U. S. AND ALLIES PREPARING FOR ANOTHER WINTER OF WAR AND GREAT SPRING OFFENSIVE; NO PROSPECT OF PEACE NOW

Washington Reports Says Ent ente Purpose Hammering the Teutons Through Winter Months and Getting Russia on Her Feet for Closing of the Nippers Next Spring—All Powers Expected to Rejec t Pope's Peace Proposal.

(Special to The Advertiser.)

Washington, Aug. 25—America and her allies are preparing for another winter campaign, and a great spring offensive to turn the scale.

The forthcoming reply to the pope's peace proffer, extension of aid to Russia and the outcome of the Moscow conference, now in session, will show this, officials and diplomats said today.

Help For Russia.

Between now and late winter the Allies expect to "get Russia on her feet," that she may play her part in the giant nippers to be closed about the Teuton powers next spring.

In the wake of the pope's offer and detailed explanations tendered by the Vatican through the United Press, it was re-emphasized today that all the powers will reject peace now. President Wilson will offer a declaration of principles rather than an outline of peace demands. Each country is expected to reply individually to the pope.

Confidence in Kerensky.

The Kerensky Government will be given a vote of confidence by the Moscow conference and orders to continue the war with its present policy, the Russian embassy declares.

This session, representing all elements of Russia opens today, and will adjourn Monday. Within that period will come, probably some attempt to shift the form of government to one less radical, but embassy authorities say that elements seeking this are too small to succeed.

LORD CECIL SHOWS THE CENTRAL POWERS PROVOKED THE WAR

WOULD NOT ARBITRATE

Minister Makes Telling Reply to Charge That England Started War.

London, Aug. 25.—"I see they again are talking in Germany about how England started the war," remarked Lord Robert Cecil, minister of blockade, in an interview with the Associated Press. "It is an old song, but I think the time has come, particularly in the United States, when it is well to restate briefly the bald facts regarding the beginning of this great conflict.

"Frankly, I do not think anyone anywhere can honestly believe that England began the war. If any person had arisen in a public assemblage in this country two weeks before the war began and asserted that in a fortnight we would be plunged into the greatest international conflict that the world has ever seen, the speaker would have been regarded by everybody as a dangerous lunatic. Our people's thoughts were the furthest possible from war and our statesmen were overwhelmingly occupied with domestic affairs, particularly the Irish question, to the almost complete exclusion of international politics.

No Preparations.

"It is true that some of our people had been saying for a year or more before that Germany intended to attack us, but their warnings fell on deaf ears, so much so that no preparations were made. Certainly, we did not start the war. Who did? I think the answer is unquestionable. For at least a year before the war began, Germany had definitely made up her mind to fight.

"An Italian writer has told us how, in 1913, Germany approached the Italian government with a view to taking action in the Balkans, but Italy said she would regard such a war as offensive, and not defensive, and would not lend her support. Germany withdrew her proposals as she did not think she then was strong enough to go it alone.

Crown Prince Wanted It.

"American Ambassador Gerard has told us that the German crown prince made no secret of his desire for war, and that he even expressed the hope that it would come before his father died, and he added that if it didn't come before his father died it would come as soon as he, namely, the crown prince, ascended the throne. Balfour's secretary, Ian Malcolm, has also quoted his conversation with the crown prince, in which the prince suggested that England and Germany should combine to destroy France.

Germany's Mind Made Up.

"There is no question but that Germany had made up her mind that somewhere about the summer of 1914 would be the best time for war, this because the new French military service act would not have become effective and the Russian strategic railways would not yet be ready. Moreover, they knew thoroughly the conditions of corruption in Russian official life, and they hoped our domestic preoccupations would keep us out, although they were determined to go on with their plans whether we stayed out or not.

"In every country there are men of many different opinions. The extreme

PETS OF KAISER PETAIN'S CATCH IN VERDUN FIGHT

Large Number of Emperor's Favorite Brandenburg Troops Taken.

On the French Front, Aug. 25.—(By the Associated Press.)—Men from the German emperor's favorite units from Brandenburg were captured in the latest French attack at Verdun. The prisoners taken in the preceding days comprise 1,145 men and 30 officers of the 20th Regiment; 1,089 men and 2 officers of the 24th Regiment; 556 men and 17 officers from the 35th Regiment. The number of officers taken was surprisingly high, showing that the morale in the higher ranks also is diminishing.

The attack began early in the morning eastward from Avocourt Wood to the west of La Fayet, but the enemy thought the assault would occupy a larger front as the artillery was busy on both sides. When Gen. Petain's Saint Morels division went over to storm Hill 304, the Germans were taken completely by surprise, and lost ground immediately. Before time was given them to recover, the position was won, although the Frenchmen had to wade through water waist high. The prisoners rounded up were calculated at 100, while the main body of Frenchmen dashed onward through Death Ravine and attained the objectives set for them after two hours. In some places the advance reached a depth of 2,000 yards.

MANY HUN OFFICERS TAKEN BY FRENCH.

Paris, Aug. 25.—One of the striking phases of the Verdun fighting on Monday was the large proportion of German officers captured, 201 being taken with about 6,500 men. This is in sharp contrast with the number of officers taken in the French attack last December. At that time 208 officers and 11,000 men were captured.

Three regiments forming the German 8th Reserve Division, were annihilated as fighting units, losing 69 officers and about 2,800 men as prisoners. This was a Brandenburg division.

The newspapers recall that at the time of the great German attack last year several weeks elapsed before the Germans were masters of strong points west of the Meuse, which the French took in a few days this week.

BRILLIANT FLYING DECISIVE FACTOR IN VERDUN BATTLE

French Aeronauts Performed Wonderfully In Advance Along Meuse.

Paris, Aug. 25.—The brilliant work of French aeronauts was a factor of decisive importance in the battle of Verdun, according to Georges Prade, an aviation authority, who witnessed the French attack this week as a representative of the Journal. He says that Gen. Guillaumat cut all red tape and did away with discouraging delays as regards recognition of valor, and for the aviators placed at the disposal of their commander a number of crosses of the Legion of Honor for the purpose of decorating a pilot who performed a remarkable feat as soon as he landed.

Extraordinary results were obtained. Pursuit planes gave such thorough protection that not a single service plane was lost. The only losses were among the pursuit planes. The aviators flew so low in accompanying the advance of the infantry that three of them were cut in two by French shells. Although the telephone lines had been cut and messengers were stopped by gas barrages, the infantry never lost touch with the barrage fire of the artillery.

BULGARIAN PREMIER WANTS EARLY PEACE, BUT THINKS ALLIES WILL REFUSE OFFER

Threatens Entente With Dire Things If They Do Not Make Peace.

Sofia, Thursday, Aug. 23—Via Berlin and London, Aug. 24.—"We want peace and desire to end this terrible bloodshed," said Premier Radoslavoff in an interview on the papal peace note. "We have been emphasizing this attitude for more than a year," he continued. "Last December we offered peace to the Entente, but it preferred to seek its fortune in a continuance of the war. In the nine months intervening our military situation has become nine times more favorable and every day proves it is becoming still stronger.

"I do not believe that the pope sought to get in contact with the different governments heads before transmitting the note for the purpose of discovering if they desired peace. The Entente appears to make every effort to prepare public opinion for a brusque refusal of papal mediation, whereas the central powers welcome it with sincere sympathy.

"The central powers will make concrete proposals in keeping with the papal note, and will answer it individually. Whether peace will come soon who can say? We want peace, but are calmer than ever, nor are we asking for peace for the benefit of mankind. We desire peace to come soon, and unless this occurs before long the Entente alone will have occasion to regret it."

RIBOT THANKS PETAIN FOR VERDUN VICTORY

Paris, Aug. 25.—Premier Ribot has sent the most cordial congratulations to Gen. Petain, the French commander-in-chief, for his victory at Verdun.

"The Verdun operations, conducted with precision and remarkable thoroughness, bring the greatest honor to the commander-in-chief and our valiant troops," said the premier's message. "The success you have just obtained will help to maintain in the country and the army the confidence which is the gauge of final victory."

IN SEVEN MORE DAYS GREAT VOTING RACE WILL HAVE BEEN WON

It Is Yet "Anybody's Race"—Each District Has Equal Chance for Grand Prize and Each Candidate for the Honor of Leadership and Becoming Donor of Patriotic Cash Prize.

The big McLaughlin automobile and the $1,000 in cash for patriotic purposes are causing no end of enthusiasm among the several hundred candidates in The London Advertiser's $16,000 prize contest. Already, it is reported, wagers are being offered as to which county will win the grand prize. Ailsa Craig patriotic organizations are backing Miss Munro against any possible "dark horse" that might enter the field, as also are Sarnia, Seaforth, Embro, Blenheim, Hanover and many other places, backing their favorite candidates, according to advices reaching the contest department.

It is a royal battle, truly, and it will take votes to win. The only way to get votes is to get new subscriptions, as it is the new subscriptions that count the most votes, and as you, Mr. Candidae, are after the big vote, it is up to you to secure as many new subscriptions as possible. Remember, you get 50,000 extra votes for every $15 worth of new subscriptions, and 25,000 extra votes for every $15 worth of old subscriptions you turn in betwen now and next Friday at midnight.

The race is yours! The prize is yours! It is up to you to work for it, and it will take subscriptions to win.

ENEMY MELTING AWAY BEFORE BRITISH ONSLAUGHT IN STRUGGLE FOR LENS

Paris, Aug. 25.—Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency.—The special correspondent of the Petit Journal, describing the investment of Lens, says the German troops are falling under the British artillery fire, bombs from airplanes, waves of gas, avalanches of burning oil, fire of rifles and machine guns, and the hand-to-hand pressure of the Canadians, who are qualifying themselves to rank among the famous combatants of this great war.

Lens is still resisting from all its cellars, subterranean galleries, fragments of wall and concrete refuges, but whenever the Germans make a sortie blood pours and the killed and prisoners are counted in hundreds.

Trains bring up reinforcements after reinforcements and the enemy divisions are melting away. Lens is being sucked by a leech which it cannot tear away.

The Matin says the Canadians continue to justify more and more every day the nickname which the enemy have given them, namely, "butchers of the Germans."

GERMAN PRISONER HAILS LONDONER IN FRANCE

"Hello, Billy! How's the Queen's Hotel?" Was Shouted at Gunner Friend by Teuton Who Formerly Lived in London.

That a former Londoner was captured fighting with the German forces at Vimy Ridge is the statement made by Gunner William Friend, 29th Battery, in a letter to his uncle, Thomas Cook of the Richmond Hotel. While employed at Queen's Hotel here, Friend often saw the man, whom he describes in the letter, but never learned his name.

He was with his battery when the batch of German prisoners swung past, and was decidedly startled when somebody called out, "Hello, Billy, how's the Queen's Hotel."

He described the man minutely, but Mr. Cook was unable to identify him from the description. Several Germans who left the city soon after war broke out were known around the Queen's Hotel.

MICHAELIS IS EVASIVE; CANNOT BE PINNED TO A PROGRAM OF PEACE

Copenhagen, Aug. 25.—Yesterday's session of the main committee of the Reichstag was productive of further declarations and discussions regarding Chancellor Michaelis' attitude on peace which the latest German papers construe variously. A careful perusal of the mass of reports and comments on the committee meetings yesterday and Wednesday show that Dr. Michaelis throughout conferences with party leaders did not change his attitude regarding the wording of his ambiguous speech July 19 and the situation as far as pinning him down to any definite peace program remains exactly where it was when he assumed office. It was brought out in the report of yesterday's proceedings that the majority party representatives endeavored before the Reichstag meeting July 19 to secure from his definite assurances but failed.

KORNILOFF DEMANDING RAILWAYS FOR THE ARMY

London, Aug. 25.—A dispatch to the Times from Moscow says that at the cabinet meeting in Petrograd Thursday General Korniloff, commander-in-chief of the Russian armies, demanded the militarization of railways which will probably be agreed to in view of the imminent general strike. The men on two important lines decided to suspend work at once, but may be persuaded to defer the strike in obedience to an urgent message from the conference of railwaymen now sitting in Moscow, which favors a simultaneous strike on all railways. The promptest measures are needed to forestall a collapse of the railway service.

CADORNA BREAKS FOE LINES, HAIG GAINS AGAIN AT LENS, PETAIN STORMS 3 POSITIONS

THE WAR SITUATION

The Austrian line on the Isonzo front has been broken at several points by the Italians, it is announced officially at Rome. The Italians continuing their furious assaults between Tolmino and the Adriatic, are now pursuing the retreating Austrians, who are defending the difficult ground yard by yard.

A Brilliant Feat.

One of the most brilliant feats of the Italians was the capture of Monte Santo, 2,245 feet high. This peak, seven miles north of Gorizia, dominates the broad plain beyond that city, and occupancy of it has enabled the Austrians to hold up the Italian advance to the east since their capture of the city. The brief official recital gives little idea of the struggle which attended the storming of the Austrian stronghold on the mountain top, but it doubtless will have an important bearing on the development of the Italian campaign.

French Progress.

Having gained their principal objectives on the Verdun front, the French are completing their victory by local attacks to round out and secure their new lines. Profiting by the capture of Hill 304 yesterday, they advanced last night to the north of it. Three fortified works in the vicinity of Bethincourt were stormed.

Renewal of fighting in the Champagne may be forecast by the statement in the official French report that violent artillery engagements are in progress there. In Belgium also, in the vicinity of Bixschoote, the big guns are heavily engaged.

German Trench Taken.

No further infantry actions on a large scale are reported by the British, although they were successful in minor operations last night. A German trench position west of Lens, of considerable importance, and a post near Lombaertzyde were captured, with prisoners. Near Epehy, northwest of St. Quentin, there is increasing activity, with heavy artillery fighting under way.

Allied Troops Deliver Heavy Blows, French Taking Three Fortified Works, British Extending Advance at Lens and Italy Capturing Stronghold and Tearing Holes In Austrian Defence.

Berlin, Aug. 25.—Via London.—The German line on the northern fringe of Herenthage Wood, in the region of the Ypres-Menin road, has been pushed back somewhat by the British, the war office announces. The Germans are reported to have captured Gillemont Farm, south of Vendhuielle.

London, Aug. 25.—The capture of a German position near Lens was announced today by the war office. The statement follows:

"By successful attacks carried out with slight casualties last night west of Lens, we captured a short length of German trench of some local importance. We also captured an enemy post during the night in the neighborhood of Lombaertzyde and secured a few prisoners and a machine gun. There was considerable artillery activity early this morning east of Epehy."

THREE FORTIFIED WORKS FALL INTO HANDS OF THE FRENCH

Paris, Aug. 25.—The French scored a new victory on the Verdun front last night north of Hill 304. Three fortified works near Rethincourt were captured.

The statement follows:

"In Belgium there were rather violent artillery engagements in the region of Bixschoote.

"South of St. Quentin our detachments penetrated a German trench yesterday evening and brought back 31 prisoners. Another raid west of Pantheon also resulted in the taking of prisoners.

"In the Champagne the artillery fighting became intense in the region of the heights. Enemy surprise attacks near Vauquois and northeast of Avocourt were completely repulsed. On the left bank of the Meuse, our troops made new progress north of Hill 304. In a brilliant action last night they carried three fortified works in the vicinity of Bethincourt. The number of unwounded prisoners taken on the left bank of the river yesterday was 450. This brings up the total to 6,101.

"The night was calm on the remainder of the front."

ITALIANS BREAK FOE'S LINES AND ARE IN CLOSE PURSUIT

Rome, Aug. 25.—The tricolor of Italy has been flying since yesterday on the summit of Monte Santo, which was an Austrian stronghold on the Isonzo front, according to the official statement issued today by the Italian war department.

The Italian second army, General Cadorna reports, has broken through the Austro-Hungarian line of defenses at several points, and is closely pursuing the Austro-Hungarians, who are retiring and defending the difficult ground yard by yard.

ALL ALLIED BUYING PLACED IN CONTROL OF U.S. COMMISION

Wilson Will See That Entente Are Charged Same Prices as United States.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 25.—All British, French and Russian Government purchases in the United States will be handled by an Allied purchasing commission, composed of three American officials. The agreement providing for the commission is the initial step in the president's policy of seeing to it that the Allies get their war supplies at the same prices charged the American Government.

Members of the commission are Bernard M. Baruch, Robert S. Lovett and Robert S. Brookings, all of the war industries board, recently created to negotiate for American war purchases. All the other Allied coutnries are expected to emulate the Entente and allow the commission to buy their war materials.

SUBMARINE ROUTED BY RESCUE VESSEL

Paris, Aug. 23—(Delayed).—A French steamer went to the assistance of the American steamship Campana, which was torpedoed and sunk by a submarine on August 6. The French vassel was attacked by both torpedo and gunfire, but replied energetically and, notwithstanding losses, compelled the submarine to abandon the fight.

On the arrival at an American port this week of 46 survivors of the tanker Campana it was reported that the submarine which sank the vessel and took prisoner her captain and five of the gun crew, was destroyed on the same day by a French patrol cruiser.

(By JOHN GRANDENS, U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Berlin, Aug. 25.—Germany's answer to Pope Benedict's peace note will be drafted by a Reichstag sub-committee representative of all political parties. The various factions will be represented in accordance with their strength.

Announcement today said the sub-committee would include two Socialists, two members of the Centrist party and one delegate each from the Conservative, National, Liberal and Progressive parties.

CANADIANS ASTRIDE RAILWAY AT LENS; CLOSE TO STATION

BY WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS, U. P. STAFF CORRESPONDENT.

[Special Cable to The Advertiser.]

With the British Armies in the Field, Aug. 25.—The Canadians continued hammering at Lens today, chipping off bits here and there.

During the night they advanced astride the railway in the city, and captured a trench a thousand yards from the station itself. It was littered with German dead. Fierce resistance was encountered over every step of this gain.

As a result of cold-blooded sacrifice of men, headquarters reports today showed the enemy had retaken Iverness Copse, forcing back the British extreme right on this battleground a short distance.

As this is cabled reports at headquarters say fighting is developing on the extreme British left front, near the junction of the British and French fronts.

Medals and a Kiss For 3 English Women Honored By French

Crosses Pinned on Them by Minister of War Painleve.

Paris, Aug. 25.—Three women yesterday received the legion of honor for their work in connection with the war. They are Lady Michalham, founder of the hospital in the Astoria Hotel, Paris; Mrs. Borden Turner of Chicago, who has maintained a hospital in Belgian territory since the beginning of the war, and Miss Ivins, of the Scottish Women's Hospital at Royamount. Minister of War Paalnieve pinned the crosses on them, saluting them on both cheeks in accordance with the custom.

PACKERS BREAK HOG PRICE BY BAN ON BUYING

Values for Live Animals Decline Sharply on Local Market.

SOME DEALERS "STUNG"

Unprecedented Rise Leads tn Concerted Acting by Big Houses.

Local hog buyers announced this morning that following a combined movement of big representative packing men of the States and Canada, the price of porkers made a sheer drop of $2.50. This substantial drop lowers the price of hogs to $15.50.

Some days ago it was predicted that porkers would continue their advance toward the $20 mark.

Reached $20 Mark.

Hog prices at Chicago, Detroit and Toronto reached the $20 mark this week, and values of the American cities surpassed this price to the extent of 25c last Monday.

The action of the packers is said to have been born of the refusal of many buyers to take hogs at such prices. W. Johnson of the Wm. Davies Company, stated yesterday that his firm would not give any orders for hogs until the price was around the $16 mark. Other representative packing men of Canada and the States are said to have protested at the values. This resulted in the combined movement of the large packers, and a normal price for hogs will now be offered.

Some Lose Money.

It is said that much money was lost by hog buyers who had bought their animals at the quoted price of $18 yesterday, not foreseeing the present drop.

Dressed hogs will also decline materially as a result of the drop in live hogs, and certain butchers will naturally suffer a considerable loss.

NEW DEPARTMENT FOR Y.M.C.A. JUNIORS FINISHED

The new junior department of the Y. M. C. A. will likely be opened at the end of the month, and the full program well under way by the time school opens.

The whole third floor of the building is being given over to this work. It was formerly occupied by Westervelt's business college, but carpenters have been at work throughout the past month remodeling the rooms, and the work will probably be finished by the end of the week.

The new department is spacious. Offices for the secretary are provided at the head of the stairs. Behind these are a small club room and two large game rooms, one of which will be used by the junior boys and the other by the older ones. Shower baths will be installed, and there will be a gymnasium larger than the present one on the ground floor. Some of the apparatus for this has already been obtained.

It is planned to use a number of the rooms to develop Canadian Standard Efficiency work, which was carried on in several of the churches last year. A room will be set apart which the various groups may use as a meeting place on appointed dates. On these floors it is likely arrangements will be made to give them the use of the gymnasium and other Y. M. C. A. privileges whether they are Y. M. C. A. members or not.

The new rooms will give opportunity to increase every branch of Y. M. C. A. work. The space vacated by the juniors on the second floor will now be used by the senior and intermediate department, relieving the overcrowding of the past few years. The fact that all soldiers in uniform and returned men become members of the institution free of charge has been a large factor in causing the changes.

OWNERS OF UNTAGGED DOGS TO BE SUMMONED

There are 1,267 dogs in the city, according to the number of licenses issued by Inspector J. W. McCallum. The average citizen considers the hound population to be about one million.

Mr. McCallum is also of the opinion that there are about 3,000 dogs, and he will issue summons to a number of citizens who have failed to contribute to the city coffers for the privilege of owning one of man's best friends. He has received so far $2,676 from dog men.

JOINS U. S. NURSES FOR SEBVICE IN FRANCE

Miss Jennie McNaughton, Buffalo, a daughter of Mrs. Margaret McNaughton, 11th concession, London Township, is visiting her home prior to her departure overseas with an American hospital unit.

She is on leave until Monday, and came to bid her relatives good-by. She is a graduate of a hospital in Buffalo, and has been doing private nursing there for some years. When the call came for nurses she volunteered and will leave with a detachment of 66 nurses at once. She is a niece of Harry Merritt at the city hall.

Mary Jane Treats "Gee-It-Was-Fun" Spirit Shown At For Funeral

BY MARY JANE.

This morning, having a few leisure moments, I picked up a paper a day or two old and came across the following, among the Editorial Notes: "Wonder what our friend, Mary Jane, thinks about the people who made a frolic of a local funeral?" She thinks, to put it mildly, that "fools rush in where angels fear to tread." Where the hand of God fell so heavily, how could eyes gaze so lightly? We seem to have with us always the vandals who need must tear to shreds the sacred veil which covers the tragedies, the mysteries, the bitter heartaches of life. Morbidity is as much a disease as insanity; in the medical world, I think, they must be first cousins. People afflicted with this carping curiosity should come out for awhile and live in the sunshine—God's own disinfectant.

How Many Kind in Life?

The terrible tragedy which wiped out the For family was the more poignantly heartrending inasmuch as the victims were strangers within our gates. My heart goes out to the brave people who come pioneering in a strange land, among a strange people, whose language even, they know not. As I read of the thousands who visited the home on Maitland street when Death had entered, I wondered how many of them would have extended the hand of fellowship while Life still reigned.

It seems strange that not even "the quiet dead" are immune from the vulgar probings of vulgar minds. The scene at the cemetery, as I have heard it described, with men climbing trees and women shoving, and pushing, and laughing, was not a very fine tribute of reverence and respect to departed souls. I should like to know how the "heathen Chinee" who were present at the dreary burial regard the conduct of Christians (?) at a Christian funeral.

Haven't Enough to Do.

The printed reports describe the crowds as being composed mostly of women and children. There have been times in my life when I have writhed with shame for my own sex. Women in courtrooms, women at morgues to view the aftermath of a gruesome, bloody murder, women in the crowd at a street-brawl. Some women, not too many fortunately, are never happy unless they have their fingers on the pulse of all that is sensational, sordid, and scandal-streaked. Why steep one's soul in such things when there is so much that is beautiful and joyous, ennobling and uplifting in the world. The trouble with a good many people, men as well as women, is that they have not enough to do. "For there is perennial nobleness, and even sacredness in Work," says Carlyle, "in Idleness alone is there perpetual despair." Truer words were never penned.

"Gee It Was Fun!"

On the day of the funeral, I was on a car returning from town when two girls, well dressed and refined-looking, came in and sat just in front of me. I soon discovered from their conversation that they were returning from the cemetery; they discussed the funeral from the time it left the home until all was over and the little family, aliens in a foreign land, were laid in their last resting place. Imagine my dumb amazement when one of them remarked, "Gee, it was fun! But I nearly had my ribs broken."

Tragedy. A masterpiece of tragedy. How may we designate those who interpreted it as melodrama, or even—pitiful thought—as comedy?

MANY TRANSFERS IN STAFF OF TEACHERS AS SCHOOLS REOPEN

Resignations and New Classes Cause Many Changes.

SEPT. 4 IS OPENING DAY

Collegiate Instructor Will Supervise Normal Training in Public Schools.

The schools of the city will open on Tuesday, September 4. Inspector C. B. Edwards has been compelled to make many changes in the staff, and he has announced them:

W. A. Adams, manual training instructor at the Collegiate Institute, will be supervisor of all manual training work of the board. It was the intention earlier in the year to have a supervisor for both the Collegiate and the public schools, but Mr. Adams will do the work for all. E. Geiger, Guelph, has been appointed an instructor.

In Public Schools.

In the public schools there have been many changes. Miss E. Freeland has been selected to take Miss McBride's class at Aberdeen School, the latter having resigned. Miss Edna Claris has been transferred from the Chesley Avenue kindergarten to the Aberdeen School. Miss H. Douglas will have charge of the new room opened at the Boyle School. Miss Annie Clark will have temporary charge of the class formerly taught by Miss McCullough at the Boyle School. Miss Marjorie Tolhurst will teach the class at Chesley Avenue formerly taught by Miss Hayman, who has resigned. Miss Gladys Morris has been transferred from the Preventorium to the Tecumseh School.

Miss Ackert will take the late Miss Waugh's class at Victoria School.

"There are many changes due to the opening of new classes and the resignation of several teachers," explained Inspector Edwards.

TRACTOR PLOWS EACH DAY TURN OVER 120 ACRES

Big Drive in Progress to Insure Bumper Crops of Fall Wheat.

MORE LAND PREPARED

Four Machines Should Plow 1,200 Acres Before the Season Is Closed.

That the acreage of fall wheat in 1918 will greatly exceed that of this year, and will likely surpass the average acreage of this crop is the prediction which travelers throughout the country are making. Already farmers have started to plow the ground for this crop, most of the work being so far confined to districts where the ground is light and sandy.

Within a couple of weeks work on the heavier soil will be well under way. September 15 is generally the latest date at which the work is done. Almost every farmer in the district has announced his intention of putting in a large crop of fall wheat and if circumstances prevent this, substituting spring wheat.

Four of the Government tractors are working at full speed in the county and are plowing on an average 30 acres a day, or a total of 120 acres. With 18 working days between the present date and the middle of September, they should be able to turn over in the neighborhood of 1,200 acres.

The acreage this year was comparatively small and is said by some to have been below the average.

SEVENTEEN IN DISTRICT QUALIFY IN SUMMER AGRICULTURE COURSE

The department of education has announced the results of the summer course for teachers of agriculture that was held at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, from July 3 to August 3. The list includes the names of those who completed two summer courses, and are entitled to certificates in intermediate agriculture, valid in high or continuation schools, and those who have completed two courses for a certificate in elementary agriculture and horticulture, and are entitled to certificates valid in public or separate schools.

Some of those who qualified for the last-mentioned certificate and are well known in this district, are: Mary Crosbie, Myrtle I. Desmond, Annette J. Elliott, Eva H. Gilholm, Grace Hanlon, Ila Quigley, Waite L. Quigley, R. J. Shaw, Ida M. Young, Eva Bloomfield, Helen M. Grieve, Ruth M. Hammett, Kathleen Kingston, Margaret I. Liddicoat, Hazel M. Wilkinson, Edith G. Wilson and Leila M. Woodworth.

TO PLAY PROGRAM THEY WILL RENDER AT TORONTO

By kind permission of Lieut.-Col. H. Abbott, the First Hussars Band, under the leadership of Roselle Pococke, will give a band concert in Victoria Park on Sunday evening, August 26, under the auspices of Campbell Becher Chapter, I. O. D. E.

The First Hussars Band has been chosen to play at the Toronto Exhibition and has kindly consented to give the same program, which is as follows:

March—The Father of Victories..Ganne
God Save the King.

DETERMINED TO RIDE ON FENDER OF CAR

Magistrate Graydon had but one case to deal with at the police station this morning, that of a drunk who pleaded guilty and was fined $10 and costs. The patrolman who made the arrest testified that the prisoner was taken from the fender of a Richmond street car, having made up his mind to ride there instead of inside. As the motorman could not induce him to vacate his position on the fender, a passing patrolman was signalled and the arrest made.

BABY'S GREAT DANGER DURING HOT WEATHER

More little ones die during the summer than at any other time of the year. Diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera infantum and stomach disorders come without warning and when a medicine is not at hand to give promptly the short delay too frequently means that the child has passed beyond aid. Baby's Own Tablets should always be kept in the home where there are young children. An occasional dose of the Tablets will prevent stomach and bowel troubles, or if the trouble comes suddenly the prompt use of the Tablets will cure the baby. Mrs. has. Anderson, Minda, Alta., says: "Baby's Own Tablets are the best medicine for little ones who are suffering from a weak stomach. They cured my baby when suffering from stomach complaint and have made her a fine healthy child." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

STORMY SCENES IN CANADIAN COMMONS AS SOLDIERS' VOTE MEASURE IS PASSED

Those Who Never Lived In Canada Get Ballot.

DR. EDWARDS STARTS ROW

Member for Frontenac Takes Slam at Dr. Pugsley's Son.

OTTAWA, Aug. 24.—The bill giving votes to soldiers is ready for third reading. It passed from the committee stage tonight after a scene of stormy bitterness. Hon. Dr. Pugsley, the Liberal representative from St. John, New Brunswick, was attacked as disloyal because he offered an amendment denying voting rights in the Canadian general election to Britishers in the Canadian force, who had never lived in Canada.

Dr. Edwards, of Frontenac, and H. B. Morphy, of Perth, two Ontario Conservatives, led the attack against Dr. Pugsley.

His amendment was defeated by 51 to 13. Ten Liberal members voted with the Government: Messrs. Turriff, MacLean (Halifax), Clark (Red Deer), Douglass, Pardee, Buchanan, Neely, McCraney, Carvell and Loggie.

The thirteen Liberal members who voted for the amendment were: Messrs. Copp, Proulx, Lemieux, Knowles, Kyte, MacKenzie, Pugsley, German, Oliver, Murphy, Turgeon, Michaud and Marcil (Bagot). Mr. George Boivin (Liberal of Shefford, Quebec) did not vote.

No Lines Drawn.

To the Hon. Charles Murphy, the minister of justice stated that every person enrolled in the Canadian expeditionary service would have the right to vote, whether man or woman, of age or below, whether ever resident of Canada or not, whether white, red Indian, Japanese, Hindu or any other race.

Dr. Pugsley then moved his amendment, excluding from the voting rights persons who had not been residents of Canada. He argued that it would be improper to give such persons the right to pass on Canadian questions, with which they were not acquainted.

The amendment was seconded by W. M. German of Welland, who declared that for such persons to vote would be unjust to the Canadians in the trenches, as well as to those in Canada.

All Should Vote.

W. S. Middlebro said that when war broke Canadians who had been living in the United States for years threw up lucrative positions to enlist. He held that every man wearing a Canadian uniform should have a Canadian vote.

Col. James Arthurs, Conservative of Parry Sound, said that while Dr. Pugsley wanted to deprive Americans fighting at the front from casting Canadian votes, he had nothing to say against the voting of Americans, who had come to Canada to work in munition factories.

Dr. Edwards said that ever since the beginning of the war, Dr. Pugsley had shown opposition to helping the boys at the front. Before the war a son of Dr. Pugsley had taken out a commission in the militia, but when the war came, and it was a case of fighting, the young man had resigned his commission and started a garage. He preferred running an automobile to a machine gun.

False and Cowardly.

Dr. Pugsley characterized the statements as "false and cowardly." Dr. Edwards appealed to Chairman Bainville for the withdrawal of the words as unparliamentary.

The chairman ruled that the words had been applied to the remarks of Dr. Edwards, and not to Dr. Edwards himself, and therefore were in order.

This started the House boiling. Dr. Edwards retorted by saying that Dr. Pugsley had made statements that were absolutely false and cowardly, and declared he was in a position to prove the statements he had made regarding Mr. Pugsley's son.

Mr. Pugsley interjected again that Dr. Edwards' assertions regarding the young man were absolutely false and cowardly. And added: "Put that in your pipe and smoke it."

The speaker amid considerable amusement, called upon Mr. Pugsley to withdraw this expression. Mr. Pugsley asked what expression.

The deputy speaker said "that about the pipe and smoking." The doctor did so. Dr. Edwards declared that Dr. Pugsley was now doing the smoking. Picking up a copy of the Militia Gazette he read from it that Lieut. J. A. Pugsley had been given a lieutenant's commission in the 62nd Regiment, St. John Fusiliers, on November 17, 1914. "Is that your son"? he asked Mr. Pugsley.

Would Ignore Edwards.

The member for St. John said he would have nothing to do with the member for Frontenac.

Dr. Edwards asserted that he was Mr. Pugsley's son, and that in a month or two he had taken off his uniform and run a garage instead of going to war. Dr. Edwards thought it would be only justice if some of these men at the front got a chance to vote in the city of St. John to show what they thought of the conduct of Mr. Pugsley.

Dr. Pugsley said if there was one gentleman in the House who had showed himself on many occasions unworthy of respect, the inner consciousness of the member for Frontenac would tell him to whom he referred. Mr. Pugsley said he was beyond the years when he could enlist. He had made no boast of what he had done in the way of contribution to the cause, but he was willing to let his record as to assistance be compared with that of any other man in the House. Those in his home constituency knew he had done his part.

Dr. Edwards said that he was above the age limit, and had never been connected with the militia. He had never mentioned it in public before, but he would say that his only son was flying over the lines in France, and he was speaking as one interested in that boy and others like him. A ballot should be given to every man who has put on khaki to fight for the cause. He was willing to place the record of his son against the record of the son of the member for St. John. "Let us make it a family record," he added, amidst laughter.

Sir Sam Justifies Bill.

Sir Sam Hughes said that it was a rule of all the ages that all naturalization laws are overruled by the fact that a man dons the uniform and fights for his adopted country. Sir Sam said he had attended the dinner in London when Sir Richard McBride was urging Lloyd George and Bonar Law to allow the British Columbia soldiers to vote. They said that it could not be done, and that they could not give them the right. Gen. Hughes said he asked what the mischief they had to do with their right to vote. Canada, not Great Britain, decided whether Canadian soldiers voted. A few days later the right was granted.

Hon. Frank Oliver said that he did not object so much to the soldiers voting; in fact, there was much to be said for it, but he did object to placing the direction of a large number of votes in the hands of the Government and its friends. For this reason he supported the amendment.

H. B. Morphy wondered if the Liberals were afraid of the soldiers' vote.

Afraid of Counters.

"No, afraid of the Government count," replied Mr. Oliver.

Mr. Morphy said that Mr. Pugsley said he wanted to help the boys at the front, and that he had voted against conscription, which was the only way in which they could be assisted. Dr. Pugsley might be loyal, but he disputed his patriotism. Loyalty he described as a symbol and patriotism was the doing of something.

Dr. Pugsley interposed to say that he had not boasted of his loyalty.

"He had good ground for not boasting of it," was the retort of Mr. Morphy, amid laughter.

R. B. Bennett hoped that Dr. Pugsley would withdraw his amendment. He pointed out that the amendment dealt only with British subjects who had come from the United States and other countries to join the army. They could not vote in the United States as British subjects, and the only way they could vote in regard to the conduct of the war was by this bill.

There were two essential qualifications for voting, residence and citizenship. These men were already British subjects and questions of residence was answered by service. Any man who would serve six months in Flanders had earned his right to vote.

W. M. German said he had no fear of the vote of the soldier, as far as he was concerned, but the point involved was what right had any man or any number of men to say they had a right to vote in Welland, for instance, when they had no legal status in the county.

Wants County-at-Large.

George Boivin of Shefford said he was in favor of British subjects being allowed to vote. He thought it would be better, however, to provide for men who have never resided in Canada a county-at-large. Assuming that there were 35,000 such British subjects in the overseas forces, this would be the equivalent of an additional constituency. By this plan these soldiers would have their own representative in the House.

Dr. Michael Clark asked Mr. Boivin if he would confine the representation to one member.

Mr. Boivin replied that he would give them more if they were of sufficient numbers to warrant it.

The vote was taken, and the amendment defeated.

Mr. German then moved an amendment confining the giving of votes to minors to those not below the age of 18, and providing that it should not apply to minors enrolled in forces other than the C. E. F. subsequent to the passage of the act. This, he said, would prevent the enrollment of battalions of naval cadets on the eve of an election for political purposes.

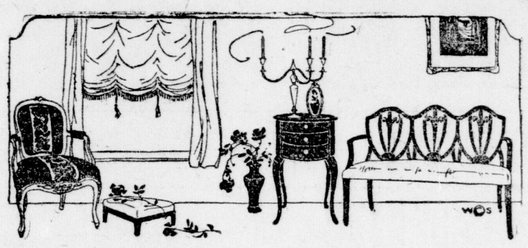

Hon. C. J. Doherty, in declining to accept the amendment, said there would be no possibility of men holding responsible positions in the navy resorting to this sort of thing.

Curtains, Draperies and Window Shades

That window you have promised yourself some day to fix up with overhangings; was it for living-room or dining-room? You will find here a large range of fabrics suitable for finishing out any decorative scheme you may have in mind at prices ranging from 40c yard up for the serviceable, fast-colored, yet inexpensive materials, such as chintzes, taffetas or printed linens; all 32 to 36 inches wide, to higher-priced fabrics, as rich velours (in all shades), printed linens, shadow cloths and tapestries, which come 50 inches wide and priced from $1.25 yard up. Or was it a bedroom you contemplated adding a little color to? Then let us show you our dainty chintzes, of which we have a large assortment in all colors. A few yards of this material, judiciously distributed in a room, on window, on bed for spread, if desired, bedroom box and dresser covers, and possibly a cushion or slip cover for that comfortable old chair, will transform an ordinary room into a veritable bower of harmonious color at a comparatively small outlay. That big, draughty arch you have often vowed you would not put in another winter without curtains for there. And the worn window shades, let us fix them up with new shade cloth. Now is the time to have any of above work attended to. Get ready in good time for your Fair visitors and avoid a possible disappointment later on. Let us know your wants—we are always ready to take samples of any of above to your home so you may see exactly the effect of material before deciding to purchase, therefore no guesswork as to suitable colors; also take all measurements for made-to-order work, thereby assuming all responsibility for correctness of same.

WOMEN AND CHILDREN ENTENTE RAID VICTIMS

Statement in Semi-Official Berlin Dispatch.

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 24.—A semi-official telegram from Berlin says that during an enemy air attack Tuesday night, a girl was killed at Metz. No military damage was done at Egshim, Freiberg and Schlettstaat, but a woman and five children were injured.

ARCTIC EXPLORERS BACK.

FREEPORT, Me., Aug. 24.—The steamer Neptune, which is bringing home Donald B. MacMillan and other members of his Arctic exploration expedition, has reached Battle Harbor, Labrador, and is expected to arrive at Sydney, N.S., on Sunday, according to a dispatch received today by relatives from Mr. MacMillan. Previous messages from the explorer said the Neptune was heading for St. Johns, Nfld., and would reach there Sunday.

BIG RALLY OF CANADA'S CITIES BEGINS MONDAY

Important Municipal Problems Will Engage Delegates' Attention.

150 EXPECTED TO COME

Banquet at Port Stanley Monday, When City Will Be Host to Visitors.

The annual convention of the Union of Canadian Municipalities will open on Monday morning in the Masonic Hall on Queen's avenue. It is expected that a large number of representatives will be present. Every important city in the Dominion will send one at least, and many will send more. It is expected that 150 delegates will come here.

The program is not complete, merely outlines being given. The details will not be known until W. D. Lighthall, the secretary, arrives from Montreal on Monday.

It is certain that many problems arising out of war conditions will be discussed. There will be debates on hydro radials, lead by Sir Adam Beck. Public ownership will also be taken up.

Telephone Franchises.

Problems of finance will be debated. Ald. H. B. Ashplant will deliver a paper on telephone franchises, and he may go into other matters of a kindred nature.

Mayor Stevenson will read a paper to open the proceedings, and will also take part in the other discussions. He is elected president this year.

Mayor Hardie of Lethbridge will be elected president, it is expected. He is in line now.

Gordon Philip, commissioner of industries, has received a number of acceptances, Montreal, Toronto, Hamilton, Ottawa, Winnipeg, and other cities will have all the debating power of their councils on hand to take part in the debates.

Banquet on Monday.

The city will entertain the visitors on Monday. A ride to Port Stanley, followed by a banquet at the cafeteria is on the program. Mayor Stevenson will preside at this banquet.

Mayor Tommy Church, Toronto, has stated that he will be on hand, and he will be on the toast list.

Efforts were made to get Hon. W. J. Hanna, food controller, to come to London to discuss food problems with the delegates, but he has fund it impossible to get here.

"We expect a good crowd," said Gordon Philip. "The delegates have been named in many instances, but there are a large number whose names we will not know until they arrive."

The best methods of caring for returned soldiers will be taken up, and it is expected that the delegates will present strong resolutions on this matter.

A Dominion highway, as a commemoration of the heroism of Canadian soldiers will be recommended, a large body of the delegates being of the opinion that nothing more fitting could be devised.

McCLARY WELFARE CLUB HOLDS FLOWER SHOW

An enjoyable evening was spent at the McClary foundry dining-room on Friday, August 24. The spacious dining-room was filled to its utmost capacity, and beautifully decorated for the occasion. McClary's band was in attendance, and under the direction of Professor Venuta rendered a number of splendid selections.

The exhibition of flowers was of a high order, and speaks volumes for the interest taken by the employees, both in showing the flowers and the great care and attention in growing them.

There were three prizes for the best collection, and the judges, Messrs. H. F. Hil land W. H. Hayden, after a long consideration, decided that the following were the winners:

First prize, Wm. Calver; second prize, C. Mawson; third prize, G. Tapp.

Mr. Calver's selection of various flowers was in a class by itself. Mr. Mawson's exhibit of 32 different varieties of gladioli was certainly a credit to an amateur. Mr. George Tapp's collection was of a very high order, he also having quite a display of various gladioli and other varieties. Sweet peas were in great abundance, and special commendation is due Mr. Kenney for his splendid display, consisting of 22 different varieties.

Vocal selections were rendered by G. McCullough, accompanied by Mr. Quantz, in splendid style, and greatly delighted the large audience.

At the conclusion of the flower show the flowers were donated by the exhibitors to the Welfare Department, and under the supervision of the Welfare nurse were distributed to the various institutions for the benefit of the sick.

During the month of September a vegetable show will be held in the York street dining-room, and it is expected that a splendid display will be given by the employees.

MISS VANSTONE TO GO WITH LONDON UNIT

Miss Edith Vanstone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Vanstone, 75 Byron avenue, is in the city on furlough from Buffalo. She has been selected as a nurse with the hospital unit leaving Buffalo next week for overseas. She graduated from the Buffalo General Hospital last year, but has been doing private work there for some. She was one of the first to offer her services, and she has been accepted. Miss Vanstone will go to Buffalo on Monday.

N.C.O.'S FOR BATTALION NAMED IN ORDERS

Although the officers who will have charge of the training of men in the newly-authorized Western Ontario Depot Battalion have not yet been chosen, the members of the subordinate staff, who will likely be called on to assist in the administration of the new unit are forecasted in camp orders, where the following N. C. O.'s are named as the subordinate staff of the Central Training Depot: Sergeant-major, William S. Neath; quartermaster-sergeant, Lyle H. Johnson; orderly-room sergeant, Harry Edwards, and paymaster-sergeant, Charles Randall.

DISTRICT OFFICERS WANT COMMISSIONS IN THE FLYING CORPS

Several officers in this district have taken advantage of the opportunity offered by the militia department recently, of taking a course to qualify them for commissions in the Royal Flying Corps. Already a number of applications have been received at district headquarters and have been forwarded to Ottawa for approval.

In view of the fact that instructions have been issued by the department that no more officers are to be allowed to go overseas, and that there is a likelihood that many officers will be reduced, it is expected that many more will apply for permission to take the course.

WOUNDED SECOND TIME

Word was received today by Albert Carter, Thamesford, that his son, Pte. D. W. Carter, who enlisted and went overseas with the 18th Battalion, had been wounded for the second time, and was in a field hospital in France. He suffered a gunshot wound on October 1 last, and after some months returned to the trenches. He had been on duty less than a month when he was wounded the second time.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mrs. Gowanlock and family wish to thank their many friends and neighbors for their kindness to them in their recent bereavement. b

CITY BREVITIES

"LITTLE SINS."—"Little Sins" will be the subject of Mr. Matheson at the City Mission Sunday evening.

FIRST WEEKLY HIGH COURT.—The local sittings of the weekly high court will be resumed on Saturday, September 22 next. Mr. Justice Britton will preside at the first of the resumed sittings.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES.—Anniversary services of the Richmond Street Memorial Methodist Church will be held tomorrow, when the Rev. J. P. Falconer of Rodney will occupy the pulpit both morning and evening.

COMMANDS DRAFT COMPANY.—Capt. Robert L. Graham of the 51st Regiment has been taken on the strength of this military district to command No. 2 Forestry Draft Company, and will command the company on its trip east.

CHIEF IS IN SEATTLE. — Inspector Robert Birrell has received a letter from Chief of Police Williams, who is visiting at present with his daughters in Seattle, Wash. The chief reports he has improved in health and is enjoying his vacation.

JOINS FLYING CORPS.—Lt. D. M. Bigler of the 1st Hussars Draft-giving Depot at Carling Heights, has been given his discharge to join the Cadet (Pilot) Wing of the Royal Flying Corps, and he leaves today for Toronto to take up his new work.

SCOTTISH MINISTER TO PREACH.—Rev. J. R. Turnbull of Beverley Street Baptist Church, Toronto, will preach in Talbot Street Church tomorrow at both services. Mr. Turnbull is a native of Scotland, and will be an interesting speaker as this is his first visit to London.

MAY QUEEN'S PICNIC.—May Queen Rebekah Lodge, No. 5, I. O. O. F., will hold their annual picnic at Springbank on Wednesday afternoon, August 29. The committee has arranged a good program of sports and a large attendance of the members and their friends are expected.

REV. MR. WISE TO PREACH.—Rev. Clarence Wise will preach again next Sunday at the First Methodist Church. He will leave for his home in Baltimore Monday. Rev. Mr. Peever, pastor of the First, will return from his vacation the latter part of the week, and will preach Sunday, September 2.

TRANSFERRED TO "F" UNIT.—Additional officers are being transferred to "F" Unit, Military Hospitals Commission Command, according to camp orders, which contain the names of Capt. H. J. Stevenson, Army Medical Corps, and Lieut. G. A. Drew, 16th Battery, Canadian Field Artillery.

MILK DEALERS' PICNIC.—At a meeting of the Retail Milk Dealers' Association held last night in the Brunswick House, it was decided to hold the annual picnic of the association at Springbank on Friday, August 31. The price of milk was not discussed at the meeting, and there is no change in sight at present according to the dealers.

AFFECTS CARBURETERS. — The sudden drop the thermometers took on Friday gave the local garages plenty to do in adjusting carbureters to meet the change in temperature. The carbureters were set for the heat of summer, and in some cases refused to work when the cool spell came. Several motor cars were noticed on Friday evening and today experiencing difficulty.

LEAVE STARTS TODAY.—Everything is quiet at Carling Heights Camp today, as all the members of the infantry details, including officers and instructors, are absent on their regular leave, which occurs every six weeks. The members of the forestry and construction units, who are shortly to leave for the east, are receiving their final examination by the medical board today.

MEETINGS TO BE DEFERRED.—It is expected that some of the council committee meetings will be held late next week, owing to the convention of the Union of Canadian Municipalities. The board of works will probably get together on Thursday evening, instead of Tuesday. The finance committee will probably meet on Wednesday evening.

PRIZE CAR IN COLLISION.—The Advertiser grand prize McLaughlin car was slightly damaged at Melrose yesterday afternoon, when a resident of Denfield, driving a Maxwell car, drove his machine so close to the McLaughlin that a portion of the running board was broken out. The broken part was replaced at the McLaughlin motor sales rooms this morning and the car now shows no signs of the accident.

PLAINTIFF WINS SUIT.—In the division court Friday, Judge Judd awarded judgment, with costs, in favor of the plaintiff, R. R. Nelson, 134 Horton street, in an action brought by him against Charles Tyrell, 138 Horton street, who was sued for malicious damage to property. A sidewalk between the two houses was torn up by Tyrell following an altercation some months ago. He was ordered to make good the damage done to 114 feet of sidewalk at the rate of 12½ cents per foot.

McCLARY'S BAND PRESENT.—A delightful lawn social was given on the lawn of the Chelsea Green Presbyterian Church under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid and Women's Bible Class. McClary's "Famous" Band played many popular selections, which were much appreciated by the large crowd present. The program was as follows: Chairman's address, Rev. W. A. Monteith; reading, Miss S. Doan; chorus, Ladies' Aid; solo, Miss L. Mowat; band selection; solo, Miss G. Manning; reading (by request), Miss R. Rawling; speech, John Strain; band selection; reading, Miss S. Doan; solo, Miss L. Mowat; speech, Mr. Baty; band selection; "God Save the King." The ladies are to b complimented on their good work, the proceeds being very satisfactory.

MUST FACE THE DOOR.—"Face the door," requested an elevator operator to a crowd of women that crowded into his car, higgledy-piggledy, cat-a-corner and every which way, at the noon hour today. Immediately there was a right about face and left and right wheel on the part of the crowd which obeyed automatically, surprised by the sudden command. "What's it all about?" two or three murmured. One woman was so curious that she took a trip up again to find out. "What is this new regulation about facing the door?" she asked of the elevator boy. "Don't know, except that those are the orders," he said, then after thinking a minute as he brought the car to a stop at the top floor, "unless perhaps that it is people can see they are not getting caught in the door if they are facing that way." "It looks sensible," said the curious person.

SAYS MR. PARK WAS NOT PRESENT IN HER VISION

Exception has been taken by members of the Pentecostal movement, now holding meetings at the Garland Rink on the Hamilton road, to parts of a report appearing in The Advertiser recently.

In the course of her address Mrs. Sharpe, an evangelist, who has been conducting services, described a trip made in a vision to heaven and hell. The Advertiser's report stated that she said she was accompanied in the vision to heaven by Mr. Park, who is interested in the work.

The reporter states that this was as he heard the address, but members maintain that Mrs. Sharpe said Mr. Park was present at the place where the vision took place, but did not appear in the vision. They say the reporter confused Mr. Park's reported presence at the meeting with the vision described by Mrs. Sharpe.

STREET RAILWAY HAS AGREED TO ACCEPT POSTOFFICE OFFER

Each Postman Will Be Carried for $42.50.

AN INCREASE OF $7.50

Five-Year Agreement Arranged Between the Postal Authorities and L. S. R.

The London Street Railway and the postoffice authorities have come to an agreement to carry postmen. The company will be paid at the rate of $42.50 per annum for each man. The arrangement will go into effect on Monday.

A representative of the postal department at Ottawa, D. W. Ross, arrived in London yesterday afternoon, and at once got in touch with the management of the London Street Railway. After some discussion the matter was settled.

Increase of $7.50.

The company for years carried the men at $35 a year, but the arrangement terminated this summer. The company asked $50, which the Government refused to pay. The sum of $42.50 was offered.

The postmen decided to ask the Government to allow them $42.50, and they would pay their own car fare. However, the Government refused, pending the results of the negotiations. Now the matter has been settled. The company will accept the sum mentioned. The agreement will cover five years.

All Are Satisfied.

The settlement is a source of satisfaction to all parties, as much inconvenience was caused by the failure of the company to carry the men.

SOLDIER WHO GAVE UP STRIPES TO REACH THE FRONT DIES OF WOUNDS

Pte. Frank Nixon Reid, 733 Wellington Street, Succumbs in France on August 16.

In the form of a telegram Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Reid of 733 Wellington street, received word today that their only son, Pte. Frank Nixon Reid, had died of wounds, August 16th. This was the first knowledge received by his parents that their son had been wounded, the last letter sent by the young soldier being dated some days previous to the date of the sustaining of his wounds and subsequent death.

Pte. Reid left this city with the 135th Battalion in the capacity of a sergeant. He forfeited one stripe that he might go overseas quickly when volunteers were wanted for a certain draft to cross the channel for immediate duty. He then forfeited his remaining two stripes that he might reach the firing as soon as possible.

Pte. Reid was 21 years of age, and received his education at St. George's School.

FIVE COOKS WANTED TO MAKE ARMY BROTH

There is a job awaiting a good cook at the Armories. Notice was received today by Major Irvine, officer in command of the mobilization centre at the Armories, that five cooks were needed in the kitchen of No. 1 Special Service Company at Carling Heights camp, and efforts are being made to locate men with ability as chefs to supply the deficiency. In addition to the regular pay, they are to receive from 20 to 30 cents a day from the canteen fund, according to their ability with the frying-pan.

Friday proved to be a comparatively good day for local recruiting, and a total of eight men went before the doctors at the Armories. One of them was turned down as unfit, those who passed being: J. Boyer, 7th Details; A. E. Turner, Forestry; E. A. Lounsbury, S. R. Mineau, Cyclists; J. McLaughlin, Army Service Corps, and P. S. Robson (St. Louis, Mo.), Army Medical Corps. Lieut. J. V. Ross of the Army Dental Corps also passed the board successfully.

WEDDING BELLS

WITHROW—ELLIOTT.

The marriage of Marie Annetta, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Elliott, Wilton Grove, to Leslie Withrow of Dryden, Ont., took place recently in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Fort William, Rev. Mr. Cranston, minister of the church, and an intimate friend of the groom's family, officiating.

Owing to his duties, Mr. Withrow was unable to come down to London for a wedding at the home of the bride's parents. The bride, who has been teaching in Dryden for the past two years, came home for a visit the beginning of the holidays and, returning West, was met at Fort William on the arrival of the boat by Mr. Withrow and his mother. Only immediate relatives attended the marriage service. The bride wore a becoming traveling costume of green with a grey hat.

A reception in honor of the young couple was arranged by the residents of Dryden on the evening they reached there. The bride is a granddaughter of Mrs. Adam Lind, 484 Colborne street.

Prov.-Lieut. Arthur Edwin Dodds of the 33rd Battery, C.F.A., having reported for duty yesterday, has been taken on the strength of the Forestry Depot with the rank of lieutenant.

Probable That Release May Be Obtained Shortly by Application—Hers Is Longest Contempt Sentence Ever Served in Province.

According to the best legal authority, if Miss Margaret Thompson is to be released from the county jail, application for such release must be made to a high court judge, preferably to the one who made the committment.

Now that the minister of justice has given his decision in the matter, stating that he has no jurisdiction to exercise clemency in a case arising out of a civil action, no other course remains open but to apply to a high court judge.

Canadian law clearly defines that where a person has been committed to jail for contempt of court that application for release must be made to a justice of the Ontario Supreme Court.

In Jail Three Months.

Miss Thompson was committed to jail nearly three months ago, because she refused to answer certain questions concerning her niece, Jean Link, the order to answer the questions being made by Mr. Justice Masten. By her refusal to answer these questions, she committed contempt of court and was sent to jail after some consideration by Mr. Justice Masten.

Mr. Justice Masten was reluctant about giving the order of committment and did so only after he had gone into every phase of the case and had consulted with Justices Sutherland and Clute, who had heard portions of the case.

When Miss Thompson was committed to jail for contempt it did not necessarily mean that she must remain in jail until she answered the questions. The committment order reads: "Until such time as she purges herself of the contempt." The length of time she would have to remain would depend entirely upon the high court judge's interpretation of what time she should remain in jail in order to have purged herself of such contempt.

A Record in Province.

She has been in jail now nearly three months, the longest period of time that any person in Ontario has been called upon to serve in jail because of contempt of court.

Local lawyers, questioned concerning the matter, stated that the proper course to have pursued on the start was to have applied immediately for her release after her committment, the application to have been made to a judge of the high court. The opinion prevails in legal circles that if application is now made through a solicitor to the high court that Miss Thompson will be released on the grounds that she has purged herself of the contempt by reason of the period of time she has served.

Believed She Would Be Freed.

Her failing health would also be given as an additional reason for her release, and, coupled with the fact that she has now spent nearly three months in jail, it is thought by those in a position to know that an order granting her freedom would be given.

Whether this course will be followed now that it has been decided that it is the only proper one to take remains yet to be determined.

The day that Miss Thompson was arrested, Deputy Sheriff Watterworth urged upon her the advisability of retaining legal counsel to make the necessary application. She replied that she would not need counsel, but events have shown that had such a course been adopted she would in all probability have been released some time ago.

OPERATING CHARGES FORCED UP BY WAR CONDITIONS; WAGES OF L. & P. S. ADVANCED

Fiscal Year of the People's Railway Ended on June 30, and the Passenger Business Did Not Really Commence Until After That Date—Many Disadvantages Are Suffered This Year—Figures Will Soon Be Ready.

The second annual report of the London Railway Commission on the operating of the London and Port Stanley Railway covering the period from July 1, 1916, to June 30, 1917, will be forthcoming within a short time, and will give an interesting record of the manner in which the line has been managed during what unquestionably has been an abnormal and unusually difficult era.

General operating charges have been forced up by war conditions, while wages have been advanced in all departments to assist employees to combat the high cost of living. The rate of interest on the borrowings of the road is greater than was estimated, also because of the situation brought about by the war. Added to this is the fact that steel shipments which formerly came across the lake in a flow of traffic of immense value have been discontinued, while last winter was attended by troubles experienced by the car ferry company that were without precedent. While the service is usually suspended for about a month in the winter time, last winter the lake froze over so that an open channel could not be maintained, and during January, February and March the American connection with the London and Port Stanley Railway was seriously crippled.

PASSENGER BUSINESS.

The passenger statement will afford opportunity for interesting analysis. July and August of 1916 witnessed a splendid patronage, but the fiscal year of the road had ended this summer before the summer season actually commenced. Bad weather for weeks at a time reduced excursion travel to a minimum, and it was not until July 20 that the weather abated. But the prosperous period since that time will be credited to the third annual statement in the twelve months ending next June.

Against these disadvantages the railway has received the benefit of a reduction in hydro-electric power charges that came with an all-round decrease granted on the hydro system some months ago.

The city auditors will have to go over the books of the London and Port Stanley before the statement of the road is prepared for publication and in the meanwhile exact figures are not available.

CONTENDS THAT "SPIRIT GUIDE" FOUND LONG-LOST FATHER

Mrs. Eva Heacock of 726 Adelaide Street Says She Followed Directions of Lady Jean and Received Letter From Parent in Seattle.

The story told of how a missing father was located after a period of 22 years through the assistance of Lady Jean Hooper and her "spirit guide" was a sensational feature of the Friday afternoon meeting of the Church of Scientific Religious Research yesterday afternoon in Sherwood Hall. The place was crowded, though it had not been previously announced that this proof would be given of Lady Jean's mediumistic ability.

Present in the congregation was Mrs. Heacock of 726 Adelaide street. She was feeling overjoyed because of the discovery and recovery of her long lost father.

Father Missing Long.

Shortly after Lady Jean Hooper came to the city, Mrs. Heacock attended some of her services and became interested in spiritualism, though by no means a convert. When Lady Jean Hooper a month ago moved to Park avenue, Mrs. Heacock, out of the kindness of her heart, offered to assist the pastor of the hurch of Psychic Religious Research with this task. Lady Jean wanted to give a reward. Mrs. Heacock refused to take anything but a reading. One question she wanted to ask was in regard to her father, from whom she had not heard for 28 years.

Shortly after Lady Jean located in the city, Mrs. Heacock went to her for a "reading" to try if possible to learn something in regard to her father, named Robinson, of whom she had heard nothing for 22 years, notwithstanding persistent efforts to learn if he was still alive and to locate him.

Lady Jean fell into a trance, as is her custom when giving readings, and "Daisy," the Indian spirit guide, assumed control of the situation. "Daisy" gave Mrs. Heacock a message from her mother in the spirit world to the effect that her father was alive and living in the state of Washington. Further, "Daisy" advised Mrs. Heacock to write to the postmaster in Seattle and ask him if any man of her father's name was being served through that office, and, if so, to forward a letter inclosed to him.

Hears From Her Daughter.

Mrs. Heacock followed the instructions of "Daisy," then began the difficult task of waiting. To her joy and considerably to her amazement, she received a letter from Washington state on Wednesday of this week—not from the postmaster of Seattle, but from her own father. He declared himself delighted to be in communication with his daughter once more, stated that he had prospered, was married again, and urged her to go to stay with him. Mrs. Heacock gave the letter to Lady Jean to read at the meeting. She called at The Advertiser afterwards to state she would be willing to give any further information on the subject to anyone interested who would see her at her home.

Gives a Description.

Following the instructions of "Daisy," Mrs. Heacock wrote the postmaster of Seattle on August 8, asking him if a man named Aaron Robinson was served by the postoffice and giving a description of him.

August 22 a reply was received from the postmaster, stating the letter had been delivered and giving Aaron Robinson's address. But the day previous to this, on August 21, Mrs. Heacock had received the glad news that the Aaron Robinson living in Seattle was indeed her father. A long letter had come from him. The minute she looked at the envelope she recognized his writing, even after all the lapse of time. Further, he had added her two middle initials, "M. O.," in addressing the envelope, though she had only signed herself "Eva."

The Father's Letter.

"Seattle, Wash., Aug. 17, 1917.

"My Dear Daughter,—Your very welcome letter of August 10 was duly received. In it you express the thought that I would be surprised. That is putting it very mildly. If I had been told that poor Nellie (Mrs. Heacock's mother) had come back from the dead, I could not have been more surprised. I will be more than pleased to receive that message.

"Eva, dear, I wish, after hearing from me, that you will make up your mind to come and live out here. It would be the joy of my heart to spend the few remaining years of my life with you. I was 70 years old on the 15th day of last June. We came very near having the same day for a birthday, yours on the 18th of the same month.

"I have a very fine piece of property here, 50x100 feet, vegetables that we want for house use, potatoes included. I am going to build an addition to the house in the spring if all goes well, and for that reason I would like to know if you will come so I can build accordingly.

"Eva, dear, I have thought of you thousands of times since I last saw you, and wondered where you went to live after your grandmother died. I knew you were a delicate-looking child, and perhaps you did not live to grow up. After hearing from you, the most perplexing thought is how you came to live in London so far away from where you were born. I wish I was talking to you instead of writing. I could keep you busy for a long time answering questions. I have so much I would like to know about my own people. What became of Mary E. Dale, the school teacher? Answer this letter just as soon as you can and tell me all that you can. When you write, tell me what is your husband's trade or what he works at. Tell me all about yourself and children; give me their names and so on. Eighteen years ago I married a woman in Boston, Mass., from New Brunswick, Canada. We have no family, so there is just the two of us.

"I remain,

"YOUR FATHER."

"Address Seattle, Wash., 6545 Third Avenue, N. W."

Today, Mrs. Heacock told her story to The Advertiser.

"When I was a little girl," she said, "my father and mother lived in Brampton, and were very happy together. But they were separated through the interference of other people, and my father went away. Shortly after, my mother was struck by lightning and was subject to fits. She could not be left alone, so we went to live at my grandmother's home on the townline, between Peel County and Vaughan Township. Mother died, and my father learned about it, because he wrote to a neighbor. But he still left me with my grandmother, and we didn't hear any more of him. My grandmother died when I was 11 and after that I looked out for myself, working for one person and another until the time of my marriage to an old neighbor boy, Thomas Heacock. We came to London some years ago, owing to his poor health, and he got a position with the C. P. R. We have four children. I can tell you, it has made me very happy to hear from my father and to know he is glad to find me."

Of the incident, Lady Jean Hooper says: "Of course, I am delighted over the reunion of the father and daughter. But I do not claim any credit. It is all the work of "Daisy," my little Indian guide."

DR. HADLEY WILLIAMS.

Dr. Hadley Williams, who has just returned to London after some months' absence in Europe where he has been in charge of the Ontario Military Hospital, will resume practice on September 3. Dr. Williams is known all over Ontario as one of the most expert surgeons in Canada. The experience gained in supervising thousands of difficult operations performed upon soldiers brought in from the battlefields of France will no doubt add to the reputation he has already established. b

LIEUT. MURRAY WOUNDED, BUT IS DOING VERY WELL

Former London Commercial Man Reverted to Get to Front.

Lieut. Clarence Murray, son of the late Rev. J. Allister Murray, former pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, has been slightly wounded in France, and is doing well. Friends in this city received word by cable this morning to this effect from the London, England, manager of Parke, Davis & Co.

Lieut. Murray secured a commission with the 135th Battalion upon its organization. He gave valuable service on the staff of Lieut.-Col. Robson until the time for departure, when in order to get to the front he reverted to the rank of sergeant. On arrival in England he gave up his stripes, and recently went to the front as a private.

Mr. Murray was a traveler for the National Drug and Chemical Company before taking a course, and had a host of friends in London, who will be pleased to know that his injury is not serious.

SHAW AND STEVENSON ARE BOTH WILLING TO BE LABOR CANDIDATE?

It was stated today by a prominent Labor man that Mayor H. A. Stevenson and Controller R. W. Shaw are willing to accept the nomination of the Labor party for the House of Commons.

Both consider that if this support is given, they will be in a fine position to get elected. It is a merry battle between them, and it should be most interesting to the spectators.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

DEATH OF MRS. ANDERSON.

Mrs. Agnes Shand Anderson, for more than 40 years a resident of London, died at the residence of her son, William St. George Anderson, 17 Hyatt avenue, Friday afternoon, after a lingering illness. She was born in Scotland. Three sons, J. H. Anderson, traveler for the Canada Consolidated Rubber Company; William St. George Anderson, munitions worker at the London Machine and Manufacturing Company, and Albert L. Anderson of Hamilton, survive her.

The funeral will be held on Monday to Woodland Cemetery. The services will be conducted by Rev. A. A. Bice.

DEATH OF MISS FITZGERALD.

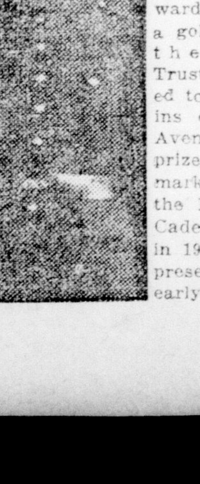

Miss Elizabeth Fitzgerald, who died at her late residence, 511 Maitland street, recently, was born in London Township, and was the youngest daughter of the late William Fitzgerald, J.P., one of the pioneers of the county. She had resided in this city for 30 years.

She is survived by four brothers and three sisters: Charles of Nissouri, William of Ottawa, Frederick and James of this city, Mrs. Richard Guest of William street, and Mrs. Thomas N. Talbot, London Township. She was a member of Dundas Centre Methodist Church for a number of years.

The funeral was held on Thursday to Mount Pleasant Cemetery, the services being conducted by Rev. David Rogers of the First Methodist Church. The pallbearers were six nephews: W. E. Fitzgerald, W. C. Fitzgerald, R. L. Guest, Frederick Fitzgerald, W. E. Talbot and Lancelot Guest.

100 MOTOR CARS ON MARKET AUGURY OF HORSELESS FARMING

Small Car Can Pay Trip on Two Dozen Eggs.

MOTORS ON THE FARMS

Skepticism Regarding Tractors Is Soon Likely To Be Dissipated.

The presence of nearly 100 automobiles on the local market today used by farmers to transport their produce to the city, is further evidence of the coming age of gasoline and the disappearance of the horse, according to citizens of a speculative turn of mind. Gradually but surely the old-time market wagon is disappearing from the crowded square on Talbot and King streets, and in its place is the snorting, four-cylinder. More than 50 per cent of the vehicles are of the type popularly known as the "Flivver." They may be disdained by some cityman, but the farmer finds them useful.

Few Eggs Pay for Trip.

Even with gasoline at 35c a gallon the farmer twenty miles from the city is able to make a return trip at a cost of less than $1.00, and to make it without rising at 5 a.m., and returning in the dark along lonely roads, as was the case when he hitched his working team to the farm wagon to bring the butter and eggs to town. Two dozen eggs at the present price of 44c a dozen, will more than pay the cost of the trip as far as gasoline is concerned, where formerly the cost of feeding the horses mounted to much more than that. In those days, too, the farmer received only 10 cents a dozen for eggs and a similarly small price for butter.

Motors on the Farm.

On the farm as well as on the road the gasoline-driven vehicle is beginning to supplant the faithful horse. The need for greater production has been chiefly responsible for this in the adjoining district, and the steady working tractors plowing the ground in the vicinity of London are claimed by their makers to presage the age of the farm worked entirely by mechanical means. The farmers are a bit skeptical on this point and discount the claims of the manufacturers a little. They point out that none of the types of tractors used yet have proved entirely satisfactory. Each has been found to possess a weak spot, which cripples its efficiency. Many of these, of course, will in time be remedied as the defects are made apparent to the makers, but until the machines are produced on as extensive a scale as automobiles the cost is likely to be a big factor in preventing their universal use.

Horse Not Dethroned!

The farmers point out also that there is much light work about the farm which it is impossible for tractors or other mechanical-driven appliances to do properly. Scuffling and other phases of cultivation in the corn fields and the truck garden will require a horse, and it is likely, they claim, that the tractor will be used chiefly for plowing and cutting grain.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

LOOKS LIKE "PROFITEERING."

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

The farmer pays $6 a year for his phone. We in the city pay $45, and the Bell people use our streets free. We have the hydro poles all up, and it is time for a change from these oppressive rates. It looks like more profiteering to me.

ANOTHER OLD LIBERAL'S VIEWS.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

In your issue of last Saturday there appears a letter from Dr. Campbell that evidently requires more than a passing notice. After proving to his own satisfaction that Canada had already done its whole duty in the war, and that conscription is not advisable without a referendum, he indulges in a draft on his imagination as to why conscription was adopted, which savors somewhat of the ridiculous. Then he brings a lot of charges against the Government graft, blundering, mismanagement, partizanship, etc. He should also have added gerrymandering, bribery and corruption as the lot generally go together, and are a set of hackneyed, steretyped charges that have been used by party hacks against every government that has held office since Confederation, and are as senseless as they are meaningless, and are not taken seriously either by those that make them or those that read about them.

But after a while the doctor gets to the place where he tells Liberals what they should do in the coming elections and this is where he gets me. I have heard many people express astonishment at the course taken by the Hon. Frank Oliver in seconding Sir Wilfrid's referendum amendment, while his son is in a hero's grave in France, but the explanation is very simple. The Hon. Frank's son is dead, but the Germans and Austrians that compose the majority of his constituents are very much alive, and it is them he has to deal with in the near future. My case is a little different. My soldier boy after over three years in uniform and many wounds, is still able to take his place on the fighting line, and here is a short extract from one of his recent letters: "Say, what is the matter with Canada that so few men are coming over? Are they all dead or are they under the barn? And of the few that does come only a fraction are fit for the front line. Poor fellows, they are anxious and willing to do their duty, but they are not able. I wish they would hurry up with that conscription they are talking about, and then we would get some help." In the face of this, and the appeals of the gallant Canadian commander for support does the doctor expect me to vote for Sir Wilfrid and his referendum? No, sir, I am a father before I am a Liberal, and I was a Briton before I was a father. What has Sir Wilfrid done for the Liberal party that he should be trusted with the leadership at a time like this? With his treacherous reciprocity pact in 1911 he drove thousands of Liberals out of the ranks. And where did they go? Over to the Conservative camp, where they are likely to remain. And what is the situation today? Owing to his attitude toward the war loyal Liberals all over the country are in a state bordering on revolt, as witness the South Winnipeg mass meeting a couple of days ago. The very best men on the Liberal side in the House of Commons are also on the verge of desertion, and who is taking their places? Armand Lavergne, Tancrede Marcil, Mederic Martin and a lot of other vile traitors that should have been interviewed by a hangman long ago. No, doctor, Sir Wilfrid Laurier is not the proper man to lead the Liberal party at such a time as this. He has given the Conservatives a leverage that will last for many a day. All they will have to do for the next fifty years is to wave the old flag and everything will go their way. I will say in conclusion that I will choose the least of the two evils, and I consider that a vote for Laurier, Lavergne & Co., a roundabout way of voting for the kaiser. Yours sincerely,

D. CURRIE.

THE MID-DAY RUSH

At twelve o'clock the other day
I had one hour to eat.
So I rushed out to the corner
A street-car there, to meet—
I was sorely disappointed, for
On glancing down the track,
The car I was depending on
Was showing me its back.

I did not rave and carry on
As if I were upset.
I simply gnashed my teeth, and said,
"I'll get there yet, you bet,"
A passing taxi I espied,
And hailed it with delight,
To the portly chauffeur, "Home," I cried,
"And drive with all your might."

We flew along at lightening speed,
The car was nice and cosy,
We pass the street-car, now we lead,
Things sure were looking "rosy"
Till, suddenly, I heard a sound,
I tore my hair, I cursed,
And on investigating, found
That both rear tires had burst.

I paid the chauffeur half his fare,
The street-car hove in sight,
I straightened out my ruffled hair,
And then resumed my flight.
We crawled along for a block or so
And then, confound such luck,
The electric fluid ceased to flow,
And so again I stuck.

The passengers all cursed such luck
Around the mid-day hour,
The car continued still to "buck,"
And I looked awfully sour.
Three more blocks yet I had to do,
So I set out to walk,
And every "blighter" that I knew,
Was bound to stop and talk.

Eventually, I reached my home,
Just thirty minutes late,
I found I had to eat alone—
The family would not wait.
I bolted all my victuals down,
My usual smoke omitted,
And took the next car back to town,
An object to be pitied.

P. S.—
In future days I will not fail
To miss such rush and scurry;
I'll take my dinner in a pail,
And thus avoid such hurry.

BOARD OF ARBITRATION WILL SETTLE STRIKE IN SHIPYARDS OF STATES

Washington, Aug. 25.—Early and peaceable adjustment of labor disputes in shipyards is expected by the creation today of an adjustment board to consist of three, four or five members, according to the nature of the problem to be solved.

President Wilson appointed M. Everet May of New York, president of the national civic federation, chairman of the board.

1,200 MORE SOLDIERS LANDED AT HALIFAX FROM OVERSEAS; MANY OFFICERS RETURNED

Halifax, N. S., Aug. 25.—Over 1,200 soldiers returned to Canada today. Among distinguished passengers on the steamer which brought them were Lady Drummond, head of the Canadian Red Cross information bureau, London, and Col. Chown Clarke, superintendent of the Methodist Church.

The most conspicuous soldier landing, decorations considered, was Lieut. Fred C. Gillingwater, M. C., of the 42nd Battalion. Lieut. Gillingwater has been decorated three times, once by the French and twice by the British. He is a former Stellarton boy, and is returning home, having lost an arm and a leg in the fight. He is wearing the Military Cross, the Croix de Geurre with palms and a medal for long service.

Returned Officers.

The officers who returned were: Lieut.-Col. A. G. Doughty, dominion archivist; Major E. V. Hogan, medical officer; Matron E. C. Rayside, C. A. M. C.; Capt. R. T. W. Herald, C. A. M. C.; Lieuts. J. A. Davis, C. A. M. C.; A. H. Thring, 46th; N. Fiske, 5th; G. E. Murray, Saskatchewan Regiment.

Lieut.-Col. S. C. E. Doherty, C. A. M. C.; G. W. Royce, 255th; G. E. Clegg, 9th; R. Belcher, 138th; B. H. Brown, 220th; A. A. Cockburn, 182nd; H. J. R. Cullin, 88th; A. B. Gillis, 217th; R. A. Gillespie, 226th; W. H. Holmes, 7th; J. B. Mitchell, 100th; C. Milne, 158th; E. J. Watt, 240th; J. Lightfoot, 22nd; F. C. McTavish, C. A. M. C.; L. E. Irving, C. A. M. C.; Hon.-Col. L. D. Chown; R. H. Steacy, chaplain.

Many Majors Back.

Majors: J. Harriman, Forestry Corps; M. E. Roscoe, 219th; J. T. Cooke, 217th; J. Wilson, 217th; J. F. Halle, 69th; C. J. A. Cunningham Dunlap, 235th; F. W. Partridge, 23rd; T. G. McLelland, 121st; B. Life Insurance a Protection and Investment

One cannot figure out how much better he could do by investing, otherwise the annual payments for the insurance, since the policy may become due within the first year. Quite a number are thus paid every year. Even the estates of those who live into ripe old age will get back at least all premiums paid, and generally something for interest—to say nothing of the benefit of years of good protection. Then it must be remembered that many investments turn out badly, and leave grief and disappointment for the promised profit.

Does It Pay To Fertilize Fall Wheat?

A prominent Experimental Station with 20 years' experience says:

"In the fertilizer tests the use of phosphoric acid alone has increased the yield of wheat from 4.85 to 8 bushels per acre; phosphoric acid and potash have increased the yield from 6.20 to 9.19 bushels per acre; and phosphoric acid, potash and nitrogen (or ammonia), from 8.77 to 16.20 bushels per acre."

"The quality of the wheat grown on fertilized and unfertilized plots was studied. The wheat from the fertilized plots analyzed 94 per cent plump and 6 per cent shrivelled; that from the unfertilized analyzed only 51 per cent plump and 49 per cent shrivelled."

The above facts should answer the question as to whether fertilizer pays or not.

Labor being scarce you should, this year, use fertilizer on the acreage that it is possible for you to handle without help. The season is late and splendid results have been obtained from seeding as late as October 15th.

Fertilizer is cheaper today than before the war. You can profit handsomely by using 200 to 300 pounds of HARAB-DAVIES FERTILIZER to the acre, and increase your yield of wheat from 10 to 15 bushels, for which you will receive from $20 to $30, leaving a profit of $16 to $24 per acre.

Fertilizer enables you to grow from 50 per cent to 75 per cent more wheat without additional ground, labor or seed.

Fertilizer enables you to render a great service to your country with large personal gain.

The supply of labor and freight cars is much below the country's needs, so order your fertilizer now from your local dealer, or order direct from

END OF THE WAR IS IN SIGHT, BUT IT IS A YEAR DISTANT; DEFEAT OF GERMANY CERTAIN

Frank Simonds Reviews Offensive in France and Flanders, Done in Petain's Way — Object Not to Break Through, But to Inflict Heavy Casualties and Gain Vantage Points.

By Frank H. Simonds
Author of "The Great War," "They Shall Not Pass."

[Written for The London Advertiser and the New York Tribune—Copyright 1917—The Tribune Association.]

With the closing week of August the campaign of 1917 on the western front is reaching its climax, while a new Italian offensive along the Isonzo is already asserted both by Rome and Vienna to have passed all records on the Austro-Italian front both for intensity of artillery preparation and extent of line assaulted. In the present article I shall confine myself mainly to the Anglo-French front and endeavor to point out the new tactics that are being revealed by the defence and by the attack—and both are in no small degree derived from the methods of the French commander-in-chief in his defence and subsequent offence at Verdun.

There have been for a long time two theories about the way to attack, given the present trench warfare. One school has firmly held to the idea that the attack must be over a wide front, using for a parallel the great Mackensen assault at the Dunajec, which covered many miles of front. This was the method previously employed by Petain in the Champagne attack of September, 1915; this was the method which Nivelle employed in his recent and unsuccessful grand offensive along the Aisne and east of Rheims.

The Petain Method of Attack.

Another school has advocated an attack on a relatively restricted front, a front of something like ten miles, with an even smaller front in cases where the operation aimed at taking some specific point. Thus Petain's two offensives at Verdun last year, the British attacks at Arras, Messines, Hill 70 and before Ypres this year, and the new French attack before Verdun. In the Somme battle of last year, on the other hand, there was a much wider front involved in the first day's operations.

Now, it is plain that an attack upon a ten-mile front holds out little hope of any piercing, any breaking through, because the invariable tendency of such attacks is to narrow as they advance. In the Champagne in 1915 the front assailed was hardly less than eighteen miles, but a Moroccan brigade that got clear through emerged on a front of less than half a mile beyond Navarin farm and was exterminated by the German artillery on the rear. Even with a wide front involved the French failed at the time of their first great offensive.

In their operation this spring the French returned to the old idea, and attacked on a very wide front, some forty miles, extending from Soissons to Auberive, east of Rheims. Nivelle expected to break through, and he and Mangin calculated that the French would reach Laon, just as the French had expected they would get to Vouziers in 1915. Instead there was a considerable progress, a large bag of prisoners and some capture of guns; but the French losses were so great that further attacks had to be abandoned, and Fort Brimont, one of the main objectives, was not taken, while Laon remained eight miles beyond the French front at the end of the attack.

French Failure Before Laon.

The reasons for this failure to break through were many; there were mistakes of a nature that surprised those who know the efficiency of French artillery; there were attacks without adequate artillery preparation; but in the main the drive failed, it would seem, because the preparation for so vast an attack gave the Germans ample warning to prepare for it. In addition, their own retreat between Arras and Soissons served to release many reserves, for by devastating the ground over which they retired the Germans made it impossible for the Allies to attack on the new front for some months.

Petain had opposed the April attack in the first place, and Micheler, who had commanded an army in the battle of the Somme, supported his view, while Nivelle and Mangin urged it. And as Nivelle was commander-in-chief, he had his way. But the failure cost him his position, as it did Mangin the command of an army. And with the coming of Petain the whole French tactics changed. To be sure, at first there was no chance for the French to attack. Endeavoring to take advantage of real French depression due to the failure to break through, and of an imagined breakdown of the morale of the French army, the Germans launched attacks against the Chemin-des-Dames position, recalling the later phase of Verdun.

But this was the style of warfare Petain knew best. He answered it as he had at Verdun. Holding his first lines lightly, using his artillery rather than his infantry, and counter-attacking only when the Germans had laid hands upon some important point, he took from the army of the crown prince a terrific toll of life, and in the end prevented the Germans from harvesting a single profit. On the Chemin-des-Dames the French line always held intact. Petain's achievement about Hill 324 and Le Mort Homme was surpassed on Californie and Casmates plateaux.

British Success at Arras.

Meantime the British had been achieving remarkable results about Arras; their attack here had been on a front of rather more than a dozen miles, but with its greatest intensity on about half of this front. Here their attack had something of the nature of a surprise, and the Germans suffered the heaviest defeat of trench war, on their side of the battle line. A British gain of nearly five miles at one point, and of more than four on a wide front, the capture of Vimy Ridge and the high ground at Monchy were equally important.

Yet it proved impossible to stretch this to an actual piercing, a breaking through. When the British had got on four miles their heavy guns were of much less value to them and it became a problem of getting them forward over ground devastated by the fighting of three years, torn and seamed by shell fire and by trench operations. In the end the fighting died down here, after great German counter-attacks, which were excessively expensive to the Germans, but served to hold the British.

That the British expected at the outset to break the line at Arras seems quite unlikely. That was not the view I found when I was with the British army less than two months before the battle occurred. I suspect that the extent of the victory of the first day may have led them to the view that it might be possible, but there is precious little belief in the British army that the break through can come while the Germans are still in such force as they still maintain on the western front.

No Decision in 1917.

And with the end of the battle of Arras and the failure of the French before Laon and in front of Rheims, the western campaign took on a different aspect. The Russian collapse had released many German troops, and, what was more important, reserves that had been marked for use in the east. The chance of a decision in 1917 went glimmering. It became a question of exerting the utmost pressure upon the Germans, exacting the largest possible casualty lists, while losing as few men as possible, and for this form of warfare it was recognized that Petain's old method in his two Verdun offensives of last year, was the best possible form of tactics.

This method called for an intensive artillery preparation on a relatively narrow front, then a swift and sudden blow, an advance of carefully restricted extent, hardly more than a mile in most cases, the capture of high ground, a village, some objective of importance, but not of great area. Superior artillery produced the destruction of the defending force, and this superior artillery, since the advance was restricted, was just as useful in beating down counter-attacks when they came.

Such tactics at Verdun in October and December last year enabled the French first to retake Douaumont and Vaux and then a wide area of country in a circle from Vachereauville to Bezonvaux, together with 18,000 prisoners and many guns.

At Verdun Petain used relatively small forces, yet so successful was his December attack that the German lines were abolished for a considerable extent. But despite German disorganization his troops carefully limited their occupation to the ground that could be easily held and from which they could punish severely any counter-attack. The result was there were no counter-attacks. At the Messines or "White Sheet" Ridge this summer the British did exactly the same thing, and so complete was their artillery preparation there was no German counter-attack for forty hours, and then it was easily snuffed out.

New German Defences.

In addition, this intense artillery preparation demonstrated that the gun was again getting the better of the defensive. Concrete works were churned up and the barrage was so effective in keeping troops in deep dugouts, while the advance was getting forward, covered by a creeping barrage, that the Germans were driven back upon Petain's method in the defence of Verdun—a method very largely born of necessity. Then, with their trenches destroyed by the hitherto unprecedented artillery fire of the Germans, the French hung on in shell holes, concealing machine guns in these excavations and maintaining a line, not continuous, but still sufficing to hold back the German sweep. This is what the Germans are now doing in considerable measure both before the British at Ypres and Lens.

We see, then, clearly, that the British and the French have laid aside any real thought of breaking through this year. It is not possible, because the Germans still have the men and guns to man their lines. They will have them, because the Russian collapse has released reserves from the east. Since it is not possible to break through, as the French experiment in April demonstrated, the present effort is confined to inflicting disproportionate losses and attaining important local objectives.

It will be seen that both in the first and second attacks before Ypres recently the advance has been for something like a mile in each case, and this has been followed by the announcement that the objective sought has been attained. Then there comes the pause, a new artillery preparation and a new attack, still directed at a nearby objective. The Germans on their part have quite cleverly set about to discount the effect on the world of successive advances by declaring that the British or the French undertook their operation with a distant objective in view and failed to attain it. Thus in the first attack at Ypres, on August 1, the Germans saw an effort to sweep them immediately from the Belgian seacoast. When the Canadian attacked and took Hill 70 the other day the German official statement talked about a failure to reach Vendin-le-Viel, two miles further to the east and wholly outside of Canadian calculations.

Breaking Through Most Unlikely.

It is always possible that one of the heavy, swift thrusts will produce a complete disorganization of a sector of the German front. But it is the most unlikely thing in the world, and there, is no Allied expectation anywhere of breaking through this year. Every effort will be made by the Germans to establish the idea that the purpose of the Allies is to break through, and they will claim a great success at the end of the campaign when their lines are still unbroken, although materially pushed back. But the truth is that the present Allied tactics are directed at producing casualties, at getting possession of the high ground and the advantageous positions from which to make their later attacks, to take ground the possession of which insures a heavier German casualty list, even when there is no battle going on, but just the day to day pounding.

Ypres, Hill 70, Verdun—these are details in the scheme—the policy may be extended to the Lorraine front, and even to Alsace, before the summer is over; but the purpose should be clearly kept in mind. There are less than ten weeks of fighting weather left, and even if the Germans were forced to retreat because of a break in their line, there is not now sufficient time to profit by such an event. Russia's collapse put a wholly different complexion on the war for the present year. The French failure to get to Laon emphasized the fact that Germany still had the men and guns.

The End Next Summer.

She will have neither next year. If the United States is able to put a considerable number of troops—say, half a million—on the western front, the Allied advantage will be tremendous in numbers as well as guns, and if Russia should rally, the end would, in my judgment, come before this time next year; and by the end I mean, not the fall of Berlin or the passage of the Lower Rhine, but the expulsion of the Germans from France and Belgium, and the clear and unmistakable military decision which will dissipate the Prussian idea of victory through deadlock.

When the war approaches German territory, the fact will be plain to the whole of Germany. Just as long as the fighting is far away in France, Belgium and Poland, the German rulers can make a case for insisting upon peace based upon profits for Germany, or, at the least, peace by which Germany escapes all financial payment for her devastations in Belgium and France.

LAST VERDUN FORT STORMED BY FRENCH

Hill 304 Carried in Addition To 2,000 Yards Beyond.

GRAND HEADQUARTERS OF THE FRENCH ARMY, Aug. 24.—(By the Associated Press.)—Hill 304, the last remaining important stronghold of the Germans confronting Verdun, fell into French hands at dawn today. The French infantry, who had almost encircled the hill in previous attacks, charged the German positions in a brilliant dash and carried them by storm, capturing the remainder of the Germans entrenched there.

Not content with this splendid achievement, the French advanced a further 2,000 yards, and made possession of the hill doubly secure. Hill 304, together with Le Mort Homme, commands all the ravines and approached as far as Douaumont. The loss of these positions deprives the Germans of all observatories from which they could watch the French movements.

FOE'S LOSSES AWFUL IN VAIN ATTEMPTS TO RETAKE POINTS LOST IN LENS FIGHT

Germans Forced Into Cellars and Are Practically Besieged.

[By Stuart Lyon, Special Correspondent of the Canadian Press.]

CANADIAN HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, via London, Aug. 24.—The operations about Lens assume, more and more, the characteristics of a siege. The city is not encircled by our troops, but as the result of the continuous fighting of the last ten days the Germans in the environs have been driven in upon the thickly-built central portion of Lens, which now forms a wedge-shaped intrusion in our battlefront, with the point of the wedge almost due west of the cathedral.

The enemy is seeking, by the most desperate fighting, to secure more room in the open, both to the north and south of the wedge because at the present time thousands of men, who form the garrison of Lens, are forced to remain in cellars, mine galleries and wrecked houses, where life is one long horror. This we know from prisoners who have described the conditions under which the Germans in Lens now are living. Night and day they are in imminent peril from huge shells that fall into the city in a never-ending stream. These shells are frequently projectiles from super-howitzers of twelve and fifteen-inch calibre. The rending power of the high explosives in such shells is terrific, and even the deepest dugouts reinforced with ferro-concrete, cannot indefinitely resist their impact.

Terrible Losses.

An officer recently captured states that a single company of a battalion, which was sent in to strengthen the garrison, lost 35 men on their first day in the city, through a wall falling in upon them during the bombardment.

The gas peril is scarcely less a menace than that of the high explosive. Gas, in large volume, is thrown into the city from projectors, and, being heavier than air, seeks the lowest places, in which it remains a long time and retains its deadly nature. In recently issued instructions to enemy troops regarding the wearing of gas masks, it is stated that in these projectors the British possess a very effective means of projecting upon our trenches large quantities of highly poisonous and dangerously concentrated gas.

Important Gains.

Our infantry assaults during the last ten days have given us the high land on the north and west of the city, from which, with the utmost accuracy, both high explosive and gas can be directed upon the enemy in his crowded quarters. The position is entirely satisfactory. The enemy has never before, on the western front, occupied ground where heavy hourly losses have been so inevitable. The enemy never fought with greater determination than during the last week.

After the capture of Fosse, St. Luis and Green Crassier yesterday morning our men discovered a German order dated the 22nd, saying, "What happens, Fosse Four and St. Luis are to be held."

Throughout yesterday, in pursuance of this imperative order the enemy attempted to recover Fosse Four and the grass-covered mound of pit refuse beside it, known as Green Crassier. The Manitobans, who had taken their positions before daybreak, fought until far into the night to make good their footing. Hour after hour they resisted German assaulting waves in endless succession.

Held the Fosse.

At 3 o'clock our men were drawn back to the western side of Crassier, and our guns were turned upon the enemy, who were unable to reoccupy the summit. Thrice were the hard-fighting Manitobans forced out of Fosse Four, but every time they returned, more grimly determined to retain it. All night the struggle continued, and this morning Fosse Four was still held by the heroic westerners. Fighting here still continues. The official report of this action says that in six determined attacks on Fosse the enemy lost very heavily.

From a point a little further north on the city front comes one of the stories of cool daring, so common in the annals of the Canadians there. During an encounter between patrols it came to the knowledge of a lieutenant in charge of our patrol that a German party on outpost duty was sheltered in the cellar of a wrecked house on the German front. The lieutenant in charge of our patrol went over, accompanied by only one man. In response to his demand to the enemy below to come up unarmed and surrender, ten unwounded and four wounded Germans emerged from the cellar and were marched into our lines by their two captors. They had had enough and they made no show of resistance.

CANADIANS HOLD CRASSIER AFTER TERRIFIC FIGHTING

LONDON, Aug. 24.—Hard fighting continues between the British and the Germans around Lens, in Northern France, and Ypres, in Belgium. The Canadians have captured and now hold trenches at the southwestern edge of Lens on the monster slag heap, known as the "Green Crassier." The position was not captured without the hardest kind of fighting, being taken and retaken several times before it rested securely in the hands of the Canadians.

Reverse for British.

The Germans in violent attacks with fresh effectives along the Ypres-Menin road have driven out the British advanced forces from positions captured in Wednesday's fighting, according to the official communication issued by the war office this evening. Fierce fighting continues in this region. The Germans have lost heavily under the fire of the British guns.

HUNTER WAS IN A FIERCE BATTLE FIFTEEN YEARS

Couldn't Raise Hand To His Head.

TROUBLES CONQUERED.

Rheumatism Is Overcome by Tanlac.

"I have been fifteen years finding a medicine to reach my case, but thanks to Tanlac, I have found it at last," said Mr. William Hunter a few days ago. Mr. Huner is a former resident of 86 Merrick street, Hamilton. He now lives in Toronto, and is caretaker of the Stanley Apartments, corner of Bloor and Sherbourne streets.

"I was so crippled with rheumatism," he continued, "that I could scarcely climb a flight of stairs, and in coming down I had to turn sideways and come down stiff-legged. My stomach was all upset and out of order, too, and I've been in a constant battle with these troubles for fifteen years, without getting any relief, until I went after them with Tanlac.

"Gas would form on my stomach after eating and puff me up until I would have to let my belt out to the last notch. I had awful pains about my stomach, and felt like there was a rope tied around me, cutting off my breath. I would turn deathly sick right after eating, and, oh, how I did suffer from the gas. Sometimes I would bloat up so I couldn't stoop over, and my heart beat so fast and hard it frightened me. I have used everything I ever heard of trying to get rid of rheumatism. My right leg pained me day and night, and got so stiff at times I couldn't bend it, and at night that leg would throb and ache so I couldn't sleep. My arms and shoulders ached something awful, and were so stiff and hurt me so sometimes I couldn't raise my hands to my head.

"I had been reading about Tanlac, but had thrown away so much money for other things that I could hardly make up my mind to try it. I finally bought a bottle, anyway, and I just want to say it was the best investment I ever made. The first bottle helped me so much that I bought another, and just kept on improving, and now I can't say enough for Tanlac. I haven't been bothered with gas and shortness of breath since I started on Tanlac, and every sign of my stomach trouble has left me. I can eat big, hearty meals, and have no bloating, no palpitation or distress of any kind afterwards. My rheumatism has disappeared. I don't feel it any more than if I had never had it, and this right leg of mine is as limber as it ever was. I can get around now as good as anybody, and all the pain and stiffness is gone out of my arms and shoulders, too. I simply feel like a new man, and can recommend Tanlac with a clear conscience because I know what it will do."

Tanlac is sold in London by Standard Drug, Limited, under the direction of a special representative, and by an established agency in every town.

ALLIES HAVE CAPTURED 167,780 PRISONERS IN THIS YEAR'S CAMPAIGN

LONDON, Aug. 24.—The British, French, Italian and Russians have captured 167,780 war prisoners since April 9, when the 1917 campaign opened, according to a statement issued by the British war department this evening. The text of the statement reads:

"The number of prisoners captured by the Entente Allies since April 9, when the 1917 campaign opened with the battle of Arras, up to August 22, is:

German war prisoners captured by British	46,155
German war prisoners captured by France	43,423
Chiefly Austrian war prisoners captured by Italians	40,681
Chiefly Austrians captured by Russians	37,221
Total	167,780

"The total number of German war prisoners captured by the British since the beginning of the war is 102,258.

"The total number of British prisoners, including Indians, captured by the Germans is approximately 43,000, but exact information as to small captures made by the enemy in recent fighting cannot be given until the ecessary information is received from Germany.

"The total number of prisoners captured by us in all the war theatres since the beginning of the war, exclusive of African natives, is 131,776.

"The total number of prisoners lost by us since the beginning of the war, exclusive of African natives, but including Indians, is approximately 56,500."

BENNINGHAUS NOT WITH PARTY FROM U. S. SOO FIRED UPON BY TROOPS

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Aug. 26.—Canadian and American government officials have formally denied that Alfred Benninghaus, a prominent local merchant, was involved in any way in the incident of August 20, which caused American soldiers to fire on a launch in St. Mary's River. It is claimed that one of the soldiers who reported the incident informed newspapermen that Benninghaus was in the launch. It developed later, according to the authorities, that the man's name was Benoit.

Mr. Benninghaus, a native of Canada, has on more than one occasion proved his loyalty to the Canadian and American military forces, local officials said today. He is the owner of a launch which is quite well known on the river, but the boat was not in use at the time of the shooting.

EQUAL TO EMERGENCY WON FAME IN SINGLE NIGHT

Mars Prevented Louise MacKay From Returning to Europe —Cupid Met Her in Winnipeg.

Louise Mackay, whose marriage takes place in the near future to H. S. Grant, a prominent and successful business-man of Winnipeg and California, is one of the gratifying list of Canadians who have made good and become famous in the musical world. Having achieved fame in two continents as a singer, she is also widely known for her ability to teach others to become beautiful singers. During a recent visit to London she stated that she hopes to continue her professional work after her marriage. Her fiance appreciates the fact that music is just as much a part of her life as business is of his, and he is proud of it.

Louise Mackay is known in Europe rather as an American than a Canadian, though she was born in Western Ontario, up on Lake Huron. Her family moved so soon afterwards to New York that her early recollections are entwined with that part of the world. It was there she made her first big success, and sprang into fame in a single night. She had come back to Canada to begin her musical education, out of deference to the land of her birth. For some three years she studied in Toronto with Dr. Torrington, then she returned to her home to continue under other teachers in New York.

Louise Mackay, as well as unusually fine voice, artistic feeling and an abundance of temperament, possessed an added asset, the ability to meet an emergency and carry through whatever she undertook. It wasn't so much assurance as real valor and a determination not to show herself beaten. She gives her Scotch ancestry credit for this.

All her talent, resourcefulness and courage met a supreme test on the night fate offered her an opportunity to make a name for herself.

How Her Chance Came.

It was the night of the Christmas presentation in Carnegie Hall, New York, of Handel's "Messiah." The great English oratorio singer who had been engaged for the soprano role fell ill on the day of the event. Perhaps it was in a measure due to nervousness that the substitute secured was unable to sing at the very last minute. But the great hall was crowded until there was not even standing room. The orchestra and chorus were in their places, and the other soloists, including Louise Homer, contralto, and David Bispham, baritone. The conductor, Frank Damrosch, brother of conductor of New York Symphony Orchestra, was at his wits' end. Frantic appeals were sent out in all directions for a soprano to at least sing through the numbers of this role. Louise Mackay's teacher was asked if she, herself, would substitute. Well as she knew her parts, she was sure she wasn't equal to the ordeal.

But she had an inspiration. "I know the one soprano in New York who could do it. She can always get out of a tight corner. It is my pupil, Louise Mackay," she said.

Louise Mackay was found in the vast audience just as the orchestra had started the pastoral symphony, the 12th number of the score, the one immediately preceding the first solo work for the soprano.

Miss Mackay was hustled back behind the stage. The conductor's wife was almost weeping with anxiety. Never before had her husband or any other conductor to her knowledge met such an experience.

"Oh, will you sing," entreated Mrs. Damrosch.

"Let me think," replied the inexperienced girl.

A few minutes she sat in thought, mentally running over the music. She had sung the role just once, some time before. But what she knew, she knew. With no thought beyond the fact that she must get through, and somehow save the situation, she was led onto the stage in her street costume. She remembered she must take off her white gloves. They had been cleaned and were slippery. They would interfere with the turning of the pages.

Wins Ovation and Fame.

The audience good-naturedly cheered when the announcement was made that she would take the place of the soprano engaged, and would take it without preparation.

Asked about her feelings at that moment when she was in the city recently, she replied: "Carnegie Hall seemed a terribly big place, and I thought I would never get across the stage to my seat. But I had too much to think about how I was going to get through to worry over the audience. One thing I had presence of mind enough to do was to tell Mr. Damrosch that he would have to follow me. I had learned the role with Dr. Torrington in Toronto, and I knew they did some things differently. I told him it would take me all the time to get through my own way."

History records the fact that after her first solo, the audience applauded in genuine appreciation. From then on, her success was a foregone conclusion. After the number, "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth," the enthusiasm of the vast throng became a tumultuous ovation. At the close it was necessary to smuggle the unheralded young singer out to keep her from being crushed by those who pressed around to shake hands with her and offer congratulations.

Her head was by no means turned, even after the notices she received next day in the New York papers. She didn't hurry over to Europe for new triumphs and prestige. She stayed right in New York and kept on studying with all her might for some years more. She believed it a mistake to go to European teachers before her voice was definitely placed. She based this opinion on observation of others and on reliable advice.

In Paris she was accepted as a pupil by the great Marchesi, studying also with other instructors of world-wide fame.

Captivates Berlin.

From there she went to Berlin, where her success was as unexpected as in New York. A performance of the "Creation" was to be given. The soprano soloist was taken ill on the afternoon of the very day that the event was to take place. Louise Mackay was engaged. On this occasion, however, there was time to print small slips with her name to insert in the programs. Though it was the custom not to applaud in oratorio until the end of the performance, the Canadian-American singer received a tribute of appreciation after each number. Following this there were concert engagements in Cologne, Hamburg and other German cities, as well as in Berlin, and a tour of Holland.

It was in Amsterdam that a noble branch of the Mackay family of Scotland resident in the Dutch city came to see what an American Mackay looked like. So satisfactory was the impression that an introduction to the artist was sought, and an immediate invitation extended to her to pay a visit. During the concert the head of the family sent out for flowers to be presented to the singer.

Mars, Cupid & Co.

Louise Mackay returned to America several years ago, but was on the point of going back to Europe to make her headquarters there when the war interfered. Then she decided to go to the big city of the Canadian prairies for a time at least. There she opened a studio, and there it was she met her fate, "a friend of her friends in California." She isn't sorry that she went to Winnipeg.

The marriage of this brilliantly successful Canadian-American singer takes place in a few weeks at the home of her father in Duluth, where she is at the present time.

Apart from her professional career in Europe, Louise Mackay recalls as one of her most interesting experiences a summer trip with a party of journalists away up through Norway and Sweden, far out of the beaten track for even globe-trotters, and across to Lapland. There the visitors were entertained by a Lapland lady of high degree in her tent of skins. To their amazement she produced a silver tea service and proceeded to pour tea for them, to which was added reindeer's milk.

After her rich and varied opportunities for development of her talent and art, Louise Mackay finds herself back in Canada "for good"—at least for a part of the year. She expects to spend the winters in California, where Mr. Grant has business interests.

Doubtless she will have an important part in molding the musical future of the young west country. Her influence is already extending "back east." At least one pupil of much ability has gone to study with her during the past year from an eastern Ontario city, and is enthusiastic over the "exact science" of Louise Mackay's method of voice production.

JACK LOVES MUSIC AT SEA AND ASHORE

Five thousand dollars worth of mouth organs have been sent to the trenches. No one can estimate the value of such a gift for maintaining the spirit of the soldiers under difficult, sometimes appalling conditions. The soldier with a musical ear soon learns this humble instrument and on a march it is invaluable. Usually the man-o'-war's-man's instrument is the concertina. In the far-away times of peace the North Atlantic squadron came to the St. Lawrence every summer, and those who have visited Quebec in August have pleasant memories of long parades of shore-leave men headed by a bluejacket playing music hall airs. Dufferin Terrace was the ideal spot for these informal promenades. Its quarter-mile length was delightful in the summer nights, with the gay music and the singing sailors. The repertoire of the flagship band was always frivolous, but none the less pleasant. Even since the war Halifax had a taste of its quality. A German liner was being convoyed into port when the flagship band struck up with great spirit that classic inquiry, "Who Were You With Last Night?" One has no doubt that music has had a great influence in cheering the men, both on sea and land, who are defending the rights of humanity in this fearful struggle.

A CLEVER CORNETIST, BUT MAKES BAD BREAK

Talented Canadian Played "In Old Madrid" in Boston During Spanish-American War.

A Toronto girl some years ago became so excellent a cornet player that she secured an engagement on the Keith & Proctor vaudeville circuit, and for some years was profitably engaged on the road. She had a series of solos, which included not only the popular songs of the day, but a number of better compositions, which usually were heartily received. During the Spanish-American war, when the whole republic was burning up with war fervor on behalf of oppressed Cuba, the artist found herself in Boston. The audience in Keith's Theatre was anxious for war music. "A Hot Time" had brought cheers; "Good-Bye Dolly, I Must Leave You" was welcomed with acclaim; "The Blue and the Grey" caused whistles from the upper gods. But the cornet player, like a certain New Testament character, "cared for none of these things." She forgot the war temporarily and when her turn came went on with full confidence. She played a triple-tongued polka, followed by a theme with variations. Her work was so smart that the audience sat up and took notice. Then followed a group of popular non-war songs, and she received a vociferous recall. She stepped out before the footlights and after playing the first few measures of her "encore" number she was conscious of a changing temper in the audience. Some one hissed. Then she remembered that the title of the piece she had chosen was "In Old Madrid."

In these days any choral body who sang the finale from Die Meistersinger, "Honor Your German Masters," might find some slight difficulty.

GRACE NOTES

Willie's mother thinks the object of music study for Willie is to teach Willie to play a piece when the family has company. Ever meet Willie's mother?

"In music, there is no incentive so keen, so prompt, so life-giving as two-piano playing. Indeed as a means of pumping vitality into the dead work of the average piano student, of absolutely waking up his inertia, and setting a new desire tingling through his veins, there is nothing like it."—Mrs. Burton Chance in the Etude.

Women are entering almost every other field of endeavor formerly considered the exclusive territory of man. Why not try piano tuning? It is stated that there are already a number of women tuners in England, whose business it is to keep harmony among the internal workings of pianos. It is further stated that an objection is raised that women lack the necessary wrist strength to tune a piano, so it will stay in tune. With regard to this, a mere man says:

"No person, at least no man would suggest—he wouldn't dare to—that a woman could not make a proficient tuner, but the musical importance of the work and the length of time needed in training make it unlikely that women, to any extent, will enter the profession. It will, therefore, likely be left to man's lot to be the piano tuner and regulator."

New Route To Western Canada Proving Popular

Runs Through Famous Clay Belt of New Ontario, and the Cobalt Mining District.

On your next trip to Western Canada why not travel over a new route, see the wonderful land opened up in Northern Ontario by the Transcontinental Railway, and gain a glimpse of Temagami, and the Cobalt silver mining region?

You may use two famous trains on your journey without any added expense for railway fare, as compared with any other route. The International Limited will carry you to Toronto, where "The National" starts on its westbound flight. "The National" uses the rails of the Grand Trunk to North Bay, the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario (Provincial Government line) to Cochrane, and the Canadian Government Railways to Winnipeg, where it links up with the Grand Trunk Pacific for all important points in Western Canada.

A pleasant daylight run to Toronto, an evening in the Queen City, and "The National" is ready to carry you westward. The departure of "The National" from Toronto is at 10:45 p.m. on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. North Bay is reached early next morning, and there opens up for your admiration all the lakeland beauties of the territory served by the T. and N. O. line. These are followed by a wonderfully interesting trip through the sparsely populated territory of New Ontario, giving the traveler an opportunity of inspecting this fertile region, including the famed clay belt, where tens of thousands of settlers will make their homes in the future. The area of New Ontario is 330,000 square miles, fully four times the size of old Ontario, and in addition to great expanses of good farming land it has wonderful resources in timber, minerals, water-power, fish and game.

The three railways have combined to make the passenger service over this new road the equal of that offered anywhere on the continent. The smooth, straight and level roadbed embodies all that has been learned in three-quarters of a century of railroad building. The greatest travel comfort is assured. Full particulars from any Grand Trunk ticket agent, or C. E. Horning, district passenger agent, Toronto. A. 31 zxv

SIR DOUGLAS HAIG THANKS ONTARIO ON BEHALF OF CANADIANS

TORONTO, Aug. 24.—Premier W. R. Hearst today cabled congratulations through Sir Douglas Haig to General Sir Arthur Currie on the achievements of the Canadian forces. The premier's message was as follows:

"Ontario heartily congratulates Canadian forces on their inspiring achievements in recent victories under your command."

The following reply was received:

"All ranks of the Canadian forces under my command join with me in thanking you very warmly for the inspiring message of congratulation that you have sent us on behalf of the province of Ontario.

"(Signed) DOUGLAS HAIG."

FOREST MOURNS DEATH OF LIEUT. W. J. WRIGHT

Dead Officer Was Prominent in Town's Affairs.

FOREST, Aug. 24.—Capt. F. J. Brodie, R.A.M.C., recently returned from Macedonia, delivered a most interesting address in the Presbyterian Church, relating his experiences as surgeon in the Serbian camp. He outlined the history of Serbia, and gave a vivid description of the sufferings of these people, and their wonderful bravery and courage.

Miss Bertie Jennings of town, and Gordon Crose of Indianapolis, contributed two pleasing vocal numbers.

Dr. J. P. Hubbard acted as chairman and a hearty vote of thanks was tendered Dr. Brodie by Dr. F. Walters, and seconded by Rev. H. E. Green.

Dr. Brodie is an old Forest boy and spoke under the auspices of the local Red Cross workers. The collection amounted to $20.40.

Lieut. W. J. Wright of the 110th Battalion, who is reported killed today, was principal of the high school here for three years. While residing in town he was also chairman of the Layman's Missionary Movement, a member of the public library board, president of the Shakespeare Club and an active worker in the Presbyterian Church. The flag is at half-mast today on the town hall in his honor.

The following is the reports of the standing field competition in oats in connection with the Plympton and Wyoming Agricultural Society: J. F. Donald, Wyoming; Arch Smith, Wyoming; R. R. Smith, Wyoming; R. S. Jardine, Camlachie; Geo. A. Dewar, Wyoming; Howard Bryson, Wyoming; J. Bryson, Wyoming.

GREATEST CROPS IN HISTORY FOR ONTARIO IN 1917

Provincial Reports Bear Witness of Record Harvest.

TREMENDOUS BEAN CROP

Acreage for Present Year Is Doubled and 1,500,000 Bushels Expected.

TORONTO, Aug. 24.—Ontario's crops for 1917, as forecast by the returns made to the provincial bureau of industries, promise to be the largest in history, both in size and in value. Not only has the acreage under cultivation been extended, but each acre has this year yielded more than in other years.

One remarkable feature of the returns is enormous increase in the production of beans. The acreage devoted to the raising of beans this year is more than double that of last year. It is estimated that over one and a half million bushels of beans will be reaped from 114,785 acres. This is of the highest importance at the present time, owing to the great value of beans as food.

The wheat crop seems to be more remarkable for its value than for its quantity, the advance in the price of bread bringing the financial returns from this product up to a high point. The Advertiser was informed by a Government official today that on one farm in the vicinity of Woodstock 39 acres had yielded 1,260 bushels of wheat, which the farmer sold for $2,700, or as much as the land itself is worth.

WORK TRACTOR DAY AND NIGHT.

PARKHILL, Aug. 24.—The county tractor is hard at work day and night in the township of West Williams. Nearly one hundred acres have been already plowed.

Owing to the continued dry spell the ground is getting very hard. Last night's and yesterday's rains are softening the ground some. The land already plowed is working up in good shape.

GOOD GRAIN; GOOD RETURN.

HYDE PARK, Aug. 24.—A number of the farmers in this district have completed their threshing. The majority report an average yield of 35 bushels to the acre. The sample is exceptionally good.

Valuable Colt Is Roasted To Death By New Hay's Heat

Animal Found Buried in Fodder Stored in Old Shelter Barn.

ATWOOD, Aug. 24.—Richard Coghlin lost a fine colt on the farm of William Schotts, where it was pasturing, through a most startling cause. It was found dead in an old barn after it had been missing for a couple of days.

The barn was used for the horses and cattle to go into for shade. This year it was necessary to use for putting in hay. It is not known whether the animal was in the barn at the time the hay was put in or whether it went in afterwards, as the doors were left open. However, it was discovered deep down in the hay on its back. It was nearly roasted from the heat of the new hay. Mr. Coghlin valued the colt at $150.

THOUSANDS OF MEN REQUIRED FOR HARVESTING IN WESTERN CANADA.

Thousands of men are required to help in the great work of harvesting the western crop. Arrangements for transporting to the west this great army of workers have been completed by the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Excursions from points in Ontario to Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta will be run, and special trains operated, making the trip in about 36 hours, without change or transfer.

Going trip west, $12 to Winnipeg.

Returning trip east, $18 from Winnipeg.

Consult C.P.R. agents regarding transportation west of Winnipeg.

Going Dates.

August 21 and August 30—All stations in Ontario, west of Smith's Falls, up to and including Toronto, on Lake Ontario Shore Line, and Havelock-Peterboro line, also from stations between Kingston and Renfrew Junction, inclusive, and from stations on Toronto-Sudbury direct line. From stations on Sault Ste. Marie branch. From stations on main line, Beaucage to Franz, inclusive. From stations, Bethany Junction to Port McNicoll and Burketon-Bobcaygeon.

August 23 and August 30—From stations west and south of Toronto, up to and including Hamilton and Windsor, Ont., on Owen Sound, Walkerton, Teeswater, Wingham, Elora, Listowel, Goderich, St. Marys, Port Burwell and St. Thomas branches, and stations Toronto and north to Bolton, inclusive.

Further particulars from any C.P.R. ticket agents, or W. B. Howard, district passenger agent, Toronto, Ont. A25.

INDEFINITE REMAND FOR PRISONER HELD FOR SARNIA MURDER

Zanzow's Trial Depends on Action of Crown Attorney.

SARNIA, Aug. 24.—Alex. Zanzow, the young Russian who is held responsible for the death of Frank Smith, as the result of the finding of the coroner's jury on Thursday evening, appeared before Magistrate Gorman in the police court this morning, and was again remanded to jail for an indefinite period, pending action by the county crown attorney, who is not as yet ready to proceed with the case. He was previously remanded on August 17 for one week and that remand expired today.

When arraigned in the prisoners' box, Zanzow appeared perplexed and rather apprehensive, the unconcerned attitude assumed on the day of his arrest had entirely disappeared.

Sidar Ostapanke, Steve Scipaluk and Wasel Spress, who have been held as material witnesses and whose testimony was followed with keen interest at the inquest, were also further remanded to jail.

HIGH GALES ON LAKES

Warning Signals Have Been Flashed to All Great Lakes Ports.

TORONTO, Aug. 24.—"Cautionary signals are posted all along the Great Lakes," the weatherman said today. "Gales are raging on Lakes Superior and Huron and the eastern end of Lake Ontario is also affected. Rain has been general in Ontario and scattered showers have occurred throughout the Maritimes. Out west conditions are fine and so far there have been no frosts, though the farmers always fear them after August 20. Calgary rose to 80 yesterday, Medicine Hat to 84 and Kamloops, B.C., reports 88.

"Along the Nova Scotian coast the weather is fine, but the New England coast is buried in an almost impenetrable fog, which extends to the mouth of the Bay of Fundy."

NOTED MUSICIAN OF MONTREAL

Advises the Use of "FRUIT-A-TIVES," the Famous Fruit Medicine.

MR. ROSENBURG.

589 Casgrain St., Montreal.
April 20, 1915.

"In my opinion, no other medicine in the world is so curative for Constipation and Indigestion as "Fruit-a-tives." I was a sufferer from these complaints for five years, and my sedentary occupation, Music, brought about a kind of Intestinal Paralysis—with nasty Headaches, belching gas, drowsiness after eating, and Pain in the Back. I tried pills and medicines of physicians, but nothing helped me. Then I was induced to try "Fruit-a-tives," and now for six months I have been entirely well.

I advise anyone who suffers from that horrible trouble—Chronic Constipation with the resultant indigestion, to try "Fruit-a-tives," and you will be agreeably surprised at the great benefit you will receive." A. ROSENBURG.

Fifty cents a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At all dealers or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-tives, Limited, Ottawa.

DIRECTOR OF FRENCH NEWSPAPER IS FACING CAPITAL PUNISHMENT

Charged With Supplying the Enemy With Information.

PARIS, Aug. 24.—M. Duval, director of the Bonnet Rouge, whose editor, Miguel Almereyda, committed suicide August 51, after being arrested on the charge of sedition, was today turned over to the military authorities by an examining magistrate. M. Duval had been charged with trading with the enemy, but, according to the police, evidence collected in the investigation proved that the Bonnet Rouge director, instead of trading with countries hostile to France, supplied the enemy with information. This charge involves capital punishment.

WEST TO HAVE GOOD REPRESENTATION IN UNION GOVERNMENT

Cabinet Is To Be Equally Divided, With Borden as Premier.

REGINA, Sask., Aug. 24.—Representative Regina Conservatives met yesterday afternoon, and following a discussion of the political situation telegraphed Hon. A. Meighen, for transmission to Premier Borden, that they were willing to support anyone whom the premier invited to join at national win-the-war government, including Hon. J. A. Calder, providing Premier Borden leads the government.

34 NEGRO SOLDIERS CHARGED WITH MURDER

State of Texas Will Punish Rioters Instead of Militia.

HOUSTON, Texas, Aug. 24.—Blanket charges of murder were filed tonight by District Attorney John Crocker, against 34 negro soldiers of the 24th Infantry, held in the county jail as a result of the rioting last night which ended with the death of seventeen persons, four of them city police officers.

This was the first move indicative of an attempt by the state to retain custody of the soldiers rather than turn them over to the army for punishment.

YOUNG SOLDIER WOUNDED.

PARKHILL, Aug. 24.—A cablegram received here states that 802059 Pte. Andrew Muma, infantry, is reported admitted to the 5th Ambulance, August 15, with gunshot wound in eye. Pte. Muma is a son of Charles Muma, former track foreman of the G.T.R. here, now of Stratford. He was the sixth one to enlist in C Company, 135th Battalion at Parkhill. He was a member of the band until it disbanded in England. He has been in the Construction Battalion in France since early in the spring. He is only about 18 years old now.

AN AGE OF WEAK NERVES

"No heart for anything" is the cry of thousands of men and women who might be made well by the new, red blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make.

Misery day and night is the lot of hosts of men and women who are today the victims of weak nerves. Their pale, drawn faces and dejected attitude tell a sad tale, for nervous weakness means being tortured by morbid thoughts and unaccountable fits of depression. These sufferers are painfully sensitive and easily agitated by some chance remark. Sleeplessness robs them of energy and strength; their eyes are sunken, their limbs tremble, appetite is poor and memory often fails. This nervous exhaustion is one of the most serious evils affecting men and women of today. The only way to bring back sound, vigorous health is to feed the starved nerves which are clamoring for new, rich, red blood. This new, good blood can be had through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which facts accounts for the thousands of cures of nervous diseases brought about by this powerful blood builder and nerve restorer. Through the fair use of this medicine thousands of despondent people have been made bright, active and strong.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all dealers in medicine, or may be had by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

ARSON CHARGE IS PREFERRED AGAINST GREENWICK TP. MAN

Accused of Burning Barn Belonging to Wife — Bail Refused.

WALKERTON, Aug. 24.—Martin Hansen, formerly of Greenwich Township, has been committed for trial by Magistrate Tolten on a charge of arson. Bail has been refused and the accused is confined to jail until his trial.

Evidence brought out at the preliminary hearing showed that the accused and his wife had not got along well for some years. About a year ago Hanson assigned all property to his wife and left the district. On the night of August 1 the barn was burned and Hanson is charged with the offence.

The prisoner has been living at Hespler for some time, but on the night of the burning he came to Paisley by train. He hired a livery rig in that town and drove out into the country after 11 p.m., returning some three hours later. It is this nocturnal visit which forms the crown's circumstantial evidence against the accused.

O. E. Klein is appearing as counsel for the prisoner.

PERJURY CHARGES LAID AT GLENCOE FOLLOWING PROBE

Fire Marshal Investigations Bring Startling Sequel.

GLENCOE, Aug. 24.—Developments in the Woodburn Milling Company fire investigation have been most sensational. Charges of perjury and attempting to defraud insurance companies have been preferred against J. H. Neve, secretary-treasurer of the company, on orders of Deputy Fire Marshal George F. Lewis. The secretary-treasurer, although taken into custody, has since disappeared. The authorities profess to know nothing of his whereabouts, nor would any statement be made by Constable Jacob Weaver.

The deputy fire marshal was called in on the case, and has been working for some days on his investigation of the fire which destroyed the local mill on July 21.

According to Deputy Fire Marshal Lewis, Mr. Neve, as secretary-treasurer of the company, in his sworn claim of loss, stated the loss upon contents of building was $20,507, on buildings $7,500, and $688 additional for contents of a warehouse. In the sworn claim Mr. Neve itemized 760 barrels valued at $380 which he afterwards admitted were not in the warehouse at all when it was destroyed. He also claimed 138 tons of coal valued at $8.35 a ton were destroyed. Evidence given before the deputy fire marshal showed that on July 1 the company had no coal on hand. During July it received two carloads, totalling 92 tons. Of this two or three tons of coal were consumed daily in running the mill. "Allowing sixteen working days between the time coal was received and the date of the fire, July 21, it would be impossible, in my judgment," stated Mr. Lewis, "for there to be more than fifty or sixty tons of coal on hand at the time of the fire, whereas Mr. Neve made claim for 138 tons."

PRESENTATION TO GUNNER.

DORCHESTER, Aug. 24.—Last evening a delightful smoker was given at the Chittick House by the young men of the village, in honor of Gunner Charles Bolton, who recently arrived home from France. During the evening an appropriate address was read by Dr. P. C. Banghart, and Frank Neely presented the young soldier with $25. Gunner Bolton is the first Dorchester boy to be invalided home from the front.

BREWSTER STANDS BY RESOLUTION OF WESTERN LIBERALS

Says It Is Comprehensive in Claim Upon Loyalty.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 24. — "For publicity purposes, and as a political document, your resolution has its value, and my regret is that its effect will be to aggravate the cleavage in popular sentiment it appears to deplore.

"In so far as it will have this effect your resolution is to be deprecated."

This is from the reply of Premier Brewster to the resolution passed by a meeting of 1,500 great war veterans and citizens on Sunday night, Aug. 12, when the returned soldiers unanimously protested against the attitude of the western Liberals at the Winnipeg convention.

"The resolutions of the Winnipeg convention received, and will continue to receive, my support," continued the premier, "because when their full purport is understood and not misrepresented they will be much more comprehensive in their claims upon the loyalty and sacrifice of the people, and quite as definite as the single feature of conscription which your resolution emphasizes."

GASSED IN ORDERLY ROOM.

INGERSOLL, Aug. 24.—Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. William Hey, that their son, Corp. Tom Hey, who went to the front recently, had been gassed. He was not in the trenches at the time, but in an orderly room. He is at present in Belgium.

Blame Only Yourself for Touchy Corns

Blue-jay may be bought at any drug store. This means relief is near, if you want it. Painful corns succumb to these inexpensive, wonderful little plasters. Millions of people have mastered corns this way. The treatment is quick and gentle. The first application ends most corns after 48 hours. The stubborn few vanish with the second or third treatment.

Pared corns keep coming back. Harsh liquids are dangerous. Blue-jay treatment alone is permanent.

Prove tonight that every corn is needless. Get Blue-jay at your drug store. Relief is instant. In 48 hours your corn is gone forever. Try this certain way once—tonight!

Piles Cured By Dr. Chase's Ointment

IT is a surprise to many to learn that there is any cure for piles short of a surgical operation. The doctors have encouraged this idea until the sufferer from this annoying ailment lives in constant dread of the surgeon's knife.

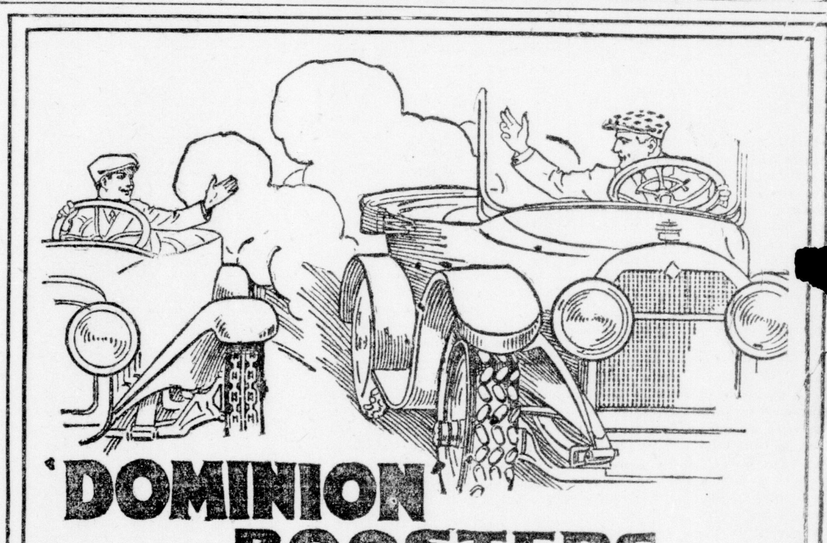

This letter from Mr. Campbell carries a message of cheer to all sufferers from piles, because it tells relief and cure can be obtained the quiet of your own home by use of Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Donald M. Campbell, Campbell's Mountain, N.S., writes: "I have used Dr. Chase's Ointment with great success for hemorrhoids, piles, of fifteen years' standing. After trying all kinds of so-called pile cures, three boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment gave me a complete cure. I have also used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and there are no others so good. You may use this letter, if you wish, for the benefit of others who may suffer as I did."

(Sworn before me, Murdoch Gordon Campbell, J.P., in the County, and for Inverness County.)

You are not experimenting when you use Dr. Chase's Ointment, for it has an unparalleled record of cures to back it up. Beware of imitations and treatments said to be "just as good." They only disappoint. 60c a box, all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto.

FOOD CONTROL JOKES.

AFTER observing the struggles of Hon. W. J. Hanna to produce nation as food controller the public must be forced, regretfully, to the conclusion that up to the present time he has labored stremuously to bring forth a mouse. Perhaps Mr. Hanna finds himself decidedly "up against it," just as Commissioner O'Connor found himself "up against it" when he sought to bring home the bacon of Sir J. Wesley Flavelle. The big food interests may be too much for him, as they have been too much for the Government.

In the first place the regulations governing beef and bacon have had the effect—the only effect so far noted—of sending up the prices of other commodities, and the price of the two other articles mentioned has not been visibly altered. Most people The Advertiser knows are content with beef twice or three times a week during the present period of stress. A roast on Sunday provides several meals for the average family of five, and we know of one home with eight hearty "consumers" where a roast has been known to stretch over three days, and in a somewhat disguised form, perhaps over four days. So that if a man does not make a practice of eating beef or bacon on more days than five he is not affected, and the meat supply is not affected, either. Take a man's steak away on Tuesday and he is hungrier for it on Wednesday.

And while The Advertiser has nothing but good to say of the practice of opening the American markets to the Canadian farmer, it is a joke policy that permits the shipment of hundreds of beef cattle and hogs out of the country while an effort is being made to cut down the supply at home.

As to the second edict, placing canned vegetables on the "banned" list during the fresh vegetable season, it is not discourteous to describe that as a whale of an idea. Who's going to can stuff when he can get the fresh stuff from the overflowing gardens of the present season?

Most people are quite satisfied to "can" the canned goods without any word from Mr. Hanna. Imagine canned peas when the pods are bursting to be shelled, and canned corn when the ears are just right for an ear-to-ear attack! That is apparently another little touch of humor that Mr. Hanna is injecting into the situation.

But the situation does not call for that sort of treatment. The average consumer knows that his butcher and grocery bills are no joke. The prices of all commodities are soaring. Hogs have reached a price never before known. There is not a single article which is lower than when Mr. Hanna started, and while it is difficult adequately to deal with the situation, so far as the beef, bacon, fish and vegetable attempts have not struck at the high cost of living, nor can they have affected the food stocks of the Allies.

A GOOD SERVICE.

FEW CANADIAN people have an opportunity of realizing the work being done by certain Canadian newspapers to extend the interest of this country in the United States. The Advertiser is one of these newspapers, and believes that a word or two as to the service in the general interests of the campaign will be well received.

A number of newspapers joined together and made an appropriation for advertising. The preparation of copy was placed with Canadian advertising agencies and the possibilities for American trade with Canada, and in Canada by means of branch factories, were made evident in graphic fashion. These advertisements were inserted in a number of leading American journals which would reach the big advertisers and the big industries. Already there have been thousands of inquiries of one kind and another directed to this country as a result of the campaign.

While the newspapers have an eye to business and to the increasing of advertising, they are performing a great service in general publicity for the country. The results are certain to be extensive, and the present was the opportune moment for the launching of such a campaign. The newspapers have cast their bread upon the waters and the whole country will derive benefit.

A HOME FOR OUR HEROES.

IF THE RETURNED heroes who have brought glory to London and safety to Canada are desirous of securing a permanent home of their own, The Advertiser believes that citizens will not be slow to respond. Any service which this newspaper can extend to so good a cause will be freely given.

It is true that the demands have been many, but so far as making a generous donation to the returned men, as returned men, the city has done very little. In the first place, those who know the men who have served will find them a lot of royal fellows. They are not bragging over deeds, they are [illegible] men who have show courtesy and respect toward our womankind. They conduct themselves like gentlemen and they do not ask the city for very much. They are for the most part eager to secure their discharges and adjust themselves to conditions, and since they have pulled up the very roots of their previous connections with the country, it is difficult for them in many cases to secure employment that is not too heavy for them. A somewhat general impression that the returned men do not want to work or to assume any responsibilities will be found almost wholly erroneous. The Advertiser has talked with some of the most modest and most desirable citizens among the returned men, who are anxious to apply themselves to their future. And war has been a great education to them. They are keener men with a new appreciation of life, and those who say they have lost initiative should take the trouble to secure their opinions and to realize how close they are to the true state of affairs in the country. Citizens will do well to erect to them, and those of their companions who are taking a long leave, a monument that will be useful rather than a pile of cold marble, heroic though it may be. A soldier's home, with all the comforts money can buy, a place where these pals of the trenches can renew their comradeship, will do much to make them warm toward their city and toward the people who remained at home for whatever reason.

BOURASSA'S REVOLUTION.

BOURASSA has prophesied that the bloodiest of revolutions will end the war if the Pope's note for peace is disregarded. He says:

"If they refuse to listen to the voice of reason and humanity, all that remains of living force in the nations will turn against them with the fury of hatred and despair. If they reject the just and durable peace which the Pope offers, the war will end by the bloodiest and most avenging of revolutions."

Take this prediction in connection with facts, as reported from day to day, and there may be good grounds for hope. Austria is sick of the war, and on the verge of negotiating a separate peace. Germany has seen its most powerful days in the war. Boys of the 18 class comprise one-fourth of the prisoners taken. Germany's financial strength is fast approaching zero. German orators admit that Germany cannot pay indemnities to other nations, because it will be all it can do to pay its own war obligations. The war was entered upon by Great Britain, a Protestant nation, to protect Belgium, a Catholic nation, and is being carried on to liberate Belgium, and a necessary part of that liberation is the destruction of militarism and the liberation of the German people themselves.

From the beginning of the war until the present time, many have looked for the end of the war to come by means of a revolution in Germany. Prussia is the most Protestant part of the empire; South Germany is largely Catholic. There is no love for the Prussian War Lord in the south of Germany. Socialism, which includes a love of liberty, was flourishing as much as possible, but it was choked by militarism as effectually as the war lords could choke it, and Germany itself, the people, were taught and believed that Germans were a superior race. This has been taught for forty years, and consequently the bulk of the people now living were taught that fallacy when young, and it is hard to eradicate or shake off the teachings of the earliest years. Outsiders, allen nations, may tell them of the wrongs they suffer, but they were fed on militarism and cannot be made to see its horrors. The piling up of the dead and wounded in the war, the difficulty of obtaining sufficient to eat, and the hopelessness of a victorious ending of the war for them, may reach their understandings, and finally create such a sense of wrongs that they will be roused to vengeance, which will take the form and fact predicted by Bourassa of "the bloodiest and most avenging of revolutions."

Should the menace of the U-boats be mastered, or even materially lessened, and either is very probable, Germany's last prop would be gone, and the people's only hope would be the realization of Bourassa's prophecy, bloody revolution, and end of the war, freedom for Germany, and liberty for all the world.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The reported capture of Riga apparently was another dose of German soothing syrup.

Uncle Sam now has a knight in the family, and he must have trouble in holding back the bootjack.

Sir Adam would probably use a club in such cases as the Ottawa situation, says a local paper. Which may be intended to convey that Sir Robert is wielding a feather.

Government food and coal bureaus should be careful as to how they affect prices when they send out bulletins about shortage. In one breath we hear that coal is plentiful, and in the next we are given the impression of famine. All of which does not lower prices.

"Sir Adam Beck for premier of Canada is said to be an impossible choice, because he is not adept in smoothing out the incompatabilities found in political families. Sir Adam would probably use a club in such cases."—A local paper.

But Canada does not want any of the "those - who-oppose-me-I-shall-dash-to-pieces" statesmen as rulers. They are the kind who use a club.

A rather funny thing occurred yesterday. A London man bought a fish. He did not like the aroma which came from it. He took it back to the dealer.

"Where did you get that fish?" he asked.

"Why, it came from the Government," replied the dealer.

"Well, that fish is just like the Government," said the customer—and the dealer knew what he meant.

IN A FOG.

By Martha McCulloch Miller.

Willard sighed relief as the cross-roads signpost loomed through the fog. He was lost in a strange land, one made weird, even spectral, by thick white vapors. The earth was dank and slippery and dead leaves in the autumn woods on either side gave out a pungent, penetrating, almost overpowering smell. He had loved it as he set out that morning for a day-long tramp. If he had been weatherwise he would have stayed at the log tavern notwithstanding its rough fare and lack of comfort. The wind had blown in languid, sighing gasps with intervals of dead calm—dawn had been a red lower, dogs had barked acrid discontent, and all the sparse poultry of the tavern had been noisy and restless, as were the ragged yearling mules on the common fronting the house, and the starveling calves armored in cocklepurs, bawling about a weedy orchard.

"Fallin' weather shore as shootin'—but I reckon ye be neither sugar nor salt," the landlord had said with a glum face, yet half-smiling, as he took pay for his entertainment. Willard had been glad to get away—so glad it amazed him now that he could revert longingly to the heaped log fire, the bread of pounded cornmeal, the buttermilk and fried bacon that had made his supper and breakfast. The early miles had been deliciously vagrant—he had walked as the woods invited him, not troubling himself to think of his compass so long as he kept the wind in his face. Then suddenly all things had blurred round about him, but he had found with blank dismay that his compass was missing, fallen from his pocket doubtless as he stooped to look close at some sylvan mosaic of red and russet and gold-yellow, with a dash of velvet-green moss showing through. Color was his passion—it had brought him here to range the hill country in its autumn splendors. Viewing these colors he had sighed—with a despairing happiness. Art could not catch nor repeat them—they were so far beyond it. But for them he was storing up memories that might turn to gold later on.

His designs, henceforth, should have a primitive simplicity, joined to harmonies in multi-color. If they did not bring him fame—money he had already—they might at least help to teach the backward a way to great doing. There would lie for him sufficient reward. Rapt in such thought the fog had seemed at first no more than an inconvenience. Hours of it, bringing him to the edge of sundown, hours of aimless and weary wondering, made him feel it now a menace.

He peered up at the cross-arms. Once they had been lettered boldly. In clear daylight the lettering might still be legible. He felt for matches, struck one—it flickered out. When he sought another his case proved to be empty. He would not be able to smoke the cherished last cigar, much less to kindle a fire. Swearing under his breath he again looked at the guideboards. As he looked he heard rapid hoof beats, then a girl's voice vainly crying, hussedly yet anxiously: "Are you there? I was so afraid! Say something—quick—I have felt lost this last hour."

"I am here, all right enough," Willard began. The voice interrupted joyously: "Then make haste and get up before me. I couldn't get the other horse—but Selim carries double—and won't mind the weight. He knows the way, fortunately—reverend uncle bought him only a month back from his brother reverend. That's why I—oh, I was in such a stew—the fog and all—but praise me for putting on a man's saddle—I couldn't have you ride behind me."

Willard stood hesitant, amazed, yet ready for adventure. Here was a way out—the only possible way. At the girl's impatient cry: "Get up! Quick!" he mounted obediently, took the reins from her and held them loosely, while she settled herself behind him with a little relieved sigh, saying: "It would have killed me—not to find you waiting. Yes—killed me. The shame of going to meet a laggard sweetheart! O! You must be good to me always——"

"I will—God helping me," Willard interrupted fervently. He felt her tremble as she leaned lightly against him, and slipped a tiny bare hand within his free one. Clearly she mistook him for the laggard with whom she had planned to elope—as clearly it would be the height of cruelty to let her discover her mistake, so long as they were alone in this hidden world. Mist had turned into a fine chilli rain—not pelting, penetrating. Very gently Willard felt her shoulders, to find them covered with no more than a silk blouse. She laughed softly at his groping touch, saying eagerly: "If I had put on my habit, or even a jacket, they would have suspected—and stopped me. So I ran out, just as I was—making believe it was to tell Pete about shutting up my chickens. Oh," with an ecstatic breath, "you can't know how good it feels to be—free."

Selim was indeed a weight carrier—also evidently built for a hunter. Bad as the footing was, he went gallantly, up hill, down dell, along levels of slippery clay surface. Presently he whinnied, keen and shrill, and was answered from afar. At the sound, he struck into a gallop, left the beaten road, and cut across open woodland, leaped a ragged brush fence edging it, and headed for a darker blur, evidently a stable. Once again he called—to be answered in several keys. Almost before they knew it, he fetched up plump against a paddock fence across which heads were thrust in welcome.

A flickering lantern showed a groom approaching them—his figure gnomelike in the light. "Whut-all you done brung back yere, ole Sellm?" he cried affably. "I knows yo' whicker—fur as I kin hear it."

"Tell your master it's—the runaway couple—to come quick—with the license—he has it—we won't get down," the girl cried, clinging to Willard, her voice tense and edged. Here, indeed, was a crisis. Willard got hot and weak inside. How should he shame this trusting creature—yet how escape? He could not marry her out of hand, knowing nothing more of her than the ride had revealed. He could not take advantage thus of circumstance—still less could he leave her to shame and despair. What was it she had said—if he had not been there she would have died? She had mistaken him for another. The shock, the agony of finding out that other had played her false, would make her even more desperate.

Better let the thing go on—he could luckily afford to set her free. Suddenly it flashed on him that as her husband he might be able to rid her of home tyrants. So when the minister, who was blear-eyed and halting, called to them from his back piazza, "Ride up! Don't expect me to go out in the wet, do ye?" Selim was duly guided to a space a yard in front of him, and held steady under a tight rein, while the marriage service was gone through. As Willard passed over a handsome fee, the parson said: "Better spell your name for me, John, so's I may git the record plumb right. Bapti' Brother Turrentine'll make a big howdy-doo over this piece of work—and upset it of he can—don't want to give him a chance. As fer you, Ethel," addressing the girl, "I don't mind sayin' I'h glad ter have helped ye out o' his clutches—he loved yer money so well, he never wanted ter part from it."

"Follow this; then the spelling is bound to be right," Willard said; handing over a card. The minster nodded, saying: "I'll see to the recordin' my own self tomorrow. You can call for the certificate any time after."

The fog was lifting slightly, the rain slacking. Reluctantly Selim went around the house, down a ragged lawn, to a stretch of turnpike that showed like a tunnel in the gloom. Night had fallen—a few stars peered through. Also lights from a house of fair size a little way off the road. Without a word Willard made for it—as silently, as masterfully he lifted Ethel down, and started to knock, but the door flew open before them. Inside an anxious, white-haired woman cried to them: "Ethel! Dear, how did you get here? Thank God—in time."

Inside a man—tall, young, handsome—lay gasping his last, past speech but not past consciousness. Joy illumined his glazing eyes as they rested on Ethel. She sank, sobbing, at his bedside, kissed him once; then, with one glance at Willard, quietly fainted.

Explanation was easy. The dead man, John Tarbett, had been fatally hurt by a skidding car as he was going to keep his tryst. Hence his failure to meet Ethel. Chance or Providence sent John Willard instead of him. Willard showed his mettle finely—holding the sobbing girl tenderly but firmly, he explained to her the clouded situation, also what ease for her lay in making the futile ceremony effective. Unless she did, she must go back to the Turrentine house; if she did, he would promise her a brother's care and tendance. So they were married over again in the presence of the dead. Ethel mourned him truly, but youth means love. If her face is an index now, these three years past, she has been as happy a woman as though she had no history.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

PROFITS ON THE FARM.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Under the above heading there is now some discussion as to what the farmer is making. As there are but few farmers who have the time to take part in this kind of controversy, having been a farmer here in Middlesex County for some thirty years, and knowing there are many who think the farmer is getting more than his share these times, I will give you some figures to show what I was making at farming some eight years ago. Since then there has been changes on the farm, but they have not all been in favor of the farmer. This last year prices were about double what they were eight years ago, but more farmers were buyers of farm produce than were sellers, hence the high prices. To go back to my own farm experience, I was born and raised on a farm here in this county. When I was 28 years of age I married and settled on a farm. I had at that time money to buy a farm of 150 acres, fairly well built on, and good land. I bought of my neighbors until I had the 200 acres, put up buildings and improved the farm until I valued it at $12,000 (afterwards sold it for more). My accounts for the year 1909 show as follows:

Farm value, $12,000, interest at 6 per cent	$ 720 00
Farm stock: 5 horses, 3 cows, 30 head stock steers, 2 sows, valued at $2,165, interest at 6 per cent	129 90
Farm machinery, value $1,000, interest at 6 per cent	60 00
Depreciation on machinery, 6 per cent	60 00
Farm help: One man, 1 year (house, garden, cow), cash..	400 00
With man 6 months, with board added	240 00
Annual repairs on buildings, fence, and tile, material only.	220 00
Taxes and insurance	90 00
Hardware, tools, etc	50 00
Total debts (no charge for own time)	$1,969 00
Farm Credits—
Gain on 20 stock steers	$ 825 00
Hogs raised and sold, 15 at $14.	210 00
Sold 400 bush. wheat at 90c..	360 00
Sold 600 bush. oats at 40c...	240 00
Sold 300 bush. barley, at 50c...	150 00
Raised 3 calves to 1 year, $20..	60 00
Total credits for year	$1,845 00

We give no credit for what we consumed in the house, neither do we charge our own time. We quit the farm not because we were not making money, but on account of the difficulty of getting suitable help. You will note there is a deficit of something over $100, but the investment brings in interest on which we lived and had something to put in the bank. Prices are a great deal higher both for what the farmer buys and sells. We do not think he is making too much money.

How to Beautify a Summer Soiled Face

It's really a simple matter to renovate a face soiled by sun, winds or dirt. Ordinary mercolized wax, used like cold cream, will transform the worst old complexion into one of snowy whiteness and velvety softness. It literally peels off the outer veil of surface skin, but so gently, gradually, there's no discomfort. The wornout skin, comes off, not in patches, but evenly, in tiny particles, leaving no evidence of the treatment. The younger, healthier underskin forming the new complexion, is one of captivating loveliness. One ounce of mercolized wax, to be had at any drug store, is enough to remove any tanned, reddened, pimpled, freckled or blotchy skin. Apply before retiring, washing it off mornings.

Many skins wrinkle easily with every wind that blows, with heat, worry, etc. An excellent wrinkle remover, because it tightens the skin and strengthens relaxed muscles, is a wash lotion made as follows: Powdered saxolite, 1 oz., dissolved in witch hazel, ½ pint. This gives immediate results.—Advt.

Doctor Says Crying Need Of The Woman of Today Is More Iron In Her Blood

TO PUT STRENGTH IN HER NERVES AND COLOR IN HER CHEEKS.

Any Woman Who Tires Easily, Is Nervous or Irritable, or Looks Pale, Haggard and Worn, Should Have Her Blood Examined for Iron Deficiency.

Administration of Nuxated Iron in Clinical Tests Gives Most Astonishing Youthful Strength and Makes Women Look Years Younger.

"There can be no healthy, beautiful, rosy-cheeked women without iron," says Dr. Ferdinand King, a New York Physician and Medical Author. "In my recent talks to physicians on the grave and serious consequences of iron deficiency in the blood of American women, I have strongly emphasized the fact that doctors should prescribe more organic iron—nuxated iron—for their nervous, run-down, weak, haggard-looking women patients. Pallor means anaemia. The blood of the anaemic woman is pale, the flesh flabby. The muscles lack tone, the brain fags and the memory fails, and often they become weak, nervous, irritable, despondent and melancholy. When the iron goes from the blood of women, the roses go from their cheeks.

"In the most common foods of America, the starches, sugars, table syrups, candies, polished rice, white bread, soda crackers, biscuits, macaroni, spaghetti, tapioca, sago, farina, degerminated cornmeal, no longer is iron to be found. Refining processes have removed the iron of Mother Earth from these impoverished foods, and silly methods of home cookery, by throwing down the waste pipe the water in which our vegetables are cooked, are responsible for another grave iron loss.

"Therefore, if you wish to preserve your youthful vim and vigor to a ripe old age, you must supply the iron deficiency in your food by using some form of organic iron, just as you would use salt when your food has not enough salt.

"As I have said a hundred times over, organic iron is the greatest of all strength-builders. If people would only take Nuxated Iron when they feel weak or run-down, instead of dosing themselves with habit-forming drugs, stimulants and alcoholic beverages, I am convinced that in this way they could ward off disease, preventing it becoming organic in thousands of cases, and thereby the lives of thousands might be saved who now die every year from pneumonia, grippe, kidney, liver, heart trouble and other dangerous maladies. The real and true cause which started their disease was nothing more nor less than a weakened condition brought on by lack of iron in the blood.

"On account of the peculiar nature of woman, and the great drain placed upon her system at certain periods, she requires iron much more than man to help make up for the loss.

Dr. Ferdinand King, New York Physician and Medical Author, tells physicians that they should prescribe more organic iron—Nuxated Iron—for their patients—Says anaemia—iron deficiency—is the greatest curse to the health, strength, vitality and beauty of the modern American Woman.—Sounds warning against use of metallic iron which may injure the teeth, corrode the stomach and do far more harm than good; advises use of only nuxated iron.

"Iron is also absolutely necessary to enable your blood to change food into living tissue. Without it, no matter how much or what you eat, your blood merely passes through you without doing you any good. You don't get the strength out of it, and as a consequence you become weak, pale and sickly-looking, just like a plant trying to grow in a soil deficient in iron. If you are not strong or well you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks, then test your strength again and see how much you have gained. I have seen dozens of nervous, run-down people who were ailing all the while double their strength and endurance, and entirely rid themselves of all symptoms of dyspepsia, liver, and other troubles in from 10 to 14 days' time simply by taking iron in the proper form. And this after they had in some cases been doctoring for months without obtaining any benefit. But don't take the old forms of reduced iron, iron acetate or tincture of iron, simply to save a few cents. The iron demanded by Mother Nature for the red coloring matter in the blood of her children is, alas! not that kind of iron. You must take iron in a form that can be easily absorbed and assimilated to do you any good, otherwise it may prove worse than useless.

"I have used Nuxated Iron widely in my own practice in most severe aggravated conditions, with unfailing results. I have induced many other physicians to give it a trial, all of whom have given me most surprising results in regard to its great power as a health and strength builder.

"Many an athlete and prizefighter has won the day simply because he knew the secret of great strength and endurance and filled his blood with iron before he went into the affray; while many another has gone down in inglorious defeat simply for the lack of iron."

Dr. Schuyler C. Jaques, Visiting Surgeon of St. Elizabeth's Hospital, New York City, said: "I have never before given out any medical information or advice for publication, as I ordinarily do not believe in it. But so many American women suffer from iron deficiency with its attendant ills—physical weakness, nervous irritability, melancholy, indigestion, flabby, sagging muscles, etc., etc.—and in consequence of their weakened, run-down condition they are so liable to contract serious and even fatal diseases, that I deem it my duty to advise all such to take Nuxated Iron. I have taken it myself and given it to my patients with most surprising and satisfactory results. And those who wish quickly to increase their strength, power and endurance will find it a most remarkable and wonderfully effective remedy."

NOTE—Nuxated Iron, which is prescribed and recommended above by physicians in such a great variety of cases, is not a patent medicine nor secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists and whose iron constituents are widely prescribed by eminent physicians both in Europe and America. Unlike the older inorganic iron products, it is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, make them black, nor upset the stomach; on the contrary, it is a most potent remedy in nearly all forms of indigestion as well as for nervous, run-down conditions. The manufacturers have such great confidence in nuxated iron, that they offer to forfeit $100.00 to any charitable institution if they cannot take any man or woman under 60 who lacks iron, and increase their strength 100 per cent or more in four weeks' time, provided they have no serious organic trouble. They also offer to refund your money if it does not at least double your strength and endurance in ten days' time. It is dispensed in this city by the Standard Drug Company and good druggists.

MUSIC IN THE HOME

EQUAL TO EMERGENCY WON FAME IN SINGLE NIGHT

Mars Prevented Louise MacKay From Returning to Europe —Cupid Met Her in Winnipeg.

Louise Mackay, whose marriage takes place in the near future to H. S. Grant, a prominent and successful business-man of Winnipeg and California, is one of the gratifying list of Canadians who have made good and become famous in the musical world. Having achieved fame in two continents as a singer, she is also widely known for her ability to teach others to become beautiful singers. During a recent visit to London she stated that she hopes to continue her professional work after her marriage. Her fiance appreciates the fact that music is just as much a part of her life as business is of his, and he is proud of it.

Louise Mackay is known in Europe rather as an American than a Canadian, though she was born in Western Ontario, up on Lake Huron. Her family moved so soon afterwards to New York that her early recollections are entwined with that part of the world. It was there she made her first big success, and sprang into fame in a single night. She had come back to Canada to begin her musical education, out of deference to the land of her birth. For some three years she studied in Toronto with Dr. Torrington, then she returned to her home to continue under other teachers in New York.

Louise Mackay, as well as unusually fine voice, artistic feeling and an abundance of temperament, possessed an added asset, the ability to meet an emergency and carry through whatever she undertook. It wasn't so much assurance as real valor and a determination not to show herself beaten. She gives her Scotch ancestry credit for this.

All her talent, resourcefulness and courage met a supreme test on the night fate offered her an opportunity to make a name for herself.

How Her Chance Came.

It was the night of the Christmas presentation in Carnegie Hall, New York, of Handel's "Messiah." The great English oratorio singer who had been engaged for the soprano role fell ill on the day of the event. Perhaps it was in a measure due to nervousness that the substitute secured was unable to sing at the very last minute. But the great hall was crowded until there was not even standing room. The orchestra and chorus were in their places, and the other soloists, including Louise Homer, contralto, and David Bispham, baritone. The conductor, Frank Damrosch, brother of conductor of New York Symphony Orchestra, was at his wits' end. Frantic appeals were sent out in all directions for a soprano to at least sing through the numbers of this role. Louise Mackay's teacher was asked if she, herself, would substitute. Well as she knew her part, she was sure she wasn't equal to the ordeal.

But she had an inspiration. "I know the one soprano in New York who could do it. She can always get out of a tight corner. It is my pupil, Louise Mackay," she said.

Louise Mackay was found in the vast audience just as the orchestra had started the pastoral symphony, the 12th number of the score, the one immediately preceding the first solo work for the soprano.

Miss Mackay was hustled back behind the stage. The conductor's wife was almost weeping with anxiety. Never before had her husband or any other conductor to her knowledge met such an experience.

"Oh, will you sing," entreated Mrs. Damrosch.

"Let me think," replied the inexperienced girl.

A few minutes she sat in thought, mentally running over the music. She had sung the role just once, some time before. But what she knew, she knew. With no thought beyond the fact that she must get through, and somehow save the situation, she was led onto the stage in her street costume. She remembered she must take off her white gloves. They had been cleaned and were slippery. They would interfere with the turning of the pages.

Wins Ovation and Fame.

The audience good-naturedly cheered when the announcement was made that she would take the place of the soprano engaged, and would take it without preparation.

Asked about her feelings at that moment when she was in the city recently, she replied: "Carnegie Hall seemed a terribly big place, and I thought I would never get across the stage to my seat. But I had too much to think about how I was going to get through to worry over the audience. One thing I had presence of mind enough to do was to tell Mr. Damrosch that he would have to follow me. I had learned the role with Dr. Torrington in Toronto, and I knew they did some things differently. I told him it would take me all the time to get through my own way."

History records the fact that after her first solo, the audience applauded in genuine appreciation. From then on, her success was a foregone conclusion. After the number, "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth," the enthusiasm of the vast throng became a tumultuous ovation. At the close it was necessary to smuggle the unheralded young singer out to keep her from being crushed by those who pressed around to shake hands with her and offer congratulations.

Her head was by no means turned, even after the notices she received next day in the New York papers. She didn't hurry over to Europe for new triumphs and prestige. She stayed right in New York and kept on studying with all her might for some years more. She believed it a mistake to go to European teachers before her voice was definitely placed. She based this opinion on observation of others and on reliable advice.

In Paris she was accepted as a pupil by the great Marchesi, studying also with other instructors of world-wide fame.

Captivates Berlin.

From there she went to Berlin, where her success was as unexpected as in New York. A performance of the "Creation" was to be given. The soprano soloist was taken ill on the afternoon of the very day that the event was to take place. Louise Mackay was engaged. On this occasion, however, there was time to print small slips with her name to insert in the programs. Though it was the custom not to applaud in oratorio until the end of the performance, the Canadian-American singer received a tribute of appreciation after each number. Following this there were concert engagements in Cologne, Hamburg and other German cities, as well as in Berlin, and a tour of Holland.

It was in Amsterdam that a noble branch of the Mackay family of Scotland resident in the Dutch city came to see what an American Mackay looked like. So satisfactory was the impression that an introduction to the artist was sought, and an immediate invitation extended to her to pay a visit. During the concert the head of the family sent out for flowers to be presented to the singer.

Mars, Cupid & Co.

Louise Mackay returned to America several years ago, but was on the point of going back to Europe to make her headquarters there when the war interfered. Then she decided to go to the big city of the Canadian prairies for a time at least. There she opened a studio, and there it was she met her fate, "a friend of her friends in California." She isn't sorry that she went to Winnipeg.

The marriage of this brilliantly successful Canadian-American singer takes place in a few weeks at the home of her father in Duluth, where she is at the present time.

Apart from her professional career in Europe, Louise Mackay recalls as one of her most interesting experiences a summer trip with a party of journalists away up through Norway and Sweden, far out of the beaten track for even globe-trotters, and across to Lapland. There the visitors were entertained by a Lapland lady of high degree in her tent of skins. To their amazement she produced a silver tea service and proceeded to pour tea for them, to which was added reindeer's milk.

After her rich and varied opportunities for development of her talent and art, Louise Mackay finds herself back in Canada "for good"—at least for a part of the year. She expects to spend the winters in California, where Mr. Grant has business interests.

Doubtless she will have an important part in molding the musical future of the young west country. Her influence is already extending "back east." At least one pupil of much ability has gone to study with her during the past year from an eastern Ontario city, and is enthusiastic over the "exact science" of Louise Mackay's method of voice production.

JACK LOVES MUSIC AT SEA AND ASHORE

Five thousand dollars worth of mouth organs have been sent to the trenches. No one can estimate the value of such a gift for maintaining the spirit of the soldiers under difficult, sometimes appalling conditions. The soldier with a musical ear soon learns this humble instrument and on a march it is invaluable. Usually the "man-o'-war's-man's instrument is the concertina. In the far-away times of peace the North Atlantic squadron came to the St. Lawrence every summer, and those who have visited Quebec in August have pleasant memories of long parades of shore-leave men headed by a bluejacket playing music hall airs. Dufferin Terrace was the ideal spot for these informal promenades. Its quarter-mile length was delightful in the summer nights, with the gay music and the singing sailors. The repertoire of the flagship band was always frivolous, but none the less pleasant. Even since the war Halifax had a taste of its quality. A German liner was being convoyed into port when the flagship band struck up with great spirit that classic inquiry, "Who Were You With Last Night?" One has no doubt that music has had a great influence in cheering the men, both on sea and land, who are defending the rights of humanity in this fearful struggle.

A CLEVER CORNETIST, BUT MAKES BAD BREAK

Talented Canadian Played "In Old Madrid" in Boston During Spanish-American War.

A Toronto girl some years ago became so excellent a cornet player that she secured an engagement on the Keith & Proctor vaudeville circuit, and for some years was profitably engaged on the road. She had a series of solos, which included not only the popular songs of the day, but a number of better compositions, which usually were heartily received. During the Spanish-American war, when the whole republic was burning up with war fervor on behalf of oppressed Cuba, the artist found herself in Boston. The audience in Keith's Theatre was anxious for war music. "A Hot Time" had brought cheers; "Good-Bye Dolly, I Must Leave You" was welcomed with acclaim; "The Blue and the Grey" caused whistles from the upper gods. But the cornet player, like a certain New Testament character, "cared for none of these things." She forgot the war temporarily and when her turn came went on with full confidence. She played a triple-tongued polka, followed by a theme with variations. Her work was so smart that the audience sat up and took notice. Then followed a group of popular non-war songs, and she received a vociferous recall. She stepped out before the footlights and after playing the first few measures of her "encore" number she was conscious of a changing temper in the audience. Some one hissed. Then she remembered that the title of the piece she had chosen was "In Old Madrid."

In these days any choral body who sang the finale from Die Meistersinger, "Honor Your German Masters," might find some slight difficulty.

GRACE NOTES

Willie's mother thinks the object of music study for Willie is to teach Willie to play a piece when the family has company. Ever meet Willie's mother?

"In music, there is no incentive so keen, so prompt, so life-giving as two-piano playing. Indeed as a means of pumping vitality into the dead work of the average piano student, of absolutely waking up his inertia, and setting a new desire tingling through his veins, there is nothing like it."—Mrs. Burton Chance in the Etude.

Women are entering almost every other field of endeavor formerly considered the exclusive territory of man. Why not try piano tuning? It is stated that there are already a number of women tuners in England, whose business it is to keep harmony among the internal workings of pianos. It is further stated that an objection is raised that women lack the necessary wrist strength to tune a piano, so it will stay in tune. With regard to this, a mere man says:

"No person, at least no man would suggest—he wouldn't dare to—that a woman could not make a proficient tuner, but the musical importance of the work and the length of time needed in training make it unlikely that women, to any extent, will enter the profession. It will, therefore, likely be left to man's lot to be the piano tuner and regulator.

New Route To Western Canada Proving Popular

Runs Through Famous Clay Belt of New Ontario, and the Cobalt Mining District.

On your next trip to Western Canada why not travel over a new route, see the wonderful land opened up in Northern Ontario by the Transcontinental Railway, and gain a glimpse of Temagami, and the Cobalt silver mining region?

You may use two famous trains on your journey without any added expense for railway fare, as compared with any other route. The International Limited will carry you to Toronto, where "The National" starts on its westbound flight. "The National" uses the rails of the Grand Trunk to North Bay, the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario (Provincial Government line) to Cochrane, and the Canadian Government Railways to Winnipeg, where it links up with the Grand Trunk Pacific for all important points in Western Canada.

A pleasant daylight run to Toronto, an evening in the Queen City, and "The National" is ready to carry you westward. The departure of "The National" from Toronto is at 10:45 p.m. on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. North Bay is reached early next morning, and there opens up for your admiration all the lakeland beauties of the territory served by the T. and N. O. line. These are followed by a wonderfully interesting trip through the sparsely populated territory of New Ontario, giving the traveler an opportunity of inspecting this fertile region, including the famed clay belt, where tens of thousands of settlers will make their homes in the future. The area of New Ontario is 330,000 square miles, fully four times the size of old Ontario, and in addition to great expanses of good farming land it has wonderful resources in timber, minerals, water-power, fish and game.

The three railways have combined to make the passenger service over this new road the equal of that offered anywhere on the continent. The smooth, straight and level roadbed embodies all that has been learned in three-quarters of a century of railroad building. The greatest travel comfort is assured. Full particulars from any Grand Trunk ticket agent, or C. E. Horning, district passenger agent, Toronto. A. 31 zxv

SIR DOUGLAS HAIG THANKS ONTARIO ON BEHALF OF CANADIANS

TORONTO, Aug. 24.—Premier W. R. Hearst today cabled congratulations through Sir Douglas Haig to General Sir Arthur Currie on the achievements of the Canadian forces. The premier's message was as follows:

"Ontario heartily congratulates Canadian forces on their inspiring achievements in recent victories under your command."

The following reply was received:

"All ranks of the Canadian forces under my command join with me in thanking you very warmly for the inspiring message of congratulation that you have sent us on behalf of the province of Ontario.

"(Signed) DOUGLAS HAIG."

FOREST MOURNS DEATH OF LIEUT. W. J. WRIGHT

Dead Officer Was Prominent in Town's Affairs.

FOREST, Aug. 24.—Capt. F. J. Brodie, R.A.M.C., recently returned from Macedonia, delivered a most interesting address in the Presbyterian Church, relating his experiences as surgeon in the Serbian camp. He outlined the history of Serbia, and gave a vivid description of the sufferings of these people, and their wonderful bravery and courage.

Miss Bertie Jennings of town, and Gordon Crose of Indianapolis, contributed two pleasing vocal numbers.

Dr. J. P. Hubbard acted as chairman and a hearty vote of thanks was tendered Dr. Brodie by Dr. F. Walters, and seconded by Rev. H. E. Green.

Dr. Brodie is an old Forest boy and spoke under the auspices of the local Red Cross workers. The collection amounted to $20.40.

Lieut. W. J. Wright of the 110th Battalion, who is reported killed today, was principal of the high school here for three years. While residing in town he was also chairman of the Layman's Missionary Movement, a member of the public library board, president of the Shakespeare Club and an active worker in the Presbyterian Church. The flag is at half-mast today on the town hall in his honor.

The following is the reports of the standing field competition in oats in connection with the Plympton and Wyoming Agricultural Society: J. F. Donald, Wyoming; Arch Smith, Wyoming; R. R. Smith, Wyoming; R. S. Jardine, Camlachie; Geo. A. Dewar, Wyoming; Howard Bryson, Wyoming; J. Bryson, Wyoming.

GREATEST CROPS IN HISTORY FOR ONTARIO IN 1917

Provincial Reports Bear Witness of Record Harvest.

TREMENDOUS BEAN CROP

Acreage for Present Year Is Doubled and 1,500,000 Bushels Expected.

TORONTO, Aug. 24.—Ontario's crops for 1917, as forecast by the returns made to the provincial bureau of industries, promise to be the largest in history, both in size and in value. Not only has the acreage under cultivation been extended, but each acre has this year yielded more than in other years.

One remarkable feature of the returns is enormous increase in the production of beans. The acreage devoted to the raising of beans this year is more than double that of last year. It is estimated that over one and a half million bushels of beans will be reaped from 114,785 acres. This is of the highest importance at the present time, owing to the great value of beans as food.

The wheat crop seems to be more remarkable for its value than for its quantity, the advance in the price of bread bringing the financial returns from this product up to a high point. The Advertiser was informed by a Government official today that on one farm in the vicinity of Woodstock 39 acres had yielded 1,200 bushels of wheat, which the farmer sold for $2,700, or as much as the land itself is worth.

WORK TRACTOR DAY AND NIGHT.

PARKHILL, Aug. 24.—The county tractor is hard at work day and night in the township of West Williams. Nearly one hundred acres have been already plowed.

Owing to the continued dry spell the ground is getting very hard. Last night's and yesterday's rains are softening the ground some. The land already plowed is working up in good shape.

GOOD GRAIN; GOOD RETURN.

HYDE PARK, Aug. 24.—A number of the farmers in this district have completed their threshing. The majority report an average yield of 35 bushels to the acre. The sample is exceptionally good.

Valuable Colt Is Roasted To Death By New Hay's Heat

Animal Found Buried in Fodder Stored in Old Shelter Barn.

ATWOOD, Aug. 24.—Richard Coghlin lost a fine colt on the farm of William Schotts, where it was pasturing, through a most startling cause. It was found dead in an old barn after it had been missing for a couple of days.

The barn was used for the horses and cattle to go into for shade. This year it was necessary to use for putting in hay. It is not known whether the animal was in the barn at the time the hay was put in or whether it went in afterwards, as the doors were left open. However, it was discovered deep down in the hay on its back. It was nearly roasted from the heat of the new hay. Mr. Coghlin valued the colt at $150.

THOUSANDS OF MEN REQUIRED FOR HARVESTING IN WESTERN CANADA.

Thousands of men are required to help in the great work of harvesting the western crop. Arrangements for transporting to the west this great army of workers have been completed by the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Excursions from points in Ontario to Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta will be run, and special trains operated, making the trip in about 36 hours, without change or transfer.

Going trip west, $12 to Winnipeg.

Returning trip east, $18 from Winnipeg.

Consult C.P.R. agents regarding transportation west of Winnipeg.

Goloring Dates.

August 21 and August 30—All stations in Ontario, west of Smith's Falls, up to and including Toronto, on Lake Ontario Shore Line, and Havelock-Peterboro line, also from stations between Kingston and Renfrew Junction, inclusive, and from stations on Toronto-Sudbury direct line. From stations on Sault Ste. Marie branch. From stations on main line, Beaucage to Franz, inclusive. From stations, Bethany Junction to Port McNicoll and Burketon-Bobcaygeon.

INDEFINITE REMAND FOR PRISONER HELD FOR SARNIA MURDER

Zanzow's Trial Depends on Action of Crown Attorney.

SARNIA, Aug. 24.—Alex. Zanzow, the young Russian who is held responsible for the death of Frank Smith, as the result of the finding of the coroner's jury on Thursday evening, appeared before Magistrate Gorman in the police court this morning, and was again remanded to jail for an indefinite period, pending action by the county crown attorney, who is not as yet ready to proceed with the case. He was previously remanded on August 17 for one week and that remand expired today.

When arraigned in the prisoners' box, Zanzow appeared perplexed and rather apprehensive, the unconcerned attitude assumed on the day of his arrest had entirely disappeared.

Sidar Ostapanke, Steve Scipaluk and Wasel Spress, who have been held as material witnesses and whose testimony was followed with keen interest at the inquest, were also further remanded to jail.

HIGH GALES ON LAKES

Warning Signals Have Been Flashed to All Great Lakes Ports.

TORONTO, Aug. 24.—"Cautionary signals are posted all along the Great Lakes," the weatherman said today. "Gales are raging on Lakes Superior and Huron and the eastern end of Lake Ontario is also affected. Rain has been general in Ontario and scattered showers have occurred throughout the Maritimes. Out west conditions are fine and so far there have been no frosts, though the farmers always fear them after August 20. Calgary rose to 80 yesterday, Medicine Hat to 84 and Kamloops, B.C., reports 88.

"Along the Nova Scotian coast the weather is fine, but the New England coast is buried in an almost impenetrable fog, which extends to the mouth of the Bay of Fundy."

NOTED MUSICIAN OF MONTREAL

Advises the Use of "FRUIT-A-TIVES," the Famous Fruit Medicine.

MR. ROSENBURG.

589 Casgrain St., Montreal.

April 20, 1915.

"In my opinion, no other medicine in the world is so curative for Constipation and Indigestion as "Fruit-a-tives." I was a sufferer from these complaints for five years, and my sedentary occupation, Music, brought about a kind of Intestinal Paralysis—with nasty Headaches, belching gas, drowsiness after eating, and Pain in the Back. I tried pills and medicines of physicians, but nothing helped me. Then I was induced to try "Fruit-a-tives," and now for six months I have been entirely well.

I advise anyone who suffers from that horrible trouble—Chronic Constipation with the resultant indigestion, to try "Fruit-a-tives," and you will be agreeably surprised at the great benefit you will receive."

A. ROSENBURG.

Fifty cents a box. 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At all dealers or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-tives, Limited, Ottawa.

DIRECTOR OF FRENCH NEWSPAPER IS FACING CAPITAL PUNISHMENT

Charged With Supplying the Enemy With Information.

PARIS, Aug. 24.—M. Duval, director of the Bonnet Rouge, whose editor, Miguel Almereyda, committed suicide August 51, after being arrested on the charge of sedition, was today turned over to the military authorities by an examining magistrate. M. Duval had been charged with trading with the enemy, but, according to the police, evidence collected in the investigation proved that the Bonnet Rouge director, instead of trading with countries hostile to France, supplied the enemy with information. This charge involves capital punishment.

WEST TO HAVE GOOD REPRESENTATION IN UNION GOVERNMENT

Cabinet Is To Be Equally Divided, With Borden as Premier.

REGINA, Sask., Aug. 24.—Representative Regina Conservatives met yesterday afternoon, and following a discussion of the political situation telegraphed Hon. A. Meighen, for transmission to Premier Borden, that they were willing to support anyone whom the premier invited to join at national win-the-war government, including Hon. J. A. Calder, providing Premier Borden leads the government.

34 NEGRO SOLDIERS CHARGED WITH MURDER

State of Texas Will Punish Rioters Instead of Militia.

HOUSTON, Texas, Aug. 24.—Blanket charges of murder were filed tonight by District Attorney John Crocker, against 34 negro soldiers of the 24th Infantry, held in the county jail as a result of the rioting last night which ended with the death of seventeen persons, four of them city police officers.

This was the first move indicative of an attempt by the state to retain custody of the soldiers rather than turn them over to the army for punishment.

YOUNG SOLDIER WOUNDED.

PARKHILL, Aug. 24.—A cablegram received here states that 802059 Pte. Andrew Muma, infantry, is reported admitted to the 5th Ambulance, August 15, with gunshot wound in eye. Pte. Muma is a son of Charles Muma, former track foreman of the G.T.R. here, now of Stratford. He was the sixth one to enlist in C Company, 135th Battalion at Parkhill. He was a member of the band until it disbanded in England. He has been in the Construction Battalion in France since early in the spring. He is only about 18 years old now.

AN AGE OF WEAK NERVES

"No heart for anything" is the cry of thousands of men and women who might be made well by the new, red blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make.

Misery day and night is the lot of hosts of men and women who are today the victims of weak nerves. Their pale, drawn faces and dejected attitude tell a sad tale, for nervous weakness means being tortured by morbid thoughts and unaccountable fits of depression. These sufferers are painfully sensitive and easily agitated by some chance remark. Sleeplessness robs them of energy and strength; their eyes are sunken, their limbs tremble, appetite is poor and memory often fails. This nervous exhaustion is one of the most serious evils affecting men and women of today. The only way to bring back sound, vigorous health is to feed the starved nerves which are clamoring for new, rich, red blood. This new, good blood can be had through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which facts accounts for the thousands of cures of nervous diseases brought about by this powerful blood builder and nerve restorer. Through the fair use of this medicine thousands of despondent people have been made bright, active and strong.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all dealers in medicine, or may be had by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

ARSON CHARGE IS PREFERRED AGAINST GREENWICK TP. MAN

Accused of Burning Barn Belonging to Wife — Bail Refused.

WALKERTON, Aug. 24.—Martin Hansen, formerly of Greenwich Township, has been committed for trial by Magistrate Tolten on a charge of arson. Bail has been refused and the accused is confined to jail until his trial.

Evidence brought out at the preliminary hearing showed that the accused and his wife had not got along well for some years. About a year ago Hanson assigned all property to his wife and left the district. On the night of August 1 the barn was burned and Hanson is charged with the offence.

The prisoner has been living at Hespeler for some time, but on the night of the burning he came to Paisley by train. He hired a livery rig in that town and drove out into the country after 11 p.m., returning some three hours later. It is this nocturnal visit which forms the crown's circumstantial evidence against the accused.

O. E. Klein is appearing as counsel for the prisoner.

PERJURY CHARGES LAID AT GLENCOE FOLLOWING PROBE

Fire Marshal Investigations Bring Startling Sequel.

GLENCOE, Aug. 24.—Developments in the Woodburn Milling Company fire investigation have been most sensational. Charges of perjury and attempting to defraud insurance companies have been preferred against J. H. Neve, secretary-treasurer of the company, on orders of Deputy Fire Marshal George F. Lewis. The secretary-treasurer, although taken into custody, has since disappeared. The authorities profess to know nothing of his whereabouts, nor would any statement be made by Constable Jacob Weaver.

The deputy fire marshal was called in on the case, and has been working for some days on his investigation of the fire which destroyed the local mill on July 31.

According to Deputy Fire Marshal Lewis, Mr. Neve, as secretary-treasurer of the company, in his sworn claim of loss, stated the loss upon contents of buildings was $20,507, on buildings $7,500, and $598 additional for contents of a warehouse. In the sworn claim Mr. Neve itemized 760 barrels valued at $380 which he afterwards admitted were not in the warehouse at all when it was destroyed. He also claimed 138 tons of coal valued at $8.35 a ton were destroyed. Evidence given before the deputy fire marshal showed that on July 1 the company had no coal on hand. During July it received two carloads, totalling 92 tons. Of this two or three tons of coal were consumed daily in running the mill. "Allowing sixteen working days between the time coal was received and the date of the fire, July 31, it would be impossible, in my judgment," stated Mr. Lewis, "for there to be more than fifty or sixty tons of coal on hand at the time of the fire, whereas Mr. Neve made claim for 138 tons."

PRESENTATION TO GUNNER.

DORCHESTER, Aug. 24.—Last evening a delightful smoker was given at the Chittick House by the young men of the village, in honor of Gunner Charles Bolton, who recently arrived home from France. During the evening an appropriate address was read by Dr. F. C. Bamehart, and Frank Neely presented the young soldier with $25. Gunner Bolton is the first Dorchester boy to be invalided home from the front.

BREWSTER STANDS BY RESOLUTION OF WESTERN LIBERALS

Says It Is Comprehensive in Claim Upon Loyalty.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 24. — "For publicity purposes, and as a political document, your resolution has its value, and my regret is that its effect will be to aggravate the cleavage in popular sentiment it appears to deplore.

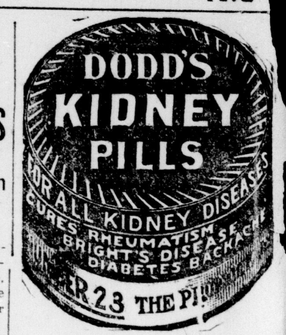

"In so far as it will have this effect your resolution is to be deprecated."

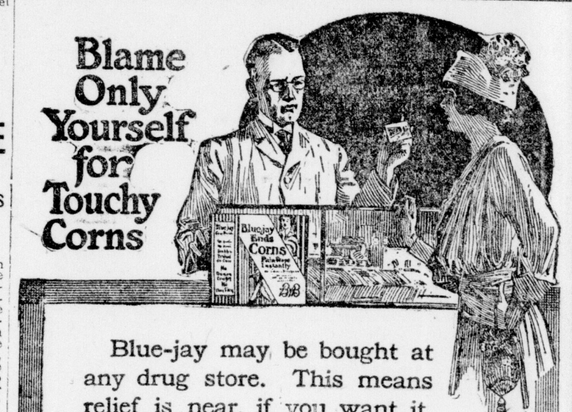

This is from the reply of Premier Brewster to the resolution passed by a meeting of 1,500 great war veterans and citizens on Sunday night, Aug. 12, when the returned soldiers unanimously protested against the attitude of the western Liberals at the Winnipeg convention.

"The resolutions of the Winnipeg convention received, and will continue to receive, my support," continued the premier, "because when their full purport is understood and not misrepresented they will be much more comprehensive in their claims upon the loyalty and sacrifice of the people, and quite as definite as the single feature of conscription which your resolution emphasizes."

GASSED IN ORDERLY ROOM.

INGERSOLL, Aug. 24.—Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. William Hey, that their son, Corp. Tom Hey, who went to the front recently, had been gassed. He was not in the trenches at the time, but in an orderly room. He is at present in Belgium.

Blue-jay may be bought at any drug store. This means relief is near, if you want it. Painful corns succumb to these inexpensive, wonderful little plasters. Millions of people have mastered corns this way. The treatment is quick and gentle. The first application ends most corns after 48 hours. The stubborn few vanish with the second or third treatment.

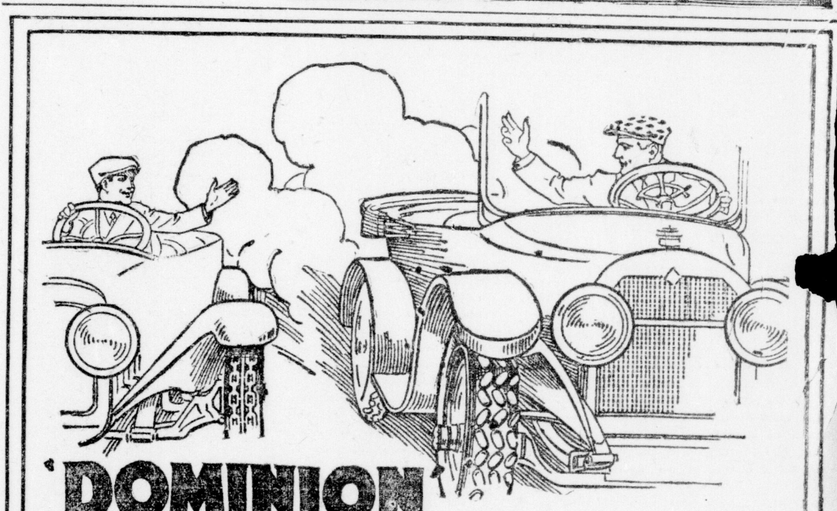

Pared corns keep coming back. Harsh liquids are dangerous. Blue-jay treatment alone is permanent.

Prove tonight that every corn is needless. Get Blue-jay at your drug store. Relief is instant. In 48 hours your corn is gone forever. Try this certain way once—tonight!

Piles Cured By Dr. Chase's Ointment

IT is a surprise to many to learn that there is any cure for piles short of a surgical operation. The doctors have encouraged this idea until the sufferer from this annoying ailment lives in constant dread of the surgeon's knife.

This letter from Mr. Campbell carries a message of cheer to all sufferers from piles, because it tells of relief and cure can be obtained in the quiet of your own home by use of Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Donald M. Campbell, Campbell's Mountain, N.S., writes: "I have used Dr. Chase's Ointment with great success for hemorrhoids, for which I suffered for fifteen years' standing. After trying all kinds of so-called pile cures, three boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment gave me a complete cure. I have also used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and there are no others so good. You may use this letter, if you wish, for the benefit of others who may suffer as I did."

(Sworn before me, Murdoch Gordon Campbell, J.P., in the County, and for Inverness County.)

You are not experimenting when you use Dr. Chase's Ointment, for it has an unparalleled record of cures to back it up. Beware of imitations and treatments said to be "just as good." They only disappoint. 60c a box, all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto.

DAUGHTERS OF THE EMPIRE

The soldiers' comfort committee acknowledge the following contributions for shipment overseas:

Trafalgar Chapter, I. O. D. E., London—18 towels, 24 pairs socks, 30 pillowcases, 25 suits pyjamas, 15 grey flannel shirts.

Lord Roberts Chapter, London — 49 huck towels.

Princess Mary Chapter, Strathroy—60 pairs socks, 12 hospital shirts.

Dawn Chapter, Croton—12 suits pyjamas, 47 pairs socks, 3 towels.

Sir John French Chapter, Sebringville—26 grey flannel shirts.

7th Regiment Chapter, London — 47 trench towels, 47 cakes castile soap.

The call for the conservation of food and for the exercise of the strictest economy in household affairs should be heard and heeded by every woman in Canada. This is especially woman's sphere of duty. She is the housekeeper and house manager. Upon her rests the responsibility for wasting or saving. A few men may grumble if the table is not spread as lavishly as usual, but the average man will submit to the rule of the woman of the house in household matters, more particularly when he realizes that in these days economy is an element of patriotism, as well as of personal profit. Many Daughters of the Empire throughout the country are assisting on local and national committees for educational work in this direction, and all Daughters of the Empire will be doing their duty by their country if they carry out, as far as possible, the directions of the authorities, and both by precept and by example save for their own benefit, as well as for the benefit of others.

Cards and letters received from prisoners in Germany are constantly giving evidence that the efforts of their friends in Canada to add to their comfort are appreciated. Their life in prison is wearisome at best, and in most cases exceedingly uncomfortable. There is no question that some are very harshly treated, but that depends altogether on the nature of the commandant of the camp. Apparently, however, there is no interference with the receipt of parcels sent through the authorities in England. The men do not all send acknowledgments, but that is no proof that they do not get the parcels. Some men are very poor correspondents at best, and as the prisoners are only allowed to write a very limited number of letters a month they may be excused if we do not hear from them oftener. The following have sent cards of acknowledgment during the last week: Pte. Johnston, Pte. Rutherford, Pte. Scholes, Sergt.-Major Thomson and Pte. Rock.

The Band of the 1st Hussars, under the leadership of Mr. Roselle Fococke, has been invited to the exhibition in Toronto, where they will put on a program which will doubtless delight the visitors and citizens of the provincial capital. The people of London can enjoy the same program, which will be given at the band concert in Victoria Park Sunday night under the auspices of the Campbell Becher Chapter.

This chapter will also have a garden fete at "Thornwood," the residence of Mrs. Becher, which has been kindly offered by her for that purpose. The date will be Friday, September 7. There will be instrumental music by the band, songs by some of London's best singers, fancy dances by children who know how to dance, not to mention the refreshments, which will be as good as war-time will allow. A recent bereavement will prevent Lady Beck from taking part, as was hoped. There will probably be some addresses, although this is not decided. The lovely grounds at "Thornwood" are always attractive, and will furnish a fitting site for this pleasant function. There is no doubt that under the convenership of Mrs. Line the entertainment will be successful. It is understood that this is not for ladies alone, but gentlemen who are disengaged after 4 o'clock will find a visit to the grounds an agreeable change after the labors of the day. Proceeds will be devoted to the furnishing of a ward for soldiers in the new sanatorium, which the chapter has undertaken at the cost of $500. Tickets can be had from Mrs. Greenaway, Mrs. Line or any member of the chapter, or at the gate. Admission 50 cents, which includes everything, concert, fancy dancing, refreshments and other attractions.

Acknowledging the receipt of $100 for the benefit of the men of the Western Ontario units at Bramshott Camp, Col. William Mahlon Davis writes to the treasurer of the London Municipal Chapter, under date of August 3:

"Dear Madam,—Capt. Galbraith has handed to me the kind donation from your chapters, and has asked me to acknowledge the receipt to you.

"Your response to the needs of our men was very munificent, and the amount should not have been referred to deprecatingly in your letter. I shall do my utmost to see that it is applied to the best interests of all who pass through my hands.

"The men have been acquainted with your kind action on their behalf, and all ranks are very enthusiastic in their thanks. I have written to the three chapters you mentioned, thanking them individually for their generous response.

"I shall inform you later, and at greater length, of exactly what we are doing to ameliorate conditions here, of the number of men from Western Ontario who have been disabled by the war, and are constantly passing through this depot.

"Again let me express the sincere thanks of all ranks to your chapters for the good work which you have performed since the outbreak of the war for the various causes." L. K. C.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

Power of "Thank You."

Dear Miss Grey,—If you think that I am writing too often and monopolizing too much space, why just consign this to the waste basket and oblige.

Miss Grey, really I sure appreciated your words of praise; they give me much courage to persevere in my ambition. Thank you very much.

And, by the way, I was just reflecting on the "power" of the words "thank you." I really believe that this imperfect world of ours would see more favors granted with hearty willingness if fewer "thank you's" were left unsaid. Of course, it is true that doers of kind deeds are not looking for effusive words of gratitude, but nevertheless if we acknowledge them even between our most intimate friends, or in our own families, we will be amply repaid in future kindnesses. But frequently we get to regard these little favors as a matter of course, and as a consequence our lack of appreciation leads to a discontinuance of kindnesses, and then we are apt to resent it, and feel slighted. Nothing is more natural than for a person who does a kindness and receives no "thank you" as an appreciation to interpret that it was not welcome. It is human nature, you know, and genuine politeness comes from the heart. These two little words, when said in the proper spirit, achieve big things. Here is an instance: At the factory where I do my daily "bit" the record output for nine hours was 900—(never mind what we make)—but one day when we made a record of 1,004, the superintendent thanked us personally, resulting in a new record a few days later of 1,235. He appreciated our efforts, and we were equally grateful for his appreciation.

Before closing, let me say a few words re "White Ribbon's" letter. I perfectly agree with her in that it is wholly unjust to take the bread out of the mouths of the poor in order that others might have beer. And I, for one, do not intend to curtail my food consumption one bit, for I fail to see any reason to do so while there is so much unfair "justice" being handed out to the people. The food controller has got on the wrong track, so to speak, to get desired hearty co-operation of the people. Thank you. With best wishes. Sincerely,

ORIGINAL LONELY.

Ans.—Our friend's little homily on the magic of "thank you" brings before us what we so often forget—the right of our loved ones in the home, and of our fellow workers in the shop or factory, to courtesy and politeness. Too often we are courteous to strangers, and the opposite to those with whom we most closely associate. Re what you ask me, "O. L."—I am a busy woman—but send it along!

Brownie Thanks Friend.

"The Brownie" sends thanks to "Friend of the Mail-Box" for the copy of an old song, "Brownie," your "lonely's" name is added to our list of "adoptees," and I know we will find more than one kind friend for him in our circle of readers.

"Skimping" in the Home.

Dear Miss Grey,—Here I am again. Perhaps you won't remember me, but I've been here before, and always take the greatest interest in the Cynthians. I noticed a letter in last Friday's Advertiser from "White Ribbon," and as you kindly ask for opinions, I am sending mine.

I quite agree with everything she says, especially about the Government refusing to abolish the making of whisky, beer, etc. When they will allow the valuable wheat to be used in such a way they certainly have lots of nerve to expect the workingman and his family to skimp and very few are doing anything else just now. My husband makes fairly good wages and I find I have all I can do, skimping included, to make ends meet, pay our way, and keep ourselves and five children. If anyone comes to me and asks me to promise anything I consider unreasonable or sign any pledge, I certainly shall not. I am quite willing to do my bit, but I can't possibly skimp any more than I am doing and keep my family properly, and there are plenty of others who think as "White Ribbon" and I do. Hoping to see more discussions on this subject, I remain,

AN INTERESTED READER.

Ans.—Thank you for adding your word to that of the rest. It is interesting to note that so far the consensus of opinion is the same as expressed by "White Ribbon." One cannot but wonder just how general this feeling is.

Amusing the Kiddies.

Dear Miss Grey,—It is some time since I wrote to the Mail-Box, so I thought I would write a few lines to let you know and those who wonder why "Aunt Nannie" does not write, that she has been sick for some time. I sent for some quilt patches, and I have received two lovely letters from her. She said in her last letter she would write to you as soon as she was able.

Miss Grey, you will be pleased to know my eldest boy passed his entrance, and my second boy passed his examination into junior Fourth.

Someone on our Page asked what would amuse a 2-year-old. Well, if it is a girl, I always found a doll and doll's buggy amused my three little girls the best, and my boys always liked a hammer and some shingle nails and a small box. He would hammer the nails in the soft wood of the box, and, of course, I had to pull them out for him to hammer in again, but I have known Pam to sit and hammer away for two hours at one time. Some give them carpet tacks, but I am always afraid of them putting those in their mouth. Hope this will help.

My husband is still in England, and when he received a box from me he was in a hospital. He said they certainly had a feast in the ward that night, and the boys with him said it was the best cake they had ever tasted. No doubt it seemed good to them, for they do not use any white flour in England now. Good-bye for this time. I will sign as before,

ONE FROM "OLD BRISTOL."

Ans.—I am indeed pleased to hear of your lads' success. How proud their soldier-daddy will be when he gets the good news! I was wondering when we might hope to hear from "Aunt Nannie." It is a long time now since she wrote the Mail-Box or to me personally, and I am so sorry to hear of her continued illness.

One can imagine that feast in the ward of the overseas hospital. It was good of your husband to share the prized cake with others. Now, let us hear from you again.

No "Nerve" Necessary.

Dear Miss Grey,—I have been a reader of your page for years now, but have never had the nerve to write before, but when it comes to writing for the soldier boys you can find nerve enough for anything. What say you? My husband has been in the army since August 6, 1914, and has never had any leave yet. I certainly think if petitioning for him would bring him home, I'm right here to do so. Would you kindly send me a sheet?

Am inclosing a cake recipe, which does not call for eggs or milk.

I would be glad of a lonely soldier's name and address. I know what it is for my own boy, and I pity others. Surely a box would cheer him a bit.

Yours, PEGGOTY.

Put in saucepan the following ingredients: Two cups brown sugar, two cups hot water, four tablespoons lard or butter, half teaspoon cinnamon, half teaspoon cloves, one package seeded raisins. Bring these to a boil, then boil steadily for five minutes. Take off stove, and when this mixture is cold add two teaspoons soda dissolved in a little hot water, add three or more cups of flour and beat vigorously. Cook in a slow oven. This cake is delicious.

Ans.—Am sure it would make a nice cake, and the eggiessness of it is especially prized by city readers. A copy of the petition being circulated is mailed you, together with the name of a "lonely," who will surely appreciate a box from "Peggoty."

The Rompers Pattern.

Dear Miss Grey,—Here I am to bother you once more. I daresay you won't mind as it is much cooler now than it has been. It is not for myself I come this time but for my sister who feels too shy to write to you herself. Can you fancy anyone feeling nervous when you always give them such a welcome? But never mind she is a dear girl and I am only too pleased to do it for her. She wished to know, Miss Grey, if she could have the pattern of the child's rompers that "Long Tongue" sent in last week. She would return it to you again as soon as she has taken it off. I am inclosing her address, with stamps, if you will be so kind as to mail it to her—that is, of course, if she is the first to apply for it.

It's too bad "Long Tongue" didn't sign a nicer pen name. I think "Sensible" would have been appropriate. It would be interesting to know why readers choose certain pen names. Mine is the name of our house, where we used to live in England, and yours, Miss Grey, I suppose was given by The Advertiser, was it not? Please excuse pencil, as my pen is worn out, and I forgot to get more. HEMBURY.

Ans.—I quite agree with you that "Long Tongue" nuis-named herself, and your choice seems much more appropriate. Unfortunately, however, our friend forgot to inclose the pattern, but no doubt she will be sending it along, when I shall be happy to mail it to your sister's address.

Yes, The Advertiser might be considered my godparent, but why "grey," rather than "green" or "white," I cannot say. Fortunate, is it not, that "khaki" was almost unknown when the name was chosen? Re your postscript, someone has been telling tales out of school, I fancy. What you ask was true of last year, but a few months ago a spring "flitting" changed the address. No offence at all, dear lady; it's nice of you to be interested.

Advertiser Patterns

A Dainty Boudoir Sack.

2068—Lawn, silk, crepe, satin, linen, batiste, challie, albatross, flannel and flannelette are nice for this style. The pattern has no seams, being held in place under the arms, with tacking, or if preferred, with ribbon. A ribbon bow holds the fronts. Lace, embroidered banding, feather stitching or piping will be suitable for trimming.

The pattern is cut in four sizes, small, for 32 and 34 inches bust measure, medium for 36 and 38 inches bust measure, large for 40 and 42 inches bust measure, and extra large for 44 and 46 inches bust measure. The small size requires 1½ yards of 36-inch material.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

ADVERTISER PATTERN DEPT.
Please send above-mentioned pattern, as per directions given below:

Age (if child's or misses' pattern).....

Measurement: Bust..... Waist.....

CAUTION: Be careful to inclose the above illustration, and send size of pattern wanted. When the pattern is bust measure you need only mark 33, 34 or whatever it may be. When in waist measure, 22, 24, 25, or whatever it may be. If a skirt, give waist and length measure. When misses' or child's pattern, write only the figure representing the age. It is not necessary to write "inches" or "years." Patterns cannot reach you in less than one week from date of application.

Pickling Recipes

Pickled Cabbage.

Chop cabbage fine, take enough for one-half gallon can, put in tablespoonful of salt, let stand over night, drain and add two tablespoonfuls of mustard seed, one pod of red pepper and horseradish. Mix well, then put in can, press tightly; then pour over cabbage enough vinegar to cover, seal in glass self-sealers.

Tomato Pickles.

Slice thin one gallon green tomatoes, salt and let stand over night; next morning drain, chop one gallon cabbage, grate one quart horseradish. Put tomatoes on in vinegar, boil until tender, pour over cabbage, let stand till cool, and drain. Mix horseradish, celery, mustard seed and mixed spices; then boil vinegar and sugar and pour over them.

Mixed Pickles.

One-fourth peck green tomatoes, twelve large pickles, three dozen small pickles, eight large onions, two heads cauliflower, one pint small green beans, one pint salt. Place in jar, let stand over night, rinse in cold water. Take equal parts vinegar and water, put in the ingredients, boil until tender (about ten minutes), drain, put three quarts vinegar, one pound brown sugar, one-half pound mustard seed, 5 cents' worth turmeric one-fourth pound ground mustard, four tablespoonfuls black pepper, one ounce celery seed. Let come to a boil; put in jar and seal.

Tomato Sweet Pickles.

Salt tomatoes, salt and let stand over night; then drain well and place in a porcelain kettle and cover with vinegar; let come to boil, then lift out the slices with a fork, and place in cans previously heated. Have a syrup ready. Two pints sugar, one of vinegar, with spices to taste; let boil till thick, and pour over tomatoes, then seal.

Ripe Tomato Pickles.

For seven pounds of tomatoes make a syrup of one quart of vinegar and four pounds of sugar. Scald, skin and drain the tomatoes. Boil them in the syrup, adding a little stick cinnamon. Must boil a long time, or until quite thick, or they will not keep unless in airtight cans.

WIN-THE-WAR RECIPES.

Every time cornmeal is used where wheat products were once used, we help to win the war. Have cornmeal mush for breakfast, with figs, dates or fruit for variety; use cornmeal in quiet breads, yeast breads, desserts. Omit all wheat breakfast cereals. Use rolled oats for muffins, rolls and yeast-raised bread.

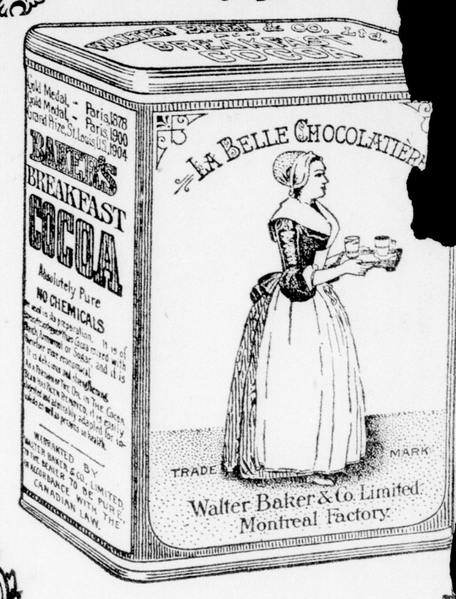

Cornmeal Muffins.—One cupful sour milk, one and one-third cupfuls flour, two-thirds cupful cornmeal, one to two tablespoonfuls fat, one to two tablespoonfuls sugar, one egg, one-half teaspoonful soda, two teaspoonfuls baking powder, one-half teaspoonful salt. Mix milk, egg and melted fat, and add dry ingredients well mixed.

Indian Pudding.—Three-fourth cupful cornmeal, one quart milk, one and one-half teaspoonfuls salt, three tablespoonfuls sugar, or one-third cupful molasses. Heat the milk. Sift in the cornmeal as in making mush. Add salt and sugar. Turn into buttered baking dish, put dish in pan of water and bake very slowly two and one-half to three hours. Serve with hard sauce, cream or crushed fruit.

Oatmeal Muffins.—One-half cupful cooked oatmeal or rolled oats, one egg, two tablespoonfuls fat, one and one-half cupfuls flour, two tablespoonfuls sugar, one-half teaspoonful salt, four teaspoonfuls baking powder. Cook oatmeal, using one part oatmeal to two parts water. A large proportion of water makes too soft a mush and gummy muffins. Mix milk, oatmeal, egg and melted fat. Add dry ingredients after sifting them together. Bake 25 to 30 minutes. This makes ten to twelve muffins.

Rye Muffins.—Two and one-half heaping tablespoonfuls each of rye and Indian meal, one tablespoonful sugar and melted butter, one tablespoonful salt, one egg, beaten; one-half teaspoonful of soda, one teaspoonful cream tartar dissolved in enough milk or water to make a drop batter. Beat well, drop by the spoon in hot fat or bake in muffin tins.

Stomach Cramps COLIC

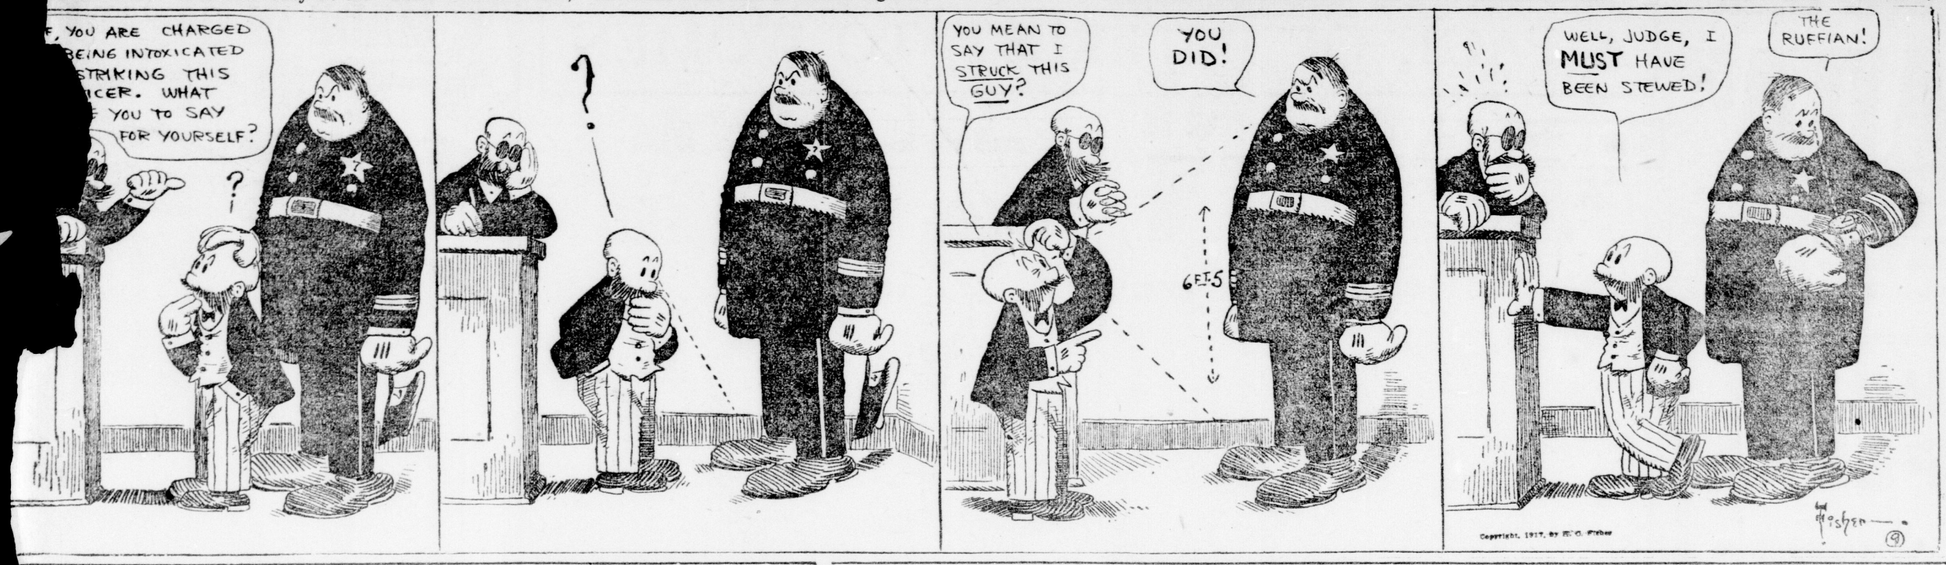

These are very painful, and their attacks are often sudden, and sometimes fatal. The principal seat is in the stomach and bowels, producing severe twisting, cramping pain, and often accompanied by vomiting. If you are troubled in this way, there is only one remedy to cure you, and that one is Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. It has a record of cures extending over 72 years, and we have yet to hear of a case where it has failed to either relieve or cure.

Beware of imitations and substitutes sold by unscrupulous dealers for the sake of greater profits, as these no-name, no-reputation, worthless preparations may prove dangerous to your health.

Mrs. H. Miller, 735 Mark street, Fort William, Ont., writes: "Last summer my husband came home from work, and could hardly straighten up for cramps. The first thing I gave him was a dose of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and I hadn't repeated it very long until he was all right again. It is the only remedy I give my children in the summer for cholera or cramps in the stomach. I have never been without it in the house for the last two or three years."

Training—Not Victory.

There is going to be no great credit attached to any college or university batting a winning football team this fall.

What is wanted is training and exercise, rather than victory. But a university that has sent the majority of its star football players to war, if beaten by a rival which hasn't sent nearly so many, is not likely to receive less credit when the final summing up is made.

It is for this reason that the best scheme available would be to have all teams made up of new talent, with no regular from last year or other years permitted to play, except as an assistant coach or instructor.

Then all would start from an even basis, and there could be no feeling that one university had been victorious because most of its regulars had remained at home.

"If a golfer with a flat swing can hit the ball further than with an upright swing, why shouldn't he keep to the first?" asks a reader. He should. But can he?

"Who was the greatest of Mack's three pitchers?" queries G. H. K.—"Bender, Plank or Coombs?" Why not split it three ways and suspend further debate?

THE CHANGE.

Once in the August days
We looked with a growing thrill
To the span of winning days
For the next world series mill.

But on with the laurelled brow,
Where the battling lines advance;
There's but one world series now—
Where the line-up stands in France.

"Twelve thousand Canadian fans saw Cubs beat Tigers." Depressing Canada, even with 500,000 men at the front, is no light task.

While the Aviation Corps may produce the great element of thrills, the infantry and the artillery still have sufficient left to take care of the normal citizen's daily needs.

LINDLEY MURRAY WINS NATIONAL PAT. SINGLES

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 24.—Playing tennis of the most strenuous California brand, Lindley Murray of Niagara Falls, N. Y., but formerly of the Pacific coast, defeated John R. Strachan of San Francisco, 4—6, 6—3, 6—3, 6—1, in the semi-final round of the national patriotic singles tournament. Victory gave him the right to meet N. W. Niles of Boston in the climax of the tournament tomorrow, weather permitting, on the courts of the West Side Club here.

Murray's advance was opposed to the limit of Strachan's ability and endurance, the loser going down to defeat after one of the best exhibitions of tennis seen in the present tourney. The loser forced Murray to draw upon the last ounce of his vaunted speed and racquet skill, and it was at these times that the victor showed the full extent of his power of stroke and court-covering pace.

The rain halted the special exhibition between Miss Molla Bjurstedt of New York and Miss Mary Browne of San Francisco, after one set and two games had been placed. Miss Bjurstedt won the set at 6—4, due to her harder and more accurate driving. The wet court and balls appeared to disconcert her less than the loser, who failed to show the speed and certainty of play so prominent in earlier matches.

BROOKLYN LAD WINS ALBERTS AT QUEBEC

QUEBEC, Aug. 25.—"Red" Allen, of Brooklyn, earned a shade over Johnny "Kid" Alberts, of New York, in a ten-round bout before the Irish-Canadian Club here tonight. The bout was one of the fastest and toughest seen here for some time, and Allen's work was surprising, the Brooklyn boy outpointing his opponent in five of the ten rounds. Alberts showed hitting ability, but Allen's speed offset this and the former landed few effective blows. The fight was full of action all the way, both boys trying desperately for a knockout. The men are welterweights, cannot be served fresh. But we will have

NEW YORK HAS TO SPLIT WITH CUBS

Philadelphia Wins Twice From Cincinnati.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—New York and Chicago broke even on a double-header here today, the Giants winning the first game 3 to 1, while the Cubs evened up by winning the second 12 to 2.

New York won the first game by scoring three runs off Douglas in the fifth inning on a hit batsman, a sacrifice, a double steal, and hits by Burns, Herzog and Kauff.

In the second game the Cubs pounded Demaree for fourteen hits in seven innings, scoring seven runs in the seventh. Scores:

FRANK MILLER SHUTS OUT BOSTON BRAVES

BOSTON, Aug. 24.—Frank Miller pitched Pittsburg to a 1 to 0 victory over Boston today. Barnes was hit for three doubles and two singles. In the fourth inning, with one out, Bigbee dropped a Texas league double to right, took third as Carey was thrown out by Maranville, and scored on Boeckel's single through shortstop. Bigbee made ten putouts in left field.

PHILLIES BOTH ANNEX GAMES FROM REDS

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 24.—Hard hitting gave Philadelphia two victories over Cincinnati today, the scores being 6 to 5 and 7 to 6. Both Oeschger and Regan were hit hard in the first game.

In eight trips to the plate Cravath made three triples and a single, and secured a base on balls, while Groh made six singles and got a base on balls in nine times at the plate. Scores:

WILLARD WILL MANAGE OWN RING AFFAIRS NOW

Jess Believes He Can Handle His Own Business—Impresses Circus Audiences With Form—Is Ready to Battle Any Time.

While he is not knocking in any way his former associates, Tom Jones and Jack Curley, heavyweight champion Jess Willard says he's through with managers for all time.

Jess is not the sort of a fellow to "knock," setting an example in this respect that would be a good rule for other pugilists who break with their managers to pattern after. He simply dismisses the subject by saying that he feels he is capable to take care of his own business affairs if he is able to run a circus and is going to give it a trial, anyhow.

He believes that a guide is only extra baggage and says that he'll demand only a fair purse to enter the ring at any time after his circus season is ended. "I don't want to hold them up, nor do I wish to sidestep any fellow whom the critics say has a chance with me," is the way Willard puts it. "I simply will ask a purse such as a championship bout should merit, get in shape and lick my adversary if it's within my power to do so. Three weeks' training will be enough to get off what surplus weight I am now carrying and put my mind in shape, then I'll try to show the public that I am no 'cheese champion.'"

Stripped for action in the exhibition bout in his Wild West show, Willard explodes the over-weight theory and at the same time gives an idea of how hard it is for the ordinary big fellow to reach a vulnerable spot on his massive frame. His sparring partner, Monahan, is a big man, but has to leap in the air to put a finishing punch on Jess's jaw. At one point of the three-round bout Willard drops his defense and allows Monahan to land three or four hard stomach blows without effort to stop them, showing that he can stand a punch in his midsection as well as anywhere else.

Willard says he expects to take his circus through the south, and possibly to Havana this fall, and, in the event the Cuban trip is arranged, will close up shop about September 1.

CURRENT COMMENT On Live Happenings of the SPORT WORLD

It looks as though the Beaches will be opponents of the Blue Labels here on Labor Day. Manager Dinsmore promised them that they would be given the first holiday to get back some of the prestige they left here on Civic Holiday, when they dropped both games.

Upwards of one hundred horses are training at Dexter Park, Detroit. It is expected that quite a few of these will start during the state fair, which comes in a few weeks.

The owner of Ben Ali, that won the Board of Commerce and other big stakes at recent meets, will start him in the free-for-all at Poughkeepsie.

The Toronto St. Mary's team badly wanted to play London on Labor Day. They are one of the best teams in Toronto, and the fact that they are anxious to play the Labels should show local fans that the London boys are quite some crew.

Toneka, a local horse, clipped something off the Eel's record on the half-mile track at Mitchell the other day when he made the circuit in 2:10¼. It took The Eel 2:11 to get around. John Darch is the owner of Toneka.

It is very likely that Ernie Dinsmore and a few others will take over the management of the Blue Labels, as the cigarmakers are not satisfied with the results produced by the team. Although the Labels are a winning team, fans haven't supported them, and they have not been a paying proposition. Manager Dinsmore believes that he can break even at least with them.

The Toronto Star remarks that O'Connell of the Beaches pitched a rare good game on Saturday in Toronto, giving a remarkable exhibition of in-and-out pitching. When the Beaches played here on Civic Holiday they had one O'Connell pitching for them, but nothing remarkable was noted in his hurling—except that the Labels did not find it hard to hit his delivery.

North Randall Park has the honor of the best line meeting this season.

So far Cox is at the top of the money-winning drivers. The Murphy stable has shown expected form, and unless the real lady is in shape for the futurities, the Poughkeepsie driver will not be the topnotcher.

The Beaches are the O. A. L. A. champions for 1917. They got this title last Saturday when they trimmed the Maitlands, another Toronto team, 7—3. London fans shouldn't forget that the Labels once upon a time took a double-header from the Beaches.

Early Dreams came out in 1914 when he won eight out of nine races and a half-mile track record of 2:14 1-3. He took four the following year, and in 1916 did not race at all. He has a chance to be the fastest race trotter this year.

With the death of Fred C. Chittick, Ottawa loses a man prominent in sport. Mr. Chittick, who was 50 years of age, came into prominence as a goalkeeper for the Ottawa hockey club. He played rugby for the Ottawa Rough Riders, lacrosse for the Capitals, boxed and cycled for the O. A. C., and when he gave up active participation in sports managed the Rough Riders in the Interprovincial Rugby Union and a baseball team in the Ottawa city league, and was a rugby referee.

The New York Evening Sun says that President Ban Johnson still insists that Washington will remain permanently on the American League circuit, but, adds the Sun, "If at any time Johnson should decide to withdraw the team from the national capital, however, Providence would not be selected. Toronto, the best paying city in the International League, would have the call beyond a question of doubt. At present Johnson favors a new major league comprising Providence, Toronto, Buffalo, Baltimore, Louisville, Indianapolis, Milwaukee and either Kansas City or Columbus." This is the old story revived. After this year's experience with the American Association in regard to the cancelled inter-league series, clubs of the International League will be a bit chary about doing business with the westerners. A Toronto man's suggestion to Ban Johnson is that the American League be enlarged to ten clubs instead of eight, and that the new clubs should be located in Toronto and Baltimore. This would leave the Washington team at the national capital and add two of the best baseball teams on the continent to the Ban Johnson circuit.

Anyone who doubts the one-time right of the Athletics to win world's championships can be referred today to these facts. Charles Albert Bender, one of the stars cut loose by Connie Mack when he wrecked his famous team, has won three successive games by shutouts, and has a string of four consecutive victories. Colby Jack Coombs has been a consistent pitcher for Brooklyn until this season, and still has enough pitching ability to discount many a young hurler. Eddie Plank turned in his uniform only a few days ago—not because he could last longer pitch, but because he was ill. He was having a successful season. There they are, the three stars of the last Mack hope-crusher, and they were veterans when Mack decided to drop them. Bender's record is the most imposing. Beginning on August 6, when he defeated the Cubs 6 to 2, the famous Chippewa has won a straight quartet of games. His reel of shutouts began August 14, against the Braves, when he dropped them, 3 to 0, the Braves collecting only four hits. On August 18 he met the Pirates, and turned them back, 3 to 0, with three hits. Yesterday he faced the Cubs, and this time Kilduff was the only man to hit safely. He got one hit. Bender, like many of the old Mackmen, was a college star at one time, but he was discovered by Mack in 1902. He was a member of the famous hurling crops Mack gathered in 1905. In that year he was the only Philadelphia pitcher to score a victory over the Giants in the world's series.

LEAFS LOSE LEAD TO PROVIDENCE

Gregg Was a Puzzle to Toronto—Holds Leafs to 7 Scattered Hits.

TORONTO, Aug. 24.—Toronto could not hit Vean Gregg today and lost the league leadership to the Providence Greys in a game that resulted 4 to 1. Gregg had eight strikeouts and kept seven hits well scattered. Hearne made no trouble for the Grays. Score: R. H. E.

ROGERS TROPHY GOES TO WALKERVILLE RINK

ESSEX, Aug. 24.—The finals of both events of the Essex Scotch doubles were played this evening. Carl Bake, coupled with Harry Hayden of Walkerville, wins the Rogers trophy in the first event from W. A. Clark, coupled with L. L. Barber of Essex, by a score of 15 to 14, in one of the finest exhibitions of bowling played on the Essex bowling greens this season. The game was fought to a finish by both teams. The second event was also a very good specimen of bowling. J. R. Gay, coupled with A. Detwiller of Essex, wins this event with the Union Bank trophy from E. D. Smith, coupled with L. Handy of Wheatley, by a score of 9 to 11.

CENTENNIALS WIN

The Centennials defeated the McCormik nine at Queen's Park last night. The score was 8—3. The game was alive from start to finish, and tht teams were tied 3—3 until the last inning, when the Centennials rallied, and collected five runs. Their team work and general pulling together to break the tie won the game for them with a big margin on the side.

On Labor Day the Centennials will couple up with Wilson's colored team at Springbank. This is the collection that put a crimp in the Centennials' winning streak some days ago. After winning thirteen straight games the Centennials were trimmed by the Wilson aggregation. The churchmen are looking for revenge and believe that they see it coming on Labor Day.

MABEL TRASK WINS FREE-FOR-ALL TROT

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 24.—Mabel Trask, the favorite, won the free-for-all trot, the feature of the closing day's card of the grand circuit meeting at Belmont track today. Three of the fastest trotters on the circuit started in the event, which Mabel Trask took in straight heats in close finishes with St. Frisco, and established a new track record for trotters in a race in the second heat, which was stepped in 2:05¼. Cox allowed Geers to make the pace in both heats and brought Mabel Trask up through the stretch to win by a head both times.

Geers had a big day, winning the two-year-old trot with Peter June, and the 2:22 pace with Robert Gatewood, in addition to taking second money in the free-for-all. The colt race, which was split up by rain on Thursday, went to split heats. Peter June, which finished seventh on Thursday, outstepped his field in both heats today, going the third heat in 2:08¾, and giving Ruth Main Sheet her first defeat of the season.

North Spur, driven by Cox, won his second race of the meeting, taking the 2:23 trot in straight heats, and stepping the middle heat in 2:10¼.

The meeting opens at Poughkeepsie on Monday. Summaries:

NEW PHYSICAL DIRECTOR MAY BE NAMED TUESDAY

New Rules Will Permit Last Year's Players to Remain on Basketball Team Again This Year—Lightfoot May Be Back.

Who will be the new physical director of the Y. M. C. A. to take the place of A. T. Taylor, who recently resigned? This is what is worrying young athletes at the "Y." Many applications have been received by the secretary, and the matter will come up before the board of directors at their meeting on Tuesday evening.

There is a possible chance of G. C. Markle, for many years a worker at the Y. M. C. A., and handled many of the basketball games last season, of securing this position, but it is not known yet.

The members of the "Y" Juniors, last year's champs of the O. A. B. A., have requested A. T. Taylor to handle the team again this season.

The schedule for the O. A. B. A. will be drawn up the first of next month, and the City League and High School League, which made a great hit last year, will also be operated again this season.

Since the age limit of the Ontario Basketball Association has been raised to 20 years, all the players of last year's team will again be on the line-up. Lightfoot, one of the stars of last year's team, is down in the States, but is expected back before the season opens. A few of the lads, who made good with the High School League last year, will be given a chance on the Junior team this season, so the "Kids" have a good chance of copping off the silverware again this year.

CLEO B. STARS AT OWOSSO MEET

OWOSSO, Mich., Aug. 24.—The work of Cleo B., in the free-for-all, featured the racing card that wound up the Shortship races here today. The Detroit mare, after finishing fourth in the first two heats, grabbed the third in a hard fight, and then took the next two easily. In winning the last heat she stepped the mile in 2:10¼, the fastest heat of the four days' meet, and within a quarter of a second of the track record, held by Texas Jim. She did it on a heavy track, while a sharp, cold wind was blowing. Unofficial timers got her at 2:09½ and 2:09¾.

Capt. Heir-at-Law copped the first two heats in this event and fought Cleo B. hard in the third, but finished No. 3 in the last two, in which Cleo went under the wire several lengths ahead.

Cleo B. was the favorite in the betting.

Texas Star, by Star Hal, owned and driven by C. Lindburg of Toronto, landed the 2:25 pace in straight heats, after finishing ninth in the first heat. Jessie B. put the fight into the race, finishing second four times, and pressing John at all times. There were eleven starters in this event.

Josie B., a Fowlerville, Mich., mare, lowered the local track record for trotters, stepping the mile in 2:12¾. The previous record was 2:14¾, held by Vastor, a Canadian horse.

SISLER 2ND PLACE IN AMER. LEAGUE BATTING AVERAGES

Ty Cobb Falls Off 4 Points, But Still Safe in Lead—Rousch Still Heads Nationals.

Chicago, Aug. 25.—Driving out ten hits in his last six games has given George Sisler of St. Louis second place among the American League batters, according to averages released today. The St. Louis star, who forced Speaker, the 1916 batting champion, into third place, has an average of .352. Speaker is trailing a point behind him. Cobb fell off four points within the last week, but is safely out in front with .381. The averages include games of Wednesday.

Neither Chicago nor Boston, which are making a desperate bid for the pennant, has a player among the .300 hitters with the exception of pitchers. Ruth, the star Boston hurler, is batting .348 for 37 games, and Russell of Chicago .327. Felsch of Chicago leads the regulars in batting with .297.

Pipp of New York and Veach of Detroit remain tied for home-run honors with seven each. Chapman of Cleveland increased his total in sacrifice hitting to 57, and his stolen base record to 38. Detroit continues to lead in team batting with an average of .257.

Leading batters for half their clubs' games: Cobb, Detroit, .381; Sisler, St. Louis, .352; Speaker, Cleveland, .351; Harris, Cleveland, .313; Chapman, Cleveland, .307; Bodie, Philadelphia, .305; McInnis, Philadelphia, .300; Veach, Detroit, .293; Felsch, Chicago, .297; Rice, Washington, .295.

Roush of Cincinnati continues to show the way, in the National League batting with an average of .350. Cravath of Philadelphia broke the triple tie for home-run hitting by boosting his total to 9. Doyle and Williams of Chicago continue to fight it out for honors in sacrifice hitting, each having 24. Carey of Pittsburg adds five more stolen bases to his total, bringing it up to thirty-seven. Cincinnati with an average of .265 is leading New York by one point in team batting.

Leading batters for half their team's games:

Roush, Cincinnati, .350; Cruise, St. Louis, .318; Hornsby, St. Louis, .317; Kauff, New York, .314; Groh, Cincinnati, .308; Wilhoit, New York, .304; Zimmerman, New York, .260; Griffith, Cincinnati, .300; Neale, Cincinnati, .293; Burns, New York, .297.

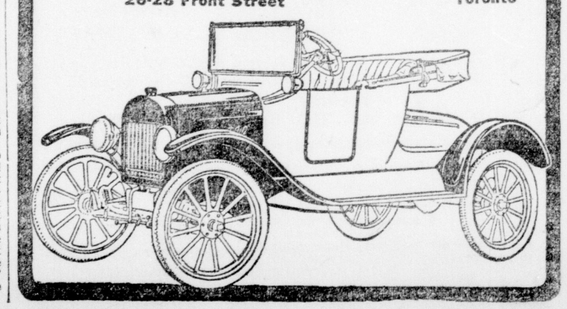

SMALLWOOD SOLD TO YANKEES.

MONTREAL, Aug. 24. — Walter Smallwood, star pitcher of the Newark baseball club, has been sold to the New York club of the American League, so President James R. Price, of the Newark club, announced here tonight. Price said if Smallwood joins the United States army the deal will be off.

MARY PICKFORD AT PATRICIA THEATRE ALL NEXT WEEK IN HER GREATEST PHOTOPLAY

George A. Steer, a Local Entertainer, Patricia Next Week.

George A. Steer, well known to Londoners for his ability as an entertainer, will appear at the Patricia Theatre next week. He needs no introduction to a local audience, his work in the past being a sufficient recommendation. His numbers for next week will be entirely new and novel.

"Mary Pickford in Artcraft Production, "A Romance of the Redwoods," at the Patricia All Next Week.

Mary Pickford, the most famous woman in motion picturedom, will appear at the Patricia Theatre all next week in her greatest success, "A Romance of the Redwoods." The following is the cast and synopsis:

Cast.

Mary Lawrence ... MARY PICKFORD
Jack" Brown, a road agent.....
.....Elliott Dexter
Flynn, head of the vigilance committee.....Charles Ogle
Sam Sparks, a gambler...Tully Marshall
Dick Roland, a miner..Raymond Hatton
The Sheriff .....Walter Long
John Lawrence, Jenny's uncle.....
.....Winter Hall

Synopsis.

Around the marble-top table of a quaint, New England parlor are seated friends of the late Widow Lawrence, just deceased. What to do with Jenny, the only child, is the topic of the whispered conversation. Several offer to take the little girl to live with them, when the lawyer announces that the last wish of her mother was that she be sent to her uncle, who left for the California gold mines two months previous. The idea appeals to Jenny, and thus, during the big rush of '49, she leaves for California to live with her uncle.

John Lawrence, the uncle, has been found by Indians and his body is killed by "Black" Brown, a road agent, who is being pursued by the sheriff's posse. Substituting the clothes and papers of the dead man for his own, the bandit passes as a wealthy man from Boston, and lives in the little mining camp of "Strawberry Flats." In secret however, he still plies his cutlaw trade on stage coaches and pack trains.

Jenny arrives at the cabin of "John Lawrence," and, horrified at the sight of dirt and disorder, begins to straighten things out. From her bag she takes a pair of carpet slippers, which she has embroidered, and, with a little card, places them on the mantel to surprise her beloved uncle. When Jack, as the impostor is known, enters, Jenny asks the whereabouts of her uncle. With an evil leer, the bandit advises her that he is her "uncle" and tells her of her relative's death. Later, in order to protect herself from the hands of a ruffian, Jenny is compelled to establish herself as the niece of Jack.

Love From Jenny.

At the cabin Jack finds the slippers and the card, "With love, from Jenny." He begins to realize the sincerity of this little girl, and sincerity and affection have been so long forgotten in his rough life that they appeal warmly to him. Jenny refuses to sleep in the house, and is put to bed in the horse-shed, and the next morning makes the best of things. Taking complete charge of the house, she prepares for Jack the first good breakfast he has had for some time, and a warm friendship springs up between the two.

One morning, while cleaning up the cabin, Jenny finds a handkerchief in which are cut two eye-holes, and suddenly realizes what this man really does. In the meantime one of the miners is robbed while taking a load of gold to the depot to be shipped home. In rage, his partner rushes to the saloon to kill the sheriff for not giving the gold proper guard, but the sheriff draws first, and the miner drops with a bullet through his heart. Jenny, with sudden realization, connects the robbery with the handkerchief, picks up a letter to his mother which dropped from the murdered miner's hand, and goes to her cabin, where she prepares to leave immediately.

Married at Last.

Back in the cabin, Jack pleads with Jenny that he could not let her report him with the washing which she had been doing for the miners, but Jenny is not won over. At this point a knock comes to the door, and the vigilance committee enters. Jenny throws her shawl over the gold sack, and then begins a battle of wits. Jack is finally cornered, however, and his immediate execution is arranged, despite the pleadings of Jenny. Just as her sweetheart is about to be hung from a cabin rafter, Jenny returns to the room with a little white dress, which she has taken from the doll, and the apparent significance of the situation dawns upon the men, who are very fond of her. They agree to give Jack his freedom if he marries the girl at once, and a justice of peace performs the ceremony. After the newly-married couple have left the cabin for all time, the men find a half-naked doll, and they realize they have been tricked. Several grip their guns and are about to start after the couple, when Jim Lyn, the leader, orders the men back, saysing, "Boys, I reckon when twenty men have been fooled by one woman, they had better take their medicine." And in the freshness of the early morning, Jenny and Jack come through the gloom of the great trees and out into the rosy light of the future.

At the Patricia Theatre all next week.

Greatest Productions In Film World at the Patricia Soon.

Among the great screen features to be seen at the Patricia soon are included the supreme productions in motion pictures. The following are a few of the colossal picturizations for early presentation at the Patricia:

"The Birth of a Nation," fair week; "The Fall of the Romanoffs," Illidor's startling story of Rasputin, the uncrowned czar of Russia; Bryant Washburn and Hazel Daly in "Skinner's Baby"; "The Deemster," Hall Caine's great story, featuring the author's son, Hall Derwent Caine, and "Womanhood," the glory of a nation, starring Alyce Joyce. In addition to the above-named attractions, will be seen the famous Goldwyn pictures, featuring Jane Cowl Mae Marsh, Maxine Elliott, Mary Garden and Madge Kennedy.

Other famous stars to be seen in their latest productions will be: Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks, George M. Cohan, Elsie Ferguson, Geraldine Farrar and W. S. Hart.

Mae Marsh, in "Polly of the Circus," the First Goldwyn Picture at the Patricia, Commencing on September 24.

Commencing on Monday, September 24 next, the first Goldwyn picture will be shown in this city at the Patricia Theatre. Mae Marsh, in "Polly of the Circus," will be the first of these famous productions, which will appear here exclusively at the Patricia.

In a summary of its activities issued this week, Goldwyn Pictures Corporation announced that it has ten big features either completed or under way. This record makes good the concern's promise when it began operations that it would have a dozen films in reserve before it released its initial feature. The first Goldwyn picture to be screened publically will be Mae Marsh's "Polly of the Circus," set for September 9. A statement from the New York office says:

"Considerably more than $1,000,000 has thus far been invested in the pictures made or in the making, this amount not being inclusive of any of the cost of distribution, overhead or the operation of the Goldwyn branch offices.

"Organization has been affected throughout the United States; Goldwyn Pictures, Limited, of Canada, is actively operating in the Dominion, and arrangements are virtually completed for prompt operation of Goldwyn organizations in England, Australia, South America, and other more distant lands."

Thus far the completed Goldwyn pictures are:

Mae Marsh, in "Polly of the Circus," by Margaret Mayo.

Madge Kennedy, in "Baby Mine," by Margaret Mayo.

Maxine Elliott, in "The Eternal Magdalene," by Robert McLaughlin.

Jane Cowl, in "The Spreading Dawn," by Basil King.

Mae Marsh, in "Sunshine Alley," by Mary Rider.

Maxine Elliott, in "Fighting Odds," by Roi Cooper Mergue and Irvin S. Cobb.

Mae Marsh, in "Fields of Honor," by Irvin S. Cobb.

Pictures now in the making at Goldwyn's New Jersey studios are:

Mabel Normand, in "Joan of Flatbush," by Porter Emerson Browne.

Madge Kennedy, in "Newly Married," by Edgar Selwyn.

Mae Marsh, in "The Cinderella Man," by Edward Childs Carpenter.

Roy Griffin, the silver-voiced tenor, who returns to the Majestic Theatre on Monday next, after an absence of three weeks. Mr. Griffin needs no introduction, having won his way into the hearts of Majestic patrons during his eleven weeks' engagement there. Patrons will welcome the return of Roy Griffin, whose stay will extend over a period of some weeks.

AN ALL-STAR BILL AT THE MAJESTIC WEEK OF AUGUST 27

Lou Tellegen and Mary Fuller in "The Long Trail" Monday and Tuesday at the Majestic.

A tale of the Canadian Northwest, of the land where trappers and hunters ply their trade and the "tenderfoot" comes but rarely, "The Long Trail" produced by the Famous Players, starring Lou Tellegen and Mary Fuller on the Paramount program, will be seen at the Majestic Theatre Monday and Tuesday next.

In this picture Lou Tellegen is seen as Andre Dubois, a French-Canadian trapper. His little sister, Michette, and he keep house on the edge of a clearing, and as she grows to womanhood he realizes that he must send her away to school, although it breaks his heart to lose her.

On their return to the hotel the next morning Louise's fiancee breaks their engagement, and the girl is left to her own resources. Andre immediately offers her the shelter of his name and home, and after a hasty wedding the two begin a queer sort of double-housekeeping arrangement, each keeping strictly to his particular room in Andre's shack.

Harold Jarvis Closes His Engagement at the Majestic Today.

Harold Jarvis, the famous tenor, will conclude his engagement at the Majestic Theatre today.

His singing has been greatly appreciated by patrons of this popular theatre, who will regret his departure. He leaves on a tour in a few weeks, and today may be Londoners' final opportunity of hearing this famous vocalist.

Earle Williams In "Transgression" at the Majestic Monday and Tuesday Next.

As an extra attraction, Earle Williams will appear with Corinne Griffith in the Greater Vitagraph Blue Ribbon feature, "Transgression," at the Majestic on Monday and Tuesday of next week. "I want to marry you at once, dear. I want you now—tonight!" The woman had angled for months for just such a proposal. But now it had come at the worst possible moment. For within hearing, in the next room, was a man with a prior claim upon her. Taking chances, though, was part of Caroline Shrefton's profession—so she accepted the offer of marriage from Hal Page, millionaire.

Charles Ray Stars in "The Clodhopper," Triangle-Ince Play.

"Clodhopping" promises to be the new dance craze as done by Charles Ray in the roof garden scene of the new Triangle play, "The Clodhopper," written by Monte M. Katterjohn and produced under the supervision of Thomas H. Ince, which will be shown at the Majestic Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday.

To pass from the obscurity of Bumpkinville to bright lighted fame on Broadway in three days, and three nights is the dizzying sensation that Ray undergoes as the Clodhopper. He becomes a celebrity of Lobster square largely by virtue of his eccentric dress and his ability to execute a curious dance.

Alice Brady at Majestic In Her Latest Success, "Then I'll Come Back to You."

You have undoubtedly often read about the great lumber drives, life in the lumber camps, the thrilling adventures of the bridge builders and the romance of love in the wilds of the forest, but it has very seldom been accorded any one of the privilege of witnessing any of these filmed in the "true-to-life" atmosphere such as will be seen in the coming Alice Brady feature picture, "Then I'll Come Back to You," which will be seen at the Majestic Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, matinee only.

But this picture goes even further than portraying any one or two of the above thrills, for it has packed all in one, making it full of red-blooded action such as is seldom seen in any picture. Every scene carries a punch, and throughout the picture, contrasting the rough life of the lumberjacks, is the sweet, loving daughter of the lumber king, refined, pleasant and loveable.

Douglas Fairbanks In "Flirting With Fate" at the Majestic Friday and Saturday Next.

"Gol darn it!" exclaimed Douglas Fairbanks while they were filming his newest picture, "Flirting With Fate," which is to be seen at the Majestic Theatre, beginning Friday, August 31, Septembers 1. "I'm sick and tired of seeing these fashionplate heroes of the screen go through everything as though life held nothing new for them. In this play I'm supposed to be a very nervous man and an inexperienced man. So just to be consistent and different I'm going to skip a few of the details."

"All right, Douggy," answered his director. "Go as far as you like. But if it doesn't look right when you get through you'll have to do it my way."

Fair Visitors Invited to Park Cars In Special Majestic Theatre Reservation at Rear of This Popular Playhouse.

The management of the Majestic in order to provide accommodations for fair visitors who will come to the city by motor, has made special provision for the parking of cars at the rear of the theatre. There is a large available parking area here, reached from King street, the entrance being on the north side of the street, a hundred feet east of Clarence street. The accommodation is extended to all fair visitors.

Coming Majestic Attractions.

AT THE STAR

Eleventh Episode, "Mystery of the Double Cross."

There are hundreds of girls throughout the country who would be motion picture stars if they had the opportunity of meeting a director who could see their possibilities and develop them, according to William Parke, who directed the "Mystery of the Double Cross" serial, the eleventh episode of which is to be shown at the Star Theatre Wednesday and Thursday next.

Eighth Chapter of "The Neglected Wife" at the Star Today.

Thrills vie with an intense dramatic interest in the eighth episode of "The Neglected Wife," the big Pathe serial made from Mabel Herbert Urner's books, "The Journal of a Neglected Wife" and "The Woman Alone," to be shown at the Star Theatre today.

In the last episode, Mary Kennedy learned that Margaret Warner, the young magazine writer, was the other woman in her husband's life, while Kennedy became insanely jealous of Norwood's attentions to Margaret.

William Courtney In "The Recoil" at the Star Monday and Tuesday Next.

In his next photoplay, Pathe's "The Recoil," William Courtenay, the celebrated Broadway star who has been seen also on the screen in "The Romantic Journey," "Kick In" and "Hunting of the Hawk," will have as his leading woman, Lillian Breuze, protegee of Sarah Bernhardt, the star of New York's French Theatre. The stars are the best the stage affords, the sets are sumptuous, the locations well chosen, and the atmosphere of "The Recoil" perfect.

At the Star Theatre Monday and Tuesday next.

Charles Ray in "The Clodhopper," at the Majestic Wednesday and Thursday next.

MARY GARDEN THE FAMOUS OPERA STAR TO COMMENCE SOON ON GOLDWYN PICTURE

Mary Garden, the famous opera star, who is at present in Paris, has sent a wireless to the New York office of Goldwyn Pictures, informing them that she would arrive in America the first week in September.

Immediately upon receipt of this wireless Goldwyn hastened its efforts to be ready for Miss Garden's arrival, getting the Fort Lee studios in readiness so that no time will be lost in the starting of her first motion picture. This is to be a screen adaptation from her famous opera, "Thais," which she has played hundreds of times, and which has delighted millions of opera enthusiasts.

For the past six months Goldwyn Pictures have been promising the motion picture public a higher class of production and within the last two weeks have shown their first efforts to the trade and press of the country. If the criticisms of the leading newspapers throughout the United States can be taken as any criterion, the public of the Dominion will be assured of seeing the most extraordinary motion picture productions during the coming year.

"HELL'S BELLES" PRESENTED WITH DECORATED GARTERS BY WINDY CITY MAIDENS

New Mutual Picture Will Feature Famous 48th Highlanders.

Every man in the 48th Regiment, Canadian Highlanders, "Hell's Belles," as the Mutual Film Corporation picture features the command, has a new pair of garters somewhere in his ditty bag, presented to him by a Chicago girl of the Chicago Allied Aid Sisters, and thereby hands a story.

When the 48th was in Chicago on its famous recruiting mission, the Allied Aid Sisters, who are American girls to the last frock, wanted to do something to show these "Hieland" lads they liked 'em. Nothing easier in the world. Of course as the "Hielanders" wore stockings, they also wore garters. So a very ornate pair of knee ties went to every man of the command.

The kilties are gentlemen born. They smothered their amusement and accepted the garters with pretty speeches. Col. J. S. Dennis said garters were the very things he had been languishing for. Now he'd got 'em and he was going to carry 'em into Germany to use for handcuffs on the Bosche he met.

Canadians who witness the Mutual Film Corporation's quick-action picture of the 48th on its march through Chicago will observe, if they watch the picture entitled "Hell's Belles," which is what Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria christened the Scottish regiment, that Lieut.-Col. Dennis, Lieut.-Col. C. W. Darling, Lieut. Alex Sinclair, and even Regimental Chaplain Brown, are wearing the Chicago girls' decorations. Lieut.-Col. Darling said he never expected to get the garter, but it met him at the station. Every garter has the initials of the girl who made it embroidered on the ribbon.

At the Majestic Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, matinee only, in "Then I'll Come Back To You."

BESSIE BARRISCALE HAS TO DO ACROBATIC STUNT

Bessie Barriscale, in the several years she was a screen favorite before becoming a producing star under her own company management, never was called upon to do a "stunt."

Irony of fate! She becomes a star at the head of her own company and in her very first picture she has to do a literal hair raiser.

As Jinnie Singleton in "Rose o' Paradise" she is abducted by a villainous uncle, who seeks her fortune. He locks her in a deserted building in the slums of a city. She escapes by climbing out a window, walking along a ledge and climbing to the roof.

Under the direction of James Young, Miss Barriscale went to selected location in a Los Angeles alley, and while hundreds of people looked on, made her "escape" according to the manuscript.

When she reached the street, Miss Barriscale said that while she had not felt at all nervous while doing the climb to the roof of the building seven stories in the air, she would not like to do anything like it again.

Motion pictures are to be encountered in the remotest parts of the globe, coming to light in the most unexpected quarters. Cherry Kearton, the well-known African traveler, recently uncovered in Uganda a picturedrome belonging to the ruling chief, who was educated under an English tutor. In this little theatre, thousands of miles from civilization, are shown films of English, French and American life, to the immense amusement of the natives permitted to attend. In the island of Tahiti, in the South Seas, there are no less than three motion picture shows that do a thriving business, the natives being picture-mad. Just on the Arctic Circle, in Sweden, in the little town of Haparanza, there is a movie house patronized by Laplanders, who come on snowshoes, and with reindeer sleds when the weather is sufficiently favorable so that the theatre can be kept open. It is a long cry from there to the equator, but the motion picture industry knows no bounds, bringing its delights alike to the sun-baked Hottentot and the fur-clad Esquimaux.

Rumors are afloat to the effect that Max Linder, the French comedian, has recovered from his recent breakdown sufficiently so that he will shortly resume work before the camera.

At the Majestic on Monday and Tuesday next.

AT THE UNIQUE

Fourth Episode of "The Secret Kingdom" at the Unique on Wednesday and Thursday Next.

This is the story of the fourth episode of the romantic Vitagraph serial, "The Secret Kingdom," entitled "The Honorable Mr. Oxenham," which will be shown at the Unique Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday.

Phillip reaches New York and finds that Julia is stopping with the Manwarings on Fifth avenue, whose home faces the hotel at which he is stopping.

Madam Savatz tracks Phillip to New York, where she meets the "Hon. Mr. Oxenham," an old friend of hers, of questionable repute. The two conspirators engage a band of thugs to get the sealed packet and take Phillip's life.

Madam Savatz warn Princess Julia that Phillip is an impostor seeking to claim her father's throne, and shows her a cablegram from Simond, her father, proving the truth of this statement, and ordering Princess Julia to cease relations with Phillip.

Despairing, Phillip leaves, and outside is waylaid and beaten by a gang, under the direction of Savatz, while Oxenham, gaining entrance to Phillip's apartments, steals the sealed packet. Phillip is taken into the Manwaring home, and is nursed back to health by Julia.

Oxenham delivers the sealed packet to Savatz; she turns it over to Julia, who, in turn, gives it to Phillip, whom she loves and trusts.

Julia employs Savatz as her maid, upon instructions from her father. Savatz and Oxenham attempt again to steal the sealed packet by rifling the Manwaring safe. They are surprised at work by Julia, who is rescued from them by Phillip. A policeman recognizes Mr. Oxenham as a notorious yeggman and takes him off.

At the Majestic on Monday and Tuesday, matinee only, in a wonderful photoplay, "Transgression."

Famous American actor and son of the author of "The Deemster," who will be seen at Patricia Theatre in September in the above production.

SCREENLAND GOSSIP

Eugene Walter's play, "Just a Woman," will be produced as a photodrama by Julius Steger in association with Lee Shubert and Joseph M. Schenck. Charlotte Walker will be the star.

"The Hungry Heart," written by David Graham Phillips, has been scenarioized by Eva Unsell and accepted by the Famous Players. Pauline Frederick will play the leading part.

Geraldine Farrar's first picture for the Artcraft will be called "The Woman God Forgot." It is a story of Aztec life, introducing the character of Montezuma and showing the splendors of his court. Jeanie Macpherson, who wrote "The Little American," is the author of "The Woman God Forgot." It will be produced under the direction of Cecil B. de Mille.

Little Madge Evans will be the co-star with Lew Fields in "The Corner Grocery," shortly to be published by World-Brady pictures.

You never can tell from the way the story reads how the picture is going to look, is the warning issued by Honus, Essanay's head carpenter.

As a reward for his exceptional characterization of a difficult part, Charles Gerrard, a member of Douglas Fairbank's supporting cast in "Down to Earth," has received from Fairbanks a contract calling for his appearance in the next two productions which the actor-athlete will make for Artcraft.

Julian Eltinge is supported by Florence Vidor, the unnamed girl who scored such a success with William Farnum in the "Tale of Two Cities." Miss Vidor was called upon to play the role of the little milliner who meets her death on the guillotine with Sidney Carton. Such a success was scored by her that she became an immediate favorite. Since then she has appeared with Sessue Hayakawa in a Japanese play.

"Mary Jane's Pa," in which Henry E. Dixey used to star on the legitimate stage, has been filmed by Greater Vitograph, and will be an early release. Templat Saxe has the heavy role of the town villain, and Mildred Manning is the 12-year-old heroine.

William Sherwood, long in support of Edmund Breese and other stars, has been engaged to play opposite Mabel Taliaferro in "The Jury of Fate." He has worked with George Kleine, Edison, Kalem, Pathe, Famous Players and World.

One of the easy stunts which Virginia Valli does in "The Long Green Trail," an Essanay Black Cat feature, is to leap from one building three stories up, and catch and cling to the cornice of another several yards distant. Then the villain steps on her fingers.

Virginia Valli, Taylor Holmes' leading woman in his first Essanay production, "Efficiency Edgar's Courtship," holds the long-distance record for swimming in Chicago's motion picture colony. She can do a two-mile "sprint" with ease.

A Chicago motion-picture concern has just closed a deal by which it will undertake to fill the eyes of many millions of foreigners. It has agreed to ship 60,000 feet of film each week to Europe for use in Russia, Norway, Sweden and Denmark and 10,000 feet each week for display in China and Japan. Its new contracts call for the shipment of 3,500,000 feet of film during the next year. The firm already is making shipments to Spain and Portugal.

Billie Rhodes has volunteered to keep 10 Sammies supplied with interesting letters if our boys are called to the trenches. Which ought to help quite a bit in brightening life along the firing line.

Another new Olive Thomas play is on tap, with Charles Gunn doing the hero. The title is "An Even Break," and shows Miss Thomas as the petted favorite of a gay cabaret, thereby giving her a chance to show what really made her famous in the "Follies." She is the centre of a beauty chorus and specializes in novelty dances, plus their appropriate costumes. They say that the story parallels her own career.

Things in the movies are not always what they seem, as witness the fact that in the adaptation of "The Doctor," Ralph Connor's story, during a period of sweltering heat, when everyone was trying to wear as little clothing as social conventions would permit, William Farnum, the star of the film, had to walk about in heavy corduroy and flannel shirt. The scenes are laid (supposedly) in Northwest Canada, where it is icy cold, but as a matter of fact they were made in a New Jersey studio, where the sun burned down through the glass roof.

Ruth Stonehouse and Roy Stewart collaborate in making "Follow the Girl," a thriller of the secret service. Miss Stonehouse appears as a Swedish girl, sent to America through a colonization company, and who inadvertently steps into a secret service intrigue. Many of the scenes are western and were taken on a big cattle ranch.

Geraldine Farrar will return to the screen as "The Woman God Forgot." She has rechosen her former aide, Wally Reid, to appear with her. Jeanie MacPherson wrote the scenario and Cecil de Mille will personally direct it. It is a story of Aztec life and introduces the historic character of Montezuma, with his court. Among the special sets is a tropical jungle containing a lake for water fowl, which has been entirely screened in to prevent the escape of any important birds.

One of the most sensational scenes ever shown in a motion picture is that in the new Pathe serial, "The Fatal Ring." Pearl White as the star is hurled by Warner Oland, the villain, into a sewer and swept by the current into the Hudson River and thence into a ferry slip. Henry Gsell, the hero, sees her peril and jumps in after her. A ferryboat is coming into the slip and before the engines can be stopped and reversed the bow of the boat is crowding the little star and Mr. Gsell against the piling.

J. Stuart Blackton is to bring to the screen through the medium of Paramount practically all the works of Sir Gilbert Parker that are available for adaptation to the screen. "The World for Sale," "Judgment House" and "Wild Youth" are announced for early presentation.

The new World-Brady picture in which the juvenile actress, Madge Evans, is to make her first appearance as a star, was to have been known as "Jerry-for-Short," but has been rechristened "The Little Duchess." The diminutive heroine is the lost heiress to a dukedom, discovered by her grandfather's agents in a little American circus and carried overseas to the family castle.

Financial, Market and Commercial Section

THE LOCAL MARKET

Live hogs showed the largest decline in months this morning, when every porker sold at the comparatively low price of $15.50 per cwt. According to local hog buyers the representative packing men of the States and Canada combined forces yesterday the result being that a sheer drop of $2.50 was made this morning.

The price of dressed hogs will also decline, following the drop in live porkers, but an official quotation for the former meat could not be obtained.

A particularly large offering of all varieties of produce was in good demand on a well-attended market this morning. Vegetables were very plentiful, particularly potatoes, cucumbers, corn and beets. Potatoes dropped 25c per bushel, because of the large abundance, bringing the price of tubers as low as it has been at any previous time during the last two weeks.

Growers predict a further reduction in the price of spuds before the end of the month, as practically all home-grown potatoes are ready for the dining table or the market now.

A good offering of oats was shown on the market this morning, and values declined in consequence, a hundredweight of oats selling at from $1.75 to $1.85.

String beans were offered in great abundance, but the demand was exceptionally brisk, and the price increased to 7c and 10c per quart. Tomatoes were offered in plenty and the demand was good. They brought $1,25 per basket throughout the morning, which is a slight decrease from previous prices. The tomato crop is not as good as was expected this year, and the present comparative cold weather will be a detriment to their growth and ripening. Should a slight frost set in the tomato crop would practically be ruined, as the greater part of it has not yet ripened sufficiently to be offered on the market.

The variety of fruit was not large, but offerings in certain lines were abundant. Thimble berries were for sale in great plenty and the price came down to 18c and 20c per box. The demand for thimbleberries was good, but the supply so far exceeded it that a surplus was left after the close of the market.

Butter was fairly plentiful, but the price went up notwithstanding, and a pound of butter sold for 48c to 50c retail, and 44c to 48c wholesale.

A good offering of poultry was in fair demand because of the sudden cool weather. Ducks sold at 90c to $1.10 each, and spring chickens brought 90c to $1.50 per pair.

WEEKLY REVIEW.

New York, Aug. 25.—The stock market was dominated throughout the week by the policy of regulation adopted by the Government. Prices broke all around, falling 3 to 12 points on announcement of the soft coal schedule, but rallied with almost equal sharpness on publication of the rates for anthracite. Other adverse features, which were later dispelled in part, included the Russian situation and domestic labor conditions, although exchange on Petrograd continued weak, and the strikes at the copper mines assumed adverse complications. Steel, iron and numerous other raw and manufactured products are yet to be regulated by Washington, but Wall Street, taking its cue from the hard coal ruling, bases its hopes on liberal treatment.

Shippings and tobaccos were less affected than any other branch of the stock list, those shares showing signs of further accumulation. Rails suffered at the outset, but made up the greater part of their early losses, with free buying of secondary or reorganized issues.

The money market was undisturbed by the unsettlement elsewhere, call loans holding at the recent rate of 3 per cent. Time loans showed no actual change, but funds were closely held, and collateral was more carefully scrutinized.

Banking developments included the sale of $15,000,000 ninety days British treasury bills at a discount of 5¼ per cent, to be followed by weekly offerings of no more than that sum up to a total of $150,000,000. Another payment by this Government of $100,000,000 to Russia is expected to [illegible] shadow further advances to the oth[illegible]es.

WALL ST[illegible].

New York, Aug. 25—[illegible] Street, 10:10 a.m.—Specialties led the [illegible] to higher levels at the opening of today's stock market, oils and sugars making gains of 1 to 2 points. Steels, rails and coppers were fractionally better on small offerings.

10:30 a.m.—Oils and sugars were the prominent features of today's early trading, at gains ranging from large fractions to 2 points. Tobaccos and leathers trailed along in more moderate fashion, and rails added to yesterday's advices under the lead of Reading and low-grade issues. United States Steel and other equipments of that class moved within narrow and irregular limits. Industrial Alcohol reacted 2½ points, and Anaconda 1¼.

New York, Aug. 25.—Such tendencies as were manifested during today's dull session of the stock exchange resulted mainly from the weak closing of short contracts. Moderate pressure was exerted against some of the coppers, equipments and the more speculative shares, but this was fully offset by the strength of oils, tobaccos, steels and rails. The feature of the latter division was the further accumulation of Rock Island issues at gains of 1 to 3 points. The closing was firm. Sales approximated 125,000 shares.

BUYERS TAKE ALL WHEAT AT WINNIPEG

Government Agents, Millers and Shippers Snap Up Offerings.

Winnipeg, Aug. 24.—Only Nos. 1, 2 and 3 northern grades of wheat were in demand today in the cash market, Government agents, millers and shippers taking all that was offered. Offerings of the lower qualities were freer than in the last few days, but there was little sale for them. There was a better demand for cash oats, and prices were fractionally higher than yesterday. Offerings were not large. Barley displayed slightly increased strength. The inquiry was better. Cash flax was in good demand, and prices showed a slight improvement.

In the futures market October wheat opened 3c higher than yesterday at $2.17, and was bid up to $2.20 during the session. The activity is probably due to squaring-up transactions before August 31. Fair business was done with the oats futures, with quotations steady around yesterday's finish. In flax trading was confined to the October option. The opening was from 2c to 4c higher than Thursday's close, and was bid up 7c shortly before the end of the session.

Cash wheat closed at $2.40 for Nos. 1 and 2 northern, with other grades unchanged. October closed 6c higher. October oats wound up the day 3c lower; December ⅝c off; May ½c down. October flax finished 9c higher; November 12c more expensive, and December 9c up.

New wheat appeared in the inspection report for the first time today. Six cars were reported, all grading No. 1 northern. One car of new crop barley also passed inspection yesterday. Last year the first new wheat was graded on August 15.

Cash grain: Wheat—No. 1 northern, $2.40; No. 2 northern, $2.40; No. 3 northern, $2.38; No. 4, $2.32; No. 5, $2.14; No. 6, $1.88; feed, $1.69.

Oats—No. 2 Canadian western, 63⅝c; No. 3 C. W., 61⅞c; extra No. 1 feed, 61⅞c; No. 1 feed, 59⅞c; No. 2 feed, 58⅞c.

Barley—No. 3 Canadian western, $1.18; No. 4 Canadian western, $1.14; rejected, $1.10.

Flax—No. 1 N. W. C., $3.50; No. 2 Canadian western, $3.43; No. 3 do., $3.32; do., on track, $3.47.

TORONTO.

Toronto, Aug. 24.—Grain quotations are as follows:

Wheat—Ontario, No. 2 winter, $2.15, outside, according to location; Manitoba, No. 1 northern, $2.40; No. 2 northern, $2.40; No. 3 northern, $2.38.

Oats—Canada western, No. 2, 70c.

Barley—New, $1.20@1.22, outside for malting.

MONTREAL.

Montreal, Aug. 24.—A feature of the grain trade today was the demand from Ontario millers for Manitoba wheat, and a number of cars of No. 1 and No. 2 northern were sold at $2.45 per bushel, ex-track, Fort William. There was a good demand for oats for future shipment, and sales of 150,000 bushels were made. The demand for carlots was quiet, and prices ruled steady.

Corn—American, No. 2 yellow, $1.95@2.

Oats—Canadian western, No. 2, 74@75c; Canadian western, No. 3, 73@74c; extra No. 1 feed, 73@74c.

Barley—Manitoba feed, $1,26.

FLOUR

Toronto, Aug. 24.—Flour—Manitoba. Listed quotations at Toronto are: First patents, $12.90; second patents, $12.40; strong bakers, $12; Ontario, winter, 90 per cent patents, new, $9.75, seaboard.

Millfeed—Manitoba bran, $36 per ton; shorts, $43 per ton on track, Toronto.

Montreal, Aug. 24.—A fair amount of business continues to be done in flour for immediate delivery, and it is reported that some millers are accepting orders for October and November shipment at $1 per bbl. below today's prices. The offerings of bran are increasing, and the tone of the market is not so strong. The demand for all lines is steady. The tone of the market for butter was easier, and prices at the auction sale declined ½c to ⅝c per pound, finest creamery selling at 43c.

Flour—Manitoba spring wheat patents, firsts, $12; seconds, $12.50; strong bakers, $12.30; winter patents, choice, $13; straight rollers, $12@12.50; do., bags, $5.80@5.95.

Rolled Oats—Barrels, $9@9.25; do., bags, 90 lbs., $4.40@4.50.

Bran—$35@37.

Shorts—$40@43.

Middlings—$48@50.

Moullie—$60@61.

Minneapolis, Aug. 23.—Flour—Unchanged.

Bran—$26.50@27.50.

HAY

Montreal, Aug. 24.—Hay—No. 2, per ton, carlots, $10@10.50.

MONEY.

New York, Aug. 25.—Bar silver, 88½c per ounce.

PERMANENT ROADS WANTED; PRICE OF MATERIAL HINDERS

Ingersoll Ratepayers Petition for Pavements.

INGERSOLL, Aug. 24.—Proposed permanent street work was the question which engaged the attention of the council at a special meeting this afternoon. A petition, said to be signed unanimously by the property owners on Charles street west to Wonham street, asked that a cement pavement be put down. The street is in need of attention, and the residents are desirous that permanent work be done.

In addition to this street, the question of permanent work on Wonham street also has to be decided. There is one spot particularly on Charles street that has been generally regarded as disgraceful. It is just opposite the postoffice, where the trolley car stops. In the wet season the water forms a big pool and there is also much mud. The opinion of the council was not divided as to the necessity of improving Charles street, but there was a strong feeling that the work should not be undertaken this season, or perhaps not when prices for labor and material are so high as at present. The opinion was expressed that it might be well to do only the work that is absolutely urgent this season.

After considerable discussion the petition was accepted. The clerk was instructed to prepare a bylaw for the paving of Wonham street between King and Francis, with concrete base and a tarvis top; also storm sewers, catch basins and curb and gutter. The engineer will also be asked to prepare an estimate of the work, as well as for work on Charles street.

Members of the council will attend the conference of the Union of Canadian Municipalities at London next week.

ADAIR—RUSSELL.

INGERSOLL, Aug. 24.—Rev. E. Sheppard officiated at a quiet wedding at the Methodist parsonage, when he united in marriage C. F. Adair to Miss Iva Russell, niece of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Russell, Charles street east. Mr. and Mrs. Adair left soon after the wedding for Detroit. Mr. Adair was formerly of this town, and is connected with the transportation department of the Packard Company.

Announcement has been made of a change in one of Ingersoll's old established retail stores, the shoe business established by T. H. Barraclough many years ago, and successfully conducted by Miss Barraclough since her father's death, has been purchased by R. J. Johnston of London.

NO FURTHER GAINS ON RUSSIAN FRONT

Berlin, Aug. 25—Via London.—No further gains on the northern end of the Russian front, where the Germans have been advancing, are reported in today's official statement. The text of the announcement follows:

"Along the Dvina, near Smorgon, Lutsk and Tarnopol, between the Pruth and Moldava Rivers and in the Oituz Valley, there were temporary revivals of artillery fighting. Thrusts by Russian raiding detachments near Brody failed.

"The situation on the Macedonian front is unchanged."

SECOND $50 FINE IMPOSED IN CASE

Ten-Gallon Whisky Shipment, Sent to Assumed Name, Ordered Destroyed.

CLINTON, Aug. 24.—In connection with the recent shipment of a ten-gallon keg of whisky which came to McGraw station in the name of William Singlson, there have already been two convictions and a third charge is pending.

On Monday last, Cliff Levy pleaded guilty, and yesterday Roy Graham, son of Reuben Graham, of the Graham House, Clinton, also came before Police Magistrate Kelly at Goderich, and contributed another $50, on admitting that he had violated the Canada temperance act.

In giving evidence yesterday, Levy admitted that he and the Graham boys had made five different attempts to get the "booze," but because they had ordered it sent to an assumed name the Dominion Express agent refused to give it to them.

An order has also been given by the magistrate that the ten gallons of whisky now in possession of the court, shall be confiscated and destroyed according to law.

Graham and Levy were represented by M. G. Cameron, while Crown Attorney Seager prosecuted for Inspector Mitchell.

SEVEN CENT INCREASE TO STREET RAILWAYMEN OF QUEEN CITY SYSTEM

Toronto, Aug. 25.—The award of the conciliation board in the dispute between the Toronto Railway Company and its employees was made public today. It allows the men seven cents an hour increase over their old wages. The men asked ten cents an hour increase, and returned to work on an interim increase of six cents per hour after the strike on July 12. The report is signed by Judge Snyder, chairman, and D. A. Carey, representing the men. Duncan McDonald, representing the company, dissents from the award.

GAVE UP COMMISSION TO FIGHT IN TRENCHES; DIES OF HIS WOUNDS

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Kingston, Aug. 25.—Miss Bessie Alp, nurse in training at the Kingston General Hospital, received word that her brother, James H. Alp, who went overseas last year with the 80th Battalion from Belleville, had died of wounds. His leg had to be amputated, and he failed to rally. The dead soldier was the son of Rev. W. H. Alp, Presbyterian minister at Granton, near London, Ont. He gave up his commission in order to go overseas, and went to the front as a private. Miss Alp is the third nurse in training at the General Hospital here to be recently bereaved by the death of a brother, at the front.

NAMES CONCILIATION BOARD.

TORONTO, Aug. 24.—The minister of labor has wired C. E. Malette, chairman of the C. N. W. telegraphers' committee, that Hon. R. D. Gunn has been appointed by the department as chairman of the board of conciliation which will investigate the telegraphers' grievances. The other members of the board are F. H. Markey, representing the company, and D. Campbell of Winnipeg, representing the men. It is possible the board may meet the first of next week.

LORD CECIL SHOWS

war party in Germany actually welcomed and desired our entrance, as it gave them an opportunity to kill two birds with one stone. The wiser ones no doubt hoped we would stay out as they could take us singly later, followed still later, as Ambassador Gerard has pointed out, by the United States.

The Ultimatum.

"This was the situation in Germany when the Sarajevo murders came and gave the war party its eagerly awaited opportunity. The Austrians delivered their ultimatums to Serbia. There is no reasonable doubt that the ultimatums were submitted to Germany and approved, and there is no doubt it was then and there decided that whatever was Serbia's answer they would proceed against Belgrade. The ultimatum was couched in such arrogant terms that a favorable reply was difficult, but little Serbia managed to pen readily that which practically acquiesced in all the principal demands and agreed to submit the remainder to The Hague tribunal. Nevertheless, the Teutons moved on Belgrade.

Would Not Arbitrate.

"You are familiar with the efforts which the English foreign secretary, Sir Edward Grey, made to have the Teuton demands submitted to arbitration or conversation. The Teutons brushed all efforts aside.

"Meanwhile, Russia, who could not stand by idly while Serbia was being crushed, began mobilizing. France entered next. Then came our demand on Germany for an understanding in respect to the neutrality of Belgium, an undertaking which France had already cheerfully given. Such an undertaking being refused, we came in.

"That is the simple story of the war's origin. The most crushing indictment against the Central Powers is that they, over and over again, rejected all proposals for conferences on the eve of war—conferences which must inevita[illegible] have resulted in averting the confli[illegible] because it would have been shown h[illegible] flimsy was the whole structure up[illegible] which the central powers were starti[illegible] the world war."

WHO IS IT KNOCKS AND DOES NOT BOOST IT?

Sure it is the man who has not used it, for Wm. Lovelock, the well-known painter in St. Thomas, 14 Station street, for over twelve years, says: "I was all in with inflammatory rheumatism. I went to bed in September, 1911, and the first work I was able to do was on the 17th March, 1913.

"I was swollen from head to foot, in fact my limbs were twice the ordinary size and I was in intense pain for three weeks. I was unable to feed myself and was suffering more each day. My physician told me plainly to prepare for the worst, as about ten days was my limit." A friend of mine who was trying to cheer me up a bit after the physician had left, remarked. "Why not try Parker's Oil?" I sent to Small's Drug Store and purchased a bottle, and after the first application received relief, and in three days the pain was gone, swelling reduced greatly. I used seven bottles and here I am today, willing to testify and give praise to Parker's Celebrated Oil, the sure cure for rheumatism as I found it.

United Kirkland

We offer and recommend the stock of the United Kirkland Gold Mi[illegible] Limited, at 30c a share, subject to conditions which insure unusual investm[illegible] and speculative value for the stock.

We are pleased to note the large volume of orders and inquiries for [illegible] stock, showing that, notwithstanding the dullness of the stock market, ther[illegible] a substantial interest in gold mining development and in the prospects of K[illegible] land Lake, which bids fair to rival Porcupine in the number of its profitable [illegible] producers and probably in the volume of its gold production.

The United Kirkland camp has been established and contract let for si[illegible] the shaft the first 100 feet. This, it is believed, will result in encountering [illegible] permanent ore body of the camp, the extension of the Kirkland Lake, T[illegible] Hughes and Lake Shore ore body, which has in the past few months adde[illegible] the ore tonnage of the camp by $1,500,000 to $2,000,000.

We accept all subscriptions to United Kirkland stock at 30c a share, sub[illegible] to examination and favorable report upon the properties by our own perma[illegible] consulting engineer, whose name will be announced at an early date. While [illegible] are already convinced of the merit of the United Kirkland proposition, we [illegible] determined that neither our customers nor ourselves shall take any unnecessa[illegible] chances on investments, and for that reason we propose to send into the ca[illegible] a man of long and large experience, whose name and record will sufficie[illegible] guarantee the accuracy and authority of his report. If this man finds aga[illegible] Kirkland Lake and United Kirkland, we will immediately return all moneys [illegible] orders to those who have bought the stock through our office.

We recommend the purchase of United Kirkland stock, prior to listing on [illegible] Toronto and New York markets, at 30c a share, and subject to above conditi[illegible]

At the Majestic on Monday and Tuesday, matinee only, in a wonderful photoplay, "Transgression."

Famous American actor and son of the author of "The Deemster," who will be seen at Patricia Theatre in September in the above production.

SCREENLAND GOSSIP

Eugene Walter's play, "Just a Woman," will be produced as a photodrama by Julius Steger in association with Lee Shubert and Joseph M. Schenck. Charlotte Walker will be the star.

"The Hungry Heart," written by David Graham Phillips, has been scenarioized by Eva Unsell and accepted by the Famous Players. Pauline Frederick will play the leading part.

Geraldine Farrar's first picture for the Artcraft will be called "The Woman God Forgot." It is a story of Aztec life, introducing the character of Montezuma and showing the splendors of his court. Jeanie Macpherson, who wrote "The Little American," is the author of "The Woman God Forgot." It will be produced under the direction of Cecil B. de Mille.

Little Madge Evans will be the costar with Lew Fields in "The Corner Grocery," shortly to be published by World-Brady pictures.

You never can tell from the way the story reads how the picture is going to look, is the warning issued by Honus, Essanay's head carpenter.

As a reward for his exceptional characterization of a difficult part, Charles Gerrard, a member of Douglas Fairbank's supporting cast in "Down to Earth," has received from Fairbanks a contract calling for his appearance in the next two productions which the actor-athlete will make for Artcraft.

Julian Eltinge is supported by Florence Vidor, the unnamed girl who scored such a success with William Farnum in the "Tale of Two Cities." Miss Vidor was called upon to play the role of the little milliner who meets her death on the guillotine with Sidney Carton. Such a success was scored by her that she became an immediate favorite. Since then she has appeared with Sessue Hayakawa in a Japanese play.

"Mary Jane's Pa," in which Henry E. Dixey used to star on the legitimate stage, has been filmed by Greater Vitograph and will be an early release. Templat Saxe has the heavy role of the town villain, and Mildred Manning is the 12-year-old heroine.

William Sherwood, long in support of Edmund Breese and other stars, has been engaged to play opposite Mabel Taliaferro in "The Jury of Fate." He has worked with George Kleine, Edison, Kalem, Pathe, Famous Players and World.

One of the easy stunts which Virginia Valli does in "The Long Green Trail," an Essanay Black Cat feature, is to leap from one building three stories up, and catch and cling to the cornice of another several yards distant. Then the villain steps on her fingers.

Virginia Valli, Taylor Holmes' leading woman in his first Essanay production, "Efficiency Edgar's Courtship," holds the long-distance record for swimming in Chicago's motion picture colony. She can do a two-mile "sprint" with ease.

A Chicago motion-picture concern has just closed a deal by which it will undertake to fill the eyes of many millions of foreigners. It has agreed to ship 60,000 feet of film each week to Europe for use in Russia, Norway, Sweden and Denmark and 10,000 feet each week for display in China and Japan. Its new contracts call for the shipment of 3,500,000 feet of film during the next year. The firm already is making shipments to Spain and Portugal.

Billie Rhodes has volunteered to keep 10 Sammies supplied with interesting letters if our boys are called to the trenches. Which ought to help quite a bit in brightening life along the firing line.

Another new Olive Thomas play is on tap, with Charles Gunn doing the hero. The title is "An Even Break," and shows Miss Thomas as the petted favorite of a gay cabaret, thereby giving her a chance to show what really made her famous in the "Follies." She is the centre of a beauty chorus and specializes in novelty dances, plus their appropriate costumes. They say that the story parallels her own career.

Things in the movies are not always what they seem, as witness the fact that in the adaptation of "The Doctor," Ralph Connor's story, during a period of sweltering heat, when everyone was trying to wear as little clothing as social conventions would permit, William Farnum, the star of the film, had to walk about in heavy corduroy and flannel shirt. The scenes are laid (supposedly) in Northwest Canada, where it is icy cold, but as a matter of fact they were made in a New Jersey studio, where the sun burned down through the glass roof.

Ruth Stonehouse and Roy Stewart collaborate in making "Follow the Girl" a thriller of the secret service. Miss Stonehouse appears as a Swedish girl, sent to America through a colonization company, and who inadvertently steps into a secret service intrigue. Many of the scenes are western and were taken on a big cattle ranch.

Geraldine Farrar will return to the screen as "The Woman God Forgot." She has rechosen her former aide, Wally Reid, to appear with her. Jeanie MacPherson wrote the scenario and Cecil de Mille will personally direct it. It is a story of Aztec life and introduces the historic character of Montezuma, with his court. Among the special sets is a tropical jungle containing a lake for water fowl, which has been entirely screened in to prevent the escape of any important birds.

One of the most sensational scenes ever shown in a motion picture is that in the new Pathe serial, "The Fatal Ring." Pearl White as the star is hurled by Warner Oland, the villain, into a sewer and swept by the current into the Hudson River and thence into a ferry slip. Henry Gsell, the hero, sees her peril and jumps in after her. A ferryboat is coming into the slip and before the engines can be stopped and reversed the bow of the boat is crowding the little star and Mr. Gsell against the piling.

J. Stuart Blackton is to bring to the screen through the medium of Paramount practically all the works of Sir Gilbert Parker that are available for adaptation to the screen. "The World for Sale," "Judgment House" and "Wild Youth" are announced for early presentation.

The new World-Brady picture in which the juvenile actress, Madge Evans, is to make her first appearance as a star, was to have been known as "Jerry-for-Short," but has been rechristened "The Little Duchess." The diminutive heroine is the lost heiress to a dukedom, discovered by her grandfather's agents in a little American circus and carried overseas to the family castle.

Financial, Market and Commercial Section

THE LOCAL MARKET

Live hogs showed the largest decline in months this morning, when every porker sold at the comparatively low price of $15.50 per cwt. According to local hog buyers the representative packing men of the States and Canada combined forces yesterday the result being that a sheer drop of $2.50 was made this morning.

The price of dressed hogs will also decline, following the drop in live porkers, but an official quotation for the former meat could not be obtained.

A particularly large offering of all varieties of produce was in good demand on a well-attended market this morning. Vegetables were very plentiful, particularly potatoes, cucumbers, corn and beets. Potatoes dropped 25c per bushel, because of the large abundance, bringing the price of tubers as low as it has been at any previous time during the last two weeks.

Growers predict a further reduction in the price of spuds before the end of the month, as practically all home-grown potatoes are ready for the dining table or the market now.

A good offering of oats was shown on the market this morning, and values declined in consequence, a hundred-weight of oats selling at from $1.75 to $1.85.

String beans were offered in great abundance, but the demand was exceptionally brisk, and the price increased to 7c and 10c per quart. Tomatoes were offered in plenty and the demand was good. They brought $1,25 per basket throughout the morning, which is a slight decrease from previous prices. The tomato crop is not as good as was expected this year, and the present comparative cold weather will be a detriment to their growth and ripening. Should a slight frost set in the tomato crop would practically be ruined, as the greater part of it has not yet ripened sufficiently to be offered on the market.

The variety of fruit was not large, but offerings in certain lines were abundant. Thimble berries were for sale in great plenty and the price came down to 18c and 20c per box. The demand for thimbleberries was good, but the supply so far exceeded it that a surplus was left after the close of the market.

Butter was fairly plentiful, but the price went up notwithstanding, and a pound of butter sold for 48c to 50c retail, and 44c to 48c wholesale.

A good offering of poultry was in fair demand because of the sudden cool weather. Ducks sold at 90c to $1.10 each, and spring chickens brought 90c to $1.50 per pair.

WEEKLY REVIEW.

New York, Aug. 25.—The stock market was dominated throughout the week by the policy of regulation adopted by the Government. Prices broke all around, falling 3 to 12 points on announcement of the soft coal schedule, but rallied with almost equal sharpness on publication of the rates for anthracite. Other adverse features, which were later dispelled in part, included the Russian situation and domestic labor conditions, although exchange on Petrograd continued weak, and the strikes at the copper mines assumed adverse complications. Steel, iron and numerous other raw and manufactured products are yet to be regulated by Washington, but Wall Street, taking its cue from the hard coal ruling, bases its hopes on liberal treatment.

Shippings and tobaccos were less affected than any other branch of the stock list, those shares showing signs of further accumulation. Rails suffered at the outset, but made up the greater part of their early losses, with free buying of secondary or reorganized issues.

The money market was undisturbed by the unsettlement elsewhere, call loans holding at the recent rate of 3 per cent. Time loans showed no actual change, but funds were closely held, and collateral was more carefully scrutinized.

Banking developments included the sale of $15,000,000 ninety days British treasury bills at a discount of 5¼ per cent, to be followed by weekly offerings of no more than that sum up to a total of $150,000,000. Another payment by this Government of $100,000,000 to Russia is expected to foreshadow further advances to the other Allies.

WALL STREET.

New York, Aug. 25—Wall Street, 10:10 a.m.—Specialties led the list to higher levels at the opening of today's stock market. oils and sugars making gains of 1 to 2 points. Steels, rails and coppers were fractionally better on small offerings.

10:30 a.m.—Oils and sugars were the prominent features of today's early trading, at gains ranging from large fractions to 2 points. Tobaccos and leathers trailed along in more moderate fashion, and rails added to yesterday's advices under the lead of Reading and low-grade issues. United States Steel and other equipments of that class moved within narrow and irregular limits. Industrial Alcohol reacted 2½ points, and Anaconda 1¼.

New York, Aug. 25.—Such tendencies as were manifested during today's dull session of the stock exchange resulted mainly from the weak closing of short contracts. Moderate pressure was exerted against some of the coppers, equipments and the more speculative shares, but this was fully offset by the strength of oils, tobaccos, steels and rails. The feature of the latter division was the further accumulation of Rock Island issues at gains of 1 to 3 points. The closing was firm. Sales approximated 125,000 shares.

BUYERS TAKE ALL WHEAT AT WINNIPEG

Government Agents, Millers and Shippers Snap Up Offerings.

Winnipeg, Aug. 24.—Only Nos. 1, 2 and 3 northern grades of wheat were in demand today in the cash market, Government agents, millers and shippers taking all that was offered. Offerings of the lower qualities were freer than in the last few days, but there was little sale for them. There was a better demand for cash oats, and prices were fractionally higher than yesterday. Offerings were not large. Barley displayed slightly increased strength. The inquiry was better. Cash flax was in good demand, and prices showed a slight improvement.

In the futures market October wheat opened 3c higher than yesterday at $2.17, and was bid up to $2.20 during the session. The activity is probably due to squaring-up transactions before August 31. Fair business was done with the oats futures, with quotations steady around yesterday's finish. In flax trading was confined to the October option. The opening was from 2c to 4c higher than Thursday's close, and was bid up 7c shortly before the end of the session.

Cash wheat closed at $2.40 for Nos. 1 and 2 northern, with other grades unchanged. October closed 6c higher. October oats wound up the day 3c lower; December ⅝c off; May ½c down. October flax finished 9c higher; November 12c more expensive, and December 9c up.

New wheat appeared in the inspection report for the first time today. Six cars were reported, all grading No. 1 northern. One car of new crop barley also passed inspection yesterday. Last year the first new wheat was graded on August 15.

Cash grain: Wheat—No. 1 northern, $2.40; No. 2 northern, $2.40; No. 3 northern, $2.38; No. 4, $2.32; No. 5, $2.14; No. 6, $1.88; feed, $1.69.

Oats—No. 2 Canadian western, 63⅜c; No. 3 C. W., 61⅞c; extra No. 1 feed, 61⅞c; No. 1 feed, 59⅞c; No. 2 feed, 58⅞c.

Barley—No. 3 Canadian western, $1.18; No. 4 Canadian western, $1.14; rejected, $1.10.

Flax—No. 1 N. W. C., $3.50; No. 2 Canadian western, $3.43; No. 3 do., $3.32; do., on track, $3.47.

TORONTO.

Toronto, Aug. 24.—Grain quotations are as follows:

Wheat—Ontario, No. 2 winter, $2.15, outside, according to location; Manitoba, No. 1 northern, $2.40; No. 2 northern, $2.40; No. 3 northern, $2.38.

Oats—Canada western, No. 2, 70c.

Barley—New, $1.20@1.22, outside for malting.

MONTREAL.

Montreal, Aug. 24.—A feature of the grain trade today was the demand from Ontario millers for Manitoba wheat, and a number of cars of No. 1 and No. 2 northern were sold at $2.45 per bushel, ex-track, Fort William. There was a good demand for oats for future shipment, and sales of 150,000 bushels were made. The demand for carlots was quiet, and prices ruled steady.

Corn—American, No. 2 yellow, $1.95 @2.

Oats—Canadian western, No. 2, 74@75c; Canadian western, No. 3, 73@74c; extra No. 1 feed, 73@74c.

Barley—Manitoba feed, $1,26.

FLOUR

Toronto, Aug. 24.—Flour—Manitoba. Listed quotations at Toronto are: First patents, $12.90; second patents, $12.40; strong bakers, $12; Ontario, winter, 90 per cent patents, new, $9.75, seaboard.

Millfeed—Manitoba bran, $36 per ton; shorts, $43 per ton on track, Toronto.

Montreal, Aug. 24.—A fair amount of business continues to be done in flour for immediate delivery, and it is reported that some millers are accepting orders for October and November shipment at $1 per bbl. below today's prices. The offerings of bran are increasing, and the tone of the market is not so strong. The demand for all lines is steady. The tone of the market for butter was easier, and prices at the auction sale declined ½c to ⅝c per pound, finest creamery selling at 43c.

Flour—Manitoba spring wheat patents, firsts, $12; seconds, $12.50; strong bakers, $12.30; winter patents, choice, $13; straight rollers, $12@12.50; do., bags, $5.80@5.95.

Rolled Oats—Barrels, $9@9.25; do., bags, 90 lbs., $4.40@4.50.

Bran—$35@37.

Shorts—$40@43.

Middlings—$48@50.

Moullie—$60@61.

Minneapolis, Aug. 23.—Flour—Unchanged.

Bran—$26.50@27.50.

HAY

Montreal, Aug. 24.—Hay—No. 2, per ton, carlots, $10@10.50.

MONEY.

New York, Aug. 25.—Bar silver, 88½c per ounce.

PERMANENT ROADS WANTED; PRICE OF MATERIAL HINDERS

Ingersoll Ratepayers Petition for Pavements.

INGERSOLL, Aug. 24.—Proposed permanent street work was the question which engaged the attention of the council at a special meeting this afternoon. A petition, said to be signed unanimously by the property owners on Charles street west to Wonham street, asked that a cement pavement be put down. The street is in need of attention, and the residents are desirous that permanent work be done.

In addition to this street, the question of permanent work on Wonham street also has to be decided. There is one spot particularly on Charles street that has been generally regarded as disgraceful. It is just opposite the postoffice, where the trolley car stops. In the wet season the water forms a big pool and there is also much mud. The opinion of the council was not divided as to the necessity of improving Charles street, but there was a strong feeling that the work should not be undertaken this season, or perhaps not when prices for labor and material are so high as at present. The opinion was expressed that it might be well to do only the work that is absolutely urgent this season.

After considerable discussion the petition was accepted. The clerk was instructed to prepare a bylaw for the paving of Wonham street between King and Francis, with concrete base and a tarvis top; also storm sewers, catch basins and curb and gutter. The engineer will also be asked to prepare an estimate of the work, as well as for work on Charles street.

Members of the council will attend the conference of the Union of Canadian Municipalities at London next week.

ADAIR—RUSSELL.

INGERSOLL, Aug. 24.—Rev. E. Sheppard officiated at a quiet wedding at the Methodist parsonage, when he united in marriage C. F. Adair to Miss Iva Russell, niece of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Russell, Charles street east. Mr. and Mrs. Adair left soon after the wedding for Detroit. Mr. Adair was formerly of this town, and is connected with the transportation department of the Packard Company.

Announcement has been made of a change in one of Ingersoll's old established retail stores, the shoe business established by T. H. Barraclough many years ago, and successfully conducted by Miss Barraclough since her father's death, has been purchased by R. J. Johnston of London.

NO FURTHER GAINS ON RUSSIAN FRONT

Berlin, Aug. 25—Via London.—No further gains on the northern end of the Russian front, where the Germans have been advancing, are reported in today's official statement. The text of the announcement follows:

"Along the Dvina, near Smorgon, Lutsk and Tarnopol, between the Pruth and Moldava Rivers and in the Oituz Valley, there were temporary revivals of artillery fighting. Thrusts by Russian raiding detachments near Brody failed.

"The situation on the Macedonian front is unchanged."

SECOND $50 FINE IMPOSED IN CASE

Ten-Gallon Whisky Shipment, Sent to Assumed Name, Ordered Destroyed.

CLINTON, Aug. 24.—In connection with the recent shipment of a ten-gallon keg of whisky which came to McGraw station in the name of William Singson, there have already been two convictions and a third charge is pending.

On Monday last, Cliff Levy pleaded guilty, and yesterday Roy Graham, son of Reuben Graham, of the Graham House, Clinton, also came before Police Magistrate Kelly at Goderich, and contributed another $50, on admitting that he had violated the Canada temperance act.

In giving evidence yesterday, Levy admitted that he and the Graham boys had made five different attempts to get the "booze," but because they had ordered it sent to an assumed name the Dominion Express agent refused to give it to them.

An order has also been given by the migistrate that the ten gallons of whisky now in possession of the court, shall be confiscated and destroyed according to law.

Graham and Levy were represented by M. G. Cameron, while Crown Attorney Seager prosecuted for Inspector Mitchell.

SEVEN CENT INCREASE TO STREET RAILWAYMEN OF QUEEN CITY SYSTEM

Toronto, Aug. 25.—The award of the conciliation board in the dispute between the Toronto Railway Company and its employees was made public today. It allows the men seven cents an hour increase over their old wages. The men asked ten cents an hour increase, and returned to work on an interim increase of six cents per hour after the strike on July 12. The report is signed by Judge Snyder, chairman, and D. A. Carey, representing the men. Duncan McDonald, representing the company, dissents from the award.

GAVE UP COMMISSION TO FIGHT IN TRENCHES; DIES OF HIS WOUNDS

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Kingston, Aug. 25.—Miss Bessie Alp, nurse in training at the Kingston General Hospital, received word that her brother, James H. Alp, who went overseas last year with the 80th Battalion from Belleville, had died of wounds. His leg had to be amputated, and he failed to rally. The dead soldier was the son of Rev. W. H. Alp, Presbyterian minister at Granton, near London, Ont. He gave up his commission in order to go overseas, and went to the front as a private. Miss Alp is the third nurse in training at the General Hospital here to be recently bereaved by the death of a brother, at the front.

NAMES CONCILIATION BOARD.

TORONTO, Aug. 24.—The minister of labor has wired C. E. Malette, chairman of the C. N. W. telegraphers' committee, that Hon. R. D. Gunn has been appointed by the department as chairman of the board of conciliation which will investigate the telegraphers' grievances. The other members of the board are F. H. Markey, representing the company, and D. Campbell of Winnipeg, representing the men. It is possible the board may meet the first of next week.

LORD CECIL SHOWS

war party in Germany actually welcomed and desired our entrance, as it gave them an opportunity to kill two birds with one stone. The wiser ones no doubt hoped we would stay out as they could take us singly later, followed still later, as Ambassador Gerard has pointed out, by the United States.

The Ultimatum.

"This was the situation in Germany when the Sarajevo murders came and gave the war party its eagerly awaited opportunity. The Austrians delivered their ultimatums to Serbia. There is no reasonable doubt that the ultimatums were submitted to Germany and approved, and there is no doubt it was then and there decided that whatever was Serbia's answer they would proceed against Belgrade. The ultimatum was couched in such arrogant terms that a favorable reply was difficult, but little Serbia managed to pen readily that which practically acquiesced in all the principal demands and agreed to submit the remainder to The Hague tribunal. Nevertheless, the Teutons moved on Belgrade.

Would Not Arbitrate.

"You are familiar with the efforts which the English foreign secretary, Sir Edward Grey, made to have the Teuton demands submitted to arbitration or conversation. The Teutons brushed all efforts aside.

"Meanwhile, Russia, who could not stand by idly while Serbia was being crushed, began mobilizing. France entered next. Then came our demand on Germany for an understanding in respect to the neutrality of Belgium, an undertaking which France had already cheerfully given. Such an undertaking being refused, we came in.

"That is the simple story of the war's origin. The most crushing indictment against the Central Powers is that they, over and over again, rejected all proposals for conferences on the eve of war—conferences which must inevita[bly] have resulted in averting the confli[ct] because it would have been shown h[ow] flimsy was the whole structure up[on] which the central powers were starti[ng] the world war."

WHO IS IT KNOCKS AND DOES NOT BOOST IT?

Sure it is the man who has not used it, for Wm. Lovelock, the well-known painter in St. Thomas, 14 Station street, for over twelve years, says: "I was all in with inflammatory rheumatism. I went to bed in September, 1911, and the first work I was able to do was on the 17th March, 1913.

"I was swollen from head to foot, in fact my limbs were twice the ordinary size and I was in intense pain for three weeks. I was unable to feed myself and was suffering more each day. My physician told me plainly to prepare for the worst, as about ten days was my limit." A friend of mine who was trying to cheer me up a bit after the physician had left, remarked, "Why not try Parker's Oil?" I sent to Small's Drug Store and purchased a bottle, and after the first application received relief, and in three days the pain was gone, swelling reduced greatly. I used seven bottles and here I am today, willing to testify and give praise to Parker's Celebrated Oil, the sure cure for rheumatism as I found it.

United Kirkland

We offer and recommend the stock of the United Kirkland Gold Mi[nes] Limited, at 30c a share, subject to conditions which insure unusual investm[ent] and speculative value for the stock.

We are pleased to note the large volume of orders and inquiries for stock, showing that, notwithstanding the dullness of the stock market, there [is] a substantial interest in gold mining development and in the prospects of Ki[rk]land Lake, which bids fair to rival Porcupine in the number of its profitable producers and probably in the volume of its gold production.

The United Kirkland camp has been established and contract let for si[nking] the shaft the first 100 feet. This, it is believed, will result in encountering permanent ore body of the camp, the extension of the Kirkland Lake, T[eck] Hughes and Lake Shore ore body, which has in the past few months adde[d] the ore tonnage of the camp by $1,500,000 to $2,000,000.

We accept all subscriptions to United Kirkland stock at 30c a share, sub[ject] to examination and favorable report upon the properties by our own perma[nent] consulting engineer, whose name will be announced at an early date. While are already convinced of the merit of the United Kirkland proposition, we determined that neither our customers nor ourselves shall take any unnecessa[ry] chances on investments, and for that reason we propose to send into the ca[mp] a man of long and large experience, whose name and record will sufficie[ntly] guarantee the accuracy and authority of his report. If this man finds aga[inst] Kirkland Lake and United Kirkland, we will immediately return all moneys orders to those who have bought the stock through our office.

We recommend the purchase of United Kirkland stock, prior to listing on Toronto and New York markets, at 30c a share, and subject to above conditi[ons].

The safety of yourself and the people who may be in the car with you depends more on your eyes than anything else. If you were to go suddenly blind, you, of course, could not drive the car. Many accidents have happened because of something striking the driver's eyes diverting his attention, and causing him to lose control of the machine. There is another thing to consider: Why leave your eyes exposed to dust, danger and disease, when you can get from us scientifically made glasses that will help your eyesight, preserve your eyesight, keep your eyes safe from danger, and add to the joy of motoring.

CANNED FOOD ORDER NOT AFFECTING HOTELS OF RESTAURANTS HERE

The latest order of the food controller in regard to restrictions on the selling and use of canned vegetables, will not affect in an appreciable manner the up-to-date hotels and restaurants in London. The manager of the Tecumseh House said, apropos the embargo: "We are using fresh vegetables entirely at the present time, and only use canned ones in seasons when it is not possible to obtain the fresh supply in sufficient variety. In the first place, our guests expect fresh vegetables in this season and, in the second, it wouldn't be good management to serve canned vegetables when fresh ones are less expensive."

The same statement was made by the manager of Smallman & Ingram's dining-room, Mrs. O'Dell. Her statement was, "We are using fresh vegetables entirely, both for the sake of economy and because they are more acceptable to our patrons. For example, we serve cauliflower one day, carrots another, beets another, and so on. We serve the fresh vegetables as they come in. We have lamb today, and with it we are serving potatoes and cauliflower."

Wong Lem, proprietor of Wong's Cafe, received the first news of the new embargo from The Advertiser reporter.

"Well," he said, "if the food controller orders this, we must obey. We have largely been using fresh vegetables with occasionally canned tomatoes, peas or beans for variety. Sometimes our special orders call for vegetables that cannot be served fresh. But we will have to see what we can do without canned vegetables for variety if the controller says so."

DOG THIEVES BUSY; EIGHTEEN MISSING IN LAST TEN DAYS

Is an organized gang of dog-snatchers at work in London? This is the question that many dog owners are pondering over, for it is stated that no less than eighteen valuable dogs have disappeared here within the past nine days. That such a large number of dogs should be reported missing in such a short time has led many dog fanciers to the belief that it would be practically impossible for so many dogs to "get lost" or to stray away in such a short time, and there must be some other cause behind their disappearance.

A glance at the lost and found column on the want ad page would seem to substantiate the opinion that there is something in addition to "straying" to account for so many dogs being recorded in the casualty list as missing. The Advertiser contains many inquiries for dogs who are absent without leave, and in every case these may be taken to be valuable dogs, or else the owners would not spend much money in trying to recover them.

Among the valuable dogs that have disappeared are Lady Langemarck, valued at $1,000, owned by Vincent Perry, and a Boston terrier, worth about $500, belonging to D. H. Tennent, Ridout street. Many of the owners are of the opinion that their pets have been spirited across the border by a gang of dog-thieves, who are able to dispose of them there for high prices. The police department of Detroit and Cleveland and other border cities have been notified, and are on the lookout for the missing dogs.

CIVIL COURTS TO BE INVOKED IF NECESSARY IN FORD FIGHT

Bishop Fallon Announces That His Choice Must Remain as Rector.

WILL CHURCH BE BARRED?

Laymen May Refuse Even Bishop Permission to Preach There on Sunday.

Developments in the parochial fight at Ford City, caused by the refusal of the members of Our Lady of the Lake Church to allow Rev. Father Francois Laurendeau, late rector of St. Martin's Church, this city, to take charge there, are thick and fast. Bishop Fallon, head of the Roman Catholic Diocese of London, yesterday authorized the publication in The Advertiser of his reply to Stanislaus Janisse, secretary of the Ford parish. In this reply, which follows in full, the bishop irrevocably declares that despite the objections of the Ford parish, Father Laurendeau is pastor, and "pastor he shall remain." Bishop Fallon intimates that civil authority may be invoked to sustain Father Laurendeau. Further ecclesiastical action of drastic character is hinted at if the opposition continues.

A special dispatch to The Advertiser from Windsor last night declares that the parishioners have hung out a "no surrender" sign. The parishioners, it is stated, have already commenced a movement to secure special legislation to place the church in the hands of two trustees instead of having it vested in the bishop. The previously announced allegation that $7,000 is being withheld from the parish by Bishop Fallon is the basis of claim.

Bishop Fallon's letter in full is:

London, Ont., August 24, 1917.

Mr. Stanislaus Janisse,
Secretary ad hoc,
Ford City, Ontario:

"Sir,—Your extraordinary letter of yesterday, and the still more extraordinary resolution which accompanies it, detailing, without apparent shame, the scandalous proceedings of yourself and your associates around the church and presbytery of Our Lady of the Lake, Ford City, on the 22nd inst., reaches me on the eve of my departure from London, to meet an engagement long since arranged. Fortunately, however, the subject of your communication lends itself easily to an immediate, definite and final reply, and, as the news of your indefensible and uncatholic action came to me through the columns of the daily press before I was favored with your letter, you will not find it amiss that I should make use of the same valuable avenue of publicity to set forth some fundamental facts and truths that have been publicly flouted.

I shall waste no time in analyzing the ill-advised resolution which you have forwarded to me; a little sober counsel might have prevented its ever having come into existence; it has neither merit nor meaning, and it contains an ingenuous and conditional expression of submission to episcopal authority, which deceives neither me nor those who made it.

The Reverend Francois Xavier Laurendeau has been named by competent ecclesiastical authority pastor of the parish of Our Lady of the Lake, Ford City; pastor of that parish he shall remain; on that point you and your associates may set your minds at ease. He is now occupied in winding up his affairs in the parish of which, until recently, he was officially in charge. When that task is accomplished he will proceed to Ford City. There, the management of the property of the Episcopal Corporation will devolve upon him, and in the discharge of that duty he will have the support of the provisions of the civil law. Mob rule can meet with no support from either state or church.

The spiritual interests of the people of the parish of Our Lady of the Lake will be confided, likewise, to the Reverend Father Laurendeau. Of his competence from every point of view to fulfill the onerous obligations of this portion of his charge, there can be no manner of doubt, and I bespeak for him as broad a measure of sympathy on the part of his parishioners as he is assured of support on the part of his bishop.

I believe, sir, mainly perhaps, because I wish to believe it, that the scandalous trouble which exists in Ford City, and which is so disedifying to Catholics and non-Catholics alike, is the result of the efforts of some local malcontents, aided and abetted by a few imported agitators. If, however, in this belief I am mistaken, and it should appear that any considerable portion of the parish prefers to follow rebellious leaders, then it shall be my duty to adopt such further measures as will effectively protect episcopal authority and emphatically establish Catholic principles of church government.

I remain, sir, yours faithfully,
† M. F. FALLON,
Bishop of London.

NO RIGHT TO PROPERTY?

[Special to The Advertiser.]

WINDSOR, Aug. 24.—Expecting that Bishop Fallon, head of London Diocese, will, as they express it, attempt to "club" them into accepting Rev. Father Laurendeau as rector of Our Lady of the Lake Church, parishioners of the Ford Church today hung out a "no surrender sign."

The bishop is expected to arrive Sunday, according to members of the guard, stationed about church and presbytery. A committee, the names of which were refused for publication, has been appointed to "deal with Bishop Fallon," it was also announced.

"We have orders to allow no one but Father Emery and his assistant to enter the church grounds," one of the guards informed a reporter this afternoon.

May Not Let Bishop In.

Will the bishop be allowed to have charge of Sunday's services? the guard was asked.

The question was answered evasively by the spokesman of the guard again stating that only Father Emery and his assistant could have access to the church.

"While the church and presbytery are the property of the diocese, laymen of the parish consider that until Bishop Fallon pays over to the parish $7,000, which amount was ordered paid by a clerical court at Rome, the bishop has no right to the property," declared a member of the committee which ousted Father Laurendeau from the church on Wednesday.

That Bishop Fallon will force the Ford parishioners to accept Father Laurendeau as their priest is shown by the fact that Rev. Father J. J. Tobin, assistant rector of St. Peter's Cathedral, London, has been selected by Bishop Fallon to succeed Father Laurendeau as pastor of St. Martin's Church, London.

An intimation to Stanislaus Janisse, who acts as secretary of Ford parish, that Bishop Fallon had notified him that the aid of the civil courts would be invoked, if necessary, to retain Father Laurendeau as parish priest, and that excommunication of the entire parish might be among the possibilities, was met with apparent surprise.

Control Property By Trustees.

Mr. Janisse declared that no such intimation had been received, but said that if it was "it would be considered." Bishop Fallon will be informed, said the secretary, that the parishioners have already commenced a movement to secure special legislation, placing the church property wholly in the hands of two trustees instead of having it vested in the bishop, as under the present arrangement.

INSPECTOR WAS NOT ALLOWED TO ENTER COLD STORAGE PLANT

Minister of Labor Will Be Asked for Authority.

Fresh Port Stanley fish can be sold in London for 7 cents a pound. This revolutionary statement was dropped like a bomb at the meeting of the high cost of living committee of the city council yesterday afternoon by Controller Shaw. The controller and the committee refused to give out more than this for publication. In any case, the decision was made that if it can be done, steps will be taken at once to see that it is done.

Ald. S. R. Manness, chairman of the committee, was authorized to investigate.

Yesterday was in truth "fish day" as well as Friday for the high cost of living committee. Two letters from Food Controller Hon. W. J. Hanna were read in connection with further discussion.

In the first of these the controller stated that the plans of the Government in connection with the supply of fish include London. The work being done in Toronto up to the present has been experimental, for the purpose of obtaining data and facts. Further, the letter states the shipping facilities for Toronto will be available for other parts of Ontario.

In a second letter Mr. Hanna gives the information that he is not directly engaged in the purchase or sales of fish, and that local fish houses can make arrangements with wholesale and producing houses for supply.

Inspector J. W. McCallum had a grievance to present. He announced that in an official capacity he had visited the London cold storage plant, with a view to finding out the amount of the necessaries of life in storage. He was refused admission, the manager stating that monthly reports were made to the Government and no local report would be supplied.

On motion of Controller Shaw it was decided to write to the Hon. Thomas Crothers, minister of labor, asking him to appoint Mr. McCallum an examiner, with authority to obtain data concerning food in storage and make reports thereon, etc., and also to authorize him to secure such assistance as might be necessary to aid in the inspection.

BIG CROWD COMING FOR CONVENTION OF MUNICIPALITIES

The convention of the Union of Canadian Municipalities, which will commence on Monday morning next, will be largely attended. Every mail is bringing acceptances, and it would appear that the gathering will be a great success. The majority of the bigger municipalities will be represented and many of the smaller.

Among the delegates who have announced they will come are: Mayor Church, the board of control and all the heads of departments, Toronto; Mederic Martin, M. P., mayor of Montreal, and a big deputation; Mayor Fisher, Controller Nelson and Ald. Denney, Ottawa; Mayor Hardie, Lethbridge, Alta.; Reeve J. H. Folsetter, W. Nichol, W. H. Graham and C. K. Norton, Ayr; George F. Williams, Vienna; Mayor Alex. Thurbor and Ald. David T. Kyle, Longueuil, Que.; Mayor McKergon and others, Westmount, Que.; Reeve Charles Bush and George Walker, Grantham Township; Mayor Master, Moncton, N. B.; Mayor D. Graham, and Ald. Geddes, Strathroy; Mayor Weir and P. Munnoch, St. Marys; Mayor Denton, Ald. Jackson and Ald. McQueen, Tillsonburg; Lisgar Clarke, Cobourg; Reeve Johnston and the council of Delaware; M. R. Stenabough, Ancaster; David Davies, Waterdown; Mayor McKinnon, F. H. Bonneville, P. McLennan and several others of Cobalt.

"We are receiving acceptances from other cities," said Gordon Philip. "We will have a big crowd."

SMALLPOX CASE, BUT NO ISOLATION HOSPITAL

HYDE PARK, Aug. 24.—Miss R. Burns, a nurse in training at Victoria Hospital, London, is spending her holidays with her uncle, G. T. R. Agent Chester Sampson.

Mrs. Whittaker of Delaware spent last week with an old neighbor, Mrs. Samuel Lewis.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert and Miss Jaynes motored to White Oak to spend a day with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lawson.

Misses Mary and Louisa and Master Will Durnford are spending some weeks with their grandmother in Sarnia.

The regular meeting of the Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Peter Ellison on Wednesday. The officers were fairly well filled. After the president, Mrs. Durnford, had called the meeting to order, the following contributed an excellent program: solos and recitations by Ptes. J. F. Carter and M. Edwards; piano solo by Mr. Edwards of London; short addresses by Lieut. Masonville and Pte. J. F. Carter on Red Cross work. Miss Warner of Strathroy sang two pleasing solos.

After the program Mrs. Elson served refreshments to the talent.

At the close the usual amount of Red Cross work was given out.

Miss Irene Davey of London is spending the week-end with the Misses Jaynes.

BIDS TOO LOW AND PROPERTY WITHDRAWN

No sales were made yesterday afternoon of the Fraser House or the various parcels of property on King street belonging to the estate. Auctioneer Cooper had a large crowd at the sale, but the bids were insufficient, and the property will likely be disposed of by private sale. The highest bid for the Johnson & Barbour warehouse was $27,000 and for the Fraser Hotel $15,000.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS TO ASSIST CHAPLAINS

The Knights of Columbus of this district will undertake a campaign shortly to raise funds for the erection of huts and chapel tents for the Catholic chaplains who are now at the front with the Canadian forces. The campaign will likely be general throughout the province. As a start for the fund every member of the Knights of Columbus will be assessed $2.

GREAT DRIVE WILL BE MADE ON SEPT. 17

At a meeting of a sub-committee of the local conservation committee held last night in Cronyn Hall, it was decided to fall in line with the Government's proposal to initiate a great "drive" on September 17. The ministers of the city will be asked to present the matter to their congregations. Mrs. J. B. McKillop was appointed convener of a committee which will make arrangements for a house-to-house canvass in the city. In the country the work will be looked after by the Women's Institutes.

Mrs. Williams gave an account of her interview in Toronto with Charles Abbott. The appeal which Mrs. Williams framed has been adopted for general use.

The committee will urge the city authorities to arrange for supplies of fish from Lake Nipigon.

LONDONERS FINED.

ST. THOMAS, Aug. 24.—Peter McDermott, Charles Storey and John Morley, London men, were fined $15 and costs by County Magistrate Hunt today on charges of intoxication laid by License Inspector Ross.

Your Country Needs Your Help Now, Not Only On the Battlefield, But In the Conservation of Food

These are unusual days. Everyone is affected by the war and everyone must do his bit; the men on the firing line or in the fields or the factories; the women in the homes.

The Government has just issued an appeal to the people of Canada to observe meatless days and to use brown bread. The Parnell Baking Company realizes what the conservation of flour means to the nation, and has made arrangements to produce more of the brown bread for which it has been famous for many years.

PARNELL'S BROWN BREAD

Contains absolutely the same ingredients used in white bread with the exception of the flour. Instead of using white flour an equal portion of graham and whole wheat flours are used. Parnell's brown bread is a little sweeter than the white bread, and makes a really tasty substitute.

IT'S NOT A HARDSHIP TO HAVE TO EAT PARNELL'S BROWN BREAD. AFTER YOU HAVE TRIED ONE LOAF YOU'LL CALL IT A PLEASURE. Brown bread is really more nourishing than white bread, because it contains all the natural food units of the whole wheat.

Ask any physician or dietitian which bread is the most beneficial, and he will tell you brown bread. So you are not only benefitting your country, but yourself, if you insist upon having it.

And it will prove a change for you, too. It makes delicious toast or sandwiches, and is quite easily digested. Order a trial loaf today. Your grocer keeps it or will get it for you. He wants to help the country as much as you do. If he will not accommodate you stop one of our wagons on the street or phone us. We'll be glad to send you a trial loaf.

SIR A. AYLESWORTH COMES OUT AGAINST CONSCRIPTION BILL

Says Compulsion Will Not Produce the Results Wanted.

TORONTO, Aug. 24.—Sir Allan Aylesworth, at a meeting of the Central Liberal Association in Forum Hall tonight came out strong against conscription. He does not think it will obtain the necessary men for the army and cannot be enforced unless the sentiment of the country is behind it. He said:

"A general election cannot be avoided. Before the end of the year each one of us voters here in Toronto has to make up his mind on the conscription question. For myself, because my heart is in the war, I do not believe conscription could ever produce for Canada the results I want. It would be a bad thing. So, therefore, my road is the road of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. If voluntary recruiting fails we have the militia act, better as a last resort than the new act, absolutely foredoomed to failure if ever tried."

Michaelis Decides Alsace-Lorraine Is To Be a Duchy

Revelation Comes Opportunely in View of Pope's Note.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—Despite German official denials, says the Amsterdam correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Company, the German newspapers assert that Chancellor Michaelis has decided to make Alsace-Lorraine a federal duchy, with the Herzog von Urach, a member of the third ducal line of the Wurttemberg house, the reigning duke. A majority of the Alsatian members of the Reichstag are said to have approved the decision.

VERDICT IS GUILTY AGAINST ESKIMOS, WITH MERCY PLEA

Chief Justice and Crown Prosecutor Will Seek Light Sentence.

CALGARY, Aug. 24. — After being out 45 minutes the jury brought in a verdict of guilty, with the strongest possible recommendation for mercy, in the trial of the two Eskimos charged with murdering two Catholic priests in the far north.

Chief Justice Harvey read the verdict to the prisoners through an Ekkimo interpreter, and announced that he would deliver judgment in a few days at Edmonton. In the meantime the chief justice and crown prosecutor are wiring Ottawa a strong appeal for a light sentence.

FORCED UNCLEANLINESS IS CAUSING DISEASE IN GERMAN CAPITAL

Newspapers Condemn Economic Regulation as Folly.

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 24.—The proposed prohibition of bathing at home in Germany to save fuel and soap is called rank folly by the Vossische Zeitung of Berlin. The paper says many public baths already are closed owing to a lack of coal and attributes notable increases in skin diseases, dysentery and other disorders to enforced uncleanliness. The Nord Deutsche Allgeimne Zeitung also points out the increase in cases of dysentery in Berlin, a high percentage of which is fatal, while typhoid, which is spreading, also is causing uneasiness.

FORMER WAR MINISTER OF RUSSIA ON TRIAL; HIGH TREASON CHARGE

PETROGRAD, Aug. 24.—The case against W. A. Soukhomlinoff, former minister of war, who is charged with high treason, and his wife, who is accused of being an accomplice, came yesterday before the cassation department of the Senate, assisted for the first time in Russia by a jury. The tribunal is sitting in the hall of the Military and Naval Officers' Club, which is one of the largest in Petrograd.

Senator Tagantseff, an eminent authority on criminal jurisprudence, is presiding. The accused are defended by three advocates. The number of witnesses is more than two hundred. Among them are Michael Rodzianko, president of the Duma; Professor Miliukoff, former foreign minister; Grand Duke Serglus, in his capacity of former inspector-general of artillery; Gen. Alexei Polivanoff, former minister of war; Admiral Ivan Grigorovitch, former minister of marine, and other persons prominent in civil and military life. The trial is being conducted publicly, but the first hearing attracted little attention.
