Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It took Dr. Pierce, with the assistance of two learned chemists, eight years of hard work experimenting to make this pure glyceric extract and alterative of the greatest efficiency and without the use of a particle of alcohol.

Just the sort of remedy you need to make rich, red blood, and cure that lassitude and feeling of nerve exhaustion. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery bears the stamp of PUBLIC APPROVAL and has sold more largely in the past forty years than any other blood purifier and stomach tonic.

Mr. Clapp's Speech on the Coastal Service.

Monopoly of the coastal steam service, as it applies to the District of St. Barbe, on the northwest coast, especially during the spring and fall months, when the people are at the mercy of such service as the s.s. Home is able to give, was the subject for an attack on the Government in the Assembly on Wednesday afterthe Assembly on Wednesday after-noon by Mr. Clapp, member for St. Barbe District. A digest of Mr. Clapp's speech made when presenting a numerously signed petition from prominent electors in his district, dealing with the irregularity and inadequate service of the s.s. Home during the past year, and begging that some relief be afforded, will be found in another column. He (Mr. Clapp) read at length extracts from a letter which appeared in this paper on the 12th inst., from the pen of the Rev. Mr. Richards, Church of England missionary on that part of the coast. These excerpts referred to the present service as "A slandering insult"-"A mockery of a service"—and "A from a fractured arm and was terridisgrace to the Colony." Such scathing criticism, made through the public press by a gentleman of high character and integrity, comes to us with convincing force. Mr. Clapp has also fearlessly done his duty as a representative of the people. The dis trict he represents and the whole country well know how to appreciate his honest and manly fight against monopoly and a supine government. The conditions said to exist under which passengers are carried, herding together at times of human beings in the manner described is without doubt a disgrace to any coun try, and this state of affairs is tolerated and allowed to go on by a "com mer of "The People's Party."

The acting leader of the Opposition The Science of Servant- Mr. Kent, in commending Mr. Clapp on the capable and convincing mann sition in forcing the Government to move in this matter. Referring to the service of the "Home," Mr. Kent said it was "utterly and absolutely inadequate." Can it be true, as intimated ment are mere minors and are not able to take hold of the contractors and see that the work for which they are subsidized and paid for is proper ly and faithfully performed? These grievances are of long standing-they are not new to Sir Edward Morris and his following; he admits in a mild way some knowledge that con gestion exists in the spring and fall. Mr. Clapp, on the other hand, has had the subject matter of an unsatisfactory coastal service on the N. W. coast before the Government at every session during the past four years, but no move has been made to remedy if a measure of relief comes derived the second commences by giving Sir Edward Morris all the glory of forming the Board of Trade, placing him and his Government in the role of Adam and Eve to that institution, and as a proof of what has been done goes on to show how the price of coffee here. to show how the price of codfish has advanced since the present Government assumed power. It says: "The average price of fish has increased from $4.27 at the time Sir Edward from $4.27 at the time Sir Edward Morris assumed the reins of Government, to $5.76, an increase of $1.49 per quintal, and all this has to be entered to the credit of the present Government." It seems, Mr. Editor, the writer is gifted with the happy knack of forgetting everything but the point in view. He makes no allowance for the very important fact and one having a very direct bearing on the price of codfish, viz., the number of quintals exported from Newfoundland decreased from 1,732,387 in 1908-9 to 1,502,269 in 1909-10, a falling off of 230,118 quintals, and in the years of 1911-12 decreased to 1,388,178, showing a shortage for the four years of 344,209 quintals. According to the 344,209 quintals. According to the figures in the article in question, is it any wonder that the average price per qtl. increased from $4.27 to $5.76 in 1911-12? Wouldn't it be very strange if it did not advance in the face of these facts? It will be seen that the writer, in his endeavor to boost the Morris Government, is hoist with his the canned and pickled codfish industries, and strives to use them which as a matter of fact, the result of individual effort, to prove that Sir Edward Morris has carried out his promise to find new markets for our

To criticize the article in detail would be presuming on your valuable time and space, but to pass the rest of it without remark would be to miss a real gem of logical argument.

The writer of the article, knowing full well that Sir Edward Morris must go out of power with his promises as outlined in his manifesto, unfrifilled, attempts, rather prematurely, one would think for a supporter as he evidently is, to excuse him for so d ing and as proof positive of his blamelessness, make much of the fact that President Taft went out of office with some of his promises unfulfilled and that Premier Asquith still has some of the planks of his political platform that are not brought to maturity, owing to the fact that circumstances proved too strong for them, and then in his next breath makes an effort to roast Sir Robert Bond because he went out of office without old Storage being an accomplished fect, characterizing it as a dream with no extenuating circumstances. Oh, no, circumstance had nothing what-ever to do with it in his case, it was only a joke and the contractors, men of straw, simply because they were connected with a Government opposed to the writer in politics. Fairmindedness is conspicuous by its absence from the article, for the case of Trft or Asquith would certainly have held good in Sir Robert's case as in Sir Edward's, and who will say that Cold Storage and Coat Boring are not as much of a joke as ever, aye, and more. None but one who is politically purblind or do not want to see the frieness of the opposite to his views. Would it not be as well for New-foundland to-day if Trefethen and Lord, whom the press on the Government side, so loudly proclaimed would boom Cold Storage in Newfoundland. These were men of straw? Will the writer in the Free Press' tell us what new inducements are being held out to the Booth Co. that will induce them to go ahead where Trefe-then and Lord believed they would not be justified in expending five hundred thousand dollars, even with Sir Edward's broad guarantee behind it of twenty thousand dollars if they failed to make the business pay, will he tell us is it true as reported by leading newspapers on the continent where Sir Edward has smoothed the ruffled feathers that they will have control feathers that they will have control of the baitfishes of Newfoundland for a number of years?

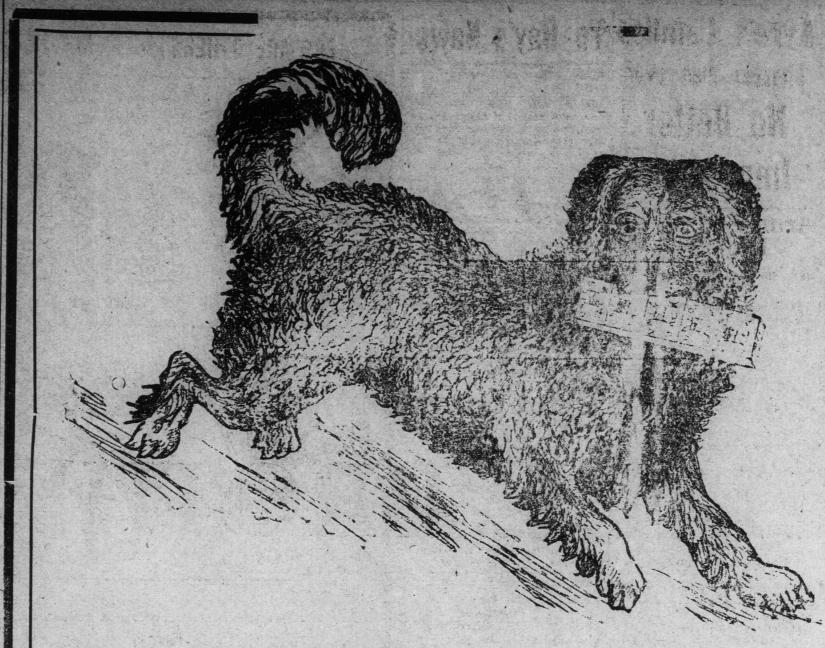

He tells us that practically all the difficulty in the way of cold storage and Bait Freezing is that local capital looks askance and foreign capitalists also; and if this be so in 1911-12 and 1913, how much was it the case in 1903-4 and how much more of an up-bill fight had Sir Robert Bond in those years when poor old Terra Nova was only struggling to her feet, having been forced on her knees in the nineties by Tory blundering, misrule and incapacity. What a wonderful thing if it were possible that we could make people forget at will if we could close the valve of memory when we wish to do so in order to gain our point? But it cannot be done, and as point? But it cannot be done, and as a consequence, every voter in Newfoundland can remember the fact that during all these years, Sir Edward Morris was Bond's lieutenant, his second-hand man, and Minister of Justice in his Cabinet, therefore as liable to blame as Sir Robert himself, if there was blame. Was his (Morris) voice ever raised against the antivoice ever raised against the anti-American policy of the late Govern-ment? We believe not, and as Min-ister of Justice, had full blame for any fishermen who were, as the writer of that famous article "The record of the years" says, were actually hailed

Who is Fighting the Liberal Legislation so Vigorously, Goes Back to Strongbow, Earl of Pembroke, and Has Titles in England, Scotland and Ireland.

Lord Lansdowne, Unionist leader in the British House of Lords, and consequently chieftain of the Tory party's big majority in that august chamber, has returned to a prominent place in the public eye. When the celebrated Veto Bill which broke the back of the Conservative peers as a legislative obstacle . to the Liberal Government, was in the hands of the nobility, Lansdowne figured large in the daily prints. When he accepted battle shifted back to the Commons and the Home Rule Bill, for which the Veto Bill was merely an advance guard, was fought out in the lower House. Then, amid dust of battle and shouts of victorious Liberals, it went to the Lords, only to be guillotined summarily. Passed twice again it becomes law, and the Green

MARTHA'S VINEYARD, Mass.,

March 23.

The British schooner Basile, of Yarmouth, which sailed from Gonaives, Hayti, on March 7th, in ballast for Turk's Island, was driven high on the beach, on the south side of Martha's Vineyard to-day. The crew jumped ashore dryshod, and the vessel will probably be floated off without damage. When four days out from Gonaives, Capt. Percy died suddenly, from heart failure, and was buried at sea. Mate Thibodeau decided not to proceed to Turk's Island and to take the vessel home, but lost his reckoning in a fog.

GRIMSBY, March 20.
The French barque Marie, from San rancisco, for Hull, at the end of a long voyage, on Saturday, met disaster and destruction, which gave occasion for the heroic rescue of her captain and crew of 24 by the trawler America. The Marie went ashore late at night on Haisborough sands in the North Sea, during a blizzard, being pounded to pieces by terrific seas. The crew was in a desperate plight, and had almost lost hope, when the America hove in sight, and launched her lifeboats to take them off. The captain and mate refused to leave the ship until every man of the crew was safely aboard the America, whose boats were too battered to return to the Marie. The steward of the Marie, who had been brought to the America with his comrades, dived into the sea, with a life line, and swam to the wreck, from which the captain and mate were dragged through the sea to the rescuing vessel.

in your esteemed journal to say a few words in reply to "Interested." Undoubtedly he will receive more answers than mine, some advocating the affirmative while others will contend the negative as final. However, both parties are not wholly right. If this question could be legally dealt with, it would afford a very interesting subject, especially since a precedent would come under the "Gambling Act" (at least I strongly surmise both of these statements to be correct.) Now. Mr. Editor, when I said that both sides will not be wholly right, I mean what I say and shall now proceed to expound my assertion. Every race where a prize or prizes are expected has some precept or another instrumental in avoiding all disputes beraces have their turning buoy, horse races and walking matches, etc., their prescribed course and so on. If interesting purchasers of sweepstakes would buy them with the full understanding that every ship must pass a certain fixed point, it would do away with all doubt and uncertainty in "settling up" the sweeps. Of such points we have several prominent Buoy, Chain Rock and many others. There being some ice in and around Great Paradise, yesterday, the s.s. Argyle, on her arrival from West could not land with or for mail and passengers. It would waste of words and space to say wha boon it would be to the people have a wharf erected here.

As we all know the s.s. Argyle canot call at the precise time, there be ing many unknown causes to delay her, but why should there not be a wharf at this place, so that she could call here and take mails, passengers and freight the few uncertain times she gets along.

Freight for here last week, was and from Lamaline back to Placentia

Mails from Great Paradise, S. E ight, Little Bonia and Little Paralise are to lie in the Post Office at Freat Paradise until the steamer goes around the bay up to Lamaline and back to Paradise, no matter how im portant or trivial.

The s.s. Argyle passed here March 6th, being unable to land mail on account of ice. It was with great difficulty she forced her way Presque, where she remained until Messrs. J. White, Patrick, Michael and Albert Brennan left here Tuesday for Petit Forte, but were compelled to return owing to large quantities of ice around. Next week they will join the Argyle for Placentia and thence to St. John's.

Misses Aggie Collins and Annie Leonard, R. C. teachers, will spen the Easter holidays with frineds at St. Kryan's.

Mr. Fergus Ryan arrived home resterday. He spent the past winter New York.

Well, says Tucker, sometimes a felow gets a chance to congratulate money, and ever since 1912 came in can stand a lot of kindness in it strikes a fellow forcibly that we're going to have a rolicking time of it in this country in the future. If ye have money, says Tucker, every one is watching you to see if you are going to unwind the elastic band off your pouch, and if you do unwind it, the crowd don't get a bit excited, but simply nod their heads and say— "Well, 'tis no more than he should and if you don't give it you're

Delaney thinks 'tis a grand way to perpetuate your memory, by giving a park with your name on the gate, for the working man has little to be thankful for around her and now every time he enters th park a feeling of thankfulness creep up slowly and surely in his breast, and as he basks in the shade he will dream of the days when th

We can all work better when we receive a deal of kindness, and 'tis gratifying to know that the money we are expending on Higher Educa-tion, is not all being thrown away, for we are beginning to realize that the "brotherhood of man" has a real meaning, and that attending church means more than the putting on or fine clothes and a pair of creaky boots and a long face. The man who alive, has the gratification of hearing people sound his praises, and a donation given by a man when he is able o "go" three square feeds, comes with greater grace than two such donations when he is on his "last ones," for we are disposed to look upon the latter as making up for lost time, in Two hundred points is the limit n the final lap of the race of Life. Be-fore now, people took a pride out of leaving a lot of "spondoolics" behind them, and if the will wasn't copperfastened, their relations spent the balance of their lives squabbling over the coin, but that kind of thing is now going out of fashion, and rich men give away their money while they are alive and kicking and they enjoy hearing people talk nice about them, and they enjoy hearing people talk nice about them, and

THE GOVERNMENT

MR. CLAPP SCORES

Mr. Clapp.—I ask leave to present what I consider to be a most important petition from the people of Bonne Bay and that section of the coast down towards Labrador. The petition deals with the work of the S. S. "Home," the hundred yards of lolly ice and laid freight passanger and mail comies. freight, passenger and mail service. her side against the hard ice of the It sets out that the "Home" is too harbor of Flower's Cove, permitting small a boat for the service; that she us to take our freight in a few minhas not sufficient freight and passen- utes with a minimum of labor. Inger accommodation, and that the mails are most irregular. This is not the first time that I have brought a similar petition before this House. During the last session of the House by telegram as well as by petition I brought this matter forward but nothing apparently, was done. The conduct of the mail service by the "Home" last summer was almost the worst since the steamer started running. The summer was almost the worst since the steamer started running. The Empty boats alongside to take it, hungry children in some cases people of Bonne Bay may well be termed a law-abiding people; for no other part of the Island would allow longing for it, such a service to be continued. I have travelled by the "Home" myself and I and now, tantalus like, it is put to the lips only to be rudely snatched away. have been in Bonne Bay when she was A strong protest fetches us a portion going through. I have seen freight of our goods. One poor man received two out of four barrels of flour on board for him. Of three very importple reason that this boat was unable to take it. Now this has been going on, the freight has been increasing and writer received but one. Earlier in no means have been taken to remedy these conditions. I am not going to find fault with the Reids, because they are merely minors in the matter. the Government are not able to take hold of the Reids and see that the

the fall, out of five barrels of pota-toies shipped to him and paid for, he lost one. He also lost a barrel of otatoes in the fall of 1910. In the fall of 1911, a hundred dollars worth of goods shipped to him, was landed in other ports from ten to fifty miles work for which they are paid is pro-perly carried out they will go on in away. Some of these have not yet turned up. In spite of all this, the the same way. The passenger accommodation is appalling. There is accommodation for some 30 saloon passengers and some 70 steerage, or secpen has never been taken to find fault. Knowing the difficulty of the work to be done, patience seemed commendable. At last it ceases to be ond class passengers. If you would travel, sir, by that boat, especially virtue. Our quarrel is not altogether with the poor terror-stricken officers and crew, though they would packed in a barrel. Brute beasts for the winter. Who could blame would not be treated worse. They are them for rushing to reach, if possible for the winter. Who could blame huddled together like sheep. Ask men some fit anchorage in the impending like Mr. George Whiteley—ask the or-dinary man who travels by the "Home" when overcrowded. I have hui ricane.

Rather would we take to task the "Powers that be," who are had to sleep on a couch in the saloon, as all berths were filled and every seat responsible for the farcial service occupied. This was where we took our meals. Is that fair to passengers? Now, then, take the freight accommoimposed upon the Straits of Belle Isle. It is an axiom of medicine that if any body or part of it is to retain good dation. Why should the people of Benne Bay be at a loss through the non-delivery of freight? or why should people who write and send letters? health, there must be a vigorous flow of good blood into every part. Let through that mail service be at a loss?
Why should the "Home," because of a little stress of weather pass port after port carrying mails and freight with turn trip from the Labrador. Freight its place—its locus in quo. Now, I am going to read for the information of this House a letter from the Rev. Mr. Richards, who is the Church of England missionary on that part of the the right hand of the Colony,— the British Columbia of Newfoundland.—

Several thousand people are cut off of the from the outside world five or six hearth, now and again melting enough one that does not grin in our faces with all the insolence of impotency frost off the window pane to peer forth and pass comment on the condition of the weather. Yesterday, in the words of Dr. Mosdell, of Bonne question, sir, if there is in this selfthe words of Dr. Mosdell, of Bonne Bay, the poor old "Home" sauntered up having been nine days coming a distance that usually takes two. Not less objects of pity are the captain and his crew than the poor impotent brute of a ship of which they are the victims. With every haven of refuge closed and jeering at her with Arctic insolence, question, sir, if there is in this self-governing Colony of ours, where noble men lightly pass laws which hinded: a poor man from procuring for his children, by his hard honest toil, a pound of fresh meat or a barrel of herring, unless it be done how and at what time they please,—who even go so far as to invade by their undigestion, the right of a man to insolence, where she has spent the past twentyfour Hours Heaven only knows!

We pray, however, that long before these lines have an opportunity of appearing in print, she shall have reached "the haven where she would be." The most pitiable victims of this

A Passenger Ship may be Adjudged Seaworthy or Otherwise.

If so, and that august body is doing its duty, we must regard the sanitary conditions existing on board the steamer this fall, as reaching the standard required. More need not be said on this subject here than this: The man, who, knowing the sanitary conditions existing on board the steamer, would allow a female relative of his verse criticism, which is by no means pleasant to us. The question is, if we are to be content with a steamship service, what must be its qualificamay think yourself lucky if after pay ing a second freight on it you get it at all. Again, in the spring, so long as there is an excuse for a pan of ice in the Straits, the boats that ought to be causing new life to pulsate around our shores, are loitering away their own time, and causing us to waste our precious time, by making short trips from Bay of Islands, taking care that so long as a pan of ice can be sighted they will make the most of it as justification for what, in plain English, can only be termed laziness Perhaps the boats are all to blame. I so give them steamers that can cleave with imputnity the heaviest jam that ever forced through the Straits of Belle Isle from May 1st to Dec. 31st.

Then there will be no excuse.
5.—A fifth qualification for a satisfactory service, is a purser/who is in all respects a man-not an ass, or what is worse, a man who makes an ass of himself. I have no doubt our pursers could be all right. I am sure some of them are because they prove it. But they who would be all right make themselves all wrong by a too frequent and uent use of something stronger than tea."

J. T. RICHARDS. Now, Mr. Speaker, I consider that a very strong and powerful letter, on that part of the coast. Mr. Rich this flow cease in any limb and the result is death in such limb. A good, healthy system is as careful that a small toe shall receive its due, as ards is not a man to complain unless that of the leg or arm shall receive theirs. So far as the Body Politic of Newfoundland is concerned, if it does not mind it will be guilty of wantonly destroying the vitality of what, if rightly treated, is to become the shall receive them, they see before them, complain; but they see before them, look into the matter, and if disaster peace in humble toil that passeth unfollows, I for my part will have done derstanding. When I am dead no A congestion of commerce is poured by the many avenues of traffic, open is not the first time this matter has nal, as shafts will stand o'er Old Bill coast, and I am sure that when the House hears this letter read it will bear out exactly what I say. This is the letter, a copy of which was published in the Telegram of the 12th of which the Rt. Hon, the Premier spoke so glowingly of the other day, Now it behooves the Government of the done, perhaps folks will be saying: the untiring northeaster sweeps into its relentless grasp all lighter material, including the snows of the past week, and flings them forth a sacrifice to the raging waters of the Gulf of St. Lawrence. Mr. Kent thought that this import ant petition of Mr. Clapp's and the let-ter which he read bearing on the matter showed a condition of affairs in snowed the service was absolutely inadequate to the needs of this important district, and considering the history of the place and the embargo placed on its development for over a century by the French Shore Treaty, and now that it was beginning to find its place in the sun, every effort its place in the sun, every effort should be made to enable the people along the coast to work out as quickly as possible their destiny which was evidently intended they should and throat, and soon rids the system was evidently intended they should fill. The service of the Home on that coast was utterly and absolutely inadequate and no proper remedy had so far been applied. Session after session Mr. Clapp has brought the matter before the House by petition or in some other manner, and it should be very encouraging now that after all his efforts he finds the Covernment. be very encouraging now that after all his efforts he finds the Government preparing to take the matter up and that when the service opens in the spring an adequate service would be
