THIS MORNING'S DESPATCHES

The London Press on the U. S. Elections. Death of Mr. Wm. H. Seward. The Indiana Election. The Governor-General in London. The Governor-General has been created Honorary President of the Ontario Lacrosse Club of Toronto. A movement has been inaugurated among the merchants and business men of Kincardine to abolish the system of long credit, and a scheme matured to go into operation on the 15th inst. The Silver Islet Co. have recently declared a dividend to shareholders amounting to about $200 per cent. ATTEMPT AT INCENDIARISM IN HAMILTON. On Thursday morning an attempt was made to fire a grocery store kept by Patrick Blake on Hunter Street, but fortunately the fire was discovered by a policeman before it had gained much headway, and easily extinguished. A SUCKER - The St Catharines Journal states that Mr. James Cairns, of that place, and Mr. James Cotton, of Ottawa, have been successful in securing the contract for deepening the Welland Canal "Feeder." Mr. Cotton is proprietor of the Ottawa Times. FIVE MEN STARVED TO DEATH - News has come to Boston that the ship Golden Hind was driven on a reef near Cape Horn in June last. The crew took to their boats, in charge of the captain and the two mates. GALT & DOON RAILWAY - On Thursday last, Mr. Hannaford, Chief Engineer of the Grand Trunk Railway, accompanied by his Assistant, Mr. Brotherhood, of Stratford, arrived in Galt, and accompanied by the Railway Committee, passed over the newly made road-bed between Galt and Doon. Mr. H. expressed himself well-satisfied with the work; but in reference to supplying the ties, we regret to state that he could hold out but few hopes that the Company would be able to procure them this fall. It appears that the Grand Trunk for its own main line is short some immense number of ties, which at the present season of the year are very difficult to obtain, and that therefore the prospect for obtaining the number required for the line between Galt and Doon is very poor indeed. How much can be accomplished by steady perseverance and unflinching industry? When M. Thiers came into office he had about twenty thousand Communists in prison, and it might have been expected that they would last him for a long time. But no. With so much pertinacity has he kept on shooting them in batches of two and three, and transporting them in lots from five hundred to a thousand at a time, that he has almost used up the entire number. A few more shooting exhibitions in the early morning, a few more shippings of miserable men and women, and M. Thiers will find his occupation gone. The Journal of Geneva publishes a letter from two Catholic priests, who, invoking the authority of the Bible, declare that they will follow Father Hyacinth's example by getting married, and congratulating him on the reform in the Church which he has attempted.

Local and Other Items.

IMMENSE quantities of produce are now being shipped from Collingwood and Sarnia for the ports in Lake Superior. MILLS, who stabbed Barley in Toronto some time ago, from the effects of which he died, has been committed to the Assizes for trial. The yacht Ina, on her way from Toronto to Kingston, capsized three miles off Whitty Harbour on Thursday afternoon. The three men on board were picked up safe by a boat from the harbour. MR. ADAM HOPE, of Hamilton, has written an excellent letter on railway matters, showing that the local traffic is the great source of profit to the Great Western. Two out of eight of the parties charged with being engaged in the row at Mornington, on the day of the election, have been bound over to appear at the assizes to answer the charge of an assault committed on one Stewart. As the steamship Georgia, on entering Sorel, fired the usual salute, the gun burst with a terrific explosion, killing instantly the gunner, and dangerously wounding one of the hands named Mercer. Doubts are entertained of his recovery. THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL has been created Honorary President of the Ontario Lacrosse Club of Toronto. A movement has been inaugurated among the merchants and business men of Kincardine to abolish the system of long credit, and a scheme matured to go into operation on the 15th inst. On standing accounts, one per cent a month is to be imposed as interest. THE SILVER ISLET CO. have recently declared a dividend to shareholders amounting to about $200 per cent. The London Exhibition.

The attendance at the Western Fair on Thursday was very large. About 19,000 people were present, and about 1,000 rumped over the fence as the Governor-General entered. A hailing and sprinkling rain prevailed during the afternoon, and turned into steady showers as the gates closed. The people got away out of the city pretty well. The following prizes were awarded to exhibitors from this county. DURHAM - Cow 2nd F W Stone. Hereford - F W Stone took all the prizes (16) in this class. GUELPH - Mr. Wm Hood took all the prizes (15) in this class. GRAB CATTLE - Cow, 1st P Rennie; 3 year old cow, 1st P Rennie; 3 year old heifer, 1st P Rennie; heifer calf, under 1 year, 1st P Rennie. FAT AND WORKING CATTLE, ANY BREED. - Fat cow under four years old, 1st P. Rennie. COTSWOLDS - Ram, two shears and over F W Stone, Guelph; 3rd do.; shearing ram, 2nd F W Stone; ram lamb, 2nd F W Stone, 3rd do. MENDIP WOOLLED SHEEP - Ram, two shears and over, F W Stone, 2nd do.; shearing ram, 2nd F W Stone, 3rd do.; ram lamb, 2nd F W Stone; ewe, two, 2 shears and over, F W Stone, 2nd do.; shearing ewe, two, F W Stone; ewe lambs, two, F W Stone, 3rd do. THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL IN LONDON. His Excellency, the Governor-General and the Countess of Dufferin left Toronto on Thursday morning for a brief visit West. They were accompanied by Col. and Lady Harriet Fletcher, Hon. A. MacKenzie, Hon. A. McKellar, &c. The party went by special train on the Great Western Railway, which stopped a few minutes at Hamilton, Paris and Woodstock. At the latter place a large concourse of people were gathered, and the station was handsomely decorated. Addresses were presented by the Town and County Councils. The train arrived at London at half-past one. Here great preparations had been made for the reception of the Governor-General and party, who were loudly cheered on their arrival. At the station the Mayor read the address of the corporation, and the Board of Trade also presented an address. Afterwards a procession was formed to convey the viceregal party to the fair grounds. The streets of the city all bore signs of rejoicing. No less than four triumphal arches had to be passed before the ground was reached. During the procession the Lord Field Battery, under the command of Col. Shanly and Capt. Peters, fired a salute, and the bells of St. Paul's Cathedral rang out merrily. Inside the ground an enormous crowd were waiting to welcome Her Majesty's Representative. As soon as the carriages entered the gates, hearty cheers rang from the multitude, and it was with difficulty that any progress could be made through the concourse. Their Excellencies were conducted to the Judge's stand, in the centre of the ring, and the President of the Western Fair Association, Mr. W. Saunders, presented Lord Dufferin with an address. After replying to the address the party again entered their carriages, and with great difficulty were driven round the ring, and thence to the Horticultural Hall, which they walked through, admiring greatly the beauty of the flowers and fruits which were displayed. They next drove to the carriage shed, where his Excellency inspected the magnificent vehicles on exhibition with particular interest. Returning to the ring they saw the prize horses trotted round, and thence proceeded to the Crystal Palace, which they entered and examined. On concluding their inspection they left the ground, and drove to the residence of the Hon. John Carling. Here they remained a short time and proceeded to Hellmuth College in pursuance of a promise made by His Excellency in one of his speeches. They were conducted over the establishment, admired its situation, conversed with the pupils and complimented the directors on the prosperous state of the institution and the admirable order which they saw preserved. Lady Dufferin, Lady Harriet Fletcher and Col. Fletcher then drove back to Teanagh House, where a suite of rooms for the vice-regal party had been secured by the city. Lord Dufferin, accompanied by Mr. Carling, visited the largest oil refinery in Canada, that of Messrs. Waterman, Englehart & Co. They were met and conducted over the works by Mr. Waterman. His Excellency evinced a deep interest in the astonishing transformation which he beheld in the oil. On leaving the refinery His Excellency returned to the Tecumseh to dinner. In the evening a torch light procession took place. The arches were illuminated, and several houses had Chinese lanterns displayed in front while others exhibited transparencies. The weather, no doubt is accountable for the fact that the illumination was not so general as it might have been. At nine o'clock their Excellencies drove to the City Hall to hold a reception. A very large number of ladies and gentlemen were present, and after the reception a ball took place, which was very well attended. Mr. Brown's Pigs again to the Front. In reference to the pigs exhibited by the Hon. Mr. Brown at the recent Provincial Exhibition the Mail's criticism thereon, and the Montreal Herald's retort to the Mail, the Ottawa Times comes to the rescue of the latter in an article from which we select the following choice sentences: "The Mail's reporter ought to know that while the criticism of other pigs was allowable and proper, the weight and obesity of Mr. Brown's swine ought never to be called in question. No 'slight bounds' of a 'Tory' journalist ought to invade the sacred precincts of that honorable gentleman's pig sty. Now there's where we differ from the Ottawa Times. Mr. Thos Ferguson made a dive into the Hon. Mr. Wood's spittoon; the editor of the London Free Press made an investigation into the Hon. Mr. McKellar's bedroom fixings; and we see no reason why any other Tory, or Tory journalist should not take up his quarters in one of Mr. Brown's pig-sties. Spittoon, bed-chamber furniture, or pig-stie are all one to a Tory, so long as he can make political capital out of them." - Hamilton Times. The Chicago Board of Trade celebrated the anniversary of the great fire last year by taking formal possession of the elegant new building, the Chamber of Commerce.

Death of Mr. Wm. H. Seward.

The telegraph announces the death of this well-known American statesman, which took place at his residence, Auburn, N. Y., on Thursday afternoon. Deceased had only been ill for a few days, and his death was, consequently, somewhat unexpected. Mr. Seward was born in 1801, and for many years took a very prominent part in politics after the formation of the Republican party in the United States, and was an uncompromising opponent of slavery, and the slave holders' policy, which for years controlled the Government, and which was only broken up by the great civil war. Mr. Seward served for one term as Governor of his native State, New York, and aspired to be President, but was thwarted in getting the nomination at the time Mr. Lincoln first received it.

Mr. Seward, however, was appointed Secretary of State by Mr. Lincoln, and occupied that responsible position during the trying times of the civil war. Although somewhat arrogant in his pretensions, he generally acted with prudence and caution, and in the memorable Trent difficulty he had the good sense not to rush into a useless and unprovoked war with Britain.

After the election of Grant, Mr. Seward retired into private life, and occupied his time mainly in travelling. His career is closely identified with the history of the American Republic, especially during the most trying period of that history, and he had a very narrow escape from assassination at the time Mr. Lincoln was murdered. He will be remembered as an able and astute politician, and a true friend to his country.

The Elections in the States.

Judging from the State elections in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Iowa and Nebraska, on Tuesday, Mr. Greeley's chances of being elected President are very slim. These State elections generally indicate pretty correctly how the election for President will go. The Liberal Republicans—that is the party who nominated and now support Greeley—were confident that they would carry Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana, but it turns out that their calculations have been sadly astray. The Grant Republican majority in the former State is over twenty thousand, and though in Indiana the Democratic candidate for Governor, who received the support of Greeley and his friends, was elected, yet the Grant men claim large majorities for the State officers nominated by them, and for their nominees to the Senate and Assembly.

It is strange that Pennsylvania should have gone against Greeley, seeing he is so intense a protectionist, and has fought so strenuously for years in the interest of the manufacturers and producers in that State. This may partly be accounted for by the vote in Philadelphia, which gave a very large majority against him. The Tribune says there was most corrupt work at the election there, and that hundreds of "repeaters" went from New York purposely to carry on their nefarious work at the polls there. Be that as it may the election is now settled. The results there, in conjunction with the Liberal Republican defeats in Ohio and Indiana, render it pretty conclusive that Greeley cannot be President, and that his opponent, Grant, will be elected for a second term.

Mr. Froude, the distinguished historian, will lecture next week in New York before the Y. M. C. Association. He has chosen for his subject in New York a theme to which he has devoted some of the most picturesque chapters of his "History of England." The five lectures, of which the first is to be given on the 16th inst, treat of the Relations between England and Ireland, the first considering the Norman Conquest of Ireland; the second, Ireland under the Tudors and Stuarts; the third, the Penal Laws and their consequences; the fourth, Grattan and the Volunteers; and the fifth, the Rebellion of '98, the Union, and the Ireland of today.

Communications to the Italian papers from Rome state that an emissary from Cardinal Antonelli, acting under the Pope's orders, laid before the Emperors of Germany, Russia and Austria a series of resolutions by the Roman Curia relating to the present position of the Papacy, and particularly a decision that on the death of the present Pope the conclave for the election of a successor should not be held in Italy. It is desired to know what the three Emperors think of the matters referred to them, and whether they are willing to lend their influence to secure freedom of proceeding to the above-named conclave. No answer has, it is said, been received from them as yet.

We have received a copy, in pamphlet form, of the Hon. Mr. Mackenzie's speech on the financial position of the Province of Ontario, delivered in the Legislative Assembly on the 21st of February last. Although now appearing in this shape months after it was delivered, this able speech is worthy of being preserved, as it gives every reader, political or otherwise, a just and comprehensive insight into the financial position of this Province, on which our prosperity so much depends.

The Ottawa Free Press, which is generally credited as being the home organ of the Hon. R. W. Scott, referring to the recent coquetting of the Tory organs with that gentleman, says:—"A few short weeks will suffice to set at rest all the hopes and ambition of the Ontario Opposition. They will find that Hon. Mr. Scott seeks no affiliation with men who have slandered and defamed him; and that he will neither ask nor accept their support."

The Dead Baby Case.

The adjourned inquest in this case will be held this evening in the Police Court, at half-past seven, when the other procurable evidence relative to the case will be brought forward. Meanwhile, we will not anticipate that evidence, although in possession of all the important facts, and which tend to throw some additional light on the subject. We believe that a great deal of the sensationalism which the event seems to have created in some minds will be considerably diminished by the proceedings of this evening.

MONTREAL COLLEGE.—At the opening of the Canada Presbyterian Church College in Montreal, Dr. McVicar said that the total assets of the College at this date amount to $70,868. This sum is distributed among the various funds as follows:—Scholarship Endowment Fund, $929; Library and Fixtures, $9,000; Endowment Fund, $23,520; subscription for an additional Professor's Salary, extending over a period of five years, $10,000; subscription for the erection of College Buildings, one-third payable on demand, and the balance in March, 1874, $26,276. The contract for the erection of the buildings has been given out, and the work will advance as far as possible this fall, and be completed next summer so as to be ready for occupation next session. This will greatly add to the power and efficiency of the College. Dr. McVicar in concluding his address said he might allude to a personal matter.—It was known that he had been asked to accept another position than that which he now holds. On purely public grounds he had resolved to continue his present work. Had he consulted his personal interests he would have yielded to the proposal made to him. His principle was to occupy the position in which he could best serve God and the Church, and on this principle he remained in the meantime at his present post. The announcement was received with manifestations of satisfaction by the meeting.

WESLEYAN MISSIONARY REPORT.—This Committee met at Brockville on Tuesday, the Rev. Dr. Punshon presiding. Among other business the inauguration of a Foreign Mission to Japan was recommended by the Committee. The Rev. Dr. Taylor, Missionary Secretary, read the financial statement:—
Receipts from circuits and missions ..... $74,839 65
Juvenile offerings ..... 14,438 13
Legacies ..... 603 32
Miscellaneous ..... 1,254 78
Sundries ..... 2,875 40
Total ..... 94,016 28
Increase during the year ..... 10,397 25
Expenditure during the year 87,710 46
The Revs. Dr. Wood and Dr. Taylor were unanimously re-appointed Secretaries. Mr. John Macdonald was also unanimously appointed Treasurer, in which office Dr. Taylor is his associate. The Committee added $600 to the salary of Dr. Punshon and $400 to that of Dr. Wood and Dr. Taylor.

WESTERN FAIR.—It gives us much pleasure to record the success of our enterprising townsman Mr. James Massie at the London Exhibition, where his exhibit of biscuits, &c., received the very highest commendation at the hands of the Judges. One of the leading grocers in London has bought the exhibited biscuits, and large orders are on hand and in expectation from others in the trade, who gladly welcome and appreciate Mr. Massie's successful enterprise; as, hitherto, they have been obliged to depend on Montreal for the supply of certain particular kinds of biscuits, but which they can now obtain equally as good, cheaper and on shorter notice in the prosperous Town of Guelph.

An immense building for the accommodation of lunatics in South Yorkshire has just reached completion, and was formally opened on Saturday the 7th ult. It is erected in what is known as Wadley park, three miles from Sheffield, and cost about £120,000. It is capable of accommodating 750 patients. New wings are to be added, should such an enlargement be required. The building is surrounded by about 136 acres of land, which will be devoted to farm and garden purposes.

Capt. Joseph Wilson, H. M. Collector of Customs at Sault Ste. Marie, returned last week from Hudson's Bay, where he has been establishing a new custom house at Moose Factory. This shows a disposition on the part of the Government to grant every facility to the increasing trade of that extensive territory. Capt. Wilson accomplished the whole trip in a canoe which was carried over the various portages.

The British Postmaster-General has forbid the registration for transmission abroad of a newspaper published in London called Bradlaugh's Journal, and which, if it be a true reflex of the individual whose name it bears, must be a vehicle for atheism and every kind of political heterodoxy. Its proprietor protests against the act as a violation of the liberty of the press, ignoring, as it too much the fashion nowadays, the maxim that liberty is not license.

The Scotsman is informed that signs are not wanting of a turn in the prosperity of the malleable iron trade. Orders have been coming in slowly this month, which, combined with the high prices of coal and pig iron, has led two large Lanarkshire firms to give their workmen the usual fortnight's "notice."

There is a great lack of first-class workmen in Paris, and that work was, in consequence, going to London. A gentleman recently from London says that employers of first-class skill were seriously complaining that, through lack of hands, work was passing them and going to Paris. This same dearth of able workmen seems to be found more or less everywhere.

ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY THOUSAND DOLLARS WORTH OF DRY GOODS TO SELECT FROM!

Heffernan Brothers have great pleasure in announcing to their patrons that, in view of the great advance which they knew must inevitably take place in the price of woollen goods they were careful to place their orders with the leading European and Canadian manufacturers fully three months in advance of any house west of Toronto, and by means of a large cash capital have been able to make special and most advantageous terms, and are now prepared to show a large and magnificent assortment of NEW DRY GOODS AT OLD PRICES.

CHAPTER XXI.

A DARK ECLIPSE FOLLOWED BY A WONDERFUL BREAKING OF THE LIGHT.

What a frightful horror of soul had come upon George Eglantine. To see Lillias Gibson in the company of another lover was to feel as if the stability of the universe had given away, as if the basis of human faith was a delusion, as if an abyss of dark nothingness was swallowing up all that he had deemed permanent and eternal. For up to that moment he would have lost faith in the existence of virtue itself ere the faintest thought could have entered his soul that Lillias could prove false and deceitful. If she was what his own eyesight had declared, then human love and heaven's goodness, which in her person he had revered and worshipped, were a dream, and the bright visions of its beauty but a mocking phantom.

A thousand times rather would he have lost faith in the trustworthiness of his own senses, and rejoiced with a joy unspeakable had it been possible to believe that his eye sight had deceived him—that what he saw was but the conjurings of his brain, suddenly seized by an inexplicable malady. But, alas! he could not find relief in a refuge even so desperate, for as he lay heavy and rigid against the wire-fence which encircled the trees, he could see between the trunks the open space of the park and the two figures drawing every moment nearer. He had ample opportunity to watch and observe them, and as the distance lessened, any ground of hope which he sought to cling to vanished away. Most surely was it Lillias, and as surely was she clinging to her companion's arm with every demonstration of the proudest affection. And with their faces turned to each other, whispered words were passing between them, which, though he could not hear, could only too well interpret.

Her companion's face George could not discern, for his broad brimmed hat was pulled far over his brow, but he could see that he was about his own age, and he had a handsome manly figure, and that he supported Lillias by his encircling arm, with a pride and tenderness which showed how dear she was to him, and how familiar and close was the footing on which he stood towards her.

And she on her side manifested with equal unreserve a full and unhesitating abandonment to his caressing support, gazing up at him with a happy joyousness of gesture which a maiden only manifests towards the object of her heart's choice.

George felt as if his limbs had turned to stone and his heart to ice, and he stood there as motionless and inanimate as the dark tree which was immediately behind him.

Nearer and nearer they came, and in a moment or two more they would be close to where he stood. What would happen then? Would she consummate her cruel treachery by a burst of mocking laughter and disdain? Would she proclaim him to her companion as the poor tator who, in the madness of presumptuous folly, had dared to proffer her his love, and would they both gaze with pitiless triumph on the writhings of his crushed and lacerated heart?

He had but time to raise these questions in his mind, when they turned the corner of the clump of trees, and were within a few feet of him, yet they passed on and never saw him. Standing there motionless, and in the deep shadow of the trees, he escaped their notice, and all the more easily that they were absorbed in each other, and in the conversation in which they were engaged. But they passed so close that the flowing dress of Lillias almost touched George's arm, and low as were the tones in which they spoke, he distinctly heard the words which were being uttered.

"Fear not, dear Lillias," said her companion, in a rich deep voice. "Should he come hither, I will protect you from his anger."

"But when he discovers you his rage will be deepened," she nervously returned.

"Possibly, but I am ready to brave it quite ready, let us meet when we may." These were the words which reached George's ear, and their first effect was to strike a still colder chill into his heart. Then as the speakers went on and entered the arbor the spell which had rendered him motionless relaxed, and with a great leap he passed round the corner of the clump, where they could have no chance of seeing him.

Here he gave way to the terrible emotions which could no longer be restrained. He tugged fiercely at his heaving, surging bosom in an effort to free himself from his choking sensations; he smote

This is what Cathie says about success: "My friend, if thou hadst all the artillery of Woolwich trundling at thy back in support of an unjust thing, and infinite bonfires visibly waiting ahead of thee, to blaze centuries long for thy victory on behalf of it, I would advise thee to call halt, fling down thy baton, and say, 'In God's name, not 'Thy success.' Poor devil, what will thy success amount to? If the thing is unjust, thou hast not succeeded; no, not though bonfires blazed from North to South, and bells rang, and editors wrote leading articles, and the just thing, law, trampled out of sight to all mortal eyes, an abolished and annihilated thing. Success? In a few years thou wilt be dead and dark—all cold, eyeless, deaf; no blaze of bonfires, ding-dong of bells, or leading articles, visible or audible to thee again forever. What kind of success is that?"

Many persons apparently healthy on retiring, die during the intervening hours from three to five in the morning. The life force being lowest at the time nature more readily succumbs. Individuals on the shady side of forty, and whose vitality has been impaired are most susceptible. ### THE REASON WHY

Dr. Wheeler's Compound Elixir of Phosphates and Nutritive Tonic, because Phosphates constitutes more than half the material of the human body, and are absolutely essential to the growth of Bone, Muscle and Nerve, which cannot attain full development without them. They promote a good appetite, perfect digestion, create pure, healthy, vitalizing blood, and supply the waste constantly going on in the system as the result of mental and physical exertion. Being combined with Calaisia, the Purgative Bark, the only specific for Chills and Fever, and that condition of Nervous Prostration and General Debility arising from low vitality and exhaustive illness, it forms an elegant and agreeable, invigorating Tonic, purely physiological in its action, that may be taken safely under all circumstances, and in diseased conditions of the body, as it builds up the constitution in the same manner as our daily food.

The Largest of any Company in the World.

This Society has led the van in the Insurance world for many years; it has introduced more improvements and given greater impetus to the business than any Life Company in the United States, and is deserving in this respect of the praise and gratitude of the community.

There are many reasons for selecting the Equitable Life Assurance Society.

1st—No company has such large annual transactions, thereby infusing into its business a constant accession of fresh and selected lives which is one of the greatest elements of strength.

2nd—Liberality in dealing with all claims: observing the same time, a due regard to the interests of its present large body of policy-holders by a firm resistance to any attempts at imposition.

3rd—Perfect organization in every department, which renders official information easily obtainable and secures a complete administration of its affairs.

4th—Being one of the most progressive in situations of its kind in the world, it is ever prepared to seize at once upon all the improvements in the business that science can suggest.

The Equitable Life Assurance Society issues every recognized form of policy, and especially the TONYNE SAVINGS FUND INSURANCE which the Company introduced. This plan has become very popular, as equalizing among all who are insured under it the advantages which arise from the profits of the business without in any respect infringing upon the normal results for which Life Insurance was first instituted.

The Equitable feels that it has the strongest claims upon public confidence. Under the management that distinguishes it and the principles by which it is guided, perfect security is given for the future, than which no greater inducement can be held out to all who wish to insure their lives.

Further information regarding the different kinds of Policies issued by the Society can readily be obtained at
