CHAPTER XXIII.
ROCKS AHEAD!

But the seat their occupation had seemed acquiring had somehow disintegrated. When Sydney tried to win it back, reading her very best, her mind set keenly on her work, her reward was curious. Mr. Hurst would for two or even three days break through the routine, and betake himself to the riverbank, leaving her mornings purposeless and void. And if she halted to have knotty points disentangled, she was not answered at once by a clear viva voce explanation, but referred most politely, but coldly, to some authority among the tomes hard by. Heretofore was something amiss. Sydney divined. The fervor of her helpfulness was damped. Wistfully she waited, hoping every day the cloud would go by. Forbidden by instinct as by position to seek the cause of the change, never had she felt so much the stranger in the strange land as now, and she was even thankful when Miss Hurst volunteered her private opinion on the matter, wide of the mark though it might be.

They were sitting, one October afternoon, in the drawing-room that looked east up the long moor.

Sydney had used her undisturbed leisure to write a letter, which was to reach Mary Elsie via Paris, where Mrs. Alwyn sojourned; and she now assisted Miss Jean to wind off links of Welsh wool, casting from time to time a glance through the opposite west window toward the orchard, where Mr. Hurst's tall form passed and re-passed on the nearer side of the fruit-berest boughs.

Miss Hurst followed one glance and smiled sagaciously.

"My brother is not quite so wedded to his beloved 'ologies' as he was," she observed, mild exultation in her tone. "I thought it was a wonder if that incessant listening did not wear itself out soon. I must say I am glad it has."

"Oh, why?" Sydney could not forbear asking. "You seemed so gratified that Mr. Hurst should get back to his old pursuits."

"So I was. I thought it a very good thing in moderation. But lately, Miss Grey, I was getting jealous. Not of you—oh, no, no!" laughing, for Sydney opened such an astonished pair of eyes—"not that, the least; but jealousy of all those clever things I can't enter into. I was afraid he would get wrapped up in them, and presently grudge such a dunce as me any of his company. You see, Miss Grey, I have no one but him, now, to lean to. The more dependent on me he is, the more I feel him my very own. Whatever came between us, whether it was a person or a thing, I couldn't help hating!" stopping to wipe away a tear.

"I don't think," said Sydney, comfortably, "you need fear anything at all of that sort."

"No? Well, I flatter myself you are right, Miss Grey. You see how ready he is to get off his reading now, and not heeding a negative shake of the head—"we are all satisfied. For," moralized Miss Hurst, sagely, "the very best of books cannot completely satisfy a man's wants. No books; for instance, can talk to Gilbert as I can! And it's a great comfort to me to find he realizes this. Have you not noticed lately how much less he seems to care for 'remains,' and 'roots,' and goodness knows what stuff? And how often he'll turn the conversation to the apples or the weather, or something he knows I feel an interest in? And have you observed how often he says now, 'Are you not coming to sit down, Jean?' Don't be long away." Science and art are all very well, but they're not a man's sister, Miss Grey. Honestly, I rejoice at poor dear Gilbert's finding out it is me he wants most of all!"

Not a syllable of this was Sydney able to gainsay, however intuition might question the self-satisfied ultimatum. So, closer and closer did the spinster-lady hug her happy idea, and never hesitated to strain this dependency of kinship to its very uttermost. To wit: An open letter lay on the breakfast-table one morning when Sydney came down. Miss Hurst had just ended reading it aloud. Her brother, with the unusual relaxation of anticipated pleasure on his features, was saying:

"It would be capital to have him here, Jean. You don't recollect much of his stay at our old home, but if you had seen him with me at Pritchard's when the verdict went against me, you'd like him as I do. And I promise you he won't expect to be treated with ceremony. He will suit himself to our accommodation in a moment."

Something unprecedented—a visitor—seemed impending. Less to Miss

ASPIRIN
"Bayer" only is Genuine

Warning! Unless you see the name "Bayer" on package or on tablets you are not getting genuine Aspirin at all. In every Bayer package are directions for Colds, Headache, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Earache, Toothache, Lumbago and for Pain. Handy tin boxes of twelve tablets cost few cents. Druggists also sell larger packages. Made in Canada. Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada), of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid.

Hurst's satisfaction that her brother's thought. The lady, with an air of being much put upon, clattered the breakfast equipage, sighed noticeably, and then said, slowly:

"Oh, if you wish it so very, very much, Gilbert, pray have your friend. You ought not to be put off out of consideration for me."

"Why, Jean, a night's lodging to my old chum won't put you out, will it?"

Another sigh, with a dejected smile at Sydney, that said, "Oh, the denseness of male creatures!" Then an avastive "Oh, never mind; when do you want him to come, Gilbert?"

"Why, next Monday, according to what he says, is it not?"

"And this is Thursday. Then I'll go into the attic to-night, and give time for my room to be got ready."

"Jean, you shall do nothing of the sort. I could change, or anything will do for—"

Miss Hurst interrupted with sad severity. "No, Gilbert, you know I should never suffer you to move. And 'anything' will not do for a guest. But leave it to me. As you are so anxious to have him, make your mind easy. Everything shall be ready."

Another mournful inspiration temporarily closed the topic. But at the dinner-table it was revived.

"On your visitor's account we dined later on Monday, Gilbert."

"There's no necessity, Jean."

"Oh, but there is! We dined at half-past six when he was with us at the dear rectory. I shouldn't like him to consider that we've, as it were, gone down; though—to Sydney—"as I told you before, late dinners, as a rule, require more experienced servants than I can afford. But I can help all the morning, and we'll make the effort for once. Oh! and should you consider, Gilbert, my orchid-trees want pruning this month, or could I put it off till January?"

"I'm not wise on such matters," confessed Mr. Hurst. "Suppose you ask Davis."

"Oh! he's certain to say, 'Do it directly,' because he likes getting here to work. But, you see, if we are to have this Mr.—"

"Now, Jean," protested her brother, with wonderful good nature, "don't try to make me believe a solitary man stopping here a single night can possibly interfere with your tree-pruning!"

"But, Gilbert, it does!" cried Miss Hurst, sharply, "and I'll show you how. You are so unimaginative as Rebecca. She was telling me this morning we had mice, and that we must have a cat to kill them. 'A cat,' said I, 'Rebecca! a trap, you mean. They are the things for mice. A trap doesn't break plates; a trap doesn't jump up the larger shelf and steal the fish; a trap doesn't run away with one's young chickens, nor require a pennyworth of milk to drink every day. A penny a day comes to thirty shillings and expenses in a year. Rebecca,' I said, 'and if I waste it so, I shall not have it to spare for other objects. We'll have no cat!' And just the same, Gilbert, with receiving company. I can't do that and prune the orchid. For before I have a stranger here I must get—socketing each article off on her fingers—a new door-scraper; fresh carpet on the landing; a new lid to the soup-tureen—I shouldn't cut off a friend who was such a friend that he could even go through that trying work at the oculist's with my poor brother, without soup—and to get these things I must journey to Hereford. Also, we should be compelled to have the front garden done up. All of which take more than—"

Mr. Hurst just lifted his hand as if deprecating this torrent of items.

"I understand," he said; "we'll settle this presently, Jean. I am apt to forget how much you have to think of."

Something in his manner silenced Miss Hurst's jog-trot outpour. She looked at him askance.

"You will have some more beans, Gilbert?"

"No more, thanks, Jean."

"Oh, but they are the last this season. I have not touched them myself on purpose that you should have them."

"Good Jean," he answered, but pushed aside his plate, and Miss Hurst set up what he noticed, with the air of a victim to masculine caprice.

Indians in East Africa Demand Equal Rights.

A New and Involved Problem--Nova Scotia Celebrates Tercentenary--Numerous Casualties in Belfast Rioting.

A THORNY PROBLEM.

LONDON, Aug. 31. The status of Indians in Kenya Colony, as well as that of their fellow countrymen in British Columbia and other parts of the British Empire, was one of the thorniest problems discussed at the recent conference of the Premiers of Empire. It has now reached a stage which seriously affects the imperial question. A deputation of leading white settlers from Kenya has arrived at Biera in Portuguese East Africa, on the way to Pretoria, to confer with Premier Smuts on the subject. This deputation is most emphatic in its view that the settlers of Kenya are prepared to do their utmost in opposition to the application of the principle of equality for white and brown races in their Colony. Kenya settlers, interviewed at Biera, feel that the acquiescence of the Canadian and Australian Prime Ministers in the resolution, adopted by the Imperial Conference, in favor of conferring citizenship upon Asiatics in the dominions is only understandable from the fact that Canada is too cold to attract large bodies of immigrants from India, while Australia is too far away to suggest trouble on that score. The Times in a leading article takes the gravest view of the present position. This paper says, "British settlers at Kenya are evidently anxious to confer with Premier Smuts, as being more sympathetic to their views on the Indian question than British Ministers of the Colonial Office. Such an appeal by a section of the people of a Crown Colony to a Dominion Prime Minister, as being at variance with British Government on certain points, is a new development, and Premier Smuts will doubtless realize its gravity as a precedent, and may be trusted to impress upon the delegation the consequence of what they are attempting to do. The South African Government will hardly be inclined to assume additional and gratuitous responsibility in open disregard of the Colonial Office."

NOVA SCOTIA CELEBRATES.

ANNAPOLIS ROYAL, Aug. 31.

The tercentenary of the granting by James I of a charter of Nova Scotia to Sir William Alexander; the bicentenary of the establishment here of the first court of English common law, in what is now the Dominion of Canada, and the centenary of the coming to Annapolis of Thomas Chandler Haliburton, Judge and writer, creator of "Sam Slick," were celebrated here today by hundreds of Nova Scotians and visitors. Messages were received from the Lord Chancellor of Great Britain and William Howard Taft, Chief Justice of the United States.

STREET FIGHTING IN BELFAST.

BELFAST, Aug. 31.

Street fighting of a most savage character continued in this city last night, following a day of disorder. The day's rioting and outlaws culminated at nine o'clock in the appearance of a party of men, armed with rifles, who entered Stanhope Street, took positions on the grounds and opened a hot fire. Pedestrians stampeded from the fusillade. Exchange of shots between contending parties began early in the morning and gradually spread over an extensive area with increasing intensity. During a fusillade on North Queen Street in the afternoon two persons were killed and a dozen wounded. An armored car was sent to the scene to stop the fighting. Outside of detachments in armored cars, the military forces of the Government have not interfered in the rioting.

DEAD NOW NUMBER NINE.

BELFAST, Aug. 31.

Fierce revolver fighting between Ulster Loyalists and Sinn Feiners continued here this morning, causing scenes of wildest excitement in some of the city's thoroughfares. Another man was killed at eight o'clock, making the total dead up to the present nine.

THE BELFAST RIOTS.

BELFAST, Aug. 31.

Rioting and sniping had died down in Belfast this afternoon following the advent of military forces which patrolled the streets in the disturbed districts. Sir William Cotes, Lord Mayor, early today called on General Carter Campbell, Commander of the British troops in Ulster, for soldiers to quell the rioting, urging the need of protection for the citizens, and the demand was granted.

GREEKS DENY MILITARY REVERSE.

PARIS, Aug. 31.

The Greek legation in Paris last evening published an official communication dated Eski Shehr, Asia Minor, at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning, as follows: Reports from Turkish sources announcing that two divisions have been severed from the Greek right wing are absolutely false. Our right wing is in complete contact at all points with the enemy, pursuing its advance toward Angoro and repulsing the Turks."

AUSTRIANS CLEARING OUT FOREIGN ELEMENT.

VIENNA, Aug. 31.

Eight thousand Austrian troops moved into the Nussdorf district of Burgstadt, yesterday, and will police the foreign element there. Refugees arriving here from Otenburg say that city is quiet but wholly in control of the insurgents.

DAMMING THE STRAITS.

A stupendous scheme having for its purpose the damming of the Straits of Bell Isle, between Newfoundland and Labrador at the narrowest point between the two, a distance of about ten miles, is described by Walter Noble Burns in the August number of the Popular Science Monthly (New York). In his article Mr. Burns states that this project is being actually considered by engineers, who contemplate the construction of a railway across the Straits to connect the island with the mainland. The line would be laid on the platform of the dam. The scheme is declared to sound perfectly plausible, but the question is whether the ocean currents will obey the behests of human agencies which essay to direct their courses. There is a chance that while the dam changes the course of the Gulf Stream, the Labrador or Arctic current may be diverted eastward enveloping the British Isles, thus changing the climate of England into that of Labrador. Engineers say no, but other persons do not hold to their opinions. If the wall of masonry across the 'Bells' Isle Strait would alter the climate, it would also alter the agricultural and industrial destinies of Eastern Canada. 'New industries would spring up to meet the changed conditions. New wealth would swarm in, seeking investments. Immigration would arise. Population would increase enormously. Canada would soon become a competitor of United States in the markets of the world. Montreal would loom as the trade rival of New York and challenge the commercial supremacy of the continent.' What climatic and other benefits Newfoundland would derive from changed conditions such as the above extract from Mr. Burns' article describes, he does not say, but doubtless we too would participate in some of the good things which would accrue to Canada. Anyway the island would necessarily be the half way house between America and Europe, and if as stated by Mr. Burns that a group of British Capitalists have asked concessions from the Canadian Government to build a railway from Quebec to St. John's, via the Straits of Belle Isle, the construction of this road would make our capital one of the great shipping points for Canadian export trade with Europe. No overtures have been made the Newfoundland Government, so far as we know, relative to this proposition, nor has Canada yet announced any decision in the matter. The cost of the Belle Isle Straits dam would be about ten million dollars, and it would require a solid block of stone and concrete ten miles in length and fifty feet wide, the depth not being calculable at present. Whether or not the building of such is outside the bounds of possibility, there are many distinguished engineers who believe it quite feasible, and it may be that in the very near future the seemingly impossible will have been accomplished.

The Badger Situation.

MINISTER OF PUBLIC WORKS EXPLAINS.

Owing to the fact that the allocation for the building of the Badger Road is very nearly expended, 600 men will shortly be paid off, so a Telegram reporter was informed by Minister of Public Works Jennings this morning. Mr. Jennings also gave explanations of various occurrences on the Badger road work. When asked concerning conditions amongst the men, he said that when first they went out their huts were ready for them and they were provided with plenty of roofing felt for covering, free of charge. They got their supplies from the stores and saw live as cheaply as possible. As regards extortionate charges by the storekeepers, Mr. Jennings said that he has previously placed all orders for supplies with leading Water Street firms at wholesale rates, and these goods were retailed at a percentage over cost sufficient to cover loss in handling. He claimed that there was not enough profit made to pay the storekeepers. In connection with the reported attack on Mr. Graham, who was in charge of the work, the Minister said that arrangements had been made whereby one man from each gang of fifteen or twenty would go to the stores at a time for supplies. This was to prevent congestion at the stores. On one occasion Graham found five or six men from the one gang at the stores and at the one time. He immediately ordered them to return to work and was threatened by a number of men as a consequence. He explained the situation, however, and satisfied the men that they were receiving fair treatment. Mr. Jennings denied all knowledge of any disturbance last pay day. He said that an immense amount of labor was involved in the preparing of the cash notes with which the men were paid, and it was possible that the men might have become angry on account of some unavoidable delay in giving them their money. It is not expected that the allocation for work on this road will last much longer owing to the enormous number of men employed.

St. John's Champions.

CITY WINS FINAL IN INTER-TOWN FOOTBALL.

By a margin of one goal, the City footballers won the final of the inter-town series at Grand Falls last evening. A cricket match played in the afternoon between a City team and Grand Falls was won by the paper men by 63 runs. The football game was a real thriller and was fast from start to finish. Combined play was a feature of the game, which was one of the best exhibitions of football ever seen in the island. No scoring was done in the first half, but shortly after the start of the second half the City got away and scored from a mix-up in front of their opponents' goal. The remainder of the game was not exciting. The City players had a most enjoyable time whilst in Grand Falls, and appreciate all that was done for their entertainment. All arrangements for the trip were carried out in a most satisfactory manner by managers R. E. Innes and R. G. Ross.

West Coast Conditions.

Compared with various other parts of the island, the district of St. George's is not by any means in a bad condition, as there is sufficient employment to keep a fairly large number of men constantly at work. It is hoped that during the coming winter the men of the district will be enabled to get work at the lumber camps cutting pulp wood for the A. M. D. Co. A large number of men were employed at this work last year. According to a prominent merchant of the district, there is an entire absence of destitution there.

New Teaching Staff.

On the return trip of the S. S. Sochem from Liverpool several new teachers will arrive for the new school year. They will replace those teachers who resigned in a body in June. As a consequence of the staff not being here, the College will not re-open until the end of September or the first week of October.

Stole a Safe.

Some men contrived in some unknown way to enter the Treasury Department of the Reid Newfoundland Co. early this morning and to get away with a small safe, which contained papers and documents. The man were seen taking the safe at about 2 a.m., but no attempt was made to stop them, and they went off in the direction of the Southside Hills.

FISHERY ARRIVALS.—The schooner Reginald B. with 800 quintals of fish and the schooner Bram with 200 quintals arrived at Greenspond yesterday from the Straits.
Don't forget Caplin Bay Garden Party, Sept. 4th. Everybody welcome. Good time assured. sept.11 SAILING FOR LABRADOR.—S. S. Sebastopol sails for Labrador at noon to-morrow, taking freight and passengers, amongst the latter being Rev. H. Gordon for Cartwright.

Gone for Treatment.

Mr. John C. Crosbie, accompanied by Lady Crosbie, their daughter, Miss Vera, and Dr. Cowperthwaite, left by to-day's express for Montreal. Sir John, who has been ill for some time, will undergo treatment in that city and will probably be away a little over a month. His many friends hope that before long he will have fully recovered his health.

Police Court.

A drunk was discharged as he had spent the night in the cells yesterday. A man who appeared to be insane was held for examination by a doctor. A cabman for a breach of the Rules and Regulations in relation to cabs and cabmen was fined $1.00 and costs.

Coastal Boats.

GOVERNMENT.
S.S. Prospero left Catalinas at 5.35 a.m. going North.
S.S. Fortia left St. Lawrence at 10.15 a.m. going West.
REIDS.
Argyle at Placentia yesterday.
Olyde at Lewisporte yesterday.
Glencoe left Grand Bank yesterday, going to Port aux Basques.
Home at Humbermouth yesterday.
Kyle at North Sydney.
Medgie at Battle Hill yesterday, on way North.
Sagonsa at St. John's.
Malakoff at Fort Union yesterday.

Another Cricket Match.

A cricket match between the Fieldians and the Shamrocks has been arranged for Saturday afternoon, and there will, no doubt, be a large number of people who will go to see the veterans in harness again. It is probable that an entrance fee will be charged, the proceeds to go towards the Halifax trip. It is a good sign to see an attempt made to revive the good old game of cricket, which should never have been allowed to die out here.

The New General Manager.

Mr. R. C. Morgan, the new general manager of the Railroad under the terms of the 1921 Railway Act, will probably receive his official appointment shortly, and in the meantime, offices are being prepared for him in the Railway Station, near the Despatching office. Mr. Morgan was, until recently, Superintendent of Terminals with the C.P.R. at Winnipeg. He is rapidly making himself acquainted with railway conditions here, preparatory to taking control.

The "Rosalind" brought a big shipment of American Dress Serge last week which is now selling for thirty cents and fifty-five cents per yard at BISHOPS.

West End Wins.

The West Enders defeated the East End team at football last night before 700 spectators by a score of 3 goals to 1. As a result of the game the sum of $68.00 goes towards the fund to defray the expenses of the Halifax team. The C.L.E. and Briton meet tonight in the regular League series.

Outing at Donovan's.

The members of the Sodality of the Children of Mary, of St. Patrick's Parish held an enjoyable outing at Donovan's yesterday. The party left the station by special train at 3 p.m. and on arrival at Donovan's proceeded to the hotel and during the evening many of the ladies indulged in games. Tea was served at 9 o'clock and return to town was made at 9 p.m.

American manufacturers are now disposing of huge quantities of their best White Cream Flannelettes in this country through BISHOP, SONS & CO., LTD., for only twenty-three cents a yard.

Home's Report.

FAIR TRAP FISHING.
Trap fishing during the past week was fairly good between Henley Hr. and Battle Hr. according to the report of S.S. Home which reached Humbermouth yesterday. Fishing is practically finished, however, from Battle Harbor to Bonze Reparence. E. G. Grant, Bianco Sablon, reports 15000 gals. landed to date. He also reports most of the schooners having left for their home ports, all being fairly well shod.
Topsail was deserted yesterday. The new Vellings this season have created quite a sensation on Fifth Avenue, New York. The first Newfoundland shipment proved to be the pleasure of the season to the ladies visiting BISHOP'S Showroom yesterday and were unanimously pronounced well worth coming in from Topsail to see.

Personal.

Amongst the passengers by the Digby from Liverpool to Halifax is Mrs. L.H. Martin, sister of Commander Grive, who escaped the trans-Atlantic flight as navigator for the late Harry Hawk. Yesterday, Mrs. Martin visited Mount Pearl to see the point at which her brother and Hawk took off.
Mr. E. J. Godden and bride left by the Digby this morning on a honeymoon tour of Canadian and American cities.
Mr. A. K. Lumsden, buyer for James Baird, Ltd., left by the Digby for Boston this morning, on his annual visit to the American markets.
Rev. Canon Bayly, of Bonaville, arrived by the express on Tuesday.
Rev. Father Nolan was a passenger by the Prospero to Fortune Bay for the Sebastopol for Cartwright.
Mr. J. Baird, Jr., left by the Prospero this morning on a business trip to Canada and the States.
Mr. H. B. Robinson of the Robinson Export Co. is a passenger on the Sochem due to-morrow.
Miss Mary Grills, accompanied by her cousin, Miss Mary Davis, left by this morning's train to spend a holiday with their uncle at Placentia.

Shipping Notes.

Schooner Marguerite Ryan, Cartier master, sailed yesterday from Trinity for Batteen, Labrador, in ballast.
Schooner Gordon M. Hollet entered at Lamaline yesterday to load fish for Operto from W. & T. Hollet.
The schooner Maxwell R. entered at Gaultois yesterday to load dry cod fish for Operto by Thos. Garland.
S.S. Manoa due at Montreal to-day. Leaves Tuesday for this port.
Schooner Mark H. Grey is loading for market from Messrs. W. and T. Hollet, Burnin.
This Saturday night will see the biggest sales given in Men's Shirts since Newfoundland has been Newfoundland. BISHOP'S have just received a part forced sale stock of one of New York's best makers, the balance going to a large Boston department store. They are selling here for one dollar seventy to two dollars and eighty each.

Notice!

The Board of Governors of the St. John's General Hospital beg to announce for the information of the General Public that final arrangements have been made for the collection of fees to be paid by all persons who occupy beds or undergo treatment at the General Hospital.

The scale of fees was advertised in December last as coming into effect on January 1st, 1921, but unforeseen circumstances prevented this from being carried out.

The following regulations, in accord with "An Act respecting the General Hospital," will be strictly enforced.

Under an Act respecting the General Hospital (6 George V., Cap. XLIX.), and with the approval of the Governor in Council, the Board of Governors of the St. John's General Hospital give notice that they have fixed and prescribed the following scale of fees to be levied from and paid by all persons who occupy beds or undergo treatment at the Hospital. The scale is to come into operation on the 1st of October, 1921.

SCALE OF FEES.
Every person receiving treatment in the General Hospital shall, after the 30th day of September, 1921, pay fees according to the following scale:—
Persons admitted to the public wards $1.00 per day. Persons occupying private rooms $10.00 per week, in addition to the daily fee of $1.00. Every applicant for admission to the Hospital must bring with him, or forward to the Superintendent of the Hospital, certificate signed by a duly registered physician that such applicant is a proper subject for Hospital treatment.

Under the provisions of the General Hospital Act, 1915, all patients who are unable to pay fees shall be required to bring with them a certificate of their inability to pay, which shall be signed by a resident Believing Officer, or, where there is no such Officer, by a Justice of the Peace, a Clergyman or other responsible person. The fees of such patients thereupon become payable by the Commissioner of Public Charity, by virtue of the said Act.

By order of the Board,
GEORGE SHEA, Chairman.
W. H. RENNIE, Secretary.

Episcopal Visitation of South West Coast. His Lordship, Bishop Renouf, has completed a two weeks visitation of the South West Coast. On August 17th His Grace's arrival at Ramea Island was the signal for an outburst of gun fire to welcome his Lordship who was on board the entire Roman Catholic community headed by Mr. and Mrs. Renouf greeted him on the landing stage and accompanied him to the beautiful little church. After the necessary preliminary confirmation was administered to the children, and after paying the hospitality of Mr. Penny Lordship left a magnificent display of fireworks was given as the absence of fog made the journey enjoyable and the harbor Breton arrived about mid-day. Every young man blazed away with his guns, and the children and older people, headed by Dean Hawkins received his Lordship and the priest who accompanied him. Fr. St. Croix and Mr. Brennan, at the landing stage. It was soon evident that many of the young people recognized in the visitor the priest of their childhood. Mr. Brennan recalled his labors amongst them as ministered to the scattered parishes, not alone of Harbor Breton but of the coast to the west of St. John's. With a tenacity which characterized the people's memory when it is a matter of recalling the good offices of their priest, many anecdotes of long ago were recalled. St. Ignace Island situated about ten miles from Harbor Breton, was visited on Saturday. In speaking to the people after conferring confirmation, the bishop expressed the anxiety he and those who had their spiritual good at heart, felt for the education of the young generation. It is to young boys a very part in the future it is absolutely necessary that they be equipped with that knowledge, the absence of which deprives even the most well meaning of any chances of progress. The matter rests with the priest and parents to a large extent. The priest supervises the teacher and supervises the erection of schools, but the parents are obliged to send their children to school, and their duties do not end here for they are also obliged to assist by every means in their power the teacher's work. They should appreciate their teachers in word and deed. As he left the settlement, in the morning, His Lordship was accompanied to sea by several skiffs, the occupants of which cheered him loudly in bidding him God speed. His Lordship spent Sunday at Harbor Breton, and presided at Solemn High Masses by Very Rev. Dean Hawkins, Fr. St. Croix, and Sub-deacon Fr. Brennan. When the ceremony of confirmation was finished, a representation of the parishioners entered the sanctuary, and facing His Lordship, read an address of welcome. His Lordship, in reply, expressed his admiration for the loyalty to Holy Church, as manifested by the royal welcome that had been tendered him, and confessed that he felt deeply the expressions which were contained in the address toward himself. In view of the present condition of the country he asked them to have courage, and remembering the well known recuperative powers of Newfoundland, to look forward to a gradual lifting of the cloud which now hangs over all our hopes. Each man should do his part in dispelling this cloud by throwing himself heart and soul into his work. His Lordship next visited the principal settlement of Bay D'Espoir where he and his party were the guests of Fr. St. Croix at St. Albans. There he visited the Indian settlement at Conne River, being received by the chief and his devoted followers. The Indians of Conne River through their own self-sacrifices and industry built a church which is a point of architectural beauty and compares favorably with any other church. To many who had come to Bay D'Espoir for the first time, many agreeable surprises were in store. The Bay, whose sinuous arms embrace almost thirty-five miles from sea, is flanked by lofty mountains of granite, which later softened into richly covered with wood, and locally at St. Albans, the land is found to be as rich and productive as any in the island. An industrious people, led by their enthusiastic pastor, Fr. St. Croix, will soon make Bay D'Espoir the same position to the west coast as Conroy Valley does to the west.

Why the Sun is Yellow.

All this summer's glorious sunlight composed of different colours and of varying lengths. The longer waves are red, after which come orange, yellow, green, blue, indigo and violet.

These combined give a white light, as we see ordinary light to be. All the sun itself, however, it is certain that large numbers of light-rays are stopped before they can reach our sight.

Many of the short-length and weak-rays, for example, are not strong enough to get any further from the sun's interior than some thousands of miles below the surface. They are imprisoned, with the result that we do not see them affect the sun's colour in the least.

The strong violet and blue are stopped only when they have nearly succeeded in getting out, and they, too, are therefore prevented from entering into the sun's colour.

Altogether, so many of the sun's light rays are unable to escape that in the end we find only the very powerful red, orange, and green ones coming our way.

Thus it happens that from the combination of these tints we get a yellow sun. But for all that, we have had a narrow escape from having a blue sun.

Whence They Came.

"E. a. D." has its origin in Librae, scilicet, and denarii. These are Latin words, denoting, of course, "Pounds, shillings, and pence."

"I pledge my truth" is a saying which has not yet fallen into disuse, and it was originally introduced into the marriage ceremony to mean that the parties promised to be true to each other. Truth is an Old English saying meaning faith.

"Nightcap" is a term signifying a drink taken previous to retiring to rest. The Old English word for this was "pocet," and it has not entirely become obsolete. Formerly, "pocet" meant milk tumbled with wine or other liquor, and it was taken up to bed and drunk just before putting on the "nightcap."

"Thumbs up," it is interesting to find, is a new saying which originated from a very old method. In the days of the gladiators, the Roman spectators used to put their thumbs up if their favourite was winning. But if things were not going well with them, they kept their thumbs down. Hence the saying, "Thumbs up."

Spots on the Sun.

On the sun there are countless numbers of markings, to which the name of "rice grains" has been given, because of their resemblance to those objects. They measure between 400 and 300 miles across, and are noteworthy for their rapidity with which they change their shape and position.

This resemblance can be observed in a telescope of even moderate power. Their profusion on the sun's hot and glowing surface gives it quite a mottled appearance. Each "grain" is an intensely brilliant speck of light when a high-powered telescope is brought to bear upon them.

So dazzlingly bright are they, indeed, that it is believed they are the tops of columns of white-hot gas rising from deep down in the sun's interior.

The best photographs of the sun show these amazing "grains," or "granules" as they are known to science. The "granules" do not measure more than ten or twelve miles across.

Tanned Truth.

A tanned complexion makes the plain person good-looking, and the good-looking better looking. We all like to be sun-burned, but not all of us know how the tan comes.

The truth is that thousands of the tiny bloodvessels beneath the skin have to be ruptured before we can tan. The heat rays of the sun first inflame and then rupture them. The skin cannot then resist the heat. The cooling shield beneath the skin has gone, and brownish taces place.

Those unfortunate folk whose complexions change to a vivid red instead of an attractive brown have, contrary to the popular notion, tough, thick skins. The latter resist the rays, and there is surface inflammation instead of tanning.

Those whose noses peel have skins in which the perspiration ducts are clogged. Thus there is nothing to "oil" the skin, and it peels because it is dry.

Finally—this will be news to many—only the white races tan, scorch, peel, or blister from the action of the sun. A black man will get much hotter than a white man, because black skins absorb the heat and pass it beneath the skin. It has no external effect.

Freckles are but tan in patches, due to a varying thickness of the skin.

Criminal Flowers.

Like human beings, flowers have their likes and dislikes, and vent their displeasure in no uncertain manner upon their unfortunate victims.

Poppies, for instance, have a very injurious effect upon other flowers placed in the same vase, which seems to react upon themselves, as they soon fade and die under such conditions. The same remark applies to sweet peas, which should always be placed by themselves.

If other blooms are mixed with nigella, there are few which will survive such intimate contact. A yellow rose-cane faded away in two hours when placed next a pink one, yet in the ordinary way it would have lasted several days.

This explains why, after arranging perfectly fresh flowers, one comes back in the course of an hour or two to find that some of them have wilted badly. In nearly every case, it is willful murder on the part of the other flowers which could not bear their company.

Here and There.

THE NEW ROAD—The new Road connecting the Waterford Bridge and Topsail Roads has been open for traffic several days. Whilst it is rather steep, the road is a good one and very wide. Whether it is serving any useful purpose is, however, another question and there are some who think that the money spent on it could have been put to better use if it had been expended on improving the Topsail Road in the vicinity of the new road.

NOTICE.

Four weeks after the date hereof application will be made to His Excellency the Governor in Council for a grant of letters patent for a new and useful fish splitting machine to Arthur Webb, Manufacturer, of St. Peter's Engineering Works, Colchester, England; William Ambrose Belmont, Manager, of Woodbury, South Lowestoft, England, and Charles Paul Bird Reingach, Engineer, of 2 Rawson Road, Colchester, England.

Harbor Grace Notes.

Schr. "Silver Cloud," Captain William Day, arrived in port on Friday and is awaiting dockage.

Mr. Wm. Yetman, son of Mr. Josiah Yetman, went out by this morning's train en route for Seldom Come By to take charge of the Church of England School there, having spent the summer holidays here with his parents and friends.

Miss F. Noel left for Heart's Content on Saturday, where she will remain for a time. With regret we learn of the illness of the Rev. Canon Smart of that town, but we hope ere long that he shall have regained his former good health.

St. Paul's annual Sunday School picnic, which was put off on account of unfavorable weather on Tuesday of last week, was held in Shannon Park on the following Thursday, also Christ Church annual Sunday School picnic, which was arranged for Wednesday of the same week, was set aside on account of similar trouble and went off on Friday of last week. The Presbyterian annual Sunday School picnic came off to-day, Tuesday, and, no doubt, at each time the children enjoyed themselves to the fullest at the different sports engaged in by them, as well as the refreshments which were served. The Methodist annual Sunday School picnic is set for Wednesday next, September 7th, and it is likely will be held at Connell's Farm, but if the weather should not prove fit, same will take place in Coughlan Hall. The children have our best wishes that the day may be suitable, so that they can enjoy their games and tea in the open.

Misses Mollie Pugh and Gladys Parsons, who have spent some time in Canada, were passengers by the last Rosalind to the city and came to town last week. Their many friends are pleased to see them back at the old place again.

The Sociable held by the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church in Coughlan Hall on Thursday night last, was well attended and all present enjoyed themselves. First-class teas, ice-cream and candy, etc., being for sale by the ladies. The sum of $185 was realized as the night's proceeds.

Miss Winnie Noel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Noel of the South Side, left town to-day for Grand Falls, where, we understand, she will fill a position as Stenographer in an office there. Miss Noel takes with her the best wishes of her friends here that she will meet with every success at her chosen work.

S.S. Meigs arrived here early Sunday morning last on way to Northern ports of call, and took on board freight for same. S.S. Seal arrived yesterday from the Northward, bringing freight to this place. She left port after a short stay.

Miss Linnie LeDrew of the D.I. and S. Co.'s office staff, Bell Island, having spent a two week's holiday here, being the guest of Miss M. I. Simmons, returned to the Island again this morning.

Nurse Nellie Dwyer of the General Hospital, St. John's, came to town to-day on a holiday to her home. Her many friends are glad to see her.

To-morrow, Wednesday, the 31st. Inst., has been looked forward to for weeks with a great degree of interest, a full programme of Field Sports having been arranged by the C.B.B. Societies Band and will be held in Shannon Park on that date. A goodly number of visitors are expected to be present to take in the sights. No doubt Heart's Content, Bell Island, Carbon-ear and Bay Roberts will be well represented there, as well as the other settlements nearby. Refreshments, teas, drinks, ice-cream, etc., will be served during the afternoon on the field, and we are all anticipating a regular sporty day for old Harbor Grace. We trust the weather will be favorable to-morrow, so that it will not be necessary to put the affair off until the next fine day, the day set being our general holiday. The events will be:—Football Sixes—inter-town and local clubs; Throwing the Hammer; Field Regatta; Bun Race; Football Place kick; 100, 220 yds. ¼ and ½ mile races; Throwing the Cricket Ball; Egg Race; Football Relay; High Jump. Events open to any competitor from any town and prizes will be given in all events.

Members of the Band have been around soliciting donations for the affair, and we believe, at least, from what we hear, the public have responded nobly in this respect, but we hope it doesn't end there, and that all who truly appreciate the good work done by the British Band from time to time to the public at large, will visit Shannon Park on the day of the field sports, and show in a practical way that the town is really grateful to them and that they have the support of the people. May everything go off without a hitch and the day be one of success from start to finish, is the wish of all.

Ethel M. Dell's New Novel.

Miss Dell's new novel opens up a fresh field of romantic feeling, and she works it with the rapid skill and vigor which have put her in the front rank of novelists of the emotions.

"The Obstacle Race" is run by a heroine of sympathetic character, a young woman disillusioned with the world of fashion and frivolity, who endeavors to return to the less complex and more honest and human ways of life. The obstacles are the associations and entanglements from which it is so hard to fling away. With the aid of a great love she ultimately conquers the last obstruction.

A dramatic narrative, worked out upon a delightful stage with the aid of a large and interesting company of actors—one of Miss Dell's most enthralling novels.

BEFORE OR AFTER!

Which do you do—

Do you spend what you need of your income and save what is left?

Or do you save what you need and spend what is left?

Tell me which, and I will tell you whether you are a successful saver or not.

The Only Sure Way.

The slogan of this association is: "The only sure-fire way to save is to save before you spend."

Save 5 per cent of an income put by before you begin to spend, than a per cent to be saved in case your inevitable expenditures don't eat it up.

You see, the trouble with spending is that you need to spend of your income and then saving the rest, is that you need to spend in such an unwise manner—and so easily stretched—never any sum you can earn.

Know of nothing that it is easier to save (to one's own satisfaction) than to save one's needs any given thing one wants.

Wedding Bells.

OMARA-GOSSE.
The wedding of Miss Bridget O'Mara to Mr. F. J. Gosse, of the Imperial Life Assurance Co., took place in the Oratory of the Sacred Heart, Presentation Convent, Cathedral Square, on Tuesday morning. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mons. McDermott. The bride was given away by her father. Her sister, Miss Josephine O'Mara, graduate Nurse of St. Agnes' Hospital, Philadelphia, acted as bridesmaid. The groom was attended by Mr. Thomas White. After the ceremony breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents. The happy couple left for Grand Falls at 1 p.m., where the honeymoon will be spent. The Telegram joins the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Gosse in wishing them many years of wedded happiness.

Salvage Notes.

Some time in June Mr. Lewis, ex-Lieut. in the Royal Nfld. Regt., came to Salvage on route for Bar Harbor, 3 miles distant, on the hunt for some supposed buried piratical treasure. After futile attempts to get anyone to show him the "correct" spot he returned to St. John's. After he came a second time and started digging operations for the buried loot, but apart from the expenses incurred in the operations, and the reported doings of the supernatural caretaker, "Silver-Buttons," the expedition was reported a failure.

The version of the old time story in connection with Bar Harbor is as follows:—Early in the eighteenth century when pirates were not unknown on the Newfoundland coast, an English sloop sailed these seas in search of the marauders, and late in the evening of a certain day in December, on passing Cape Bonaville beheld a pirates schooner in the Bay. Of course the chase was on, but a blinding snow-storm put a hasty end to the combat that evening. The squadron anchored at Big Bar Harbor. Early next morning some of the officers ascended to the top of Tilly's Hill, and to their surprise saw the "tamt" spars of the pirate a short distance inland in Little Bar Harbor. Needless to say, it was a fight to the death, the pirates being extinguished and their leader taken to England and hung. That a battle evidently occurred there is proven by the number of cannon lying on the bottom—as high as twenty (20) having been counted, some of which have been taken up. Whether the money is still there—or ever was there—we know not, but we have heard it stated that Mr. Smallwood's Mineral rod failed to locate it.

Mrs. Geo. Bagehook, Salvage Bay, died a few days ago.

Up to the time of writing we have failed to hear of any of our Salvage schooners, but a message to Mr. Stanley Burden, Squid Tackle on Wednesday informed him that both his schooners were well fished.

Skipper Wm. Hancock Flat Islands, is on his way from Labrador with a full cargo.

This year appears to be somewhat better than the average for the wild fruits that grow so profusely in our borders. The Blackberry was very plentiful, the raspberries plentiful though somewhat stunted. Gooseberries and Currants etc., are up to the average, while Partridge berries and Blueberries are reported "as black as ever they were" in this vicinity.

Yesterday evening saw shoals of herring in Bishop's Hr. The scene reminded one somewhat of Placentia Bay in the old time herring season.—COR.

SILVER LINING.

When temper sweet I bear the heat, and do not idle swear, for for solar rays are good for maize, and prune trees, richly bearing. I don't despair, or read my hair, though in the heart I smother; whatever things the season brings are good for which or other. Sometimes I rise and roost the flies that spoil the summer season, and I recall that insects all are here for some good reason. If flies and bees and things like these were all obliterated, new kinds of pests would plague our breasts. It may be safely stated, Dame Nature's sane and not in vain are any of her doings, she goes her course though we grow hoarse from castings and bewhewings. Dame Nature's wise, and if she fries the voters: on this planet, some purpose fine, some high design is there. If we could scan it, Dame Nature wends to her own ends, no walls of ours can stop her. I say, "Gee whiz, whatever is, is right, and good, and proper." If I must bake, there's no mistake, it is the goal I steer for; if I must cook, why then, gadzooks! it's what she put me here for. Whatever happens to mortal chaps is what the Dame's provided; her way is straight, she goes her gait, and smiles when she is chided.

What's Wrong With Louisiana?

An anonymous writer in the State of Louisiana, presumably disgraced by the "slump" in prices of cotton and sugar, gives this cheerful picture of the lot of the farmers of his state: "The average Louisiana farmer gets up early, at the alarm of a Connecticut clock, buttons his Chicago suspenders to Detroit overalls, puts on a pair of cowhide shoes made in Ohio, washes in a Pittsburg tin basin, using Cincinnati soap, and dries on a cotton towel made in New Hampshire; sits down to a Grand Rapids table, eats hot biscuits made with Minneapolis flour, Kansas City bacon, and Indiana grit fried in Omaha lard, cooked in a St. Louis stove; buys Irish potatoes grown in Michigan, and canned fruit put up in California, seasoned with Rhode Island spices, claps on his old wool hat made in Philadelphia, puts New York harness on a Missouri mule fed on Iowa corn, and ploughs his farm, covered with a Massachusetts mortgage, with an Indiana plough. At night he crawls under a New Jersey blanket, and is kept awake by a Louisiana dog, the only home product on the place." He should have added: "And next morning he got up, and wonders 'What's wrong with Louisiana, anyway?'"

Household Notes.

A cornstarch-pudding sauce can be flavored with a tablespoonful of fruit conserve.
If canned fruit is used for a mouseline, nearly all the juice should be drained from it.
Design for doughnuts should be as soft as can be handled; or they will crack when fried.
Kissel's Linalum Believes Neuralgia and shortening.

A CREED.
To face the burdens of the day
With courage and without complaint;
To keep my record free from taint;
To spend a little time in play;
If peace abides within my door,
To envy no man's larger store.

To keep the right and follow straight
The path my wisdom bids me tread,
Though difficulties lie ahead;
To work and be content to wait
Until the distant goal is gained,
And greater joys are fairly earned.
To ask no special grants from life,
Save strength to meet what all must meet;
To be unconquered by defeat,
And not made bitter by the strife,
To gain what victors gain;
But to the end to play the man,
Never use a nasal bowl or spoon in cake mixing. They discolor the sugar and shortening.

MEANEY-JOHNSON.
Wedding of Miss Beatie Meaney, daughter of Mr. Denis Meaney, to Mr. John P. Johnson, took place Monday evening, Aug. 29th, at the Presentation Oratory of St. Mary's, MacDermott street. The bride, who was given away by her father, was wearing a black lace gown, carrying a bouquet of white carnations and maiden hair. The bridesmaids were Miss Meaney, sister of the bride, and Miss Evans. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Edward Johnson. After the ceremony the returned to the home of the bride's parents, where a reception was held. The happy couple left for Holywood, where the honeymoon will be spent. The many friends and Mrs. Johnson wish them years of wedded happiness.

Germany Must Prepare for Revenge.

BERLIN, Aug. 25.—Great crowds gathered on the 25th to witness the funeral of the late Kaiser. The funeral was held in the presence of the Emperor and Empress. The Kaiser's body was interred in the Kaiser's crypt in the Kaiser's mausoleum at Spandau. The funeral was a grand affair, and the Kaiser's body was interred in the Kaiser's crypt in the Kaiser's mausoleum at Spandau.

Germany Must Prepare for Revenge.

lack of enthusiasm among the masses was notable, only a few were seen to cheer when "Die Wacht am Rhein" was played by a veteran band. The funeral was held in the presence of the Emperor and Empress. The Kaiser's body was interred in the Kaiser's crypt in the Kaiser's mausoleum at Spandau.

Germany Must Prepare for Revenge.

Government had forbidden officials to participate and had scattered troops of security police throughout the city. The funeral was held in the presence of the Emperor and Empress. The Kaiser's body was interred in the Kaiser's crypt in the Kaiser's mausoleum at Spandau.
