday call at the result. Sir Halliday McArtney, secretary of the Chinese legation, admitted that communication had been practically reopened with Pekin, and that messages from Sir Claude MacDonald, the British minister, and the other foreign envoys, might be expected almost im-mediately. He said he hoped the trouble would soon be over, since the Chinese government was doing its utmost to overcome the difficulties and to control the lawless element. LONDON NOT CONVINCED.

Nevertheless, no one in England believes that the alleged dispatches and edicts are anything but subterfuges to hide the real situation as long as possible, and to avert retribution by sowing discord among the powers. From Shanghai comes a report that the empress dowager and the court are going to Hsian Fu, in the Province of Shan Si, to which the large stores of rice are sent, and that when these arrangements are completed, the remaining viceroys will declare against foreigners. CHINA TRYING TO GAIN TIME. According to the Che Foo correspondent of the Daily Mail, the fall of Tien Tsin has so dishartened the Chinese that they are seeking terms of peace. He says that several attempts have been made to send messages to Pekin, but so far without any known results, and adds that rumors are again current that the Russians are reaching Pekin from the north. It is impossible to confirm or deny these statements, but either one might explain China's efforts to gain time. LI HUNG CHANG'S VISIT to Shanghai seems to be a complete failure. Except the Chinese customs officials no one has visited him. Sheng, the taotal (chief magistrate), gave the consuls a cordial invitation to meet him at luncheon, but all declined. The Shanghai correspondent of the Daily Express pretends to have authority for the assertion that Great Britain will repudiate any credentials Li Hung Chang may bring from the empress-dowager, and adds: "Russia, however, is willing to make terms with Li Hung Chang, whose real mission is to sow dissension among the powers. The British, Gerand man American representatives were resolute against receiving him.' The Shanghai correspondent of the Daily Mail declares that the Chinese officials are thoroughly frightened by the fall of Tien Tsin and desire to open negotiations. "Therefore," he continued, "although all arrestores are the continued, 'although all are aware of the horrible Pekin massacres, every official down to the humblest retainer has been sworn to secrecy under the penalty of wholesale execution should the details leak

JAMES MURRAY.

Warden of County Middlesex.
Lendon, July 21, 1900.

New York, July 23 .- A brilliant dash | rumors at hand this morning. One is that Prince Tuan has been abducted, and that the empress dowager is again supreme. Another is that the notorious Kang Yi, president of the board of war, has been appointed viceroy of Canton, The Tien Tsin correspondent of the Daily News says the allies have issued a proclamation announcing that they are not fighting China, but only the rebels who have been guilty of attacks upon foreigners.

It is reported that the Bogue forts are being rearmed by the Chinese with quick-firing Krupps and large stores of ammunition, and they are mounting guns and laying torpedoes at various advantageous points between Woo Sung and Woo Chang. The foreigners and Japanese traders have evacmy. They dashed into the fort, and uated Niu Chwang, where the roads after engaging the Chinese in a sharp are now guarded by Japanese marines. All foreign women and children have been advised to leave the forts on Yang Tse Kiang. Slight skirmishes are reported from Manchuria between the Russians and Chinese. APPEAL TO PRESIDENT McKIN-> LEY. Washington, D. C., July 22.-President McKinley has received what purports to be a direct appeal from the Chinese Imperial Government to use his good offices to extricate that government from the difficult and dangerous position in which it has been placed as a result of the Boxer uprising and the ensuing hostile atti-tude of the great powers. Although the exact text of the appeal made by the Emperor of China to France has not been made known here, it is believsimilar in terms to that communica> tion The United States Government, while not guaranteeing the truth of the advices from the Chinese Government, as to the safety of the foreign ministers, is willing to accept the statements temporarily, in the meantime remitting none of its efforts to get access to Mr. Conger through the use of military force if need be.

WAY OPEN TO PEKIN. It is true that the latest advices from Taku indicate that whereas it was originally estimated by the foreign commanders that the expedition could not be started before Aug. 15, it is now regarded by them as possible to make a beginning about the first of August. But the military experts here feel that even now the way is open to Pekin, and that the march should begin with the force at present on the Pel Ho, leaving the powers to bring up reinforcements to reopen the base, should the first expedition be cut off. According to the latest official reports the country around Tien Tsin is clear of hostile Chinese. SORRY! Paris, July 22. - The Berlin correspondent of the Temps says: It is aserted in Berlin that the Emperor of China has sent a telegram to Emperor William deploring the assassination of drive the foreigners into the sea is an Baron Von Ketteler by the rebels, and declaring the murderers are being actively sought and will be punished. He also expressed the hope that the relations of China with Germany would not London, July 23 .- Sir Holliday Mc-Cartney, counselor and English secretary to the Chinese legation in London, who was interviewed yesterday, admitted that the legation was in receipt of news which it was not yet able to disclose. He added: "You may take it that on July 18, the date of the Conger message, all the legations and Europeans in Pekin were safe. I cannot say why the other ministers are not able to communicate with their governments, but there is no reason why five miles from here, jumped from the they should not use the same channel train as it approached Sellersville, as Mr. Conger employed." In the absence of news from China the papers devote much space to a discussion of the pros and cons of the reliability of the Chinese assertion of the safety of the Pekin ministers. A similar discussion is being repeated in various forms at the different European legations. While these reitera-tions have been causing some revival of hope, there is too great a distrust of Chinese duplicity for any acceptance of their truth.

Shanghai, July 22.-Li Hung Chang, who arrived here today on the steam-er An Ping, from Hong Kong, was coolly received. The native officials sent an escort of 300 armed troops, but the French consul objected to their passing through the French settlement, and they were withdrawn and Li Hung Chang landed under an escort of twelve French police. consuls have decided not to call upon Li Hung Chang officially.

NO CHINA-JAPAN ALLIANCE. Yokohama, July 22.-The Corean Government continues to send troops to the frontier, a colision with intruding Chinese having dready occurred. Toronto, July 22.—The announcement of the massacre of missionaries in the Province of Shan Si caused some apprehension as to the fate of Rev. A. R. Saunders, his wife and family, formerly of Toronto; Miss Smith, formerly of New Hamburg, and the other members of the China inland mission in Shan Si. Saturday morning, at the headquarters of the mission ing, at the headquarters of the missio in this city, which are also the headquarters for North America, it was stated that Mr. Saunders and Miss Smith were at Ping Lao, 150 miles south of Tai Yuan, where the massacre took place. They would hardly be likely to go north, and are believed to be safe. There is a Baptist mission and an American board mission at Tool and an American board mission at Tal

FRAGMENTS. It is reported at Cape Town that a colonial force of 10,000 will be raised locally to enable the dispatch of troops to China.

The Chinese positions on the Amur have been cleared from Blagovestchensk as far as Khaberofsk. The governor of Shan Tung, in his telegram, denies ever having sent a dispatch to Sheng, the administrator of telegraphs at Shanghai, saying that the ambassadors had been murdered. Navigation of the Pei Ho river from Taku to Tien Tsin is now easy and free from marauders. Owing to the lack of houses, 300 tents have been pitched for the wounded at Tien Tsin. Eight thousands Japanese troops arrived at Tien Tsin from Taku Monday, July 16. Twenty-one hundred ese troops are commanding the position at Che Foo and 1,800 at Shan Hal Kuan. The second Indian brigade has been ordered to remain at Hong Kong. The British first-class battleship Goliath and two Indian transports, troops, have arrived off Hong Kong.

The British have landed guards from the British gunboat Redpole to protect the European settlement in Canton. It is asserted that Li Hung Chang himself fears assassination at the hands of the Boxers. It is said that French soldiers, numbering 500, bolted panic-stricken before a bayonet charge of Chinese at An-

nam. The foreign missionary board of the Southern Baptist Convention at Richmond, Va., has received a cablegram from Che Foo, China, stating that Ping Tu was looted and that the Christians were fearfully persecuted.

A statement is made in Berlin by a semi-official weekly military paper that there are 43,000 allied troops in China, of which 20,000 are Russians, who are located in Liao Tung peninsula. The London Times' Shanghai correspondent says that the appointment of Li Hung Chang is regarded as an indication on the part of the dowager empress that Prince Tuan's promise to empty boast, and that she is becoming less warlike in her attitude. The Russian forces available along the border and throughout North China are stated to comprise 26 battalions of the line, 27 battalions of re-serves, 17 Cossack regiments and 17

The Experience of Two Officers in Escaping From a Boer Prison.

The escape from Pretoria of Captain F. N. Le Mesurier and Captain Haldane may be counted among the thrilling tales of the Transvaal war. Captain Mesurier is of the Dublin Fusiliers and Captain Haldane one of the Gordon Highlanders. The former had been stationed in South Africa for three years when the war broke out. They were both in the battle of Dundee, were captured and imprisoned for many weary months.

From the day that these two British coldiers were incarcerated the idea of escape never left their minds. Many were the plans they laid, only to see them fall through, and the method which they finally adopted was full of suffering and danger, but ultimately proved successful. It was while trying to tunnel their way out of the building that they discovered that under the room where they were confined was a space not over three feet high, but extending the whole length of the flooring above.

It was a horrible place, bad smelling and damp, but into it they crawled, determined to remain until the prisoners were removed, after which they hoped to escape. It would appear from statemen'ts made that among the host of prisoners they were not missed by the inspectors, and in this den they remained 16 days, with only what food and water could be slipped down to them by others whom they had taken into their confidence.

COULD NOT SIT UPRIGHT. Their boots became encrusted with mold from the dampness, and they were unable to sit upright, or even kneel in their cramped abode. They tried to keep their legs from becoming paralyzed by taking such exercise as creeping about on their knees would afford. When finally the room above them was vacated and the hour of es-cape had come, they crawled out of their underground home with legs so stiffened and helpless that they said they felt as though they were "made of paper." Limping at every step they made their way to the street.

Fortunately for them, they had been deprived of their uniforms, rough suits having been furnished instead, and so they did not attract much attraction.

they did not attract much attention, although the police did eye them somewhat suspiciously as they straggled along the moonlit streets. A last they reached the open country.

During their long confinement underground they had sustained life on biscuits, potted meat, jam and indifferent water, but on leaving Pretoria they were reduced to very few provisions, the most important item of which was one portion of army emergency rations, consisting of half chocolate and half condensed meat, and this portion, which is supposed to last one man 36 hours, provided the two friends with their only food during the two whole days. In one matter they were fortunate; only during the days when they were com-pelled to lie concealed in the long grasses did they suffer from thirst; for on their night marches they constantly came across deep, cool pools. And it was in one of these, by the way, that they were able to wash themselves for first time in about three weeks.

TOOK TO THE WATER. Their greatest difficulty lay in eluding patrols, which consisted, at close intervals, of two men, and, what was far worse, of a dog. It was to escape an unpleasant Boer specimen of "man's best friend" that the fugitives had on one occasion literally to take to water, and there remained for half an hour up to their necks in reeds, water and mud. One morning, just as they had set-tled down for the day, they became aware that they were at a Boer farm. Here, again, they were more or less a whole day in the power of a dog, for as they lay concealed in a clump of gum trees, which fortunately afforded shelter for long reedy grasses, a little Boer boy kept running in and out of the farm, always accompanied by his For the whole day the two men lay in an agonized state of defiant sus-pense; every time the child disappeared into the house they thought he gone to call assistance in order to capture them, for when the dog approached their hiding place he naturally growled and sniffed. At last, however, lad and dog disappeared for the night, and they managed to crawl away from this dangerous neighborhood. Their food completely gave out, and for some time they literally lived Junction Railway.

One day, while attempting to cross the Komati River, they found that their progress was barred by a swarm of dog-faced baboons on the other bank, and they were obliged to make a tedious detour of two miles.

At last they grew desperate and climbed into a truck car standing on a sidetrack, and loaded with bales marked "Lorenzo Marquez," where, hidden among the packages, they hoped to be carried across the boundary line of the country to a safe port. The car, how-ever, after being taken some distance, was again sidetracked and left stand-ing. Later it was again joined to a train and the two British officers finally saw the gleam of the white pillar which marks the line between the Transvaal and the Portuguese territory, as they rolled past it into the land of their desire.-Detroit News.

New Fire Apparatus.

The saving of life endangered by fires is such a commendable work that small wonder inventors devote their time to the designing of apparatus which shall aid in the performance of this duty. A New Yorker has patented a life-saving net which is intended to form a part of the apparatus of a hook and ladder or hose company, being of such shape that it can be folded up and suspended beneath a cart. The frame is formed of circularly larly arranged lazytongs, to the upper ends of which the woven net is attached. The lazytongs can be contracted into a small bundle and wrapped with chains provided for the purpose, and when the men reach the scene of the fire it is only the work of a few minutes to detach the chains and spread the net in position to accomplish its work. With the old style of net a large force of men was required to hold it, and oftentimes the force of the fall was so great that their hold was partially broken and the victim struck the pavement; but the new net supports itself almost entirely. To further aid in breaking the fall of a person an inflated ball is suspended beneath the center of the net, to receive a portion of the blow.

MARRIAGE AGENCY

Queensland's Tempting Offer to Young Englishwomen.

[London Mail.]

While the British housewife is bewailing the ever-increasing scarcity of "generals" and house parlormaids, the Queensland government agents in the country are shipping young women to their colony in thousands. Some idea of the extent to which the demand for single women in Queensland is being supplied from the country districts of England may be gathered from the fact that on last Thursday alone 215 healthy young domestic servants were dispatched to the Brisbane hiring depot by the colony's agents, and with farm laborers, their wives and families, the total shipment for the day comprised 430 persons.

For the readiness to quit England for the new life in the sunny south several reasons are assigned, not the least interesting of which is the prospect of marriage with the well-to-do selector who raises coffee, cotton, bacco or sugar on his outback holding. It is the common belief of the intending emigrant-and the notion is carefully fostered by the hustling agent-

Woodstock Express: The management of the London baseball team have evidently not forgotten the record Andy Thompson made for Woodstock against Hamilton last season, for yesterday they signed him to help them out in their series with the Hams. Last year Andy was a veritible hoodoo to the Hamilton people, and few games did they win from him. London asked him for his terms Thursday night, and Andy tucked on a good figure. It did not make any difference to them for they wanted him, and yesterday noon the articles were signed. No doubt Andy will prove a good acquisition to the team.

COOPER'S ARM IS GONE. Woodstock Sentinel-Review: Geo. Cooper, the speedy London southpaw, threw his arm off in the last series with Hamilton. It is said that it will necessitate his retirement from the game for the remainder of the season.

"Andy Thompson left for Hamilton this morning to take his place on the Cockney's pitching staff. He will probably be in the game for the Londons this afternoon. The champions now have one of last year's Woodstock batteries in "Thompson and Pickard."

FLYS. Chatham Planet: The members of the baseball team have about all shaken the dust of Chatham from their feet. Handiboe has gone to play with Albany in the New York State League. Hale is doing good work for Grand Rapids. The Coldwater, Mich., team has secured Grimshaw and O'Connell. Klock has returned to his home in Canajoharie, N. Y., and Conklin and Sanders will also seek quiet comfort at their homes in Chicago. Neal and Denean go to Walkerville. Hudson and Habel return to Detroit, where Hudson will play with the D. A. C.'s. Andy Thompson has gone to Buffalo. Manager Black himself will leave for London on Saturday. He has secured a situation as traveler, and as Chatham is on his route he promises to call

Spectator: The Hamiltons are be-hind, but they have hopes that they will have better luck and win a majority of the games. There is no hippodroming about the games, both teams being out to win every game they can.

LACROSSN.

Galt, July 21.—A lacrosse match between Galt and Paris, played here this afternoon, resulted in favor of Galt by 18 to 4.

LAWN BOWLING.

New York, July 21.—The sixth day of the international tournament was a successful one. The main event of the day was the series between New York and Chicago in the inter-city champion contest. Each team rolled three games, the team having the highest aggregate score winning. Chicago's total score was 2,619, an average of 871% per game. The game was the highest of the tournament, and the western men captured first prize; New York was second, both passing the Columbus, Ohio, and Wheeling, W. Va., men.

Three rinks of Woodstock bowlers will arrive here Tuesday to take part in the three days' tournament.

WHEEL. Cambridge, July 21.-Johnny Nelson, of Chicago, won the 25 mile motor paced match, professional race, at the Charles River Park tonight in 40 minutes and 24% seconds. W. C. Stinson, of Cambridge, was second, his time being 41:18 and Archie McEachren, of Canada, third, in 41:36 2-5. Although Nelson did not come up to his own world record, which is 39:45, he broke his own three-mile record by riding the distance in 4:58 3-5, lowering the best time by two-fifths. TRIGGER.

BIG EVENIT AT WINDSOR. Windsor, July 21. - The celebrated running horses, Advance Guard, owned by Alex Shields, Toronto, and Sidney Lucas, owned by Thompson Bros., of Memphis, Tenn., are matched for a race at the Windsor Driving Park, on Tuesday, July 24, for a purse of $1,500; distance, 14 miles. There is great speculation as to the result. A MILE IN 1:38.

Chicago, July 21 .- Sidney Lucas did not even get inside the money in the Wheeler handicap today, The Roman, a despised outsider, whose chances were considered so slim that the books did not hesitate to lay odds of 12 to 1 against him, won. The time, 2:04% was just shy of being a world's record. In the fourth race Mr. Brown broke the track record of 1:39 for one mile. He clipped one-quarter of a second from the time. Orimar today equaled the world's record of 1:38 for a mile, made by Voter at Brighton Beach on Tuesday. He did the trick in the seventh race, and did it in a way that left little room for doubt that he could have made at least a quarter of a second better time if they had been fully pushed out.

BRADSTREET'S

Review of the Business Outlook in Carada.

Toronto, July 23.-Bradstreet's weekly trade review says: Trade at Mon-treal has been of fair volume for this season. The sorting trade has kept up Orders for the fall have been considerable, and the indications prom-fair average quantities for this season. Values are very firm, and wholesale people say that a good many lines now being sold for the fall and winter could not be replaced at prices paid for them. Country remittances are fair. Hamilton—Trade at Hamilton the past week has been very fair. Manufacturers are busy; labor is well employed, and the reports from travelers are encouraging, and a good season's business is expected.

Coast Cities-There has been a marked improvement in wholesale business at the coast cities, and the general outlook is good. Payments show some signs of improving with the distribu-tion of larger sums of money for labor. There is still complaint of over-competition among retailers.

Winnipeg-In wholesale circles at Winnipeg retailers are buying cautiously, as the result of the condition of crops, and until more accurate estimates can be found of the extent which the recent improvement in weather conditions wrought in the wheat fields, buying will doubtless continue on a conservative scale. The outlook for business has improved somewhat since the worst reports of the wheat damage began to come forward. Payments are fairly satisfactory.

London—Business at London is fair, and the outlook for business is good. Remittances are satisfactory and values

TELEGRAPHY BY TYPEWRITERS

The Ingenious Device of Two Men in Chicago.

Chicago, July 22.-The Times-Herald says: Telegraphy by the use of typewriters in place of the ordinary clicking keys and receivers familiar in tele-graph offices has been made possible by two Chicago men. Salmon G. Sholes and Alfred C. Gilmore. They have devised a mechanism by which a message written with ordinary spelling on a machine that has a keyboard exact-ly like the keyboard of the ordinary typewriter, will be printed if transmitted over a telegraph wire by another typewriter in the office to which it is sent, hundreds of miles away.

The instruments have been tested over a circuit of 265 miles of wire, belonging to the Central Union Telegraph Company, connecting Bloomington, Springfield and Peoria.

The feature of the invention is that while it receives and delivers messages in the ordinary alphabet spelling, it transmits them by the use of the Morse telegraphic alphabet or dots and dash-The transmitter turns each letter, figure or punctuation point into dots and dashes and the receiver which contains an instrument called a "selector," turns the dots and dashes back into the ordinary signs.

Two Costly Pictures Stolen From an Artist's Studio.

Albany, July 23 .- A panel portrait of the Duke of Burgoyne by Rubens, one of the semi-masterpieces by that celebrated artist in this country, and a bust by De Rossi, a Florentine artist of the sixteenth century, both the property of John Mack, of this city, were stolen from the studio of Capt. Wm. Davis, an artist and engraver, of Troy, who was retouching them.

pictures were worth, according to Davis, $25,000 apiece.

Wm. Morrison, a brother of former County Treasurer George H. Morrison, of Troy, who is serving a term in Clinton prison for embezzlement, was arrested, charged with the theft of the pictures, on complaint of Davis, who says that Morrison was the only one in the apartments on Tuesday while he was out, and that when he returned the pictures were gone. Morrison was arraigned in the police court, and denied all knowledge of the alleged theft. Mr. Davis has apartments in Morrison's house. Davis said he was sure that Morrison at least knew where the pictures were, and he wanted an adjournment until he could procure evi-

Mr. Mack purchased the Rubens at a private sale in Baltimore a number of years ago. Mr. Mack thought Artist Davis' estimate of the value of the pictures was too large.
Artist Davis is an Englishman, and says he has been in this country seventeen years. He says he has retouched paintings of the old masters for the Prince of Wales, the Earl of Derby. the Duke of Devonshire and other titled Englishmen. He claims to own pictures on exhibition at 655 Broadway, New York, which are worth $200,000. In this collection is a Pannini, for which he gave $50,000 in Paris several years ago. Davis telegraphed the loss of the pictures to various art dealers throughout the country.

FOR THE ENGLISH

Canadian Cheesemakers Making Special Article.

Ottawa, July 23.-An interesting experiment in the curing of cheese is being carried out at Carp (Carleton County) under the direction of the commissioner of agriculture and dairying. The English palate likes a Can-adian cheese of a flavor similar to the English Cheddar, which is cured at 62° Fahrenheit. At Carp a special room has been set apart in the factory. The air of which is drawn into the room through tile drains, cooling it so that the temperature of the room is continuously under 65°, and a flavor is given to the cheese cured in it equal to the best English make. Last year similar experiments were carried on, and the unanimous opinion of the Montreal cheese board was that cheese so cured was worth half a cent per pound more than cheese from the very same vat cured under ordinary circumstances. In addition, the shrinkage in weight in the cooler room is much less. On the basis of last year's output of cheese in Canada the increased value represented by the new method would be about $900,000, or to a small factory it would represent an Toronto—Orders for fall delivery continue to come forward at Toronto in fair average quantities for the analysis of the next average quantities for the second supplies the second supplin ada will certainly work a revolution in this important industry.

The greatest sufferer in this respect is John Colet, the venerable dean of St. Paul's. A few hours after the dispatch giving the news of the receipt of a message from Minister Conger was published the government issued a notice that the dean's projected memorial service on Monday for the victims of the Pekin massacre was undertaken without its sanction. Simultaneously letters appeared in the papers from relatives of those in Pekin saying the dean had exhibited indecent haste, while the aristocratic Morning Post denounced the cathedral dignitary in terms almost as strong as it had applied to the Boxers themselves, whereupon the dean got his back up, and declared that it was too late to cancel the service, but that, owing to pressure from high quarters, he had consented to indefinitely postpone it. EFFECT ON GOLD.

According to the Statist Russia is likely to bear the brunt of the financial burden of the Chinese crisis on account of the probability that the government will be obliged to incur a large outlay to protect Siberia, while if the government should attempt to hold Manchuria Fou the output would be still greater. the Statist says, however, would bene-fit other European markets, as "the probabilities are that much Russian gold will have to be sent to London, Paris and Berlin, partly to meet the interest on the Russian debt held abroad and partly to pay all the obligations Russia has already entered into or is about to enter into. In that way the money markets will be relieved to a greater extent than is now calculated, for if Russia lets go of say twenty or thirty millions sterling it will be an immense addition to the funds in the mar-kefs of Europe." The Statist also says it is likely the Bank of France will raise the discount rate to 31/2 per cent and declares that the position of Germany is greatly improved. WEEK IN PARLIAMENT.

The past week in parliament was marked by still another backdown by the government in withdrawing the clause of the army bill making volunteers available for service abroad. Such a sweeping change in the constitution of the force met with strenuous op-position on both sides, and after pleading for the proposal the under secretary of state for war, George Wyndham, meekly withdrew it. This was another inability to feel the pulse of the House of Commons and the nation.

The Star, voicing the opinion of the Radicals, approved Advanced withdrawal of the clause, but fails to see how imperialists could oppose it, "you cannot assert your hegemony in China, your suzerainty in Africa, claim the golden stool of Ashanti, teach France her manners, and wield a longer spoon than Russia without either courting disaster or facing conscription."

FROM A GERMAN STANDPOINT. Berlin, July 22.-The Chinese situation takes on a radically different shape from news which has reached here from Russia. What Europe hitherto knew about the troubles in Manchuria was what the Russian Government choose to let pass. Now a number of reports, some of them official, but a majority private, have reached here from St. Petersburg, which tally in the main, and each point to the situation in Manchuria and along the 1,500 kilometers of borderland on the Siberian side of which the Amur River forms a frontier, as much more dangerous for Russia than has hitherto been supposed.

CHINA REGINS WAR. A military contributor to the Tageblatt says the Russian news showed that Chinese regular troops, aided by irregulars, in all numbering about 120,-000, are in open war against Russia. They not only demand the withdrawal of the Russians from Chinese territory, but after the Russian refusal to withdraw the Chinese assumed the offensive and drove off the Russians from railroad construction and began hostile operations against Harbin, Blagovestchensk, and other towns, shelling the last named place. What makes the Chinese hostilities extremely dangerous, however, is the fact that the Chinese, by a series of recently constructed forts and redoubts, absolutely command the navigation of the Amur River for a distance of 20 versts, thus preventing Russian troop transports on the only route open, at least until those fortifications shall have been taken by the Russians.

RUSSIA MEANS BUSINESS. Though the Russian censorship is again most severe regarding telegraphic news received here today, from St. Petersburg that Blagovestchensk had been taken by the Chinese, who seized large amounts of money in the Russo-Chinese bank there. All reports agree that the Russian Government is actually at war with China; that the shillyshally policy hitherto maintained will be dropped; that Russia is now hurriedly preparing for a serious campuign in North China, separate from other powers, and that Russia will not be able nor willing under these altered circumstances to bear an adequate share in the Tien Tsin-Pekin campaign. The Russian forces available along the border and throughout North China are stated to comprise 26 battalions of the line, 27 battalions of reserves, 17 Cossack regiments and 17 field batteries, altogether about 78,000 men.

A dispatch from St. Petersburg says: The Chinese who attacked the Blagovestchensk concentrated on the right bank of the Amur River. They have been severely routed at the village at Sakhalin, which was burned by the shells from the Russian guns. The Chinese town of Aigun has been part-

The Russians have occupied all the important defensive positions on the right bank of the river, driving the Chinese out of them.

GERMAN NEWS EXPEDITION. The German Fleet Society will send on Aug. 5 a news expedition to China for the purpose of reporting events entirely independent of English or other news-gatherers. The expedition will consist of from 15 to 20 men equipped with field telegraph apparatus, auto-wireless telegraphy and heliographs.

The alleged dispatch from Minister Conger and all the other reassuring Chinese advices received here are viewed by the German officials with extreme skepticism and Ambassador White has so cabled the Washington authorities, Sharp Engagement 13 Miles East of Heidelberg.

Gen. Little's Brigade Defeats the Force Under Gen. Dewet-An Army Scandal.

London, July 22 .- The war office has received the following dispatch from Lord Roberts:

"Pretoria, July 22.-The Boers made a determined attack yesterday to destroy a post at the Rail Head, thirteen miles east of Heidelberg, which they attacked with three guns and a pompom, and surrounded. They were, however, beaten off after a sharp engagement before reinforcements summoned from Heidelberg had arrived."

HEAVY FIRING HEARD. Lorenzo Marquez, July 21.-A dispatch from Machadodorp says that heavy artillery firing has been reported from the neighborhood of Middleburg, where it was reported that Boers have prepared to retire upon the approach of the British.

London, July 21.—The war office has received the following from Lord Rob-

'Pretoria, July 21 .- Little, temporarily commanding the third brigade, reports that on July 19 he came in con-tract, near Lindley, with Dewet's force, which broke through Hunter's cordon. The fighting lasted until dark, when Dewet's force, being repulsed, broke into two parties. Little's casualties were light. He buried five Boers. "Hamilton and Mahon continued their eastward march yesterday, and should join hands with Pole-Carew today near Ersten Fabriken station. "A body of the enemy wrecked a train carrying sick between Krugers-dorp and Potchefstroom, July 19."

ARMY SCANDAL.

Manchester, July 21.—The London correspondent of the Guardian hints at a vast scandal over the condition of Lord Roberts' army in the Transvaal. Whole commands, it is said, are sick, and men are falling asleep on the firing lines, becoming easy prey to the Boers

New York, July 21 .- R. I. Pierson, of New Orleans, who went to South Africa to act as a scout for the British army, returned on the St. Louis. He has a bullet wound in his right leg, and some strong opinions regarding the poor hospital corps, "The medical attention that one receives out there," he said, "is certainly enough to make the blood boil. It is disgraceful. The truth is beginning to come out now, but not all is out yet. The surgeons down there range in age from 18 to 21 years. They wear cuffs and look pretty. If a case comes that is too much trouble to handle they order the patient sent to some other hospital. Little they care whether they die on the

REVIEWING THE SITUATION.

London, July 23 .- A London correspondent, reviewing the situation in South Africa, has this to say: The Chinese mysteries divert public attention from South Africa. This is, perhaps, fortunate, for the heat has been terribly severe for London, and worrying is dangerous, unless it can be done underneath a straw hat. It is probable that Lord Roberts' campaign has not been going well, although the situation is not clear, and there may be a pleasant surprise for the public. Anyhow, it had been generally believed that the Boers were rounded up in a mountainous corner of the Free State, and that they were falling back demoralized into the Transvaal, but these expectations have not been justified. Gen. Dewet contrived to break through the cordon with a single column, which may now be heading for the railway or swooping down upon the convoys and isolated posts. He has also left behind in the mountain fastnesses a force of sufficient strength to compel Gens. Rundle and Hunter to operate cautiously.

Meanwhile Gen. Botha's force has been pressing closely around Pretoria since Nitral's Nek, and Lord Roberts does not appear to be accomplishing any useful result by sending columns to Rustenburg and northward from

THE ELUSIVE BOERS.

The fact has come out that Gen. Paget was practically under siege for weeks at Lindley, and that Gen. Dewet made repeated attempts to capture the town. This was not hinted at until a day or two ago. Military men fail to explain why the Boers have succeeded in capturing one body of British troops after another, while they invariably elude pursuit themselves, disappear when apparently surrounded and trapped, and then reappear elsewhere

Lord Roberts is now warned that the time is approaching when, instead of being the critic, he will be exposed to relentless criticism for allowing traittors and perjurers to go unpunished, for feeding spies and for paying excessive prices for farm produce to burghers who are ready at a moment's notice to take up arms afresh and leave their families to be supported at the cost of the military chest. Moreover, there are smaller coteries of the friends of Methuen, Gatacre, Colville and others, and these are centers of criticism and disaffection whenever Lord Roberts' work is reviewed.

anecdote of him: When a very young man, holding the humble position of second lieutenant in the Danish army, he wrote a letter of resignation to the king himself, full of pompous self-conceit. The king accepted the resignation, briefly adding that the Danish army would try to get on as best it could without Lieutenant von Moltke.

The young soldier, who had been unconscious of his vanity, was deeply mortified. "You talked too much, Moltke," a comrade said to him. "I shall talk no more," he sternly re-

His reticence thereafter was so great that in his old age he was known throughout Germany as the Silent One. > Toronto Bakers Want Better Terms-An Appeal to Wage Workers.

Ottawa, July 23 .- On Saturday evening a deputation from the Stonemasons Union of Ottawa and Hull, composed of Messrs. Garrow, Ritchie and Roquette, waited on Mr. Mulock, as acting minister of public works. They stated that the contractor erecting the government postoffice in Hull was paying stonemasons only 27 cents an hour at nine hours a day, or $2 43 a day, whereas they understood the fair wages' schedule of the contract required that he should pay $3 per day of nine hours. Mr. Mulock was able to show them that under the terms of the contract in this case, requiring payment by the contractor at the fair wage rate of $3 per day of nine hours, no payment would be made to the contractor until he proves to the satisfaction of the minister under oath, or by such other evidence as the minister may require, that these fair wages had been paid-to all workmen, and that, as in this case no payment whatever had as yet been made to the contractor, he would see that none was made until the men were paid the rate required by the contract. The deputation went away highly pleased with the method adopted in the contract to protect them, and expressing their confidence in the sincerity and efficiency of the plan adopted by the government for the assistance of workingmen in general.

BAKERS WANT AN INCREASE. Toronto, July 23.-The journeymen bakers of Toronto have decided that their services are worth more than they now receive for them. Instead of $10 and $12 a week, which they are now receiving, they want $12 to $15. These were their first demands when they intimated their intentions a few days ago. It is understood that both sides have approached the matter in a conciliatory spirit, and that concessions will be made on each side. It is possible that the journeymen will modify their demands materially. There is no danger of the matter affecting the supply of bread, as the men have continued at work, and do not contemplate going out. The journeymen held a meeting on Saturday night, at which terms of settlement were discussed. It is probable that a committee of the journeymen will wait upon the employers today. ORGANIZE AND FEDERATE Denver, July 23 .- An appeal to all wage-workers to organize and federate has been issued by the executive council of the American Federation of Labor. It follows:

"Throughout every country a struggle is raging between the oppressor and the oppressed, the possessors of wealth and the laborers; the concentration of industry and wealth is the order of the day. Everywhere the workers must suffer disastrous results unless they organize and federate to protect and promote their mutual in-

"In this combination and concentration of wealth, the possessors permit no sectional or state lines to interfere with their power, and it therefore behooves the toilers to unite and feder-ate regardless of whether they are loprayer of all our people, for justice and right, and the perpetuation of republi-

wrong, but establish justice for all.'

The last Canadian Military Rifle League match for 1900 was fired on Saturday. The day was beautiful, but a variable, strong wind made brilliant totals impossible. Lieut. McCrimmon, who leads the first team in this match, made his score on June 12. Sergt. Robson made the remarkably brilliant score of 34 points out of 35 at 200 yards, off the knee. On Thursday at Bisley the Kolapore cup was competed for at the same ranges, viz., 200, 500 and 600 yards, by the eight best shots out of Canada's twenty representatives, and none of them equaled Sergt. Robson's score at 200 yards; neither did any of them equal the scores made by Capt. Smith, Sergt. Galbraith and Pte. Allen at 500, and only two of them tied Lieut Murphy's score at 600 yards. Kolapore cup was won by the eight crack shots of the empire, with a total score of 732, the Canadians winning third place with a total score of 710, yet, according to the reports in the Military Gazette there are a number of teams in Canada who made much higher averages in the league matches, Pte. Allen, who leads the London teams, won a place in the front rank of Canadian riflemen, and will receive a first class marksman's certificate, signed by the minister of militia and by the major-general commanding the forces in Canada. Capt. Smith, leads the second team, and Pte. Fraser, will receive similar distinction in the second class. Pte. Wilson was within three points of winning the same honor. Pte. Hueston was the only man absent on Saturday, and Lieut. Little, who filled his place, did good work considering that it was his first trial over the ranges.

Capt. Carstairs, of the 56th Regiment, was range officer, and Lieuts. Becher and Gregory register keepers. The following are the scores: First team-

The fact that the next general election will be held on voters' lists compiled under the provisions of the provincial voters' lists acts has stirred up interest in the revisions now going on r to be held in the various municipalities. Each yearly revision in the past has been carefully attended to, but because the term of the present parlia-ment may expire before there will be another revision all over Ontario special attention is being given to lists this year. Though in Ontario residence within a polling subdivision is required in most cases, specal provision is made to permit the names of lumbermen, mariners, fishermen, students, and farmers' sons to be put on the lists, and during this last session of the Ontario Legislature soldiers serving in South Africa or in Halifax simism is beginning to melt under the were similarly provided for. AT WASHINGTON.

Washington, July 23.-The state department was the center of interest on the Chinese situation today. About 10 o'clock the Chinese minister arrived, and was with Secretary Hay for some time. On the departure of the min-ister the department gave out the imperial edict of the Chinese Government,

Doubts regarding this statement are based on various theories, one of them is that the deception was practiced by the Chinese war office itself. Still another is that it emanated from a high Chinese official, holding a position like that of Sheng or Prince Tuan. withstanding the flood of doubt from foreign official quarters the state department holds to the view that there is every probability of the genuineness of the message, although there is always a possibility that a fraud has

Mullen Electrocuted at Sing Sing Penitentiary,

When He Might Have Escaped With a ing hours, and at night was left alone Brief Imprisonment.

Sing Sing, N. Y., July 23.-Joseph Mullen was electrocuted in the state prison here at 6:05 this morning for the murder of his wife Johanna. A current of 1,640 volts and 71/2 amperes was grass in summer, or lumps of sugar gradually reduced to 300 volts, and and apples in winter. then increased again to 1,640 volts. This was kept up for half a minute, and Mullen was pronounced dead.

A PECULIAR CASE. cepted the offer of the district attorney of New York and pleaded guilty to a charge of manslaughter in the second degree, with a provision for a sentence of five years, he would still be alive, and would have to undergo imprisonment for only a year or so, allowing for the usual commutation of sentence for good behavior. MULLEN'S MISTAKES.

But Mullen thought he could not be convicted, and he refused first a chance to plead guilty of murder in the second degree, and then an offer to plead guilty of manslaughter in the second degree. These opportunities were given to Mullen because for some time after his arrest the district attorney's office was unable to secure sufficient evidence against him to convict on the charge of murder in the first degree. NEW EVIDENCE. While Mullen was in this mood the district attorney's officers obtained further evidence, and the prisoner was at once put on trial for his life. Mullen killed his wife Johanna shortly after midnight on July 4, 1898, in a house where the woman was employed as a servant. The woman had refused

A CHINESE FAKE.

Washington, July 23 .- The state department has received a number of dispatches from foreign governments relative to the Conger dispatch, and also from United States officials in China, including Consul-General Goodnow. Without exception they discredit the accuracy of the dispatch, and advance various theories to show its lack of genuineness. The entire burden of the answers indicates a disposition not to move the relief expedition on the evidence furnished by the Conger dispatch.

She Loved the Light.

In some parts of Missouri nothing is commoner in out of the way places than a solitary "coal-shaft." In one of these remote mines there was kept, 100 feet below the surface, a little old mule, whose business it was to draw the loaded cars up the inclined plane to the foot of the shaft.

Back and forth, back and forth it made its dismal journeys during workin a corner fitted up as a stable, to await in the silence and utter darkness the return of its human comrades. For five years it had never breathed the upper air, or seen the light of day. It was a great pet with the miners, who used to bring bunches of fresh

One night, when the mule was being unharnessed, someone proposed taking "Jinny" up in the cage. It was done; her tremors as the cage began to as-cend were soothed by the assuring There is a remarkable feature to this case, in the fact that had Mullen acand soon she found herself restored to a mule's natural privileges. The next morning when the time came to go to work, "Jinny" positively refused to return. Neither persuasion nor threats could induce her to ap proach the shaft and step into the waiting cage.

A council was held. The miners, touched by what the poor brute had suffered in her five years of isolation, and reproaching themselves that her imprisonment had been so long, at length solved the problem by sub-scribing on the spot enough out of their scanty earnings to buy "Jinny, she was immediately loosed and "turned out to grass." For years afterward she might have been seen nibbling the grass near the shaft, or sheltering herself behind a liberal haystack that somehow was there for her. When working hours were over she was sure to be near the shaft, where she could mutely testify to her liberators as they came up that she was the happiest mule in Missouri. Reports from different parts of Essex county state that the windstorm Friday did considerable damage to fruit trees. In some cases nearly whole that his enemy could say.

He still wore that slender black cord, with its precious coin attached, about his neck; but, strangely enough, never once thought of it in connection with Arthur Aspinwall's loss, nor dreamed of the cunning plot that had been laid against him, and was soon to bring him to shame. "I say, you," said Arthur, one day at recess, and in a confidential tone, to one of the worst boys in the school, 'I wonder what Dunbar wears around "Why, does he wear anything?"

asked the boy, curiously.
"Yes; I've noticed a dark cord about his neck lately."

suggested Arthur's unsuspicious com-"Maybe it is. I'd give considerable to know, though," responded Aspin-

"Humph! I don't think it pays to moping over one's books all the time. What difference will it make in a hundred years whether you keep up with your class or not?" returned Jim, while his keen eyes seemed to be closely inspecting something in the region of Louis' collar.

"I don't suppose it would make any difference to the world in a hundred years, but it would make a good deal to me now if I did not," Loui responded, quietly.

'Yes, anybody can see that you're bound to go ahead. Hulloa!" cried Jim, as if he had made a sudden discovery, "there's a great coarse black thread on the back of your neck-let

Before Louis was hardly aware of his intention he had seized that slen-der black cord, and with a dexterous jerk pulled it from its hiding place in his bosom Margaret Houghton's treasured gift, and it hung glittering in his hands, and swinging back and forth before his astonished school-

Jim's "Hulloa!" had been heard by nearly everyone, and the attention of nearly every person in the room was attracted by it to the two boys.

Mr. Allen had stopped his explanation to look, and now stood regarding Louis in speechless astonishment and displeasure, while a death-like hush instantly pervad the room.

"I thought it was a thread on the back of his " k and tried to pull it off," Jim ha med to explain, but looking half frightened over what he had done; for he, as did everyone else, believed that the thief who had stolen Arthur Aspinwall's coin was at last discovered.

But Louis, flushing a vivid crimson with shame to have his schoolmates know how he had treasured that simple gift, selzed it quickly from Jim and clasped it tightly in his hand. "Louis," at last said Mr. Allen, in a voice of thunder, "what does this

"A little girl gave it to you?" re"A little girl gave it to you?" repeated Mr. Allen, severely. "A year ago last June, sir." "Have you worn it around your neck ever since that time?"

'Yes. sir. But Louis hung his head at this con-

In a simple, straightforward way, Louis related how he had strayed from the city on that hot summer day; how he had been attracted by the sounds of mirth coming from a gentleman's grounds, and how the pretty child had greeted him, presenting him with the dollar, and then taken him up to the house and treated him to some of her birthday feast.

Mr. Allen watched him critically during the recital, and was convinced of its truth.

When Louis finished his story, the teacher stood thoughtfully considering the matter several minutes. "I think I will take charge of this piece of money for the present," he that the man half relented. But still there was a doubt about the matter; justice must be done at any cost, and he said, firmly, though not unkindly:

"If it can be proved that it rightly belongs to you, Louis, you shall have it again; but until this matter of Arthur's loss and your asserted owner-ship is settled, I shall keep it." Louis said no more, but turned sad-

"We won't stop for 'buts' just now. for I am in a hurry. Run in and get ready as quickly as you can. I am going to drive in," Mr. Allen interrupted.

The boy left his work and proceeded to obey, but his eyes were averted, and his step was not the quick, elastic step of a lad anticipating a rare pleasure." They drove along for a couple of miles, Mr. Allen chatting upon indifferent topics, but coming to a place where two roads crossed each other, instead of keeping straight on he

Louis flushed scarlet. "I cannot rest," Mr. Allen continued, 'until you are exonerated before the whole school; so I resolved that I would spend this afternoon in trying to solve the mystery of that contested coin. SOAKING UP SUNSHINE.

Some poet skilled in putting the motive wisdom of life into happy phrases could evolve a taking 'piece' out of this sentiment of an unfortunate little Arab. The anecdote, from the New York Tribune, is as true to life as are Mrs. Dorothy Stanley's pictures:

"Hi! Jimmy! Come down here! Let's set on the bridge and go round when she turns."

This from a ten-year-old street boy standing on the approach to a bridge over the Erie canal in an interior city. The person addressed was a fellow street boy standing on a raised foot-bridge over the same muddy waterway. He was no older than his companion and fully as ragged. He was lame and carried a crutch, but he had his compensation in a philosophy of content-ment that old Horace might have en-

"Wal," was the answer that Jimmy drawled out, with as solemn a face as a cadet on parade, "I can't come down nohow. I've got to stay up here and soak in all the sunshine I kin so as I kin laugh when it rains."

PRICE OF CIVILIZATION.

Civilization has its price. That Chinese boy who was brought to this land of freedom by Admiral Dewey, and who still remains his devoted body servant, is learning to play the cornet. He toots it with a devotion worthy of a better cause. Every spare moment finds him with the mouthpiece close to his lips. He has actually blown his eyes straight, and puffed out the flattened bridge of his Mongolian nose. Of course, much can be forgiven a hero, but Dewey or no Dewey, that Chinese boy couldn't blow his cornet in a modern flat more than one consecutive time. There would be war declared on China before you could hit the pipe twice.

But out at the admiral's country home it is different. When the admiral and his wife go away for a day or two -and they often go away now that the boy is learning the cornet—the yellowfaced lad has it all to himself. He drinks the milk so it won't curdle, and then he starts in on a Chinese dirge in seventy-three grievous movements. The dog, having got somewhat used to it, crawls under the woodshed and occasionally howls in unison. The chickens creep into the tall grass and the cows and horses race down to the fur-ther pasture and put their heads over the line fence.

There is an aged lady in the neighborhood of a melancholy disposition, who always comes up and sits on a fence with her knitting and listens to the boy's pleasing efforts. "Play away, little boy," she says, with the big tears streaming down her furrowed cheeks; "it does remind me so much of a pet calf we once lost with turnip in its throat."-Cleveland Angostura Bitters are indorsed by the

And Badly Crushed a Third-A 5-Year Old Boy's Hand Caught in a Bicycle.

A 5-year-old boy named Carrothers, whose home is at No. 656 William Ptreet, lost two fingers and terribly injured a third, in a mishap that occurred at noon yesterday. His father had left his bicycle turned upon the saddle and handle, and the little fellow was probably spinning the wheels around, when his hand caught between the chain and sprocket wheel. Dr. J. B. Campbell, who was called to attend to his injuries, found its was necessary to amputate the second and third fingers. He may be able to save the index finger, although the flesh is torn from the

After routine business had been conducted at Saturday night's meeting of the Knights of the Grip, the commandery received reports from the picnic committees. Sir Knights C. H. Firth and C. H. The refreshment committee were meeting with willing responses and good suc-It was their intention to provide all refreshments free of charge. As several members have been married within the past six months, one of the sir knights suggested that a special race be arranged for them. He would donate a cradle for first prize, if someone else would donate a baby carriage. The suggestion occasioned no little merriment, and will be adopted in all likelihood. Springbank had been favored as to the place where the picnic should be held, because of an understanding that the street railway company would bear the expense of the Seventh Band. There appeared to be some doubt about this, so a committee, consisting of Sir Knights C. H. Firth, C. E. Perry, W. H. Escott, C. H. Mc-Guire and S. F. Glass, was appointed, with power to act and arrange for the place of holding the picnic. The mem-bers favored Springbank if the company would supply the band.
