Greater Toronto on the Way
 The World congratulates everybody, including its esteemed contemporaries, on the result of the election in the Town of North Toronto on Saturday.

The result settles, first of all, the West York out, and puts in its place that of a Greater Toronto. A Greater Toronto has now arrived, and with it have come some problems that must be dealt with. The World thinks that Toronto is able to and will deal with these problems.

The city council deserve credit for the way they acted in passing the resolution they did some weeks ago declaring their willingness to take in the town if the town was willing to come in, and the two to work out the franchise difficulties that exist. Both sides have acted in good faith, and the thing now before both parties is to consummate annexation at the earliest moment.

The Metropolitan Railway is not to have a permanent double-track franchise on Yonge street; but the Metropolitan has certain rights on Yonge street which must be respected, and the city must find a way of buying out the rights of the Metropolitan on Yonge street, soon to be within the city, and of putting down a double track later on. If the rights of the Metropolitan are not completely bought out, then some way will be found of dividing the traffic and giving the Metropolitan a double track running right on Yonge street as far as the C. P. R. tracks. We must either divide the earnings for a certain period or compute the rights of the company on a fair compensation basis.

Associated with this idea is the construction of a tube from the tracks down to the Union Station, and the new Toronto street is the basis of that. If, therefore, the company and the city can get a reasonable understanding, some day the Metropolitan—and we trust an early day—will be able to come down on two tracks to the C. P. crossing and then down to the city waterfront via the tube. And what can be done for the Metropolitan can be done for all the radial lines that approach the city from the east, from the north and from the northwest.

There is to be an immense suburban traffic coming from the east and the west, and northwest, and the new railway centre uptown, and the city must find quick transit for these cars, and this traffic so coming down to the front. We believe this can be done fairly to the companies and fairly to the city.

As soon as the annexation is completed, immediate relief of the two fares now existing on the Metropolitan must be granted by the railway board, and a way must be found to give the people a single fare over the two lines of London at this time. Toronto to any place in the city, it is believed cannot be worked out by the Ontario Railway Board, it can be worked out by a motor bus service at a comparatively small cost. This is a question for the council and for the traffic experts now on the job. The motor bus is the great discovery in the great City of London at this moment, and how far-reaching it is can only be ascertained by experiment, and the experiment is a comparatively easy one in the matter of money. You buy one bus and you effect a great relief—twenty buses will do a lot more.

The annexation of North Toronto is the biggest move in city expansion that has yet taken place. While there are not quite as many people in North Toronto as there were in West Toronto, there is no doubt that North Toronto is to be the best-built and the best-situated portion of the city. It will be the well residential section, as well as the home of thousands of citizens owning their own lots and houses, whose means are of a moderate nature.

Taking in North Toronto also demands a widening of Yonge street from the tracks north, and at no great cost if it is properly handled. It can either be done by the appropriation of twenty feet or so on one side, or it can be provided for almost immediately by a building bylaw moving back the building line a certain number of feet from the present street line.

The World some day is going to tell the people of Toronto what the future of Yonge street north of the city is to be; but it is to be something bigger and larger and more for the public welfare than anything yet realized in these parts.

There is no reason why Yonge street should not be a thoroughfare leading to fifty miles of other streets, or garden suburbs and villa residences. But the great thing is to start early, before the congestion has had its out, before the congestion beyond recall, Lawrence Park and the large Manor are merely preliminaries to larger and bigger things that can be. All it requires is foresight, planning ahead and confidence in a Greater Toronto.

And never forget that Toronto is to become the model city of all Canada, where the comfort and the welfare of the community at large is the first consideration of civic government and civic service of all kinds. We want to do something here better than has been done in the past, and we can do it if we have the determination.

We take it that the settlement of the annexation of North Toronto settles the policy to be pursued in regard to extension toward the "Humber," and we think the council will act wisely if they act forthwith in that matter and extend the bounds of the city to the Humber and across it where necessary for park purposes.

High Cost of Strawberries Fruit Combine Says an Independent Buyer

Clarkson's is the Scene of a Price War, Resulting in Payment to Growers of Prices Above Market Value of Berries, by Men Who Represent Toronto Dealers, Who Want to Shut Out Competition—Board of Trade Committee Will Investigate.

While people in Toronto are wondering at the high price of strawberries, and while the market was flooded on Saturday, so that there was a decided break in the price, the growers at Clarkson's are reaping a rich reward and a price-war is on between the independent buyers and those who represent the alleged fruit combine in Toronto and Montreal.

On Saturday there were so many strawberries on the local fruit market that the price dropped from 14 and 15 cents to 8 and 9, and then all the berries were not sold.

The reason for the drop was that the buyers for the alleged combine were offering extraordinarily high prices at Clarkson's, and the growers shipped all their berries in on Saturday morning. But the canners and large berry users, such as ice cream factories, do not manufacture on Saturday afternoon, and the general public have just about decided not to buy strawberries at such high prices for preserving, and the market was glutted.

For a long time the claim has been made that the firms which control the Toronto fruit market form a combine. For the purpose of investigating the high prices of berries and other fruit which is sent in to the Toronto market, the Toronto Board of Trade has appointed a special committee. One of the men who will give information to the committee is Sydney Preston of Clarkson's. He buys strawberries for independent firms and for large firms which buy their berries direct from the producer. To The World last evening Mr. Preston stated that the Toronto fruit market was run by a monopoly, and that there was no competition there. Whenever they can get a corner on berries the prices go up, and that is what happened on Saturday.

The Big Supply.
 Clarkson's has the big supply of berries this year. At Oakville, Grimby and other fruit centres, the berries are small and rather scarce, while at Clarkson's all the berries are large and are very plentiful. Clarkson's, therefore, practically has a monopoly of the trade this year.

Prices naturally are high, but not so high as they would have been had there been competition, said Mr. Preston.

Mr. Preston, who is interested in the high cost of living these days, as is every household, set to work to ascertain the feasibility of supplying the large consumers direct, without going into the commission business, and without going on to the fruit market. He started to buy about ten days ago. Two buyers from the Toronto and Montreal fruit markets were there to bid against him. He states that they used every means in their power to prevent him from buying. On the first night the two buyers got ahead of him by offering higher prices. On the second night he was ready for them, and bought 75 crates at prices really beyond the market value of the berries. The buyers for the combine bought 400 crates, and paid the same prices as Mr. Preston offered. The result was that the price on the fruit market next day was higher than it otherwise would have been.

Since then, says Mr. Preston, every device has been used to shut him off. High prices were offered, but he was able to meet them.

ISMAY CLEARED OFFICERS ARE CENSURED

Lord Mersey's Draft Report on Titanic Enquiry Ignores Conduct of Duff-Gordons, and Passes No Judgment on Capt. Lord—Poor Organization Cost Many Lives.

NEW YORK, July 7.—(Special.)—The World to-day publishes in a cable from London what is stated to be the findings contained in a draft report prepared by Lord Mersey, commissioner, presiding at the court of inquiry into the loss of the Titanic.

J. Bruce Ismay, managing director of the White Star line, is completely exonerated by Lord Mersey on the popular charge that he influenced the navigation of the ship or the speed that she attained. He is, instead, commended for the consideration he showed towards the Titanic passengers at the time of the collision.

Sir Cosmo Duff Gordon and his wife are not discussed in the report, Lord Mersey believing it no part of his duty to pass upon such incidents. On the other hand, Symons, the seaman who testified at some length regarding the Duff Gordons and who told both here and in Washington of ignoring the appeals for help from passengers struggling in the sea, is censured for not returning from the Carpathia to the succor of those drowning.

No Judgment on Lord.
 The findings in brief are as follows: That the Titanic left port a seaworthy ship, her divided watertight compartments having been devised in accordance with best designing skill, and that the officers and crew were open to reproach as to the construction and arrangement of her bulkheads. He suggests attention to the question of longitudinal wells and transverse bulkheads.

That the Californian was within five or ten miles of the Titanic and that Capt. Lord knew the Titanic was sending up distress signals. No judgment is passed on Lord, whose case may be submitted to another court.

That the conduct of the officers of the Titanic is open to criticism in that they did not fill the lifeboats to their capacity.

Murder or Manslaughter Charges to Follow Death Of W. Donnell After Fight

Man Who Was Picked Up By the Police Died at Hospital—Charles Day Charged With Inflicting Fatal Injuries and John Tobin Held as Material Witness.

Following closely on the Humber Bay murder, for which the police are now searching for Big Frank, Toronto now faces another case in which the charge will be either that of murder or manslaughter. William Donnell, who was found lying unconscious on York-street on Thursday night, as the result of a murderous assault, died in St. Michael's Hospital at 6 o'clock last night.

Charles Day, a waiter who was employed at the Walker House, is now held by the police, and is charged with inflicting the fatal injuries. John Tobin a fellow waiter, is held as a material witness.

From the evidence in the hands of the police, it appears that William Donnell, who was also a waiter, and Day, Tobin, Taylor and MacIntyre, all waiters, quarreled over the result of a pool game on Thursday afternoon, which they had been playing in the Palace Pool Parlors, West King-street, near York-street. The men left the pool room quarrelling, and at York-street met P. C. Kerr (119), to whom Donnell complained that Day had cheated him out of $2. At this their companions assured the constable that it was purely a personal matter between themselves, and the men proceeded up York-street.

BOY DROWNED IN THE HUMBER

Robert Martin, 14 Years Old, Struck a Log When He Dived into Four Feet of Water.

Robert Martin, 14 years old, son of Alexander Martin, a carpenter who lives at 573 Gladstone-avenue, was drowned in the Humber River on Saturday afternoon and his body was recovered at 9 o'clock Sunday morning. The boy left his home at 2 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, and when he did not return at night his parents searched the city for him. The police had heard nothing of the boy. Yesterday morning several boys were swimming in the right fork of the Humber, about 100 yards east of the Bloor-street bridge. One of them dived into the water and struck his head on a log. County Constable Simpson and Frank MacDonald took the body to the mouth of the Humber in a launch, and it was removed to Bates' undertaking rooms, 124 Avenue-road, from where the funeral will be held at 2:30 to-morrow afternoon.

FALL IN SUBWAY CAUSED DEATH

Chas. E. Wass Lay All Night in Coxwell Avenue With Skull Fractured, and Died in Hospital.

An eighteen-foot fall down the Coxwell-avenue subway at the G.T.R. railway crossing on Saturday night resulted in the death of Chas. E. Wass of 61 Fenning-street. The injured man was not discovered until early Sunday morning, and he died at noon yesterday in St. Michael's Hospital.

Wass, who was about forty-one years of age, and married, was a cabinet maker. Shortly after eight o'clock on Saturday night he left the Fenning-street address to pay a visit to George Hitch, the watchman at the Little York pumping station, with whom he was going to spend Sunday. Alighting from a Parliament-street car at the corner of Gerrard-street and Greenwood-avenue, he was seen to proceed along the railway tracks towards the pumping station, which is situated a short distance further along from the Coxwell-avenue subway.

Electors on Saturday Defeated Metropolitan Railway's Proposal by Nearly Two to One and Expressed Willingness to Be Taken Into the City by a Small Majority—School Bylaw Carries.

By a vote of 215 to 322, or a majority of 488, North Toronto on Saturday turned down the double track agreement, and by a vote of 604 to 544 or a majority of 60, the town declared in favor of annexation.

The school bylaw was carried by 602 to 415, or a majority of 187. The greatest interest was centred in the first two propositions, and both the city and town were fully alive to the importance of the issue involved. The great principle of public ownership has received such an endorsement as to leave no doubt as to the attitude of North Toronto people when dealing with public utilities.

In only one district, that of Bedford Park, was the vote in favor of double track and against annexation. The Oldest Voter.
 The Davisonville figures of 6 to 1 against the double track, was a fine exhibition of the solidity of the vote, and it is interesting to record that an old resident, Mr. Clarke, 85 years of age, insisted on recording his vote, although his attendance at the polling booth necessitated great care on the part of his friends.

Never in the history of North Toronto has such excitement and enthusiasm been witnessed on polling day. The highways leading to the polling stations were alive with motors and vehicles carrying the voters as soon as nine o'clock struck. The double-trackers had a splendid organization, and their powerful automobiles rushed up the largest city vote ever recorded in the history of the town before 3 o'clock.

The anti-double-trackers realized that they were losing ground during the early part of the afternoon, but a mighty effort on the part of the committee, led by D. C. Hossack, L. O. Thorne, ex-Commissioner Combs and others, turned the scale and made victory doubly sure.

The first result to hand was that of the town hall which gave a majority of 49 against the double track, while the figures on annexation showed a tie. When the figures from the parallel road, No. 2 polling booth, were published, the anti-double-trackers expressed their confidence in securing a double victory.

Some slight misunderstanding occurred in the publishing of the Davisonville results, but when everything had been adjusted, the three majorities which Town Clerk Norman will by law be required to publish this morning are: 488 against the double track, 60 in favor of annexation, and 87 in favor of the school bylaw.

The totals show that of every 11 votes 8 voted against the double track, 8 out of every 23 votes 12 voted for annexation. Great Excitement.
 When the final figures were unofficially announced there was a scene of great excitement inside and outside of the town hall. Cheers were raised for Councillor Ball, D. C. Hossack and other leaders of the victorious party. Double-trackers and anti-double-trackers alike recognized the game fight put up in and out of the council by Mr. Ball and he was congratulated on all sides.

ONLY ONE APPEAL AFTER THIS YEAR

On and after January 1, 1913, there will be only one appeal in Ontario law courts, according to a proclamation which appears in the current issue of The Ontario Gazette. When the provincial government three years ago passed the Law Reform Act, it was divided into two parts. The second portion, which extended the jurisdiction of county courts, went into force with the passage of the bill. The first part, which states that in future there shall be only one appeal in all Ontario courts, was to come into force by proclamation. This proclamation now is issued, fixing the date as the first day of next year. After that date, therefore, there will be one appeal only, direct to the court of appeal. This will save litigants a great deal of time and money.

MADRID, July 6.—(Can. Press.)—Renewed reports have been received here of an impending attempt to restore the monarchy in Portugal. From the northern provinces of that country many families are fleeing across the border to Spain, as they fear uprisings. ## Opinions of Leaders After the Fight

W. S. Dinlock.
 "I am still of opinion that North Toronto has made a mistake in turning down the double-track and voting for annexation.
 "We have to contend against this entire city press, and I hold that the North Toronto Town Council should not, with the exception of Councillor Ball, have taken an active part in the campaign. I make an exception in his case because I recognize that from its first introduction before the council, he has stoutly and consistently opposed the agreement. I am disappointed at the smallness of our vote in Bedford Park, as we were assured of quite 80 per cent. of the voters, instead of which we only polled 86 per cent.
 "In the near future I believe that the council will be asked to consider a better agreement put forward by the Metropolitan, and I think it is in that direction that a solution of the transportation problem will be found. Further, I attribute the fact that many of our promised supporters switched on to the opposition on Saturday afternoon owing to the circulation of a rumour that the anti-double-trackers had a much better scheme for the consideration of the people.
 "I am confident that the settlements against public corporations would have wrecked any agreement, however good its provisions, and this card was played for all it was worth. With regard to the promises and schemes of the opposition."

"Villainous Falsehood" Draws Reproof From Bishop Fallon

"Clumsy Trick" Was Sprung on French Language Congress By "Irresponsible Individuals"—Denies He Took Steps to Prevent Priests From Attending Proceedings

LONDON, Ont., July 6.—(Can. Press).—His Lordship Bishop Fallon of the Catholic diocese of London has issued the following statement: "It is only on my return to London after almost a month's absence from my diocese, that I have been made fully aware of the proceedings of the recent congress of the French language at Quebec. When my name and my assumed decisions formed a subject of discussion, I cannot believe that the members of that congress would do me a conscious injustice. I incline to the conclusion that they were made the victims of a rather clumsy trick, and I realize that in all such promiscuous gatherings it is almost inevitable that some irresponsible individual should attempt to introduce a topic concerning which it would be the height of impudence for either himself or his audience to express an opinion. It was some such thing that actually happened at Quebec.

Residents of D'Arcy Street Asked Police to Stop Jews Washing and Hanging Out Clothes, Especially on Such a Hot Day, But Request Was Not Granted.

Wilson to Make Cost of Living His Main Issue

SEAGIRT, N. J., July 6.—Governor Wilson expressed his opinion today that the high cost of living is the burning issue of the hour and that in "his heart lies the high protective tariff." It is an issue, he said, that he expects to cover fully in his speech of acceptance and in every campaign speech that he may make.

HOUSE TO SIT IN SEPTEMBER

Federal Lawmakers Likely to Resume Early on Premier's Return.

OTTAWA, July 7.—(Special).—All indications in political circles here point to an early meeting of parliament. It is thought, however, that the house will meet perhaps about the latter part of September or the first week in October. Premier Borden and his colleagues will have returned from England by that time and the other ministers now absent will also be back to the capital.

"I have come back from the east with the firm belief that there is nothing in the world so hopeful as the missionary prospect, and that there is no missionary field so promising as Japan."

In these words Rev. W. E. Pescott, preaching last evening in Bathurst-st. Methodist Church, summarized the religious situation in the east. Mr. Pescott first time since his return from abroad. During the last year he has visited Great Britain, France, Switzerland, India and the Far East.

THE TORONTO WORLD

Recognizes the fact that there are numerous "Illustrated" Bibles offered to the public. But they contain merely pictures of Biblical scenes taken at random from various sources and inserted without regard to subjects or chapters. Some new Testament scenes are inserted in the Old Testament, and vice versa. Thus they entirely lose their educational value. In this Bible there are more than 600 illustrations printed with the type, so that they make plain the text matter which they accompany. Those who are not familiar with the Bible will catch many a new meaning aided by these illustrations. Then this Bible also contains full-page color plates from the wonderful Tissot collection, each of which has been selected with the same object of explaining the accompanying text matter. So with all respect to other Bibles, the fact remains that this is the only really illustrated Bible.

This is the One Book of All Books that Will Be Appreciated by Every Member of the Family—Young and Old Alike

No difference how many other Bibles you may now have, this one explains and makes clear the many subjects illustrated, and even though you may have no religious beliefs, such a work will be found an invaluable aid to education.

READ WHAT THE EDITOR OF THE Ladies' Home Journal SAYS ABOUT THIS GREAT WORK: THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL THE CURTIS PUBLISHING CO. PHILADELPHIA Edited by EDWARD W. BOK

"Why I like this illustrated edition of the Bible is because everything about it has been well done and seems to have been done in the right spirit. The Book itself has been approached by the annotator with reserve and intelligence, and by its artists with sympathy and knowledge. It has not been made into a meaningless picture book. The pictures here serve a distinct purpose. They enrich the text, but they do more; they intelligently explain it, and many a hitherto obscure passage will assume to thousands a new meaning through these eye-teaching pictures. Popularizing the Bible is a risky experiment in the hands of many, but it has been made a splendid achievement in this case."

MONDAY MORNING, JULY 8, 1912

IS WILSON THE MAN?

Is Woodrow Wilson the man for the situation? It is a difficult, complicated, almost tragic situation, in which the American commonwealth finds itself to-day, and it must be handled, if it is to be kept in hand at all, by a man of force and vision, a leader of men and the master of opportunity.

No one doubts his intelligence and his high moral standards, but can he grapple with the big problems and settle them in a large way? The party platform on which he stands has not a word to say about the great tide of industrial, social and economic changes sweeping rapidly over the world, and which must either find orderly vindication in the United States or compel recognition by revolution.

All that Mr. Wilson has said so far indicates that he will make a campaign for tariff reduction. Every party platform, Republican and Democratic alike, since 1888, has had a plank of this kind. The Democrats carried the country 20 years ago on a free trade platform, but their first attempt at tariff reduction under the leadership of another Mr. Wilson brought on a financial panic and their speedy retirement from office. Both parties claim to-day to be in favor of reducing the tariff, but neither one of them is deeply in earnest.

For a man like Woodrow Wilson to meet a national crisis, like the one which now confronts the United States, by merely suggesting a revision of the tariff schedules is dishonouring to serious men. The high cost of living, the social unrest, the sudden, almost sinister, attitude of the industrial army of the United States, spring from causes far deeper than tariffs or trusts.

Theodore Roosevelt says no candidate will dare talk free trade on the stump. He proposes such governmental control of the tariff and of the trusts, as will distribute a part of the tariff bounty in the pay envelopes of the working men, and by regulating the output and storage and the selling price of the manufactured product, to prevent any robbery of the consumer by protective industries and trusts.

Mr. Wilson has contributed nothing so far to political literature which might not have been said or written by whoever happened to be the Democratic candidate in 1876.

RESOURCES OF KEEWATIN.

Opponents of the Hudson Bay Railroad have argued strongly that not only will its availability be limited to the four or five months during which navigation is possible, but that it can never be financially successful, because it cannot have enough return traffic. This pessimistic view is challenged in the June number of Conservation, the monthly issued by the commission of conservation. It points out that as yet only rough and imperfect estimates have been made regarding the commercial potentialities of the line. Nevertheless, it is known that the fishery industry gives good promise of success, some of the lakes abounding in whitefish and pickerel. Then the Keewatin Lake country may one day rival Muskoka as a holiday resort.

But the article proceeds, there is another source of traffic of more than special note, of which the Hudson Bay road should eventually hold the monopoly. The northern portion of the province is rich in minerals, especially copper, and it has been stated that there is approximately 200 square miles of such prospects on the mainland, south-west of Baffin Island. At the present time New York copper magnates have men at work in those very regions, staking up anything that may prove capable of producing copper. The only outlet is by Hudson Bay Strait during the period of navigation, and here it is where the Hudson Bay road should secure much of its returning freight traffic. It seems, however, a pity that any valuable copper deposits should

STREET RAILWAYS OF LONDON, ENGLAND.

From the manner of its growth, London, the metropolis of the British Empire, is not so much one city as an aggregate of smaller cities. The city proper remains under the administration of its ancient corporation, the many other boroughs that compose the metropolitan area were only brought under partial unification by the establishment of the London County Council, of which Lord Rosebery was the first chairman. During the rule of the progressive party, a public system of street railways was established and the private companies bought out, while the districts north and south of the Thames have now been linked up.

From the report of the highways and finance committee issued in the latter part of last month, it appears that the lines operated by the county council have a total length of 145 miles, and for the year ending March 31, 1912, the total number of passengers carried was 533,440,235, while the total capital expenditure, at that date, on the undertaking amounted to a little over $90,000,000. The actual debt, however, is roughly $48,850,000, the difference of nearly $12,000,000 having been paid off. Over $10,000,000 of this sum was repaid out of revenue—exactly 17.05 per cent. of the whole capital expenditure.

For the year ending 31st March last the gross profits, after deducting working expenses from the gross receipts, were $4,620,000, of which $3,550,000 was applied in payment of interest, reduction of debt and provision for renewals and depreciation on an ample scale. The balance of about $1,100,000 remained for the appropriation account. In addition the London street railways contributed $600,000 in respect of the cost of maintaining the paving of roads where the lines are laid. The rates levied represent an annual relief to the general rate of over a halfpenny in the pound, and since its advent to power in the council, the moderate party has loaded other burdens on the street railway. This party represents the reactionary element in the metropolis and has never been in sympathy with the public ownership principle. But public sentiment in London was too strong on this point to be flouted and the moderate leaders were compelled to place themselves on a side as determined to maintain the civic street railway system. Not only this, but the moderate majority has continued to carry $2,000,000 of work people at cheap rates, involving a loss in operation of $500,000. Against this must be set the fact that the concession of these special fares is a part of the scheme for the better housing of the workpeople, which is in turn a factor in the general amelioration of living conditions in the city.

With the advent of motor buses, a new and formidable competition in civic transportation has to be met. The private companies owning them are now under one control, and it is the evident intention, if possible, to form a traffic trust which will fix rates for metropolitan surface transportation at pleasure. Against a hold-up of this kind, the street railways are the only bulwark, and a persistent campaign is being carried on against them. A proposal was recently made that the county council itself should form part of the combination, but the opposition it encountered within and without caused its defeat. Still more recently a complaint was made that the street railways occupied roads that were important arteries of traffic and congested them unnecessarily and was accompanied by the demand that from a third to a half of the cars should be withdrawn. It was found on investigation that it was the motor buses not the cars that congested the streets, and has to be observed, too, that the motor buses pay nothing towards the maintenance of the streets or the rates. Yet constant efforts are being made to have the streets widened and improved at the public expense for the special benefit of the bus companies. Even the moderates acknowledge that the buses have unfair advantage, and a proposal is now under consideration regarding a contribution from the companies in return for their use of the thoroughfares.

C.T.P. NEARS CALGARY

Ganga Working at Night With Aid of Searchlights. MONTREAL, July 7.—Montreal advices state that gangs of men are now working continuously on the big 70-ton steam shovel that is eating out the route of the Grand Trunk Pacific from Toleda to Calgary—by the light of the sun in the daytime and under the huge glare of two powerful searchlights at night. It is estimated that the C. T. P. will have reached the city limits of Calgary by the end of August, and that steel will be lapped by the waters of the Bow River less than thirty days later.

Francis Adams, right-of-way commissioner, reports that the men at work on the last two miles of the grading that will bring the grade right to the water's edge are straining every nerve and sinew to be there on time. The gangs are made up of the oldest and most experienced railroad builders in the employ of the Grand Trunk Pacific, and behind them, straining hard to overtake the men on the grade, is the crack steel gang of the big road.

MANY KEPT COOL

Another successful meeting was held under the trees in Miss McNab's estate, Dundurn Heights, 850 St. Clair, evening, yesterday afternoon, when Mr. James H. Dean was the speaker, and Miss McNab the soloist. The fact that people attended from Parkdale, Deer Park and other widely separated sections of the city, proves that the open-air talks are very popular. The estate, which is situated opposite Osgoode Station on St. Clair, is the site of the most beautiful old trees in or near Toronto. One of the most pleasing features of the meetings, which are held in the open-air under the shade of the trees, on Sunday afternoons and Tuesday and Thursday evenings, is the singing of the Alexander Choir, under the direction of Mr. Thomas Palmer. More than 50 members of the choir were present yesterday, and many of them had to walk long distances in the heat.

NO DOUBT ABOUT THE BEST SELLER

No Other Book Ever Published Has Had Such an Immense and Lasting Popularity.

During the last few years there has been much talk of "best sellers." Publishers have vied with each other to enlist writers whose works have at one time or another reached the head of the list. The popular novel that sells up into the thousands and continues in demand is known as a "best seller," but comparatively few of the many reach this enviable position. There is one book, however, that has been a "best seller" for the past three hundred years. This is what is known as the authorized version of the Bible. More than three hundred millions of copies have been distributed by the American and the British and Foreign Bible Societies alone. Think of these figures and you will forever cease to be interested in so-called "best sellers."

The Bible, or parts of it, have been translated into several hundred different languages and dialects. The first complete translation in English was made over five hundred years ago, and the first American edition was printed in Boston more than one hundred and fifty years ago. A most interesting work from all viewpoints is this great book of books, but the publishers of the Bible which The World is distributing have given to it an added interest by making it a veritable work of art. Besides the full page color plates from the world-famous Clarendon collection, there are also more than six hundred subjects illustrated by famous artists, and the pictures are printed in with the type, where they help to make plain the text-matter. Every man, woman and child will want a copy of this new illustrated Bible, and all may have it by presenting six certificates such as the one printed on another page and complying with the terms explained therein.

An Appalling Story. LONDON, July 6.—Sir Roger Casement, sent by Sir Edward Grey to Peru to investigate the spot alleged to be a grave-scandal connected with the cultivation of rubber in the interior of the country, has presented his report. The Daily Chronicle is informed that the document is of an appalling character, and that the publication of the story of human suffering and sorrow is certain to create an immense sensation.

FIRE-CRACKER COST $50,000

Small Boy's Desire to See Fire Engine Was Gratified. BOSTON, July 6.—(Can. Press.)—Because a small boy wanted "to see the engines come," the police allege, damage estimated at $50,000, was done by fire in the Charlestown district to-day. The Boston and Maine Railway warehouse No. 25, filled with hay, was destroyed and the wagon and carriage stock factory of E. A. Gillett & Sons, was badly damaged. The firemen had hard fight to prevent a conflagration, as the roofs of numerous wooden buildings in the vicinity frequently caught fire, while other nearby factories were endangered. James Welch, 10 years old, was arrested and the police say that upon being questioned he confessed that he had thrown a lighted firecracker into the hay in the warehouse. He was placed under charge of a probation officer and will be taken into the juvenile court later.

Opinions of Leaders After the Fight

Continued From Page 1. Toronto stayed at home Sunday. Few people braved the heated streets, where the asphalt pavements sank like mud beneath the tread and the red hot walks blistered the feet.

Down town the tall buildings deflected the heat waves down into the streets. The centre of the city was unbearably warm and few lingered long there unless they lived in the central streets, and these latter kept to the shaded parts of the house.

Thousands slept outdoors last night in the Ward. Little children uncovered, dozed and tossed on rude beds made of chairs or a blanket thrown on the ground.

Ice Cream in Demand. Many places where the people could get ice cream or cooling beverages were open, and thousands blessed the grocer's customer who brought away a tray of opening on Sundays.

Warm Again Today. And there is no respite in sight. Yesterday the official thermometer touched 80, but actively owned ones made it a hundred or higher.

Rev. T. Albert Moore Declared That Agents 'Decoy Girls' From Their Homes, and Told of One Personal Experience, Whereby a Girl Left for Chicago, Leaving No Traces.

How the white slave traffic ravages Toronto was disclosed in a series of incidents dramatically described at Elm-st. Methodist Church last night by Rev. T. Albert Moore, D.D., superintendent of the department of temperance and moral reform of the Methodist Church, was the preacher.

Emphasis, he said, should at the present time be laid on the fight to annihilate the white slave traffic. This vice agency had representatives in Toronto and agents who worked thru the towns and villages of Ontario. From July 1 of last year, until Dominion Day just celebrated,

Little Interest in the Mining Markets in Week-end Session Low Priced Issues Display Some Buoyancy - Cobalts Quiet

World Office. Saturday Evening, July 6. Outside of an indication of underlying firmness evidenced by the raising of bid prices on some of the more prominent issues, there was, in effect, nothing of interest in the mining exchanges in the week-end session. Trading was decidedly flat, with only one or two of the generally favored stocks participating to any extent in transactions. The market on the whole was in a distinctly apathetic frame of mind, but considering the narrow speculation under way, stocks in the main gave a good account of themselves. Any interest in the day-to-day trading movement would in all probability inspire a material recovery in prices, since the Cobalt record does not include the production of 1911 was $4,918,700, a million dollars ahead of 1910. The total output for the camp from 1904 to Jan. 1, 1912, was $4,918,700.
