FIGHTING IS AT STANDSTILL ON THE COAST

Meagre Despatches From Belgian and German Sources.

It is Believed the Enemy is Carrying Troops to Russian Border.

[By Special Wire to the Courier] AMSTERDAM, via London, Nov. 21.—The Nieuwe Rotterdamse Courant's correspondent at Berlin asserts that all attempts made by the French to restore communication between the coast and Ypres have been frustrated by the German artillery. Heavy fighting between the French and German infantry for possession of the woods near Bixchoote continues, says the correspondent. The bombardment of them is still going on.

FIGHTING STOPPED

A despatch from Bruges says: According to the best information reaching here, the fighting on the Yser front has completely stopped. The severe cold weather continues and the old inhabitants fear that there may be a repetition of the notoriously severe winter of 1870-71. At Bruges it is reported that 37 empty trains of 40 cars each are moving through northern Belgium in the direction of West Flanders. It is assumed here that these trains are for the transportation of additional German regiments to the eastern arena of hostilities.

DIXMUDD'S BOMBARDMENT

The correspondent of the Zeitung Am Mistag, Berlin, visited Dixmude while that town was still under heavy bombardment. In a despatch to his paper he tells of the things that he observed there.

The sky was literally covered with smoke rings from shrapnel he says. The enemy was commencing to withdraw under the steady succession of assaults. The allies fire was no longer well directed, and as the German preparations were well made, the German losses in the assaults usually were relatively small.

The captured trenches, says the correspondent, were magnificently built of reinforced concrete, with sand-bank breastworks, machine guns and a novel type of revolver cannon which throws short range grenades. Such trenches cover the whole country, and when one is captured the enemy retires to the next. The fighting is of such a close range, that the hand grenades are employed most effectively. The presence of the latest French and English newspapers in the trenches, says the correspondent, shows that the allied soldiers are being kept informed.

SUMMARY

[By Special Wire to the Courier]

Germany's effort to crush the great armies of Russia has met with a check, according to statements emanating from Russian sources. Earlier in the week, Berlin and Petrograd, reported that the Russian center was falling back before the German advance over the snow covered fields of Poland, but it is now asserted at the Russian capital that this movement has been halted. It is intimated in the same quarters that the latest turn in the campaign is likely to have decisive consequences for the enemy.

The official Russian report of the capture of a battery at Lodz is interpreted as significant, suggesting a Russian flanking movement. Large reinforcements, it is said, have been thrown in by the Russians. From Berlin, however, came no suggestion of a reversal. The Germans, it is said there, are making steady progress, not only in the center, but in the north, driving back the Russians from the frontier of east Prussia.

In Belgium the fighting still drags on in a desultory manner. Along the Yser attempts at military activities have been virtually abandoned, largely on account of the weather. At Brussels the temperature is below the freezing point, and an unusually severe winter is feared. The fall of snow has ceased, but the abatement of the storm has brought no relief from the hardships of the soldiers in the cold and wet, without means of obtaining shelter.

The Khedive of Egypt, Abbas Hlmi, who was reported several days ago to have cast his lot with the Sultan of Turkey, his spiritual leader, is said in Paris to have joined the Turkish forces in Palestine, preparatory to leading an invasion of Egypt.

GERMAN PRISONERS OF WAR ON ARRIVAL IN ENGLAND.

This photograph shows the arrival of 1,600 German prisoners at the British training camp at Aldershot, England. The prisoners were captured in the recent fighting in Northern France and Belgium.

Worst Feature of War; Bodies of the Dead Go to the Blast Furnaces

[By Special Wire to the Courier] LONDON, Nov. 21.—The newspaper Independence Belge, which has been published in London since the occupation of Brussels, has received news from Charleroi, Belgium, that the large blast furnace near there is running night and day incinerating the corpses of German soldiers killed along the Yser line. The bodies of the soldiers are being brought to Charleroi by rail.

The coal mines of Charleroi have been re-opened and the miners there are working two or three days a week.

FAREWELL GIVEN TO THE CONTINGENT WHICH LEFT FOR THE FRONT TO-DAY

The 25th Brant Dragons second contingent, 115 strong with two officers left the city this morning for training quarters at Toronto. They received a send-off not one whit less patriotic than that accorded to the Duffs or to the battery. They formed Brantford's fourth contribution to the Empire need, and they were a healthy looking set of men. Addresses were given at the armories where the men had assembled and they voiced in a small way the general regard of the city for its sons who have gone to serve the colors.

The order was given to muster at 9 o'clock and at that hour the Drill Hall began to fill up so that at the time of departure it was packed with soldiers and their friends, besides a mass of interested citizens. It was bitterly cold outside but the crowd in the giant hall had no thought of the weather. It was more concerned in the men, who may face the cold and clammy trenches. It was a cheery crowd and this fact spoke well for the many women who formed part of the gathering.

The spirit of cheerfulness as furthered by the speakers of the hour and while mentioning the civic pride in them, because of their sacrifice he reminded them that that pride would bear fruit in the form of lives. It was every citizen's duty to see that they wanted not. With his best wishes he bade them adieu hoping soon that they would return to their native city.

Colonel Muir then gave his men a few words of advice. He was especially proud of them, and need not ask them to uphold the traditional glory of the 25th Brant Dragons. He complimented the men upon their appearance and heartily commended Major Smith, Capt. Towers, Lieut. Bishop and Lieut. Cockshutt upon the work they had done in the interests of the 25th Brant Dragons. He wished them a speedy return to their duties and they would always regard them with justifiable pride.

J. H. Fisher, M.P.P., spoke eulogistically upon the contribution of Paris towards this contingent. He was pleased to note that they formed a smart company among the present men. Paris was proud of them, and they departed with the sincerest well wishes of that community. He also complimented Brantford upon doing their duty in such a patriotic spirit.

Joseph Ham, M.P.P., spoke briefly and assured the men upon matters of which they entertained any doubt. Brantford was for them at the present time as it always was.

Archdeacon Mackenzie and Dean

Brady enlarged upon the calamity of war, and gave the men a word of spiritual care. In this great war with right against might there could only be one end, and that end they speedily wished. They would pray God to bring back to Brantford every man that went therefrom.

Mrs. Livingston sounded a note of maternal care when she promised the soldiers that they would be ever in her thoughts, and that they would work for them and pray for them. Perhaps the men could be seen in the streets were lined from the Armories to the station, Market St. especially being lined with hundreds of onlookers. Sometimes a cry was raised, "Are we down-hearted," and the unfeeling answer was "No." Perhaps the men in the air had something to do with it, but the band was remarkably quiet. Never once did it play the Tipperary chorus, and it did not sound at the station until the boys were leaving when the strains of "Auld Lang Syne" were heard. There were cheers raised and a note of enthusiasm taken on but little or no music from the band. Many family partings occurred on the thronged platform, but they were hidden by the dimensions of the masses. Soon every man was on board and the train moved out and Brantford's fourth contingent had left the city for the front.

It was noticed that a large party of Brantford ladies accompanied the company as it left the station.

Notes.

The Paris contingent of the 25th Dragons were given a great send-off this morning. The whole town turned out and gave the boys a royal send-off. The men assembled on the front street and were addressed by Mayor Patterson, Mr. J. H. Fisher, M.P.P., Mr. R. Thompson, president of the Board of Trade and others. Two bands were in attendance, and the boys were escorted to automobiles and then driven to Brantford.

Among the Paris contingent of 30 was a perfect young giant, over 6 ft. four. He drifted into Paris from the North West, where he was formerly in the North West Mounted Police. The ladies of the Patriotic Society yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock presented all the men with handsome

BRITISH MEMBERS OF PARLIAMENT PROPOSE TO CUT ON SALARIES

[By Special Wire to the Courier] LONDON, Nov. 21, 7:20 a.m.—F. P. Rawlinson, Unionist member of parliament from Cambridge University, has given notice of his intention to move in the House of Commons a resolution providing that the salaries of members of parliament be discontinued, while the salaries of ministers are to be reduced to the basis of those given in 1906. The resolution recites that this action is taken in view of the drain on the finances of the country.

Each member receives a check which, according to present ($2,000.) Such payment was provided for in August, 1912, when a resolution to that effect introduced by David Lloyd-George, the chancellor of the exchequer, was adopted. Previously members had served without pay.

The salaries of members of the cabinet range from two thousand to ten thousand pounds. The latter sum is paid to the Lord Chancellor. The premier and the Lord of the Privy Seal serve without pay.

EACH MARRIED SOLDIER LEAVES $45 PER MONTH BESIDES HIS FIELD PAY

Affiliation With the Patriotic Association of Canada Means That All Families Will be Well Provided for by Committees.

At the general meeting of the subscribers to the Patriotic and War Relief fund held this afternoon the following report will be presented by the committee appointed to consider the advisability of affiliating with the Canadian Patriotic fund:

Brantford, Ont., Nov. 11, 1914. To the Brant Patriotic and War Relief Association.

Gentlemen: Your committee appointed to consider the advisability of affiliating with the Canadian Patriotic fund, report as follows: We have gone into the matter thoroughly, and on two different occasions interviewed Mr. Herbert B. Ames, M.P., the honorary secretary of the Canadian Patriotic fund, which is a Dominion-wide organization, the honorarium being His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught, Governor-General of Canada.

The fund is made up of monies subscribed by municipalities, private corporations and individuals, the distribution being controlled by a committee at Ottawa, working in conjunction with the different local committees.

The object and aims of the Canadian Patriotic fund are:

FIRST: To assure our soldiers and their wives to save a little, so that after the war is over, should there be scarcity of work, they would have money to meet any emergency.

A graduated scale of pay has been prepared and adopted by the Canadian Patriotic fund.

The wife of a soldier without children will receive $30 per month. Separation allowance paid by government direct $20.00 Canadian Patriotic fund, additional 10.00

Total $30.00

The husband also receives his pay, $1.00 per day, aggregating $33 per month.

An additional allowance is made for children, viz: One child, between 10 and 15 years, of age, 25c per day. One child, between five and ten years of age, 15c per day. One child, under five years of age, 10c per day.

On the above basis a family, consisting of wife and three children, would receive $45 per month, and any further additional sum assigned to them on account of the husband's pay. As noted above this amount includes the separation allowance, $30 which is paid to them direct by the Dominion government.

The families of reservists will receive on an average about $3 more from the Patriotic fund than those of the Canadian volunteers, on account of the lower rate of separation allowance by the British government, it being the desire of the executive of the Canadian Patriotic fund that all should receive about the same amount, exclusive of the assigned pay.

Power is given the local committee to deal with special cases, and also with relatives other than wives and children, who are dependent upon those who have gone to the front.

It is understood that a sufficient sum will be withheld by the Brantford association to refund to the city any advances it has made to dependent in excess of what it has received on account of assigned pay.

It must be clearly understood that the funds of the Patriotic committee are granted only to those families who are without other sources of income.

In case of men being put upon active home service an arrangement will be made whereby their cases will be dealt with specially.

In discussing Brantford's position with Mr. Ames it was shown that the city, on account of the factories, was suffering more from unemployment than most other places with a consequently greater demand upon the local funds, and further, it appeared that a larger percentage of married men went from Brantford than from other portions of Canada. Mr. Ames fully realized our exceptional position, and assured your committee that Brantford could join the National organization, and receive all its benefits by devoting, say, one-half of the local Patriotic and War Relief fund collected, and in this way our Brantford people will receive the same financial recognition as those of other places already connected with the National fund.

Your committee recommended that Brantford join the Canadian Patriotic fund, upon the understanding outlined, and that immediate steps be taken to complete the necessary arrangements with Ottawa.

Your committee further recommend that a separate committee be formed to handle this branch of the work, with power to engage a permanent secretary. All of which is respectfully submitted.

W. N. ANDREWS, Chairman.
A. K. BUNNEL,
R. T. WATT,
R. SCARFE.

LIVES LOST ON SUPERIOR IN FIERCE STORM

Anxiety Over the Fate of Several Steamers With Crews.

Three Vessels for Tonawanda Are Not Heard From.

[By Special Wire to the Courier] SAULT STE MARIE, Mich. Nov. 21.—Anxiety as to the fate of the Steamer C F Curtis and the Lumber Barge S. K. Marvin, which had not been heard from since they left Marquette, Mich., in the face of a heavy northwestern gale Wednesday morning, was unabated early to-day. Eight bodies and quantities of wreckage washed ashore near Grand Marais yesterday afternoon told the fate of the lumber laden barge Annie M. Peterson and gave rise to grave apprehension that the Curtis and Marvin likewise had gone down in the wintry storm which had swept Lake Superior for the last three days.

All three vessels were owned by the Edward Hines Lumber Company of Chicago and were headed for Tonawanda, the two barges in tow of the steamer. The Peterson carried a crew of seven and the finding of eight bodies led to the belief that one or both of the other boats had foundered. Lifesavers in power boats were searching the lake shore for wreckage, but no report has reached here that the fragments already found came from any ship other than the Peterson.

Two of the bodies found were those of women.

The storm created havoc among lake shipping in the vicinity of Cheboygan, three freight steamers being driven ashore. The Sicken was driven ashore at Grace Harbor and the Barth and the Lackawanna were driven aground off Bois Blanc Island. Wrecking tugs at latest reports had been unable to release any of them. The crews of these three steamers remained on board and none of them were injured, so far as known.

The steamer J. H. Brown ran ashore on Diver Point, Mud Lake, last night in a blinding snow storm. The vessel was reported to be in no danger and tugs have been sent to her assistance.

Masters of upbound steamers report strong ice in St. Mary's River and Mud Lake. Not for years has the ice formed so rapidly.

"There is only a track through Mud Lake," said Captain Sarnant, of the steamer. "One good cold night, will freeze it up."

OFFICIAL FRENCH NOTICE

[By Special Wire to the Courier] PARIS, Nov. 21, 2:44 p.m.—The official communication given out in Paris this afternoon reads as follows:

"The day of November 20, generally speaking, was similar to the two preceding days.

"In Belgium our artillery at Nieupoort secured the advantage over that of the enemy. The same progress at the south of Ypres there was intermittent cannonading.

"At Hollerbeke two attacks of German infantry were immediately repulsed.

"From the Belgium frontier to the Oise there was nothing to report.

"In the region of the Aisne and in Champagne, the advantage gained by our batteries over the artillery of the enemy has become more marked, and has prevented the Germans from continuing the construction of certain trenches begun by them.

"In the Argonne we blew up certain of the enemy's trenches.

"In the vicinity of Verdun and in the Vosges we have made progress. At certain points we have established our trenches at less than 30 yards from the German position."

ENTRANCES TO RIVERS OF BRITISH ISLES ARE MINED

The British Admiralty Gives Notice to Shipowners.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—The British Admiralty last evening announced that, owing to the extension of its mine system after November 27, pilotage will be compulsory in the Humber and on the Tyne River, in the Firth of Forth and the Moray Firth and in the Scapa Flow.

It will be highly dangerous, the admiralty statement adds, for vessels to be without a pilot in these waters.

EMPEROR BILL AGAIN SENDING OUT MESSAGES

[By Special Wire to the Courier] BERLIN, via London, Nov. 21.—5:35 a.m.—Emperor William, in answering a telegram from the Society of German naval architects now meeting at Charlottenberg, telegraphs the following: "Your faithful labor in peace has contributed to our successes hitherto in war. I rejoice in the confidence and intelligence that has directed the activity of German industry, which, in these serious times has shown itself strong in support for the fatherland.

"May the Lord God continue to vouchsafe the success of our arms and the fatherland."

CANNOT BREAK THRO' RUSSIAN POLISH LINE

[By Special Wire to the Courier] LONDON, Nov. 21.—The German attempts to break through the Russian armies in Poland have sustained a severe check which, according to present indications, is likely to have decisive consequences for the enemy, says a despatch from the Petrograd correspondent of The Times. The message continues:

"The official report of the capture of a battery northwest of Lodz is extremely significant, suggesting the probability of a successful Russian flanking movement from the direction of Piotrkow. News was received last night of the arrival of large Russian reinforcements which would probably account for the reverses, the Germans sustained."

Germany Is Under Extreme Tension Now

[By Special Wire to the Courier] LONDON, Nov. 21, 10:32 a.m.—The correspondent in Berlin of The Central News has sent the following despatch by way of Copenhagen:

"All of Germany is in a condition of extreme tension, awaiting the result of the great battle on the eastern front. The Russian forces are estimated at 800,000 men. The Germans control all the roads to Novoe Gorkiewsk and Warsaw. The battle centers at Lodz, where the Germans and Austrians are in excellent positions while new Austrian forces are advancing from the south. The Russians are being attacked from three sides."

 of milk is the modern system of rendering milk safe and healthy for family use.
 Everywhere people are striving to modernize. Our city is employing Doctors and Nurses to visit our schools.
 We are constructing school buildings, as well as homes and other Public Buildings, and equipping them along modern lines, the uppermost thought being influence upon health, happiness and general efficiency.
 If we are going to have this due regard, why nourish the young with uncertain food? Raw milk is acknowledged by science to be uncertain and unsafe.
 How far has the old tin can, with the measure hanging over the spout (to catch the street dust), progressed with science? We have about 1,000 modern customers, using modern Pasteurized Milk, delivered to them in modern Sterilized bottles.
 It will be a privilege for us and a pleasure for you if we add you to our satisfied list of modern customers.
 Phone us or ask us to call and explain our system.

Music and Drama
 Everybody likes an old-fashioned minstrel show, and they can relish it the same as they do the coming of the circus, with its smell of sawdust and red lemonade, and if Guy Brothers Greater Minstrels, which appear at the Grand Opera House next Monday, Nov. 23, don't carry you back to the old days and make you crack your face laughing, there is something wrong with you. Compered with the old-time minstrelsy is a modern entertainment of latest ballads by sweet-voiced vocalists, up-to-date vaudeville and a superb band and orchestra. If you see the street parade at noon and hear the free open-air concert in the evening, you will get an idea of the merits of the company.

SIR JOHN FRENCH PROUD TO LEAD BRITISH TROOPS.
 LONDON, Nov. 21.—A remarkable tribute to the bravery of the British soldiers fighting in France is paid by Field Marshal Sir John French in a special order, part of which was published here yesterday. The order, which is addressed to the Second British Army Corps, is dated "Field Headquarters, November 3." In part it says:
 "Your commander-in-chief has watched with the deepest admiration and solicitude the splendid stand made by the soldiers of His Majesty the King in their splendid efforts to maintain the forward position which they have won by gallantry and steadfastness. Their courage and endurance is beyond all praise. It is an honor to belong to such an army."
 Sir John French headed a deputation asking Premier Herat for Provincial aid to the Boy Scout movement.
 The British House of Commons passed the estimate providing for an additional army of 1,000,000 men.

ST. PAULS CHURCH HOLDS A CONCERT
 J. T. Whittaker, One of the Old Boys, Arranged a Fine Program.
 Mr. T. J. Whittaker had a well-filled hall for the concert which he organized at St. Paul's Church last Monday. There was not much difficulty in selling tickets when there was a chance of hearing such an accomplished baritone. Mr. Whittaker is one of St. Paul's "Old Boys" and coupled with the fact that his efforts were in aid of the fund which the Ladies Guild is raising for the extension to the Sunday School building, this made him doubly welcome to the Holmeade. Every item of the programme was well appreciated. Mr. Whittaker not only excelled himself in his own rendering of the solos which he gave, but he showed his skill as a leader and an organizer by the way the programme was arranged and especially by the selection of the talent which he brought with him. Accompanied by Miss Edith White and Mr. David R. Wright, Miss Mabel Limburg, and Mr. W. Byers, they were kept busy replying to the encores which were demanded of them. The splendid talent of Miss Pearl Fife in her elocution was deservedly appreciated, while Master E. Hutton pleased everyone with his graceful pianoforte solos.

Charles M. Schwab said that none of the Olympic's passengers was pledged to secrecy regarding the Audacious tragedy.

KAISER'S LUCKY RING

Has the Kaiser lost the ring where legend says lies the luck of Hohenzollern?

Many Royal houses have some jewel among their treasures around which rumor has woven strange and mystic tales. The Kaiser wears a plain gold ring, with a black stone, by which he sets great store. Frederick the Great received it from his dying father with the assurance that so long as it remained in the family the race would prosper and multiply.

The Countess Lichenau stole the "Luck" from Frederick William III in 1790, and the next few years were full of disaster for Prussia. Just before the great war of liberation in 1813, the ring was recovered, and its new advent saw the fortunes of the Hohenzollerns firmly established.

Rumor has it that the "Luck," ages ago, was dropped from the mouth of a large frog on the head of a beautiful Hohenzollern princess. Strangely enough, its loss has spelled misfortune to the Hohenzollern house, and its possession prosperity.

RIFLE RANGE LORE

Hundred and One Things to be Considered by Marksmen

In the mind of the rifleman the target takes on the face of a clock, and he indicates his shots by reference to the hours. A shot directly under the "bull's eye" (centre) is "at six o'clock"; directly over the bull it is "at twelve o'clock"; above and slightly to the left it is "half-past eleven"; at the right of the horizontal diameter of the bull it is "three o'clock"; to the left "at nine o'clock"; and so on. "It's a four at eleven o'clock; take a half point right wind and a trifle less elevation," is an example of the conversation and advice. A "wart" is a "four" so close to the bull that it is almost a "split". "Shooting on the flag," is another range phrase. At various places on the range are long straggled pennants to tell the story of the direction and force of the wind. If a rifleman shows a four mile wind, he will, when and where he can, wait for the flag to return to that position before making the next shot. He will try to "shoot on the flag." But there are many difficulties. There may be no wind at the firing station, there may be plenty of wind in the middle of the range, and there may be gusts over the target. The wind is bobbing about the rifle sight.

Some rifleman throw up a handful of dry grass to try the wind, some watch a puff of smoke, and others wet one finger with their tongue and hold it up to the direction and force of the wind.

There is a mass of literature on the art of rifle shooting, with confusing advice as to the use of the open sight or the peep-sight, suggestions on "fine sight," "half sight," and "full sight," hints on squeezing the trigger so as to get the firing pin into the cartridge without drawing the gun off the mark, hints on how to avoid "canting" or tilting the gun, hints on the uses of the strap and the sling, and hints for a good shot always shoots on a full lung and a stopped breath.

THE SAUCY ARETHUSA

Signal Honor Paid to the Present-day Craft of That Name

The Arethusa, the ship which played so important a part in the fight of Heligoland, bears a famous name. In the great French war there was a famous frigate, "The Saucy Arethusa," which fought an action with a French vessel which was immortalized in one of Dibdin's most celebrated sea songs. The Admiralty ordered the following verses from the poet laureate to be engraved upon a brass plate and fixed in a conspicuous place in the H.M.S. Arethusa of to-day:

Come, all ye jolly sailors bold,
 Whose hearts are cast in honor's mould,
 While I repeat the following strain,
 Huzza for the Arethusa!

Hor men are staunch
 To their favorite launch,
 And when the foe shall meet our fire,
 Sooner than strike will all expire
 On board of the Arethusa.

And now we've driven the foe ashore
 Never to fight with Britons more,
 Let each fill his glass
 To his favorite vessel;
 A health to our captain and officers
 true,
 And all that belong to the jovial crew
 On board of the Arethusa.

TRAPPING THE SPIES

Dressed as Peasant Women They Ask For Something to Eat

There is a humorous element in the story of how a couple of German spies were trapped at Soissons. It is a favorite trick of the Germans to dress up as women and, speaking French, get into the British lines. Two of these, who had been overheard asking some British soldiers in English what they got to eat, aroused the suspicions of a sergeant. "I nipped across quick to say something to one of our officers," he says. "He heard some crows behind the two peasant women, got one neck in each hand, and just whacked their heads together before they knew it. He pretty well stunned them, and when he had 'em into brigade headquarters they turned out to be two German men, and I think it was a bullet for each soon afterwards."

Mr and Mrs Walter McRay left the city for London this morning.

THE SITUATION.

Whether Lord Kitchener proposes with General Joffre to force the issue of the war throughout the winter, or whether the Germans will continue its prosecution with great energy, is a live question just now with military experts, who are watching every turn in the conflict day by day.

of Belgium fled before the advance of the German soldiers as they would flee from a scourge of God?

Reports of atrocities committed by the various armies are constantly brought to the attention of the public, particularly the public of neutral nations. Wise men naturally discount such reports, allowing for exaggeration and angry spirits.

We do not doubt that, when they learn the truth about Belgium's fate, the German people at home will stand aghast before the crime of their military leaders.

In some quarters Great Britain is accused of a militarism not much of an improvement over that of Germany. History will admit, however, that the exemplification of her war spirit Germany has given in her treatment of Belgium has no parallel in British history.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Von Kluck isn't surrounded to-day, nor the Crown Prince killed.

War operations in Flanders at present seem to be stuck in the mud.

Why should the Toronto garrison be mobilized and the public scared when we have the Monroe doctrine?

Over ninety per cent. of the inhabitants of Africa are at war. Why call the present conflict a European affair?

The war news has been particularly dull recently. The Serbians haven't captured 40,000 Austrians for some weeks.

Christmas is coming, but "Peace on earth and good-will to all men" seems just now a long way removed from Yuletide.

The Zeppelins have not raided London yet, nor have they dropped a bomb on British warships. Cheer up, pessimists.

In the names of the 25th Dragoons leaving to-day for active service it is a pleasure to note that the contingent is well represented by native-born Canadians.

WHERE GERMANY IS UN-MASKED.

The world has not yet visualized in all its horror the German destruction of Belgium. This feature of the European war has yet to sink into the consciousness alike of non-combatant and belligerent nations, and has yet to exert the influence it will finally exert upon the great jury which sits in judgment upon the various nations now at war.

Writing in "The Nineteenth Century and After," a British member of Parliament describes a visit he recently paid to Termonde. His description, remarkably restrained as it is, yet tells of senseless and abandoned vandalism which suggests a temper on the part of the German armies akin to madness.

The European war has given Villa a free hand. After the war is over this Mexican brigand may be attended to properly. It would be a good thing to pay our respects both to Turkey and Mexico.

Every British soldier must be carried on the back of the navy. This is an expression from Baron Fisher of the Admiralty, and when it is considered that not one soldier's life has been lost so far while traversing the high seas, what a wonderfully efficient navy have we got?

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, ex-Premier of Canada, deservedly accepted congratulations yesterday on his 73rd birthday. He is a bright and distinguished Canadian, but the adulation of certain Liberal papers that he is "the greatest of Canadians" is not acceptable, even to those who wish the old warrior hale and hearty for many years to come.

RUSSIANS MEET REVERSE IN POLAND; GAIN IN EAST PRUSSIA AND GALICIA.

Russia officially announces heavy fighting in Poland on a line from Plock to Lenczyca, which is about ten miles further from the German frontier than her position a few days ago.

WORLD PRESS ON THE WAR

OUT OF THE WET

Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph:—No German dreadnaughts are being sunk by British mines. That is what comes of keeping dreadnaughts at home in a nice little canal away from the big wet.

NO KID GLOVES

London Telegraph:—We must fight with our gloves off; it is truer to-day than ever before, in Lord Fisher's words, "that moderation in war is imbecility."

FORESIGHT.

Syracuse Herald:—When there is rioting in almost every street of the city in which he lives, the prudent householder gets out his musket or revolver and looks to see if it is loaded and ready to fire. Uncle Sam would do well to follow the prudent householder's example.

WHAT'S THE USE?

Boston Transcript:—"I dare say that my contemporaries will correct me," says Editor Herman Kiddier, "the well known German American." "If I am wrong in drawing the conclusion that the balance to date for truth rests with the Germans." Possibly so, but what's the use?

HUMANE BUT IMPRACTICABLE

Pittsburg Despatch—Ambassador Gerard's suggestion that this country should contribute to the support of the Belgians whom Germany is holding as prisoners of war is undoubtedly prompted by humane feelings, but consideration will show its impracticability.

TURKEY'S PART

Westminster Gazette:—Now for what Turkey is expected to do for Germany. She is to attack Egypt, block the Suez Canal, stir up Mohammedan risings against us both in

THE PREMIER'S SPEECHES

London News and Leader:—The literature of the war has produced no more impressive document than the pamphlet now issued by Methuen containing the speeches delivered on the subject by Mr. Asquith.

THE VORACIOUS TEUTON

Springfield Republican:—It is reported by the way of Holland that the reason for the recent imposition of a fine of $1,250,000 on Brussels was the sale in that city of contraband Dutch newspapers smuggled across the borders.

LAWYERS IN OFFICE

New York Sun:—Mr. Taft's advice to lawyers to accept political office as a duty which they owe the country seems superfluous when the roll of the Sixty-third Congress is examined. In the Senate, which contains 96 members, there are 55 lawyers, and next in order are 20 "public officials," most of whom, no doubt were originally lawyers.

SOCIAL SERVICE LEAGUE MEETS

Work of Local Organization is Increasing in the City.

An interesting review of the work done by the Social Service League was given on Thursday at the usual fortnightly meeting. It showed the work to be increasing on all sides and much good being done in the way of food, clothing and work distribution.

SECOND FLIGHT TO BE MORE ORDERLY

PARIS, Nov. 21.—The Frankfurter Zeitung's correspondent at Konigsberg telegraphs that the governor of East Prussia, has ordered refugees desiring to quit that region to procure better order than during the flight in August.

MISTRANSLATED THE ULTIMATUM

PARIS, Nov. 21.—In the course of the revision of the Belgian Grey Book it was discovered that the German foreign office intentionally mistranslated the French version given to Belgium, giving the ultimatum in a totally different sense from the German original.

CATARRH LEADS TO CONSUMPTION

Catarrh is as much a blood disease as scurvy or rheumatism. It may be relieved, but it cannot be removed by simply local treatment. It causes headache and dizziness, impairs the taste, smell and hearing, affects the voice, deranges the digestion, and breaks down the general health.

LOCAL NEWS

OFFICIAL NOTICE Mr. J. W. Westbrook has at last received official notice of his appointment as sheriff in place of the late Sheriff Ross.

HIS ACCOUNT John Dowling attended the board of audit of the criminal justice accounts, and his bill to the city for services then rendered amounts to $12.50.

WERE ENTERTAINED. The members of the Big Sixteen class of Wesley Sunday School were entertained by their teacher, Geo. A. Ward last evening. There was a large turnout. Supper was served at the conclusion of an enjoyable program.

GO TO GUELPH. Messrs. T. J. Hendry, vice-president of the Dominion Life Underwriters association goes to Guelph to-night to give an address to the Wellington Association. He will be accompanied by Messrs. F. Reid, L. E. Percey, C. H. Emmerman and G. C. Hunt of Toronto.

TO SEE MINISTER. The deputations appointed at the last meeting of the City Council at Toronto in connection with the right of way through the O. I. B. grounds for the Parks Drive, will make the trip on Tuesday next, this date having been arranged for.

INFORMATION REQUIRED. With regard to the proposition of the Hamilton-Brantford road, G. H. Gooderham of Toronto asks for particulars of Brantford city. He asks the population and the assessment value and information which will be considered when the matter comes before the legislature.

MARKET PRICES. Prices in general showed an upward tendency upon the market this morning. Eggs showed a big jump, having risen 7 cents a dozen. Fowl showed an all round increase. Butter sold at 28 and 30 cents, a decrease of 2 cents on last week. Eggs found a market at 40, 42 and 45 cents which is the highest price in fall. Chickens went for 65 and 70 cents and ducks brought 90 cents. Geese changed hands at $1.50 each. Meat remained about level, pork being 4 and 15 cents and beef the same a last week. Apples remained at $1.2 a barrel and potatoes were 60 and 65 cents a bag. Vegetables did no change prices. Hay sold at $14 and $15.

BATTERY REORGANIZATION. After being twice reduced to about a company's guard by sending large contingents to the front, the 2nd Battery is to be at once reorganized for home service. The regular drill will be held tonight when new section commanders will be appointed provisionally and the new recruits posted to sections. A splendid opportunity is open to young men of intelligence to join at once, as a class of instruction for non-commissioned officers' certificates is to be started shortly to qualify men to fill the post of those N. Co.'s who have gone to the front. The commanding officer expects to have the Battery in good shape in a month when it is expected that drills will be discontinued to the winter, and a course of lecture substituted for those anxious to learn the mysteries of artillery work.

ASSESSED BY THE CABLES

Graphic Incidents of the War, Told in Soldiers' Letters and by Wounded Men From the Front.

A letter from a village in France says: There is one, poor, solitary cow in this village.

At first only a few officers knew of this, however, the news leaked out, and the cow itself was imprudent enough to stray into the street.

A day or two later there was no milk for the officers.

"The cow is alright, sir," reported one of their servants, "but it won't yield a drop. Seems to resent being touched, sir."

A little group of corporals and a sergeant, who were billeted in the village houses kept very quiet on the subject.

Then he heard curious sounds in the field outside and the voice of Corporal B—muttering, "Stand still, will you!"

And at the same time the sergeant impudently said, "Stand still, will you!"

For two or three days the corporals and the sergeant thus obtained plenty of milk and then the cow disappeared.

A CHILD AT THE FRONT.

A German prisoner in England told one of the girls in this story: "Eight weeks ago my parents were warned that I must report myself to the barracks to learn my military drills."

"I did some drills for two weeks, and then one Sunday morning an officer came and told us that we were to prepare for a long journey, as we were to go away for a month's manoeuvres."

"Of course we never dreamt of going to sea, and it was not until we were started next morning by the boom of cannon that we knew we had been hoaxed as to the manoeuvres."

"My arm is injured, and so is my head, with a cannon shell fire. I am pushed forward with pushes and curses, I go blindly onward."

"I did some drills for two weeks, and then one Sunday morning an officer came and told us that we were to prepare for a long journey, as we were to go away for a month's manoeuvres."

"Everybody views Dan's act as a magnificent one, and his death was a great blow to us."

"We were able to give him a proper funeral, and as evidence of the esteem in which he was held, I may point out that the commander of his company read the burial service over him, whilst his grave is marked with a cross which one of the sergeants made."

A MOVING ACCOUNT.

The diary of a young girl published in Paris gives a moving account of the entry of the British troops into Armentieres and the flight of the Germans.

"On Saturday, October 17th," runs the diary, "some little children ran up shouting 'The English, the English, and the what an entry! It will be long before it is forgotten. The English soldiers were literally smothered with flowers."

"Although it was said the Germans had taken everything off with them, we still found enough tobacco and cakes to stuff their pockets full. They began by killing two pickelhaubes who had delayed behind the rest and made six others prisoners."

"The whole population flocked to the market place. The women wept with joy. People crowded round the English and would not take their eyes off them. They laughed."

"I had promised to kiss the first French soldier who came into Armentieres. I kept my word. To-day I kissed my soldier. He was a sergeant, a fine fellow, and quite nice-looking. He was marching at the head of a strong column of English fusiliers as interpreter."

battle of the Aisne. Both were mentioned in despatches by Sir John French and both were recommended for the French decoration. This decoration is, however, awarded only one man from any one battalion.

For he past three years the brothers Hunt had been the champion bayonet fighters of Ireland and had figured prominently at the Naval and Military tournaments.

In forwarding the decoration to the sergeant's mother, Mrs. Hunt, of Chertsey, with a request to give it to Sergeant Hunt's widow, Colonel Longley, commanding the First Surrey Rifles, was very deeply felt the loss of her two sons, and sympathizing with her.

TIPPERARY WITH THE FLEET

An officer in H.M.S. Wreathright writes: The submarines are the very devil, and it is interesting to speculate what the warfare will be like many years hence when this type of vessel has been developed and is built in very great numbers.

The bandmaster scored "Tipperary" and now the men run round to it every morning to keep themselves fit, officers joining in.

NEW TELEGRAPH SYSTEM INAUGURATED TO SERVE CITIES OF WESTERN CANADA

The inauguration is made this morning that the work of wiring the Northwest and Prince Rupert are by this means placed in direct telegraphic touch.

The first message was carried over the wires was sent by the Mayor of the Pacific Coast City to the Mayor of Winnipeg, and expressed the satisfaction felt in the West at the inauguration of complete telegraphic facilities which are expected to give a new impetus to business.

Mayor Newton's message was as follows: "His Worship the Mayor, Winnipeg, Man."

The City of Prince Rupert, B.C., through me, as Mayor, sends greetings on the inauguration of the Grand Trunk Pacific telegraph service from this city to Winnipeg. Prince Rupert views this connection as the most important step towards more closely binding this Province with this northern part of the Dominion, more particularly coming as it does, at such an important crisis in the history of our Empire, when it is so important that all Canada should act as a unit.

S. M. NEWTON, Mayor. This message was filed at Prince Rupert at 10.10 a.m. Central time, was received at Winnipeg at 10.15 a.m. Central Time, and was delivered to the Mayor at 1.25 a.m.

Mayor Deacon's reply was as follows: "S. M. Newton, Mayor, Prince Rupert, B. C. The City of Winnipeg heartily reciprocates your kind greetings on the inauguration of the Grand Trunk Pacific Telegraph service and trust that this may lead to the opening of a great volume of new traffic between the Pacific Coast and the Orient and our own City, and that the completion of this new great highway of commerce may lead to the early development, not only of the interior of Northern British Columbia, but to the prosperity of all Canada and to the advantage of the Empire at large."

T. R. DEACON, Mayor. This acknowledgment was filed at Winnipeg at 11.03 a.m. and was delivered in Prince Rupert, 1273 miles distant, twelve minutes later,—an indication of the quality of the service given on Canada's new telegraphic system.

URGES TWO COMPANIES OF THE SIX NATIONS

QUELPH, Nov. 21.—Lieut.-Col. Brown, C.F., who is at present conducting the provisional school for artilleriem men here, received to-day a letter from Col. Hamilton Merritt, president of the Canadian Military Institute, Toronto, who is at present in Europe, saying that he has been informed that many of the Indians of the Six Nations in Canada have offered their services for duty overseas.

Colonel Merritt says that he is willing to contribute $25,000 toward the equipment of two companies of Six Nation Indians to be raised for overseas service.

The Six Nations Indians rendered valuable service to the crown in 1812-14, and Col. Merritt hopes that a detachment of two companies may be authorized as a centenary tribute to their splendid loyalty.

ANOTHER MISCALCULATION

London Times.—The three principal Allies command in combination the unswerving allegiance of the infinitely greater number of Mohammedans than the ruler of Turkey, and Islam, as a whole, has not the slightest intention of becoming a pliant tool for the furtherance of German ambitions.

The supposition that Germany could work against the allies by cultivating an assiduous Pan-Islamic propaganda is only one more of the many miscalculations of the German Government.

TRADES INDUSTRIAL TOY ASSOCIATION

Good Progress Being Made Towards The Start.

The Trades Industrial Toy Association of Toronto, which will for some time be located in the St. Andrew's Market Hall, corner Richmond St. and Augusta Ave., is making good headway looking to a start. The benches have been erected and extend along the north end of the hall.

In addition to the executive committee, a board of management to take the direction of work at the factory has been appointed. The an experienced carpenter will look after the carpenter work, a sheet metal worker will supervise the tin and iron work, and a patternmaker and machinist and painter will attend to their respective departments. By this means all branches of the work will be properly supervised by men who will thoroughly understand their business, and all will co-operate in the effort to make the venture a success. Only men will be employed upon the work, and they will be chosen for their fitness to make good. While toys will be turned out for the coming Christmas, the operations taken look more to the development of the work following the holiday trade in preparation for next year. With only about a month ahead to Christmas it would take up too much time to start in on the making of a large number of articles this year, as it will require considerable time to get out new patterns and models. Every effort will be exerted to get out as large a supply as possible during the month to effectually demonstrate that the undertaking can be run successfully.

Many have volunteered their services freely in order to have things in good shape for the opening, and evidence, and the opening of the convention marked one of the most brilliant pageants ever witnessed in the Queen's city. About an hour before the opening the representatives of the Federation were met at the Hotel Walton, the official headquarters, by members of the Local Central Labor Union, headed by a string band and a parade in which many thousands of Trades Unionists were in line was formed and traversed several of the principal streets.

There were 3,800 bandsmen alone to furnish the music, every one a member of the International. Every municipal building was profusely decorated and public and private places of business were brilliant in their show of evergreens, flags and bunting.

A more alluring spectacle has seldom been witnessed. Innumerable floats were in line, illustrating the work of the various crafts and virtually giving a historical presentation of the growth of trades unionism. Broad Street, between the City Hall and the Convention building, had been transferred into a magnificent court of honor, and on all hands it is conceded that the event was one it was well worth journeying many miles to witness.

Mayor Blankenburg delivered the address of welcome, and many notable men in all walks of life and activity were present to facilitate the opening. The significance of this thirty-fourth annual convention, the first to be held in Philadelphia, was emphasized by Samuel Gompers, who said in part: "The great question that confronts this convention as it has confronted all others, is how to democratize the common life of the nation—how to democratize opportunity, the organization of industry, education in the schools, the rights and the justice accorded to all citizens. If all these could be democratized every individual would have an opportunity to discover the best that is in him and to live as befits the dignity of a human being. Taken altogether the Thirty-Fourth Annual Convention is on all counts the greatest yet held and will probably mark the opening of a greater epoch in the onward march of the American International labor movement of which the trades organizations of the Dominion of Canada form a by no means insignificant part."

Many children are so crammed with everything that they really know nothing. In proof of this, read these veritable specimens of definitions, written by public-school children: "Stability is taking care of a stable." "A mosquito is the child of black and white parents."

"Monastery is the place for monsters." "Tocsin is something to do with getting drunk."

"Expustulation is to have the small-pox." "Cannibal is two brothers who killed each other in the Bible."

"Anatomy is the human body, which consists of three parts, the head, the chest, and the stumpick. The head contains the eyes and brains, if any. The chest contains the lungs and a piece of the liver. The stumpick is devoted to the bowels, of which there are five, a, e, i, o, u, and sometimes v, and y.

MUCH BETTER. "Doctors now say that boiled cow's milk is not good for babies; it is better raw."

"The doctors are right. A raw cow gives better milk than a boiled one."—Brooklyn Eagle.

"MY BOYS" (The following verses from Punch, Feb. 1885, were written at the time when the colonies offered troops to assist in the Sudan. They were accompanied by a full page picture of the British lion on an elevation watching the drilling of regiments of young lions from Canada, Australia, New Zealand, and South Africa.)

When and how I may have to meet them, My banded foes in a mighty fray, Where I shall have to face—and beat them—I know not, but 'twill come some day, And what care I whilst I see around me, Mustering up with a manifold noise, The lads who in love links fresh have bound me. Those whom I look on—My Boys! My Boys!

Look at them! Look at them gaily trooping Up to the standard, the old, old flag! Slips of the stock there is no popping, Talking the tongue that no tyrants gag, Like young lions, to help the old one, By Jove that foeman will be a bold one, Who'll face us banded—My Boys! My Boys!

Who was it said I was fond of snubbing The stalwart slips who should be my pride, Duffers! The war drums rub-a-dubbing Soon finds us ranged on the self-same side, Here's their answer! Such volunteering As this should shame them; my heart it joys To see you muster, to hear you Best thanks, and bless you—My Boys! My Boys!

QUARANTINE LISTED. WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The quarantine against cattle shipments from Canada to the United States, imposed because of foot and mouth disease, was lifted to-day by the Department of Agriculture.

THE OPTIMISTIC SPIRIT

Probably no other country is so favorably situated at the present time to take advantage of the conditions created by the war as is the Dominion of Canada.

These are all indications that, if not immediately, at least in the spring of the year, there will be a decided change for the better in the industrial situation. Enlistment in Britain is taking hundreds of thousands of men out of the workshops and factories and there is no doubt whatever but that this will eventually lead to many manufactured goods being produced in Canada to supply the deficiency that will inevitably arise.

Already English and even French firms have voiced their intention of erecting branch factories in Canada, and half a dozen Belgian manufacturers have already announced that they propose to remove their entire plants to the Dominion.

The Federal and Provincial Governments can by wise direction aid this good work, and if the manufacturers will but determine to maintain the prevailing rate of wages they can do much to aid in creating an optimistic atmosphere which will quickly redound to their own benefit.

"Business as usual" is a good motto for the British manufacturers, and it should be just as good, if not even better, of adaptation in Canada with her vastly smaller population but immensely greater opportunities for the production of wealth.

There is no reason whatever why any man in Canada should be under the necessity of searching in vain for a job. The Federal and Provincial Governments, the manufacturing and the business interests should be prepared to more fully co-operate in a liberal spirit, and as in Britain, join hands with the representatives of the working class to labor together for the public good and advance the best interests of the nation.

There is indeed much to create the optimistic spirit at the present time, despite the thousands who are at present unemployed, but it must be first fully recognized that the interests of the great army of wealth producers must be adequately safeguarded, that a living wage must be conceded and maintained, and that whatever the remuneration of the working class must be given a sharp halt.

Yes, let optimism have full reign, let employer and employee work together in a spirit of mutual co-operation, let the business and the labor interests act together and arrive at a mutual understanding, and Canada can make arrangements to move ahead again.

The time is ripe if the selfish spirit of self-interest will but for once step aside. The only true patriotism is that which stands for the public good. Let the false and the true disappear. Canada for Canadians is a good motto, but it must read to mean those who really create all its material wealth.

A RAID UNLIKELY FROM ACROSS LINE

Canada Probably Has Little to Fear From Germans Living in the United States

The danger of raids into Canadian territory by German sympathizers in the United States is one of the contingencies of the present war which the Canadian Militia Department guarded against on the first news of hostilities in Europe. Sections of regiments are on guard at practically all points where vandalism could cause serious damage. Canal gates, bridges, docks, elevators, etc., are under the rifles of Canadian militia men.

Many of the stories of attempted destruction resolved into hallucinations, but there remained sufficient evidence to trouble the Militia Department for a time. From two points rumors came regarding conspiracies to wreak vengeance on Canadian property and at both points, Buffalo and Ogdensburg, assurances were received from the local police authorities that their vigilance may be relied upon to abort the plans of any marauding expeditions. Following is a letter from M. C. Regan, Superintendent of Police at Buffalo:

"In reference to the possibility of 'German-Americans' raiding Canada now that England and Germany are in a state of war, I see nothing in conditions here that would warrant such action. The great majority of German-Americans are among the best of our law-abiding citizens, and while they are deeply attached to the 'Fatherland,' have too much sense to attempt the capture of Canada. This Government would soon quash such a movement if attempted. Of course, there are cranks in all communities and as individuals they may be tempted to go over and commit some rash act, but as for a general raid, nothing to it."

Following is a letter from M. T. Power, Chief of Police of Ogdensburg, N.Y.:

"Canadians need have no ground for alarm in the matter of German-Americans from United States' boundary points in this section. German-Americans and all other Americans are peaceably disposed and do not in any wise intend to violate any of the neutrality laws, as near as I can ascertain."

The only source of trouble, in the opinion of most Canadians, is the Buffalo and Ogdensburg, references by Superintendent Regan, of Buffalo, and against his inventions every precaution has been taken. All troops now on guard in Canada are under orders to challenge all strangers and have liberty to fire on any who disobey.

Notes On the War

By An Unmilitary Critic

The New York Times prints a picture of the Crown Prince at Longwy which fully confirms the statements that he always keeps a longy from the front.

The Vienna newspaper the "Sap" claims a great Austrian victory with many Russian prisoners. Spell the name of the paper backwards. That's the answer.

Judging by the growing fears in Germany, the Kultur headquarters will have to discard the "Watch on the Rhine" and substitute an alarm clock.

The war experts do not mean to be disrespectful, but they are inclined to look upon the Austrian army as being almost as valuable as a gramophone in a deaf and dumb asylum.

Herr Krupp may have some great guns, but it is hard to make Calais believe they are up to the advertisement.

Germans announce the capture of the Governor of Warsaw. They would have announced the capture of the Czar, but didn't happen to think of it in time for today's papers.

That rise of a cent a glass in the price of beer in England passes off without comment. A similar event in Germany would take rank in the Empire's list of great national disasters.

If all the things are happening to Cracow that the dispatches say are happening the city is not going to see any real estate boom, just yet awhile.

Milwaukee dispatch says Germans there are not talking of invading Canada. Apparently they take the view that Milwaukee is famous enough already.

There's one thing we can say in favor of the anti-navy Ottawa Senators. No Dreadnought they are responsible for can get hit by a German mine.

Apparently the only living German who will escape getting tagged by the Iron Cross, is the World's Champion Mutt, who took the Kaiser aside and whispered the inside tip that the English could put only 175,000 men in the field.

We can at least admit that Austria is consistent. There is no steadier loser in the game.

The war experts all admit that a few light family alterations are likely to be made in the outlook when those 5,000,000 British soldiers take the field.

Germany continues to make frequent changes in army commanders and about this time next year we feel like venturing the guess that that old old campaigner General Deblilly will be on duty.

A FEW PRISONERS. Captured by the Germans in Yesterday's Operations in France and Russia.

An Off Day for the Kaiser's Forces, Who Only Capture a Few of the Enemy.

General Von Hindenburg retired 100 miles for "strategic purposes." Hindenburg should call out the naval brigade and tell it to the marines.

It is currently reported on the best of authority that the Russians put the out in Cracow.

Wonder if the people who saw H.M.S. Audacious blow up are any relation to the Welsh Rabbit fiends who saw the 70,000 Russians pass through England.

Druggists and physicians will confer as to making drugs formerly secured from Germany.

NOSTRILS AND HEAD STOPPED UP FROM COLD? TRY MY CATARRH BALM

Instantly Clears Air Passages; You Breathe Freely; Dull Headache Goes; Nasal Catarrh Discharge Stops.

Try "Ely's Cream Balm." Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it—Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. By morning the catarrh, cold-in-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone.

End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils, penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately. Don't lay awake to-night struggling for breath, with head stuffed; nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucus dropping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.

Put your faith—just once—in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.

On sale at leading drug stores in Brantford.

COLLEGIATE BOARD

Getting Things Ready for the New Board of Education.

The Collegiate School Board met last night in the school building, when a goodly programme of minor business was transacted.

Never has such interest been manifested in the Evening Classes as at the present time. Every class has its full quota and every student is on the job.

A contract will be signed up with the United Typewriter Company for the inspection of the school typewriters once a month, with an annual overhauling.

Miss Malcolm will be reimbursed the loss she sustained by acid in the chemical laboratory.

A small strong storm flag will be flown over the Collegiate buildings in place of the larger flag which has been practically blown to pieces.

Up to the present the Hydro Electric Commission had been unable to furnish any estimate of supplying Hydro power in the school buildings and in view of the present board ending its firm, the matter will be dropped sine die. The question of lighting the whole school of the city with Hydro will be a matter left to the new public school board, which is to take over the duties of the Collegiate and public school boards.

Accounts to the sum total of $478.02 were passed for payment. Mr. Schuyler, Agricultural expert of the county, who took classes at the Paris public school, had spoken to Principal Burt with regard to the establishing a class in the Collegiate school.

The Paris location was found to be not as satisfactory as the location in Brantford and Principal Burt brought the matter before the Board. The class could be accommodated in the art room.

Well, commented Mr. Ryerson, we should be sympathetic to the county, but we are receiving very poor encouragement.

Mr. Schuyler was the Agricultural expert appointed by the Ontario Government and conducted the class for the benefit of the farming community. As this was a Government matter, it was felt that it would be wise to communicate with Toronto authorities before going further in the matter.

It was also thought that as Paris had been chosen the centre, it might arouse an undesirable feeling in that centre.

Cliff Slemir and George Sweet waited upon the Board to ask for the installation of a shower bath in the school building building, and their request was referred to the Buildings and Grounds committee.

This concluded the business of the Board, which then adjourned.

By the casting vote of the Chairman of the Board of Education favored tenders by Public school supporters for public school contracts.

J. L. SUTHERLAND RE-MOUNTED STOVES! HEATERS and RANGES See Our Stock Before Buying

Sir Nigel By A. Conan Doyle

Nigel had leaned against the bulwark during these events, watching with keen attention the doings of the sailors, and praying alternately to Saint Paul, Saint George, and Saint Thomas for a sign of wind which would put the Frenchmen to flight.

They were near enough now to have a good look at the Frenchmen. One was a big swarthy man with a long beard, and he had a red cap and an ax over his shoulder. There were ten other hardy-looking fellows, all of them well armed, and there were three who seemed to be boys.

"With your leave, little master, you speak like a fool," said the gruff seaman. "You and all your kind are as children when once the blue water is beneath you. Can you not see that there is no wind and that the Frenchman can warp her as swiftly as we? What then would you do?"

"Nigel pointed to the boat which was in the water. 'Let us venture in her,' said he, 'and let us take this ship or die worshipping in the attempt.' His bold and fiery words found their echo in the hearts of the Frenchmen. There was a deep-voiced shout from both archers and seamen. Even Ayward sat up, with a wan smile upon his green face.

"I have never met the man who could lead where I would not follow," said he, "but by Saint Leonard this is a mad business, and I should be a fool if I were to risk my men and my ship. Bethink you, little master, that the skiff can hold only five, though you lead her to the water's edge. If there is a man yonder, there are fourteen, and you have to climb their side from the boat. What chance would you have? Your boat stove and you in the water there is the end of it. No man of mine goes on such a fool's errand, and so I swear!"

"Then, Master Badding, I must crave the loan of your skiff, for by Saint Paul the good Lord Chaudou papers are not to be used. If no one else will come, then I will go alone." The shipman smiled at the words; but the smile died away from his lips when Nigel, with features set like ivory and eyes as hard as steel, pulled on the rope so that the boat came under the counter. It was very clear that he would do even as he said. At the same time Ayward raised his bulky form from the deck, leaped for a moment against the bulwarks, and then tottered aft to his master's side.

"Here is one that will go with you," said he, "or he would never dare show his face to the guns of Tilford and the guns of the Cinque Ports. Come, archers, let us leave these salt herrings in their pickle tub and try our luck out on the water." The three archers at once ranged themselves on the same side as their comrade. They were bronzed, bearded men, short in stature, as were most Englishmen of that day, but hardy, strong and skilled with their weapons.

"Now, master, we are at your back," said they as they pulled and tightened their sword-belts. But already Cook Badding had been carried away by the hot lust of battle and had thrown aside every fear and doubt which had clouded him. To see a fight and not to be in it was more than he could bear.

"Nay, have it your own way," he cried, "and may Saint Leonard help us, for a madder venture I have never seen. And yet it may be worth the trial. But if it be done let me have the handling of it, little master, for you know no more of a boat than I do of a war-horse. The skiff can bear five and no man more. Now, who will come?" They had all caught fire, and there was not one who would be left out.

Badding picked up his hammer. "I will come myself," said he, "and you also, little master, since it is your hot head that has planned it. Then there is Black Simon, the best swordsman of the Cinque Ports. Two archers can pull on the oars, and it may be that they can pick off two or three of these Frenchmen before we close with them. Hugh Baddlesmere, and you, Dion of Rye—into the boat with you!"

The dining room of where the trouble occurred. The Manchester Guard, referring to the rioting today in the alien detention camp on the Isle of Man, where prisoners were killed and wounded, says that the riot was due not merely to the food and given them, but was a desperate plan of the prisoners to escape from the camp, the ultimate hope of seizing the harbor and making way to some neutral country.

LAST EDITION. FORTY-FOUR. THREE BRANCHES. All Were Reserved. Cobden B.

Corporal John Ladym den lies in a Boulogne with wounds in his fingers. Private John Blanchard, who was killed at the battle of the Aisne, is now in the hospital.

Private Arthur Barnes, who was wounded and is now in the hospital, has passed away in the night. These, the first Brantford men made known in a letter, are made known while lying in hospital and received by the last English mail.

The letter is a human document, a terrible story of the life of an active participant in the German horror and the struggle of the beginning of the war. It tells how he was wiped out and how he was given a hope of an escape to the great war.

He is serving with the 1st Coldstream Guards and has not been in the beginning of the war. Lying in a Boulogne hospital, after lying in the hospital for some time, he writes home as follows: "November 1st, 1914. My Dearest Wife and Child: Just a few lines hoping, well, as it leaves me to-day, fairly well at present. In the hospital at (censor) wounded in the head and the bursting of a shrapnel bullet right along my skull about place as when Murray shot about last Christmas. It is serious, but the worst was nearly buried alive by those big German shells and I am now in the hospital."

Poor Jack Blanchard is a well-known man in the city of Ypres (censored). It was a fierce battle and I never would come out alive. I am now in the hospital, and I have a few lines hoping, well, as it leaves me to-day, fairly well at present. In the hospital at (censor) wounded in the head and the bursting of a shrapnel bullet right along my skull about place as when Murray shot about last Christmas. It is serious, but the worst was nearly buried alive by those big German shells and I am now in the hospital."

Poor Arthur Barnes was four times in the Battle of the Somme and I believe he died, as were very severe wounds, and one in the stomach.
