

BOMBS FOR BOARD OF EDUCATION TECHNICAL SCHOOL WALLS WEAK? BISHOP MAKES LIGHT OF REPORT

BISHOP ANSWERS CRITICISM OF DEPARTMENT

No Loss to the Board Nor Gain to Himself Thus Connection With Outside Work—Considers Findings Inaccurate and Conclusions Unjust.

Sept. Bishop of the board of education building department yesterday submitted a 70-page typewritten reply to Judge Winchester's report. It was presented to the board last night and referred to a special committee.

Sept. Bishop says that five years ago it became apparent that the department was not sufficiently manned. The records showed that the department expenditures from 1890 to 1904 totaled only $1,500,000, compared with an outlay of $5,000,000 from 1906 to 1912.

In answer to the report made by Robert Jessiman and James Craddock on the work at various schools, Sept. Bishop quotes two other experts. "Mr. Cooper, chief of works in this department, and Mr. George Henry, an experienced contractor, to show that the former's reports abounded in errors."

Many technical replies are made to the judge's detailed comments. Sept. Bishop says:

"It is true that in a few cases there have been oversights shown by the evidence, but with one or two exceptions, these are such as could not have been prevented by any method of keeping records in the office."

"As to connection of officials with outside matters, I wish merely to say, that as far as they apply to myself, the evidence shows that the board least nothing and I gained nothing in these matters by reason of my connection with the board."

"This brings us to the part of the report dealing with contracts for heating and ventilating."

A large part of the reports of experts for his honor and of the evidence as to the work which was not and is not completed, has never been accepted and has not been paid for and in which the board is fully protected by unpaid balances.

In replying to Judge Winchester's statement that "had other tenderers the same inside knowledge that they had they could have tendered as low, if not lower, than the Fred Armstrong Co.," Mr. Bishop replied:

"No Inside Knowledge. This statement that the Fred Armstrong Co. had 'inside knowledge' which gave them an advantage in tendering on this job is absolutely with-

The Board of Education

Ordered an investigation into one-half mile of two-story brick wall of the technical school building because an anonymous charge of faulty work was made.

Received the reply of C. H. Bishop, superintendent of buildings, to the report of Judge Winchester in the recent investigation.

Referred back to a committee a clause asking for $243,000 for equipment of the technical school.

Trustee Miles Vokes threw a series of bombs yesterday afternoon at the most exciting meeting in the history of the advisory industrial committee.

The meeting was "special" called for "important business."

Chairman Ellis set the match to Trustee Vokes' powder by stating that the special meeting was called to authorize an item being placed in the estimates for $243,000 for equipment for the new technical school building and for various extras amounting to about $10,000.

Trustee Vokes said the fact of the matter was that the consulting committee had made a muddle of the whole affair. "Over twenty thousand dollars of extras" had already been spent, and "no one knows where we are going to end."

Chairman Ellis asserted that the consulting committee had been authorized to proceed without waiting to report to the general committee.

Some Explanation. Mr. Macdonald, one of the architects, was called in to explain that it had been found that there was no provision in the Good Roads Act for raising the two and a half million dollars required.

Unless the rules of the house were suspended and the supplementary bill passed, the act would be inoperative for lack of money.

The opposition allowed a bill to go through, although maintaining that the government deserved censure for its carelessness.

WALLS OF SCHOOL SKIPPED IS CHARGE

Examination of Masonry on Technical School Ordered by Board of Education When Trustee Vokes Charged Poor Workmanship—$243,000 Request Deferred

Because some person, whose name is known to only one member of the board of education, alleges that the walls of the new technical school are not being built properly, an investigation was ordered by that body at its meeting last night.

The order for investigation came with endorsement of this clause in the advisory industrial committee's report. The clause advised:

"That S. G. Curry, architect, be appointed to investigate a charge made that the contractor for masonry work at the technical school building, was not complying with the terms of his contract in the construction of the walls of the building. If the walls are found to be constructed in accordance with the specifications, the cost of any cutting or rebuilding of the walls will be borne by the board, and if not, the cost will be borne by the contractor. The architect and contractor have agreed to facilitate this enquiry in every way."

Trustee Ellis, himself chairman of that very committee, opposed the clause.

VOTED MILLIONS IN DYING HOURS

WINNIPEG, Feb. 19.—The Manitoba Legislature has found it necessary on the eve of prorogation to rush through a bill for two and a half million dollars. The money is to be used under the Good Roads Act passed at the present session. This afternoon Provincial Treasurer Strong explained that it had been found that there was no provision in the Good Roads Act for raising the two and a half million dollars required.

Unless the rules of the house were suspended and the supplementary bill passed, the act would be inoperative for lack of money.

The opposition allowed a bill to go through, although maintaining that the government deserved censure for its carelessness.

REINFORCE LAW AGAINST TRUSTS

President Wilson Gives Assurance That New Legislation Will Cause No Conflict.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19.—President Wilson desires that the proposed bills dealing with the trust problem be so phrased and adapted to the decisions already rendered by the supreme court of the United States on the Sherman anti-trust law, that the efficiency of that statute shall be neither impaired nor complicated, but properly supplemented.

Calder at the White House today were told by the president that this was the principal object of his conference last night with Attorney-General McKeen-Jones. He explained that the attorney-general, whose counsel and advice was being sought by the congressional committees, had given a detailed idea of the extent to which some of the things now proposed might conflict with the Sherman law.

Ocean Freight Rates Discussed--Toronto District Labor Council Meeting

PARLIAMENT SHOULD EXERCISE AUTHORITY TO CONTROL RATES OF TRANSPORTATION COMBINE

Western Members Supported W. F. Maclean, M.P., in Protesting Against Long Delay—Producers, Handcapped by Extortionate Charges, Are Deprived of Legitimate Profits by Gigantic Merger.

(Special to The Toronto World) OTTAWA, Feb. 19.—Ocean freight rates and the power of parliament to curb the great transportation companies on land and sea engaged the attention of parliament today, there being a spirited and somewhat protracted debate, in which W. F. Maclean (London, York), Hon. George E. Foster, Hon. Frank Oliver, Mr. Knowles (Moose Jaw), W. H. Bennett (East Simcoe), Mr. McCree (Sherbrooke) and others participated.

The debate arose in committee of supply, and followed upon a brief explanation by Hon. Mr. Foster of the work of the Imperial Trade Commission, upon which he represents the Dominion of Canada. Mr. Maclean took the position that Canada could not and should not depend upon an imperial commission for the regulation of freight charges upon Canadian produce, as he declared that parliament had jurisdiction over the freight rates imposed by vessels sailing from Canadian ports carrying the Canadian government and affiliated with or owned by Canadian railway companies.

Canada's western farmer, he said, got a bill of lading from the local elevator to the British port, and the railway company issuing that bill of lading was clearly subject to the railway commission. Moreover, the three great transcontinental railways were all members of the ocean combine, and in that way the inland merger in a gigantic transportation trust. If parliament was important to regulate the corporations far more pressing importance than the immediate granting of supply. Messrs. Oliver and Knowles confirmed the statements made by Mr. Maclean, and demonstrated to the house that while the price of wheat at Liverpool had declined 25 cents a bushel between 1907 and 1913, the transportation charges for wheat fields of western Canada to the British ports had increased by 15 cents per bushel.

Strong Demand From West. To postpone the discussion upon the plea that he wished to make headway with his estimates, but several members, especially from the west, strongly intimated that the transportation trust and its extortionate charges were of far more pressing importance than the immediate granting of supply. GRANT TO COADY A SHAME AND DISGRACE

Labor Council Denounce Proposal to Pension City Treasurer—Robbins to Go on Carpet Because He Voted Against Carey in City Council.

The report that the city council may grant $24,000 to City Treasurer Coady caused much comment at the Trades and Labor Council in the Labor Temple last night. A resolution denouncing the proposal of the city council "as a shame and a disgrace" was passed, and Controller Simpson will be requested to oppose the measure when it next comes up before the council. The delegates were of the opinion that the money was needed much more by some of the unemployed than by Mr. Coady.

The meeting was of the opinion that the successor of Commissioner Starr as chairman of the juvenile court should be one of the delegates to the Trades and Labor Council, as most of the children who appear before this court are the children of laboring men. A recommendation to that effect was made to the police commissioners.

No Day Off Yet. In connection with the agitation of the Waiters' Union for one day off in every seven, a letter from J. C. Waters, president of the Canadian Trades Congress, was read, stating that he had been unable to get any satisfaction from the Dominion Government, and advised the council to induce Alan Studime to introduce a bill in the Ontario legislature, or to work in conjunction with the Lord's Day Alliance.

The council will act upon the message. Robbins on Carpet. Ald. W. D. Robbins, representing Ward One, will be invited to explain his action in regard to the substitution of the name of Mr. Locke for that of D. Carey as appointee to the Civil Service Commission. Ald. Robbins has cast his vote against Mr. Carey, who is a labor man, in favor of one who is not a labor man.

MASTERMAN IS DEFEATED BY UNIONIST

Member of Asquith Cabinet Loses Bethnal Green by Margin of Twenty-Four Votes—Unionist Ignored Home Rule and Tariff Reform in Campaign.

LONDON, Feb. 19.—The first by-election necessitated by the recent changes in the cabinet resulted in the defeat today by C. F. G. Masterman in the southwest division of Bethnal Green by the narrow margin of 24 votes. The Unionist candidate, Major Sir M. Wilson, was elected, receiving 2823 votes to 2804 polled by Masterman. The Socialist J. Scarr, polled 316 votes.

C. F. G. Masterman was appointed chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster to succeed C. F. Hobhouse, who becomes postmaster-general. In the last election he polled a vote of 2745 to 2561 polled by the Unionist candidate.

Insurance Act Main Issue. The Conservatives fought the election almost exclusively on the "vicious insurance act" home rule and tariff reform being little referred to. Hon. Mr. Masterman gave the premier place to home rule, the parliament act and church disestablishment.

The appearance of Jim Larkin in support of the Socialist candidate gave a distinct stimulus to the mild excitement which has pervaded outdoor gatherings. Regularly through the campaign Larkin denounced the government and their "foul insurance," stigmatized Liberalism as a thing that had to be scotched and killed, and declared the downfall of Masterman would be the heaviest blow the government has yet received.

FATALLY INJURED
BY FALLING TREE

LONDON, Ont., Feb. 19.—Thomas Watkins, aged 52, of the second concession of Westminister Township, was fatally injured in the woods near his home today, when a tree he was cutting down fell on him. A doctor who was summoned discovered that the man had sustained a fracture of the leg at the thigh, a triple fracture of one arm, and injuries to his head. An ambulance was summoned to bring him into the city to a hospital, but in the meantime he succumbed to his injuries.

CELEBRATION BY HUERTA FORCES

Anniversary of Accession to Presidency Was Marked by an Impressive Demonstration.

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 19.—Gen. Victoriano Huerta today celebrated the anniversary of his accession to the presidency with a review of the garrison and the formal decoration of the regimental colors of the 29th, the organization which, under command of Gen. Banquet, placed Huerta under arrest. The ceremony was attended by the American charge d'affaires and the other members of the diplomatic corps.

El Imparcial, in an editorial today, referred to the events of the first year of Gen. Huerta's administration, bestowing upon him high praise for his efforts to restore peace.

Salvador Diaz Miron, editor of El Imparcial, against whose anti-American editorials Charge O'Shaughnessy has protested, is to be sent to the front, according to President Huerta, who has assured Mr. O'Shaughnessy that Miron is to be given a mission abroad.

Notwithstanding that Gen. Felix Diaz has sent word to friends here that he has no intention of participating in the rebellion there are some who profess to have information that he intends to join the constitutionalists.

ARREST PASTOR PARSON CHARGED

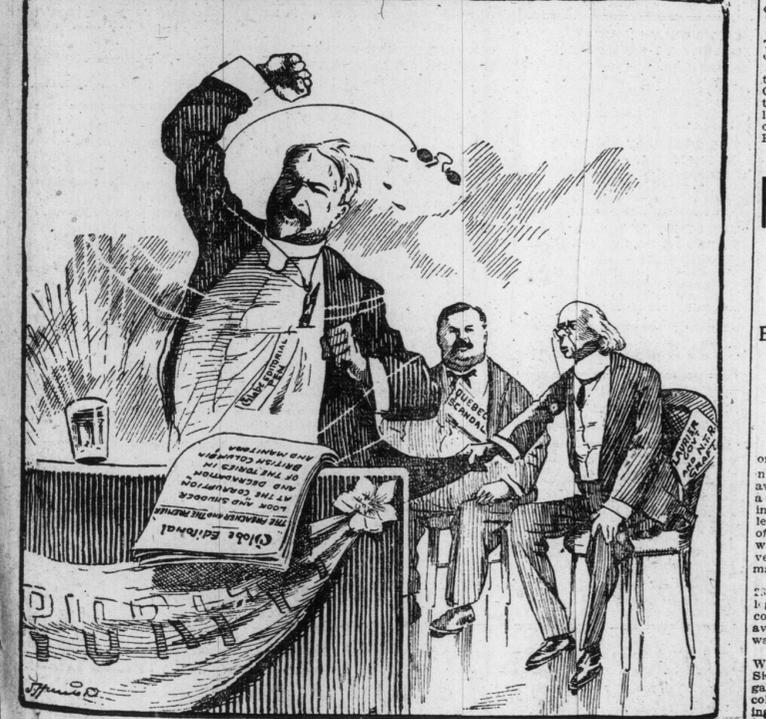

Rev. J. A. Cottam Accused of Burning Parsonage in Suburb of Detroit.

DETROIT, Feb. 19.—Rev. J. A. Cottam, pastor of the Methodist Church at Dearborn, a suburb, was arrested here late today on a warrant charging arson. The minister had been detained at the county jail since yesterday while county authorities and a deputy state fire marshal completed an investigation into the burning of Rev. Mr. Cottam's parsonage, which occurred on Jan. 15.

When Rev. Mr. Cottam learned the warrant had been issued he resigned as pastor of Dearborn. He declared he is innocent, and a number of his parishioners said they had confidence in him.

After the parsonage burned, the pastor gave out a statement which declared he had received threatening letters from persons of a different religious belief. He said they objected to sermons he had delivered, which dealt with the religion they professed. Rev. Mr. Cottam, when arraigned before a justice, did not enter a plea, but asked for an examination. March 5 was fixed as the date of the hearing, and he was released on $2500 bail.

MACHINISTS TO OPEN NEW LODGE

Euchre Party and Social Held Last Night in St. James' Hall.

DEATH OF MRS. MOORE

Funeral Service This Afternoon in Salvation Army Citadel.

Work on the new Annette street sewer is progressing most favorably and the excavation between Clendennan and Quebec avenues is beginning to assume large proportions. A huge traveling steam shovel is used for the gross excavating and a large gang of men are employed to finish the trench and bank the sides. The large iron, three-foot pipes have been drawn and are ready to be laid when the trench is ready. Simultaneously with this work on the lateral Clendennan avenue sewer is being rushed, and also the task of constructing it across the deep ravine south of the Humber side Collegiate presents great difficulty to the engineers, yet considerable headway has been made, and it is expected that within a month it will meet the new Annette street line.

A New Lodge. With a view to the organization of a sister lodge for their fellow mechanics employed by the Grand Trunk Railway in West Toronto, Hazel Lodge, Independent Association of Machinists, held a euchre party and social last night in St. James' Hall. Hazel Lodge is composed chiefly of C.P.R. mechanics, and they feel that the machinists of the other railway should have the benefit of such an organization as the I. A. of M.

WILLIAM SCOTT CALLED BY DEATH

South York Pioneer Passed Away Early Yesterday Morning.

The death occurred early yesterday morning at Scarborough junction of William Scott, 74 years of age, one of the oldest of the pioneers of South York. Mr. Scott, who has been ailing for some time with heart trouble, was well known in South York, and was for many years postmaster at Danforth postoffice, and has of late been farming in Scarborough. He was a Presbyterian in religion, being a regular attendant at Zion Presbyterian Church, Scarborough Junction. Mr. Scott is survived by his wife, Margaret McDowell Scott; a son, John Scott, who resides in Toronto, and two daughters.

Interment will take place tomorrow at 3 p.m. at St. John's Cemetery, Norway.

EAST TORONTO. At a meeting of the executive committee of the East End Ratepayers' Association last night a resolution was passed protesting against the granting of $10,000 to the "Ad Club" or any such convention. It was also decided to send a letter to the council asking why the grading of Kingston road and Kenilworth avenue should not be proceeded with and to give work to the unemployed.

Billboard Nuisance. In dealing with billboards the executive decided to ask the board of control to remove the one at the corner of Kingston road and Queen street, as it was a nuisance to the district. The city council are to be asked to install lights at the entrance to the skating rink on Kingston road.

Redistribution. The executive committee of the East End and Beach Ratepayers' Association will hold a joint meeting on Saturday night to discuss the redistribution of the wards.

THREE SECTIONMEN KILLED YESTERDAY

Hand Car Crew Run Down by Express Between Whitby and Oshawa.

TWO DIED INSTANTLY

One Expired in Oshawa Hospital at Noon—Inquest Last Night.

Two sectionmen, Robert Ashby and Donald Grant, were instantly killed yesterday morning about 10.15 when struck by a passenger express westbound between Oshawa and Whitby. Another named Arthur Smith was fatally injured and died about noon at the Oshawa Hospital.

The three men were working on the north track in a cutting near a bend in the line a half mile east of Whitby when struck by the train. The express had been held up at Oshawa by a broken down engine on the track and the train was switched to the north track so that it might get thru. The section men evidently did not get warning of the change and had gone on with their work, south track as usual. The men were taken completely by surprise and the engine driver says that he did not see them. The bodies of the two men were taken to the Oshawa hospital, and arrangements for their funerals were made. Donald Grant's funeral, which will take place at Oshawa last night, and Whitby for Robert Ashby, will be held at 8 o'clock. Mr. Grant was about 36, and is survived by his widow and five young children, the eldest being only nine years old. Robert Ashby was about fifty years old, and was unmarried.

FIRE HALL TO BE MUCH IMPROVED

North Toronto Station to Be Extended and Better Equipped.

RATEPAYERS' MEETING

Executive Met Last Night, But Adjourned Without Taking Action.

The appearance of Fire Chief Thompson at Commissioner Harris in North Toronto yesterday aroused the curiosity of the inhabitants as to what could be the reason for his appearance. From an unofficial but reliable source it is reported that the city intends to make big alterations in the north end fire station.

Present Fire Hall Small. The present fire hall is too small and accommodation insufficient for fire new front to the present station and extend it to the fence line on Montgomery avenue. This will give more space behind the hall for housing wagons and the quick harnessing of horses will be installed. It is likely that a new hall mentioned will make the north end station up-to-date and ensure the district proper fire protection.

No Action Taken. The executive committee of the North Toronto Ratepayers' Association met last night and discussed the reduction of telephone rates for the district, but no definite decision was arrived at as to any future action in the matter. The advisability of opening up parallel doors in the north was also discussed.

Annie Hayden. A middle-aged woman, fell downstairs at her home, 758 Richmond street, sustaining injuries to her back and head. She was conveyed to St. Michael's Hospital.

C. P. R. WATER TANK BURNED DOWN

New Forty Thousand Gallon Structure at Agincourt Station.

NO WATER AVAILABLE

Fire Supposed to Have Been Started by Spark From Engine.

A 40,000 gallon water tank which had just been completed east of the C.P.R. station at Agincourt was totally destroyed by fire at 8 o'clock last night. While the origin of the fire is unknown it is thought that a spark from a passing engine had set some shavings on fire. The fire was not noticed until it was well under way, and nothing could be done to save the structure, as the pumping engine was out of commission. The tank was built of wooden staves and closed in with a frame building and was one of the largest on the line. It was designed to provide water for the traffic on the new line east of Agincourt. The loss is estimated at $600.

WESTON.

The citizens of Weston have decided to organize a fire brigade and have the organization run independently of the council. The brigade will have twenty-five members and will appoint its own chief and officers, who will be instructed by a city fire chief. The citizens will ask the council to vote money to purchase helmets, rubber coats, etc., for the brigade. The council will also discuss the plan suggested and that members of the brigade be paid for drills and answering calls. The Bell Telephone Company will be approached in regard to the placing of fire calls until a fire alarm system can be installed by the town.

He was born in West Lodge avenue. The Oddfellows' Hall was taxed to capacity last night on the occasion of a smoking concert. Messrs. Tompkins, Richards, Davidson, Dymally, Bartels, Panting and Williams supplied the music and scores were frequent. Messrs. Panting and Williams, the former with his accordion, and the latter with his harmonium, were instrumental in bringing roars of laughter, each one being enjoyed five times.

Howard Park Church ORATORY CONTEST. Great interest was manifested in the annual oratory contest held at the Howard Park Methodist Church last night. The prize was a gold medal donated by W. J. Wallace, and some very clever speakers took part. Wesley Doney proved the winner in a contest that was interesting throughout. His subject was "Patriotism," which he treated very eloquently. Clerk Ruse won second place with his subject "United Empire Loyalty." The judges were Edmund Harley, of Osprey Hall, B. Collier, superintendent of Howard Park Church Sunday school, and J. R. Reid.

Church Being Renovated. For the past several weeks the Central Methodist Church, Ascot avenue, has been in the hands of the painters and decorators. The interior is being renovated. Decorators are busy at present with a cream color, the walls being very handsome. The wall at the rear of the sanctuary is being painted white to form a background for the pictures. It is expected the work will be completed in the course of another week.

Sons of England Lodge, Earls Court branch held their regular meeting at Little's Hall, corner Ascot and Earls Court avenues, the attendance being large. During the evening a singing party, members from city lodges, paid a visit which harmony and sociability held sway until midnight.

PARLIAMENT SHOULD EXERCISE AUTHORITY

the question. The British Government had not received this proposal with favor, partly because the general subject of ocean freight rates had been already committed to the investigation of the Imperial Royal Commission.

Should Rebuff Combine. The head of the combine was the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, and associated with it were the Grand Trunk, the Canadian Northern and the Inland Navigation merger.

Railway Board Should Act. Mr. Maclean said that he could not endorse this view. The ocean combine was effective today, and levied the heaviest tax which the Canadian farmer had to pay.

“It is not good national policy,” Mr. Maclean continued, “to turn over our problems for solution to an imperial commission. It is for this parliament to act. Any carrier which is in a combine to raise freight rates is an outlaw, and I indict the men in control of the great transportation trust in this country at the bar of this house and at the bar of public opinion.

Mr. Maclean first, (applause) for the national policy and for the sovereignty of this nation over all persons and corporations within her borders. I will not admit, I would be ashamed to admit, that this great nation of ours after 40 years lacks the power or the capacity to regulate freight charges upon the staple products of its people.”

Farmer Doesn't Benefit. Canada was committed to enormous expenditures in building ports, establishing waterways, and in aid of railway construction, but the more money the Dominion Government spent the less money did the Canadian farmer realize from the sale of his grain.

brought us around to the salient weakness of our federal government as it had been administered for years. Parliament passed laws but made no provision for their enforcement. We should direct the attorney-general of Canada to enforce federal enactments and vote him money for that purpose.

The government of Canada, Mr. Foster continued, has not divested itself of any jurisdiction by referring the subject of ocean rates to the imperial commission. That commission would not take five or ten years, but would complete its labors in time to make a full report to the imperial conference in 1915.

Mr. Maclean said that the question of the situation in the west was a critical one. The farmers were not allowed to sell to the United States, but were compelled to export their surplus wheat to England. This gave the monopoly to the Canadian transportation companies which they took advantage of to rob the farmer.

Mr. Foster continued, “The rate of wheat in the world's market between 1907 and 1913 had fallen from $1.23 per bushel to 98c per bushel, while the cost of producing and marketing had largely increased. It cost a great deal more to produce the wheat, and 15c a bushel more to market it.”

Mr. Maclean suggested that the lawyers were not always right. In 1906, he had brought in a bill to place express companies and express rates under the railway commission.

Mr. Maclean argued that to coddle our ports often using government wharves, elevators and elevating machinery, received large subsidies for carrying his majority's mail, and was in many ways amenable to parliamentary regulation.

Mr. Maclean said that the railway commission undoubtedly had jurisdiction over land rates and inland navigation rates, and indirectly if not directly over ocean rates.

Mr. Maclean said that the question of the situation in the west was a critical one. The farmers were not inclined to regard these references as complimentary. Any man in or out of parliament who ventured to criticize a railway company for violating the law of the land was also denounced as a “railway outlaw,” an outlaw, and was even liable to be called a lawyer.

more facts bearing upon the situation than a royal commission in England is likely to discover in two years time, but I am not going to press the point further, beyond saying that all these great corporations are the creatures of this parliament, and if this country has arrived at the point where it cannot control the corporations it has created, we had better throw up our hands and admit that we are not capable of self-government.

Mr. W. H. Bennett (East Simcoe) challenged some of the statements made respecting the combine on his great lakes. The American vessels outnumbered the Canadian ten to one, so that a Canadian combine would be unable to control rates. The rate from Fort William to Georgian Bay ports could never be higher than from Fort William to Buffalo, otherwise all our grain would go thru American channels.

CUSSED TOO MUCH.

Alleged indecent profanity caused Arthur Doyle, who first called himself Arthur Kearns, to be brought into the police court yesterday and to be given one week's remand in jail while he tries to secure evidence of good character. The man is a careless chauffeur and was arrested at Bay and King streets in company with chauffeurs who have a stand there. The officer swore Doyle's language was most offensive to passers-by.

THE GARDEN CONDUCTED BY RACHEL R. TODD M.D. NURSERY CONDUCTED BY Elvira Murray Teething Disorders WATER GARDENS

Teething time has long been dreaded by young mothers; and while, of course, every new thing that happens to the baby is an ordeal to the mother until it is safely over, there is never any cause for alarm in the performance of a natural function where the child has been well and carefully prepared for it.

Disorders that may really be attributed to teething are some fever, restlessness and fretting, loss of appetite for a few days, and some temporary indigestion shown by occasional vomiting, curds in the bowel movements or green passages. If the disturbance or symptoms continue for more than a few days, a dose of castor oil at once, and his food weakened by adding more water or gruel to the formula; or if he is a breast-fed baby by giving water and barley water just before nursing and then shortening the length of time given to nursing.

When there is fever or indigestion the child should be given a dose of castor oil at once, and his food weakened by adding more water or gruel to the formula; or if he is a breast-fed baby by giving water and barley water just before nursing and then shortening the length of time given to nursing.

EIGHTEEN-THIRTY STYLES ARE BACK

Coats Are Long, Cut Away From Hip and Flaring Back.

HATS COVER ONE EYE

Bright Colors Predominate, Lemon and Lion in the Lead.

The Paris styles have been displayed to American buyers, and while Paris cables say there is nothing sensational, there is plenty that is new. The women have lately been covering their ears with their hair. The new hats are to be tilted on one side, quite covering the eye, and making fair woman appear as if she has no ears and only one eye.

Tunics are long and flaring over narrow skirts, on the same lines as some of the aprons of last season. There are Roman stripes and plaid over solid colors.

The coats are long, cut away from the hips and flaring at the back. Trimmed crepe and gabardine are used for the majority of the frocks and suits. Thin frocks are made of linen and poplin in calico designs, and Neapolitan capes are a feature.

One of the favorite color combinations is Spanish orange with brown. According to one authority on dress, the general idea in the new fashions is the 1830 style.

There is a tendency to fluffiness and the idea of bouffants has been used to a greater degree than ever before.

Later in the season, it is believed, there will be differences shown in skirts. Slits have a tendency now to stray around at the back instead of the front. Some of the skirts are made with a fan-shaped bottom, to give what is called the "tango" effect when they are worn.

Among the novelties are clips and buckles of jade or lapislazuli in oriental style, and a peasant collar which is set around the neck and is made of organdie.

Bright colors seem to predominate in everything. Most are tropical shades: orange, lemon and lion. A pompadour effect given by flowers is a new note that will conform to the fashion of powdering the hair in white. The "hat" will be much in vogue this season, as may also be the extreme high colored wigs just endorsed by London society.

How COAL GAS IS MADE. An interesting lecture on the history, manufacture and uses of coal gas was given before the first and senior classes in chemistry of the Toronto Technical High School, Wednesday night, by Mr. George W. Allen of the Consumers Gas Company.

Before entering upon his subject the lecturer briefly glanced at the means employed for artificial lighting—chiefly oil lamps and candles—before the possibility of lighting by gas was discovered. This, like the other portions of the discourse, was illustrated by lantern views, of which some thirty or ninety in all were presented.

With preliminary chat of this kind the lecturer led up to the first branch of his subject, "The History of Coal Gas," showing that there are three claimants for the honor of first discovering that the distillation of coal yielded a luminous gas, but to Murdoch, a Scotchman, is due the credit of having first invented a practical and commercial use. At Redruth, in Cornwall, in the year 1792, he carried out a number of experiments upon the distillation of different classes of coal, and lighted his house and office with gas as he had invented it.

Nowadays we are all interested in motor cars, and the users of them or as grumblers at the reckless way in which other people use them. It is interesting to learn that Murdoch—in this case as a prophet long before his time—was a pioneer in this method of locomotion. He constructed an engine, which ran on wheels, and much to the alarm of the natives, used to drive home on this when his day's work was done.

A description was next given of the numerous processes involved in the manufacture of gas. Here the lantern clear technical descriptions which it would otherwise have been difficult to follow. Explanations were also given regarding numerous residential products which are derived in the manufacture of gas. These, as one time thrown away as of no use, are now turned to valuable account.

Many fine views of the Toronto Gas Works were shown and ably described.

TWO MORE SOCIAL DISTRICTS

At a meeting of the West Social Conference, and the University Settlement yesterday, it was reported that two sister organizations would be formed shortly in North Toronto and Park Forest, in the work of looking into the causes of distress and remedying conditions, not by free gifts of food and money, but by removing the cause of the distress.

This conference has been instrumental in having many houses condemned as unfit for habitation, and a number of husbands prosecuted for neglect. A. L. Brown occupied the chair.

WILL IS UPSET.

Justice Latchford yesterday disallowed a provision in the will of the late Michael Patrick Doyle of Paisley, by which he set aside $100 to his own use, the establishment of a temperance hotel in Guelph.

EFFICIENT HOUSEKEEPING BY HENRIETTA D. GRAUEL DOMESTIC SCIENCE LECTURER

SOME BOTTLES

EVERY house should have a shelf conveniently located for bottles. A bottle of linseed oil and lime water, mixed in equal parts, should always be in sight, ready to use on burns. A bottle of turpentine is not so necessary but is convenient for removing rust from metal.

Nickeled objects, always hard to polish, can be kept bright by being rubbed with a woolen cloth, moistened with ammonia, and there is nothing better than it for cleaning mirrors, silver and unvarnished woods. Ammonia is not explosive nor inflammable like benzine or gasoline, and does not injure the hands. In the bath it is tonic and cleansing and purifying; in the laundry it softens the dirt in the clothes and prolongs their wearing qualities.

Don't try to keep house without your ammonia bottle. The second really important bottle must be labeled poison and kept on the highest shelf in the bottle cupboard. It is filled with a solution of caustic crystals, and this is to be used to remove fruit stains, grass stains, mildew and rust from white clothing, ink and other stains from the clothing. Put half an ounce of caustic crystals in a half pint bottle of water. Keep this stretched tight in the hands, over a steaming kettle of water. The salt will disappear in a moment, rinse the cloth in clear water at once and dip in ammonia and rinse again.

Very often you will see directions for removing stains that call for lemon and salt, this is a mistake; salts of lemon is meant and the caustic solution will have the same action. In cleaning brasses, wet a woolen cloth in the solution and rub the dull metal until you have covered every part. Now plunge the copper or brass in very hot suds and polish with any good powder. Any stain that can be removed with salt and lemon and hard rubbing will come out with this simple treatment.

The next "bottle" is a handful of steel wool. This may be purchased at any paint store, and it is used just as a sandpaper is. It is far better than a brush for removing spots from the kitchen table or the floor, and its cutting friction is sufficient to plane the grime or smoke from off the kitchen ware. It can be rinsed in hot ammonia water, dried and used again and again.

GOOD WORK DONE AT THIS MISSION

Hundreds Fed, Clothed and Given Provisions Every Day Thruout Winter.

Twelve o'clock noon is a most interesting hour at the Yonge Street Mission. It is then that some four hundred and eighty men from every walk of the lower life assemble to sing, pray and eat under the supervision of Mr. Davis, the founder of the institution. The hall is crowded to the doors—old men and young men, white men and black men; some a happy medium; good men and bad men; every man of every nationality and creed, who make up the vast body of the homeless and unemployed. All join in the songs so enthusiastically led by the venerable worker, and even the man in the corner reading a two-day-old newspaper was glad to be provided with a song leaflet. Three thousand loaves of bread are daily distributed and four or five hundred families are provided with flour, milk, bread, beans and potatoes by this energetic organization. The work is carried on entirely by means of voluntary contributions and a string is extended to the public for clothing. C. J. Frogley spoke to a most attentive throng on Thursday at the daily mission assembly. The Sunday morning breakfast at the mission is a revelation to anyone who has not already taken active interest in the work.

How One Gown Serves Many Social Purposes

By MADGE MARVEL

You know the possibilities of the black satin gown? "asked my friend, the modiste, as she tried the effect of the combination of mustard-colored chiffon over flesh color and assured me that it was quite the latest word, whether I liked it or not.

The fundamental frock is a well made draped skirt and a bodice with some gold and that odd new shade of blue. The material is really heavy, supple charmeuse. Then there is a bodice of black Spanish lace over white and a tunic of the same lace and a rose pink vest which makes one costume.

Dear me, what's the matter with all of you girls, how fussy you're getting, to be sure. I don't wonder some of you have to sit at home alone these cool evenings. Who on earth would want to take you out—worrying for fear the man who is trying to give you a good time will do something odd or peculiar.

out foundation in fact, or in the evidence.

"In view of the effort that was made in the investigation to show that contractors were not treated alike, and the statements of his honor that the tendering was a farce, that honest competition was discouraged, etc., I would say it is passing strange, if there was any truth in which to show that such efforts and statements, that other contractors were so dull or indifferent that they never had a complaint to the department or to a trustee, so far as I know, and that the contractors who were so anxious to give honest competition and would surely have carried out the work according to specifications, were only enabled by a highly colored and sensational newspaper report to see that they were being treated unfairly.

"I do not wish to make any reference to his excellency's recommendations in connection with both building and tendering work, that accounts have been lost, is very indefinite.

"His opinion, several times expressed in connection with both building and tendering work, that accounts have been lost, is very indefinite.

"To my mind there are two important points affecting the department involved in this investigation, and those are:

"First, had there been any corrupt dealings between officials and contractors?

"Second, has the board received any value for its expenditure?

"Fortunately, the first question is satisfactorily answered in the judge's report, at page 88, in his statement, which covers the evidence to show that any of the officials received any benefits from contractors doing business with the board.

"The second question is the point on which all detail of the investigation is focused.

"The volume of business covered by the investigation, the nature of the work and the amount of debts which might possibly be made against contractors, in my opinion are exceedingly small.

"The investigation was carried on by public and private enquiry continuing only thru a period of at least two and one-half years, and certainly no fault can be found as to its scope or thoroughness. No amount of trouble, or great or too small to be persistently followed up and sifted.

"My effort in regard to it, and that of my assistant, Mr. Ward, was to fully and frankly furnish to his honor and to the board's solicitor all information requested and to assist in any possible way to get at the truth and nothing but the truth.

"We did not consider it necessary to have any special legal representative to look after the interests of the department.

"No worse than the rest, if any other business, public or private, covering the same number of years, involving an equally large volume of business of such a nature that there would be equal opportunity for error or less, were subjected to an investigation of the same kind, with the same unlimited scope, unlimited authority, unlimited expenditure and unlimited time, do you think the showing would be any better?

"In conclusion I would urgently request that the consideration of this whole matter be expedited as much as possible, because the business of the board is suffering, and suffering badly, for want of more settled conditions in this department."

Stomach Troubles Due to Acidity. SO SAYS EMINENT SPECIALIST. So called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, wind, stomach ache and inability to retain food, are in probably nine cases out of ten simply evidence that fermentation is taking place in the contents of the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acids. Wind distends the stomach and causes that full, oppressive feeling sometimes known as heart-burn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the fermenting food. If fermentation is prevented, the acid and gas are not formed, but may involve most serious and permanent damage to the stomach if not prevented. The delicate lining of the stomach, and the contents of the stomach, should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water immediately after eating, whenever wind or acidity is felt. This stops the fermentation and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments. Fermentation, wind and acidity are dangerous and unnecessary. Stop or prevent them by the use of a proper antacid, such as bicarbonate of soda, which can be obtained from any druggist, and thus enable the stomach to do its work properly without being hindered by poisonous gas and dangerous acids.—M. F. G.

N. H. A. Issues Warning To Exuberant Coaches

PENALTY SYSTEM NEEDS PATCHING

N. H. A. Holds Tame Session — World Series Discussed — Quinn is Upheld.

MONTRÉAL, Feb. 19.—The N. H. A. at its special meeting here today, sustained President Emmett Quinn in his ruling dismissing the Quebec club's protest following the game with Ottawa. He was also upheld in the appeal by the Ontario against Ottawa.

The penalty question was brought up by the Wanderers president, who considered that the penalties should be made more severe, so as to keep the players under better control. Mr. Quinn, however, would do away with all the minor penalties and rule a player out for three minutes for the first infringement of the following offence. President Lichtenhain was also in favor of giving the president of the league the power of making his decisions final regarding fines and punishment of players. Under the present rules the penalties, in his opinion, are something of a joke.

Altho no direct charges were made against Al. Smith for his conduct of last Saturday night, such behavior will be discontinued in future matches.

The rules for the matches for the world's series between the N. H. A. winners and the coast champions were discussed. The following is the off-side rule to be used during the games played under the western rules:

The rink shall be divided into three equal sections by drawing a colored line four inches wide in width across the ice and up the side fences, at right angles to the length of the ice.

In the middle section there shall be no offside, but the outside rule shall remain in force in the two end sections.

No player shall take the puck offside in the middle section if it has been passed by one of his own side from the end section.

Further, when the puck strikes the side fences in the middle section when played by any player in the middle section, every player must be onside, even if the puck goes over into either of the end sections.

It is permissible to loaf in the middle section, but any player loafing there must not cross opponents' lines ahead of the play, in case of infringement of the referee shall order a face on the line.

Those in attendance at the meeting were: Ottawa, Frank Shaughnessy, Toronto, Frank Robinson, Canadiens, Geo. Kennedy, Quebec, E. H. Bennett, St. Michael's, O. Tom Wall, Wanderers, S. E. Lichtenhain, and President Quinn.

POOR PUBLIC ARE STUCK IN AGAIN

Owing to injuries to several of the players St. Michael's have been forced to call off their exhibition fixture with Varsity on Saturday afternoon. The Rowing Club will fill the Saints' date and lack the student boys. The Argonauts' R.C. game scheduled for today has been cancelled to allow the King street strollers to play Varsity.

The speculators will reap a bounteous harvest on Saturday. Toronto and Canadian cities are holding games in the N.H.A. race here at the Arena tomorrow night and one hour after the seat sale opened yesterday morning every pasteurized vendor is expected to add two or three dollars to his pocket.

It has been a long, hard road for the blue shirts to travel, but it now looks as if the locals will land the pennant and play Victoria Coast League champions for the world's championship at the local Arena. The Frenchmen and the Toronto tie, with only four games to play. The remaining games are: Saturday, Feb. 21—Canadiens at Toronto.

Wednesday, Feb. 25—Toronto at Ontario, Canadiens at Ottawa.

Saturday, Feb. 28—Toronto at Quebec, Wanderers at Canadiens.

Wednesday, March 4—Wanderers at Toronto, Ontario at Canadiens.

Looking over the schedule it will be seen that Toronto plays three games at home and one on the road, while Canadiens have only one fixture on their own ground.

Toronto has much the best of it and could easily win the Ontario pennant "straight" if they did not "blow" their lead in the championship. They "blow" some looks to be the battle in the "Ancient Game" at the Quebecers' rink. The Wanderers are traveling at a great clip and will take some beating. The Canadiens must take some beating after they get thru with the blue shirts just in the humor to give them a "sting" in the "Ancient Game" at the Montreal rink. The Frenchies meet their rivals on Saturday night and it will be another hard contest. Ontario are their last opponents, and they should be an easy win for the Montrealers. Making it all together, everything favors the Toronto.

HOCKEY GOSSIP

Varsity Juniors play their return third round game with Berlin at the Arena Saturday afternoon and it promises to be the junior title fight of the year. The student youngsters have a one-goal lead and must hold this to go into the semi-finals.

The game between East Toronto and Woodlins in the juvenile series of the Beaches League has been postponed until Monday or Tuesday as the rink is not available until then.

Eurokas will play a very important game tonight at 8.30 at the rink at the Weston club and every player is requested to be on hand at 8 as the game will start at 8.30.

The Coxwells meet at the Don Plaza at 8.30 tonight for their game with Yorks.

Park last night and Aura Lee juveniles won by default.

Junior Meds defeated Junior School, 4 to 1, in a group two Jennings Cup hockey game yesterday. This leaves three corners left in the group, and Junior Meds are the favorites to win the Jennings Cup.

Broadview rink this season has played at the Arena for the honor of the district, and drew a record 1-5 defeat in the final game.

The winners had the edge on the Saints, but just had their own luck. The determined rush of the Saints in the series, and as both teams have been playing stellar hockey, Ferriman, the ex-Parkland star, as both teams are on the ice, but was too closely checked and war off his stellar rushes as he did a week ago.

Both teams played hockey which would be credited to O.H.A. The same teams were tied up in a game at the Arena sometime next week, and they ought to furnish a splendid game and draw a big crowd. F. C. Waghorne, sk. referred.

Referee: F. C. Waghorne, sk. referred.

Club That Runs Racing in France

Warton and Kingston Win O.H.A. Semi-Final Games

English papers made a lot of a card scandal at the Jockey Club in Paris, which caused a French writer to point out that the 'French Jockey Club' is not an institution at all resembling the Jockey Club of England. It is entirely a social club, with its club house and card rooms. It is a very exclusive club, and the fees are heavy; but it has nothing whatever to do with the control of the turf. The institution in France which performs the same functions as the Jockey Club does in England is the 'Societe d'Encouragement pour l'Amelioration des Races de Chevaux en France,' founded by Lord Henry Seymour in 1824. This society owns the race courses at Longchamps and Chantilly, and all racing on a flat in France is under its direction.

At this year's annual meeting of the Societe d'Encouragement last month three members were elected to take the place of the Count de Barceux, M. H. Ridgway and M. Henri Delamarre, who died last year. The new members are the Count de Talhouet-Roy, Baron Foy and M. A. Du Bos.

The honorary members of the society are the King of England, the Duke of Portland, Lord Princes and Mr. Leopold de Rothschild.

The president is Prince Auguste d'Arberg. There are only thirty-six members, all of them being prominent owners or breeders of race horses, and most of them undertake work on special committees. The stewards for the coming year are the Marquis de Ganay, the Count de Quincey, and Baron Goule Marois, Baron A. de Schickler, and Count P. de Sainte-Phalle. There is a finance committee, a "program" committee and special committees to frame the rules of racing and see they are carried out, to inspect and maintain the 200 yards of turf, to select and purchase the cups and objects d'art, to give prizes. The benefit funds are under the supervision of the Count de Barceux, M. English clergyman at Chantilly, the Rev. W. H. Armstrong, is especially nominated to look after the stable hands and trainers, jockeys and stable lads, Chantilly. Among the changes introduced by the society this year is the coming of the Prix de la Cedre in the future, the last of the important year-old races on the year's program.

The Prix de la Cedre, which was founded in 1864, had its name changed to the Prix de la Cedre in 1897, and is now known as the Prix de la Cedre. It will be open to foreign horses.

The Deep-sea Society of France has also announced a program this week. The distance of the Grand Prix de Paris, a quarter of a mile, has been increased by a race raised to 2,800. The value of the race, some for horses which have won a cup, some for others for horses which have never won, and others for horses which have been in the Prix de la Cedre, which was formerly open to all horses, has been thrown open to all horses, and the Prix de la Cedre will in future be reserved for four-year-old horses. The conditions of several other races have been modified. A notification which will affect English racing is the fact that the international races at Autuel in the future will be held at Dublin.

Club That Runs Racing in France

Owns Great Tracks, Few and Noted Members Including King of England.

English papers made a lot of a card scandal at the Jockey Club in Paris, which caused a French writer to point out that the 'French Jockey Club' is not an institution at all resembling the Jockey Club of England. It is entirely a social club, with its club house and card rooms. It is a very exclusive club, and the fees are heavy; but it has nothing whatever to do with the control of the turf. The institution in France which performs the same functions as the Jockey Club does in England is the 'Societe d'Encouragement pour l'Amelioration des Races de Chevaux en France,' founded by Lord Henry Seymour in 1824. This society owns the race courses at Longchamps and Chantilly, and all racing on a flat in France is under its direction.

At this year's annual meeting of the Societe d'Encouragement last month three members were elected to take the place of the Count de Barceux, M. H. Ridgway and M. Henri Delamarre, who died last year. The new members are the Count de Talhouet-Roy, Baron Foy and M. A. Du Bos.

The honorary members of the society are the King of England, the Duke of Portland, Lord Princes and Mr. Leopold de Rothschild.

The president is Prince Auguste d'Arberg. There are only thirty-six members, all of them being prominent owners or breeders of race horses, and most of them undertake work on special committees. The stewards for the coming year are the Marquis de Ganay, the Count de Quincey, and Baron Goule Marois, Baron A. de Schickler, and Count P. de Sainte-Phalle. There is a finance committee, a "program" committee and special committees to frame the rules of racing and see they are carried out, to inspect and maintain the 200 yards of turf, to select and purchase the cups and objects d'art, to give prizes. The benefit funds are under the supervision of the Count de Barceux, M. English clergyman at Chantilly, the Rev. W. H. Armstrong, is especially nominated to look after the stable hands and trainers, jockeys and stable lads, Chantilly. Among the changes introduced by the society this year is the coming of the Prix de la Cedre in the future, the last of the important year-old races on the year's program.

The Prix de la Cedre, which was founded in 1864, had its name changed to the Prix de la Cedre in 1897, and is now known as the Prix de la Cedre. It will be open to foreign horses.

The Deep-sea Society of France has also announced a program this week. The distance of the Grand Prix de Paris, a quarter of a mile, has been increased by a race raised to 2,800. The value of the race, some for horses which have won a cup, some for others for horses which have never won, and others for horses which have been in the Prix de la Cedre, which was formerly open to all horses, has been thrown open to all horses, and the Prix de la Cedre will in future be reserved for four-year-old horses. The conditions of several other races have been modified. A notification which will affect English racing is the fact that the international races at Autuel in the future will be held at Dublin.

SUNBEAM CAR HAS BROKEN ALL RECORDS

New Features Will Also Add to Efficiency of English Motor.

The new 1914 model Sunbeam motor car which is being shown at the Motor Show this week is one of the most interesting of the many foreign cars at the exhibition. Sunbeam cars have for the last few seasons been the most lauded of cars in the United Kingdom, and have done things that many others have tried to do in vain. They hold practically all the records for speed and endurance, and in addition, won the Grand Prix race in 1912. The car is made in three principal models, which include a four and a six-cylinder chassis. The price is moderate when the exceptional quality of the car is considered. Some of the special features that attracted interest this week are the sliding front seat in touring models, support fitted to steering column to prevent vibration, larger steering wheel, rubber blocks on doors and mahogany strips around edge of dashboard, an exceptional trustworthy starter and a special one-man hood, which is a boon to the owner when driving alone, as it can be raised or lowered without assistance.

$10,000 CHALLENGE PROVES UNANSWERABLE ARGUMENT.

Buyers' Comparisons Confuse Even the Shrewdest Salesmen.

"How about the Knight?" is a question often heard at the Motor Show. Interest in this type of motor never was greater. Many who never gave automobile engines a passing thought have taken the trouble to learn about the Canadian Knight engine that brought Canada to the limelight not only among automobile manufacturers but others as well. That such a grade of workmanship is possible here in Canada is taken as an index of the progress of Canadian business. It is amusing the various attitudes taken by salesmen of other lines to the Russell challenge. A gentleman, a member of the Ontario Cabinet in fact, remarked to Mr. Russell yesterday that he had asked several how their cars could compare with the Russell. "One young chap told me any engine could do it. I asked him if that $10,000 would be pretty easily earned? But the best answer I got," he continued, "was from a salesman with more than ordinary training. He represented a Detroit company. When I asked him the same question, he smiled, here he put an engine in the world can touch it. Now, let me show you my car."

HOW MUCH LIQUOR SEIZED IN N. GREY?

Liberals Ask Many Questions—How Was Disposal Arranged?

DETAIL OF LUCAS TOUR Demanded by J. C. Elliott—Was Public Ownership of Telephones Advised?

The Ontario opposition are apparently determined to make political capital out of the temperance agitation which has been recently stirring the province. The first day brought a shaft of pertinent questions, and yesterday followed with still more.

This time J. G. Anderson of Bruce seeks knowledge of the amount of liquor, if any, seized in North Grey in last June and July. He wants the name of the official who acted, and the disposal of the liquor.

The Lucas Trip. The Elliotts of Middlesex on the trail of Hon. I. B. Lucas and his 1912 trip to Europe. Did he recommend government ownership of telephones or not, and what was his expense? Messrs. Munro and Atkinson ask detailed accounts of the P.N.C. Railway and the Guelph Prison Farm, principally from financial standpoints.

LIBERALS IN JURE TEMPERANCE CAUSE BY THEIR STATEMENTS

Hon. W. J. Hanna Says Figures Prove Facts Contrary to Mr. Rowell's Contention—Address on Speech From Throne is Well Under Way.

The Ontario Legislature has lengthened into its stride for the session. Yesterday the debate on the address from the throne was begun in earnest and the Liberal orators laid on to the onslaught with N. W. Rowell well in the van. Not the address itself, but its sins of omission were the points of attack, and these were played upon as merely contributory to the great negligence of the government in not taking immediate and well-considered steps towards relieving the great industrial unrest in the large Cities of Toronto, London, Hamilton and Ottawa. Colin Cameron of North York and George S. Henry of East York, who carried the honor of proposing the address to the speaker, united in glowing hopes of the future for both urban and rural centres, and backed their positions up with blue book figures.

The house fell into the way of business without any ado and ten minutes after the prayers the orators were declaiming in full cry. The opposition would deny to the speaker, Mr. Rowell, William Proudfoot coming in late to a gentle ironical applause from the government benches. Alan Studholme, the labor member, after his usual fashion, listened attentively in view of his time to come and leaned back all afternoon with his spectacles perched behind his head and an enormous pea behind his ear. So like old times did it appear that one member actually fell asleep, concerning the alliance of the liquor interests with the government brought Mr. J. Hanna back in vigorous style, altho he did not get an opportunity to speak to the address.

Increased Prosperity.

Mr. Cameron referred to the regrettable absence of the premier and spoke of his wonderful work in making administration methods clean and business-like. He hoped for his return to the chamber. There had been a general increase of prosperity in the province and good roads and the coming of autos had bettered the life of the farmer.

Mineral productions led the world and prison reform farms were making men for Canada. The Fort William farm had especially worked well for the men of the north. The plan of industrial farms was taking hold. In this connection he paid a high tribute to the provincial government for the self-support of the asylums and other institutions. There was the Hydro-Electric Commission, which was a thing above others to be proud of. There were sixty-six municipalities now contracting and one hundred and six negotiating for power.

He referred to the way in which employers had formerly neglected workmen when injured and would now be beginning to mend their ways. The plea of negligence and character of the plea would now be done away with. A new era had dawned and all the old corrupt things had passed. By-election returns showed increased majorities in every case. He moved the acceptance of the address.

Good Roads.

To yet see Ontario a maritime province with the T.N.O. extended to tide-water was the candid ambition of Mr. Henry in his opening words. He congratulated the senate on their subsidy, which had come at last, and then turned to good roads. People were now beginning to appreciate the value of highways, and altho the aid had been held up, the province was planning great things.

The talk of rural depopulation he would deny to some extent. The census of 1911 he found that the number of people holding from five acres up had greatly increased. It was contrary to the general impression of a rush to the cities.

"Allow me to suggest," he said, "that with the development of highways and the installing of radiating lines, the farm life of the future will be much more enjoyable. Let us look forward to establishing radiating lines that will take the artisan out to rural and urban homes."

Opposition Leader.

When Mr. Rowell took the floor his first remarks were in tribute to the absent premier and to Hon. Dr. Fyfe in his illness. He then took a gentle drive at the long-deterred completion of statute revision, and felt the government were in a unique place in history in their tardiness of movement. He also would like to know the outline of the Government House interior and what Hon. Dr. Reaume did in Europe.

Mr. Rowell waxed quite warm at discovering that tax reform was not mentioned in the address. A proposal should have been brought down to at least show appreciation of the deep-seated desire of the people for this move. Anti-treating also had suffered from a gradual retreating. Had the provincial secretary blundered, or were his allies drawing the lines too tight? "Who are the allies?" queried Mr. Hanna across the floor.

"He knows very well. The men who are supporting you in all the elections—the liquor men," was the reply amid jeers from the government benches.

He then reverted into the main declamation of his speech. It was a description of his studies as a social worker and an illustration of the woes of the unemployed in the large cities. In both country and cities was an increasing industrial unrest. By the same 1911 census the rural population had decreased 11,000 from that of 40 years ago, and as the cities grew larger so did the social unrest increase.

Lots of Gloom.

His personal experience consisted of a day's trip among the poor of the city, and he found deplorable cases an inflation. He told of husband and wife out of work and supporting a family in unknown manner by the selling of furniture and the pawning of heirlooms. People of this stamp hated the liquor inspection branch and directly affected by the conditions of Toronto, and the same state prevailed in London, Ottawa and Hamilton. He had found that they were in the main English families, but not recent arrivals. A survey in London had shown that a family could not live on less than $597, and yet the average income of many was only $445. It was good to help men in prison, but it was better to help them when out. The labor exchanges of the old land might work well here.

In conclusion, he moved that the government consider a commission to better the workmen's condition by uniting the bureau of labor and the factory inspection branch and that conditions be studied with a view to remedying the whole affair.

Hon. Mr. Hanna predicted that Sir James would yet return to serve the country from his position in the house, an announcement received with great acclamation. He at once took exception to Mr. Rowell's remarks on the temperance situation and the liquor alliance of the government.

"If the hon. gentleman will take the pains to analyze the returns of the by-elections he will find that the figures are directly contrary to the statement of the Conservative party and the liquor interests are in any way allied," he declared. In Middlesex the figures showed the county very strongly temperance, and the votes for the new member were almost identical with those of the local option vote. Every time Mr. Rowell spoke in that way he was doing a lasting injury to the temperance cause. They were making the question a party question.

"You will find the Liberals saying to temperance people. If you don't get behind the Liberal candidate, we won't get behind local option when it comes up next January." That happened in Middlesex more than once.

He asked if there was a liquor alliance in North Grey, where once a Liberal member had been returned with a majority of 750, and that was now converted into the majority of 400 for the government. It was not fair to suggest that 1100 Liberals had entered a liquor alliance and gone to the polls.

BALANCE OF POWER AN EXISTENT FACT

Prof. Mavor Tells Empire Club That a Slight Incident May Easily Disturb It.

The equilibrium of particular forces at a particular moment was the definition of "balance of power" given by Prof. Mavor in an address before the Empire Club at McConkey's yesterday. The question to be studied, he said, was not how this balance of power was to be gained, but what to do when it was disturbed. This equilibrium was a chimera. On one side were certain forces, and on the other side were certain forces, too. There was equipoise between them or there was not. Disturbances to this balance of power were then reviewed by Prof. Mavor. In the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries France was a small one, and it became necessary for her to match France was overcome. After the downfall of Napoleon Czar Alexander which chiefly existed to throttle France and thereby preserve the balance of power in Europe. This policy broke down owing to the friction among the powers. France's disturbance of the affairs of nations such as the Crimean, Franco-Prussian, the Boer and Balkan wars were touched upon, and he said it was proved that the precision of weapons did not shorten wars, and that a small power could resist a large one. This lesson was of value to Japan. This lesson was such that the Japanese how a small nation could keep a large empire at bay between France and Germany over Morocco France had succeeded in strengthening of her stand by the support of England. She had then the annual convention, which will probably be held in Toronto next May. The convention will assume the form of a yearly gathering of municipal officials interested in hydro development and the various municipalities throughout the province will be notified and invited to be represented.

CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—Surgeons of crop damage in Northern Texas, Western Oklahoma and parts of Kansas and Nebraska, tended somewhat to dispel heavy clouds today in the wheat market here.

Wheat weakened at the outset owing to declining prices at Liverpool, notwithstanding the foreign setback was chiefly due to optimistic field advices from this side of the water.

URGES INQUIRY INTO GRAIN PITTS

Manipulations Injurious to Both Consumer and Producer, It is Alleged.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Congressional inquiry into the organization and operations of the Chicago and Duluth Boards of Trade and the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce, to determine their influence over wheat and flour prices in the country, was proposed in a resolution introduced today by Representative Manahan of Minnesota.

The constantly changing price to the farmer, and the continued high price to the consumer, it was asserted, are due to the manipulations of the purchase and sale of the wheat by the three organizations named. Each of the three, it was charged, is a monopoly controlling wheat prices.
