What Can Be Done With 2000 Men Without Money Who Must Live Till Then?

CITIZENS STRICKEN BY PANIC BUSINESS BECOMES STAGNANT

Final Collapse of Clergue's Gigantic Enterprises Will Mean Many Assignments.

Sault Ste. Marie, Sept. 18.—(From our man on the spot)—The town is totally paralyzed by the insupportable shock which struck it this morning, in the closing down of the Consolidated Lake Superior Company's plants. The announcement on Tuesday that the steel plant and blast furnaces would be closed down for the winter was bad enough. Even that would have been sufficient to impair business confidence, with many resultant failures, but the latest official notice has sufficed to PROVOKE PANIC.

Where it will all end it is impossible at the present to forecast, but it is certain that a continuance of the depression for even a few weeks would be sufficient to produce a heavy crop of assignments.

Until yesterday it was thought that a general shut-down of the plants would be averted, the company's statement for August showing that the industries of this operation had earned a net profit of $100,000.

Cause of Collapse
The cause of the sudden collapse is that Speyer & Co. the holders of the $5,000,000 mortgage, have taken steps to foreclose. It is the general opinion that the company's assets will finally be bid in by the syndicate announced to have been formed some time ago. This would have the effect of wiping out of the slate the $100,000,000 of capital stock, and enabling recapitalization upon a reasonable basis, at $30-40,000.

Outcomes To-Day
As it is, all is dreary in the Soo tonight. Scenes on the street remind one of experiences related of panics in mining camps. Men are wandering about in the streets, and many will be tomorrow, when nearly 2000 men are to be brought in from the mines and wood and timber camps along the line of the Algoma Central. It is difficult to say.

NO MONEY TO PAY THEM OFF WILL BE PORTHOLE UNTIL THE 25th INST. How will they subsist in the meantime? The authorities view the situation with alarm, and steps are being taken to avert, in a number of specific instances.

Militia Also Ready
Col. Elliott of the 97th Battalion has arranged to call out the militia in the event of a possible riot.

All sorts of rumors are current. We are told that the whole thing is simply a move in a long-range game, and that the late president, P. H. Clergue, will be found at the head of a new syndicate to take everything over.

The rosy view of the situation is that the enormous plant, all in good physical condition and ready for operation, will not be long allowed to remain idle. Other capitalists will eventually take it over, and then those who have come thru the Algoma Central in a position to make some money.

BAD MANAGEMENT
Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 18.—(From our own correspondent)—At a meeting of the stockholders of the Consolidated Lake Superior Company Protective Committee, which was presided over by R. E. Rothelmer as counsel, it was determined to strengthen further the standing of the committee by increasing its membership to five, so as to take in two new men of recognized force and integrity.

The closing down of operations is expected to bring about a crisis in Consolidated Lake Superior affairs. On behalf of the stockholders protective committee it was intended today to appoint a receiver months ago when the company first got into trouble, but this has been prevented by closing of the works. For a temporary and wholly inadequate loan the management placed in the hands of the company had in sight, leaving it in a position where it could do nothing but drift along.

New company is obliged not only to stop work on uncompleted operations but actually to close down works which according to the report of President Shields, were earning profits. This is pointed out, is the reason why the management has led the property holders, who are in a position to make some money.

MONTECALM NOT HURT
Montreal, Sept. 18.—(Special)—The closing of the "Soo" does not seem to have affected Montreal. It is not so great to extent. Messrs. Drummond and McGill have been the sellers of the concern, but there will be no loss as far as they are concerned. The Chicago people bought little or nothing, and there was little or no interest in the stock.

TARIFF IS BLAMED
Ottawa, Sept. 18.—(Special)—Your correspondent asked several leading members of parliament to-day what they regarded the cause of the disaster which is threatening the Soo. They are certainly inclined to think that the tariff is the cause. There is no doubt that the tariff is the cause of the disaster. The tariff is the cause of the disaster. The tariff is the cause of the disaster.

Statement Says Game is Up 3500 Workmen Made Idlers

Wheels of Industry at the Soo Stopped by the Foreclosure of Mortgage—President Shields of the Consolidated Company Issues the Sad Tidings.

Sault Ste. Marie, Sept. 18.—The game is up at the Soo. Everything is closed down tight. Three thousand five hundred men are thrown out of employment. The subjoined statement, issued by Assistant Manager Coyne, explains the situation. Speyer & Company have taken proceedings to foreclose their mortgage, and the shutting down of the plants is the first step:

"President Shields, on account of not having funds to meet payroll and current accounts, and no immediate prospects of securing money to meet them, is unwilling to proceed longer incurring liabilities on account of its officers, men or other creditors, and, in consequence, to-day have suspended all operations whatsoever, except the Tagma Water and Light Company and street railway service in the Canadian Soo, and the ferry service and the street railway service in the American Soo. Shall run but one train per week on the Algoma Central Railway between the Soo and end of steel, or about 60 miles.

Men Must Get Out
"The Helen Ore Mine, employing 300 men; the Grace Gold Mine, employing 70 men; the Michipicoten branch of the railway, employing 50 men; the Veneer mill, at Soo, Ont., employing 75 men; the sawmill, at Soo, Ont., employing 100 men; the car shops, at Soo, Ont., employing 20 men; the Algoma Iron Works, at Soo, Ont., employing 100 men; the sulphite pulp mill, at Soo, Ont., employing 100 men; the ground wood pulp mill, at Soo, Ont., employing 100 men; the paper mill, at Soo, Ont., employing 100 men; the Michigan Lake Superior Power Company, at Soo, Mich., employing 50 men; the pine veneer log, pulp log, charcoal operations along the Algoma Central Railway, employing 700 men; the retort plant, at Soo, Ont., employing 90 men; and the Algoma steel plant, at Soo, Ont., employing 150 men, will be absolutely closed down to-day, leaving at each operation simply one caretaker in the daytime and two watchmen at night to protect the property.

Office Staff Reduced
"The general office staff and the Algoma Central main line staff will be reduced proportionately, the probabilities being that not more than 15 of the entire staff of 50 men will be retained. It is with deep regret this announcement is made, but it is the only alternative. For the past 90 days everything that human intelligence could suggest or tireless energy has been done to raise funds to finance this immense magnificent property, but without avail. The hardships that this will bring upon many officers and employees must be borne patiently as possible, trusting that the future may bring about a happy solution and settlement of all difficulties.

"Above all else, I must ask you to remember that we are all law-abiding citizens, and that our misfortunes, while hard to bear, are not likely to continue forever, and are not as hard on our ancestors, or even our fellow-citizens, have borne and come thru triumphantly.

"The company's loss, on account of this necessary shut-down, will be almost ir retrievable, for the reason that no pulp-wood, sawlogs or veneer logs will be available to run the pulp mills, sawmills or veneer mills next year."

Blames Mighty Steel Trust For Collapse at The Sault

Man Who Knows Every Move of Lake Superior Consolidated Expresses Odd Opinion.

To what extent is the United States Steel Trust interested in or responsible for the present plight of the Soo industries? That is the question which was tentatively propounded last night by a gentleman, who is rather intimately acquainted with the workings of the Consolidated Company. What the Soo industries require is money, and what has caused their present—and the gentleman in question hopes and believed temporary—collapse is inability to secure from outside sources sufficient capital to tide the concern over present difficulties. That assistance, it was stated, they have been able to command across the border, where such financial aid is a proposition of the proportions of the Consolidated Company is usually forthcoming under ordinary circumstances. Last spring the company negotiated a loan in New York of something over $5,000,000, and this is needed now, it says, $7,500,000, which would enable them to pay off their liability, and have a million dollars left for good working capital.

The company's earnings for August were in the neighborhood of $165,000. The plant is in first-class shape, and disinterested expert opinion here and there has declared its confidence in the ultimate future and success of the enterprise. The steel rail mill is in readiness to turn out the finished product, and the mill in sight of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway will create an enormous market in Canada for steel rails and for product of the Soo mills for a long time to come.

And that is just where it is said that the hidden hand of the United States Steel Trust is discernible. The president of the Consolidated Company to negotiate its present needed financial assistance.

"It's just this way," said the World's informant. "If you want to get money you've got to go to New York City for it, and the United States Steel Trust, thru Morgan & Co., rules the New York money market. The steel rail mill has had a monopoly of the steel rail business in this country, and it is likely that they would stand quietly by and see a rival concern aided so as to possibly cut in on their Canadian business, present and future, and with such an immense demand in sight for their product? Not much. Figure it out in your own way."

While he did not think his opinion as to the future of the company could in any sense be regarded as a prophecy, he did not think it would be wrong to say that the future of the company is in the hands of the United States Steel Trust. "But it is going to be a dreadful blow to New Ontario, yes, and to the whole country, this money market. Just on the eve of the prosperity that the construction of the new railroad was to bring, the Soo has to face this disaster, for even if the closing is but temporary the throwing of so many hundreds out of employment and the uncertainty and distress, rumors and impressions that will arise, by follow will prove a sore blow to that place. As well as all effects are likely to spread further.

"Government aid? No! I do not see where the government can step in."

AFTER A FAMILY QUARREL SHE AROSE IN NIGHT AND DRANK POISON.

Mrs. Louise Woodgate Wrote Note to Husband, Then Swallowed Rough-on-Rats.

Tired of family bickering and dissatisfied with her surroundings Mrs. Louise Woodgate, 67 Walton-street, committed suicide at an early hour Thursday morning. The deed was a sequel to a short but unhappy period of married life. On the 15th of July she married Henry William Woodgate, and went to live at the above address. She was under forty, while her husband is over 67 years of age. Everything progressed smoothly until about a month ago, when a daughter of Woodgate's by a previous marriage came to live with them. Family disputes then occurred frequently. The girl, who is about 20, did not get along well with her stepmother.

The storm broke last Wednesday night as the supper was being washed. Mrs. Woodgate complained that her stepdaughter did not pay a sufficient amount for her board and demanded more. The daughter, at once took exception, and angry words passed between them. The old man endeavored to stop the discussion, but to no purpose, and it was not until they separated that night at eleven that the two women ceased abusing one another.

The married couple retired as usual, and beyond a slight remark for her harshness to the girl by Mr. Woodgate nothing further was said. They had not been in bed two hours, however, before Mrs. Woodgate got up. Her husband, alarmed at her sudden gestures and the quickness with which she got out of bed, enquired of her if anything was wrong.

"I have a terrible pain in my side," she said. "I think I will go downstairs and get some liniment." With this remark she left the room.

Down stairs she went and instead of liniment she secured a box of rough-on-rats, emptying half of it into a tumbler of water. She then sat down at the table and drank the mixture and sealed and addressed it. Raising the glass to her lips she drank every drop of the poisonous fluid.

Going upstairs she called hurriedly into bed, saying as she did: "I have taken poison. There is a letter downstairs, but I do not want you to open it till I am dead. I want to die." She then lay down and her husband, half dressed, rushed for assistance. When he found she was dead he called for the doctor, and the doctor, who had been called for by her son, Dr. Chambers was soon on the scene, and did everything he could for the dying woman. Her agony was intense. As the end approached she grew quieter, and at 12:30 she expired. She had accomplished her purpose of a few hours before.

The note was addressed, "To My Husband, 67 Walton-street, Sault Ste. Marie." It became dissatisfied with the way she got along with her daughter, and that she would always be fighting. She told her husband that she would give him a letter, and that the thought of giving him so much pain would be a relief to her. She told her daughter and herself made her own determination to end it all.

Somebody called 20 East Gerard-street was notified, and issued a warrant for the body of the deceased woman.

The deceased will be taken to Stonefield street and buried there on Friday afternoon. Mr. Woodgate is at present employed as a shipper with the Frost and White company, this city.

JOSEPH FREES HIS HANDS.

Shareholders in the Toronto Street Railway franchise might profitably have their work waiting these days. A well-organized attempt is being made at Ottawa this session by those interested in electric railways radial of Toronto to secure legislation under the guise of "the general advantage of Canada" that will make the existing city street railway franchise valueless to the city at the expiry of the existing term, some twenty years hence. If they succeed in this not only the city will have nothing to sell again but the shareholders of the Toronto Street Railway will find that instead of having a property that may be worth far more than the dividends they may receive for the balance of the term and worth nothing at the end of it. But even they are not so sure in this, for if the radial promoters can destroy the franchise at the end of the present term, other equally enterprising exploiters, especially if supported by the city, may also, under the guise of "the general advantage of Canada," secure legislation giving them the right of entry within and across the city especially if they undertake to give the public, as they can well afford to give, two-cent trips with transfers, instead of four cents, as they now pay. This would be an enormous boon to the people of Toronto, and would be much preferred to the present percentage on receipts that they get from the Toronto Railway Company.

Idea somewhat like the above are just now, for the first time, beginning to dawn upon the shareholders in the Toronto Railway Company, many of whom are not in any sense shareholders in the radials. And it is these radial promoters who seem to be at the bottom of the practical attempts now being made both on the city and on the Toronto Railway shareholders. In other words, those who profess to be friends of the shareholders of the Toronto Railway are really endeavoring to exploit them and to make their franchise and their shares practically worthless. Or, to put it still another way, the radial contingent is after both the city and the unsuspecting holders of Toronto Railway shares.

Nobody has such a vital interest in the Street Railway franchise remaining inviolate as the shareholders in the present franchise; if it is raised and they see their shares may easily become valueless or depreciated greatly in worth, whereas if it is held as it is they may get par at the expiry of the term. The actual owners had better begin to ask for some sort of explanation from Mr. Drake and the other unknown gentlemen who are so active at Ottawa, or perhaps, better still, of the gentlemen behind them, if they can be unearthed. Somebody is exploiting the shareholders as well as the city. The shareholders, if they do not join with the city, will find they've got hold of shares that might soon go to ten cents on the dollar or less.

The city will not take long to learn to play the game of rendering franchises worthless, once the example is set by others, and the city will certainly be justified in beginning to plan in this direction if the attempts now being so vigorously prosecuted are not discontinued. The shareholders of the Toronto Railway had better have a look at the Mayor and the city's representatives, if they wish to hold what they may have.

Mr. Drake, a somewhat innocent-looking young man, who has a law shingle hung out in town, and who is a devotee of polo and other games, in along with some other equally guileless limbs of the law, very busy in having it declared that the Toronto Street Railway franchise and the shares held by the public in the Toronto Railway are for the "general advantage" of someone else. The ducks had better have an eye on the drakes.

Prof. Young of Trinity College, Toronto, who is at present in London writing to the Times on the University of Oxford and colonial graduates, says: "Much has been said recently about the 'Americanization of Canada,' but none of the articles has touched upon the most serious aspect of the question, namely, the great migration of Canadian students to American universities on the ground of cheapness. Canadian students to the United States have gone to, but now the Rhodes' Scholarships seem to provide means for some of them to come to Oxford instead, but whether the inducements will be sufficient to attract them remains to be seen."

Mr. Weeks, writing to the Times from Chippewagon, says: "Rev. Mr. [Name] made a great mistake in the choice of a location for his colony. Mr. Weeks warns emigrants to keep clear of all who promise extravagant pay as no contract made in England is binding in Canada."

The total annual cost of imperial defence is $1,487,800. The self-governing colonies are not included in this statement.

CONVERSION OF THE PEOPLE NOW FIRST NECESSITY SAYS CHAMBERLAIN.

Closer Union With Colonies and Tariff for Tariff Points in His Policy.

London, Sept. 18.—Writing to-day from his home at Highbury, Birmingham, Mr. Chamberlain made his first public statement since his resignation. His letter is in reply to C. A. Pearson, chairman of the Executive Council of the Tariff Reform League, who asked if Chamberlain coincides with his view, that the examination of the tariff may be considered as sufficiently advanced, and that the league should now use its resources to advocate the employment of a tariff for the purpose of consolidating and developing the resources of the empire and defending the interests of the United Kingdom.

Mr. Chamberlain says: "I agree with your views, that we have sufficient material in the way of facts and figures. We have now to state our conclusions and endeavor to get the people to adopt them."

Mr. Chamberlain then gives his understanding of the position of the Tariff Reform League under two heads, as coinciding with his position. These objects, he says, are:

"First, a closer union with the colonies by means of preferential tariffs, in order to endeavor to make the empire self-sufficing as regards its food supplies."

"Second, the employment of a tariff as a weapon to secure greater reciprocity with foreign nations, or, failing such arrangement, to prevent loss to the home industrial markets under the competition of preferential countries, retaliating upon them the treatment they mete out to us."

"On this understanding," Mr. Chamberlain concludes, "I wish the league success, and the support of everyone desiring the union of the empire and the continued prosperity of British commerce."

LONDON EXCITED
London, Sept. 18.—The newspapers this morning are crammed with discussions and speculations regarding the political situation brought about by Mr. Chamberlain's resignation. The Chancellor of the Exchequer, R. B. Lydell, and Lord George Hamilton, but no fresh developments have yet been announced. The Marquis of Lansdowne, regarding whose intentions there is the greatest interest, has gone to Balmoral to relieve Lord Balfour of Burleigh as the Minister in attendance on the King.

Both political parties have already commenced active preparations for the coming campaign, and the opinion is sought of every man of prominence at home and in the colonies, whose ideas are likely to have influence. Mr. Asquith is in many respects regarded as the future leader of the Liberal party, telegraphed yesterday. "The situation in all its essentials is unchanged. The duty of the Liberals to defend free trade is as plain and urgent as before."

The opinion of the colonies is most important factor in the situation. Sir Edmund Barton, the Premier of the Australian Commonwealth, has declared in an interview that he is convinced of Mr. Chamberlain's ultimate triumph, and that until that triumph is achieved there will be no real union of the empire.

The Standard to-day anticipates that Mr. Balfour will have at least four cabinet seats and two or more under-secretaryships at his disposal, and strongly urges him to make a clean sweep of the discredited ministers and appoint men of real ability, even such men as Lord Cromer and Lord Milner, a safe country who gain thereby.

TREED BY A BEAR
Perry Sound, Sept. 18.—A man in Herbert Athol's camp in Congo was trod by a bear one evening last week. He was going to camp and found the bear in a corner when he met him, who instantly raised himself to standing position, ready for battle. The bear made for a tree and went up it like a squirrel and the bear took up his stand at the foot of the tree until some of the men came out of the camp and chased it away.

Canada's Industrial Needs Theme of C. M. A. Banquet

Three Ministers of Crown and Hon. T. A. Brassey Star Orators at Big Function.

Had Joseph Chamberlain been present at the banquet of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, at the King Edward Hotel, last night, he would have experienced how it felt to be the man of the hour in Canada. He couldn't come, so he sent a cable-gram instead. His name was received with vociferous applause, and every reference to his propaganda was cheered heartily. Mr. Chamberlain's cable read: "Regret very much that, owing to parliamentary duties, I will not be able to visit Canada this year." It was sent before his resignation was announced.

Regrets were also received from Premier Laurier, Hon. R. B. Lydell, Sir Richard Cartwright, Hon. W. S. Fielding, Hon. James Sutherland, F. D. Monk, Premier Roblin of Manitoba, Premier Parent of Quebec, Premier Murray of Prince Edward Island, Premier Tweedie of New Brunswick and E. S. Clouston.

Hon. George E. Drummond was in the chair, surrounded at the head table by Premier Ross, Hon. T. A. Brassey, M.P., J. P. Murray, Robert Manford, P. W. Ellis, George Booth, Harry Cockshutt, Commander Law, Lieutenant-Governor Clark, Hon. William Patterson, Sir William Mulock, C. A. Birge, W. K. McNaught, and W. K. George, J. J. McGill, Fred Nicholls, J. H. Plummer.

Lieutenant-Governor Clark made a capital address, after the toast to the King had been received with enthusiasm. He said the assembling of so many gentlemen of commerce from all parts of the country could not fail to be a matter of general importance, and he had no doubt that what had been done at the gathering of the association would have an educational effect in coming out from England and later he had heard a great deal of talk about the Northwest, and he was the means of bringing several of these gentlemen to Toronto. They came and saw the Exhibition and had their eyes opened. He had read the two great questions—the labor and the tariff. Labor troubles had held back the progress of the country, and he hoped

PROSPECTUS

The Imperial Steel and Wire Company, Limited, is incorporated for the purpose of establishing a modern wire rod mill, wire drawing, wire nail, wood screw, tack and wire fencing plant at the town of Collingwood, Ontario.

THE PRODUCT

Canada, within a very short time, will be producing sufficient iron and steel to meet all the local needs of our population and exporting this material abroad.

At present the situation is approaching a peculiar condition. Furnaces are being erected for the smelting of pig iron and the turning of the same into steel, but, owing to the fact that there are no mills in this country to finish the large quantity of slabs and billets manufactured by these plants, into wire rods, plates, sheets and structural material, the billets have to be exported to be finished in foreign countries and the product reshipped back into Canada.

The fact also that the surplus product of the large steel companies is made up of billets and slabs makes it impossible for us to export into the other colonies, such as South Africa, Australia, Egypt, India and China, where there is a good market for finished products. The field for exports is limited to Great Britain, Germany and the United States, countries that are all competitors in the production of steel.

This Company is organized for the purpose of finishing ready for the market the material in one department of the steel industry, which has not only a large home market, but also a larger market in the other colonies than any other steel product, viz., wire.

WIRE ROD MILL

Every pound of iron and steel that is used in the manufacture of wire, wire nails, fencing, screw nails and wire rope that enters into consumption in Canada, is imported. The imports for 1898, 1900, 1902 were as follows:

Table with 4 columns: Year (1898, 1900, 1902), Wire rods, Barbed wire fencing, Wire fencing, Wire rope.

It will be seen from the above table that the consumption is increasing annually about 50 per cent. The average tonnage of wire rods alone imported into the country every working day is about 184 tons.

This Company proposes to erect a modern continuous wire rod mill with a capacity of one hundred tons daily per single turn, or two hundred tons working day and night. There is no mill of this description in the country at present, and that there is room for it there is no question.

CANADIAN steel billets will be used in the manufacture of these rods and hundreds of workmen will be employed in this country, receiving wages that are now paid to workmen in the United States and Germany. A portion of these rods will be drawn in the Company's own wire drawing plant. The balance will be sold to other manufacturers of wire.

WIRE DRAWING PLANT

The wire drawing plant which it is proposed to install will have a capacity of fifty tons of wire. It will be of the most modern type and designed to draw the wire continuously into the sizes required at one operation. The frames will be extra heavy, and the plant will be designed so that with very little expense the production can be doubled. A modern galvanizing plant and annealing furnaces and all accessories will be included.

It is proposed to finish the bulk of the wire drawn in the Company's mills into material ready for consumption, and to this end to install a wire nail, tack and spike plant with a capacity of at least twenty-five tons daily, with facilities for increasing the output to double this capacity. The most modern and rapid type of machines will be used for this purpose, and every modern facility taken advantage of.

WIRE FENCING

The Company proposes to install another plant to turn out at least twenty-five tons of wire fencing daily. Galvanized wire will be used chiefly.

THE NORTH AMERICAN SECURITIES COMPANY, 705 Temple Bldg., TORONTO.

N.B.—The Company will require an active, responsible agent in every township in the Province to look after its fencing business. Application for these positions should be made at once.

INSURANCE FIRM CHANGES TWO GO AND TWO REMAIN IN

Kay, Banks, Love and Hamilton is Now Only the First Two Names.

One of Toronto's largest insurance agencies, Messrs. Kay, Banks, Love & Hamilton, dissolved partnership yesterday. The news came as a surprise to the insurance firm throughout the city, as the action was entirely unlooked for. Much mystery is preserved about the matter by the members of the firm.

Mr. Love, seen at his home last night, said to The World: "There is no statement to make at present. The dissolution is simply the usual one, where a separation of partnership is considered desirable."

Mr. Love was asked whether there was any trouble in the firm, or among its members, and his answer was strong in the negative. R. C. Hamilton, when seen, said he had nothing to say on the subject. He at first denied that there was any dissolution, but afterwards admitted the fact, but made no statement for publication.

A meeting was held down town last night, but nothing could be learned as to the nature of the business discussed. It was learned from a reliable source that while Mr. Love was away on his holidays, from which he has quite recently returned, some trouble occurred over an item of insurance, the result being that Messrs. Love and Hamilton withdrew from the firm, and Kay and Banks will carry on the business of the former firm as Kay, Banks, Love & Hamilton.

The following notice was given out to the press yesterday: The Atlas Assurance Company, Limited, The Royal Insurance Company, Termination of Agency. Public notice is hereby given that the agency of Kay, Banks, Love & Hamilton, for the above named companies, has been terminated, and that the said firm are no longer authorized to collect premiums or moneys due to these companies, or in any way to act for or on behalf of these companies.

Pending permanent arrangements, John Kay and Arthur P. Banks are authorized to make collections and to act generally as agents of the above companies, at the office of the late firm at No. 27-29 Wellington-street, Toronto. A. Waring Giles, Inspector for General Manager, Sept. 18, 1903.

People's Choral Union. The People's Choral Union has commenced the season's work with a very large attendance. At next rehearsal the Tuesday evening chorus will study "Fair Ellen," by Max Bruch. As such a great number are desirous of taking up the work, it has been decided to increase the membership to 1000 voices. There is no fee, voice test or musical ability required. All persons over 18 who want to learn to sing may become members by applying at the Guild Hall on Thursday evening, or to the director, H. M. Fletcher. Applications will be received up to Oct. 1.

Eight Art Bell Pianos being delivered to Hamilton Conservatory of Music, August 20th, 1903.

Hamilton Conservatory of Music, which has attained such a remarkable standing, has now issued its Seventh Annual Prospectus and announces a teaching staff second to no educational institution in Canada.

The Bell Company, in view of the unquestionable standing of this institution, as well as its Musical Director, naturally take this selection as another very flattering testimonial to their instruments, which are rapidly gaining a position of pre-eminence in musical circles as a piano of truly exceptional artistic qualities.

The Illimitable Repeating Action (which is now the first favorite with musicians) imparts to the upright piano the same ease and elasticity of touch and rapidity in execution of difficult passages only hitherto found in Grand Pianos.

Bell Pianos are made, guaranteed and built to last a lifetime by the largest makers in Canada.

In court yesterday, the petitioner positively denied his name was that of the long-winded fugitive, and his counsel, T. C. Robinson, said the whole case was a farce. It may be necessary to bring witnesses from England in order to make out a prima facie case.

ence of the bench is of vital importance both to the public and to the profession—much more important than the benefit resulting from having an occasional equity more satisfactorily conducted. There might be danger of its increasing the growing practice of taking judges from their proper work to discharge extra duties with extra emolument. All these things give occasion to the enemy to blaspheme. The consequences of the reform demanded are expected: unpleasant remarks are made in reference to the judges, with the inevitable result of lessening the esteem in which the bench of this province has heretofore been held. We are on the down grade connection with matters affecting the dignity of the bench and the respect for it in the public mind. It is time that more thought were given to these matters. The country cannot afford to have the judicial pedestal lowered. The effort must be made if it is not what it once was.

If it is impossible to consider this question without having the Gurney-Stratton case in view, it is because that case was unusually bad, and combined in itself all the worst features of judicial investigations into politics. The practice might be defended in the cases where both parties desire the judge to act, and join in the appointment. In the Gurney-Stratton case the procedure was forced by one party upon the other, and the dominant party insisted on appointing both the judges. What would Canadians think if the Alaskan tribunal consisted entirely of persons appointed by the American government? The case was so utterly bad and indefensible that it has served a good purpose in calling public attention to a growing abuse.

British has seen many fateful crises in her varied political history, but it may be doubted whether any one of these has been more sudden in its rise and fall and more dramatic in its possibilities than that of which the Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain has been at once author and victim. Only a few short weeks ago a member of the Imperial Ministry seemed more secure in place and power than he whose resignation was yesterday flashed to the ends of the earth. Today, on the verge of three score and ten he stands alone, stripped for the most heroic task ever undertaken by a single statesman. There is something of the Titan in the figure of the embodiment, inwardly and outwardly, of the modern spirit—this man who seeks to turn the current of an empire's history into a new channel. Yet he carries his burden lightly as his orchid. Leaders have left their party before or have led them into strange and dubious paths, but rarely have they stood just as Mr. Chamberlain now stands, with apparently no colleague and no lieutenant.

The last half of the 19th century witnessed three remarkable transformations in British party politics. Each of them ended differently, all of them directly or indirectly ultimately made for the good of the nation. The first of these came when Sir Robert Peel recognized that the maintenance of the corn laws was an impossibility. It required the Irish famine to drive home conviction to the people. But the work of educating the people had already been accomplished. In his new departure he took with him all his colleagues except Lord Stanley—afterwards Earl of Derby—the Rupert of debate. His own particular friends, afterwards known as the Peelites and seldom has a more distinguished band, stood within the walls of parliament—all rose to eminence in the ranks of the Liberal party. The greatest of them, William Ewart Gladstone, on whom Peel's mantle fell, completed his leader's work and raised the fabric of free trade, whose foundations the man of today now seeks to destroy. No one now questions the uprightness of Peel's character or the purity of his motives. But the apparent betrayal of the landed interest brought with it the opportunity of Benjamin Disraeli, afterwards Earl of Beaconsfield, who began his career by launching a series of uncessing diatribes of satire, sarcasm and venom.

Time brought its own revenge. The same party that resented so bitterly Peel's change of front meekly followed Disraeli in his astute scheme to "dish the Whigs." That remarkable man deliberately set himself to educate his party and succeeded. As was wittily said he found the Whigs hating and stole their clothes. From the party who had so strenuously opposed the moderate reform bill of Lord John Russell came the Household Suffrage Bill of 1867. But Disraeli had sowed the seed of success, and Gladstone's administration of 1868 was followed by the Conservative government of 1874, and the rehabilitation of that party in the councils of the nation. Very differently ended Gladstone's great reversal over home rule—the third and last of the century. In that unexpected departure he took with him the bulk of his followers and many of his colleagues; but he failed to carry the country and gave to the Unionist coalition that long spell of power which may only now be broken, not by the vigor of the opposition, but by its own weakness and the impulsive action of its strongest member.

What the feeble remnant of the once all powerful Liberal party could not do for itself Mr. Chamberlain has done for it. The men whose bickerings and rivalries have made them the despair even of their own party have found common ground at last under the old banner of the anti-Corn Law League. Under it, too, will fight those Unionists to whom free trade is still a matter of public policy, that various "pious frauds" in the line of indirectly increasing the judicial salaries should be resorted to, or that they should have their pay for outside work? The independent of the finding of the lost boy, Eddie Corkwell, has been a great relief connected with the return of the boy, Constable George Glasford of Caledon saw the report in The World on Wednesday of the lost boy, who had played truant for some time. Mr. Glasford brought Eddie to Caledon station and purchased for him a new suit of clothes. Mr. Glasford is in charge of the conductor, and telegraphed to Mrs. Corkwell, mother of the boy. Caledon, Sept. 18.

Is Mr. Thomas McLaughlin of North Pelham, who was cured of muscular rheumatism and sciatica by Folsom's Kidney Pills, the most powerful pain reliever in the world. "I suffered all manner of pain for years," said Mr. McLaughlin, "and now I am able to do my work as usual. I can only say that Folsom's Kidney Pills are the best medicine I have ever taken. It goes to the very core of the pain and brings lasting relief. Let every sufferer from lame back, aching joints and swollen limbs, try Folsom's Kidney Pills. It's sure, and costs but 25c for a large bottle at all drug stores."

a blessed word. They will be armed with all the catching phrases and speaking object lessons which did duty in the old days of the reform demonstration. They will have with them the sense of a man who has come rapidly to a head. The education bills of the government have roused deep resentment among the nonconformists—the disclosures of the South African Commission have led to a general demand for a victim. Then there is the fluctuating class who think it only fair to let the other side have a chance—the activity of the new labor party has always laid to the account of the government. None can deny that Mr. Chamberlain has work to do which might well daunt any statesman. Yet to a man of his type difficulties exist only to be overcome. His letter is notable for its serene confidence, the intensity of its purpose. It rings with the enthusiasm born of a lofty aim and a noble cause. No doubt, he feels that he has gone beyond the first gleam of success which draw more to his side. But just now he is Athanasius contra mundum—will it be given him to do for the empire what the great Father did for the church?

THE PLAN OF CAMPAIGN. The key to the political situation in Great Britain is that there is no ministerial crisis, in the ordinary sense. There is no disagreement between Balfour and Chamberlain. They have simply found it inconvenient to continue in a certain relation, which is governed by fixed constitutional rules, and they have decided that, for the time being at least, there is no quarrel. Balfour assures Chamberlain of his esteem and friendship, and Chamberlain advises Balfour as to the course that he ought to pursue during the painful separation. It is a separation, not a divorce. It does not preclude the idea of a happy reunion. Such a reunion is not only possible, but is contemplated by both parties.

England, but Balfour and Chamberlain have put their heads together and devised the best possible means of carrying on the fight. The resignation of Mr. Chamberlain is simply a division of labor. Balfour is to carry on the government as long as possible, so as to give Chamberlain the longest possible time for his agitation. Chamberlain is to work as hard and as fast as possible, so as to make it easy for Balfour to resign. Both think best, the elections will be held, Balfour bringing into the fight all the Conservative support that he can command, and Chamberlain bringing in all the protectionist support that he can command. How this plan will succeed, time alone can show; but the nature of the plan there can be little doubt.

Wire Company Erecting a Plant to Texas—Looking for the Northwest Trade. Whilst wire is an article that is used by everybody, it is amazing how few people know anything about its manufacture. This observation is prompted by the reading of a neat pamphlet entitled "Wire, its Manufacture and Uses," circulated free by the Northwest Wire Company, Temple Building. It contains a complete history of the wire industry, and a description of the plant of the wire industry, and a description of the various processes and machines used in the manufacture of wire and its immediate products, such as wire fencing, wire nails, etc. The book also contains a description of the plant of the Imperial Steel & Wire Company, Limited, now in course of erection at Millington. This company is building at that point one of the finest wire plants on the continent. The ultimate capacity of the plant will be 500,000 tons of wire annually, and the ground area covered by the plant will be 100 acres. In addition, another place will be found in an advertisement offering $40,000 of the first bond of the Northwest Wire Company for sale. Some $60,000 has already been subscribed. Those interested in the vast industrial progress of this country should read the pamphlet, and those who have surplus capital available to invest in the growing industries of the country cannot do better than put some of it in such a staple industry as wire.

LAKE AND RAIL

A special excursion to the west will be run Sept. 25, in the interests of those who intend to settle permanently, the last of the harvesters' excursion having left on Wednesday.

A rumor that three promises to be a decided setback among officials of the Grand Trunk is not credited around the office, and there is a general disposition to accept the idea. The report that W. Newcombe, locomotive superintendent, would shortly resign was a surprise to the other members of the mechanical engineers' department, and they are not inclined to credit it in the least.

Steamer Argyle carried a bumper crowd on her last regular run of the season, leaving Wednesday evening at 6 p.m. for Colborne, Cobourg and Port Hope. There were 800 people on board, the biggest passenger list of the year. Yesterday, in spite of the chilly air, there was a good crowd on deck when the Argyle departed at 5 p.m. for Picton, where she will pass the winter months.

The steamer Joe, bound from Saugeais to Holland, Mich., with a cargo of fruit, broke down in the heavy sea and went ashore one and one-half miles south of the latter harbor. The life-savers rescued the captain and crew. Navigation on the Great Lakes is to be made safer by the erection of a steel tower at Chicago. This tower will stand 50 feet above the water level, and will be furnished with a steel mast 25 feet high. For the signal lights in the tower an electrical plant is to be installed.

PASSENGER TRAIN VANISHED

Fears Expressed Last It Has Dropped From a Trestle. Atlantic City, N.J., Sept. 18.—An entire train with its passengers is reported by the Brigantine life-savers as lost on the Meadows somewhere between Brigantine Junction, on the route of the Reading Railroad from Philadelphia and this city and the terminus of the road at Brigantine Beach. Searching parties have left Brigantine to look for the missing train and friends of people on it are much worried. The train, which is the only one on the road, is supposed to have left the Junction at 5:30 p.m. yesterday and should have arrived at Brigantine within an hour. Part of its way lay across a trestle nearly two miles long over Grassy Bay. That part of the country is entirely deserted at present and fears are entertained that some accident may have befallen the train at that point.

Next day we got to Hong Kong, and found it was known that we had on board Wong Wat Chee, the reformer, on whose head a large price had been set, and the conclusion is that the ship was sent out to ram us and send us to the bottom.

IT IS NATURE'S WATERWAY FOR CARRYING OF GRAIN

Something About the Trent Valley Canal, Its Capabilities and Prospects and the Territory It Serves—Has Largest Hydraulic Lift-Lock in World.

Editor World: Sir—It is an astonishing fact that at the present time Canadian people know little or nothing about that great projected national grain-carrying waterway, the Trent Canal, now about two-thirds completed, and which was at one time more sensibly named the "Trent Valley Canal."

The intention is to connect the North American upper lakes at the city of Midland on Georgian Bay, where the great ocean-like steamers after having carried the grain across the upper lakes from "Britain's granary" in the Canadian Northwest, will discharge into the Trent Canal barges, and after passing on thru this "Trent Valley waterway," will enter Lake Ontario at its eastern end, either at the town of Port Hope or Trenton, and from thence proceed by way of the St. Lawrence River canals to the seaport city of Montreal, where the barges will discharge direct into the great ocean carriers for Europe.

These Trent Canal barges will have a capacity of 25,000 bushels each, and will be hauled, several in consort, by steam tug from Georgian Bay to Montreal, and will there be discharged direct by floating elevators into the ocean steamers, thus relieving the immense outlay for elevators at Montreal.

The Trent Valley route is "nature's short grain-carrying waterway," and how ungrateful it would be were we not to utilize that which she has endowed us! It was the route taken by that great pioneer, Champlain, and furthermore, a canal route by way of the Trent Valley was decided by the imperial government to be the most economical waterway between the upper lakes and the seaport of Montreal, and the money was voted for part of the work and, in fact, several of the locks were constructed, but the Mackenzie rebellion breaking out, the money was appropriated for the purpose of giving it a quietus.

In 1880 the attention of the then Minister of Railways and Canals was directed to it, and the Canadian government was so impressed with the route as an international waterway, that later on, in 1887, the government appointed a commission to consider the advisability of continuing the work. This commission was composed of Judge Weller of Peterboro, John Kennedy, C.E., of Montreal (now harbor master), and Frank Turner, C.E., of Toronto, in his day a widely known name of world-wide reputation, who took evidence at the chief ports on the great lakes as well as the seaboard, and from the evidence adduced, they reported favorably for the completion of the canal.

Next summer construction will be so far completed that a stretch of 159 miles of inland navigation will be opened between Lakes Couchiching and Simcoe, on the north and Rice Lake on the south, and there will be only two short sections remaining, the one being at the north end and the other at the south end. The north section will either cut across country a distance of 12 miles, following the Nottawasaga Valley, or else will follow up the Severn River, which will require to be canalized by means of dams, which would cause flooded navigable reaches of the river.

The uncompleted section in the south between Rice Lake and Lake Ontario, further surveys of which are now being made, will cost two and a half million dollars or less, and efforts are now being made to induce parliament to commence construction and thus give seaboard communication to an extent of country having a coast line of about 1000 miles, and having a total population of nearly 30,000 people located on the shores of this navigable waterway. The work now done would be of value.

The route of this proposed southern section will pass south across Rice Lake and cut across the northern end of the Trent Valley, and enter Lake Ontario in a good harbor at the town of Port Hope, and would then follow along the shore some 25 miles, following several good towns with harbors and into the Bay of Quinte thru the five-mile Murray Canal, and then pass on thru the St. Lawrence River canals to Montreal. Otherwise the route will pass east thru Rice Lake and follow the Trent River Valley to the town of Trenton on the Bay of Quinte, a distance of some 54 miles, over half of which is already navigable, the canal route using the river at times and in other portions cutting across country.

The middle stretch of the canal of 160 miles, broken up by almost completed, between Lake Simcoe and Rice Lake, is composed of delightful stretches of navigable lakes and rivers, which for the most part lie transversely across the line of canal and which are linked together by means of locks. One stretch of lakes, now navigable, and upon which there is a large fleet of steamers and launches, extends for a distance of 70 miles and is known as the "Kawartha Lakes," a summer resort now rapidly outgrowing the famed Muskoka Lakes, and also noted for its bass and "lunge." They commence at Balsam Lake on the north and end at Lakefield near Peterboro on the south, the lakes passed thru being Balsam, Cameron, Sturgeon, Pigeon, Buckhorn, Deer, Lovelock, Clear and Katchewanooka, while the locks are: Rosedale, Peaton Falls, Bobcaygeon, Buckhorn Falls, Lovelock, Burleigh Falls and Young's Point. The biggest draw at Burleigh Falls, the difference in level there being nearly 30 feet, these falls having a reservoir or millpond of some 50 square miles.

The country northeast, and contiguous to the canal, has enormous quantities of hardwood suitable for furniture manufacturing purposes, and is at present only waiting until the canal barges can receive at the mouths of the streams tributary thereto, hardwood floating for a short distance. Of course millions of dollars worth of pine have already been floated out thru this waterway. The middle and southern portion of Central Ontario are a great-growth district, in fact, the largest cereal company in the world has recently erected mills at Peterboro, "The Wheat City," having a capacity of ten million bushels per annum, chiefly for European trade, and one reason for its location there was that an assurance was given that the Trent Valley Canal would soon be completed.

Already this whole district has felt the local benefits of the canal, notably Peterboro, where three of the largest of their kind in Canada have recently been located. In fact, a member of the great Rothbarth banking house, when visiting this section of the world several years ago, stated that this district was destined to be one of the great manufacturing centers of the world.

At Peterboro the great hydraulic lift-lock, the largest in the world, will lift the 25,000 bushel barges from the lower level to the upper level of the canal, six feet higher, by means of pumps or water-lifts, steel boxes 140 feet by 33 feet wide, with a depth of eight feet in the clear. These pontoons are closed at both ends by means of gates, hung on the lower edge, and gates are also used to close the reaches of the canal on the upper and lower levels. These chambers, guided between three huge high towers, built of concrete, are carried on heavy trusses, supported on top of two pilons or rams, seven and a half feet in diameter, which work in two water-tight wells, one under each chamber. The chambers are alternately up and down, and barges or vessels are hauled in or out by means of hydraulic capstans, and about 12 minutes is sufficient to cage, lift and liberate the enclosed vessels, whereas it would take about one and a half hours to do a like lockage on the old-fashioned system, such as on the Welland or Erie Canal.

Four of these great lift-locks will be used on the Trent Canal, the second one located at the height of land, near Balsam Lake, being now also nearly finished. These four lift-locks will save altogether about six hours over the old system of lockage.

It is well to mention that these Trent Canal barges will have a capacity of 25,000 bushels, whereas the Erie Canal barges, running between Buffalo and New York, have only a capacity of 8000 bushels, and also that the Trent Valley route is some 150 miles shorter than the Erie route between the North American upper lakes and Liverpool, a total saving of about 1500 miles in the return trip. In comparison with the Welland Canal route, between Sault Ste. Marie and Montreal, the Trent Valley route will be some 250 miles longer, or about 500 miles in a round trip.

People have asked why this great work has been so delayed, and the answer has been given, because it has been made a political football. Both parties are committed to it, but a great deal of prejudice has been engendered against this Trent Valley undertaking because members of parliament and the public are generally lamentably ignorant as to its capacity, utility and purposes.

It is a well known fact that invariably when any public man has visited

Dr. McLaughlin, Dear Sir—I was suffering from a very severe stomach trouble and I weak heart, causing palpitation and loss of breath at the time I started to wear your belt. The first day I put it on I felt greatly benefited, and now feel quite free from my former stomach trouble and weakness. I have gained flesh and strength. I had been suffering for eleven years, and had been doctoring nearly all that time without any benefit. I started to wear your belt, and I feel better than ever. C.M.A. THRU BIG PROGRAM

Hon. George A. Drummond Elected President and W. K. George First Vice.

The business of the annual convention of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association was concluded yesterday morning.

The report of Secretary Young showed an increase in membership from 132 in 1899 to 1272 at the present time.

The resolutions suggested by the Tariff Committee went through without discussion.

John R. Barber, M.L.A., objected to making the commission permanent.

Several members spoke on the subject, but the resolution was carried without material change in the wording.

Canadian Money Only. The committee on resolutions submitted a number of resolutions.

That, as it is in the interests of Canada, both from financial and patriotic reasons, that the coinage in use shall be Canadian.

Joseph Fortier thought this was a snip aimed at Uncle Sam, but he was assured by Mr. Birge that it was simply a matter of business.

No Free Government Goods. The Montreal branch submitted this resolution.

In view of the fact that goods imported by the government free of duty are liable to find their way into the regular channels of trade.

Foreigners Get Preference. The following resolution was suggested to meet the action of foreign firms who ship their goods thru Great Britain to Canada.

That whereas foreign manufacturing firms, especially in European countries, are continually taking advantage of the preference granted to British goods entering the Dominion of Canada.

And whereas this abuse of the preference is detrimental, not only to Canadian manufacturers, but to British manufacturers as well, and is thus defeating the very purpose of preferential legislation.

Be it resolved, that this association respectfully urge upon the Dominion government the desirability of amending the present preferential regulations as applying to British goods so as to increase the required percentage of British labor from twenty-five to fifty per cent.

Another resolution asked for the enactment of a general Dominion insolvency law.

A resolution regretting that South Africa had not included Canada in its preferential tariff and calling the attention of the Dominion government to the fact was passed.

Resolutions of thanks to the Toronto branch, Premier Ross, the Mayor and Council, and various others were carried unanimously.

World Office, Friday Evening, Sept. 18.

Liverpool wheat futures closed 3/4 lower than yesterday, and corn futures 1/2 lower.

At Chicago December wheat closed 1/2 lower and December corn 1/2 lower.

Car lots at Chicago today: Wheat 82, corn 42, oats 107.

Northwest receipts of wheat to-day: Duluth 250, against 121 last week and 439 last year.

Corn receipts to-day: 710,000 bushels, shipments 670,000.

Chicago, Sept. 18. The buying of wheat and corn on the break looks better than the selling.

Chicago crop reports gathered by St. Louis office of Standard Pacific and forwarded to George Gould in New York do not indicate that corn along company's lines has suffered material damage from frosts.

Chicago: Clear with slowly rising temperature everywhere. No rain. Frosts in Illinois, Iowa, Ohio, Indiana, Kansas and Missouri.

Light frost in Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, Colorado, Kan. Temperature: Northwest, 20 to 44; Nebraska, Illinois and Iowa, 26 to 32; Northwest, 40 to 52.

St. Louis, Mo.: The Modern Miller says: "Movement continues liberal of winter wheat from the southwest and west, principally of hard winter, but is small from other sections."

Quality of Nebraska crop further lowered by too much moisture and unfavorable weather. Rain has fallen in sections where fall plowing is being delayed by dry weather.

Monday's Indian wheat shipments, 1,016,000 bushels.

Friday's Argentine wheat shipments, 298,000 bushels; maize, 3,304,000 bushels.

Argentine wheat weather has been measurably warm; no damage has yet been done by locusts.

The weekly crop report to Dun's Review from branches of R. G. Dun & Co. in leading crop states is not so favorable to corn and cotton.

A considerable part of the corn crop in important sections of the west has not yet reached maturity, owing to weather and frost of the week, extending as far south as Kansas, threatens serious damage.

Reports are conflicting regarding the outlook, but serious loss has been suffered in Northern Nebraska and Iowa and along the whole northern border.
