Greece Gives Way To Allies On One Point

Will Not Disarm Serbians if Forced to Retreat to Hellenic Territory—Today's News From the Balkans

London, Nov. 16.—The Greek government is reported to have modified its position somewhat in favor of the entente allies.

London, Nov. 16.—The Entente Powers are seeking guarantees from the Greek government, the Athens correspondent of the Mail explains, because they have decided to establish an entirely new front in the Balkans, entailing the presence of a large number of troops, and desire something more definite than mere promises of benevolent neutrality.

TEN THOUSAND IN TRIBUTE TO SIR CHARLES

Funeral of Statesman Held in Halifax Today—Archbishop Worrell Speaks at Service

Halifax, N. S., Nov. 16.—The body of Sir Charles Tupper, formerly prime minister of Canada, and the last link with pre-confederation times, with all the impressiveness of a state funeral, was laid to rest in the little cemetery of St. Paul's Anglican church, where a solemn in-state ended this morning during the twelve hours during which the body of the aged statesman lay in a plain oak casket shrouded in black and white.

Paris, Nov. 16.—The Serbians have recaptured Raskaladen, taking 220 prisoners and large quantities of munitions, according to the Athens correspondent of the Journal Telegraph on Sunday.

Paris, Nov. 16.—The Bulgarians again have occupied Tendo, which already had changed hands several times, according to a report current at Salonika. No great significance is attached to the possession of this town since the forces engaged on either side are so small.

Paris, Nov. 16.—There is nothing to add to the preceding communication, says the War Office report this afternoon.

Police Court

In the police court this morning one man, arrested on a drunkenness charge, was fined $8 or two months in jail. Another was remanded and warned that as he was molesting pedestrians, he was liable to nine months in jail.

City Thorne, taken into custody yesterday, charged with being a deserter from the 26th Battalion, explained that after he boarded the train at McAdam Junction, he had asked him for his ticket. He was unable to get an answer or any satisfaction. Later, he said, the defendant used obscene language to him.

Magistrate Ritchie ordered the police to find out where he came from and have him sent back. When questioned by the court, he said he could not remember anything, he thought someone hit him on the head with a club. He confessed that he had been drinking. He said he thought he came from Brandon. His home, he said, was in North Sydney and he went west with the harvesters.

A case against J. Harry Dever, on charge of allowing drunkenness on his licensed premises in Union street was continued, and tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock Magistrate Ritchie will give judgment.

The Girls and Khaki

Longing For Peace More Intense In Berlin

Paris, Nov. 16.—According to the president of a big Swiss bank, just back from Germany, the peace agitation is beginning seriously to permeate the country.

Huge demonstrations of several thousand women took place in Berlin, the banker says. Riots ensued, and the police had to charge with drawn sabres. There were 200 victims, all women. The German censorship suppressed all references to the disturbance.

TAKE BACK WHAT THEY SAID ABOUT MR. CHURCHILL

London Morning Papers Absolve the Ex-First Lord

PERSONAL TRIUMPH IN HOUSE

Comment on His Speech of Yesterday—They Now Seek To Blame Government For Not Making Revelations Sooner

London, Nov. 16.—Winston Spencer Churchill had a great personal triumph in the House of Commons yesterday, when he delivered a speech in which he outlined his connection with important moves in the war while First Lord of the Admiralty.

His unexpected revelations, however, had a somewhat demoralizing effect upon the editorial writers of the London morning papers, who for months had been assuming that Mr. Churchill was wholly responsible for what had been termed blunders in carrying out the war operations and who had been rather lavish in bestowing adverse criticism upon him. They are now inclined to blame the government for not making these revelations before, and seem to find difficulty in making amends to Mr. Churchill.

The Times frankly absolves the retiring minister. "His speech undoubtedly was a parliamentary triumph," says the Times, "and we think the country ready to accept it as such."

Secretary of Russian Legation in Greece Pays Tribute to Troops Fighting Under Difficulties

Salonika, Nov. 16.—Old Serbia is lost and new Serbia is in a precarious condition, in the opinion of M. Jachowicz, secretary of the Russian Legation in Greece. M. Jachowicz arrived here today from Mitrovitza, western Serbia, having come by way of Albania.

He said the Serbians at Babuna Pass could not hold out much longer and that the only hope was that the Serbian forces concentrated at Mitrovitza would prove to be strong enough to take the recently captured town of Zhitomir towards Monastir. He said he feared the legation staffs, which were preparing to leave for the front, would be unable to do so.

The diamond crossing for the intersection of the street railway tracks and those of the C. P. R. at the south-east end of the new highway bridge in Douglas avenue, will arrive in the city in a day or two and the work of lowering the C. P. R. tracks, in preparation for the installation was commenced this afternoon.

The trolley wires have been extended to cover the new link in the system and will be in readiness when the crossing is installed.

For several days workmen have been installing the signal and demurring system in Douglas avenue similar to that now in use in Main street, Fairville.

The old waiting room on the Fairville side is being raised and will be removed to the other end of the bridge.

The sidewalk from the new bridge is being extended on the Fairville side, and the track used as an office by McVey & Son, the only surviving evidence of the work of construction, is being demolished.

Inches, in which there are several St. John men, former members of the 8th Regiment, C.G.A. It also shows that they are no longer a part of No. 1 Group Heavy Artillery and may have returned to the Canadian Division.

He took part in three battles and at Flanders his left thigh was fractured by shrapnel and he received five bullet wounds in his right leg.

Wounded in the line he was kept for hours before taken in charge by the Ambulance Corps, but that delay, he said, was due to inefficiency of the hospital division, but rather to the fact that he was in an unprotected place and could not reach him in safety.

B., at Moncton, has been killed in action, while serving with the Canadian Engineers at the front. So suddenly was the raid executed that no warning reached the players, and they were surprised with the money and the cards on the table. All seven were arraigned on Monday and six pleaded guilty to trespassing the house and were fined $25 each. Wife Murder and Suicide in Hotel McAlpine

DIARY TELLS THE STORY

Young Husband and Wife Found Dead After Sounds of Angry Voices Followed by Reports of Three Revolver Shots

New York, Nov. 15.—Voices rising in angry dispute, then three pistol shots, then silence, alarming, significant, drew employees of the Hotel McAlpine from their posts in a quiet hallway in the early afternoon of Monday.

They passed for a moment in the open door, excited, a little frightened, uncertain what to do next. They saw merely that the man and the woman who had occupied the room, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Carl Ruppert of Richmond, Va., were past help from any human being. Ruppert had shot his wife, Rosalie, as she sat on the edge of the bed. He had walked three steps to the middle of the room, where he had fired a bullet into the ceiling.

Police-inspector Joseph Faurot who entered the room a few minutes later, saw much more than this—visible evidence of murder and suicide.

Matrimonial Misery

He learned why it was that a young man and young woman—Ruppert was not quite 30 and his wife was not yet 30—were so suddenly stricken dead. They had made a mess of their lives. Separation, love and passion rekindled by occasional reunions, then suspicion, quarrels and mutual recriminations and finally furious quarrels with the woman's hands slipping at the man's face, clanging at his body—all of these ugly outcroppings of matrimonial unhappiness, explained to the mind and eye of Faurot, detective and psychologist.

Ruppert left a diary, curious sort of personal confessional in that it reflected his strange bent to record even the trifles and the drab of his last uneventful life. Nothing seemed to be too unimportant, too casual or ordinary for a line or a phrase. If he enjoyed ham and eggs for breakfast he told his diary about it. The purchase of a new pair of shoes did not pass unrecorded. A new acquaintance met by sheer chance on train or in the street to be recorded.

So it was not remarkable to Faurot, therefore, that the man wrote down in his diary the episodes of his last unhappy days, entries which revealed the first keen joy with which he met his wife in Baltimore, the first quarrel, the quarrels which destroyed their temporary happiness and the unbearable episode which destroyed the last remnant of his life. Nothing seemed to be too unimportant, too casual or ordinary for a line or a phrase. If he enjoyed ham and eggs for breakfast he told his diary about it. The purchase of a new pair of shoes did not pass unrecorded. A new acquaintance met by sheer chance on train or in the street to be recorded.

Perseverance with this remedy completely cured me, and there has been no return of the trouble."

Mr. W. J. Donovan, of New Edinburgh, Ont., writes: "For two years I suffered with bleeding piles. The pain was most intense. I tried one after another of the so-called remedies, but without effect. ASKING FOR MONEY

(Ottawa Free Press)

The German government can no longer hide the fact that the end of its resources for prosecuting the war are in sight. It is being forced to make open appeal for assistance, and so badly in this assistance needed that it is making most extravagant offers for it. No matter how strong may be the German trenches in France and Flanders, Germany cannot continue the war if she has not the money, and the appeal for money that she is now making in the United States indicates that the bottom of her chest is already in sight.

It was thought the allies were paying five per cent. bonds, callable in 1924, with interest payable half yearly and with exemption from all taxation in Germany, at a price which would give the investor nine per cent. And this high interest is not due to the high rate of exchange. At normal exchange the yield on such German bonds would be eight per cent, but at present exchange the buyer of the German bond would make a profit of ten per cent. on exchange alone. The bond itself is sold at enough below par to yield an annual interest of eight per cent.

This is an enormous rate of interest for the German government to offer. Unless the German government expected to be desperately in need of money, could it afford to pay 18?

It is said, however, that this enticing interest is not proving very fruitful. New York investors are not anxious to take the German bonds even at the price offered.

Recruiting Meeting Last Evening

—May Get New Quarters For Officers—Indian Sharp-shooter in 26th—Casualties in New Brunswick Battalion

At last evening's meeting in the recruiting office in Mill street, a good sized audience listened to an address by D. McArthur on the war and recruiting, emphasizing the need for men. A. M. Belling presided. P. Johnston and J. T. Kelly took part in a musical programme.

At tonight's meeting Rev. R. P. McKim will be the chief speaker.

A committee has been appointed by the recruiting executive to consider the renting of a new room for recruiting purposes instead of the Mill street quarters.

A letter received from Capt. Geo. Keefe, 26th Battalion, from the trenches in France, yesterday told of more gallant work by the men of that regiment. He spoke particularly of the showing made by an Indian, a big soldier whom many of the men of that regiment had followed up to the time of writing killed eight men by clever marksmanship.

Col. Lecain, formerly of C. 25th Battalion, and Major W. H. Conrad, formerly second in command, are now in Halifax, having returned home from France. They are still in the service.

Pte. G. Ferguson of Moncton, N. B., is now in London, attached to the Canadian Pay and Record Office, having been wounded in France and lost an eye through a shell explosion.

Casualties.

The casualty list yesterday included the names of Pte. B. A. Johnston, Costigan, N. B., 26th Battalion, died of wounds, and Sgt. W. H. Wilson, Winnipeg; Pte. Edward Carroll, Scumiac, N. B., and Phillip T. S. Groves, 220 Charlotte street, St. John, all of the 26th Battalion, wounded. W. Bunn, of Margaree, C. B., Royal Canadian Regiment, is reported seriously ill.

In addition to the volunteers included in yesterday's recruiting lists in the Times-Star, were Michael McMillan, Charles Fairbrother, Walter E. Moore, and Tim Lalais, all of St. John.

Writing to Arthur Gillard, an I. C. R. brakeman in this city, George C. O'Brien, now at the front with the 26th, asking why "you boys don't come and help us uphold Canadian honor."

The hotel was not a very good one and the traveling men knew it. Nevertheless they were obliged to go there when they came late at night to the little town. In the middle of the night one of them was dimly conscious that something was wrong. Suddenly he realised that the trouble came from a leaking gas jet.

"Wake up, Bill!" he shouted, shaking his friend violently. "The gas is escaping."

"Well," growled Bill, "can you blame

Fay Tells All New York, Nov. 15.—Robert Fay, self-styled lieutenant in the German army, and by his own confession head of a gang of bomb makers that sought to destroy munition-laden ships sailing from New York to Allies, told the story of his life today to Assistant United States District Attorney Knox.

GREAT PROGRAMME AT THE IMPERIAL

The Woman a Remarkable Feature—The Goddess—Madame Furlong-Schmidt

It was the Jesse L. Lasky Company who put on Carmen in Imperial Theatre a short time ago and it is perhaps not unfair to state that in the public estimation this producing company has much more to its credit than any of its associates in the Paramount programme.

With Theodore Roberts, Lois Meredith, Madeline Van Dyne, James Neill and other famous stars in the cast, The Woman was put on as the real stage sensation, if ever accomplished.

THE ROSARY PLAYED WELL IN OPERA HOUSE

Partello Players Score Success in Production of Delightful Offering

A large audience was present in the Opera House last evening at the presentation of "The Rosary," by the Partello Stock Company.

The scenic effects of the production were a feature. The church scene especially being well set and largely instrumental in making the act impressive.

The play will be repeated this evening and tomorrow afternoon and evening and deserves large patronage.

Colds Common Sense

You have a cold, or your child has a cold; a cough; a tight feeling across the chest; a soreness in the breathing tubes.

In the past how have you treated such? You have bought some cough mixture, and swallowed it down into your stomach.

It's a mistake; and Peps is the remedy provided to correct this un-commonsense treatment.

Children like Peps and they are better for it. It does not harm them. Peps contains no morphine, laudanum or other poison found in so many of the old cough mixtures.

Druggists and stores everywhere sell Peps 50c. box or from Peps Co., Toronto, for price. Remember the name—four letters only—

KNOX ELECTRIC CO.

Restricts Sale of Alcohol to Soldiers, With Possibility of Absolute Prohibition During War
Paris, Nov. 15.—Despite the fact that General Gallieni has been in control of the War Office for so short a time, the consequences of the change in administration are noticeable in the marked "tuning up" of the military machine. It was expected that General Gallieni, whose first official act as Governor of Madagascar was the hanging of two very important natives for conspiracy, would not hesitate to reform certain time-honored customs; but the decisive-ness of his actions shows that he intends to organize the administrative services with the same vigor and lack of respect for persons and prejudices as he has shown with the army and the field. The latter dismissed many generals, including personal friends; general Gallieni, before he had been minister a week, cut the root of the system of favoritism by an order forbidding anyone to write to commanders or in any other manner to use influence on behalf of private soldiers and officers.

RAIN OF SHELLS FOR THREE DAYS

German Left Alive Dazed by Ceaseless Gun-fire—Most Awful Artillery Attack in History of Warfare

New York, Nov. 16.—Major T. Chouffeur of the French army, who has just arrived here from Bordeaux, tells of the battle of Champagne, at which he was present, and which was admitted by the German as well as the French and British officers to be the most terrible artillery attack in the history of warfare.

"After fighting for twenty-five hours," the Major said, "there was a cessation of the firing for a few minutes, and the enemy expected the French soldiers to leave the trenches. Then the firing recommenced and lasted another twenty-five hours, after which there was another short lull. This time the Germans again prepared for an attack, but they were mistaken. The thunder of the guns started for the third time and continued until seventy-two hours' bombardment was completed.

Two Million Shells "When the French soldiers charged the trenches to the music of 'The Marseillaise' they found that the Germans who had not been killed or wounded were sitting on the ground with their hands state unable to move on account of the effect of the gun-firing. It was a most awe-inspiring scene that shall never be forgotten. During the seventy-two hours 2,000,000 shells were fired, and still there was plenty of ammunition left after it was over, as we had been making 200,000 shells a day for weeks beforehand to prepare for it.

BERLIN WAS FOOLED ON BIG SCALE WHEN CHURCH BELLS RANG

Thought Serbs Had Capitulated—Flags and Bunting Disappeared—When it Was Learned General Syrod Was the Cause

Berlin, Nov. 12.—For a few hours yesterday afternoon the greater part of Berlin, particularly the residential west end, went wild with joy. The church bells pealed. Street after street put up its drapery of German, Austrian, Turkish and Bulgarian flags as the "glad tidings" spread like wild-fire that Serbia had surrendered, and the entire Serb army had laid down its arms.

The rumor current around town before noon had crystallized into a certainty, with flags and bunting, and by one o'clock crowds gathered at the entrance of the city. The streets were lined with people waiting for the arrival of extra trains with the full particulars, while the General Synagogue in session here, made life miserable for the police and fire stations and the newspaper offices. The climax was reached in the borough of Wilmersdorf and Schoenberg, but even the suburbs caught the fever and got out their flags.

The three French officers, who are here on a mission for their government, said that there will be a long time. E. Alexander Powell, a war correspondent, who arrived here in his company, said that the celebration at Champagne was about the size of Manhattan, and he had seen thousands and thousands of people gathered at the entrance of the German trenches that would level them to the sea, and which charged the battle at about 250,000.

The president of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Catarrh being greatly increased in the treatment of the catarrh. Catarrh cure is taken internally and acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, giving the patient strength by building up the constitution. The catarrh cure is doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative power of their catarrh cure, that they have offered One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. NEGLECTED COLDS VERY OFTEN TURN TO CONSUMPTION

Never neglect what at first seems to be but a slight cold. Your head becomes stuffed up; you start to cough; an irritation in the throat follows; it gets lower down; settles on the lungs; you start to raise phlegm of a greenish, yellowish color sometimes streaked with blood, and you cough persistently. You think perhaps you are strong enough to fight off this trouble, but colds are not easily fought off in this northern climate. Colds if not attended to will sooner or later develop into some serious lung trouble.

A hearty reception was given last evening to a returned soldier, Corporal "Joe" Dryden, of North End, by his fellow members of St. Peter's Y. M. C. No More Constipation or Blotchy Skin

Want a clear, healthy complexion, regular bowels and a perfect working liver? All you need to obtain is... The Scotch lassie believes that should she by accident drop her new shoes before they have been worn they will surely lead her into trouble. It is said that the old maids believe that when their shoes come untied, and keep coming untied, it is true their sweethearts are talking and thinking about them. The sweethearts, when on his way to see his lady love, should he stub his right toe he will surely be welcome, but if he stubs his left he may know that he is not wanted. It is said that if old shoes are burned snakes will squirm away from the place, while to keep old shoes that are past wearing about the place will surely bring good luck. Should you meet a person whose shoes are "worn on the toes" you may put it down as a certainty that "he spends as he goes" and on the same authority it is said that the girl that has her shoes "worn on the side" is surely fated to be a "rich man's bride."

RELIEVED BY BEECHAM'S PILLS

Winnipeg, Canada.—"Eleven years ago I went to the Victoria Hospital, Montreal, suffering with a growth. The doctors said it was a tumor and could not be removed as it would cause instant death. They found that my organs were affected, and said I could not live more than six months in the condition I was in. After I came home I saw your advertisement in the paper, and commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it constantly for two years, and still take it at times, and both my husband and myself claim that it was the means of saving my life. I highly recommend it to suffering women."—Mrs. ORILLA BRADLEY, 284 Johnson Ave., Winnipeg, Manitoba, Can.

But Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Mrs. Bradley's Health—Her Own Statement

Why will women take chances or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? CHURCHILL IN COMMONS MAKES POSITION CLEAR

Wine Exonerates From Charge of Responsibility For Failure

THE PRESENT AND FUTURE

Passing Through Bad Time--Waste of German Forces Will Make Allies Victory Possible in 1916

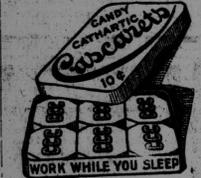

London, Nov. 15--In the House of Commons today Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill reviewed war operations under which he had been criticised and said that in every case experts had counselled and concurred. He won the sympathy of the house. There was nothing apologetic in his speech. In the despatch of Rear Admiral Gaidick's squadron he said he was in agreement with Admiral Prince Louis of Battenberg and Vice-Admiral Sir Frederic Sturdee. He paid a tribute to Lord Fisher for improvements in the navy since he broke out. Regarding the Dardanelles, Mr. Churchill declared that the admiral on the spot said they could not be taken with a rush, but that the fortification might be reduced gradually by bombardment. Admiral Lord Fisher, then first sea lord, was opposed to a reduction of Great Britain's naval strength in home waters, but never criticised the method of attack on the Dardanelles. Mr. Churchill declared he did not receive clear guidance from Admiral Fisher before the expedition was decided upon, or the subsequent firm support whereof he was criticised. In making his promised statement Mr. Churchill dealt with episodes during his tenure of office as head of the admiralty rather than with his resignation. He said his letter to Premier Asquith gave fully and truthfully the reasons which led him to ask for release from the government. These reasons did not apply to any member of the cabinet who was not in the war council. "However, I alone have open to me an alternative form of service whereof no exception can be taken and whereof I am perfectly content," he continued.

The Antwerp Expedition. Regarding the Antwerp expedition Mr. Churchill said it was not arranged by him, but had been planned by Field Marshal Kitchener and the French government. He was not concerned with it or consulted until the arrangements were advanced a long way and until the troops were moving under orders to move. "It is true," added Mr. Churchill, "that these operations were begun too late, but that was not my fault. On September 8 nearly a month before I drew the attention of Premier Asquith, Earl Kitchener and Sir Edward Grey to the dangerous situation developing at Antwerp and the grave consequences to admiralty interests which the loss of the fortress would entail.

Pointing out that the British army had stood all summer within a few miles of decisive victory, Mr. Churchill emphasized that on no other front could an equal advance have produced comparable strategic results. It would have settled the fate of the Turkish army on the promontory, might have determined the attitude of the Balkans; cut off Germany from the east, and saved Serbia. Throughout the year he had urged the government to do all it could in the west, but, in any case, to take Constantinople while time remained.

The situation is now entirely changed," he said, "and if there has been any operation in the history of the world, that, having been undertaken, it was worth while to carry through, with the utmost vigor, fury and sustained flow of reinforcements and utter disregard of life, it is that operation so dangerously begun under Ian Hamilton on the immortal landing in the Dardanelles.

Mr. Churchill mentioned incidentally that at the time of Lord Fisher's resignation he himself had offered to retire, but Premier Asquith asked him to remain. He then reviewed the present military situation, and continued:

"We are passing through a bad time, and it will probably be worse, before it is better, but that it will be better, if we only endure and persevere, I have no doubt whatever."

In his opinion it would not be necessary to push the Germans back over all the territory they have absorbed to win the war, and while the German lines extended far beyond their frontiers Germany might be defeated more vitally in the second or third year than if the Allied armies had entered Berlin during the first.

Great Britain's command of the sea and the rapid and enormous destruction of German manhood were factors upon which the country might confidently rely. Germany's power was diminishing; Great Britain was continually becoming stronger.

"We are the reserve of the Allied cause," he said, "and the time has come when that reserve must be thrown fully into the scale."

The campaign of 1916 had been governed, Mr. Churchill said, by the shortage of munitions, and the campaign of 1916, ought to be decided against Germany by reason of shortage of men. It was therefore vital to Great Britain, and a matter of honor, a sacred duty to increase and maintain the number of her armies in the field.

In conclusion Mr. Churchill, referring to Bulgaria and "other sinister nations" hypnotized by German military pomp and precision, said: "They do not care for smaller nations, the capacity of the ancient, mighty nations against whom Germany is warring to endure adversity, to stand up with disappointment and mismanagement, to renew their strength and to go with boundless suffering to the fulfillment of the greatest cause for which man has ever fought."

Premier Asquith, in paying tribute to Mr. Churchill, after the close of the latter's speech and that during a close association with him of ten years he had always found him a wise counsellor, a brilliant colleague and a faithful friend. He was certain that Mr. Churchill would take with him to his new duties the universal good will of the house and the country.

C. P. Trevelyan, Liberal, made a pacifist speech and was called to account by Andrew Bonar Law and T. P. O'Connor. Sir Arthur B. Markham thanked Earl Kitchener for the "blunders" at Antwerp and the Dardanelles. Sir Edward Carson told the house of commons that he left the cabinet when it came to an emphatic decision on the advice of its military advisers, that it was too late to assist Serbia. He pointed out that if it were too late to assist Serbia, that that country ought to be told, and that she could take such steps as would save her from destruction.

It was not until General Joffre came to England that the policy announced by Premier Asquith was decided upon. The prime minister replied that there had never been any decision that England should not send troops, in case of need, if the military and political situation demanded it. He added that there had been any avoidable delay in making preparations to come to the aid of Serbia.

PISTOL SHOTS PIERCES "BULLET PROOF" CLOTH

(Montreal Gazette)--An interesting test was made by General E. W. Wilson and several officers of the Montreal Garrison yesterday morning of the alleged bullet-proof cloth that had been submitted to the Militia Department at Ottawa. The cloth was the invention of M. Daigle, of Warwick, Que., but it did not prove a protection against bullets.

For the test a vest had been made up of the material, and it was fitted on a bag of grain. One of the officers first attacked this with a bayonet, but it resisted his efforts to pierce it. Then the vest was tested with a regulation army automatic pistol at fifteen paces. The first shot was a bull's eye and penetrated the shield completely, the bullet lodging in the grain. Other shots had the same effect. In view of this, General Wilson decided that it would not be useful to carry the tests any further, and no attempt was made to see how big a hole a rifle bullet would make it. Wilson said that, even though it had proved bullet-proof, it would not have been practicable, being too cumbersome and heavy. A report will be sent to Ottawa advising against the use of the material.

BEAUTIFUL TOURIST ROUTE

A prominent lady traveler from Brooklyn, N.Y., who has just returned from a trip to the Pacific coast and the Panama Exposition, has written to the Grand Trunk Pacific as follows: "I want to let you know how I enjoyed my trip to San Francisco this summer, journeying over the Grand Trunk Pacific via Fort William, Winnipeg, Edmonton and Prince Rupert. The scenery from Edmonton to the Pacific coast was a combination of Switzerland and Norway, and last but not least, that beautiful journey from Prince Rupert to Seattle. There is nothing in Europe (and I have traveled in every country of Europe), that is more charming, more gloriously grand and beautiful than this sail.

The courtesy shown at your hotels, the Port Garry and Macdonald, was all that one could wish for. Let me say a special word for the Macdonald--beautifully situated, beautifully built, and beautifully managed."

A bright rainbow in the darkness was the unusual phenomenon observed at Harrington, Or., about seven o'clock at night. The full moon broke through the clouds in the eastern sky while a shower of rain fell just west of the observers. The rainbow was perfect in outline and several of the colors were distinguishable.

AMERICAN SYMPATHY.

(Boston Transcript.)
But in the main, the Allies' task west and east, remains the task of bleeding the German Empire to death by a slow process of sapping. To pay and pay and pay, and keep at clenches—that is the essence of the great war, for the patient Briton and Frenchman. America does not, could not, behold this spectacle without sympathy. We should have trodden blood into the snows of Valley Forge in vain, and walked indifferently instead of in deep devotion with Lincoln through the darkest days of the Civil War, if we did not feel keenly the passage of the British nation and its colonies through this great and supreme test. We should be deaf to the call of every great sentiment that has ever inspired us—the love of liberty; the spirit of self-governing independence; the hatred of military dominance; the will to win in the world as the result of the self-directed energy and thrift of the man at the plough or at the till—if we did not feel a profound and most sympathetic emotion when we see Britain confronting this crisis bravely. There is a disposition to aid where aid is possible, and none to hamper or defeat. America will wait, and win England well.

THREE-RETURNED SOLDIERS SPEAK AT OTTAWA MEETING

(Ottawa Free Press)
Captain Dion said that he had been questioned by many of the fellows concerning life at the front, and he desired to say that "it is fine." He was not going to urge anyone to enlist, he would simply tell them what was going on. This was a matter in which it was to every man to decide according to his conscience. "But I will tell you that any man who does not go now—within the next few months—will regret it all his life. If it ends in a few months and you have not volunteered, the boys will be coming home, telling their stories and you will be on the outside." Captain Dion recognized that many men had ties which they could not break to go, many were married with families, "many of you may be engaged, that is no lie." He said that during his stay at the front he was in three engagements, but he considered he had not done his share and he was going back with a Montreal regiment. "The grub is the best that can be got. You hear references to bully beef over here, that's a case of bully beef all the time I was away. On the firing line at Ypres the men had hot meat served them." "It is by no means all hardships, the good times offset the bad. I am only eager, anxious, to get back. I am crazy to go." He referred to the fight as a hunt, only after bigger game than is usually sought in these parts. "If you don't go you'll have nothing but the saddest of recollections. Now think over and go," he concluded. Come Back Better Man. Lieut. Taylor told of how he had been wounded in the Red rebellion and the Boer war, but these were child's play beside the European struggle. He had gone because he felt he might be of "some little use."

"This is the greatest game for a young man the world has ever known," he went on. "The battlefield of Flanders is the greatest school ever established. You will come back a better and a bigger man." "It is a shame to beg men to go to this war; it is a privilege to tell you to go, to take the chance to belong to the greatest army the world has ever known, and I make no exceptions when I say this of the Canadian army. The pay was good and the hardships few. With due caution, due care, there is no reason why a man should not come back from this war. The casualties are comparatively few." Again he said: "There is no danger of the Germans winning, but if they do you might just as well go home and kill all your women folk and bury them." Sergt. Wells delivered a very entertaining little address on experiences at the front. Although he has only one arm left—the right—he is going back if he has to go as an interpreter and pay his own way.

"CLEARING HOUSE" IN MONTREAL FOR OPIUM

Drug to Value of $25,000 Seized During the Year From Celestials, Who Get it From Europe
Montreal, Nov. 15.—With a raid on the freighter "Celmachus," the arrest of three Chinese stokers, and the seizure of opium valued at $5,000, police here made another attack on the organized opium ring operating through the port of Montreal. Since the opening of navigation $25,000 worth of the drug has been seized on ships. Police and customs men declare there is a big Chinese opium delivery office in Liverpool, its North American ends being at Montreal and Boston. The removal of so many British sailors from the ships and the substitution of Chinese and Laskars, aids the success of the plotters. Fines have run as high as $600 and six months in jail, but the business goes on and customs people are positive that Montreal is the big clearing house for opium smuggling in Canada.

FATHER RYAN'S APPOINTMENT

In referring to the appointment of Rev. J. J. Ryan of St. Mary's, N. B., to Woodstock, as reported in Saturday's Times, the Fredericton Gleason says that Father Ryan made the announcement to his congregation on last Sunday. The Gleason says:

The announcement of Rev. Father Ryan's appointment came as a great surprise to his parishioners, the reverend father having only received word of his impending transfer to Woodstock on Saturday. Rev. Father Ryan's departure from St. Mary's will be deeply regretted by his parishioners as well as the large circle of friends he has made in this city and York county, where he is so well and favorably known. He is recognized as one of the most brilliant of the Catholic clergy in New Brunswick, and is extremely popular with the members of his parish. Since taking up his work as priest of St. Mary's parish, he has been an untiring worker, and great credit is due him for the ability he has displayed in carrying on the work of the church, aside from the executive ability that has been shown by Rev. Father Ryan in the management of the affairs of the parish, he is also recognized as an able preacher. He will probably have to take up his new duties at Woodstock within the course of a couple of weeks. His successor at St. Mary's has not been appointed.

The departure of Rev. Father Ryan means the removal of his mother to Woodstock. Her loss will be keenly felt in the parish of St. Mary's where she has been so prominent in the work of the church, rendering valuable assistance to her son.

"Selling Blue Sky"

"I have no patience with the men who try to sell me blue sky," said a large food product advertiser.

"I know when I buy newspaper advertising I buy something definite."

"I know I get the interest of dealers."

"And I know I sell my goods. For this reason I will spend more money in newspapers this year than last year."

Manufacturers who seek definite facts about advertising are invited to address the Bureau of Advertising, American Newspaper Publishers Association, World Building, New York.

Newspapers have no "blue sky" to sell.

ONE SENDS WORD OF TWO COUSINS KILLED

Mrs. James of Main Street Gets Letters From Her Two Sons

Mrs. Samuel James, of 590 Main street, has received two letters from her sons, Corporal James and Gunner Thomas, who are fighting in the Canadian troops in France. Corporal James said he was well at the time of writing and was still working to avenge the death of his brother Ernest, who was killed at the Dardanelles. He said he recently received an additional strip and is now a full fledged corporal.

Gunner Thomas James told his mother he had received word that two of his cousins, John James and Fred Grenier, had been killed. He said that he had fought hard to avenge their death and would continue to do so. He promised to send her an unique souvenir in the form of a ring made out of a piece of German shell. With regard to himself, he was well and hoped for the best. He closed with a hope that the war would soon be over and that he would return safely to his loved ones.

NOVEMBER BRIDES

Girvan-Campbell

St. David's Presbyterian church was the scene of an interesting ceremony at four o'clock this afternoon when Frederick William Girvan, of the staff of the North American Life Insurance Company, was united in marriage to Miss Hazel St. Claire, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Wilton Campbell, who resides in the city.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. A. MacKelgin, minister of the church, with the full choir assisting in the musical portion of the service. The wedding march, as the bridal party entered and left the church, were played on the organ by Mrs. I. F. Archibald and during the service a quartette consisting of Miss Thompson, Mrs. Leggett, Mrs. G. Wilton Campbell, and Mr. Pidgeon and Mr. Tuck, sang "The Voice That Breathed Over Eden."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, looked very lovely in a beautiful bridal gown of duchesse satin with Spanish lace and pearls and carried with wing cap, orange blossoms and pearl trimmings. She was attended by little Miss Lela Girvan and Master Gordon Girvan, niece and nephew of the bridegroom, as flower girl and page. The flower girl wore a dainty pink silk suit with white cap and page, a white Tuxedo suit of white corduroy with pink collar and cuffs. Between themselves they carried a large basket of pink and white flowers.

After the ceremony, a wedding luncheon was served at the home of the bride's parents in Leinster street. Only the immediate relatives of the bride and bridegroom were present. For the occasion the drawing rooms were beautifully decorated with yellow chrysanthemums and carnations. The bride carried a large basket of pink and white flowers in white.
