ANOTHER ZEPPELIN RAID IN PROGRESS, ONE MACHINE IS DOWN

Anglo-Serbian Attacks Succeed North of Saloniki--Russians March Toward Lemberg British Centre Line is Extended, Wedge Driven Into Enemy's Line in Picardy, and Village Captured

ANOTHER ZEPPELIN IS DOWN IN RAID NOW ON AGAINST LONDON

Aircraft Are Still Flying Over London and the East Coast, But No Damage is Reported Yet.

London, Oct. 2, 1:45 a.m.—Another zeppelin raid against London and the east coast of England is in progress.

Four zeppelin raids on London and east coast have been carried out in past month, the more recent attacks being made by airships of the larger and bigger type.

Two zeppelins were destroyed in the raid of Sept. 23. On that occasion the first killed 28 and wounded 125 persons.

The following night, in another raid, which the airships apparently escaped without damage, they killed 28 persons and wounded 27.

On the raid of Sept. 27, only two zeppelins were destroyed and 13 were injured.

Reports from the suburbs of London give graphic accounts of the manner in which the zeppelins—the fourth and the last of the English soldiers—victims to Great Britain's anti-aircraft defences.

The zeppelin crashed to earth in the north of London, the wreckage of the descending glazing mass witnessed by thousands of Londoners, who showed their satisfaction by cheering.

ALLIES IN BALKANS WIN AT EACH END OF FRONT

British Capture Two Villages From Bulgarians--Serbians Take Summit of Mt. Kaimakcalan.

London, Oct. 1.—An important success was won today by the British forces in the Balkans. Crossing the Struma River, they took two villages from the Bulgarians, below the Orjak River, seized a portion of the Bulgarian front and took several hundred prisoners.

Further fighting on the Kaimakcalan Range resulted in the winning of further successes for the Serbians, who captured further peaks of the range. The Bulgarians have previously been defeated in a battle forced on the Serbians and their nerve was shaken.

GAIN NEAR THIEPVAL

Troops of Gen. Haig Take Twenty-Six Thousand Prisoners.

Special Cable to The Toronto World. London, Oct. 2.—The British army drove forward with its centre today and captured a whole section of ground and Eaucourt L'Abbaye Village.

The fighting on the centre was quickly finished, the Germans not putting up such a stout resistance as usual. More than 300 prisoners were passed down from the captured area in a short time.

The new armoured tank cars were brought into action and their services were appreciated.

A particularly violent fire was maintained by the British artillery today and considerable damage was inflicted on the Germans.

Sir Douglas Haig reports that since Sept. 18 the British have taken on the front from the Ancre to the Somme 24 field guns, three field howitzers and three trench mortars.

BOURASSA CALLS ENGLAND AN EGOTISTIC OPPRESSOR

Vehement Attack on Great Britain and Her Participation in Present War--Declares France is Paying for Her Apostasy--Ridiculed Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Lemieux and Other Liberals.

Special to The Toronto World. Montreal, Oct. 1.—Between five and six thousand people listened yesterday to Henri Bourassa and Paul-Edouard Lamache, at Nicolet in the County of Yamaska.

Mr. Bourassa defended his attitude in resigning from the federal parliament as a protest against prolonging the term, which action he characterized as tyrannical.

Mr. Bourassa made a vehement attack on Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and sarcastically referred to him as the idol of the people.

Mr. Bourassa said the peers of England, dignitaries of the Anglican Church, deputies and hundreds of prominent English people were receiving a commission of 22 per cent. on every shell fired by the Germans at the British soldiers.

RUSSIANS MAKE MORE PROGRESS AT TWO POINTS

Advance Towards Lemberg is Renewed by Strong Attacks.

MANY PRISONERS TAKEN

Fierce Attempts by Enemy to Stop Advance All Fail.

Special Cable to The Toronto World. London, Oct. 1, 3:30 p.m.—After a period of comparative inactivity, the further preparation of the Russians resumed their advance towards Lemberg on Saturday at two points, capturing positions from the Germans and took more than 4,000 prisoners.

The Russian attacks are being made at two points, one being northern and the other southern of Lemberg. The Teutons are making a last resistance.

The Russian heavy artillery drive from the northeast by attacking the positions of the Teutons in the vicinity of the Brody-Kamnik railway line and to the south of this road, and the general headquarters of the rear echelon that they are forcing their way towards.

The second great point of attack is against the defenses of the enemy on the southern bank of the Zlota Lipa River, south of the Stryka River, and the northern bank of the Zlota Lipa River.

WASHINGTON UNEASY

Believe Germany, in Desperation, Will Strike in Any Possible Way.

Washington, Oct. 1.—Increasing agitation in Germany for a complete resumption of submarine warfare, Chancellor Von Bethmann-Hollweg's declaration before the reichstag that any weapon to shorten the war "deserves to be hanged," and the recent apparently inspired simultaneous publication in German papers on American neutrality brought forth to-day an authoritative, but informal statement from the state department of the American Government.

THIRTEEN KILLED IN DETROIT CAR SMASH

Switch Engine Crashed Into Street Car—Twenty-Eight Others Injured.

Detroit, Oct. 2.—Thirteen persons were killed and more than 38 injured, several probably fatally, late tonight when a switch engine pushing two freight cars crashed into a crowded street car at Forest ave. and DeQuader street on the east side.

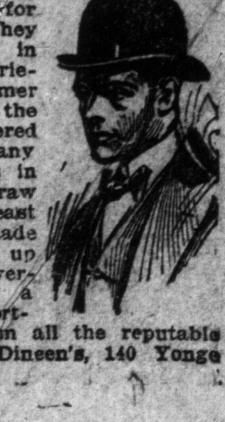

The street car was struck almost in the centre, the impact pushing it from the tracks and sliding it alongside of the freight cars.

Most of the dead were killed by jumping from the car and falling under the wheels of the still moving freight cars.

Some Gentle Taps on The New Party Anvil

There is lots of talk about the new party in the papers, some of it friendly, a lot of it critical, some of it uncertain; and there is also a lot of talk among the ordinary every-day citizens; and judging by the information that comes to The World office, and it is coming from every quarter through the Dominion, it is very much in favor of a new departure. The papers are not speaking for the plain people as for the parties. But let us begin by quoting the following clear-cut editorial comment on the weakness of the present party system:

Monetary Times, September 27. The defeat of the British Columbia Government is a further lesson to those who compose our governments. The people are disgusted with politics which are made and run in the same old groove. This country has acquired too many undesirable trimmings. Outside the circles of favored political friends is growing an independent vote. It will help to smash one government after another, whether federal or provincial. Liberal or Conservative, crooked business men cause winking at crooked business in high places and low, cease to ride roughshod over the national mood, and cease to put partisanship first and last. An increasing number of the political class are turning to the political class. That vote wants clean government by men of courage, action and foresight.

We take this quotation to very fairly reflect what is the opinion of the public generally as to the "undesirable trimmings" now attached to our politics in this country. Here is more quotation:

Allison Herald, Sept. 28 (Independent): When The Toronto World last week commenced an agitation for a new party in Canada, the other papers all immediately gave attention to the suggestion, some in sympathy and some by attempting to detract attention. The Mail's editorial declaring that the new party was already here was an outstanding example of the effort to deflect public thought. Papers in Hamilton, Kingston, Montreal, Peterboro and Winnipeg look on the suggestion with more or less favor. The significance of the various attitudes appears to be that all see the new party coming and are in the dark as to what its sentiments are. A new party as a separate political organization or force is scarcely a possibility, as past experience with such movements as that of the Patrons of Industry have demonstrated. The suggestion is being advocated to give him a chance to place his preference. If either of the existing political parties had a man of the strength and courage of the late Dan McCarthy to crystallize public sentiment and make it a substitute for one of the parties he would be able to sway any government.

We think The Herald puts the situation in a very fair way and a good deal on the lines of The Monetary Times.

But a lot of other newspapers are contenting themselves with saying, and most of them with a left-handed compliment to The World and W. F. Maclean, that no third party has ever amounted to much; and most of them quote the case of the Progressive party in the United States headed by Theodore Roosevelt, a party which is now practically out of the presidential election as a competing factor. But whoever says that the Progressives were not effective in the United States has not managed to grasp how much the Progressives did in the politics of the United States. They cleaned up the Democratic party; they made the Republican party talk about "public service" and reorganize itself; and nearly all the good legislation passed by the Wilson government has come from the platform of the "new departure." Had there been no Progressive party, there would have been little of the forward movement in that country; and that confirms The World's view that we had a few good things to learn from the United States. The old parties to take up new proposals and new alignments, and, as The World believes, make them come right to the front and suggest government of this country on new lines. But whether a new party came to the office or not, Canada it would be a mighty satisfactory force.

And did these rather flippant apologists of Canadian politics ever read what the Labor party has done in England; and what it has done for social uplift and more equitable taxation and in bringing to the front a man like Lloyd George in the just estimation of The New York Sun, the Welshman has done more for England in this war than any other man for any other country engaged in the war, or any other neutral nation for that matter. Lloyd George is a Progressive with modern ideas and was ready when the opportunity presented itself to Mr. Asquith to join the premier in practically making a new party out of the two old parties that were dominating Britain. There's a new party there today! If it had not been for the Labor party and its independence, England would have been in a much worse position.

And coming home, who will pretend that it was either of the new parties that cleaned up British Columbia or Manitoba, or later on may clean up some of the other provinces that have got in a bad way from over-indulgence in party politics? And therefore we think that the worthy editors who flippantly mention new parties as ineffective and non-productive had better think again and keep along the present and march forward government.

A paper down east called The Sydney Post, published in Nova Scotia, is a strong Conservative organ and has every mark of being edited from Ottawa or thereabouts; and in its articles for the last month or two it is always out in favor of upholding the German metal combine that has control of the output of Canada, including nickel; and it takes the part of the International Nickel Co. and of the Ottawa Government and of the Hon. Mr. Cochrane; and by insinuating in one of its latest deliverances, declares there is no room in the politics of Canada for a party of political independents. Again we wish to tell this worthy editor that Lloyd George was an Independent for a number of years, but he does not happen to be so today; and perhaps some of those whom it would put in that class as far as Canada is concerned may be able to show the people. If they are not able to show the political organizations that a new departure and a new party and a new platform will succeed in Canada as it has succeeded in the United States and Great Britain in making for political betterment.

And now we come to a paper of influence, The Mitchell Recorder, published in western Ontario, which while it agrees with what The World says about the Conservative party's commitment to the Nationalists, declares that the Liberals are in any way identified with that jolly section of politicians in the Province of Quebec. We are sorry that we cannot accept The Recorder's claim in this matter; and we think that both parties have had altogether too much to do with the representation in the commons at Ottawa or in the legislatures of the provinces. Here, whoever takes up the labor side as regarded as a crank by either of the old parties; and yet in the labor corner as just concluded in Toronto if there was anything that came out it was that two parties were dissatisfied with the great deal of legislation put upon our statute books; and that they had about come to the conclusion that it was time for them to make a more definite plan and play a more distinct part in the politics of Canada. And if the new party will have one plank in its platform it will be a plank for better representation for the labor of the country. Why should not Toronto and the County of York have four or five labor men seats; another in Hamilton; another in London; and at least one in Winnipeg and one in Vancouver; several in Montreal and two or three in the maritime provinces; and in that way, by real force, secure better government and more progressive government for this country. If the British representatives in labor in parliament did what they have done why cannot the same thing be done in Canada? But the two old parties do not want to see any more labor representatives in parliament. They would sooner take charge of that department of Canada. And if the new party will be longer in this country, and the new party will see that labor gets a better show in the matter of representation for what is really the higher politics of the Canadian nation. And here is where we are getting to the point where the labor pinches the party organs that have so many lies, laughs, jokes and tin cans to hand out to a new party.

And coming still nearer home, do the out and out party men not see that some kind of a big upheaval is under way right in the Province of Ontario and that some very strong waves and eddies are coming from the going in the mulberry trees. And we are indebted for this reference to the mulberry trees to The Sun's Fall Arrow, which, while professing to be independent, does not know which way it is on this issue, except that it tries to create a laugh.

And here is another quotation from a paper up north in this province 'to this effect:

Chatsworth News (Independent), Sept. 28. W. F. Maclean of The World is out for the formation of a third party in Canada. There is absolutely no necessity for a third party. What Canada needs is a more efficient administration by the government and a more effective criticism by the opposition. A ready ear on the part of the government, a constructive criticism on the part of the opposition and the government of the patronage system and its attendant evils would do Canada and Canadian politics more good than any third or fourth party that might be organized. The possibility of adorning the cross benches of parliament may appeal strongly to Billy Maclean, but the average voter must ask himself the question: "Will it do me any good?"

The Chatsworth man begs the whole conclusion. The government and the opposition are not doing their duty; they have not got the ready ear; they have not got the constructive criticism; and somebody else must take it up; and it is why we have already said that a large amount of good must and will come from the new party in this present and critical moment in our affairs.

And there is another force in Canada that has to be counted on in the next election and that is the women vote. The new party will be in favor of giving the franchise to women, as has been given to many of them in the States and in Canada, which both presidential candidates in that great country are committed. The women of Canada are for the new party and politicians had better put that in their pipe and smoke it right away and tell the public of his favor!

And now we come to an old "journal" called The Farmers' Advocate, published in London, Ontario, which says there seems to be a chance now for honest politicians; and it is to be hoped that the voters of the country will exercise their now on their independence and right thinking when the election comes around; and then it makes the rather absurd conclusion that this will be a sure cure for political lies than a new party! But the only hope it has of putting in the old parties and not the new ones. The Farmers' Advocate should take another think in the matter and act accordingly.

BOURASSA'S ATTACK ON GREAT BRITAIN

to the Nationalists if the Province of Quebec has some self-respect and a sense of its duty in not sacrificing the blood of its children to serve the calculations of Imperial England.

His Attack on Sir Wilfrid.

"I read the speech of Laurier in Montreal for days," said a young man, "and I feel as if I were younger, you would see me take arms and go to the help of France."

France was a young man when France was in agony under the heel of Germany in 1870; Laurier was of an age to help France, but I don't know that he took a gun to go to defend his mother, France. Why? Because the English policy wanted France to be crushed, and Laurier was then as he is today, for English clavery.

"Today France serves as a cover for England's ambition. The British have stopped the German cannon from approaching Calais and attacking England, the most gigantic and rapacious of covets."

"While there men come and tell you French-Canadians that you are cowards for not fighting, do you know for whom they are fighting? They are fighting for England. Canada remained faithful in spite of the stupidity of the English statesmen. What obligation have we towards France? France bore two wars against the United States for England. Canada remained separated from us and she never protected us, although she never protected us."

"If a civil war broke out say between French-Canadians and English-Canadians on account of the barbarous persecutions that the French-Canadians have borne at the same time when two races in Canada were proclaiming the same thing, would France send a regiment to help the French-Canadians? Canada can have no obligation, legal or moral, to take part in this war."

"We love France; we have reason to love it; we love England, if we are not imperialists, but we do not love the deeds of tyranny and spoliation. This execrable and accursed policy will bring down the British Empire and the Imperial Rome." Retorted Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Mr. Bourassa said that Laurier was one of the most nefarious (base) men that he had ever known, because he used his power and knowledge not to help his people but to betray his mission. It was for him to bring the two races together in justice and with respect for each other.

In conclusion he stated: "I hate the atrocities of certain Germans in Belgium as I hate certain atrocities committed in this war, as I hate German tyranny in Belgium, English tyranny in India and as I hate the tyranny of England over the Canadians."

CASGRAIN TAKES ISSUE WITH ONTARIO CABINET

Admits Also That Quebec Has Not Done Its Share in Recruiting.

Special to The Toronto World.

Montreal, Oct. 1.—Hon. T. Chase Casgrain spoke yesterday at an influential gathering taking issue with the Ontario Government, although he spoke as a simple citizen of Canada rather than a cabinet minister. He said that while clause 17 was of a former date, the statute on the Ottawa bilingual bill was adopted when the war was in full swing. He said it was a great responsibility for any province to adopt legislation that was certain to cause disunion. He also attacked the Ontario press, saying that at times it was intolerable, warning his hearers that no party hopes to stay in power or get to power without the support of the Ontario people. He said, however, that Laurier was more concerned in making political capital than in the French language, as he brought the Ontario ministry and said nothing in the debate about his Manitoba friends. He admitted that Quebec had not done her share in recruiting and invited Hon. R. Lemieux and Sir Lester Broun to stump the province in the interest of recruitment.

Hon. E. L. Patenaude and Senator Beaulieu made rattling speeches to-day at Berthelville, following Barrett, M.P., who came out against conscription. The minister of inland revenue made a great and patriotic address and Senator Beaulieu said that they had to go to France to find out what England really did for that country, saying that every Frenchman admitted that the British saved France, and was grateful beyond measure for it.

TAX NICKEL OUTPUT AT THE PIT MOUTH

J. F. Black Tells Sudbury Commission Its Proper Method.

INTERESTING EVIDENCE

Most Promising Surface Showings Only Have Been Developed.

Sudbury, Ont., Oct. 1.—Considerable interesting testimony was taken by the Ontario Nickel Commission at Sudbury during the past week. The commissioners present were: Chairman Holloway, the distinguished British metallurgist, McGregor Young of Toronto, and Thos. Gibson, deputy minister of mines. A number of subjects were touched upon including the taxation of the nickel companies. J. F. Black, former president of the board of trade, said that the International Nickel Company thru an arrangement with the government was only paying $4,000 a year in taxes, while under the Ontario law it should be paying nearly ten times that amount.

Major Travers was first called and the chairman suggested that he give from personal experience his opinion as to the extent of the deposits, developed and undeveloped, the refining of nickel, the taxation of mining companies, etc.

Major Travers stated that he had been connected with mining in the district continuously for 25 years during the past seven years had been engaged in contract work. Had developed the Whistle, Murray, Leveck, Biesard, Elsie, Gertrude, and other properties, all of which have large quantities of proven ore bodies, amounting to roughly $70,000,000 tons, all contained within 10 miles around the rim of the 130 miles of nickel-bearing belt. The percentage is from 3 1/2 per cent. to 6 per cent. nickel-copper, ratio of about two parts nickel to one of copper. In reply to a question as to what he considered a reasonable size for a working deposit he answered from 300,000 to 5,000,000 tons, and to Mr. Young he stated the average would be about 4 per cent. The most promising surface showings only had been developed, but no doubt there was plenty more equally good. He thought in the early stages of the work the most promising prospecting would be useful; his knowledge was based on his experience in the Leveck field. He considered government reports and maps rather than those of Dr. Coleman.

Mr. Gibson: Can you give an estimate of the quantities of ore held by people outside the large operating companies?

Mr. Travers: No. None have been proven up, except Mount Nickel. The unproven deposits are mostly on the north range.

Tax at Pit Mouth.

J. F. Black, being questioned as to the proper method of taxation, said he thought that the output of the mines should be taxed at the pit mouth. Replying to a question by Commissioner Gibson respecting the present system of taxing net profits of the mining companies, Mr. Black said: "Some operating companies should be paying a much larger tax to the province than at present if they were taxed according to their profits. He referred to one company who was only paying $4,000 a year thru special arrangement with the Government of Ontario whereas it should pay several hundreds of thousands."

Mr. Gibson: Are you aware that the tax is on the value at the pit mouth, on the matter of the value must be at the pit head to get into the mine, for no values are added further during smelting or refining.

Mr. Black: Yes, that is correct. It is $1,000 to $1500 to secure patent for a 40-acre claim, which was practically prohibitive. I think that net profits should be refined in Canada and that the refinery should be located at such a distance from the boundary as to permit of easy defence in time of war.

Several other witnesses were called, and they were generally opposed to the taxation of undeveloped nickel properties. They said that not much development work was going on and that there was no market. The big companies had all the ore they needed for their own refining.

CHRISTIAN RELIGION IS FORM WITHOUT SHAPE

So Declares Theosophist, Who Predicts Another Coming of Christ After War.

Declaring that the European war proves that the Christian religion is a pretense, that it is no longer a dynamic force, and no longer shapes our lives, L. W. Rogers, California, predicted the coming of Christ, or another Christ, following the close of the conflict, in an intensely interesting address before the Toronto Theosophical Society in the Canadian Foresters' Building, College street, last night. Every seat in the hall was occupied, and the speaker was enthusiastically greeted by showing the way in which the trench catapults were used for throwing bombs in the early days of the war. The school staff followed this with the firing of stick grenades from a rifle and throwing them by hand also. The explosion of a land mine with 25 pounds of explosive concluded the demonstration.

Hon. Captain and Paymaster E. L. Williams of the 166th Battalion is transferred to casualties in Saturday's orders.

The health of the camp is improving and a large number of patients were discharged during the week end. Only a few new cases were admitted. Twenty measles cases were pronounced cured today.

WAR SUMMARY

THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

AFTER a period of forced inaction, owing to the autumn rains and to the need of preparation for further offensive operations, the Russians opened on Saturday another stage of their campaign, having Lemberg as its objective. Their first blow fell at a point on the railway west of Brody and at a point near Brzezany, on the Zlota Lipa River and these efforts by Saturday night had yielded them 4367 prisoners and also they had resulted in the capture of part of the enemy's positions. Fierce counter-attacks were made and the Russians repulsed these with the first. The points chosen for attack are 30 and 50 miles northeast and southeast of Lemberg, and the sound of the cannoning can be heard in the Galician capital.

It is known that the present defensive positions of the enemy are naturally of great strength, since they are also the last that remain to be forced before Lemberg is reached. As an advance towards this point would imperil the German hold on the oil wells of Galicia and would deprive the enemy of his remaining field of supply, it is to be expected that he will offer a bitter and strenuous resistance, for the loss of his source of petrol would almost alone ensure eventually his loss of the war. It is, therefore, advisable not to count on too rapid results in this fighting and if they come promptly it will be so much the better. The Germans admit that they have had to retreat at a point southeast of Lemberg.

In France the British shoved their centre forward along the Somme line on a front of 3000 yards, between a point east of Encaumont L'Abbaye and the Albert-Bapaume road, and they captured the village of Encaumont L'Abbaye yesterday. In the evening the British armoured cars were brought into service. Farther to the east they pushed their outposts well beyond the original front line. Progress was also made between Fiers and Le Sars, at the Sturt Redoubt, near Thiepval, and in the Schwaben Redoubt. More than 300 prisoners fell to the British yesterday and their casualties were small. These operations are preliminary to a further big effort.

The French have also been clearing up projecting portions of the German line. They captured some elements of German trenches north of Rancourt and southeast of Morval, north of the Somme, on Sunday.

Heavy fighting has again broken out on the Struma River line in the Balkans, with the British the aggressors and the victors. They have just captured two strongly fortified villages near the Seres road, taking several hundred prisoners, including 200 wounded, and they are pushing on with the result. This success was won in the face of strong Bulgarian counter-attacks. After defeating the Bulgarian counter-offensive the Serbians attacked and captured the heights of Kalmakalan. These were strongly held by the Bulgarians, but the Serbians, after a Serbian assault completely broke up and abandoned these positions. The Serbians captured a Bulgarian battery. French aeroplanes bombarded Sofia and, continuing its journey, it landed at Bucharest, Roumania. The foregoing shows that the campaign is progressing slowly but favorably for the allies. The Bulgarian resistance seems to be weakening.

Another zeppelin raid took place over England last night. Bombs were dropped in many places and some of the craft flew about near London. One of the dirigibles had wings attached and fell to the ground in flames at a point northwest of the metropolis.

Greece has not yet officially declared war on Germany and Bulgaria. The king is still hesitating and the allies suspect that he has little intention of doing so. The revolution in Greece has practically been realized. The revolution, as is shown by the exchange of telegrams between Venizelos and the French president.

Near Hermannstadt, in Transylvania, the Roumanians have suffered a reverse, and they have been compelled to retreat to the southwest, owing to an encircling movement of the enemy, cutting off their line of communication to the east. The Germans claim that they have taken 3000 prisoners and 17 guns, but these figures are not large enough to square in with the other German claims and the intensity of the fighting and the fact that the Roumanians were able to withdraw southward instead of eastward. No proof is given that their force of several divisions was defeated, but in any case the Roumanians would be much larger than 3000. It seems to have been a narrow escape from destruction for this Roumanian force. The loss of territory gained after so much fighting is also disconcerting. But the Teuton bolt has been shot. Something of great importance was evidently expected from the appointment of Von Falkenhayn to the command and by the use of Bavarian troops.

By a Staff Reporter.

Camp Borden, Oct. 1.—Major-General Logie announced today that he had selected the 1st Huron Battalion as the fifteenth unit in camp to proceed overseas. He was given a hearty welcome, the band playing a welcoming air and the men cheering him.

Bombing Demonstration.

There was an interesting demonstration of the method of using live rifle and hand grenades given today at the district bombing school. A number of officers of brigades and battalions were present for the demonstration with Lt-Col. H. C. Blackford, G. S. O. Capt. N. F. Kelley, district bombing officer and his staff putting on the exhibition, beginning by showing the way in which the trench catapults were used for throwing bombs in the early days of the war. The school staff followed this with the firing of stick grenades from a rifle and throwing them by

MONDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 2.

Lloyd George as a Leader

Those who wish to study politics in the raw should head the article in The October Century by S. K. Ratcliffe, of The Manchester Guardian, on "Lloyd George—Conservative?"

Mr. Ratcliffe is not at all tender towards the former idol of the Liberal party in England. He says "there never was any nonsense about the temper in which Lloyd George followed the pursuit of politics."

They accuse him of the dreadful crime of doing what the people want done for, after all, in a democracy it is what the people want that is done, and the man who does it gets their applause.

French is the language that ought to benefit by the doing away of German. It would also appear to the Russians far more patriotic and complimentary if the Canadians are acquainted with the French language.

Mr. Ratcliffe's accusations are not that Mr. Lloyd George has changed his policy, but that another class of men are willing to support him and to follow him farther than former colleagues would accompany him.

The man who does things will find his own party, and if Lloyd George has fit in him to lead the British democracy, he will be their leader.

A Question of Depreciation.

An indictment of the financial methods of the Toronto Hydro-Electric Commission by The Financial Post shows much of its force when read thru to the end.

The Post admits in respect of the depreciation reserve that "fortunately the present Toronto commission takes a sound view of this important question."

FRENCH SPOKEN IN RUSSIA. World: My attention was drawn upon the different reports published lately by the papers, and again in today's World, upon the proposal to have the Russian language taught in our schools, and away with the German language.

Now, concerning the Russian language, may I be permitted, as a linguist, now 27 years in Toronto, to inform your readers that I have been for over 20 years in close business and literary intercourse with some relations in Moscow (Russia).

French is the language that ought to benefit by the doing away of German. It would also appear to the Russians far more patriotic and complimentary if the Canadians are acquainted with the French language.

A HUN MOUNTAIN IN LABOR

Political Intelligence

The Ottawa Citizen, an independent newspaper which frankly criticizes party leaders on both sides, pays a tribute to the good work done by Sir Thomas White as minister of finance and says that he will receive an ovation if he visits England.

The Liberals may be preparing for an election. Sir Wilfrid Laurier has already held a big meeting in Quebec, and on the 11th instant will deliver something like a keynote speech at London, Ont.

The Calgary News-Telegram deprecates newspaper criticism of the judges, but believes that something must be done to keep the bench out of politics.

The Montreal Gazette, in a eulogistic editorial upon H.E.H. the Duke of Connaught, regrets that it was not practicable to extend his term of service as Governor-General of Canada.

Hon. William Purvis and Senator Watson, both Liberals, intend to stay on the job as members of the parliamentary committee assisting Hon. Robert Rogers, minister of public works, in the construction of the new parliament buildings.

Travelers passing thru Niagara Falls now have an excellent opportunity of viewing the above feature. During the evening a battery of electric lights having a combined candle power of 50,000,000 play on the American Falls and rapids, the effect produced being startling in its beauty and revealing the splendors of the falls as they have never been revealed heretofore.

IRISH HORSE WON CHIEF FEATURE ON CLOSING DAY AT WOODBINE PARK

Great Thrill in Attendance to See O.J.C.'s Sparkling Program Run Off in Ideal Weather.

A great throng turned out on Saturday, the closing day of the year at Woodbine Park. The weather was ideal and the racing superb.

Not only were the races for long distances and big purses, but several had stirring finishes, notably the O.J.C. Cup and the Grey Stakes, that Fair Mac and Aravan were second choices.

The five beaten favorites were Minstral, Heart of Oak, Sun King, Pif Jr. and Arriet.

A field of thirteen went to the post in the first race. Lost Fortune, 105 (Ward), $6.10, furnished the winner when Casco galloped home with a lead of two lengths.

The Grey Stakes furnished an exciting finish, the seven starters passing the winning mark neck and neck.

The Durban cup proved a stirring contest. In the early running the Miltar pair Tartarean and Fair Montague went to the front and set the pace with Hearts of Oak and Copper following as named.

Robert Oliver, the good rider by Freddie Williams, won the Hendrick pair, Morphet and Indian Arrow, alternated in making the early pace, but after a time he gave the reins to the Miltar pair.

The Ontario race of two miles and a quarter, furnished the best finish of the afternoon, the winner turning in a record time of 12:30.

The six furlong handicap, for all ages, $500 added, was won easily by Water Lady, that opened up a winning lead early in the race, and Imp. Arriet held to content with the place well back.

The last race of the day and the meeting, at a mile and 70 yards, went to the winner when the Light King showed in the final furlong.
